Mid-West Company Signs Agreement To Manufacture Cushioning Here

Cotton-content cushioning in Memphis, Tenn. will soon be produced in Littlefield and in the mid-west and west by Textiles, Inc. of Oklahoma City.

According to Pete Hatfield, manager of Littlefield Cotton Products, approximately 15 additional employees will be hired by the company, and the product produced will contain 80 percent cotton and 20 percent synthetic materials.

FLEX-XEL cushioning is a bonded, cigarette-resistant material developed by RAMCON, Cotton Incorporated, New York, and Norman W. Paschall Co., Atlanta.

RAMCON, Inc., Memphis, and Rodman have signed a licensing agreement under which Rodman will manufacture and sell FLEX-XEL cushioning in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and part of Colorado, Texas and New Mexico. Rodman hopes to begin production before the end of August.

Rodman Textiles is primarily engaged in supply of items for upholstered furniture and mattress manufacture. In addition to Oklahoma City, Rodman has plants in Ft. Smith, Ark., and Littlefield.

Research and development were conducted in RAMCON's laboratories at 223 Scott Street and at National Bedding and Furniture Industries, Memphis, where the first commercial production line was installed early this year. NBF1 is expanding its capacity to meet accelerating demand for the new product which currently goes into mattresses, furniture and related uses but has a wide range of additional applications.

The licensing agreement was signed in Memphis by Peter Duncan, Rodman's president; Pete Hatfield, manager of Littlefield; and George S. Buck, Jr., president of RAMCON. The Memphis research and development company licenses and markets the process. Additional licenses are being negotiated.

Applicators for the special chemical additive and the curing ovens used in the manufacture of FLEX-XEL cushioning will be made and installed with technical assistance from RAMCON.

PETE HATFIELD, manager of Littlefield Cotton Products Division of Rodman Textiles, revealed Tuesday that the local firm will begin producing FLEX-XEL cushioning—a bonded, cigarette-resistant material for furniture. Applicators for the special chemical additive, and curing ovens will be installed in the near future. (Staff Photo)

Wheat Report-1975

New Harvest: During recent weeks the harvest of more than 680 million bushels has been underway in the five major wheat states served by Santa Fe. That's almost half of all the winter wheat grown in this country.

Car Supply: Santa Fe's part of the harvest job will be about 29,000 carloads. Our fleet of jumbo hoppers along with regular hoppers and box cars are now rolling throughout the harvest areas handling this big load.

Santa Fe Operations: The millions invested each year to improve Santa Fe's facilities, cars and locomotive fleet, makes it possible for us to get the job done in the most efficient way. We are ready to do even more than our share in wheat-growing states along the Santa Fe where problems may arise from inadequate transportation services.

Under normal conditions the railroads plan their operations to move with the harvest as it advances across the wheat belt.

This year, old man weather has upset the timetable. Rain has delayed the new crop about two weeks, and the wheat became ripe and ready in all growing areas of the Midwest, at the same time!

Santa Fe has a long and proud record of moving wheat. We do our best to prepare for each year's harvest. For example, we have almost 13,000 jumbo hoppers in service, including 1,000 brand new ones just received from the builders. That's the largest fleet in the nation.

1975 will be a near-record wheat harvest year along the Santa Fe; and, although the weather has created problems, we are doing our best to move each bushel. We are about to complete the harvest movement, and we appreciate the cooperation of growers, shippers, elevator operators and government inspectors which has helped Santa Fe handle another big wheat job.

1/2¢ a loaf

Moving wheat for making bread is an example of how a modern railroad handles volumes of foodstuff at low costs.

This is one way Santa Fe works to hold down the price of food where it counts the most for family shoppers, at the checkout counter.

LETTERS

To The EDITOR

June 25, 1975

Dear Editor,

Will you and your newspaper help the Battleship Texas?

For 28 years the great hero of two world wars has been a Historical Naval Museum. As you know, she is berthed in the shadow of the San Jacinto Monument of the Houston Ship Channel about 29 minutes from downtown Houston off Highway 225.

The Battleship Texas' destiny is in the hands of a nine-member commission created for the purpose of preserving this 62-year old fighting ship that helped carry our country to victory through heavy action in the North Atlantic during World War I and in both the European and Asian theatres during World War II.

With inflation and the fuel shortage, we need more funds to sustain her. These come from the $1 adult and 50 cent children admissions we charge visitors. We get no funds from any other source other than private donations.

This could be one of our best months and your cooperation will certainly be appreciated now—not only by the Commission, but by every American who wants to preserve the heritage of this gallant ship that bears the name of our great State of Texas.

Thanks from all of us to you and your newspaper for your help.

Cordially,

Dear Editor,

We read your editorial letter written by L. V. Behnke recently. As president of the Dimmitt United Lions Club, I feel I should add a few additional words of comment concerning A.T.T. Amusements Carnival.

1. The Dimmitt United Lions Club made an agreement with Ms. Wade after the city continued to assess her the permit fee. (We had made a previous agreement but this was nullified.)

2. I, too, felt like the city was unjustified in assessing the permit fee.

3. Ms. Wade left Dimmitt owing $18 to the hospital. A dog belonging to the carnival bit a young teenager. If we didn't find Ms. Wade, we were going to have to pay that bill since we were the sponsoring organization. This is the main reason the Lions went to Littlefield.

4. Ms. Wade called me and apologized for leaving town without paying us our commission. She told me she was planning to contact me later. She also offered to pay us our commission of 10 percent.

5. In conclusion we hope that these additional comments have clarified the situation as it truly happened.

Sincerely,

s/Pete Garza

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

HISTORIANS REPORT that pasta is one of the oldest and most revered foods—eaten as early as 5,000 B.C.

Just as popular today, pasta adds interest, variety and economy to meals.

The term 'pasta' includes macaroni, spaghetti and noodles in a wide variety of shapes, sizes and even color.

Pasta is made from semolina, farina or wheat flour and water. Noodles are made with the addition of eggs. More than 150 shapes are characteristic of pasta, and some are colored green by adding spinach.

Many popular convenience foods contain pasta combined with sauce mixes or canned sauces. Most pasta products are enriched with thiamine, riboflavin, niacin and iron.

Well-cooked pasta is tender, but firm and not sticky.

To cook, add pasta to rapidly boiling salted water and cook until just tender.

Cooking time should be shortened slightly if pasta is to be used in a combination dish that needs further cooking.

If pasta is to be cooked ahead of time, sticking will be reduced if the pasta is kept in a strainer over hot water.

FRUGALITY and gutes essen (good eating) are the watchwords of German cookery.

In their efforts to serve hearty, full-bodied food and, at the same time, save time and money, many German hausfraus have become masters at preparing Eintopf—a savory and succulent one-pot dish that is actually a one-dish meal. German Pork Chop Bake is an excellent Eintopf that American housewives can prepare in their own kitchen easily, quickly and economically.

Combining the Teutonic tastes of pork, knockwurst and caraway seeds, German Pork Chop Bake is crowned with the king of German vegetables, die kartoffel, the potato. But the potatoes used in our American Eintopf, frozen potato rounds, feature not only authentic old world flavor, but also 20th century convenience.

Reminiscent of the German potato pancake, potato rounds are crisp, browned bites of diced potatoes with a soft center. Unlike their old country cousins, however, they require a minimum of work for a maximum of great potato flavor. Already peeled, diced and shaped, potato rounds also come in convenient boxes or poly bags that allow you to pour out only the amount you need and then return the remainder to the freezer.

Spiced with a tangy combination of onions, celery and sweet pickle bits, German Pork Chop Bake needs little else to make it a complete and ethnically exciting meal.

Wedges of boiled cabbage and a loaf of pumpernickel bread, round out a menu befitting a Stuttgart Ratskeller or Munich's famed Oktoberfest.

Try your hand at America's answer to Eintopf cookery, German Pork Chop Bake. You'll learn why so many German hausfraus think futes essen and good economy go hand in hand.

GERMAN PORK CHOP BAKE

- 6 loin pork chops, 1/2-inch thick
- Salt
- Pepper
- 1 1/2 Tbsps. caraway seeds
- 1/2 cup flour
- Cooking oil
- 1 Tbsp. flour
- 1 cup water
- 1 small onion, sliced
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup chopped sweet pickles
- 1/4 lb. knockwurst, sliced 1/4-inch thick(2)

2 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges and seeded.

1 lb. frozen French fried potato rounds.

Season pork chops with salt and pepper. Press caraway seeds into both sides of chops and dip in 1/3 cup flour to coat. Brown in a large skillet in oil. Put chops in a 13x9x2-inch baking dish.

Remove skillet from heat. Stir flour into drippings until smooth and gradually add water.

Arrange in a large baking dish and top with onions, celery, pickles and knockwurst. Pour liquid from skillet over chops.

Cover and bake in a preheated 400-degree oven for 45 minutes or until chops are tender. Uncover and top with tomatoes, then potatoes. Return to oven and bake an additional 15-20 minutes. Makes approximately 6 servings.

PEOPLE ON SPECIAL sugar-limited diets may enjoy trying pickles made with artificial sweetener, according to Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent.

Here's her recipe.

BREAD AND BUTTER PICKLES

- 15 medium cucumbers
- 4 large white onions
- 1 large sweet pepper
- 1/4 cup salt
- 2 1/2 cups cider vinegar
- 5 Tbsps. liquid saccharin
- 1 Tbsp. mustard seed
- 1/4 tsp. cloves

Slice the cucumbers as thin as possible. Chop onions and pepper and combine with the cucumbers and salt. Let stand three hours and drain.

Combine vinegar, liquid saccharin and spices in a large kettle and bring to a boil. Add drained cucumbers and heat thoroughly, but do not boil.

Pack while hot into clean, hot jars and seal at once. Heat in water bath for five minutes.

Mrs. Powell said that this recipe makes seven pints of pickles and a one-third cup serving contains 15 calories.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHA

I FOUND this article produced by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and it has some valuable information for you farmers.

THE U.S. Department of Agriculture has the authority to extend outstanding producer loans on 1974-crop cotton. But USDA announced on May 23 this year that loans would not be extended.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., a long time advocate of an 18-month cotton loan, has been urging USDA to reconsider that decision. But to date the PCG requests have fallen on deaf ears. A letter from USDA, written July 9 in response to a request from Congressman George Mahon, purports to justify the Department's refusal to authorize an extension. And, strangely enough, some of the reasons given for the refusal are the same reasons used by PCG in asking for the extension.

The loan program was designed as a mechanism to facilitate the producer's need to hold agricultural commodities off the market during times of burdensome supplies and unacceptable prices—the exact condition in which cotton finds itself in 1975. Heavy cotton stocks in the U.S. and abroad, coupled with slack demand for textile products

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Our Best Effort

By BOB W.

IT HURTS TO REALIZE that we have failed because we did not put forth "our best effort". Even though we may not always accomplish what we wish to accomplish by applying "our best effort", we will find great satisfaction in the knowledge that we honestly tried.

This doesn't mean that we will succeed in everything we try to do, unless we are unusually selective and discerning about the things we undertake. We have limitations, but this is not cause for being displeased with ourselves; because we also have capabilities.

IT MAY NOT BE EASY to recognize our real limitations, and if we do recognize them; we may have difficulty accepting them, but we must accept them without resentment.

This is certainly important in our consideration of when and how we expend our energy.

THERE IS GREAT SATISFACTION in the fullness of accomplishment, and this is a kind of satisfaction which all of us can know; to some degree. Of course, because of our individual difference, some persons will accomplish more than others; and there will be other differences.

This, however, is not justification for being upset. We should even be thankful for these differences, because no one person can do all of the things that must be done.

ACCOMPLISHMENT is not all that brings satisfaction, because much of the rewarding compensation is in the realization that we have given "our best effort".

Even when we fall short of what we are trying to do, there is a justified satisfaction in the knowledge that we have done the best we can. This understanding is essential and meaningful life.

"IF YOU WOULD RELISH labor for it before you take it, enjoy clothing, pay for it before you wear it; if you would sleep soundly, a clear conscience to bed with Franklin.

ACCORDING TO authoritative field of human behavior, very any, of us put forth "our best effort" in many of the things we try to do. That some things are much more important than some of the other things we do. Nevertheless, it is still important to our general well-being that we put forth "our best effort".

This life element should be stancy, an established part of our habitual life pattern. In this case we have a saying that seems to have merit; "Anything worth doing is worth doing well".

"OUR BEST EFFORT" is the very valuable life quality which we describe as "pride in our work".

We are being told that much of being lost in all or most areas of our life is because of our lack of change; because we cannot afford loss.

LET US APPLY "our best effort" whatever we do, and live the abundant life.

WE TEND TO LOOK down our noses at Nero because he fiddled while Rome burned, but what about a bunch of guys who fiddle while the nation continues to be strangled by a combination of inflation and recession?

The Washington stalemate is getting pretty stale, if you ask me. (Did you?) A frustrated congress can't get its heads together enough to pass any worthwhile legislation, and by the same token, Ford can't get enough guys together to OK any of his own ideas.

MEANWHILE THE stranglehold is tightened on pore of John Q. Citizen, who really doesn't seem to give a hoot or two in hades, anyway. I think it must be Mr. Average that's thrown in the towel and has started lookin' toward 1977. Shucks, fellows, that's near a couple years away!

It's a matter of conclusion that we won't get any favorable legislation of consequence passed until after the next general election. Everything in the meantime will only be political action, calculated to throw one party, or the other in a bad light. Take, for instance, the energy bill!

IT'S PLAIN TO see that Ford is gonna veto any bill for continued control over fuel prices, unless congress can come up with a proposal phasin' it out in the near future. (I think the present set up is supposed to poop out in August.) And congress don't seem to have an idea in it's head! For that matter, it makes little difference either way.

Meanwhile, you and I, dear hearts, will continue to pay through the nose for the expanding profits of the oil barons. Ford's proposal, he says, is aimed at prosperous oil companies' further explorations. So? We learn that it takes a few million off the top and invests it in interests wholly independent from oil, and Gulf goes into general merchandising!

IT WOULDN'T BE so crude if it affected the pleasure driver, burning the asphalt off the highway. We find the affects of these price increases everywhere we turn. It comes through the electric bills, the bills, and over the grocery counter. Makes your paycheck come out the both ends, right along with the Social Security.

We don't really have a fuel shortage, we're just GOING to, and at the present rate, we'll run out of money long before the fuel shortage comes along. It makes you wonder if both Ford and Congress haven't invested in oil—m-m.

MY ADVISE IS to empty the oil tank and invest a few bucks yourself another year and a half the oil companies will probably own us any day.

AMONG OTHER RESEARCH projects being paid for by taxpayers, a study being conducted to determine what makes men (and other mammals) clench their jaws.

One 'half million is the sum laid out for this important project, and, if it doesn't make you clench your jaw, dentures must not fit!

As for producers "withholding supplies" when "supplies are more adequate" and therefore "building hopes for stronger prices," that's plicity what the loan is supposed to do.

So behind all the verbiage it appears to be saying it doesn't want producers to have hopes for strong prices and will not authorize an extension for fear the loan would serve the purpose for which it was intended.

4-H Members Attending Electric Camp

Six 4-H Club members from Lamb County left Monday on a five-day trip to New Mexico's Camp Scott Able near Cloudcroft for training in leadership and electrical projects, according to County Extension Agent Jim Kuykendall.
Each year, three boys and three girls, accompanied by an adult, are selected from each of the 20 counties in Texas Agricultural Extension Service District 2 to attend electric camp.

This year's delegation from Lamb County include: Brian May, Sudan; Brad Pierce, Sudan; Jim Fields, Sudan; Tommy Graham, Springlake-Earth; Debbie Spencer, Littlefield; and Cory Logsdon, Littlefield.
They left Monday by bus and will return Friday.

The event, Kuykendall provides leadership training teaches 4-H members and county Extension Agents how to conduct 4-H projects and methods, strategies, and how to keep H records.
Recreational and training also is an part of the camp. K adds.

Agent Gives Guidelines On Brucellosis

Cattlemen in Lamb County can take certain steps to assure a brucellosis-free herd, points out Jim Kuykendall, Asst. county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He suggests the following guidelines:
1. Buy herd replacements from known brucellosis-free herds.
2. Isolate and test all herd replacements. Retest replacements in 60 days.
3. Practice calf vaccination if exposure is likely. Vaccinate three-to six-month-old heifer calves with Strain No. 19 vaccine to build resistance to brucellosis infection.

4. Keep fences in good repair to keep infected animals out of your herd.
5. If possible, separate all animals before calving, since cattle often get the disease by sniffing and licking an aborted calf or a full-term calf from an infected cow.
6. Test all animals that abort or give birth to dead or weak offspring.
7. Consult your veterinarian on herd health problems regularly.
8. Encourage cooperation in the fight to eradicate brucellosis.

Brucellosis is a serious disease in that infected cattle generally lose 20 per cent of their milk producing ability.
They have abortions, problems, and become breeders. Infected heifers have 40 percent fewer notes Kuykendall.
Since there is no cure disease, proper management practices are the only way preventing the spread brucellosis, says Kuykendall. A national federal eradication program being directed by the Animal Health Commission involves local infected herds, containing infection and helping of infected herds to eliminate disease.
Additional information on brucellosis in cattle is available at the county extension adds Kuykendall.

GOD'S FIVE MINUTES

This Series Made Possible by These Business Firms and Individuals Who Support Our Right to Worship Freely.

Many of us grew up with pictures of caravans crossing the sands of the Sahara. Those in the West know that the desert has many faces. One of our common mistakes in life is to assume that trees make a forest, flowers a garden, clothes a man . . . that appearances promise reality. One of the invaluable influences of Christianity upon society has been its distinction between the facade and the truth. Christ taught that men must be known by their faith. Lack of spiritual concern is the surest way to make the world a desert of trees . . . a society of people without a sense of responsibility. Wastelands cry out for reclamation. The Church Christ founded is reclaiming our society for Him. You need its Message.

Youth Alcoholism Prevention Program Scheduled City-Wide Friday Night

A city-wide rally on youth alcoholism prevention is scheduled Friday night at 8:30 p.m. in the Community Action Center on North Highway 385. For the program, a film will be shown.

Since there are nine million known alcoholics in the United States, the lives of many young men and young women are affected by this cunning, complex disease.

The South Plains Alcoholism Counseling Services Project believes that each alcoholic has an effect on the lives of about 20 persons. (These persons may include his or her boss, banker, minister, business associates, friends, relatives and members of his or her immediate family.)

It is important to understand why any persons would abuse alcohol—but it is far more important to prevent a person from abusing alcohol than it is to try to figure out why he or she becomes an alcoholic!

It is for this reason that the staff of the South Plains Alcoholism Counseling Services Project hope that some 500 young men and women will attend prevention sessions prior to the end of the 1975-76 program year.

YASO is a new approach! With the help of the South Plains Community Action Association's Manpower Program (CETA and Summer Youth Programs) 21 persons, including five regular Alcoholism Counselors, are putting together in each of the 14 counties, "Youth-Oriented" programs on Alcoholism Prevention.

YASO will also have the support of over 100 volunteers including ministers, doctors, lawyers, nurses, professional

Olton Golf Tourney Set

EARTH—Plans are underway for the first Summer Roundup Partnership Golf Tournament at the Olton Country Club Aug. 16th and 17th. Olton State Bank will be a co-sponsor of this tournament.

An entry fee of $50 per team will be charged and over $3,000 in prizes will be awarded. The prizes include pro-line irons, woods, bags and balls as well as prizes for a longest drive and counselors, local county officials, city officials, and law enforcement agencies.

Again, YASO is a new approach. Each ethnic group will have a youth leader who along with an Alcoholism Counselor and volunteers will rally youth and solicit input from them in local communities in order to put together live-wire, dynamic programs designed to capture youthful attention.

Resource people for YASO Programs will come from Texas Tech Psychology Department, two community Mental Health and Mental Retardation Centers, two State Hospitals, and resource people from the Texas Commission on Alcoholism.

Hunting Guides Available Soon

Information on game and fish laws for upcoming seasons is contained in the new "Guide to Texas Hunting Sport Fishing Regulations, 1975-76" soon to be available where hunting and fishing licenses are sold.

This year's 24-page booklet from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department features county-by-county listings of seasons and baglimits for popular game species along with fishing regulations.

Also included is a county locator map to pinpoint any one of the state's 254 counties with specific notes on special game animals and birds which may be hunted in the counties under the Parks and Wildlife Department's regulatory authority.

P&W officials say the guide will be mailed to all license sales deputies July 25 and should be available to the public by the first of August.

Teams Vie In Tourney

The two local Sr. Babe Ruth squads, who played together in the same league before splitting up for the State tournament, squared off against each other Tuesday night following first-round losses by both teams.

The ALMO team, made up of Amherst, Littlefield, Morton, Muleshoe and Sudan, got no-hit pitching from Muleshoe's Gary White but fumbled away nine errors and lost to South Plains (Tahoka, Brownfield, Post) 4-2.

Hi-Plains, composed of Cotton Center, Dimmitt and Olton players, was bombarded by Lubbock 15-0. Both games were played Monday in the opening round of the state tourney in Graham.

Billy Joyce of Morton blasted a homer in the fifth inning to give ALMO its runs. John Hodge came in on the hit after getting on base with a single. Sudan players got the other hits for ALMO, two by Carroll Legg and one by Kyle Martin.

South Plains Utilized five ALMO errors in the bottom of the fourth inning to score three times. They got their other run in the sixth.

Lubbock's Tommy Payne kept the shackles on the Hi-Plains batters for six innings before giving way to reliever Scott Gardner. Mark Morgan slugged a homer for the winners.

The champion of the state meet, which ends Friday, advances to the sectional tournament beginning Aug. 1 in Abbeville, La. The winner there goes to the Tournament of Champions in Seattle.

Since the state meet is a double-elimination event, one local team was dropped following Tuesday's contest.
