ELVOR SEZ: "To the optimist, the place is a center of warmth and beauty; to the pessimist, it is a source of smoke and ashes."

The Fourth of July was more like the month of January with the thermometer registering 64 degrees for the high in Littlefield Tuesday. It was a cool, dreary, drizzly day on which to celebrate the 196th birthday of our country. It was a cool, dreary, drizzly day on which to be travelling on the highways of Texas.

The highway death toll exceeded all estimates for the holiday weekend and it's not hard to see why the total was so high. Four people were killed just outside our city limits in apparently perfect driving conditions, and eight people were killed near Abilene in conditions which did not even warrant "normal" driving speeds. Single car turnovers were numerous throughout the state. Seems as though somewhere along the way, people have gotten the idea that these automobiles will drive themselves and all that is necessary for the "driver" is just to get in and go! And just as fast as he can go with no regard for his own safety, much less the safety of others who may be sharing the highway.

Looking for a "cure" for your own speeding? Just go out to a fatal accident scene. Don't look at the victims, that may be too much. Look at the rusted steel that was once an automobile, look at the clothes that are scattered up and down the highway, look at a child's stuffed toy that was once soft and cuddly, but is now stained with oil, dirt and blood, look at the big "why" etched on a survivor's (if there is one) face as the ambulance leaves, not with the siren screaming indicating an emergency, but in a slow, deliberate way for there is now no hurry.

MONDAY WAS an exceptionally good Dollar Day according to most Littlefield merchants. With the holiday on Tuesday, it seems as though most people stayed in town rather than leave. It won't be long till back to school shopping is in full swing and the clearance sales are now providing outstanding values for local and area shoppers. With the cool weather, outerwear may receive an unusual spurt for this time of the year.

A retired business executive recently commented that success, in his experience, could be summed up in three words--and then some. "I discovered at an early age," he said, "that the difference between the average person and the exceptional person could be explained in those three words. The top people did what was expected of them--and then some. They met their obligations and responsibilities--and then some. They were good friends to their friends--and then some. They could be depended upon in an emergency--and then some..."

Nine Arrested Over Weekend

Several fights and two stabbing incidents kept Lamb County officers busy over the long July Fourth holiday.

Two persons are charged with assault from knifings Sunday morning and Sunday night.

Fortunato Salazar, 33, of Sudan is charged with the stabbing of his 23-year-old brother with a pocket knife about 10:15 Sunday morning. Salazar was fined $100 plus court costs.

Five Earth residents were arrested following a knife fight at the Earth Drive-in restaurant Sunday night. Four were charged with disturbance, and a 19-year old juvenile is charged with knifing Augustine Munoz. The victim was taken to a Muleshoe hospital.

Two Amherst residents were jailed Tuesday for fighting. They were fined $17.50 each.

One other person was arrested over the weekend. Guillermo Limas, 21, of Muleshoe remains in the county jail on a burglary charge with bond set at $2,500.

Four Killed In Grinding Three-Car Crash

FOUR PERSONS died in this pulverizing crash 1.7 miles north of Littlefield about 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Two Irving teenagers going to Otton for a family reunion were killed in the compact car in the foreground. Two of the three occupants of the white car in the ditch in the background were dead on arrival. The car in the foreground was hit head-on by the white car which was passing the van at the far right. The impact sent the small car into the northbound lane where it hit the van. None of the five in the van were injured.

The gay family reunion of the Hackler family at Otton disintegrated into bitter tragedy Saturday afternoon when four out of five persons involved in a grinding head-on crash were killed 1.7 miles north of Littlefield on U.S. 385.

Robert Kent Walker, the 18-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hackler of Otton, and Melissa Ellen Bailey, Walker's pretty 16-year-old fiancée he was bringing to Otton to meet his mother's relatives, were dead at the scene of the accident.

The Irving teenagers were traveling south on U.S. 385 in Walker's new burnt orange Honda car. The compact car was hit head on by a northbound 1964 Chevrolet owned by 24-year-old Yuman Black of Fort Worth. Following impact of the crash, the Honda was knocked into the north bound lane where it was struck by the 1964 Volkswagen van the Chevrolet was passing.

Two of the three persons in the Chevrolet died a few minutes after the crash. Curtis Black, 36, of S. Paul, Minn., was dead on arrival at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, and his five-year-old son, Curtis Black Jr., was pronounced dead on arrival at the Littlefield Hospital. Yuman Black was treated at the Methodist Hospital and released. The Blacks were on their way to Hereford to visit relatives.

The two youths in the Honda were thrown from the vehicle. The small car landed in the east ditch. The victims in the Black vehicle were still in the car when it came to a stop in the bar ditch on the west side of the highway after traveling 242 feet from the point of impact.

None of the five persons in the van were injured. Joe David Henderson and his family from Rome, Ga., were on their way home from a vacation in Arizona.

DPS Patrolmen Weldon Parson and Bill Angel said none of 10 persons in the three vehicles were using seat belts.

The four deaths here were the first traffic fatalities on the South Plains during the long July 4 weekend.

The fatalities here and across Texas brought the holiday toll to 89 deaths from 48 traffic accidents during the period from 6 p.m. Friday until Monday midnight. This figure is 11 over the predicted number of persons who would lose their lives during "operation motorcade." Eight of the 48 accidents were head on crashes.

Area Crop Dismal After Hail Storm

Hail, high winds and rains hit Lamb County again Sunday night leaving hundreds of thousands of dollars in crop damages in the wake of the storm which continued to the caprock.

The sirens were sounded at Sudan at 4:45 a.m. Monday morning after two funnel clouds were spotted in the Sudan area. No damage was reported from the twisters, but hundreds of acres of cotton were beaten by heavy hail.

THE HAIL STRIP crossed north of Sudan in an easterly direction and damage continued fairly heavy north of Littlefield.

Another hail strip started south of Littlefield and apparently traveled in a southeasterly direction. Many farmers in the Lums Chapel, Whitharral and Anton areas had crops totally destroyed by the early morning hail which took two swipes at the area.

Ralph Wade at Whitharral lost five labors of cotton. Whitharral ginners estimate that 4,000 bales were lost in the Whitharral community. Toward Anton, Corky Spradley and Walter Hobgood lost more than 1,000 acres.

ACCOMPANYING RAINFALL brought the moisture total for the year to 18.65 thus far in the immediate Littlefield area. The total precipitation for June was 9.80, one of the wettest Junes on record, on top of 6.47 inches during May. July's total through Wednesday morning is 2.15.

JULY FOURTH temperatures dove to a low of 59 degrees, the coldest July 4th since 1924.

Farmers receiving the hail damage are trying to decide what to do. Where there is a chance on the cotton coming out, most say they plan to leave cotton and see what develops. Other producers are talking of late feed crops or going to soy beans or black eyed peas.

Flying Fills Car Racer's Urge To 'Let Her Go!'

By NILAH RODGERS

Coy Piercey raced cars all over Europe with big name Grand Prix drivers like Phil Hill, Dan Gurney and Sterling Moss. But he doesn't go to the races any more.

"It's hard to watch without getting the fever again," Piercey said.

Piercey has always been interested in racing. "I've raced anything that will go all my life," he said. "Every once in a while I'd still like to give her a go."

Most of the time flying takes care of Piercey's urge to "let 'er go." He is a spray pilot and does his own flying. He has logged plenty of hours flying high in planes and flying low over roads.

Piercey learned to fly a plane at 16 and joined the Navy at 17. He retired in 1967 as an aircraft maintenance specialist 7, better known as a chief petty officer, after 22 years of flying for Uncle Sam.

While in the Navy, Piercey competed at Rome and Naples, Ital.; Targaflorio, Sicily; Monza, outside Milan; and Silverstone, England.

For four consecutive years from 1958-61 he entered seven major events.

One hundred seventy miles per hour were cruising speeds for his Triumphs and Formula Juniors. All the different classes ran together and he was sometimes passed by jobs that clocked 200 and 215.

If five or six drivers decided they wanted to race, they would pick them out a run and send a car ahead of them to tell the people on the route that they were coming through in about an hour.

"We raced a lot of club events like this," Piercey said. "It wasn't like it is here."

Piercey served as competition director at Naples, Italy, in 1959. He was president of the Air Force Sports Car Club in 1960, and in 1961 he instructed men interested in competition driving.

During all his racing, he only had one accident. "It was an incident, really," Piercey said. "I missed a shift at 130 mph and went through a hay baler and a barbed wire fence."

Piercey flew all 22 years of his Navy service. When he retired in 1967 he intended to give flying up. He tried various trades. He was a police officer, a deputy sheriff and a tractor mechanic. Then he got a chance to get back into flying as a crop duster.

He came to Littlefield from Cordell, Okla., to dust crops and while he was here the company he was working for got into financial problems, so he stayed.

He and Alvin Bagwell formed a partnership flying service. Now Piercey is the sole owner.

COY PIERCEY visited all 50 states in the U.S., all of the free world, and Communist Bulgaria during his naval career from 1946-67. He is shown here with a picture of one of the cars he raced and some of the trophies he won while racing in Europe.

MOTHER NATURE'S fireworks were brightly displayed in the skies during Saturday and Sunday nights of this week, just prior to the July 4 celebration. This display was seen above the large water tower in the western part of Littlefield Sunday.

COTTON FEELS GOOD
No other fiber feels as good next to the skin as cotton does. Why? Cotton's high absorbency lets it readily transmit moisture away from the body. Non-absorbent fibers like the man-made lack this ability to lie flat against the skin, making them less comfortable than cotton.

Cotton . . . A Valuable Addition To Synthetics

The cotton-synthetic blend market knows the value of cotton's comfort, color and performance.
"As new fields clamor for the use of more cotton on the surface of double knits, cotton promoters strive for at least 60 to 65 per cent cotton in these new blends," Miss Roxanne Schnorr, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reported.
The Texas A&M University specialist pointed out that blending of cotton reduces snagging and decreases price with higher contents of the number-one fabric.
"Higher cotton content fabrics are predicted for the near future with the development of new permanent press and chemical finishes for shrinkage control," she said.
According to Miss Schnorr, cotton blends, as well as 100 per cent cotton fabrics, are now on parade as popular corduroy and denim.
"The biggest market in boys' and men's wear for cotton has been jeans and casual slacks. Shirts rank as the single biggest growth market for knits of the future."
She added that while growth is important, better-performing end products are the goal of all fabrics sporting cotton.

WHAT COULD BE the world's largest display of electrical fireworks was observed by Littlefield and area residents this past weekend as mother nature outdid herself by displaying millions of volts of electricity Sunday night.

A man-made fourth of July fireworks display could not have exceeded mother nature's brightness, although she would have to take second place when it comes to attractiveness.

Along with the lightning came the constant rumble of thundering. Then came the rains and the hail. To some farmers it will be a date to remember, a reproduction of a certain devastating June 13 with the exception of being 20 days later. Hail took its toll on several acres of crops. By observation, one will note only stems were left in some fields and others received a percent of damage. Truly, we have had a setback, but "Smile, God still loves you".

SPEAKING OF THE WEATHER, it has always been my belief, economically speaking not including personal injury or death, that a large hailstorm takes a greater toll dollar and cent-wise than a tornado.

If an actual total could have been made of the area's June 13 hailstorm a few years back, it would, in dollars, have exceeded the damage of the Lubbock tornado.

Mr. Farmer had to take it and rough, while the Federal Government came to the aid of the tornado victims.

A TIP OF THE HAT goes to Leon Durham, Littlefield's Fire Chief and local Civil Defense Volunteer. Durham is Littlefield's Guardian Angel, especially at night when the weather is unsettled.

If a cloud comes out at night, so does Durham. Regardless of the time, or how

Cotton Reduces Trade Deficits

In a year when the total U.S. trade balance had a deficit of $2 billion, agriculture had a favorable balance of $1.9 billion and cotton accounted for almost a third of this, according to the National Cotton Council.

This occurred despite a crippling dock strike that sharply reduced shipments of agricultural commodities in the last half of the year.

The value of U.S. cotton exports jumped by 37 per cent to $584 million in 1971. Opportunities for exporting cotton are far greater than for synthetic fibers. Climate and terrain limit cotton production to a relatively small part of the world while man-made fiber plants can be built almost anywhere.

Even though all of the man-made fibers together account for 40 per cent more fiber consumption in the United States than cotton, their exports were valued at less than $195 million in 1970.

Needless to say, he hasn't had much sleep lately. I don't know what it takes to be a "Man of the Year" nominee, but I would be willing to say that he would be number one for being "Johnny on the Spot."

LITTLEFIELD IS continuing its clean-up campaign for a more beautiful Littlefield. We have been working to clean up the outside of our homes and the physical appearances, but what is neglected by some is our own personal appearances. Where is that smile and that extra bloom of personality?

One Injured Near Olton

A student nurse, Ollie Vise of Hart, was slightly injured in a two-car accident on FR 168 near Olton about 11:30 p.m. Friday.

Santiago Rayna of Hart was attempting to pass a pickup driven by Mrs. Vise while she was attempting to turn left into a private drive. The right front of the Rayna vehicle hit the left door of Mrs. Vise's pickup.

Mrs. Vise was taken to the Dimmitt hospital where she is a student nurse. Neither her two-year old daughter, 15-year old sister, nor the driver of the other car were injured.

Weldon Parson, investigating patrolman, estimated damages of $300 to the car and $200 to the pickup.
