Economy from feedlot has far flung effect

What Littlefield business draws customers from as far away as Alaska and Canada, brings in its products from all over Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Alabama, Missouri, Tennessee, Florida and even some from South Carolina, and sends the finished products all over the United States?

Littlefield Feeders, Inc. feeds out some 60,000 to 70,000 head per year under good conditions. This feeds beef hungry persons far and wide, pumps some $200,000 a year back into the local economy directly through salaries, and is a major buyer and consumer of locally grown grain sorghum, corn and alfalfa.

If every dollar spent and paid out can be multiplied seven times, this is a good example of what one small industry can do for this area.

Littlefield Feeders, Inc. sold its first pen of cattle last May. At that time there were 12,250 head in the yard. With last summer's outlook, pens filled rapidly.

Presently there are about 18,000 cattle in the pens. This is the lowest count since last July. The decline is due mostly to the widely fluctuating market.

Under perfect conditions, the yard has a 30,000 head capacity, or 24,000 to 26,000 head.

All breeds and crossbreeds of steers and heifers go into the pens from 550 to 700 pounds and are finished at 1,050 to 1,100. During this year 36 to 38 percent of the cattle fed have been heifers. This is up about 10 percent over the 28 to 30 percent heifers fed in the past.

General Manager Mondell Mills said the market structure influences this and the number of days it takes to finish an animal.

"People tend to think of feeding in terms of days," Mills said. "Here we bring in the feeder animal and keep it to the point it will sell to the market place to the satisfaction of the owner. This depends on the original weight of the animal when it comes in and the grade you're feeding to. You can't feed to a choice grade everytime in a set number of days. The average is 150 to 180, but again the market structure determines whether this is a shorter or longer period.

When animals first arrive they are unloaded, weighed, fed, watered, given vaccines, dehorned and dipped.

Their first diet is a very high roughage ration until they are full. Then the ration is upgraded until they are getting a high calorie, high energy feed and are receiving the top ration of 23 1/2 pounds per day of feed that supplies at least 700 calories per pound.

Cattle are fed computerized rations mixed in the yard's own mill. Grain is flaked and rolled and mixed with fat, molasses, alfalfa cubes, cotton seed meal and hulls, pre-mix and minerals. Seventy-five percent of this is grain with 50 percent of the grain in milo and the rest corn.

Mills is convinced that the cattle business will remain economically sound. "The economy of the nation is good," he said, "the Dow Jones is bouncing close to the top. The population is growing.

"It's surprising how many people didn't know much about meat until recently. But as our economy grows, all nations are upgrading their diet. The cattle business has its ups and downs, but over the long pull it should do quite well in the 70s and 80s."

Littlefield Feeders is auditing its books at the end of the first fiscal year. Ground breaking ceremonies for the $1.5 million yard were held in December, 1973. The first cattle were put on feed December, 1974. The first cattle coming out of the lot sold last May at a profit of $80 to $90 a head.

The yard is the effort of 63 persons who got together and raised the equity capital to form the non-exempt cooperative. The balance was secured through the Houston Bank of Cooperatives.

Troy Armes is president, Paul D. Bennett is vice president; Joe Montgomery is secretary. Directors are J.L. Marcum, Mike Carter, John D. Smith, Dale Walthall and Ed Fowler.

Mills is manager and Wayne Plowman is assistant general manager of the yard that covers 100 acres.

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz suggests that it would be political suicide to tell certain people that "The Cynics Could Be Wrong." Here is what Butz had to say on the matter.

Lincoln didn't say, "Leave it to me and everything will be all right." Washington didn't stand in the snow of Valley Forge and promise his men an early spring. Jefferson didn't say, "We the people should hand over our lives to government."

They weren't worried about their "image" or afraid to tell the unpopular, uncomfortable truth. Not one of them sought the "easy way." Yet they are remembered and marked as great.

True statesmen today won't say, "Let's take the easy way and join the politically popular gang of heavy spenders just to get votes."

They will display the hard hand that leads to fiscal sanity.

This nation will not continue its greatness by building a bigger and bigger Washington.

Greatness will be built out on the land, in the small towns and cities that serve as centers of commerce. Greatness will be built with the hard work and sweat of producers: the farmers, coal miners, laborers, carpenters, steelworkers, educators, bankers, and small businessmen - the individuals who make up the backbone of this nation.

Many believe that each person should be free to decide his own lifestyle: his own way of thinking, his own education, his own profession, his own spending patterns. Every government which tries to do it all, for everybody, ends up eventually having less for everybody - look at England, across the sea, or at New York City at home.

Let's continue to hold hope for future generations.

We have come a long way since our forefathers left the tyranny and oppression of other lands.

Let's continue to believe in ourselves, in the creative power of the individual, rather than surrender to the heavy hand of the state or the impersonal control of a centralized bureaucracy."

From a recent issue of Industry Week, comes this parable by consulting editor Walter J. Campbell:

After the War of the Almonds, the Land of Kulumar was the richest and most powerful of all.

Its fields were bountiful and its granaries were full. Its flocks were fat and sleek.

SPAG Board meeting slated here

The South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) board meeting will be held in the Willey Room of the Lamb County Electric Cooperative here Tuesday.

Among the business matters on the agenda are two which directly concern Lamb County. One is paving construction on FM 1071.

Of much interest will be consideration of the feasibility of a solid waste disposal system for the entire county. Rather than each city in the county maintaining separate solid waste disposal sites and equipment, discussion will center on the county and all incorporated towns combining resources and operating from a single center.

There are some 30 SPAG board members. Paul Carmickel of Littlefield and Ruth Kirby represent Littlefield and Lamb County.

Approximately 20 to 25 board members are expected to be present for the meeting, along with representatives for 16 or 17 grant proposals.

Patriotic banners to fly Flag Day

National symbols will be flying Monday, Flag Day. Americans, and Lamb County residents as well, have attached themselves to a new patriotism this year in the celebration of the nation's centennial, and many will fly their flags Monday.

During 1976, it is increasingly common to see the Bicentennial flag flying beneath the 50-star American flag.

The standard 50-star flag heads the lists of flags to be flown, and the official Bicentennial banner will also be popular.

There are two favorites nationwide from the Revolutionary era: The Betsy Ross flag - 13 red-and-white stripes and a circle of 13 white stars on a blue field; the other is the Bennington flag - 13 red-and-white stripes and a field of blue with "76" under an arch of 13 white stars.

Flag day was designated by presidential proclamation, and the public observance of Flag Day dates back to 1877, when Congress encouraged a public observance on the 100th anniversary of the flag's adoption by the Continental Congress.

President Woodrow Wilson reactivated the observance in 1916 as an annual event.

Since the 13-star American flag was standardized in 1777, there has been much confusion about the national banner.

During the Revolutionary war many different flags were used. Despite the famous picture of Washington crossing the Delaware River, the commander in chief himself did not have an "official" flag until the war ended.

Historians are not sure who designed the flag. Legend says it was Betsy Ross, but Francis Hopkinson, an early congressman, said he designed the flag and billed Congress for his services. The bill was never paid, and Hopkinson's claim went unsubstantiated.

Tool box thefts reported this week

Tools and tool boxes valued at $1,000 were the target of two thefts reported the last part of the week.

tools valued at $500 taken Friday.

City officers jailed one for drunk in public, one for carrying a prohibited weapon, and two for violation of ordinance 321.

Commissioners' Court meeting here Monday

The Kulumese were proud and productive. They worked and they rejoiced in the highest standard of living known.

Sire, the Generous, surveyed all this plenty and said: "Surely a country as rich as Kulumar should provide food and housing and garments for our less fortunate. I will ask the Lawmakers to levy a tax on the workers to provide this."

And the Lawmakers, each of whom hoped one day to become Sire, levied the taxes. They then said: "Let there also be free circuses for those who do not work. And let there be soft hassocks and free food and wines for those who watch the circuses."

And the Lawmakers levied more taxes.

When the workers of Kulumar heard of the free circuses, the soft hassocks, and the food and wines, and then figured their now monstrous taxes, they said: "That is for us."

The farmers left the fields. The shepherds abandoned their flocks. The weavers laid down their shuttles. The blacksmiths cooled their forges. All the Kulumese were watching the free circuses.

Plenty turned to scarcity. No longer was there abundant food. Garments were hard to come by. The Kulumese did not even have camel chips to heat their tents.

Prices rose and rose. And the Lawmakers raised taxes again and again. (It was the only thing they knew how to do.)

Misery and gloom replaced the joy and pride.

And Sire, the Generous, who was well-intentioned, went to the Wise Man of the Mountain and said: "Wise One, I have tried to give the good life to my people. But they no longer want to work. Food and goods are scarce. Prices are outrageous. Taxes are even more so. Give me a solution."

And the Wise Man of the Mountain replied in Kulumese: "TRANS-TAAFL."

Which means: "There Really Ain't No Such Thing As A Free Lunch."

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Presented by Hammons Funeral Home People and nations have known good times and bad. No matter what the social, economic or physical status is or will be, a crisis or confusion will always exist somewhere for some people.

A crisis and confusion is a part of living. Each of us must face some sort of crisis or confusion sooner or later. To face a crisis requires courage - and courage is a personal matter.

Courage can not be leased, borrowed or bought. It must be drawn from one's self, for one's self. And when courage is shown, it often draws out the courage in others. When courage is shown, confusion can and often does disappear.

Ever since time began, the greatest source for courage has been traced to a foundation on a faith. Faith creates hope. Without faith and hope, courage is difficult to come by.

In spite of dark clouds - faith, hope and courage will always be the means to let us see the rays of sunshine again.

A Woman's View

PEARL BRANDON

A FEW DAYS ago a friend of mine and I were talking about prayer.

She said, "we don't just say a prayer any more, it is way past that."

After I hung up the phone I started thinking about it. We don't just say a prayer. That is what the Pharisees did standing on the street corners to be heard by men.

JESUS SAID that was their only reward. Jesus also told us the story of the two men who went into the temple to pray.

One was Pharisee who prayed loud and long thanking God that he was not like other men or even like the poor publican who fell on his knees and said, "God have mercy on me." He was in great distress and didn't even notice those around him.

He was praying only to his God.

MY FATHER used to say "prayer is the sincere desire of the heart."

When we pray, we must believe that God is, and that he is concerned about every small detail of our lives. When we live close enough to Him you have a prayer in your heart all the time and you want only what God wants for you.

WE REALLY don't know how to pray (not knowing what tomorrow may bring) but in Romans 8, it says, "The Holy Spirit helps us with our daily problems and with our praying. For we don't even know what we should pray for, nor how to pray as we should; but the Holy Spirit prays for us with such feeling that cannot be expressed in words.

And the father who knows all hearts knows, of course, what the Spirit is saying as He pleads for us in harmony with God's will. And we know that all that happens to us is working for our good if we love God and are fitting into His plans."

I HEARD a good man say once, "There will be plenty of work to do in Heaven. God has plans for us."

Since I have been sick, my eyes are so bad I have talked with many people sicker and blinder than I am, who are cheerfully facing life.

I feel that everything that happens to us can be used to make life richer and better if we will only allow it to.

AGAIN, I SAY thank you for all the loving gifts and kind deeds you have done for us.

I still can't see to read without a magnifying glass, but feel like I am improving all the time.

It was three weeks ago since they operated on my last eye and it is improving.

Olton staging outdoor drama July 30 and 31

It's not the Mississippi River Festival or Washington's Wolf Trapp Farm where the audience sits on the grass. It's on the banks at the head waters of the Brazos river, 6 miles north of Olton.

"Giants of the Great Plateau" will be produced by the Historic Preservation Society of Lamb County on July 30 and 31 at 8:30 p.m.

The musical drama, written by Bettye Givens depicts the life on the Texas plains in the early 1900's. It is the story of the cowboy, the nester from the north and the foreigners who settle the area and their triumph over the frontier.

The story concerns Tappie who comes as a young bride and immediately wants to go home again, and her husband who loves the land and wants to stay. There is music, dancing, romance, sadness and history.

It will be a good idea to bring a blanket and a cushion to sit on. Enjoy a grassy knoll and enjoy a West Texas evening at the prairie theater.

The music is composed by Ron Lange at the University of Texas at El Paso and his brother, Ken Lange, Professor of music at the University of Hawaii. Marilyn Miller, graduate of Texas Tech is the director. Steve Garms, the conductor. Suzanne Aker of Lubbock, the choreographer.

Teens to attend 4-H leaders' lab

Nearly 200 young leaders from 4-H clubs in 20 South Plains counties will participate in a district leadership lab June 16-18 in Levelland.

Site of the three-day summer workshop is South Plains College, according to Billy C. Gunter and Mrs. Catherine B. Crawford, district Extension agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A team of older teens will assist in conducting sessions throughout the lab.

The youths, supervised by 4-H adult leaders and agents, will perform a variety of activities ranging from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and special morning and evening ceremonies. Emphasis will be on interpersonal relationships.

Activities will be geared toward helping the young leaders learn to express themselves and their ideas, and to develop solutions to problems through group processes. Time for relaxation and fun will provide the teens with opportunities to make new friends.

The annual leadership lab helps 4-H youth to develop skills for working with younger club members and provides opportunity for them to broaden their friendships and develop leadership qualities.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Be dependable

ALL OF US appreciate people who are dependable. In fact, we find it very difficult to deal with persons who are not dependable.

If we are unable to depend upon the promises they make, or if we do not know whether to believe what they say, or if they will not do what they are obligated to do; it is impossible to maintain a satisfactory relationship with them. The whole structure of interaction collapses.

WHAT ABOUT US? Are we dependable? Do we do what we promise to do; are we honest in what we say; do we do what we are obligated to do?

Are we the kind of people that others can and will trust? It is very important that we manage our selves so other people will have good cause to think of us as being dependable.

WE CAN "BE DEPENDABLE", and this must surely be one of the most desirable and helpful life elements. It is a continuing source of satisfaction to us, and is most refreshing and encouraging to the people who must, one way or another, deal with us.

Dependability is not an inborn trait, but is learned; it is acquired. It may be easier for some folk than it is for others, but it is a very real possibility for everybody.

WE SOMETIMES hear people say, "Promises are made to be broken." This is a very sad and hurtful viewpoint. Such practice will fragmentize our lives, and will very quickly establish us as being undependable.

This is not the identification of a right-thinking person destined to become so bad that nobody believe us about anything. It happens, we have done irreparable damage to ourselves; because we have destroyed the basis for our association with our fellow men.

WE ARE NOT WHOLE if we are not dependable; we are not of integrity, and this means that we are not well prepared for living.

In fact, the living experience going to be fulfilling; but will be inadequate and incomplete. We will suffer a twofold loss: the self respect and the loss of the respect of our fellowmen. We cannot such loss.

"GIVE US THE MAN of whom we know we can depend; who will stand for others fail; the friend, faithful; the adviser, honest and the adversary, just and Christ-like." A. P. Stanley.

WE MUST DESIRE to be "dependable", and must discipline ourselves in the constancy that is required for success; but there is more.

We must make a true evaluation of ourselves so that we are cognizant of what we can do and what we cannot do. There must be no compromise because this undermines our dependability.

"BE DEPENDABLE", strengthen both personal life and the social order.

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

SEEMS JIMMY CARTER just about has all his chickens counted. Mr. Ford is beginning to breathe a little easier, and we have no hint, as 'till yet, who number two will be, on either ticket.

Guess I'll have to eat crow about my prediction about Humphrey, and the "smoke-filled room". I say that, although I'm fully aware that some mighty strange things can happen at a political convention.

SEEMS PEOPLE NEVER cease to be intrigued by the strange and unknown. Mr. Carter has, as yet, given us very little to go on as to his candid beliefs and aims if he should be successful in his campaign. Yet, his campaign for the nomination seems to be hinting of the well-known landslide.

Stranger things than that happen, though; as note the re-election of the playboy, Mr. Hays, as candidate for his old congressional seat, come the general election. Guess Ohio must like him. His opponent must have been a stinker, huh? If he's proven innocent, I'll be glad to eat more crow.

WHICH ALL GOES to prove that you never can tell just what it is that appeals to the voters. You might be surprised what a platform of "free love, and nickel beer" would do.

THE ABOVE MAY give room to conjecture about a feature article in the current US&NR. It relates as to how our youngsters are falling prey to strange and mysterious cults. Leaders from lands are making hay with the people with strange religious ideas. They are leaving the schools their homes in quest of something modern religion and the home failed to provide. So mysticism AGAIN, IT IS the strange unknown that seems to be the factor in the success of these things. The most notable thing about it is that it's the leaders of these things that are getting independently. Oddly enough, it seems to be people with children of teachable that are so lax in their religious interests. We wonder if it's the so-called war-children that are coming victimized. - Or is it that have become so soverent that no longer feel the need for a Saviour? Being?

WHATEVER THE CASE, rest assured that the blame is laid at the door of the parents. Where there has been no control shown by the parents, little of the expected of the off-spring. We have filled our altars with strange gods, and turned from the Only. He has been labeled "square"!

WHEN, HOWEVER, the answer to our dilemma has been found, find Him and His Truth right amidst thereof. Let the laughter and the scoffers scoff. Our principles are the only answers we have!

Weaver-West wedding vows read at Amherst

Linda Ann Weaver and Kelvin Brad West were united in matrimony during a service Saturday afternoon, June 12th, in the Amherst Methodist Church.

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Art Lynch, pastor of the Sudan Church.

The bride wore a long length gown of candlelight organza fashioned with a high neckline of scalloped chantilly lace and full-length bishop sleeves. The natural line bodice was trimmed with lace and pearls and featured a sheer yoke. The softly-gathered skirt flowed into a chapel-length train. A deep, sheer ruffle, edged with lace, formed the hemline of the front of the gown and extended up the back of the skirt, giving a slight bustle effect. The headpiece was a Juliet cap of matching lace and pearls holding a two-tier fingertip veil of illusion. Her bridal bouquet consisted of white roses, stephanotis, greenery and white streamers.

For "something old", the bride wore diamond necklace belonging to her paternal great-grandmother, Charlie Harmon of Amherst. "Something new" was her bridal gown. "Something borrowed" was an embroidered handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Kyla Howell. "Something blue" was the traditional blue garter. She wore pennies in her shoe mintage in the years of the bride's and groom's births.

Miss Lana Weaver served her sister as maid of honor. Mrs. Darlene Hennigh of Canyon, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dianne Blume and Mrs. Kyla Howell, cousins of the bride, both of Littlefield. They wore identical orchid dresses of sheer veil material styled with empire waistlines and A-line skirts trimmed with a deep ruffle and matching lace. Circular ruffles outlined the scoop necklines. They carried matching parasols of orchid veil.

Little Miss Misty Maxfield, from Amherst, was flower girl for her cousin. Her dress of orchid veil was similar in design to the other attendants.

Rob Hardy of Hereford, served as best man. Groomsman were Dennis West and Craig West, brothers of the groom, and Gary Edwards, all of Sudan.

After repeating the vows, the couple lit a remembrance candle from two smaller tapers symbolizing the two lives becoming one.

Organist was Mrs. Margie Harmon. Mrs. Carolyn Patton rendered vocal selections of "The Wedding Song" and "Your Song". "Time In A Bottle" and "My Sweet Lady" were sung by Mrs. Kyla Howell, accompanied by Haldon Messmore on the guitar.

Miss Larisa West, sister of the groom, presided at the registration table, and guests were seated by Dusty Harmon, cousin of the bride, and Roger Humphreys, both of Amherst; and Johnny King and Larry Baker, both of Sudan. Candelighters were Wesley Hennigh, brother-in-law of the bride, and Jay Peel, both of Canyon.

Mrs. Weaver wore a deep pink formal length gown of polyester crepe, accented by jeweled trim at the waist and collar.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. West chose a pale pink polyester crepe dress trimmed with matching lace and pearls.

Each mother wore a corsage of orchid carnations.

For the reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, the table was laid with an ivory lace cloth over satin, with the bride's bouquet and silver candelabras forming the center-piece. Traditional wedding cake and punch were served from crystal and silver appointments by Mrs. Ralynn Moates of Amherst and Mrs. Less Boyles of Lubbock.

Miss Sharalyn Patterson, cousin of the bride, provided piano selections during the reception.

Members of the houseparty included Mdmes. Homer Peel, Sammy Maxfield, Jimmy Hufstetler, Raymond Humphreys, Robert Dysart, W. P. Holland, Jr., Clyde Brownlow, D. D. Yantis, and Karen Rich.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a floor-length floral dress of pastel shades over orchid, with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The couple will reside in Sudan where the groom is engaged in an elevator business.

Womanless wedding planned at Sudan

Miss Bula Fay Ledbetter, bride-elect of Homer Lee, was honored with a shower in the home of O. Sniffley.

Aid and cookies were from tin and paper presents.

Gifts presented the bride with a rolling pin and cast iron skillet.

PRESIDING at the serving table were Hilda Mae Hickman and Mrs. Leroy Godsey.

Special guest was the prospective groom, Homer Lee.

Out-of-town guests included Arnold Ziffle and Mrs. Elmer Sooter.

The wedding will be July 3 at 1:30 p.m. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. (Womanless wedding.)

Sudan Bicentennial is being planned

OLTON—A large representation of civic groups and churches met Thursday night at the Community Center in a meeting of the Horizons '76 Bicentennial Committee.

Representatives from 15 groups were represented, plus committee members and other interested persons. Plans for the bicentennial were presented to the group, including: restoration of the empty buildings on Main street, general clean up of the city, housing improvements, tree memorial and helping with flu shot this fall by the health department.

Representatives of various groups will present plans to their fellow citizens and let them take part in the "MOVE" project that is needed to be part of the "MOVE".

The groups represented are asked to help with restoration of some store fronts and several wanted a building to have something to present their organization.

Plans were announced for a memorial fund which will be used to plant a tree or money for a tree. This project will be called "A Tree For Century". Persons wishing to give a memorial to a loved one will be given a note of acknowledgment similar to the Heart Fund American Cancer Society.

Donations should be sent to First National Bank to the account of Horizons '76.

Full cooperation will be given by the Horizon Committee to the Heritage Committee in the beautification of the Sudan Hotel yard when it is secured.

The work on the downtown buildings is the first thing needed as they would like to have this done before July 1st. Another meeting will be held soon so that organizations might take action on what they wish to do. Then the memorial fund will continue into the next century, while the clean up and health program will work its way into the schedule as needed.

Groups represented were: Men's Club of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Young Homemakers, Twilight Community Club, Booster Club, 4-H Club, Sudan Community Club, Lions Club, Brownie Scouts, Jaycees, SHS Band, Church of Christ, E.S.A., Mt. Olive Baptist Church, and several interested citizens.

The Lions and Jaycees are in the process of painting the Community Center and later will alter the ceiling and do repairing of the wall on the community hall.

Sudan Tire Shop has been redoing their sign and it was noted that many loads of machinery had been taken off the area just east of the locker building and several citizens have cleaned off lots.

Trees have been removed off the Tommy Henderson property, giving way to a new grocery store, with the foundation already poured.

LOTWS park has planted a hedge on the east side of Dryden Park. This is being done by the young people of their organization, plus their founders, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salem and with the help of Charles Rich and others.

A Banker's Viewpoint....

We have nothing but sympathy for young men being expelled from military service academies for violation of their honor codes, although we agree with the academies that the codes have to be upheld.

If our defense services are to be of the quality our nation's very safety demands, their top leaders have to be men of unimpeachable honor. That is the reason for the academies' honor codes.

Yet, how could this country expect its youngsters to maintain high honor codes when there are daily examples before them of violations of honor by their elders?

Charges that some members of Congress have used federal funds to pay mistresses only add sensation to a list of abuses of congressional powers that have been publicly known for years.

Instances have been uncovered of congressmen claiming travel allowances for trips not made, and of trade-outs between them on employment of their kin. One hires another's son in return for the other's employing the daughter of the first, for example.

Countless junkets have been made at federal expense, many of them mere pleasure trips.

Military airplanes have been used and misused. And Congress, holding the power to police itself, is singularly slow about correcting such abuses.

This is not to say, of course, that all members of Congress are guilty. In fact, our belief is that most members of Congress are honorable men. But the system under which congressmen work invites transgression by the few, and all are tainted by their misbehavior. In fact the nation itself is damaged.

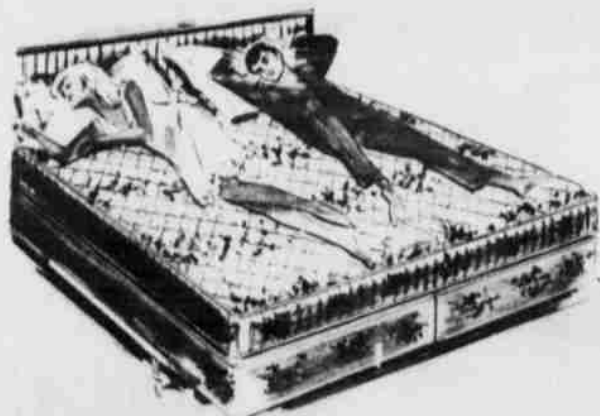

The 435 members of the House and 100 members of the Senate are allowed lavish amounts of federal money to pay for their offices staffs. Senators get up to $845,000 a year. House members' allowances run as high as $239,000. They have complete control over selection of their staffs and assignments of duties. Within those allowances there's room for hanky panky if the man should be so inclined.

Young men in the service academies can read as well as you or I. It is a pity that some of them may have chosen for their examples people our government could do without.

Young Homemakers meet for program Thursday

The regular meeting of the Young Homemakers of Texas was held Thursday night in the Flame Room.

After the meeting was called to order and the creed was repeated, everyone was off to Hawaii.

Mrs. Marvina Jones took the girls on a tour of Hawaii with the slides she and her husband, Calvin, took on the trip they won through the Chamber of Commerce two years ago during Festivities Days.

After a visit to Honolulu, Diamond Head, The Punch Bowl, The Arizona Memorial and other points of interest, everyone enjoyed a fruit compote and cake served by Vanna Tidwell and Bobbye Magruder. A short business meeting was also held.

Those present were guests, June Ford and Marvina Jones, the club's Little Sister, Candy Chaney and members, Linda Elms, Alice Potts, Linda Harbin, Vanna and Bobbye.

The next meeting will be June 24 at 7 p.m. in the Flame Room. All interested area women are invited to attend.

The Young Homemakers of Texas held the last birthday party for the summer at Knight's Rest Home. They celebrated 15 summer birthdays for the Home's residents.

The entertainment for the party were Jennifer Elms and Byron Magruder, who sang some of the songs they sing in church and closed with "Happy Birthday."

"All the guests enjoyed the party and look forward to the parties again next fall," said a YHT member.

"This project has been a great reward to all YHT members and feel the residents of the home have enjoyed the visits, refreshments and knowing someone remembers them," she concluded.

Several area students on WTSU dean's list

Approximately 15 percent of the West Texas State University student body has been named to honor rolls for the spring semester.

Two hundred and one students whose grade point averages were 3.85 or better on a 4.0 scale were placed on both the President's Honor Roll and the Dean's Honor Roll.

The Dean's Honor Roll also lists 787 students whose grade point averages were 3.25 to 3.84.

Littlefield students named to the Dean's Honor Roll are Andrea Eddins, freshman elementary education major; Barbara McBride, junior mathematics major; and Cynthia L. Neinaast of Star Route 2, freshman.

Jennifer B. Horn of Route 2, Springlake has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll. Miss Horn is a junior biology major.

Students from Amherst included on the Dean's Honor Roll are Claudia N. Cook, junior accounting major; Cynthia A. Crosby, senior; and Richard K. Harmon, senior health and physical education major.

Job Corps positions

now open to females

Roy Wilson, manager of the local office of the Texas Employment Commission, has announced that the heretofore all-male Gary Job Corps Center located in San Marcos will begin accepting women for enrollment beginning June 16.

The center, normally accommodating 2,200 male enrollees, will admit, over a period of time, 600 female enrollees, while at the same time allowing male enrollment to be reduced to 1,600.

The women will be housed in separate dormitories from the men. However, they will be offered training in any of the academic or vocational programs available at the center.

Texas Employment Commission offices accept applications from eligible young men and women for admission into Job Corps.

Job Corps is a program designed to assist disadvantaged youth between the ages of 16 through 21.

Interested young men and women are requested to call or go by the local TEC office, 425 XIT Drive, for more information or assistance in enrolling.

Ground water supply currently under study

Congressman George Mahon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, reports that in the Public Works Appropriations bill approved by the Committee this week, $150,000 is provided to begin a multi-year study of availability of ground water supplies in the High Plains area of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

The total estimated cost of the study is $1 million.

Final House action on the measure is scheduled for mid-June.

Mahon points out that this new program in no way reduces the urgency for a water import program, but could be significant in meeting short-term needs. He continues to emphasize the urgency for a viable water import program and is working with West Texans and State of Texas officials toward that goal.

Also in the Appropriations Committee-approved bill is $200,000 for advanced engineering work by the U.S. Corps of Engineers on the flood control project at Plainview. The design work for the Plainview project is now in its final stages, preliminary to a $10 million effort to improve floodways and flood barriers within the City.

Mahon's committee also okayed an expenditure of $60,000 for continued study of the salinity at Lake Meredith on the Canadian River, which is a major source of municipal water in the High Plains area.

SITTON & NORTON Drilling Company has won a national award for its program of safety for its employees. The award was presented to F.L. Sitton, left, president of Sitton & Norton Drilling May 17 at a meeting in Houston of the International Association of Drilling Contractors (IADC). The firm competed against other U.S. land drilling firms whose crews also worked a total of 130,000 to 260,000 man hours during the calendar year of 1975. IADC President, Spencer L. Taylor of Dallas, congratulated Sitton and his company on the low frequency of lost-time accidents. [Kent Knudson Photo]

Farm registration plates should not be abused

One of the most common violations of motor vehicle registration laws in Texas is the use of farm registration plates on a vehicle used for non-farm purposes. Farmers and ranchers pay only half the normal registration fee for plates on vehicles used solely for farm purposes and certain personal activities of farm and ranch families.

The law is specific in stating that a farm-registered vehicle "may not be used for other gainful employment."

"Violation of this statute is considered a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $25 to $200," according to R. W. Townsley, director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's Motor Vehicle Division.

Townsley said a farmer or rancher may not use his farm-registered vehicle as a means of transportation to an industrial job, nor for hire—even if it is for the transport of farm or ranch products.

Violations frequently occur when a farm-registered pickup is sold to a non-farm operator, Townsley said. In such instances, the plates must be surrendered and application made for new registration, he added.

"When a family's lifestyle is based on two incomes, all is jeopardized by the loss of either.

Let's talk incomes. Professionally."

The Promises Of God

By CARL F. KASTEN
"The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament showeth his handiwork."
Psalm 19:1

In the poem, "June", written by James Russell Lowell, we find these words.

"And what is so rare as a day in June?"

Then, if ever, come perfect days:
Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays:
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten."

We think of the many B's in the month of June, some are pleasant and some not so pleasant.

There is beautiful weather, baseball begins, bluebells, brides, beauty pageants, boats, bass fishing, and balmy evenings. Then there are bugs, beetles, bills, beads of sweat, and ballot box.

But I would draw your attention to the beauty of the glory of God which we can see all around us. In all of our busy activities this month, we are apt to overlook the beauty, the Lord has in all His handiwork.

A visitor to an art gallery noticed a woman on her hands and knees scrubbing the floor. "How many beautiful things there are here!" he said to her in a friendly tone. "I suppose so, sir, if a body has time to look up," she answered.

With less excuse, many of us go through God's wonderful world in the same way. We have "no time" to look up, and admire the glorious things God has showered around us.

That: If the outlook is not so good, try the uplook.

THE LEADER-NEWS, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS
PAGE 2, SECT. 2, SUNDAY, JUNE 13, 1976

Four-way tie likely

WOW pulled off back-to-back wins this week behind outstanding pitching performances and moved into a three-way tie for the Littlefield major league leadership.

In the closest diamond race in many years, if not in the history of Littlefield Little League baseball, WOW, Lamb Co. Electric and Fire Dept. are all locked at 7-3 for the year. And only a half game back is the early-season leader, Birkelbach, at 6-3.

If Birkelbach beat the winless Lions in a game played last night, the major league race would be in an improbable four-way tie.

WOW 15, LIONS 4

Scott Lewis fired a one-hitter Tuesday and the Woodmen erupted for 13 runs in the second and third innings to slam the unlucky Lions, 15-4.

It's been a long season for the Lions, who have been close in several games but have yet to pull of a win.

Randy Phariss collected three singles for WOW, Brian Gregory socked a double and single, and Randy Healy pitched in a double.

Greg Dempsey got the only Lion hit, a single.

WOW 17, FIRE DEPT. 6

The Firemen found their stay at the top to be a little shorter (three days) than they had expected when they met up with streaking WOW Wednesday night. Behind a no-hitter hurled by Randy Healy, the Woodmen won their fifth straight game, 17-6.

A final inning explosion sealed the Firemen's fate. The game was tied 6-6 going into the bottom of the fourth. Then WOW caught fire, pushing across 11 quick runs to finish out the game.

Mark McCanlies cracked a double for the winners. Randy Healy, Scott Yarbrough, George Brockington, Bobby Logan and Randy Kemp each hit a single.

Clark Pylant pitched for the Firemen.

LAMB CO. ELECTRIC 25, ROTARY 7

LCE made the Rotarians their fifth victim in the last six games Thursday by pushing across 13 runs in the first inning and coasting in with a 25-7 win.

Because of the wild scoring, the game went only three and a half innings.

Billy Guthrie allowed only two Rotary hits and ripped a double and single. James Randall was a terror at the plate, blasting a homer to go with his three singles. Kerry Rainbolt slugged a home run, double and single.

Randy Horne and Lynn Moorehead popped singles for Rotary, now 2-8.

B&C, Taco take victories

In two Jr. Babe Ruth games played this week, Tasty Taco rolled past Starnes Construction-L&H Durocs 13-7 Tuesday and B&C Pump held off Sudan 14-9 Thursday.

Taco scored four runs in the fourth and seven more in the fifth to build a big lead.

Jr. Sierra twirled a two-hitter at S-L&H and rifled an inside-the-park home run. Lonnie Perez hit two singles, Tommy Williams slashed a triple, and Freddy White had a double.

Lewis Flores and Rex Freeman got the S-L&H hits. Brady Bradley took the loss.

For B&C, the game was all but over after the first three innings when they jumped out to a 12-1 lead. It was their ninth victory of the season against no losses.

double and single each. Ricky Silvas and Lester Wormly hit two singles, and Joe Rodriguez, James Johnson and Roy Mendez added singles. Wormly picked up the win.

Texas shark certified

Most sand sharks landed are less than six feet long. But while fishing out of Port Aransas earlier in the spring, Joey Vermeulen of Corpus Christi landed one which measured nine feet, 11 inches and weighed 520 pounds.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials recently certified it as a new state record sand shark.

Vermuelen caught the shark April 4 on the Fish Haven Reef in 12 fathoms of water, using a jackfish as bait on 130-pound-test line. It measured 63 inches in girth.

Previous record for sand shark is 380 pounds, 10 feet in length, taken in 1972.

Reid to ramrod big trail drive

Nationally-known cowboy cartoonist Ace Reid will be putting on his act, and it's a great one, daily as he helps ramrod the Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive and its herd of 70 Texas Longhorns from San Antonio to Lubbock.

They will spend six hard days on the trail.

The herd leaves San Antonio June 27, with stops in Kerrville, San Angelo, Stamford and Midland, arriving at the Ranching heritage Center, Texas Tech University, July 2, just in time for opening ceremonies.

Reid is no newcomer to trail drives, having played a big part in the drive from San Antonio to Dodge City, Kansas, in 1966.

And he's certainly no newcomer to readers of several hundred newspapers publishing his renowned "Cowpokes" cartoons. Nor to the millions of fans who purchase his books. His first "Cowpokes" sold more than a million copies. It led to five additional books over the years with still more in the making.

Heralded as the Cowpokes' answer to Will Rogers, Ace is of the same witty, jovial, enjoy life now you arn't going to get out of it alive anyhow, mold.

Will Rogers made folks and be happy. Ace Reid folks laugh and be happy. There won't be a moment on this six-day Tech Bicentennial Trail and it won't all be because the cantankerous Texas horns.

Chas. Schreiner III, of the YO Ranch, is Trail and he'll do what he keep Ace under control as Schreiner knows, has those Texas Longhorns much easier.

Want to help drive the to Lubbock? Contact Tech Bicentennial Trail YO Ranch, Mountain Texas 78058 or call the 512-640-3222.

A GOOD DIET

Vegetarian diets include dairy products and along with a variety of table products can provide essential nutrients. But omitting all animal products will have insufficient Vitamin B12. This vitamin is needed for blood cell formation, normal nerve functioning according to Mrs. Sally foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The A&M University System.

Pioneers, Lions get ready for rematch with victories

Pioneers and Lions both won their big rematches Tuesday. The game was scheduled for Friday.

Lions were coasting and undefeated for the season. They dropped the Pioneers in the first week of the season and since then they have also went undefeated.

18, TIGERS 8
Lions showed who was

King of the Jungle Tuesday by clawing the Tigers 18-8.

Five runs in the first, second and fourth inning built the Lion's lead.

Paul Mendez, Dale Bradley, Leo McCarty, Mike Pierce, Kerry Jones, Todd Blevins, Todd Tapley, Blake Dalton, Jeff Jones, Michael Montgomery, Paul Castillo and Scott Montgomery led the Lion batters. Bradley was the winning pitcher.

Dale Duke, Steve Martinez, Bradley Farmer, Anthony

Hicks, Jerry Edding, James Martinez, Brad Bussey and Tracy Thompson led the Tigers.

PIONEERS 13, ALLEY CATS 7

The Pioneers held the Alley Cats scoreless for two innings Tuesday and held on for a 13-7 win.

Randy Vaughn picked up the win, and joined Donny Vaughn, Steve Castillo, Cory Stovall and Darrell Horne as top batters.

The top hitters for the Alley Cats were John Hernandez, Joe Servantez, Chuck McLelland, Mike Williams and Kirk Kirkendall.

ROCKETS 15, FIREBALLS 8

The Rockets surprised the Fireballs Thursday night, handing them their third defeat of the season by a score of 15-8.

The Rockets, now 4-4, ignited for five runs in each inning to drop the fireballs to a 6-3 mark.

Sammy Cristan led the Rockets with a double and single. Cruz Hernandez socked two singles, Joe Vargas sliced a triple, Brian Manson and Johnny Martinez whacked doubles, and Tory Blackwell, Tracy Robinson, Gilbert Franco, Mario Martinez and Kirk Conway slapped singles. Franco pitched.

Phillip Ristvedt slugged two doubles for the Fireballs. Ray Puente notched a double and single, Larry Sierra hit two singles, and Tammie Reed, Scott Giles, Cliff Mendoza, Steve Lair and Roger Lowe added singles.

CHIEFS 15, ROADRUNNERS 15

The Roadrunners and Chiefs took it right down to the wire Thursday and finally ended the match in a 15-15 tie.

The Chiefs trailed 10-11 going into the last inning, then rallied for five runs. But the Roadrunners came back with four to knot the score.

Kevin Pearson pitched for the Chiefs. Raymond Mooney banged out a triple and double, while Tim Boomer ripped three singles.

Paul Steadman knocked a double and two singles to lead the Roadrunners. Chris Scott added two infield homers. Sheldon Macha was the pitcher.

THE BATTING TEE has been a great help in the Pee Wee leagues, where pitchers sometimes have trouble getting strikes across. Here, Ricky Bush seems to hit the tee harder than the ball. Pee Wee batters, their hearts set on knocking one out of the park, have been known to strike out while batting off the tee. [Staff Photo]

Replace worn-out SMV emblems

The red-orange triangle placed on the rear of farm tractors and other slow-moving self-propelled highway vehicles is a familiar sight to drivers.

This "slow-moving vehicle" emblem, also called a SMV emblem, was created to reduce the serious problem of death dealing rear-end collisions with slow-moving highway vehicles.

Its widespread use has sharply reduced highway accidents and injuries; however, many emblems need replacing as they have become faded.

"Both time and sunlight exposure have caused the colors and reflectancy of many SMV emblems to become faded," points out Dr. Gary Nelson, agricultural safety engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"In its original condition, the SMV emblem is designed to improve driver recognition and response to slow-moving vehicles on highways to avoid collisions. Its use has become state and federal law."

The center section of the SMV emblem triangle is designed to be visible in daylight while the outside border is designed for night visibility from a distance beginning at 600 feet from the rear. "When the SMV emblem becomes faded, it no longer provides adequate protection to the vehicle or its operator," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

The fading problem most recognized occurs to the center color of the emblem which is a brilliant fluorescent red-orange when new. With time and exposure to sunlight, this color fades to a relatively non-fluorescent yellow, thereby increasing the risk of rear-end collisions.

Not only can such collisions cause death or bodily injury but they can also be costly in terms of property and equipment damage which could cause production delays and losses.

ACE REID, left, and Chas. Schreiner 111 will be in rare form for the upcoming Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive. Schreiner's interest is in getting the 70 Texas Longhorns safely to the Ranching Heritage Center, Texas Tech University. Reid's interest is in seeing that everyone involved has a fantastic time during the six-day drive. Chances are both will win.

Bicentennial Drive to 'move 'em out'

It's getting mighty close to "head 'em out" time for the Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive slated to depart San Antonio June 27 for the more or less 400-mile trek to Lubbock and Texas Tech's Ranching Heritage Center.

With stops scheduled at Kerrville, San Angelo, Stamford and Midland along the way, the Texas Longhorn herd of some 70 animals will arrive on the Museum grounds during late afternoon of July 2, hopefully, in time for official dedication ceremonies at 6 p.m.

Trail boss for this historic event is Chas. Schreiner III, owner of the YO Ranch near Mountain Home.

Schreiner headed a drive to Dodge City in 1966 so this isn't his first encounter with trail drive problems. He also runs a good-sized herd of the cantankerous Texas Longhorns on his YO Ranch so is familiar with their "cussedness."

The drive will be made up from the Texas Longhorn herds of the YO, Carter McGregor near Wichita Falls and Dan Harrison of Houston.

This symbolic event is slated to draw attention to the fabulous 12-acre Ranching Heritage Center of Texas Tech University. A collection of authentically restored buildings, including a Schoolhouse and a Meat and Milk House, depicting the history of ranching in the United States.

The Ranching Heritage Center opened its first building in 1970, the Renderbrook-Spade Blacksmith Shop, and since that time, as the center has grown to its present 20 buildings and near completed condition, more than 80,000 visitors have toured the site.

Ramrods for this Bicentennial historical event are the world-renowned cartoonist

Ace Reid of "Cowpokes" fame; Jimmy De Lesderneir, Special Texas Ranger and Van Poorman. Both Reid and Jimmy Dee, as he's more often called, made that long trek to Dodge City in 1966 so they too are familiar with the rigors of trail drives.

As the herd of Texas Longhorns reaches each of the cities along the route where stops are planned the drive will go through town on the main street in most cases so everyone will be able to get a good, close, look at real Texas Longhorns.

Barely 60 years ago these animals were somewhat scarce and it was feared they might become extinct. The Wichita Wildlife Refuge in Oklahoma started with 30 in 1927 and it is their herd which became the foundation for most Texas Longhorn herds in the country today.

The arrival of the Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive herd at the Ranching Heritage Center signals the beginning of weekend festivities during which Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will be a special guest and cut the thong officially opening the Ranching Heritage Center. Dale Robertson of movie and TV fame will be master of ceremonies.

This might well be the last Texas Longhorn trail driver ever held, we know it is the only Bicentennial trail drive, so any aspiring cowboys, cowgirls or cowpersons who might want to help move the herd from San Antonio to Lubbock can still get in on the act by contacting Texas Tech Bicentennial Trail Drive, YO Ranch, Mountain Home, Texas 78058. Or, since mail service today isn't so speedy as the old Pony Express you might want to call them at 512-640-3222.

Highway Department to trim jobs this summer

Some 600 jobs in the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will probably be eliminated by Sept. 1, 1976, according to Engineer-Director Luther DeBerry.

The new cutbacks follow earlier layoffs last fall in the department's efforts to shape leveling-off revenues to meet rising costs of highway work. Since Sept. 1, 1975, some 2,250 jobs have been eliminated.

"Our dollar simply buys significantly less actual highway construction and maintenance than it did a few years back. That means fewer projects and fewer projects mean fewer employees," DeBerry said.

The number of department employees has been declining since a 1972 peak when many Interstate Highway construction projects were underway. For some time, not all vacancies created by retirements or resignations were filled. Last year, however, layoffs were required to balance obligations against revenues.

Statewide, the department's work force has dropped from about 20,000 persons in 1972 to 14,850 by Sept. 1, 1976. DeBerry said it may be necessary to eliminate 800 other jobs next year unless additional revenues are made available to offset inflation.

Heir letters could defraud

"Consumers should beware of the 'missing heir locator' letter - it's a growing form of fraud," warns Mrs. Dorothy Powell, county extension agent.

"The scheme leads you to believe that you have an interest in the settlement of an actual -or non-existent- estate. The letter states that for a fee, you will be represented and furnished further information.

"But consumers can spend 13 cents for a stamp and write the Texas Ranger or chief protection agency in the county where the estate is located and learn if the estate exists and who is executor."

She pointed out that if fraud is involved, consumers should send the letter they received, and describe steps they've taken, to the Chief Postal Inspector, U.S. Postal Service, Washington, D. C. 20260.

Gin-waste incinerator can reduce gas needs

A heat-recovering incinerator that burns cotton gin wastes can save a gin up to 90 per cent of its present natural or LP gas costs for drying seed cotton, say Cotton Incorporated researchers.

Research by the company shows that, for many gins, heat recovery from gin trash is feasible from both engineering and economic standpoints, provided the incinerator can meet environmental protection standards on air pollution.

Studies of the incinerator at a large, independent gin here show that the gin last year saved 85 per cent of its normal natural gas bill and, at the same time, eliminated a trash disposal problem.

With further refinement, the incinerator could save a gin up to 90 per cent of its costs of gas for drying, says Dr. W. F. (Bill) Lalor, Cotton Incorporated manager of systems and cost engineering.

Cotton Incorporated engineers monitored the performance of an independently built heat-recovering gin-waste incinerator at the Kiech-Shauver Gin Co. of Monette, Ark. Most of the heat for drying the 8,200 bales ginned in the 1975-1976 gin season was heat recovered from burning gin trash in the incinerator.

"While there are several heat-recovering incinerators across the cotton belt, this is the only one we know of that has been performance-tested while coupled to a modern, high-capacity gin," Lalor said.

Considering the increased costs of natural gas and threats of interrupted service during cold weather, the gin incinerator could be a profitable investment for some gins, Lalor says.

The original reasons for installing the incinerator were to eliminate a pollution problem caused by teepee waste burners and to guard against ginning interruptions resulting from cutoffs of natural gas supplies.

The incinerator did cut stack emissions below those of the teepee burner, Lalor reports, but it, too, failed to meet state air pollution standards. The technology to bring incinerator stack emissions below the maximum allowable level is available, but expensive, Lalor adds.

Tests show that the incinerator burns all combustible material. But there is enough soil in the trash to cause stack emissions of non-combustibles to exceed the state standard.

The incinerator succeeded in averting gin shutdowns because of interrupted gas supplies. "Not only that," says Lalor, "it saved considerable money, too."

Lalor figures that savings in gas costs with the incinerator were about 34 cents a bale. Without the incinerator, natural gas for drying would have cost the gin 40 cents a bale; with it, gas costs were six cents a bale.

At current prices for natural and LP gas, and figuring the cost of the incinerator, the system is more expensive than natural gas but slightly less expensive than LP gas, says Lalor.

"But while the incinerator is more expensive than natural gas would have been at 1975 prices, the gin management expects its long-run costs to be lower in view of the projected price increases of natural gas," he adds.

For high annual volume gins or gins using LP gas, a heat-recovering incinerator figures to be a sound investment, Lalor believes.

The Kiech-Shauver gin is already reaping one "bonus" benefit from its investment, Lalor points out.

The gin should have an assured supply of natural gas throughout the year because its system conserves energy. Natural gas is needed only in the morning to dry cotton until incinerator heat builds up after the gin has been shut down overnight.

During the 1975 ginning season, the Kiech-Shauver gin, along with others in Arkansas, had its gas service interrupted a couple of times because cold weather priorities dictated that the gas company cut off its service.

There was no gas for use in the dryers during the warm-up period after the gin had shut down overnight. But the gin was able to operate without gas by ginning slowly until the incinerator reached operating temperature.

Next year, though, while some gins may have their natural gas supply cut off during cold weather, the Kiech-Shauver gin, under a recent ruling by the Arkansas Public Service Commission, will probably have a continued supply of natural gas.

The commission has ruled that a heat-recovering incinerator can be guaranteed uninterrupted gas service if it effects a substantial net energy savings.

"You can't put a dollars-and-cents tag on that, but it makes the system a real bonus," Lalor says.

The incinerator should have a useful life of 10 to 15 years, Lalor speculates.

The per bale costs for drying seed cotton and disposing of ginning wastes with the incinerator are estimated at $2.30 for 1975, says Lalor. That is figuring a ten year pay-off period, with a return on investment of ten per cent. It also includes projected repair costs, labor and gas. The incinerator, built by Ecology Enterprises of Dadeville, Ala., costs $82,000, including installation.

Increased annual volume would drastically reduce the per bale costs, Lalor adds.

In comparison, the 1975 per bale costs for drying and trash removal in the Monette area were $1.40 for gins using natural gas and $2.40 for those using LP gas, according to the Cotton Incorporated study.

Since the incinerator went into operation, over 250 persons have visited the Kiech-Shauver gin to inspect it, Lalor says.

Cotton Incorporated will monitor the gin again in the 1976 ginning season.

Results of the study of the Kiech-Shauver gin's incinerator are in an "Agro-Industrial Report" entitled "Performance Test of Heat-Recovering Gin-Waste Incinerator," just published by Cotton Incorporated.

Dr. Lalor is the principal author, along with J.K. ("Farmer") Jones, associate director of agricultural research for mechanization, and Dr. George A. Slater, vice president for agricultural research.

Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of U.S. cotton producers. It has a research center in Raleigh, N.C. and marketing offices in New York City.

Copies of the "Agro-Industrial Report" are available from Dr. Lalor at the Cotton Incorporated Research Center, 4505 Creedmoor Road, Raleigh, N.C. 27612.

Income Tax refunds are still available

Federal income tax refunds may still be available to some consumers, even though the April 15 deadline for filing a tax return has passed, Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist, says.

"Those not required to file a federal income tax return may still be entitled to a refund and earned-income credit refunds range in amounts up to $400. The Internal Revenue Service expected three million returns for this type of refund and have received only 300,000."

Miss Bourland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Consumers who meet these requirements should file now, she said.

—Individual or couple, must have at least one dependent child who is a student or underage 19 and living at home.

—Earned income or adjusted gross income for 1975 must have been less than $8,000.
