ASCS Spells Out Details

(Editor's note: Lamar D. Aten, manager of the Lamb County ASCS office, releases these details of the 1971 farm programs, set-aside, and rules of participation.)

If a farm is to participate in the cotton, wheat or feed grain program (s) this year, there are certain things that the farm operator is expected (required) to do in order that the farm may be eligible for program benefits. This is written to remind farm operators and landowners of these basic requirements. They are as follows:

First, the farm operator must sign the farm up in the program (s) during the period March 1 through April 9.

Second, there must be an acreage of land set-aside on the farm to satisfy the set-aside requirements for the programs in which the farm is participating. This set-aside acreage must be devoted to an approved conserving use; also, the farm operator is required to control erosion, weeds, insects and rodents on this set-aside acreage.

Third, under the program (s) in which the farm is participating, the operator should make certain that his crop acreages meet the minimum planting requirements for payment and crop history purposes. Of course, the crops must be planted and cared for in a workmanlike manner in order for the farm to be eligible for program benefits.

Fourth, the farm operator is required to measure his acreages accurately and report the acreages to the ASCS office within the reporting period. Wheat acreages must be reported by no later than May 3. Feed grain and cotton acreages must be reported by no later than August 1. Note: Measurement service (by ASCS personnel) is available to those desiring same.

BASIC REQUIREMENTS FOR SET-ASIDE ACREAGE-The acreage must be cropland that would produce a crop this year. If the set-aside acreage is not of average productivity for the farm, the farm's program payments will be reduced to reflect this. Here is the way the payment reduction would be computed on a farm where the set-aside acres are considered below average for the farm. Let us use an example farm that has irrigated payment yields and the set-aside acreage is from dryland acreage. This example farm has a 100 acre feed grain base with 120 bushel (irrigated) payment yield established. The set-aside for the farm is 20 acres and is designated on land that cannot be irrigated. The ASC County Committee establishes a dryland yield for the farm (grain sorghum) at 35 bushels per acre. The payment reduction in this case will be computed by multiplying 29 cents times the difference between the irrigated yield and the dryland yield and then multiplying the result by the 20 acre set-aside under the feed grain program. 120 bu. minus 35 equals 85 bu. difference. 85 bu. x 29 cents equals $24.65 per acre payment reduction. 20 acres times $24.65 equals $493.00 which is the total payment reduction under the feed grain program in this example. This farm has a 45.0 acre wheat allotment with a 44 bushel (irrigated) payment yield established. The set-aside is dryland. The dryland yield for the farm is set at 18 bu. per acre. To arrive at the payment reduction under the wheat program, we multiply 80 cents times the difference between the irrigated and dryland yields and multiply the result by the acres set-aside under the wheat program. This being 33.7 acres. 44 minus 18 equals 26, 26 times 80 equals $20.80 per acre payment reduction. 33.7 acres times $20.80 equals

$700.96 payment reduction under the wheat program. This farm has a 30 acre cotton allotment with 550 lb. per acre irrigated yield and a 5 acre set-aside requirement. The set-aside is designated on dryland the dryland yield is set at 150 lbs. per acre. The payment reduction for cotton is at the rate of 5 cents per pound on the difference between the irrigated and dryland yields for the farm. 550 lbs. minus 150 lbs. equals 400 lbs. 400 lbs. times 5 cents equals $20.00. 6 acres times $20.00 equals $120.00 payment reduction under the cotton program on this farm. Therefore, the total farm reduction (under the three programs) for having dryland set-aside acres would be $1313.96.

In the above example we talk of the difference between irrigated and dryland; however, there are cases where the set-aside may be irrigable and still be considered less productive than average for the farm. In these cases the farm payments will be reduced to reflect the difference in productivity of the lands involved. Let us urge anyone that has a question about the farm programs to visit their ASCS office. The people working there will be glad to assist with your questions.

COMMISSARY REMAINS

Wind-Blown Fire Razes Ranch Houses

Two of the area's most famous historical buildings are gone after a fire ravaged the headquarters of the George White Ranch Saturday week.

The old commissary is the only remaining original building on what was formerly the 7th division headquarters of the XIT Ranch.

The bunk house and foreman's house were built in 1882, complete with square nails, old fashioned peaked roof, front porches, and tall windows. The large boards and beams were made from red cedar hauled in by wagons from Sweetwater, the nearest train station.

The fire started when the wind got up from the south after dead weeds and grass around fence lines had been burned. The west end of the foreman's house was burning before anyone noticed that embers had been fanned into a fire. The Levelland Fire Department was called, but by the time equipment reached the ranch headquarters, all that could be done was to save the commissary and the George White ranch home.

Not only were the two historical buildings a total loss, but all of the household furnishings of the Arnold Husky's who lived in the foreman's house were lost. A group of Boy Scouts from Lubbock who had just arrived for a weekend of camping were instrumental in saving other buildings and keeping the fire from spreading all over the ranch.

The buildings were nestled among hackberry, chinaberry and elm trees, and many of these old trees were deeply charred.

Ten years ago lightning struck the Ranch headquarters and burned the George White ranch home. A number of trees were also burned beyond saving.

The foreman's house is being replaced with a modern ready-built house with aluminum storm windows and composition roof. It will be serviceable, but will never replace the sentimentality and historic value of the old buildings.

THIS FOREMAN'S HOUSE and bunk house on the George White Ranch comprised what historians called the most famous landmark on the South Plains. These two historical buildings burned to the ground Saturday, March 13, shortly after Rev. Benny Goss made this sketch of the ranch buildings built in 1882.

Perjury Charge Set Against Olton Woman

Year-old Olton man and his mother were tried here last week on separate charges.

Glossa Martinez of Olton was indicted for perjury by the grand jury that met here last week. She was booked on the charge Friday, arraigned, and held on a $2,000 bond. The perjury charge resulted from the jury trial of Paul Martinez in the shooting death of Eliaz Olton at Olton in November. After the case and deliberating about the case, a mistrial was declared and a hung jury with an 11-1 vote for conviction.

Paul Martinez, 20, son of the woman charged with perjury, was a witness in the trial, too. He was out on bond after being charged with burglary. He was charged on three counts by the grand jury, two counts of burglary and one for robbery by assault.

Martinez was arraigned Friday and held in the county jail for new bonds of $10,000, or $3,000 each for the three counts.

Arrested Friday and charged with robbery by assault and burglary, James Price, theft; Emilio Coronado, burglary; Delbert Donnell, four charges of malicious destruction of property; Floyd Edwin Peppers, three counts of malicious

Tag Violators Could Face Fine

County vehicle owners who fail to meet the April 1 deadline for registering their vehicles face the possibility of a stiff fine and an increase of 20 per cent on their registration fee.

Herbert Dunn, county tax assessor-collector, said residents have only until midnight March 31 to get the 1971 tags on their vehicles.

Driving after the deadline without the new plates can mean a sizable fine and the assessment of a 20 per cent increase on the regular registration fee.

Anyone caught driving a vehicle after the deadline can be fined from $5 to $200 in addition to the late registration cost.

There are only four more days left to purchase new tags before the deadline, and at prestime the tax office said registration was still going too slow and that tag sales were still far behind this time last year.

Perry Brothers Variety Store in Littlefield has just completed a major remodeling job that doubled its space and the store is having a big grand opening beginning today.

Everyone is invited to come shop the grand opening specials and register for $400 in prizes.

The store sports a complete new look, with all the old fixtures replaced with new. Inventory has been increased by at least 25 per cent, according to Bill Mott, store manager.

Mott has been manager of the Littlefield Perry's for the past four years, coming here from Lufkin.

OLDTIMERS TELL ABOUT SANDSTORMS

Who Says 'Them Was The Good Old Days'?

...H RODGERS
...of the sandstorms last week
...many of the old settlers around
...some of the aspects of the good old
...they'd just as soon forget.
...while most of the old timers said
...the sandstorms this year are the ...they've seen in many years, they
...were nothing compared to the ...old days.
...Weaver out Bula way, who claims
...the old boy who helped carry water
...to start the Pecos River, was
...on the vicious sandstorm struck on
...giving Day in 1926.
...the sandstorms before and since
...that was the worst one according to
...This was the storm that blew
...the "world's tallest windmill." Not
...the gigantic windmill on the ...House Ranch topple on that day,
...of grain and bales of cotton were
...with the wind."
...had been harvested and was piled
...fields where one-third to one-half of the grain blew away with the wind. At that time, Weaver was farming north of Petersburg, and he had 150 bales of cotton harvested and stacked for ginning. "And a third of it blew plum out of the fields," he said.

The sandstorms during the 30's created the "Grapes of Wrath" movement, when Kansas and Oklahoma almost blew away before power farming replaced mules.

V. M. Peterman, who lives on the old dry gulch that used to be the head waters of the Brazos River in the edge of the sandhills north of Littlefield, remembers when blows lasted two or three days.

"Anyone who says that sandstorm Sunday week was the worst they ever saw hasn't saw as much as I have," Peterman declared.

Peterman moved here in 1926 when people didn't dare get out on the roads at all during sandstorms. "You couldn't get to Lubbock without following the railroad tracks. You couldn't stay on the road, and most everyone that ever got out much got lost."

Peterman said it's the erosion of the land that's forced the old Brazos out of the sandhills. "There used to be big lakes through here," he said, "and during the 30's and 40's the Black Water Draw was head waters of the Brazos and had catfish in it. People from town would come out here and fish in the river. We used to sein the draw and have big community fish fries--late as the late 40's. Now there's no water a-tall except from storms. It hasn't been a year since the Draw was a mile wide, but it dries right up."

At one time a bridge fund for the 15-20 bridges across Black Water Draw was a big county expense, but now culverts handle the water, and the dams that held water for the catfish have been abandoned. "Now I'm plowing right across what used to be seven and eight feet of water," Peterman said.

In dry years people tend to forget the years when it rained, and when it rains sometimes the drier years seem hazy, but Peterman remembers other dry years. "I've saw it here when cultivator tracks from one year was still there when I plowed the next year," he concluded.

"That sandstorm Sunday week was a booger," Roy McQuatters said, "but I've seen worse. During the 30's we'd been to Lakeview to a quarterly conference meeting. We were coming home when a boiling black sandstorm came over the draw that made everything completely dark for a few seconds. Lots of people thought they were going blind."

People who didn't live in this part of the country before sandy land was deep broken find it hard to believe tales of people placing chairs around on their linoleum to keep it from blowing up and of hanging sheets over beds at night.

Mrs. J. W. Emfinger said when she first came here in 1924 she got scared when the dirt started to rise in the west, looking like it would blow them away sure enough. One straight wind was so bad that it blew away all the sheds on their farm. And many were the times when sand came in the house so bad that Mrs. Emfinger had to take a hoe and rake it out.

The Emfingers lived in a half dugout the first year. "We'd get up in the morning and our pillows would be black with sand," she said. People who get a little sand around their windows now don't know what we went through then."

C. V. Harmon thought he'd moved to a devil of a place when he came to Amherst in 1923. The worst sandstorms he recalls were in 1933. "They'd come up rolling and be so black they'd cover the sun," Harmon said. "It would be so dark the chickens would go to roost in the middle of the day."

Harmon's first country house was a half dugout, and he built another half dugout when he moved into Amherst. Harmon managed a gin for 15 years. The storm most vivid in his mind was "kindly in the spring of 1933."

"It wasn't anything for farmers to still have cotton in the fields after the first of the year," he said. "There were no sleds in them days. I was still ginning cotton, and after that storm, farmers would bring in five or six bales of cotton and barely get a bale out of it. After a big snow storm that same year, I said to myself, 'My God, if I've come to a country like this, then I'm gonna leave all this snowing and blowing.'

Then he voiced the opinion of many: "Those might have been the good old days, but I don't want to go back to them."

Mrs. A. L. Parish says she loves Texas and doesn't mind the nice brown rain of the sandstorms. She clipped the following ode many years ago:

If you live on the Plains here in Texas You must hide when the strong breezes blow, or else eat dirt--from Nebraska or maybe New Mexico.

It gets in your hair, ears, and whiskers, deep enough for potatoes to grow.

And your lands disappear in the brown breeze, and you stand there and sneeze while they go.

There is gray sand and black dirt by handful--sailing around in the sky Here's a toast to my part of Texas, and a slogan, "mud in your eye."

Mrs. McQuatters Presents Program

Mrs. Roy McQuatters was in charge of the regular meeting of the Littlefield Woman's Club, Wednesday, March 17th, held in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas.

Her program was devoted to "Texas Wildflowers." She illustrated her speech with color slides. Mrs. McQuatters noted that "there are more than 5,000 species of Texas wild flowers and many varieties of each specie." Depending upon weather conditions, season of the year, and location, almost all of the species may be found along Texas highways.

Flowers of every kind and color appear. Delicate orchids grow wild in the humid tangle of the Big Thicket in East Texas; eerie flesh-eating plants capture insects on shadowy forest floors; and the drab, thorny cacti and desert plants unfold blooms of beauty.

The reason for Texas abundance of blossoming plants, more than any other state, can be accredited to the great diversity of Texas geography. Texas elevations range from sea level to the craggy peaks of mountains looming above a mile high.

Brochures, "Flowers of Texas", were given to each member present. They were contributed by the Texas Highway Department.

The St. Patrick Day motif was carried out in the table decorations, as well as in the refreshments served by the hostesses, Mmes. E. G. Brunson, Anna Lee Neal, J. R. Coen, Emma Sell, Hal Ferguson, Norman Emfinger and R. M. Smith.

BRIGHTEN UP your meal time and go south-of-the-Border for a taste tingling entree of a festive "Sausage Casserole".

This easy casserole will put a ray of sunshine right in the middle of your family dinner table. It's spicy, zesty flavor will rate an "Ole!" from your family or guests.

It is so quickly prepared—it's nearly a mini-vacation for the lady of the house. Just chop up the onions and peppers and gently saute them with your own special spiced sausage, combine the remaining ingredients, and then relax—take a siesta!—while dinner simmers on the back burner.

Complete this "sunshine" meal with a simple green salad or slaw, ready-to-bake biscuits and you will have dinner fit for your most preferred "amigo". You might even get a smile and applaud—si!

SOUTH-OF-THE-BORDER SAUSAGE CASSEROLE

- 1 pound smoked sausage (Bulk, smokeless or links)
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 large green pepper, finely chopped
- 1 pound can tomatoes

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1/2 cup water
- 7 or 8 ounces uncooked wide noodles or macaroni
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- Cut sausages in half.

In a heavy skillet or Dutch oven, cook and stir sausage, onion and green pepper until meat is browned and onion and pepper are tender. Drain, if necessary.

Stir in tomatoes, salt, pepper, chili powder and water. Heat to boiling, then add noodles. Simmer 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, or until noodles are tender.

Blend in sour cream. Heat, but do not boil. Serves 4 to 6.

KITCHEN HINTS

RID YOUR kitchen of cooking odors—put a sprig of mint in your garbage disposal and turn it on. It will leave the kitchen with a pleasant fragrance.

A SPOONFUL of olive oil added to an opened jar of dill pickles or olives will eliminate the white film that often forms.

KEEP POTATOES, that are peeled yet uncooked, and cover them with water and add a few drops of vinegar. Covered, the potatoes will keep up to three or four days in the refrigerator.

BAKE POTATOES in a hurry, by placing them in hot water for ten minutes before putting them in the oven.

FOR A CRISP and tasty potato—rub the skin with butter before baking.

BAKING WITH HONEY?—If so, measure the shortening first and then measure the honey in the same cup—honey will slide out easily.

PLUMP RAISINS by covering them with boiling water and allow to stand a few minutes before draining. Drain on a paper towel.

RING TABS from pull-open beverage cans can be flattened and used by sewing them onto potholders, towels or any item that uses a sturdy ring for hanging.

VEGETABLES BOILED dry? Try setting the pan at once into another pan of cold water—within a few minutes you can remove the vegetables and they won't taste burnt. Do not scrape out the scorched vegetables at the bottom of the pan.

WHEN CUTTING cinnamon rolls, lay a twine string under the rolls, cross it on top and pull. It saws nicely and doesn't mash your dough.

Explorer Post Camps In Re-Vamped Bus

Littlefield Explorer Post 600 won two second places and a third at the explorer olympics held at Canyon Saturday.

Seven explorers and two adult leaders took their camping trailer made from an old school bus and towed it to Palo Duro Friday afternoon and camped out in the canyon Friday and Saturday nights.

In the Saturday competition, post members Ken Richardson, Randy Dayton, Noel Grizzle, Andy Rogers, Jimmy Stanford, Bobby Matthews, and Weldon Culp won second places in ping pong and the light weight wrestling division, and third place in chess.

Adult advisors are Edwin Coffman and Tommy Brawley. The explorer group was organized last summer, and is the first of the older group of scouts formed in Littlefield.

Making a camping trailer from the old bus was the boys' first big project. They paid $100 for the engineless bus and have invested around $50 more plus hours of labor. They have also done a lot of "scrounging" and have had a number of needed items donated.

Post 600 added a gooseneck hitch so the camping trailer can be pulled with a pickup, and a butane bottle, cooking stove and other camping accessories have been installed.

During the holidays between Christmas and New Year they made their first trailer expedition to Big Bend National Park, camped by the Rio Grande and boated over into the Mexican village of Santa Elena, and visited the ghost town of Terlingua. They also visited McDonald Observatory at Davis.

The First Presbyterian Church of Littlefield is sponsoring organization post. Exploring is open to boys aged 14-18, regardless of previous scouting experience.

The "A" team placed first and the "B" team won third place.

The high point player was Sharon Gray.

March 22 the Littlefield team defeated Morton to advance to the finals in district competition.

Brighter Side Of LHS

MARY JANE ESTRADA, an LHS sophomore, is this week's Brighter Side. She is 5' 1" tall and is a member of the Spanish Club.

Students Honor Employers

Thursday, March 18, a breakfast was held at the Tasty Taco honoring the owners and managers of 21 local business which employ 28 Distributive Education students.

These guests, through their support of the DE program, make its success possible.

Distributive Education Clubs of America was formed in 1948 with only 800 students. Texas, along with 16 other states, chartered the first DECA Program. Since then, it has grown to an estimated 135,000 members in 1971.

In Texas, there are 465 high schools which teach DE to approximately 16,000 students. In Littlefield there are 21 businesses employing 28 DE students.

DECA is an educational youth organization whose activities are designed to develop the future leaders in America's free enterprise system.

After graduation, 96 percent of the students enrolled in DE are offered full-time jobs.

Recruitment Drive To Get Workers

The Texas Health Careers Program of the Texas Hospital Association is conducting an intensive recruitment drive to attract more people into the health career fields.

A new phase of this program is a toll-free telephone service, whereby any person in the state can telephone the headquarters building for health career information. The service is available to persons of any age, but particularly for high school- and even junior high school age students.

Dial 1-800-292-9600.

This is the number high school students are urged to telephone toll-free to find out information about career opportunities in the health fields.

The new telephone counseling service, designed to help meet the tremendous shortage of health workers, is a unique program implemented by the Texas Health Careers Program of the Texas Hospital Association.

The counseling service is located at the Texas Hospital Association headquarters building in Austin. But health career information is available free to the caller through a 24-hour W.A.T.S. line servicing all of Texas.

The counseling service, funded by the Regional Medical Program of Texas, is the first of its type via telephone in the United States.

General information about health care jobs, as well as information about various health career training programs and how to enroll in schools with such programs, will be made available.

Since there are so many calls, it is impossible for the telephone counselor to speak directly to you when you call. Therefore, you will receive a recorded message which states, "This is a recorded message from the Texas Health Careers Program. We would like to assist you in finding a health career. At the sound of the tone please leave your name, address, zip code, and telephone number, and how you learned of the toll-free number.

Ask any questions you may have concerning health careers. Please speak slowly and thank you for calling." Your telephone call will be returned and your questions answered as soon as possible by the telephone counselor.

Wildcat Band Sets Concert

Tonight, Thursday, March 23, the 1970-71 Littlefield High School Wildcat Band will be presented in concert in the Littlefield Junior High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

The 102-member band will perform the selections that it will present at the Region 16 UIL Contest and Sight Reading Contest.

They will play a Belgium march entitled "Marche Des Parachutistes," composed by D. Leemans, which is a light and colorful march featuring the sounds of the woodwinds. The second number, "Joyant Narrative," is a descriptive work composed by W. Francis McBeth. The third, "Blasphemist," was composed by Tommy J. Fry of Odessa. This number shows contrasts through the use of woodwinds, brass, and percussion.

After performing their UIL selections, the band will demonstrate methods of sight reading a composition it has not played before. The band will follow the same procedure as they used at the UIL contest.

On the same program, the seventh grade band will play four numbers.

FFA Members Enter Show

Boys from the Littlefield FFA Chapter went to Lubbock last week and took some of their animals to the South Plains Stock Show.

Don Davis came home with a $20 cash prize, which he earned with the first place "on-the-hoof" with his animal.

This was the last stock show for the boys this year.

The chapter will now work in the school shop for the rest of the semester, and will complete various projects.

Contestants at the show who were from Littlefield were: Monte Angel, Don Davis, Don Trotter, Larry White, Randy Posey, Joe Wyatt, Jim Burrows and Craig Anderson.

EQUAL TIME
On March 21 and September 23, day and night are of equal duration in every part of the world.

God's Psychiatry

A DEVOTIONAL
By WAYLAND HUTTO

He said, "A certain man had two sons." The younger of them said to his father, "Give me a portion of goods that are to me. And he divided them among them." The younger man gathered all he had, and took his journey into a far country, and there he squandered his substance with whoring and living.

When he had spent all, he arose and went to a citizen of that country, and he lent him money to feed swine.

When he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that he did eat: and no man gave him.

When he came to himself, he said, "How many servants of my father's bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!"

He arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran and fell on his neck, and kissed him." Luke 15:11-20.

An elderly man once stated this: "As a youth I looked to my elders for guidance and now, as an elder, I must look to youth." But—we ALL must look to God.

Seniors Look To Graduation

PATRICIA SANDERS
5' 1/2", blonde-haired, blue-eyed Patricia Sanders served in FHA as treasurer, secretary, chairman, and secretary of NHS and senior class secretary. Patricia lists her favorites as baby blue, Mexican Johnny Rivers, "Romeo Juliet," "He Ain't Heavy, My Brother," and "The Earth."

Patricia dislikes red, fried chicken, and people who do the talking, but never catches anything.

Patricia's philosophy of life is: "Be a true friend to those who share equal interests and don't be critical of those that oppose you." Her pet peeve is

He lists his favorites as the color blue, pizza, messing around town, "Romeo and Juliet," and Santana.

Albert's pet peeve is conceited girls at LHS, and people who scream at referees at basketball games.

"Do what you like in this crazy world," advises Albert, who plans to attend South Plains College or WTSU.

BILLIE RICHEY
Band, D. E., FHA, and student council has taken up much of 5' 7", blonde-haired, brown-eyed Billie Richey's time.

She has served as secretary of DE club, parliamentarian for Student Council, second vice president for FHA, and sophomore class secretary.

Billie's favorites include sewing, cooking, brown, moody music, steak, milk, the movie, "Love Story", the book, "My Heart Has Seven Rooms", and the song, "Never My Love."

LHS Speaks Out

JOAN TIMIAN and JANNA GILBERT

This week we have a conclusion of the new hair code question which ran last week.

Cindy Feagley, (Sr.)-It's very unfair. I think that if the school board had left things the way they were, everything would be ok. The kids in LHS aren't bad, but it's things like this that make them want to be. We ought to rebel against an unfair act that has no legitimate reason for being put into force.

Raymond Rodriguez, (Sr.)-I think to an extent it is good, but if it is kept there will be trouble. The boys here are satisfied with the old one. I think it should not be enforced. It is crazy.

Eva Perez, (Sr.)-I don't like the new hair code because everything was going all right until this new law came up. I say it is not wrong to wear your hair long if it is clean, which I know that the boys wash their hair often. I say the new hair code is out!

Maria Soria, (Sr.)-I think this is a lousy opinion because I feel that it is up to the individual which way he wants to wear his hair, whether short or long. I feel that nobody has the right to tell a person how he can wear his hair. I feel that they are interfering with his rights.

Sue Davis, (Sr.)-The new hair code is going to cause a lot of people a lot of trouble. I don't think that hair on anybody's head bothers anybody.

Donna Hatley, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code is unfair. There never has been any real long hair problems on boys here. I think the sideburn length is unfair. They should all be left alone. We should be able to give our thoughts on this before they set the rules.

Kenneth Ray, (Sr.)-My opinion of the new hair code is that the school board has no sound reason for the new hair code. If parents think their child's hair is alright, I think that the School System should shut-up!

Lewis Pate, (Jr.)-If long hair got in the way of education, I could justify the hair code. But since hair and education are two different matters, I find it very hard to accept the actions of the school board.

Ed Culp, (Sr.)-I think it is a good idea to have shorter hair, but this school doesn't have anyone that has real long hair, so why don't they drop it.

Carolyn Gray, (Jr.)-I hate it! Peggy Sherley, (Sr.)-The school shouldn't decide how long people's hair should be. It should be between the student and the student's parents.

Charlotte Hinds, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code is very unnecessary. Boys in the school have never worn their hair extremely long, and I see no reason to make them cut their hair when it wasn't that long in the first place.

Linda Hood, (Sr.)-I think the boys have a right to wear their hair the way they want to.

Leslie Tomme, (Sr.)-I think the new hair code is unfair and a wild idea thought up by the School Board.

Danny Chronister, (Jr.)-It is too strict and they should have student representation at meetings which concern the students.

Kathy Bryson, (Sr.)-The new hair code is repulsive to the boys. Why, after all these years does the School Board set up these ridiculous rules? There is no one in high school whose hair causes a disturbance, so why cut it? This new rule is about like joining the Army, it can't be for discipline so what is the deal?

Ann Hopper, (Sr.)-We have never had any problems before the code was enforced, and we have never had any "Hair" case taken to court. I think it is completely unnecessary and it has only served to anger parents and students.

Len Wright, (Sr.)-If they decided to let the Army grow long hair why don't they let us? Bigger towns make more progress in one year to equal 20 Littlefields and they grow long hair. I hate the new hair code.

Students Publish Essay Manuscripts

Eleven students at LHS were presented certificates of acceptance for publication of their essay manuscripts in the Semi-Annual Anthology, "Young America Speaks," during the regular meeting of their English classes Monday and Tuesday.

One student, Carla Owens, was honored with the publication of two of her essays, according to the notification received by her teacher, Mrs. Hazel Ward.

Others honored are: Linda Horn, Velva Lee, Cathy Nelson, Bob Grissom, Duff Wattenbarger, Allen Grisham, Carol Chisholm, Jay Trammell, Carol White and Pat Bratcher.

Four of these students were honored earlier in the year, when their poetry was published in the Annual Anthology.

They are: Velva Lee, Cathy Nelson, Bob Grissom and Carol White.

Drugs Described In Assembly

An assembly on drugs was held in the Littlefield High School auditorium last Wednesday, March 17.

Captain Cox, of the Lubbock Police Juvenile Division was the speaker.

His talk covered all forms of drugs, both addicting and habit forming.

He described the difference between these two types of drugs and the extent of their use in this area.

He better described his talk with the use of charts and exhibits on drugs and alcohol.

Cat Volleyball Team Heads To 3-AA Tourney

The Littlefield varsity volleyball team blasted its way to a first place in the Pep Tournament last weekend and then on Monday night dropped district foe Morton two games straight to advance them to the 3-AA district tournament.

The "A" topped Whitharral, Wellman, Sudan and finally Bledsoe to cop the first place honors at the Pep Tournament Saturday. Monday the "A" topped Morton 15-8 and 15-1 for a clean sweep in loop action for two sets.

Carolyn Gray was the high point scorer for both games and the set with seven points in the first game and eight points in the second for 15 set points. Luanne Johnson scored seven match points, Sharon Gray had four, Doris Ashley had three and Brenda Peagley had one.

The "B" team dropped the Whiteface "B" the Pep "A" the Bledsoe "A" and finally Sudan's "A" to end up with third place in the tournament at Pep.

Monday night Pam Turvaille scored seven points in each game for a 14-point match high, to stop the Morton "B".

The "A" now holds a 20-1 record while the "B" stands with a 14-5 mark. Both teams will meet Whitharral tonight in the Littlefield gym.

Susan Britton Is Starting Queen

All-American Susan Britton, a 5-8 junior guard from Springlake, will aid the Hutcherson Flying Queens in defending their Amarillo National Invitational title in Amarillo today, Friday and Saturday.

The Queens of Wayland Baptist College at Plainview will be playing in the Civic Center Coliseum, in the third annual event which is being sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Owning a 23-2 season record and a 16-game winning streak, the Queens can match last year's string of 19 straight wins by sweeping the tournament, a feat they have accomplished for the past two years.

Young and short on size, the defending national champs rely on a balanced offensive attack, a pressing defense and good jumping ability.

Their only two losses of the year were to Ouachita Baptist in Arkadelphia, Ark., 45-43 and to the Raytown Pipettes in Kansas City, Mo., 64-53. Oddly enough, in the second game of both series, the Queens defeated OBU by two, 50-48, and Raytown by 11, 65-54.

The Queens open their title bid Thursday night at 8:45 against Temple Junior College, a team they have beaten by scores of 47-33, 55-39, and 68-33, the latter in the Houston Invitational Tournament which the Queens won earlier in the year.

Harley Redin, who has a record of 377-52 in 16 years of coaching the Queens, has only two seniors on his team. They are 6-0 center Wanda Roe and 5-7 forward Carolyn Dornak. Roe made the All-American team last year.

Joining them in the starting quint will be All-American Cherri Rapp, a 5-11 junior forward; All-American Susan Britton; and either 5-6 sophomore Marcia Shieldknight, an Amarillo all-tourney selection last year, or former Tulia All-Stater Mary Williams, a 5-6 sophomore guard.

DOUBLE YOUR PLEASURE

The Houston Astros hit eight doubles against the San Diego Padres on Aug. 6, 1970, setting a club record in the process.

"Wow! You sure had his number in that sermon!"

LUANNE JOHNSON jumps high to bat the ball over to the Morton side of the court as Pat Glazner ducks so as not to block the shot. Sharon Gray is watching the action on the right. Littlefield won the set to advance the Wildcat team to the district tournament later.
