

Report 42 Gls Killed Up To Date

TOKYO, July 13. (AP)—Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced tonight that American losses in the Korean War to date have been 42 killed, 190 wounded and 256 missing.

The announcement said "losses sustained by the American forces have been greatly exaggerated in press reports from the front."

No Additional Tax Increases Seen For Now

WASHINGTON, July 13. — Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Finance Committee said today he sees no prospect of increasing federal taxes at the present session of congress, even though the Korean situation worsens.

"There will be plenty of time for that in January, if the need arises," he said.

George formally announced the indefinite suspension of work on the house-passed $1,010,000,000 excise tax slashing bill, but he did not write off entirely the chance of some action later on this legislation.

He summed up the situation for newsmen as his finance committee concluded public hearings on the House bill.

Military leaders asked the Senate Appropriations Committee for a $1,900,000 increase in funds to boost the strength of the National Guard.

Sens Hayden (D-Ariz) and Maybank (D-SC) said the committee decided to wait until President Truman submits an explicit request for additional military funds for the Korean fighting before acting on the National Guard bill.

The decision to put the tax cutting bill aside came, George said, after Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, following a conference with the President, advised him that it would not be prudent to cut taxes at this time, in view of the Korean situation.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, national organization of businessmen, applauded the decision to put the bill aside, and forecast the possibility of higher—not lower—taxes, if things "turn for the worse" in Korea.

Senate Group Seeks Faster Plane Output

WASHINGTON, July 13. (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee unanimously agreed today that the armed services should seek faster delivery of several billion dollars worth of combat aircraft now on order.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) announced the group had taken that stand at a closed meeting. He said it adopted this resolution:

"In view of the present critical Korean situation and the threatening situation throughout the world, it is the opinion of the Senate committee on armed services that the military establishment should immediately give consideration to accelerating the delivery of planes on order to the maximum extent necessary."

Tydings said that "several billion dollars" worth of aircraft now are on order for the Air Force, the Navy and the Marines.

A speed-up in deliveries would mean an increase in the present rate of military spending since original plans were to spread the cost of the planes over a long period.

7 1-2 Million May Be Texas' Population

By The Associated Press

Texas' chances of passing the 7 1-2 million mark in the 1950 census improved mightily today.

All that is necessary is for Harris County—which includes bustling Houston and its populous suburbs—to exceed 620,000.

Harris County is expected to pass that figure. The preliminary house-counts for Harris County and Houston are expected to be announced in a few days.

Here's the way the situation sizes up:

Bexar (San Antonio) county's preliminary 1950 population was announced today as 496,050.

Associated Press compilations covering the 252 counties already announced—with Bexar and Harris Counties the only gaps—totalled 6,387,181.

Add that 252-county cumulative total of 6,387,181 to Bexar County's 496,050 and you get 6,883,238. That's just 616,762 short of 7,500,000.

There is another factor: The preliminary figures for counties are revised from time to time, always upward, as "missing persons" are corralled by the Census Bureau.

Further, all figures now being announced are preliminary. The final official figures will come much later from Washington. Additional revisions which show up in the Washington announcement are much more likely to show additions than subtractions.

If Texas passes the 7,500,000 mark it will be a whopping gain of more than a million over the 1940 figure of 6,414,824.

B-29 Superforts Strike As New Red Push Opens

Air Force Says One Bomber Down

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, July 13.—Korean Communist troops, severely hammered by the air force but still advancing, shifted the weight of their southern drive to the east on Thursday, away from the American sector.

A dispatch from advance American headquarters said that about 10 a. m. Thursday (6 p. m. Wednesday, C.S.T.) the Reds started two heavy attacks with about two divisions against South Korean forces in the central peninsula area.

The American sector along the Kum river below Chochiwon was very quiet while the Reds shifted their attack against the South Koreans on two flanks.

Airmen reacted quickly, working over the new Red attack zone from dawn to dusk and promising renewed strikes on the morrow. The South Koreans gave some ground but not much, the spokesman said.

Chichilwon, given up by the Communists yesterday, was pounded by B-29 bombers which carried six tons each today. Red tanks and a big road junction in the town were main targets.

The spokesman did not pinpoint the area of the new Red attack but the dispatch said it was farther than the penetrations yesterday south of Chichilwon.

Earlier today the spokesman had reported that Red columns of tanks, infantry and armored cars had moved 15 miles south from Chungju which is in the western battle sector northeast of Chichilwon.

This drive from Chungju leaves a deep dent in the arc across the center of the peninsula which the South Koreans had been holding fast for several days.

The spokesman said there had been "some shifting of armor eastward" by the Reds to support their attack.

Gen. MacArthur, in a communique covering developments reported earlier in front line dispatches, said American and South Korean forces "continued to withdraw before numerically superior forces to take up defense behind prepared positions and natural barriers."

He apparently referred to the withdrawal south of the Kum River. Spokesmen at the front said earlier U. S. troops had blasted several bridges over the strategic stream.

Hurled back by North Korea's Red horde, weary doughboys dug in on the Kum River's south bank for a new defense. They had a new commander, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, veteran tank fighter of World War II.

The front was relatively quiet. Presumably the North Koreans were regrouping for an assault across the vital Kum, last natural barrier in South Korea. Allied warplanes pounded transport and supply routes north of the river throughout the day.

Gen. MacArthur announced the appointment last midnight of Walter, chief of the Eighth Army in Japan, as commander of ground forces in Korea.

The Eighth Army has set up an advanced command post in Korea and taken over the job of U. S. Army forces in Korea (USAFIK).

FRONT IS QUIET TODAY

Yank Gls Retreat Is Orderly As Texan Covers Withdrawal

KOREA, July 13. (AP)—American troops who covered the retreat from Chochiwon said today "the withdrawal was damn orderly."

"If it wasn't we wouldn't have brought so many back," said Lt. James Bufano, the Bronx, N. Y. He said the Communists tried to "raise hell with the pull-out" but mortar and artillery fire splashed harmlessly in nearby rice paddies.

Only four shells of the fairly heavy barrage fell in the city.

Lt. Delbert Gates of Joinerville, Tex., covered the withdrawal with a machinegun "until the last man I could see was out."

Gates said some Americans headed in the wrong direction, but they have a chance of working back to their own lines. Many returned to U. S. positions during the night.

The American front was quiet today.

Battle seasoning is building confidence in the American GI. A big morale builder has been American air action even though there have been mistaken strafings of U. S. positions.

"The damned North Koreans are taking a hell of a lot worse of it than we are," said Gates. "Every time the air hits them they get a real bloody nose."

"Every time there's a fight it takes a couple of days for them to straighten themselves out."

A senior front line officer who is a veteran of the European war said "the guys (infantrymen) getting shot at don't see much of what our Air Force is doing."

"But all of a sudden there is no 'poosh' from the other side. You wonder what's going on. Then you figure it out. The air is getting them."

He said he would like to see the old "Jug Birds" (F-47 Thunderbolts) working over the enemy as they worked against Germans. Jet fighters weren't meant for this kind of business, he said, but "a Jug Bird with 500 pound bombs would really give them a jolt."

New French Premier Seeks Cabinet Okay

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 13. — Premier Rene Pleven goes before the national assembly today to get approval of his new middle-of-the-road cabinet.

Socialist participation in the cabinet appeared to assure its endorsement. It has the support also of the large popular Republican Movement (MRP) and radical Socialist Party, as well as of Pleven's own small Democratic and Socialist Union of the Resistance (UDSR).

To his new government lineup, Pleven named five Socialists including party strong man, Jules Moch, as defense minister and Sec. Gen. Guy Mollet as minister of state for the affairs of the Council of Europe.

For other ministries the new premier chose six members of the Catholic MRP, four radicals (conservatives), three independents and two UDSR members. Robert Schuman, sponsor of the French plan for a West European coal-steel pool, continues as foreign minister.

The Socialists had caused the French political crisis 19 days ago when they withdrew their support from the cabinet headed by MRP Leader Georges Bidault.

They had quit Bidault's cabinet in February over the question of wage increases, but had given him their votes in parliament until June 22.

Socialist support and agreement to enter the new cabinet was obtained after pledges were made that a new wage minimum would be set by Sept. 1. Allotment to them of major cabinet portfolios was the deciding factor in securing their support.

Settlement of the crisis came on the eve of France's national holiday, the Fourteenth of July, and after a plea for national unity in the face of the international crisis by the new premier.

Navy Denies U. S. Plane Carrier Sunk

TOKYO, July 13. (AP)—A Navy spokesman said today "the United States Navy carrier on duty in the Western Pacific is still very much afloat."

The 27,000-ton Essex Class Carrier Valley Forge had been rumored sunk. In Washington a Navy Department also denied the rumor.

IN CONGRESS

A-Bomb Demand Wins Applause

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON AP Staff

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Congressional demands for threatening the Korean Communists with the A-bomb and for calling up the National Guard aroused today as an index to the growing seriousness with which lawmakers are treating the world situation.

Members of the House applauded yesterday when Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex) said that Mr. Truman should give the Communists one week to get out of Southern Korea. If they refuse, he said, the President should then supply their commander with a "named list of principal North Korean cities which would be subjected to atomic attacks by our Air Forces."

Another Texas Democrat, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, raised the proposal for immediately calling into active service more than 800,000 National Guardsmen and reservists to stiffen the battle in Korea.

Johnson made his proposal in a Senate speech yesterday, and followed it up by telling a reporter "We are going to be forced to do this anyway in time and the sooner the better."

"Unless we move quickly there is a chance that our boys will be pushed clear out of Korea."

Sen. Brewster (R-Me) proposed that it be left up to General MacArthur whether to use atomic bombs on the Communists. He offered this idea of his own:

"The Communists should understand that we are not spending billions for bombs out of scientific curiosity. Presumably they are designed to save the lives of American boys."

Tracy S. Voorhees, former under secretary of the Army, told a House committee that an atomic attack on the United States itself is now "more than a possibility." He said that if an attack does come, it will doubtless be a big one aimed at industrial centers.

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn), a down-the-line backer of the Truman "fair deal" domestic program, raised some questions about the billions Congress has voted for preparedness. He said:

"I want to know what happened to all that money. I want to know why the delays now? Why the delay in getting our fleet out of mothballs?"

No Injuries Reported In Two-Car Collision

No injuries resulted from a mishap which damaged two vehicles at 1500 Russell about 5 p. m. Wednesday, police reported.

A pickup truck, driven by Frank D. McDaniel of Garden City, and a car operated by Ada M. Lovett, Big Spring, were in collision at the intersection, officers said. Both machines were removed by wreckers.

FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL

$865,000 Contract Awards Due Today

Construction contracts totalling approximately $865,000 are due to be awarded tonight by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School district.

School board members, who opened bids on a new High school building, gymnasium and vocational building Wednesday afternoon, said they would meet again at 7:30 o'clock tonight. They indicated that contracts would be offered low bidders for general construction, plumbing and heating and electrical work at that time.

Apparent low bidder for general construction was Bushboom and Rauh of Dallas, the firm that is now constructing the Howard County Junior college plant, while A. P. Kasch and Son of Big Spring submitted the low figure on plumbing and heating.

Bids also were received on some equipment, such as auditorium seating, stage equipment and kitchen equipment, but contracts for those items probably will not be awarded immediately.

Board members expressed satisfaction over the bids, declaring that prospects were favorable for developing the entire construction project as outlined. At a brief session following the opening of bids the board obtained estimates on equipment not included in specifications, such as classroom desks, laboratory equipment, etc.

After a study of figures, they expressed belief that the entire program could be financed from the $950,000 bond issued, which was voted several months ago.

North Koreans To Observe Geneva Rules

TOKYO, July 13. (AP)—The Pyongyang radio said tonight the North Korean government has agreed to observe the Geneva convention regarding treatment of prisoners of war.

Battlefield reports have said 18 captive American soldiers were bound and shot to death by the invading Communists.

Foreign Minister Pak Hong Young, the radio said, sent a message to United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie agreeing to comply with Lie's request to treat prisoners humanely.

Gen. MacArthur U. S. and U. N. commander of the Korean war, several days ago promised that allied troops would observe the Geneva convention. He warned North Korean leaders, by radio—both before and after the atrocities against his GIs—that he would hold Red leaders responsible for such "barbarity and murder."

Pressure Grows To Seek Some Federal Power Over Industry

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP) — Well-placed officials today reported growing pressure on the administration to seek at least limited control powers over industry to help arm the country for the fighting in Korea.

The said no specific plan yet has reached President Truman to their knowledge, nor has there been any decision on the seeking of emergency powers from Congress.

They said they expected the whole question of home-front mobilization to be placed before tomorrow's cabinet meeting. One official said there would be a "top to bottom" survey.

Some administration officials were reported to favor an early

White House request for powers comparable to those of World War II, under which automobile assembly lines would be converted to tanks and guns, and radio and television plants to radar equipment.

Others, it was said, advocate a "wait-and-see" policy, or one which would call controls into play only as needed.

Foremost responsibility for advising Mr. Truman rests on two men, Secretary of Defense Johnson and Chairman W. Stuart Symington of the National Security Resources Board (NSRB). The latter agency is responsible for industrial mobilization planning; its general position was reported to be as follows:

1. NSRB is rounding out a complete program of emergency powers but has not yet presented such a program of price, wage and manpower controls and materials allocation to Mr. Truman.

2. NSRB has received from the White House no request for a program of limited controls, such as a voluntary system of rationing steel or other currently tight materials.

3. The mobilization agency, as a general policy, opposes "limited" or piecemeal control measures on grounds that World War II experience showed them to be unworkable.

The major pressure so far, officials said, has come from industry and from Congress members. A good deal of it originated with smaller manufacturing companies which have sought government allocations on grounds that their suppliers are not delivering enough materials to keep their plants in full operation.

With the arrival of increasingly pessimistic reports from the Korean front, there has been growing sentiment for much more drastic measures. However, the advocates of a quick plunge into home-front mobilization apparently are less numerous than those who feel that action should be delayed until the needs of the armed forces become more clear.

ALL PASSENGERS SAVED FROM GROUNDING LINER

QUEBEC, July 13 (AP) — Tugs and launches shuttled the St. Lawrence River early today removing 780 passengers from the 20,000-ton liner, Franconia which rammed into a shallow reef during the night one mile out of Quebec.

The veteran Cunard-Donaldson cruise ship hit the shallows at Pointe Aurore at 8:45 p.m. (EST) 45 minutes after clearing Quebec port en route to Liverpool. A company spokesman said by details could be given as to what caused the accident, but that a statement would be made soon.

Passengers, many of whom were attending a movie when the big ship hit, said there was a "terrific jolt," but no one appeared to be injured.

The Franconia's lights glittered as the flotilla of small craft plyed back and forth unloading passengers.

Witnesses said her prow was tilted up on shore, with more than 15 feet of her hull beneath the normal water line showing.

The big ship grounded within plain view of many summer residents on the Isle of Orleans.

"It seemed as if suddenly the ship was swung to starboard away from the island to avoid the crash," said Joseph Gregoire, manager of the Bellevue Hotel at Belair's wharf, "but then it happened. The ship ploughed aground with a terrific roar."

Some witnesses said that at the time of the grounding the ship was passing another vessel.

Other witnesses said that soon after the crash they heard the ship's orchestra strike up a tune and those aboard began singing.

HAND SENATE BILL TO FIRE SECURITY RISKS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13 — A bill giving 11 government agency heads the power to fire outright any employees they consider risky to U. S. security was handed over to the Senate today following top-heavy approval in the House.

By a vote of 327 to 14, the House late yesterday enthusiastically endorsed the proposal. It means that employees deemed to be bad security risks could be booted out without appeal.

There are about 800,000 federal employees in the agencies affected.

While some House members raised the cry of "dictatorship," an overwhelming majority shouted approval of giving most government department chiefs "absolute discretion" to fire civilian employees they consider dangerous to the national security.

The authority would apply to heads of the State, Treasury, Commerce, Justice and Defense Departments; the Army, Navy, Air Force, Atomic Energy Commission, the National Security Resources Board and the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

Their determination of a bad security risk would be "conclusive and final," and the only review of a case would be by the agency head himself or someone designated by him.

The door was left open for extension of the powers to other agency heads by empowering the President to designate such additional agencies he deems necessary.

The House beat down three attempts to provide appeals procedure to protect employees from unjust or arbitrary firing. A roll call vote of 193 to 144 turned down a move to provide for employee appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Rep. Jensen (R-Ia) termed the bill a move "to clean a bunch of nogs out of the government," while Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) declared the security powers should be granted or "we're going to find a lot of so-called pansies giving away our information."

Growing Costs Of Korean War Ditches Billion-Dollar Tax Slashing Measure

WASHINGTON, July 13 (AP) — The Korean war, with its growing costs, has ditched the $1,010,000,000 excise tax slashing bill.

On advice from the White House that "it would not be prudent in the light of developments in Korea" to cut any taxes now, the Senate Finance Committee put the bill aside, postponing action indefinitely.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), a finance member, said: "In my opinion this tax bill is dead."

Many in Congress expect that the Treasury Department will ask for higher taxes, rather than lower, if the Korean situation does not improve. However, it was said at the treasury that no decisions on such a request have been made.

Technically, if the situation improves swiftly, the tax cut bill can be taken up later. Few, if any, lawmakers now hold any hope for action this year, however.

It looks as though the excises, many of them imposed in World War II, will stay at least until the Korean war is over.

The House-approved bill would have repealed or reduced excises—sometimes called sales or nuisance taxes—on scores of items.

To offset a greater part of the revenue loss from excise cuts, the

Big Discovery Reported For Terry County

An important flowing discovery, probably from the Wolfcamp, has been reported in central-south Terry county.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. No. 1 N. W. Willard, 14 1/2 miles south of Brownfield, ran a five hour and five minute drillstem test from 8,450-8,507 feet.

Gas showed in five minutes, oil in 38. Fluid went to pits for 27 minutes and then flowed to tanks for four hours. During the period recovery was 144 barrels of 43 gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 431-1.

The prolific flow was through 5 1/2 inch bottomhole choke and a one-inch top opening. There was no water and the operator was pulling the tester.

Formation was picked as the Wolfcamp, lower permian. The important discovery is located one mile from the Adair (San Andres) pool, six miles west of the Corrigan (Fusselman) pool, and 8 1/2 miles southeast of the Anderson-Pritchard No. 1 Bevers, which completed naturally yesterday for 2,280 barrels of high gravity oil and no water, as a Pennsylvania discovery 9,712-9,805. The No. 1 Willard topped the Sprabery at 7,270 (datum minus 4,025), which is 272 feet high to the same marker in the No. 1 Bevers. No markers have been listed since. Location is 660 from the north and east line of the northwest quarter of section 6-C-37, PSL.

THEIVES NOW PREFER GAS

Theft of more than 180 gallons of gasoline has been reported here since Sunday night, according to police records.

Ninety gallons of fuel were taken "from the new Magnolia station on the north highway" Sunday night, the police call book read. A total of 93 gallons of gasoline was missed from the same place on Tuesday night.

Union Leader Claims Economy Group Is Becoming Anti-Labor

AUSTIN, July 13 (AP) — A union labor leader charged today that an effort was being made to "pervert" the Texas Economy Commission into a propaganda agency against the wage ideals of unions.

In a letter to Gov. Allan Shivers, Paul C. Sparks, executive secretary of the Texas State Federation of Labor, said the effort was being made in connection with the El Paso highway wage dispute.

"We believe like Ashburn has betrayed his trust and obligations as a member of the commission by writing a letter to the members of the commission, as such urging them to join the battle against the El Paso Building and Construction Trades Council, which is currently seeking by lawful means in Texas courts to enforce the state law requiring payment of the prevailing wage on public work," Sparks' letter said.

Ashburn, asked for comment on this, said the letter was an expression of his feeling as an individual and as executive vice president of the Texas Good Roads Assn. Ashburn said it was sent to members of the commission to inform them of the possible effects on state economy if labor's position in the wage dispute is upheld.

"There was no intention of implication to involve the economy commission members of the commission were not asked to participate in the fight," he said. Ashburn said the letter went out on Good

METERS BOTHER POLICE FORCE

Utilities meters were in the police radio operator's hair Wednesday night as three cases of damaged meters and lines were reported.

Police alerted the gas company to shut off escaping gas about 1 a.m. after a truck reportedly ran into a meter in back of the Union Bus terminal. Officers were called about 3:30 a.m. to turn off electric power after a light meter was reported broken at the rear of Elrod Furniture company.

Earlier, police had called Lee Nuckles, of the city water department, to open a water meter box at 804 NW 4th. Water was flowing from a broken hydrant at that address.

Local Delegation Leaves Friday For Capital Hearing

A three-man delegation is to leave Friday for Washington where it will represent Big Spring at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing to determine if Continental and American airlines service should be discontinued.

The hearing has been set for Monday. CAB Examiner James A. Verner has recommended that both American and Continental landings be discontinued here.

City Manager H. W. Whitney, Commissioner Jack Smith and Chamber of Commerce Manager J. H. Greene are to represent the city at the hearing.

Elementary Education Workshop For Teachers Is Concluded Wednesday

Twenty-three local school teachers have been attending the elementary education workshop held at West Ward School which ended yesterday. The workshop, lasting six weeks, was taught by Dr. Davila from the Education Department of Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Each teacher chose a project on which to research a paper she presented before the entire group in the workshop. New phases of elementary education were explored by many of the teachers. Reports were heard on music and art, arithmetic, science, art, child behavior, and children's literature. Special demonstrations were given by some teachers along with their papers. June Day of South Ward school presented an art display, and Mrs. Ruth Rutherford used a group of Big Spring children to illustrate the presentation of a science lesson to an elementary class.

Reading, which has been found to be the biggest problem in elementary education, was the project of Allene Hamilton of South Ward School. She gave a demonstration of activities she plans to use for first-grade children in the pre-reading period at the beginning of school.

The workshop offered six hours of credit to the teachers. These were used by many to supplement requirements of the new Gilmer-

Aiken bill in Texas. Teachers attending the workshop were Mrs. Dan Feather, Mrs. Margaret Morgan, Mrs. Kelly Lawrence, Mrs. Violet Reed, Mrs. Theo Sullivan, Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Louann Ware, Mrs. Maurice Coger, Mrs. Allene Hamilton, Mrs. Ruth Rutherford, E. Johnie Kennon Is Honored With Shower Wednesday

Johnie Kennon, bride-elect of Johnny Reynolds, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. J. M. McClanahan Wednesday evening. Hostesses were Betty Jones and Dana McClanahan. Refreshments were served to approximately seventy-five guests.

The table was covered with a light ecru lace cloth, and the centerpiece was of yellow asters and blue daisies. Yellow napkins were engraved with "Johnie and John," in blue.

The honoree wore an orchid linen dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Kennon wore a brown and white silk shantung dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Dana McClanahan wore a navy and white crepe dress with white accessories. Betty Jones wore aqua voile with white accessories and a corsage of fuchsia asters. Mrs. McClanahan wore a dress of grey and fuchsia with black accessories.

Jackie McKinney returned Wednesday morning from Melissa where she attended funeral services for her father, Thad Parriss.

HAS PLENTY OF ACCOUNTS

LONDON, July 13 (Sp)—Nigerian Student Obabunmi Aina got himself a six-room apartment in crowded London because he had plenty of coconuts.

Aina told a rent tribunal yesterday he paid his landlord, a grocer, 80 pounds ($224) and 3,200 coconuts as a premium for the apartment.

The coconuts? Aina asked his folks back in Nigeria for some and they sent him two tons.

Betty Jean Graves Is Honored With Tea

COAHOMA, July 13 (Sp1)—Betty Jean Graves, bride-elect of Raymond Wallin, was named honoree at a tea in the Coahoma Methodist parsonage. Hostesses were Mrs. Lloyd Brannon, Mrs. Jimmie Brooks, Mrs. J. A. Sullivan, Mrs. R. F. Dorsey, Mrs. Paul F. Sheedy, Susie Brown, Mrs. H. A. Wise and Mrs. A. D. Shive.

Graves-Wallin wedding vows will be exchanged Saturday, July 15 in a double ring ceremony in the home of Mrs. Yvonne Blakley, 817 Bovis Drive, Abilene.

Guests were received by Mrs. E. H. Coston and presented to the honoree, Mrs. C. R. Graves, mother of the honoree, Mrs. Carleton Benson of Lubbock, aunt of the honoree and Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald of San Antonio, grandmother of the bride-elect.

The honoree was attired in a dress of deep pink shadowed organza fashioned with a plunging neckline, brief sleeves and a full skirt. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations tied with silver metallic ribbon.

Sue Wise presided at the white bride's book and Wanda Shives distributed the gifts.

Decorations featured the honoree's chosen colors of pink, white and silver. The serving table was laid with a Normandy lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink camellias and white stock. Silver and crystal appointments completed the table setting. Mrs. Don McKinney of Big Spring poured the punch from the crystal punch service and Frances Bartlett served the white cake squares which were decorated with pink and silver icing.

Guests for the affair were Mrs. K. G. Blalock, Wanda Brannon, Elizabeth Turner, Mary Reams of San Angelo, Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald of San Antonio, Mrs. Carleton Benson of Lubbock, Mrs. W. H. Not Question Of Mere Return, But Of A Vote Of Confidence

Due to a variety of reasons, Texas' interest in the July 22 Democratic primaries seems to be at lower pitch than in former years.

The obligation to vote intelligently is still with us, and it is incumbent upon the voters to give due consideration to the merits and the platforms of those who are bidding for public office.

For the state's highest office, the governorship, the Herald believes that Allan Shivers is deserving of a big vote to return him to the position for a first elective term.

The office passed to Shivers, upon the death of Beauford Jester, in sudden and dramatic fashion. He had to assume new responsibilities overnight. He had a lot of catching up to do on the functions of the executive department. He has, we think, done well.

While he probably has not faced many issues of tremendous import, he has handled with cool and efficient calm all those which have arisen. He has, as the saying goes, kept his feet on the ground. He has made friends with Texans and has learned a lot more about Texas, to the extent that he now is in position to be more valuable as governor than ever before.

The story of Allan Shivers is a good Texas story. He is a native of the state, was educated in this state, has practiced law in this state, has farmed and ranched in this state and engaged in other forms of business in this state.

He has been a leader during his career. He was president of the student body while he was at the University of Texas. He has been a president of his Lions Club. He has been a bank director and a director in the citrus growers association.

He saw war service, spending two years overseas. He was a successful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1946 and 1948. He has been married since 1937, is the father of three children.

In brief, Allan Shivers' career in Texas has been the wholesome, successful, happy and honest career that Texans like. You cannot classify him as a politician, but you can classify him as a capable, conscientious young man, interested in the welfare of Texas, and able to do something about the welfare of Texas. He should make this state a good governor for another two years.

Democratic Delays Are Natural, But Not Always Truly Necessary

No democratic nation is ever geared to war, in the sense that a totalitarian power is. The democracy must pause to batten down the hatches and tighten up the screws; the aggressor totalitarian state isn't bothered with legalistic details.

All the same, this democracy has known for at least three years that it was sitting on a powderkeg. It knew disaster might strike at any moment, anywhere. It is beginning now to be apparent that many of the ordinary, obvious preparations that should have been made were not in fact made at all. Congress only a few days ago adopted the draft extension law. Although the draft machinery was supposed to be on a stand-by basis—that is, in a reasonable condition to start functioning quickly—Director Fleming declares it will take sixty days to begin the actual draft of the 20,000 young men needed "right away."

And the military authorities only this week started looking for ships to transport additional manpower contingents to the scene of battle. It seems to us a singular oversight, in a world where war might come at any moment, not to have made some sort of advance preparation to insure plenty of ships at a moment's notice. Doesn't Washington make any attempt to keep track of the ships flying the American flag, and maintain a procedural apparatus for calling them in on a moment's notice? Apparently it doesn't even know where the ships are, much less have a plan of mobilization.

And some of those wonderful new weapons the military has been talking about—where are they? Well, in the case of the newer and more effective 3.5 bazookas, which was declared a standard weapon a year ago, reporters were told by an army spokesman that just because a weapon has been made standard it's no sign it is available in quantity—it might take a year to get it in full production. Why a year, in view of what we've known all along, that it might be needed at any moment?

We have been through these experiences before, but must we go through them forever?

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Freshman Congressman Has An Idea On Pork Barrel Spending

WASHINGTON. — FOSTER FURCOLO went to Yale. So his arithmetic ought to be all right. And it really came in handy for him, as this story will show.

He's a young man, 39, serving his first term in Congress, in the House. He's a Democrat from Massachusetts. After two years here he learned what people who have been around longer take for granted.

It's this: That every year, just as surely as little boys get measles, members of Congress do two things: They preach less government spending and more "pork barrel" which means spending.

"Pork barrel" includes things which cost the taxpayers money but please the folks back home where the votes are. Things like dams, flood control walls, river and harbor improvements, post offices.

SOME TIMES THE PORK BARREL items may really be necessary for the benefit of the home folks sometimes, maybe not. But to get them, the home folks put plenty of pressure on their senators and representatives.

Of course, members of both House and Senate do the economy preaching. But the senators seem to make more noise. Maybe that's because talking-time is limited in the House but isn't in the Senate.

Anyway, after watching the show for a couple of years now, Furcolo got out his pencil and paper, did some figuring, and came up with this information which he duly reported to his fellow members in the House:

Year after year the Senate has been voting for bigger spending than the House. From 1940 to 1950 the Senate voted to spend about $18,390,210,943 more than the House thought necessary.

THAT'S NOT JUST PORK BARREL. That sum includes all the things for which the Senate voted money to run the government. Pork barrel items were just a comparatively small part of it.

But for pork barrel items, Furcolo found, from 1940 to 1950, the Senate voted to spend about $636 million more than the House. Very politely, though, he told the House:

"The average senator does his best to obtain whatever dams, flood control walls, river and harbor improvements, highways, post offices and other federally financed projects that he believes are beneficial and necessary for the people of the nation and the people of his state."

But then he added a paragraph and, if you read it twice, it may occur to you that he has a sense of humor. For he said of the average senator (although he could have said it of the average House member, too):

"OF COURSE, HE SCRUTINIZES SUCH projects with an economy eye focused on real necessity and not with a political eye focused on the thought that an inpour of federal money into a state means an outpour of votes for the person responsible."

This raises a kind of double question: 1. Will any member of Congress, who wants to stay in Congress, be eager to dispense the home folks by voting against some pork barrel item?

2. Do the folks back home really want economy in government? Or do they just want economy for someone else but pork barrel for themselves?

Furcolo suggested the following be done so members of Congress can know for sure how the majority of the people at home feel:

Legislatures, city, and county governments and citizens committees ought to go on record as telling their congressmen just how they feel about the pork barrel stuff intended for them and other people.

Museum Will Receive Buffalo Bill's Rifle

CODY, Wyo.—The rifle that Buffalo Bill used in his adventures in the west will be given to the Cody Memorial Museum here, in real life. Buffalo Bill was William Fredrick Cody.

The rifle he used in real life as a pioneer scout in the west is now in an arms collection of Walter F. Siegmund, an official of the Winchester Repeating Arms Co. The Cody museum was founded by his niece, Mary Jester Allen. Siegmund will present the rifle to the museum July 4 during the Frontier Days celebration.

Gillette Not Anxious To Embarrass Anyone Over Campaign Expenditures

WASHINGTON. — Two Democratic senators in two widely separated areas appear to have widely divergent views on big campaign contributions.

No. 1 is serious-minded Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee who today opens up a big probe of Florida gambling, including the third of a million dollars pumped into the political kitty of Fuller Warren to elect him governor of Florida. Warren is a Democrat and so is Kefauver, but the senator isn't letting that hamper the investigation.

No. 2 is likable, silver-tongued Sen. Guy Gillette of Iowa, chairman of a Senate committee supposed to investigate big campaign contributions. When the easy-going Mr. Gillette is asked too many questions about his probe, he puts on his hat and walks away.

So far this year more big money has been pumped into senatorial primaries than almost any other year in history, both by Democrats and Republicans. But Guy Gillette just doesn't seem anxious to embarrass either party.

WHO ELECTS?

Down in Miami, Senator Kefauver's investigation, beginning today, goes to the root of how the gambling rackets have become political rackets. I haven't talked to Kefauver's investigators, but I have made a study of Florida gambling and here is the general picture he will find:

1. Gambling in the lush winter sportland around Florida has been divided among three gangs:

A. The old Capone mob under William H. Johnston of Chicago and Jacksonville controls the dog races of the entire state.

B. The S&G Syndicate, a group of local businessmen, control the bookmaking in Miami and Miami Beach.

C. The New York mob, under Meyer Lansky, an associate of Frankie Costello, operates in Broward County, north of Miami Beach.

In order to preserve the millions in profits raked in from these areas, the gangs subsidize the sheriffs of their local counties and even the governor of Florida himself. In fact, when the Chicago gang told the S&G Syndicate to move over and let them in on part of the Miami bookmaking, the S&G Syndicate immediately appealed to the man it had helped elect to office, Dade County Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan.

Whereupon, the Chicago gang also fell back on the man it had helped elect to office, Gov. Fuller Warren. Dog-racer William Johnston, it developed, had contributed the amazing amount of $154,000 to Warren's primary campaign, despite the fact that it was against the law at that time to contribute more than $5,000 per person. After Warren was elected to office, of course, he got the law changed.

Another $154,000 was given and loaned to Warren by Louis E. Wolfson of Jacksonville, also in violation of the $5,000 limit. Governor Warren has now found himself betwixt and between in the war of gamblers, and the Kefauver Crime Committee wants to find out what the gamblers get in return for their stupendous campaign gifts.

NO PILEDS

Meanwhile, in another part of the U. S., other sizable campaign gifts have been revealed in the good old Republican state of Pennsylvania. This time gamblers were not the contributors, but big manufacturers.

Joe Grundy, the famed GOP high-tariff advocate, contributed $94,000 to the Jay Cooke-John Junkel campaign in Pennsylvania to defeat Gov. Jim Duff, also a Republican. Mason O'wlett put up $52,000 loaned; another $45,000, while his wife gave $3,000. W. T. Wright also loaned $156,135 to the Kunkel-Cooke committee.

But in Washington, Senator Gillette did not seem much interested in these big contributions. He sent Fielding Wright, Jr., son of the Mississippi Dixiecrat governor, to Pennsylvania to probe the big dough shelled out by the manufacturers, but it was learned that Wright chiefly paid a social call on the Pennsylvania secretary of state.

PREFERS SCOUTS

Asked what Young Wright had done in Pennsylvania, Gillette said he didn't know.

"Aren't you the chairman?" the senator was asked.

"Of course, but I don't keep track of every detail," said Gillette, and reached for his hat. "As a matter of fact," the senator was reminded, "all Fielding Wright did in Pennsylvania was to pick up the information that was available in the secretary of state's office. You could have gotten just as much by writing a letter."

"No, he got more information than that," insisted Gillette. "What is Wright's background as an investigator?" the senator was asked.

"I don't know."

"Didn't you study his qualifications before hiring him?"

"Sure," shot back the senator, again reaching for his hat. "Then how much experience has he had?"

"I'm just not going to give you that information."

"Isn't it true that Wright really spends most of his time in the office of Senator Stennis of Mississippi rather than being out in the field investigating campaign expenditures?"

"This time the senator not only got his hat, but ducked through the door and began walking rapidly down the corridor of the Senate Office Building."

"The senator," explained his assistant, "has to meet some Boy Scouts."

That, perhaps, explains the type of handshaking like Guy Gillette performs at a time when as much as $1,500,000 has been spent in one primary to elect a sen, when they finally wake up to what's going on, probably won't.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

This Era In History Will Go In Books As An Eventful One

Birthday time is near at hand for yours truly, and it's going to be number 25. Who cares if this is the half-century mark? It's my quarter-century occasion and brother, here's one person who is mighty glad to have lived these past 25 years.

True, the past quarter-century has seen chaos, death and destruction in the world, but in what other 25 year period has a world moved so fast and furiously, recording moments history will long remember?

Granted, the late world war and today's tragic events in Korea leave little for a civilized people to be proud of, but despite this, as we look over the entire picture, the world is making progress toward eventual peace.

Whoa, don't laugh at this. I know the Korean war isn't exactly peace, but the end result of what should happen there and the means being taken, and how they are being taken, should prove encouraging.

This is shown by the fact that over 50 nations have supported the United Nations declaration of intervention in Korea in the interests of securing world peace.

If many of these same nations had done likewise in the early 1930's when Japan invaded Manchuria; in the middle 1930's when Mussolini stepped into Ethiopia; and in the last part of the 30's when Hitler marched into the Rhineland—well, then we seriously doubt that World War II would be in the history books of today. So it is with pride that we can say "I am glad I've lived in such a historic era—an era when statesmen and diplomats have finally, after many thousands of years, realized that an everlasting peace is only attainable by mutual cooperation and understanding."

While the UN represents a truly gigantic step towards world stability, still another step is being taken in Paris, France, where diplomats of Western European nations are planning the coal and steel pool in an attempt to solve mutual economic difficulties.

Such steps will bring closer ties, not just in friendship, but in the sphere of international relations on a governmental level.

While many barriers still exist, including the supposedly formidable language barrier, men are uniting in common endeavors for mutual benefit at a pace unprecedented during any previous time.

So, I hope you'll join me in not just acknowledging the fact that we live in an historic era, but work with me, your neighbors in this country, and your neighbors abroad in seeing that this era succeeds where no other era has done.

The future of the world is in our hands. If we maintain this era's progress, we cannot fail to achieve lasting understanding and lasting peace.—FRED GREENE.

It'll Be Tough In Korea Until Equipment Reaches The Front

MOST OF US, I IMAGINE, ARE READING the war-news from Korea with mixed emotions—with vast pride in the gallant job being done by our boys against tremendous odds but with grave anxiety over how long it may take to provide sufficient troops and equipment to overcome those odds.

This is exactly the situation which we should expect in this early stage. We are undertaking to counter the carefully planned aggression of a powerful and well trained army, fully equipped.

The North Korean Communists have flung the American line back in the strategic Kum River region of South Korea. It was a blow of great strength, powered by an estimated 80 Russian-made tanks, some of which were 60-ton giants.

WE CAN SUM UP THE POSITION roughly by pointing out that the Kum River has been the Yanks' major defense line north of the City of Taejon—Central South Korea—which has been a U. S. field headquarters.

Our men will meet with many crises like the present one while reinforcements and equipment are being rushed to South Korea.

You may recall how the combat-fatigued lieutenant summed the position up after his contingent battled until its ammunition was exhausted and then retreated:

"Ten to one it's good odds. But we can't take 100 to one odds—without ammunition. . . . Just give us the stuff."

In the next few weeks, while additional troops and "the stuff" are arriving in South Korea, we are going to encounter some tough going. However, we must accept this as the natural trend at this stage—a trend which our military chiefs expect will improve progressively until the tide turns and we sweep on to victory.

AND IS IT NECESSARY THAT WE should go through all this? Is there no way of halting the Korean war?

The London foreign office has announced that Sir David Kelly, British ambassador in Moscow, has had a talk with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko regarding a possible "peaceful settlement of the Korean conflict."

So the possibilities are being explored. Of course an agreement between Moscow and the western allies would be the only way in which a settlement might be brought about. However, so long as the Reds are meeting with success in Korea the prospects of any settlement are grim.

It's Nice That No War Widow Heard The Bar Conversation

NEW YORK. — IT WAS NICE THAT no newly-returned American widow from the Far East was there.

You know some of them are back home already with their kids—young girls who kissed a husband goodbye in Japan, and heard a few days later he was dead in his country's service to Korea.

And quickly the widows and their fatherless children come shuffling here by air. But, of course, they weren't going to bars. Not numbered and dazed and with duties to fulfill.

HOWEVER, SHOULD SOME WIDOW, alone and more desperate than she knew, have wandered into a typical small Manhattan bar . . . and had she listened to what she heard . . . it might have made her more desolate than before.

She might, for example, have heard this: "Well, thank God, the Lost Battalion got through!" exclaimed the tall young man.

"What do you mean—the Lost Battalion?" asked the older girl next to him.

"The Lost Battalion—the Lost Battalion in Korea!" said the tall young man. "Don't you know we've had a Lost Battalion cut off for days by the North Koreans?"

"No," said the girl. "I been tied up

worrying about baseball."

"Oh, you mean the Lost Battalion?" then said the older girl. A bystander would get the impression she wasn't sure of the difference between a battalion and a medallion.

"THAT'S WHAT I BEEN TRYING TO tell you," insisted the young man. "We lost a battalion in Korea and it fought its way back. Nobody here even seems to care about it."

"Well, it's nice they're all back," hedged "I didn't say they all got back," cried the young man. "I just said the Lost Battalion got back. I don't know how many of them did or didn't. But they couldn't all have made it."

"Well, really . . ."

"What is the use?" said the tall young man, bitterly. "What is the 'use' I shouldn't have brought it up."

As I say, it was nice that no freshly-arrived widow had dropped in all alone before going on somewhere to meet her parents. She might have wondered if she were really in her homeland.

Greene Tries To Referee Tiff Between British, U. S. Actors

HOLLYWOOD.—Richard Greene tried to referee the Anglo-American actors' tiff today, but admitted he may get slugged from both sides.

The controversy started with British protests against Irene Dunne coming over to play Queen Victoria in a U. S.-sponsored film.

Hollywood answered that it has never discriminated against foreigners here and that many English citizens have played Americans in our films. Most notable example: Vivien Leigh as Scarlett O'Hara.

Viewing the fracas, Englishman Greene remarked: "I can see the reasoning of both sides, since I have lived and worked both here and in England. The whole situation calls for a great deal of understanding."

"You have to know conditions in the English industry. The best production outlook has been dismal. When I was over there last, eight studios closed up entirely. Only a very small percentage of the actors have been working, stars as well as featured players. Naturally they resent it when an American comes over to take a role that an English star might have played.

"I can understand their anger over an American playing Queen Victoria, who is one of our great figures of recent history. I would expect the same resentment if I were cast as Daniel Boone over here. I would look pretty silly talking with my accent and having a con skin cap dangling from my head."

On the other hand, he added, "I can understand the reasoning of American companies. They go over to make pictures that will sell at the box office in the U. S. To do that, they need stars."

GOMPOMETER—Visitors to the Texas Electric Show of '50 on the grounds of Big Spring High School starting Wednesday, will be able to test their "gompom" on this machine that was contrived by Westinghouse engineers. Placing the hands on two different metal plates sets up a faint current that is measured on the meter that ranges from "Nearly Dead" to "Fully Charged." Look where the needle is now!

LEGION CAN'T MAKE IT WORK

MILFORD, Conn., July 13. (AP)—The American Legion said today it isn't going to put on any more Fourth of July fireworks displays here unless the spectators show more appreciation than they did this year.

The Legion passed the hat among an estimated 5,000 persons at its display last week and this, it said, is what it got: Eighty-nine dollars in cash; 93 bus tokens, no good since bus fare went to a straight 10 cents more than a year ago; assorted nuts and bolts, and four and a half pounds of pebbles.

AUTO INDUSTRY WORRY

Strikes Slow Up Assembly Lines

DETROIT, July 13 (AP) — Sup-plier strikes and a shortening of steel have concern today for the booming production of the auto industry.

Two strikes already have slowed assembly lines in some plants.

The steel supply problem, however, loomed as more serious. Heavy production in industry generally has cut into steel stocks. The auto industry itself has been producing at all-time record rates. President Truman was said to be considering a request to Congress for stand-by power to allocate steel and other critical materials because of the Korean War.

The Ford Motor Co. thought for a brief time yesterday it might have to eliminate Saturday overtime work because of reduced steel supplies. But after rechecking the problem, the company said it would continue overtime production at 10 of its 15 Ford assembly plants this week end. It has operated from seven to all 15 of these plants each Saturday on overtime this year.

Ford said its only curtailment would be a reduction from five to four days a week for the remainder of this month at its Meluchen, N. J., and St. Louis Mercury plants.

At the same time Ford said a strike at the Budd Co. plant in Philadelphia would force a 20 per cent cut in truck production starting today. Ford depends on Budd for truck doors and other stampings.

In Toledo, O., Willys-Overland said a strike at the Warner gear division plant of Borg Warner Corp. in Muncie, Ind., would force a shut-down of its final assembly lines today.

At Willow Run near here, Kaiser-Frazier Corp. already has halted one of its two final assembly lines because of the Warner strike. Warner makes transmissions for both Willys and K.F.

The Warner strike was also a threat to Chrysler, Nash, Studebaker and other auto firms. It forced Ford for the past several days to make all its Ford and Mercury cars without overdrives, which are optional equipment obtained from Warner.

START LONG WALK—The J. W. Burns family is shown leaving San Angelo on their way here. The 59-year-old man said he's down and out "and can't be worse off anyway." Burns is pushing a two-wheel cart laden with about 600 pounds of bedclothing and other supplies. He said he had only $2.50. Mrs. Burns, 46, is pushing little Leroy in a baby buggy. The children are: Leroy, 2; Ruby Marie, 3; Dorothy Mae, 6; Levia, 7; Mary Ellen, 8; and Ross Elizabeth Etta, 11.

Walking Couple Arrives Here After Jaunt From San Angelo

When the J. W. Burns family arrived here Wednesday there was no welcoming committee on hand to greet the husband, wife, and six children.

They had located this morning alongside highway 87 just north of the city limit. The head of the family had pitched their tent under a tree near the state hospital and indicated he would remain here in an attempt to find work.

Burns left San Angelo more than a week ago. After pushing his 700-pound cart eight miles up the Carlsbad road, he told highway patrolmen he was changing his destination to Big Spring. Originally, he and his brood had set out on an odyssey to Hobbs, N. M.

By Sunday he had pressed to Sterling City, his family trudging along.

After walking on to Forsan, they made the last stage of the journey in class Wednesday. A group of Forsan oil field workers loaded the family, cart and all, on a trailer bringing them to the site near the state hospital.

There Burns pitched his tent, deciding to stay in Big Spring and "look for work."

Burns had told welfare workers at San Angelo that he "is too old to work for the public and too young to get old age assistance." He arrived in San Angelo by push cart in September 1948 and lingered there until week before last.

The Salvation Army, according to the San Angelo Standard Times gave food aid to the family from Sept. 25, 1948 to March 2, 1949

when the Community Service finally took up the task. Then the department of public welfare entered the case with aid for dependent children and vocational rehabilitation. The Red Cross had contacts with Mrs. Burns on several occasions. The American-Legion Auxiliary at San Angelo had a turn at trying to help, the Westland Park Woman's club, and others. Even the Planned Parenthood worker made contacts as did a Child Welfare worker.

Once on request of a welfare worker, a San Angelo drive-in cafe offered Burns a dishwashing job. He lasted one day. Another San Angelo man offered to set Burns up with an ice cream cart, but the offer was declined.

Plane Delays Due If Heat Is Turned On

NEW YORK, July 13 (AP) — The New York Times said today that delays in plane production — worse than in World War II — lie ahead if the heat is turned on.

The progress of science is the cause.

"If the aircraft manufacturing industry of the United States were called upon now to start an all-out production effort," the Times said, "it would take 10 months longer to reach an annual output rate of 50,000 planes than it did in World War II."

The story, written by Frederick Graham, said "it took exactly 24 months to reach the goal after the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in May, 1940, called for a total plane production of 50,000 units a year."

"If a similar effort were started now," the story stated, "it would require 34 months to reach the target figure."

This situation exists, Graham wrote after a survey, "despite the ready availability of more than a score of stand-by aircraft manufacturing plants built for World War II, a vast store of machine tools now in 'mothballs,' a huge stockpile of materials and a reservoir of trained personnel."

The story added:

"Key men in the aircraft manufacturing industry say the longer time required now to build up to 50,000 planes a year is easily explained: The modern warplane is about twice as heavy as its World War II counterpart, and because it is infinitely more complex, it requires about twice as many man-hours to build."

Officer Dies In Shooting At Mineola

MINEOLA, July 13 (AP) — Two feuding peace officers shot out their differences on a downtown street yesterday. One was killed, the other critically hurt.

Killed was Constable Will Whittle. Injured was Acting Police Chief Wesley Taylor.

Police Chief C. M. Barnett, who had turned his office over to Taylor in order to run for the office of sheriff, said the two officers had argued over a minor traffic case.

Barnett said the two men met yesterday morning in the business district and scuffled briefly. A bystander separated them and took a gun from Whittle.

Later — at about 1:15 — they met in front of the justice of the peace office, which was closed. The shooting followed.

Extra Camp Period May Be Added To Scout Program

An extra camping period will be added to the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Ranch program this month if demand is great enough.

Arrangements have been made for accommodations from July 30 to Aug. 5.

Because this is one day shorter than the normal period, the cost per boy will be $10.20. Boys would arrive in camp on July 30 and would depart after breakfast on Aug. 5.

Unit leaders and Boy Scouts are urged to get applications into the council office at Midland not later than July 22 if they wish to participate in this period. If as many as 50 can be secured, it will be operated.

So far, approximately 400 have taken part in the Scout Ranch camping program.

Hickenlooper Demands Senate Probers Look Into Latest Charges By McCarthy

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13. — Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) demanded today that the Senate Communist inquiry be reopened for a look into Sen. McCarthy's latest charges—accusations the State Department termed false and distorted.

The charges by McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, are based on material which he said proves that the department hired men in 1946 to strip its personnel files of derogatory information about other employees.

The department last night got out a statement accusing McCarthy of "a characteristic distortion of facts."

There was no indication that Hickenlooper's demand for an inquiry into McCarthy's new charges would be heeded by the Democratic majority of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee. Hickenlooper is one of the two Republican members of that group, which for four months investigated McCarthy's contentions that the State Department has Communists and fellow travelers on its payroll.

McCarthy yesterday produced four statements signed by men he said the State Department hired four years ago. They told of being directed to destroy all data in personnel files of a damaging nature to other employees.

McCarthy, in a letter to President Truman, said the statements bore out his charges that department loyalty files had been "denuded" by the agency before the records were turned over to the inquiry committee.

In reply, the department said the 1946 removal of documents was a thorough-going reorganization of by the influx of several thousand employees who were transferred from wartime agencies.

The Department stressed that the records dealt with personnel and had nothing to do with loyalty and security files. Those files, the department added, "were and are separately maintained in a security division wholly removed from the personnel operation."

The department also said that to the best of its knowledge the personnel files were not destroyed, "except in the case of such materials as duplicate documents, routine office transmittal sheets, superseded forms, etc."

As for the signed statements describing the nature of the 1946 files operation, the department said those documents McCarthy produced were "based on a misunderstanding or lack of information" regarding what was to be done with material taken from the personnel folders.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slow down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. While these symptoms may seem otherwise minor, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today.

Steeds, Tribe Meet In Double Header

Initial Setto Starts At 7

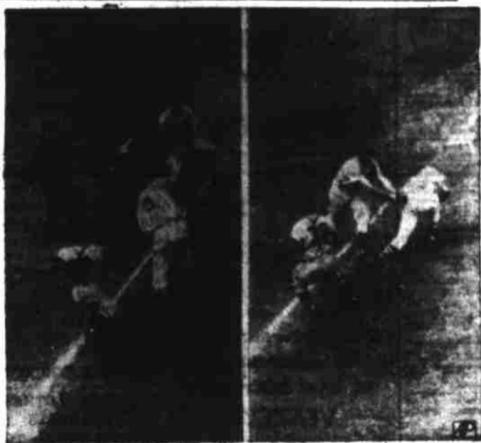

Harold Webb's Midland Indians — and The Little King is back in the Wigwam — and the Big Spring Broncs clash in a double bill starting at 7 o'clock in Steer park tonight.

There is indication Manager Pat Stasey of the locals will use Bert Garcia and Gil Guerra as pitchers against the Tribe.

Webb could counter with John Singleton and perhaps Ralph Blair. Both are capable hands.

The Indians are trying desperately to climb back into the first division. They're mired in sixth place now but a winning streak would put them on the way.

Midland will remain over here Friday night, after which the two clubs will move to the Wigwam to resume their series.

DROPO IS TAGGED OUT ON RUN-DOWN—How Walt Dropo (3) of the American League All-Stars was trapped, run-down and tagged between third base and home plate in the fourth inning of the game played in Chicago is shown in this series made by a sequence camera. At left National League catcher Roy Campanella (38) runs losses ball (arrow) to Willie Jones, National League third baseman. At the right Jones tags Dropo as latter tries to evade him. Umpire is Babe Pinelli. The National League won, 4 to 3, in 14-innings. (AP Wirephoto).

Chips Are Down In Big League Play Today

By The Associated Press

The chips will be down tonight when Philadelphia risks its hard won first place in the National League against the second place Cardinals in the opening of a vital three-game series at St. Louis.

This is the big game of the day as the majors return to family feuding after the all-star melo-drama, although an important series opens tonight also at Yankee Stadium.

Cleveland's Indians, a game and one-half back of the second place New York Yankees in the American circuit, have a three-game job at the stadium. The injury-riddled Yanks are three games back of the league-leading Detroit Tigers, who meet the Senators at Washington in another night tussle.

But the Phillies vs. Cardinals affair dominates the scene, and upon the outcome rests temporary leadership in the National loop. The amazing Phillies, holding a one-game edge over St. Louis, are expected to shoot Curt Simmons (10-5) against Howie Pollet (8-5) in a battle of stoppages.

Both the Phils and Cards have to take into consideration the fast-stepping Boston Braves, slamming along in third place only two games out of the lead.

Billy Southworth's boys are in Cincinnati for a night game with the Reds, and Johnny Sain with a 12-5 record is due to be on the mound for the Beantowners.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, in fourth place four and one-half games back of Philadelphia, meet the ever-troublesome Cubs in Chicago.

Preacher Roe, with a 10-4 mark, is scheduled for duty against the Cubs. For Brooklyn, it brings up a major mid-season question. Can the Bums bounce back after slipping up near the top for most of the first half of the season?

In the American League, the hospital list includes Ted Williams who may be out for the season because of a left elbow fracture in Tuesday's All-Star game at Chicago is a stiff blow to the Boston Red Sox. They meet Chicago in Boston tonight.

The Yankees also are consulting the physicians, with Joe DiMaggio, Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer doubtful starters against Cleveland.

DiMaggio aggravated a groin muscle in the All-Star accident ward contest. Berra banged his knee at Boston 10 days ago and has been limping since. Bauer has a jammed ankle. In addition, the Yanks have had only spot service from Tommy Henrich for weeks due to his trick knee.

Detroit's Freddie Hutchinson (9-5) is scheduled to oppose Sid Hudson (8-7), at Washington, where the Tigers hope to make some pentant hay before coming in to Boston and New York later next week.

The Obammergau passion play has been presented with only a few lapses since 1634.

Cayuses Baffer Midland Tribe In Opener, 11-4

With a liberal assist from Carlos (Potato) Pascual, Luis Gonzales picked up his ninth pitching victory of the season when Big Spring humbled the Midland, 11-4, on a rain soaked field here Wednesday night.

Pascual came in to work the last two innings after Gonzales tired and performed beautifully, setting the Tribe down without a hit and striking out four.

The Steeds, fighting grimly to hold third place in the standings, spotted the guests three runs and then chased Starter Darwin Chriscio for a four-run outburst that enabled them to grab a permanent lead as early as the fifth frame.

Four hits, coupled with an error and a sacrifice, broken the fire-works in that round.

The locals had supplied the ice with a two-run outburst on a walk to Manny Junco and doubles by Pat Stasey and Pascual in the fourth.

The provincials added another marker in the seventh on a misplay by second sacker Quinten Basco, then crowded four tallies across the dish on as many hits, a sacrifice and a base on balls in the eighth.

Jim Prince crashed out his 11th home run of the season for Midland in the second frame, the drive clearing the right field barrier with yards to spare.

The Midlanders picked up two more counters in the fourth on a double by Tex Stephenson, a boot by Danny Conception and Bob Cramer's one baser.

GLEANINGS — Harold Webb, skipper of the Midland gang, started a rharbur in the first inning when Umpire Joe Montgomery ruled that a ball hit down third base way by Scooter Hughes was fair. Webb's argument was that Montgomery first called the ball "foul," where the arbiter stoutly denied. A puddle of water stood in right center field and several balls dropped into it, much to the chagrin of the outfield. Kenny Jones, Midland's aggressive little backstop, was felled on a fifth inning play at the plate while trying to tag down Manny Junco and had to leave the game with a bloody nose. The pitchers and catchers had a bad time of it, due to the slickness of the infield. In the fifth, Reliever Bill Hart of the visitors dived headfirst at the initial sack in a futile effort to catch Conception, who had all but decapitated Prince with a line drive. Trouble reared its head for Gonzales in the seventh when the first two Midland batters singled but a double play helped him out of the hole.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Ray McCullough, the TCU ex who refereed that controversial Kentucky-SMU football contest last fall, has plenty of work lined up for this fall.

McCullough will be head official at the Georgia Tech-SMU game in Dallas Sept. 23, shows up in Houston Oct. 7 to handle the arbiting chores in the Rice-LSU engagement, travels to Little Rock Oct. 28 to call the Vanderbilt-Arkansas engagement, referees the Arkansas-Rice Imbroglino in Fayetteville Nov. 11, rides herd on the SMU and Baylor teams at Dallas Nov. 29 and officiates the Texas-Texas A & M setto in Austin Nov. 30.

Floyd Geiger, the one-time Ballinger baseballer, has a .289 batting average for Seminoles in the Sooner State league.

Bobby Dahn, who performed for Sweetwater last year, is hitting .335 for Lawton in the same league.

Huck Doe, the local youth who is on the payroll of the Lawton club, has been out of action in recent weeks due to an injury. He's due to return to the lineup in a few days, however, and will probably be catching regularly again for the Sooners.

Odesa fans have become aware that Willard Ramsdell has reached the big leagues and are claiming him as their very own.

Of course, the fact that Ramsdell got his start here (in 1938) and spent around four seasons in Big Spring means nothing over there. Ramsdell performed for one season with Odesa.

MANNY JUNCO STILL HAS HIS SUPPORTERS

Despite the fact that Felix Gomez picked up the marbles in last week's foot race (against time) with Manny Junco, there are those who still think that Manny is the faster foot.

They argue that Junco could probably beat Gomez in a straight race. Last Sunday's sprint was around the sacks, which Gomez made in 14.3 seconds). The only way to tell is to get the two competing against each other.

Gomez nosed out Ace Mendes in a straight sprint last year, but the race was so close it could have been called a tie and there would have been no arguments.

There are few faster men in baseball than Gomez, Junco and Mendes.

Look for the Elk City, Okla., Elks to be a power in the National semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kansas, next month.

The Elks have been closing up on all kinds of opposition in their particular section this season. The club went to the semifinals in the meet last year and could overwhelm all the opposition this time out.

BRUMLOW HAS WORK CUT OUT FOR HIM

They say Mike Brumelow, the Texas Western football coach, has his work cut out for him this fall. The team lost heavily by graduation. His backs will be fairly good but the line threatens to be porous.

The Miners will play seven home games, by the way, meeting New Mexico A & M, Loyola of Los Angeles, Idaho, Arizona, West Texas State, Hardin-Simmons and West Virginia in El Paso.

NIP HUBBERS

Lobos Nearing League Lead

LUBBOCK, July 13.—The Lamesa Lobos moved within one game of the WT-NM league lead by thumping the pace setters, Lubbock's Hubbers, 6-3, for the second straight night here Wednesday.

First and fifth inning outbursts paved the way for Eulis Rossion to achieve his 15th pitching success of the season.

The Lobos struck for two tallies in the leadoff frame when Jodie Beeler hit a home run with Billy Capps on first base.

The wind played havoc with Lubbock's defense in the fifth, blowing Jay Haney's ball away from Right Fielder Mike Doolay and it fell for two bases to start an uprising that netted three runs. Capps, Beeler and Bill Ashley followed with blows that eventually spelled defeat for the Hubbers.

The league leaders, who had picked up three runs in the third, struck back for single tallies in the eighth and ninth rounds. The Hubbers had runners on first and third when Willey Moore grounded out to end the contest.

The win was Lamesa's tenth in their last 13 contests.

Maxwell Wins Over Urruffa

SAN ANTONIO, July 13.—Second and third rounds of the 24th annual state Junior Golf Tournament were scheduled today with medalist Billy Maxwell still the favorite.

The Odessa golfer yesterday turned back Aureliano "Bud" Urruffa of San Antonio, 3 and 2.

A couple of minor upsets in the first round were Wesley Ellis, Jr.'s 4 and 3 victory over Joe Conrad of San Antonio and J. C. Goole's 3 and 1 decision over a fellow San Antonian, Billy Erfurth.

Frank Wear, Jr., of Paris, whipped Bert Weaver, 1 up; Sammy Reynolds of Wichita Falls downed Julian Gates, Waco, 3 and 2, and Bob Moncrief, Houston, beat Ken Burnette, San Antonio, 3 and 1. John Weaver of Houston needed five extra holes to oust Stanton Mosel, San Antonio.

Mitri Beaten By LaMotta

NEW YORK, July 13. (U. P.) — Antonio Jake La Motta-Ray Robinson fight was in the making today following the middleweight champion's easy conquest of Italy's Tiberio Mitri.

La Motta was due to step in to the offices of the International Boxing Club some time this afternoon to pick up a check of around $33,700 and to discuss plans for a six-scrap with the welterweight king.

The Bronx bull paved the way for that encounter by beating out a 15-round unanimous decision over Mitri in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was like old times in the palace of sock as a surprisingly large turnout of 16,369 paid $99.84 and rocked the roof with cheers. It was the biggest Garden fight gate in a couple of years. There was no radio or television broadcast.

La Motta won only one of his five bouts with Robinson but all except one were very close.

There was no doubt about last night's decision. You could almost see La Motta, a shrewd businessman, counting the house as he started with Mitri. He hasn't looked for that good in years. Making 159 pounds (Mitri weighed the same) didn't bother the champ at all.

He was just about as he pleased over the previously unbeaten invader. He made the handsome, 24-year-old Italian fight the La Motta way and the end result was a pair of unhandsome shiners for Mitri and hardly a scratch for the bull.

The officials voted for the 20-year old La Motta this way: Referee Mark Conn, 12-3; Judge Joe Agnelo, 9-6; Judge Bert Grant, 8-7. The AP scorecard had the champ in front, 9-5-1.

Extend Irrigation In South Plains

SEMINOLE, July 15 — The South Plains irrigation belt is being extended into central Gaines county.

Recently more than 300 people from deep West Texas and the South Plains section turned out for a demonstration.

Locale was a tract on the 13-section ranch operated by John L. Hill and his son, five miles west of here. Two 100-hp motors turned a 14-inch pump to deliver more than 2,200 gallons per minute to spray young cotton. The well furnishing this volume was one of nine put down by Mr. Hill and his son in the past three months.

Hill and Ralph Bollen, Genesco, Ill., purchased the big spread from J. H. Proctor. It reputedly was one of the biggest real estate transactions in Gaines county history. George Burke of the Seminole Real Estate company handled the deal. He is a former Big Spring man, having returned to West Texas because he liked the country when he was stationed

About 40 Hurt In Vacation Train Mishap

A 500 line special train carrying 225 eastern vacationists to Canada sideswiped a freight train here today, injuring approximately 40 persons.

Preliminary examination indicated only five or six were injured seriously. All were treated aboard the train or in doctors' offices here.

Arrangements were made to take the passengers to Minneapolis later. The 15-Pullman train had left Minneapolis at 1:30 o'clock in the morning. It carried Ohio and Atlantic seaboard hardware men and their wives, bound for Banff, Canada, en route to the National Retail Hardware Assn.'s convention in Seattle.

C. A. Pope, 500 line vice-president, said an eastbound freight train was backing into a siding near Painesville when the vacation special arrived, that about four feet of the freight locomotive had failed to clear the main line, and that the passenger train ripped along the side of the freight.

Large Military Plane Reported Down In Arizona

TUCSON, Ariz., July 13 — A big military plane crashed and exploded into a mass of flames in the rugged Galuro Mountains of Southern Arizona early today.

Six hours after the crash, a search plan reported sighting wreckage and three survivors. Parachutes were spread on a ridge.

Davis-Monihan Air Force base here said the type of military plane had not been established. B-29 Superfortresses and the more modern B-50s operate out of the base regularly. Both four-engine types carry a normal crew of 11.

Some of the wreckage is about 40 miles northeast of Tucson in some of Arizona's roughest country.

Clifford Stahl, pilot of the CAP search plane from which the wreckage was sighted, returned to the Air Force base here and reported the location of the wreckage. A rescue party and ambulances left the base immediately.

Stanolind Announces Location

Stanolind has announced location for its No. 1 C. W. Burton 9,500-foot northwestern Howard county wildcat.

The venture on a spread turned by Reece Cleveland of Midland to Stanolind, will seek the Pennsylvanian Location will be 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 27-33-26, T&P.

Standard Texas contributed the southeast quarter of section 27. Other acreage turned to Stanolind in return for the drilling obligation were the north half and southeast quarter of section 22, the east 280 acres and north half of section 26, the east half of the southwest quarter of section 28, all of section 35, and the north half of section 40, all in block 33.

Operations will start by Aug 1. The venture is about 14 miles northwest of Big Spring and eight miles southwest of the Vealmoor Canyon lime pool.

Nearly One-Third Of Rodeo Boxes Sold Thus Far

Approximately one third of the box seats have been sold for the annual Big Spring rodeo, to be held Aug. 23, Edith Gay, chairman of commerce secretary in charge of sales, reported this morning.

Rodeo fans have purchased 30 of the boxes, Miss Gay said. The new arena under construction east of Ellis Homes, is to afford 96 boxes, each containing six seats.

Boxes cost $25 each for the four performances of the rodeo. Price does not include cost of admission.

Jim Sullivan Rests In Hospital After Heart Attack Today

Jim Sullivan, veteran attorney here and a brother to District Judge Charlie Sullivan, was resting in a local hospital today after he had been seized with a heart attack in his office earlier in the day.

Jim has suffered from a heart involvement for some time. His condition was believed to be improved in recent weeks, however, and he had been taking long walks to improve his health.

Dawson Wildcat Starts Sept. 1

Dan Olds of Kerrville is to start on Sept. 1 on a 9,250 foot wildcat in southeastern Dawson county.

The test, its No. 1 G. W. Grisam, is to seek the Pennsylvanian. Location will be 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 17-34-46, T&P, which puts it 3 1/2 miles southwest of the Spraberry pool.

Continental, U.P.R., Honolulu, Sun, Warren Petroleum, Pat Rutherford and W. B. Collins, Midland, are supporting the test.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 13 — Cotton noon prices were 80 cents to 81 1/2 a bale higher than the previous close, July 30, Oct 30 17 and Dec 30 11.

NEW YORK, July 13 — A sudden selling attack broke the back of a mild, unseasonably rainy in the stock market this morning.

In a few minutes gains running to more than 81 a share were wiped out. Losses piled up to around $2 a share before the market made a fresh stand.

The pattern of the market was one which has become thoroughly familiar to Wall Street since our intervention in Korea more than two weeks ago. A mass of sell orders suddenly thrown at the market and a high speed decline all for no obvious reason.

Selling was so intense that the ticker tape was unable to maintain its fast report of transactions on the floor of the exchange.

Most were particularly hard hit as they have been in recent selling drives. General Motors dropped to a net loss of around $2 and Chrysler more than $1. Shell declined fractions in around $1 among U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, and Youngstown Steel.

2 OFFSETS, STEP-OUT STAKED IN VEALMOOR

Two offsets and a stepout have been staked to the Brown No. 1 Lloyd Brown, north central Howard East Vealmoor extender or discovery.

Brown No. 1 Branon, 652.7 from the west and 667.3 from the south lines of section 18-27, H&TC, was bottomed at 7,386, and was running 5 1/2-inch casing to 7,325. After plug is drilled the test may be deepened some or it may be completed. No water was developed on the test from 7,260-86 where high gravity oil flowed at the rate of 35 barrels per hour.

Aman and Southland Royalty with drill No. 1-18 Branon in the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 18-27, H&TC, a north offset, Aman, et al No. 1-19, a quarter of a mile north, will be in the C. W. NW section 19-27, H&TC. George Brown will move half a mile southeast to drill his No. 2 Branon, center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter section 18-19, H&TC.

The operators have six locations to drill in section 18 and eight in section 19 and will keep a rig busy on each section until drilled out or unless defined.

Drilling Continues; No Major Changes Reported Today

Drilling operations in this area continued Thursday without any major developments.

Goldston No. 1 Simpson, north-central Howard offset to the Seacord No. 1 Simpson which jumped the Vealmoor pool south, was at 6,475 feet in lime. Livermore No. 1 Currie, a Clearfork exploration in NW SE of section 29-31-26, T&P, as at 4,391 feet in shale lime.

Sunray No. 3 Wilson, a south offset to the East Vealmoor discovery in section 16-27, H&TC, is fishing for tubing after drilling plug. Sunray No. 4 Wilson, a mile and three quarters northwest of the East Vealmoor pool, was at 6,530 feet in shale.

Gulf No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, northwest Borden wildcat in section 40-31-66, T&P, was below 3,371 ft in lime. Don Ameche No. 1 Johnson, six miles north of the Good pool, still awaited swabbing unit.

No. 1 Gilmer Davis Well Runs Casing

Pat Rutherford and Heep Oil Corp. of Houston ran 5 1/2-inch casing Thursday in their No. 1 Gilmer Davis which has indicated for reef pay between two Canyon pool of Southeast Burden county.

Production was indicated on a 12-minute drillstem test of the reef from 6,756-6,781 feet. Gas was at the surface in 2 1/2 minutes, mud in five and oil in six. The prospect flowed to the pits for the next six minutes at an estimated rate of 50 barrels per hour. Drill pipe then was laid down.

The No. 1 Davis topped the canyon at 6,768 feet, a datum point of 4,519 feet. This is 65 feet up to the same marker in the Amersda Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Cora Weathers in section 94, or 2 1/2 miles northeast in the VonRoeder pool. It is 89 feet high to the Canyon top in the Rutherford and Heep No. 1 Griffin, section 57, an 8,510-foot Ellenburger failure a mile south. Top of the pay was 19 feet below the anticipated water level for the VonRoeder pool. Location is 2 1/2 miles northeast of the Reinecke pool. It is 467 from the north and east lines of section 68-25 H&TC.

Walker commanded the famed armored "Ghost Cross" of Gen. George Patton's Third Army in Europe. He was cited by Britain and praised by the U. S. War Department in the Department of the Army for his co-ordination of infantry and armored groups.

Walker made a flying visit to the Korean fighting front Saturday. MacArthur did not say if Walker would return to Korea.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, conferred here with MacArthur and, presumably, with Walker.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, commander in chief for the Navy in the Pacific, was flying from Pearl Harbor to Tokyo to confer with MacArthur.

Hospitals in Japan are now required to have central kitchens and trained employees to prepare food, thus abolishing a requirement that patients furnish someone to prepare food and for other physical needs.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 13 — Cotton noon prices were 80 cents to 81 1/2 a bale higher than the previous close, July 30, Oct 30 17 and Dec 30 11.

NEW YORK, July 13 — A sudden selling attack broke the back of a mild, unseasonably rainy in the stock market this morning.

In a few minutes gains running to more than 81 a share were wiped out. Losses piled up to around $2 a share before the market made a fresh stand.

The pattern of the market was one which has become thoroughly familiar to Wall Street since our intervention in Korea more than two weeks ago. A mass of sell orders suddenly thrown at the market and a high speed decline all for no obvious reason.

Selling was so intense that the ticker tape was unable to maintain its fast report of transactions on the floor of the exchange.

Most were particularly hard hit as they have been in recent selling drives. General Motors dropped to a net loss of around $2 and Chrysler more than $1. Shell declined fractions in around $1 among U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, and Youngstown Steel.

FORT WORTH, July 13 — Cattle steady, good to steers and yearlings 28.00 to 29.00, weighty steers 28.00 to 29.00, common and medium slaughter yearlings and heifers 20.00 to 21.00, best cows 19.00 to 20.00, good and choice slaughter calves 20.00 to 21.00, common to medium 19.00 to 20.00, medium to good stocker steer yearlings 20.00 to 21.00, stocker cows 21.00 down, medium to choice stocker steer calves 20.00 to 21.00, stocker heifers 19.00 down. Hogs steady, good and choice 18.00 to 19.00, medium 17.00 to 18.00.

Sheep steady, medium and good slaughter yearlings 21.00 to 22.00, several medium grade lots 20.00, slaughter yearlings, feeder spring lambs 20.00 to 21.00, few feeder yearlings 19.00 to 20.00.

Report Large Pest Damage In Past Few Days

Reports of damage to gardens caused by insects and other pests, have been numerous during the past few days, according to County Agent Durward Lester.

The farm agent has listed control measures as follows: Snap beans, dust with five percent DDT every 10 days until pods are formed for control of flea beetles, leaf beetles, thrips and leafhoppers.

Cucumbers, treat with a tablespoon of nicotine in a gallon of soapy water for aphids every seven to 10 days as long as needed, and cryolite dust for cucumber beetles every seven to 10 days.

Squash, 20 percent sabadilla dust, applied as needed, for control of squash bugs.

Tomatoes, cryolite dust, undiluted, for blister beetles, as soon as beetles appear.

General treatment, chlorinated camphene or chlordane in margins of fields, or poison bran mash within field, for control of grasshoppers; five percent to 10 percent DDT dust for blister beetles.

Final Strip Of Land Is Secured For Drain Ditch

Last stretch of the right-of-way for the proposed drainage ditch to be opened east of the city was assured Wednesday when transfer of a strip of land north of the railroad was made to the city.

City officials completed an agreement with James A. Horton whereby a portion of the old sewage disposal plant land was exchanged for the needed right-of-way. The city agreed to demolish concrete remains of the old plant as part of the trade.

The transaction completed the acquisition of land on both sides of the railway for the proposed ditch. The drainage project has been undertaken cooperatively by the city, county, and T&P Railroad company.

The actual ditching work is to be performed by the T&P, according to the agreement, city officials said. No date has been set for start of the work.

Lamesa GI Promoted At Tokyo Station

Pvt. Joe Z. Leamon, 19, son of Sam Leamon of Lamesa, was promoted to the grade of Pvt. 1st Class, the commanding officer of the Eighth U. S. Army in Tokyo, announced recently.

PFC Leamon is a member of the 27th Ordnance Maintenance Co., a unit of the First Cavalry Division, stationed near Tokyo. He is assigned to the Fire Control and Instrument section of his organization as an instrument repairman.

Before entering military service Dec. 28, 1948, PFC Leamon attended Big Spring High school. He received his basic training at Camp Polk, La. and sailed for Japan on June 6, 1949.

Sgt. and Mrs. Leroy Kohler and Anita have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Heeds this week. Sgt. Kohler will leave for Japan in August.

Safe-crackers Fail To Pry Open Box

Yeggs made an unsuccessful attempt to open a safe at the Tucker & McKinley Grain company office at 1st and Lancaster streets last night.

The would-be safe crackers attempted to pry open the door of the strong box, damaging it so that a locksmith was required to open it this morning. J. H. McKinley, co-owner, reported, noting the safe was found missing.

The burglars entered the office after knocking out a window, McKinley said.

$50,000 PROPOSAL

Coahoma To Vote On Bond Issue

COAHOOMA, July 13—Propertied voters will pass judgment here Saturday on proposed bond issues totaling $50,000.

At stake are extensive improvements to the water system as well as renovation of the city hall structure.

A small residue of bonds now outstanding on the waterworks, would be retired so that if the two issues pass the total outstanding bonded obligation would be $50,000.

One of the things to be done immediately, if voters provide funds, is the installation of two chlorinating units.

Dr. D. C. Sadler, director of the Midland-Martin-Howard county health unit said that records from health department files showed that the supply was in need of this precautionary measure.

"Our records show that during the year of 1949 there were 21 positive bacteria coli samples found in a total number of 27 samples taken of the water," he said.

In addition to treatment of the water, production procedure would be improved, some lines replaced and others extended to serve new area. The city hall structure would be extensively repaired and renovated, too.

Those who have rendered property to the City of Coahoma for taxes and who reside within its corporate limits are eligible to vote Saturday. Leroy Echols is election judge, Ralph White, the assistant, Keith Birkhead and Mrs. Mattie Miller are helping.

Draft Board Receives New Office Schedule

The Draft Board here has received a new schedule of office hours, it was announced today.

Henceforth, the office, located in the basement of the postoffice building, will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily, Monday through Friday. Previously, the office closed at 3 p. m. each day.

There is no telephone in the draft board office at present, but an instrument probably will be installed at an early date.

The office here serves Board No. 71, which includes Howard, Martin and Mitchell counties.

Blind Man Confesses Bank Robbery Of 19 Years Ago

MONAHANS, July 13. (AP) — A blind man's tale of bank robbery was being checked today.

The 38-year-old man turned himself over to Sheriff W. B. McNeerlin in Monahans yesterday and said he was wanted for a bank robbery in Havana, Ark., 19 years ago. Sheriff McNeerlin identified the man as Stanley E. Hedrick.

"My conscience has been hurting me all these years. And I'd do anything to get something done about my eyes, even if it means going to the pen," he told the sheriff.

He said he had been blind for 13 years from an inherited disease.

The sheriff and Hugh P. Cooper, editor of the Monahans News, heard his story.

He said he and another fellow gained $900 from the bank robbery in Arkansas late in 1921; he didn't remember what month. He also said he was involved in a postoffice robbery at Quitaque (Briscoe County), Tex., in 1932 when he and another fellow got $300.

Sheriff McNeerlin held him in jail while he checked the story.

Hedrick said he was born in Paris, Tex., that he was married to a girl from Quitaque in 1933, and that his wife and two children — six-year-old and 10-year-old boy — now live at Pyote.

He told the sheriff he had been acquitted in the slaying of Harvey Bolin of Plainview in a trial at Portales, N. M., in 1931.

For 19 years, he said, he has worked in Texas at various jobs — as a truck driver and mechanic. For the past six weeks, he said, he had been working as a mechanic at a garage in Pyote near here.

FBI CHIEF REPORTS

Commiss Increase Underground Work

WASHINGTON, July 13. (AP) — U. S. Communists have increased their underground operations during the past year, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today.

The result, he said, is the heaviest work load his agency ever has handled.

In an annual review of FBI activities for the fiscal year which ended June 30, Hoover said the number of investigations involving internal security and national defense is at a record level, exceeding the volume of similar work during the World War II years.

"The increased work load," the report said, "stems from the activities of the Communist Party and the expanded orbit of their underground operations."

"Increased security consciousness on the part of the party leadership has brought about decentralization of party administrative machinery and transfer of previously open operations to an underground apparatus."

"These developments have complicated the FBI task of maintaining coverage of Communist activity."

The FBI director recently asked Congress for more than 300 additional agents, saying they were required principally for internal security investigations.

The annual report showed 8,921 convictions in FBI cases of all kinds during the 1950 fiscal year, a six per cent increase over 1949.

Hoover said that in line with previous years, 96.9 per cent of all trials growing out of FBI inquiries resulted in convictions.

Girl Vocalists Present Lions Club Program

Five vivacious young women brought down the house at the Lions club Wednesday.

They were vocalists under the direction of Mrs. Anne Gibson Houser. In the group were Jan Masters, Wanda Lou Petty, Kitty Roberts, Susan Houser, Barbara June Greer, Ann Crocker, who normally sings with them, was out of town.

For four years now these young women have been singing together in ever increasing close harmony. Wednesday they sang "Tell Me Why," "Somewhere over the Rainbow," "On the Avenue," and the novelty "Quick Silver."

Joe Pond spoke briefly on membership procedure. Roxie Dobbins, Les Snow and President Gilbert Gibbs announced they were leaving for Chicago and the Lions International convention.

Route Carrier Checks Included In Burglary Of Herald Office

Several checks given to route boys from July 6-11 were included in the $753 burglary of the Herald Monday night.

Because these had not yet been listed for deposit, those who gave payment to boys by check during the period mentioned were asked to call the Herald circulation department. Similarly, operators of business were asked to call the Herald if checks payable to the Herald are presented. Money lost in the burglary was on circulation collections.

Israeli Man Killed By Syrian Gunfire

TEL AVIV, Israel, July 13. (AP) — One Israeli water patrolman was reported killed and another wounded by Syrian gunfire on the Sea of Galilee yesterday.

An army spokesman said Syrian opened fire on the Israeli vessel while she was assisting a second patrol boat whose propellers were caught in Syrian fishing nets.

He added that three of the second craft's crew were missing, apparently arrested by Syrians.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

There it Was— Right in The Middle!

Easy Roberts mowed his lawn early last Saturday. Then he sat on the porch, and watched Handy Peterson cutting his grass.

The Roberts' property and the Peterson's border each other — with no hedge or fence between them. So, when Easy notices Handy had left about a four-foot strip unmowed along the boundary, he walks over and asks why.

"That's your land," says Handy. "Mine ends here. See, it lines up with that oak tree across the road!" Easy didn't think so, so they went up and down looking for the surveyor's marker. Where did they find it? Right in the middle of their "no man's land!"

Well, they both grin and take turns finishing the job and then retreat to Easy's for a friendly glass of beer together. From where I sit, a little searching around for the truth of the matter often shows that the other fellow is as much right as you are — at which point the whole thing doesn't seem as important anyway.

Veteran Visits All 280 Buddies

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., July 13. (AP) — Gunther (Joe) Pretsch of near-by Blooming Glen is satisfied today that he visited his wartime buddies — all 280 of them.

10 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., July 13, 1950

He left home 28 months ago in a battered army jeep. To talk with 280 of the men who had served with him in Europe, Pretsch traveled 88,000 miles into 39 states, Canada and Mexico.

Pretsch said he picked apples, drove trucks, cooked, sold fishing equipment, cantaloupes and watermelons and shoveled 80 tons of salt to help defray expenses. He estimated the visits cost nearly $5,000.

FOR YEAR AHEAD

Farmer Confident Of Meat Market

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—Farmers appear to have confidence that city folks will be in the market for lots of meat in the year ahead. An Agriculture Department report shows that they are going right ahead producing bumper supplies of grains needed for the production of meats, dairy and poultry products.

The corn crop may be 550,000,000 bushels, or 21 per cent larger than the 2,637,000,000 recommended by the department under an acreage allotment program aimed at cutting down current surpluses. Producers cut their corn acreage only 4.2 to compare with the 12.9 per cent sought by the government.

The big corn crop would give farmers plenty of grain to expand, if needed, the already high level of livestock production. Department officials said it is "perhaps fortunate" that farmers exceeded the government goal. In light of the critical international situation. Large reserves of grain at start of World War II enabled this country to provide its allies with food essential for eventual military success.

The department report showed that the midwestern commercial corn belt is running into greater and greater competition in the production of this feed grain. In the corn belt, where acreage allotments applied, the corn plantings dropped about 9 per cent. Outside this area, where allotments did not exist, the plantings increased.

Unusually high prices encouraged farmers to plant a large acreage of soybeans. This crop is under great demand as a source of food fats for export. Production this year could well set a record the department said.

The potato crop again will exceed needs. The department forecast a crop of 390,000,000 bushels or about 65,000,000 more than requirements. The government will have to buy the extra production under a price support program.

Under the corn program, farmers were free to abide by or ignore their individual planting allotments. But only those complying will be eligible for government price support aid on corn.

20 NEW CHURCHES THIS YEAR

Mexican Government At Peace With Church After 90 Years

MEXICO CITY, July 12 (AP)—Mexico's government and the Catholic Church are at peace now, after a long and sometimes bloody fight. Hammers ring on stone as new churches are built—20 of them this year in the capital alone. Twenty years ago some state governments were tearing down churches stone by stone.

School buildings have been returned to religious orders for operation. Ten years ago a private school was seized because a crucifix was found in one room.

President Miguel Aleman talks to Catholic bishops on a tour of the country. Ten years ago a senator publicly apologized to Congress because he had attended a public dinner at which a priest was present.

The fight between church and state began 90 years ago when the Juarez reform government seized church property. It was valued then at 800 million pesos—some $400 million. But the reform laws were not enforced under the long rightist regime of Porfirio Diaz. By 1910 the church had most of its property back again.

The 1910 revolution re-enacted and strengthened the reform laws. The revolutionary constitution, still in effect, gave the state a monopoly of education which it declared it must be "socialistic."

About 1926 these laws began to be rigidly enforced. In some states all churches were closed. In Tabasco they were all destroyed. The number of priests limited. Tabasco refused to let any priest officiate unless he were married.

This wave of enforcement died down as state laws were repealed or relaxed. But ten years later came another wave of enforcement. This time the Catholics rebelled. There was an actual armed revolt around Guadalajara—the "Cristero Rebellion," taking its name from the rebels' war cry of "Viva Cristo Rey"—hail Christ the King.

In Vera Cruz state, where the number of priests was limited to one for every 100,000 inhabitants, the Catholics seized and re-opened the churches in 1937. One had been turned into a fire station. Aleman, then governor, claimed the people and the federal government agreed to turn the churches over to committees of "fifteen neighbors"—in effect, local vestrymen. These committees still administer the churches.

Since then there has been increasing amity between church and state. In 1942 the constitution was amended, removing the requirement for "socialistic" education. This clause was interpreted to mean Catholic schools could reopen if they followed the government curriculum.

Most of the restrictions on the training of priests have been relaxed. Formerly Catholic boys went to the U. S. or Canada to be trained for the priesthood.

There is still some opposition in the government to the church. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the capital said recently Mexico's constitution was being violated by open air religious ceremonies. The constitution permits religious practices only indoors, which is why there is no graveside service in Mexico.

But Justice Luis Catano Morlet's charges found no editorial support in the press. Not even the leftist political parties have taken up his case. The outdoor religious parades continue.

Two presidents and an archbishop share credit for this peace.

Archbishop Luis Maria Martinez was appointed at the height of the last open struggle between church and state. He kept quiet, worked softly for better understanding, did not protest when priests were attacked. During the war, he supported the government's army draft program. He threw the church's weight behind the government campaign to vaccinate all cattle against the foot and mouth disease.

Former President Manuel Avila Camacho publicly proclaimed "I am a believer"—the first official in many years to admit it.

President Aleman carried Avila Camacho's liberal stand even further. There are comparatively few restrictions on the church now.

Perhaps the most striking proof of good relations between government and church was made by Archbishop Martinez himself.

"The social doctrines of the Mexican revolution," he said, "are in accordance with Catholic principles except in a few instances."

Airport Saves Money On "Miss America"

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Because a big greeting was written for Miss America, the City of Phoenix has saved itself about $2,500 a year. It was last fall when Jacque Mercer of Litchfield Park, Ariz., won the beauty title at Atlantic City and her home state planned a gala reception.

Along the airport runway towns people wrote a big "Welcome Jacque" sign she could see as the plane came in for a landing. As the reception was only a one-day affair, an inexpensive water-mixed casein base paint was used. Officials at the airport waited for it to wash away. They waited, and waited and waited. For weeks planes coming to Phoenix saw "Welcome Jacque" in big letters. Finally the greeting was obliterated with flat black paint.

But the sign had proved the less expensive paint could be used as runway markers, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration approved said Airport Manager Walter Fulkerson. So the city, which maintains the airport, will save about $2,500 on its paint bill each year.

Poles, Israelis May Sign Pact

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Poland and Israel are expected to sign a new trade pact before next December 1. Both countries recently extended an existing agreement to that date.

Israel now is getting imports of cement, wood, iron and other industrial and building materials from Poland. The Israelis are exporting citrus fruits, dental supplies and special chemicals to the Poles.

Menu Planners May Choose Dessert From Big Variety For Summer Meals

HONEY PECAN BAVARIAN CREAM — the ultimate in luscious desserts.

Some people look ahead to the last chapter to make sure the book ends happily; others ask what there is for dessert before beginning dinner. Those who ask about dessert have reason on their side, for a dessert should be planned to complement the meal. If the main course is a sumptuous and filling one, top it off with something light and easily digested. When the rest of the meal skimps on calories and protein, you have a chance to do your bit nutritionally with a really satisfying sweet, for a heavenly dessert can make an earthly main course seem like king's fare.

Nowhere in the realm of food preparation is there a wider choice for the planner of menus than in desserts. The biscuit desserts, shortcakes, poundcakes and Dutch apple cake offer variety for seasonable fresh as well as canned and quick-frozen fruits. Bavarian creams, charlottes and refrigerator cakes are cooling and pleasing. The many different gelatine desserts are year-round favorites, while custards and tapiocas are full of protein-rich milk.

In the range from bread puddings to strawberry shortcake, you can find a balance in time, expense and nutrition.

Here again, if all is to end well, "Follow directions" carefully. Overcooking or too high a temperature will curdle the custard. The texture of gelatine desserts depends upon the proper proportion of gelatine to liquid and temperature at which it congeals; the successful shortcake must be made with a light tender biscuit.

Frozen Lemon Delight is a dessert of great versatility since it can be frozen as a loaf in the refrigerator tray or it achieves the elegance in a mold as pictured. For those who have the soul of a creative cook here are the directions for making those luscious looking frosted grapes which are used as a garnish. Just dip grapes, one at a time, into egg whites, then into granulated sugar. Place carefully on waxed paper until dry — about five minutes.

Frozen Lemon Delight
 1/4 cup finely rolled vanilla wafers
 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup hot water
 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
 1/2 cup lemon juice
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 2 cups light cream
 2 egg whites
 5 tablespoons sugar

Grease mold or freezing tray with butter and line bottom and sides with rolled vanilla wafers. Combine egg yolks, 1/2 cup sugar, salt and water in double boiler. Cook until mixture coats spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice, rind and cream; blend. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout; add 3 tablespoons sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture stiffens in soft peaks. Fold into gelatin mixture. For mold: turn into mold. Cover with waxed paper and press cover tightly down over paper. Pack in equal parts ice and salt. Let stand 5 or 6 hours or until firm. Do not stir. Unmold and garnish with frosted grapes. For automatic refrigerator: turn mixture into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. Freeze until firm — about 4 hours. Unmold and cut in slices.

It is hard to top Bavarian cream as a deluxe dessert, either for taste or eye appeal.

Honey Pecan Bavarian
 1 package strawberry or orange flavored gelatine
 1 1/2 cups hot water
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1-3 cup honey
 1 cup cream, whipped
 1/2 cup chopped pecan nuts
 Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Add salt, lemon juice and honey. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in cream, whipped only until thick and shiny, but not stiff. Fold in nuts. Chill until slightly thickened. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Quick-Mix Recipe Improves Baking

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

Here's baking news. With the following recipe you can make a basic mix ready to be used in a variety of ways. The mix was developed during four years of research in the test kitchens of a large food concern. You do the mussy job of measuring the flour, baking powder, salt and shortening ahead of time and then add the other ingredients needed for each individual dish later. Here is the recipe for the mix.

BASIC QUICK-MIX
 Ingredients: 4 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 tablespoons double-acting baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 cup shortening.

Method: Stir flour, baking powder and salt together well. Sift into a large bowl. Add shortening. Use finger tips or pastry blender to distribute shortening throughout dry ingredients until the mixture resembles coarse cornmeal. If the quick-mix is not used immediately, store in a closed canister in pantry. Makes about 6 1/2 cups. Recipe may be doubled and kept on hand to save time.

Luncheon Loaf With Apple Sauce

LUNCHEON LOAF WITH APPLE SAUCE
 2 pounds ready-to-serve meat, ground
 2 cups cracker or soft bread crumbs
 2 eggs, slightly beaten
 1-2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup milk
 1 teaspoon horseradish
 1-2 cup apple sauce

Combine all ingredients except the apple sauce. Pour apple sauce into a well-greased 10-inch ring apple sauce. Bake in a moderate mold of loaf pan. Spread evenly. Pour meat mixture on top of oven (350 F.) for 1 hour, 10 to 12 servings.

Spinach Makes Good Casserole

If you haven't already found out that spinach can be a good dish, this recipe for a Fresh Spinach Casserole will win you over to the spinach-eating side. It's a baked vegetable dish flavored with a bubbling cheese sauce and topped with fresh, crushed corn flakes.

Many people prefer to have spinach and other leafy greens cut or chopped lightly. True, they're easier to eat that way. You may cut (don't chop them to mush) the spinach greens for this casserole. Just be sure to measure two full cups of cooked, uncut spinach.

Clip and save this recipe. It's a good formula to use for other greens like kale and dandelions.

Fresh Spinach Casserole
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 pound processed cheese
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 2 cups cooked, fresh spinach
 1 cup corn flakes

Heat milk and cheese in top of double boiler, stirring until cheese is melted. Add seasonings. Drain spinach thoroughly place in casserole. Cover with cheese mixture. Sprinkle with crushed corn flakes. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) about 20 minutes.

Yield: 4 - 6 servings.

Blackberries Offer Many Opportunities

Blackberries may be served as "other fruit" according to the Texas Food Standard.

Blackberries may be served fresh, with cream, ice cream, or cereals, or blackberry shortcake. Put blackberries in the home freezer now to use in pies in the winter months.

Blackberry juice may be used in ices, sherbet, punch and jelly. Can berry juice for use when berries are not in season.

Blackberry Roll
 Prepare baking powder biscuit dough; roll 1/4 inch thick. Place 1 pint blackberries on the dough and sprinkle with 1/4 cup sugar and dust with cinnamon. Roll as for jelly roll; place, seam down on greased baking sheet. Brush with butter and bake in hot oven (400 F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

Baking Powder Biscuit Dough
 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 cup milk

Sift together dry ingredients; cut in shortening until well mixed and add milk, stirring quickly until a soft but not sticky dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured or cloth covered board and knead gently to shape into smooth ball; roll lightly to 1/4 inch thick.

CECIL H. BARNES

Barnes Visits City On Behalf Of Candidacy

Cecil H. Barnes, San Angelo, was here Thursday in the interest of his candidacy for representative of the 91st legislative district.

He arrived Wednesday and contacted many he had known from previous campaigns. Barnes served a term in the office for which he now offers.

In making the race he observed that there were many qualified citizens in the district who were as much obligated to make the sacrifice to run as he. However, he said, "the deadline was reached for announcements with no volunteers to enter the contest. It is not an office to go begging. I am sincere when I say I would have stayed out of the race had I thought more of my own than the public need. I do not like to 'stuck my neck out' any more than you do, but I see this office begging for volunteers and I am willing to answer. I count public service a challenge that must be accepted by someone."

"I admit I am not a good politician, I am not spectacular at anything and do not know how to stir up a good political show. If I wanted to do so, I do not know how to promote myself for this office other than to say that I am willing to become a public servant. If I am chosen, I will accept my trust and do the peoples' work well as I can without running from my conscience or tripping over it through misguided self-righteousness."

"This office is not one of pay but one of honor and trust. There is no hope under the Constitution that the office might pay the holder even a fair measure of what he might hope and prove worth to the state if he serves as he should."

"It is my intention to represent the whole people, but to safeguard and extend the rights of minorities where it does not intrude upon the legitimate rights of the majority. I believe in a representative democracy without reservation and will resist any effort made to undermine or weaken our form of government."

"I have my private interests as do you, but if elected, I pledge that I will sacrifice my time to this office as far as required and that I will place the public welfare above my own personal opinions and business interests if and when they should be a conflict between the two."

"I shall not hesitate to show where I stand and what I stand for. I shall try to make a showing for good government without trying for showmanship."

The district is large and has perhaps the most diverse population. I believe you want me to serve you. In the legislature, please do not require that I look you up to pay your tax and flatter you. It is easier for the public to select on the basis of what can be found out about the candidate rather than depend on what the candidate can say about the public into believing he is.

Barnes is an attorney and has business interests in Tom Green county. He has been a resident of San Angelo for approximately 20 years. He is a man of family and has a long record of civic service in his community.

First Plans Made For New Carbon Plant

Preliminary arrangements for beginning of construction on the General Atlas Carbon Black oil furnace plant here were made here Wednesday by company representatives.

Robert P. Vale, chief engineer for the company and in charge of construction, said that dismantling of a plant had started at Guyton, Okla. As soon as staff can be assembled here to receive it, shipments will start.

However, a considerable portion of the plant here will be new, for it is to be an oil furnace type. So far as the public is concerned, it is practically smokeless.

As much of the four unit system from the Guyton plant as possible will be utilized. It was of the gas channel type, however.

Also here Wednesday were Reno Stinson, industrial relations manager for the concern, and Paul Ritterhouse, who will superintend the construction. Dave Davenport, who is to be superintendent of operations, will arrive within a week.

Announcement was made last week of General Atlas' plan to set up the plant on a tract directly east of Codden's refinery. The carbon black operation will take its raw materials from Codden, utilizing a volume of residual fuel oil up to 1,000 barrels per day.

During construction around 50 men will be required. The operating staff will approximate 35. So far as possible former employees of the Guyton plant will be utilized.

Navy Planes To Come Out Of Mothballs Soon

WASHINGTON, July 13 — The Navy announced yesterday it will build up its air arm by putting into active service a number of fighter and torpedo-bomber planes now in mothballs.

A Navy spokesman said the planes being pulled out of storage include Corsairs, Hellcats and Avengers. The Corsair and the Hellcat are single-engine fighter-bombers. The Avenger is a single-engine torpedo-bomber carrying a crew of three.

The Navy had announced earlier that it was beginning to reactivate some ships of its laid up fleet, including two escort carriers, to increase the transportation of cargo, planes and men across the Pacific.

A spokesman said the two escort carriers will be used strictly for transport purposes.

The catapults for launching planes and arresting equipment for landing planes on the flight deck are not being put into condition for use.

This preparation of ships and planes, the spokesman said, is being done "where it can be most readily accomplished." He did not say where.

Indian Movies Are Plagued With Worries

DOMBAY, India, (AP) — India's film industry, said to be second largest in the world, is plagued by problems ranging from heavy taxation to lack of talent, according to the Indian Motion Picture Producers Association. Association officials say a serious crisis exists. They include among their troubles social prejudices against films, government restrictions and censorship regulations, burdensome taxation, lack of financing at reasonable interest rates, lack of talent, shortage of theatres, inadequate release facilities in key cities and inadequate supplies of essential materials.

Britain Short On Crematories

LONDON, (AP) — Another thing Britain is short of these days is crematories. British cremation experts are welcoming a Health Ministry move letting them build six badly-needed new crematories but they say it's a short step indeed toward solving their dilemma.

1. New crematories for the dead are well down on building priority lists until Britain gets up enough homes and schools for the living.

2. The number of Britons who prefer cremation to burial keeps rising steeply month by month.

Burmese Pick Up Money On Marbles

RANGOON, (AP) — There's money to be picked up from off the city's streets if one is a straight-shooter — of marbles. Marble-shooting is the newest daytime fad to hit cosmopolitan Rangoon.

It was introduced by bored chauffeurs while awaiting the clock to show the home-going hour. And everybody's doing it now.

The law forbids gambling on the street, but the police don't interfere with the players. They're shooting marbles too.

U. S. JET PLANE ATTACKS RED TANK—A U. S. F-80 jet fighter sprays the ground around a North Korean tank (circled) with machine gun fire in the area south of Suwon in this picture taken by Photographer David Douglas Duncan of Life Magazine. The plane carries two 5-inch rockets, one under each wing. The tank was blown up by the rockets which were released on a second pass over the Red vehicle. Duncan flew on the jet mission in the front seat of a T-33, a plane designed for training jet pilots. The F-80s carry only a pilot. (AP Wirephoto).

Sex Hormones Show Amazing Results In Making Older Persons Younger

LIEGE, Belgium, July 13.—Sex hormones are making old persons younger and healthier in a big step towards man's dream of rejuvenation.

Hormones have brought startling results in about 50 men and women, all over 65 and some as old as 90, Dr. William B. Kountz of St. Louis, Mo., told the First International Conference on Gerontology today. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

Women long past the change of life began menstruating again after receiving the female sex hormones estrogen and progesterone, Dr. Kountz reported.

The living cells of the uterus or womb in such a woman again became like the cells of a healthy young woman, Dr. Kountz said. The cells of the membranes in the nose also changed back to become more like those of a young person. Patients felt better and often became more active physically and mentally. The tissues in their bodies received more nourishment. Men receiving the male sex hormone testosterone showed similar improvement.

"This is just the beginning," Dr. Kountz said. "If we can return the uterus to normal function, then some day we will be able to do the same with an aged heart—perhaps using other hormones."

"We are interested in the maintenance of health and in combating degenerative tissue changes. If we can maintain the organs and tissues in normal function, then we can maintain health for many years."

"Hormone studies are being made by groups of scientists at Washington University and Infirmary Hospital, St. Louis. Some patients have been treated as long as five years. So far there has not been any sign of a cancer or other diseases from the use of hormones. The amount and use of hormones is adjusted carefully to the person's general health picture.

"Good diet is another part of the treatment. Only a few of the 50 patients have died so far and these deaths were not due to hormones. Autopsies showed that their body organs and tissues were getting an increased blood supply and nourishment."

Strike rejuvenation in rats—their heart, kidneys, and livers made young again—was reported by Dr. Vladimir Korenchevsky of the Oxford, Eng., gerontological research unit.

This also was done with sex hormones, but in huge doses.

There were two bad effects, the doctor warned. Some rats developed heart diseases and a few others got tumors of the liver similar to cancer.

"This treatment cannot be used on humans with these dangers," he said, "but it is only a matter of time until science works out methods and possibilities of doing it without causing harmful effects."

Town's Only Cop Is Fired; Won't Work An Early Shift

JAMESBURG, N. J., July 13.—Police Chief Harry L. Hubbs—the only full-time policeman in the borough—was fired last night for refusing to work the midnight-to-5 o'clock morning shift.

But he can stay in his apartment, which is in the Borough Hall, until November—provided he or his wife or children answer the police telephone.

The telephone is in the apartment.

They didn't take his badge away. He owns it. He also owns the police car and the police department revolver and billy club.

Hubbs, a grandfather who has been most of the Jamesburg police department since 1935, was ordered April 5 to go on patrol duty nightly for five hours starting at midnight (in addition to taking phone calls during the other 19 hours).

He stayed in bed and transferred week-hour police calls to the mayor's house.

So a month later they suspended him and took away his $42 weekly salary.

This week end Hubbs had a hearing in which he told how endless are the duties of a one-man police force (they include helping the dogcatcher) but said he wanted his job back anyhow.

But the three Democrats on the borough council voted to find him "guilty" of not being on the job.

Last Of Scottsboro Boys To Go Free After Extradition Refusal

DETROIT, July 13. (AP)—The last of the nine Negro defendants in the Scottsboro (Ala.) rape case two decades ago will be given his freedom today.

The government decided to ask dismissal of a fugitive charge against Haywood Patterson, 38. A hearing on the charge was scheduled before U. S. district Judge Arthur F. Lederle.

Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. James S. Soltesz said Alabama authorities told him they would drop proceedings against Patterson in view of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' refusal to allow extradition.

The FBI had picked up Patterson here on a charge of fleeing Alabama to avoid imprisonment.

Gov. Williams, in refusing extradition yesterday, said "all of the others involved in the Scottsboro case were released from prison some years ago." He added "I can see no justifiable reason for returning Patterson to prison."

Patterson and eight other Negroes were arrested aboard a freight train at Paint Rock, Ala., in 1931 on charges of raping two white women. One woman later repudiated her story. The United States Supreme Court twice reversed the death sentence given Patterson and affirmed a 75-year term.
