BERLIN, Sunday, Sept. 7 (AP)—Germans reported today that they had penetrated the defenses of Leningrad in at least one place after attacks by strong German air force units and long-range artillery bombardment.

War Correspondent Kurt Stolzenberg wrote that "we found a soft place in the defense belt around Leningrad and advanced further."

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK

BY JOE PICKLE

This afternoon the Dora Roberts catedral for the Salvation Army here will be dedicated. It is fitting that many attend to applaud this good work, for more than many of our churches the Salvation Army gets down to the very practical business of serving Christ through service to "the least of these, my brethren."

We pose as no expert, but after circling the northern half of Howard county, we would peg our top estimate of the county's cotton crop at 30,000 bales. This is based on the assumption that a bale average will be plenty satisfactory. Some have heavier yields made, others will be pushed to make it.

Contrary to earlier scare stories, farmers hoot the idea of an acute picker shortage. Many have pickers who have been handling their crops for years and almost without exception they say they are quitting rugged picking in the valley to come up here where the going promises to be good.

One more farm item, please. Some ginners say that $1.75 reported for bagging and ties is lower than they can go. Sharp rise in steel and a 60 cent jump per pattern on burlap will lead more to ask $2 for this service in addition to the traditional $1 a hundred for flat cotton.

This department wouldn't be surprised if something more than WTCC discussions comes up at the chamber of commerce directors meeting Monday. Leaders may plug in on a certain utility. Guess who?

While the number of reductions about equals those of raises, the board of equalization is expected to have plenty of customers Monday and Tuesday at the city hall. Most cuts were in the residential district and conversely the raises, some of them exceedingly sharp, were in the business district.

Women are getting underway on plans for a defense unit. They have a definite plan in mind, and for one thing they have a good chance of doing what the men have not yet done—getting a unit into operation.

Some parents are experiencing difficulty in getting birth certificates for their children who are starting school for the first time. The idea may seem overdrawn for some, but those who have tried to get defense employment can testify that a birth certificate is mighty important. It's going to become more so as the years go by.

Motorcycle races sponsored by the American Business Club last Monday were, with one exception, well received. The races were exciting enough, but the interlude between them was generally dull for intermission events did not fill the gap. With better organization, this feature could become a popular annual affair.

Hack Wright so we are told, witnessed a $89 (or thereabouts) putt at the hands of Bobby Davidson in the Country club tourney. Hack had the Calcutta ticket on Chio Trout. Had Davidson missed his putt on the 19th green, maybe Trout would have won and Wright would have won $89 more along with it.

Plane Hits Truck; Driver Injured

HOUSTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Charles R. Tullis, a truck driver, was injured and three army pilots escaped without a bruise today when an army plane crashed into a dump truck and drag line while attempting to land at the municipal airport.

The injured man was a driver for a contracting firm which is paving new runways at the field. The plane apparently was caught in a gusty cross wind which started drifting it across the runway toward the truck and drag line before its wheels touched the ground.

SNAKE OVER-EATS

KIRBYVILLE, Sept. 6 (AP)—At last a Texas forest service employee has discovered what happened to two glass eggs which disappeared from his hen house. He found them beside the skeleton of a snake which apparently couldn't digest them.

President Will Broadcast Monday Night; Nazis Assert Destroyer Fired First Shot

FD's Speech 'Important', Aides Say

While the site of the advance was not specified, the correspondent said his units approached the former czarist capital on "forest planes and byways." The description indicated that German motorcycle units were established in a town near Leningrad.

"Around our town resound shots fired by our batteries," wrote Stolzenberg, "and hits in the forests sound as if heavy, high gates were rumbling in a castle."

The news agency DNE said that Russian field and artillery positions were subdued by powerful blows of German bombers and that the Russians "suffered exceptionally heavy losses."

German artillery bombardment of Leningrad continued with heavy guns effectively hitting targets which included electric power plants and a munitions factory, German dispatches from the front reported.

MOSCOW, Sunday, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Red army claimed today to have driven the Germans out of vital approaches to Leningrad with fierce counter-attacks while the Red air force gave full backing with "massed blows" upon invading panzer troops, infantry and artillery.

The Soviet midnight communique again declared the battle raged on all fronts yesterday. But the fight in the Leningrad sector was the greatest and the most vital of the Russian-German war which entered its 12th week today.

The giant rival armies fought in the northwest over battlefields darkened by rain and fog.

Dispatches to the army newspaper Red Star declared the troops of Marshal Kliment Voroshilov, defending Russia's second city, mopped up one occupied zone south of Leningrad, pinched off another German armored wedge, penetrated the German lines at several points and crushed one major Nazi air base in severing counterthrusts.

British Study Air Raid Noise Immunization

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Workers, children and bomb-shocked neurotics were led into dark and cold bomb-like vaults in London today and, in one of the most horrible experiments of the war, were exposed to an artificial bombing calculated to be just exactly as terrifying as the real thing.

Air raid precaution officials and physicians conducted the experiment with a view to preparing Britons for things to come in a fall and winter which government leaders have predicted will bring German raids perhaps worse than those of last year.

Wide-eyed, expecting anything, the subjects of the test huddled together as they were led underground. Some clutched the hands of others. A switch was turned, and there began a terrible sound—the raw reproduction of air raid noises.

The noise, nothing concocted in a sound-effect studio, was the real thing, recorded during one of London's worst raids last year.

The physicians questioned those who had been through it. It was terrifying, they agreed, but they said they were glad for having been through it.

Equalization Board Will Meet Monday

Board of equalization for the City of Big Spring and the local independent school district will go into session Monday morning in the commissioners room of the city hall.

Those who have received notices of raises or reductions may appear for interviews during Monday and Tuesday.

FIG PAYS PROFITS

ECTOR, Sept. 6 (AP)—A pig that Melvin Stricklen won last spring in an essay contest is paying dividends. He took the 200-pound porker to the Lamar county fair and won 75 baby chicks as third place prize in the swine show.

Talk Will Be Sent Abroad In Fourteen Different Languages

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt ignored for tonight a nasal declaration that he had given the navy shooting orders and wanted to incite the American people to war, but he will broadcast an address of "major importance" Monday night to the American people and to the world.

The subject matter was not disclosed when the temporary White House announced arrangements for the speech.

But there was no reason to doubt that it would deal with the explosive international situation, if not in some of its more troublesome aspects, at least in a general way.

That could be ascertained from the advance announcement that the president's words would be heard not only by the American people but also by the entire world in rebroadcasts in 14 languages.

A matter of immediate speculation was the possibility that Mr. Roosevelt would discuss the full implications of a naval action in the North Atlantic Thursday between a German submarine and the United States destroyer Greer.

While neither vessel was hit, apparently, the incident brought strong repercussions both in Germany and the United States.

A Nazi communique, released in Berlin today through the official news agency DNE, said the Greer case proved Mr. Roosevelt had issued shooting orders to his navy and was trying to provoke incidents to force the American people into the war.

Reporters relayed a summary of the communique to the president through William D. Hassett, a presidential secretary. No comment was forthcoming, but soon afterward Mr. Roosevelt's speaking plans were disclosed.

Some persons having close connections with the temporary White House suggested that Mr. Roosevelt's reaction to the communique might take the form of strengthening his publicly proclaimed determination that sea lanes to Iceland must be kept open, that delivery of war supplies to foes of the axis must be "more greatly safeguarded" and that "we must do everything in our power" to crush Hitlerism.

It was noted however, that any few steps to carry out these policies probably would not be retained a military secret.

They are policies which the chief executive has enunciated in press conferences and in a Labor Day speech last Monday.

Mr. Roosevelt failed to mention Japan and the crisis in the Far East in the Labor Day address, and some individuals thought they might command a share of attention Monday.

Conjectures on the possible range of the address went so far as to cover the chances that the president might be getting ready to ask his countrymen to take up arms against Hitler and his allies but there was absolutely no basis for putting such a step in any category but pure speculation and guesswork.

Whether the German communique today had crystallized a presidential decision to go on the air Monday was not ascertained, although Hassett indicated that Mr. Roosevelt had not made up his mind suddenly.

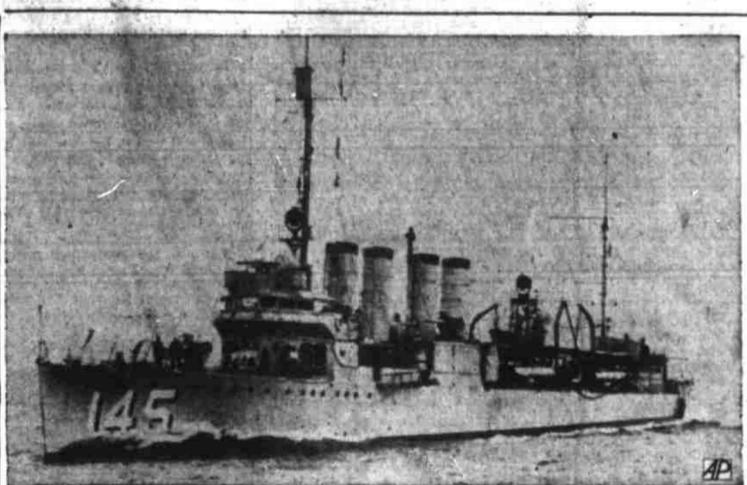

The address will be delivered from the White House in Washington at 8 p. m. CST, and will be carried by all major radio companies.

Cooperative City Revival Nears Close

Fast heading for its concluding service, the city-wide revival service sponsored by the Big Spring Pastors' association is expected to reach a climax here this evening.

Frankly disappointed in the crowds turning out to hear Dr. Harry Vom Bruck, nationally known evangelist, cooperating pastors were hopeful that the city auditorium, scene of the meeting, would be filled to capacity this evening.

Regular morning services will be held at the churches. Jimmy Davis, tenor soloist and song leader for the meeting, and Johnnie Hallett, pianist and young people's worker, are due to appear at local churches.

The revival campaign is due to be terminated Monday. Throughout the series of sermons, Dr. Vom Bruck, a speaker who makes an appeal to reason through informal but forceful delivery, has stressed personal responsibility of Christians in evangelism and the necessity of spiritual rebirth for all men. Singular contributions to the meeting have been made by Hallett and Davis.

RAF Flyer Preaches Well At Any Rate

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—His fellow cadets in the RAF expect big things of the Rev. Peter Elford if he learns to fly like he can preach. The Rev. Mr. Elford, in training at Terrell, Tex., will fill the pulpit tomorrow at the Hickory Street Baptist church.

An evangelist before joining the RAF in England, he conducts evening services each Sunday at the flying school.

SUBCHASER LAUNCHED

ROCKPORT, Sept. 6 (AP)—Launching of the fourth sub-chaser has left the boatworks of the Westgard boat works empty, but keels for four others will be laid soon. Employees are preparing the first four vessels for the motor installations. Mrs. R. R. Rice, Jr., christened the last ship.

Interpreting War News —

Time Not Ripe For Invasion Of Italy

By EDWARD E. BOMAR (Herald Special News Service)
Young King Petar's suggestion that the British invade Italy promises to keep until he reaches his nineteenth birthday a year hence. "The time is ripe," as the royal Yugoslav youth told an interviewer, but rather for continuation of the long range aerial hammering of Sicily which has been in progress for weeks and the telling attacks on Libya-bound axis convoys being made by British submarines.

Chances are plans for anything more serious than hit-run raids on Italy, or anywhere else in Europe, are on the high command's future spike just now. As a summer yanes in the desert country, making decisive military operations feasible, what seems immediately ahead of the British is a renewed struggle to hold on in the Mediterranean.

In Charge—Lt. Col. Lawrence Hugh Frost (above) was in command of the U. S. destroyer Greer which the navy department said was the object of an submarine torpedo attack by a submarine in the North Atlantic. This picture, obtained from Mrs. Frost, was made several years ago when Frost was a lieutenant. He is 39 years old and a native of Fayetteville, Ark.

Food Prices Hit 10-Year High

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Retail food prices reached "the highest level in 10 years" on August 12, the bureau of labor statistics reported today. It added that in the latter half of August "the rise has continued."

Prices of basic foods increased an average of 1.2 per cent from July 15 to August 12, the bureau said, and were 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

Operations Cease At Corsicana Refinery

CORSICANA, Sept. 6 (AP)—The boilers were cold today for the first time in 43 years at the oldest refinery west of the Mississippi river.

Officials Of WTCC Slate Meeting Here

Officials representing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will meet with directors of the Big Spring chamber Monday in the first of a series of parleys designed to better acquaint local units with the regional program.

Meeting with the local board will be M. C. Umpier, Midland, WTCC vice-president, and Max Bentley, WTCC activities director. Umpier is to talk the program and Bentley specific activities and principally the work of the local public affairs committee.

At the request of regional chamber officials a local public affairs committee was set up last week and will be at the meeting, set for 12 noon at the Crawford.

Other meetings over the area, in which D. A. Bandeen, WTCC manager, Dean Thomas J. Davis, WTCC president, and Jed A. Rix, WTCC assistant manager, will participate along with Bentley, Umpier and D. Reagan, Big Spring, district director, are slated for Sweetwater and Midland on Monday; Munday, Haskell and Seymour on Wednesday; Abilene, Ballinger and Coleman on Thursday. Dean Davis also is slated for speaking at Decatur on Monday, Nocona and Gainesville.

Mexican Pro-Nazi Stage Demonstration

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6 (AP)—Show windows of seven agencies handling United States-made automobiles were smashed and swastikas painted on their facades early today.

The vandalism was the latest in a series of disorders and strikes which prompted a group of congressmen last night to urge more energetic government action against fifth columnists to crush "the first symptoms" of what they termed an organized campaign to make trouble for President Manuel Avila Camacho's administration.

Daily Allowable Shows Decrease

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—Average daily oil allowable in Texas for the week ended today was 1,407,980 barrels, a decline of 296,019 from the previous week, the railroad commission reported.

This was 29,280 barrels in excess of the bureau of mines estimate of 1,378,700 barrels daily necessary to meet market demand.

Application of a normal 35 per cent monthly underproduction would place actual daily flow at 19,989 barrels below the bureau's standard, engineers said.

The number of wells declined from 97,668 to 97,545.

German-American Relations Worsen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The navy department bluntly disputed tonight a claim from Berlin that the Destroyer Greer had been the aggressor in an engagement with a German submarine off Iceland and reiterated that "the initial attack was made by the submarine on the Greer."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—German-American relations entered into a new and uglier phase today with the publication of diametrically conflicting claims as to the circumstances under which the U.S.S. Greer and a German submarine engaged in a torpedo and depth-bomb skirmish on Thursday.

Berlin claimed that the Greer, a destroyer, attacked first, and that the U-boat used its torpedo tubes in self-defense. An exactly similar claim was made for the Greer yesterday by President Roosevelt. The submarine fired first, he said, and the Greer dropped depth-bombs in self-defense.

To its published claim, Germany added a strong denunciation of President Roosevelt and American policy, which occasioned little surprise here, and for the time being, at least, elicited no official comment. Berlin charged:

"That the assertion that the Greer was acting in self-defense 'can only be to give at least the appearance of justification to an attack by an American destroyer on a German U-boat."

That it proved President Roosevelt had, contrary to his published statements, issued "general orders to American destroyers not only to report positions of German ships and U-boats but, beyond that, to attack them."

And that "Mr. Roosevelt in this way also is trying with all means at his disposal to provoke incidents in order to incite the American people into war against Germany."

Although state department and navy officials were silent on the German communique, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee said "the Nazis might as well learn now that we are going to defend our ships and our citizens."

"The fact that Nazis admit a German submarine was involved," he added, "amounts to an admission that it was acting under orders of the Nazi government in firing on our destroyers."

"This spirit of assassination, disregard for the rights of other nations and arrogant contempt for the United States dragged us into the last war."

"We do not want to become involved in the present war, but if our ships or citizens are attacked we are going to defend them."

Senator Capper (Kas.), a member of the senate foreign relations committee and one who has not voted consistently for administration foreign measures, directly challenged the truth of the Nazi statement.

"My opinion is that the Germans have made some misstatements in their communique," he said. "I can hardly believe that the president would order our warships to attack in an effort to incite the people into war. Beyond that, there is little that can be said until all the facts are known."

In any event, the German proposal that the United States should "see SINKING, Page 11, Col. 3"

School Board To Open More Bids

Bids for additions to the Kate Morrison-Americanization and the negro ward schools will be opened at a meeting of the board of trustees Monday evening.

Offers for the construction were received up until last Wednesday evening. The initial attempt to let contract on the work went awry, when bids exceeded estimates.

Also up for consideration is the proposed budget. Public hearing will be in order at the meeting and patrons are invited to present their views on the fiscal document.

The Hardys Return, And Andy Tackles Life, With Somewhat Unusual Results

Popular Family Series Renewed At The Ritz

Ring the bell once again in its true interpretation of American family life, "Life Begins For Andy Hardy," newest of the Hardy Family pictures, offers entertainment plus at the Ritz theatre, where it is featured today and Monday. This latest venture, which finds Andy facing life on his own away from family ties and the protective influences of Caryl, results in a sobered young man—Andy who at last realizes that living constitutes something more than class dances and football games. The plot in brief deals with the problem facing the Hardys after Andy's graduation from high school. Whether he should go on to college to study law, or go out on his own is a situation left entirely up to him by his parents. He decides to leave home for a month and work in New York. With this experience he feels he will be able to make a wiser decision. Once again his path crosses that of Betty Booth, and once again Betty helps him out of an embarrassing situation. What happens in the city can best be explained by the fact that Andy, after his month has elapsed, chooses a college career.

Once again the entire family has been gathered in the Carvel home as a setting for the drama. Lewis Stone as Judge Hardy has new and intricate problems to face. As Andy, Mickey Rooney has a greater opportunity for his acting ability than ever before. For the third time, Judy Garland appears with the family as guest star, recreating her lovable character of Betty Booth. Fay Holden is again an understanding mother, Sara Haden a sympathetic aunt, and Ann Rutherford, Polly Benedict. "Life Begins For Andy Hardy" introduces two newcomers to the screen, as has been the Hardy policy in the past. The two screen finds are Patricia Dane, who does a convincing role as a big-city office vamp, and Ray McDonald, youthful dancer who was signed on the strength of his New York stage performances. Both youngsters promise to join the ranks of Hardy graduates who have skyrocketed to stardom, among this alumni being such personalities as Lana Turner, Judy Garland and Kathryn Grayson.

The new Hardy picture was directed by George B. Seitz, who has piloted the family through all but one of their adventures thus far.

New Type Of Air Drama At Lyric

Adventures In Aviation Research Told In "Power Dive"

Reminding us that most aviation pictures in the past have only used revolving propellers, flaming crashes and women shrieking down sob to depict sky drama, Lyric presents something different—a film that really makes use of the untold, rich material behind the scenes of aeronautic research and enterprise.

It's "Power Dive," which is offered today and Monday at the Lyric theatre, the story of man's latest conquest of the air, the new "radio-elastic" plane, said to be faster to build and more economical than any ships now being made.

The thrilling air sequences form the background of a story that deals with vibrant ambition and youthful love. Two brothers, daring aviators, are in love with the same girl. They try to outdo each other in their attempt to prove that their father's radically new airplane invention is feasible and practical. Suspense, romance and exciting adventure in the treacherous space above the earth, are crowded into the throbbing scenes of "Power Dive."

Richard Arlen, ace pilot in private life, shares stellar cast honors with Jean Parker, Don Castle, Roger Pryor, the amusing Cliff Edwards, Helen Mack, Louis Jean Hoyt and little Billy Lee, who will be remembered for his remarkable performance in "The Biscuit Eater."

Sisters Meet After 38 Years Apart

LAMESA, Sept. 6. (Sp.)—Two sisters, one living in Texas, the other in California, saw one another for the first time in 38 years this week.

Mrs. Will Heckman of Muleshoe and Mrs. G. W. Eaton of Dinuba, California, decided to visit another sister, Mrs. H. L. Martin of the Riohick community southwest of Lamesa, and get re-acquainted. The reunion also was the occasion of the first meeting of Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Eaton in 35 years. Another sister, Mrs. S. A. Waltrip, attended.

East Siders Featured In Queen Film

Boisterous Gang To Be Seen In "Bowery Blitzkrieg"

Those "East Side Kids," as boisterous and rowdy as ever, parade their varied talents in Monogram's "Bowery Blitzkrieg," a neat bit of entertainment playing today and Monday at the Queen theatre.

The gang, which features such stalwart performers as Leo Gorcey, Bobby Jordan and Hunts Hall, are ably assisted by a strong supporting cast that includes Warren Hull, Charlotte Henry, Bobby Stone, Jack Mulhall, Martha Wentworth, Keye Luke and Donald Haines.

Any picture with the "East Side Kids" is certain to have plenty of laughs and action, because that is their film trademark, and "Bowery Blitzkrieg" is no exception. It opens with a bang and continues its riotous course with never a lull until the final fadeout.

Muggs McGinnis, terror of the Bowery, is the motivating factor for the picture. Played by Leo Gorcey, Muggs is a rough, tough homie who maintains that the only law of the east is that administered with his fists. This creed finally lands him in a reform school, but policeman Tom Brady, certain that there is some good in Muggs, has him paroled in his custody.

Because somebody finally has shown faith in him, Muggs determines to make good and turn his flitio prowess into something worthwhile. He trains diligently for the Golden Gloves amateur bouts and finally, representing the police department, battles his way into a championship fight.

Racketeers, trying to muscle in to the amateur fight racket, offer Muggs $1000 to lose the title match. Word spreads through the east side that Muggs has been bribed. Events move with lightning speed on the day of the big fight when the "East Siders" take things to their own hands and leave the gangsters sadder but wiser men.

The War Today—Nazis Likely Would Not Fire Knowingly At American Ship

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Herald Special News Service)

Confucius in his boundless wisdom doubtless would advise us to take it easy in reaching conclusions about the mystery of the submarine attack on the United States destroyer Greer.

If for the sake of argument we adopt the British idea that it was a German U-boat which fired the torpedoes, then the question immediately arises whether the action wasn't the result of a mistake.

There has been no indication that Herr Hitler wants to see America in the European war, although he might be praying that we become involved in the Orient. In fact, all the signs have been that he hopes we won't intervene in the western theater.

The point isn't that the further we get from the war, the more the idea of the United States navy getting into action at this critical juncture the less. His reason is that he likely will undertake major operations in the Mediterranean in the near future; he presumably will intensify his U-boat campaign in the battle of the Atlantic; and he doesn't want American warships supporting the British when the allies invade the continent.

In short, the Nazi chief has plenty of trouble on his hands already—and so much for that. The British invasion, by the way, probably won't be tried before spring, unless unexpected developments in the Russo-Nazi war make it advisable for Britain to strike sooner.

Meantime the bloodletting which the Nazis are undergoing in Russia is paving the way for the allied assault across the English Channel.

Sanguinary fighting continues throughout the entire length of the great battle-line in Russia, but there seems to have been little change in position during the past twenty-four hours. The authoritative German commentary Diest Aus Deutschland says the Reds apparently are carrying out extensive attacks on the central front, but belittles their effectiveness.

Diest misses the point. The significant fact is that the bolsheviks are able to inaugurate big-scale attacks at all, after standing off such a violent assault. It is indicative of reserve power and good morale.

It is interesting to see the Germans again resorting to what the Muscovites describe as a "psychological attack"—a sort of stage-play which is calculated to confound the enemy. In the case in hand the Reds report that two companies of picked Nazi troops advanced in close formation, "preceded by a band as on parade, kettle drums rolling and bass drums thundering." Moscow says the attackers were annihilated.

The "psychological attack" cropped up more than once in the World War and I was on the ground on one occasion when it met with notable success. During their second offensive in the spring of 1918 in France, the Germans launched a surprise attack against the British front just north of Arras. The sector selected was held by a division of Portuguese, and the Jerries picked it because they thought it might be vulnerable.

The Germans advanced in close formation over the crest of a hill. They were goose-stepping and, mirabile dictu, actually were preceded by the famous one-armed commander, General Karl Hofer. The old boy, who was known as a great sportsman, wore a full dress uniform and carried a yellow cane which he waved as he led his troops, while his empty sleeve flapped madly in the breeze.

It's perhaps small wonder that the Portuguese line gave way in the face of such a fantastic demonstration, especially since the show was backed by a great force of fighting men. The Germans broke through and the British averted disaster by the skin of their teeth.

British Submarine Acknowledged Lost

LONDON, Sept. 6. (Sp.)—A British submarine, apparently of a new class, was given up for lost tonight by the admiralty, the 30th undersea craft acknowledged lost by the British during the war.

The vessel, the P 33, is "overdue and must be considered lost," a communique said. Details were not given.

It was generally assumed that the P 33 represented a new class, since the latest edition of Jane's fighting ships, the authoritative manual on the world's navies, carries no mention of any such designation.

The standard clock at the national bureau of standards, department of commerce, does not vary as much as one-fiftieth of a second a day.

College Degree Not Necessary In Air Corps

EL PASO, Sept. 6. (SpL)—College? It's all right if you have time for it.

Such are the sentiments of 28 ambitious young Americans who scored passing grades here on recent scholastic examinations for the U. S. Army Air Corps. The examination was given for high school graduates who lacked the two years of college, formerly a prerequisite for Cadet training.

This examination is the first one held under the new regulations, designed to open appointment to The Aviation Cadets to every young man who has a high school education and can pass entrance examinations in five required subjects, and in two out of five other optional subjects.

Many young men, even though several years out of high school, have studied and passed these examinations. Others have found it helped to attend a "Refresher Course" of two to three months at night school.

The physical requirements are the same—a man must be sound physically. Of good moral character. Unmarried and not less than 17 years old nor more than 27 years old.

All army recruiting stations have full details.

Registration Set Monday Afternoon

The march back to school starts Monday for approximately 3,000 children.

Although no pupils are to report before 1:30 p. m. Monday, Superintendent W. C. Blankenship called a meeting of 82 regular teachers and four supplies for 8:30 a. m. when instructions for enrollment, book issuance, assignments, etc. will be given. By delaying the reporting hour for students in favor of pre-organization, the superintendent hoped to expedite opening activities.

Throughout the week High School Principal J. A. Coffey was busy registering new students or those who were not enrolled here last spring. Through Saturday noon a total of 64 registrations had been received.

In reporting at 1:30 p. m., said the superintendent, elementary students are to go to the school in their district or to the one they attended last year. Seventh grade students will report at the gymnasium and high school ones at their guidance rooms.

For elementary school purposes, the city is districted as follows: North Ward, territory lying north of tracks and east of state highway 87; East Ward, territory lying in area bounded by the tracks, Nolan street south to fourth, east to Golland, south to 11th Place and east to but not including Highland Park; South Ward, including Highland Park, Washington Place and all territory east of Johnson and south of 11th Place to 16th; College Heights, all territory south of 16th street from east to west city limit.

Central Ward, territory bounded by tracks on north, Gregg street to 9th and Lancaster to 16th on south, Johnson to 11th, Golland to 12th, Nolan to 13th on the east; West Ward, all territory west of Central Ward line and south from tracks to 16th street.

All students attending Big Spring schools are required a vaccination certificate for smallpox and those entering a public school for the first time must have a birth certificate.

Ringling Show To Be Here On September 23

The "Big Show"—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey—has begun its advertising and publicity in the city.

Thursday, advertising Car No. 1, with Allen J. Lester, contracting press agent, and thirty billers aboard rolled into the T. & P. railroad yards. It is two weeks ahead of ordinary, and the No. 2 advertising car is generally one week ahead of the exhibition date, which is Sept. 23, for a night performance only.

Lester, who has been ballyhooing from coast to coast for many years has a lot to say about this circus—about the radical restyling by Norman Bel Geddes and about the performance.

Allen says: "The circus comes to town this year with so many new and startling features that the public men hardly know where to start their annual fanfare."

"First of all, there is Gargantua the Great, the world famous gorilla, and M'Toto (which means 'Little Child' in the Swahili tongue), the brand new bride of the world's most famous anthropoid ape. Mr. and Mrs. Gargantua the Great! Surely that's a lot to begin with, but it is really only a fair start."

"There is a new note in the presentation of The Big Show program, and that is production. The show is more closely knitted into a calculated pattern by Norman Bel Geddes, the wizard of the Futurama of the New York World's Fair, and John Ringling North, president of the circus.

"Taking the place of the opening spectacles of the last few years is an imaginative and opulent extravaganza, 'Old King Cole and Mother Goose,' staged by Albertina Rasch, designed and costumed by Mr. Geddes, and produced by John Ringling North.

"Alfred Court, the famous French wild animal trainer, will repeat his triumphs of last year with his three great mixed groups of performing wild animals—Polar bears, lions, tigers, black leopards and panthers, spotted leopards, jaguars, cougars, Himalayan bears, pumas, giant ocelots and Great Dane dogs—with the 1941 circus. However, Court's three cats are almost entirely new, with a number of new animals and new lighting effects as his groups attain their various climatic peaks.

"Back again is Ely Ardeley, who made her American debut with The Big Show last spring. Ely is the greatest aerialist seen in this country since the late and lamented Lillian Leitler. Her finish trick in her flying trapeze is unquestionably the most thrilling feat ever presented to the American public. She heads the new Birdland Aerial Ballet of sixty pretty girls."

Last County Schools Open On Monday

With six rural schools opening Monday, "books" will have "taken up" all over Howard county.

Students in Cauble, Moore, Center Point, Gay Hill, Fairview and Garner schools will register Monday. All other schools are already in operation.

Meanwhile, classes have been discontinued at two schools. At R-Bar there were so few scholars that the trustees made a contract with Coahoma to school the children. The R-Bar teacher, T. J. Weaver, has been added to the Coahoma faculty.

Coahoma is also under contract to have all students of the Vincent district, which operated a three-teacher school last year.

251 Warships Added By US During Year

By the Associated Press

Two swift and deadly cruisers slid down the ways Saturday, bringing the navy a long step closer to its goal of a two-ocean fleet.

Speaking at one of the launching ceremonies—at a time when new tension was developing over a skirmish between the United States destroyer Greer and a German submarine — Undersecretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal asserted:

"The events in the North Atlantic make this a significant day for the American navy."

The launching of the light cruisers Atlanta at Kearny, N. J., and San Juan at Quincy, Mass., brought to 251 the total of all types of new fighting ships to go into the water thus far this year.

The rapid expansion brought the fleet up to a strength of 338 combatant vessels on August 1. The fleet at that time was made up of 15 battleships, six aircraft carriers, 37 cruisers, 168 destroyers, 112 submarines. That figure did not include several ships afloat but not actually in service, such as the new battleships North Carolina and Washington and other smaller craft.

Between the first of the year and yesterday the navy launched 249 ships, put down 436 keels and put into service or made ready for service 213 more craft.

In addition to the building, launching and commissioning of the fighting ships, the navy has pushed a construction program for auxiliary vessels. Among such vessels was a 37-foot mine sweeper, launched at Millville, N. Y., yesterday.

Details of the two cruisers launched yesterday were naval secrets, but some information was made public. The Atlanta is so speedy, navy officers said, that only the darting mosquito boats can outrun her. She is partly streamlined, with the deck partly enclosing the forward funnel.

The San Juan has similar characteristics and speed. Her builders said she was armed with torpedo tubes and driven by twin-screw geared turbine machinery.

While the cruisers slid down the ways at Kearny and Quincy, ceremonies were going on at a Philadelphia yard to mark the laying of a keel for the 10,000-ton cruiser Wilkes-Barre.

At Kearny, the way on which the Atlanta stood was cleared for laying the keels of two destroyers. On nearby ways at the yard are the Junaua, sister ship of the Atlanta, and several destroyers.

London Learns How To Handle Blitz Repairs

AP Feature Service

LONDON—Preparing for great intensification of air raids during fall and winter months, the British ministry of works has formed a mobile organization which intends to be repairing damage to homes within 10 minutes after completion of blitzes to come.

During the summer raid 80,000 workers have repaired 95 per cent of the damaged houses in the London area which were repairable. Costs were borne by the 28 London boroughs.

Almost no repairs have been made to London's historic buildings except for minor work on roofs and windows. Great holes still gape.

Wrecked Buildings Removed

No figures are available on repair of private or public business properties, but informed sources say thousands of laborers have been on that job months. In London's huge business area, temporary repairs have been made to hundreds of damaged business buildings, which again are filled with workers. Other structures too badly damaged have been torn down.

Other crews have been repairing utilities, city streets, sidewalks, and the ministry says "the greater part of that task is completed." No London street is closed now because of bomb damage.

The ministry adds that 72,000 damaged houses were made habitable again in one recent week. The total included 40,000 in the provinces and 32,000 in London "which suffered twice as much damage in air raids as the rest of Britain combined."

5,000 Contractors Available

Those repairs were of the "first aid" class—holes in roofs covered, blownout windows covered with waterproof fabric, doors rehanging and ceilings restored. Extended repairs are underway in some boroughs.

Repair has been supervised by the ministry of works, which has 5,000 contractors available in the London area alone, and is seeking 1,000 more; the ministry of health, and the director of emergency repairs for each borough.

Here is what will happen after a London bombing raid:

Survivors in each borough will be sent out to assess damage and inform the director of emergency repairs. He immediately assigns builders, laborers and equipment, and calls on the ministry of works for materials. The system is similar to that of last year but time lags are believed out.

The ministry also has an emergency squad of 5,000 specialists to be rushed to any section of the country where raid damage is extensive.

Shelters Redesigned

The ministry of health has been busy during the summer restoring air raid shelters. Regional Commissioner Charles Kay says that thousands of London shelters, unfit because of drainage or structural defects, have been rebuilt and that the work is continuing.

London now has 27,000 shelters which can provide for 4,772,000 persons in addition to millions of others who seek protection in the suburbs.

Workers' homes damaged in raids receive first priority for repairs; next, any war goods factories which might have been damaged, and then public office buildings.

He discovered "Boots" had an acute instinct of differentiating between a burglar and honest citizen.

Poisoning Worms, Heading Maize, And Canning Keep Things Humming

By JOE PICKLE

These are busy days on the farm. Poisoning worms, heading maize, cutting cane and canning fruits and vegetables are keeping men folks in the field and women in the kitchen.

Glenn Cantrell, Center Point, who has been down for about two weeks, was obliged to get back to the field quicker than he might have liked because of the worm threat. Still not able to do much, he's overseeing the job. Mga Cantrell is doing some canning, but not as much as in former years. She's just putting up enough for home needs.

Down the road Mrs. W. C. Rodgers of B-Bar was following Mrs. Cantrell's canning policy, especially since she has been on the sick list most of the summer. Rodgers was out in the field poisoning for the fifth time to protect the best cotton crop prospects in years. Feed and cane looked mighty good. They were interested in a small bunch of pigs—seven shoates, four hogs and a brood sow with four pigs... handy things to have around what with prices high.

The Alvin E. Lay family was getting its pinto bean patch along, for it may show as nice a profit this year as any piece of land on the place. Mrs. Lay has put up a lot of canned goods, including Kentucky Wonder, stringless and pinto beans, black-eyed and cream peas. Cotton is in pretty good shape and maize is ready for heading. With the supply plentiful, it looks like prices may be down and $2 a day farm labor is creating a worry shared by many farmers.

So busy were the men folks poisoning against worms at the H. S. Hanson place, that they are working night and day. Mrs. Hanson baked a cake after 11 p. m. and served it with coffee to the men in the field at 1:30. This was after a hard, long stretch of canning vegetables and several kinds of fruits.

While Mrs. A. A. McKinney and the boys were in town buying school supplies, McKinney switched from his poisoning to cane cutting—that is until the tractor dropped its oil gauge and oil. Meanwhile, Walker Bailey, the schoolmaster, came by to get the ideas of McKinney, who is a trustee, on repairs, etc., for the Center Point school before it opens Monday.

The worm situation didn't appear so acute around Luther but tractors with sprays were common sights. The tight land section in this territory had its best crops in years. Farm wives, of which Mrs. E. D. Spruell was typical, have been canning. She has put up over 300 cans and lots more to go yet. Their field has required three rounds of poisoning.

Above that section, Claude Collins was installing a set of pen scales to accommodate around 20 cows and to weigh up to 20,000 pounds. Claude recently purchased seven and a half sections from J. P. Anderson, running his total holdings in the general vicinity to 21 sections. Wire costs—up to $115 a mile—were something to think about, according to Collins.

As usual, said Jim Hodnett at Vincent, the Von Roeder cotton will be raised exclusively. In 1939 the lint commanded a premium and as a one variety community, Vincent growers get free classing.

Claude Hodnett and W. E. Mann agreed that farm labor costs were getting out of hand. A "good" hand, said Mann, could head a couple of tons a day, "but these good hands are all dead."

Vincent children, incidentally, are going by bus this year to the Coahoma schools. Some of them travel a distance of 60 miles daily.

Mrs. Willis Winters has been letting neighbors have her canning equipment this season. She has been putting in considerable work on beautifying the home place. Winters and the hands are fighting the maize patch, trying to head it before cotton opens, for "when cotton opens it will be almost impossible to get maize headed." Several farmers may have to follow the practice of turning cows in, on some of the unharvested grain.

Around Vaalmoor, said Porter Hinks, store operator, crop prospects are good if worms don't ruin the cotton. Heading maize is a problem with a labor shortage for many young men in that community have joined the army. All along the northern county line cotton appears to still be fruiting. While great amounts of cane have been shocked (and a good sucker crop may yet make), new trench silos are common sights.

Around Knott and on into Big Spring the fight against leaf worms goes on, although damage does not appear as heavy as in the Center Point region.

Sponge blight and war have already affected world trade in sponges, according to the department of commerce.

BH Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Nichols, returned Saturday night after visiting with his brother, Sam Petty, and Mrs. Petty in Dallas.

Salvation Army Citadel Dedication Set At 3 p. m. Today

Worthy Of Its Name—The new Salvation Army Citadel in Big Spring is a worthy structure to bear its name. Flatteringly built, it is nevertheless substantial and roomy, and designed particularly for the purpose it will service. Adjoining it in the most convenient fashion is the residence of Major and Mrs. L. W. Canning, in charge of the Army's work here. (Kelsey Photo).

Main Citadel Auditorium—It is so large that there aren't yet enough chairs to fill it, but Major L. W. Canning believes that as his crowds in the interior of the building. Simplicity and practicality of design is carried out on the interior of the building. (Kelsey Photo).

State Head Of Army To Make Talk

Big Spring's new Salvation Army citadel—a $13,000 structure erected to the cause of God and humanity—will be dedicated formally in ceremonies set for 3 p. m. today.

Lt. Col. William George Gilks, state commander for the Salvation Army, will be the principal speaker in dedicating the building, which will bear the name of one of its chief donors—Dora Roberts. Also to be honored on the occasion is Mrs. Cora Holmes, who also contributed to the building and gave liberally to its furnishings.

Ministers of four Big Spring churches will participate in the ceremony.

At noon, Lt. Col. Gilks and Mrs. Gilks will be honored at a dinner at the Crawford hotel. Members of the advisory board will be guests. The state commander and wife are coming here from Fort Worth, said Maj. L. W. Canning, in charge of the Big Spring post.

While the building will be open to inspection starting at 2:30 p. m., the dedication will not start until half an hour later. Robert T. Piner, chairman of the advisory board, will preside and the San Angelo Salvation Army band will give a brief concert. Dr. J. O. Haynes, First Methodist pastor, will offer the invocation, and following presentation of distinguished guests, the Rev. O. L. Savage, First Presbyterian minister, will read the Scriptures.

Big Spring singers will be heard and Mayor G. C. Dunham will express local appreciation. Bruce Frasier, for the American Legion, and Mrs. Fontaine Hair, for its auxiliary will present the colors and Mrs. Winston Canning will be heard in a vocal solo.

After Lt. Col. Gilks' address, the dedicatory prayer will be offered by the Rev. Homer Hallock of the First Christian church, and the benediction will be pronounced by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster of the First Baptist church.

Governor Coke Stevenson sent a message of congratulations to the Salvation Army on the occasion of the opening of the citadel here, lauding Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Holmes for their gifts.

The services today climax a long campaign for an adequate building to house the Salvation Army in its work here, one that now adds a building with two auditorium spaces, Sunday school classrooms, utility rooms, office space, meeting rooms, and an adjacent storage cottage for Maj. and Mrs. L. W. Canning. Location of the brick structures is at 4th and Ayford.

Old Ship Lumber Goes Into New

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The navy has uncovered some hand-hewn oak timbers in dredging operations at the Brooklyn navy yard and thinks they may have been some acquired to build Civil War fighting ships.

Anyway, Rear Admiral Edward J. Marquart, yard commandant, said they wouldn't be wasted. They'll be used as keel wedges in building modern men-of-war.

Differences of one-millionth of an inch can be detected by instruments used at the National Bureau of Standards, department of commerce.

Colorado City Roundup Fete Sets Records

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 6 (AP)—Chalked up as a record-breaker, the seventh annual Colorado City Frontier Roundup and 50th anniversary celebration came to a close Friday night.

Oldtimers' homecoming events shared the limelight Friday with the last two rodeo performances. Oldtimers gathered at the Palace theater Friday morning for their annual memory and memorial session, held their annual luncheon afterward, and were entertained from 4 until 6 in the afternoon by the Bluebonnet club at the Barcroft hotel.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt presided at the memory and memorial session. Speakers included Chas. C. Thompson and Congressman Geo. H. Mahon. Mrs. Chas. C. Thompson gave a history of Mitchell county. Oldtimers who arrived before 1890 were recognized.

Flowers for oldtimers who have died during the past year were placed in a wreath by Enid June Wheeler of Midland and Dana Merritt of Colorado City, both descendants of oldtimers, as Mrs. Merritt called the roll. Over 100 attended the luncheon at which U. D. Wulfjen presided.

Tentative plans for an oldtimers organization were set up at the reception Friday afternoon. Registration of oldtimers was taken by Mrs. C. H. Earnest and Mrs. Harry Landers, Sr. Mrs. Rose Daniels had charge of luncheon decorations.

When the last calf was roped Friday night before a crowd which nearly equaled the record-setter of Thursday night, best averages for the two days were found to be as follows:

Calf roping—Lao Brannon, Longview, first; Curtis Driver, Big Spring, second; Sonny Edwards, Big Spring, third.

Mitchell county calf roping—Forest Porter, first.

Steer riding—Bill Barton, Abilene.

Bronc riding—First and second split by Bill Barton, Abilene, and Joe Bloodworth, Colorado City.

Team tying—Curtis Driver, Big Spring, first; Buddy Fort, Lovington, N. M., second; Flop Roberts, Midland, third.

The cowgirl sponsor contest was won by Patsy Morris of the Walking Three ranch, Coleman, who chalked up a total time of 39-1-5 for the barrel run and flag race.

Tough luck rode Jim Espy of Fort Davis to the finish in his matched roping with Sonny Edwards of Big Spring. They roped three calves each at each performance. Espy led by 3-5 of a second at the end of the first go-around. He blew up Thursday night, taking three loops on one calf, two on another, and fell 21 seconds behind Edwards.

Edwards, roping consistently and with luck, widened the lead to 62-3-5 seconds. Espy narrowed this to 53-2-5 seconds Friday night. Total time for Espy on the twelve calves was 307-1-5, that for Edwards 232-3-5.

First place in the cutting horse finals Friday afternoon went to Berry Hart of Kent and his horse, Berlin. Fern Sawyer of Cross Roads, N. M., on Tony took second place. Fred Jones of Kent county took third place on his seasoned Kansas City. Bill Miller, Sr., of Snyder, was fourth on Ladyfinger, Flop Roberts of Midland fifth on Texas.

In an unprogrammed matched roping Friday night, Christine Northcutt of the Spade ranch, Mitchell county, won over Fern Sawyer of Cross Roads, N. M., on two calves each. Mrs. Northcutt's time was 107-2-5.

Among Friday day money winners were Vance Davis, Big Spring, first in team tying with 21-3-3; Curtis Driver, third with 25-3-5.

Television broadcasting is adversely affected by normal operation of motor vehicles, according to the department of commerce.

Salvation Army's Progress Steady Here During Service Of Canning

Progress of the steady variety services has been the watchword for Maj. and Mrs. L. W. Canning since they came here in August of 1936 from San Angelo to assume charge of Salvation Army work in Big Spring.

Then the membership stood at 11, and today 21 members are on the Army books here. Instead of the one girl studying for the cadet corps, there are nine now enlisted, six in the lower and three in the higher grades.

Services, irregular at first, have been increased to three regularly each week with Sunday school and five young peoples' meetings in addition.

Most of this increase has been accomplished in cramped quarters of a frame building on E. 3rd street where hundreds and hundreds of unfortunates have appeared for aid.

The Salvation Army has fed untold hungry, furnished lodgings to homeless, appealed for collections of food, clothing, furniture and bedding when poor folks were burned out of homes, sought help in providing for some indigents who were ill and improperly housed.

Still, the regular program has gone on and the traditional street services have been staged with beneficial results. Salvation of lost souls has remained the objective of the work, and in this aim the army has a splendid record, according to the records of Maj. Canning.

It's Not Just Alley Garbage— War Brings Boom To Business Of Gathering, Baling Junk

And Auto Bodies Are Tin, Dealer In Junk Asserts

By JACK DOUGLAS

Of all the businesses that have shown the effects of the United States' expanded war efforts, few have boomed greater than that dealing with the collection and shipping of scrap metal.

Always an active business, even during the depression, the scrap metal line has increased about 60 per cent since the war in Europe began two years ago.

Let's take a visit to one of the junk concentration points. The Paul L. Gregory Iron and Metal company, located near the Gregg street viaduct, is typical of the larger concerns. It buys scrap from Big Spring and surrounding towns, then prepares the material for shipment to processing plants. Also buying heavily are Big Spring Iron and Metal company and American Scrap Metal and Iron company here.

A conglomeration of cast-off machines and incidental parts of the modern American way of life makes up the goods collected. Everything, from bird cages and coffee cans to machine castings and wrecked automobiles, makes up the large junk heaps. Most of it thought to be beyond commercial use at one time, defense industry demands for all sorts of metal have made it a marketable commodity.

Junk dealing is concerned with large figures. Most people are familiar with the junk dealer who goes from house to house, buying and collecting household cast-offs. By the time the collection has reached the junk grounds and loading yards, it has entered into the realm of big business.

L. H. Monk, buyer for the Gregory company, said that his yard alone had shipped approximately 750 tons of tin and 400 tons of scrap iron. Bales of tin are shipped out of Big Spring on the average of a carload, weighing 80,000 pounds, every 36 hours. Carloads of scrap iron are shipped at almost the same rate of speed. Most of the tin goes to plants in Colorado, where it is broken down and then rolled into sheet metal. Iron is usually forwarded to eastern plants.

Scrap metal dealers have few illusions about the all steel bodies of automobiles. So far as they are concerned all cars are tin, because that is what they are listed as on the market. Junked cars make up the greater part of scrap tin, although the modern age of canned cookers contributes a heavy share.

Iron scrap consists mainly of broken down agricultural implements, Monk said, although car

Just Rubbish—That's all it is out in the alley. But big piles of junk like this one photographed in Big Spring are worth money when baled up and sent away to processing plants. (Kelsey Photo).

Squeezing It Down—Junk in its natural condition has a most uncommercial variety of shapes and sizes, making shipping difficult. So it is placed in this huge press and baled into compact bundles for shipment. (Kelsey Photo).

motors and machine castings are high on the list.

Although it is cast-off stuff, junk brings a fairly good price. Since the Gregory yard opened for business, Monk declared he had bought right at $50 tons of tin, or $2,800 worth at $2.50 per ton. Prices paid for old iron runs between $7 and $12, according to the bulk and grade.

Junk cannot be tossed in the yard, then into the cars Monk pointed out. First, all of it must be baled or cut into easily handled pieces.

A press that develops 1,800 pounds pressure on a bundle puts the tin in a bale that weighs on the average 140 pounds. Around 800 of these bales are needed to fill a railroad car. Torches are used to whittle down iron into marketable chunks. Equipment to handle this tremendous volume of scrap consists of the press, three sets of tin shears, cutting torch and lifting elevator. Running three shifts over a 24-hour period, an average of 24 men per day are kept busy maintaining the flow of vital metals to the plants.

Personal Appearance Club Program Topic

Mrs. W. D. Lipscomb spoke on personal appearance at the Overton home demonstration club meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. E. A. Farmer.

Here 'n There Manuevers Are Amusing — In This Man's Army, The Eyes Have It

Two Big Spring youths are listed in the officers announced for the cadet corps at Texas A. & M. college. W. T. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Robinson, has been elevated to the post of cadet captain, and R. H. Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Miller, has been promoted to the grade of acting first sergeant.

Jean Porter, daughter of H. C. Porter, hit on an idea that paid her big dividends. In Hollywood with her mother for the past several years, Jean has had parts in several pictures, among them "Tom Sawyer" and the "Under Pup." Recently she sent telegrams bearing a picture of herself to 50 movie directors and producers. The wires brought her six offers of screen tests and a dancing role in a Mickey Rooney picture. Now Hollywood telegraph offices, swamped by young actresses, have adopted a new regulation—no more pictures on telegrams.

Gertrude Edith Cass and John E. Brown were married Friday night by Justice of the Peace Walter Grice. They were en route to California, where they will live. Both were residents of Dallas prior to the marriage.

County and home demonstration agents of this district held a conference at San Angelo Friday, to hear explanation of the programs of various agricultural agencies and make routine work plans.

CAMP BLANDING, Fla. — The 62nd brigade column, U. S. Army, rolls west, poking its motorized nose into a test tube 1,000 miles long.

It's under military microscopes every mile. Brass hats cock critical eyes on it, checking the progress of a vital experiment—forging an army from an untrained mass of citizens.

This is military chemistry on a cross-country scale, shaking up men and machines with mud and dust and heat to find flaws in the army amalgam.

The 62nd is a typical outfit, a cross-section of your new army. Its selectees and National Guardsmen have been training since November — grammar and high school stuff. The September manuevers are "college." What happens to the 62nd is happening to 500,000 other soldiers en route to the Louisiana war games.

Take a close look at this typical unit for a better idea of our army. Taking a look at the army is the army's own favorite sport. Boy, do they inspect 'em. A double-check is just a casual scrutinize the moving column. They note such details as conduct of men, condition of uniforms, speed and spacing of trucks, a hundred others.

The 21st division, the 62nd brigade's boss, has an inspector along to make an independent check. The VIII corps gives the double-O to the division. Third Army, topping the corps, checks the checkers checking the checkers. Third Army in turn runs the gauntlet of GHQ inspection.

Ma, Miller notes some men are wearing smart field caps—girls like 'em better — instead of "do-does" (work hats) as ordered. Somebody will get "reamed" (bawled out) when the report goes in. He jots down the number of a truck with its canvas cover sloppily fastened. Even the rookie who snaked his shoes off for a quiet snooze en route is spotted. It's unimilitary, makes a bad impression.

The major checks speed and spacing with a stop watch. Trucks should stay twice as many yards apart as the speedometer shows—60 yards at 30 m. p. h. In perfect formation, ten trucks a minute pass a given point. Maj. Miller notes sloppy driving in his "hell book."

These reports go to unit commanders, are relayed to sergeants, who single out the culprits for

"reaming" or extra duty.

Perfect Timing
The system gets results. These kids nine months away from plows and factories and desks wheel $5,000,000 worth of mechanized equipment along on split-minute schedule. Even when a truck is disabled in a crash at a small-town traffic light the column doesn't lose a minute. A "nurse" speeds ahead for an "elephant." (A motorcycle rider talking 'em back a repair truck.)

The men get ten minutes rest every two hours. Marching sitting down doesn't tire the feet like old-style hoofing. About a yard north of the ankle pads tread, though. It's a relief to get a fur-lough from wooden seats.

A sign flashes: "Thomasville city limits." The column hits its objective on the nose, less than a minute off schedule. Military police steer them to the bivouac area. It's already neatly laid out by the advance officer. Kitchen trucks, which went ahead, have dinner ready. Camp is set up in jig time.

All these kids have done is move a city the size of Manassas, Va., 200 miles—bag, baggage, utilities, medical units and vital services—between breakfast and supper.

Forsan Buffs Open 6-Man Grid Grind

Coach Hunt Has One '40 Starter Back In Fold

FORSAN, Sept. 6 (Sp) — Coach Cagle Hunt swung into six man football workouts this week with only one of the Forsan Buffalo regulars of last season answering the call.

With an unpredictable prospect ahead of him, Hunt opens the season at Garner, September 12.

James Craig is the '40 starter but a pair of lettermen, Paul White and Clarence McClusky, will add strength to the club, according to predictions.

In preparation for the coming wars, the Buffs' gridiron is being shifted to a smoother scene of action.

The Forsaners went through a fast and creditable year last year under the guiding hand of Coach Hunt. This year, judging from the reports that have come from other camps in the circuit, the Buffs are again slated to be the team to beat.

In addition to the three experienced lads, Hunt has thirteen hard-working hopefuls on hand. This list includes Dan Holt, Ray Dunlap, Paul Wadsworth, Roy Peck, Glenn Shaw, Dan Oglesby, Virgil Green, Jr., Bill Long, Granville Prichard, Harley Grant, Darnell Peacock, Don Coksey and Sam Anderson.

Buffs Blast Cats' Hopes

FORT WORTH, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Houston Buffs knocked Fort Worth out of the Texas league pennant race with a hard earned 4-3 victory here tonight.

The Cats rallied once to gain a 3-3 tie and came from behind again to knot it at 3-3, but the Buffs won the game in the eighth inning off Jackie Held with a base on balls, a sacrifice and Walter Smith's single.

Sam Narro hit a home run in the sixth inning. Brazle went the route for Houston and pitched a splendid game.

Houston ... 200 001 010—4 3 0
Fort Worth ... 020 001 000—3 3 0
Brazle and Narro; Beddingfield, Held, Greer and Linton.

Oilers Shutout Shippers, 2-0

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 6 (AP)—Rip Russell clouted his 21st home run of the season tonight to give the Tulsa Oilers a 2-0 victory over Beaumont in the next-to-last game on Tulsa's schedule.

Russell's homer in the eighth inning after Misl Platt had reached first base on an error, breaking up a tight pitchers' battle.

Fans Raise Playoff Fund For Bombers

Funds for the Big Spring Bombers, who now are in the midst of playoff for the W-T-NM championship, rose another notch Saturday.

As a list was started for fans contributing $1 or more to the cause, $23 went into the fund, boosting it to an estimated $100.

Object of the campaign is to supplement meager salaries of ballplayers, since, contrary to popular idea, the team members do not share in the proceeds of the playoff.

I. J. A. Robinson, Virgil Smith and Lou Baker are handling the special funds, and fans may drop in loose change in containers posted at the Texas Club, Leo Hanson's J. & L. Drug, Bettles hotel, Club Cafe, Billie Simons, Waffle Shop, Crawford Barber Shop, Robinson & Sons Grocery, Busy Bee Cafe and Walker Drug. Those making special contributions were: Leo Hanson and Lou Baker, $2.50 each; Bomber Fans $1.00, Leo Reed, Shorty Johnston, L. L. Guley, J. & L. Drug, Carmel Sporting Goods, A. C. Ligor, J. L. LeBlanc, T. J. A. Robinson.

Schulze Plus Top Fielding KO's Amarillo

Haney Homers in 1st Frame; Locals Sink Foe in Three Starts

By JACK DOUGLAS
Herald Sports Editor

AMARILLO, Sept. 6 (Sp) Living up to their name, the Big Spring Bombers blasted their way into the Shaughnessy playoff finals of the West Texas - New Mexico league here last night, humbling the fourth place Amarillo Gold Sox for the third straight time.

From the moment J. L. Haney, leadoff man for the Bombers, exploded a home run over the left-centerfield wall in the opening inning, there was little doubt that but that Big Spring was victory bound.

Inability to hit in the clutches—the thing which won them a playoff berth—cost the Sox a chance to prolong the series. Buck Schulze, backed by superb fielding by his mates, held the Sox to nine scattered blows, always coolly pitching himself out of trouble.

Haney slammed Decroo's second pitch over the left-center barrier, a distance of 385 feet, literally taking the life out of the Sox and some 2,000 fans.

In the fourth frame Big Spring dealt the death blow to Amarillo when a triple, two singles and two walks, one intentional, combined to give two runs. Again, the score was increased in the ninth when Hank Poitras singled, Pete Zimtrovich sacrificed, Eddie Stevens lined out to Bus Dorman in right field, and Buck Schulze got a hard ball to bring in Poitras.

Right now, the only way Big Spring's foe for the league finals can be discovered is by a smart bit of crystal-gazing. Clevis and Berger are not giving a bit of help. Saturday night the Pioneers battled for 13 hard-innings before they were able to wind up the fracas with an 8 to 7 win over their visitors. Currently, the count is deadlocked at two-all, leaving the Bomber competition to be decided today.

Hayden Greer was credited with putting the Big Springers in good shape in the fourth as he displayed a fine bit of hit-stretching for a triple, taking it in an almost too close play at third.

Dick Ratliff, the one who gave Big Spring its Thursday night win, singled to drive in Greer. Ratliff advanced as Art Shillings singled neatly—both moved up on Poitras' well-placed sacrifice bunt. Zimtrovich was given a pass intentionally, bringing up Stevens. Hard luck was too much for Decroo—he walked in Ratliff.

For a while in Amarillo's share of the fourth, things began to brighten for the outclassed host but a wrathful soul in the person of Pete Zimtrovich threw a monkey wrench into what at first seemed to be a run by Frank Hargrove.

Hargrove had hit for a double well into rightfield, advanced as Prather walked. Bus Dorman hit smartly and Hargrove headed for home—after taking a too long peak at where the ball was heading. He circled widely around third base and charged toward the payoff.

But Dick Ratliff had out the welcome sign for him—Pete had again displayed his phenomenal throwing power—chucked the ball from far in right field.

Amarillo got 10 runners on bases, but did not know what to do with them when they landed there. The seventh stanza was the most disappointing from Amarillo's standpoint. Bill DeCarlo opened the threat with a base hit. Bill Buchanan fled out to Mel Reeves at center field and Blas Tenorio hit safely into short right center. DeCroo struck out, bringing up Leon Cato, who connected for a base hit, scoring De Carlo. Joe D'Antonio stroked to lead the bases.

It was the picture of opportunity with Hargrove, Amarillo's old slugger, stroiling to bat. His out sent Schulze's pitch zooming for the leftfield wall. Haney, the old game-saver, was off at the crack to sensationally spear the ball with only inches separating him from the fence.

Groans of Sox fans rolled over the Panhandle like a wave of despair. Amarillo might as well have not come out for the ninth, for the team was whipped.

Big Spring's three straight wins over Amarillo proved one thing—the Gold Sox were lucky to be in playoffs. Their luck played out.

Maybe There's Hope -- Steers Begin To Show Possibilities

With two scrimmage seasons behind them, the Big Spring high school Steers were beginning to give some inkling of what may be expected of them in the district 3-AA campaign.

Of course, none expects the boys to repeat as champions of the league, but if the best happens, they may be the surprise team of the league.

Even defeatist Pat Murphy, coach, admitted at times there was a faint glimmer of possibilities. At other times, however—well, Mr. Murphy rolls in his sleep.

In a nutshell, the thing the 1941 Steers must first beat is not the enemy but awkwardness. Murphy and his aide, Mule Stockton, have never had a more willing bunch of lads. There are only three lettermen returning—Paul Kasch, Frank Barton and Horace Bostick. But the team will average fair on weight and high on fight.

Average weight is 162 1-2 pounds, and curiously enough this is the average for the line and for the backfield. Thus the line in a shade light. Billy Womack's 140 pounds pulls down the backfield average and Bostick is about four pounds under the mean figure.

In Thursday's scrimmage, the Steers looked rugged indeed and play was tuggish. But Friday more life came into the contact drill. Nobody got hurt in either of the scrimmage sessions and sore feet appear to be the only physical problem. That is except coordination.

Right now it looks like Bostick at quarterback in the backfield. Paul Kasch at right half and Billy Womack at left half, and Frank Barton at full. Barton is looking like the man to fit into Pete Fressley's shoes, and Womack is showing promise as a passer, both Barton and Womack have been throwing some, making the overhead game more flexible and deceptive.

Defensively James Tidwell has looked good on end, and Little is wrong with Peppy Blount's defenses at the terminal. But Peppy still has to knock off rough edges on his blocking and getting down under passes.

Calvin Boykin and Wofford Hardy are at the tackle posts. But Dean Curley and Hunka Stewart already are making them give and give to hold their places, and both may see much service.

Billy Shaw and Billy Suggs have the inside track at guards, but Robert Coffee is proving a surprise and may work himself into a berth. Charles Buckner is the pivot possibility, with two juniors coming on as understudies and competition.

Murphy issued a call for other team aspirants and for prospective junior high team members to meet for a short session at 3 p. m. today in the gymnasium.

Good Graves, who got his foot-holding here and at Howard Payne, will be in charge of the Juniors. Tugboat Jones, who was to have had the youngsters, has handed a contract with the Brooklyn pros, said Murphy.

If the inexperienced Steers respond to polish and learn to handle themselves in battle, they may surprise more than one team this season. If they cling to their awkwardness, football wiser and faster rivals may make life miserable. Time will tell.

Vander Meer Blanks Cards

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Cardinals didn't have a chance against Johnny Vander Meer's two-hit pitching today as they dropped a 2 to 0 decision to Cincinnati and fell two full games behind Brooklyn.

The shutout burned a big hole in the Cardinal pennant hopes as the Dodgers sailed further into the lead with a 4-1 victory over the Giants.

Only a single by Johnny Hopp in the first inning and a double by Martin Marion in the fifth robbed Vander Meer, the only major league pitcher ever to hurl two successive hitless games, of his third no-hit performance.

He struck out 14 Cardinal batters with his blazing fast ball and crackling curves, only three short of the National league record set by Dizzy Dean against the Chicago Cubs in 1933. The major league strikeout record is 15 set by Bobby Feller.

In hanging up his 14th victory of the year, Vander Meer pitched to only 32 men.

Jameson Favored To Repeat Golf Championship

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 6 (AP) Betty Jameson is a favorite to win her third straight women's National amateur golf championship, and the thinks that's the way it should be.

The young San Antonio star, who has played less tournament golf this season than some of the others, is brimming with confidence in a charming, modest way.

"I'm hitting the ball better than I have all season," she said today after a practice round on the country club course, "and there's no reason why I haven't as much chance to win as I had the last two years, when I had less experience."

Miss Jameson faces plenty of competition, however, as nearly all of the nation's top-flight women swingers are in the 45th title tournament opening here on Monday.

The four semi-finalists of a year ago—Miss Jameson, Jane Cothran, Mrs. James Ferris and Clara Calder—were back again.

C-Club Ringer Tournament Has 30 Contenders

Thirty golfers were marked on the board at the Country club Saturday as a ringer tournament getting opening last Thursday and slated to close October 1, got fully underway.

Pro Jimmy Gamewell said he expected approximately 75 contenders. All play is over the sodded front nine.

C. L. Rowe 49, L. L. Speer 51, Hack Wright 49, George Neel 43, H. W. Smith 51, Shirley Robbins 39, Dave Duncan 51, Dr. Amos Wood 48, Bob Piner 45, Carl Strom 47, Dave Watt 42, D. A. Watkins 42, Dr. J. O. Beadles 43.

Pat Kenney 49, Jack Roden 66, J. R. Farmer 37, J. T. Morgan 66, Obie Bristow 39, Mrs. J. R. Farmer 47, Bill Crook 42, A. E. Suggs 46, Fred Stephens 48, Tommy Jordan 48, Harry Jordan 46, Bill Tate 51, Dr. E. O. Ellington 53, Lefty Dugden, Harry Stalcup and Sammie Beain are entered in the competition but have not posted qualifying scores as yet.

Red Sox Take Easy Win Over Yankees, 8-1

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The New York Yankees made their first appearance as the new champions of the American league today and were defeated without much effort by the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 1.

The Red Soxers waded into the offerings of Marvin Brewer for three runs in the first inning and finished with four runs off Steve Peck in the ninth. In between, Jim Tabor pounded a home run in the sixth inning.

With this kind of an offensive Joe Dobson could have won about as he pleased—but it pleased him to pitch a strong, seven-hit game which kept the Yankees scoreless after the first inning.

The victory gave the Red Sox undisputed possession of second place again.

Sales of American motor vehicles in Uruguay are increasing while sales of other makes are decreasing, the department of commerce says.

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

AMARILLO, Sept. 6 — Big Spring's Bombers displayed fully during the three-game series with Amarillo's Gold Sox in the first round of the Shaughnessy playoff for the West Texas-New Mexico league that, no matter what comes later, they are the champions of the lot.

Wednesday and Thursday at Big Spring they showed the brand of ball that put them on top of the pennant race—Friday evening at Amarillo they climaxed a bang-up showing by taking the opposition, 4 to 1, in such a manner that left even the most rabid Sox fans shaking their heads at the hometown lads' performance.

Not that Amarillo looked bad Friday—they just seemed to be out of their class. Some idea might be gained by the remark made by a youngster at the close of the Amarillo-Big Spring wind-up—"Daddy don't we get our money back now?" For truth, the lad might have had something there.

But, Amarillo was up against something here Friday night. Bubba Jonnard and his crew were up against a club that would not be denied. It might have been to their financial advantage to take part in a roundelay over a longer route, but Manager Jodie Tate's Bombers were out to whip the living daylights out of the opposition in the most direct manner.

Mrs. Jonnard, wife of the Sox pilot, tried various forms of the "wammie wammie" on Big Spring's Buck Steady Friday night but the super-steady Bomber hurler, Misourian that he is, refused to be shown—the hex had the same effect on him as Amarillo's highly touted hitters—none.

Speaking of giving Lady Luck the welcome sign, Bomber Haney has one of his own that seems to get results—he bats at the moon—talking to it, he says. Pexy Tink Riviere has his own special way, too. The gentleman from the deep South of Texas takes a seat in the section reserved for the dusky fans when the going gets a bit edgy.

Ira Thurman, hot Bomber fan and banker or golfer, take your choice, was on hand to see the Big Springers put the clincher on the first round of the playoff in Amarillo Friday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Thurman and their daughter, Marijo. Big Spring's Mayor Grover Dunham was also on the scene during the day but hid himself off to Pampa before the evening's festivities got under way.

Rebels Win Playoff Slot

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Dallas Rebels won their way into the Shaughnessy play-offs for the Texas league pennant tonight with a 3 to 2 victory over San Antonio due to Gordon Maltzberger's two-hit pitching and Nick Gregory's third-inning triple that scored two runs.

Meanwhile the league-leading Houston Bucs defeated Fort Worth 4 to 3, to eliminate the Cats from the running for fourth place. Dallas took a two-game lead over the fifth-place Cats and the season ends tomorrow night with the Rebels playing San Antonio again.

Brooks Stop Giants, 4-1, To Keep Lead

BROOKLYN, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, who underated the New York Giants last Saturday and dropped a doubleheader to their cross-town rivals, made no mistake today—busting out a 4 to 1 victory that kept them on top of the National league.

Curt Davis produced another fine pitching performance to add to his recent string, holding the Giants to nine scattered hits, and received potent support from Dolph Camilli and Pete Reiser.

Brooklyn made only seven safeties off three New York pitchers, but Camilli collected his 30th home run of the season to start the Dodgers in the right direction and Reiser supplied a double and a triple.

Manager Leo Durocher installed himself at shortstop for the game, to rest the light-hitting Peeewe Reese and used Lew Riggs and Jim Waddell in place of Cookie Lavagetto and Joe Medwick to obtain additional left-hand hitting strength to oppose the Giants' starting hurler, Bill McGee.

John Daniel Has Trouble Getting Out of Army

John Daniel, formerly a member of the Big Spring coaching staff, is having his troubles getting out of the army.

Now past 28 years, the draft age limit, John is due to get his discharge this month—or that is, he was.

Everything was rosy until army officials looked up his record. John was listed as an enlisted man instead of a selectee, for which he would be due two more years of service.

But John knew better. Now the local draft board has been asked to confirm that he is a selectee. If the records are straightened out, maybe John will be back here on the job soon. If not, well, he may make the army his career.

Lamesa Has Bright Hopes On Gridiron

LAMESA, Sept. 6 (Sp)—Lester "Red" Gregg, at the helm after 11 years as assistant coach here, sends his Golden Tornadoes into their second week of practice Monday with bright hopes for a better season.

Gregg, who was chief aid to F. T. McCollum, who laid down his coaching duties after 18 years in the harness, has two score hopefuls out for his squad. Included are 15 lettermen.

Among the returning veterans who gave several of the teams in district 3-AA a double hit last year are Gallopin' Gus White, lanky backfield flash who moved up from an end in mid-season; Kent Morgan, burly tackle; Verne Roberts, chunky guard who was a capable running mate to all-District Harold Oswald who finished; Jim Neill, star at Texas Tech and who played with the New York Giants pro team; is assisting Gregg and will work principally with the backfield.

The Tornadoes open their 10-game schedule on the home field here Friday with their traditional rivals, the Tahoka Bulldogs, one of the strongest class A squads in this section.

Starting for Lamesa may be Cecil Blair and Narley Miers, ends; Kent Morgan and Herman Gaines or Tom Wade, tackles; Verneal Roberts and T. P. Askin, guards; Dale Carmichael or Earl Merritt, center; Gus White, Owen Taylor, Jr., Gene Smith and Donald Reeves, backs. White, who turned out to be a touchdown threat and made most all-district selections, is the key man.

Missions Held By Rebs, 2-0

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—Dallas continued its drive toward the Shaughnessy series tonight, whipping San Antonio 2 to 0, as Nick Gregory tripled to right center field in the third inning to score Heinz Becker and Paul Eastering.

Gordon Maltzberger gave up only two hits to the Missions. San Antonio ... 000 000 000—2 2 1
Dallas ... 002 000 000—2 0 0
Gunter and Huffman; Maltzberger and Cronin.

ATHLETICS 8-4, SENATORS 3-8

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Athletics maintained their two and a half game hold on seventh place in the American league by dividing a double bill with Washington today, winning the opener 8 to 3 but going down before Emil Leonard in the nightcap, 8 to 4.

4 Americans In RAF Lost As Ship Sinks

GLASGOW, Sept. 6 (AP)—Four American airmen en route to England for service with the RAF perished in the torpedoing of their ship by a submarine whose commander, once Irish survivor said, came to the surface and shamefacedly asked "what caused the explosion."

Seven others among the eleven American flying recruits aboard were landed at a British port yesterday. Two of them were injured. The names of the dead were not available immediately. The survivors were announced as:

Tom Griffin, Mississippi.
Sylvester Grove, Georgia.
Norman Echord, Kansas City, whose mother lives in Seattle, Wash. He left Kansas City Aug. 18 to join the American Eagle squadron in Britain.
Jack Gilliland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gilliland of Pittsburg, Kas.
James Jordan, San Francisco.
E. F. Mayes, Texas, who sustained arm injuries.
Robert Ferebin, California, whose leg was broken.

Cigarette Revenue Income Shows Gain

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—Based on sales of tax stamps, Texas cigarette consumption increased to 13 packs for each man, woman and child in the state last fiscal year.

The comptroller's department reported stamp sales totalling $7,949,388 for the year ended Aug. 31 compared with $7,205,523 for the previous year.

Revenue from stamps and permits last year was $8,178,696 compared with $7,426,582 the previous year.

'THE THINKER' OF CHICAGO—Manager Jimmy Dykes, deep in meditation and seated, as is his custom, on the end of the dugout steps, ponders the strength of his opponents and plots ways to lift his Chicago White Sox pennant-ward.

Sinking

announcement cleared up any lingering doubt as to the nationality of the submarine involved in the incident with the Greer, something which had to be established conclusively before this country could make a diplomatic protest.

Where the conflicting claims are concerned, the American government would, of course stand upon the report given to it by the commanding officer of the Greer.

On the basis of the statement of the Greer's commander that the U-boat fired first, there was speculation in congressional circles whether this was an indication of a new policy on the part of Germany. Some time ago Adolf Hitler announced that any ships which his submarines encountered in blockade areas would be sunk. The application of this policy to American warships however, has obviously been held in abeyance.

Some suggested, that if Germany now intended to attack American ships, its purpose might be two-fold: To increase the effectiveness of its blockade of England, and simultaneously to bolster its axis-partner Japan.

Since Germany invaded Russia, Japan has become surrounded with actual or potential enemies. Moreover, the United States is shipping war supplies between the islands of the Japanese Archipelago to Vladivostok and the Russian army.

German U-boat activities against American naval vessels on the Atlantic, if continued and made general, might have the effect of attracting American ships from the Pacific to the Atlantic, consequently easing the pressure upon Japan.

There was a disposition on the part of some to believe that the Germans actually were without any knowledge of the Greer incident beyond what has been disclosed by the American government.

Expressing this view, Connally said the German communique was merely "a ruse to make it appear that the U-boat had not been sunk."

The Greer steamed into Reykjavik, Iceland, yesterday with her officers and crew expressing a belief that they had sunk the U-boat without a trace. The German statement if true, would show this not to be the case, since reports of the encounter would have to come from the submarine.

Nat'l Tennis Finals Pit Kovacs, Riggs

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., played brilliant tennis to defeat Defending Champion Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, 6-4, 6-2, 10-8, in the semi-finals of the national tennis championships at Forest Hills today before a crowd of 12,000.

Kovacs' opponent in the men's final tomorrow will be Bobby Riggs, the 1939 champion, who battled for five sets before he subdued 30-year-old Ted Schoreder of Glendale, Calif., 6-4, 6-4, 1-4, 9-11, 7-5, in the other semi-final.

The women's finalists are Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York, who beat the veteran Helen Jacobs, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1, and Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, winner over Margaret Osborne of San Francisco by scores of 6-4, 6-3.

McNeill was badly outplayed by Kovacs in the first two sets of their match and made his only stand after he was trailing 3-5 in the third. Both played fine tennis—the best yet seen in the tournament—but Kovacs' superior backhand gave him the edge he needed to win the crucial points.

WPA Asked To Stop Projects Until All Cotton Is Harvested

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 6 (AP)—At request of 50 farmers who said Nueces county will have 40,000 bales of cotton ready for pickers within the next two weeks, the commissioners' court here today passed a resolution asking that State Director Harry P. Drought stop WPA labor in Texas until the picking season is over.

The farm group, accompanied by chamber of commerce officials from several South Texas towns, told the commissioners that they are unable to get sufficient help from the state employment service under other employment agencies, and expressed fear that a windstorm or heavy rain might ruin their crops.

Minister—The Rev. W. Eugene Davis, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist church, today begins his third year as pastor of the church here. To mark this anniversary, the Rev. Roland C. King, Ada, Okla., will be starting a series of revival meetings with the Rev. Davis and congregation. During the present minister's service, the church has experienced around 300 additions yearly. Today the resident membership is around 650 and the church debt is reduced greatly.

Here 'n There

W. O. Lowe, Russell Stringfellow and Wayne Matthews participated in a Masonic meet Friday at San Angelo when 10 were examined for certificates. In the evening the fellowcraft degree was given and among those taking part were Sam Canty, grand master of Texas, Jim White, Colorado City. Present were two past grand masters and the grand secretary and grand warden. A highlight was the presentation of a 50-year pin.

Jonas M. Wilson, Jr., son of Mrs. Stella Dudley, 610 Nolan, now a parachute rigger at Goodfellow Field at San Angelo, has been promoted from the rank of corporal to that of sergeant. He enlisted here April 2, 1940.

Robert Halley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Halley, missed a grand opportunity to visit with his mother recently. Based at Honolulu after finishing his training at the U. S. naval academy, Robert's boat recently sailed for San Francisco. But he was taken ill and could not be aboard. His mother had planned to meet him when the boat docked.

TIGERS 7-6, INDIANS 2-3
DETROIT, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers swept a double-header with Cleveland today, Al Benton limiting the Indians to six hits for a 7 to 2 victory in the second game after Buck Newsom had won the opener, 6 to 2. The double win put the Tigers only a game and a half behind Cleveland in their battle for fourth place.

Governors Of Two States Hold Confab

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 6 (AP)—Texas and Oklahoma struck a note of friendship today as their respective governors spent a weekend together in amiable discussion of their mutual problems.

Governor Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma and Coke Stevenson of Texas swapped yarns, played dominoes, talked business and inspected fine livestock and ranches today as they continued their two-day conference.

"What does the governor of Texas say to the governor of Oklahoma?" responded Stevenson. "I say I'm having a splendid time."

"I came up here," Stevenson continued, "to discuss future cooperation in reference to problems affecting both states. We are in accord on most things."

Phillips said of Stevenson, "he came at my invitation to spend the weekend. We've discussed roads, oil, livestock and many other things. We are having a good time along with it. It is just an informal visit."

The Texas governor said he was interested in operation of the interstate oil compact and found it satisfactory. He explained that Texas appropriated $25,000 annually, starting Sept. 1, to share in expense of operation, which Oklahoma has carried thus far.

Stevenson was accompanied by J. C. Hunter, his representative on the compact; W. A. Moncrief, Fort Worth, chairman of the interstate oil compact committee of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, and Andrew W. Howsley, Albany, Tex., independent oil producer.

Accompanying Phillips, who is chairman of the compact, were W. J. Holloway, former governor and Oklahoma's representative on the compact, and Charles Orr, secretary of the compact commission.

Franklin County Reunion Slated

More than 300 people from possibly two-score counties will gather here today for the sixth annual Franklin County reunion at the city park.

T. J. A. Robinson, one of the directors of the unique organization, said that a truck bearing 15 residents of Mount Vernon had arrived Friday evening and that another truck of Franklin county people was due Saturday night or early Sunday.

Although the scores of families, who will flock in from the wide expanse of West Texas to renew friendships born in Franklin county years ago, will bring basket lunches, there will be barbecues, beans and son-of-a-gun furnished, said Robinson.

The meeting here is the third in Big Spring and the sixth in the series. Each year the meeting has been growing larger and now folks are coming all the way from Mount Vernon to seize on the opportunity of visiting friends and relatives scattered over this area.

Head of the reunion is L. E. White, Stanton. Finley Moore, Seminola, is secretary, and G. C. Broughton, Emsey Newton, Lee Ashley and Robinson are directors.

Southwest Conference Teams Begin Strenuous Practicing

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—Southern Methodist university's Mustangs are losing their pass-catching aerial artist, E. L. Keeton, to the U. S. army air corps.

Keeton received word today to report for training Oct. 4. The Mustangs previously had lost Roger Hicks, huge Missouri tackle, to the air corps.

Coach Matty Bell sent the Methodists through two thorough practice sessions today and reported he was pleased by the showing made by Dandy Dick Miller, former high school sensation at Longview.

WACO, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Baylor university Bears speeded their football training today as linemen donned pads and went through long blocking and body contact workouts.

Hacks and ends continued to work on the overhead game but Coach Frank Kimbrough spent considerable time in both of today's sessions reviewing assignments on running plays.

Dwight Parks, letterman back, pulled a leg muscle and stayed out of hard drill work but was expected to go again next week.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 6 (AP)—The first injury in the Arkansas Razorbacks' football camp occurred today when senior end O'Neal Adams suffered a sprained ankle.

The injury will keep the big wingman out of action several days.

Arkansas lost a player by a new military twist when it was announced that sophomore tackle Leon Whitaker of Fort Smith had failed to pass a make-up basic reserve officers training corps examination and would be ineligible.

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—University of Texas gridmen burned up tons of energy today, probably enough if stretched into a series of games to win a championship, but it was all for the photographers.

The 50-odd-man squad cavorted before the lenses as a preliminary to stiff drills which begin next week and culminate in a game condition scrimmage Sept. 13.

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Texas Aggies may be short on experience but they will be long in durability if their coaches keep up the present routine.

With the training season only two days old they already have had two head-knocking sessions. Both the scrimmages were hammer-and-long affairs but did not last long.

There now are 49 in camp and they compare with last year's squad in size.

Legislature Takes Up Job On Tuesday

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—Taking up where it left off in the small hours of July 3, the legislature meets in special session Tuesday to reopen debate on what has become the most discussed penny in the state's tax structure.

The first special meet in four years was ordered by Governor Coke R. Stevenson who wants to iron out the road bond law snarl in which the recent 171-day general session ended.

Because of a house-senate deadlock the law became inoperative August 21 and brought cessation to state payment of $9,800,000 annually in debt service on county and district bonds issued prior to Jan. 2, 1939, for building roads which have been taken into the state highway system.

The road bond fund is financed from one cent of the four-cent per gallon gasoline tax collected by the state.

There virtually was no disagreement on continuation of debt servicing by the state at the general session. The rub came on disposition of a surplus which remained after payment of bond principal and interest.

The session ended on a discordant note as the house held out for extending a two-year-old system of distributing the surplus among counties on a formula basis for local expenditure and the senate insisted on assigning it to the state highway department for construction and maintenance of state arteries.

Town's Population Jumps From 25 To 300,000 In Month

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The tiny hamlet of Ragley, La., (population 25) will be home this month to 300,000 soldiers of the third army.

The war department said today that during current maneuvers in Louisiana all mail for third army troops should be addressed to Ragley.

But since its postoffice will be unable to handle the correspondence, all army mail addressed to the village actually will be dispatched to Lake Charles, at which point army officials will take over distribution.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—The stock market picked at mild recovery straws today and again was fairly successful in specialized instances.

Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck were resistant to reports were heard of small order sales mounting. Talk of expanding profits for the oil companies aided Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Corp.

U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet acted well, as did Western Union, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Kennecott, Du Pont and Johns-Manville.

Backward were Lockheed, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Chrysler, N. Y. Central, Great Northern and National Power & Light.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 8 to 12 higher.

Table with columns for High, Low, Last, and various dates (Oct, Dec, Jan, Mch, May, July) showing cotton price fluctuations.

Wool Market

BOSTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—(U.S.D.A.) The tone of the wool market in Boston began to show an improvement during the latter part of the past week.

The quartermasters invitations to bid on new government contracts for wool goods stimulated inquiries and were followed by some increase in sales of a few kinds of domestic wools. Medium fleeces wools were more active and prices showed a stiffening tendency in the range 45-47 cents, in the grease, for combing three eighths and quarter blood bright fleeces wools. Fine Delaine bright fleeces were moderately active at 41-43 cents, in the grease. Demand was slow on combing blood bright fleeces at 43-45 cents, in the grease.

doing all that work for Mother. She adores you for it." "You've such a lovely family, Jerry." The words were spoken wistfully, for in that moment Pam seemed to miss more than ever having no family of her own.

There were a thousand things that came to Jerry's mind then, a thousand eager ways to ask her to be one of that family. But Antoine had crashed into a swinging melody; dancers were moving about on the floor. A young man claimed Pam. And Jerry, remembering the ring on Freda's finger, stayed his words and let her go.

Almost immediately Algar Bruce was beside her again, cutting in. "I want that dance I was cheated out of, beautiful," he said easily. "And," as the whirled away together, "has anyone told you you're the most beautiful girl here?"

"No, I think everyone here is honest," Pam laughed. "They can't be. They're a bunch of meanies, or they'd have told you long ago. Everybody here is raving about some little Conch gal that's supposed to be tops. They say she mows 'em down like nobody's business! I haven't seen her yet, and I don't want to. I've seen you!"

The Bet "Conch girl?" Pam caught only one word. She was Conch. She'd never been anything but proud of it. It meant that she had been born on the island. She was native to its beauty. But there had been something in the way Algar said it that caught her attention.

"Yes, Conch, beautiful. But let's not talk about her. Let's talk about you. You're the real thing. You're as real and wholesome as a bottle of certified milk. And so much more intriguing!"

"But this Conch girl—" Pam started to say. "Oh, haven't you heard? Some local beauty that Jerry Winthrop bet he could date, and the rest of his crowd bet he couldn't. Well, he did. This supper tonight is the pay-off. Antoine was the one who bet against Jerry. So he gave the supper, and Jerry had the girl here somewhere. I haven't seen her yet. But the girl can't mean anything to Jerry. He's engaged to Freda Barington."

Pam missed a step. "Engaged? Engaged to Freda Barington?" "Sure! Haven't you seen that diamond she's wearing? Big as a house. That's the engagement ring Jerry gave her."

"Jerry Winthrop engaged?" The words came slowly from Pam. "Sure. Everybody knows that."

"And he bet?" It seemed to Pam it was some other girl's voice she heard asking the question—"he bet—about—that Conch girl?" She had almost said "about me."

"Sure. You're not telling me you didn't know that, beautiful?" Algar was too engrossed in his own thoughts to notice that some of the brightness had faded from his partner's eyes. "It's some girl who's never noticed any of the winter boys before. She's supposed to be tops around here in looks, and all that. And Jerry, with his usual good luck—" "I'm tired," Pam interrupted. "Let's stop." Suddenly she didn't want to hear any more. She wanted Algar to stop talking about Jerry and the bet. But Algar, with a sort of affable determination, continued.

"Yeah! Jerry always does play in luck and it didn't fall this time. He dated the girl for lunch or something and the supper was on Antoine. So here we are, beautiful—you and I dancing!" Pam stopped dancing. "Excuse me!" she said hurriedly. Algar's words had been like a blow that shook the very foundations of her life.

Pam went out into the room where the orchestra was already beginning a new number. Across, just beyond a little eddy of dancers, Jerry's handsome face stood out. It seemed to Pam there was nobody else in the room. Then she was aware of the girl he was talking to, Freda Barington. Sleek, sophisticated Freda.

Nazis Shoot Hostages In Prison Camps

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Sept. 6—Three French hostages, reported selected from among communist prisoners of a concentration camp, were executed by a German firing squad at Paris today in reprisal for an attack in which a German sergeant was slightly wounded three days ago.

Unofficial advices reaching Vichy reported that the three Frenchmen were removed from the Drancy camp near Paris at dawn, lined up before a wall and shot to death. They were not identified.

Gen. von Schaumburg, commander of the city of Paris, in a military announcement published in Paris newspapers called attention to his warning of Aug. 22 that hostages would be executed if further attacks should be made on German troops in the Paris region.

"Despite this warning," the announcement said, "a member of the German army has been the victim of a new attack Sept. 3. Inquiry has shown the guilty party could have been none other than a French communist. As reprisals for this dastardly action three French hostages have been shot."

The wounded German sergeant, who also has not been identified, suffered only a flesh wound and was reported recovering. He was shot once in the shoulder as he walked on the street near the East Station.

An inner cabinet meeting was held today at which the ministry of the Interior, Pierre Pucheu, who is in charge of French police, was delegated to go urgently to Paris. The reason was not disclosed immediately.
