Rescuers Need Several Hours To Find Body

A swimming party ended tragically when 52-year-old James Cecil Ward of 1016 E. 14th Street, Littlefield, drowned while swimming in a small lake just inside the Littlefield city limits Tuesday afternoon.

Lamb County Sheriff E. D. McNeese said Ward, a 46-year-old brother, Roy and a 19-year-old nephew, Ronnie Ward, had been swimming about an hour when Cecil Ward went down at 4:40 p.m.

Ronnie Ward told officers he at first thought his uncle was clowning, but after Cecil didn't come up. Ronnie ran to a nearby phone to notify city officials.

Ronnie said he swam near the bank because he couldn't swim very well.

Six motor boats, one row boat, a scuba diver and several volunteers from Littlefield, Levelland and Lubbock crisscrossed the muddy-water lake in an effort to recover the body.

Weighted grappling hooks were utilized in the search, and at one time a weighted nylon rope with hooks was stretched from the east bank of the lake to the west bank. Rescuers in a boat took the west end of the rope and made a circle in dragging the rope to the east and south of the other end, but did not locate

Some of the rescuers thought maybe the boats were moving too fast for their hocks to such ground the row to a and two motor boats continued the

ELECTRICAR BUSINESS

Chisholm Represents City On Trip To Washington

Mayor J. E. Chisholm represented the Littlefield Board of City Development President D. L. "Cotton" Whatley and

Well in advance of their trip, brochures on the car, prepared by City Manager Jim Shearer and sponsored by the BCD, had been sent to Borg-Warner, a billion dollar automotive industry headquartered in Chicago, and to government officials in Washington.

Mayor Chisholm said, "We received a ery warm welcome in Chicago and our conference with Borg-Warner officials revealed they can supply unlimited research on the electric car.

"The brochure we had sent to Borg-Warner was well worn because of the handling by many individuals who looked it over," he said.

"In Washington, we met with Senator John Tower and Congressman Bob Price, who gave us great assistance in making 12 contacts with governmental agencies. They, too, are tremendously interested in the car. From the governmental agencies, we picked up much information on potential marketing," the mayor said.

"Although much work is still to be done on the car and time is needed to work out details, work as far as it has gone to the present is very satisfactory.'

"Those 'in the know' on electric cars were amazed at what 'Cotton' and Glen have done with the limited equipment they have had to work with, and we are encouraged at the development the car has undergone," he said.

"The whole situation looks real good" the mayor concluded.

Lamb Papers Take Awards

Three Lamb County newspapers took top awards at the 39th Annual West Texas Press Association Convention in San Angelo last weekend

The Leader-News came away with a first place award in advertising composition for semi-weeklies and the Olton Enterprise took the same award in the "cities under 3,000 population"

The Leader-News also took second place in the "use of pictures" division, with Denver City Press taking first and the Friona Star taking third.

The Earth News-Sun took a second place award for advertising composition in the "weeklies in cities under 3,000 population" category.

Approximately 150 West Texas journalists were on hand for the event which began Friday.

Saturday morning the Better Newspaper Awards were presented and new board members were elected, O. G. (Speedy) Nieman of Slaton, former Littlefield newspaperman, will take the reins as next year's president; Melvin Young of Hereford will serve as first vice president: Frank Baker of Fort Stockton, second vice president; Bob Craig of Hamlin, secretary-treasurer; and former president Jack Scott of Cross Plains. chairman of the board of directors.

Bob Hamilton of Littlefield is one of three directors who are held over from last year. New directors are Frank Pruitt of Abilene, Orb Rowden of Pecos and Walter Buckel of Lamesa.

Saturday night's activities, which closed the meeting, included a hospitality hour at the River Club before the "Fiesta de San Angelo" dinner.

> The Tech anthropologist surmised that the now extinct "Bison antiquus" at the site probably had been herded into and become mired down in mud of a small basin by Early Man, possibly wounded with a projectile point, then stunned on the skull with a large rock. The animal probably was butchered on the pot and completely disarticulated. Dr. Honea said the skull had been partly crushed by "having been bashed with a large rock, and the rock was excavated from within two feet of the skull and was lying near one of the mandibles.

materials, abundant charcoal, burned bone, hearth stones, bone scraps, stone flakes, knives and scrapers.

This summer diagnostic projectile points were excavated from these soil zones, and as suggested last year the cultures represented are of the Archaic period. Charcoal from these levels remains to be dated.

Honea added that "All in all, we have a culture sequence dating from about 10,000 years ago (Late Pleistocene or Late Ice Ages) through to about A. D. 1400-the latter represented by the numerous hearths and artifacts in upper dune sands at the site."

He described the find as one of the most important site discoveries on the Llano Estacado in recent years.

This summer's work at the Marks Beach site was funded by a faculty research grant awarded by the Tech board of directors in September, 1968.

Honea's co-workers this summer have been Mark Randall of Littlefield, for whom the site was named, and Susan Driskill, also of Littlefield, both recipients of archaeological scholarships awarded by way of donations from Elsie Jones and Betty Hall of the Chicago area.

Susan, an elementary education sophomore at Tech, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Driskill of Littlefield, and Mark, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Randall of Littlefield.

Antibiotics Refund Claims Deadline Set

Attorney General Crawford Martin reminded Texans that Saturday, Aug. 16, is the deadline for mailing refund claims on broad spectrum antibiotics for which they were overcharged during the years 1954 through 1966.

That is the deadline set by the federal court for individuals to file claims for a share of the $100 million settlement offered by five drug manufacturers after multiple civil antitrust actions were filed against them by Texas and other states.

Martin said the procedure for filing consumer claims was the result of an order issued by the U.S. District Court in New York.

The forms for the refund claims may be picked up at the County Clerk's office in each county courthouse. A number of newspapers have also printed copies of the form.

If a person fails to file a aim, it will constitute claim. authorization to use the money recovered in his behalf for the benefit of all consumers in a manner directed by the federal

The notorized claims must be mailed to the Clerk, United States District Court, P. O. Box 745, Bronx, New York 10451. Drugs involved in the settlement are Aureomycin. Terramycin, Achromycin, Terramycin, Achromycin, Mysteclin, Panalba, Panmycin,

Michael Sadler Among Engineers Working At Tech

Michael E. Sadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Sadler of Whitharral, is one of 10 Texas Tech undergraduate engineering students who are working this summer to demonstrate that the discovery of new knowledge need not always be left to the "old hands

The 10 were chosen for academic achievement to participate in a new interdepartmental experiment in teaching. The program is administered by Texas Tech's Department of Electrical Engineering and is directed by Prof. Magne Kristiansen.

Sadler is working with a carbon dioxide laser, using it to determine properties of semi-conductors.

The program was initiated the National Science Foundation and is supported also by industry and the university. Purposes are to help outstanding students become competent in research methods and to encourage them to continue their education through the doctoral level.

Students are working under the direction of Electrical Engineering Profs. Kristiansen. William M. Portnoy, David K. John P. Craig and Ferry. Marion O. Hagler.

In most cases, Dr. Kristiansen said, the students have completed the planning and building phases and are starting to use their equipment for research.

"The program has been tremendously valuable," he said, "for the Department of Electrical Engineering but also for the students who have gained in motivation as well as self reliance.

Joe Montgomery Is Graduated

Joe Montgomery, vice resident of Security State Bank in Littlefield, has been graduated from The Southwestern Graduate School of Banking.

His graduate thesis is titled, "Future Sources of entitled. Irrigation Water for the High Plains of Texas'

Montgomery was among the 122 bankers from throughout the United States who participated in Commencement Exercises, Friday, Aug. 8, in McFarlin Auditorium on the Southern Methodist University campus in Dallas.

Dr. Willis Tate, president of the university, delivered the address as a climax to the seniors' final phase of a three-year course of study in the School.

Co-sponsored by the Dallas. Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio Clearing House Associations and the Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Bankers Associations and SMU, the School is directed by Dr. Richard B. Johnson, Chairman f the Financial Administration Institute and Director of "The Assemblies for Bank Directors."

B. Finley Vinson, president of the First National Bank, Little Rock, Ark., is dean for bankers; and he presented the diplomas as Dr. John E. Kane, chairman of the department of economics at the University of Arkansas and chairman of the senior year, called the names of the graduates.

To qualify for a certificate of graduation from the school, banker must attend three two-week resident sessions in the summer, submit solutions to extension problems, write a thesis on a topic pertaining to banking, and pass an oral examination on his thesis and don't know where the summer went" season.

Fall lies just around the corner. The unofficial demarcation line that most of us live by is Labor Day and the opening of school.

The two come so closely together that Labor Day, which this year is Sept. 1, has become the traditional occasion for end-of-summer family outings.

WHETHER WE REALIZE IT OF not, we seem to have reached a millennium of sorts.

How else can the endless stream of costly playthings campers, boats, motors, scooters and pullman-size vehicles- that will take to the road this coming Labor Day be explained?

As far as material possessions go,

WE HAVE REACHED the "I no people have ever enjoyed abundance on such a mass scale.

> LABOR DAY is a fitting time to recall that it has been the unique combination of American labor and American capital that has made this abundance possible.

The objective of youngsters that will be returning to school on the heels of Labor Day should be to learn how to live with the good things of life that have come from the efforts of previous generations.

PERHAPS in the classrooms, greater attention should be given to matters of the spirit, respect for persons and property and obedience to the laws of the land. After all, these are the foundation of the blessings we enjoy today.

By LIBBY MUDGETT

WELL, THERE'S just all kinds of surprises awaiting me everytime I take a Grassie Roots Poll, but this time is about the topper.

The question was: "What one thing do you think America needs more than anything else?"

THE YOUNG UNMARRIED males were the ones that gave the most thoughtful, serious, and less self-centered answers. For instance:

"More mature politicians, less interested in their own careers and more interested in the public's

"More Christianity practiced." (That was from a teen-aged boy)

"No welfare program." (This boy was still young and unmarried, but a taxpayer, as can be gathered. I asked him did he mean less welfare and he said no, he meant NO

THE YOUNG UNMARRIED females also gave thoughtful, serious answers- they said America needed more young unmarried males.

Here's some answers from the married men.

"Cheaper cars."

"More statesmen and less politicians. 'Less misinformation to the public on farm programs. Well, ALL programs, I just happen to be most interested in the farm program. "LESS BUREAUCRACY." 'State's rights-more decentralization of power-and

"Well, more control given back to the people, even though I think they'd probably foul things up even worse than they are now." (I pressed this one for further information and all he could say was that he wished he could pick the people to give the control back to, but knew that was impossible!)

"Easier divorce laws." (I think this was tongue-in-cheek, since his wife was present and listening.)

INCIDENTALLY, the one subject that people mentioned the most right off was welfare, although all of them didn't go as far as the young taxpayer that wanted none. The majority seemed to think that the welfare rolls could be cut considerably by more thorough investigation.

THE MARRIED LADIES were the most concerned with inflation and money

'Stabilization of prices right "Salary adjustments in accordance with cost of living. "A dollar that's worth a dollar

"More investigations of overcharging by the big

THE LADIES ALSO had plenty to say about the morals issue. 'Cleaner literature.

"More truthfulness among people. I long to trust people and it's getting to where just don't

"More God-fearing people." (One young boy used those same words also. See what I meant about surprises?) Wisdom.

"More prayers." "Less idleness."

"More people not afraid to work

"Less materialism."

IT WAS A YOUNG married man that gave this answer:

"Really. America needs more people with less selfishness, people that think of their fellowman. But that would be asking for Utopia, I

THE MAJORITY of people first said "I don't know" and asked for a minute to think about it before giving their answers. One fellow, perhaps wiser than the rest of us, thought for about ten minutes while I was polling other people and gave this reply when I got back

"Gee, I still don't know!"

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Untying Strings

THE UNITED STATES has commitments with 41 other nations almost identical to the one which got us involved in this dead-end war Vietnam, President Nixon, however, during his most recent world tour, has been untying those apron strings.

At the first stop on this tour, our President sent word to the world that peace in Asia cannot be preserved by the United States: Asians will have to do that for themselves.

IF THE FILIPINOS expected our President to say one thing publicly and another privately, they were disappointed. Following the Manila visit, some top Foreign Offic officials complained that they had been unable to pin Mr. Nixon down on what, if anything, they can expect in future economic assistance from the United States.

Similarly, at the second stop, Indonesia, our President praised the Jakarta administration, said the country "is in good hands," promised to send Suharto a sample of moon rock when our scientists get finished with it-but nothing

AN EXCEPTION was Thailand, where the United States is presently basing 47,000 men and manning six big airbases for our use in the Vietnamese war. In Bangkok the President said the United States will stand firmly with Thailand "against those who would threaten it from abroad and from within."

Even there, however, he was entirely unspecific about the scope and scale of our commitment. The impression was left that we would supply arms and supplies-but no American men.

The man-made lake where the tragedy occurred was formed when dirt was removed to build the Highway 84 Loop and Highway 385 overpass. The body of water, a mile long and up to 30 feet deep, is located just off U. S. Highway 84 bypass to the east of the 385 intersection overpass.

The lake contains some fish, and a member of the Ward family said Cecil Ward fished and swam at the pond often.

The body was taken to Hammons Funeral Home for final arrangements. The obituary and funeral details may be found inside in the obituaries column.

President Nixon was similarly preparing Asians for a new era of

The fact is, our President is withdrawing us- spelled U. S.-from Asian affairs just barely in time to keep us from being invited or thrown out.

Also, our politically astute President is getting the message from home that Americans are weary of trying to carry the world on their shoulders.

VICE PRESIDENT AGNEW told Western governors last month that they can expect more federal money for state aid only after the Vietnamese war. He said that war is presently costing us $33 million a day and that expenditure necessarily gets top priority.

So it would appear from here that home-grown Americans are going to benefit from this presidential tour more than from any other. Heretofore our Presidents have found it tempting to try to buy applause for themselves and friends for our country with your money. It can be argued that we did "buy some time" during which Uncle Sam's upstart foreign "relations" could mature.

BUT NOW THEY KNOW it's weaning time.

In country after country President Nixon resisted the temptation to promise that you and I would continue to feed, finance, fortify, protect and police this planet. He knows we can't. Now the world knows it.

Significantly, our President was no less welcome anywhere. Indeed, perhaps the greatest lesson to be learned from this barnstorming tour of the Eastern world is that they like us better "from a distance".

Crop Certifying Deadline Looms

Friday, Aug. 15 at 5 p.m. is the latest possible minute for farmers to certify that their crops are in compliance with federal laws set up by the Department of Agriculture, according to Lamar Aten, SCS office manager.

All farmers must be in compliance before they can certify

Failure to be in compliance and certifying this compliance will mean that the farmer is out of the government program, forfeits his payments and loses price support priviledges. Monday, Aten reported that about 800 Lamb County farmers had not yet certified. He attributed this "waiting until the last minute" to late crops and farmers needing extra time to decide what to leave and what not to leave. "This means that we'll have to certify about 200 farmers per day," Aten said, "and that's hard to do

Luxury Saps Us

THE HISTORY OF MANKIND reveals that luxurious living is not good for people; however, it seems that there is a widespread desire for such living.

This is most unfortunate.

THE TRAGEDY of this common desire, in addition to its destructiveness of everything good, is in the fact that luxuries do not satisfy us.

They actually create desires for more, and finally, there is no easy stopping place.

The death rate from accidental injuries can be reduced by improved training of emergency personnel according to Dr. C. L. Montgomery, a Lubbock doctor who is acting as program chairman for the training school.

"A fast ride to the hospital by ambulance or other means Tex Anns perform at all home basketball games, two has practically never saved a life. There is often only a few minutes to re-establish heart action and breathing, time too short for even a 90-mile-an-hour trip to the emergency room of the hospital. What is really needed are people well trained in emergency care to prepare the injured for transport. This means being able to make a quick survey, to determine medical priority, and to take the necessary life-saving measures," Dr. Montgomery

Lfd. Butane Has Fuel, Fertilizers, Fumigants

Noticed the new Phillips 66 service station north of the by-pass on the Levelland highway? It will soon be open farming operations. Whether you apply selling that famous Phillips 66 gas and oil. your pre-emergence chemical weed killers this business and the Littlefield 66 on But Bridwell isn't just consignee for Phillips service stations. He has butane, propane, gasoline, diesel fuel and motor oils, herbicides, fertilizers and and chemical line that farmers need. Ace has been in the butane business in Littlefield since 1949, serving all the area farmers' needs

fumigants-just about anything in the fuel

Herbicides, fumigants and fertilizers are a new line at Littlefield Butane. This year the business added a complete line of herbicides and fertilizers, including Treflan, Caporal, Lorox and anhydrous ammonia

WESTERN

PUMPS

And it isn't too early to be making plans to use these aids in next year's A. C. (Ace) Bridwell is consignee for this winter before you list up your land, or wait until next spring and band it in check with Littlefield Butane before you

> Ace has Lorox, too, to keep the weeds down in feed land. Lorox mixed with Propazine is an effective weed killer on feed land and cotton can be planted right back on this land the following season.

Have nematodes cut your production? Littlefield Butane has the fumigants needed to rid your cotton land of nematode infestations. Land can be fumigated in pre-planting operations, or Littlefield Butane has knife-type fumigation rigs that can be run just ahead of planters in a two-in-one operation.

Then when it's time for anhydrous ammonia side dressing, call Ace for your fertilizer needs. They have all types of dry fertilizers, too.

Even if your fertilizer needs are small, Littlefield Butane fills the bill with lawn-size sacks of that good Phillips 66 fertilizer. There are plenty of those 50 pound sacks of sulphate fertilizer, containing 21 per cent nitrogen, at an attractive office building, 1120 E. 9th St.

Or you can get the same fertilizer at one of the Phillips 66 stations in Littlefield. A good application of this nitrogen based fertilizer to lawns about Labor Day, and you'll be way ahead in the gardening department next spring.

Scholarships Ready For Winning 4-H'ers own initiative and efforts will wind up the year richer by a $600 scholarship.

They will receive their reward early in December during the National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

These young people are 4-H members who will be named 1969 national winners in the 4-H Home Improvement program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, and supported by The S&H Foundation, Inc.

They are fixing up their own rooms, or decorating and remodeling to add utility and beauty to the family dwelling.

Last year nearly 188,000 rural and urban 4-H'ers participated from coast to coast. The youngsters generally are between 9 and 19 years

They belong to a club or group having a volunteer adult eader competent to advise and teach them the WHY'S and HOW'S of home improvement. The Extension Service does the overall program planning and project evaluation.

'How-to-do-it skills taught 4-H'ers should be practical and yet help add beauty to home surroundings which the entire family can appreciate and enjoy," said a 4-H leader. Creativity is encouraged.

Girls put their sewing skills to good use in making curtains, draperies, spreads and wall hangings. Among boys carrying home improvement project can be found amateur carpenters, painters, and electricians.

Getting the most for the least money, or with no cash outlay at all, are shortcuts to home improvements, the 4-H youths soon learn. Restoring old or discarded items is a favorite hobby that adds value and variety to room
