

$13 Billion Stock Losses Regained

Wall Street Recovers On News Of Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded vigorously today in sympathy with good news from President Eisenhower's sickbed in Denver.

Security prices recouped generous amounts of the nearly 13 billion dollars erased yesterday in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

President Gets Restful Night, Medics Report

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower enjoyed "a very good night," his hospital physicians reported early today.

A 7 a.m. MST bulletin from Fitzsimmons Army Hospital said: "The President had a very good night."

The medical advisory note was put out by Col. George M. Powell, chief of the hospital's medical department, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician.

The hospital bulletins reporting Eisenhower's satisfactory progress served to raise hopes for his full recovery another notch.

But the cautious optimism was sharply tempered by the note of warning sounded by one of his heart specialist physicians.

"For the first two weeks we keep our fingers crossed," said Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston in reporting here yesterday on the President's condition.

The two weeks won't be up until Oct. 6.

White did say the prospects for Eisenhower's complete recovery within two months are "reasonably good," barring complications.

But he added that complications "can still come," particularly during the first two weeks after an attack.

At a news conference before flying back to Boston, White also said the President should be "physically able" to serve a second term if he wants to.

But the physician called the presidency one of the toughest jobs in the world and declared he had "no conviction one way or the other" as to whether Eisenhower should run for re-election.

TEXAS SPEECH

Stevenson May Draw Big Crowd

AUSTIN (AP)—A standing-room-only crowd may turn out tomorrow night here for a "non-political" lecture by Adlai Stevenson.

It will be his first public appearance since the illness of President Eisenhower rocketed him into a commanding position as a possible Democratic presidential nominee next year.

Many political professionals believe that if Eisenhower's heart attack eliminates him definitely as a candidate in 1956, the Democratic chances of winning back the White House will be greatly stepped up.

Stevenson, once beaten by Eisenhower, nevertheless in 1952 polled the greatest vote ever registered for a Democratic presidential candidate. He is one of the Democrats' three or four top possibilities next year.

He lost in Texas, but most observers believe that if Eisenhower is out of the race in 1956, almost any Democratic candidate will carry Texas.

There are some who believe the Democrats could do it even if the President were to run again.

Stevenson's speech here is plainly labeled non-partisan but he will be open to questions from the crowd at Gregory Gymnasium at the University of Texas.

His replies might be the tip-off to his plans. He has not said whether he would make the race.

While in Texas, Stevenson will spend the night with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson on his Pedernales River Ranch. Aides of Johnson emphasize that it is purely a social occasion.

But with these two top national Democratic leaders in any kind of meeting, it is quite likely that there will be some important political talk, especially in view of the President's illness.

Johnson himself has often been mentioned as a presidential possibility. He is now in the conventional stage from a heart attack suffered in Washington.

Special Delivery For Lake J. B. Thomas

Here is part of billions of gallons of water which might normally have gone down Bull Creek into the Colorado and on to Lake Buchanan above Austin—but in this case being delivered specially to Lake J. B. Thomas.

Creek carrying water into Lake Thomas in the background. At the point in the foreground, water in the channel is 80 feet wide at the top, 20 feet deep and 20 feet wide at the bottom. Lake Thomas' level had come up a little more than six feet since Sunday.

Big 3 Envoys Meet For Strategy Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—The foreign ministers of France, Great Britain and the United States began strategy talks here today aimed at getting concrete results from the Big Four meetings that start in Geneva Oct. 27.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles came back from talks in Canada on U. S.-Canadian trade and economy last night to join British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay for at least two days of concentrated talks.

They had before them in the Presidential Suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel a working program of strategy tying in some kind of European disarmament and security pledges with a drive to unify East and West Germany—and to hold Germany in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization despite Russian opposition.

The announcement came about half way through the trial of the suit, and halted district court proceedings until Thursday morning when another jury is to report for service.

Bruce was killed as a result of an accident at the western edge of Big Spring on June 23, 1954. His car was in collision with a truck driven by Ralph W. Davis of Big Spring. His heirs had asked $72,000 for actual damages and $50,000 exemplary damages in their suit against Davis and the H. L. Wilkerson Trucking Company.

38,000 ACRE FEET Rains Pour Huge Torrent Into Lake

Level of Lake J. B. Thomas had risen more than six feet Tuesday noon, accounting for approximately 38,000 acre feet of additional water.

Still more water from the deluge which descended on northeastern Borden County during Sunday afternoon was coming down the diversion channel from Bull Creek. However, the volume was dropping steadily and E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, ventured that not more than half a foot additional water would be received.

Elevation at 11 a.m. stood at 2,253.05 feet, or up by 6.11 feet from the level as of Sunday morning.

Lake Thomas, the reservoir for the CRMWD, now contains approximately 166,000 acre feet, or 82 per cent of capacity.

The lake level is less than five feet from the service spillway level (elevation 2,258).

Late Monday afternoon head on the floodwaters pressing on the Bull Creek diversion stopped going over the spillways and confined all its outflow to the diversion channel into Lake Thomas. For a time the amount of water coming down Bull Creek was so great and rapid it coursed over the north and south emergency spillways.

O. H. Ivie, production engineer for CRMWD, said there had been some erosion of the spillways, but nothing serious. The damage will be repaired promptly as a matter of maintenance. The diversion dam, which once had two plugs washed out on the northern levy in the heavy flood of April 1954, held perfectly.

As indicated by debris on trees, of approximately 10 feet.

The catch from the current runoff is the greatest on record for Lake Thomas for a single rain. Nearest thing to it was the catch of 30,000 acre feet following the April 16, 1954 flood.

Spence reported, the lake has caught 113,000 acre feet of water. During all of last year the catch was 88,000 acre feet. The present content of 166,000 acre feet approximates 55 billion gallons of water. The lake now has 7,000 surface acres of water, or just under 11 square miles. The lake proper extends seven miles upstream on the Colorado, and a mile or so further in the Colorado River channel.

At noon Tuesday the flow down the diversion channel had dropped to 10 feet, half the depth of Monday's peak. The rate of increase at Lake Thomas had dropped off to about .05 of a foot per hour.

The Big Spring City Commission will meet today at 5:15 p.m. in the commission room at the city hall.

George Oldham, secretary of the Citizens Traffic Commission, said eight recommendations for traffic safety in the city had been made to the commission and they may be considered tonight by the commissioners, among other things.

Sergeant On Trial In Child's Death

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The murder trial of Sgt. L.C. Robert Lee Paxton, charged in the death of his tiny stepdaughter, continued here today in U.S. Dist. Judge Ben H. Rice Jr.'s court.

Special Agent Tom E. Neal of the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday testified about events leading up to the May 8 death of 4-year-old Brenda Kay Paxton.

Neal quoted the defendant as saying that he slapped the little girl several times over a period of days and once whipped her on the buttocks for disobeying him.

After the sergeant slapped the girl on the right side of the face, Neal said, the service man and his wife found the child on the floor of their kitchen.

The child at this point was in a semi-conscious condition, Neal quoted the defendant as telling him, and her temperature rose to 106. He said Paxton went to sleep after bathing the child's face and lowering her temperature to 101.

Next morning, the agent quoted the defendant further, "She looked all right and appeared to be asleep."

But later in the morning, said the FBI agent, Paxton's wife looked the soldier up at his Army station, told him Brenda Kay was sick. "I thought she was gone," Neal quoted Paxton as saying.

He wrapped the child in a blanket, Neal said, and took her to Brooke Army Hospital where she was pronounced dead.

The entire situation undoubtedly will come up for new study in Washington later in the week at meetings of the President's Cabinet and the National Security Council, the government's top policymaking unit on security matters.

Word that the meetings have been called was kept from the President in line with an already firm policy of trying to spare him as much concern as possible regarding the problems his illness has created.

Agreement Reached In Suit For Damages

Attorneys this morning announced settlement of the $122,000 suit for damages filed by survivors of the late Ward County Deputy Sheriff A. B. Bruce.

The announcement came about half way through the trial of the suit, and halted district court proceedings until Thursday morning when another jury is to report for service.

Bruce was killed as a result of an accident at the western edge of Big Spring on June 23, 1954. His car was in collision with a truck driven by Ralph W. Davis of Big Spring. His heirs had asked $72,000 for actual damages and $50,000 exemplary damages in their suit against Davis and the H. L. Wilkerson Trucking Company.

Terms of the settlement were not announced. Jurors who had been hearing testimony in the case were J. D. Elliott, Jack Richbourg, Dean H. Johnson, H. A. Carr, Mrs. C. O. Nalley, Martin Binder, Cliff Proffitt, W. A. Fitzgerald, L. H. Nichols, Mrs. Tom A. Chain, R. H. Carter Jr., and Mrs. T. E. Jordan.

Tips for Mothers WHO HAVE FINICKY EATERS (any age)

- 1. Brighten breakfast with Imperial Brown Sugar sprinkled generously over hot cereal. The rich taste of brown sugar gives cereal appealing flavor. You may want to top with a dab of bright colored jelly and a few chopped nuts, too — looks like a butter-scotch sundae. Kids will scrape the bowl and ask for more!
- 2. Tastier toast for breakfast or snacks . . . topped with Imperial Brown Sugar. Cream brown sugar with butter or margarine and a dash of cinnamon. Spread toast with mixture; place under broiler until topping is lightly browned and bubbly. For Caramel Nut Toast, add chopped nuts to mixture.
- 3. Tender flaky hot biscuits are even better with sweet centers. Just press each biscuit with your thumb to make a tiny well. Brush tops with milk and fill well with Imperial Brown Sugar. Bake as usual. They come from the oven golden brown with sweet centers.
- 4. Try this new way to serve the apple-a-day. Halve, core, but do not peel 6 medium apples. Place cut side up in baking dish. Fill center of each with Imperial Brown Sugar. Top with 1/2 slice pineapple; sprinkle with cinnamon. Pour 1/2 cup pineapple juice into bottom of dish. Bake at 350° F. for 1 1/2 hours.
- 5. A healthful drink to satisfy between-meal-hunger is nourishing Butterscotch Flavored Milk. Combine 1 1/2 cups Imperial Brown Sugar, 2 tablespoons white corn syrup, 1/2 cup cream, 1/2 cup buttermilk in saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until sauce thickens and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat; add vanilla and cool. Add sauce to cold milk (1 1/2 cups) in pitcher for each cup of milk; blend well. Sauce is excellent topping for sundaes and desserts, too!

Bread 'n Butter 'n BROWN SUGAR... a healthful snack or mealtime treat

Here's a quick and easy old-fashioned treat that children like better than most fancy desserts. And it combines two of nature's basic health foods . . . bread and sugar. Bread is a foundation food for the growing child. Many modern children do not eat enough bread. Sugar is nature's purest form of quick energy. And children burn up energy fast. Imperial Brown Sugar contains many extra health values. So serve Bread and Butter and Brown Sugar often . . . it's both a health food and a treat.

Some water may still be seen going around the northern spillway (it had gone around there four feet deep at one time) and at the extreme southern end. The black arrows denote the diversion channel carrying the floodwaters to Lake J. B. Thomas, which stretches in the background.

State To Seek Death Penalty For Washburn As Trial Begins

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—The state said today it would ask the death penalty for Harry Washburn, charged with planting a dynamite bomb that blew his ex-mother-in-law to death.

Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver, wealthy West Texas ranchwoman, was killed last January when she started the family car here.

Out of the first two prospective jurors questioned, one was selected. This was Mrs. Jack L. Downing, a housewife.

The state tipped its hand in questioning prospective jurors. Special prosecutor Earl Smith said the state would ask the death penalty on a case based on circumstantial evidence.

"There were no eye-witnesses who saw the bomb attached to the car," Smith said.

The original jury venire of 132 had been cut to 82 by excuses when picking of a panel began.

The prospective jurors were a cross-section of sweat-soaked ranchers from this sheep-raising area and townspeople. Forty women were included on the panel.

Mrs. Downing is the first woman to serve on a jury in 51st District Court.

Three prospective jurors failed to show up and were fined $25.

On the eve of the trial, Atty. Carl Runge was asked if the $10,000 reward posted by Mrs. Weaver's husband had been claimed.

"There's 19 guesses" as to who will get the reward for information leading to the arrest of the woman's slayer, Runge said.

This indicated 19 persons had made a claim for it. Fifty-first Dist. Judge Joe L. Mays overruled a defense demand yesterday that the murder indictment be quashed because it was "insufficient and faulty." The defense attorneys said they had no further motions and announced they were ready for trial.

State To Seek Death Penalty For Washburn As Trial Begins

Washburn, who says he was 400 miles away in Houston when 10 sticks of dynamite blasted Mrs. Weaver to death, appeared yesterday in a neat blue suit, blue tie, white shirt and handkerchief and black shoes. He appeared nervous but soon became engrossed in the proceedings.

"I feel very confident" the bespectacled defendant told reporters. Then he smiled and quipped: "However, I notice the district attorney is smoking a cigar. During the grand jury he was only smoking cigarettes. Maybe he's confident, too."

Washburn's attorneys in the court room were Cliff Tupper and Clyde V. Vinson, local attorneys, and C. S. Farmer, Waco, Earlier, he was represented by Perry Foreman, well-known Houston criminal lawyer.

At the prosecution table were Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes; Smith; Justin Keever, Stokes' assistant, and Joseph Foy Jr., member of Smith's firm.

At previous hearings, the state has said that the car bomb apparently was intended for Mrs. Weaver's husband, Harry E. Weaver, well-known architect. Weaver has said that Washburn felt the Weaver family tried to interfere with their daughter's marriage to Washburn. The couple was divorced in 1952 and Washburn later gained custody of the children, Gregory, 6, and Margaret, 4. The former Mrs. Washburn has remarried.

Indicted with Washburn in the slaying of Mrs. Weaver, 51, was Andrew H. Nelson, 45, a state prison convict who was brought here to testify. He was returned to the penitentiary after a 1934 conditional pardon of a life sentence was revoked.

Carl Heninger, Houston, who once was charged in Mrs. Weaver's death, was one of the missing witnesses yesterday. He reported late in the afternoon after arriving from Houston with a Texas Ranger. All charges were dropped and he was released several days after his arrest.

The other five missing witnesses yesterday that were declared necessary by the state were Charles Mintor, Houston garageman who worked on Washburn's car Jan. 17; R. D. Shallert, Houston officer who investigated an auto accident in which Washburn was involved; Doys Thompson, former Galveston rent-a-car agency employee; Will Henson, Del Rio hotel operator, and Mrs. M. E. Musket, Houston, mother of an acquaintance of Washburn's.

Another missing witness yesterday was Mrs. Carl Heninger, former woman wrestler known as "Nature Girl." Officers said they were unable to find her. She once told police she turned down an offer of $10,000 to kill Weaver.

Want An Oil Well In Your Backyard?

SHERMAN, Tex. (P)—The Charles Giarraputo family at 1915 N. Crockett St. feels as if that oil well were just a member of the family. "That oil well" is actually just outside the window, flush up against the south wall of the Giarraputo home. But its huge motors throb, the drills stem clanks as it's slammed into place in the rig towers, and the Giarraputo home shakes and groans with the noise. It's been going on for three months. "Sometimes I don't even notice it at all," Mrs. Giarraputo told a reporter. "But sometimes (she raised her voice a bit as the noise rose outside), when I'm hot and tired and the children have been difficult, the noise just seems to bounce off the walls." "Pony Jim"—that's 5-month-old James Anthony—has lived with the noise for four-fifths of his life and doesn't know anything different. Jeannette, 2, was frightened at first by the big diesel trucks but has grown used to it. "I asked the doctor if the noise would damage the children's ears," said Mrs. Giarraputo. "He said the noise wouldn't, but they will probably have some trouble adjusting to silence again." The drillers still have about a thousand feet to go before they reach the 11,050-foot depth where they hope to hit oil. Meanwhile, life gets difficult. The heat from the rig makes it impossible for Mrs. Giarraputo to use her kitchen much during the day. She washes the dishes in the evening. Most family dinners are cooked on an electric bean pot, a gift of Mrs. Giarraputo's mother. And Mr. and Mrs. Giarraputo had to move into the north bedroom with the children. Their southeast bedroom was too close to the drilling. Once the drilling crew hit a gas pocket, Mrs. Giarraputo had to turn the pilot light out on her gas stove and evacuate the house for a day. A neighbor, Freddie Lee, says, "It's like having neighbors next door, the kind that fight all the time." The Giarraputos have one consolation: They can dream of some measure of wealth, or just think about it when the noise is too much. They have an interest in the well and are rooting for it to pay off.

Hemisphere Nations Back Spanish Plea For Entry Into U.N.

UNITED NATIONS (P)—The United States and Latin America lined up today behind Spain's application for membership in the United Nations. There was no immediate reaction from the Soviet Union and other U.N. members. Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. issued a statement saying his government "will support Spain's candidacy." The Spanish observer at the U.N., Jose S. de Ercia y O'Shea, submitted the Spanish membership application to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold yesterday. There seemed little likelihood, application would not pass the Security Council veto of the Soviet Union.

Fine Line Drawn 'Twixt Cup And Lip

BOSTON (P)—The fine line between drunkenness and intoxication was drawn yesterday in Municipal Court. The subject came up during Police Sgt. Daniel Perry's testimony against a woman he had arrested. Judge Daniel J. Gillen, seeking Perry's opinion, asked if he thought the woman was drunk. Perry said he thought the woman was intoxicated, pointing out that in his opinion there is a difference. The sergeant said: "Intoxication means only that a person is not acting normally." Judge Gillen agreed and acquitted the woman of drunkenness.

When police arrested Oba Monday he quipped: "Any handsome man like me can do it."

Bone Hardening In Fluorinated Areas Reported

CHICAGO (P)—Two X-ray specialists reported today that minor, although harmless, bone changes have been found in a few persons who have drunk heavily fluorinated water for many years. Drs. Clyde A. Stevenson and Ralph Watson of Temple, Tex., reviewed the medical records of X-ray examinations on file at the Scott and White Clinic in Temple for the 11-year period from 1943 through 1953. They said that of 170,000 X-ray examinations made of the spine and pelvis, they found evidence of fluoride-induced bone hardening in 23 cases. In prepared reports, they told delegates to the 56th annual meeting of the American Roentgen Ray Society that the X-ray films were made on patients primarily from Texas and Oklahoma. In Texas, there were more than 270 communities having relatively high concentrations of fluoride in their drinking water, while in Oklahoma, there are 50 such towns, they said. Their conclusions: The earliest changes occurred in the pelvis and lumbar spine. They consisted of slightly increased bone density and a "ground glass appearance." The skull or extremities showed no changes except for a slight roughening in the forearms or legs of a few patients. No clinical correlation or significance could be attached to the X-ray findings—in other words, the patients reported no ailments attributable to the bone changes. There was no unusually high incidence of anemia, hardening of the arteries, arthritis or kidney disease among the total number of cases studied.

Chilean Provinces Under Martial Law
SANTIAGO, Chile (P)—Five Chilean provinces today were under a state of siege—modified martial law. President Carlos Ibanez's government said it needed the added authority to deal more effectively with "subversive activities and movements aiming at overthrowing the constitutional regime." The Cabinet decided on the move after efforts failed to end a six-day strike in the Chuquibambuta copper mine in Antofagasta province, a subsidiary of the U.S. Anaconda company.

Egypt Accepts Russ Arms Supply Offer

LONDON (P)—Egypt has informed Britain that she has accepted a Russian offer to supply her with arms and military equipment, the Foreign Office said today. Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan will discuss this development with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles during their meetings now taking place in New York, a spokesman told the daily Foreign Office news conference. The United States, Britain and France are bound under a 1950 declaration to maintain the military balance of power — and to prevent an outright arms race — between the Arab countries of the Middle East and the State of Israel. The Foreign Office spokesman said in answer to a question: "Our ambassador, Sir Humphrey Trevelyan, was told by the Egyptian government last night that it has accepted the Russian offer to supply arms." The secretary of state (Macmillan) will discuss both the Russian offer and the Egyptian acceptance of it with the American secretary of state in New York." The spokesman said he could not give the precise nature of Russia's offer or of the arrangement which Egypt has accepted. British officials said they assumed that French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will be brought into the discussion between Macmillan and Dulles in New York. All three are attending the U. N. Assembly and are preparing for the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month. The Big Three Western Powers will reconsider their own policy of supplying arms to Egypt in the light of Russia's entry into the Middle East scene, the British officials said. The United States, Britain and France have been guided in their arms delivery to the Arab countries by their joint declaration of 1950. In practice, this has meant that they have tried to maintain a military balance of power between the Jewish State of Israel and its Arab neighbors. The Arab countries, including Egypt, are still technically at war with Israel, although in a state of armistice. The Foreign Office spokesman's disclosure came only 24 hours after the State Department confirmed that the United States had offered to sell weapons to the Egyptians. The State Department said that agreements for arms aid to Middle East countries are "solely for the purpose of enabling these countries to maintain internal security and to defend themselves against aggression."

Warm Weather Is U.S. Outlook

By The Associated Press
A little warmer weather was the outlook for wide areas of the country today after a brief chilly spell. The biggest rises in temperatures, averaging 10 to 15 degrees, were reported in the plains states, the northern Rockies and the Great Lakes region. It was 51 this morning at Grand Marais, Mich., 25 degrees above yesterday morning's reading. Temperatures over wide areas of the country were in the 50s and 60s. They were in the 40s and lower in New England, the Western Plains and the higher elevations of the Rockies, and in the 70s in the immediate Gulf Coast, the lower Mississippi Valley, including eastern Texas, and the Southwest desert region. The large area of precipitation over the middle section of the country narrowed to a belt about 300 miles wide, extending from eastern Kansas and Missouri northward into Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas.

Fewer Deaths Today From Heart Attacks

Editor's Note - The amount of work your heart does is almost beyond belief. In a year, it beats 28 million times. Often it goes on and on, until some other disease brings death. More often, it gives up. Why? Medical science doesn't know all the answers. It is making progress. What it is doing is outlined in a series of four articles, of which this is the first.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

NEW YORK - President Eisenhower's heart attack comes just at the time medical science is scoring its first dramatic victories against the nation's leading killer.

Just 30 years ago, heart attacks like his killed 50 per cent of the men they struck.

Today 80 to 90 per cent survive the first attack.

And best of all, many go back to normal lives and normal or nearly normal work. Most can live happily for many years.

This radical change was born of new knowledge, new drugs to combat high blood pressure, new heart surgery to repair defective hearts, heart-lung machines putting your own heart on a holiday and new tips of how to live with your heart and avoid trouble.

Consider, first, this instrument of life's vitality, an organ the size of two fists, it beats and pumps 38 million times a year. Daily it pumps 4,320 gallons of blood through 60,000 miles of blood vessels—a distance 2 1/2 times the earth's equator.

It rarely complains. It adjusts blood flow to the demands of your body. But your heart has a secret—it rests between strokes.

Slightly less than half the time it's working. Better than half the time, it relaxes.

Why is it vulnerable to the heart attack, the coronary thrombosis which the President suffered?

Your heart is a muscle. It also must have nourishment, brought to it by the blood. So your heart sends some of its refreshed oxygen-carrying blood through its own private system of arteries and veins.

These arteries, along with others in the body, are susceptible to a clogging and narrowing process. Deposits of fatty material can form inside the artery wall, narrowing and impeding the blood flow, much like rust collecting inside iron pipes. This process is called atherosclerosis, and is a form of hardening of arteries.

The clogging sometimes gradually cuts off the blood flow. Much more often, blood clots begin to form as the blood flows past the roughened area. The clot then can suddenly shut off the blood flow. This is the coronary thrombosis.

The shutdown prevents oxygen and food from reaching part of the heart muscle. Cells in the area served by the blocked artery die.

But the heart is tough and sturdy. It can recover, if not too large an area of muscle has been hit.

Other coronary arteries can expand and stretch to begin taking blood into the affected area, or new blood vessels grow into it. Normal repair processes form scar tissue in the deadened area. Scar tissue is not as good as normal healthy muscle tissue, but the heart can make a comeback to resume its pumping duties.

Complete rest gives the heart time to make repairs. Blood-thinning drugs can't dissolve the clot blocking an artery, but they can prevent it from spreading, or prevent complications such as clots forming in arteries of the legs during the long period of rest. Drugs help relieve the pain.

Judicious use of blood-thinning or anticoagulant drugs, such as heparin and dicoumarol, is credited with a large role in boosting survival from heart attacks. Strict rest for a time, oxygen, digitalis, or other drugs as indicated, and other improvements in medical care have contributed a heavy share.

Another aid is the electrocardiogram—a map of the electrical action or conductivity of the heart. It can pretty well locate for physicians where the clot occurred, what areas of the heart were blocked, hence how serious the damage is, how treatment should be tailored.

Dr. Paul D. White, noted specialist who tended Eisenhower, pictures an optimistic outlook for the President, barring complications.

Arthur M. Master, in a recent medical journal report.

He and associates report only a 5 per cent death rate from first attacks among patients seen in private practice, and add:

"Many of these patients who survive the acute attack live for many years and approach the ordinary life span. They are able to work and lead productive lives. Many of them resume their original occupations and professions, which may be fairly strenuous."

Lately, scientists are turning up clues to answer the most critical question—the cause, and prevention, of the clogging of arteries.

Heredity, diet, hormones, and physical and emotional stress all appear to play roles in this complicated chemical picture, says Dr. Robert Warner, assistant medical director of the American Heart Assn.

Some researchers suspect the main culprit is large molecules of a fatty material, cholesterol. It is contained in many foods; arteries also manufacture it. Some other authorities suspect diets too rich in fats generally.

Women are far less susceptible to coronary attacks. Does female sex hormone somehow protect them? One research team is giving female hormone to men who have had coronaries, to see if the hormone protects them from further attacks.

Obesity is blamed for increasing chances of heart attacks. So is high blood pressure. Recent studies suggest obesity may not be a cause of coronaries in women, but is definitely related to such attacks in men.

Heart attacks claim far fewer victims among men in some other nations than the United States. Why? Diet, heredity, what?

Is the clogging or atherosclerotic process just a consequence of growing old? Evidence of coronary disease was found in three-fourths of 300 young men, averaging 32 years old, who were killed in battle in Korea.

From such questions, from laboratory findings, from research, are coming clues to solve the mystery. There is no answer yet, no proven way to predict who may have a heart attack, or how to prevent the deadly toll exacted each year.

The great reason for optimism is that the search is on, and the pace is quickening.

Next: Successes against rheumatic fever, and high blood pressure.

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP)—The Russians have released two U.S. airmen whose jet trainer made a forced landing Friday, in Communist East Germany.

An Air Force spokesman said the pilot, Maj. Lois W. Cunningham of El Paso, Tex., and Sgt. Warren F. Gebler of Jersey City, N.J., were in good shape when they were handed over last night at Herleshausen.

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Spectators at the opening of the Harry L. Washburn murder trial here yesterday were surprised to see the defendant sporting a deep, nut-brown suntan.

Washburn has been in jail since his arrest last Jan. 29.

However, local officers had an answer to suntan question. Washburn's cell is on the "sunny side" of the Tom Green County jail and often sits in the window for long periods waving to passers-by on the street below.

House Probers To Look Into Navy Jet Buying

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) says the House Military Operations subcommittee, of which he is chairman, will make an inquiry of the Navy's handling of its jet fighter plane procurement program.

Hollifield made this announcement in a statement issued yesterday from his Washington office, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat said.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) and Rep. Karsten (D-Mo) had called for congressional investigations after a Globe-Democrat copyrighted story that the Navy has admitted it has 21 jet fighters costing $29,350,000 which probably never will fly because of insufficient engine power.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, sent a telegram to Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas demanding an explanation.

The first secretary of the Air Force, Symington said he believed the Navy and Westinghouse Electric Corp., manufacturer of the engines, shared responsibility for the failure of the engines to supply sufficient power.

But a Westinghouse spokesman said after publication of the story Saturday that his firm merely produced the type of engine the Navy had ordered.

Texas Crime Rate Shows Slight Drop

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas cities had fewer murder, non-negligent manslaughter, robbery and auto theft cases in the first six months of this year than in the first half of 1954.

This is shown in the semi-annual report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), just made public. On the other hand, there was a slight increase in the Texas rates of aggravated assaults, burglaries and larcenies.

The report gives this comparison for the January-June periods of 1954 and 1955, for offenses known in Texas per 100,000 inhabitants in 1954 figures first:

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter — 5.3 and 4.3; robbery — 23.9 and 18.9; auto theft — 125.4 and 116.4; aggravated assault — 45 and 62.3; burglary — 291.1 and 309.7; larceny — 703.4 and 740.1.

For the nation as a whole the FBI says estimated urban crimes decreased 7 per cent.

Around the capital: Texas contributions to the Democratic and Republican parties during the quarter ended Aug. 31 are shown in reports just filed with the clerk of the House, as required by law.

Larger contributions from Texas are listed by the Democratic National Committee included: Democratic Advisory Council, San Antonio, $18,362; East Texas Democrats, Tyler, $562; Texas Senatorial District No. 28, Lubbock, $2,650; G. H. Nelson, Lubbock, $1,350; Harris County Democrats, $1,112; J. J. Victor, Harlingen, $100, Total, $28,136.

Contributions listed by the Republican National Committee included $8,000 from the Texas Finance Committee, Houston, and $500 from Henry C. Adams, Houston.

The National Republican Congressional Committee (which helps Republican candidates in House races) reported receipt of $9,500 from the Texas Republican Finance Committee, which also was listed as giving $8,500 to a similar committee to aid in election campaigning of Republican senatorial candidates. Total, $27,500.

Former Rep. Ben Gull of Pampa, a Republican, now a member of the Maritime Commission, has just returned from an official inspection tour of Europe.

Accompanying him on the trip was his father-in-law, C. P. Buckler, 70, of Pampa. Fifty years ago Buckler came to this country from England and went to work with the White Deer Land Co. on the Panhandle prairies.

6 Persons Die In Auto Crash On Freeway

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Six persons, including a family of five, were killed and four others seriously injured last night in a four-car collision on the San Bernardino Freeway.

Highway patrolmen said the crash, one of the worst to occur on a southern California freeway, came when a sedan leaped the center concrete divider at high speed and plowed into oncoming traffic.

The driver, Victor L. de Casus, 32, wholesale grocer of Santa Fe, N.M., and Los Angeles, was booked on suspicion of six counts of manslaughter. He suffered cuts and bruises.

The dead were identified tentatively as Joseph Golden, 54, Duarte, Calif.; his wife Minnie, 39, a daughter, Linda, 4, a son, Robert, 9, another son, 11, and William L. Spackler, 24, of Los Angeles.

Another family of four in a fourth car — Mr. and Mrs. David B. Hearn and their two children, of Van Nuys, were hospitalized with internal injuries.

Spackler was driving one car, Golden, a second.

The gasoline tank of one car erupted in flames and spewed a stream of fire down the freeway threatening scores of other cars before it was extinguished.

Eddie, Debbie Wed In Brief Ceremony

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher and actress Debbie Reynolds were married last night in a brief ceremony at the Catskill Mountains resort where Eddie embarked on his career to stardom.

Six years ago, Eddie was introduced to a hotel night club audience here as a "young man who will be one of the country's most important singers."

Last night Sullivan County Judge Lawrence Cooke united him with the blonde, diminutive actress in a three-minute ceremony attended only by some 30 relatives and close friends.

The ceremony, originally planned for Sunday, was postponed until last night because of Yom Kippur, Jewish day of atonement. Eddie is of the Jewish faith.

Said Cooke in addressing the newlyweds:

"I know this ceremony was planned for yesterday. I admire you, Mr. Fisher, for keeping the precepts of your religion and you, Mrs. Fisher, for respecting your husband's beliefs."

Debbie is a Protestant. Cooke, a tall, bespectacled man, wearing the robes of his office, then said:

"Almighty God has blessed you both with great talent. But your richest gift will come from the joy and happiness that will flow from this marriage."

The newlyweds smiled throughout most of the ceremony, except when they repeated their marital vows. Their voices rang clear in the living room of a cottage of a friend adjoining Grossinger's Hotel, where Eddie started his singing career in 1949.

Eddie kissed his bride with gusto and she gave out a loud sigh. This was the 26-year-old Eddie and the 23-year-old Debbie.

Let's take a walk around the NEW '56 FORD!

1. We would like to show you some of the things that make the new 1956 Ford one of America's finest cars—despite the fact it is one of America's lowest-priced cars. Let's start with these long, low lines. Looks like it hates to stand still, doesn't it?

2. Here, on your left, is the inspiration for the styling of the '56 Ford—the famous Ford Thunderbird, America's most talked-about car. You can see the similarity from any angle. Look at those broad, flat hoods, those visored headlights, for example. Here is styling that will stay in style.

3. Here's what you ride on. This frame has five cross-members including a special K-bar member up front. It can really take it! And, by the way, Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension cushions out head-on as well as up-down shock of bumps.

4. Here's the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8... and we assure you, it will give you a new lease on driving enjoyment. It's available in Fordomatic Fairlane and Station Wagon models. And you can have the "GO"-packed 176-h.p. Y-8 in Fordomatic Mainline and Customline models. Ford's new 137-h.p. Six is available in all models.

President's Recovery Can Bring Hope

The first flurry of hysteria surrounding the President's heart attack has passed, and now we may examine the situation more soberly and clearly. The two manifestations of concern when news of the attack was first released — one an almost fatalistic acceptance that the end was near, the other an almost ghoulish speculation on whether this development would take the Mr. Eisenhower out of next year's presidential campaign. Among Republicans and Democrats alike, the latter prospect had virtually obscured the distressing fact that the head of the union lies seriously ill. Political "experts," columnists and commentators — most of whom do their weighty analysis from an armchair or the sanctuary of an office — will continue to pounce upon this development with all the fervor of a jackal upon a bone. No sense of proportion or balance will drive them off the subject.

The information now is that the President's attack was neither slight nor severe. This would mean that he may ally many of the initial fears for his survival. On the other hand, we may not expect him to resume his work nearly so soon as though it had been a very mild attack.

There is no reason, however, to conclude that the President cannot again be active and at least complete his term with usual dispatch. Sen. Lyndon Johnson sustained a very severe attack, and yet his recovery is progressing to the point that he is confident of resuming his role as Democratic leader in the Senate when Congress reconvenes in January. We pray that the President will be back at his desk before that. His convalescence would bring more hope than political — it would keep alive growing hopes of world peace — and even more, new hopes in multiplied thousands of heart patients who need reassurance.

Respond When Asked To Help

Our annual United Fund campaign is getting under way officially with the formal opening of offices and the gathering of committees.

Of course, the mechanics of actual personal contacts and solicitation will not start generally for a few weeks. The United Fund will be going through a period in which the success or failure of the venture may be determined.

Long ago, experience established that the success or failure of major fund drives depends in a large measure upon two factors — organization and manpower.

Right now, under the general chairmanship of Adolph Swartz, workers are being enlisted, material gathered, assignments mapped, etc. There will be a thousand and one tiny details to be woven into the central pattern. The job is comparable to getting a football team ready for the kick-off.

Because this is such an important matter and the period is such a vital one, we would like to urge every person asked to do a job to respond willingly. Those who will be making the contacts as division and sectional chairmen have big jobs, and bear in mind that when they ask you to do a thing, they are already doing vastly more. And after all, this is no more their community than it is yours. Let's all pitch in and help.

Business Mirror

Boom Too Heavy To Be Halted

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower's illness immediately sent tremors through a nervous stock market. It might cause some businessmen to take a second look at their future expansion plans.

But many observers believe the business boom has too much momentum now to be slowed in the last three months of 1955. And they feel the foundations of the present good times are firm enough not to be unduly shaken in 1956 by the political implications of the President's illness.

Business could be affected most by any change in confidence, in federal tax and spending policies or in farm policies. Changes in other governmental policies affecting business are thought to be unlikely. Confidence is the question that will be thrashed out this week in the stock market. Stock prices were high before like's heart attack and there have been some signs of an increase in bearish sentiment of late. This makes the market sensitive to any news.

The market is usually sensitive to political prospects and to uncertainties of any sort. Election results often have sent stock prices up or down. Since many now feel there has been an improvement in Democratic chances in the 1956 election, stock traders and many businessmen will study what that might mean for the economy in general and for them in particular.

Confidence in the business future has played a large part in recent months in causing industrialists to announce plans for future expansion. It will be some time yet, doubtless, before you can tell how much this confidence has been shaken, if at all.

First reaction, however, has been to look for better prospects of a tax cut next year. Reasoning on this is that the Republicans, if they won't have the popular President as a candidate, may be more anxious to woo voters with tax cuts next year.

The Republicans also have admitted being worried about falling farm prices. Some think that with the President out of the active lists for awhile, some Republican leaders may waver on the party stand to back flexible price supports.

For business in general, however, the expectation is that its present health is too good for confidence to be shaken more than momentarily.

Business has been wheeling along with almost full employment, with personal incomes at record highs, with the public in a buoyant mood, with industrial production rising, and with corporations big and small announcing plans to spend increasing sums for plant expansion and for the purchase of newer and better equipment. The majority of the bankers gathered in Chicago for the meeting of the American Bankers Assn. are reported confident that trade and industry will continue good in the coming months and into the new year.

Their chief worry is reported to be, not that it will slow down, but that price inflation may start to spurt because of the swelling total of purchasing power — and the evident eagerness of the public to borrow to finance present desires.

Except for that intangible and unpredictable thing "confidence," and for the chance of a change in congressional taxing and spending policies, many businessmen expect — and certainly hope — that good times will continue.

Like all other Americans, they pray for the President's speedy recovery. —SAM DAWSON

How Do Danes Keep Slender?

KOLDING, Denmark—Not all Danish men are as big as Lauritz Mechor. Or, for that matter, Danish women, either. On the whole Danes are a slim, handsome people with no more stylish stouts per capita than the U. S. A.

But it beats me how they keep themselves so trim. I have been a growing girl ever since I arrived, and the alarming fact is that the direction in which I am growing is out!

Let me begin by saying that whatever you have heard about Danish pastry is true, including the formidable fact that with one hand tied behind him a Danish pastry cook can beat the socks off his French counterpart.

There comes a time in the life of every tourist when his feet are killing him and, faced with yet another cathedral, he is apt to be blind, murderous rage to visit upon the hapless guide the fate of poor Thomas Becket in Canterbury.

It is then that a blessed community like Kolding, where all a tourist has to do is to draw up to the table and gorge, saves the traveler's sanity and his soles. The pride of this community is a konditori (bakery is too blunt, too profane a word) which surely produces the best pastry in the world.

Known as the Sakidhus, and attached to a hotel of the same name, this konditori displays on its shelves and in its glass cases an array of treasures as astounding and varied as Cartier's. I have been eating my way steadily through the counters and shelves, and never have I tasted pastries or cakes of such lightness, delicacy, flavor and texture.

A great Dane, Hans Obbing, is the maestro and impresario, of this treasure house where I am bidding, with regret, a fond farewell to my figure.

At this point, I ought to exercise some self-control, switch from high living to high thinking and strike the lyre in praise of such intellectual Danish attractions as "Den gamle By" or "The Old Town at Aarhus, the Williamsburg, Va., of Denmark. And a rare treat it is.

Or I ought to describe the medieval, gemlike town of Ribe where the American tourist finds a plaque to Jacob Riis, the great American social reformer, who was born in this town in 1849.

Oh, Denmark is full of beautiful castles and great cathedrals. But the truth is that I am fascinated by that great Danish institution, the open-face sandwich. This is a Danish Dagwood that out-Dagwoods Dagwood.

The foundation is a slab of fine Danish bread, spread with one-quarter inch of fine base solid, a quarter-inch of mayonnaise. From there on, anything goes — on top of course. The end result is often a leaning tower of Pisa. These culinary creations must be attacked with fork and knife, as it would be impossible to lift them without breaking an arm. And, of course, delicious!

Granted that the rusk stones at Jelling are fascinating, so are Danish dowagers. They really do smoke cigars! (And if you want to make something of that, American women drink martinis, don't they?)

What to get Grandma for Christmas is no problem here. Just get the old soul a box of stogies, and watch her light up.

Full Ike Story Not Yet Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The full story has yet to be told of what happened over a span of almost 12 hours between the time President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack in Denver and the time he was taken to a hospital.

So far, only scanty reports have been given to the public about the first hours of the President's illness. Physicians here say they are puzzled and somewhat shocked by the chronology of events reported from the Summer White House. They are asking these questions:

1. If President Eisenhower's heart attack came at 2:45 a.m. while he was being attended by a physician, then why was it almost 11 hours later before cardiograph tracings were taken?

2. After the tracings were taken and the heart attack confirmed, why was the President permitted, even with assistance, to walk downstairs from a second-floor bedroom, across a porch, down another five steps to an automobile waiting to take him on a seven-mile drive to the hospital, and then into the hospital?

One prominent capital physician exclaimed: "I was shocked when I read that the President was permitted to walk to an automobile to be driven seven miles to the hospital. When I read it, I called my wife and said: 'My God, they've let him walk from the house!'"

Other doctors queried on this point gave the same reaction: surprise that the President had been allowed to exert himself by walking—even with assistance—when it was known he was suffering from coronary thrombosis.

There is speculation here that perhaps Eisenhower himself refused to be carried from the home of his mother-in-law Mrs. John S. Doud and placed in an ambulance.

There was some speculation, too, that an initial effort was made for political reasons—to minimize the seriousness of the President's illness but that it soon became impossible.

The sequence of events as reported from Denver went like this: 2 a.m.—White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, was summoned to the residence of Mrs. John S. Doud; 2:45 a.m.—the President suffered a heart attack; 8 a.m.—Dr. Snyder said the President had had "a digestive upset"; 12 noon—Dr. Snyder termed Eisenhower's condition "not serious" and again referred to an attack of indigestion; 1:30 p.m.—a cardiogram was taken showing the President had suffered a heart attack; 2 p.m.—the President was driven to the hospital by automobile; 2:35 p.m.—Murray Snyder, assistant presidential press secretary, said the President had suffered a "mild coronary thrombosis" (but a team of physicians later reported the seizure was "moderate", somewhere between mild and serious but obviously more serious than the first reports indicated.) Presidential Press Secretary

James C. Hagerly told reporters that Eisenhower had walked from the Doud house and up to his hospital suite while being "supported and assisted." His explanation was: "The doctors said this was the easiest way and better than putting him into a litter and trying to get him into a car."

But this explanation has not stilled the questions. —DON WHITEHEAD (For James Marlow)

Ladies Reaching For The Cash Register

NEW YORK (AP)—Who said women's place was in the home?

That old saying is less true every year. And there is no better time to point it out than now—during National Business Women's Week.

The ladies are no longer content to rule the world by rocking a cradle. Their hands are reaching for the cash register.

The influx of the petticoat crowd into industry is truly startling. Nearly one out of three of America's 65 million employed now powder their noses on the job.

Women first began punching time clocks in large numbers during the First World War. The trend mushroomed during the Second World War, and then, after a brief abatement, picked up again.

The most significant development: More married as well as single women now seek steady work outside the home.

Why? Some hold that the invention of labor saving devices has made housekeeping so simple wives are no longer content to spend their extra leisure loafing at home.

A more likely answer: Papa's paycheck no longer will pay the instalments on all the bright new gadgets that modern couples now feel are necessary for a rich full life — a new car, television set, automatic dishwasher, and the like. The only practical solution—mama has to go out and get on a payroll, too.

Certainly the old-fashioned husband who once melodramatically proclaimed, "I'd starve before I'd let my wife go to work," is getting scarcer. Some wives even complain, "I'd like to stay home, but that husband of mine — he keeps pushing me out into the labor market." More and more wives are finding that the best way to keep a husband is, first, to keep a job, so the poor tense fellow won't have the entire burden of bringing home the bacon.

Each year women go into new fields once ruled only by men.

There are lady steeplejacks, lady stockbrokers, lady riveters, lady building contractors, lady channel swimmers, lady wrestlers. So far there have been no major league lady baseball players — although this possibility is mullied over from time to time — or a really promising lady heavyweight fighter. Women still prefer to do their infighting at home.

A look at the 1950 census figures — the latest I have at hand — shows, however, the significant inroads women have made in America's working world. In that year there were 18,604,000 women in an employed population of 60,598,000.

The statistics show that women prefer indoor jobs to those that offer them the benefits of fresh air and exercise. There were 5,122,000 women clerks and office workers compared to 2,772,000 men, but women common laborers were outnumbered by men 197,000 to 3,319,000. This does seem a pity, considering science's discovery that women are actually stronger than men.

In the art of selling—where the big money lies—the girls are steadily creeping up on the weaker sex. The figures: 1,475,000 women salespeople, 2,482,000 men.

Aside from the irksome chores of common labor, what other field offers the greatest possibilities for a career-minded young woman? It would seem to be a life down on the farm. There were only 195,000 lady farmers and farm managers compared to 3,800,000 men. "But what about a young man just getting started in life? Is there no vocation where he can feel safe from the increasing feminine competition?"

Yes, in the area of private household employment. There are still 1,770,000 women in this line of work compared to only 58,000 men. But women are abandoning it by the tens of thousands every year. They'd rather work in an office or factory than clean other people's houses.

The best bet for an ambitious young man who wants a quiet indoor existence is to get a job as a maid. In addition to good pay, good meals and short hours it has another advantage: It is a wonderful training for a lad who later wants to get married and have a home.

Here's Another Petition

Tourists returning from Mexico tell me that the people down there take a short nap every day after lunch. Everything comes to a standstill while the people indulge in a "siesta." And usually, this siesta is spoken of with a certain amount of derision.

But think of it. A short nap every day after lunch. I think it is about the most civilized thing I ever heard of. In America we have little to compare with such a phenomenal event.

Consider how much better you would feel in the afternoon if you had a chance to grab a few winks after eating. Apparently nature figured it to be a pretty good idea, too. Don't you ever feel drowsy after lunch?

And what about people with heart trouble? The first thing the doctor orders them to do is rest a little while in the afternoon. Why? Because it gives the heart a chance to slow up for a while.

If rest is a good prescription for persons already with heart trouble, it seems to me that a rest should be a pretty good preventative for the ailment. Maybe your doctor should be ordering you to take a daily cat-nap now.

Consider your pre-school age child. If you have an average parent, the child is required to take a nap every afternoon. And what if he misses the nap? Sure, he is irritable the rest of the day. How about you? If children need a nap to be on best behavior, doesn't it follow that adults do also?

Let's all sign a petition to be submitted to the county commissioners and the city council asking that a law be formulated whereby all business in the city and county cease for two hours every day at the noon hour. Then, we'll all go home, eat, and take a short nap. Of course, we might have to work an extra hour in the evenings to make up for it, but we'll feel like doing it after an afternoon visit to Nod. But think how much better you would feel. Or to be a bit mercenary about it, think of the publicity we will receive throughout the country. "The sanest spot in the world." It should stir up quite a bit of envy.

I am ready to sign the document first. My colleague, Wayland Yates, promises to be second. Who is going to be third? —GLENN COOTES

German Bridge Burned At Both Ends

The Soviet Union has carried out a diplomatic maneuver which makes it much more difficult to disentangle and solve the German problem. It has promoted the satellite East German Republic, giving it the same formal rights within the Communist orbit that West Germany has acquired within NATO. As Bonn speaks for the West on the German problem, so now Pankow, which is the site of the East German government, is the spokesman of the East.

Until this time it has been possible for Dr. Adenauer to hope and believe that he might ignore the East German state, that somehow it would wither away or that the Soviet Union would abandon it. That hope is not now justifiable. The Soviet Union has engaged its whole prestige on the insistence that in the negotiations about Germany the Pankow government is its bargaining agent.

It is apparent that in Bonn and in Washington there has been a strong disposition to under-estimate the strength of the Soviet position. There has been the disposition to believe what it was pleasant to believe. Last spring, when the Paris Accords were about to be ratified Moscow warned the West that with German rearmament within NATO she would not negotiate for German reunification. When Moscow reversed itself about Austria, when later Dr. Adenauer was invited to Moscow, it was widely supposed that the earlier warning had not been seriously meant. We now see that the Soviet return to the Paris Accords is to promote East Germany to equal political and juridical status with West Germany and then to tell the West that negotiations must now be carried on with this satellite representative.

The satellite East Germany has long been supposed to be expendable, something to be sacrificed by Moscow in an over-all deal. Whatever the truth of that in the long run, the fact is that as things stand now the East German regime, far from being expendable, has been made into a prime instrument of Soviet policy. It has been plain enough since Geneva that the Soviet Union prefers two Germanies rather than any settlement that could conceivably be negotiated now. Yet apparently there is much surprise in Bonn that Dr. Adenauer's visit to Moscow did not end by his being treated as in fact the sole representative of all of Germany. It is surprising that anyone is surprised that what was plainly evident since July should have been made plainer in September.

The question which really ought to be examined is why and how the illusion arose that Dr. Adenauer would do better in Moscow than he actually did. It is possible that serious officials in Bonn thought that serious officials in Moscow thought the Soviet Union had become so weak that it must give way on the issues which it has always regarded as vital? Apparently this illusion was possible. For otherwise what happened at Moscow would have caused no surprise in Bonn.

After Geneva there was no reason to be surprised, except in detail, by what the Soviet Union has now brought about in the two Germanies. The friendly spirit of Geneva did not, as was widely supposed in this country, open up the prospect that the Soviet Union would accept the Adenauer program for the reunification of Germany. The spirit of Geneva reflected the sense of relief in all parts of the world that an atomic world war was not contemplated by either of the big atomic powers.

That was the accord reached at Geneva. It meant that no unsettled issue, like the partition of Germany was important enough to go to war about. It meant that the status quo was not unbearable to either side. It meant that if and when the status quo was to be changed, it would be changed by striking a bargain.

Needless to say the prospects for the Foreign Ministers' meeting in October are poor. The differences on Germany are, as the two positions have now been declared, irreconcilable. Moreover, neither side can now give way on any important point. It is risky, indeed without inviting a tremendous loss of prestige and of political power.

As of now, both have crossed bridges which they have burned behind them.

Cartoon Costs Run Up

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After completing his tour of Disneyland, Walt Disney swung his car on the Santa Ana freeway and headed back to his studio in Burbank.

As he drove, the producer talked earnestly about his many enterprises. These include everything from a full-length movie with ants as stars to a $30 book on animated drawing.

Disney laughed at reports that he was "rolling in dough" and that he merely ordered things done no matter what the cost.

"As a matter of fact," he remarked, "we have always been basically under-capitalized. Our business has always been on the move, always changing."

"We had to switch from shorts to features or we would have died. When cartoon features became so expensive, we had to diversify."

Cartoons have become so costly that he makes no more than a half-dozen shorts a year. And he can produce only one cartoon feature at a time. "I can't make them under three million each," he reported.

"I won't be able to get the next one, 'Sleeping Beauty,' out until 1957. I could do it faster, but quality would be sacrificed. Now I've got a hard little corps of my best artists working on it, and I won't allow the other departments to take them away."

The next full-length cartoon will be "Babes in Toyland," but that will be seen years from now.

Disney can produce true-life adventures faster and at less cost, and these nature films have proven good moneymakers. Coming up are "The African Lion" and "Secrets of Life." The latter deals with the ant society, bee life, making of soil, pollination, etc. He is also 'combining true-life adventure with fantasy in "Perry," a fictionalized story of a red squirrel. In the live-action field, he is going to film "The Great Locomotive Chase" starring Fess Parker and Jeff Hunter. It's the story of an abortive attempt to end the Civil War. Filming will start on the Tallulah Falls railroad near Clayton, Ga., Sept. 26.

Disney is more sold than ever on the value of TV to sell movies. He cites his "Lady and the Tramp," a story the public learned of almost solely through TV. The result: "Lady" will earn five or six million in this country alone.

Disney remarked that: "I like our operation the way it is. I wouldn't want the responsibility of a big studio. We were asked to run RKO before Howard Hughes bought it. But I turned it down."

Disney returned to his studio and parked his car. He walked to his office at a fast pace, as though he wanted nothing better than to return to work. That is one of his secrets of success. —BOB THOMAS

Seesaw Battle Rages Over Nation's Water

By ROGER D. GREENE
WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP) — America today is locked in a gigantic seesaw battle over one of nature's most abundant resources — water.

With the huge increase in population and the postwar industrial boom, the resulting scarcity of water in many sections of the country finds farmer pitted against farmer for irrigation water, city against city and state against state for domestic supplies, and industry, biggest consumer of all, struggling to find enough water to survive.

"Competition is keen and in some areas critical," a Hoover Commission task force told Congress in a midsummer report.

"We have reached a point where water stringencies are becoming more frequent and more numerous. The increasing demand for water supplies, together with increasing pollution of streams, is beginning to cause major concern even in humid areas."

The long-range outlook is far from bright. Experts say that by 1975, an additional 145 billion gallons will be needed daily — equivalent to the flow of about 11 Colorado Rivers.

Even the supply we have today is put to hard usage. The water we drink and use for cooking is often "reclaimed" water — filtered and chemically purified — that has run through sewers.

"In the upper Ohio watershed, during periods of low river flow, one quart of every gallon of water has been flushed through a sewer," says the Hoover Commission task force.

In Ohio's Mahoning River, along a 25-mile stretch near Youngstown, so many steel mills and other industrial plants use and reuse the river water that at times it has become too hot (as much as 130 degrees) to be employed for cooling purposes.

Every gallon of the Mahoning's average flow of 500 million gallons daily is drawn into use 3 to 15 times.

For the first time, U.S. industry now uses more water than farm irrigation, and shortages in some sections of the industrial East have caused factories to look elsewhere for better supplies.

It requires 65,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of steel, 320,000 gallons for a ton of aluminum, 600,000 gallons for a ton of synthetic rubber, and 15,000 to make a new automobile. The water is used mostly for cooling.

Scores of far-seeing communities already are expanding their water supplies by building costly pipelines, dams, reservoirs and farm ponds, and are probing deeper into the earth than ever before.

Ohio is drilling 2,000 wells a month. Baltimore has just completed a new reservoir holding 23 billion gallons of water. Dallas will foot the bill itself for a dam-reservoir costing 20 million dollars.

Texas are talking of importing water from the Mississippi River. And some dreamy-eyed Californians have suggested towing icebergs up from the antarctic to bolster California's dwindling water supplies.

Southern California, the nation's fastest growing region, expects to reach a population of 10 million by 1975, but experts say its present water supply will support only 8,100,000.

And in Colorado there's a bitter fight over water between east and west. The western slope country around Grand Junction, booming uranium capital, is battling to prevent Denver from tapping the Colorado River basin via a tunnel through the Rockies.

What is the government doing to alleviate the situation? The story of the Federal Reclamation Bureau's multibillion-dollar water projects is too long to be recounted here in detail.

But since 1824, when the government first entered the reclamation picture, the U.S. Treasury has spent more than 14 1/2 billion dollars on water projects. In addition, Congress has authorized projects totaling 18 1/2 billions. Other projects, proposed but not yet authorized, would bring the grand total to more than 84 billion.

At present the government is spending around three-quarters of a billion dollars a year to develop water resources such as flood control, irrigation, navigation and hydroelectric power. Major projects include:

World's four biggest and highest concrete dams—Hoover Dam in Arizona-Nevada (726 feet); Shasta Dam in California (602 feet); Hungry Horse Dam in Montana (564 feet); and Grand Coulee Dam in Washington (550 feet).

World's largest pumping plant — Grand Coulee, 511 million gallons per hour.

World's longest irrigation tunnel — The 13-mile Alva B. Adams Bore in Colorado, which carries water from mountain lakes on the western slope of the Rockies to irrigate farms on the eastern slope.

World's largest irrigation project — Missouri River Basin, over six million acres.

Loud outcries have gone up in the East against funneling so much money for reclamation in the 17 Western states. There have also been bitter complaints against boondoggling "waste" and costly duplication by prestige-hungry rival federal agencies. No less than 25 U.S. agencies have a thumb in the water conservation pie.

But the Federal Reclamation Bureau says once arid Western lands have flourished to such an extent under irrigation that they have paid more than four billion dollars in U.S. income taxes since 1916.

With the magic touch of water, the bureau says, these reclaimed lands now produce crops worth more than 800 million dollars a year — some 25,000,000 tons of prime fruit, vegetables, meat, dairy products, etc.

Aside from the Reclamation Bureau, the Agriculture Department's Soil Conservation Service has helped avert water shortages by providing technical or financial aid to build 425,000 farm ponds in the last 15 years.

Next: The Threat of Pollution.

Well-Dressed Boys

Dear Miss Brandow:

Several times you have mentioned that boys should try to be as well dressed as their dates. Please define the term well-dressed. Does that mean suits all the time?

DICK

Well-dressed means being clean, not with baggy low hanging pants, or dressed appropriately for the occasion.

You'll be pretty safe if you'll always ask yourself: "Is this occasion sport or dressy?" Movies do not come under the heading "sport." Neither does Sunday school or church.

Suits, on the other hand, have no place on the picnic grounds, at the miniature golf course, or at the bowling alley.

Learn a bit about colors and materials. Some go together in good taste and other cause snickers among "those who know." Women are usually "up" on fashion. Get one of them, probably your mother, to teach you the little facts.

For instance, do you know that blue is your dressiest color and that black shoes, not brown, should be worn with it. Maybe you've been saving a snappy knit tie for the big dance. Knit ties are sport, my friend.

A tan shirt and a yellow or green tie go well with brown. White shirts are always good. Red figured ties compliment gray.

You may not aspire to be a model, but such facts are dynamic if you want to date one.

Valley Near Luxer Was Popular Burial Place

By RAMON COFFMAN

The Pyramids of Egypt hold never-fading interest. Two questions about them are among those I shall take up today.

Q. Did every king in ancient Egypt cause a pyramid to be built? A. Not by any means! There was a "pyramid age," when it was the regular thing for a king to be buried in a pyramid, but scores of Egyptian rulers did without pyramids, both before and after the pyramid age.

Q. Why is the king who built the Great Pyramid of Giza called "Khufu" sometimes and "Cheops" at other times? A. Cheops was the Greek name for this monarch, and that name appeared in old-time textbooks. At present, however, it is usual to call him by his Egyptian name, Khufu (pronounced "KOO-foo").

Q. When a king failed to build a pyramid, where was he buried? A. In a tomb. A valley near Luxer became popular as a resting place for royal mummies. Long hallways were cut into the rocky cliffs, and scores of rooms were formed to hold the treasures of the monarchs, as well as their coffins. This district is known as the Valley of the Tombs of Kings.

One tomb belonged to King Tut (Tutankhamen). While I was in Cairo, I saw hundreds of objects taken from King Tut's tomb, including jewels, small statues, pieces of carved ivory, chairs, lounges and so on.

Q. Were Egyptian kings peaceful or warlike? A. Our records indicate that the majority of them were peaceful.

Ft. Worth To Mark Sam Rayburn Day

PORT WORTH (AP)—Sam Rayburn Day will be observed in Fort Worth Oct. 27 and climaxed with a dinner honoring the Speaker of the House from Bonham, Tex.

Rayburn has indicated, County Democratic Chairman Tom Ward said, that his only major appearance in Texas this year will be a speech he will make at the dinner.

Brownsville Refinery Fire Is Extinguished

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Only minor damage resulted last night when a potentially dangerous oil refinery fire started at Port Brownville.

The blaze started at the McBride Refining Co. plant in waste pits between the refinery and tank farm. Nearly a half million barrels of oil were 150 feet of the fire, owner H. L. McBride said, when a small pipe carrying gasoline burst into flames.

McBride said firemen quickly turned off the gasoline flow at a valve and brought the fire under control.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
CARL COLEMAN, head football coach at Big Spring High School, discussing the game with Ysleta last weekend:
 "One thing you can say for our boys, they never gave up. They were in there trying all the time. Even when they were having one penalty after another stepped off against them, I thought we could take 'em, but we didn't."

TUGBOAT JONES, Midland coach, following his team's game with Lamesa:
 "I feel the big improvement at Lamesa this year has been due to Quarterback Doyle Chapman, who has a year under his belt now."

DOUG MILLS, director of athletics at the University of Illinois:
 "I was only a high school kid that day Red Grange ran wild against Michigan. But, when you're 17, your impressions are sharper and your memory better than when you are 45. The T and platoon haven't changed the basic structure of football. I saw enough of Grange to say with conviction that he could burn up the current game. If he were 19 again, Grange was great at waiting to pick up his blockers. He could stay on his feet longer than any ball carrier I ever saw. Even when he was trapped, he danced around and looked over the heads of tacklers to blockers forming. I never saw a runner like him for using the sidelines as an inanimate blocker. He could herringbone the field. I wonder why kids these days don't use the sidelines? They can be tackled from only one side that way. Grange knew it."

ROY BAIRD, Big Spring High School B team coach:
 "This team has the fire. Its enthusiasm is putting it across. It appears to want to play football."

CARL PRICE, Waco grid mentor:
 "The present Tyler team is the best looking I've seen in a long, long time. I think they have a backfield even better than that of the 1953 Lamar team."

GEORGE WRIGHT, Baylor publicist, on why a Southwest Conference boy (L. G. Dupre) was not named the most valuable player in the All-Star game in Chicago:
 "The all-star game is primarily a Midwest show. It's only natural that Ralph Guglielmi would win the award since it came to a showdown between him and Dupre. However, Guglielmi was nothing completely unable to work without some combination of Dupre, Dickie Moegele and Frank Eidom at the halfbacks. Alan Ameche (Wisconsin) and Dick Bielski (Maryland) were both total washouts at fullback."

C. A. DeWEES, Country Club golf pro, who watched TCU annihilate Texas Tech on the football greensward Saturday:
 "It's the best football team I ever saw play, at least on a given day. They didn't act worried at any time. One got the feeling they could have beaten Tech 50 points."

PAUL BRYANT, Texas A&M mentor, discussing his team's loss to UCLA:
 "The turning point of the game was the day Papa Knox decided to move his boy Ronnie to UCLA from California."

CORPUS CHRISTI SEEKS TEXAS LEAGUE CLUB

CORPUS CHRISTI (P)—Corpus Christi is seeking a franchise in the Texas League and will bid for Allen Russell's interests at Beaumont. Bob Hamric, general manager of the local Big State League Club, said today:
 "We definitely are going to try to get the franchise and will make a concrete offer for it at the Oct. 10 meeting of the Texas League," Hamric said.
 The league will hold its fall meeting in Dallas at that time, Russell is supposed to tell the league what he will do with his franchise. He has indicated he will move it from Beaumont because of waning attendance.
 Hamric said he had talked with virtually every club owner in the league and all were favorably inclined to vote Corpus Christi into the league if the Corpus Christi club owners make a deal with Russell.
 "If we can get the franchise," Hamric said, "we will either get a stronger working agreement with Milwaukee or a full working agreement with another major league club."
 He did not disclose what other major league club might be interested. The Clippers have a small working agreement with Milwaukee at the present time.
 If the franchise is obtained, Hamric added, it would be necessary to make some improvements at the present park to bring it up to Texas League standards.
 He estimated it would require $25,000 to $40,000 above what the local club now has in its treasury to make the improvements and indicated the additional money might be raised by selling advance tickets this fall and next spring.
 "We're definitely going to make an offer for the Beaumont franchise," Hamric said. "Unless somebody gets there with a better offer than we make, we're going to wind up with the thing."
 Corpus Christi drew over 100,000 in the Big State League season that closed this week.

Labine Is Best, Insists Smith

NEW YORK (P)—Manager Mayo Smith of the Philadelphia Phillies, in town for the World Series, had this observation today: "A World Series is a pitching contest. I think Brooklyn pitcher Clem Labine is going to be one of the most important men in the country in the next few days. He's the Dodgers' best."

The first two games are in the Yankee Stadium and they don't get over to Brooklyn until Friday, but there's a fellow camped outside Ebbets Field since last Saturday. The Yank campers didn't begin arriving until yesterday.

Whitey Ford, who is to start the first game for the Yanks tomorrow, said Jackie Robinson is the toughest batter he ever faced. "But I feel real good about starting against the Dodgers—in the Stadium," added the Yanks' No. 1 hurler.

Carl Furillo, the Dodger right fielder, is nursing a cold which means that he's had trouble now in four series. Before the '53 Series, he suffered a fractured left hand in a scuffle with Leo Durocher, in '52 he had eye trouble and in '49 he suffered a groin injury.

The Brooklyn Red Cross issued a list of instructions to Dodger fans on how to keep calm with the observation: "Since the Dodgers went to such lengths to protect the fans, the least the fans can do is try to protect themselves."

Durocher And Successor

Leo Durocher, right, resigned as manager of the New York Giants and will be replaced by former Giant utility player, Bill Rigney, left, now manager of the Minneapolis Millers in the American Association. The announcement was made by Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants. This photo of the pair was made in Minneapolis in June of this year. (AP Wirephoto).

Leo Durocher Negotiating For Job With NBC Network

NEW YORK (P)—Leo Durocher, resigned manager of the New York Giants, is negotiating with the National Broadcasting Co. for a position with the network.
 The nature of the talks has not been disclosed. However, NBC's press department announced today that the network's executive vice president, Robert W. Sarnoff, and Durocher would make an announcement at a press conference this afternoon.
 Airwave work would not be new to the fiery baseball veteran who last week announced he is ending his long baseball career. Seven years ago he did a radio sports commentary for the American Broadcasting Co. In addition to being a baseball manager, he has made a number of TV guest appearances.
 Mrs. Durocher, who is actress Laraine Day, has been on many TV shows. She has conducted a pregame program for a local TV station from the Polo Grounds for several years.

Mobile Registers 3rd Straight Win

MOBILE, Ala. (P)—Two mediocre hitters during the season powered the Mobile Bears to an 11-6 Dixie Series victory over Shreveport, La., of the Texas League last night.
 Mobile leads the best of seven series 3-0, with one more decision needed to wrap it up. Bob Hoffman will pitch tonight for the Southern Assn. club and Ray Knoblauch will go for Shreveport. Both are right-handers.
 Second baseman Dick Young banged two triples and two singles in four at bats, and catcher Herb Olson drove in three runs with a single and home run to spark the Bears. Switch hitter Chris Kitson also hit a home run. Both were over the rightfield fence.

Yearlings Play Here Thursday

Upset 14-13 by Crockett of Odessa last weekend, the highly touted Big Spring Ninth Grade football team returns to action here Thursday evening, at which time they host Central of Abilene.
 Observers said the Yearlings outplayed the Crockett team, only to lose.
 The Ninth Graders are one of the biggest teams to represent the Junior High School in years.
 The club is coached by Marion Crump.

Outlook Good For SW 11's

By The Associated Press
 There was general jubilation Tuesday in Southwest Conference training camps with only Southern Methodist nursing the effects of a defeat, that last Saturday by Notre Dame.
 Otherwise, the loop won all its games with outside competition and you could tell it as squads from Houston to Fayetteville exuded victor's confidence.
 It took the coaches and scouts, as usual, to do the moaning.
 At Fayetteville, Coach Jack Mitchell said his defending champion Razorbacks would concentrate on pass defense and said the Hogs' game with Texas Christian next Saturday may be the hardest on the Porker schedule.
 Asst. Coach Walter Roach, meanwhile, was telling the TCU Horned Frogs that Mitchell's outfit was "very similar" to last season's championship team. Roach scouted Arkansas in their victories over Tulsa and Oklahoma A&M and reported an adequate Hog offense combined with a tough goal line defense.
 At College Station, UCLA's first-game victims, the Texas Aggies, prepared for the University of Houston with praise from Coach Bear Bryant ringing in their ears. Bryant told them their defeat of Louisiana State was a "great team victory."
 The Texas Longhorns, losers to Texas Tech and victors over Tulane, prepared for Southern California with scout reports dining in the background. J. T. King and Charley Waller told the Steers the Trojans had one of the best backs in the country in Jon Arnett. King called the USC outfit "one of the best teams I have ever seen."
 Baylor, relaxed after a 19-2 victory over Villanova, concentrated on speed and a sharp defense in the hope of upsetting Jim Tatum's

Ford Is First In Rich Open

By DAVE O'HARA
NEWTON, Mass. (P)—Doug Ford the National PGA titleholder who passed up a promising baseball career for golf, was $7,000 richer today after a hard-earned victory in the $43,000 Sponsors Tournament at the Charles River Country Club.
 The 33-year-old son of a former golf pro in New Haven, Conn., appeared to welcome the flapping pressure in the 72-hole competition and wound up with a score of a 12-under-par 276.
 "I felt great, the course was great and the shots fell right most of the time," Ford said as he pocketed the big check which boosted his earnings for the year to more than $34,000.
 With Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Dr. Gary Middlecoff, the non-practicing dentist from Memphis, Tenn., pressing him, Ford fired a three-under-par 69 over the 6,431-yard course in his final round.
 Wall carded a fine 68 on the final 18 holes for a 2-27 and second-place money of $3,750. Middlecoff, who was three off the pace after 34 holes, made a tremendous bid but had to settle for a 68 and a 278 total, good for $2,800.
 Other top finishers were Fred Haas of New Orleans and Claremont, Calif., with 280 ($2,100); Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio, who moved into fifth place with a brilliant 66 in the final round for 283 ($1,800); Jackie Burke of Houston, Tex., with 284 ($1,600); Fred Halkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., deadlocked at 285 ($1,300 each).

mighty Maryland. Coach George Sauer said he expected every man on the squad to be ready for the Terrapins, the first time that's happened this season.
 Southern Methodist, which bowed 17-0 to Notre Dame last week, hoped to get back on the winning trail against Georgia Tech. The Mustang varsity, intact after the gruelling Irish loss, prepared for the Ramblin' Wreck Tuesday in a scrimmage against a pseudo Tech team composed of reserves.
 Rice, conquerors of Alabama, prepared for Louisiana State with hard knocks aplenty and wondered if tackle Eddie Rayburn could go against the Tigers. Rayburn suffered a broken nose against Bama and trainers said it would be Friday before they could tell if he could play Saturday.
 Three players out of the Alabama game because of injuries appeared ready to start against LSU.

Yanks 13-10 Favorites To Win World Series

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Even though Manager Casey Stengel doesn't know who is going to play, his New York Yankees today remained steady 13-10 favorites to win the World Series from the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The first game is scheduled for the Yankee Stadium at 1 p.m. tomorrow, and Stengel may not decide on his lineup until 12:30.

"I don't know what my infield or my outfield is going to be," he said, "and I won't know until just before the game. All I know is that I have a couple of starting pitchers ready—Whitey Ford for the first game and Tommy Byrne for the second."

The forecast is for rain all day tomorrow, and possibly Thursday, too. If the opener is postponed, the elements would work in favor of the Yanks because Mickey Mantle's ailing leg would have additional time to heal.

At the moment, Mantle, the Yanks' leading batter and home-run hitter, is far from optimistic. In fact, if the first game goes on as scheduled, he probably won't start.

"It feels better," said Mantle, "but I still haven't tried to put any pressure on it."

MARYLAND FIRST

TCU Rated Tenth In AP Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

If you want to be champ, the best thing to do is lick the champ. Maryland followed this reasoning, in effect, to assume today the role of No. 1 college football team in the country.

Before they invaded College Park, Md., last weekend, UCLA's Pacific Coast champions had won 10 straight. They had been picked in the preseason Associated Press poll as the best bet for the mythical national championship. And they had led the first weekly ratings.

Maryland beat the Uclans 7-0. In a class fight with Michigan, the power of the Big Ten, the Marylanders rolled up a total of 1,113 points in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters to jump from fifth to first in the standings. Michigan, which defeated Missouri 42-7, had 1,032 points.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for

- second, etc.
- Completing the first 10 were Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Army, UCLA, Ohio State, Southern California and Texas Christian.
- Notre Dame made an impressive debut against Southern Methodist, winning 17-0. Army smothered little Furman 51-0. Texas Christian ran up a 32-0 score on Texas Tech. These are the three newcomers to the top 10, replacing Pittsburgh, Mississippi and Navy.
- The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:
1. Maryland (45) ..... 1,113

Club Owners Mull Over Requests

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league owners today were mulling over four new demands of the players—although they haven't been put forth formally yet.

The player representatives met yesterday with the attorney J. Norman Lewis and drew up the resolutions. They are:

1. That each major league squad be limited to two bonus players and that these not be included in the regular 25-player limit.
  2. That players be given a chance to deal directly with the South American and Cuban winter leagues instead of the negotiations going through the owners.
  3. That service in the armed forces be counted in the players' years of baseball service for pension purposes.
  4. That owners be forced to consult with player representatives before completing deals for radio and television for the World Series and All-Star Game. This is now handled by the commissioner's office.
- The players said they felt idle bonus players on a roster kept veterans out of work, so they asked that they not be counted on the limit.

Cuban Is Injured In Austin Bout

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Pachito Gonzales, 173, of Havana, Cuba, was rushed to a hospital last night after a six-round knockout in a preliminary fight here with Alvin Green, 170, of Houston, Tex.

Gonzales was knocked down in the fifth round but returned for the final round of the scheduled six-round fight. Green knocked him through the ropes and ringwalkers said the Cuban apparently landed on his head. He regained consciousness but was rushed to a hospital when he began having recurring dizzy spells. There was no immediate announcement of his condition.

In the main event, Stanley Jones, 155, Houston, billed as "Texas No. 1 middleweight contender," won a unanimous decision over Norris Burse, 158, of Robstown, Tex.

There were no knockdowns in the 10-round headliner.

Steers Show Good Spirit In Hard Workout Monday

End Milton Davis and guard J. D. Adams were missing as the Big Spring Steers began their work Monday afternoon for their first District 4-A game of the season, a Friday night outing with Palo Duro High in Amarillo.

Both boys were ill and both will probably return to action this afternoon.

The Steers went through one of their hardest workouts of the year in preparation for what looms as a rugged test. They scrimmaged much of the afternoon, with the boys getting plenty of experience on both offense and defense.

The blocking improved somewhat, though ball carriers could not always be counted on to follow their interference.

The athletes appear to be in fine spirits, despite their 0-1 record and the loss they suffered at the hands of an underdog Ysleta eleven last weekend.

With any kind of a break, the Steers feel they could have won that one in Ysleta and are impressed by neither the Indian personnel nor their record.

Gerald Lackey, whose only handicap is a lack of size, was stacking up the ball carriers in Monday's drills. He may see a lot of action against Palo Duro.

Roy Hughes, Jerry Graves, T. L. Kennedy, Charles Johnson, Jerry Barron, Stormy Edwards and Johnny Janak were among others who looked to advantage Monday.

The Longhorns are prepared for a similar amount of work when they fall out for drills this afternoon.

You'll have to use only one finger to summon the magic of PLYMOUTH'S PUSH-BUTTON DRIVING. Coming OCT. 21.

GLOBETROTTERS AGAIN BOOKED

The Harlem Globetrotter basketball team, a smash hit in its initial appearance here last season, have again been booked to appear in the High School Gymnasium Feb. 15, 1936.

Sponsoring organization will be the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Globetrotters recently returned to this country following the completion of their sixth annual four months tour of the continent of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East.

The tour embraced 22 countries, during which time the team with the comic band gave 92 performances.

The Trotters will play the House of David cage troupe in this year's Big Spring show. Last year, they vanquished a Webb Air Base team.

In addition to the game, six vaudeville acts will be presented. The acts were considered tops here last year.

Oliver Cofer of the Big Spring Jaycees, a member of the committee that arranged the bookings with the Trotters, said the tickets would be scaled with a $2 top.

The Trotter troupe—and there are two of them—will be the same one that showed here last year. It is considered the more magnetic squad, since Goose Tatum and Marques Haynes left the other club to form their own contingent.

Tickets for the attraction will probably go on sale sometime in January.

Colorado Campus Buzzing Over Departure Of Guard

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—The University of Colorado campus buzzed today over the disappearance of football guard Joe Connors during the second half of the CU-Arizona game here Saturday.

Coach Dal Ward said Connors played part of the first half. But when Ward called for him to enter the game in the third quarter, the 205-pound lineman was not on the bench.

Ward said he could not explain Connors' absence.

"I have no idea where he is," the CU coach added, and declared: "I'm not going looking for him—he'll have to come back on his own."

Connors, a 23-year-old native of Pittston, Pa., enrolled at Colorado in the fall of 1934 after a hitch in the Marine Corps. He was ineligible last year because he played at William & Mary in 1930.

He reported to the Buffalo varsity as an end last spring, was switched to guard, and later was listed as one of the best new linemen on the squad.

End Coach Ray Jenkins said going AWOL at the height of a game is without parallel in collegiate football.

"We've lost them the day before a game and a week before a game but never during a game," he told newsmen.

The Colorado team knocked over Arizona, 14-0, in the rain last Saturday and is preparing for a Big Seven Conference game with Kansas here next Saturday.

Harden Blisters El Paso Course

EL PASO (AP)—The El Paso Country Club was taking a beating today as a crack field of 75 professionals and a scattering of top amateurs fired practice rounds for the $5,000 Texas PGA Tournament.

Jack Harden of El Paso, the defending champion, laid down an 8-under-par 64 over the 6,300-yard course yesterday, and Abe Beckman of Midland turned in a card of 65. Many trimmed par figures but Byron Nelson, one of the favorites, had no comment on his round other than that the course was in fine condition but the greens were slow.

There will be a pro-amateur and pro-pro tomorrow with the 72-hole tournament opening Thursday. It continues through Sunday.

Harden, Beckman, Nelson, Chuck Klein of San Antonio, Raymond Gafford of Fort Worth, Elroy Marti and Dick Forrester of Houston and Don Dickson of Galveston are among the professionals considered strong bets for the $1,000 first money.

Frank Redman of El Paso, who starred in the recent National Amateur, and Bob Moncrief of Houston, who is in the Army here, are leading amateurs who will play in the tournament.

Reagan Wins Two Events In Shoot

HORACE B. REAGAN won two events in the Western Sportsmen's Club turkey shoot, held here Sunday.

Reagan won both the 100-yard hunting rifle match (sitting position) and the 100-yard hunting rifle match (prone position).

Dr. Cal Guilliams was first in the 100-yard shoot with any rifle, using any position. J. T. Galloway was second in that event.

L. D. Cunningham of Westbrook won the first 25-yard pistol event, with a score of 46 of a possible 50, using an H & R 22 revolver. Galloway grabbed honors in the second pistol match, with a perfect score, while firing a Hi-Standard 22 automatic pistol.

Airman A. J. Stolle of Webb AFB won two turkeys by breaking stationary clay pigeons at 100 yards, firing a .22 Remington rifle in the standing position.

One of the interesting sidelights was an exhibition by Fred Taylor, local agent for the Liquor Control Board, who shot a .41 cap-and-ball muzzle loader rifle, which he himself had made, along with a powder horn and bullets.

Lineup Changes Due At L'view

Several changes are being made in the Lakeview lineup as the Rocket gridders prepare for their toughest test of the young season, a Friday night outing in Steer Stadium against the strong Blackshear Leopards of Odessa.

Coach Theodore Brown of the Rockets said he was making the changes to get more weight in his starting eleven.

Though Blackshear has won only one of three starts, the school competes in AA ball, whereas Lakeview is a member of District 1-A.

Alvin King and Clarence Williams are being moved to end by Coach Brown.

Earl Dean Green is being switched from guard to fullback. Ernest Byrd moves over to half from fullback. Willie Roy English will again be the quarterback.

Charles Evans, injured in the first game of the season, is still doubtful. If the speedy back isn't ready, he'll be replaced by Big Williams Toles, who has been playing in the line.

The Rockets will be seeking their fourth straight victory. They knocked over Lameca, Slaton and Littlefield, in that order, and have shown improvement each time out.

The Lakeview team went through a hard workout Monday and more of the same was on tap today.

Friday night's game begins at 8 p.m.

Ike Team Works On Plans To Keep Government Operating

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower team worked today on plans for keeping the government running smoothly while the President recuperates from a heart attack.

A National Security Council meeting was scheduled for Thursday and a Cabinet session the following day, both under the gavel of Vice President Nixon.

Nixon announced yesterday these two top-level conferences would be concerned with matters "of a normal routine nature." But the question of how much presidential authority can be parceled out while Eisenhower is unable to perform his full duties was almost certain to arise.

A formal opinion on the delegation-of-authority matter was awaited from Atty. Gen. Brownell, who was due in New York after cutting short a vacation in Spain to return home and handle the problem.

Before leaving Spain by air, Brownell promised yesterday to give the matter "urgent attention." Justice Department aides said the attorney general's formal opinion can be expected late this week.

Meanwhile, the possibility arose that Eisenhower may be able to resume some of his administrative work within a few weeks.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialist who attended the President, said last night Eisenhower "will be much better off to take up some of his duties than to worry over neglecting them while he recovers."

Nixon, Acting Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, Chief Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and other top administration figures conferred at the White House yesterday for nearly three hours before announcing the upcoming Security Council and Cabinet meetings.

Their discussions dealt with ways and means of keeping the government functioning in Eisenhower's absence. It was obvious the delegation-of-authority question was considered.

An unofficial opinion on this issue came from J. Howard McGrath, who served as attorney general under former President Truman.

McGrath, whose views were solicited by newsmen, said there is no precedent under which the vice president took over the reins of government while a President was still alive.

McGrath said the law is not clear on the point and he suggested that a situation could arise whereby the Supreme Court, as the recognized interpreter of the Constitution, would be called on to say exactly how disabled a president would have to be before his vice president could legally assume direction of the government.

Janet Heads For Nicaragua, Leaving Behind 200 Dead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Janet headed for the Nicaraguan coast today, leaving nearly 200 dead in her path across the Caribbean Sea.

The hurricane, packing 110-mile-an-hour winds, was due to pass north of Cape Gracias, on the eastern tip of Nicaragua, tonight and thrash the northern coast of Honduras.

Janet's death toll may have included 11 American airmen. A U. S. Navy hurricane hunter plane flew into the area yesterday and was officially listed as missing.

The Navy began an air and surface search between Guantanamo Bay and Panama.

The plane was attached to Early Warning Squadron 4 at Jacksonville, Fla., and was surveying the hurricane from Guantanamo Bay, the big Navy base in eastern Cuba.

The hurricane's death toll on Grenada was officially estimated at 110. Twenty-five dead were reported on the neighboring island of Carriacou and Barbados counted 30.

Protect your eyes from strain

with LIGHT that's RIGHT for easy seeing!

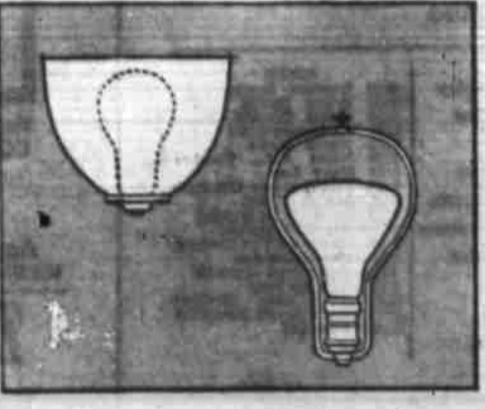

Plenty of good light, properly planned for the home, is an important protection against eyestrain. It is a vital aid in close-seeing work, helps you get more done with less time and effort, and helps prevent weariness that shows in your eyes. Check your lighting equipment now. Make sure that the lamps you use for reading, sewing and other difficult seeing tasks provide enough light... and the right kind of light for safe, easy seeing.

FOR EYE-EASY LIGHT, floor lamps should be equipped with a diffusing bowl to screen out glare and bulbs should be selected to provide sufficient light for close eyework.

HEIGHT IS IMPORTANT in table lamps used for reading or sewing. Bottom of shade should be 15 to 17 inches above top of 25-inch table. Taller lamps should be used with lower tables.

TABLE LAMPS should be equipped with a diffusing bowl and a 150-watt or 50-100-150 inside frosted bulb or with a 150-watt white indirect bulb (right) which has its own built-in diffuser.

There's a right-sized bulb for every lamp and fixture in your home. Your dealer has a chart of right bulb sizes. See him and stock up on the bulbs you need today!

Argentina Continues To Keep Safe Conduct Pass From Peron

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's provisional government continued to withhold a safe conduct pass from Juan Peron today, trying to make sure the ousted president causes the country no trouble from his future place of exile.

Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi's government has said it would respect the traditional Latin-American right of political asylum and give Peron a safe conduct to Asuncion, Paraguay. But it appeared the pass would not be forthcoming for two or three more days.

Peron, meanwhile, idled aboard the Paraguayan gunboat Paraguay, three miles out from Buenos Aires in the broad river Plate but still within Argentine territory. He took refuge on the vessel a week ago after the military revolt led by Lonardi ended Peron's 10-year dictatorship.

An Argentine patrol boat hovered nearby and a naval plane dived back and forth overhead.

Mario Amadeo, long-time political foe of Peron who was sworn in yesterday as foreign minister, declared the problem of Peron's safe conduct into exile would "be solved in a manner satisfactory for the tranquility, security, and interests of Argentina."

A diplomatic source said the delay in Peron's departure was caused by the new government's insistence that he move on from neighboring Paraguay to a country far enough away to keep him from being a source of trouble to his homeland.

Living in Paraguay, Peron could exert a strong psychological pull on his big labor following, with whom the new government is trying to come to terms. It also might be easy to slip back into Argentina.

The new foreign minister announced that the expulsion of two high Roman Catholic prelates by the Peron regime had been nullified. The prelates—Mgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires, and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Novoa—were invited to return immediately and resume their posts. Both are now in New York.

Accusing them of instigating anti-Peron demonstrations, the former government put the two prelates aboard a plane for Rome June 15. The prelates denied the charge. Pope Pius XII the next day excommunicated all Argentine officials, including Peron, who had a hand in the expulsion. Almost simultaneously the abortive navy-led revolt against Peron erupted.

The flickering fight against the new regime by diehard Peronist elements appeared to be subsiding. Only one incident was reported yesterday. A sniper wounded a soldier at Rosario, Argentina's second largest city 170 miles northwest of

Ugly Girl Hard To Find, Even For Movie Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How many girls in your town will admit they're ugly?

It's the same in Hollywood. Allied Artists Pictures is going slightly berserk trying to cast an ugly girl in Gary Cooper's new movie. Casting director Virginia Higgins got so many turn-downs from the usual talent sources that she, in desperation, inserted this ad in trade papers:

"WANTED: An Ugly Girl For an Attractive Role in William Wyler's 'The Friendly Persuasion.'"

"The girl we are seeking is husky, rawboned and stands at least six feet in her stocking feet. She is solid, well muscled and looks as if she could lift a piano, etc."

Surprisingly, six applicants showed up yesterday in answer to the ad. One, however, hadn't read the ad but her agent had. She left in a hurry, muttering something like "Wait till I get my hands on that guy."

First applicant was Frances Farwell, a six-foot singer. She was dressed like a hillbilly on the prowl for renoisseurs with gun and all.

"I came in with an ugly face and in an ugly mood," she announced. Miss Farwell wore no makeup but even in her outlandish get-up, it was obvious that she is an attractive girl.

Clarence Marks, Wyler's dialogue coach, commented:

"We'd have an awful time making that girl look unattractive, especially in color."

It's essential that the girls be big and ugly—it's part of the script of "The Friendly Persuasion," locale of which is in the Civil War era.

The girls play Marjorie Main's daughters—all farm girls living in a Quaker community. When Morgan's Raiders hit town, the Quakers refuse to take up arms so Miss Main and her daughters drive off the Confederate raiders.

The rest of the applicants were either too attractive, too short or too inexperienced. None were ugly.

Petite Brunette Admits Part In Plot To Murder Husband

WEST NEW YORK, N.J. (AP)—The petite brunette wife of well-to-do embroidery manufacturer Michael Mortel today admitted her part in what was called an "abortive murder plot" against her husband, police said.

Mrs. Mortel, 38, was charged with atrocious assault and battery and assault with intent to kill and rob along with her brother Albert DeVarti, 35, and Alexander Rafalko, a 37-year-old machinist.

The manufacturer, 43, attacked in the Mortel apartment here Sunday while his wife and daughter were at church, in St. Mary's Hospital at Hoboken, where 39 stitches were taken to close cuts on his head.

Authorities said Rafalko, of Union City, inflicted the beating with a lead bar after DeVarti drove him to the Mortel apartment. In addition, police said DeVarti, of Hoboken, had filled a bathtub with water and that the assailants planned to dump Mortel in it.

Mortel said he was beaten into unconsciousness, but recovered in time to find himself being dragged toward the bathroom. He managed to grab a vase and hurled it through a window, apparently scaring off his attacker.

During intensive questioning last night and early today, Mrs. Mortel said she helped plot the attack because her husband devoted most of his time to the business and was neglecting their married life, police reported.

Authorities said Mortel's business and property were valued at more than $100,000, and that he recently made out a new will in which his wife was chief beneficiary.
