Two Sudan employees were electrocuted about 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the city dump.

Joel Williams and Daniel Galvan, both of Sudan, suffered fatal shock when a section of pipe they were holding came in contact with high voltage power.

Justice of the Peace W. T. announced both dead at the scene. The judge also ruled that both deaths were electrical shock. The judge also ruled both men were badly burned, and that grass caught fire where they were lying.

Investigators said the two men were chasing a rabbit, when it ran into the pipe and they attempted to flush it out by lifting the pipe. Another city employee witnessed the incident and reported it to authorities.

Southwestern Public Service To Invest In New Equipment

More than $345,000,000 will be invested in new equipment and improvements during the next five years by Southwestern Public Service Company, according to Roy Talk, chairman and president of the electric company.

The investment for 1975, 62.4-million dollars, will be the largest annual amount ever budgeted for the company, but the record will be short-lived. The projected investment for 1976 is more than 66-million dollars, more than 76-million dollars in 1977, and in 1979, the company expects to spend more than 77-million dollars for the improvements and equipment necessary to continue providing electric service for this growing area.

Three new generating facilities to be installed during this five year period will increase the capability of the SPS system by more than 1-million kilowatts, bringing the total capability to approximately 3 1/2-million kilowatts.

Harrington Station, northeast of Amarillo, will be the site for the first two additional generating units. The first is now under construction and is scheduled for completion in mid-1976 and completion of the second unit is planned for 1978. These two generators will each have a capability of 350,000 kilowatts and will use coal as their primary fuel.

"Construction of the third generating unit will start during the latter part of the five year period and will also use a coal fired boiler," Talk said.

In September of this year, SPS announced its interest in taking a lead role in the construction of the nation's first nuclear power plant using a gas-cooled fast breeder reactor. The company signed a letter of intent with the General Atomic Company of San Diego, California indicating that SPS would contribute $100-million to such a project. Transmission lines and transmission substations to be built during the five year program will represent an expenditure of more than $50-million. The lines will be 115,000 and 230,000 volt and will serve the major load areas in Southwestern's system.

Construction will start in the near future on a 115,000 volt transmission line from Cunningham Station, near Hobbs, New Mexico, to Carlsbad, New Mexico. This new line will provide additional power for new and existing industrial loads.

City Included In SPAG Grant

The city of Littlefield has been included in a grant award to the South Plains Association of Governments by the Texas Criminal Justice Division. The $11,273.00 grant will provide investigative equipment for twelve law enforcement agencies in the SPAG region. The Littlefield Police Department will receive $752 for the purchase of photographic and investigative equipment.

The 1975 Criminal Justice Plan for the South Plains Region pointed out that "Some departments have a small amount of photographic and investigative equipment, but it is either obsolete or insufficient for complete crime scene investigations."

The South Plains Association of Governments is serving as applicant and administrator of the Technical Equipment Project. According to Truett Mayes, executive director, local agencies can qualify for funds through such a joint purchase, which they would otherwise not be able to obtain.

JENI D' BRUNSON presents a bell trophy to Charles Duval, for "outstanding work" with the Salvation Army in Littlefield. Duval serves as treasurer for the unit here. Others honored, but not present, were Susan Wilemon and Hazel White, who were to have received plaques. (Staff Photo)

She continued, "Every year, some 250,000 American babies are born with birth defects. Birth defects cause nearly half of all childhood chronic disability. An estimated 15 million Americans of all ages have one or more birth defects which affect their daily lives."

She states, "The mission of the National Foundation of the March of Dimes is to lead, direct, and unify the fight to prevent birth defects and their

Senator Introduces Smoking Limit Bill

Senator Jack Ogg of Houston introduced legislation today that would prohibit smoking in certain public places. The Ogg bill would ban smoking on planes, trains, elevators, hospitals, museums, and other public places unless a designated area for smoking is provided.

"This is legislation to protect the rights of non-smokers by requiring certain public facilities to set aside separate areas for smokers and non-smokers."

"The intent of the bill is to protect the rights of non-smokers."

"Although I am personally convinced that smoking is injurious to a smokers' health, it is certainly his prerogative (to smoke)."

"However, non-smokers also have the right not to inhale the smoke of others that is also dangerous, offensive and impolite to them. There are already states and cities who have comparable legislation and ordinances. Many public facilities also voluntarily protect the rights of non-smokers. The legislation merely extends this principle," Sen. Ogg stated.

Under the Ogg bill, a violation of the provision would be a Class C misdemeanor, carrying a fine of up to $100.

When asked if the measure was intended to be punitive, Senator Ogg, who is a non-smoker, stated, "Certainly not. It is merely a protection for those who choose not to smoke their own or someone else's."

The West Texas Gas Supply

You hear a great deal about the competition for the natural gas in West Texas these days. It is rightfully a matter of interest and concern to every citizen of this area. It has some serious implications.

Natural gas has been an important factor in building West Texas and will continue to be. Most of the businesses and industries in our area depend, directly or indirectly, on a continuing supply of natural gas. A lot of people's jobs depend on it. So, we must see that they have it.

We will have to pay more for it than in the past... the competition for gas has never been so fierce. But by working together, and without outside interference, we'll have the gas energy we need today and in the future. Gas will still be your best energy buy.

To The EDITOR

Dear Editor,

This is really a plea to our hospitals to reverse their decision on reporting the admittance and dismissal of patients to our Leader-News and radio.

Perhaps they don't realize how much that feature meant to most everyone. So many looked forward to that portion of our news—some even say they won't subscribe any more—as that was the most important item and the one they always looked at first.

When we learn of a friend or loved one who has been in the hospital, then at home again and we never knew it—we feel sad and helpless in not being able to offer assistance in any way.

The least we can do (and sometimes the most important) is our prayers for the sick and the Bible does tell us to pray for one another.

Who knows whether it is answered prayer or a doctor's knowledge alone that heals a sick person?

I realize this decision rests with the hospitals, and sincerely hope they will decide to give us this information again.

If there should be some who resent being mentioned then why not let them (the patient) have the choice as to whether they are mentioned or not.

I feel there are many more who favor this, than who resent it.

Thanks for giving us space to express ourselves.

Mrs. Vollie Dickerson

To The Citizens of Lamb County:

No more appropriate gift could be given than to give a book in memory of our wife and mother, Mrs. Roy B. McQuatters. The book "The World of George Washington" was an excellent selection, since history was her first love.

Her mind was never idle, always striving to learn new things. She took correspondence courses from the University of Texas even in her last year.

With the knowledge she gained from books she was able to teach others and help make her community, her county and her state a better place to live.

We thank you for your thoughtfulness.

God Is Still Alive; All Is Not Lost

THE MAIN two-line headline in last Friday's edition of the Daily American read: "God Is Still Alive; All Is Not Lost."

The inch-high headline in the upper right of the front page represented a challenge from a reader that was accepted by Managing Editor Robert Ellis, who said, "I think the man's letter represents a national mood."

The letter to the editor came from Joe Filkins Sr., 54, of rural West Frankfort, Ill., a meat cutter for a Mount Vernon grocery company and a member of the Church of God at Ezra southwest of there.

Ellis wrote under the headline, "Filkins' letter, in its eloquence and simplicity, would dwarf any further explanation from the pen of the editor," and referred readers to Filkins' letter on page 3.

"Today's news is mostly gloomy," Filkins wrote in part. "With the recession and mass unemployment, the news is depressing. High prices and dishonesty in government leaders adds to this gloom. Most headlines remind me of an obituary. In other words, something good has died."

"Sir, I challenge you to print a headline like the following: 'God is alive and all is not lost.' The news may be gloomy but the love of God shines as bright as ever."

Filkins said his telephone has been busy with calls from people commending him. "Most people feel this way but are reluctant to say so," said Filkins. He commended Ellis for using the headline "knowing that some people might object."

"People on the street have agreed with Filkins," said Ellis. "A couple have called it 'refreshing' and there has not been a single bad reaction."

"We have faith in God and in our country," said Filkins. "And if we have faith, it may not turn out exactly the way we want it, but it will turn out for the best."

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

"THE LORD is my shepherd, I shall not want," so says David the Psalmist. Many, many people have comforted themselves with the 23rd Psalm since it was written long ago.

"I shall not want," doesn't mean we will never have needs. Our bodies still cry out for physical care regardless of whether or not we believe in the most high God. We need food when we are hungry and water when we are thirsty. We need homes to keep out the cold and to shelter our families. We have bills to pay and we need money. When we are sick we need medical care.

NO, THE LORD didn't promise that we would always be cared for like the sheep that feeds in the green meadows or lies down by the still waters. The trail of life is varied and goes through the green valleys and up the rugged mountain side. It also leads through the shadows of death.

THE LORD does promise us peace of mind and strength to walk the unknown road of life. He does promise to walk with us with our hand in His. Even the most trying ordeals of life bring their compensations. When we are ill our friends and loved ones gather around to bolster our courage. This includes the doctors and nurses who fight to restore our health. (Thank God for them!)

WHEN DEATH comes to our homes, in spite of all the grief, there is joy in seeing loved ones who live far away that we seldom see. How good it is to see the beloved faces coming to you in time of sorrow.

So life is hard, but it is good anyway—there are many joys along the way. There has been times when I thought if this was the only life it wouldn't be worth the pain, but it would. It takes the bitter to make us appreciate the sweet.

THE LORD is my shephard I shall not want," means He is with us in every circumstance of life.

Some of you know my husband, Lyle Brandon, was admitted to the hospital last Sunday suffering from pneumonia. He is much better at this writing. We hope to bring him home soon.

How The Heart Dollar Is Spent

In February, local volunteers will join more than two million across the nation during American Heart Month when they visit the homes of friends and neighbors to distribute helpful heart literature and collect funds to support the Heart Association programs.

Each heart dollar collected in Texas will be spent to combat heart diseases as follows:

27 cents— Research: To probe the unknown to find the causes, cures, treatment and prevention of diseases of the heart and circulatory system.

26 cents— Public Education: To reduce premature death and disability from cardiovascular disease by education of the public to the risk factors, proper weight and exercise programs, and the need for regular medical examinations, and the early warning signs. Programs are conducted in clubs, organizations, schools, colleges, industries and neighborhoods.

15 cents— Professional Education: To provide for the continuing education of physicians, nurses and paramedical personnel. Up-to-date information on diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation if provided through films, conferences and publications.

17 cents— Community Service: To meet the needs and concerns of many public— patients, medical personnel, hospitals, and community health centers— through heart screening programs, blood pressure clinics, heart information centers, rehabilitation clubs, and instruction in cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

9 cents— Fund Raising: Kits, leaflets and materials to reach 11,000,000 Texans with lifesaving information on Heart Disease, to conduct training programs for 80,000 volunteer campaign workers and to provide other materials for the Annual Heart Fund.

6 cents— Management and supporting services: Public information, publicity, public relations, field studies and organization of local Heart Association, administration, volunteer training, leadership conferences, development of programs.

When your local volunteer calls on you, please help your heart— help the Heart Fund.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE The Payoff

WE HAVE NO justification for assuming that everything we plan and try to do will pay off, but there is a dependable law of "reward" and "profit".

It is dependable enough to encourage our best, and our continuing efforts; when they are correctly associated with wisely-chosen principles of behavior.

IN THIS FRAMEWORK for living, we must persevere with the greatest degree of confidence and patience. The "payoff", however, may not be realized as quickly as we desire.

In fact, it will be better for us if we concentrate on the approved action, with reasonable assurance that the "payoff" will come in due season. This is a reasonable view which will help sustain us in our day-to-day movement through time.

WE MUST NOT GROW weary in our well-doing, and we will not; as long as we find sufficient interest in the doing itself. This does not mean that we are not concerned about the outcome, but that we have a total perspective. We recognize the value of both the "sowing" and the "reaping". This will guarantee a satisfactory living experience for us.

Often times the "payoff" is in the sowing; that is, much of the satisfaction and the profit is in the wisely-conceived action. The ultimate result may be only a small part of the total "reward", but all of it, the "sowing and the reaping", blend to form a generous "payoff".

"HAPPINESS IS POSSIBLE only when one is busy. The body must toil, the mind must be occupied, the soul must be satisfied. These things are opportunity offers are made at the time, and they need to be harvested." -Petty

WHEN WE WORK with sincere devotion, justified by a deep sense of gratitude, the most certainly going to be and, in many instances, a lot more. This not to say everything will be as we want because it will not; but, we are going to be fully satisfied. With a wholesome disposition, we will create a and living climate, in which will be adequate, or better.

"THE MEN WHOM I succeed have always been hopeful, who went about their work with a smile on their faces, and changes and chances of this like men." -Kingsley.

THE BASIC LAW of works. We may not equip we are able to fully work, and we may not see the results.

In fact, because we do "payoff"; we may very strongly that the law does not work. The problem could be that we are about forming our conclusions.

OUR TASK IS to be sure ourselves with industry, patience, wisdom and cheerful confident expectation of "the

By CORNBALL BLUES

DON'T KNOW IF YOU heard Mr. Humphrey's speech Wednesday night, but just for the record, he had plenty to say, and not much of it was complimentary to Mr. Ford, nor his plan for doctoring the conomy. The speech was billed as the Demos' answer to the Chief.

In fact, there were times when I felt that he doubted the soundness of the President's judgment.— Could party affiliation have influenced him?

"THEY'RE NOT AS far apart as it might sound." Said one of the networks' super-brains after the speech.— Well—

If they're not a good ways apart, the spirit of cooperation must have gotten mugged and lost, somewhere down Congress Avenue!

AN ENCOURAGING THING, though—both seem to be ready to admit that we have a problem. And friends, when the heads of state admit that we have a problem, WE HAVE A PROBLEM!

Both seem confident of the resiliency and adaptability of the American people. In fact they're sure we'll come out victorious and smiling, after we've settled. (Of course the smile somewhat forced) You know, you give after you've lost a game score of 50 to zip!

ANYWAY, I'M confident that of us will be glad when that WJ spells WON!

A FEW NIGHTS ago, our son was over at a friend's home. In fact it seems that there were there. (Stag, according to him they started making some balls—

Finally, one of them came up with idea that it'd be clever to send "Cornballs to Cornball!"— And did. They were red, and blue, and

THANKS, FELLAS! The first have a stag party, and we make balls, I'll try to remember to favor. I got a kick out of the stunt. Incidentally, how's the BLUES getting along?

Do Prisons Rehabilitate

HERE'S AN editorial I clipped from the "Washington-Exclusive", a service of the U.S. Press Association. I feel it needs a repeat.

ALONG WITH ALL of our other national and international problems, which are numerous, is the continuing and nagging riddle of our ever increasing crime rate, and what to do about it.

All sorts of "solutions" and programs have been introduced over the last few years; but, as Attorney General Williams Saxbe recently affirmed, all of the best laid plans have come to naught.

If we were to consider each of our crime problems as "doors" and the solutions as "keys," it can be safely said that one of the doors to which we have not been able to find a key is our prison system... and this in spite of the fact that thousands of experts and millions of dollars have been invested in the effort.

THE ULTIMATE HOPE is that the prisoners will be rehabilitated— that men who have been convicted of a crime will not simply waste their time in jail as punishment, but that they will emerge from their prison experience as useful and productive citizens. Unfortunately, the statistics show that this rarely happens.

Yet, it does happen, and we hope that these examples may serve as an inspiration for others who have fallen afoul of the law.

improved design of the "floating" which was to make possible the weight, semi-automatic rifle. He designed the Colt service ace Winchester 22 caliber machine gun many others. His most famous was that of the rapid-fire, .30 caliber carbine known as the "M1" Gun. McArthur declared that the "M1" "one of the strongest contributions to our victory" in World War II.

The story of Williams' achievement has been featured in a motion picture. Carbine Williams, featuring Stewart, and the State of North Carolina maintains his gunsmith shop in Godwin, N.C., as a state museum.

BUT, THE IMPORTANT part of the story of David M. Williams is the designed his most famous gun improvements while serving a sentence at the Caledonia, N.C., farm.

Williams, with the intensive assistance of the prison authorities at Caledonia, proved that "serving" does not have to be the end of the road. It can, indeed, be a time for a better start in life.

Food Stamp Regulations Revealed In Amendment

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) has amended the regulations for its Food Stamp Program so that the purchase requirement for a participating household will generally— but not always— be set at a uniform 30 percent of the household's adjusted net monthly income.

Other comments favored increased contributions by participants in the program.

Responding to these comments, the amendment was revised to limit the amount that a household pays as its purchase requirement to $1 less than the total monthly coupon allotment for the household. But it was decided to implement the 30 percent purchase requirement for most of the participants in the program, since requiring all participating households to pay the same percentage of their income for their food stamps provides greatest fairness to all.

Responding to the many comments received from interested persons, USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) made two revisions in the amendment to the regulations that it had proposed last month:—The maximum amount that a household will be required to pay will be limited to $1.00 less than the amount of food stamps for which the household qualifies for the month.

—In computing the amount that a household pays for its coupon allotment, any amounts that are less than a whole dollar will be dropped from the purchase requirement.

This principle of equity in the program is in line with provisions of the Food Stamp Act which specify that the purchase requirement shall be a reasonable amount, not to exceed 30 percent of the household's income.

Some state welfare agencies commented on the administrative complexity of the amendment, and the vulnerability that it afforded for caseworkers to make errors. The two changes in the proposed amendment—to require a bonus of at least $1.00, and to drop the cents in computing the purchase requirement—were made in response to these comments.

One other exception is already provided, by law, to the uniformity of the purchase requirement. Food stamps continue to be completely free for all one- and two-person households with a net monthly income of less than $20 a month, and for all other households with income of less than $30 a month.

The amendment to the regulations that will be published Wednesday amends purchase requirements only for the 48 states and District of Columbia, but the same amendment will be published for the rest of the United States shortly thereafter.

These final amendments to the Food Stamp Program regulations are scheduled to be published in the Federal Register Wednesday, Jan. 22, and will go into effect March 1.

Details of the proposal to amend the Food Stamp Program regulations were announced Dec. 4 (Press Release USDA 3509-74), and text of the proposed amendment was published in the Federal Register Dec. 6. Comments, suggestions, or objections were invited from all interested persons for consideration in making the decision on the proposal, and a period of 21 days was allowed for them to be submitted.

Comments on the proposed amendment were received from 4,317 interested persons and organizations. All of these comments have been carefully reviewed and analyzed in the process of making the decision on the proposed change in the regulations.

Most of the comments received dealt with the effects of the proposed amendment on various individual cases of participants in the Food Stamp Program. Many of these comments said the change would make it more difficult to take part in the program, or not worth the time required— while

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
Never forget to be truthful and kind. Hold these virtues tightly. Write them deep within your heart. If you want favor with both God and man, and a reputation for good judgment and common sense, then trust the Lord completely; don't ever trust yourself. In everything you do, put God first, and he will direct you and crown your efforts with success. Don't be conceited, sure of your own wisdom. Instead, trust and reverence the Lord, and turn your back on evil.

General Telephone Announces '75 Construction Budget

General Telephone Company President L. Gray Beck has announced plans to spend $109.7 million during 1975 to expand and improve telephone facilities in its operations in Arkansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Beck said this equates to more than $150 per customer served by the company.

The telephone executive pointed out the 1975 construction budget is the lowest in several years and is much lower than earlier projections due to inflation, inadequate earnings and a drop in expected growth.

"These current conditions were drawn into sharp focus as the final 1975 budget and its related projects were examined," the telephone company president said.

"At the same time, our most optimistic estimates for the year showed that with our present rate structures and the dogging 'regulatory lag' (the time between the added costs and the granting of new rates to support these costs), our revenues would not be sufficient to support our original projected construction expenditures.

"As a result, during the last quarter of 1974 particularly, we studied and reevaluated our 1975 construction budget. The budget is now designed to enable us to maintain acceptable service and hopefully a financially viable position that benefits both the customer and company," Beck stated.

He continued, "Only through fair and reasonable rates and constant surveillance of operating costs can we properly finance our projected growth. If we are to remain viable, we must receive an adequate rate of return on our investment. If not, we have no alternative but to evaluate our service and growth expenditures and keep construction costs at a level commensurate with earnings. Of course we intend, even in the face of the present economic situation, to keep service at a high level." If the general economic conditions continue to deteriorate we will have to adjust our construction budget accordingly, Beck added.

The largest portion of the telephone construction budget is $37.5 million earmarked for central office equipment (COE). This includes providing One Plus and/or Zero Plus Dialing to 34 exchanges. By the end of the year, 98 per cent of the com-

From The Living
Don't make any vows And even to say 'Heavens!' is a vow to God, for heavens are God's throne. And if you say 'By the earth' it is a sacred vow, for earth is his footstool. And don't swear 'Jerusalem!' for Jerusalem is the capital of the great King. 'By even swear 'By head!' for you turn one hair white black. Say just a 'Yes, I will' or 'No, I won't.' Your word is enough.
