To The EDITOR

West Texas Chamber of Commerce P. O. Box 1561 Abilene, Texas 79604 Phone 915-677-4325

Dear Editor:

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its appreciation for your part in making the Free Enterprise, for 200 Years, America's Strength' educational program a great success.

Your support of this West-Texaswide effort enabled West Texans, Texans, and Americans to be reminded about the American Free Enterprise System.

During this Bicentennial year, it is more important than ever for each of us to reflect on the things that made our country great, including the right to Free Enterprise, and that our quality of life here in West Texas is a result of the benefits derived from the Free Enterprise System.

The WTCC believes the Free Enterprise System is strong in West Texas and that we have the best Free Enterprise climate in the nation.

We are pleased that you feel the same way we do, and we were willing to assist in saluting the Free Enterprise System in America.

Thank you for your continuing efforts on behalf of West Texas.

Sincerely,

s/J. Fike Godfrey J. Fike Godfrey

$737 million surplus expected for Texas

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that the 65th Legislature could find at least a $737 million cash surplus on the table when it convenes in January, 1977.

He said the surplus will more than likely be swelled to $827 million by the addition of $31 million from a pending franchise tax case and possibly as much as $59 million from the extension of federal revenue sharing beyond Dec. 31, 1976.

Because of the surplus, Bullock projected the Legislature will have available total major fund revenue of $11.0 billion when it writes the state budget for the 1978-79 biennium.

"The piggy bank is full," Bullock said. "That would represent a 31 percent increase, or $2.6 billion more than the $8.4 billion that was spent from major funds during the 1976-77 biennium, ending Aug. 31, 1977."

The Comptroller's new revenue estimate for the 1976-77 biennium is $309 million higher than the January

The time has come, Bullock said, 'to set some money aside for a rainy day. The move for economy in state government is underway. This estimate is no excuse for every agency to trash tight budgets and start dreaming about sugar plums.

The late John Wannamaker once said. "Half the money I spend in advertising is wasted. But I have never been able to figure out just which half.

Maybe he was jesting. Maybe not. We don't know. But we do know there are problems in even attempting to do any funeral home advertising. Almost all funeral homes can and do say the same things. The ads usually stress quiet, dignified service; reverent care; sympathetic understanding; reputation for attention to detail - and so on. Actually however, when funeral home services are needed, the selection is nearly always made for reasons of reputation.

Through the years, our firm has earned a deservingly good reputation. Many families already know this. Even so, to better acquaint everyone with who we are, what we stand for, how and what we think, . this new column will appear every week in this paper. Watch for it. Read it. You will find it interesting.

Woman's View

PEARL BRANDON

A FEW WEEKS ago, Mr. Tidwell, in his "Square Shootin" column began with this quotation: "It is one of the most beautiful compensations of this life that no man can sincerely help another without helping himself.

I thought how much this applies to all of us. We are the ones who receive the greatest blessings when we do something like teaching a Sunday School class. We have to study in order to teach.

Since I have been ill, I have received so many beautiful gifts and cards and prayers. I am grateful to all of you.

I had the right eye operated on about two months ago. When they finish with the left eye May 20, I am not supposed to have to wear glasses any more. I'm waiting to see what really happens, after removing both

GETTING BACK to the subject of helping others, we all know the teaching of Christ: "To freely give and freely you shall receive, good measure shaken down and running over."

A friend of mine told me that a lot of people were standing in line at a busy laundry to pick up their clothes when an old colored woman stepped out of line and started helping get out the bundles to those in line. Some one punched her and said, "Why are you helping, you are not getting paid for this. The old woman replied, "What's a body here for if they can't help another body?"

JESUS WALKED along the dusty roads near Jerusalem, healing the sick, making the blind to see and even touching the lepers saying "Be thou

As we grow older, material things don't mean as much any more. A kindly phone call from a friend or a dish of food from a neighbor means much to us.

You have more time to listen to the birds that sing while busy building their nests. More time to meditate and be grateful for blessings both past and present.

Every day counts.

We have more pain, but we have more understanding. It is something we all have to face-we never stay young, but we don't have to grow grouchy with old age.

WE WERE MADE very happy last week when we received a letter from our 19-year-old grandson, who is an engineering student in University of California saying he had accepted Christ into his heart and was going to follow Him the rest of his life.

I am happy too, about our own Littlefield college young people who are forming Bible study groups that meet in the dorms at Texas Tech.

Also it is very good to see our to growing so fast. We have so much to be grateful for now, it crowds out the unhappiness from our hearts and makes our lives happy.

NOTICE THAT things are changing with the younger generation. For example, the hemlines are getting longer on women's clothing and hair styles of men are getting shorter. Even this was noted at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. when all the college people take to the beaches during a spring break from college.

Another thing was noted that these young people are switching from grass and other types of narcotics to beer. Someone said that they decided that they could not beat the establishment so they had just as well join them.

WONDER WHAT IT WOULD be like if the whole world would get in the swing of the Bicentennial movement and bring prices back to what they were in 1776. Of course I guess salaries would have to go back also. Wonder how many would survive this change? Maybe the good old days would not be so good if we went back 200 years.

We are getting to be a lazy society with all the conveniences such as electricity, gas, running water, indoor plumbing, motorized transportation, heat and serve foods as well as specialized medications. It would be hard to count, in a day, the aids that we take for granted that were only a dream to our forefathers.

Wonder if there was another "Cornball" who inhabited the earth a couple hundred years ago? Surely not.

SOCIETY, be prepared, there is another group of seniors graduating this month and they will be trying to find a slot in the job market. Good luck kids, do what you do well.

RECKON THAT some of our local politicians will give a sign of relief as they will have a job again for another four years while others will be like the seniors looking for work. I don't know whether I'm right, but now that Texas has a two-party system, not all the people get to vote for all the people they want to, since you have to vote either in the Democratic Primary or the Republican Primary. It seems that party loyalty is not quite as strong as it use to be. Maybe a fairer showing of people's wills in voting would be to have both parties on the same ballot during the primaries. For example, maybe someone wanted to vote for incumbant E. D. McNeese for sheriff and at the same time wanted to express support for President Ford or Ronald Reagan. They had to neglect someone, since the sheriff runs on a Demorcratic ticket and the presidential hopefuls were on the Republican ballot. I feel that more people would vote for the local candidate and not be allowed to vote for their presidential choice, because the difference of party affiliations. Maybe you powers that be could offer a solution to this.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Unfaltering

RELATIVITY, not the theory formulated by Albert Einstein, but the theory that "knowledge is relative to the limited nature of the mind and the conditions of knowing; or the view that ethical truths depend upon the individuals and groups holding them" is not adequate to meet human needs for stability of life.

THERE IS OBJECTIVE knowledge that stands on its own integrity. It is not relative, in any sense. It contains absolutes, specifics, and fixed values and standards which are the same at all times and in all situations.

These have also met and passed all of the tests of time. Therefore, we can find and hold a steady course for living which will be constructive and productive: an "unflatering" life pattern.

THIS MANNER OF LIVING will be beneficial to us, and to the people with whom we are associated. It will be much better than a way with no certainty at all. It is a progressive way for us, because, in it, we can grow, enlarge and enhance our lifes within the framework formed by these certainties which never change.

We should be thankful that there are dependable and easily followed guidelines and principles by which we can move along with "unfaltering"

IF THERE BE NO TRUTH, as some seem to be saying, we are in trouble; but there is truth. There is established truth to believe, by which we can easily fashion our views and behavior.

We have the capacity opportunity to develop of wisely formed conviction know what we believe, as believe it. This does not a closed mind, but it does mea can, in all important say, faltering This makes lengt and meaningful.

WE HAVE HIS WORD for it. Non-candidate Humphrey is gonna non-candidate right on in to the convention. Let the other guys spend the sleepless nights, and all their money. He's not worried.

Somehow tho, he lets us know that he's at the beck and call of his party. Guess that's as it should be when you're a dyed in the wool politician.

But then, from somewhere out of the woods, comes this fellow Brown and he seems to be making more noise than anyone reckoned for. It's said that Carter used some of the (expletive deleted) kind of language, when Mr. Brown announced himelf. Does he know something we don't?

OR, IS IT, perhaps, that this fellow Brown may just be the one to split up the delegates to the extent that a "Non-Candidate" will walk off with all the marbles? 'Twill be interesting to watch. (Up until yesterday, I was a Wallaceite, myself!)

IF NOT BY NOW, we should know right away which of the GOP presidential hopefuls Mr. Connally is going to side with. No use in his throwing in with a loser. One wonders, tho, if he

'The Promises of God'

"But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." 1 John 1:7

After Easter, what? "-that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the father, even so we also should walk in newness of life." Rom. 6:4.

Last Sunday was Easter and we were reminded of the promise of eternal life through the resurrection of Christ from the dead. The resurrection of Christ is also the assurance to the Christian of victory over the power of sin in this life. "And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith." 1 John 5:4. "For thou hast delivered my soul from death: thou deliver my feet from falling. may walk before God in the light living." Psalm 56:13. Without resurrection morning, we would had no assurance that He "Evel to make intercession for us

The Texas Historical Commission has published a new list of historical markers entitled "Guide To Official Texas Historical Markers.

Currently, more than 7,200 markers exist in Texas to commemorate events, people, structures, and sites significant in local, state, and national history. Approximately 1,600 of the markers commemorate structures which also are designated Recorded Texas Historical Landmarks.

The 160-page guide lists by city the title and location of each marker, describes the different types of markers found across the state, and explains the state marking program.

This new edition is comprehensive through mid-1975 and features a page-index of the markers in each county.

"Guide To Official Texas Historical Markers" is available for $1.25 per copy (postage and handling included) from the Texas Historical Commission, P. O. Box 12276, Austin, Texas 78711.

Some new boats, motors require title certificates

Purchasers of new boats and motors are reminded by officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that some new vessels require certificates of title.

As of Jan. 1, an amendment to the Texas Water Safety Act requires new or unregistered motorboats in excess of 14 feet to have a certificate of title from the P&WD. New outboard engines of 12 or more horsepower must be titled separately by the department.

As passed by the recent Texas Legislature, the new titling laws aim to give Texas boaters added protection in recovering stolen porperty and may serve as collateral for (3) application for certificate of financing and insurance pur-

P&WD license officials say, as with any new law, there is some confusion on what is required.

Registration of motorboats for "TX" numbers is still required by the Texas Water notorized. Safety Act, regardless of boat size as long as the crafts are powered by an engine.

At the time of purchase of a boat in excess of 14 feet outfitted with an engine of 12 or more horsepower, three documents must be completed and mailed to the Parks and Wildlife Department: (1) Registration form for "TX" numbers with the appropriate fee based on length of the boat; (2) application for title on the boat, which has a $2 fee; and, title to the engine, also for $2. All Texas retail boat dealers are aware of the new titling requirements and should be able to assist the new boat owner in completing paper-

Marine dealers must furnish the purchaser with a 'Manufacturer's Statement of Origin for a Motorboat and/or Outboard Motor," The statement is a very important document and must accompany application for certificate. It is proof to the department that a legal transaction took place.

Manufacturer's Statement of Origin, certificates of title and registration form must be completely and accurately filled out since they are the basis for legal title to boat and

The department must return them to the owner if not correctly completed and a large percentage of applications have been returned. P&WD officials say it is cheaper to process a completed application then to return it for more information. Marine dealers and local offices of the Parks and Wildlife Department can handle most questions in completing forms.

Boats sold between private individuals present special problems

The department cannot accept an application for transfer of ownership of a boat more than 14 feet long unless it is currently registered. Registered boats sold but untitled must be titled upon transfer of ownership.

Purchasers of "secondhand" boats theore than 14 feet long) must obtain a title from the seller or a bill of sale if the bont was previously untitled. Either the bill of sale or title is proof of a legal transaction. Bills of sale for boats in excess of 14 feet must be notarized.

MAY 9TH

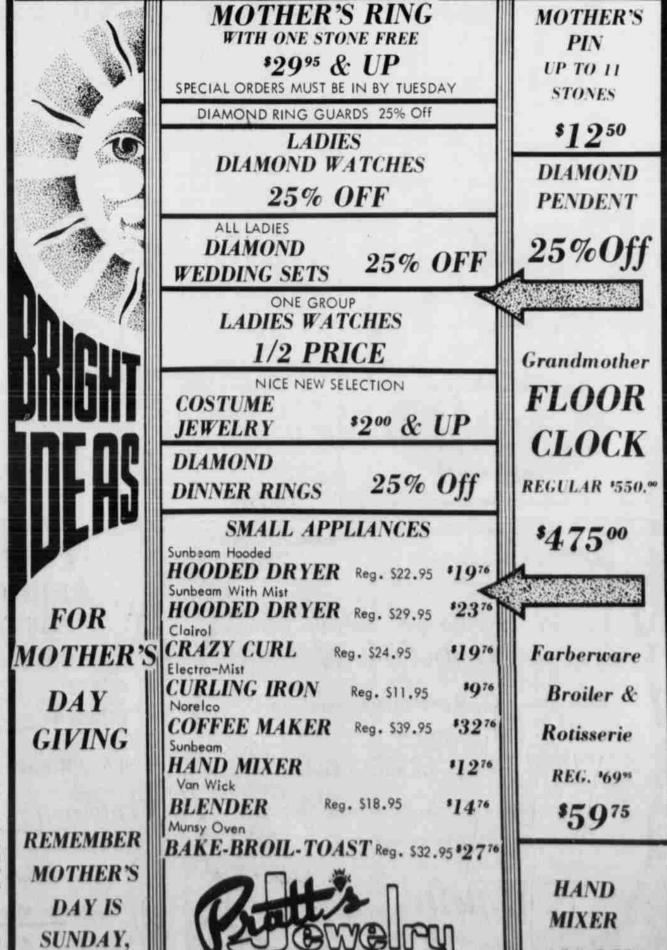

Some people believe that if you play a fiddle while you fish it will improve your luck.

The bottom of the department's application for "TX" numbers can also serve as a bill of sale, but it too must be

If in doubt on how to complete forms or which forms to use, contact a marine dealer in the instance of new boat purchases or a P&WD office in the case of selling old boats.

Harrelson presented awards to Excessive competition standing freshman; Michael isn't always too good Excessive competition with- child who is talented in verbal out cooperation can create expression may still be dissome undesirable side effects in children, teenagers and even adults, Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent, contends.

A lack of trust and an inability to work together toward common goals are two results of too much competition among children.

Children who feel they must be constantly competitive can lose their interest in learning and may be unable to apply what they learn for personal. growth, she said.

And for the talented child, there are often feelings of discouragement and failure if he doesn't win. For example, a couraged when he can't do as Children do need some competition to help them get ahead and develop to their fullest potential. But along with learning to compete, a child also must learn how to cooperate with age mates.

One of the best places to teach cooperation is at home. When emphasis is placed on accomplishing a task together. the whole family benefits. Saving money for a vacation, helping get ready for a family picnic, or planning together for a day of cycling are just a few activities which can teach cooperation.

Another way to teach cooperation is through paternal example. When parents take children's wins and losses so personally that they fight or argue with judges or other parents at contests and sports events, children have difficulty learning good sportsmanship and how to get along with others, she pointed out.
