Spies-Cristan Fund Reaches $1,500 Mark

responded tremendously to our appeal for funds to help take care of hospital expenses for Danny Spies and Felipe Cristan", said Cliff Smith, chairman of the steering committee for the fund drive.

The youngsters were injured in a motorcycle mishap during Festivities Days in Laguna Park Saturday, Aug. 30, when the rider fell from the cycle, leaving the vehicle free to plunge into the crowd of spectators.

Danny is the 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Spies and Felipe is the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Cristan, all of Littlefield, and each received a broken leg and head injuries.

"To date, 179 donors have contributed $1,545.32 to the fund", Smith said Friday afternoon.

"As of 2:30 p.m. Friday, both banks had received a total of $1,227.87 in deposits for the fund", Smith continued. 'We've had real good response from the area's good-hearted people," he said.

West Drug donated $117.45, the entire day's fountain sales for Friday.

Smith said, "Anyone wishing to contribute to the fund may contact any member of the committee or make a deposit in either bank in Littlefield.' Other members of the steering committee are John Clayton, Jim Kelly, Joe

Montgomery, James Lee and Bill Stone. Both youngsters were still in critical Methodist Hospital in Lubbock at presstime Saturday, and both were still unconscious. They have shown little improvement

Gains National Recognition

By NILAH RODGERS

A Littlefield farmer is in hog heaven. One of his Duroc pigs won two first place trophies in the National Duroc Congress.

Edward Elliott raises registered Duroc breeding stock and farms three miles east of Littlefield. From a start of two registered gilts in 1962, he now has around 100 head of breeding stock, and has earned himself an enviable place among other Duroc breeders and fanciers in national competition.

The lean, meaty porker that gives Elliott this distinction placed first in both barrow and careas judging at the National Duroc Congress at Columbia, Mo., recently

Just to place in national competition is considered very good. "I was driving against 130 head from all over the U.S., Elliott said, "I had no idea I'd get first place in the barrow division. Then when you win in careas, that's proof of what Elliott doesn't try to follow the fair circuit because it is too time consuming and the state fairs don't have breeders auctions. But he does try to make the national show, always held somewhere in the corn belt, the Southwest National Congress, the South and West Texas show and sale.

Elliott had always bought and fed a few feeder pigs, but until he bought his first two Durocs, he'd never had any registered stock.

Littlefield has three Duroc breeders. Luther Hill is one of these, "And he placed and sold real well at the national show, too," Elliott said. Elliott and Hill have two private shows each year when they sell their weaning pigs.

Elliott's farrowing average is 1212, with weaning average of 812. He lists the labor shortage as his number one problem. "Hogs aren't any more trouble than anything else," he said, "if you like to do that kind of work."

Winning national recognition makes his labor worthwhile.

ASCS Elections Being Conducted Kenneth Hinson, Harley D. Jones, and L.

The election of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation community committeemen began with the mailing of ballots Friday, Sept. 5. The ballots will go to all farm owners and operators in the government farm program, and the ballots must be returned before Friday, Sept. 17.

Committee members elected will serve as delegates to the county convention on Wednesday, Sept. 24, when the county ASCS committee will be chosen.

The vote counting will begin at 8 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 18. This is open to the public and anyone wishing to witness it may do so, said Lamar Aten, ASCS office

There are eight communities for ASCS purposes and the person receiving the largest number of votes will be the chairman of the community committee; the one who receives the second largest vote will be vice chairman; and the nominee coming in third will be the regular member. Those getting fourth and fifth places will be the first and second Nominees from the communities are: Community A-Earth-Springlake: C. O. Bibby, Donnie Clayton, Jimmy M. Craft, C. C. Goodwin, Philip Haberer, J. Welch. Community B-Olton: Dennis J.

They would be put to work in parks, roadways and cleaning up debris approximately three days a week, and would not receive more than $1,500 annually. 5. Discussed a drainage problem on East Delano Avenue, and instructed the city manager to write the property owners to see if they would grant an additional 10 feet for right of way, so that drainage ditches may be widened to carry off excess water.

6. Granted permission to First Baptist Church to conduct a youth street service, Sunday, Sept. 14, on and near the Parker Texaco property.

7. Discussed information received from the Texas Highway Department in Lubbock, pertaining to putting signals at the Phelps-XIT-10th Street intersections.

In the letter from Oscar Crain, district highway engineer, Crain said the state would not consider signals at the intersections until work could be done to "channelize" traffic, or divert access to properties nearby.

Councilmen decided to defer the matter at present for further study and decided the problem is not great enough at present to force channelization on the property owners

8. Discussed the report and recommendations of the 1969 Tax Equalization Board, which will include work to be done in future programs in the tax department-part of which will be adopted immediately and others which will be deferred for future study.

9. Considered and approved a request from Mitchell-Ford, Inc. to lease the city parking lot on Phelps Avenue.

Councilmen authorized the city manager to negotiate with Mitchell-Ford on the leasing and added a provision that the lot could be taken back after 90-day

What The Leader-News Thinks

Punishing The Innocent

IS THE DAY approaching when we will be governed by the crime and criminals. decisions of panels of "experts" rather than laws?

With increasing frequency, boards and commissions made up of supposed "experts" are issuing what amount to edicts involving everything from prescription drugs to gun controls.

For example the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence has concluded that the best way to control crime is to take handguns away from millions of law-abiding

THERE IS LITTLE DOUBT but that the Commission's report will be used as a basis for legislative proposals that if enacted would alter basically the rights and responsibilities of the citizens in the matter of gun ownership. It seems to mean that where existing authority fails in the task of administering existing laws, police state controls will be imposed to cover up failure.

THERE ARE LAWS dealing with These laws should be strengthened and enforced.

As "The American Rifleman" points out editorially: "While the anti-gun element chased after guns in the empty name of crime control, lawbreakers scrambled after loot and preyed on decent citizens with increasing success and little fear of punishment. From 1961 through 1966....crime increased 61 per cent while the number of criminals in jail decreased almost 10 per cent.....More and more Americans appear to be accepting the clear logic of punishing criminals, not guns. "Yet on virtually every test vote on this policy, in Congress or in State Legislatures, the lawmakers who call loudest for gun control usually have voted against mandatory penalty bills

THE RISING CRIME problem will never be cured by punishing the innocent through oppressive and confiscatory gun control laws.

IT'S A SHORTAGE of other transportation that's effecting a renaissance of the railroads.

In the cropland, there is a shortage of and soaring costs

RAILROADS have been phasing out many passenger trains and neglecting others. Bedeviled by federal rate fixing and union featherbedding and other soaring concentrate on freight.

railroads have not continued to 600 miles an hour be late! compete for passengers.

NOW, HOWEVER, another factor has been added to the question: We are running out of skyway and highway.

Faster-than-ever jets, using up more and more sky per second, have cram-jammed our airways to what air traffic controllers call "a hazardous degree.

Now the question is no longer whether improved surface transportation is good sense or good economics or wise preparation for possible mobilization. Now we must reopen the railroads because the other roads are becoming hopelessly clogged.

IF IT TAKES government subsidy, so be it. First, however, let's examine the record of the Southern Railway Co. and its subsidiaries which last year grossed $500 million and NETTED $43 MILLION Granted, it was rail freight which improved Southern's earnings but, by "trying harder," Southern also reduced passenger revenue losses.

IF THE FEDERAL government Zephyr train, to make the same pays the cost of operating trip, carrying 166 passengers, will unprofitable passenger trains, sloppy schedules and service may be perpetuated. Any subsidy would the railroad. But when you subtract have to be predicated on increased the cost of operation-for the efficiency. According to an article I read in a newspaper the other afternoon while I was trying to make up my mind whether the right rear tire on my car could stand another boot or if I should give up and buy a new one, scientists from 40 nations met in Washington week before last to discuss the problem of getting old.

In the main speech before the group, many of whom are getting along in years, a biology professor from London said a crash program costing something like 20 million dollars is needed to explore the possibilities of extending man's life, to where the average person would reach at least 100.

One of the ways worth exploring, he said, would be the use of an anti-oxidant chemical now used by the rubber industry to help prevent deterioration of automobile tires.

sat up and took notice at this. If they're going to give human beings the same treatment they give automobile tires to keep them from replace the tires on their own cars. Some of them I'll bet are getting a little smooth right now.

We've got plenty of humans who can outlast a set of tires, but where's the tire nearly anybody without half-trying can't outlast?

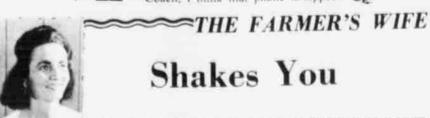

I don't know what it is they inject a tire with to keep it from wearing out, but personally I wouldn't have too much confidence in a similar injection for me.

When the scientists perfect a tire that'll outlast me, then they can go to work on a human being that'll outlast a tire. Scientists are always getting their priorities mixed up. All they're doing in this instance is arguing that the average man ought to have to buy more tires before he culture in this here column, and as the man said, a newspaper without a book review is not cultured.

Meanwhile, I decided to try one more boot on my tire. Most business experts are arguing anyway we aught to coal off the economy although it's hard to do. When you slow down the tire industry you speed up the boot business.

So I shall now review a book that don't think would be referred to by anyone as "cultured" In fact, you may not even like it.

IF YOU are one of those that think there is no true religion outside of your own denomination, then you won't like it-unless you happen to be a Pentecostal.

If you are squeamish or the least bit prudish, you won't like it.

If you do not believe in modern day miracles, or in any kind of miracle that you have not seen happen with your own eyes, you won't like it.

If you like to read about only those things that are full of sweetness and light, you won't like

I still recommend it: Run Baby Run by Nicky Cruz (as told to Jamie Buckingham, Nicky doesn't speak English very well yet, let alone write it).

But if you are one of the growing number of people who go to church Sunday after Sunday and go through the same ritualism and keep wondering if there shouldn't be more to it than there is, you may like it.

Or if you are one that has given up on the whole religious bit in disgust, you may like it.

And then again, you may not. But I challenge you to read it all the way through and state in all honesty it did not provoke some deep thinking from you, one way or the other, whether you believe it

THE FOREWORD was written by a professor from Notre Dame (well, that's where it STATED he pew. was from and right there may be

IT IS HIGH TIME for more the first thing that'll make you do a double take). It provokes just about as much thought as the entire book itself.

The professor compares the new Nicky Cruz and the thousands like him to the parable of the marriage feast. Look that up for yourself-Matthew 22:1-14.

"When the invited guests did not show, the master told his servants, 'Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in here the poor, and the crippled, and the blind, and the lame.....Make them come in, so that my house may be

"I believe that this is what we are seeing take place today. The 'invited guests' at the table of the Lord, that is the 'born Christians', the righteous, the law-abiding members of society, have too often proved themselves unworthy. They have 'gone to church', but they have not really partaken of the banquet provided by the Kind. This is why the Church, instead of being a living Body and a challenging witness, so often appears as an ineffectual pious custom.

But while the pundits discuss what new vocabulary will bring God back to life (because all they know about Him is words), and what new symbols will make the liturgy meaningful (because all they see in religion is man's part), God Himself is quietly gathering new guests for His Banquet. And He is gladly taking in those who, by human standards, are spiritually and morally poor, crippled, blind, and lame

WELL, YOU GET THE IDEA. See, at one time, Nicky Cruz was the leader of the Mau Mau gang in New York. And if you never heard of THEM, then where on earth have you been?

written and said about the "avant-garde" in referring to the suggest. daring, foolhardy actions of those who despise all established ways of

"Avant-Garde" means the vanguard, those who are in the forefront. The particular meaning includes the most daring of the experimentalists and innovators of the startling and the unconventional ideas and ways.

THERE IS NEED FOR WORK so the workers can provide for themselves, and those dependent upon them. These, however, are not the only reasons for working.

There is the need for self-respect, and the need for a sense of usefulness in knowing that we are contributing to the common good.

NOW, THE "AVANT-GARDE" comes forward. The members are not working, but are accepting money from those who do work; or they may steal it. They have declared war on the business community, but have no idea what to offer as a replacement. All history of human experience strongly supports the necessity for decent, moral standards; but the people of the "avant-garde" say, 'no". The front runners are the two young people who made ("love"?) in the nude before approximately 200,000 persons last Sunday, Aug. 31, 1969, on the Isle

Closely behind the front runners are the communal bathers (bathing in the nude). The advance contingent is actually made up of all ages, engaging in all forms of degrading and destructive immorality.

RIGHTFUL AUTHORITY has been given its place of pre-eminence by the Creator himself.

There are three areas: divine authority, civil authority and parental authority.

If the published accounts of the modern-day "avant-garde" are dependable, much of the time-tested, rightful authority must be destroyed. This gang contains all age groups of people, with differing degrees of hate for established any constructive replacement to

THE "AVANT-GARDE" of unintelligent and unjustified rebellion is carefully described in Inspiration, "Those who live in the lust of uncleanness and despise authority.

Presumptuous are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities (they scoff at and revile dignitaries).

THEY SPEAK EVIL of the things they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own destruction.

Their self-imposed lawlessness will eventually bring them to some form of the very worst kind of human bondage. The unfortunate part of this is that so many innocent persons will suffer loss,

ALL SENSIBLE PERSONS of all ages know that improvements and corrections cannot be made by actions which are in themselves the expression of lust, lasciviousness, immorality. laziness, and irresponsibility.

This kind of behavior; promiscuous sex activity, stupefying drug use, uninformed political and social action, adds to the distress, confusion and disorder of the human scene. Action which is destructive in itself cannot produce constructive results.

THE "AVANT-GARDE" may be in the forefront, but it is the forefront of human decline. These people are leading the retreat from all meaningful, satisfactory and rewarding living.

They are not moving forward, but are entangled in the throes of extreme retrogression.

It is to be hoped that they fail in everything they are presently trying to do.

WE MUST NOT FORGET that ignorance, and evil, and stupidity, and debauchery maintain their same identity and produce the same rotten fruit, whether expressed in public or in secret.

For a moment I would like for you to put yourself in my shoes. You are a window clerk at the Post Office here in Littlefield. As your day of business progressess, you look up and see a customer approaching the window with a letter in their hand. You also notice a look of anger and utter disgust on their face. You already know what it is because this is not the first time that this has happened. You know that this is more of the pornography that has been flooding the mails recently. Good Ole Days?

I suppose that the "good of days" were the days when we were young and full of "Ginnegar" Felt like we could lick our weight in Wildcats and never got tired. Our most valuable asset, tho, was the fact that we took nothing seriously and didn't have sense enough to worry about anything.

We had little money, but, then, we didn't need much. We laughed a lot and thought we were happy. So, what if the stock market did bust and the bigwigs went into panie? We still had about as much as before only suddenly our dollars were worth about twice as much. and our produce about half as much!

Some asked Pres. Hoover what would we do with this situation. His answer was, "Use 1 teaspoon full of sugar in your coffee instead of the usual two." In other words, "Take up on your belt!" This was the undoing of the Republicans party for years to come.

Along came F.D.R. with his program to "buy back prosperity". This was the beginning of the "Great American Give Away." The thing has snowballed until it seems that the main function of the federal government is "the re-distribution of funds". (Indeed, it "distributes" our funds all over the world!) I suppose the most powerful and active board in our government at present is HEW and are they throwing their weight around!

Now, the idea of taxing the "Haves" and giving to the "Have-Nots" has always been the most popular thing the government could do. (I guess this is because we always have more "have-nots" than "haves") but somewhere along the line this thing has gotten all fouled up. Seems the idea now is to tax the working people and give to the idle, and to penalize the ambitious to take care of the indolent. After all, if the government can pay us NOT to raise crops, why not pay us to NOT work?

Now I have no particular quarrel with our farmer friends. (If I were still farming I'd comply with the government program

Three Great Institutions

R. N. TUCKER, PASTOR Parkview Baptist Church

TODAY'S DEVOTIONAL

THERE ARE MANY THINGS in America for which we can be justly proud. It is my feeling that we have the three greatest institutions known to mankind. It is not that America has a corner on these institutions, but rather it is that we have an open freedom enabling all to be a participating part of them.

The three great institutions are: the school, the home, and the church.

FIRST, what about one's education in the public schools?

Our involvement in the public school system comes early in one's life.

It is desirable that a person be started around the age of six into a field of systematic study and learning which will condition that one for the many advantages opening in our

to study and learn. Each of us is influenced by the surroundings of our own situation. This can be either good for learning, or it can be a bad influence.

AS ONE IS CAUGHT up in the institution of the public school, it is found that his study habits as well as other habits of a personal nature are being formed.

It is rather important that this institution shall strive for excellence in training and teaching. It is no secret that those students who stand at the head of the classes are the ones who get priorities in placement for the best jobs in the business world. It is in this sense, then, that a good education in the public school makes a genuine contribution to life itself.

It was instituted long ago by the Lord God. The home today is the base of our society; it is foundational.

The home has a relationship with the school. It is the home that furnishes the subject, the student. And from a variety of homes we assemble a variety of students. All of these are individuals. They have different feelings and different abilities and make different responses to a given situation. Therefore, the home has a definite responsibility for the student.

IT IS IMPERATIVE that the home contribute a discipline to the student so he may be taught the art of getting along with his fellowman.

We heap added difficulties upon many instructors through out home-failure in real discipline.
