

OP CITIZENS, FARMER NAMED

Dayton, Mrs. Davis, Mitchell Get Awards

Littlefield's Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce honored Warren Dayton as Littlefield's "Citizen of the Year" Saturday night, and named Mrs. Edna Davis the "Woman of the Year", and Ed Mitchell "Farmer of the Year".

He is a former president of the Chamber of Commerce, has served as president of the Rotary Club, is involved in Boy Scout work, a member of the Board of City Development, the Salvation Army Board and the Lamb County Community Action Committee.

He and his wife, Francine, are parents of three children, and they boast of their one granddaughter.

The "Woman of the Year" is a native of Burnet County, and came to Littlefield in 1951. She taught in Littlefield schools 14 1/2 years, and retired in 1965 after teaching 33 1/2 years in public schools.

Her retirement from teaching has released her to participate more fully in civic work with several organizations. She served as president of Littlefield Classroom Teachers Association in the early 1960's, is past matron of the Order of Eastern Star, was president of the XYZ Club for senior citizens two years, was president of the Littlefield Hospital Auxiliary, has held several offices in the Littlefield Garden Club and serves as adult Sunday school teacher at First Christian Church.

Her late husband, Bill, who died in December, always encouraged her to participate in activities of the various organizations. She has one son, Wayne Davis.

The outstanding farmer, Mitchell, and his wife moved to Lamb County 25 years ago when they bought their 160-acre farm northeast of Spade. They built their home there and raised their daughter, Tricia.

Mitchell has remained a "small" farmer so he will have time to serve others. His community activities include 10 years as a director of the Lamb County Soil and Water Conservation District, a community committeeman on the ASCS board, an officer of the County Program Development Board, on the stock show board, his community gin board and a director on the Co-op Oil Mill board at Lubbock.

Pictorial coverage of the banquet, and further details of the annual event will be included in Thursday's issue of the Leader-News.

Personalized company checks on the Lamb County Hog & Cattle Co. at Amherst were stolen from the company early this week and through the afternoon almost $2,000 worth of checks had been passed in this area.

law violation Friday night. Two aliens were arrested on drunk charges Sunday and were released to the border patrol. An Olton man was arrested on drunk charges Sunday and fined $34 Monday.

Cotton Crop Short With 83,300 Ginned

Inventory of more than $2,200 goods at Fred Locker home about 15 miles northwest of Littlefield was cleared Thursday after arrest of Locker's 38-year-old son, Fred Locker of Lake Dallas.

Roy Wilson at the Texas Employment Commission in Littlefield checked with the 30 gins in Lamb County Friday and found that the county's 1971 cotton crop totaled about 83,300 bales.

The Olton area leads the bale count with 19,630 bales ginned at the Circle, Jack Straw and Olton Co-op Gins.

Five gins in the Earth area totaled 14,686 bales when the survey was made Friday. Littlefield's three gins and the other three area gins account for about 12,218 of the county's bales.

Four Amherst gins had tagged out 8,402 bales.

Three gins at Spade ginned 7,500 bales from the '71 crop.

Beck Gin and the two Sudan gins received around 7,200 bales.

Springlake's three plants weighed in approximately 6,300 bales.

The 1971 bale count is one of the biggest disappointments area farmers have experienced. Until cold, wet weather started in September cotton experts predicted one of the biggest cotton crops yet and estimated Lamb County's part would total 140,000.

This figure was revised down to 120,000, then 100,000 and finally 90,000 with the final bale count dropping even under the lowest figure predicted.

1972 LICENSE plates go on sale Tuesday morning. Tax assessor-collector deputies Judy Rountree, Chere Kierce and Georgia Taylor display some of the personalized tags that Lamb Countians have ordered. The new green reflectorized letters on white start with CFX 425 and go through CGJ 49 for passenger cars registered in Lamb County. Pickups and trucks registered in this county will be 1P 3025 through 1P 5924, and farm tags will be 8-E 5200 through 7399.

Citizen Group Organizing Community Improvement

A volunteer group of Littlefield citizens from various walks of life has been conducting preliminary meetings and making plans for a continuing program of community improvement.

Heading the steering committee are Bill Armistead and Pat Downs, co-chairmen.

The aims are natural ones for people who care, a cleaner city, a more beautiful city and a more livable city.

solicited and expected. An organized effort will be combined with individual initiative for community improvement goals.

Tentative plans call for chairman and committees to be named for residential, business district, industrial, public property, approaches to the city, an official flower, and other areas as needed.

As their organizational work progresses, the committee will identify both specific and general aims of the program.

McDONALD LIKES LITTLEFIELD SQUARES

Dancing Keeps Him Young

By NILAH RODGERS

When the square dance caller puts on his record that gets the squares on the floor and intones: "Square 'em up boys, get on that floor, get your little doll, we need one more" nobody has to tell John McDonald (Johnny Mack) twice.

Johnny Mack first square danced when he was eight years old. Sixty-eight years later he is still at it. Does he mind telling his age? "I'm 76," he said. "Dadgumit!" he added.

If there is a secret to longevity it must be to work all day and dance all night, because that's what Johnny Mack does. He moved to Portales 65 years ago and he's been there ever since. He started his own trucking business in 1935 and even though he sold out several years ago, he still drives a butane transport truck for Portales Butane Company almost every day.

"I dance three nights a week one week and four nights a week the next week," he said. He averages driving 300 miles going to and from each dance, or 560 miles a week.

When Littlefield's Circle Eight Square Dance Club meets every first and third Thursday, McDonald isn't introduced as a guest. He is a member. When dancers from Levelland, Lubbock, Muleshoe and Brownfield clubs are asked to stand up, McDonald could stand up for everyone of them, because there isn't a good square dance club around that he doesn't belong to.

During WWI McDonald quit dancing for a while, but since 1945 he has averaged two dances a week. He goes alone. Mrs. McDonald died eight years ago. "She was a good square dancer," McDonald said. "I'd say 'let's go' and she'd be ready. We raised our two kids in the back seat of the car. I've got a belt given to me for not missing a New Mexico state festival or 20 years."

In the winter or when the weather is bad, McDonald goes to clubs close to Portales. Close that is for those who call the 160 miles between Littlefield and Portales just a hop. In the summer, McDonald said he likes to get out and around and visit with all the clubs he can.

His getting around has landed him as far away as Seattle, Wash. for the National Square Dance Festival. That was year before last, and it was the sixth national festival he has attended.

Besides the regular square dance nights, McDonald never misses an area festival at Lubbock or Roswell.

"I just like to dance," he said. "I don't care how fast or how slow. Oh my Lord, square dancing has changed since I first started. It's about four times as fast. Now everyone dances; used to couldn't but one square at a time get on the floor."

It's been years since McDonald has heard "Old Texas Star" or "Lady round two, gent falls through, gent around two, lady falls through. Circle four, break it all up with a do-si-do. Old or new, he takes the calls as they come, humming, singing and ad libbing as he promenades his partner home.

REGISTRATION CONTINUES

First Voter List Near

Those who have not registered to vote by closing time Monday will be placed on the supplemental voters registration list. Persons who complete voter registration by Monday will be placed on the initial registration list.

The traditional Jan. 31 deadline for registering to vote is no longer in effect. Under the new Texas law, voters may register year round. However, a person must register at least 31 days before an election to be eligible to vote.

Persons moving within a county may transfer their voter registrations from one precinct to another at least 31 days before an election. Voters moving into another county must live there six months before they become eligible to vote.

A person may vote absentee in the county where he is registered during that six months, though.

Voters registering this year will be registered for a period of three years. Registration is automatically extended when the voter casts a ballot in a primary, runoff or general election during that period.

No Threats Made, Says Rep. Clayton

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake laughs at the idea that he threatened Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes over redistricting, as Robert Spellings, executive assistant to Barnes, charged Thursday.

Spellings said Clayton threatened to call Barnes before the House General Investigating Committee unless the redistricting board changed house districts to suit Speaker Gus Mutscher.

"I was in no position to threaten anyone," Clayton said.

"I'm not a member of the investigating committee and I'm perfectly happy with my district," he said.

Clayton now represents Bailey, Castro, Cochran, East Smith, Lamb and Farmer counties. Action of the legislature, in this case unchanged by the redistricting board, changes Clayton's district only by adding Oldham County.

"I was surprised to read in the paper that Spellings said I threatened the lieutenant governor."

"There was certainly a lot of conversation about the redistricting and some people were unhappy."

"But I certainly didn't make any threats," Clayton said.

As recounted by Spellings Thursday in Austin, threats to call Barnes before the investigating committee, "for the purpose of embarrassing him," were made by Clayton and Slider on Oct. 22, while Spellings was working on the house redistricting plan later adopted by the redistricting board.

The house redistricting was assigned to the board after a plan adopted by the legislature was declared to be unconstitutional.

Chili Supper Set Thursday

The Student Council at LHS has planned a chili supper for Thursday, Feb. 3, in the cafeteria of Littlefield Junior High School, from 6 to 8 p.m.

All proceeds will go toward obtaining a foreign exchange student for LHS next year.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. The tickets may be purchased from any student council member at Littlefield High School; or purchased at the door of the cafeteria.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTIONS FIRST

Most Lamb County voters will go to the polls for the first time in 1972 to name school board members.

Three trustees for the Littlefield school system will be named here on April 1.

Wayne Streety moved out of the Littlefield school district the first of the year. No successor was named since his term expires this year.

In addition to Streety's post, the terms of Werner Birkelbach and Bob Roden are expiring. Birkelbach said Friday that he did not plan to run for another term. Birkelbach is completing his third three-year term. Roden is acting president of the board and is completing his first term. He has not indicated whether or not he plans to seek another term.

Other board members are Pat Downs, Glenn Batson, Dicky Hopping and Douglas Walden.

Application forms for filing for the trustee election are in the school secretary's office at 410 Littlefield Drive. Deadline for entering is 30 days prior to the April 1 election.

Balloting will be in the library of the Littlefield Junior High School. Mrs. Harold Clements is election judge.

McDONALD knows most of the words to most of the square dance. He's been square dancing "steady" since 1945, often driving more than 300 miles a week to dance three and four nights a week. Littlefield is his favorite clubs among the 62 organizations he has belonged to. Here he dances with Littlefield's Lana Wallace. "God, she's a good dancer," he says with a shake of his white head.

'My Responsibility To Freedom'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the speech which won County and District 13 first place honors in the Voice of Democracy contest, sponsored by the VFW, for Jimmie Kay Graham, 15-year-old sophomore student at Olton High School. It is printed here in its entirety.)

By JIMMIE KAY GRAHAM

"Alas!" one man exclaimed as he brushed his clothes and stretched his arms and legs. "I didn't think she could make it. But at last, thank God, and only by his grace and glory, we're finally here. America—land of the free, home of the brave!" another remarked as he stepped from the Mayflower, proudly onto Plymouth Rock in 1620. Yes, our freedom, yours and mine, goes back a long time—351 years to be exact. Freedom. Man, what more could I ask of our ancestors? I ask myself though, "What more can our ancestors expect, or in a sense, ask of us?" What have we done to preserve this great gift? Let me think. Well, yes, there are quite a few things we've done: We've promised every person freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of opinion and freedom of the press and we, as a nation, believe that all men are created equal, and countless others. But, what do I, as an individual, have as a responsibility to my freedom? Like the saying that I've heard since I was knee high: "Privileges come with responsibility." I want the privilege of freedom but I'm going to have to accept my responsibility. But I ask, "What responsibilities do I have? I'm just one in 2 billion!" "What do I owe my forefathers?" 1. I can be willing to die for my country so that we can keep freedom. I can volunteer myself instead of making up reasons why I can't serve my country.

Think back: It's the time of the War of 1812. Look around—you don't see any recruiting offices; you don't see any "Uncle Sam needs you!" signs hanging around because men and women at that time were proud to give their lives for their country. They desired intensely that succeeding generations should be just as free as they were. Am I proud enough today? Some people make up reasons why they can't do their part—"I don't agree with the war!" or "I don't want to kill anyone!" "What it all comes down to is they don't have enough courage to die for the freedom they love so much! Keep in mind what President John F. Kennedy said: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." Yes, it's my responsibility to keep freedom alive in America. 2. But it's also my responsibility to spread the principles of freedom to other countries. I can be willing to share my freedom with other countries. I can do this by joining any number of organizations—the Peace Corps or the Youth Corps for example. I can take to other countries what I'm so proud to have. I can help them and teach them the right courses or steps to take. I can, and will, support our young men who have the responsibility to fight and perhaps die for a country which desires to obtain principles of government similar to ours. Or I can just stay right here in my own hometown and help, too. By giving to fund drives such as the widely known United Fund or Care. We sometimes don't realize how grateful that most people would be to live in America. So, I have explained my two basic thoughts concerning our way of life. The two utmost responsibilities to freedom are: 1. For my to try my best to keep freedom alive in America and 2. For me to try my best to promote understanding of democratic ways of life in countries less fortunate than my own.

What Our Readers Think
'Thank You'

Lamb County Library
Box 629
Jan. 28, 1972

Dear Editor:

The Lamb County Library received a federal grant for $1,500 and I would like to take this means to thank every organization, business, and individual that has given a donation to the library, even those that have paid as little as a 5 cent fine. It was through these donations, added to the support of Lamb County, that has helped to bring our library up to the standard where it can receive an LSCA grant. We feel very fortunate that our library is closer to the standard for operation for public libraries of our size, which is size III. From our federal grant, we have already purchased 100 books for our small children, age 3 through grade 3, and we have ordered several books on the use and abuse of drugs. Before long, we hope to have some large print books on our shelves for the aging and those who can't read ordinary print. Thanks again for your support in advertising the library. We can always depend on the news media in Littlefield to bring to the people of Lamb County the news of the library. Sincerely, s/Nora Mae Hicks Nora Mae Hicks

AUSTIN—Another federal court ruling—voiding the new political filing fee law—jarrled state officials and posed the possibility of an emergency special legislative session soon. While an earlier decision invalidating the old filing fee law was still on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, three judges in Dallas knocked out a back-up statute passed last year. If rulings stand, Texas will be without any method of financing its May and June party primary elections. The filing deadline is Feb. 7. In the original 1970 decision on the old law, fees were declared unconstitutional because they were used for revenue-collecting and were an absolute requirement to get on the ballot. Legislators in 1971 passed a law effective Jan. 1, setting maximum filing fees amounting to four per cent of a candidate's term salary. Another provision provided for getting on the ballot by pauper's affidavits of inability to pay, together with a petition signed by 10 per cent of area voters. This, too, was invalidated by a federal court last Thursday. State is now enjoined from implementing any fee system for financing the primaries. Gov. Preston Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock have expressed hope courts will stay the latest order until the Supreme Court rules on the first case. Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry advised party county and state executive committees to make new rules for carrying out the latest ruling. Since there is no authority for state financing of the primaries, a special legislative session apparently would be necessary to provide for that before May. One suggested alternative is voluntary contributions to pay the election bill—an estimated $1.5 million statewide.

OIL ALLOWABLE DELAYED

Texas Railroad Commission decided to delay setting the February oil allowable pending further study. Major purchasers, the commission explained, report inventories are higher than needs, although crude stocks are at a four-year low mark. Seven of 14 major crude oil purchasers requested a larger oil allowable factor for February. Two requested a small one, and five proposed to keep the January factor of 67.5 per cent of potential. The U. S. Bureau of Mines predicted demand in February would be 3,530,000 barrels a day, or 10,000 less than January.

MARIJUANA PENALTY

Two Texas task forces looking into problems of children and youth in preparation for a White House recommendation the penalty for first possession of limited amount of marijuana should be reduced. The groups advised Gov. Preston Smith the penalty should be lowered from misdemeanor status. A total of 264 recommendations made to Smith covering 16 areas of expiation by the steering committee. Other proposals included: *Mandatory sex education in schools as early as possible. *Opposition to capital punishment. *Repeal of abortion laws. *State funds for low cost housing. *Drug education starting in kindergarten or at first grade level.

AG OPINIONS

Texans can claim refunds on past sales taxes paid between Aug. 14 and 10, Atty. Gen Crawford C. Martin said. Those who get refunds of the excise taxes (repealed Aug. 19) must put in for refunds of the state (calculated on the total amount paid) averaging about $8. In another recent opinion, he concluded: *The Board of Pardons and Parole authority to hire two deputy reviewing deputy compact administrator at $600 a year.

RETROACTIVE PAY

State employees and school teachers receive retroactive pay increases for Sept. 1-Nov. 13 period in mid-February. The extra money represents pay approved by the 62nd legislature stalled during the presidential campaign. State officials have notified the pay board of intentions to go through the raises that would have been paid. Since the pay board has until Feb. 15 to challenge payments, Comptroller S. Calvert said he would not retroactive payroll until Feb. 15.

CHOLERA ATTACK

State and federal animal health officials plan to send a task force of inspectors to South Texas to try and destroy the which causes cholera in hogs. Texas Animal Health Commission drafted stringent quarantine measures to restrict movement of breeder and hogs in 54 counties to stop spread of disease. Success of the operation, according to Dr. E. S. Cox of the U. S. Department of Agriculture animal and plant services division, could mean the elimination of the virus in the U. S. He said the virus is not known to exist in any country outside South Texas.

PHILOSOPHER

New Rule

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm says he has discovered a new law.)

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the way civilization works is, first you invent something to make life easier, like the automobile, then you wonder what to do with it when it becomes the unbearable nuisance anybody who was ever caught in a traffic jam will tell you it is. Or take the telephone. The telephone is a fine thing when you need to use it, but it can ring at some of the worst times. Therefore I was pleased to read in a newspaper last night right after my phone rang and it was a wrong number that a man in Maine is asking the Federal Communications Commission to cut off the phone service of a credit company that has been hounding him. I didn't know this, but a new rule allows the Commission to disconnect a loan company's phone if it uses interstate telephone lines for harassment. This is a splendid idea and there must be millions of parents of teen-age children who'll be looking into this law as soon as they find out about it. But the law ought to be expanded. For example, why couldn't it cover the mail too? Say the tax collector is hounding you with delinquent tax notices. Why shouldn't a man have the right to ask the Federal Communications Commission to stop him from using the mail? I don't know of anything more harassing than a tax collector. Getting mail is one of the pleasures of life if the letter is from somebody interested in or has a check in it, but the mail or the telephone to somebody just because he owes you, carrying civilization too far and needs to be stopped just as soon as I was collecting the few bills people owe.

Police jailed one adult male Thursday afternoon, and charged him with public. He was still in jail Sunday morning, pending trial. A bicycle that was reported stolen sometimes Wednesday was brought to the residence Friday, according to owner who lives on West Seventh.

Lamesa Delegation Tours Littlefield

A delegation from Lamesa was in Littlefield Wednesday morning to look over Littlefield's downtown area. City Manager Pat Bradley showed group a colored slide presentation of city, and they later took a tour of downtown area. The Chamber of Commerce's red-coated ambassadors were on hand to extend hospitalities.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Civic Pride

By BOB WEAR

WHOLESOME PRIDE is a reasonable or justifiable self-respect. When this dies, we have lost one of the essential life elements.

When we no longer care how we look, or how we act, or what we do, we are no longer living, but just existing.

WE KNOW HOW IMPORTANT, how very important, "wholesome pride" is to us in our personal lives, in our work and in all other facets of the life pattern.

Therefore, it should be easy enough to realize that the community in which we live; being nothing more than the extension of the lives of the people who dwell in it; benefits from wholesome "civic pride".

WORTHY MEMBERS of a community will be actively and altruistically interested in the community. This is "civic pride". Just as the person who loses personal pride deteriorates into a dreary, discouraging state of existence; a city, in which the people lose a sense of civic pride, deteriorates.

It soon becomes less than it has the potential to be, and may even go down to a point of no return.

FROM THE PRACTICAL viewpoint, such considerations as property values; retail sales; physical growth; capital improvements; etc. are related to the level of civic pride.

All persons who have money invested in a community should be actively concerned with community betterment. There may be some elements of selfishness in this attitude; however, it is not totally selfish and is more than justified; because everybody benefits from such interest.

CIVIC PRIDE is also important from the aesthetic standpoint. In fact, there is a broad overlapping of the practical and the aesthetic in a knowledgeable approach to the most worthwhile community situation.

It is a costly mistake to try to maintain one without the other. A community appeals to people largely on the basis of how it looks to them. These are the first impressions, and have some effect upon all other impressions.

THE FEELING OF INTEREST in the city where we live is one of the sure signs that we are aware of the many blessings of community life, and that we are also grateful for these blessings.

We will accept our fair share of responsibility to give all we are able to give to build up and beautify the place where we live. This is "civic pride".

WE MUST NOT try to force this good attitude upon each other, but we can certainly encourage one another.

"Civic pride" is contagious. Some people may be more susceptible than others, but when those who care the most begin to act; many others will be encouraged to act, too.

"CIVIC PRIDE" is the life spirit of a city. It can be weak or strong. We decide which.

One truth is self-evident; no one is going to do for us what we can and should do for ourselves.

An Aquarium WORLD

It's a little world for these caged fish. Ponds seem prisons enough, but look what man did to them. The roaming space God gave these fish has been reduced to a pittance and that makes it very different. Life is hard enough to live without always having to be on view and having to constantly worry about whether or not you are pleasing the multitudes. But please the multitudes we must, if we are to survive. And that is the irony of it all. For the multitudes complain about what they see and loudly assert that they want change, then turn right around and condemn the man who tries to accomplish that change.

We are really like fish, no longer free to do as we wish, suppressed by walls built by others.

We can do as some, fuss and gripe and condemn present solutions without having anything better to offer. Or we can be like those fish and hang in there and try to survive with the hope that one day change will come and that once again we can live our lives as God intended. We can hope that one day our aquariums will be replaced by Gardens of Eden.

GRASS TETANY
Grass tetany in beef cows can be a problem during the winter season. The condition results from a lack of magnesium and calcium in the animal's diet and affects cows most often in late pregnancy or when nursing calves. Mineral blocks containing magnesium oxide should be provided, and some supplemental feeding may be needed to provide cows with additional energy.

FOOD-WASTE CHAIN
A small farm in Sydney, Australia is showing that an interlinked food-waste chain is possible. The food cycle on the farm works its way down through turkeys, cattle, hogs, ducks and fish. The fish are finally ground up and fed back to turkeys and hogs. The farm annually produces 4,000 turkeys, 250 hogs, 25 head of cattle and 500 ducks on only 10 acres of land. Poultry fits in well in the food-waste chain as the feed to food conversion for all poultry is among the best of any animal species.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office... he helps everybody with their return... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know because income tax returns are our business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared even though we will act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you "round tax service for just a low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

Dayton, Mrs. Davis, Mitchell Get Awards

Littlefield's Chamber of Commerce and Culture Banquet honored Warren Dayton as Littlefield's "Citizen of the Year" Saturday night, and named Mrs. Ed Mitchell "Farmer of the Year". Dayton, who has been employed with Western Public Service Co. 23 years, has been involved in numerous civic activities in Littlefield, and is an active member of First United Methodist Church.

He is a former president of the Chamber of Commerce, has served as president of the Rotary Club, is involved in Boy Scout work, a member of the Board of City Development, the Salvation Army Board and the Lamb County Community Action Committee.

He and his wife, Francine, are parents of three children, and they boast of their one granddaughter.

The "Woman of the Year" is a native of Burnet County, and came to Littlefield in 1951. She taught in Littlefield schools 14 1/2 years, and retired in 1965 after teaching 33 1/2 years in public schools.

Her retirement from teaching has released her to participate more fully in civic work with several organizations. She served as president of Littlefield Classroom Teachers Association in the early 1960's, is past matron of the Order of Eastern Star, was president of the XYZ Club for senior citizens two years, was president of the Littlefield Hospital Auxiliary, has held several offices in the Littlefield Garden Club and serves as adult Sunday school teacher at First Christian Church.

Her late husband, Bill, who died in December, always encouraged her to participate in activities of the various organizations. She has one son, Wayne Davis.

The outstanding farmer, Mitchell, and his wife moved to Lamb County 25 years ago when they bought their 160-acre farm northeast of Spade. They built their home there and raised their daughter, Tricia.

Mitchell has remained a "small" farmer so he will have time to serve others. His community activities include 10 years as a director of the Lamb County Soil and Water Conservation District, a community committeeman on the ASCS board, an officer of the County Program Development Board, on the stock show board, his community gin board and a director on the Co-op Oil Mill board at Lubbock.

Pictorial coverage of the banquet, and further details of the annual event will be included in Thursday's issue of the Leader-News.

THIEF CASE CLEARED

Officers Seek Suspects In Check Theft, Forgery

Personalized company checks on Fred Locker's Hog & Cattle Co. at Amherst were stolen from his office early this week and through the afternoon almost $2,000 worth of checks had been passed in this area. Checks totaling $1,956 had been cashed in Lamb, Hockley and Lubbock counties, according to Sheriff E.D. ...

recovered and that authorities knew where the rest was.

Other arrests this week included Booker T. Ross of Littlefield, charged with liquor law violation Friday night. Two aliens were arrested on drunk charges Sunday and were released to the border patrol. An Olton man was arrested on drunk charges Sunday and fined $34 Monday.

Cotton Crop Short With 83,300 Ginned

Roy Wilson at the Texas Employment Commission in Littlefield checked with the 30 gins in Lamb County Friday and found that the county's 1971 cotton crop totaled about 83,300 bales.

The Olton area leads the bale count with 19,630 bales ginned at the Circle, Jack Straw and Olton Co-op Gins.

Five gins in the Earth area totaled 14,886 bales when the survey was made Friday. Littlefield's three gins and the other three area gins account for about 12,218 of the county's bales.

Four Amherst gins had tagged out 8,402 bales.

Three gins at Spade ginned 7,500 bales from the '71 crop.

Beck Gin and the two Sudan gins received around 7,200 bales.

Springlake's three plants weighed in approximately 6,300 bales.

The 1971 bale count is one of the biggest disappointments area farmers have experienced. Until cold, wet weather started in September cotton experts predicted one of the biggest cotton crops yet and estimated Lamb County's part would total 140,000.

This figure was revised down to 120,000, then 100,000 and finally 90,000 with the final bale count dropping even under the lowest figure predicted.

1972 LICENSE plates go on sale Tuesday morning. Tax assessor-collector deputies Judy Rountree, Chere Kierce and Georgia Taylor display some of the personalized tags that Lamb Countians have ordered. The new green reflectorized letters on white start with CFX 425 and go through CGJ 49 for passenger cars registered in Lamb County. Pickups and trucks registered in this county will be 1P 3025 through 1P 5924, and farm tags will be 8-E 5200 through 7399.

Citizen Group Organizing Community Improvement

A volunteer group of Littlefield citizens from various walks of life has been conducting preliminary meetings and making plans for a continuing program of community improvement.

Heading the steering committee are Bill Armistead and Pat Downs, co-chairmen.

The aims are natural ones for people who care, a cleaner city, a more beautiful city and a more livable city.

Widespread participation is being solicited and expected. An organized effort will be combined with individual initiative for community improvement goals.

Tentative plans call for chairman and committees to be named for residential, business district, industrial, public property, approaches to the city, an official flower, and other areas as needed.

As the organizational work progresses, the committee will identify both specific and general aims of the program.

No Threats Made, Says Rep. Clayton

Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake laughs at the idea that he threatened Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes over redistricting, as Robert Spellings, executive assistant to Barnes, charged Thursday.

Spellings said Clayton threatened to call Barnes before the House General Investigating Committee unless the redistricting board changed house districts to suit Speaker Gus Mutscher.

"I was in no position to threaten anyone," Clayton said.

"I'm not a member of the investigating committee and I'm perfectly happy with my district," he said.

Clayton now represents Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Smith, Lamb and Farmer counties. Action of the legislature, in this case unchanged by the redistricting board, changes Clayton's district only by adding Oldham County.

"I was surprised to read in the paper that Spellings said I threatened the lieutenant governor."

"There was certainly a lot of conversation about the redistricting and some people were unhappy."

"But I certainly didn't make any threats," Clayton said.

As recounted by Spellings Thursday in Austin, threats to call Barnes before the investigating committee, "for the purpose of embarrassing him," were made by Clayton and Slider on Oct. 22, while Spellings was working on the house redistricting plan later adopted by the redistricting board.

The house redistricting was assigned to the board after a plan adopted by the legislature was declared to be unconstitutional.

Chili Supper Set Thursday

The Student Council at LHS has planned a chili supper for Thursday, Feb. 3, in the cafeteria of Littlefield Junior High School, from 6 to 8 p.m.

All proceeds will go toward obtaining a foreign exchange student for LHS next year.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. The tickets may be purchased from any student council member at Littlefield High School; or purchased at the door of the cafeteria.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECTIONS FIRST

Most Lamb County voters will go to the polls for the first time in 1972 to name school board members.

Three trustees for the Littlefield school system will be named here on April 1.

Wayne Streeby moved out of the Littlefield school district the first of the year. No successor was named since his term expires this year.

In addition to Streeby's post, the terms of Werner Birkelbach and Bob Roden are expiring. Birkelbach said Friday that he did not plan to run for another term. Birkelbach is completing his third three-year term. Roden is acting president of the board and is completing his first term. He has not indicated whether or not he plans to seek another term.

Other board members are Pat Downs, Glenn Batson, Dicky Hopping and Douglas Walden.

Application forms for filing for the trustee election are in the school secretary's office at 410 Littlefield Drive. Deadline for entering is 30 days prior to the April 1 election.

Balloting will be in the library of the Littlefield Junior High School. Mrs. Harold Clements is election judge.

McDONALD LIKES LITTLEFIELD SQUARES

Dancing Keeps Him Young

By NILAH RODGERS

When the square dance caller puts on his record that gets the squares on the floor and intones: "Square 'em up boys, get on that floor, get your little doll, we need one more" nobody has to tell John McDonald (Johnny Mack) twice.

Johnny Mack first square danced when he was eight years old. Sixty-eight years later he is still at it. Does he mind telling his age? "I'm 76," he said. "Dadgumit!" he added.

If there is a secret to longevity it must be to work all day and dance all night, because that's what Johnny Mack does. He moved to Portales 65 years ago and he's been there ever since. He started his own trucking business in 1935 and even though he sold out several years ago, he still drives a butane transport truck for Portales Butane Company almost every day.

"I dance three nights a week one week and four nights a week the next week," he said. He averages driving 300 miles going to and from each dance, or 560 miles a week.

When Littlefield's Circle Eight Square Dance Club meets every first and third Thursday, McDonald isn't introduced as a guest. He is a member. When dancers from Levelland, Lubbock, Muleshoe and Brownfield clubs are asked to stand up, McDonald could stand up for everyone of them, because there isn't a good square dance club around that he doesn't belong to.

During WWI McDonald quit dancing for a while, but since 1945 he has averaged two dances a week. He goes alone. Mrs. McDonald died eight years ago. "She was a good square dancer," McDonald said. "I'd say 'let's go' and she'd be ready. We raised our two kids in the back seat of the car. I've got a belt given to me for not missing a New Mexico state festival or 20 years."

In the winter or when the weather is bad, McDonald goes to clubs close to Portales. Close that is for those who call the 160 miles between Littlefield and Portales just a hop. In the summer, McDonald said he likes to get out and around and visit with all the clubs he can.

His getting around has landed him as far away as Seattle, Wash. for the National Square Dance Festival. That was year

REGISTRATION CONTINUES

First Voter List Near

Those who have not registered to vote by closing time Monday will be placed on the supplemental voters registration list. Persons who complete voter registration by Monday will be placed on the initial registration list.

The traditional Jan. 31 deadline for registering to vote is no longer in effect. Under the new Texas law, voters may register year round. However, a person must register at least 31 days before an election to be eligible to vote.

Persons moving within a county may transfer their voter registrations from one precinct to another at least 31 days before an election. Voters moving into another county must live there six months before they become eligible to vote.

A person may vote absentee in the county where he is registered during that six months, though.

Voters registering this year will be registered for a period of three years. Registration is automatically extended when the voter casts a ballot in a primary, runoff or general election during that period.

McDONALD knows most of the words to most of the square dance. He's been square dancing "steady" since 1945, often driving more than 300 miles a week to dance three and four nights a week. Littlefield is his favorite clubs among the 62 organizations he has belonged to. Here he dances with Littlefield's Lana Wallace. "God, she's a good dancer," he says with a shake of his white head.

ANGELA KING

Couple Slates Wedding Date

SUDAN—Mr. and Mrs. U. J. King of Lubbock, formerly of Sudan, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Angela, to Terry Mike Evins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Evins of Fieldton, former Sudan area residents.

'My Responsibility To Freedom'

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the speech which won County and District 13 first place honors in the Voice of Democracy contest, sponsored by the VFW, for Jimmie Kay Graham, 15-year-old sophomore student at Olton High School. It is printed here in its entirety.)

By JIMMIE KAY GRAHAM

"Alas!" one man exclaimed as he brushed his clothes and stretched his arms and legs.

"I didn't think she could make it. But at last, thank God, and only by his grace and glory, we're finally here, America — land of the free, home of the brave!" another remarked as he stepped from the Mayflower, proudly onto Plymouth Rock in 1620.

Yes, our freedom, yours and mine, goes back a long time — 351 years to be exact. Freedom, Man, what more could I ask of our ancestors? I ask myself though, "What more can our ancestors expect, or in a sense, 'ask' of us?" What have we done to preserve this great gift? Let me think.

Well, yes, there are quite a few things we've done: We've promised every person freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom of opinion and freedom of the press and we, as a nation, believe that all men are created equal, and countless others.

But, what do I, as an individual, have as a responsibility to my freedom? Like the saying that I've heard since I was knee high: "Privileges come with responsibility." I want the privilege of freedom but I'm going to have to accept my responsibility. But I ask, "What responsibilities do I have? I'm just one in 2 billion!" "What do I owe my forefathers?"

1. I can be willing to die for my country so that we can keep freedom. I can volunteer myself instead of making up reasons why I can't serve my country.

Think back: It's the time of the War of 1812. Look around — you don't see any recruiting offices; you don't see any "Uncle Sam needs you!" signs hanging around because men and women at that time were proud to give their lives for their country. They desired intensely that succeeding generations should be just as free as they were. Am I proud enough today? Some people make up reasons why they can't do their part — "I don't agree with the war!" or "I don't want to kill anyone!" "What it all comes down to is they don't have enough courage to die for the freedom they love so much! Keep in mind what President John F. Kennedy said: "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." "Yes, it's my responsibility to keep freedom alive in America.

2. But it's also my responsibility to spread the principles of freedom to other countries. I can be willing to share my freedom with other countries. I can do this by joining any number of organizations — the Peace Corps or the Youth Corps for example. I can take to other countries what I'm so proud to have. I can help them and teach them the right courses or steps to take. I can, and will, support our young men who have the responsibility to fight and perhaps die for a country which desires to obtain principles of government similar to ours. Or I can just stay right here in my own hometown and help, too. By giving to fund drives such as the widely known United Fund or Care. We sometimes don't realize how grateful that most people would be to live in America.

So, I have explained my two basic thoughts concerning our way of life. The two utmost responsibilities to freedom are:

1. For my to try my best to keep freedom alive in America and
2. For me to try my best to promote understanding of democratic ways of life in countries less fortunate than my own.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

'Thank You'

Lamb County Library
Box 629
Jan. 28, 1972

Dear Editor:

The Lamb County Library received a federal grant for $1,500 and I would like to take this means to thank every organization, business, and individual that has given a donation to the library, even those that have paid as little as a 5 cent fine.

It was through these donations, added to the support of Lamb County, that has helped to bring our library up to the standard where it can receive an LSCA grant.

We feel very fortunate that our library is closer to the standard for operation for public libraries of our size, which is size III.

From our federal grant, we have already purchased 100 books for our small children, age 3 through grade 3, and we have ordered several books on the use and abuse of drugs.

Before long, we hope to have some large print books on our shelves for the aging and those who can't read ordinary print.

Thanks again for your support in advertising the library. We can always depend on the news media in Littlefield to bring to the people of Lamb County the news of the library.

Sincerely,
s/Nora Mae Hicks

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Civic Pride

By BOB WEAR

WHOLESALE PRIDE is a reasonable or justifiable self-respect. When this dies, we have lost one of the essential life elements.

When we no longer care how we look, or how we act, or what we do, we are no longer living, but just existing.

WE KNOW HOW IMPORTANT, how very important, "wholesome pride" is to us in our personal lives, in our work and in all other facets of the life pattern.

Therefore, it should be easy enough to realize that the community in which we live; being nothing more than the extension of the lives of the people who dwell in it; benefits from wholesome "civic pride".

WORTHY MEMBERS of a community will be actively and altruistically interested in the community. This is "civic pride". Just as the person who loses personal pride deteriorates into a dreary, discouraging state of existence; a city, in which the people lose a sense of civic pride, deteriorates.

It soon becomes less than it has the potential to be, and may even go down to a point of no return.

FROM THE PRACTICAL viewpoint, such considerations as property values; retail sales; physical growth; capital improvements; etc. are related to the level of civic pride.

All persons who have money invested in a community should be actively concerned with community betterment. There may be some elements of selfishness in this attitude; however, it is not totally selfish and is more than justified; because everybody benefits from such interest.

CIVIC PRIDE is also important from the aesthetic standpoint. In fact, there is a broad overlapping of the practical and the aesthetic in a knowledgeable approach to the most worthwhile community situation.

It is a costly mistake to try to maintain one without the other. A community appeals to people largely on the basis of how it looks to them. These are the first impressions, and have some effect upon all other impressions.

THE FEELING OF INTEREST in the city where we live is one of the sure signs that we are aware of the many blessings of community life, and that we are also grateful for these blessings.

We will accept our fair share of responsibility to give all we are able to give to build up and beautify the place where we live. This is "civic pride".

WE MUST NOT try to force this good attitude upon each other, but we can certainly encourage one another.

"Civic pride" is contagious. Some people may be more susceptible than others, but when those who care the most begin to act; many others will be encouraged to act, too.

"CIVIC PRIDE" is the life spirit of a city. It can be weak or strong. We decide which.

One truth is self-evident; no one is going to do for us what we can and should do for ourselves.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From The

State Capital

By BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Another federal court ruling — voiding the new political filing fee law — jarred state officials and posed the possibility of an emergency special legislative session soon.

While an earlier decision invalidating the old filing fee law was still on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, three judges in Dallas knocked out a back-up statute passed last year.

If rulings stand, Texas will be without any method of financing its May and June party primary elections. The filing deadline is Feb. 7.

In the original 1970 decision on the old law, fees were declared unconstitutional because they were used for revenue-collecting and were an absolute requirement to get on the ballot.

Legislators in 1971 passed a law effective Jan. 1, setting maximum filing fees amounting to four per cent of a candidate's term salary. Another provision provided for getting on the ballot by pauper's affidavits of inability to pay, together with a petition signed by 10 per cent of area voters. This, too, was invalidated by a federal court last Thursday.

State is now enjoined from implementing any fee system for financing the primaries.

Gov. Preston Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock have expressed hope courts will stay the latest order until the Supreme Court rules on the first case.

Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry advised party county and state executive committees to make new rules for carrying out the latest ruling.

Since there is no authority for state financing of the primaries, a special legislative session apparently would be necessary to provide for that before May. One suggested alternative is voluntary contributions to pay the election bill — an estimated $1.5 million statewide.

OIL ALLOWABLE DELAYED

Texas Railroad Commission decided to delay setting the February oil allowable pending further study.

Major purchasers, the commission explained, report inventories are higher than needs, although crude stocks are at a four-year low mark.

Seven of 14 major crude oil purchasers requested a larger oil allowable factor for February. Two requested a small one, and five proposed to keep the January factor of 67.5 per cent of potential. The U. S. Bureau of Mines predicted demand in February would be 3,530,000 barrels a day, or 10,000 less than January.

MARIJUANA PENALTY

Two Texas task forces looking into problems of children and youth in preparation for a White House recommendation the penalty for first possession of limited amount marijuana should be reduced.

The groups advised Gov. Preston Smith the penalty should be lowered from misdemeanor status.

A total of 264 recommendations made to Smith covering 16 areas of exploration by the steering committee.

Other proposals included: *Mandatory sex education in schools as early as possible.

*Opposition to capital punishment.

*Repeal of abortion laws.

*State funds for low cost housing.

*Drug education starting in kindergarten or at first grade level.

AG OPINIONS

Texas can claim refunds on past sales taxes paid between Aug. 16 and Oct. 10, Atty. Gen Crawford C. Martin said.

Those who get refunds of the excise taxes (repealed Aug. 16) are put in for refunds of the state (calculated on the total amount paid) averaging about $8.

In another recent opinion, he concluded:

*The Board of Pardons and Parole authority to hire two deputy reviewing deputy compact administrators at $600 a year.

RETROACTIVE PAY

State employees and school teachers receive retroactive pay increases Sept. 1-Nov. 13 period in mid-February.

The extra money represents pay approved by the 62nd legislature stalled during the presidential wage freeze.

State officials have notified the pay board of intentions to go through the raises that would have been paid Sept. 1 had the freeze not been in effect.

Since the pay board has until Feb. challenge payments, Comptroller S. Calvert said he would not retroactive payrolls until Feb. 2.

CHOLERA ATTACK

State and federal animal health officials plan to send a task force of inspectors South Texas to try and destroy the which causes cholera in hogs.

Texas Animal Health Commission drafted stringent quarantine to restrict movement of breeder and hogs in 54 counties to stop spread of disease.

Success of the operation, according to Dr. E. S. Cox of the U. S. Department of Agriculture animal and plant services division, could mean elimination of the virus in the U. S. said the virus is not known to exist outside South Texas.

PHILOSOPHER

New Rule

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm says he has discovered a new law.)

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the way civilization works is, first you invent something to make life easier, like the automobile, then you wonder what to do with it when it becomes the unbearable nuisance anybody who was ever caught in a traffic jam will tell you it is.

Or take the telephone. The telephone is a fine thing when you need to use it, but it can ring at some of the worst times.

Therefore I was pleased to read in a newspaper last night right after my phone rang and it was a wrong number that a man in Maine is asking the Federal Communications Commission to cut off the phone service of a credit company that has been hounding him.

I didn't know this, but a new rule allows the Commission to disconnect a loan company's phone if it uses interstate telephone lines for harassment.

This is a splendid idea and there must be millions of parents of teen-age children who'll be looking into this law as soon as they find out about it.

But the law ought to be expanded. For example, why couldn't it cover the mail too?

Say the tax collector is hounding you with delinquent tax notices. Why shouldn't a man have the right to ask the Federal Communications Commission to stop him from using the mail? I don't know of anything more harassing than a tax collector.

Getting mail is one of the pleasures of life if the letter is from somebody interested in or has a check in it, but the mail or the telephone to somebody just because he owes you, carrying civilization too far and ought to be stopped just as soon as you are collecting the few bills people owe you.

Five Arrested Late Thursday

City police arrested five men Thursday afternoon, and charged with selling without a permit.

They were selling encyclopedias Richardson and Co. of Oklahoma Okla. The company had not posted and the salesmen had not received selling permits as required by ordinance.

They each posted bonds and released. They have 10 days to come in for trial.

Police jailed one adult male on Thursday afternoon, and charged him with public. He was still in jail Sunday morning, pending trial.

A bicycle that was reported sometimes Wednesday was brought to the residence Friday, according to owner who lives on West Seventh.

Lamesa Delegation

Tours Littlefield

A delegation from Lamesa was in Littlefield Wednesday morning to look at Littlefield's downtown area.

City Manager Pat Bradley showed group a colored slide presentation of city, and they later took a tour of downtown area. The Chamber of Commerce's red-coated ambassadors were on hand to extend hospitality.

Dimes Collections

Mothers who marched on Monday night collected $520 for the Dimes Fund.

All contacts were not made, and drive was to continue through the week.

More complete reports on the drive will be reported at a later date.

An Aquarium WORLD

It's a little world for these caged fish. Ponds seem prisons enough, but look what man did to them. The roaming space God gave these fish has been reduced to a pittance and that makes it very different. Life is hard enough to live without always having to be on view and having to constantly worry about whether or not you are pleasing the multitudes. But please the multitudes we must, if we are to survive. And that is the irony of it all. For the multitudes complain about what they see and loudly assert that they want change, then turn right around and condemn the man who tries to accomplish that change.

We are really like fish, no longer free to do as we wish, suppressed by walls built by others.

We can do as some, fuss and gripe and condemn present solutions without having anything better to offer. Or we can be like those fish and hang in there and try to survive with the hope that one day change will come and that once again we can live our lives as God intended.

We can hope that one day our aquariums will be replaced by Gardens of Eden.

CLEANUP PROCESSES were nearing completion by presstime Wednesday. Littlefield Grain Co. According to Doyle Dean, owner of the elevator which burned 18, approximately two-thirds of the grain will be salvaged. Front loaders picked grain and dumped it through a huge screen. The screened grain was re-screened and it was loaded on trucks.

FOOD-WASTE CHAIN
A small farm in Sydney, Australia is showing that an interlinked food-waste chain is possible. The food cycle on the farm works its way down through turkeys, cattle, hogs, ducks and fish. The fish are finally ground up and fed back to turkeys and hogs. The farm annually produces 4,000 turkeys, 250 hogs, 25 head of cattle and 500 ducks on only 10 acres of land. Poultry fits in well in the food-waste chain as the feed to food conversion for all poultry is among the best of any animal species.

The standard deduction is up this year. But maybe you should itemize.

Your best buddy Lenny might have told you to itemize your deductions because it would save you more tax dollars.

Your neighbor possibly suggested taking the standard deduction because you'd pay less taxes that way.

And Frank down at the office ... he helps everybody with their return ... what did Frank recommend?

If there's some way to save you money on your income tax, H & R Block will know how to do it.

Itemized and standard deductions are nothing new. We've been preparing returns for years using both. We'll figure out your situation both ways and then prepare your return using the method that's best for you.

You see, for only a few dollars more than it costs to do it yourself (with advice maybe from some other amateur), you can have your tax return prepared with complete confidentiality by a specially trained member of the H & R Block team. There are thousands of them in over 6,000 conveniently located offices.

Each member of H & R Block is warm, friendly and anxious to help you. A visit to H & R Block usually takes just a short time. Once in our office, you sit down over a free cup of coffee and possibly learn things about your income tax that you never knew existed. Things that we know because income tax returns are our only business.

H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 over 7 million families we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

It means that H & R Block also offers you a "round tax service for just a low fee, with no extra charge for audits and estimates.

Yes, it's true. The standard deduction is up this year.

It's one of the many things we'll consider when we do your return.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.
