Councilmen Study Audit, Review Workmen's Comp

City councilmen heard a report on the annual audit of accounts Thursday night during their regular meeting, and reviewed the workmen's compensation insurance plan as presented by Tom Hilbun for Traveler's Insurance Co., the present carrier.

Present to discuss the audit of accounts were Benny Zahn, Billy Tom Grant and Alvin C. Webb, certified public accountants. Councilmen decided to study the report and take action for acceptance at a later date.

Following Hilbun's presentation on a revised form of the present workmen's compensation insurance plan, councilmen decided to discuss the matter further with Hilbun and study the Texas Municipal League's offer for a workmen's compensation plan, then call a special meeting to make a decision.

City Manager Jim C. Blagg read a letter from McCall, Parkhurst, and Horton, bond attorneys, who advised the councilmen that "Article 3, Section 52 of the Texas Constitution prohibits a political subdivision from either granting or giving a thing of value to another corporation without receipt of consideration." The matter came up due to the fact that the city had been approached for the possible donation of land for the construction of a new library, which would be built by a non-profit corporation.

In matters of new business, councilmen:

Repealed Ordinance No. 154 which prohibits the keeping of hogs within the city limits and then amended Ordinance No. 177 by adding hogs to the list of animals which are prohibited from being kept within 100 feet of any building or residence.

Amended Ordinance No. 109a which deals with angle parking on XIT and LFD Drives in order to correct the wording used. Councilmen asked the city manager to check on the angle degree of parking for further consideration. Some councilmen felt that if the angle was closer to 45 degrees, persons could see better when coming out of a parking spot on those one-way streets.

Councilmen were advised that Bull Lake will open for the summer season on Saturday, April 13, the day before Easter.

Councilmen were also advised that the ambulance will be operated through the police department and that the takeover possibly be in effect by April 16.

Drug Seminar Slated for Thursday Night

Are you concerned about the use of drugs among your young people? All your questions will be answered Thursday night during a free drug seminar, slated for 7:30 p.m. in the Willy Room of the Lamb Electric building.

The seminar is being held to make you aware of the symptoms of drug abuse, what causes a person to turn to drugs, and how those already addicted may be helped locally.

If you are interested, whether young or old, attend the seminar which is to feature three speakers and a film on the drug problem.

Dr. Jim Jenkins, chief psychologist and director of programming of the Central Plains Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center in Plainview will be speaking, along with Dan Bruce, director of partial hospitalization with the Center; and Roy Alexander, outreach psychologist with the Center.

Hand-out literature will be available to everyone who wants it and a question-answer session will be held.

Several Littlefield parents have become concerned about the problem in Littlefield, and have urged the presentation of the local seminar.

Band Makes Two Ones

Littlefield Junior High band triumphed Friday with ones in concert and sightreading. A one-point award given to a band competing in the Interscholastic League.

The band's three concert selections were "United Nations" by K. L. King, "Spiritual from Symphony Number 5 1/2" by Gillis, and "Sonus Ventorum" by Smith.

Two of the concert judges gave Littlefield a one and the third gave them a two. Weldon Moore of Ballinger High School wrote on his criticism sheet that the band had "a most pleasing sound" and a "very nice style." Fred Carpenter of Vernon wrote that the music was "well played with nice attention to dynamics. Congratulations on a nice performance."

The sightreading judge, Donald Lummus of San Angelo, wrote, "This is a fine, alert looking band—good balance. Overall a good job of sightreading."

The band will perform their concert selections in the spring concert May 20. The band barbecue is slated for May 11.

Mike Threadgill is director of Junior High Band.

The Jr. High band's next contest is a Floydada Invitational Festival, with competition in concert, sightreading, and solo and ensemble.

Correction Made in County Court

An article in the Thursday edition of this paper, the word "first" should have read "third." The sentence should have read: County Judge G.T. Sides sentenced last week, making the criminal cases have been set for trial in Lamb County in more than 100 cases.

On March 27, 24 cases were set, and 10 judgments with pleas of guilty were entered. In February of 1973, 10 cases were settled out of court, 10 cases were tried and six entered guilty pleas through their attorneys.

"We of Spring" will be the theme of the style show, sponsored by "Women Monday" night at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium. These two have a playful spirit of spring and will model these two garments for the show. Mari Louise Bennett, an LHS senior, will model for J. C. Penney and 13-month-old Sheri Renee Huddleston will model for Anthony's. Sponsors are Newton's, Wares and Moss Shoes and Sportswear. In addition, Sheri's father, Jerry Huddleston, is manager of Anthony's, and Bennett is employed at Penny's. (Staff Photo)

A 25-year-old Anton man was seriously injured about 7:30 Thursday morning when the auto he was driving spun out of control on a curve along Farm Road 2286 seven miles east of Plainview, then slammed into a concrete culvert.

Jerry Hooper was alone in the car when it failed to negotiate the curve. Hooper was given emergency treatment at Central Plains Hospital in Plainview then transferred to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital for treatment of a concussion and severe head laceration, according to Highway Patrolman George Webb.

Hooper told investigating officers that he had fallen asleep. Hooper was reported in satisfactory condition Friday.

Weather Modification Fund Needed Before Planning

Funds for supporting a fifth year of weather modification are due Monday. A board meeting for final decisions on this year's program is scheduled at Earth Monday night.

Directors of Better Weather, Inc. said officers must know the amount of support they can count on before final plans are made Monday.

Because of the busy time of year, directors said they are depending on individual farmers to turn their money in at the banks in the county handling the deposits, since time hasn't allowed personal contacts.

Cost of this year's program will run about $164,000. Plans call for initiation of a three-plane stimulation and hail suppression program beginning May 1 and continuing through the harvest season. The planes and radar are to be headquartered at the Littlefield airport.

Farmers in the target area are asked to pledge 90 cents per cultivated acre.

Accounts are set up at banks at Earth, Olton, Dimmitt, Anton and Security State in Littlefield. Farmers are asked to put their ASCS farm numbers on checks.

A permit for another year of cloud seeding operations here was granted by the Texas Water Development Board in a hearing at Port Isabel on Mar. 19. The board passed on the permit 4-1 with one member abstaining until further information was presented.

Twelve persons representing those for the weather modification program attended the coast meeting, and three persons representing Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather were present to ask that the permit be denied or altered.

Funeral Services Held Friday For James L. 'Jim' Marcum

Funeral services for James Louis Marcum III, 25-year-old Littlefield man who died Wednesday morning at 3 in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital of injuries he received Tuesday when he was caught in the wheel of a self-propelled sprinkler system on his father's farm northeast of Littlefield, were conducted Friday morning in the First Baptist Church.

Rev. H.L. Thurston, a retired Methodist minister, Rev. A.J. Kennemer, pastor, and Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Littlefield, officiated.

Graveside services were held that afternoon at the Restlawn Memorial Park in Hereford with Hammons Funeral Home of Littlefield in charge of arrangements.

Marcum apparently became entangled in the machinery of the irrigation system as he attempted to shut it off during a wind storm which featured gusts of up to 75 m.p.h. in the Littlefield area Tuesday.

Marcum was born Oct. 19, 1948 at Memphis, Tex. and came to Littlefield from Dimmitt in November, 1972. He was sales manager for Marcum Olds-Cadillac in Littlefield.

He was a 1967 graduate of Hereford High School and a 1970 graduate of Commonwealth College of Mortuary Science in Houston.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, tailwister of the Littlefield Lions Club, a member of the Quarterback Club, the Lamb County Sheriff's Posse, and Texas Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association.

Surviving are his wife, Pam; a son, Mitch, of the home; a daughter, Missy, of the home; his father, J.L. Marcum of Littlefield; his mother, Mrs. Mary Francis Marcum of Oklahoma City; and two step-brothers, Larry McDonald and David McDonald of Littlefield.

A Cause For Concern

By JOELLA LOVVORN

USE AND ABUSE of drugs by youth of our area is a major concern of several parents in Littlefield, and they are seeking more information about drugs to help their understanding of the situation.

They are also urging others parents whether interested or disinterested—to become interested in the problem and attend an area-wide drug seminar in Littlefield Thursday night at 7:30 in the Willy Room of Lamb County Electric.

One mother says, "the public needs to get behind our law enforcement officers" in attempting to clear up the problem here in Littlefield. The night's program will include a film, along with three qualified speakers to help parents understand their youngsters better.

NOT ONLY are parents asked to attend the seminar, but youngsters who want to know how to cope with the problem are invited.

Anyone, whether young or old, from anywhere in the area is invited.

THE SEMINAR is designed to make people aware of the effects of drugs, what causes persons to turn to drugs, and how the local unit of the Central Plains Mental Health-Mental Retardation Center can help persons who have a problem in this realm.

Here is a story about one young man who was deeply involved with only one of the many drugs that are being peddled on Littlefield streets to our young people. This man wasn't from Littlefield, but easily could have been.

MARY JANE HAS LANDED MANY IN HUNTSVILLE

SITTING ALONE in a small cell, Gary now has a lot of time to think and remember. It all started back in 1965. He was only 22, a college student, and had received ten years for going out with Mary Jane.

She was called by many names—pot, weed, grass, tea, hemp, stuff, bhong, boo—but most call her marijuana, which in Spanish means Mary Jane.

Gary had seen a lot of guys go out with Mary Jane. Some had a good time with her while others didn't. Gary had a good time until he joined the growing list of young people who are now in prison because they got caught with marijuana. Take for example the teenager who sits in prison in Huntsville, Tex. He has an I. Q. above 180 and has always gone to church. But he ignored the law which states that just possessing marijuana carries a possible sentence of two to ten years. Selling it costs much more.

GARY DIDN'T LIKE these laws. He wanted to live by his own laws and it cost him ten years.

It's a fact of life. Take Mary Jane out or share her with your friends and you are a criminal.

Gary remembers the friend, the average, every-day looking guy, who introduced him to Mary Jane. Now Gary wonders if a real friend would ask you to break the law and run the risk of prison.

HE ALSO remembers the crowd who runs with Mary Jane. Her roommates are Speed, LSD, heroin. And they're always glad to go out with those who find Mary Jane to be a bore or too tame. The people who buy, sell, smuggle, and kill for these drugs count dollars, not lives.

Gary remembers his first experience with Mary Jane. His friends told him he would have to use Mary Jane a number of times before she really turned him on. Marijuana doesn't do much for the curious, only the repeaters. So Gary became a repeater.

HE WASN'T hooked physically. She doesn't do a guy that way. But he did know a lot of students who got hooked mentally. They thought they had to have it for a good time.

Bill was one of those. Valedictorian of his class, he was on the way up. Now he can't even hold a job as a sack boy at a drive-in grocery. He wants to see Mary Jane too often.

GARY REMEMBERS the kids who "blew their minds"—for good. His friends forgot to tell him that Mary Jane can cause a bad trip, even on the first date. She's unpredictable. Some have used marijuana just once, and have never come back. Sort of like playing Russian roulette. Many feel good with her. Others get violently ill. Some sit passively, not caring what happens. Others kill, rape, steal. Marijuana doesn't make them criminals. It removes a few barriers and makes it easier to act that way.

The friends of Gary didn't tell him that many medical people are thinking that marijuana causes a person to suffer brain damage with each use. Nor did they tell him about possible chromosome rearrangement. Gary thinks a lot about that. Eventually he will marry. What if marijuana causes birth defects? How do you explain to your child that your idea of being cool cost him his arms or legs or mind?

The hardest thing for Gary to remember is why he asked Mary Jane out in the first place.

TRUE, IT'S A PILL generation with pills for everything. But does this give a person the right to use any drug? Or does it mean that in a world of drugs one must be extra responsible?

It could be that Gary started because the adult generation is "hung up" on alcohol. If adults drink, why can't teenagers take drugs? What Gary doesn't want to remember is the terrible price adults pay for the right to drink. Marijuana would only add to the price.

Gary was under pressure to ask Mary Jane out. It was the "in" thing. Everybody was doing it. He remembers now that not many of his group dated Mary Jane. In fact very few teenagers use drugs. Some of the guys who used drugs really bragged about it. But then what could you expect a person to say? Who wants to admit he made a mistake, or that it wasn't as good as expected?

SEVERAL TELEVISION and movie stars, recording artists, college professors, and students said marijuana was harmless. Gary wanted to know about drugs but he asked the wrong people.

Gary dislikes remembering his church. He was bored with church and wanted to have an authentic religious experience. Mary Jane promised she could give it to him—expand his mind, help him see things objectively. A religious experience is an encounter with reality, not an escape from it. Gary didn't find God or himself, but rather an escape mechanism, a fantasy world.

MARIJUANA does distort time, space, reality. That's why some of Gary's friends smashed into the other car. Or why one fellow stepped out of a fifth story window to pick flowers. Or why two students decided to play doctor—their operation was a little crude and messy.

A big disappointment to Gary was that Mary Jane promised to improve his artistic abilities, to help him do things better. Scientific evidence calls Mary Jane a liar. She doesn't improve one's abilities, just makes him not care that he does things poorly.

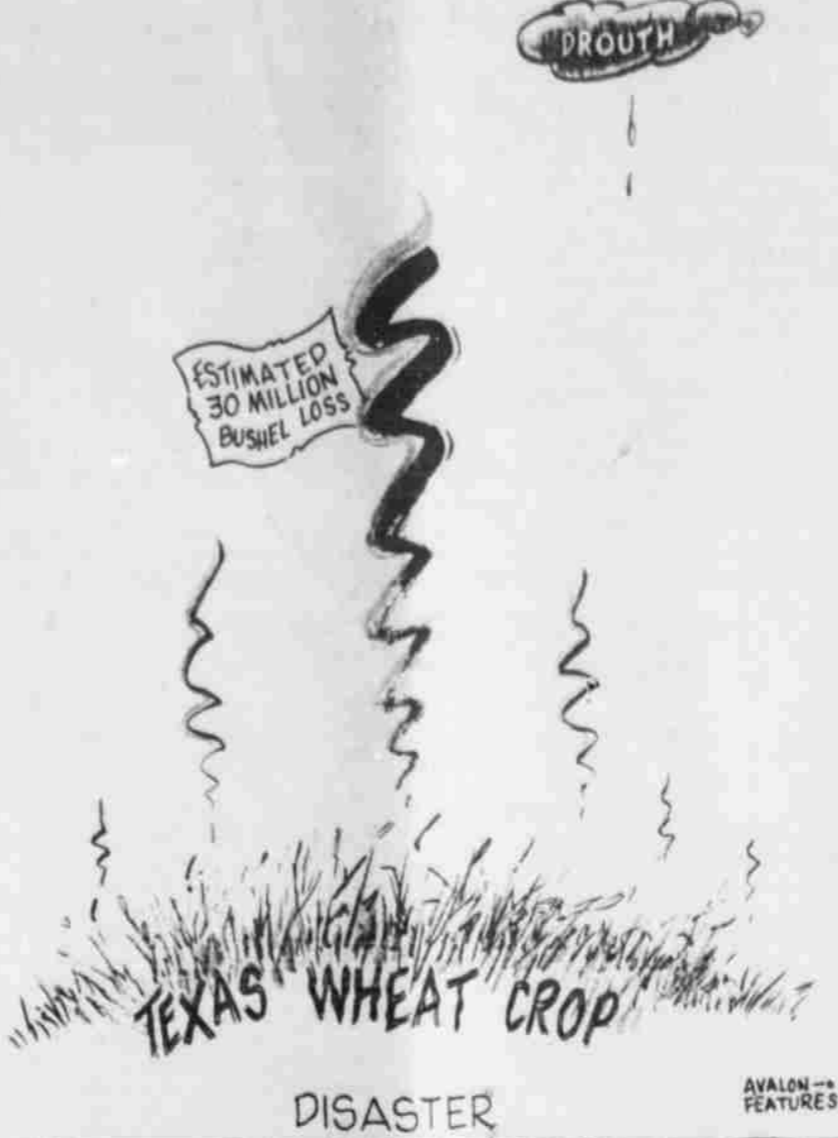

PERHAPS GARY will eventually admit that he used marijuana because all the cool guys used it. It was the "in" thing. What Gary didn't know was that the drug user, whether he admits it or not, is usually socially sick. He is a person saying, "Please notice me. Please like me. Please accept me." People with a strong sense of purpose have no need of the marijuana crutch. Gary didn't know that that isn't the big man, but rather the little man, who goes out with Mary Jane. Not the cool guy, but the one who is afraid.

Gary dated her. He's real cool. In fact, he'll be that way for the next ten years. And some of his friends are cool—like six feet under cool. Others are scared, mentally and physically, with twisted minds and bodies.

IT COULD BE that you have been out with Mary Jane. This doesn't mean that you have to keep seeing her.

Remember this: every time you get an invitation from Mary Jane it's for a trip—a trip down the drain.

How valuable are your mind and body? Or those of your future children? How important is your future profession or career? Your home? Church? Nation? When you go down the drain with Mary Jane, these go with you. Think about it—Gary does.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

WITH THE weather like it is at this writing, it is hard to find anything to be grateful for.

It reminds me of the sandstorms we used to have. Through the spring months, people would swear they wouldn't stay here another year, then the rains would come and everything would be so beautiful in a few weeks.

The warm summer days and the cool nights—and the lovely fall weather. We would forget how bad the sandstorms were.

THERE IS ALWAYS something to lift us up if we will look around. This week I saw an old man, almost blind, digging in his yard, during the sand storm.

When I asked him what he was doing he said he was planting flowers—past 80 and almost blind, yet planting flowers! I felt ashamed for having complained about the wind.

THESE OLD people we visit have much to teach us. Most of them have lived long, hard lives and are now suffering from various handicaps, but they are cheerful and patient. They are always concerned about us.

They all have faith in God as proven by their well worn Bibles by their chairs. The old man I was speaking of has to read his with a magnifying glass.

I THINK the older we get the more we appreciate life. One old lady said during the sandstorm this week, "Isn't this a lovely day?" then she laughed and said, "when you get my age, every day is lovely. I have only a few left and I am going to enjoy them all."

One of our volunteers said the reason she enjoyed working with old people so much was because they had so much love to give. This is true, they have so much love and they are so glad to give it. I think we get a greater blessing from them than they do from us.

SPEAKING of volunteers, they were all out this week in the sandstorms delivering the warm meals to our shut-ins. I know the grandest people in the world live in Littlefield! Thanks, bunch!

I have been talking about the old people, but young people have their problems too. None of us are exempt, young or old.

OUR HEARTS go out to the Marcum family who lost a loved one so tragically this week.

Things like this are so hard to understand—maybe we are not supposed to understand. It is times like this when we need the Lord so much to see us through.

HE IS THERE if we can see Him through our tears. We can only turn loose and let Him manage for us. Sometimes it takes more faith than we have.

We don't have to have faith, when this happens. He holds us up in His everlasting arms like we do our own children when they are too small and helpless to help themselves.

I HEARD a lady say once, "Just let go and let the Lord undertake for you. He will never let you down."

He says, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

THIS MEANS us too—lean on Him, dear ones.

OBITUARIES

BOBBIE McAFFEE

Funeral services for Mrs. Bobbie McAfee, 60, who was found dead at her home in Plainview about 6 p.m. Wednesday, were conducted Saturday afternoon at the Assembly of God Church in Olton.

Rev. J. C. Owens, pastor, officiated and burial was in Plainview Memorial Park with Parsons Funeral Home of Olton in charge of arrangements.

Justice of the Peace Glen Stone of Plainview ruled the death was due to natural causes.

Mrs. McAfee was a native of Dyke and had lived in Hale County the past year. She previously had lived at Farmington, N.M., where she was a member of the Eastern Star.

Surviving are three brothers, L. H. Marshall and Dick Marshall, both of Olton, and E. E. Marshall of Sulphur Springs; and several nieces and nephews.

Gas Company Wins Civil Court Case

One civil case was tried in District Judge Pat Boone's court this week. The jury found for the defendant Pioneer Natural Gas Company, Inc. in a suit brought by Louis D. Cogdell for impairment of gas service and damage to greenhouse plants.

Jurers were Margarita King, A. C. Withcher, Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Mrs. Robert M. Holton, Leon Noack, Juanita Saenz, Fred A. Smith, Bessie Robins, Marcella Patterson, Romiro Trejo, Eva Lee McDonald and O. J. Parrish. Noack was foreman.

A suit styled George Adair versus Lloyd White, II, collision, personal injuries and property damage, and one filed by John Villareal versus Texas Employers Insurance Association for workmen's compensation were settled out of court.

A suit filed by John E. Huckabee versus Central States Health and Life of Omaha for a hospitalization claim was dismissed for want of prosecution.

Five cases were passed to a later session.

Catching Up

"CATCHING UP" is not a game to be played. In fact, if we permit ourselves to develop the feeling that we are behind, and must push ourselves, and double and re-double our efforts so we can "catch up", we create something much like a "nightmare" existence.

We place ourselves in a climate of destructive anxiety-feelings, and increase our possibilities of colossal failure. We increase our personal burden beyond all reasonable considerations, and make satisfactory association with other people almost impossible.

WE BECOME MUCH to aggressive, when we try to live up to the stimulus of a compulsive feeling that we are behind and must "catch up". With this feeling, we may get more done, but not necessarily; and in the process, we are going to lose many things.

In addition to the damage which such thinking and behavior can do to us, we will alienate most of the people with whom we are associated.

To make our situation worse, we will always feel that we are behind; that is, our performance, regardless of how commendable it may be, will continue to seem inadequate.

TIME LOST IS LOST FOREVER, and there is no way of "catching up". In fact, after realizing that we have wasted our time, we can try so hard to "catch up" that we will actually lose more time.

It is better just to make the best possible use of time, from the point where we begin to understand how important it is; if we try to "catch up" by doubling up, we are making a mistake than we made in the first time.

We can regret the time we have wasted and misuse, but there is no "catch up". There is actually no way to have such an attitude. We are capable of doing, when we give our honest best to "make the most of the time now"; and do this with constant nagging of a guilty conscience.

"REGRET FOR TIME WASTED" can become a power for good or evil, depending on what remains. And the time that we waste and the idle, useless moments of A. Brisbane.

WE HAVE ABOUT the same amount of time when we begin to think that we are far enough along in the present situation; if we think that our time is ahead of us professionally, educationally or in some other way.

In the first place, it is a mistake to compare ourselves with others. Even though we may be able to make whatever improvements we can make, and perhaps overtake some of those who seem far ahead of us, we are making a mistake. "Catching up" is the over-riding motivation of an inferior causation, and dangerous inherent weakness.

DON'T PERMIT "Catching up" your aim, because it will lead to downfall.

IF YOU DIDN'T get "ring-around-the-collar" last Tuesday and Wednesday, you must have been wearing a "low-cut".

Count your blessings, though. It's much easier to gather a little sand out of the house, than it would be to gather the house out of the sand, like those back east.

OUR YOUNG STREAKERS did their thing without advance notice or fanfare. Looks as if they'd have invited their parents, kin and close friends to witness their great and noble act.

Brave and gallant heroes deserve to be identified and admired by all their acquaintances, don't you think? Then, too, they would have had the news clippings and pictures for their scrapbooks. They would be great to show their grandkids, and their parents would surely treasure them.

DO THEY GIVE college scholarships for that?

REALLY, KIDS, THE brave and noble are the ones that declined your invitation to participate, and didn't rise to the challenge of "CHECKING" betting that by this time you hadn't, either—Huh? No there!—Only shame!

BY THE TIME you read this, knowing just how much of a Turn Row is. If he ran a race, we may want to think about succeeding Henry Kissinger, since Henry seems to be preoccupied moment.

WE'VE ABOUT COME to the point where we don't worry so much about quantity of gasoline, but as long as we'll be able to pay for it, what else?

DON'T GUESS I'm as bad as you thought—Got a notice from the Tax Office this past week, and my property has increased, considerably.

MAYBE SPRING HAS sprung, and lawn is turning all green—delicious!

COMMENTS

By EMIL MANN

A TIP OF THE HAT goes to the city of Anton for landing a new industry, Rabbit Industries Inc. This industry looks sound and has a lot of potential.

Rabbit Industries, Inc. will be a total business according to Gilbert Lemmons, plant manager. They are distributors for domestic rabbit supplies as well as a market for the fryer rabbits.

The business will process the rabbit for meat and will market the fur and manufacture the waste for fertilizer.

Domestic rabbit meat is in great demand and the corporation has been contacted by several distributors for the meat, with one distributor wanting to contract for all the rabbit meat the Rabbit Industries Inc. can process.

Although the plant is not quite complete for processing, it is open for those interested in raising rabbits. They are busy manufacturing hutches for sale to those interested in raising rabbits as a hobby and for profit.

It will also be a labor market for women who wish to work full time or part time in the procession portion of the company.

Again, a tip of the hat goes to Rabbit Industries, Inc., and to the city of Anton for their contribution to another industry in this area.

HAD A RATHER embarrassing situation happen to me last week while in Houston, while attending a cotton ginners convention. A particular remark was made by a guide while part of our group was making a tour through NASA.

This young woman said that she was somewhat disappointed to see a group of people involved in cotton industry wearing so much dacron and double knit. She was under the impression that we should be wearing more cotton if not all cotton.

You know, she is right. We gripe about the price of cotton and all the other gripes that go along with it, and most of us do not support our own industry. I would be a good idea if we would take another look at the finished product of our own commodity, and make efforts to support that industry.

In various cotton style shows over the state the past two years, it was noted that cotton is very fashionable as well as comfortable.

The only drawback to cotton Housewife is that it is not convenient in this busy world of synthetics, but, to me this is a point. We are cutting our own throat in this area by not buying and wearing cotton. When we don't support commodity, how or why do we come else to support it, cotton.

Cotton is an expensive commodity, requires hard labor and the product (wearing apparel) is as easy to keep clean as anything else, as a rule, we only make our own what you put into it. So with the work required in the raising of wearing cotton I'm convinced profit in the middle will be greater with a greater supporter of cotton.

With the shortage of synthetics, the time to make the giant step back on the store shelves have to take this giant step now. It is reported that this so-called crisis will be over by the end of the year.

DON'T FORGET THE Drug that will be held Thursday, April 7:30 p.m. in the Willy Room of Lamb County Electric Cooperative. The purpose of the seminar is to help people aware of a drug problem. There will be a film and open question and answer period. Closing of the seminar. All persons are invited to attend.

THANKS CORNBALL for giving me in your last column the time we read this column. I know whether it helped or not.

Olton Serviceman Weds Korean Bride

OLTON— In a candlelight ceremony Monday evening, March 25, in First Baptist Church of Noodle, Miss., O. Suk Cha of Seoul, Korea, became the bride of James Louie Cross of Colorado Spring, Colo.

Rev. Elton Stary, pastor, directed the double ring vows. The bride is the daughter of Lee, We Son and O, Soung Kun of Seoul. Parents of the bridegroom are Louie Cross and Mrs. Gerald Nixon.

Traditional wedding music was presented at the piano by Mrs. Carl Coulston of Vera, aunt of the bridegroom. Candles were lighted by Charles Dear, Fort Worth, cousin of the groom.

In the quiet ceremony, attended only by members of the family and a few intimate friends, the couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Allen, grandparents of the bridegroom, and former residents of Olton.

The bride wore a formal-length wedding gown of white organza styled in Empire lines. Fashioned with a standup collar and long fitted sleeves, the bodice of the gown was re-embroidered with seed pearls. Twin rows of seed pearls down the A-line skirt formed the outline of a front panel. Seed pearls were also used to emphasize the wristline tapering over the hands.

A pearl encrusted crown held in place her layered veil edged in lace. Scattered flowers of lace and seed pearls were applied upon the shoulder length section, and trailed down the floor-length veil that formed the chapel train.

The bride designed and fashioned the entire wedding ensemble including the cascade arrangement of her bridal bouquet.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception in the home of the grandparents honored the young couple. Hosting the event were Mrs. Gerald Brown and Mrs. Coy Searcy, aunts of the bridegroom. Using crystal and silver, traditional wedding cake and pink party punch were served by the hostesses.

The bride is a graduate of An Sung High School in Juk

Sun, Korea.

Cross is a graduate of Olton High School, attended West Texas State University, and with the U.S. Army served a tour of duty in Korea.

Following a wedding trip to Dallas the couple will be at home at 817 South Tejon in Colorado Springs, Colo., where Cross is stationed at Fort Carson.

Friday night Mr. and Mrs. James Louie Cross were supper guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Nixon.

County Teacher Assistance Available Through TSTA

Source of assistance in Lamb County on related problems is available from the newly formed Region 1 office of Texas State Teachers Association.

Such regional offices have been established by the Association's state headquarters in Austin.

Lamb County will be served by the regional office at Plainview, with Bill Potts as a consultant to assist teachers in the area.

Directs the Region 1 office at 200 Yonkers Street, D. Plainview. The phone number is 806/293-1111.

In the past, TSTA field personnel have operated solely out of the Austin headquarters office. This office will continue to serve members on a statewide basis.

Functions of the local office at Plainview, which will serve a 55-county area, will be to coordinate programs, supply information, help TSTA local associations with member services and benefits and assist in workshops.

"We hope to be able to serve the teachers of Region 1 on any matter relating to their profession," Potts said. "If we cannot give them the information or service they need, we will refer them to those who can supply it from the Austin headquarters," he said.

THIS 'UNCONFIRMED' TORNADO was sighted four miles east of Spade at 2:30 Saturday afternoon, March 9, and was only a short distance from the Glen Robertson home when Mrs. Robertson snapped this picture. Previous to this it had unroofed a small building on the J. N. Teague farm, then skirted the Robertson residence shortly after this scene. They followed it in its northwesterly travels and it also skirted the Tyson Nabors residence and the Larry Stanley residence before it dissipated back into the clouds. (Photo by Mrs. Robertson)

Chaplain To Speak At First Presbyterian

Roy P. Strange Jr., Presbyterian Port Chaplain, International Seaman's Center at Houston, will be the guest of First Presbyterian Church during Holy Week.

Strange will lead worship services nightly at 7:30 on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday.

Each morning, Monday through Wednesday, at 10, Strange will talk about his ministry as a port chaplain.

The Port Ministry is interdenominational and is sponsored by Methodist, Baptist, Disciples of Christ, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and Jewish churches and religious organizations. "Thus, Littlefield people belonging to any of these groups are welcome to meet Strange and hear what he has to say," states the pastor, Rev. Clem Sorley.

"A native of Marlin, Texas, Strange attended the University of Hawaii and graduated from Baylor University. After seven years as a career naval officer during and after World War II, he felt a call to the Christian ministry and entered Princeton Theological Seminary, Presbyterian, in New Jersey. Upon graduation he and his wife were commissioned Presbyterian Missionaries and spent 17 years in Cameroun, Spanish Guinea, and Gabon in Africa, and in France and Spain," Rev. Sorley stated.

"Their longest residence was in Rio Muni, Spanish Guinea, now Equatorial in the face of intense government opposition. Strange was the administrator for the Evangelical Church and handled the frequent and delicate negotiations with the Spanish government which only tolerated the church's existence. Mrs. Strange taught literacy and held well baby clinics.

"In January, 1971, Strange began his ministry in Houston as a port chaplain with relationships to the Presbyterian Churches of the area. It was impossible for the Stranges to return to Africa because of the political situation there. With an ability to use French, Spanish and English, Strange has found an open door for his continued ministry.

The Seaman's Center serves 200,000 men and women who come to port on 5,000 different ships. These people are provided many services of religious, recreational and sports nature at the Center. Ten percent of those coming to the center are women and children, for many seamen travel as families, rearing smaller children on board.

"There are six full-time chaplains at the Center, including Strange. In addition to visiting aboard ships in port, the chaplains hold services each evening at the Center, endeavoring to provide meaningful port ministry and worship opportunities," Rev. Sorley concluded.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO USE "MAJOR" CENTERS OF INTEREST

An old theory in furnishing was that rooms had to be decorated around some big center of interest such as a picture window, a fireplace or a large sofa, etc. But, actually, you can use a center of interest that includes none of these major items.

One thought would be two love seats, or two chairs, and a table in a setting with an area rug and special lighting making it a successful "decorative island".

Or, you could use a long, low buffet accessorized with a lamp and pictures for an outstanding center of interest.

If you like books, you might consider having not one, but two or more book-cases or cabinets full of books as a center of interest.

Sometimes a surprise element can add a wonderful center of interest such as a distinctive piece of furniture, outstanding in its own right, and placed in an eye-catching area.

There are many pieces of furniture and decorating ideas that can be used to add a different center of interest to a room—and make a room more appealing and more beautiful. If you'd like to explore this further, why not stop in and look around here. We'll be happy to see you, and you can browse to your heart's content.

Miss Gardner Wins Second Tennis Title

Tonie Gardner of Littlefield won her second straight District 3-AA tennis title Thursday in a grueling match against Susie Culwell of Olton.

Miss Culwell held a 1-4 edge in the first set of the girls singles match, but Miss Gardner fought back and won the set 7-5. The second set went a marathon 22 games before Miss Gardner could get the two-game lead necessary to win the set at 12-10. "Tonie did an excellent job coming back in that first set," said Coach Dee Blevins. "And then in the second set, she fell and turned her ankle slightly and got cramps in her arms and legs. She was already sick in the first place, and that last set she was going on guts alone."

The Olton netters won the team title over Morton.

In boys singles, both Steve Mangum (6-1, 4-6, 4-6) and Mike Gage (3-6, 0-6) went down in the first round to Morton players. Len Richey and Scott Sheppard won their first doubles match against Friona (6-4, 6-2), but lost to Olton in the second round 3-6, 3-6. They finished third. The team of Kelly Pratt and Kevin Kirby met the eventual champions in the first round and fell 1-6, 3-6.

In girls doubles, Patti Chisholm and Lori Wilkinson were defeated 0-6, 0-6, and Mari Louise Bennett and Terri Chandler lost 0-6, 1-6.

Miss Gardner advances to the regional meet which will be played April 19 and 20 in Odessa.

Jr. High Netters Romp To Crown

The Littlefield Freshmen dominated the courts Thursday at Olton and won the district tennis crown. Littlefield romped to their win with victories in both singles events and a second place in girls doubles.

March 26, the seventh and eighth graders pulled off three wins and easily won district in that division also.

Karen Carter won the girls singles for the freshmen and Richard Rogers was the boy winner. Monica Phillips and Rhonda Hollingsworth finished second in girls doubles, and Blake Wood and Rudy Ayala took third in boys doubles. Morton was runner-up to the Littlefield team.

For the seventh and eighth graders, Lota Zoth won girls singles, Kevin Gardner took boys singles, and Brent Jones and Mark Coffman won boys doubles. In girls doubles, Wanda Williams and Cindy Thrash finished third.

This panel of 100 jurors has been called for jury duty Tuesday and Wednesday.

Plaintiffs Dismiss Suit

A suit brought by Charles Ary against seven county officials was officially dismissed Friday.

The joint motion to dismiss the case in Judge Pat Boone's 154th District Court found that the parties to the suit have reached a complete settlement of their differences and ordered all costs to be paid by the plaintiffs.

The suit was filed Oct. 17 against the county clerk, tax assessor-collector, county judge, and Lamb County commissioners asking the county officials to re-evaluate the local option petitions and make a new determination as to whether or not a local option election should be called.

The suit was filed following certification by the county clerk and commissioners court that there were not sufficient signatures of qualified voters on the local option petitions to call an election.

The order of dismissal prohibits refiling of the suit.

Band Makes Two Ones

Littlefield Junior High band won first place in the Friday contest with ones in sightreading and concert. A one award given to a band in the Interscholastic League.

"Spiritual from Symphony Number 5 1/2" by Gillis, and "Sonus Ventorum" by Smith. Two of the concert judges gave Littlefield a one and the third gave them a two. Weldon Moore of Ballinger High School wrote on his criticism sheet that the band had "a most pleasing sound" and a "very nice style." Fred Carpenter of Vernon wrote that the music was "well played with nice attention to dynamics. Congratulations on a nice performance."

The sightreading judge, Donald Lummus of San Angelo, wrote, "This is a fine, alert looking band—good balance. Overall a good job of sightreading." The band will perform their concert selections in the spring concert May 20. The band barbecue is slated for May 11.

Mike Threadgill is director of Junior High Band.

The Jr. High band's next contest is a Floydada Invitational Festival, with competition in concert, sightreading, and solo and ensemble.

Councilmen Study Audit, Review Workmen's Comp

City councilmen heard a report on the annual audit of accounts Thursday night during their regular meeting, and reviewed the workmen's compensation insurance plan as presented by Tom Hilburn for Traveler's Insurance Co., the present carrier.

Present to discuss the audit of accounts were Benny Zahn, Billy Tom Grant and Alvin C. Webb, certified public accountants. Councilmen decided to study the report and take action for acceptance at a later date.

Following Hilburn's presentation on a revised form of the present workmen's compensation insurance plan, councilmen decided to discuss the matter further with Hilburn and study the Texas Municipal League's offer for a workmen's compensation plan, then call a special meeting to make a decision.

City Manager Jim C. Blagg read a letter from McCall, Parkhurst, and Horton, bond attorneys, who advised the councilmen that "Article 3, Section 52 of the Texas Constitution prohibits a political subdivision from either granting or giving a thing of value to another corporation without receipt of consideration." The matter came up due to the fact that the city had been approached for the possible donation of land for the construction of a new library, which would be built by a non-profit corporation.

In matters of new business, councilmen:

Repealed Ordinance No. 154 which prohibits the keeping of hogs within the city limits and then amended Ordinance No. 177 by adding hogs to the list of animals which are prohibited from being kept within 100 feet of any building or residence.

Amended Ordinance No. 109a which deals with angle parking on XIT and LFD Drives in order to correct the wording used. Councilmen asked the city manager to check on the angle degree of parking for further consideration. Some councilmen felt that if the angle was closer to 45 degrees, persons could see better when coming out of a parking spot on those one-way streets.

Councilmen were advised that Bull Lake will open for the summer season on Saturday, April 13, the day before Easter.

Councilmen were also advised that the ambulance will be operated through the police department and that the takeover possibly be in effect by April 16.

Weather Modification Fund Needed Before Planning

Funds for supporting a fifth year of weather modification are due Monday. A board meeting for final decisions on this year's program is scheduled at Earth Monday night.

Directors of Better Weather, Inc. said officers must know the amount of support they can count on before final plans are made Monday.

Because of the busy time of year, directors said they are depending on individual farmers to turn their money in at the banks in the county handling the deposits, since time hasn't allowed personal contacts.

Cost of this year's program will run about $164,000. Plans call for initiation of a three-plane stimulation and hail suppression program beginning May 1 and continuing through the harvest season. The planes and radar are to be headquartered at the Littlefield airport.

Farmers in the target area are asked to pledge 90 cents per cultivated acre.

Accounts are set up at banks at Earth, Olton, Dimmitt, Anton and Security State in Littlefield. Farmers are asked to put their ASCS farm numbers on checks.

A permit for another year of cloud seeding operations here was granted by the Texas Water Development Board in a hearing at Port Isabel on Mar. 19. The board passed on the permit 4-1 with one member abstaining until further information was presented.

Twelve persons representing those for the weather modification program attended the coast meeting, and three persons representing Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather were present to ask that the permit be denied or altered.
