

SEATING ROOM ONLY was available for some old-timers who attended the 21st Annual Pioneer Reunion here Tuesday. Some were attentive to the fiddlers group, while others chatted or looked at the scrapbook at the rear of the Community Center.

HIRAM MILLER of Olton has resided in Lamb County since 1900--before Lamb County was organized from the Bexar District in 1908. Mrs. V. M. Sherman, right presented Miller "A History of Lamb County" in recognition of having lived in Lamb County the longest.

LAUIS HAIR of Olton, left, was elected to the Lamb County Pioneer president's chair during the business session Tuesday afternoon. Outgoing President Fred Lichte introduced Hair, who addressed the record-breaking group of Pioneers.

75 ATTEND LARGEST REUNION

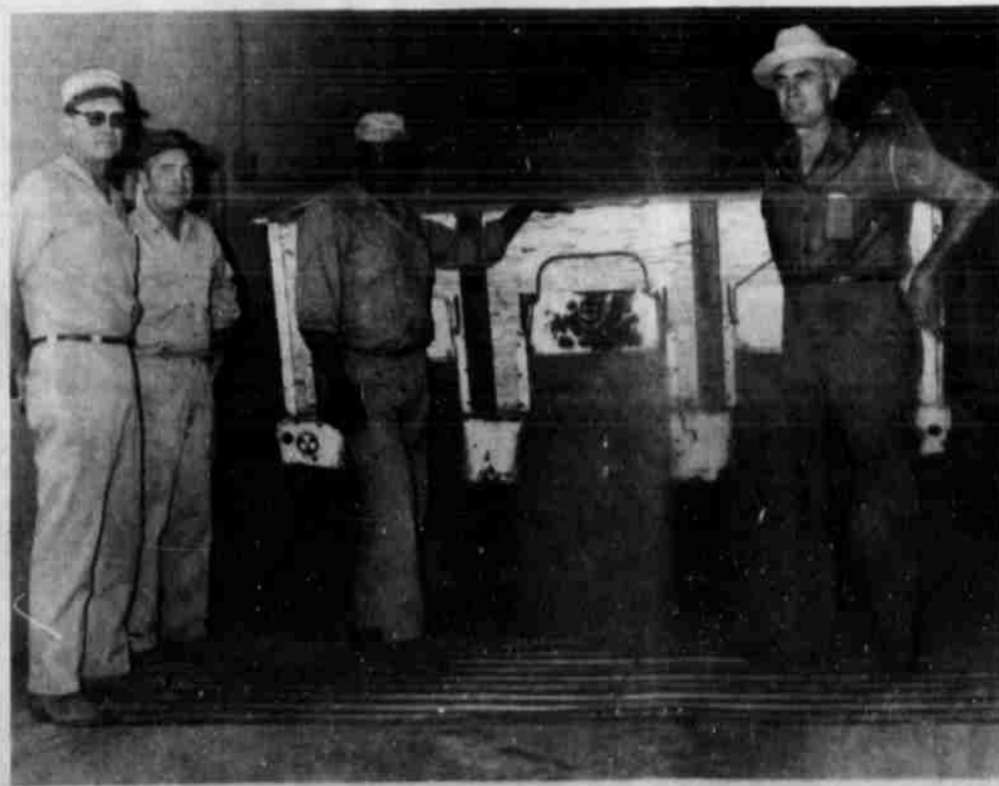

Pioneers Out In Force

More than 475 oldsters from throughout the United States gathered here Tuesday to form the largest Annual Lamb County Pioneer Reunion in the 21-year history of the organization. The Community Center was bulging at the seams with "standing room only" as the pioneers reminisced about old times and rekindled acquaintances with old friends. The reunion arrived after registration was complete, but the food and fellowship was the same. Seventy-eight of the 475 who registered were guests of the annual event. The oldest woman present this year was Mrs. E. M. of Littlefield, a 92-year-old "live wire" who has taken up honors as oldest woman in the past several years. Another 92-year-old, Tyne of Sudan, was recognized as oldest man present. Fife from the furniture business only five years ago, and is active in his community, winning the honors of traveling the greatest distance to attend the reunion was A. C. of Miami, Fla. He traveled 1,850 miles to attend the reunion -- the first time in 21 years he had been in Lamb County. Henry Miller of Olton was recognized as the person present who has lived in Lamb County the longest period of time--since 1900. In fact, he came to the territory before Lamb County was organized from the Bexar District in 1908, and named for a San Jacinto Battle victim, Lt. G.A. Lamb. Louis Hair of Olton was named to the presidency of the organization and Buck Ross of Littlefield was elected vice-president. Lyle Brandon of Littlefield was returned to the secretary's post and Sid Hoping of Littlefield will again serve as treasurer. Mrs. L. E. Slate of Sudan will serve as scrapbook custodian next year. The afternoon's program featured several talented musicians and dancers from the Circle Eight Square Dance Club. A fiddlers' group provided toe-tapping music before, during and after the main program session, and hundreds of the old-timers stayed after the barbecue to listen to nostalgic numbers. The group was organized and headed by E.K. Angeley of Pleasant Valley and included Leldon Phillips and James Cunningham, both of Muleshoe, Arvin Peavy and Hiram Cook, both of Clyde, and six members of the Espinoza family--Al, Camilo, and David Espinoza, all of Muleshoe, and James, Jessie and Joe Espinoza, all of Montana. Several vocal numbers were presented by Zed Robinson, the Sunset Quartet and Jan Sisson. Clifton Smith of Littlefield called for the square dance exhibition by members of the Circle Eight Square Dance Club. Couples participating in the exhibition were the David Thompsons, the Gary Shipleys, the Earl Rodgers, the Byron Douglasses and the Doyle Tapleys. The huge barbecue at 6 p.m. highlighted the evening when old-timers milled about the lawn of the Community Center until nearly sundown and reminisced with each other. Security State Bank of Littlefield donated the 900-pound beef for the barbecue and R.B. Kirby of the Littlefield Frozen Food Center donated services in processing and curing the beef.

'Slow Movers' Must Display Emblems

A new traffic law which went into effect the first of this year concerns a major portion of residents in Lamb County. Referred to as the "slow moving vehicle law," it requires all tractors, trailers and farm equipment designed to operate at a maximum speed of 25 miles per hour or less to display a large fluorescent yellow-orange triangle with a dark red reflector border on all such equipment while it is being pulled or driven on any public road or highway.

"And this means the emblem is necessary on county dirt roads as well as paved roads,

"Highway Patrolman Weldon Parson said.

Parson said the emblem should be attached to all vehicles, implements, and machinery, including all road construction machinery, while it is being pulled by animals or motor vehicle designed to operate at a maximum speed of 25 miles per hour or less.

The emblem must be entirely and clearly visible in daylight or at night from a distance of not less than 500 feet from the rear when directly in front of the upper beam of head lights.

Emblems must be mounted point up, and placed centrally at the rear of the vehicle, unobscured, and not less than three nor more than five feet above the road surface measured from the lower edge of the emblem.

It is not necessary to have additional emblems on towed implements if the emblem on the pulling unit is not obstructed by the machine being towed.

Emblems are not to be used to replace such warning devices as tail lights, reflectors, flashing lights, or warning flags, and are not to be used as a clearance marker for wide equipment.

Because of the newness of the law, and the law has been somewhat ignored, few tickets have been issued but because of the increased traffic in the fall and dangers of violation, more citations will be issued in the future for disregarding the safety feature.

Fines for not properly displaying the emblem can range from $1 to $200.

Commissioners Will Appoint Peace Justice

The vacancy created in the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct 4, by the death of Judge Jim Bowen last weekend will be filled by an appointee of the county commissioners' court in the near future.

That announcement came Wednesday from County Judge G.T. Sides, who said the court will begin consideration of the appointment at its next regular meeting, Monday, Aug. 31.

The appointee will serve the unexpired term of Judge Bowen. The current term concludes on Dec. 31 of this year.

Executive committees of the parties which held primaries in the county this year may appoint nominees for election on the Nov. 3 general election ballot.

County Democratic Chairman Glenn Batson told the Leader-News his party will name a candidate sometime in the next 30 days.

Bringing Up Junior Takes Dough-Re-Mi

Lamb County parents are finding that the cost of bringing up junior has risen considerably in the last few years.

For the average local family, raising a child from birth to age 18 now takes close to three times its income for an entire year, according to a recent analysis by the Institute of Life Insurance.

Its findings are based upon data supplied by the Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

By way of comparison, 25 years ago a typical family needed only $7,425 to bring up a child to age 18, according to a study made at that time. Today, that amount would not take care of its food requirements alone.

Just how much a family spends in the process of rearing a child depends, for the most part, on its financial ability, the current study shows.

The finding is that it varies from 290 percent to 360 percent of a family's after-tax income for an entire year.

For families in Lamb County, where a net income of $10,000 to $11,000 was the average in 1969, the cost during the 18-year-period is estimated at about $34,600 per child.

The initial outlay is for the cost of being born. It comes to approximately $580, on average. Additional medical and health needs in the subsequent years comes to $2,490.

Food is the major expense in the budget, entailing some $8,020 over the span.

Clothing, too, is a big item. What it amounts to depends upon the sex of the child--girls requiring more than boys in this respect--and whether it is an only child.

Taking into consideration the hand-me-down practices in many families, the total is set at $5,790.

LBJ Park Dedication Planned Aug. 29

The Lyndon Baines Johnson State Historical Park, located two miles east of Stonewall in Gillespie County, will be dedicated in day-long festivities on Saturday, Aug. 29.

The park will be open to the public at 9 a.m., and the events of the day will be highlighted with the official dedication of the park at 2 p.m., when both former President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will participate. The principal address will be given by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

The dedication program is being planned by civic organization in Fredericksburg, Stonewall, Johnson City and Blanco.

Completed and already attracting multitudes of visitors are the Visitors Center, in which the Indian, German, Latin-American and Western cultures that helped develop "The President's Country" are depicted; the auditorium, where documentary films will be shown on the day of the dedication; the open-air amphitheatre, the swimming pool complex, a nature trail, a multitude of picnic areas, and a wild game exhibit of deer and buffalo, plus Longhorn cattle.

The continuous programs during the day will depict the ethnic cultures that were important in the development of the area.

Starting at 9:30 a.m. with the showing of documentary films, the program of activities will continue throughout the day.

NEVER RECOVERED

Your ability to hear is a precious, God-given gift that once it has been lost, often can never be regained.

"If there is such a thing as reincarnation, then I must have lived before in Ireland".

While in England following her recent trip abroad, Mrs. S.D. Hay's opinion was that she and her granddaughter, Lura Richarz, toured the Isles.

"It was the one place (southern part) where I felt as if I could just put on a shawl and feel right at home," she stated.

The two were with a tourist group, while traveling abroad. In Ireland they kissed the Blarney Stone at Blarney Castle. They were served a medieval dinner in a castle and according to Mrs. Hay--she did not throw one bone on the floor to be gnawed upon by hunting hounds, as was done in Merrick Old England.

In Dublin they saw the Abbey but were unable to make the scene bus-wise in Belfast due to the recent turbulence between the Catholics and Protestants. However, since she was there, things have quieted down somewhat, as the two sects had to join forces in overcoming the flood damage to parts of the city.

It was near Belfast (six miles located in a forest) that they stayed at the most beautiful castle she saw while in the Isles. She said castles and cathedrals were the order of the day for summer tourists this year, while last year, the travel agency placed the accent on museums and scenic sights in France and Switzerland when she and another granddaughter toured the continent.

It got a little tiresome, like overeating at Thanksgiving, to have to digest the sight of and tour so many old castles, and she declared there was one on every hill, or almost.

They were even taken on a tour of a cathedral which was being renovated and all they actually saw were the windows. Carpenter and workmen had to dodge around and waded through.

Perhaps the late president, Dwight D. Eisenhower, had the same feeling about castles as he returned the castle to the Crown, that he was given to make his home while in the Isles.

Another highlight was visiting Loch Ness, and she declared they didn't see the monster; but improvised one for the sake of an eight-year-old who made the tour only to see the monster of Loch Ness.

The guide would say "There I believe it's there. Don't you see it!" after a member of the group would throw an object into the waters, causing the waves to ripple.

In Scotland they stayed at the Green Eagle and while in Edinburgh were feted to a Scottish banquet featuring Haggish, a dish the Scots lived on during the great famish. Its chief ingredients are rice and ground animal entrails.

"I liked it" said Mrs. Hay but there were some in the group who wouldn't touch it.

New Color Brochure Being Distributed

A colorful and informative new brochure has been published by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Park Services to give Texans and out-of-state visitors a visual sampling of the scenic, recreational and educational features of the State's park system.

Illustrated with color photographs taken by the Department's staff photographers, the foldout includes a detailed inroduction to the State's geographical regions, a review of outdoor education opportunities, information about accommodations and services and an illustrated mapping of park locations.

The brochure stresses the variety of geographical features in Texas and the sundry activities which can be enjoyed in the park system which is no less varied than the terrain.

There are now 69 parks distributed throughout the State, including four new facilities recently opened. They are Hueco Tanks near El Paso, Dinosaur Valley near Glen Rose, Pedernales Falls near Johnson City and Lake Colorado City at Colorado City.

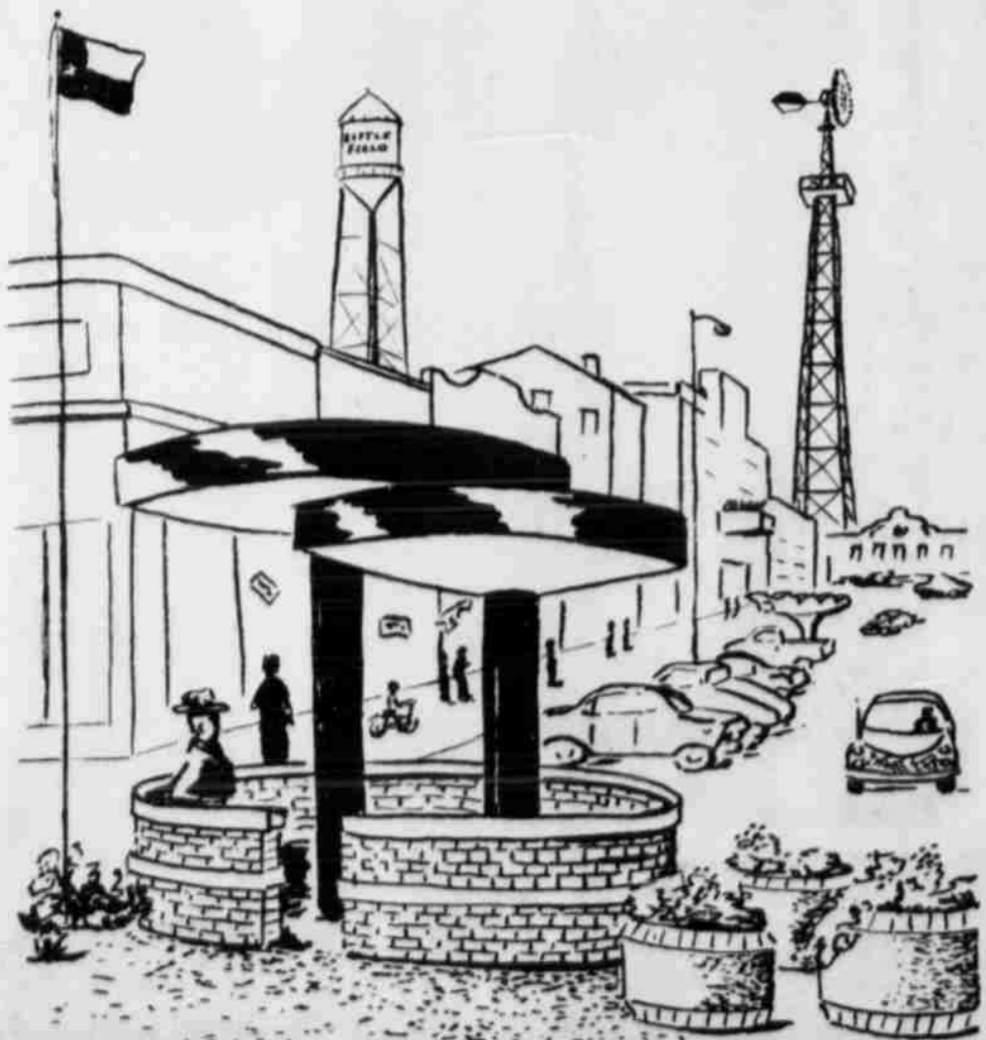

The publication may be obtained free at any of the State Parks, Texas Highway Department tourist bureaus, or from the Department's Austin quarters.

The new brochure is more than just a digest listing to go and things to see. It is a complete travel guide for one who wishes to get the most out of the State's extensive park system.

THE WOLVERINES of Springlake-Earth have the desire and enthusiasm this year, as shown in this line play during recent workouts. Some of the linemen pictured are Johnny McNamara (67), tackle; Terrill Ott (65), guard and tackle; Kent Coker (76), center; and Hollis Daniel (31), guard and center.

Wolverine Gridders Going All Out For 1970 Title

Springlake-Earth has been picked number one in the district, second in the district, and even third, depending on who was making the predictions. But no one with any football know-how is doubting the Wolverines as top contenders for the title in District 3-A.

Although S-E lost nine grid- ders to graduation, there are 11 starting lettermen to re- build around, and rival men- tors don't seem skeptical about the raw material head coach Duane Locke inherited.

Quarterback Hoyt Glasscock and Halfback Tony Barton are all that remains of last year's backfield, so Locke definitely has a rebuilding job here, but he isn't worried.

An offensive line is the weak spot. A line, both offensively and defensively, is being constructed around six de- fensive returning starters and two others who are versatile enough to go either way.

Big George Nance, a 202- pound junior is a defensive tackle standout with all-state potential.

Terrill Ott (G, T, 150 lb. jr.), Kent Coker (G, 160 lb. sr.), Johnny McNamara (T, 180 sr.), Monty Winders (T, 185 lb. sr.), Tony Keith (G, 160 lb. jr.), Hollis Daniel (G&C, 145 lb. jr.), and Kent Parish (T, 175 lb. sr.) displayed excep- tional defensive material the first few days of practice.

Chris Brock (G, 165 lb. jr.), Mike West (G, 170 lb. sr.), and David Wisian (T, 170 lb. jr.) are three others showing promise. The size is here and an all-new coaching staff is working on the depth.

Locke has a happy option in naming a quarterback with either Hoyt Glasscock or Mike Clevinger. Glasscock is a 6' 200-pound junior who started both ways last year and led the Wolverines to their 3-3 finish. Clevinger is a 6' 2" 150-pound junior who can go at quarterback or add fine depth at the critical man-under slot.

A coach's dream is found in Tony Barton, 190-pound two- way starter with three letters. Definitely all-state potential is in this fiery halfback.

Jerry Barden (5' 9", 200 lb. sr.) started both ways as a guard last year, and Locke sees his potential in offense.

It's too early yet for the new mentor to name a starting lineup, but the choices are legion with 52 coming out for the two-a-days.

This year's Wolverines will be a young team with only two seniors in the backfield. Positions go undecided while two boys battle it out for one position or three fight for two slots. It will be a rushing game this season, depending on the offensive line which will be run from a winged T or the veer.

Locke faces the season with many unanswered questions but is finding answers with each new day. Assisting Locke are James Self, line coach; Sam Johnson, an assistant varsity coach, and Tom Phelps, varsity and junior high.

Banking on past tradition and quality performers, the Green and Gold will be prime contenders for the crown when the gun sounds on Sept. 11.

HERE COMES BARTON!—Tony Barton takes a hand-off during workouts of the Springlake-Earth Wolverines as they prep for their opening game against Amherst Sept. 11.

Wildcats Scrimmage Tahoka Eleven Friday

Littlefield's Wildcats will travel to Tahoka Friday for a "first look" at Class AA opposition after 14 seasons in Class AAA.

The Cats will scrimmage Tahoka at 6:30 p.m., with both the varsity and junior varsity slated to see action.

"We're looking forward to it," Coach Deverelle Lewis told the Quarterback Club Tuesday night. "It gives us a chance to look at our boys against some outside competition."

But Lewis has no doubts about the quality of future opposition. "We know that we're in a tough district this year," he said, pointing out that both coaches and sportswriters have tabbed Floydada and Olton as powerhouses in 1970.

"Right now, our offense is behind," said Lewis, "but that's to be expected in the first few days of workouts. . . . It'll come."

He said the defensive units have been doing well, and commented the defense was especially impressive during goal line work at Tuesday's workout. "Nobody ever scored," he said, referring to repeated poundings at the line from the five-yard stripe.

Lewis' talk about the work- outs highlighted a Quarterback Club meeting in which the group also elected a new vice-presi- dent. . . . James Walker.

The club president, Bob Bromlow, has moved to Amarillo, so Jim Jones was elevated from veep to that spot and Walker was named to go into Jones' old position.

Russ Elvins continues as secretary-treasurer.

WILDCATS' MUTT AND JEFF—Line Coach John Goubeaux talks with a pair of Littlefield Wildcats who are being counted on to use their poundage to the best advantage this fall. Larry Purdy (33) tips the scales at only 145 but has been one of the scrappiest nose guards around the past two years. Calvin Kilby (77) is a tackle who, although inexperienced, commands a lot of respect with his 272-pound frame.

Monroe Captures Golf Championship

Smiley Monroe shot an even- par 71 and withstood a come- back challenge from Dick Van- landingham to capture the 36- hole Littlefield Country Club championship Sunday.

Monroe, a shot back with his 75 the first day, got the lead with a two-under 34 on the first nine Sunday, then battled back after Vanlandingham evened things at the 14th hole.

Monroe's par got him a stroke lead at the 15th and his birdie at the 16th gave him his final margin, two strokes. Monroe shot 146, Vanlandingham 148.

Neil Duffy, the first day leader with a 74, faded to a 78 Sunday and was third, six shots back.

In the first flight Frank Crone nipped Steve Webb by a stroke, 156-159.

Second flight champion was Charlie Duval, who shot 167 to take his closest challengers by 14 strokes.

Third flight title went to Randy Walker, whose 176 nipped Jim Graves by two shots.

Recent winner of the women's tourney was Sue Bowman, whose 154 beat her closest challenger by 26 strokes.

First flight winner in the women's meet was Francis Chamberlain with a 218.

Blind Bogey Tourney Set

The South Plains Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute will host the 16th Annual Scholarship Blind Bogey Golf Tournament at the Brownsfield Country Club Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12. The tournament is open to anyone who wishes to play.

This tournament provides the funds for engineering scholarships at Texas Tech and currently is providing four year scholarships of $500 each. The scholarships are disbursed by the Texas Tech director of scholarships. Recipients are determined by a scholarship committee based on need and scholastic achievement from residents of a 15 county area of the high plains.

Two additional scholarships of $250 each are to be available this year for the first time for students at South Plains College at Levelland. The recipients are determined by the officials of South Plains College.

Prizes and contributions are donated by many businessmen of the area involved, and they come from merchants and companies who are indirectly and directly associated with the industry.

This year there will be "special" prizes. The man Motor Company of Brownsfield is donating a 1970 Buick for a hole-in-one and the Price Real Estate of Brownsfield is donating a man for a hole-in-one.

This raises the total of prizes to $17,500. Starting times for food can be obtained by calling Mike Dugger at the Brownsfield Country Club. The entry is $5 per person, which includes a ticket for the Saturday barbecue.

Hunting, Fishing Licenses Shipped

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will ship more than 2,000,000 hunting and fishing licenses to distributors for fiscal year 1970-71 on Aug. 7, according to C. L. Friou, assistant director of administrative services for the department.

The licenses will be mailed to more than 3,500 license agents throughout the State, including most hardware and sporting goods stores, about half the State's county clerk, and all of the Department's regional, district and field offices.

Game management officers also will receive a minimum supply. Despite the early distribution, the licenses will not become valid until Sept. 1.

Shrimp fishermen planning extended cruises may purchase their licenses before leaving on trips which might keep them at sea past the Aug. 31 deadline. Friou said.

Commercial Gulf shrimp boat licenses for the new fiscal year were shipped to the Department's 12 coastal offices earlier this year.

There are few changes in the licenses for 1970-71 other than color and dates. However, the saltwater trotline tags for the new year are made of plastic instead of zinc.

Prices remain the same, at $2.15 for fishing licenses and $3.15 for hunting licenses.

CIGARETTE REVENUE
Revenue from cigarette smoking increased $4 million last month over July 1969 ($36.4 million) as compared with $12.2 million.

South Plains Offers 23 Programs

Sixteen programs plus option areas within the programs making a total of 23 fields of study are offered in the Technical-Vocational-Occupational Division of South Plains College this fall.

"We are experiencing a banner enrollment for the fall of 1970 with most programs filled to capacity," said Fran Hunt, dean of the TVO division.

Additional programs designed to service the need as it arises, are anticipated for the future.

The college was approved as an area Technical-Vocational School in March 1965. Programs are housed in a new 55,000 square foot Technical Arts Center.

Because of the continuing shortage of qualified personnel in the areas of study offered at SPC, qualified graduates of the programs have little difficulty in securing employment.

All TVO programs have recently undergone a self-evaluation by individual advisory committees assigned to separate programs. These committees are made up of leading business and industry officials in the college's service area. Some 140 business and industrial leaders serve on the advisory committees.

Programs of study in the Technical-Vocational field require two years of study.

Each graduate receives an Associate Degree upon completion of the course.

Courses offered in this division are: agri-business technology, irrigation technology, drafting technology, electronic data processing technology, electronics technology, stenography, accounting, and management.

Occupational programs are clock hour programs of varying lengths. Graduates receive a Certificate of Proficiency.

These are post-secondary courses and include: welding, radio and television repair, key punch operator, unit record equipment operator, diesel engine mechanics, air conditioning, refrigeration and heating mechanics, vocational nursing, and machinist.
