

Texas Almanac Very Informative

The American Revolution of 1776 set in motion events that led to the colonization of Texas and eventually to its own struggle for self-government, notes the new 1976-'77 edition of the Texas Almanac, published by A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of The Dallas Morning News.

Those historic events affecting Texas have been traced in an article written especially for the Texas Almanac by the late R. Henderson Shuffler, editor, historian and, at the time of his death in the summer of 1975, executive director of the Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio.

"What we call the American Revolution was simply the first stage of the revolution of the Americas," Shuffler wrote. "Texas was affected directly by the American Revolution and the course of its history for centuries to come was shaped by the outcome."

Also in the Almanac's

Bicentennial section, Sam Kinch Sr., chairman of American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas, tells of the American Bicentennial in Texas. A commission listing of Texas events during the bicentennial year is included.

The new edition also contains a special section on "Gardening in Texas" prepared by specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is a guide for planting vegetables, fruit and nut trees and ornamentals in all sections of the state.

"The LBJ Hill Country," written by Art and Elise Kowert, publishers of the Fredericksburg Standard, presents a description of the home of the late Lyndon B. Johnson, 36th President of the United States.

"Nowhere else in this land is there a place where, within a distance of a few miles, the story of an American President can be traced through visiting the settlement of his grandparents, the birthplace, boyhood home, his 'White House' away from Washington, and his ranch where he lived in retirement and where he died and is buried," they wrote.

Other special features of the new Almanac include a history of the Texas Railroad Commission, the latest U.S. Census on manufacturing, wholesale and retail trade, the service industries and transportation in Texas, an account of the 10 Travel Trails of Texas, and a history of Texas A&M University observing its 100th anniversary in 1976.

Included also are data on election results, listings of county, municipal and state officials, appointive boards and commissions, officials of state and regional civic and trade organizations, and sections on agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and government.

Each Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, the urban concentrations in which most Texans live, has an editorial page devoted to it.

A new Texas map in color, with major highways, supplements 254 county maps, updated from maps prepared by the Texas Highway Department. Tourism and recreation also are featured, with listings of state and national parks. "This is the 48th edition of the Texas Almanac that has been published since 1857," said Joe M. Dealey, president of the Dallas Morning News. "We believe it continues the high standards that have made this publication the Encyclopedia of Texas."

Hulse Home Sees Of Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Littlefield opened the holiday season at the home of Mrs. Dewey Hulse, 111 23rd Street, on Dec. 5th for 45 members and their guests. Music of titillating bells brought love smiles at the welcoming door where each guest entered the hospitality that was centered around the bowl of hot cranberry punch.

Yuletide joy was spiritually expressed with a Christmas tree hung with colorful bows, bells, balls, trinkets of tinsel, with Santa Claus and reindeer dancing on the mantelpiece; with poinsettia, floral, and cotton arrangements, and patterned gifts of red and green piled high right in the middle of the parlor. Everything was aglitter to recall the warmth of Christmas.

After an invocation by Mrs. Fred Dodd and Christmas greetings from Mrs. A. B. Brown, the party moved to the festive table which was spilling over with delicious fruits, nuts, vegetables, sweets and meats.

Mrs. Nell Oldham of Lubbock cheered on joviality with an organ concert. Selections of classic charm slipped into a medley of rhythmic waltzes. Then the first half of the musical hour was closed with loved noels. The second half of the program was modern music, nostalgic folk-song and ended with Christmas songs of today. The club can now say with the British essayist "Music is the speech of Angels," for they have heard Mrs. Olham play.

Mrs. Nell Oldham, who had been introduced by Mrs. Pat Boone, Sr., presented the program "Holiday Music" many of which were from the Federation of Music Community Centers. She carried over the year that the kitchen were the club house there. She was a member of the division of the Chamber of Commerce. She has a great beauty of her own accomplishment in her words when she said "People in West Texas made life great here." The theme of the program was a Christmas gift exchange with Donnelly in charge. The game ended with pleasure and satisfaction. Mrs. Kenneth Hulse on the club activities. L. Dunlap gave the Counselor's report. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Dewey Hulse, Lee Neale, Jack Boone, Sr., B. C. Hargrove, Arthur Jones, Matthews, Charlene Frank Hayne.

To The EDITOR

Dear Editor:
On behalf of "We the Women", I would like to express our appreciation to the Leader-News and to KZZN Radio for the publicity given to our "Babes in Toyland" pageant Friday night. We also want to give a special thank you to the local merchants for the donation of prizes. Southwestern Public Service for decorations, Lee Behnke who served as emcee, Howard Head who played Santa, Chantry's Chanters and Tu Tu's School of Dance for special entertainment.

It takes the cooperation of many to make any community function a success, and without the help of those mentioned, our pageant could not have been the success that it was.

Thank you again.

Pat Marcum, Chairman
"Babes in Toyland"

Dear Editor:
The best present any of our boys will receive this year is a new suit or clothing package through the Christmas Suit Fund project. With 370 boys, the job is a big one, and if you can help us reach the goal by some advance announcements, they will be grateful.

I do hope that sometime during the holiday season you and your family can drive to the Ranch to see how the boys have decorated the buildings. On Saturday, Dec. 20, they will have little Christmas parties in their homes, beginning at 8 p.m., with supper at 6 p.m. in the dining hall, followed by a Christmas Cantata in the Boys Ranch Chapel. You would enjoy each of these events and the boys would be happy to have you join them in this celebration.

If you can find a place for the enclosed, it would be greatly appreciated. Thank you for all of the help you have given our boys in the past and with best wishes for a happy holiday season, I am

Sincerely yours,
Cal Farley's Boys Ranch

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

No Indifference

BIGNESS AND COMPLICATION are two prominent characteristics in many of the things which are important to us, and about which we are concerned. In many instances, however, we don't know exactly how to go about assuming our personal responsibilities for being helpful and useful. There will be many situations which we do not understand, and in which we cannot function effectively. This is frustrating and discouraging, and we are inclined to protect ourselves by assuming an attitude of indifference; but this may be a mistake.

IN OUR SELF-DETERMINING manner of life, there must be "no indifference" toward the obligations and responsibilities which rightfully belong to us. Of course, there will be some situations about which nothing can be done, it will be foolish to wear ourselves down by futile effort; but we must be sure. If indifference is warranted, so be it. We are certainly capable of knowing when we are justified in the expenditure of our time, energy and effort; and when we are not justified.

WE CAN BE OVERLY concerned, and we can let our concern be filled with anxiety; but neither attitude is recommended. In fact, if we go about our living with such poorly formed concern; we are moving along a self-defeating course. Such a manner of life is so discouraging that the individual is almost sure to move to a posture of indifference. Since we do not want to occur, we must be sure that our life is not only justified, but also well managed, so as to be effective.

SOME THINGS ARE more important to us and our well-being than others. These are the things about which there must be "no indifference." We must be alert enough to form and maintain proper level of interest. We must permit ourselves to be helped by the attitude of indifference, or to be discouraged, because there is something at stake.

INDIFFERENCE IS subtle, and can threaten us without our realizing it. It is a hidden foe; after we have succeeded in our work, it takes on the appearance of a friend, when it is, in fact, our enemy. It promises more than it can give. The greatest threat is in the ease with which indifference can appear to be justified when it is not.

INDIFFERENCE WILL cause us to fail to meet our obligations and make full use of opportunities, it can damage our integrity permanently.

THERE MUST BE "no indifference" about the wise conduct and improvement of ourselves; about the welfare of our loved ones, about our work, about our friends, or about other legitimate interest.

"I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas."

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter.

The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost... a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition... particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

Corn Production Meetings Slated

Insect and disease control, fertilizer and irrigation requirements, cultural practices and the economics of corn production are subjects to be discussed in a program on corn production in a series of meetings Dec. 15, 16, 17 and 19 in four South Plains counties.

Meetings are scheduled Dec. 15 in Floydada, at the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, 201 West California; Dec. 16 at Plainview, Hale County Agricultural Center; Dec. 17 at Friona, in the Community Center on Highway 214 N.W.; and Dec. 19, at Dimmitt in the Exposition Building.

All of them begin at 2 p.m., and end at 5.

"In 1975, well over a million acres of corn were grown on the Texas High Plains," says County Extension Agent Buddy C. Logsdon.

Next season the acreage may climb even higher. Many farmers are debating whether to plant corn or sorghum and many others are deliberating the prospects of disease and insect problems and fertilizer and irrigation costs.

All of these subjects will be dealt with in this program. The same information will be presented in each of the four meetings.

Logsdon says that the program's emphasis will be on production problem and cost.

Producers will be able to discuss their problems and needs with Extension Service specialists who will be speaking.

They include Gene Latham, Hale County Extension entomologist; James H. Valentine, area soil chemist and head of the Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory at Lubbock; Leon New, agricultural engineer - irrigation; Dr. Robert Berry, area plant pathologist; Dr. James Supak, area agronomist; and Marvin Sartin, area economist - all of Lubbock.

Also, Dr. John E. Bremer, Extension Service agronomist from College Station.

A question and answer session will conclude the afternoon program.

Producers and others interested in High Plains corn production are urged to attend, says Logsdon.

The South Plains Development Program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring the Floydada and Plainview meetings. Panhandle Extension Service is sponsoring the Dimmitt meeting. Cooperation with the Growers Association is holding an annual Dimmitt, Dec. 11, the Exposition according to Carl E. TCGA, the meeting adjourn in time for attend the corn meeting that afternoon.

New Suit Drive At Boys Town

The annual drive to provide the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began today.

Providing new clothing for the boys through the Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of the boys who contribute $35.00 for this purpose. Special discounts by Amarillo merchants and differences in prices of clothing for younger and older boys make the average cost of $35.00 possible. The suits replace those that have been worn out or outgrown, and in many cases, they are the first new suits some boys have ever owned.

The older boys get to select their own clothing in Amarillo stores, and the suits will be worn by graduating seniors next spring. Virgil Patterson, Ranch

President, said, "A new suit is the best Christmas present a boy can receive because it is a year-round reminder of those who really care."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas, 79174, or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo.

Hair Dryers Hot Gifting

One of the "hottest" gift items this Christmas will be a hair dryer. Mrs. Dorothy Powell, county extension agent, says. Called styling combs, hair stylers or styling dryers, all are designed to dry, brush, wave, smooth or detangle hair. And many styles and accessories are available, she said.

In choosing a hair dryer, consumers need to check these points.

-What attachments or accessories are furnished, and how many of these actually will be used? Will they perform the function desired?

-Operating features also vary widely. Controls should be clearly marked and easily manipulated. Hold the appliance to test for easy handling and comfortable weight.

Is it too heavy to hold long enough to dry hair? Also, think about the distribution of weight for easiest handling. How does the handle fit your hand?

-Noise and vibration are often overlooked. Ask to try out in the store the model being considered.

--How much wattage is necessary for adequate hair drying? Most popular wattage ranges from 600-800, for an average temperature of 170 degrees F. Higher wattages are available but may not be needed for all hairstyles.

And don't forget safety considerations in selecting hair dryers. A common problem with all hand-held appliances is that they may become hazardous if operated after being dropped on a hard surface.

Also since the appliances are most frequently used in bathrooms, even the most cautious person could drop it into the basin. Most stylers have a safety device that shuts down the motor if the appliance overheats, and this feature should be considered a necessity.

When you take out your Christmas money, why not lay some of it away again in purchases of U.S. Savings Bonds. They now earn a rewarding 6 percent interest, when held to maturity of 5 years.

Hodge Honored With Gift

By TODD STAFFORD
Mr. Beria Hodge received his retirement gift, a handmade clock, from the Littlefield High School faculty and Student Council during the Thanksgiving Assembly held on November 25. Mr. Hodge has worked for approximately 11 years as custodian at LHS.
Mr. Hodge was employed on August 19, 1966, and the official date of his resignation was October 25 of this year.
Presenting the clock, which was made by an Industrial Arts class, was Sid Landers, the Auto Mechanics teacher.
Mr. Hodge was born on May 18, 1910. Keeping the campus clean, cleaning the school building, and helping anyone in any way he could were some of his jobs on campus.

The speaker at the assembly was Rev. Wesley Daniel of the First United Methodist Church in Littlefield. Rev. Daniel spoke on America today and how the coming generations of young people could change our nation.
During the latter portion of the program, the LHS choir, under the direction and accompaniment of Miss Carol Chantry, sang the medley of songs and orations entitled "Sounds of America," written by Terry Kirkland.
The young men that recited the oral portion of the choir program were: Pipop Loacum, Rick Hopping, Randy Hall, Robert Hall, Danny Martinez, Kevin Gardner, Mark Roden, and Blake Altman.

The sixteen-year-old sophomore girl plans on attending Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Texas after she graduates. She wants to take a course in child psychology, and would like to work with children.

MANY MEN IN ONE
 A family sat down to Sunday dinner, where among other items on the menu was "Roast Preacher." Complaint after complaint rolled across the tongue of father and mother, sister and brother. "Too long, too loud, too much." The small lad at the table turned to his dad at the first pause in the tirade to ask, "Dad, what does a preacher do?" The answer was beyond the depth of his father.

The answer is complex and simple. The preacher who serves God, in large church or small, is many men in one. He is a student, spending many hours in prayer and preparation. He is a healer, spending many hours in consultation and guidance with those who are troubled and estranged. He is a planner, spending many hours organizing the life and ministry of his parish. He is a community man, spending many hours at the PTA, the Scout meetings, the service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, the court with wayward adults and children. He visits the sick, marries those in love, buries the dead and offers invocations at 50 different organizations every year.

And—he is the man who smiles quietly when some chap on Monday morning slaps his thigh in laughter and says, "What a job! Working one day a week!"
