Mrs. Dorothy Powell Named County Agent

Mrs. Dorothy Powell of Silverton has been named the new Lamb County extension agent (Home Economics).

The announcement was made by Lamb County Judge J. T. Sides and Mrs. Catherine B. Crawford of Lubbock, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

She replaces Mrs. Lynn Bowermon, who has accepted the Lubbock County position.

The new agent is a native of Duncan, Okla., and graduated from high school in Temple, Okla. As a youngster, she was a 4-H club member for four years. Mrs. Powell attended Lubbock Christian College and then transferred to Texas Tech University. She was graduated in 1971 with a bachelors degree in home economics education.

During her college career, she was named to the dean's list and also chosen for Phi Kappa Phi, a national academic honor society. Mrs. Powell is also a member of the American Home Economics Association and is an officer in the District 2 Association of Extension Home Economics.

In her new position, she will work with Extension agents Buddy Logsdon and Jim Kuykendall and specialize in conducting educational programs for homemakers and young people in home economics and related areas.

The new agent is the wife of William D. Powell Jr., and the couple will live in Littlefield.

County Cancer Society To Sponsor 'Swim-A-Thon'

The Lamb County Chapter of the American Cancer Society will be sponsoring a "Swim-A-Thon For Cancer" Tuesday night, July 23, at the Crescent Pool in Littlefield.

Youngsters—or older folks too—from throughout the county are invited to participate in the event, which will raise money for cancer research. "Money in the Swim-A-Thon will be added to regular crusade money in an effort to reach an all-time high goal for the county—thus qualifying the county for the Golden Achievement Award," states nestine Lichte, project chairman.

Youngsters may secure a Swim-A-Thon card from Miss Lichte, any of her committee members, Delinda Sebring, Loreta Mears, or by contacting the after president, Joella Lovvorn, at 385-4481.

Each swimmer first takes his card to sure sponsors, who pledge a certain amount of money per lap, then bring his card with him to the Swim-A-Thon. An adult will watch the swimmer and validate his card, verifying the number of laps he or she swam. The swimmer will then collect the money from his sponsors.

Special recognitions will be given to the swimmer who swims the most laps, the swimmer who has the most sponsors, and the swimmer who brings in the most money.

Miss Lichte emphasizes that "this is not a timed contest, or anything like that—simply an event to complete as many laps as possible."

Parents of children under 18 must sign the card, authorizing the child's participation.

Crescent Pool will be donating the pool that evening, and the participants may swim free.

For further information, contact Miss Lichte at 385-4676 after 5:15 p.m., or Joella Lovvorn at 385-4481 before 5 p.m.

LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL Cheerleaders will conduct their annual cheerleading clinic, beginning Monday afternoon at 1 p.m. The clinic will continue through July 19 from 1 to 3 p.m. daily, and a fee of $8 will be charged. Anyone of school age may enroll. Cheerleaders are, left to right, Kathy Hagerty, Susie Giles, Sharla Grant, Shebra Johnson, Kathy Elliott, Cindy Purdy and Susan Cristan. County Oil Production At 12,166,257 Barrels

Despite 12 months of production at 100 percent of the maximum effective recovery rate in most Texas oil fields, a total of nearly 6.3-million barrels of oil from the state's all-time record production year of 1972 occurred in 1973.

Crude production in 1973 amounted to 12.166 billion barrels, tops among the nation's oil producing states and representing 36.6 percent of total U.S. production, according to statistics compiled by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Lamb County, which has had recorded production since 1845 last year produced 810 barrels of oil at the rate of 397 barrels a day. Production in 1973 added Lamb County's production total to the end of the year to 12,166,257 barrels. In 84 years of recorded production, Lamb County has produced some 38-million barrels of oil—approximately 36 percent of the U.S. total.

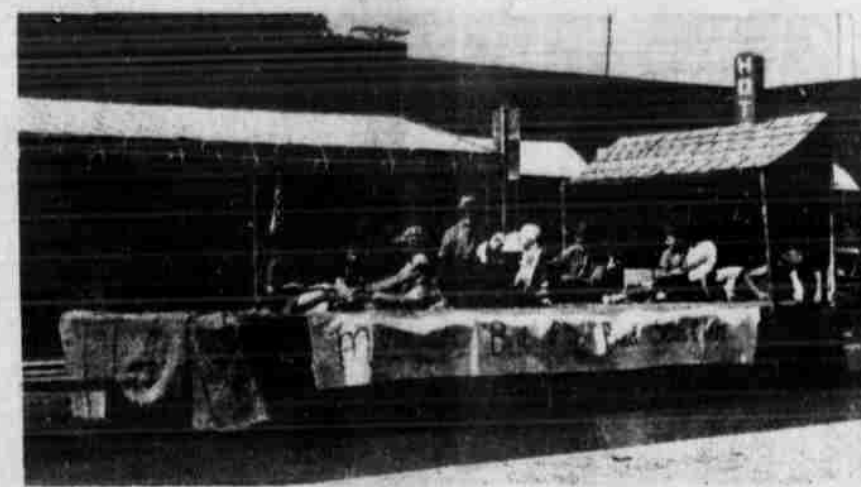

"The decline in production indicates the basic task of the state's oil men—the more extensive development of Texas fields," said the Association's president, Sherman Hunt, a Dallas independent producer. "But if Congress will adopt economic policies to encourage the search for new fields, we feel this trend can be changed."

Despite the drop in production, the oil that was produced last year in 203 of the state's 254 counties was valued at some $5-billion, an increase of approximately $500-million over the value of oil produced in 1972. This increase partially reflects the increased prices paid for some Texas crude oil during the latter part of 1973.

In addition to larger payments to royalty owners, the higher prices also have been reflected in the state comptroller's reports of increased severance taxes paid by the oil men of Texas.

CowBelles To Provide Beef For 3 Girlstown Campuses

The Texas CowBelles, a statewide organization of wives of cattlemen and other women interested in the promotion of beef, has informed Girlstown, U.S.A. that a committee on "Beef For Girlstown" has been appointed to see that girls are provided beef dinners for one year.

Included on the committee is Mrs. Susan Head, president of Littlefield's CowBelle organization, the Pomona CowBelles.

The statewide organization plans to supply enough beef for all three Girlstown campuses—one at Borger, one at Austin, and the campus at Whiteface.

According to Texas CowBelles President Mrs. Tom Henry of Happy, two heaves have been taken to Glover Packing, Co. in Amarillo for processing.

Glover's will provide the slaughtering and processing and Texas State Technical Institute students will supply the cutting and wrapping.

A letter from Texas CowBelles to Marshall Cooper, director of Girlstown at Whiteface, stated that there will be a representation of CowBelles at the 25th Anniversary open house Saturday on the campus of Girlstown.

The gift of beef came on the eve of the 25th Anniversary of the establishment of the Whiteface campus, celebrated on the exact date of the opening of the new campus—July 13.

The Saturday celebration featured guided tours of the campus, followed by an entertainment program and crowning of Miss Girlstown 1974.

Foster Parents Providing Home For Neglected Children

By NILAH RODGERS

Rev. Benny Goss and his wife Wanda had talked about applying for a license to become foster parents for years. A year ago they even picked up application papers. Then in May they visited relatives with a little 3-year old girl who had been placed in their custody after being abandoned.

"She was so sweet," Wanda said. "As soon as we came home we got those papers and filled them out and turned them in. Benny's relative couldn't keep the child because of a conflict in her own family. The little girl had a 2-year old sister. We were hoping we would get both of them, so we applied for two children."

They didn't get the little girls. But they now have their first foster child—a little boy with laughing eyes and dimpled arms and legs to lavish a lot of love on.

"The only reason we didn't apply sooner is because we don't know if we can stand to give them up," Wanda said.

The Goss family is just the type foster parents the Texas Department of Public Welfare is looking for.

The social-service worker for Lamb County, Bill Coleman, started recruiting foster parents in this area about a year ago. There are now three licensed foster homes in Littlefield and another in the process of being approved.

Coleman said his unit recently took custody of 28 children in one month. Until these area people signed up as foster parents, neglected or abandoned children here had to be placed through departments in Lubbock, Amarillo or other centers.

"Foster parents don't have to be rich or have big houses," Coleman said.

A big heart with love to offer means much more than economic status. Stability is the thing that these children are missing and need.

"A stable home situation and people who are genuinely interested and have love to give are much more important than fancy clothes and money and big houses," he added.

"It's a rough row to hoe," Coleman said concerning foster care. "We don't pick up normal kids." The children who need foster homes are usually physically abused, emotionally disturbed, and sometimes mentally retarded, even though the retardation may be cultural.

Foster care presents many problems. Sometimes five to eight children from one family needs homes.

Foster parents can specify the ages, sex and race of children they will accept into their homes. Some people specify they will take a boy 3 to 5, or a girl 6 to 12. Some people say they want a child to be a companion to their own children.

This is a mistaken idea, according to Coleman. "Children who need foster homes do not make good companions. They are the ones in need of companionship."

Foster care isn't an easy inroad to adoption, either, especially in the case of infants. Almost always there is a long list of adoptive homes available with parents waiting who have gone through regular adoptive procedures.

Under certain circumstances, foster parents can adopt an older child after providing care for a year. Even then there is a probation period.

Adolescent children are hard to place.

After growing up in circumstances that lead to needing foster care, these children are almost always disturbed. An adolescent girl is the department's biggest problem when it comes to placement.

In situations that just don't work out, the department will take a foster child. SEE FOSTER PARENTS, Page 6

Applications will be accepted now through Aug. 9.

FURNITURE THAT NEVER GOES OUT OF STYLE

The trouble with many things we buy these days is that they soon go out of style. And we are either left with something we don't like anymore, or we feel we need to replace it.

But, if you're a smart furniture buyer, you'll find that furniture is one of the few things that doesn't have to go out of style.

How can you be a smart furniture buyer? How can you get furniture that won't go out of style?

The secret is to buy furniture that is well-designed. Furniture of good design never goes out of style. And let us quickly add that you can get good design in any period. It's not the period that counts, but how the furniture is conceived. And, good design is not necessarily expensive. It's not the price as much as the conception.

What is good design in furniture? First, it accomplishes what it's supposed to do. It performs its function well, and is beautiful to look at, at the same time. It has good lines, shape, color and texture.

Design is perhaps the most important element in furniture. As one expert once said, "Design is the difference between beauty and non-beauty in any piece of furniture."

To see furniture of good design and to get help in selecting furniture you can enjoy for years to come, stop in here.

ONA VEACH

Ona Veach Celebrates Her 80th Birthday

By JOELLA LOYVORN

Mrs. Ona Veach has seen most of this country grow into the productive area it now is, since she came here in 1923 when the Halsell Ranch was first broken into farm land.

The Gidtown native celebrated her 80th birthday with relatives Wednesday, and she's hoping to add several more years to her stay in Lamb County.

She was born in Gidtown July 10, 1894 and with her husband came to their new farm nine miles north of Littlefield, near Rocky Ford, in December 1923. She says they made their first crop in 1924, and were the first to build a house on land bought from Halsell.

Her husband, J. P. Veach, whom she married July 27, 1916 at Jean in Young County, farmed until he died Dec. 31, 1952.

Mrs. Veach lived in Mexico for two months while she was 12 years old, and says her memories of that country are as vivid today as they were back then. She reminisces about how beautiful the country is and how completely different it is from this country. She recalls memories of the citrus orchards and how they smell, and of bananas growing on stalks in trees.

Her stay there was "before the Texas-Mexico Revolution" which she says was "over in 1916."

She is a member of Parkview Baptist Church, and says she doesn't get to attend much now because of her failing eyesight.

Her two sons and one daughter reside in Littlefield. They are A. W. Veach and Kennedy Veach, and Mrs. Lorene Harms.

She still has three sisters and three brothers, Effie Veach of Amherst, Ruth Sumner of Carlsbad, N. M., Audrey McGoy of Seymour, Lloyd T. Smith of Earth, Estus Smith of Redding, Calif., and Willie Smith of Lubbock.

Kathy Turner On Dean's List

Miss Kathy Turner, 1972 salutatorian at Littlefield High School, has been named to the spring semester Dean's Honor List at the University of Texas at Austin.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turner of Atlanta. Turner is a former publisher of the Leader-News.

A junior accounting major, Miss Turner transferred to the University in January from Austin College in Sherman.

To The EDITOR

July 8, 1974

Dear Mr. Warren:

This letter to the editor will be a little longer than usual, but all the plaintiffs in the recent law suit over cloud seeding think that what I am writing is of much importance to all citizens of Lamb, Bailey, and Hale counties.

The verdict of the recent attempt to get an injunction against cloud seeding is as follows. PLAINTIFFS' APPLICATION FOR TEMPORARY INJUNCTION IS IN ALL THINGS DENIED. BECAUSE THE EVIDENCE DOES NOT SHOW SUCH CIRCUMSTANCES AS TO INVOKE THE HARSH REMEDY OF INJUNCTION.

This verdict is of much importance to all cloud seeding operators everywhere. It leaves the door open for all types of operators to come to the South Plains area for "experimental and research operations". If they can get the financing. In other words, the entire South Plains area is now open as a guinea pig for any and all kinds of experiments and research operations by anyone with an airplane and a permit from our water board. This permit is very easy to obtain. John Carr of our water board testified in court that "cloud seeding should definitely be continued". Those six words guarantee anyone a permit that applies for it. With proper financing and a permit, our area weather will be experimented with at the desire of the experimenters. This would not be an operation to supposedly increase rain fall and suppress hail. It would be research to see what can be done with our weather without regard to the outcome. Should they produce a disaster such as the $100 million destruction they were blamed with in Rapid City, S. D., no one will be held liable or ever brought to account through the courts for it. Should they produce us a more severe drought than we have now, more tornadoes, or hail destruction, no one will be liable, but our tax dollars will be spent to put the damage back, such as was done in South Dakota. It would have all happened in the name of research, and researchers are not liable in any way.

The verdict by Judge Boone also stripped all of us of any legal rights over property that will take most of a life time to pay for. In other words, a man living 60 to 100 or more miles from us decides he wants something over our property destroyed against our will, he has the legal right to hire an airplane and have it at. Our own district court gave him the right to control what goes on over our property. Drought and hail are kinds of destruction. So, what would limit other types of destruction since we no longer have any legal right as to what goes on over us? Technically, there could be no limit or end as to what could be done, and our district court would have to uphold it, or reverse the recent decision. That is something for all of us to think about. Before cloud seeding started, there was a vote by the general public either for or against weather modification. The majority of more than 2 to 1 was against it. Our water board completely ignored this majority, and issued the permit that got things in motion. We have had nearly 4 years of weather modification, and the majority is still against it. We hired a lawyer and went to court. The farmer plaintiffs were in at least a 5 to 1 majority in the court room, and again this majority was ignored. I was taught in American history that there is a part of our constitution that says the "majority rules". Judge Boones' verdict took away one of our constitutional rights.

The verdict said the plaintiffs did not present enough evidence to justify injunction. Atmospherics Inc. are being paid $164,000 to increase rain fall and suppress hail. The detailed study of rain fall before and since cloud seeding was done by Carlie Chagnon of Illinois for the defendants. It actually showed rain fall has decreased 1.1 inches per year since seeding started. This decrease was in Lamb and Hale counties. Two counties not seeded were included in the study, and they had an increase of 2.4 inches per year during the time the protected area was suffering a decrease. That makes a total of 3.5 inches per year that we could have possibly received. The 350,000 acres that have been hailed speak for themselves. The 4 year operation has been a complete failure, because their own studies prove they can not increase rain fall, and they have not suppressed hail.

All that was won by the defendants paying the bill was to keep the planes flying this year as long as the money lasts. When the money is gone, your so called protection is also gone. You lost all the legal rights the plaintiffs lost.

I maintain the idea that if it could be proved without a shadow of a doubt by the people that cloud seeding can increase rain fall and suppress hail, Atmospherics Inc. would not be on the South Plains for a lousy $164,000. His services could be bought by the highest bidder of all the developed nations of the earth, including Russia and Red China, and no one could beg, borrow, or steal enough money and equipment to take care of the business they would have.

Dr. Pierre St Amond testified his work consisted of hail suppression, making rain to impede enemy troops during war, and fog clearing studies to benefit allies. Notice the hail suppression and making rain part. Dr. St Amonds' group have the best minds, the latest of equipment and technology that can be bought with tax payers money. They have been so badly beaten in their weather modification programs and actual good accomplished that part of this work has been banned. Guess which part. While in Russia, Nixon and Breznev signed a pact. Part of the pact was BAN WEATHER MODIFICATION FOR THE POTENTIAL BENEFIT OF THE MILITARY. This is not plaintiffs propaganda. It is national record. Our best minds, unlimited tax dollars, and the latest of sophisticated instruments and equipment can not bend weather to the benefit of the military. Atmospherics Inc. can not bend it to benefit agriculture.

A natural drought does not produce cloudy skies that have the possibility of raining on someone for a period of three months. We have had these conditions seven times since the airplanes arrived to do their thing. A natural drought does not produce 350,000 acres of hailed out crops.

No one has been successful in bending weather to benefit all of mankind since it got it's start in the 30s. Dr. St Amond has not done it even for the pentagon, and the early pioneers of this work being Dr. Workmon and Moore says it can not be done. From 4 years of experimenting in Lamb, Bailey, and Hale counties Atmospherics Inc. has not done it either.

Hale county residents, check the record. Tornado activity has increased the past 4 years.

Our national, state, and district courts are slowly but surely taking our constitutional rights one bite at a time. Stripping the people of the right of rule of the majority is a pretty big bite.

If cloud seeding operations ever loose their farmer financed backing, the next step to keep it going is to the legislature. There is already talk of legislation that would be beneficial to cloud seeding operations. This simply means getting a bill passed so the tax of all the state would have to pay the bill. This would mean another round of increased taxes, not rain fall.

A man that can truly and successfully produce tailor made weather for the benefit of mankind does not have to stay on the South Plains for $164,000. His own choice of the entire world would be his playground, and the national treasure chest would pay his price, and we would not have been stripped of our right of rule by the majority.

Sincerely,

s/Tommy McKinnon

Dear Editor,

We are a group of concerned citizens. We are employed by a large grocery chain in a very small South Plains town in Texas.

Within the last few months, all we have heard from the citizens of this town and the small surrounding communities are unjustified complaints. Everyone seems to be walking around with their feelings and personal problems on their shoulders.

We work for a living just like everyone else and we make mistakes occasionally. Yes, grocery stores do make mistakes and checkers can look at the price wrong, forget your stamps, or sack your groceries the wrong way, but don't forget that we are just people who can and do make mistakes.

Nine out of ten people that complain about these things have never marked more handise or checked out a buggy of groceries in their lives. Most of them have probably never even worked a day of their lives doing anything in public dealing with people.

I wonder also if anyone realizes the problems of management in a small town. Not just in a grocery store, but in any business. Maybe in a large town there are plenty of experienced men walking around just waiting for a job, but in a small farming community like this one, there are not very many men at all that want to work. The few grown men you find are already busy farming or they have already reached retirement. That leaves young men and women.

Older women won't and can't take the work. So you hire young men and women and hope you can train them to work. And in spite of what some jealous people say, they do a fine job. But some customers are always complaining, so they say the checkers or sackers are too young, or too cute, or too fast or too slow. Well, the list could go on endlessly.

And you have the "fine upstanding citizens" who come in and threaten to try and have you fired or actually stand and cuss you because your long working days aren't long enough.

A lot of people think we raise prices because we don't have anything better to do. Don't forget, we have to pay the same prices as the customers do.

Now, I'd like to take time to thank and commend the people who come in and never complain. There are always those wonderful people who smile and speak and act as if they think you might be

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This guest editorial is written by Jack Hardin as a guest article for Pearl Brandon's column.)

THE HOUSE WE LIVE IN is a place we call home. We care for it and make it look as beautiful and as comfortable as we can. And we love that house a lot.

But God said, "We have a moving day coming." Just when the moving van will stop at our house we do not know, but for all it is sure. And for us who are past middle age it could be soon.

And as that day approaches we realize how soon we may have to move out of this old house and move into that new home not made with hands—eternal in the heavens. Death for the believer is a home-going, not a departing.

THE OWNER of this old house I have occupied here on earth has served notice that I must soon move out. He will not make many more repairs on it, as I will soon have to vacate it anyway. The foundation is getting rotten and beginning to crumble.

The roof has begun to leak. The heating system is failing—it doesn't keep me warm any more. The windows are getting smoked and stained until it is hard to see out of them. The steps are getting weak and shaky. The hinges are rusty and squeaky.

THERE WAS A TIME when I dreaded the thought of moving. I have enjoyed this old house in many ways. It has been pleasant, and if it were not for so many evidences of decay, I would consider this old house good enough, with a few repairs, to last for some time yet.

But God said, "Make preparations to move." So I have been thinking of the plans and blueprints of my future residence, and have been overwhelmed with joy by the great advantages of the new home I will have over this old one. So now instead of dreading it, I am doing a good job. The ones that understand when you make mistakes.

These people are far too often forgotten or at least never mentioned. These are the people that make America and Texas a wonderful place to live.

"Concerned citizens" beginning to get anxious to move. If it were not for a few things I feel like the Lord may use me for, I would like to move soon. I just read a letter from a man who came from that new country and has gone back to prepare a place for me.

He describes the place as so beautiful. He said the streets are paved with pure gold. And the house of many, many mansions. I like the location of my new home. I like the arrangement of the rooms. I like my neighbors there. Oh, how I love the Builder. Somehow this old crumbling shack has just lost its appeal.

THIS OLD HOUSE has stood lots of rough treatment. The rain and wind have beat and banged on it lots of times. There have been days when I thought it couldn't possibly stand. But it has been a pleasure staying in it these few years. Though here on earth I have only been a pilgrim and a stranger, no place to really and truly call home.

But Jesus has gone to prepare a place for me. He will soon return to move me up home. Life with Christ is an endless hope. Without Him it is a hopeless end. We hate to think of the day when we will have to move. We know it is coming. There is no way to escape it.

We see the evidence every day as the van goes up and down the road. And all I know to say, all I know to do, is just have everything packed and ready to move. For the very day we least expect it, the very day we think not may be the day the van will stop.

How sad to save our life for self, And lose it for always. What joy to loose it for our Lord, And find it in that day.

MAY GOD HELP US that we will live from day to day that we will be qualified. We will be prepared, we will be ready to move into that new home. Our heavenly Father loves us so much to have ready and waiting when the van comes to move us away.

May we keep reading God's Word, keep growing in grace, keep our eyes open and looking the few days we may have to wait.

May God add His richest blessings to these few words is my prayer.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

In Low Key

THE "HIGH STRING", usually hyperactive persons may seem to do better in some things than those who keep life "in low key". Nevertheless, these "extremely nervous" people, with an extremely "sensitive temperament", usually have many personal difficulties.

They have great difficulty getting along well with other people. They are impatient, usually out-of-step, and almost always in a state of conflict. In a general kind of way, they make living unpleasant for themselves and for other people who must be closely associated with them.

These are the "hurry up" people, and it is admitted that there are some deadlines we must meet; and there are other ways in which a time limit must be observed.

In these situations, the "high strung" people are not always successful. In fact, those who keep life "in low key" may function better; as a rule, because they are less likely to be over-involved. They will be calm, will not be as over-exerted, and will usually be more alert to what needs to be done.

LIFE "IN LOW KEY" is a life pattern of "low intensity", a wholesomely "restrained" life style. These are not the lazy, under-motivated, unconcerned people. Of course, the lazy folk may mistakenly be considered "low key"; but this is inaccurate.

In fact, some of the "high strung" persons might as well be lazy, under-motivated and unconcerned; because they "miss the mark" effective in their living experience. The peace and calmness associated with the "low key" of living. These qualities are so far as the individuals are concerned, a manner of action and reaction life climate which is unfrustrated and all related qualities. Behavior is just too intense.

THE MORE QUIET peaceably we all get on ourselves and for our sake, there is nothing better than calm, quiet way.

WE DESIRE uncomplicated and it is available to us; it is and maintain the "low key". This may be easier for some than others, but can be accomplished who will honestly try to do it.

Some may require skillful in order to start moving in a direction; but this is a surmountable problem.

THIS IS THE STRONG life that can be as aggressive situation justifies; it is motivated to do what needs to meet reasonable demands. perform appropriate services all else that a substantial demands.

The "low key" life will be the most rewarding and life.

THEY SAID, "IT COULDN'T be done, others have tried it and they could not realize any profit." On a commercial basis, the managers stated that 1/2 cent per unit profit was great and it is almost impossible to make 3/4 cent per unit profit.

I've tried it several times and really did not realize any savings but there was a great deal of satisfaction in trying this endeavor and at the same time it gave my children a certain amount of responsibility.

This year in a joint effort with the publisher of the local newspaper we did it again, and again I'm convinced that you cannot raise fryer-size chickens as cheap as you buy them in the local markets, and besides you don't get any trading stamps either. Now I'm trying to

Robertson-Horn Vows Pledged

Jennifer Beth Robertson of Spade and Wendell Lewis Horn of Littlefield exchanged double-ring wedding vows Friday evening, July 12, in the First United Methodist Church of Littlefield.

Rev. David Hamblin of Aldersgate United Methodist Church of Abilene and Rev. Wesley Daniel, pastor, officiated for the candlelight service as the couple stood before the altar flanked by spiral candelabra and baskets of flowers, and centered with a Bible nestled in greenery and accented with two white tapers.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robertson of Rt. 1, Anton (or the Spade community) and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Horn of Littlefield.

As Glen Robertson presented his daughter for marriage, she wore a gown of white satin organdy, accented with Venise lace. The yoked empire bodice of all lace flowers applied on Swiss net featured a wedding band neckline edged in garlands of petals and leaves of lace. A sunburst of Venise lace defined the deep oval yoke and extended to the brief Grecian sleeve arched and rimmed in the lace garland. The full circular skirt of satin-organdy was worked to fullness at the back, sweeping to a full train. The entire hemline and train was edged in the Venise lace garlands. She wore a matching lace-encrusted capulet and her veiling fell in tiers, also edged in the Venise lace.

She carried a garden bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joe David McFerrin of Cotton Center.

Sally Robertson of Spade was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Holly Hinckley of Littlefield and Linda Moss of Floydada. They wore pinafore-fashion gowns of white eyelet printed in blue roses over deep blue. The dresses featured sleeve ruffles, modified empire bodices, accented with inset waistbands and long tie sashes of the same fabric. The formal-lengths were emphasized with double ruffles at the hemline. They each wore white hats and carried garden bouquets.

A house warming given for Mr. and Mrs. Steffey at their home in Spade at 7 p.m. Mrs. Steffey's relatives are invited.

The Gary Stacy family of Levelland converted to electric heating and became the 10,000th wise user of energy on our lines.

And now even more than 10,000 homes and apartments are heated electrically.

Daughter Paige, Mr. and Mrs. Stacy, and son Mitchell enjoy the comfort of their electrically conditioned home.

Mrs. Stacy and daughter Paige appreciate the cleanliness of their electric kitchen.

Gary Stacy is proud of his space-saving electric comfort conditioning system. Hidden away in the attic, the heating, cooling, electronic air filter and humidifier release valuable downstairs space for storage.

Electricity, the most efficient energy at the point of use, right in the home, is a wise use of precious energy. It has been estimated that if electricity heated every home, air pollution in cities would be decreased by 20% of today's level. Modern electric generating stations are rigidly monitored to be certain that raw fuel is used wisely and with the maximum efficiency that modern technology has devised. Wherever, however you use electricity, it is as clean as an electric light bulb. No wonder the Stacys chose to convert to electric heating.

... FOSTER PARENTS

back and try to find a more compatible home.

Some cases call for placement in children's homes. Oftentimes this lends the stability needed, especially where a number of children in one family need care.

For people who don't want the responsibility of being foster parents, some bridge the gap by sponsoring a child in a children's home, providing that youngster with birthday and Christmas presents.

This is a badly needed service individuals, civic organizations and Sunday school classes can provide. The rewards of being foster parents are intangible yet ever so real. One little malnourished, dehydrated baby weighed only 11 pounds at six months when he went to his foster home. In one month he gained over four pounds.

In the short period of time the Goss family has had their first foster child, he has gained weight, learned to sit alone and become a laughing baby boy. "When we first got him, he never smiled," Wanda said. "He was sick. He was nervous and spit up all the time. Now he knows everyone in the family. He can pick us out in a crowd."

He is "outrageously spoiled." And the credit belongs to everyone. He fills the place of the two Goss grandchildren. Three of the Goss children are married, and two live a long distance from Littlefield. Of the two remaining at home, Sheila is the youngest at 14.

There is a sequel to this story—a blond-haired, blue-eyed, 2-year-old girl. Before this article was completed, Mrs. Goss phoned to say they had just been notified that their second foster child would arrive Thursday evening.

With two babies to tend, things are really popping at the preacher's house.

The church was decorated with fresh flower aisle markers. The front of the church was accented with tapers which spiraled in a circle around the wedding. A centered basket of flowers completed the pupit decorations. Several friends of the couple, an Abilene Christian College made up a chorus, which rendered several hymns on the theme of love, happiness, and love. The chorus was led by Dr. Charles H. Director of Bands at Abilene Christian College. Dr. Director also read I Corinthians 13 preceding the ceremony. Miss Lora Nelson, Miss Tish Randolph both of Abilene, registered the wedding guests. Nichols, Mrs. R. A. Lance, Mrs. Joe Kent, Mrs. Quinton McCaghen, Mrs. Waymon Bellar, Mrs. Calvin Wiseman, Mrs. Joe Fisher, and Mrs. Pudd Wiseman. Distributing the rice were Janae Long and Richard Sledz, niece and nephew of the groom.

After a honeymoon trip, the couple will reside in Abilene, where Wilson is working for Bailey and Associates as Manager of Zoo World, an amusement park and recreation area in Abilene.

Mrs. Wilson will be employed as an elementary music teacher in Abilene.

Posse To Hear Speaker

The Lamb County Sheriff's Posse will hear a guest speaker, Wayne Hardy, at their regular meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. Hardy, district salesman for Ralston Purina Company, will present a slide series on proper feeding for body conditioning of horses. A question-answer session will complete the program. Pamphlets on care and proper feeding will be available to those attending. All members are urged to bring a guest.

Last Thursday afternoon the Posse took first place honors at the Earth Roping Club Parade. Members enjoyed a barbeque supper and the rodeo that evening.

Last Sunday, several members of the Posse participated in the District I Playday in Lubbock and qualified to attend the American Association of Sheriff's Posses and Riding Clubs' National Playday Finals to be held in Denton July 31-Aug. 3. They will be competing against riders from all over Texas, Oklahoma and several other states, for national trophies and honors. Qualifiers from Lamb County planning to attend and the events in which they qualified are: Michelle Phillips and Monica Phillips: relay, ribbon, pylon, barrels, poles, potato, flags, and rings. Hobbie Phillips: pylon, poles, potato, relay and barrels. Mark and Sandra Suitt: relay, ribbon, pylon, poles, potato, flags and rings. George Davis: relay, ribbon, pylon, poles, flags and rings. Jennifer Davis: flags. Cliff Davis: potato. Ruth Davis: relay, ribbon, pylon and potato. Linda Kay Hodge: barrels, flags, potato and pylon.
