Second Annual Retreat Scheduled January 9

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will conduct its second annual planning retreat Tuesday, Jan. 9, at the Holiday Inn Parkway at Lubbock.

This year's retreat will begin at 1:30 p.m. and conclude that night when all ideas are presented. Participants may return home that night.

"The reason for going out of town is to get away from the business, telephones and other interruptions to devote a few hours to making plans for the upcoming year's work," stated Bill Payne, C-CA executive.

He continued, "Every member is urged to take a half a day from their business and participate in the retreat to plan the goals and objectives to further the Chamber for the coming year."

There will be a $7.50 charge assessed, payable to the C-CA, to take care of the costs of a steak dinner and other incidentals which are necessary for the meeting. Payne advised.

Farm Sale Is Slated Mid-January

A community farm sale is still in the planning stage, and the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is working up a sale sheet for the auction sale which is tentatively scheduled for mid-January.

$50—and will be used to cover the cost of advertising the sale, and paying the auctioneer's fees.

Farmers and ranchers who have items they wish to sell, whether large or small, are invited to list these items with the C-CA office, by calling 385-4451, or going by the office.

A 5 per cent commission will be retained on all sales—not to exceed

DWI, Theft Filed, 5 Persons Jailed

Five persons have been charged at the sheriff's office.

Billy Nash Jones, 44, of Hale Center, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated by highway patrolmen Friday. He was released the following day on a $1,000 bond.

Ronald Kent Hargroove, 22, of Muleshoe was charged with theft Saturday. His bond is set at $4,000.

A Fieldton man was arrested Saturday on a drunk charge and paid a $22.50 fine. Two youths, 16 and 17-year-old boys were arrested on disturbance charges Wednesday and probated to their parents.

Opposing Forces Set Meetings

Groups for and against the legal sales of alcoholic beverages are meeting this week.

"Businessmen For A Dry Littlefield" met Thursday morning and plan to meet again this Thursday morning at 7 in Thornton's Cafeteria.

"Citizens for Progress" will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at 230 23rd Street.

The local option election is set for Saturday, Jan. 6, in the Littlefield City Hall.

Auto Registration A Simple Process

Do you hate waiting in long lines? Do you shudder to think of the upcoming license plate renewal season? Does the thought of nearly eight million vehicles being registered in Texas this year scare you?

Well, you can cheer up. The Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department will be mailing out renewal applications for 1973 license plates shortly after Christmas.

Vehicle owners who wish to avoid the long lines can simply return the entire application by mail to the tax assessor-collector in their home counties with the registration fee and $1 per vehicle for handling and mailing.

There are three things to remember:

1. Leave the handy three-part form intact. Don't separate the three parts.
2. Mail it to the county tax office in your home county. (Mailing to the Highway Department will only delay your getting your 1973 plates.)
3. Be sure to include your registration fee plus an additional $1 for each automobile to be registered by mail.

You may apply for your license plates by mail after January 1. However, county tax offices won't be sending the license plates until after February 1. You should allow at least 30 days from the time you apply for the license plates to be returned.

The 1973 plates must be displayed on your vehicle by April 1.

In person registration will begin at county tax offices and, in some counties, special substations on February 1. Even though the automated registration application has speeded up the registration process, the waiting lines will grow progressively longer by the March 31 cutoff date.

ANEW YEAR'S PARTY? GEE, that sounds like fun! Amy Bolton, 10-month-old daughter of Coach and Mrs. Robert Bolton will observe her first New Year's Day Monday, and has the party dress, hat, and noise maker ready to ring out the old year and bring in the new one. . . that is, if she can stay awake. Amy is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lumsden of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reuker of Canon City, Colo. (Staff Photo by Joella Lovvorn)

Nominations Sought For Honorees

Any individual, club or organization who wishes to submit names as nominations for the Outstanding Citizen, Outstanding Woman, and Outstanding Farm Family of the Year for 1972, are asked to contact the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce office and submit a resume of the individual's activities—particularly for the year 1972.

Those chosen for the honor will be honored at the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, slated for Saturday, Jan. 27.

The deadline for submitting nominations is 5 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 9, and a committee will select their recipients of the awards from those nominated.

The outstanding woman's plaque will be donated by Jim Jones Conoco, the plaque for the outstanding citizen will be provided by A&B Office Supply, and the Lamb County Leader-News will donate the plaque for the farm family of the year.

All nominees should be recognized and well known for their outstanding contribution to the community as a whole.

'73 Lamb Cotton Cut 17,246 Acres

Base cotton allotments in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. for 1973 total 1,488,145 acres, down 197,388 acres or 11.7 per cent from the 1972 allotment of 1,685,533 acres.

Lamb County's cotton allotment has been cut from 133,999 acres this year to 116,753 in 1973, a loss of 17,246 acres or down 12.9 per cent.

The 11.7 per cent cut on the High Plains compares with a national reduction of 13 per cent, from 11.5

Firetruck Enroute To Fire Collides With Car On Phelps

A Littlefield fire truck on an emergency run hit a car at the intersection of Phelps and Fourth at 1:05 p.m. Wednesday.

The 1972 fire truck driven by Don Huckabey was traveling north on Phelps with his siren on. Mrs. Cacillia (Zan) Stovall was driving her car east on Fourth.

According to Highway Patrolman Weldon Parson, Mrs. Stovall said she heard the sirens and saw the fire truck coming and speeded up to get through the intersection.

The fire truck hit the right rear of Mrs. Stovall's 1970 Pontiac. The Pontiac changed ends and the right rear hit a stopped 1968 Chrysler driven by Norma Phillips. Mrs. Phillips was headed west on Fourth and was stopped in response to the fire engine.

Parson estimated damages of about $400 each to the Stovall vehicle and the fire truck and about $25 to the Phillips car.

Another fire truck unit was sent on to the scene of the fire where hay piled under a mobile home to prevent pipes from freezing had caught fire. The second unit extinguished the hay fire at the Ralph Ogerlys, five miles north and 3/4 of a mile east of Littlefield and there was only smoke damage to the home.

Wade A. Warren

"A diplomat is a fellow who let you have his way."

Wade Warren is out of town because of the death of Mrs. Warren's husband as we go to press. So if you find this column sounds different, it is the pinch hitter who's trying to fill the space reserved for the boss.

THIS issue of the paper was put out late Thursday and printed so it could go in the mail in time for members to get their paper before New Year's holiday.

This is a little short this issue since there was only one day to gather news.

When time, news was in the air. While the Leader-News staff gathered together Thursday night for basketball games were on tap. County commissioners were to meet Friday for their end of month session.

Springlake-Earth school board members were meeting to decide what to do over previous disciplinary action against two students which was ruled against by Dr. J.W. Edgar, superintendent of education.

Amherst, an historical building, Santa Fe Depot was about to see a day of service.

Haynes, agent at the Littlefield depot advised us that Friday was the day the Amherst depot would be in the Niah Rodgers would like to do a run on the depot if any of our readers contribute the historical fund.

LAMB COUNTY officials say this weekend was the quietest they remember. Littlefield volunteer firemen have answered enough fire calls to make up for lost time. Fireman Leon Durham said this is the first time he remembers not having a fire alarm. "And maybe we'll have one without one," he added, "if the fire will hurry up and get their tree."

Age is when your memory is short, your experience longer, your hair lower and your forehead higher.

BEST TEXAS couple received an agency cable from their daughter in Sweden. The cable read: "I discovered no black-eyed peas on the New Year's Stop Can supply list and corn bread from here."

Texas parents picked up a one-pound packet of the peas at the market for 26 cents. It cost $2.49 to ship the pound of peas to Sweden.

Wishing everyone 365 happy making days in 1973.

Eat Breakfast And Be More Alert

In most homes, breakfast is a hurried, fix-it-yourself meal since each family member starts the day at a different time. But breakfast is still important. Studies at the University of Iowa have shown that people who eat a nutritionally adequate breakfast work more efficiently and are more alert than people who skip breakfast.

What is a nutritionally adequate breakfast? Many nutritionists recommend that breakfast provide about 25% of the daily need of protein, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals. This does not mean that breakfast has to be a big meal or take a long time to prepare. A bowl of cereal with milk is a good start toward the day's supply of needed nutrients. Ready-to-eat and instant or quick cooking hot cereal furnish needed vitamins, iron, carbohydrates and protein. To complete this easy-to-fix breakfast add a citrus juice or fruit, enriched toast and milk to drink.

Low In Calories But High In Nutrients

For a breakfast low in calories but high in nutrients, start the day with fruit or juice, a bowl of your favorite cereal with non-fat milk, a slice of enriched toast with margarine and a glass of low-fat milk to drink. This breakfast provides only about 400 calories but contains many of the more than 45 nutrients needed daily for good nutrition.

On A Diet? Don't Skip Breakfast

If you are trying to shed those few extra pounds you picked up during the summer months, don't skip breakfast. Cut down on the total number of calories you have each day, but don't cut out breakfast. It has been about 12 hours since dinner and you need protein and carbohydrates at breakfast time to keep blood sugar at proper levels to avoid that mid-morning slump. Eating breakfast will also help keep you from getting hungry in the middle of the morning and indulging in snack foods which may be high in calories but low in important nutrients you need.

A nutritionally adequate breakfast that can be easily adapted to fit the nutritional needs of all family members is juice, cereal with milk, toast and milk to drink.

GOVERNOR-ELECT Dolph Briscoe is moving to assemble his new gubernatorial staff and organize his initial recommendations to the legislature.

Three top aides to Briscoe were announced recently. They are administrative assistants George Lowrance of San Antonio and Ken Clapp of Killeen and legislative liaison man Roy Coffee Jr. of Dallas.

Briscoe also is working on his "position papers" with aid of advisors. High on the list of recommendations to the legislature after Briscoe takes office Jan. 16 will be these:

Programs to curb crime, aid constitutional revision, control drug abuse, promote water conservation, set up a mass transit system and improve and expand vocational education.

Briscoe indicated earlier his "new team" would be selected by mid-December.

While the incoming governor made no early promises to keep any staff members of Gov. Preston Smith on the job, indications are that he will retain the bulk of clerical and secretarial employees and technical personnel who want to stay.

Office announced Briscoe will begin early meetings with legislators.

Lowrance has been Briscoe's man-in-residence at the governor's office, gathering information for the next governor on staff organization and functions.

John Brunson, Houston attorney who has been close to Briscoe, has figured in speculation on who will be the next Texas Secretary of State.

NEW LICENSE PLATE TIME

Renewal applications for 1973 auto license plates will be in the mail soon from the Texas Highway Department's Motor Vehicle Division.

The entire application may be returned by mail to the tax assessor-collector in counties of registration with an added $1 fee for handling and mailing.

Highway Department representatives caution:

• Leave the three-part form intact. Do not separate the three cards.

• Mail it to the resident county office.

• Include money for the amount of the registration fee, plus the mailhandling fee.

• Applications may be put in the mail any time after January 1, but no license plates will be sent out before February 1. About 30 days should be allowed for return of the plates after the application is received.

• April 1 is deadline for displaying the 1973 plates. In-person registration starts at county tax offices and special substations February 1.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals here held 560 Texas reform school inmates who had no attorneys when they were committed must be released.

The same Court also handed down these recent decisions:

• "City of Austin could not validly sell park land to the Austin school district without voter approval.

• A district court ruling banning a cookware promotion in which Florida dealer Glenn Turner was involved should be upheld.

• Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded for reconsideration a San Antonio court revocation of probation for a woman who had been convicted for possession of heroin.

DEADLINE EXTENDED

License and permit deadline for signboards along interstate and primary highways has been extended by the Texas Highway Commission from Dec. 31 to June 30, 1973.

The extension was granted on request of advertising industry and individual sign owners because the previous time was insufficient to comply with the Highway Beautification Act.

The law requires a permit for each sign, and those putting up signs within 660 feet of the major highways must get a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

No further extension of the deadline is contemplated, the Highway Department said. The license fee is $25. Sign owners must post $2,500 bond in each county where they have signs. Maximum bonds of $10,000 are required of owners with signs in more than three counties.

COMMITTEE DISAGREES

A House of Representatives committee disagreed on specific recommendations for a new method of financing public school education in the wake of court decisions.

The interim School Finance Committee adopted a proposal urging support of a new panel to study findings of 10 separate groups studying the same problem and offer suggestions to a special legislative session.

A federal court a year ago held the present system of financing public school education is unconstitutional because it creates inequality of opportunity among rich and poor districts.

Committee chairman Paul Silber of San Antonio said the state should assure equal education to all districts by a broad-based tax for reapportionment to the districts. Another member, Rep. Billy Williamson of Tyler, said Texas Education Agency should be allowed to collect a statewide ad valorem tax based on full property value.

SPECIAL LIMITS URGED

Another House study committee chairman proposed limits on hospitalization and number of visits to doctors under the medicare program for the needy.

Rep. Dean Cobb of Dumas said the current system is "open-ended and under-controlled" and "exceeds the state's financial resources." Cobb said doctors got $49.9 million and hospital $61.8 million during the 1972 fiscal year. He said the average welfare recipient saw his doctor 9.31 times during the year.

million acres this year to 10 million in 1973.

Major effect of the allotment cut will be to reduce total price support payments to producers in the coming year. The payment rate for 1973 again will be 15 cents per pound. Total payments to individual producers will be figured by multiplying 15 cents times each farm's payment yield times times allotted acres. Assuming the same payment yield for 1973 as for 1972, the total reduction in payments next year will equal the 11.7 per cent reduction in acreage allotments.

As in 1971 and 1972, farmers may overplant 1973 allotments to any extent they desire without penalty, therefore the allotment cut is not expected to significantly affect the number of acres that will be planted to cotton on the Plains in 1973. The 25-county allotment for 1972 was 1,685,533 acres but an estimated 2.6 million acres were seeded to cotton last spring. PCG officials point out:

Cotton produced on non-allotted acreage receives no price support payment but is eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loans at 19.5 cents per pound, basis middling-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire at average location.

The percentage allotment loss on the Plains is less than the average loss across the belt because of acreage transferred to the Plains in 1972 through purchases from other parts of the State, PCG officials believe. It is also thought that such transfers account for the variations in percentage cuts between counties in this area.

For example Gaines County, which has been the most active in acquiring cotton acreage from outside the Plains through leases and purchases, shows a gain of 5.4 per cent in allotted acres for 1973 while Deaf Smith County shows a loss of 14.4 per cent, well above the national average.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Prevailing Winds

WE HAVE GREAT POWER of choice, and the way or ways we choose to apply it to our life situation exerts a mighty influence upon us. We do have the privilege of deciding what shall be the prevailing characteristics of our life.

The dominant traits of character and personality can be what we want them to be. The effort to make them what we wish them to be must be continuous.

UNFORTUNATELY, there is too much of the faulty notion that all of us are unalterably just whatever we may happen to be.

Too many of us assume that our prevailing, undesirable character and personality properties have been given to us by an unkind fate, and that we must accept them. This is an unjustified assumption. We can choose our dominant life qualities.

WE CAN BE the kind of persons we wish to be. Of course, wishing will not make it so; but diligent, intelligent effort will make it so. Too many people are too quick to say, "I am just the way I am, and I can't help it."

We know enough about ourselves, and about human behavior, in general, to know that we can make changes in our attitudes and behavior patterns.

"JUST LET YOURSELF GO" is one rather widely accepted viewpoint, and it has the very strong support of many persons who speak authoritatively.

They try to authenticate their pronouncements with biased data obtained from faulty surveys made up of limited and some factual information, and histories which seem to serve the conceived purposes. They do not deliberately distort it. The "yourself go" view will not

THE WRONG INFLUENCE permitted to prevail, and misshapen accordingly. Many are accustomed to seeing the wrong are not upright, but are leaning several degrees off.

We know that they are fashioned by the prevailing wind. We understand how the blow. A tree is passive, and whatever wind that blows, it is active, and each person can wish to be the prevailing fashioning his life.

WE MAY NOT BE ABLE everything that happens to us can always decide what we wish to be.

We can do this because we have the right and the power to respond to what is happening.

THE TREE CANNOT CHOOSE prevailing wind that blows, and we do choose the views, and attitudes, and which make up our life style.

Terrorism

TERRORISM, from whatever source or for whatever reason, is a pitiless and inhuman act. Bred from fanatic fear and blinded by hatred, it reveals man in his most evil nature.

It is a tribute to man and fortunate for society that terrorism has not attracted more advocates throughout history. That it exists at all, however, is an ugly reminder of man's imperfections. Moreover, it is stark evidence of how passions unrestrained by reason can defile civilization's essential asset, the rule of law.

THE SHOCKING brutality of recent terrorist acts conducted on a global scale was focused for many to witness through the gripping television coverage last September of the XX Olympiad. The senseless drama which claimed the lives of athletes there awakened people everywhere to the horror of terrorism.

Expressing the outrage shared in many capitals throughout the world, the Congress of the United States swiftly adopted a resolution sternly condemning "... any people or any nation giving sanctuary, support, sympathy, aid, or comfort to acts of murder and barbarism such as those at Munich."

THE PRESIDENT responded to the challenge of these events by creating a Cabinet-level committee within the executive branch to combat terrorism. As a member of that committee, I have most carefully examined the FBI's responsibilities to insure that every precaution is taken in our investigation in order to expose terrorists and plans.

OUR FIRST line of defense against lawlessness of all degrees is always has been --the alert, decisiveness of the thousands of dedicated local and State enforcement agencies across the country.

The energy and devotion they are fulfilling their manifold duties in the best means of detecting and exposing terrorists in our midst.

You may be sure that in outside FBI jurisdiction we will our brother law enforcement at all levels every assistance we bring prompt apprehension and punishment to any engaged in terrorist acts.

TERRORISM is by no means a foreign menace. Sadly, our country has its share of those who practice loathsome art. The national awareness must concern the terrorists of every persuasion every quarter. We cannot afford less, for they challenge the very law enforcement duty --protect the community.

When terrorism succeeds, it loses more than lives or respect for itself and its law enforcement sentinels.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Dear Editor:
Let's keep Littlefield dry.
Why would you want to vote for liquor?
Why would I want to vote against liquor?
Because, it will make you do things you don't want to do.
Say things you shouldn't say.
Go places you will be sorry for.
It will take the food off your table.
Take the clothes off your children's backs.
It will wreck your home, your mind, your life.
It will destroy your influence, reputation, and self respect.
It will cause your family, friends, and loved ones to turn their back on you.
Yes, it will send your soul to hell.

The Bible says in 1 Corinthians 6:10, "No drunkard shall enter the kingdom of heaven."
That is why I am going to vote against liquor.
Now why are you going to vote for it? Would your vote be pleasing to God?
Would you care if your vote caused some drunk to kill some innocent person, maybe your own wife or children?
Think about it before you vote. Yes, for liquor.
Galatians 6:7 "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Physical fitness for women will again offer its facilities to the women of Levelland and surrounding area during the 1973 Spring Semester.

DES Ban In Feed Due Cut

Dr. Flake L. Fisher, director of the Texas Feed and Fertilizer Control Service of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, reminds all feed manufacturers and livestock producers that feed containing the additive, diethylstilbestrol (DES), can no longer be fed after Jan. 1, 1973.

The Food and Drug Administration officially announced the banning of DES as a feed additive on Aug. 4 of this year," said Fisher. "Leftover feed supplies containing DES can be fed to livestock until the end of the year but under no circumstances thereafter."

The director, located at Texas A&M University, emphasizes that any feeds found to contain DES after Jan. 1 will be confiscated and destroyed.

"The Texas Feed and Fertilizer Control Service is charged with enforcing the FDA order," noted Fisher. "Thus, it's important that all feed stores as well as cattle feeders immediately eliminate any existing supplies of feed containing DES."

Producers should especially check their feed supplies to assure that the feed in question is removed from their premises. And, in purchasing additional feed supplies, Fisher advises a close check of the feed tag to assure that DES is no longer present.

The cost of the fifteen weeks course is $20. Registration may be made at the Central Office of the Technical Arts Building at any time between now and the first class meeting.

Income tax procedures will be offered at South Plains College, as a community service during the spring semester, beginning Jan. 17. The four weeks course will meet each Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 109 of the Technical Arts Center. Cost of the course is $10.

Mural design is a 15 weeks course that will begin Jan. 29. This course will be taught in Room 14 of the Fine Arts Building. Class sessions will be held each Monday from 7 to 10 p.m. Cost of the course is $10.

Poodle grooming instruction will begin on Jan. 30 and will continue for six weeks, meeting every Tuesday night from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in Room 2 of the Agriculture Building. Students must provide their own dogs but other equipment will be furnished. The cost of the course is $10.

Woodworking is a course where no experience is necessary. In fact, in the past many women have found much enjoyment in taking this course.

Beginning date will be Jan. 31 and the class will meet once each week on Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. for a total of 13 weeks. Cost of the course is $25 and will be held in Room 1 of the Agriculture Building on the SPC campus. Furniture repair and refinishing will be offered beginning Jan. 31. This class will meet once each week on Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room 1 of the Agriculture Building. Cost of the course will be $25 and will last for 13 weeks. Registration for any of these community service short courses may be completed in the Central office of the Technical Arts Center at South Plains College, between now and the first class meeting of each short course.

COTTON TALKS
 FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Harry Arthur, associate director of the Textile Research Center of Texas Tech University and Textile Consultant for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has just returned from his third month-long trip this year to the Far East as head of a technical services program to textile mills in five countries.
 His conclusions: "Textile mill personnel from all levels of management are most appreciative that U.S. cotton interests would take the time and go to the expense of visiting their mills to discuss ways of helping them solve some of their technical problems, and I believe continuing efforts in this direction will increase export sales of U.S. cotton—the ultimate goal of the program."
 Under sponsorship of Cotton Council International, Arthur consulted with top mill personnel in Japan, Taiwan, Korea, Thailand and Hong Kong. He was chosen to head the technical services program because of his technical training and personal knowledge of the Far East. Arthur and his family lived in Japan from 1952 to 1960 while he was employed by Anderson Clayton and Company.
 These five countries in 1970 imported more than two million bales of U. S. cotton, most of which were of staple lengths and qualities grown in Texas. Japan led them all with imports of 841,000 bales.
 Arthur's long experience with cotton spinning technology, especially that acquired in his association with the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech, uniquely qualifies him to render assistance to Far Eastern textile mills using Texas-type cottons. At Tech's TRC since 1961, he has gained

Give Living Gifts That Increase In Value

Give a living plant that can be enjoyed throughout 1972 and that will increase in value and beauty as time rolls on.
 Select good quality trees, shrubs or house plants from your local florist, nursery or garden center as gifts for your gardening friends.
 Evergreen plants or potted house plants make very attractive gift items, especially if the base is wrapped with Christmas paper and tied with a colorful ribbon.
 Some of the ornamental plants that will make attractive gifts include: Yucca, Poinsettia, Burford Holly, American Holly, Juniper, Deodar Cedar, Pyracantha, Pittosporum, Nandina and Japanese Yew.
 For plants to be used in the home, Poinsettia, Azalea, Camellia, Jerusalem Cherry, Christmas Pepper and Chrysanthemum, as well as the multitude of foliage plants that are available, would be fine.
 Be sure to select a plant that is adapted to the area in which it will be grown. In case of inclement weather, the recipient of the plant should know to keep it in a cool place where the oil ball or container will not become too dry until it can be placed in its permanent location.
 For that distant relative or friend that is interested in gardening, how about a useful gardening tool or a copy of a good garden book for a Christmas gift. There is something available for every gardening interest.
 While you are selecting gift items, why not choose a plant for your own home? A living Christmas tree can provide enjoyment the entire year; however Poinsettias decidedly are the most popular Christmas plant.
 They can remain colorful and attractive throughout the holiday season with proper care.
 Poinsettias do best when placed in a sunny location and protected from sudden temperature changes due to drafts, heat vents or opening doors, and night temperatures should not drop below 60 degrees. Such sudden drops in temperature can cause complete loss of leaves.
 Proper watering techniques will also do much to prolong the life of the poinsettia. Water requirements for the flower are relatively high because of low humidity in homes and offices and because of the large leaf surfaces on the plant. The soil ball should not be allowed to become so dry that the leaves start to wilt.
 The soil, however, should not be saturated with water. Continued saturation will cut off the oxygen supply to the roots, resulting in loss of feeder roots and loss of foliage.
 Frequently, poinsettia pots come covered with attractive foil to enhance their appearance. Check if the drainage hole in the bottom of the pot is closed by the foil. If it is closed, excess moisture will not be able to drain out and the soil will remain waterlogged.
 About three weeks after the plant has been received, the specialist says to fertilize it with a complete fertilizer, such as those recommended for African violets and other house plants. Dissolve the fertilizer in water as recommended on the container then water the plant thoroughly.
 Seldom is more than one application needed. But applications may be repeated at three-week intervals until the colored bracts fade and drop.
 So take care of your Christmas plants and they will be a pleasure to you and your family for a long time.

Weather Boosts Livestock Feeding

Recent cold weather has boosted livestock feeding across Texas, and producers are now faced with paying a high price for a major protein supplement, cottonseed meal.
 What are the alternatives? Dr. Dennis Herd, beef cattle specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, suggests that cattlemen consider whole cottonseed as a substitute along with guar meal, castor meal, alfalfa hay, dehydrated alfalfa pellets and commercial dry supplements.
 Herd cautions, however, that the price of whole cottonseed may increase due to pressure from the high-priced cottonseed meal which is now more than $150 a ton.
 In determining whether to feed whole cottonseed or the 41 percent cottonseed meal, consider the cost of each as well as handling and hauling costs, suggests the specialist.
 Feed the whole cottonseed if 100 pounds of it can be fed cheaper than a mixture of 35 pounds of cottonseed meal and 65 pounds of milo.
 In feeding whole cottonseed or any of the other alternative protein supplements, the main concern is to provide the minimal amount of protein for livestock, points out the Texas A&M University specialist.
 He recommends feeding no more than five pounds of whole cottonseed per cow per day since it contains 22 percent fat which is laxative to cattle. The five pounds is usually more than enough to meet the protein needs of the beef cow.

 Since other protein supplements are also high-priced, Herd suggests combining these supplements with a high quality forage to minimize the amount of supplement needed. Forages can be tested for protein content so that the cattleman can determine the amount of supplement to feed along with the forage to meet the daily protein requirements of his stock.
 Forage samples may be sent to the Forage Testing Laboratory at Texas A&M for a protein analysis. Local county Extension agents have information for submitting such samples, says Herd. They also have additional information on supplemental feeding of beef cattle.

48,000 Veterans Train For Protective Services

More than 48,000 veterans trained for policemen, firemen and related protective services under the GI Bill in fiscal year 1972 according to Veterans Administration records, Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director, said today.

Coker reported enrollments increased 27 per cent over fiscal year 1971, which brought to 80,000 the number trained in public services occupations since the program began.

Included in the U. S. wide 1972 figures are about 20,600 who took on-the-job training while drawing VA benefits. Of these, about 18,000 were preparing for careers as policemen or firemen and 2,600 were preparing for a variety of other protective services occupations.

Also included were 13,700 veterans studying at college level for public service careers in criminology and other protective service fields and an additional 13,900 taking courses of other types.

As fiscal year 1972 ended, nearly 264,000 veterans had taken some type of apprenticeship or other job training (including protective services) since these programs became available in October 1967.

Coker explained that veterans who enter apprenticeship or other on-job training are paid salaries by employers while the agency pays them allowances.

Under recently enacted rates, VA pays single veterans a starting training allowance of $160 monthly. Veterans one dependent start at $196 monthly, with dependents, $196, and additional $8 for dependent over two.

Veterans interested in apprenticeship or other on-the-job training under the GI Bill should contact nearest VA office, or county service office representatives of veterans service organizations.

The VA office in Littlefield is located at 1265 Texas Highway. Information may also be obtained by writing to Regional Office, 1400 Valley Mills Drive, Texas 76710.

New Planting Technique May Increase Production

More efficient management of available water supplies can increase dryland grain sorghum production with certain varieties, according to a study comparing Agrecoly and conventional cropping systems at the High Plains Research Foundation.

The term "Agrécoly" may not be familiar to many people. In this system, a special machine cuts a four-inch wide slot in the center of 80-inch middles.

The machine fills this slot with stubble and slants the bed profile toward the slot, allowing available moisture to be "stored" by reducing runoff. Grain sorghum is planted on 40-inch centers located 20 inches on either side of the slot.

The conventional area was disked and worked with a harrow-stalk cutter-plane combination implement and planted flat.

When using an irrigated or medium maturing variety of grain sorghum in the dryland study, the Agrecoly cropping system significantly influenced yields. In the Agrecoly system with above average rainfall available for crop production, the medium maturing variety produced 6294 pounds of grain per acre. In the conventional cropped area, the variety produced 5164 pounds per acre.

Water use efficiency was not influenced by cropping system using the early maturing variety. However, efficiency was increased on the medium maturing variety from 237.75 pounds of grain per inch of rain under the conventional system to 289.78 pounds of grain per inch of rain using the Agrecoly or microwatershed system.

Details of the study will be available in the 1973 Annual Research Report to be mailed to Foundation members after the first of the year.

Dear Abby

...rain from the sky?
...we saw it happen'

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1972 by CHICAGO TRIBUNE-N. Y. NEWS SYND. INC.

DEAR ABBY: The man who told his wife he saw fish fall from the sky was not crazy; neither was he lying. In the summer of 1926, I caddied at a local golf course. There had been a long drought that summer and the fairways were brown and dried up. One afternoon while I was caddying, a sudden storm came up and a terrific thundershower followed. Rain came in torrents, and with it came a shower of tiny frogs the size of nickels. They were alive and jumping all over the golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we saw thousands of them! The golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we saw thousands of frogs come right down with the rain and fall from the sky. We saw it happen.

WM. A. WALKER, EVANSVILLE, IND.

DEAR ABBY: Here I have gone all my 70 years without writing a letter to a columnist, but now Dear Abby has written me out. I can't sleep until I help out that devil whose wife thinks he needs to see a shrink because he said he saw it raining fish! He may have. In some areas, summer storms are preceded by twisters which are in reality tornados that suck up an immense amount of water from a stream or river and with it all the life that is in it. It's converted into "waterpoot" and carried for miles before it's deposited in a shower of rain. If anyone doubts this, write to me, and I'll spin some colorful yarns about flying saucers.

F. C. MILLER, SAN DIEGO, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I was raised on a farm in Minnesota, and as a boy I remember a storm coming up. It looked scary so we all ran to the cellar. In 40 minutes it was all over. Afterwards, we went outside and saw our chickens pecking wild, eating tiny fish and frogs. We were inland at 10 miles, so the only explanation was that a tornado had sucked them up out of a stream and had dumped them on our farm. This is not a fish story. I saw it with my own eyes.

FLOYD J. McMANUS, LAGUNA BEACH, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I lived on a farm three miles from a small town in Wisconsin. A storm came up suddenly and afterwards I saw little fish in the cowtracks around our barn. I'm now 80 years old.

RICHARD HAGSTROM, ZIG ZAG, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine named Ed Brady heard a lightning strike the roof of his home during a severe storm, and the next day he found a big eel in his bathtub. He lived half a mile from the river. This occurred at Ouaquaga, N. Y. Ed Brady still lives there and he verifies it.

H. D. JOHNSON, WALTON, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: I personally drove thru a "rainstorm" of tadpoles in western Missouri 14 years ago.

TADPOLES FALLING ON MY HEAD IN DODGE CITY, KAS.

DEAR ABBY: I learned about how fish could be sucked up by a funnel cloud and dropped miles inland when I was in public school in Holland, 55 years ago.

Y. Y. OUDSHOORN, VICTORIA, B. C., CANADA

DEAR ABBY: Of course it could have rained fish. It rained HERRING in Scotland in March of 1817. The "herring rain" lasted about an hour, and this is no fish story.

KIM LONG, WHEELING, W. VA.

DEAR ABBY: About 35 years ago while I was driving thru a thundershower near Hershey, Pa., dozens of tiny fish came down and pelted the hood of my automobile.

DAVID E. GARNER, BALTIMORE

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that when people are trying to lose weight, their friends say: "Oh, come on... eat a piece of candy, or another helping. It can't hurt you." I always end up eating it just to shut them up or to get through the bridge game or what ever the case may be. When I quit smoking, I didn't have people telling me that one cigarette wouldn't hurt me. And if a person has a heart, A. A., nobody would tell him that one little drink wouldn't hurt him. People who are dieting should be given the same help that those who have given up smoking or alcohol. After all, a diet problem is harmful to one's health, too. ON A DIET

DEAR ON: I agree. Dieters need all the help they can get, but don't blame those who tempt you if you can't resist temptation.

DEAR ABBY: We are having trouble with some friends who have known a long time. As our invited guests they feel free to change the dates of their visits with no regard to our planning. They have even failed to tell us they were not coming the day they were expected. The last time they did come we had borrowed beds and bought food for their week-long visit. We had also invited others in for a party. There never seems to be a reason, such as an emergency, that keeps them from following thru on a planned trip. We just call at the last minute and cancel. How would you handle friends like these?

PITTSBURGERS
DEAR PITTSBURGERS: If you invite these "friends" to your guests again, you deserve what you get.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO LEFTOVERS": Why didn't you come right out and ask for some of the leftover turkey? Since you brought the bird to the family dinner you are entitled to take some of the leftovers home with you. We need more "backbone" and less "wishbone"!

THE FIRETRUCK in the background hit a car driven by Zan Stovall enroute to a fire shortly after noon Wednesday. Impact of the collision at Phelps and Fourth spun the car around and headed it in the opposite direction where the Stovall car hit a stopped car driven by Norma Phillips. (Story on page 1.)

TURN ROW COMMENTS

EMIL MACHA

IT'S ALMOST Happy New Year time. I sure hope that all of you will be around next year as we don't have a citizen to lose. May I urge all travelers to drive defensively and with extra caution.

Wonder what happened to the "Drive Lighted and Live" slogan that has been used in the past. Always thought it was a good idea. If you were an alert driver and met a car with its headlights on, the slogan usually came to your mind.

ONLY TWO DAYS left to fulfill those resolutions, to pay those bills in order to use them for this year's income tax and to make plans for next year's resolutions.

THIS WET SPELL has put a stop to the harvest again. One good thing about this weather, the farmers will not have to plan to carry some of their 1972 crop over, it will be just a natural thing to do this year, thanks to the weather. Looks like we will have two crops to harvest in 1973.

IF YOU HAVE BEEN watching the networks and reading the papers, you will note that tragedies, other than war, are springing up on this earth. Those sandblasts, high winds, along with hail, occasionally is nothing compared to earthquakes and wrecks we have been about.

LOOKS LIKE THE New Mexico may be embarrassed by someone or some not quite ready to progress. Let's face it, here, and will go on us. We have to get on wagon in order to tradition and progress becoming unbalanced.

A bridge built in practical in its day, progress and modern of today, it is not a rebuild in 1974. The delay was because of lack of money. Perhaps extravagant roads and more updated may help eliminate like that at Fort Sumner.

CONSIDERING the confusion man has on earth, it is fortunate greater than most regulating movement planets.

Making Men's Pants Waistband

Making a waistband is a simple process but it, too, must be made correctly or it will not look right. Some pants have no band and are faced at the top. Others have a band only in the front and are faced in the back. The band all around the waist usually gives best results.

Cut it lengthwise for strength and about 7" longer than the waist size. The width may vary but a finished width of about 1 3/4" is good. Cut it 1" wider to allow for seams.

For men do not often use a self-faced band as in women's pants but instead, a special lining is used to reduce bulk and give comfort.

Mark the band as shown. 1 to 2 represents half the band, and 3 to 4 the other half. The shaded parts are for seam allowances in the back and for lap in the front closing. Both halves of the band are marked alike except in special styles with a long lap on the left side.

It is better if the band is cut longer than needed; excess can be trimmed off. Interface the band if extra strength is needed, as with knits. No-roll tape or belting may be stitched on so it lies just under the top turn of the band.

The under side of the band is not really a facing so let us call it a lining. The tailor has access to a specially designed lining called "trousers curtain" but you can make your own quite well. It may not have the same folds and tucks that will make no difference.

Cut a bias strip of cloth about 3 1/2" wide and as long as the band. Use pocket cloth. Face it with a strip of light interfacing (cut bias) so it will hold its shape. Usually you will need to join shorter pieces to get a strip long enough so be sure to join the bias strips correctly with diagonal seams that run true with the cloth grain.

Press the seams open. Sew the strip of pocket cloth to the strip of interfacing in a lengthwise seam. Press the seam open and turn it to the inside.

Top stitch about 1/2" up from this seam. Measure from this edge and mark to make the strip even in width all along. This is necessary because bias often slips and stretches. Stitch on the marks and turn the raw edge under 1/4" in preparation for a lapped seam.

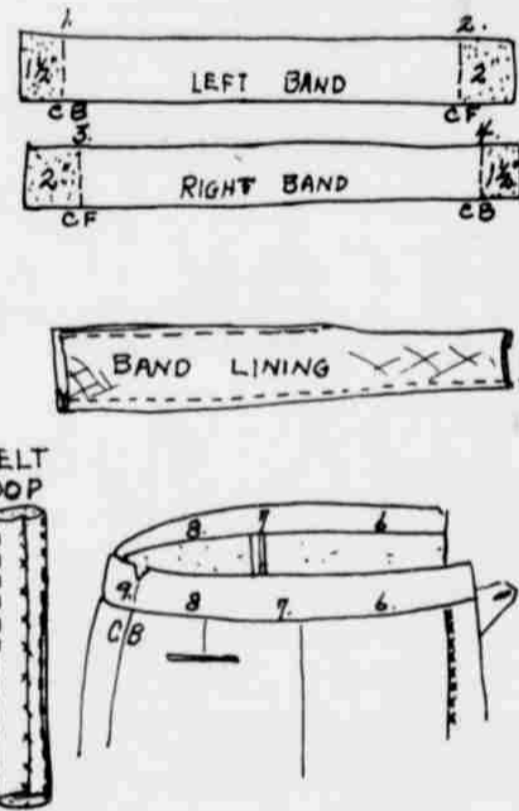

BELT LOOPS: These too change in style. They may be narrow or wide or omitted entirely. Sometimes only one loop is used and it holds the extended lap of the band. Standard loops are about 3/8" wide. It takes a strip 20 to 30" long to make the 7 to 9 loops needed.

Larger waist sizes require additional loops. Make them all in one long strip and cut them apart later. Cut each about 3" long. Make a tube and turn it if the cloth handles well but most knits do not slip well so other methods may be preferred.

Cut the strip about 5/8" wide for regular size loops. On woven cloth it often works well to use a selvage strip. Turn one side down about 1/4" and machine stitch close to the edge (if the loops are to have topstitching).

Turn the other side down to make the strip the desired width and baste or press. Trim excess cloth and whip the raw edges closely in the middle on the back side. Edgestitch the second side to match the first.

The loops are usually located 6, 7, 8, and 9. The lower end of the loop is often slipped into the waist seam under the band, with the exception of the center back loop. Next we will tackle the zipper application.

"Boss, that car you advertised as a steal has been stolen."

Legalized liquor sales has not brought increased prosperity to our neighboring city of Dimmitt. DRY for a better economy.

Why Myrrh?
 The men who wrote the Bible were of various backgrounds—doctors, priests, and lawyers. They spoke a common language when they wrote the wonders of the world, the stars, the animals, and the plants. They understood the nature of the world better than some of us do today. Perhaps the more we know of the world, the more we realize that the Wise Men were the Wise Men. They heard so much about the Christmas story. They were shepherds, they led their flocks away from the solitude, they had the opportunity to reflect on the nature. And, at the birth of the Christ, they were ever-changing patterns in the sky above.

The Wise Men of the land of Arabia or the Parthian Kingdom also knew the prophecies of the Testament, which came with the coming of the Messiah with divine guidance. They became convinced that a certain star which appeared in the heavens was the birth of the great One.

Part of the Christmas story of the Wise Men had been written by St. Matthew. He followed the star before them to where it was born in the Bethlehem. And he came to pay Christ through worship and gifts.

To quote St. Matthew: "When they were come to the house, they saw the child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts of gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

Looking upon gifts in a materialistic way, we question why the Wise Men presented gifts of frankincense and myrrh to the young child. Gold could provide financial security. But what made frankincense and myrrh so valuable? Detailed answers to this question can be found in the writings of theologians. Some of the gifts were emblematic of divinity, regal of manhood of Christ, the theologian states. Frankincense offered him incense to God; gold as their myrrh as united to the body subject to suffer death. Still others held that the Wise Men offered themselves—produced in their own.

It is particularly interesting to note that both frankincense and myrrh are the products of the same trees, the uses of which go back into antiquity.

Frankincense is a gum resin with a bitter taste that exudes from the trees of the genus Boswellia. Such trees are also found on the Somali coast in South Arabia. Wounds are made in the trunks, where accumulated resin collects in globules. These are easily scraped from the tree.

Frankincense was an incense in the ceremonies by the Egyptians, Persians, Jews, Greeks, and Romans. It is still used today as an incense in the East as an application for tumors, sores, and in Chinese internal remedy for other diseases.

Myrrh is a bitter, exudation obtained from the genus Bala Commiphora. These plants grow in Arabia, Abyssinia.

Since ancient times has been used as a perfume for embalming purposes as a religious anointing oil, occasionally as a medicine to increase and stimulate the gastric juices, and as a constituent of mouthwash.

It is of interest to note that myrrh played a part in Christ's crucifixion. His mortal death, as recorded by St. Mark: "and they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh; but he refused it." In St. John, the evangelist, he told: "And there came Nicodemus, which came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pound weight. Then took the body of Jesus, and wrapped it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury."

Although we do not know the significance of frankincense and myrrh gifts to the Christ, we know that they were used in religious ceremonies and for their medicinal properties.
