Important Deadlines Facing Residents

Deadlines, deadlines, and more deadlines face residents Tuesday.

First, persons who are 65 years old or older who wish to claim a resident homestead exemption have until Tuesday, April 1, to make application. This is an annual procedure, and a new exemption must be filed every year to keep the exemption in effect. Those applications for persons living in the Littlefield Independent School District must be made at the school tax office on East 9th and Delano.

Next is the motor vehicle registration deadline—midnight Tuesday. After that, law enforcement agencies have been instructed to stop motorists not displaying the new license plates.

Another deadline is the city election deadline of 7 p.m., when the polls close. Voters wishing to express their desires for city officials are urged to go to the polls sometime during the day, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and vote for a mayor and two city councilmen.

Absentee balloting deadline for the school election is Tuesday. Persons planning to be out of town on election day, Saturday, April 5, and who wish to vote for three school trustees, are urged to vote before that 5 p.m. deadline at the school tax office on East 9th and Delano.

Spring Break To End Monday

Students in Littlefield schools will be returning to the classrooms Monday, after a nine-day Easter vacation.

The Easter break will be the last regularly scheduled holiday for the school year, with the exception of some teacher in-service days.

Humorist To Speak For S-E C-C Banquet

A noted humorist from Sun City, Ariz. will be the featured speaker for the annual Springlake-Earth Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet Tuesday night.

Tickets are now available at the C-C office, Citizens State Bank in Earth, or from any member of the C-C at $5 each.

Macky McCarty, Earth banker, is to serve as master of ceremonies, and the invocation is to be presented by David Burum, pastor of Earth's First Baptist Church.

Larry Tunnell, mayor of Earth, will welcome the guests to the community.

The event will single out an outstanding woman of the Earth area, an outstanding man, outstanding student, and outstanding farmers from the Earth, Springlake and Pleasant Valley communities.

Special recognition will be given to several other outstanding people in the Earth area, and recognition is to be given to the outgoing officers and directors of the Chamber.

New officers to be honored are Wendell Clayton, newly-elected president; Gary Bulls, vice president; and Billy Moore, secretary-treasurer.

Those going off the board are Leon Dent and M. H. Been.

Macky McCarty and Norman Hinchliffe were recently elected to remain on the board, and will serve three-year terms. Others on the board are Roger Haberer, Bill Scott, W. B. McMillan, Wilton McDonald, Doug Parish and Perry Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sanders head the decorations committee for the banquet, and Bill Mann is chairman of the food and facilities committee.

Serving the food will be members of the Junior High National Honor Society.

Agricultural Meeting Slated In Hereford Monday Night

Perhaps the largest agriculture meeting ever is slated in the Bull Barn in Hereford Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Concern over low agriculture prices is bringing together agriculture producers, agri-businessmen and financial leaders from Lamb County, Deaf Smith, Farmer, Bailey, Floyd, Crosby, Swisher, Castro, Sherman, and Oldham Counties.

All Panhandle, South Plains and New Mexico area farmers, cattlemen, bankers and wives are invited to attend and voice their opinions and ideas.

Some of the suggested action to be discussed includes (1) stopping all meat imports immediately, (2) cutting back planting by at least 20 percent, (3) destroying percentage of wheat crop by grazing or plowing up.

Agricultural producers nationwide are becoming exceedingly alarmed at the economic situation facing them. At a time when their production costs are soaring 200 to 300 percent, they are witnessing drastic drops in their market prices to levels much below production costs.

Markets have been lost due to interference by the government in normal export channels; livestock taken off feed due to bankruptcy of the feeding industry; and a general lack of confidence on the part of buyers of agriculture commodities.

Due to these lost markets, it is apparent there will only be a need for approximately 80 percent of our projected 1975 feed grain and wheat production. It is estimated that prices of all grains will be cut in half if this excess 20 percent is produced.

On the other hand, a study by Iowa State University indicates that prices of grain would rise by 46 percent if acreage was cut by only nine percent.

A Glorious Anniversary

THERE WERE MANY raised eyebrows when the American Cancer Society set a goal, just a few years ago, for every American woman to have a Pap test by 1976.

Was it realistic? Yes. The facts are clear. Only 35 years ago uterine cancer was the major cancer killer of women. Today, the death rate from this type of cancer has been cut by two thirds, mostly because of the Pap test.

AS MOST OF OUR readers know, the Pap test is a simple, painless method for detecting early cancer of the uterus. It can also find changes in cells that could mean cancer will develop. The value is tremendous. Treatment at this early stage is almost 100 percent successful.

But still, what about the prospect of getting all women to have the test by the 20th anniversary of our country? It's realistic.

A RECENT GALLUP study surprised a lot of people by showing that the years of efforts by the American Cancer Society, and especially by the medical profession, have had startling results. Almost nine in ten women now know about the Pap test. And more important, 78 percent today have had a Pap test.

It is true that the remaining percentage includes those who are harder to reach. Uterine cervical cancer is more prevalent among low income groups and those who have had less formula education.

THIS THEN PRESENTS a great challenge to all of us. Greater efforts to bring lifesaving information to all women will pay off—in lives saved from suffering and death.

The American Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising crusade this April is a good opportunity to spur us all to support this endeavor. We can indeed make 1976 a glorious anniversary.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

THIS IS Easter Sunday—the celebration of the resurrection of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

People all over this great country of ours will go to church today wearing their bright new clothes to represent new hope for the world that He died to save.

LOOKING BACK to that time long ago, it had been a tragic week for those who loved the blessed Lord—His disciples, his mother and those others he had helped in so many different ways.

They had seen Him scourged, crowned with thorns, mocked and crucified upon a horrible cross of shame.

THEY HAD STOOD helplessly by while Roman soldiers had cast lots for His clothes while He suffered naked upon the cross.

Even Mary, His mother, was there suffering untold agony while they slew her precious son—driving huge nails through His hands and feet—and plunging the spear into His side.

THEN IT WAS over—Jesus was dead. They took Him down from the cross with living hands and placed Him in a new tomb and went home, for tomorrow was the Sabbath day and they had to rest.

John, the beloved disciple, was caring for Mary, His mother, as Jesus had asked him to while He was hanging on the cross. Thus passed the sabbath day—all of His loved ones worn out with grief.

THEN CAME the first day of the week. According to St. John, Mary Magdalene came to the tomb very early while it was still dark.

Mary Magdalene, you remember, was the woman whom Jesus had forgiven many sins and made her clean and whole agains.

MARY WAS shocked to find the stone

March of 1961.

Bunch Funeral Home at Ennis was in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Cecilia Vasek of Hereford; four sons, Wesley Reznik of Dumas, Al Reznik of Elfrida, Ariz., Raymond and George Reznik, both of Dallas; 22 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

MRS. GOLDEN SULLIVAN

Services for Mrs. Golden Sullivan, 71, of Morton, were conducted Thursday afternoon at First United Methodist Church of Morton with Rev. James Price, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Morton Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home of Morton.

Mrs. Sullivan died at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 25, in Knight's Nursing Home in Littlefield following an illness of several months.

A native of Oklahoma, Mrs. Sullivan had been a Cochran County resident since 1944.

Survivors include her husband, Johnny; a daughter, Mrs. Jo Ann Tomson of Littlefield; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Sherley and Mrs. Corinne Strygley, both of Littlefield, Dorothy Williams of Lubbock and Mrs. Mary Bamron of Bovina; three brothers, Hoyt Williams of Dallas, Bob Williams of Clovis, N.M., and Galen Williams of Rockwall; and three grandchildren.

EARL TOBIAS

Services for Earl F. Tobias, 59, of Lubbock were conducted Saturday morning in W. W. Rix Chapel.

Officiating was Rev. Morris Sheets, pastor of Trinity Church, and Rev. Paul Janzen, associate pastor of Trinity Church.

Burial was in Peaceful Gardens Memorial Park with Rix Funeral Directors in charge of arrangements.

Tobias died at 4 p.m. Wednesday at rolled away, for it was very large and heavy, requiring several strong men to place it over the entrance to the tomb. Besides that the chief priests and the Pharisees had sealed the stone and set a man to guard the tomb.

She began to run away and met Peter and John who ran to the tomb to find Him gone. The disciples went home but poor Mary stood outside the sepulchre weeping—Then bending over she looked into the tomb and lo, there were two angels in white sitting there! Then she went back outside and saw Jesus. Her eyes must have been so full of tears that she didn't recognize Him until He spoke to her.

WHAT A GLORIOUS day that must have been! The Bible doesn't say how many people He appeared to the 40 days before He ascended up through the clouds to Heaven, but I know He must have gone to His beloved mother. "See mother, I am alive and well. I have died and now I am alive again. No one can ever hurt me again."

Yes, He had conquered death and the grave. He had triumphed over all. He was the victorious son of God. The first fruits of many who would live again—eternally.

NO WONDER people who know Christ everywhere rejoice at Easter time.

We hear and read much criticism over Easter. Some even say it is a pagan holiday, but it marks the turn from winter to springtime, the beginning again. The flowers began to bloom, the birds sing and our hearts lift in love and thanksgiving.

BECAUSE HE LIVES we shall live. These tired old bodies will take on new life.

It is not known what we shall be like in that wonderful world to come. It is enough to know we shall be like Him. Hallelujah!

Methodist Hospital.

He moved to Lubbock in 1936 from Pennsylvania. He had been employed by the U.S. Postal Service since 1963. A Navy veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Veterans of Wars. Tobias also was a member of Trinity Church.

Survivors include his wife, Elizabeth; two sons, T. A. Solley of Springlake and James E. Solley of Bevana, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. Albert Lamar of Altus, Okla., and Mrs. Marjorie Griffith of Amarillo; a brother, Harold of Montgomery, Pa.; four sisters, Mrs. Ruth Reese of Dallas, Mrs. May Bly and Mrs. Mary Inman, both of New York, and Mrs. Tootie Colley of Maturville, Pa.; 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

ADA MAY CHAPMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Ada May Chapman, 90, of Anton, who died at 9:45 a.m. Thursday, March 27, in Littlefield Hospital, were conducted Saturday morning in the First Baptist Church at Anton.

Second services are scheduled for 2 p.m. today in the Primrose Methodist Church in Van Zandt County, with Rev. Jerry House officiating.

Mrs. Chapman was born Aug. 23, 1884 in Smith County and came to Anton in 1961 from Ben Wheeler.

Burial was in Harmony Cemetery in Van Zandt County with Hammons Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Laura Phillips of Ben Wheeler, Mrs. Jewel Orcutt of Uvalde and Mrs. Rena Bullington of Anton; two sons, O. L. Chapman of Richmond, Calif. and G. Chapman of Brownfield.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

A Checkup

MUCH IS SAID AND DONE to encourage us to get regular dental and physical checkups, and many of us have been convinced, for a long time, that this is wise action.

Some of us know, from experience, that we can suffer loss by neglecting these precautionary practices. We are convinced that such checkups are justified.

A CHECKUP for our automobiles has become essential to satisfactory operation. Much advertising is produced and disseminated for the purpose of helping us realize the importance of such concern.

In fact, a checkup has become a financial necessity; from both the standpoint of operation and upkeep.

IF WE ARE DILIGENT about the care of home appliances, we will make provisions for a checkup at regular intervals. We want them to operate efficiently and to remain in operation for the maximum length of time.

Without a checkup, as indicated by the amount of service or as recommended by manufacturers, the gadgets which we have learned to depend upon cannot provide the best service.

THERE ARE OTHER matters, which are even more important, that must receive our most careful attention. We live in a generally materialistic society, and must be concerned about material things; the things that money buys.

Since this is true, wisdom demands that we do "a checkup" frequently to make sure we are not losing the things that money cannot buy.

WE ARE BOMBARDED, almost

THUMBS DOWN, TURN ROW! No way will I hear to the dividing-up of our great state! I'm a native-born Texan, and proud of it. Let not history record that CORNBALL was born in some district, probably renamed; Smoggy Bottoms, or Black Land Swamp!

If your esteemed national government doesn't recognize the importance of the petitions of the great state of Texas, I'm sure they'd be less impressed with the whims of a small place like the Sandy Plain.

AS FAR AS having more congressmen in Washington, I'm of the opinion we

This can be very harmful individually and collectively, it must be made known. In the absolutely devastating.

WE ARE NOT BEING whole picture, and the what we need.

Therefore, we must take through the process of a "checkup"; in search of the elements; looking for the actions in human behavior; the essentially good things.

IN OUR PERSONAL life we want to perform as efficiently as possible. We this, if we just drift along and the deterministic forces to which subjected.

We must maintain a high alertness; a keen sense of strong, abiding vigor; and a resolution. In order to do there must be regular and "checkups"; in which we and intelligently check all life structure.

WE MUST MAINTAIN qualities at the maximum adequacy. This can be done by painstaking "checkups"; we are not losing these qualities.

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHO

LOOKS LIKE I GOT in a bit of crossfire because of my last column in reference to wanting Washington to make law a higher loan support for our agriculture commodities.

Comments were that it would just be passed on to the consumer and the consumer will be penalized for the increased price. And that's true, this increase will snowball and all will have to pay for it—even the original producer.

Consumer or labor will be under the stress again, but will be benefitted only after they get an increase of wages to offset the increase in the cost of living. Once this happens, business will have to increase the price of their products to offset the wage increase. Each will want their 30 to 40 percent profit, and as it goes down the line, no one benefits and each will be back where he started from. We will handle more money and buy less and the only one who will realize any benefit will probably be the federal government because of the increase in taxes because of the extra money handled by the individual.

I guess what this country really needs is to go back about 20 years. Slide everything back to what it was in 1955, cost of machinery, labor, maintenance, production and living. Maybe, with what we know now, things may not get in the mess that it is in now.

HERE IS A BRIEF bit of statistics I'd like to pass on to you this Easter Season.

Olton Church Bell Gain Being Rung

LAKE—The church first summoned the Olton area to about 1909 or 1910 is as it is rung in the Church of The Olton.

wooden bearings and cracked resulting vibrating dangerously by the rope from the pulley.

ard Cook, present local Church of The Olton has somewhat that situation by tying to the clapper.

owart says the bell heard easily at his smiles out from Olton installed in Olton's which was built in to be used for all purposes, regardless of its.

owart's inquiry of The Olton of Hillsboro, the exact date of the bell, he information stating no records verifying but the 36" bells in 1910. The of the historical bell in Olton some 65". The bowl of the bell 68 pounds with the increasing the 65 pounds.

remembers that in the bell tower pulled the church building, the late John Cowart, in charge of the bell tower while Reynolds, 95, now of Brownwood, directed the work on the main part of the church. Henry Cowart, father of Elmo Cowart and Mrs. Claude Quisenberry, both of Plainview, remembers that again after several years the heavy weight of the bell pulled the tower three or four inches from the building.

In 1928 a tornado destroyed the bell tower and the bell was never replaced atop the union church.

Reynolds states that when the Methodists built the top part of this church in 1934 they bought the bell from Jim Fuller by subscriptions and placed it in steeple of their church which was later sold to members of the Church of The Nazarene.

H. L. Dennis says "It took a lot of manpower to get the bell up in that tower. We did it an inch at a time with a block and tackle. The old wheel was broken and was welded by Artie Erb, uncle of Charles and W. L. Galloway.

In the union church it is said the bell rang three times each Sunday morning and evening and some early residents state it rang fifteen minutes each time. Now it rings about two minutes at 9:30 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. on Sundays.

Plans are being made to obtain an historical marker for the old bell which was made of cast steel and constructed in a manner which would produce two tones, one by the clapper striking both sides, and the other tone used in announcing a death by the tolling of the bell with the sounding of only one side.

Diabetic Center To Open June 1

Camp Sweeney Diabetic Educational Training Center for diabetic boys and girls (6 through 16 years of age) will open for the 26th year of operation June 1st, with three three-week sessions: June 1 to June 21, June 22 to July 13 and July 14 to August 2.

Camp Sweeney is located nine miles east and one mile north of Gainesville on 338 acres of rolling timbered hills with three dormitories for boys and three for girls; a non-denominational chapel; a modern hospital; a 30-acre lake for boating, fishing and water skiing; a sanitary swimming pool, tennis courts, recreational pavilion, target range and 20 gentle saddle horses.

Under the supervision of a specialized medical staff, dietitian and counsellors, these children are taught their proper diet with regulated exercise, how to take their urine tests and give their own insulin injections.

Of major importance, through this group association with other young diabetics, they realize they are not alone with their disorder and with proper knowledge and instruction can LEARN HOW TO LIVE with their lifelong disease.

Diabetes is hereditary, incurable and increasing. It is the fifth killer of children and ranks third as the cause of blindness.

Camp Sweeney, operated and maintained by Southern Diabetic Foundation, Inc., an organizational member of United Community Services of Texas.

If you know or have a diabetic child who would refer them to this office.

Texans To Vote On Legislators Pay Raise

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In an unusual special election April 22, Texans will vote on two proposed changes to the already much-amended 1876 constitution. Here are the highlights of the two propositions on the ballot.)

Texas voters have been saying "no" to pay increases for state legislators since 1960, and they'll again have a chance Tuesday, April 22, to say again if they think they deserve a pay raise.

Also in the unusual ballot, which does not coincide with any other political election or decision, is another proposed state constitution change to bolster retirement plans of public school teachers and state and local government employees.

Pension increases for the retirees depend on the outcome of the election.

Ordinarily there is a low turnout for such special elections where there are no political contests to attract voters. Many voters will have already been to the polls early in April to elect city council and school board members.

Legislators at first tried to schedule their pay raise question on April 5 to catch the local political interest but because of dissension within their ranks missed the deadline and had to set the constitution changes at a later date.

The secretary of state's office predicts the April 22 special election will cost Texas taxpayers at least $1.5 million.

The legislative pay raise proposition is No. 2 on the ballot but No. 1 in most comment on the election. Its main effect, if approved by voters, would increase the pay of Texas senators and representatives from $4,800 to $7,200 a year, their first pay raise since 1960.

At the same time the personal expense allowance when the legislature is in session would rise from $12 to $30 a day. Legislators' travel pay would increase from 10 to 16 cents a mile when their personal cars are used for state business.

The total pay increase package would cost taxpayers an additional $1,433,000 for the next two years.

House and Senate members have already voted themselves a hefty increase in expenses for the offices they maintain in Austin and at their home towns.

House members can now spend up to $4,000 a month for necessary office expenses and senators have a $5,500 office allowance.

"The grocery bill has gone up 10 times since then," said Sen. Bob Gammage, D-Houston, when discussing the first pay SID AND ALMA ROBERTS had five out of six portraits accepted for state exhibition at the Southwest Professional Photographers Association annual meeting in Houston March 22-24. The Roberts competed against more than 600 entries. Sid Roberts displays his certificate as a registered photographer which he received the first time he entered in competition. Mrs. Roberts holds the trophy she won for the oil portrait of Sandra Richards. Other winning photos are of Tom Ellis of Littlefield, Terry Roberts of Littlefield, and Kathy Gonzales of Amherst.

Intense Tillage Operations Can Be Costly To Farmers

In the face of spiraling fuel costs for machinery and irrigation wells, farmers have an opportunity this year to save money with minimum tillage and less irrigation water, according to a 1972 research study.

That's the conclusion of Dr. Charles Wendt, soil physicist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here, who draws a close parallel between 1972 and 1975 soil moisture conditions. Pulling his data off the shelves, Wendt notes that the 1972 study compared the effects of different tillage operations on soil moisture and yield of cotton and grain.

"That year was very similar to this year in that the area had a large amount of water stored from fall rains the preceding year," he recalls.

His conclusion: The more an area is tilled, the more moisture is lost.

Under dryland conditions in the 1972 study the three types of tillage operations compared on an Olton loam soil at the Lubbock Station were (1) shred, disk, bed; (2) shred, disk, chisel (12" deep); and (3) shred, disk, moldboard (8-10" deep), bed.

Wendt reports that moisture data obtained from the three treatments showed that significantly more moisture was lost where the soil was moldboarded and chiseled than where the soil received only a shred-disk-bed treatment.

"Although about three inches of moisture were received in May prior to planting which was adequate to establish the crops, the final yields were not increased by the extra tillage operations of moldboarding and chiseling," he says.

Dryland cotton yields were highest (530 lbs. lint/acre) where the tillage operations were the least (shred, disk, and bed). Plots which were chiseled and moldboarded yielded 495 and 429 lbs. lint/acre, respectively.

Dryland grain sorghum yields were highest on the chiseled plots (4491 lbs. grain/acre) followed by the shred-disk-bed plots (4338 lbs. grain/acre) and the moldboarded plots (4076 lbs. grain/acre).

These data suggest that if the farmers do not harvest the crops when the soil is wet so as to create plow soles or hard pans that would require chiseling or moldboarding to break up for the next planting, they might save the cost of such operations and still receive maximum yields," Wendt concludes.

"We recognize there are other considerations such as weed problems that would cause the producer to consider more intensive tillage operations, but if such problems do not exist, a savings in stored soil moisture with no decreases in yield may be realized by eliminating more expensive chiseling and moldboarding operations."

The researcher points out that there was adequate moisture for germination of the crops at three to four inches in the plots which were shredded, disked and bedded prior to the rains. Yet the rains were necessary to provide moisture for germination in the plots which were chiseled and moldboarded.

"This means that producers who have planting equipment with the capability to plant three to four inches below the top of flat or bedded soil may be assured of obtaining a stand with stored moisture by limited tillage.

By comparison to dryland tests, irrigated plots received limited water and were planted later. The moisture before planting followed the same pattern as the dryland.

The result: The more the area was tilled, the more moisture was lost.

Yields of cotton were not affected by limited tillage but were decreased by moldboarding, the researcher notes. In general, grain sorghum yields were not affected by tillage except in areas where no tillage was done prior to planting which decreased grain sorghum yields by 1300 lbs. of grain/acre.

Wendt's 1972 data means that under similar conditions this year, the following conclusions would hold true: 1) if perennial weeds or hard pans due to harvesting under wet conditions are not a problem, a shred and disk, or a shred, disk and bed operation is adequate to assure maximum yields. Adequate moisture for crop establishment would exist with these tillage practices at three to four inches if the producer has the equipment to plant at this depth; 2) if the land is moldboarded or chiseled in addition to the shred-disk-chisel operation, the land will need to be irrigated or rainfall will be necessary in order to establish the crops.

Based on water applications at the Lubbock Station in 1972, one to two million acre feet of water would be required from rainfall or irrigation water for pre-irrigation if the irrigated land on the Texas High Plains is moldboarded or chiseled.

America's Past Explained In Available Documents

Many of us tend to take our national history for granted. However, the activity generated by the Bicentennial seems to make us more aware of the events we studied as school kids and then tucked away in a memory drawer.

"Documents from America's Past," designed to jog your sense of history, is a descriptive listing of historical documents in the National Archives, and printed facsimiles which are available for purchase at low cost. The booklet was published by the National Archives and Records Service of the General Services Administration. A free copy of the 24-page booklet, "Documents from America's Past," may be obtained by writing to Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

One of the booklets listed is "Charters of Freedom," which includes reproductions of the three documents that laid the political foundations of the United States—the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and the Constitution of the United States. Also included in the booklet are brief historical notes and pictures of the National Archives Building and the murals in the Exhibition Hall. Posters of the Charters are also available. The Constitution is reduced to about half the size of the original to permit all four pages on one sheet. The other two documents, the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence, are exact, full-size facsimiles of the texts of the original parchments. They are suitable for framing.

"The Formation of the Union" tells the story of the Continental Congress, with documents and pages reproduced from the journals of the Congress to illustrate the steps toward independence. Other documents show the work of the Constitutional convention, the process of election that made George Washington our first President, and the protest against the Constitution that led to the adoption of the Bill of Rights.

Included also is George Washington's Inaugural Address of 1789. The publication features an exact facsimile of the text from which the President read, written in his own clear hand. The accompanying five-page historical note describes the first election and discusses the authorship of the text of the address.

In addition to documents relating to the Bicentennial, the booklet lists other historical documents including the "Emancipation Proclamation," "The End of World War II," and "Into the New Realm," a documentary history of America's venture into space.

Beef Gift Certificates Available

CowBelle beef gift certificates may be obtained for any amount by paying cash at First National Bank in Littlefield.

They are redeemable at any grocery store or meat processing plant, for the purchase of beef only.

The project is a non-profit beef promotional effort of the CowBelles and the cooperating bank.

The Texas CowBelles are making their "Beef Gift Certificates" more readily available to the public through the cooperation of the Texas Banks and grocers and are being sponsored and promoted by the CowBelles in Texas. These certificates are available for year round gift giving.

Although no profit is realized by either CowBelles or bankers, this beef promotion project should prove to be of great value in aiding and assisting the morale and finances of the American beef industry and our American cattlemen.

MRS. BUSTER OWENS (right) of Littlefield, third vice president of Caprock Girl Scout Council, attended the weekend formal opening of the new Girl Scout Service Center in Lubbock. The Center is the hub of Scout activities in the Council, which stretches from Tulia to O'Donnell, and was constructed with a portion of the revenues from the annual Council cookie sale. With Mrs. Owens are, left, Mrs. W. C. Griggs of Lubbock, council president; and Mrs. Doug Parish of Earth, a director. The Service Center, at 2567-74th Street in Lubbock, is open to visitors during normal business hours.

Special Funds Designated For WTSU

Senator Max Sherman of Amarillo announced that an emergency measure appropriating special funds for West Texas State University was signed by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

S. B. 50, which was submitted as an emergency matter by the Governor, appropriates $94,909 to West Texas State University to replace the Nance Ranch Pavillion that burned last summer.

It was submitted as an emergency measure to affect quick passage in order that construction of the new building can begin immediately.

Senator Sherman explained that the emergency status enabled quick passage of the bill by the House and Senate and that otherwise the Texas State Constitution would prevent any action until after the first 60 days of the session. "The building should be in use when students begin classes this fall," stated Sherman.

Dr. Lloyd Watkins, president of West Texas State University, said that he was grateful to Senator Sherman and Representative Simpson for their skillful efforts in the prompt passage of this legislation.

The new structure, which will be constructed of fireproof material, will continue to serve for classroom instruction and laboratory space involving large animals. It will be located, as was the building that burned, on the Nance Ranch.

The Nance Ranch is owned by West Texas State University and is a working laboratory for agriculture students. The ranch consists of a demonstration feedlot, pork production unit as well as facilities for training students in ranch management and agribusiness.
