

Board Hires Teachers, Approves Water Well

Littlefield school trustees renewed contracts of teachers at a regular meeting Monday night.

All except three were given new one-year contracts for the 1972-73 school year. The three are Mary Lynn Kochanowsky, junior high social studies, and Mary Farley, junior high math, both of whom resigned, and H. A. Carter, sixth grade, who is retiring.

Another teacher in the system, Mrs. Dovie Blackmon, junior high language arts, also is planning retirement at the end of this school year, Supt. Paul I. Jones told the board.

In other activity at the meeting, trustees approved installation of a water well at the junior high practice field, set up plans for appointing a tax equalization board, and planned a board tour of parts of the school for Wednesday morning.

The water well will be put into operation at a total cost of approximately $1,550 and the school will use its sprinkler system next year rather than install a Submatic underground system which had been under consideration.

"We were lucky to get the well drilled when we did," said trustee Werner Birkelbach. He said drillers here were tied up on other projects and the school used Ralph Bishop of Anton for the drilling and casing.

B&C Pump of Littlefield will install the pump and put the well into operation.

Board member Dick Hopping suggested use of the present sprinkler system for a year, before investigating further on the installation of an underground system, and the board later approved that approach. Trustees indicated the savings on water bills would offset the cost of the well in a relatively short time.

The well will be set up to pump 30 gallons a minute at 40 pounds of pressure.

Board secretary Sid Hopping was instructed to contact several persons to serve on the tax equalization board. First meeting of that board will be May 16.

In other activity, the board agreed the LHS Rodeo Club could have fund-raising projects and include participation of girls and freshman and sophomore boys in its events. Previously only junior and senior boys could participate in the activities.

Two items which came up late at the meeting were tabled for discussion next month.

One was a request by the Community Action Committee for use of four classrooms one night per week for adult education purposes.

The other item was a letter from the Dimmitt School Board asking Littlefield to consider forming a high school baseball program for District 3-AA competition.

Teachers given new one-year contracts by the board included:

Court Orders Dike Destroyed

In a regular session of the Lamb County Commissioners' Court Monday, the court authorized legal proceedings started for the destruction of the dike or dikes constructed southeast of Sudan which causes damage to a county improved road by flooding.

Commissioners said the dike or dikes erected on Labor 10, League 225, in Lamb County, should be abated in the public interest and that legal action would be necessary since the owner and/or tenant has not been notified to remove such and has not done so. A plat map shows Floyd Ivey owner of the farm located three miles south and one east of Sudan.

The county attorney was authorized to start legal proceedings and the court employed an attorney of the Lamb County bar to assist Curtis Wilkinson with legal actions.

During the Monday session the court appointed J. D. Smith to serve on the veterans' land board.

Commissioners set poll hours for all 1972 elections in Lamb County. Polls in this county will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. for each and every election held during this voting year.

Women To Speak On TV Program

Three Littlefield women will be featured on television Friday at 12:15, when they are interviewed by Bernie Howell on Channel 28.

They are Janice Sebring, president of "We, The Women", Suzanne Hunsinger and LaPearl Embry, who will tell of the upcoming "April in Paris" style show, slated for Monday night at the Littlefield Country Club.

Mrs. Embry will model some fashions on the program.

FASHION MODELS are prepared for the first annual "April in Paris" style show, sponsored by "We, The Women", and these two give a sneak preview of the event which will be staged at the Country Club Monday night at 7:30. Paige Ann Burks, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Burks of Littlefield, and Mrs. LaPearl Embry are two of the models for the event.

County Spelling Title To Be Decided Saturday

The Lamb County Spelling Bee will be staged in the district courtroom of the courthouse in Littlefield at 2 p.m. Saturday, with five of the six county schools participating.

The county winner will receive a plaque, blue ribbon and Paper-Mate pen and will represent Lamb County in the regional bee at Lubbock April 15.

The two students who will represent Amherst in the bee are Steven Bearden and Tonia Landers, both fourth graders in the Amherst school.

Representing Littlefield are Cris Pace, a seventh grader, and Lota Zoth, a sixth grader.

Spelling for Spade are Vivian Thompson, a seventh grader, and Larry Ivins, a fourth grader.

Taking on the task for Springlake-Earth are Camille Hinchliffe, an eighth grader, and Danaen Wilton, a sixth grader.

Representing Sudan will be Gaylene Rogers and Shelley Hargrove, eighth graders in the Sudan school.

Earlier this week, Olton did not plan to enter the contest.

County School Superintendent C. Roy Stevens will be in charge of the Saturday spelling bee.

Pronouncing the words for the county spellers will be Judge Pat Boone, and Mrs. Beth Manning will be the alternate pronouncer.

40 Attending GED Instruction

The Community Action Center is conducting GED classes for persons who didn't finish high school and wish to obtain their high school diplomas.

An average of 40 persons has been attending classes.

At present, instructors are Ken Day, mathematics; Mrs. Charlie Duval, English; Donnie Patterson, history; and Mrs. Juanita Villareal, science. Assisting the teachers are Josie Rodriguez and Dioncia Rodriguez.

Persons are instructed in one of the four subjects, and when they complete their studies in that area, they are promoted to another subject.

They are taught the basic fundamentals in each of the four groups, and the more they advance in their studies, the work becomes more difficult.

Some of the persons attending have only an elementary education, while others have at least a tenth grade education. The persons with a lower education require more attention, and Josie and Dioncia will assist the teachers with these persons.

GED books are used in instructing the students, and may either be bought or checked out. These books thoroughly cover the four subjects: mathematics, English, history, and science, and when the student has been instructed in these four areas, he is given the GED examination by a qualified person.

If the student does not pass the examination, he will be given another chance to take it.

The GED diploma is equivalent to a high school diploma.

Money Is Stolen

City police are investigating the theft of money from an automobile, and a case of vandalism.

A citizen reported that $68 in cash was taken from her car while it was parked at Medical Arts Hospital Tuesday morning.

Monday night, a citizen reported that 10 wooden pickets were broken in her yard fence.

TRUSTEE, CITY ELECTIONS

Absentee Voting Up

absentee voting in the area school and elections is expected to jump this year and next because of spring rains.

In addition to races for school board members, Earth, Olton, Sudan, Amherst and Littlefield are having city elections.

Earth is holding two elections. The first election is set for Tuesday and the second for Wednesday. Candidates will say whether or not they want an aldermatic form of government.

Amherst has a mayor and two commissioners. If residents vote for the town, the town will name a mayor and two commissioners.

Littlefield has a mayor and incumbent commissioners are T. R. Pritchard and R. E. Jones. Jones is not running on the April 17 election.

Olton's city elections drew no opposition for the incumbent commissioners Jimmie Jenkins, Joe Hall and Vernon Nixon.

Arnold Reed, mayor of Sudan, and two Sudan city councilmen whose terms are expiring all announced their candidacy for another term. F. M. Smith and Paul D. Provence are on the council.

Absentee voting continues through Mar. 27.

Approximately 35 persons with radio-operated vehicles are available for cloud seeding in Lamb County when the area is seeded with clouds that can produce rain.

Persons include many volunteer firefighters, plus city councilmen, police, fire department units and highway maintenance units.

Persons are reminded that funnels are used to make sure they touch ground. Persons should acquaint themselves with safety precautions and locate funnels.

Short blasts will be sounded at the Littlefield Garden Club, and indicate severe weather. An all-hazard siren is one very long blast.

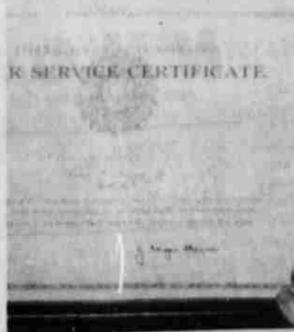

Durham, Littlefield fire chief, said the warning system this year will be like it has been in the past. Civil defense units will give current information and local radio station to keep the public informed during emergency situations.

Poster Contest being Judged

School poster contest on pollution, judged by the Littlefield Garden Club, will be judged by three judges this year.

Contest, designed for students in grades one through nine, is titled "Action Against Pollution," and those participating illustrated the topic according to their own ideas of the problem.

Prizes will be awarded to the first, second, third and fourth place winners in the two divisions, and the first place winner will be eligible to enter the district contest in Lubbock March 28.

ARTHUR P. DUGGAN

DURING WORLD WAR II

Duggan Spied For FBI

By NILAH RODGERS

There wasn't a single case of enemy sabotage on the U.S. mainland during WWII, and one of the main reasons was that most of the enemy agents in the U.S. were picked up by FBI agents within 10 days after the first bomb was dropped on Pearl Harbor.

And Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield was one of the special FBI agents who helped round up enemy spies involved in espionage.

Duggan got his law degree from the University of Texas in 1935 and started practicing law in Austin during the Depression. "Whew! Times were hard," Duggan said. When he married in 1940, Duggan said it looked to him like there was going to be a war.

He had attended MNMI a couple of years and was entitled to enter the cavalry, army or navy as a sergeant. "But the services weren't remotely interested," Duggan said. "It wasn't very attractive then to enter as a private." So he tried to get into the state department, but he said he didn't speak their language with his slow West Texas drawl.

A neighbor of Duggan's suggested FBI work. "Heck, the FBI knows a war is coming," he told Duggan.

"I really wasn't interested in chasing stolen cars across state lines and running after white slave traffic," Duggan said. "But I was interested in the internal security of the United States. You don't apply for FBI work, you have to be asked. I filled in the information and waited to see what would happen."

He began his work with the FBI on June 30, 1941, six months before the war broke out. At times his work was so secretive that he couldn't even tell other FBI agents what he was doing. Agents didn't even contact their field division, but sent their own messages directly to FBI headquarters in Washington.

Duggan was in the Newark, N. J. office on the Sunday Pearl Harbor was bombed. The next day the FBI started picking up key German people who had been under observation for weeks and oftentimes months before the war started.

German Huns (former German soldiers in WWI) working in oil refineries and other big plants that could go up in one big blast were picked up and taken to a center on Ellis Island for a hearing. If they were considered dangerous from an espionage point, they were kept in camps for the duration of the war.

A German who still retained his German citizenship and who had been in the German Army during the first war had been seen around the naval base at Charleston, S. C.

Duggan was told the man might be in Trenton, N. J. He and another agent went in to make the arrest. "We showed the suspect our cards and told him we had a warrant for his arrest. He went for his back pocket.

"When he went for his pocket we both pulled guns because we figured he was going for one. Fortunately I didn't pull the trigger. I sure would hate to shoot an unarmed man. Instead of pulling out a gun, he had reached for his handkerchief."

Another arrest Duggan took part in involved the German spy involved in espionage on whom the movie "House on 72nd Street" was based.

"You can appreciate the fact that there was no enemy directed sabotage on the U. S. mainland more when you know the extremes the Germans went to to sabotage the states," Duggan said.

While Duggan was in his New York office, a German submarine unloaded a sub full on Long Island. One was picked up early and he had to be kept in the New York office and watched each minute of every day and night until the rest were picked up and the FBI was ready to announce the arrests to the newspapers.

"Two agents watched him every second," Duggan said. "We even had to go to the bathroom with him. I had to babysit with him for a week. They were all convicted. They didn't do one act of sabotage. They didn't have a chance."

For the next year and a half, Duggan was involved in purely espionage work looking for enemy agents as a diplomatic legal attache to the Dominican Republic.

"The only safe way to get to the Dominican Republic was by plane," he said. German subs were very active in the Caribbean.

"When he went for his pocket we both

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

By BILL BOYKIN
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

GOV. PRESTON SMITH left timing of a special legislative session up in the air after the Texas Supreme Court, in effect, said there has to be one.

The High Court, not unexpectedly, concluded that Secretary of State Bob Bullock could not order public financing of primary elections without prior legislative authority.

Smith conceded that apparently left him no alternative but to summon lawmakers back to work in advance of the May 6 primaries. He said he wanted to postpone the unhappy deed as long as possible and was not prepared to say when he would have to act.

Meanwhile, to help Smith with his decision, Bullock's staff compiled data on estimated costs of the May 6 and June 3 elections and when the bills would fall due.

Most legislators faced with election campaigns hoped the session would be limited to the primary finance issue alone — or perhaps that and highway billboard controls. The latter legislation is needed soon to avoid a threatened $24 million cut in federal road building funds allotted Texas.

Another special session will be needed later unless Smith decides to lump all business into a single pre-election call; to approve a 1973 state appropriations act replacing the budget items vetoed last year by the governor.

Bitterness is expected to flare in the House of Representatives on opening day of the session — whenever it is. An effort is almost certain to be made to oust Speaker Gus Mutscher who is being tried in Abilene on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe in the form of 1969 bank loans and pre-arranged insurance stock profits.

A coalition, in an effort to avert the House clash, is pushing Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi as interim speaker. The leading speakership candidate, Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, wants a showdown vote on electing a new speaker immediately.

CRIMES INCREASE

More major crimes were committed in Texas in 1971 than in 1970, but the increase actually was the smallest since 1963, the Department of Public Safety reports.

Cities over 100,000 population reported fewer major crimes — a total of 296,033 as compared with 307,149 in 1970. The overall crime rate for the big cities was up three-tenths of one per cent.

The DPS Crime Report based on information submitted by Texas sheriffs and chiefs of police shows 482,386 major criminal offenses during 1971, an increase of 13,324 over 1970. All categories except theft (which declined 11.7 per cent) increased. There were 1,687 murders, 3,075 rapes, 14,385 robberies, 137,140 burglaries, 34,472 aggravated assaults, 48,323 auto thefts and 243,344 thefts.

STORM INSURANCE CUT

A 26 per cent reduction in windstorm insurance rates for non-beach property in 14 coastal counties was ordered last week.

The cut, directed by the State Board of Insurance, takes effect before the hurricane season for those structures at least 2,500 feet from shore, 20 feet above mean sea level or protected by a seawall.

Property owners have been paying 150 per cent above normal rates through the Texas Catastrophe Property Insurance Pool. Beachfront property will continue at three times standard rates.

The Insurance Board also raised the maximum amount of insurance available through the pool from $100,000 to $200,000 on dwellings and from $500,000 to $1 million on commercial properties including schools and public buildings.

LAND BONDS SOLD

Forty million dollars worth of Texas veterans land bonds were sold last week at the lowest rate — 4.03656 per cent — paid by the program since 1961.

Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said the sale assures continued financing of the program until early 1974. Constitutional interest rate ceiling for the bonds is 4.5 per cent.

The Veterans Land Board is constitutionally authorized to sell another $30.7 million in bonds to finance the program which has enabled almost 46,000 Texas veterans to buy land.

SIGNS CHANGING

Watch for changes in traffic control devices, signs, signals and markings along Texas highways.

Texas Highway Commission approved them in the manual on uniform traffic control devices, based on recommendations of the American Association of State Highway Officials and Federal Highway Administration.

Changeover will be from words to symbols and pictures as part of an international move toward greater uniformity and clarity in road signs. The change will be gradual, with new signs going up initially on a replacement basis. Panels explaining the new symbols will be placed under the signs at first, then removed in about five years.

SHORT SNORTS

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held extending voting rights to 18-year-olds did not give them the right to serve on juries in this state.

New regulations allowing insurance companies to cancel auto policies only for failure of the insured to pay premiums or for license suspension or revocation have been adopted by the State Board of Insurance.

Internal Revenue Service said a spot check of 4,579 retail stores showed 95 per cent are complying with base price posting regulations.

Cigarette smokers paid $3.5 million more in state taxes last month than in February 1972, State Treasurer Jesse James reported.

A University of Texas study group believes debris washed away from coral reefs in some coastal waters to deeper ocean could provide the key to finding future fuel and energy resources.

UT Bureau of Business Research says the Texas economy is off to a slow beginning this year but is "dawdling along in the right direction."

NO, AUNT EDNA, you may NOT list your Guppies, as dependents on your 1040!

DO YOU EVER GET the feelin' that we taxpayers and voters are merely pawns in a political chess game?

PITY THE POOR GUY that's worked all his life payin' on his social security, and now realizes that in order to retire, he'll have to go on welfare!

SOMETIMES WE GET the feelin' that a lotta hanky-panky is goin' on in regard to our bein' so freely taxed, and highly regulated.

The guys we elect appoint guys we DON'T elect, and give them the power to tell us what to do, how much to pay, when to pay it, and keep our mouths shut about the way it's spent!

TO MAKE THE ACCUSATION clear to the point: How much say-so do we have in regard to the IRS?

How do WE get a crack at the Supreme Court? When do we get the chance to tell Mr. Nadar to go jump in the creek?

WHEN DO WE get a whack at HEW? And, how do we railroad the ICC?

SURE, WE HAVE a vote! We get to elect our public officials, from president to JP. We put them in office for terms of two to four years.

They, in turn start appointin' cabinet members and bureau heads, from attorney general to the heads of the garden clubs. They're free to run the gamut of their fancies 'til the ends' of their terms.

BY THE TIME we get another vote, the thing is so messed up, we're afraid to change our officials! (A stranger couldn't find his way to the powder-room!)

So? We put them back in office, hopin' they'll straighten out some of the mess, and it's taken for granted that we're in full approval of their goings-on. (If they're NOT re-elected, their litter is left with us.)

THEN?? — We get another term of the same treatment. (AH, We never had it so good!)

After several years of this treatment, whatta' we get? The good ol' soft, highly taxed, and multi-regulated USA, THAT'S WHAT!

I wouldn't trade it for any country I know about, and I'm not in the notion of changin' my citizenship. Where else could I gripe as freely as I can here? — (And, get away with it!) It's my CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT to be grouchy!!

YES, AUNT ENDA, if your auto is later than a '59 model, it MUST have a parkin' brake, even tho' you're past that age!

IF YOU REMEMBER the "Roarin' Twenties" and the "Depressed Thirties" you're tellin' your age!

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Alert To Life

LIFE CAN BE a terrible "drag", and, according to what we hear from many persons, it is. This is not a satisfactory manner of living, and it is not a necessary experience.

Even though life seems easier for some people than it does for others, it is, generally speaking, just about what we make it.

WE MUST BE ALERT to life. There are pitfalls to avoid, and we must, therefore, be watchful.

There are also many good opportunities to be used, and we must be quick to see and act. With this, we must be intelligent and diligent. In all good things, we must be enthusiastic; we must maintain a high level of zest in living.

THERE ARE MANY REASONS why we like children and young people, but one of their most likable and appealing characteristics is their alertness to life.

Even though this spirit is not always accompanied by prudence and discretion, it is a spirit that is basically honest and sincere.

AS WE MOVE ALONG through the years, we must hold on to this alertness, and enhance it with wisdom and good judgment.

It is most unfortunate that so many folk lose so much of this spirit by the time they reach adulthood. We can do better than this, if we are willing to put forth sufficient effort.

WHATEVER JOY, and satisfaction, and meaningful living we experience must be found in being alert to life. This does not mean that everything be exactly as we wish, but it does mean that we will have a worthwhile experience all we have the right to expect, and be enough.

"IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to live without living prudently, and honorably, and justly, and pleasantly." — Epictetus.

When we are alert to life, we live prudently, honorably, justly, and pleasantly. When we are not, we are convinced that this is the way to a successful life.

WE MUST NOT let ourselves become dull and insensitive to life. If we do, we have lost a good part of what we are living into life. We soon will be weary.

If we let this happen, life will become a "drag". This is not what we want. There is a better way.

THERE IS WORK to be done, and it must be rendered; things to be learned, and corrected; building up to be done; and skills to be refined.

There is so much of good to fill our lives if we remain alert; always alert.

WE MUST WAKE UP, and stay awake, so we can see the dangers which surround us; and see the opportunities which surround us.

Being alert to life is the way to live while we live.

PHILOSOPHER

Behind In Times?

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets off into a deep subject this week and you can decide whether he makes it to shore.)

Dear editor:

I've always contended that economists, like weather forecasters, are much better at telling you what happened yesterday than what's going to happen tomorrow, but now I'm beginning to doubt even that.

Or me and Benjamin Franklin are too far behind our times.

For example, I read in a newspaper last night which a March wind had blown against my front screen door and I pulled off because the fly screen hasn't started yet anyway, that economists reported that the American public has demonstrated a grave lack of confidence in the economy by saving more money in 1971 than it has in any year in the last 25.

That's right. Economists, I understand, figure the more money a person saves, the less confidence he has in continued prosperity. The more he saves, the less he spends, and the less he spends, the fewer the goods bought, resulting in a slow-down in the economy.

Last year, the economists said,

Americans saved 8.2 per cent of their money, the worst, that is to say, the highest, rate in 25 years. Any time you save more than 6 per cent the economy is in danger, according to the experts.

As I understand this, when Ben Franklin said a penny saved is a penny earned, what he was actually saying was that a penny saved is a penny prospered. When he said "beware a borrower nor a lender be," he was warning against the national economy.

Ole Ben may have been ahead of his time in discovering electricity but he was off the beam when it comes to a budget. How could he have been discovering that a budget, almost billion dollars in the red, is balanced by the money you planned on coming in?

Come on, Ben, everybody knows a saved is a monkey wrench thrown.

DEAR NANA

Husband Embarrasses Wife

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:

For 30 years my husband has embarrassed me no end by making an issue of my shortcomings in front of our friends.

He says I either talk too much and monopolize the conversation or I'm rude because I don't like people so I just sit and won't enter into their conversations.

At times he has hurt me so bad I've wanted to cry. But I don't like to cause a scene in public. What should I do when he does this again?

I'm getting so I don't want to be around people because I never know when he's going to call me on something he thinks I've done wrong.

I feel the least he could do is to wait until we're alone if I've goofed in some way.

Dear T. C.:

I know husbands expect their wives to be perfect at all times. And they sometimes forget we're humans and have feelings.

First, I think I'd tell your husband to make up his mind. Either you talk or you don't. Then I'd tell him if he calls you down in public again you're going to do the same to him.

I'm sure your husband isn't perfect and must have a few faults, as we all do.

What's good for the goose, is also good for the gander.

Dear Nana:

I have a wonderful housekeeper who's not young anymore. In fact, she'll be 65 next month. She has been with us so long she's like a member of the family and we all dearly love her.

As Mabel (that's not her real name) reads your column, I hope she'll see this and take your advice.

Mabel's children and grandchildren keep her so broke borrowing from her all the time, she doesn't take care of herself properly. She has needed false teeth for years but she can't save enough money to get them.

I've even put Mabel's money in my savings account until she gets enough for her teeth. But her children or grandchildren talk her out of it with some hard-luck story.

Can you please tell me how to help Mabel save her money so she can get false teeth? I feel sorry for her but I don't know what else I can do to help.

Housekeeper

Dear Housekeeper:

If it's agreeable with Mabel, I'd suggest you pay for her false teeth. Then you can deduct it from her salary monthly.

If Mabel doesn't have this extra money, she can't lend it to her family.

Dear Nana:
My father is mentally deranged and in a diabetic coma most of the time. His physician says he won't live very long.
Naturally, I'm sure you can appreciate how this tears me apart to see him in this condition. Therefore, I'm wondering if I should go to see him so often?
My father doesn't know me or any of the family. Any advice you can give me will be greatly appreciated.

Nonvisitor

Dear Nonvisitor:

If your father is getting all the care he needs medically, I don't think you should torture yourself.

However, I do feel this is a matter you should discuss with your father's physician.

There's always the chance he will regain consciousness and I'm sure you'd want to be there.

Dear Nana:

Ever since I was a child I've heard the elderly members of my family tell about weird dreams that have a meaning.

Such as, if you dream about water or you hear someone calling you when you're asleep, you'll hear about a death very soon.

My great-aunt, who's 84, says she gets deathly ill (sick at her stomach) just before there's an earthquake.

Are these sayings true or just old wives' tales?

Weird Dreams

Dear Weird Dreams:

Although I've also heard some of these dream tales, I'm not a psychiatrist so I can't say that they do or don't have a meaning.

However, I'm more apt to think these kinds of dreams are caused because the individual has overeaten or is concerned about a family member who's very ill.

Nausea being linked to an earthquake is a new one on me. Therefore, I'm afraid you'd need the opinion of a dream expert to tell you whether it's a dream-saying or an old wives' tale.

Mrs. Light Demonstrates Crafted Containers

Mrs. Athol Light gave a demonstration on how to make crafted containers when the Littlefield Garden Club met Tuesday afternoon, in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service.

Among the items used in making containers displayed by Mrs. Light were small antiques around the house, various parts of discarded farm implements, such as a plow disc, a ball bearing case, copper pipe, a valve from a pressure pump and an air horn from an old Buick car. Mrs. Light suggested that "one should decide what kind of arrangement the container was to be used for and then search for interesting material."

Mrs. Herbert Dolle, president, presided during the business session. Mrs. R. N. Nicholas stated that "plans were complete for judging the 'Action Against Pollution' posters contest" sponsored by the Littlefield Garden Club.

Mrs. Light extended an invitation to the Littlefield organization to attend the next

Grapefruit Color Makes A Difference

Red or Texas Star Ruby variety," said Mrs. Lady Clare Phillips, Extension county home demonstration agent.

"Color makes a slight difference in the taste and in the nutrient content of the fruit," she noted.

Both red or white grapefruit furnish 80 per cent of the homemaker's daily vitamin C needs. But it's a different story when vitamin A content is compared.

There isn't a great deal of vitamin A value in grapefruit. But red grapefruit does have more than 50 times the amount found in the white. And vitamin A is the vitamin that helps eyes adjust to dim light.

The agent explained that for adults the recommended daily allowance for vitamin A is 5000 units a day. A red grapefruit furnishes about 10 per cent of this daily requirement. Vitamin A is stored in the body and a grapefruit a day adds to this reserve of the nutrient.

A russet or bronze color on the outer skin of grapefruit usually doesn't affect its quality. But the Texas-grown red varieties are especially tasty and attractive in appearance.

"With grapefruit still in the prime of its season, you can't miss on vitamin C with either a white or a red one. But for a bonus of vitamin A, think pink," the agent concluded.

Advisory Board Discusses School

The advisory board of the Satellite School met Tuesday afternoon at the school on the Dimmitt highway.

It was noted, that many groups and organizations are continuing their support of the school to help the mentally retarded in this area.

The treasurer, Miss Anna Lee Neal, indicates expenses exceeded receipts during the past month.

Occasionally memorials at the death of a loved one are designated for the school. The board would encourage others to remember this method of memorializing those who have died by making memorial gifts to the school.

Present at the meeting were: Paul I. Jones, Mrs. Nan Largent, Forrest Martin, Miss Anna Lee Neale, Aubrey Neinst, Mrs. Joyce Oliver, Mrs. Hazel White, and Rev. Louis M. Wetzel, chairman.

After the meeting, the new sign was erected by Aubrey Neinst and another member. The white sign with black lettering was constructed by Rev. David Hamblin and Rev. Clem Sorley, and was painted by Rev. Bennie Goss.

That's right. You can do it yourself. No tools nor experience is required. All you have to do is make certain your phone's handset is placed squarely back in its cradle after each call.

Our repair records show that about 10% of customer reported phone troubles are caused by receivers simply being off their hooks.

This "little problem" ties up our central office equipment. It ties up everybody on a party line. And, of course, it ties up your phone too.

The result may be serious, if not tragic. If an emergency should occur you might be the last one to find out.

Lunch Takes Long Time

By PAM HASTEY

For the ladies in the lunch room preparing the meals to be served for Littlefield High School, the day begins early.

These meals are planned by Sandra Richards, who plans well in advance, and Etola Webster, Ida Fox, Pearl Itwood and Dorothy Altman, who begin their day by starting the meals at 7:30 a.m.

It usually takes them about three hours to prepare the meals. These women also prepare the food for the snack bar, which is located in the lunch room.

The snack bar, which was initiated in LHS last year, serves hot dogs, sandwiches, potato chips, and candy.

At 12:25 p.m. the lunch room and snack bar are ready to serve the hungry students. It remains open until 12:55 p.m.

The lunch room also has four high school volunteers to help serve the meals. These students are Rosa Arias, Anita Martinez, Orvilva Aguirre and Juanita Rangel. Approximately 75 to 100 students are served daily.

Money received from the lunch room and snack bar is used to pay salaries and to buy more food.

FLASHBACK
1968 Homecoming Queen was Barbara Jones.

CATHY COMMENTS

Doubt

Doubt is one of the deadliest emotions. Confidence and trust in yourself and in others is soon quickly lost and they are very difficult to regain.

Dreams turn to dust and high goals gradually begin to rot once the demon known as doubt has begun his work.

It is far more difficult to possess confidence in our world than it is to subside to doubt. We often tend to follow the easier of the two routes.

Doubt is good for someone who never wishes to make anything of his life. Yet, if you wish to succeed in your goals and aspirations, you must possess confidence.

Have faith in your decisions and trust in your actions and life will hold many new excursions for you. Hold your head high and never allow others to dim your goals or darken your outlook. After all, it's your life and no one else can ever possess it.

The thing that Danny liked about LHS was that it gave him a chance to see all of his friends. His most embarrassing incident was when he was a sophomore and got lost. He walked into a class of seniors by mistake. His most memorable incident will be when he receives his diploma.

No Party?

By TIMMIE CAMPBELL

No chaperoned graduation party!! This thought has been echoing through the halls of LHS past two or three weeks. Some wonder if our parents are asking where our parents' trust is. Then there are those who just simply don't like the idea of chaperons and parties.

Now, let's take a mature look at our situation. First, graduation party-dance is traditional. It is the last time seniors will be together as a class. Afterward, all will separate ways. Until recently the turnout for the party was but now we think it's childish to have a chaperoned party.

Secondly, it is merely a party sponsored by our parents. Parents have shared 12 years of school with us. They helped with various activities because they had a daughter taking part in it. Now they want to give us a help make our graduation night a little more special.

As for trusting us, how much trust do we expect them when we tell them that we don't want to go to their party? We prefer to go to our own private parties. They are naturally to assume that we're planning something that they approve of. Aren't they really right??

We will get to stay out later than usual that night. We want to go to some private parties, there will be plenty of do so. There is no rule that says we have to stay graduation party until it's over. So we can come and go.

There will be some people who won't be welcome at private parties. What are they supposed to do? Go home! fair to ruin their night, after all they are graduating, too. When you really think about it, we are just being selfish. We don't want our parents to share our graduation night. We are considering the feelings of anyone else, just ourselves.

Isn't it important enough to give deep thought to???

Custodians Keep School 'Running'

By GLENN SHORT

The Littlefield High School custodians may seldom be recognized by the public, but these are the people who try to keep this school clean, neat, and in running order.

The two custodians at Littlefield High School are Mr. A. L. Massey and Mr. Emilio Abeyta.

Massey has been living in Littlefield since 1942. He and his wife live at 157 Austin Street. They have four children, all girls, grown, and gone from home. Massey was born and raised down in McKinney County, down below Dallas. When he first moved here in 1942, he started farming for a year and then moved into town. He began working at Littlefield High School in 1947 and has been working there for 25 years.

The custodian puts in 45 hours a week at the school.

"The only unusual thing that has happened is that a few windows have been broken," Massey noted adding:

"Each year seems to be getting better."

The other custodian at LHS is

Mr. Emilio Abeyta. He has been living at Littlefield since 1951, and he and his wife live at 1314 West Eighth Street. They have five children, all grown. Their oldest child is a priest at Slaton, one is a nun in Hereford, one attends law school at Texas Tech, one works at the telephone company, and another is a senior at Lady of the Lake in San Antonio.

When Mr. Abeyta moved here in 1951, he began working at a filling station. It was not until 1965 that he began working at Littlefield High School. He also puts in 45 hours a week at school.

Happiness Is . . .

Love!!!

KIM WOOD

LOVE IS a feeling that people sing about, cry over and laugh or joke about. We looked it up and love really means: "A strong or passionate affection for a person of the opposite sex," or "a warm liking, a tender feeling." The next time someone tells you he (or she) loves you, ask them what they mean — and think about what it means to you!!

HEY, YOU FHA GIRLS! Remember, the area meeting is THIS Saturday. This is the only meeting other than chapter meetings that everyone can go to. Don't forget to get up early, too! (6:15!!)

THE SEVENTH, eighth and ninth grade boys went to Friona last Friday for a track meet. The seventh graders got second place, while the eighth graders were first place. The freshmen received second place awards. We're proud of you!!!

HEY, STANLEY, Michael, Danny, Brad, Glenn, and Kent!! Are you women-haters or something?? (Remember the water at the park??)

Jerry F.: Across.

Billy Rose sat on a tack. Billy rose!

Congratulations Aunt Rhonda and Uncle Roger.

Danny: You know I love you. Why, I'd die for you.
Julia: That's what you say all the time, but you've never done it once.

Blake Wood: Girls don't interest me. I prefer the companionship of the boys in my class.
David Cutshall: Yeah . . . I'm broke too.

TWO KIDS were discussing how tough their neighborhoods were. One said, "My neighborhood is so tough that nobody ever asks what time it is. They just take your watch."

GEORGE WASHINGTON was first in war, first in peace, and first to wear a wig and stretch pants.

Billy O.: I crossed a Boy Scout with an elephant.
Terry G.: What did you get?
Billy O.: An elephant that helps old ladies cross the street.

DUGGAN

Caribbean. Boats went in convoys with plenty of military vessels to protect them. While in the Dominican Republic, Duggan said he found a heck of a lot of communist activity, especially from the Spanish Communists.

"I learned one thing while there," Duggan said. "I don't want to live under any kind of dictatorship. That one was far right instead of left. Dictatorship isn't for me."

Duggan resigned from the FBI after the war was over. "I was really fired up on the internal security thing, and I'm happy I got to work on it," he said. Duggan resigned in October of 1945 but he had enough overtime to carry him through March of the next year. "Whew! The overtime was terrific."

Duggan received real experience in a hurry in his five years of practicing law in Austin. With the war behind him he said he was ready to come back to Littlefield. He opened his law office here in 1946.

Duggan first came to Littlefield in 1912 at the tender age of two. Since that time, the names of Littlefield and Duggan have been synonymous, for Arthur P. Duggan Sr. founded the city of Littlefield.
