

FCC RULES EXPLAINED

Council Seeking Cable TV

Audit Accepted, CPA Rehired

By JOELLA LOVVERN

City councilmen accepted the city audit for the past fiscal year ending Sept. 31, 1971 and passed a resolution to join efforts to seek approval of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) for the proposed cable television service for Littlefield, during their regular meeting Thursday night.

In addition to accepting the city audit, councilmen voted to retain Public Accountant Alvin Webb and Associates as auditors for another year.

Alvin Webb, Benny Zahn and Bill Tom Grant appeared to discuss the audit. Councilmen decided to accept the audit after a few minor designated changes were made.

The progress of the Littlefield cable television service was explained by A.C.R. Stone of Diversified Communication Investors, Inc. in Lubbock.

He explained that the Federal Communications Commission would enforce a 35-mile zone ruling because of an earlier objection from a Lubbock television station of allowing Littlefield to have cable television. Stone informed the councilmen that the distance from Lubbock's post office to Littlefield's city limits was measured, and that only 47 square miles—constituting 8 percent of the area of 5.81 square miles in the entire city limits of the city of Littlefield is within a 35-mile arc from the reference point in Lubbock, at 101st and 47th square miles has a population of 31 persons.

These 31 persons could not be served with cable television because of the Feb. 2 adoption of FCC rules and regulations which place restrictions on the carriage of television signals by cable television systems located in communities within 35 miles of the reference point of a community with a licensed or authorized television broadcast station.

The new FCC rules and regulations become effective March 31.

Councilmen decided to authorize the mayor, mayor pro tem, and the city attorney, or any one of them individually, to sign on behalf of the city, along with Diversified Communication Investors, Inc., any petition or request for waiver of the rules of the FCC which might be deemed necessary by Diversified for its proposed CATV system for the city.

In other matters of business, councilmen discussed taking over the management of Bull Lake as a recreation area this summer.

Various possibilities for the lake were discussed, but no definite action was taken.

City Manager Pat Bradley informed the councilmen of Senate Bill 385, which concerns water pollution control duties of cities.

Bradley stated that the city has until May 1 to file an inventory of waste discharges in the area. Councilmen instructed the city manager to respond to the state's questions concerning the situation.

In other action, councilmen:

1. Passed an ordinance amending the 1971 tax roll.
2. Approved the payment of bills.
3. Approved the minutes of the March 2 meeting; and
4. Accepted the departmental reports.

Pollution Poster Awards Presented

Tracy Upton and Kelli Hampton, Littlefield second and fifth graders won the two first place ribbons and cash prizes in the "Action Against Pollution" poster contest, sponsored by the Littlefield Garden Club.

The contest was designed for students in grades one through nine, and was divided into three age classes.

Sixty-six posters were entered in the first two classes.

In class one, Tracy Upton, a second grader took the first place ribbon and a $3 cash prize. Beth Driskill, a third grader, won the second place ribbon and $2 cash prize; and April Sansom, a first grader, earned the third place ribbon and a $1 cash prize. Honorable mentions in that class were awarded to Robert Garcia and Mark McCanlies, both second graders.

In class two, which includes students in grades four, five and six, Kelli Hampton, a fifth grader, took the top prize ribbon and a $3 cash gift. Pat Patton, a fourth grader, won the second place ribbon and the $2 cash prize.

The first place posters will now be entered in the district poster contest at Lubbock March 28. District prizes will be ribbons and cash, in the amounts of $5, $3, and $2, for first second and third places respectively.

School Editor Earns State Press Awards

Miss Nelson, editor of Littlefield High School's newspaper, The SKAT, Saturday morning walked away with top honors in news photography in the Texas High School Press Association's individual awards at Austin.

Her daughter, Cathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson, was presented medals for both first and second place in that category of Class AA state contests. The third place award went to a Refugio High School student.

The SKAT editor attended the state press convention along with her instructor, Mrs. Bill Turner, and three other students, Druanne Wilkinson and Karol Terry, SKAT staff writers, and Kathy Turner, who does the photographic darkroom work for the school newspaper.

One of Cathy's winning photos was an action shot taken at a school pep rally last fall. The other was a candid photo taken during "Mum sales before homecoming last fall.

Miss Nelson, a first-year journalism student, had never taken pictures before this year.

Individual awards were presented before some 3,000 persons at Gregory Gym, where the closing events of the state convention were to be held Saturday night.

The awards for Miss Nelson were the first state honors for Littlefield High School in many years, and the trip was the first ever to a state press convention by LHS. It was financed through funds earned by journalism students selling The Catalyst, a duplicated newspaper also published by the journalism department.

Clothes Theft High At Olton

Lamb County authorities and Olton city police are investigating the theft of more than $3,000 worth of men's wear from Kelley's Clothiers in Olton late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Stolen goods included five suits, 63 sport coats and $21.25 in change.

James Spencer's home west of Earth was burglarized this week. Taken were a camera, rifle, linens, clothing, and household goods valued at $500.

Dewitt Tiller reported the theft of 25 joints of five-inch irrigation pipe taken from his farm six miles southwest of Sudan.

Other activities at the courthouse this week included one arrest. Jimmie D. Stanaford, 37, was arrested Friday night on a charge of driving while intoxicated and was released Saturday morning on a $500 bond.

In County Judge G.T. Side's office, Barbara Ann Huckabee paid a fine on a charge of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle. The charge was filed following a two-car accident causing personal injuries near Olton recently.

TOT ALLEN

Short Order Cook Is Hamburger King

By NILAH RODGERS

If Tot Allen had all the buns he's turned into hamburgers together, he'd have a rick of buns a block wide and 10 stories high, and it would take several semi trucks to hold all the onions he's chopped.

Does he cry when he chops the onions? "Everytime!" the hamburger king answered. "There's just one way to keep 'em out of your eyes — just don't chop 'em."

Tot and Alma Allen have sold hamburgers for 42 years in the 38 places they've owned. Eighteen of these have been in Anton. The Allens opened their first cafe in Anton in 1928 and sold hamburgers for 10 cents each for many years.

"During the Thirties lots of people sold hamburgers for a nickel," Allen said, "but I never did."

For 38 years Allen has bought fresh ground round from the same Anton grocer. "I make my own meat patties," Allen said. "Don't put nothin' in 'em but meat, either. You don't get enough to hurt you, but what you do get is good."

Allen doesn't go for frozen meat patties. "I don't eat frozen food and I don't sell it," he said. If there's a secret to being a hamburger king, it's to use the best of

E. R. RICHARDSON

Gen Tel Has New Manager

E. R. "Rad" Richardson has been named Littlefield District Manager for General Telephone Company, according to G. T. Hamilton, Brownfield Division Manager.

Richardson will assume his new duties April 1, replacing Gerald F. Kehoe who has been promoted to Division Manager at Seymour.

Richardson is moving from Lewisville where he served as area personnel administrator since Sept., 1968. He began his telephone career as an exchange repairman in Sept. 1959 at Irving, and has held various managerial positions since that time.

He graduated from Irving High School and has attended Texas A&M and SMU.

Richardson, his wife Rita, and two children are Baptists.

Voter Registration Behind 1971 Total

Unless more than 657 eligible voters in Lamb County register to vote before the primaries and general elections this year, this county is going to come up 657 short of the total number who registered to vote last year.

On Jan. 31, 5,874 had registered in Lamb County. Several have registered since that date, but not nearly 600-700, according to Tax Assessor-Collector Herbert Dunn. By Jan. 31, 1971, 6,531 voters had registered.

There is no registration deadline this year, but voters must register 30 days before they are eligible to vote in any election. By voting at any time during the next three years, registration is automatically renewed.

everything. "Back in the winter tomatoes were $8.75 a lug, and I still put 'em on," he said.

The Allens have owned cafes and restaurants in Lubbock, Carlisle, Abernathy, Shallowater, Countyline, Sudan, Albuquerque and Ruidoso besides the Anton locations. For the last several years they've stuck strictly to the drive-in business where there is "the most pay for the least work."

Allen says the 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. business hours are on account of old age. "We can seat 4,000 people, four at a time," Allen says of the four chairs that line one wall of the small front.

At 72 years, Allen still declares that retirement is foolishness. "We quit last year from December until August and doing nothing like to have run us crazy. Retirement doesn't suit me. I've worked all my life; I don't have to, I just do it to get something to eat. And that old Dutchman gal over there can cook, too," he said about his wife.

"If there is anything I can't do, I don't know what it is. I played baseball until I was 56. Now I get my exercise working with my fruit trees and flowers. I won't let my wife out in the yard. "She tromps the ground."

SUSAN FRIDAY and her dog Missy find warm March days just right for lolling in the sun. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Friday, 232 E. 23rd Street.

Tot Allen hunted rabbits and raised them in the pasture where the town of Anton is now when he first came to Anton in 1923. He opened his first cafe in Anton in 1928 and has been a hamburger king in 18 different places in Anton since then.

smocking are gathering up a lot of attention.
Shirring plays a dual role. Rippling clothes into interesting textures, it also determines fit in bodices, waistslines and sleeves.
Completely shirred bodices and sleeves mold the figure in the clinging contours of a tightly fitted knit, softened by the depth of the gathered texture.
Waistlines held by elasticized shirring have the nipped-in look without the constriction of a tightly cinched belt. Depending upon width, it takes a hand in creating silhouettes. From two-inch widths, it rises to accent the midriff or spreads all the way up to the empire line. Dropping down from the waistline, it forms a skirt yoke emphasizing the hipline.
Shirring plays pretty tricks with sleeves. Gathered from shoulder to biceps or elbow, it allows the bottom part of the sleeve to puff. Shirring the bottom of the sleeve reverses the fullness. Bands of shirring spaced down the sleeve form a series of puffs from shoulder to wrist.
Smocking is the pretty trim on country and other young-mood dresses and blouses. It forms yoke, cuff and waistline accents.

Shower Honors Miss Carter

Miss Dixie Carter, bride-elect of Keith McGrew, was honored with a bridal shower Tuesday night, March 14, in the home of Mrs. Albert Perkins.
The serving table was laid with a handmade, off white table runner in a medley pattern of cotton visionette imported from England. Nestled among boughs of blue candy tuft and white pom-pom mums, were two blue birds bearing ribbon entwined wedding rings, flanked by blue candles in branched silver candelabras.
Refreshments of assorted cookies, finger sandwiches, nuts, punch and coffee were served from milk glass and silver appointments.
The honoree, her mother, Mrs. H.A. Carter, and Mrs. W.G. McGrew, mother of the groom, greeted approximately 50 guests, who called during the evening.

Spring Comes Again

NOW THE fairest season of them all, spring, is about to take its place in the turn of the seasons.

This year it is due to arrive officially on March 20 at precisely 6:22 a.m., CST. As the sun moves further into the northern latitudes, it will bring with its warmth the flights of migratory birds, the greenness of new grass and the sound of new life quickening all around us.

THE SWEETNESS of early flowers will be with us again. The freshness of the earth and warming air will be a reminder that with a little luck, a reasonable amount of goodwill toward his fellows and a lot of hard work, man should be able to preserve this beautiful planet on which he lives.

FROM THE EARLIEST scratchings in which his thoughts were set down on stone or clay, man has expressed his feelings of encouragement and faith in a new beginning that is associated with the coming of spring.

In this year of 1972, we, as a people, need much faith, and we need confidence in our own ability to bring the light of new reason and persuasion to bear on old problems as we seek to end a war, to talk with our enemies, to guide our nation through the search for greater individual security and opportunity while preserving the freedom without which life is not worth living.

As the gentle warmth of the first spring day and the dappled shade of new leaves move across the land, the freshness of the season will bring a new enthusiasm for the unfolding life that lies before us.

A Thriving Business?

If your business took 81.1 per cent of your total income for operating expenses, would you think you had a thriving business?

This is the basis on which our government is working and we are continuously told that we are living in prosperous times.

These facts, along with numerous other facts and figures about the economic conditions of the U.S. Government, were presented by Arnold Paulson at Plainview and Lubbock recently.

And he had the proof from publications provided by the government.

Paulson pointed out that during the depression years, the government's expenses were 83 percent of the national income. We are only 2 percent away from that figure at the present time!

A period when the economy was in balance was the years 1946 through 1950. During that time, agricultural industries were getting 100 percent parity for their products and when agriculture thrives, so does the entire nation. This prosperity was due to the Stegall amendment, which Congressman Stegall succeeded in having adopted. When the Stegall amendment was set aside, things began to look bad for the farmer.

Trying to illustrate the unbalance, Paulson used private enterprise as an "ocean" with several ships on the ocean—corporations, small businesses, rental investments, agriculture, wages and interest.

When the tide comes in, all ships SHOULD rise with the tide. However, the tide rose 375 percent while corporation rose 206 percent; small business, 224 percent; rental investments, 284 percent; agriculture 117 percent net, 180 percent gross; wages, 445 percent and interest, a whopping 1950 percent.

Very unbalanced economy!

So, the solution—create an income from a source that you won't have to pay back—raw materials, agriculture, if given a fair price, would get the nation back on its feet. The only times in history when the nation truly had a balanced economy was when the farmer was receiving a fair price for his products.

We all know, living in a farming area, that when crops around here are short, so are our businesses. This holds true all over the nation. And we all need to do what we can to convince our representatives in government positions that in order for things to get "back into balance" is to give the farmer a fair price.

We hear each year that the national debt is so much higher. More and more each year, the debt is extended.

There's no way that an individual can borrow enough money to pay out of debt and the same thing is true about our government.

So, let's get on the farmers side and help him get a good price for his products! There has NEVER been a recession or depression when raw materials are at 100 percent parity.

HONNY GRYS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, MAKES NO difference whether Wallace gets on the presidential ballot or not! His influence is being felt plumb up to the White House.

We can't help but notice that the "Forced Bussing" issue is occupying the thoughts of a lotta' our hi-ups.

EVEN SEE THAT THE question is to be up for the voters' opinion in our state primary. It HAS to be something new, when the politicians decide to ask OUR opinion!

Truth of the matter is, that the potato has become too hot for the "Champions of the People" to handle! Especially during an election year.

IT'S MY OPINION that the average John Q Voter has his tummy full, plumb up to the ears, of our HEW and their high-handed ways. The "Public Servants" aren't too dumb to realize this fact.

Since the takin' of either side of the question might be costly in votes, these fellows have decided to let the people speak. Of course, they're not binding themselves to the proposition that whatever the people want will be carried out, but they're willing to listen! — That's SOME improvement.

NO, I'M NOT advocating the idea of segregation! I sincerely believe in the principle of equal educational opportunities for ALL the people.

But, the idea of the waste of the taxpayer's money — both for the buyin' of busses, and the expense of operatin' them — solely for the purpose of MIXIN' THE POPULACE just has to be plain silly!

THE BUS MANUFACTURERS must have a powerful lobby in our country!

It would make a great deal more sense to take this wasted money and apply it to the outfitting of the classrooms and other facilities. The idea would be to make our schools more efficient, rather than to mix the kids more evenly.

AT ANY RATE, unless someone backs out on the deal, come election time, WE'RE gonna have opportunity to give an opinion on the matter. — For this, MR. WALLACE, we THANK YOU!

P.S. — Wonder if any one can come up with a plan to let the voter have a say on the "Law and Order" thing??

P.S. #2 — You can be sure that whatever the majority of voters want will be echoed by the politician — 'Til after the election, anyway!

YES, AUNT EDNA, it's STILL proper for the long-haired ones to use the MEN'S powder room.

FOR TEENS ONLY

Parents Are Worried

By PAT AND MARILYN DAVIS
Copley News Service

Dear Pat and Marilyn: We have been having a discussion about human development in our physiology class and my parents are going to do everything short of picketing the school. They do not feel that students who are 16 and 17 should learn about the human body in the schoolroom from a teacher.

I feel this is archaic. How can they be so old-fashioned? We are not having live models or pornographic pictures flagrantly displayed. This is a part of physiology that all teenagers need to understand. School is where many of us get the facts and not from some fairy tale told by a too embarrassed parent. If I had not had a few understanding teachers, I would still think that the stork brings the babies. What can I do?

Phyllis

Dear Phyllis: Take the textbook home and let your parents see it. Tell them exactly what you have learned. If they are still upset, then they should speak with your teacher and the head of the department.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: My boyfriend is 23 and I am 21 so we are not high school kids. We have been dating for five years and the topic of marriage has come up many times. First, we felt that we were too young. Then we both wanted to complete college. Now that we have graduated, we want to get married. I know this young man very well, and he understands me completely.

Here is our only problem. He says that we should live together before we get married. Why would he suddenly have this idea after five years? This man is moderate in every other way, and I cannot understand this sudden change. Perhaps I should mention that his parents were recently divorced after 25 years of marriage. Could this be the cause of his sudden change in thinking?

Bewildered

Dear Bewildered: Give your fiance a little time to adjust to his parents' divorce. It was probably quite a shock to learn that they did not care to continue a marriage which had survived a quarter of a century.

Living with someone does not guarantee that the marriage will be a success or determine a future failure. It can produce distrust and legal problems which take an emotional toll on those involved.

Perhaps it would be wise to seek the opinion of a counselor, priest, minister, or rabbi.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I am 19 years old and I have been married for nearly a year. When I got married I told my husband I was 20. Since I had just turned 18, it did not require the signature of my parents. I know that very few women add to their age; however, it seemed like the best thing to do at the time.

My husband is 25, a college graduate, and quite worldly. I had graduated from high school when I was 17 and had taken a secretarial course. Therefore, I was able to get a fairly good job.

We met at the office and age just never came up until we had decided to get married. I felt that if I told him I had only been working a few months and was just out of high school he would think that I was too young for such responsibility as marriage.

We both work and my husband wants to buy some property as an investment. He also wants my signature on the contract. I am under 21 and am afraid I cannot sign the contract. How can I tell him the truth without disappointing him?

California Girl

Dear California Girl: Tell your husband exactly what you did and why you did it. After being happily married for almost a year, I doubt if your age is going to make much difference.

Dear Pat and Marilyn: I have been going steady for five months and I want to break it off. The girl is nice but after five months I am ready for a change.

Now I can see that this steady bit is a kind of security blanket for teen-agers and I feel caught. My girl friend likes me quite a bit and I know that if I break off she will be hurt. Would it be better if I just started dating others and kept my steady too? That way no one would be hurt and I would not be trapped into dating just one girl.

Don

Dear Don: You must be kidding! No one is going to profit from this little game and you'll get caught right in the middle. Why not tell your girl friend the truth? And the sooner you do it the better.

The following quote is still true today: "Honesty is the best policy." (Cervantes, "Don Quixote")

James Renfro Recommended Admiral

James Renfro, who was in Littlefield this past weekend to see his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Renfro, recently returned from business trips to Dallas and San Francisco for the U.S. Navy.

Renfro has received commendation from Rear Admiral Levering Smith, Director of the Strategic Missiles Project Office, for his accomplishment and contribution to the success of the Poseidon Missile Program. He was aboard the Poseidon missile on its maiden voyage March 31, 1971 aboard the USS S.S.N. 627, U.S.S. James Renfro.

Renfro is currently working on the final stages of development of the new ULMS (underwater launched missile system) which is planned to follow-up the successful Polaris missile. He will have been on the Polaris missile system for the U.S. and U.K. for 11 years.

Renfro graduated in December from Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration for management development. He was featured in the February issue of Fortune magazine, an article titled, "A Seven-Week Pressure Cooker for Tomorrow's Top Managers", by associate editor Robert Gooding.

Renfro now lives in the Washington, D.C. suburban city of Arlington, Va. with his wife, Elizabeth, and 7-year-old son, James.

Week-Long Activities Planned For FHA Week

Forty-eight Littlefield Junior High School FHA members have planned a bevy of activities this week to celebrate Future Homemakers of America Week.

Rhonda Hall is FHA Week chairman. The girls will attend the First Baptist Church as a group this morning, then eat lunch together following church. Monday is poster day, and the FHA members will wear red and white and put up red and white posters and FHA emblems.

There will be a special FHA meeting and girls will be "slaves" to the teachers Wednesday. Thursday is pack rat day. The group will inspect school lockers and award stars to the neat ones and put papers into messy lockers. Friday night there will be a midnight supper with all the girls bringing a covered dish.

The week will conclude Saturday after FHA members participate in the "Walk a mile for a child" March of Dimes five-mile hike.

Officers are Sheila Dangerfield, president; Sharla Grant, first vice president; Rhonda Bean, second vice president; Shebra Johnson, third vice president; Linda Sanderson, fourth vice president; Toni Gardner, publicity. Gena Stowers is secretary, Kay Wesley is treasurer, Debbie Cutshall is historian, Janice Johnson is parliamentarian, and Carla Sanders is pianist.

Chapter mothers are Mrs. Lyle Brandon, Mrs. Clinton Byers, Mrs. Jimmy Cannon, Mrs. Troy Gardner and Mrs. Allen Purdy. Miss Ellen Massengill is FHA advisor.

AMHERST

MRS. LESTER LA GRANGE 246-3336

AN ELECTION will be held in the school secretary's office April 1, 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Two vacancies are to be filled on the Amherst School Board. Winston Cummings does not seek re-election. Jimmy Cowan will seek re-election and Dick McDaniel and Dale Weaver's names will appear. Two of three will be elected.

FHA Members Attend Meet

Six LJHS FHA members participated in the FHA area meeting in Amarillo Saturday. Twenty-three other FHA members attended the meeting along with six adult sponsors.

Leaving Friday night to take part in the area meeting were Sheila Dangerfield who entered the talent program; Toni Gardner was the area officer candidate. Janice Johnson and Carla Sanders were in the area choir and Linda Sanderson was the area choir and national choir contestant. Kay Wesley was the voting delegate. Advisor Miss Ellen Massengill and chapter mother, Mrs. Larry Sanderson, went with the participants.

FHA members attending the Saturday area meeting were Rhonda Bean, Stephanie Benner, Linda Bundick, Janice Cannon, Cindy Chaney, Barbara Colbert, Tommie Conley, Teresas Crosby, Debbie Cutshall, Petra Garcia, Brenda Gattis, Kathy Grand, Sharla Grant, Rhonda Hall, Jerri Hardaway, Shebra Johnson, Margaret Martinez, Mary Martinez, Diane Oberlechner, Cindy Purdy, Gena Stowers, Arethia Thomas and Lisa Wells. Chapter mothers accompanying the group were Miss Teresa Smith, Mrs. Jimmy Cannon, Mrs. Allen Purdy and Mrs. Troy Gardner.

Mrs. Lucile Cook will serve as election judge and Lilly McDaniel and Ellarene Holland, clerks.

Voters are to bring their voter's registration card. Absentee voting can be between March 13-27, in the school secretary's office from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

THE CITY ELECTION will be held April 1, in the Community Center, Raymond Duvall will serve as judge and Verdel Burton alternate judge.

and George Thompson also seek re-election.

MR. AND MRS. Ralph Liles honored their daughter, Brenda, with a birthday dinner Sunday. Those present were her husband, Dan, and Katrina, Danette and Susan from Nazareth, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Liles and Brit from Lubbock, Mrs. Mamie James of Littlefield, Miss Kay Beal of Corpus Christi, and Stephen Liles of Lubbock.

YOUR CUP Full

In the 23rd Psalm, David expresses his confidence in God as a provider. He assures us that God will not let us go wanting, that He will supply all our needs.

But the Psalmist does not stop here. He assures us that God will give us more than we need, in fact, so much more that our cup will run over. He even assures us a surplus. A God-given surplus. A surplus we can waste or we can share. If we waste it, we are careless. If we share it, of course, we care. To waste it would be to mock the provider; to share it would be to thank Him for it.

In an era when we hear so much about the minimum hourly wage and a guaranteed income, we find it very difficult to separate that which we need from what we do not need, but think we do. If we could honestly discern between necessities and luxuries, we could witness our cup really running over. The question is personal. What are you doing with your surplus? Just what are you doing with Your Cup Full?

CORCORAN'S CORNER

The Fun Is Going Out Of Sports

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service

There was a day when all it took for some boys to have fun playing basketball was a ball, a couple of baskets (one some-times would do), and a hard surface court, dirt or wood.
Or if some youngsters had a desire to play baseball, they needed little more than a bat, a ball, perhaps a few gloves and a field with rocks for bases.
That sort of thing still can happen. But for the most part, there are organized programs, utilizing good equipment and bolstered by adequate to good coaching.
Before continuing, let's make it clear this is not a nostalgic plea to return to the good old days, which in some respects were not as rosy as we see them through a filtered memory screen. It is not the conditions under which athletes from the sandlots to the professionals play, but rather the attitudes of so many involved in sports that have caused concern.

The fun is going out of sports, and at almost all levels.
Perhaps this is because of an increasingly sophisticated youth; more probably it is because professionalism is dominant in sports.
In a preface to his book, "Foul," sportswriter David Wolf says that Phoenix Sun superstar Connie Hawkins may have known pride and satisfaction because of basketball; but he also observed, "Hawkins' life is also a chronicle of the corruption, racism, hypocrisy and exploitation that are realities in modern big-time athletics."
Hawkins, one of the top players ever to come out of a New York high school, was on the National Basketball Association blacklist for eight years, wrongfully implicated in a gambling scandal. Because basketball was his entire life, the emotional strain on Hawkins was that much greater.
Pressure begins at an early age in sports. First, there is the emphasis on making the junior high school team. Next, it is high school. The college team is at the next level, and for those with the ultimate dream, the professional team.

Anyone who thinks emotional trauma is restricted to the prep level is mistaken. The impact it can have on a boy with a passion for success and recognition in football, for example, is acute. The sport is no longer fun to play.
When benched, he may ponder for days because he is unsure of his ability. Coaches, also putting great emphasis on winning and success, may harass players or let their personal emotions get the better of them in treatment of their charges.
"There is no room for vendettas on the part of a coach," said Providence, R. I., basketball coach Dave Gavitt.
Because the professional opportunities are economically so great, even an exceptional athlete feels considerable strain.

In one recent instance, a Little All-America player realized the coach of the Boston Celtics was in the grandstand. He lost his cool because he felt two teammates were not giving him a chance to shoot enough to impress the coach.
Kareem Abdul Jabbar, who has had all the success anyone can have in sports, was asked recently if he enjoyed playing basketball.
He thought for a minute, and then said, "It is hard work. Maybe I'll think differently afterward."
That is not saying much for sports as recreation.
There is nothing wrong with wanting to succeed, as these athletes so want to do.
But the attitudes developed over the years in sports competition can influence an individual's entire life as well as his family and friends long after an athletic career is at a close.

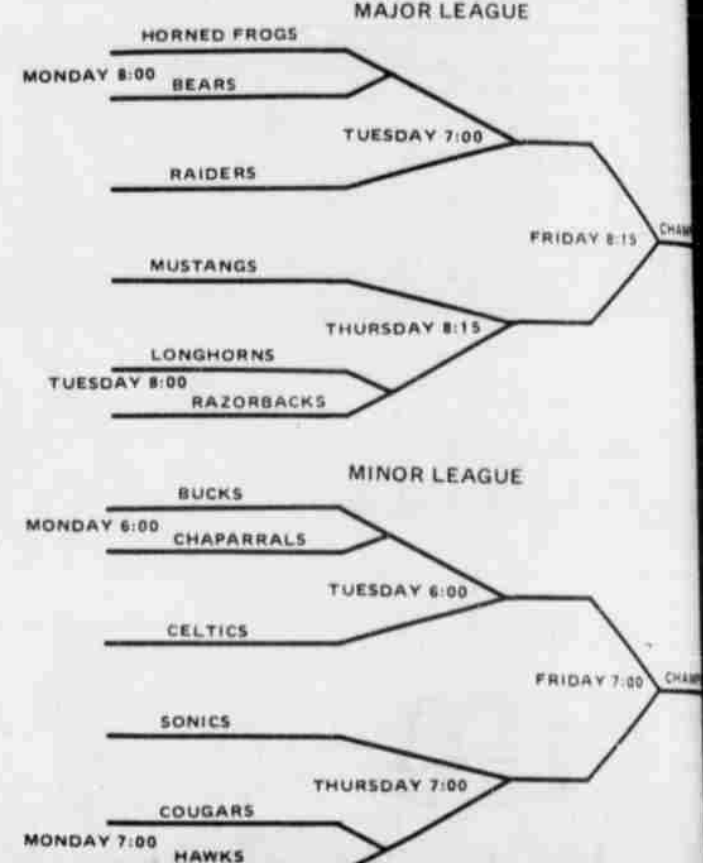

Frogs, Bucks LD Winners

The Longhorns ended the 1972 Little Dribblers Basketball season by dumping the Raiders, 30-19, in Major League play Thursday.
Stan Jackson swished the nets for 24 points to help the winners turn a 9-6 first quarter lead into an 11-point win.
Other scorers for the winners were, Eddie Elms, David Goen and Jeff Birkelbach with two points each.
The Raiders' scoring department consisted of Bren Jones with eight, Larry Whitson six, Scott Carter three and Todd Harrell with two.
The Longhorns are tied with the Bears for third place in the Major League, while the Raiders and the Mustangs share the fourth place berth.
In other Major League play, the second place Razorbacks won over the Bears, 37-26.
The game was knotted 5-5 at the end of the first quarter and 15-5 at intermission, as the winners blanked the Bears in the second quarter to give them a boost to their fourth season win.
Rudolph Smith was the big gun for the winners as he sank 16 points, Keith McCain hit 10, Ronnie Milligan six, Greg Lavo three and Darren Richards two.
Greg Moreland bucketed 12 for the Bears. Mark Coffman hit nine, Lynn Duffey three and Lewis Willey and Jeff Last each got one.
The Horned Frogs led the league in season play with 5 wins and no losses.
In Minor League play the Hawks clinched second place by downing the Celtics, 26-17 Thursday night.
The winners took a first quarter lead and went all the way for a nine-point win.
The Hawks' scorers were Jimmy Clayton with 12, Scott Yarbrough 10, and Kerry Pope and Mark Yarbrough with two each.
Rickey Henson hit 11 for the Celtics. Robert Flores got four and Will Burks two.
The Bucks earned the Minor League first place position with a 5-0 record. The Hawks were second by mustering four wins to single defeat. Third place honors went to the 3-2 Chaparrals. Three teams are tied for fourth, with one win and four losses each. They are the Sonics, Celtics and the Cougars.
Monday starts a week-long Little Dribblers Tournament with separate brackets for the Minor and the Major Leagues. The tourney starts at 6 p.m. Monday.

MIKE WILLIAMS (10) comes in for a Raider two-pointer only to be blocked by Longhorn Eddie Elms (1). Other Longhorns in the play are Payne (2), Jeff Birkelbach (4), and David Goen (3). Williams is blocked by Todd Harrell (8). The Longhorns won the game, 30-19.

How to remove candle stain

By JOYCE ROARK
Copley News Service

number of you have written asking help in removing stains from household textiles. A woman wrote asking how to remove a colored candle wax on a namask tablecloth. Wax stains are common problems around, especially at Christmas.

When a stain of this type is found, it is best to answer because there are a number of different methods in coloring candles. If the stain is treated in a different way, it may be difficult to remove.

When attempting to remove a stain from a fabric, check the label of the item. If the fabric is washable, check the label of the item to see if it has in it. If the stain is of this type, remove the wax. This is done by heating the wax and then it can be scraped off. Examine the fabric to be sure that there is no wax left in the weave of the fabric.

For washable fabrics, such as cotton, use a detergent. For nonwashable fabrics, such as silk, use a solvent to remove the stain.

Some remade candles use a means of coloring with Crayon dye can be removed by applying an undiluted detergent to the stain. Or you can dampen the stain and rub in a soap or detergent until a thick suds is formed. Whichever method you use, work in the cleansing agent until the outline of the stain is gone, then rinse well. Repeat if necessary. It may help to dry the fabric between treatments.

Some candles use food coloring as a dye. This type of stain requires soaking in cool water for 30 minutes or longer. If the stain has not been removed, work in a detergent and then rinse. If the stain remains after the detergent treatment, use a chlorine or oxygen bleach.

There are a number of candle manufacturers that use other types of dyes that are more permanent. These dyes are best removed if soaked in cool water immediately after the wax drips onto the cloth. The soaking should be followed by a detergent treatment and bleach if necessary.

Some presoak products on the market can help remove stains but even they can't do the job effectively if the stain is allowed to dry.

Nonwashable fabrics require the use of solvents to remove stains.

Linen tablecloths are beautiful and nice to put on your table when entertaining, but when they get stained your problems just begin.

On the market today are a number of stain-resistant, no-iron, cotton-polyester cloth tablecloths that take the worry out of entertaining. I strongly recommend this type of table linen for a family with children. I dislike plastic tablecloths for anything other than everyday use.

If you have frequent problems with household stains then you would find it worth the time and money to purchase a bulletin published by the U.S. Department of Agriculture on removing stains from fabrics using home methods. The charge is about 25 cents. The bulletin also gives warnings about treating stains on solvent sensitive fabrics.

This bulletin can be obtained by writing the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Questions on shopping problems may be sent to Joyce Roark, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, Calif. 92112.

The new DOUBLE EAGLE POLYSTEEL TIRE

Polyester cord for smoothness/Steel belts for protection

The Double Eagle trademark has been a tradition with us ever since 1928. The year we first reserved it for Goodyear's finest tire. The first Double Eagle was simply "extravagantly good." Today's namesake honors this tradition. Your body plies of polyester cord, two additional plies of steel cord in stabilizing belts that encircle the body, a tread engineered for heavy car performance, a sidewall designed for sheer elegance. And we've put our confidence in this tire in writing—in a superb service and maintenance policy. The Double Eagle Polyester tire by Goodyear.

Whitharral Youngsters Win Stock Show Honors

Bud Reding, Whitharral FFA member, showed the grand champion steer at the Whitharral Stock Show in Whitharral March 8. The grand champion lamb was shown by Johnny Miller of the FFA, and Roger Reding exhibited the grand champion swine. He is also a member of the FFA chapter.

Reserve grand champion calf was shown by Johnny Miller and the reserve grand champion lamb was shown by Lynn Miller of the FFA.

Gary Hayes' heavyweight Duroc was the reserve champion swine of the show.

The annual show was sponsored by the Whitharral Young Farmers, and the youngsters were aided with their projects by the agriculture teacher, Omar Tripp, and 4-H leaders, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Clevenger.

Stanley Furry of Grady, N. M. served as judge.

Following the Whitharral show, the animals were entered in the Hockley County Show in Levelland, where 10 pigs, three lambs and one calf made the county sale held Saturday, March 11.

James Hayes' pig brought a bonus price of $1,340.50.

He is a senior at Whitharral, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Hayes, and is in the Wadley Institute in Dallas at present.

Texas Farmers Contracting Crop

South Plains cotton producers showed a great deal of interest in contracting their 1972 crop at the 28 cent level, however, only a small amount of the South Plains crop had been booked by early February.

Contract prices ranged from 26.50 cents for all cotton regardless of quality to 30 cents for the Acala varieties. Some contracts specified 28 cents for all cotton with premium micronaire (3.5 - 4.9) with discounts for all cotton with micronaire outside the premium range. Most contracts specified prices of 23 to 25 cents for below grade cotton.

About 11 per cent of the Texas crop was under some kind of sales agreement by early February.
