Freezer Sales, Meat Prices Soar

RODGERS scarce, and sky high. limited to non-existent. n, maybe you can buy poultry be not. me freezers to store food in. t's another story. eld residents are reacting to e meat situation just like ities and cities everywhere. Or the term should be area s are over reacting.

think it's all that serious," he said. "There's not that kind of shortage."

"I'm out of beef, bacon, fryers, everything," said Marcelino Duran at the Lamb County Locker. "Meat's just too high to buy to resell. But we've got 20,000 pounds of meat hanging in the coolers ready to cut up for customers," he added. Unlike the large packing houses which have had to lay off hundreds of employees, Duran said they have had to hire extra boys to handle the processing rush.

The meat business at Furr's was brisk this week. Some customers checked out with carts containing nothing but meat.

"There's no shortage yet," market manager Freddy Cook said. "We're not selling meat to cafes or cafeterias, and we ran out of bacon completely Tuesday. But we're keeping our meat out and selling at everyday prices."

There's no shortage yet. Those everyday prices include rib steak, sirloin and round at $1.29, clubs $1.45 and T-bone at $1.55.

"We've got meat right now," said Carlton Tanner at Littlefield Super Market, "but our suppliers don't promise anything after the next order. One said Tuesday would be his last day until after the freeze lifts. We've had to quit taking orders for beef quarters and halves. And this is the first time I know of that pork has sold at higher prices than beef."

Lee Haynes at Pioneer Super Market said he thought he had enough beef for his counter to last through this week. "We're running out of bacon and chickens," Haynes said.

Haynes said he remembers selling pork chops for 12 1/2 cents a pound. "Now center pork chops are $1.69 and up," he said, "and even at that it's hard to make a profit."

Beef prices at Pioneer this week included 89 cents for rougher cuts of chuck steak, 93 cents for chuck roast, 98 cents for big clubs and $1.39 for choice clubs, $1.49 for sirloin and T-bone, and $1.59 for round.

Dub Nicewarner at Pay-N-Save on 10th Street said it didn't look like they would have enough meat to last through this week. "Our supply has been cut down," he said. "We've had people coming in here wanting to buy meat to fill freezers, and we just can't sell it like that."

Nicewarner thinks prices will go higher after the freeze is lifted. "Anything can happen with everything so unstable," he added.

Merlin Yarbrough attributes the present meat scarcity to the public getting scared. "I think a bunch are going to get stuck with a freezer full of high priced meat," he said. "Oh, the prices will go sky high for a time after the freeze is lifted. But people will back off, especially those with a freezer full of meat. Then after the feed crop is out, the price will come back down."

"I've got enough meat for today," he said. "I'm not worried about today. I'm worried about tomorrow. But if people are hungry we can feed them. Maybe not with the exact cut they want... People panic easy. We'll be alright if the government will leave us alone."

People do tend to panic, One man said he didn't ordinarily eat much beef, but he bought two calves and put in his freezer and in the locker after hearing about the meat shortage and price increase.

His reaction is similar to another man who said during the war when the cigarette shortage hit, he went out and bought cigarettes by the carton and started smoking.

Likewise, people who've never owned freezers before have bought freezers.

Some are buying real large ones," said Mrs. Forrest Price at Western Auto. "We've sold three or four times more freezers this summer than before. People are buying freezers and they don't even have anything to put in them. Oh, a lot of them have gardens, but then some who have gardens this year never raised a garden before." Thursday Mrs. Price said she had three freezers on the floor and an order of 12 due in Monday.

But the Western Auto store was the only place in Littlefield with a freezer in stock.

Goodyear said they sold out completely on Tuesday and could sell many more if they could get them in. Good-Year has ordered a half car load, but were told it would be two weeks before they would be in.

Elouise Cox said she didn't have a freezer in stock and wouldn't have until the middle of the month. "I've had several people call from Lubbock. They don't care what size or how much they cost, they just want to buy a freezer. We can't even get freezers from our company."

Allen Brady at Sears said he had two freezers in stock Thursday, but both were sold. "Boy, we sure have had the calls about freezers," he said. "Everybody's wanting them. We can order some sizes and get them, and some orders are being delayed." Brady attributes the freezer situation to the beef shortage and the fact that there was a freezer manufacturing strike about the same time that the present freeze was initiated.

As long as people panic and buy more than is necessary, prices will continue to rise due to depletion of stock. It's an age-old matter of supply and demand.

REP. BILL CLAYTON of Springlake makes a response to the applause he received Thursday night during a fund-raising dinner in the high school cafeteria in Muleshoe. He is seeking the Speaker of the House chair, and funds will go into that campaign. His wife, Delma, limited her remarks to a few words: "Bill Clayton is the speaker at my house." ## Bill Clayton Backed In Bid For 'Speaker'

By JOELLA LOVVORN

Lamb County's Bill Clayton was lauded and applauded Thursday night during a special "Bill Clayton Day" fund raising dinner at Muleshoe, when between 650 and 670 persons crowded into the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria to boost the state representatives in his bid for the speaker of the house chair in the House of Representatives.

State senators, representatives and other dignitaries from all across Texas gathered to eat barbecued beef and to place their backing to the Springlake representative in his new endeavor.

According to spokesmen at Muleshoe, only six seats were left unclaimed in the jam-packed cafeteria.

Serving as master of ceremonies for the event was Attorney Graddy Tunnell of Plainview, who introduced a long list of state, district, county and city officials who paid tribute to Clayton, representative of District 74.

Houston Mayor Louie Welch was the first to laud Rep. Clayton as a man of Christian reputation who has "made himself felt in the councils of state governments all over the country." He commented, "Bill Clayton is just as concerned today as he was when he started in 1962 with the taxpayers and the taxpayers' funds."

Rep. Clayton, 44, was first elected in 1962, and has been returned to the post every two years since.

The official welcome to Muleshoe was presented by Muleshoe's Mayor Alex Williams, and Bailey County Judge Glen Williams extended the welcome to Bailey County.

Others extending words of praise to Rep. Clayton were Roy Coffee, the Governor's administrative assistant; State Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo; State Representative Tom Uher of Bay City; and District Attorney Jack Young of Muleshoe of the 154th Judicial District.

Several of the speakers made note of Rep. Clayton's efforts in the water situation in Texas, and referred to Clayton as "Mr. Water."

During Clayton's recently completed legislative session, he served as chairman of the Water Subcommittee of the Natural Resources Committee and was a member of the Intergovernmental Affairs and Elections Committees. He has either authored or co-authored every single piece of major water legislation passed by the House during his more than ten years' tenure.

Clayton came to the Springlake-Earth community when he was three years old, was reared there, and holds a BS degree in agriculture economics from Texas A&M University.

He is both a farmer and a businessman, and is a deacon of the First Baptist Church of Springlake. Despite his involvement in legislative affairs, he remains active in numerous community, county and area civic activities.

He is busy with national legislative affairs too. He is chairman of the Interstate Conference on Water Problems, is chairman of the Intergovernmental Relations Committee of the National Legislative Council, and Council and the Southern Environmental Council.

He has served as chairman of the livestock committee in the House, as well as being on conservation and reclamation, state affairs, urban affairs and election committees.

This past December he resigned as executive director of Water, Inc. to devote more time to "other areas" in the political realm. His official announcement as a candidate for the speaker's chair was made June 5.

Bill and his wife, Delma, have two children. Mrs. Brenda Allin Clayton Hatfield, and Tommy Clayton, a senior at Springlake-Earth High School. They are also proud grandparents of a granddaughter, Lisa Hatfield.

Following Rep. Clayton's response to the speakers' remarks, Mrs. Clayton made only one brief remark: "Bill Clayton is the speaker at my house!"

District 74, which Clayton represents, is comprised of Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Lamb, Oldham, and Parmer Counties.

The invocation for the Thursday night event was presented by Clayton's pastor, Rev. Glenn Smith of the First Baptist Church of Springlake, and the benediction was presented by Rev. O.B. Melton, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe.

Special piano music was presented by Miss Cassie Precure, and the entertainment was presented by the Caisson Trio of Hereford.

Co-chairmen of the appreciation dinner were Harvey Bass and Corky Green of Muleshoe. Chairmen of the finance committee, in charge of ticket sales were Jeff Smith and Joe Harbin of Muleshoe, and the secretary was Nelda Merriott.

Serving as treasurer was Bob Finney and publicity director was Gil Lamb. Sam Damron headed the invitation committee and Wilcy Moore was in charge of the transportation committee. The greeting and registration committee was headed by Derrell Oliver, and Irvin St. Clair was chairman of the arrangements committee.

Ted Barnhill, Rhonda Pummill and Becky Miller were in charge of the patriotic decorations, and Larry Hall was chairman of the food committee. The program and entertainment were arranged by Kerry Moore.

Figures Told, Count Gussed

There are in so much better shape this year than we were at this time last year," Richard Newman at the ASCS said this week in making the first reported bale count and releasing the figures for 1973.

Newman said Lamb County has 17 acres of standing cotton at this time compared to 144,518.5 last year. Newman estimates Lamb County will produce almost a bale per acre for every acre. The first ASCS estimated count is 150,000. The Lamb County Extension service estimates 165,000 for the county.

This year 167,406.7 acres of cotton were planted. Only 899.8 acres of cotton has been destroyed this year. Last year 172,842.2 acres of cotton were planted and of that total, 28,323.7 acres were destroyed.

Lamb County has many more acres of cotton and grain sorghum in production than ever last year due to the change in acreage. The 1973 corn acreage is 7.9 compared to 20,000 acres in 1972. Sorghum acreage for '73 totals 144.9 compared to 151,838.3 acres last year.

City Council Discusses Brief Business Agenda

In a brief session Thursday night, Littlefield's city councilman discussed four items of new business on the agenda.

A request from the City of Anton for dog catcher service was discussed, and City Manager Jim Blagg was instructed to work out details with Anton city officials to provide limited service in that respect.

The Sandy Land Resource Conservation and Development Project was discussed, and councilmen authorized Mayor J.E. Chisholm to sign a letter showing the city's interest and support of the project, which covers a six-county area.

Councilmen reviewed the Revenue Sharing Actual Use Report, which is to be given to the Department of the Treasury Office of Revenue Sharing in Washington, D.C.

Total Revenue Sharing funds received by the city during the period of Jan. 1, 1972 through June 30, 1973 are $88,855. Funds which have been spent or obligated, amount to $75,418.38, leaving a balance of $13,436.62 as of June 30.

The report is to be published in its entirety in the Leader-News Thursday, Aug. 16.

In closing Thursday night's session, councilmen scheduled a budget work session at 5 p.m. Monday, Aug. 13 in the council chamber of the city hall.

Tollett, Burke Named 'Outstanding'

Two young men from Littlefield have been selected as "Outstanding Young Men of America for 1973", according to Doug Blankenship, chairman of the Board of Advisors for the national awards publication.

Nominated for the award by the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce are Thomas Earl Tollett and Jerry Leray Burke.

Now in its ninth year, "Outstanding Young Men of America" is an annual biographical compilation sponsored by leading men's civic, service and professional organizations.

The awards volume features the accomplishments of approximately 7,000 young men of exceptional abilities and achievements from across the country.

Criteria for inclusion in volume are service to others, professional excellence, business advancement, charitable activities and civic and professional recognition. The young men chosen for this distinction are between the ages of 21 and 35.

Ronald L. Zeigler, author of the introductory statement in the 1972 edition, has said of the publication, "The thousands of young Americans whose stories are told in these pages represent only a sampling of the talent that is powering this country into the Seventies... I know that to each of them this is less a book of praise—though praise it is, and well deserved—than a volume of challenge."

Nominations for the awards publication are made by civic organizations, Jaycee chapters, college alumni associations and military commandants.

The 1973 edition of Outstanding Young Men Of America, scheduled for publication and national distribution in October, will include a special introductory message by Lieutenant General Alvan C. Gillem, III, Commander, Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, Ala.

BOB WEAR was given a plaque for public service in a special presentation made by the Littlefield Lions Club Wednesday. Accepting the plaque with Wear is his wife Vinita. Wear is moving to Alabama after serving as pastor of the Church of Christ in Littlefield since 1964. The plaque reads: "In appreciation of distinguished community service while a resident of Littlefield, Texas, 1964-1973."

Dear Mr. Editor:

I would like to enlist your paper's aid in informing the farmers and oil field operators in your area of a portion of the Texas Clean Air Act that has a direct impact on them.

It is a violation of the laws concerning air pollution control to burn off grain fields, paraffin, or oil pits.

There are cases where an exception can be made for unusual circumstances or emergencies. Examples are infestations of some type or an oil spill that is creating a hazard.

A person that feels he has grounds for an exception should contact the regional office, Texas Air Pollution Control Services, 1906 Fourth Street, Lubbock, Texas, 79415, phone number 744-0099.

If I can be of any service to you in the future, please don't hesitate to call on me.

Sincerely yours,
 s/Vick Newsom, P.E.

NOISE POLLUTION

While noise pollution can be hazardous to persons of any age, the interests of teenagers may make them particularly vulnerable to this danger. These interests include highly amplified rock music, motorcycles and high performance automobiles which all are possible sources of hearing impairment.

AgriCulture?

HOW'S YOUR...

NEARLY HALF OF TODAY'S FARM INCOME IS DERIVED FROM OFF-FARM JOBS

AND FARM PEOPLE'S AVERAGE INCOME IS 17% BELOW THAT OF NON-FARMERS.

IF FARMERS HAD TO RELY SOLELY ON INCOME FROM FARMING, THEIR AVERAGE INCOMES WOULD BE ONLY 47% OF THAT ENJOYED BY OTHER SEGMENTS OF OUR SOCIETY!!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Planning Pays

By BOB W...

WE CAN LEARN TO PLAN our actions, or most of them. Some things may happen unexpectedly; things we did not anticipate, and for which we have not made specific plans.

We can, however, be partially prepared by having conditioned ourselves for such occurrences. Knowing that there will be some unexpected happenings which will concern us enables us to maintain what we call contingency plans.

These cannot be as specific as the plans we make for the recognized needs and desires, but they will help us.

ALL PLANS MUST be flexible, to some extent. If they are too rigid, we have thus created an unnecessary burden for ourselves. Since we are fallible, and not capable of prophetic foresight; we have no just basis for expecting all of our plans to be fully realized.

Some will work successfully, some will be partially successful and some will be frustrated. Nevertheless, planning is justified and essential. This will be sensible, realistic planning.

SENSIBLE PLANNING includes provisions for implementation, willingness to work diligently, allowances for adjustments as we move toward accomplishment, and a generous degree of patient endurance.

We must also include an accurate evaluation of our personal limitations and strong points.

OPTIMISM IS ESSENTIAL, but we must not be overly optimistic. We can do some things, but not everything. Whether we like it or not, some things are out of our reach.

FRIEND OF MINE says he's been waiting for me to write about the UN. Something about the farmers using the building to store hay in, while the incumbents were to be tied up outside.

Now, I hate to plead ignorance (one of the few things I don't know all about) but it seems I know very little about the UN.

SEEMS I HAVE a hazy remembrance of it's being an organization for all the powers of the world, with aim in mind of setting up a world police force to prevent all the Koreas, Cubas, and Vietnams. (Not to mention the Arab and Israeli squabbles).

Seems, also, that I remember that good Ol' Uncle Sap was to furnish the building, and all the members were to pay in their yearly dues in order to be active in said organization, and, to enjoy the protection thereof.

AT ANY RATE, as best I gather, Uncle Sugar not only furnishes about all the funds, but is also entitled to the privilege of doing all the policing. Nothing like being number one, I suppose.

However, the organization isn't a total loss. Most all the other members are willing to take their handouts, and to offer profuse criticisms, at the most inopportune times.

We can, however, do all essential to a wholesomely abundant life.

"TO LIVE SUCCESSFULLY" we must have a definite plan, and be aware there is a limited time in which to do the job done. Think and plan first, then enjoy the fruits of your plan A.A.M.

PLANS CAN BE TOO elaborate, this leads to failure and discouragement. While some may have the skills and good luck in making such plans, most of us will do much better with simple plans.

This is not as undesirable, or complimentary as it may seem, successes attained relatively through planning can be cumulative, and very respectable proportions.

"PLAN BIG" is a popular term, and it may be suitable for folk; but I would never be able to do "Big" plans. Unfortunately, those people who, because they are not doing something "Big", are reluctant to do anything.

Let us be thankful for the planners and the doers of "Big" plans, but remember that many of us make the smaller plans and do the called "little" things.

LET US FORGET about the "little" and "little", and just be diligent in our planning for making personal lives effective and useful.

After all, this is the accomplishment available to all, without which all else is empty, meaningless.

HOGGY BITS

By CORNBALL BLEVIN

IN ADDITION to this, it keeps American tax-payer occupied. It has to wonder if the money he's bled for, will be disposed of by federal authorities. We have the right about all of the members that organization is for a very worthy cause. I'm sorry that I'm no better informed about this circus; Guess if you want the full story, you might ask "The Hoggy" He's full of that kind of stuff!

ALL TOGETHER, now - PANIC!! At the present rate the fashioned habit of eating may become thing of the past.

And don't envy the farmer his word for it that it costs them just much to eat one of their own hogs, as it does for us to buy meat.

THEN, TOO: We won't be able to eat cereals and bread. You're mad wheat and grain, you know. I'm guilty eating them anyway, but realize the stuff could be used to feed beef or hog. By the way what do they eat in vitamins.

DO BELIEVE THAT if I were Row, I'd re-read the letter from Taylor. Seems to be he's trying to TR that he's got a belly-full of something or other.

And, he did mention Turn in column?? -Hm-m-m-----

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHA

FREQUENT RAINS on grain sorghum when heads are maturing can cause yield and test weight losses.

The closer to combine maturity the grain is, the greater the effect of rain will be, according to Dr. Lewis E. Clark, seed technologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Wetting and drying of the grain causes roughening of kernel surface. Test weight is a weight per volume measurement, therefore, the roughened surfaces reduce the amount of grain that will occupy a given volume and weight per volume.

Rain causes what is commonly called grain weathering, a combination of physiological activity and mold. Mold growth can further roughen the grain surface.

NOTICED THAT WE not only have a shortage of fuel and meats, but there is also a shortage of commodes. It has been stated that it will take five years to supply enough toilets for all the new building that is taking place.

*****

RAINS IN THE AREA have been rather general, with the exception of a few small spots. North of Spade they are still irrigating cotton and areas near Bula and east of Anton could use a little more rain.

Hail played havoc with some of the area crops east of Littlefield and took a narrow strip from Cotton Center Halfway. Some of this area received extensive damages.

HOG PRICE IS still soaring with hogs bringing as much as 67 cents a pound in the Houston market. Hog price is still on the upgrade with unbelievable contracts being offered this fall's crop. Some of the producers stated that they have offered a "Hog-Round" price of 40 cents per pound for this year's crop. He waits until harvest, he may get more what he produces, then again the price could drop.

Hay farmers in the area are beginning to have a problem too. It is not that they cannot sell their hay, but that their hay can't find baling. Some tie the bales. This may be the problem that gins will have this year. Some ginners have already stated they will probably have a problem getting enough ties to tie the cotton bales.

IT LOOKS LIKE supply and demand is causing most of our commodities to soar in price. In doing so, we here in America could spend ourselves into poverty and possibly starvation.

*****

HERE'S A QUOTE THAT was in a church bulletin: "The only success is constantly under construction".

Federal Land Bank Increase Rates

McCown, manager of Federal Land Bank of Littlefield, has announced that the billing rate for Federal Land Bank farm variable interest rates is being increased from 7-3/4 percent to 8-1/4 percent effective Aug. 1. The rate on rural residence loans is being increased from 8-1/4 percent to 9-1/4 percent. The variable interest rate loan plan which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, lets the rate "float" over the variations in the money market. "Continued high interest rates in the money market have made it necessary for the Bank to take this action. Interest rates have risen rapidly since early 1973 and the bank has delayed action until this time in order to determine whether or not these rate increases were temporary", McCown stated.

The bank recently marketed an issue of bonds which sold at an average effective cost of 7.6 percent. "It now appears that present interest levels will probably not change materially until the end of the year", McCown stated.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term real estate loans on farm and ranch land rural residences throughout Texas and now has more than 775 million dollars in volume of loans outstanding. The local association makes and services loans in Lamb County.

Officers and directors of the association are Harry Brantley, president; Ray C. Hulse, vice-president; Paul Chisholm, Drexel Lawson, Elmer Hall, and W.H. McCown, manager.

FIRST PRIZE

CASH PRIZES . . .

Fourth Prize ..... $200
 Fifth ..... $100

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of the big distribution is two fold: Primarily to increase the already large subscription list of the Leader-News and advance subscription payments from present, to gain new subscribers and at the same time afford our friends an unparalleled opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time during the next few weeks, so it is a plan that works both ways and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, one of the most valuable and attractive lists of prizes ever offered by a local newspaper in this section of the country has been made ready for distribution among participating most heartily. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success. The plan adopted is straightforward and simple and is fully outlined in this announcement.

Let it be understood at the very outset that it is not a "beauty" or "popularity" contest, but strictly a legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this competition is the fact that there will be no losers in this race.

THIS CAMPAIGN CONDUCTED BY THE NICKESON COMPANY OF CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS, P.O. BOX 6332

CAMPAIGN ENDS Friday, Sept. 7th

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. A List of workers and the number of votes accepted for publication will be published from time to time throughout the campaign. All subscription votes will be accepted for publication at the discretion of the campaign manager.
2. Any worker attempting to intimidate or buy another worker's votes or attempting to pool subscriptions with an enrolled worker shall be dismissed from the campaign.
3. Every worker must subscribe to the campaign rules.
4. The Campaign Manager reserves the right to make amendments to these rules so that the progress of the campaign may develop as desirable, such amendments being made in the interest of the campaign and the workers.
5. The Campaign Manager further reserves the right to remove any worker from the campaign for good sufficient cause and all decisions of the Campaign Manager final.
6. Changing the names of subscribers in the same family does not constitute a new subscription.
7. The campaign will be divided into three periods. During each of these periods, extra votes may be given in addition to the regular schedule as advertised on this page.
8. Should conditions beyond the control of this newspaper or the Campaign Manager arise any time prior to the close of the 3rd week of said campaign which would affect the campaign in such a way as to make it inadvisable in the discretion of the Campaign Manager or the publisher of this newspaper to continue this campaign, the Campaign Manager and Campaign Manager mutually agree that he shall pay such candidates sufficient sums so that they shall receive 40 per cent of the total report collections to said candidates. Said 40 per cent shall include the regular 20 per cent commission paid or payable to said candidates. It is mutually agreed that the candidates shall accept such payment as payment in full for their services during said campaign.

Homemaking Tips

BY Lynn Bowerman

Many of the fruits that make excellent jellies, jams and marmalades are now in season, and with good recipes and loving care these treats can be preserved for year round enjoyment. Occasionally, however, we receive calls from homemakers with some common jelly problems. Here are some of these problems and how to avoid them.

*WHAT MAKES JELLY CLOUDY?

One or more of the following may cause cloudy jelly: Pouring jelly mixture into glasses too slowly. Allowing jelly mixture to stand before it is poured. Juice was not properly strained and so contained pulp. Jelly set too fast—usually the result of using too-green fruit.

*WHY DO CRYSTALS FORM IN JELLY?

Crystals throughout the jelly may be caused by too much sugar in the jelly mixture, or cooking the mixture too little, too slowly, or too long. Crystals that form at the top of jelly that has been opened and allowed to stand are caused by evaporation of liquid. Crystals in grape jelly may be tartrate crystals.

*WHAT CAUSES JELLY TO BE TOO SOFT?

One or more of the following may be the cause: Too much juice in the mixture. Too little sugar. Mixture not acid enough. Making too big a batch at one time.

*WHAT CAN BE DONE TO MAKE SOFT JELLIES FIRMER?

It is not always possible to remake soft jellies so that the product will be satisfactory. However, soft jellies can sometimes be improved by re-cooking according to the directions given below. It is best to re-cook only 4 to 6 cups of jelly at one time.

*WHAT CAUSES JELLY OR JAM TO DARKEN AT THE TOP OF THE CONTAINER?

Storage in too warm a place. Or a faulty seal that allows air to leak in.

*WHAT CAUSES FADING?

Too warm a storage place or too long storage. Red fruits such as strawberries and raspberries are especially likely to fade.

*WHY DOES FRUIT FLOAT IN JAM?

Fruit was not fully ripe, was not thoroughly crushed or ground, was not cooked long enough, or was not properly packed in glasses or jars.

*CAN CORN SIRUP OR HONEY BE USED INSTEAD OF SUGAR IN MAKING JELLY AND JAM?

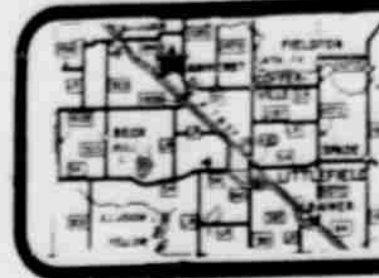

Either can be used in place of part, but not all, of the sugar in the recipes for jelled fruit products in this publication. In recipes without added pectin, light corn sirup can replace up to one-fourth of the sugar in jellies and up to one-half of the sugar in other products. With added powdered pectin, corn sirup can replace up to one-half of the sugar in any of the products. With liquid pectin, corn sirup can replace up to 2 cups of the sugar.

Products made with honey will have a darker color than those made with sugar as the only sweetening, and the flavor will be somewhat different. Light, mild-flavored honey generally is the best kind to use.

Honey can replace up to one-half of the sugar in any of the recipes where no added pectin is used. In products made with added pectin 2 cups of honey can replace 2 cups of sugar in most recipes; only 3/4 to 1 cup of sugar should be replaced by honey in the small recipes yielding 5 to 6 glasses.

JET AGE SEWING

MRS. FRANCES JONES

When the edge of the collar is flush with the edge of the front opening often there is a problem to prevent leaving a lump or a rough spot where the end of the collar meets the edge of the shirt front.

Sometimes the front edge has a seam and at other times only a fold and construction problems are different with each case. Let us take first the case where there is a seam on the front edge which is really more simple.

If interfacing is used apply it first and then sew the shoulder seams. Stitch the undercollar to the garment and stitch the outer collar to the upper end of the front facing. These seams run along the neckline. Press the seams open and trim to remove bulk. Now place the sections together with right sides to right sides and sew up one front edge, around the collar, and down the other front edge. Press this seam open and trim bulk.

Turn the seam to the inside and roll the edges to conceal the facings. On the collar part the outer collar should roll over to conceal the undercollar and on the shirt part the garment should roll over the front facing.

Give it a final pressing and you will see that you have a perfectly smooth result where the collar and shirt meet. (1) Now let us consider the case where there is no seam on the shirt front when the facing is cut-in-one with the shirt. In this case it is best to prepare the collar first and press it to finished shape.

The neckline edges are still raw so trim them even since they may have shifted in the construction process. On the shirt press the facing back on the foldline and mark a dot on the crease exactly on the seamline. Stitch a "V" down to the dot to reinforce.

Clip to the bottom of the "V" but be careful not to cut through the stitching. (2) Lay the top of the collar over the top of the shirt with necklines even and pin for a seam. Take special care at the end of the collar to place it exactly in the bottom of the clip. (3) Pin both layers of the collar at the same time.

The upper part of the front facing should be laid over the outer collar and pinned. Stitch on the seamline through all layers. If done correctly the seam will run directly to the end of the "V" clip. Trim the seam and clip the curves.

All seams will turn downward toward the garment but it will work well in light weight cloth. On bulky cloth there would be a bad ridge and it is best always to sew the neckline seam in a manner that will enable you to press the seam open to distribute the bulk.

Area Students In Ceremony

Approximately 13 area nursing students at South Plains College participated in a special capping ceremony, held July 26 in the college's Student Center Auditorium.

Frank Hunt, dean of the Vocational-Technical Division of South Plains, served as master of ceremonies.

Dean of Continuing Education Don Yarbrough, gave the invocation, while representatives of the local Gideon Chapter presented each of the students with a white Bible.

Mrs. Nevelle Danner, nursing coordinator and instructor at SPC, was in charge of the presentation of caps, while students participated in a special candle lighting ceremony, conducted by Mrs. Helen Brown, nursing instructor at the college.

Chairman of the fine arts department and South Plains College music instructor Harley Bulls, provided piano music during the program and sang a musical selection entitled, "One Little Candle".

Members of the SPC Faculty Women's Club hosted a special reception following the capping ceremony in the carpeted lounge of the student center.

Individuals receiving caps during the program include: Mrs. Mary Cook of Anton; Mrs. Patricia Parish, Mrs. June Davis, Amherst; and Mrs. Diane Mann, Miss Kathy Wade, Littlefield.

The vocational nurses training is a 50-week course. Upon completion of their training and studies, the student nurses are given an examination by the State Board for Licensure.

Cooperating hospitals with the SPC Nursing Program are: Littlefield Hospital, Littlefield; University Hospital, Lubbock; Morton, Cochran Memorial Hospital; Cook Memorial Hospital, Levelland; Medical Arts Hospital at Littlefield; and West Plains Hospital, Muleshoe.
