USDA Lifts Cattle Scabies Quarantine

A quarantine for psoroptic cattle scabies was removed Monday April 8, from Lamb County, by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) said that cattle shipped to the Olton feedlot in that county were found to be infected with scabies upon arrival on March 21. The federal quarantine was placed on April 1, following positive laboratory identification. The cattle infected and exposed to scabies were treated twice with a pesticide, which eliminated the infestation.

Scabies is caused by tiny, parasitic mites, which puncture the skin of cattle and feed on the body fluids released through the wounds. Cattle with scabies lick, rub and scratch themselves to relieve the intense itching.

Heavy infestations cause scabs on the wounds—hence the name "scabies." The infestation does not affect the quality or wholesomeness of meat, but it increases production cost because of loss in weight and feed efficiency in infested cattle.

APHIS and state officials have been working to halt scabies outbreaks and eliminate the disease. Disease eradication measures include area quarantines by state and federal animal health officials and the inspection and treatment of infected and exposed cattle within the quarantined areas. Texas officials assisted in the eradication effort in Lamb County and concurred in the decision to lift the quarantine there.

Clayton Asks Energy Office For Agricultural Priority

State Rep. Bill Clayton, (D-Springlake) has called on the Federal Energy Office to adopt new priorities for lubricating oil for agricultural usage. In his appeal to the FEO, Clayton warned of a critical situation facing the consuming public if sufficient lubricants are not made available.

Clayton urged the Energy Office to enact new guidelines proposed on March 29, which would give lubricating oil a 100 percent top allocation priority when used in agricultural pursuits. Clayton pointed out that under the present guidelines set out Jan. 15, lube oil receives only a general priority classification which forced many oil producers and distributors to sell oil needed for agriculture to non-agricultural users.

Absentee Balloting For Primary Begins

Absentee balloting for the May primary begins Monday, April 15, in the County Clerk's office of the Lamb County courthouse.

Balloting will continue through 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 30.

Office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

A form may be clipped from an inside page of the Leader-News, filled out and mailed to the County Clerk's office, Box 351, to apply for an absentee ballot through the mails.

Illustrating the emergency situation faced by the farmer, Clayton pointed out that not only is general farm equipment, such as tractors, trucks and combines, working overtime this year to produce the bumper crop of food Americans will require, but essentials like irrigation pumps for the irrigated farmlands all across Texas are needing large amounts of lubricants because of the extremely dry year Texas is undergoing. Without the requisite lubricants, Clayton warned, not only will machinery be stopped in the fields, but water will not even reach the crops.

Clayton said that he is also urging the Texas Railroad Commission and his fellow legislators to join with him in the effort to get the priority established.

Brawley, Ford Named To Principal Posts

The posts of high school principal and junior high school principal for the Littlefield school system were filled Thursday night in a specially called meeting.

Tommy Brawley, who is the current junior high principal, was elevated to the post of high school principal and Byron Ford, currently the Industrial Arts teacher at LHS, was elected to the head post at junior high.

Each principal received a one-year contract, but the exact pay of each was not determined at the meeting due to the unavailability of the new state pay scale. However, Brawley's salary is expected to be approximately $15,000 and Ford's approximately $11,000.

After interviewing six applicants for the high school principal's post, the board went into executive session for a little more than an hour to discuss the candidates. After the meeting was opened to the public, the vote on Brawley was 5-2 with trustees Werner Birkelbach and Mickey Ratliff voting against. The vote on Ford, which was to fill the vacated Junior High post, was 6-1 with Dick Hopping voting against.

The board also set a called meeting for April 22, 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria to once again study the feasibility of moving the ninth grade to the high school facility.

To The EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Our local editor printed my letter "Was Dowdy Framed" on 21 March 1974. You have my permission to print that letter and/or this one. I hope you will perform a Public Service by printing this sheet in its entirety.

John Dowdy served us but, in ill health, was sentenced to death, I believe, by conspiratorial forces who will destroy us. I stand to be counted...HOW ABOUT YOU?

WAS DOWDY FRAMED

Dear Editor:

I placed "person-to-person" calls to the Honorable John Dowdy in both the forenoon and late afternoon of 16 March 1974. In the earlier call I was informed by a male voice, through the operator, that only calls from immediate relatives were being received. Then, in the later call I was bluntly informed in another male sounding voice that only his wife's calls were being received. I asked why and got a very curt "Federal Regulations" as he hung up. At this point I must confess that I had sent out a chain notice of the control and this may have accounted for the huge change that took place during the day. I placed my calls to the Honorable John Dowdy, area 417, phone 862-7041. Obviously I had the right place but too much federal control—I do not know if that fine American, John Dowdy, is alive or dead. Do you?

John Dowdy was framed into the Springfield Penitentiary Medical Center, 1900 W. Sunshine St., Springfield, Mo. Wonder if he got the same cell as that occupied by General Walker? That there is injustice involved here is obvious. As proof I would offer the situations where maximum security murderers have banquets of steak and champagne at tax payer expense, have such visitors as Wm. Kuntzler, et al, and where they are even given leave at times.

Sir, I wonder if that great Texan, John Dowdy, is alive or dead...does he have protection from the degenerates and psychopathic killers. You could perform a wonderful public service by finding out the Hon. Dowdy's status from time to time. Me thinks the culprits of Watergate had to silence John Dowdy to cover up crimes much worse than Watergate. Let the CFR answer that charge.

Yours for God, Country and Family (including John Dowdy) come hell or high water.

Sincerely,

EASTER - THE RESURRECTION
Luke 23:50, 55-56 & Luke 24:1-9

From The Living Bible

Then a man named Joseph, a member of the Jewish Supreme Court, from the city of Arimathea in Judea, went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. As the body was taken away, the women from Galilee followed and saw it carried into the tomb. Then they went home and prepared spices and ointments to embalm him; but by the time they were finished it was the Sabbath, so they rested all that day as required by the Jewish law. But very early on Sunday morning they took the ointments to the tomb — and found that the huge stone covering the entrance had been rolled aside. So they went in — but the Lord Jesus' body was gone. They stood there puzzled, trying to think what could have happened to it. Suddenly two men appeared before them, clothed in shining robes so bright their eyes were dazzled. The women were terrified and bowed low before them. Then the men asked, "Why are you looking in a tomb for someone who is alive? He isn't here! He has come back to life again! Don't you remember what he told you back in Galilee — that the Messiah must be betrayed into the power of evil men and be crucified and that he would rise again the third day?" Then they remembered, and rushed back to Jerusalem to tell his eleven disciples — and everyone else — what had happened.

A Woman's View
By PEARL BRANDON

IT IS SURELY good to know people are concerned about us.

We can face almost anything if we know someone cares. In our great big family, there is always something going wrong, but we know there is a large group of people concerned about us and we are never alone.

MY NIECE'S husband was operated on for brain cancer this week. It was his second operation and the doctors offer very little hope for him. All of us are very concerned. When asked how she was doing my niece said, "I'm alright. Everybody is taking care of me."

Our Lord was always concerned about people when He was here on earth and He still is. We read about the things He did—healing the sick, making the blind to see, forgiving sins and we can't realize He still cares as much for us now.

"But," you say, "He is not doing those things now. What about your nephew with brain cancer? What about my son who died young? What about all the ills of human life on this earth? What about the starving millions?"

THESE ARE HARD questions to answer and all of us have asked them at one time or another. The only way I can answer them is we must look forward to life beyond the grave.

Isn't that what Easter is all about, the Resurrection—life after death?

Jesus was a young man when He died, but He looked forward to His own resurrection. He knew He wouldn't stay dead.

Paul said, "If in this life only we have hope, then we are of all men most miserable."

BACK IN Oklahoma where I came from, there were old deserted cemeteries where they had ceased to bury the dead—weeds were grown up and the stones were falling down.

All those people buried there had been dead such a long time and their families had moved away—they were forgotten.

Yet at one time they had lived and moved and had their dreams the same as we do now. In the memory of God they are not forgotten!

WE LIVE a short time here, play our small part and go on. Some of us have to go earlier than others. Maybe those that go young are the lucky ones.

THERE IS much pain to growing old. I used to like the phrase "to grow old gracefully." Since I am growing old I find there isn't much to it. Our bodies play out—we become drawn over with arthritis or other decaying diseases and there is pain to all of it. You can't walk gracefully bent over.

The only real way we can have any happiness is to live one day at a time, putting our trust in God to help us face whatever comes our way.

We know He is concerned about us. Our loved ones are concerned about us, and our friends are concerned about us and that is much to be grateful for.

WE HAVE ONLY human bodies now, but when we come back to life we will have super human spiritual bodies. We can't understand how a seed dies in the ground and comes forth a beautiful new plant.

Jesus knew this, that was why He wasn't afraid to die.

In First Corinthians, chapter 15, we have this, "But the fact is that Christ did actually rise from the dead, and has become the first of millions who will come back to life again some day." Love translation.

JESUS WAS the perfect example of what is to be. He died that we would have no need to fear anything—not death, nor things present or things to come.

Trusting in Him now we have peace of mind and hope for life after death. "O grave where is thy victory, O death where is thy sting?"

OUR LORD is concerned for us.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE
No Self Defeat

NO ONE CAN SUCCEED all of the time, in everything that is undertaken. This obvious fact, however, is not alarming. We can succeed in most of the things we try to accomplish; if our choices are reasonable and we do our honest best.

Even when we do fail, in some things we try to do, this does not necessarily mean that we are defeated. Of course, if we take these failures in the wrong way, we will be defeated. Rather than do this, we must determine why we failed; and let it be a lesson to help us to be better and do better.

IF WE ARE UNREALISTIC in what we want to do, and try to do; we will eventually defeat ourselves. Failure after failure will cause "self defeat", but this is unnecessary.

We can be realistic in setting our goals, and in choosing what we try to do. We can, at least, give ourselves a fair chance. We can honestly admit our limitations, and correctly identify our skills; and we must not try to function above our level of competence.

WE MUST NEVER EXPECT too much of ourselves in any way or in any area. For some reason, many of us are very definitely inclined to expect too much of ourselves at some times and in some ways.

Of course, we also expect too little of ourselves at other times and in other ways.

"SELF DEFEAT" is inevitable. We expect too much; and it will also be the result of expecting too little. The task is to identify our limitations and perform accordingly.

It is just as important to know our capabilities, and do our very best. We can avoid "self defeat".

IF WE ARE DEFEATED, "self defeat". No one has "arrested" us and devoting full time and energy to defeat us.

There may be instances of personal confrontation and competition which we may be outdone, but, in the viewpoint of our total life, we are not defeated, if there is any, will be "self defeat". If we use bad judgment, burden ourselves; form a faulty value system; adopt unjustified expectations; or otherwise betray ourselves, we are asking for "self defeat".

MUCH "SELF DEFEAT" is the result of unjust and unfavorable grading of one's self.

Lack of self-esteem is often the basis of our defeat, and it also involves, to some extent, even when there are other significant factors. There is no basis for any one to have such a poor concept of what is "right". —Milton.

SELF-IMPROVEMENT, as a continuing effort, will probably do more, perhaps more, than any other to prevent "self-defeat".

GOOD NEWS FOR cotton producers! If the 1974 cotton crop in the United States is as large as expected, this year could mark the beginning of the road back to an adequate supply of the natural fiber.

Both the short and long-term outlooks for cotton are bright and the industry now has an excellent opportunity to win back markets and replace competitors as the nation's most dependable supplier of fiber.

It is noted that supplies are being stretched today, with tighter supplies in longer-length cotton, but the market suggests both long and short cotton are in short supply. Larger exports of cotton for the last two years have been primarily responsible for tight supplies.

From figures revealed recently, the carryover on Aug. 1, 1974 will be the lowest since 1962.

Although the price will seem to be high to foreign markets as compared to what they have been paying for American cotton, it is doubtful that the foreign acreage will increase by any great percent because the countries are having to place more emphasis on food production and raising crops that require less capital.

One problem the south has had is furnishing an adequate supply of cotton. With the bumper crop just harvested, and if the U.S.D.A. estimates are correct, with over 14 million acres forecast, it could be the beginning of the road back to an adequate supply. It is very important that we provide a consistent supply in order to compete in the fiber industry.

Many mills are re-examining fiber mixes and cotton is strongly on the scene once again. More and more cotton being used.

And due to the energy crisis, many products are going to be expensive, because manufacturers are going to have to pay more for raw materials and the energy we are facing is even worse than the synthetics are in trouble with.

Imports of U.S. cotton by Japan in 1972-73 crop year was 967,000 bales. The projected number for 1973-74 is 1,400,000 bales. Taiwan imported 563,000 bales of 1972-73 crop year. It is projected to import 700,000 bales of 74 cotton. Hong Kong is expected to import 350,000 bales of last year's cotton over the year before.

All we need now is a good general.

SOMETHING TO THINK about is the nation's 2.3 billion acres divided equally among all inhabitants, each of us would get 10 acres.

If our nation was split up in 194 share would have been 17 acres, as expected that by 1980 there will be about 9 1/2 acres per capita. By 2000, 5 acres.

Today, part of your 10 acres are airports, parking lots, cities, rivers, mountain tops, desert highways—leaving an effective acreage for producing food and fiber.

Texas Crime Rate Up

According to Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Texas crime rate last year rose by 3.1 percent.

Speir said 492,654 major criminal offenses were committed during 1973 for a rate per 100,000 population of 4,177.2. In 1972, there were 472,011 major offenses for a rate of 4,051.9.

In urban areas of Texas there were an estimated 449,097 major offenses as compared to 422,677 a year before. The urban crime rate rose by 4.9 percent, but in rural sections of the state, the crime rate was down 12.7 percent from the figure noted in 1972. Rural offenses totaled 43,557 contrasted to 49,334 the previous year.

The largest increase in crime was in the robbery category, up 17.1 percent over 1972. Murders and homicides were down by 2.1 percent. In other types of criminal activity, these rate increases were noted by the DPS: rape, 1.5 percent; burglary, 2.8 percent; aggravated assault, 1.1 percent; theft, 2.9 percent; and auto theft, 2.4 percent.

Speir said that if the major crimes in Texas during 1973 had been evenly distributed as to frequency, there would have been one such offense every minute of every day.

The Department of Public Safety's 1973 crime report, in analysis of offenses by population density, noted that the crime rate rose faster, generally, in cities of less than 100,000 population than in the largest metropolitan centers.

These figures were listed:

Cities over 100,000 population, 2.9 percent.

Cities between 50,000 and population, rate up 9.0 percent.

Cities between 25,000 and population, rate up 11.0 percent.

Cities between 10,000 and population, rate up 12.0 percent.

Cities between 5,000 and population, rate up 1.3 percent.

Cities between 2,500 and population, rate up 11.2 percent.

Counties with over 50 rural population per square mile noted a 4.9 decrease in the crime rate last year, and down 21.1 percent in those counties from 35 to 50 rural population per square mile.

Speir said population estimates compiled by the Census Bureau obtained through the FBI were used in calculating crime rates in the report.

The statewide crime clearance for 1973 was 35 percent—the same as was noted in 1972. The DPS said the highest clearance rates were among crimes against persons with 70 percent of the murders, 70 percent of aggravated assaults and 61 percent of the rapes cleared by police agencies.

The statewide robbery clearance last year was 35 percent and a 34 percent clearance rate was observed for the auto theft clearance rate last year. The auto theft clearance rate was 18 percent and there was an 18 percent clearance rate for burglary.

Aggie Muster Set April 21

Former Students of Texas A&M University living in the Lubbock area will assemble April 21 for the annual Aggie Muster, a time to honor the passing of comrades. The 1 p.m. meeting will be held at the Carriage House in Lubbock, reports Muster Chairman Larry Peabody. The Aggie Muster dates back to 1903, and has been held annually since that time, Peabody said. More than 350 Musters will be held around the world this year—wherever Texas A&M Former Students live or work. During wars, the Aggies have mustered in foxholes on the battlefield, aboard ships, in airplanes and in medical hospitals. During World War II, the Aggies mustered on Corregidor shortly before the Japanese captured the island. This year Musters are scheduled at every major military base in the world, including Southeast Asia. The ceremony is the same at every location. The Aggies pay their respects to those who are absent. When the names of the honored dead are called from the Muster Roll, a friend of the deceased answers, "Here."

Leroy Davis Family Makes New York Trip

By DONA DAVIS

"I think that seeing New York—the people and the city—has taught me more than I ever could have learned from books," said Dona Davis, LHS senior, who made the "dream of a trip" recently.

Dona, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis, and her brother, Mike, flew to New York City March 13, to attend the Fiftieth Annual Columbia Scholastic Press Convention. Jean Baer, special projects director for "Seventeen" magazine asked Dona to come to New York and accept her honorable mention award for writing a story about Tommy Crosby. (Dona wrote the story as an assignment in her journalism class.) So the whole family decided to go along.

This was the first plane trip for everyone but Dona's dad. "I liked flying especially the taking off and landing," Mrs. Davis said. "It made me dizzy but it was fine."

"When we arrived, it was 30 degrees, and the chill factor was minus 12. The buildings are very tall. We stayed at the Taft Hotel, which is 21 stories high and contains 2,000 rooms," said Mrs. Davis.

"Most of the people travel by subway or taxis. It costs 70 cents to ride the subway round trip. There are very few cars because of the lack of space," said Davis.

The Davis family attended a tea for the winners at the Overseas Press Club, (journalists organization), where they met Arthur Schulman, "Seventeen" magazine publisher, Jean Baer, Peter Arnette (wire service Pulitzer Prize winner) and Stan Swinton (wire service official) as well as the two grand prize winners of high school journalism contest.

They visited Columbia University where they received her award. The award and Tommy Crosby award were glass plaques with their names in them from Tiffany's of New York.

The Davis family visited United Nations where they saw a moon rock—a gift from the U.S., a poppet and a bell—the bell made pennies that the people Japan gave—and other from various countries.

"Everything in trusteeship council was from Denmark, everything in the Security Council was a gift from Norway," said Mike.

They went to the top of Empire State Building (floors) where they saw beautiful view of New York miles."

They also visited Bureau of Industries and saw how and carpet are made. They toured Macy's, the largest department store in the world and the New Madison Square Center where they visited National Art Museum Sports.

The highlight of the trip, according to the family members, was seeing the Statue of Liberty. Cronkite, at a dinner, talked about the important role young journalists in democracy play. He said that journalists "had a duty to report the news no matter what it affected," said Dona.

Although they didn't see everything, they said hope to return to New York and see West Point and Yankee Stadium and Statue of Liberty.

HENRY J. AREND, right, was recipient of a gold pen set with a ruby during the district meeting of Germania Farm Mutual Aid Association at Lubbock March 27. The pen designated 10 years of service to Littlefield local chapter. Making the presentation is G. Kitten of Slaton, left, district representative for company, while Byran Rothermel of Brenham, vice president, looks on. (Photo by Germania)

Men May Register By Mail For Selective Service

According to the Lamb County Selective Service Registrar, Mrs. Jean B. Streety, young men of the area may register by mail in Texas. She was informed recently by Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the state director of Selective Service for Texas, of the new procedure. Although inductions have ended, young men are still required by federal law to register with Selective Service at age 18. Failure to register makes the young man liable for an extreme penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine. Recent reorganizations within the Selective Service System have left considerably fewer local board offices open in Texas. As a result, many registrants live a considerable distance from the nearest registration place. To make the requirement of registration more convenient for those men who are a great distance from a Selective Service Registrar, the forms for "registration by mail" will be used.

Cotton Outlook Bright For 74-75

A sharp increase in consumption at home, combined with growing demand overseas, will keep cotton prices strong and steady this year, a study by Cotton Incorporated shows.

Cotton Incorporated President J. Dukes Wooters Jr. predicts domestic demand for the 1974 U.S. cotton crop will reach at least 8 million bales, and the export market will consume 6 million bales.

As head of Cotton Incorporated, Wooters is spokesman for cotton farmers in 19 states. The company represents growers with research, sales and marketing programs at home and abroad.

"All things considered, the outlook for cotton in 1974 is the brightest in many years," Wooters said. "And the outlook continues to be bright well into the future, even beyond this decade as on into the next."

Wooters said his company's market analysts calculate that American cotton growers will plant almost 15 million acres of cotton this year. The acreage should yield 14 million bales—but it may not be enough.

"Simple arithmetic shows that cotton production will about equal combined domestic and export demand," he said, "leaving little or nothing to increase U.S. carryover, which is already at a critically low level. So 1974-75 could well be another year with tight conditions of supply and strong prices."

Wooters called the projected 8 million-bale domestic demand for the 1974 crop the most significant upturn in the market in over two decades. Cotton Incorporated estimates U.S. consumption of cotton from the 1973 crop will be 7.5 million bales. "It's been a long time since domestic demand for cotton went up by half-a-million bales in one year," he said.

He pointed out that foreign cotton consumption has been rising for the last decade and should continue to do so. Foreign mills are also increasing their own inventories, in view of the rock-bottom level of U.S. reserves.

"Our study shows that foreign non-Communist countries will increase cotton production by less than five per cent, so the market is there for U.S. farmers to grab. And the delivery and performance of American growers in the past have made U.S. cotton the number one source for most foreign buyers."

Wooters said his company's study shows that while the production of synthetic fibers will not drop significantly below 1973 levels, it also will not go up.

"With uncertain and unreliable supplies of raw materials, which come mostly from natural gas and petroleum, the chemical industry giants that make synthetic fibers are reluctant to risk the millions of dollars new production facilities will require. Yet the market for fiber will not diminish. It is a growing market—and it is a wide open market for cotton."

Even the U.S. cotton farmer's own decision-making about cotton plantings becomes simple with strong cotton prices, Wooters reasoned. "Cotton can easily return higher profits than its strongest competition for the farmer's land."

As an example, Wooters pointed to soybeans. In most areas of the country, a good soybean yield is 28 bushels an acre. A realistic soybean farm price is $6 a bushel. That means soybean revenues of $168 an acre.

An average cotton yield is one bale an acre. At a price of 36 cents a pound, a 400-pound bale of cotton would produce revenues of $269 an acre.

"That's a difference of $101 an acre in favor of cotton," said Wooters.

"True, it does cost more to produce an acre of cotton than an acre of soybeans. But then the $269-an-acre figure for cotton does not include revenue from cottonseed. Every time a farmer produces one bale of cotton, he also produces 800 pounds of cottonseed. At the current price of $10 a ton for cottonseed, that figures out to an additional $44 an acre. Add it all up and the farmer gets $145 more from cotton than soybeans for every acre he plants."

The Cotton Incorporated study shows that the U.S. cotton producer does respond to marketplace demands. Wooters said, and he cautioned growers not to be misled by fluctuations in day-to-day spot price quotations here in early spring.

"We intend to keep growers posted on marketplace conditions as they affect their decisions," he said. "Today our reports are optimistic. If they change next week, the farmer will be the first to know."

HERE'S ONE WAY TO ADD MORE BEAUTY TO YOUR HOME

In the old days, people were content to let ceiling and wall lights do their lighting for them. But today individual lamps are playing an increasing important decorating role.

You can automatically increase the beauty of a room two ways every time you add one correct lamp. First, the lamp can be pretty in itself adding attractiveness to a room. Second, the lamp can both cast direct light on an area you want lighted, and at the same time help create the pleasing overall glow you want.

The trend today to more and more lamps is a good trend because lamps can do so much. They give you both function and fashion. Also, lamps can add special notes of individuality to a home. All lamps don't have to match, so you can give vent to your own decorating flair when choosing lamps for the various rooms in your home.

Generally speaking, you don't want dim, dreary rooms, and you don't want harsh, glaring rooms. The right lamps will solve these problems.

If you would like help in picking out the right lamps to give you both good lighting and decorating beauty, stop in. We'll be glad to serve you on these or any of your furnishing needs.

"People always ask if I can save them money on car insurance. It's amazing how often my answer is, 'yes.'"

For most Texas drivers, State Farm has rates that are 15% less than rates established by the State Board of Insurance. If you want to know if I can save you money, just give me a call or stop by. Why pay more than you have to.
