Cooper is a very large football team, but probably bigger than they are quick. They are led offensively by quarterback Kelly Choban, who is said by many to be the best passer around. Choban has his favorite receiver back from last year, flanker back Danny Seals, a 6' 5", 190-pound senior.

the new constitution will have on us West Texans," said Speaker Clayton.

After a revised constitution failed to win majority approval by the 1974 Constitutional Convention, the 64th regular session of the legislature passed eight proposals last April completely revising the present document. Under the leadership of Speaker Clayton and Lieutenant Governor Hobby, the legislature built on the work of the Convention and agreed to give Texas voters the opportunity to vote yes or no on each of the revision proposals.

The election deciding the fate of the new constitution will be held Nov. 4. This will be the first time since 1876 that Texas voters will have the opportunity to vote on a complete constitutional Citizens will be able to read and study the proposed constitution in full because every registered voter in the state will receive an information booklet on the constitutional revision.

The booklet will contain the full text the proposed constitution, background information, and an outli comparing the present and the proposed documents. It is being mailed the second week in September by the Secretary of State's office.

Plains Co-Op Representatives To Outline Contract Changes

Representatives of Plains Co-Op Oil Mills and Growers Seed Association will be in Lamb County today to explain proposed changes in sunflower contracts. This morning they will meet at 10 a.m. in the Springlake-Earth High School Auditorium with growers at Springlake, Earth, Halfway, Hart and Edmonson and at 7:30 p.m. tonight in Littlefield in the Willie Room of the Lamb County Electric Coop Inc. for farmers in the remainder of Lamb County. In their meetings with the sunflower farmers throughout the Panhandle area, the representatives will explain that Plains Co-op, which has about 225,000 acres of sunflowers under contract, wants to pay growers 10 cents per pound now and a nickel by next March 31. The original contract with the farmers, most of whom are growing the crop for the first time, calls for 15 cents per pound payment. All the meetings will be for growers with contracts in the areas where the sessions are being staged.

The proposal to pay two-thirds of the contract price now and the remainder by next March came Wednesday, Aug. 27, in a meeting in Lubbock of the Plains Co-Op Mill board of directors. The board's executive committee had

GI Bill Overpayments Are To Be Recovered

Lamb County Leader-News

Dear Wade.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the coverage you have given our schools this past year. We often times seem to forget the people who help us the most. Again, let me say thanks to you.

As superintendent of the Littlefield Public Schools I would like to tell our tax payers what accomplishments we have achieved the past year and what our projections are for the future. I would like to do this by each campus.

Primary- A new roof was put on this building the past year. Primary building has been painted and some new plum bing done. Cleaning has been done and the credit should be given to our custodial staff in this building.

Elementary I- A new roof was added on this building, and the building has been painted.

Elementary II- A new roof was in stalled this summer on the outside wings. The entire building (excluding the gym) was painted.

Junior High- A new roof was in stalled this summer on the gym. Restrooms and most of the building was painted. New locks were installed in all doors and a new complete entrance added to the building. Byron Ford and Ken Largent spent many hours, on their own time, working on this building.

High School- A new patch job on the roof at the agriculture building. This building was painted on the inside this past year. Some building into the lunchroom and main building was done during the summer. Parking lots were patched Football field- New visitors bleachers were installed and painted. home bleachers were painted. The press boxes were given new roofs, with the east concession stand having a new roof. Some painting has been done in the fieldhouse.

New central office- The old Hill-Rogers building was re-done to house the tax offices and the superintendent's

I feel these are some items that we need to mention:

(1) A great campaign to build tennis courts for the high school was headed by Tommy Brawley.

(2) Plan "A" (new education program) added to our school system. (3) New addition to our Title I Reading Program.

The board, many times forgotten, is the back bone of our school system. They should be thanked many times for what they have done this past year to improve our schools I think

"MOTHERS WHO KNOW" prepare school lunches following the Basic Four Food Groups.

Lunches can be nutritious and still delicious with this guide.

For example, a meat or cheese sand wich, fruit and cookies, along with milk purchased at school, makes the four food group scoreboard perfect.

Sandwich makers should use butter or mustard rather than mayonnaise, if the sandwich will not be refrigerated. Pack the lettuce and tomato separate, to avoid a soggy sandwich at lunchtime.

A small thermos will carry hot soups, stews and casserole dishes for a hot lunch at school. Also canned puddings, fresh fruits and cheese cubes make perfect lunch box treats.

Avoid using meat, fish or egg salads in packed lunches, because they may spoil unless refrigerated. Creamed sauces and dishes and custards are not recommended either, if they are to remain at room temperature.

Other lunch box ideas are "fun foods" packed with nutrition- carrot sticks, celery curls and apple wedges. These create lunch box surprises that are safe and nutritious.

Inner Peace

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

WHERE DO WE LOOK for personal peace, for the "inner peace" which can do so much to help us live with meaning and a sense of fulfillment?

Do we find it in places, or in things; or in the various forms of self-indulgence? The answer is 'no'.

"Peace does not dwell in outward things, but within the soul. We may preserve it in the midst of bitterest pain, if our will remain firm and submissive. Peace in this life springs from acquiescence, not in an exception from suffering." -Fenelon.

THE NEED FOR "inner peace" is apparently innate, because it seems that all of us are looking for it constantly. In fact, it is thought by some careful students of human behavior that everything we do is related, in some degree, to this felt need.

In our search for "inner peace", we must be true to conscience. This does not mean that we will be right in everything we say and do, because conscience is not an infallible guide. It is nothing more than the result of our combined learning experiences, and should never be considered anything more. Nevertheless, we must respect it.

OUR EXPECTATIONS must be reasonable and justified. If they are not, we will be upset constantly; because we will be trying to do so many things the we can never do, and should never have tried.

We will be disappointed in ourselves, in the behavior of the people with whom we are associated; and in life itself.

Consequently, we can here "inner peace"

"Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world!" I cannot imagine a more remarkable statement! Him on one side, the whole world on the other-and He wins!

Now it doesn't mean that he whipped the world's armies in drawn battle. It doesn't mean he flattened the races of men with one furious blow. What it means is-well, let me illustrate.

Thomas H. Warner tells an old Indian fable of the mouse who was in constant dread of the cat. A kindly magician took pity on him and turned the mouse into a cat. Immediately the cat became terrified of the dog. The magician turned the cat into a dog. Then it developed an intense fear of the tiger. So the magician turned him into a tiger. Instantly the tiger revealed a great distress over the hunter. The magician said, "Be a mouse again. You have only the heart of a mouse."

We can no more have the heart of a mouse than can our Savior. His courage is truly and forcefully expressed for our sake. "Have faith in me,-remember-there is no power on earth that can defeat my redemptive purposes toward all mankind. Faith, your faith in me is the victory that overcomes the world."

John says it all, "And that old dragon, the devil, shall be bound with chains and cast in the bottomless pit forever." So, be of good cheer, He has overcome!

-Paul M. Stevens
