THE ROARING 20'S IN BULA

Counterfeit Case Recalled

Tom Woolsey's move from Ed Springs to Bula in 1928, he was a well driller. Back in Richland Woolsey dug water wells and dams for stock. Tom and his were well fixed and respected. He married a thin woman with a streak as wide as she was tall, and then on there was trouble because Woolsey couldn't get along with father and brothers. He thought if he moved his wife and out west to new surroundings might get better.

three room house, a good well, stock shed and corral-good improvements for a rented place in this prairie grass and buffalo land.

Vaqueros had lived in the house the fall before. The Mexican men must have had things to do more important than keeping the house clean and evidently departed very pronto. Besides finding a dirty house, the Woolseys found paraphernalia for making counterfeit half dollars-dies, a pot for melting lead or pewter and a concoction to make the four-bit pieces look like silver.

Maybe Tom didn't know that the law required him to turn the counterfeiting equipment in to authorities and not keep it in his possession.

Anyway, there were no telephones and he didn't have a car. He'd have had to hitch up a team and go by wagon over 25 miles of muddy pot holes and rough buggy tracks to deliver the paraphernalia to

Weather Permit Decision Awaited

The granting or denial of the weather modification permit to the California firm that seeded clouds in last year's hail suppression will be a deciding factor in the continuing battle between the natural weather group and the modified weather advocates.

The Texas Water Development Board tabled the motion in the Monday meeting in Austin and were to have made a decision Saturday morning. But, according to Frank Moore of Plainview, president of the Plains group supporting the program again this year, the decision probably won't be made until Monday of this week and possibly Tuesday.

Moore said one of advisory committee members was out of pocket Saturday, thus postponing action on the permit.

Several South Plains residents, representing both the Farmers and Ranchers Association for Natural Weather, and the Plains Weather Improvement Association were in Austin Monday for the hearing.

Sheriff Douglas at the county seat in Muleshoe.

So Tom put the dies in a sack and decided to wait for a more favorable time to dispose of the stuff and went on with his cleaning up and settling in.

After a week Tom finished all the repairs, fenced in his stock and started to plow his land. Not too familiar with the attributes of working stock, he'd bought two half-broke muley team members that had to be watched all the time. He was afraid to turn loose of the lines at anytime, so Mrs. Woolsey took water to the field and held the lines while he drank.

The second day Tom plowed, he told Mrs. Woolsey to bring the counterfeit stuff and a spade when she brought him water, and while she held the lines, Tom buried the dies in the twin row.

Mrs. Woolsey disliked the tiresome farm tasks almost as much as she hated the treeless land where you could see clear to next Sunday and the rattlers that snaked through the grass and coyotes that howled all night.

Quarrelsome with dissatisfaction, she snipped at Tom. One morning after an argument, and after Tom had gone to the field, she left the older children in charge of the younger ones and left the house walking toward Muleshoe. When noon came, Tom went in for dinner and found his wife gone.

He had no way to look for her except to hitch the contrary work stock to a buggy, and thinking she'd soon be back on her own, he continued his plowing.

Night came and Mrs. Woolsey had not

Highway patrolmen arrested two Littlefield men Friday on driving while intoxicated charges, and sheriff's officials arrested an Amherst man for the Austin sheriff's office.

The DWI charges were filed on Leonard Stuart and Jerry D. Rainbolt. Both arrests were made on FR 54 between Littlefield and Spade. Seferino Fausto was picked up on the Austin warrant.

New Group Has Similar Name

A group which requested integration of the Littlefield school faculty at Monday night's school board meeting was not the "Community Action Committee," Charles Duval, chairman of that organization, declared.

The citizens who met with the school board call themselves the "Community Advisory Committee," said Mrs. Barbara Simington, spokesman for the advisory group.

The statements were made to Bill Turner, Leader-News editor and publisher, in separate phone calls Thursday after that morning's headlines read, "Community Action Group Asks Integration of Faculty."

Turner said the name given the group on the school board's printed agenda was "Community Action Committee," and that a check with several board members indicated they, too, were unaware of a separate group named the "Community Advisory Committee."

Mrs. Simington told the newspaper that her group was only recently formed, and that an NAACP representative helped in its organization.

"The Community Advisory Committee," she said, "is intended to represent the Negro community. It is a non-violent, local organization, strictly within our community, and it's set up to keep outsiders out."

Mrs. Simington said the participation of Pete Trevino and the Rev. Joe James, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, in the discussions at the school board meeting should not have been taken to mean they were members of her committee.

Trevino, who along with Father James is a member of Duval's Community Action Committee, said: "I was there strictly as an individual citizen, to voice my complaints."

Duval also said the fact that Trevino and Father James attended the meeting did not mean they represented the Community Action group.

"They were there as individuals," he said.

"Our committee is set up to help the poor, regardless of race, color or creed," Duval said.

"Your headline involving Community Action could wreck what we've worked five years to get going, unless it is corrected," he told the newspaper.

"As a committee, we don't want to get involved with racial questions," Duval said.

TUESDAY IN LAMB COUNTY

Cancer Drive Begins

A house-to-house canvass for funds for the Lamb County Chapter of the American Cancer Society will be made throughout the county Tuesday, and school children will be "sending mice to college" for cancer research in a special drive at some of the schools Monday and Tuesday.

The 1971 goal for Lamb County is $8,000. The special mouse project calls for a donation of only "one quarter and two pennies" which "buys a mouse for a cancer research lab."

The special donation envelopes, with a small mouse carrying a picket sign reading "Help!", will be distributed to the students Monday and donations will be collected and picked up from the principal's office the next day.

Volunteer workers will canvass each city and rural area during the campaign, and may be identified by the cancer pamphlets which they will distribute to all citizens, whether they make a contribution or not.

Co-chairmen for the 1971 County-wide drive are Mrs. Edna Mae Mangum of Littlefield, who is coordinating the southern portion of the county, and Mrs. Thurman Lewis of Earth, assigned to the northern portion of the county.

Co-chairmen for the Littlefield residential drive are Mrs. Mike Cotter and Mrs. Rhoda Bradley, and headquarters for the drive will be the county courtroom of the courthouse.

Armon Perrin is coordinating the collections for the Littlefield business drive, and Mrs. Charles Nace is chairman of the Littlefield rural area drive.

Those who will canvass the Littlefield rural area include Mmes. John Humphries, Joe O. Smith, R. R. Lancaster, J. D. Ratliff, James Blackwell, David Jones, Percy Carter, Ernest Goertz, Doyce Hutto, Bob Davis, Neil Landrum, Harry Miller, Stephen Butler, Doll Taylor, Bill Anderson and Lloyd Seymour.

Mrs. Bill Johnson will supervise the campaign in the Hart Camp area and Mrs. Tom Malone will be in charge of the Fieldton drive.

At Spade, volunteers are Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Oscar Tomlinson, Mrs. Tyson Nabers, Mrs. J. E. Long, Mrs. W. W. Thompson, Mrs. Jim Parks and Mrs. N. E. Hall.

At Pep, Mrs. G. A. Demel and Mrs. Frank Simmacher, Jr. are serving as chairmen of that drive.

Coordinating the drive at Amherst are Mrs. John Enloe and Mrs. Henry Brown.

The Sudan area chairmen are Mrs. Adrian Martin and Mrs. Waymon Bellar. Crusade chairmen for the Olton area are Kenneth Burgess and Melvin Rape. Mrs. Leo Ross Bryant is the house-to-house chairman and Russell Strain is business district chairman.

Mrs. Thurman Lewis is chairman of the Earth and Springlake area campaign.

The drive at Earth will begin at 8:45 a.m. with a kick-off coffee in the Thurman Lewis home. The Pleasant Valley Social Club will be soliciting funds from that area, and Mrs. Wayne Davis will be in charge of the Springlake area.

Littlefield Student's Condition Improved

The condition of Kim Hill, Littlefield High School Senior who is critically ill in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, was improved Saturday morning, according to a report from his brother-in-law, Dan Bryson of Lubbock.

Kim suffered a ruptured appendix and complications which resulted.

He is in the intensive care ward of the hospital, and will possibly remain there a few more days.

Two Thefts Here

City police are investigating two cases of theft which occurred the later part of the week.

Gasoline was stolen from trucks at Lubbock Building Products, formerly the Davis Concrete business, sometime Wednesday.

A citizen reported that a complete set of deep socket wrenches and a timing light with a broken lens had been stolen from his garage sometime Thursday. A gate was opened and a Doberman Pinscher dog was let out of the yard.

Police arrested and jailed one drunk at 2 a.m. Friday morning. He was tried by Municipal Judge Ben Noble, found guilty, fined and released at 9 a.m.

ATEN, Lamb County ASCS since 1956, has been elected to ASCS District Director in South Texas. Victoria is about 100 miles from the 11-county District 21 office. Mr. Aten came to Littlefield from where he was with the [unclear] there, and he has almost 25 years of service with the government.

JOHN HARMON inserts a soil thermometer into the ground after taking a reading. A daily high of more than 42 degrees was reached before the showers and cold front moved into the area. Ten-day averages for this week were 58.3 on April 19, 57.4 April 20, 56.7 April 21, 56.1 April 22, and 55.5 Friday. Ideal planting conditions need 60 or higher temperatures for a 10-day average at an eight-inch depth.

Machine At Public Library

The Lamb County Library received a copying machine Friday that will photostat anything up to 15"x10" without tearing or damaging the original.

This service will cost the public 10 cents per copy. A total of $158 was collected from the book sale this week.

Books not sold during library in the basement of the courthouse and are being sold for 10 cents each.

Persons from Littlefield, Sudan, Amherst, Olton, Earth and Dimmitt attended the book review Friday morning. Mrs. Betty Hodges will sponsor the May review.

MRS. W. M. ALEXANDER of Anton displays a dried arrangement made from the grown in her garden. Mrs. Alexander is a senior judge of Flower Shows of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, a life member of National Amateur Flower Judges and a member of the Lubbock Garden Club.

ANTON WOMAN DISPLAYS

Flower Power

Just let Mrs. W. M. Alexander of Anton get her hands on some weeds from a lake bed, grain out of a field and a little Johnson grass from a bar ditch. Add a cast-off container that comes from a rummage or garage sale. Then give her a little time and she'll make a flower arrangement worthy of national competition.

For dried arrangements, Mrs. Alexander uses local wild material, going out in the fields for grains and around lakes for dock.

"If my husband was still living," Mrs. Alexander said, pointing to some Johnson grass in an arrangement on her television set, "he wouldn't let me in the house with this stuff."

Mrs. Alexander dries all of her own flowers for formal arrangements, and she cures the foliage she uses with glycerine.

She picks the fresh flowers at the peak of their beauty and dries them in silica gel. Sand works well on some plants, but oftentimes doesn't dry flowers fast enough. A heated solution of one part glycerine to two parts water cures foliage after the stem ends have been split and one inch of the plant placed in the solution.

Although Mrs. Alexander has been a life member of the National Amateur Flower Show Judges for 15 years, she claims she doesn't yet know all the tricks of the trade and still attends schools when she has time.

The line of an arrangement is the most important thing, Mrs. Alexander said. She is a much sought-after person for programs on drying flowers and flower arrangements.

In past years, Mrs. Alexander has won numerous sweepstakes in flower shows. She is still a frequent winner of flower shows, but now does it for fun rather than honors since getting her certificate.

Mrs. Alexander was the first president of the Anton Garden Club that met 15 years before it folded. She has been a member of the Lubbock Garden Club for the past five years and has held most of the offices in both the Lubbock association and the National Amateur Judges.

Comedy, 'HMS Pinafore' Staged Here Thursday

Lights! Music! Curtain! The Junior High choir will perform a condensed version of the Gilbert and Sullivan musical comedy, "HMS Pinafore," called "The Lass That Loved A Sailor."

The play will be in the Junior High auditorium Thursday, April 29, at 8 p.m.

Personnel for the musical includes all Junior high talent, with the exceptions of the backdrop artist, Chuck Blevins, and accompanist, Kathy Turner.

Principal characters are the "ship's captain," Mike Toney; his daughter, "Josephine," Jan Sisson; her fiancée, "Sir Joseph Porter," Michael Williams; a peddler woman called "Buttercup," Pam Parrott; a sailor named "Ralph," David Blevins and Gary Parson; "Boatswain," Jerry Schulz; "Cousin Hebe," Pat Sevier and Debra Pryor; and the informer, "Dick Deadeye," Danny Cushion.

These students, along with 14 singers in the chorus have been rehearsing for six weeks. All students who were not cast had opportunities to make and distribute posters, collect props, and paint sets.

The community is invited to view the play, and admission is $1.50 for adults, 75 cents for students and free for children under 12.

The setting throughout the play is on deck of the Pinafore.

As the curtain rises, the crew is noisily swabbing the deck and is approached by the peddler woman, "Buttercup." The crew learns that the captain's daughter, Josephine, cares nothing for her betrothed first Lord of the Admiralty, but instead she loves a common sailor.

Later the plot blows wide open when Buttercup discloses her mysterious secret. A mistaken identity and surprise ending which are characteristic of Gilbert and Sullivan, result in a celebration at the finale.

PATRIECE BYRUM is queen for the Anton Lions Club and represented the Anton club at the 2-T2 District Lions Convention in Snyder this weekend. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Byrum.

Beta Sigma Phi To Help With Drive

A program, "Tools for the Heart of Life-Thought," was given by Janet Houk and Paula Schroeder at a regular meeting of Beta Sigma Phi in the Flame Room Monday night.

During the program each member was asked to give a thought about her childhood and to read a proverb and tell what it meant to her.

The business session was presided over by Carolyn Spies. The service committee reported that they had given the Easter party for the retarded school children as one of the many functions of this committee.

Members of the sorority will help with the Cancer Drive Monday night.

Kathy Eddings and Jane Maddox served sandwiches, chips and dip, cold drinks, and coffee to Terri Miller, Jeni D. Brunson, Mary Lyn Kochanowsky, Kathy Fitzgerald, Jamey Bryson, Charlotte Day, Loretta Winfield, Joan Johnson, Claire Sawyer, Carol Brooks, Janet Houk, Renee Williams, Patricia Nelson, Carolyn Spies, Darla Crone, Paula Schroeder and Vada Walker.

The annual Founders Day banquet will be Monday night at the Chat 'N Chew in Levelland. This is one of the highlights of the year for sorority members. The Pledge of the Year, Girl of the Year and Program of the Year will be revealed at the banquet.

HORN MR. AND MRS. Kenneth Horn of Lubbock are the parents of a baby girl, Kendra Nichole, born April 16, weighing 6 lbs. 10 oz. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Butler of Odessa and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Horn of Littlefield.

Bake Sale Is Planned

The women of the Emmanuel Lutheran Missionary League are planning a bake sale Wednesday, April 28, at 9 a.m. Homemade breads, cookies, pies, donuts, sweetrolls and many other items will be available.

Location is 409 W. 3rd. Street.

Spade Co-op Slates Meeting

SPADE -- The Spade Cooperative Inc. will have their 23rd Annual meeting Friday evening, April 30, in the Spade School building.

A barbecue supper will be served at 6 p.m., followed by a business meeting at 8 p.m.

Dividend checks will be passed out at this time and a drawing of door prizes for the women attending will be held.

WMU Honors Amherst Seniors

A "chuck wagon" supper honored the Amherst high school seniors and their sponsors, Monday evening, April 19, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

This is an annual courtesy honoring the seniors by members of the First Baptist WMU.

The walls and tables featured decorations of cattlebrands, cowboy hats and horseshoes. Lighted kerosene lamps decorated the tables, and lanterns were hung at surrounding places. Felt sombreros were featured as covers on programs and menu booklets.

Refreshments of ranch style barbecue, red beans, potato salad, relishes, hot rolls, iced tea and chocolate sheet cake was served to the honorees.

Entertainment was a "Womanless Wedding" with Arthur Hedges as the "bride," Eugene Young as the "groom," and Eddie Landers, Verdell Burton, Charles Mixon as other members of the wedding party.

Mrs. Cowen, pianist, played the "Wedding March" and accompanied for other selections.

Rev. Glenn Willson spoke and Bub Clayton gave the benediction.

More than 30 were in attendance.

Typewriter ribbons are, on the average, 25 feet long.

BUTTERCUP, a peddler woman played by Pam Parrott, a seventh grader, sells her goods to sailors on HMS Pinafore during the opening scene of "The Lass That Loved A Sailor". The operetta will be staged here today night at 8 p.m.

Get your money's worth electric air conditioning

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY
Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST
Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low—no extra installation costs, either!

HIGH ALTITUDE — NO PROBLEM
Despite our high altitude, electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely sealed against the effects of altitude changes.

CHOICE OF BRANDS
There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES
Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE
The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

Wedding plans are set for May 16, at 3 p.m., in the Sundown Church of Christ.

Former Resident Elected Chairman Of Banker Group

A former Littlefield resident who is now a Plainview banker, will head the Eighth District of the Texas Bankers Association next year.

He is Charles A. Joplin, son of Mrs. C. A. Joplin of Littlefield. Joplin, president of the First National Bank of Plainview, was elected district chairman Wednesday during the annual meeting of district members.

The meeting brought bankers from throughout Northwest Texas to the Amarillo Civic Center in Amarillo, and an estimated 900 to 1,000 persons attended the two-day gathering.

The district members chose Lubbock for the site of the 1972 meeting.

ELECTRICITY — IT DOES SO MUCH GOOD FOR SO MANY PEOPLE!

Mexican Auto Insurance Needed By Motoring Texas Tourists

Thousands of vacationing Americans will be driving their cars in Mexico this summer. Many of them will be falsely confident that they have proper liability protection in case of an accident in that country, the Insurance Information Institute warns. When planning to drive South of the border, U.S. residents should check with their insurance agent or broker about obtaining an official Mexican automobile liability insurance policy.

Without proper Mexican coverage, the motorist has four alternatives if he is involved in an auto accident which results in even minor personal injury or property damage. They are:

The "Mexican endorsement" on some U.S. policies is designed for a limited purpose and its application to vacation use should be thoroughly discussed with an insurance agent or broker before a person drives across the border.

- 1. Post a cash bond with the local officials.
2. Post a commercial bond from a Mexican bonding company...
3. Contact a U.S. insurance agent...
4. Face legal detention and impounding of the automobile.

As visitors to Mexico, Americans are bound by Mexican law, just as Mexicans traveling in the U.S. are bound by its law.

Here are some additional pointers for traveling South of the border. -Obtain a tourist card from the office of the Mexican Bureau of Tourism...

-If you have an auto accident in Mexico, look for help from one of the green Turismo jeeps that patrol the highways.

-If no patrol car arrives in a reasonable time, call the nearest police officer. The policy should be shown to the chief or police and no officer should be paid for his services.

HUNGRY PEOPLE Americans are a hungry lot! Someone has figured that the average American during his lifetime eats 150 cows, 24,000 chickens, 225 lambs, 95 sheep, 310 hogs, 26 acres of grain and 50 acres of fruit and vegetables.

Veterans Eligible For More Funds

Veterans in training under the GI Bill are reminded by Jack Coker, director of the Waco Veterans Administration office that they are entitled to more money when they get married or have children.

Previously, Coker said, veterans could be paid the additional amounts only from the date they notified the VA of their new dependent.

Since the new law is not retroactive, veteran students who were married or had a child before Dec. 24, 1970, and failed to notify the VA, can be paid only from the date, Coker said.

Veterans who are eligible for increased payments were urged to contact the VA office at 1612-20 Nineteenth Street in Lubbock.

County Judge, Commissioners Plan To Attend El Paso Meet

Lamb County Judge G. T. Sides and the commissioners will join county judges and commissioners from 134 West Texas counties who will gather in El Paso May 5-6 for the 42nd annual conference of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' Association.

Headquarters for the conference will be the Holiday Inn Downtown, according to Rodrick Shaw, Lubbock County judge and president of the association.

Keynote addresses during the morning session Thursday will be delivered by the Honorable Preston Smith, governor of Texas, and the Honorable J. C. Davis, assistant attorney general of the state.

Welcome messages will be extended by El Paso County Judge J. Udell Moore, El Paso Mayor Bert Williams and Sr. Ing. Bernardo Norzagaray A., mayor of Juarez, Mexico.

The Friday morning session will be called to order at 9:30 a.m. by C. L. Abernethy, former Hale County judge and vice-president of the association.

Featured speakers at this session will include the Honorable Fritz Lanham, director of The Division of State-Local Relations...

Credit By Examination Program Starts At LCC

Lubbock Christian College, a private, liberal arts senior college, will offer a broad program of "credit by examination" beginning with the fall semester of this year.

There are five ways a student may obtain credit for courses without actually taking the courses. (1) Acceptance of advanced placement examination credit...

(2) Placement and achievement tests in specific areas whereby students may bypass courses or receive credit in them. (3) Subject examinations in many areas under the college level examination program.

(4) "End-of-course" examinations in many departments. (5) Credit for appropriate educational experience in the armed services...

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

Thanks For Concern

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Jack Christian, principal of Littlefield's Elementary II, received this letter from a Lubbock resident, commending him and his students upon the production of "Know One's Self", which was aired on Channel 5 television last Tuesday evening.)

April 20, 1971

Dear Mr. Christian,
As a future elementary teacher and parent, I want to thank you for the concern of today's drug problem in elementary and higher education. I thoroughly enjoyed the production of "Know One's Self" and Miss Bradley is to be highly congratulated on her intelligence and cleverness of writing the production. It appears, however, that children of the 5th and 6th grade level are faced with the problem of drugs. As I can remember all to well what my thoughts were when I was only 11! I am now 21, and married to a wonderful man and I am engaged in two correspondence courses at Texas Tech. I have at least 2 1/2 years until graduation, but I hope that within those 2 1/2 years I will be instructed in methods of instruction on drugs to elementary students. This drug problem concerns me very deeply and I only hope that with men such as yourself and concerned students like those of Littlefield Elementary II, the problem can be understood in a more clear light and hopefully be eliminated.

Thank you again, sir, for your concern and the mind to try to do something about it!

If I can be of any help to you through letter or such, please contact me: Mrs. Malcolm Criffin, 4905 A 5th St., Lubbock, Texas, 79416. 792-6659.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Griffin

Enjoys Leader-News

Dear Bill:
Please send me five (5) extra copies of the Leader which included the article of my parents' Golden Anniversary reception, Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Day of Sudan. I shall be happy to pay for them if you will include a statement. This was probably April 4 edition.

I still enjoy the Leader and look forward to it, even though I'm way up here in Yankee land, now. We love Dumas, but miss our South Plains friends and the Avalanche Journal. Thank heaven for the Leader!

But where has the Sudan news gotten off to? I'm a former Sudanite. I worked for Arthur Duggan when we closed his office in April, 1967.

My regards to all my Littlefield friends. Keep up the good paper!

Book Sale Success

Dear Bill,
We, the Library Staff, the commissioners' court and the Library Board members want to thank everyone for making our book sale a success. Especially do we want to thank the Leader-News for their part in publicizing the event. Also the radio station has been very helpful, and we want to thank them publicly for this.

The people of Littlefield should feel proud of our news sources. Always we have felt that they stand for the good of the town, and in helping publicize our book sale they have helped us buy more books for our many patrons.

To the many friends who have become members of the "The Friends of the Lamb County Library" and are helping us buy new books, we want you to know that our patrons and staff appreciate your help.

Sincerely,
s/Nora M. Hicks, Librarian

Civic Pride

Dear Miss Lovvorn,
Thank you for your note and the clipping telling about David Gracey's book. I'll try to get a copy of it as I think it will be a help to us.

I think the people of Littlefield, Texas must have a lot of civic pride, the letter I sent resulted in the Chamber of Commerce sending me much information about your city, then it was passed on to you and you sent me the newspaper clipping.

This is unusual. Some towns that have records of our Littlefield ancestors are very reluctant to answer a few questions on a form that leaves space for the answers, not requiring them to write a letter.

I would like to visit Littlefield someday. Thank you again for your help.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Trade Out

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets into the ping-pong matches this week.)

Dear editor:

According to most of the newspapers I've read lately, the celebrated ping-pong matches between the Americans and the Chinese champions are opening up a new era in international relations and everybody hopes it's true, but it won't hurt to keep alert.

If you recall, we got invited, I guess that's the word, to a war over in that part of the world and whatever you want to say about the results, they haven't been happy. Nobody knows what the score is or how much time is left, the officiating has been terrible, very few people are left in the cheering section, and changing the coaching staff hasn't warmed up the fans' enthusiasm much.

You never can tell about these Orientals. You notice it was a ping-pong, not a football, team they asked us to send over there to play with.

However, if in discharging our obligations to return the favor, the State Department figures it would be undiplomatic or indelicate to ask the Chinese to send a football team over here to take on the Baltimore Colts or the Dallas Cowboys, why not ask them to send over a basketball team? We've got to even up this ping-pong thing one way or another. You ever see any seven-foot Asiatics? Let's get em over here before Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell get too old.

Seriously, sports may be the answer to world turmoil, and I've got a plan. There are now nearly 300 million television sets in the world and as everybody knows, football, once a fan gets hooked on it on television, leaves no time for much of anything else.

Since a football player can't hold up to playing 12 months out of the year, the world should be divided into three conferences, one to play during the fall and early winter, one in the spring, and one in the summer, with all games televised world-wide. It might take a little time for a fan in Littlefield to get interested in the Peking Bandits or the Sidney Kangaroos, but it could be done.

You get an average of 3 people to the set, and you'd have nearly a billion people glued to their screens watching football the year round.

Where's the leader who could work in a war under these circumstances?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Casting Stones

PEARL BRANDON

ONCE I KNEW a minister that kept a smooth stone on his desk about the size of your fist. He used it for a paper weight.

When I commented on it he said, "I use this when someone comes in to complain about somebody else. I hand him my stone and say 'He that is without sin, let him cast the first stone.'"

MOST OF US are familiar with the Biblical story that happened during the ministry of Christ.

It must have happened in the latter part of His ministry. He had become popular with the people and the Scribes and Pharisees were trying to trap Him. One commentator said Jesus was teaching daily in the Temple and huge crowds were coming to listen to Him; that he was probably staying in the home of Mary and Martha and Lazarus at night.

ON THIS PARTICULAR morning about day break the Scribes and Pharisees came dragging a woman in whom they said was taken in adultery and asked Jesus what to do with her.

"Moses, in the Law, says she should be stoned, what do you say?"

JESUS LOOKED them over with His penetrating eyes, and stooped down, and began to write with his finger on the ground. The Bible doesn't say what he wrote. I like to think He might have asked them how they happened to know she had committed adultery.

Did they have personal, first hand knowledge? He could have asked where they had been all night and how they came to be there at this hour with their red faces and bleary eyes.

ANYWAY WHEN THEY crowded closer, clamoring for an answer they must not have liked what they read.

When Jesus said, "He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone", and bent down and started writing again they began sneaking out one at a time until they were all gone from the eldest to the youngest.

WHEN JESUS lifted His eyes only the poor woman was left.

"Where are your accusers? Has no one condemned you?"

"None, Lord."

"Neither do I, go and sin no more."

THEN JESUS said to the onlookers, "I am the light of the world: He that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life."

I always find myself wondering what ever became of the characters who came in contact with Jesus. I hope that poor, miserable woman did not leave before she heard these words of the Master.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Me Against Me

By BOB WEAR

THERE ARE OBSTACLES of all kinds, and handicaps in abundance. Many of these are real, but many of them are either fabrications or they are being exaggerated and over-used.

We must not be too quick to excuse ourselves for our undesirable and unlikable attitudes and actions; or for our poor performance in life. Many people do this by blaming others, or some circumstance.

SOME OBSTACLES ARE real, and must be seen for what they are. We must not be harsh and severe with ourselves in trying to do the impossible.

Our expectations must be sensible, and they must be honest, to the extent that we honestly do our best.

THE BIG OBSTACLE for most people is self, and there is no reason for this. We don't live long until we begin to realize that we often get in our own way.

We begin to see that our unpleasant attitudes, unwise words, and foolish actions often stand between us and our cherished goals. We set ourselves against ourselves, but we misplace the blame by putting it on other people; or bad luck; or fate; or something.

EASY EXCUSES for not getting along reasonably well just prolong our miseries. We know that something is wrong, but we continue to look at everything but the real problem of self.

No knowledgeable person suggests that life is easy, but neither is it impossible. Life may soon seem impossible, however, to the people who continue the wrong action of getting in their own way.

SELF DECEPTION is perhaps the greatest offender in the situations in which we seem completely blind to the true cause of our failures. The failures which we so readily excuse are usually caused by the one person we never even consider.

We, because of this self-deception, actually begin to think the world is against us; we don't seem to realize that self is fighting against self.

"NOTHING IS SO EASY as to deceive one's self, for what we wish we readily believe; but such expectations are often inconsistent with the reality of things"--Demosthenes.

There are real obstacles, as already admitted, at whatever they may be; we will do better in overcoming them if we stay out of our own way. It is so foolish, and so unnecessary to make ourselves "our own worst enemy."

WE MUST BE OUR FRIEND, which means exercising wholesome self-discipline: being industrious; being thrifty; making the best use of time and opportunity; etc.

Opposing ourselves must surely be the highest degree of personal futility, frustration and disappointment.

THERE IS MEANINGFUL satisfaction in living for the people who do not permit themselves to obstruct their own life movement.

PAUL HARVEY

Fly South

CENSUS BUREAU reports more Americans are moving South. It's likely they will be happier. It's not likely the South will be.

A generation ago migratory Americans went South for the winter. Since air conditioning, they've been moving South to stay.

DURING THE PAST 10 years the 16 Southern states increased their combined population by almost 2 million ex-Northerners.

Some of the influx derived from employees moving with relocating industries, some is from snowbirds retiring to sunnier climes. In every Southern state I have watched with mixed emotions as state agencies and city administrations eagerly sought and got more industry, more people.

POORER BLACKS moved North to the more generous "welfare states" at a rate of 140,000 a year.

While productive or comfortably retired Americans moved South 180,000 a year.

OLD-TIMERS in the South, who liked it like it was, sometimes resisted the invasion but the insinuation of new blood, new energy, new ideas was more constructive than otherwise—at first.

The more banks with more deposits and more houses on more acres and more people paying taxes were unequivocally equated with "progress"—at first.

SIMULTANEOUSLY, this last decade, our nation's 13 Western states were "enjoying" an even greater population gain percentage-wise and most of them—more than 2 million—moved to California. And that, incidentally, is just about precisely the number of Californians now on welfare.

And that is as much as I wish to imply but:

MAY I READ you a letter from a man in Eugene, Ore., which was addressed to the Harveys' winter hideaway in Arizona.

"DEAR PAUL HARVEY: You are on a collision course with remorse."

"Before your next broadcast from Arizona, please let me tell you about my home in Oregon and what happened to it."

"Always I used to brag about the good life here in the upper Willamette Valley in Eugene, Ore. Eugene was a small college town surrounded by all of the naturally good things of this earth."

"Employment was low, but unemployment was nil. Eugene had no smog, no crime and no slums."

"For an outdoorsman, this was paradise."

"In Eugene we were within an hour and a half of ocean beaches where you could stroll for hours and maybe meet nobody."

"Or in the same 90 minutes you could be 6,000 feet up in majestic uncluttered mountains where you could stay for weeks and see no other human—only elk and deer and upland wildfowl and fish in abundance."

"That was yesterday. Today there is no trail undecorated with debris. Hardly room on the crowded, littered ocean beach to sit. To launch your boat at any lake you wait in line."

"And all this because we were so proud of our state that we wanted everybody to enjoy it; now nobody can."

"I'm glad, Paul Harvey, that you found a place which sounds like ours once was. Respectfully, I advise you to shut up about it."

Our Private Lives Recorded On Tape

Much more is known about the personal affairs of Lamb County residents than is generally realized.

A mass of data has been compiled about the average local individual and put on computers. Included is his educational background, his military record, his marital status, whether his wife works, how much he earns and spends per year, how much he pays in taxes, his police record if any, his job record and his political and organizational affiliations.

Detailed information of this sort has been stored in the files of many Federal and state agencies and in the records of credit bureaus and others.

The situation has been brought to the fore by the Senate Subcommittee on Constitutional Rights.

It conducted hearings recently in an investigation to determine whether people's rights were being violated growing use of such "data banks" dossiers to gather and store personal information.

For example, facts and figures on income and spending habits of some residents of Lamb County were erroneously recorded in the past year's Internal Revenue Service.

The privacy of such data has been served for many years, but it is accessible to the FBI and to state and federal governments, among others.

Also, on the computers of the Security Administration are data covering approximately 2,700 names of the local area who are getting retro or disability benefits. Recorded, in addition, are the employment records of most other working people in the

Attend Regularly

My Plight

Could it be the accident of birth that 'caved-in' her world? Does God discriminate between His people?

Could it be that her home located 'across-the-track' determines her plight??? An empty bowl, sure, but a compassionate heart. Almost despondent that's what she is.

If you are one of those who has plenty and haven't yet given... then, maybe you are partially responsible for the situation we find here. God may take from your store-house the 'just' amount. He said, inasmuch as you have done it to the least of one of these little ones, so have you done it to me.

Her plight may be our responsibility. May we see that she has the opportunity to attend church regularly for we are, our brother's keeper.

Miss Weaver Attends Meet

Dorothy Weaver, owner of the Hospitality House in Littlefield, was among more than 400 nursing home owners, administrators, and staff in attendance at the 21st Annual Spring Meeting of the Texas Nursing Home Association held in Austin, at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel, April 13-16.

The spring meeting program consisted of general principles of accounting, and all fifteen hours were approved by the Texas Licensure Board for Nursing Home Administrators, and will be credited toward the state's 200 hour educational requirement for a Nursing Home Administrators License.

The Texas Nursing Home Association has been involved in continuing educational programs for nursing home personnel since 1967, and more than 12,000 have attended Texas Nursing Home Association educational presentations the last four years.

The Texas Nursing Home Association, a professional organization of extended care facilities and multi-care facilities in the state, is dedicated to the improvement of health care for the aged, and represents over 35,000 of the licensed beds in the state.

Its members are both privately owned and non-profit homes and all are also affiliated with the American Nursing Home Association.

THE OTHER DAY, while visiting with my sister-in-law, Lucille Mills, she spoke of a delicious meal of Chinese Sweet and Sour Pork she had eaten in a restaurant while visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Bobby Dick, in Alamogordo, N. M.

She told me she would like to have a good sweet and sour pork recipe to try her hand at. I've looked through my recipes and came up with one that I would like to share with her—and all the other readers.

YOU KNOW, it is said that the Chinese of all regions share a practice of eating with two slender sticks, called chopsticks—can't you just see us trying to get into such practice while eating our Chinese specialties.

Rice is the chief grain crop in South China and is said to be eaten with every meal. Noodles, made from wheat flour, and millet dishes are the main cereal of North China.

With the grains, a variety of vegetable dishes are served. Fish, meat, and fowl are added as the family can afford them. There is almost no meat in the diet of the poor except at festival time, when they splurge and try to go all out, as best they can. For their protein they consume soybeans and other bean products.

The Chinese have always been famous for making plain food flavorful by adding a variety of spices. At a banquet the meal may run into dozens of courses, but even wealthy Chinese eat sparingly.

WELL, GALS if you or your family like Chinese food—or you would like a change in menu—why not try one of these.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK WITH TOMATOES
(Fon Kair Gek Yuk)

1 1/2 lb. pork, cubed
2 c. water
1/4 c. soy sauce
2 tsp. sugar
2 med. tomatoes, cut in wedges
1 green pepper, diced
1/2 c. chopped green onion
2/3 c. pineapple chunks
1/4 c. butter
Shredded carrots (optional)
Simmer pork in water, soy sauce and sugar for 45 minutes; drain. Remove seeds and juice from tomatoes. Combine vegetables and pineapple; cook in butter for a few minutes, keeping vegetables crisp.

DIPPING BATTER:
1 egg, beaten
2/3 c. milk
1 c. sifted flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
Combine egg and milk. Add sifted dry ingredients; beat until smooth. Dip pork in batter and fry in deep fat at 360 degrees until golden brown. Arrange pork on platter; mix with vegetables.

SWEET-SOUR SAUCE:
1/2 c. vinegar
1/2 c. water
1/4 c. brown sugar
1/4 c. granulated sugar
1/4 c. cornstarch
1/2 c. pineapple juice
Bring vinegar, water and sugars to a boil. Combine cornstarch and pineapple juice; add to hot mixture. Cook until thickened. Pour over pork and vegetables. Yield: 8 servings.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK WITH RAISINS
2 lb. pork chunks or ribs, cut up
1 tsp. salad oil
1 c. pineapple juice
1 c. water
1/4 c. vinegar
1 tsp. soy sauce
1 tsp. salt
1 green pepper, chopped small
1 onion, chopped small
1/2 c. cubed pineapple
1/2 c. white raisins
2 tsp. brown sugar
2 tsp. cornstarch
Brown meat in salad oil in heavy saucepan. Add pineapple juice, water, vinegar, soy sauce and salt. Cover and simmer until tender. Add green pepper, onion, cubed pineapple, raisins and brown sugar. Cook until tender. Add cornstarch and cook to boiling, stirring. Yield: 8 servings.

CHINESE WALNUT CHICKEN
(HOP TOW GAI)
1 c. coarsely broken walnuts
1/4 c. salad oil
2 chicken breasts, boned and cut lengthwise in very thin strips
1/2 tsp. salt
1 c. onion slices
1 1/2 c. bias-cut celery slices
1 1/4 c. chicken broth
1 tsp. sugar
1 tbs. cornstarch
1/4 c. soy sauce
1 5-oz. can bamboo shoots, drained
1 5-oz. can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
Hot cooked rice

In a skillet, toast walnuts in hot oil, stirring constantly. Remove nuts to paper towels to drain. Put chicken into skillet. Sprinkle with salt. Cook, stirring frequently for 5 to 10 minutes or until tender. Remove chicken. Add onion, celery and 1/2 cup of the chicken broth. Cook uncovered for 5 minutes or until vegetables are slightly tender. Combine sugar, cornstarch and soy sauce; add remaining broth. Pour over vegetables. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Add chicken, bamboo shoots, water chestnuts and walnuts. Heat thoroughly. Serve with hot rice. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

YOU CAN SERVE so many of your Chinese dishes over rice or Chinese noodles—a lot of the time I'll add shredded carrots, even if the recipe doesn't call for them, maybe bamboo shoots or water chestnuts. Making substitutions, where the vegetables are concerned, or adding to can be full delicious surprises. It's fun to experiment!

NEW TRUSTEES added to the board were Paul Stukeley, Plainview; Gaylord Groce and Ralph Mabry, Petersburg; Larry Witten, Olton; D. L. Miller, Floydada and Paul Engler, Amarillo.

Appointed to honorary life trusteeships were S. S. Forrest Jr., Lubbock; Guy Victory, Lubbock; Orville Nash, Guymon; F. O. Masten, Sudan and Palmer Norton, Hereford.

Trustees attending the meeting heard staff reports on the 1970 research program and an outline of research areas for the coming year.

The 1971 research program was reviewed by the special commodity guidance committees which were established to set guide lines for all research conducted by the Foundation staff.

This is an added feature to the library facilities. It now has the audio center with the addition of 15 listening carrels to the study section.

The master control table has been equipped with one roll type tape recorder-player, one four-speed record player, and two eight-track cassette tape recorder players. This makes four different stereo audios available at each of the listening carrels.

Each listening carrel has a selector box equipped with a four position switch and a volume control so that the user can plug a set of headphones and have the convenience of selecting any of four programs and adjust the volume to a comfortable listening level.

The listening carrel selector boxes were designed in such a manner that the installation in the study carrels didn't take up much space, leaving plenty of room on the study table for books, note books and other study material.

The Radio and Television Lab students assigned to the Library Listening Carrel project were Ed Lewis, Dell City; Bob Armistead, Littlefield; Abe Rodriguez, Sundown; Larry Hines, Levelland, and Jerry Brownlow, Morton.

TRUCKS AID SHOPPERS
Because trucks can go anywhere, during all seasons, the shopping habits and menus of American families are vastly different from "the old days." Now, daily truck deliveries to the nation's shopping centers, large and small, downtown and in the suburbs, offer Americans a veritable king's ransom of choices and values.

Pioneer Gas Company Re-Elects Directors

The stockholders of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, at the annual meeting held Tuesday, Apr. 30, at the general offices in Amarillo, re-elected the nine present directors. The directors returned to the board are A. F. Cox, J. Harvey Herd, Laurence R. Jones, Jr., M. E. Purnell, Burton P. Smith, A. C. Verner, C. I. Wall, W. E. Walker and K. B. Watson. Burton P. Smith, president and chief executive officer, reviewed the operations of the company for 1970. He said that figures for the first quarter of 1971 would be available about the first of May.

Smith discussed the outlook in the population trend in the company's service area. For the past couple of years the population figures have shown an upward curve, as reflected in customers served by Pioneer. During the meeting A. F. Cox, executive vice president of Pioneer, reported on the progress of the construction of the uranium mill being built by Pioneer Nuclear Energy associate, Continental Energy Company, in South Texas. Watson, Pioneer executive president, gave a brief report of the company's current supply and projections for the future; and E. S. Mason, president of Amarillo Gas Company, reported on gas operations.

The board of directors of Pioneer, following the meeting, re-elected the slate of officers and named new assistant vice president and an assistant treasurer. Robert W. Lee, who has been treasurer of the company since 1968, was given the designation as assistant president. Harry H. Walden, named assistant vice president-distribution—and will continue in his present position in the Amarillo division. Gene Turner was named assistant treasurer for Pioneer. Burton P. Smith, president and chief executive officer, announced that the board were re-elected to their positions with the company. F. Cox and K. B. Watson were re-elected as executive vice president and assistant vice president. C. J. Gholson, J. J. Helms, W. Pankratz and Charles Rainwater, vice president. R. W. Lewis and McCafferty, assistant presidents; and J. L. assistant vice president controller.

County Men Elected To Trusteeships

Officers of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway were re-elected in the Annual Spring Meeting of the Board of Trustees recently in Plainview.

Harold Hinn, Dallas and Plainview, is chairman of the Board and Frank Moore, Plainview farmer, is president. Other officers include Virgil Patterson, Amarillo, vice-chairman and R. G. Peeler, Hereford, Ewald Quebe, Lockney and Steve Taylor, Amarillo, vice-presidents; and Grady Tunnell, Plainview, secretary-treasurer.

New trustees added to the board were Paul Stukeley, Plainview; Gaylord Groce and Ralph Mabry, Petersburg; Larry Witten, Olton; D. L. Miller, Floydada and Paul Engler, Amarillo.

Appointed to honorary life trusteeships were S. S. Forrest Jr., Lubbock; Guy Victory, Lubbock; Orville Nash, Guymon; F. O. Masten, Sudan and Palmer Norton, Hereford.

Trustees attending the meeting heard staff reports on the 1970 research program and an outline of research areas for the coming year.

The 1971 research program was reviewed by the special commodity guidance committees which were established to set guide lines for all research conducted by the Foundation staff.

Texas Draft Calls For 959 Inductees

The May draft call for 959 inductees has been announced by Melvin M. Glantz, the Director of Selective Service.

The call is for 959 men inducted from Texas, an national induction call of 15,000 men.

Glantz revealed the limitation on Lottery Number for May is 125. This raises Lottery Number limitation May. The limitation had 106 in previous months of a total of 3,440 men.

Texas will be ordered to a pre-induction physical examination during May. The Lottery Number limitation for pre-induction physical examinations has been Random Sequence Number.

Induction orders and physical examination orders are mailed by local boards on the May calls.

COUNTERFEIT

returned. Tom cooked supper and put the children to bed.

About 10 o'clock the next day, the youngest child yelled, "I'll bet that's Mama," when a Model T came in sight.

But the car did not come to the house but turned down the turn row where Tom had been plowing.

Mrs. Woolsey alighted from the car when it stopped at the house, and without any show of emotion told Tom the sheriff had come to take him to jail for counterfeiting.

Tom was jailed at Muleshoe until a U. S. Marshall arrived to take him to the federal jail at Amarillo.

Tom confronted Mrs. Woolsey and she confessed that she'd caught rides into town to tell the sheriff he'd been making counterfeit money.

Tom's lawyer said either Tom or his wife would have to take the rap over what had happened.

Tom's brother said he would help provide for the children while he was gone.

Earl W. Black, one of Tom's neighbors, took him to Littlefield and from here he was taken back to Amarillo where he was sentenced to two years in the Leavenworth Federal Prison.

About two years later Tom and the children, minus Mrs. Woolsey, visited the Atchinson family.

CASES INVESTIGATED

One person was arrested for driving while intoxicated, one theft was reported, and one case of vandalism was investigated by state and county officials this week.

Social Security Tax Increase

The social security tax withheld from farm wages increased to 5.2 percent on January 1, 1971 according to Jack Mallett, Farm Management Specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service. The taxes withheld from wages must be matched by an equal amount by the employer and sent to the Internal Revenue Service. When the social security contribution reaches more at the end of any month, the total amount deposited by the Internal Revenue Service commercial bank authorized to accept social security deposits. There are statutory provisions for failure to make the timely deposits. Mallett explains that the farmer is required to pay social security tax on an employee who works on or more on 20 days or more the calendar year. However, the farmer exempt from withholding security tax for farm crews, self-employed individuals performing services, his own children, 21 years of age, or for a spouse or wife working for spouse. The farm employer responsible for depositing total social security tax whether he withholds it from the employees or not, Mallett said. The for social security tax and Form 943 is filed with Internal Revenue Service January of each year. Payroll records, including name, social security amount and time worked amount paid and withheld, should be kept by farm employer on employee. It is also important to copy of Form 943 which to report social security reminds Mallett.

Farm Vehicle Drivers Start Regulations

Drivers of farm vehicles temporarily exempt compliance with new regulations established by U. S. Department of Transportation's Bureau of Carrier Safety for drivers involved in interstate commerce. Texas Commissioner Agriculture John C. White that considerable confusion developed among farm drivers following adoption of the new safety standards that an amendment exempts drivers of vehicles for a six-month period until July 1, 1971. Commissioner White said that according to the amendment, farm vehicle must be 18 years old, or more than 21 as required general safety standards that other provisions regulations-including examinations, road tests, physical examinations-apply. White pointed out, however, that farm vehicle drivers defined as persons who least 18 years old, are driven by a farmer and are used to transport produce from farm or supplies to the market. In addition, the vehicle driven must have a weight, including load, of pounds or less and is used in the operations of a farm carrier. Commissioner White said all farm vehicle drivers aware of the extension deadline of July 1, 1971, to time a determination made as to the permanent interpretation of the regulations as they apply to farm drivers. The present interpretation based on the crossing of lines by farm vehicles. 76 acres irrigated land wells. 1 3/4 miles east of Littlefield. 385-4315.

LL TO ELECT OFFICERS

A meeting has been called for Monday night, April 26, at 7:30 in the XII Room of Security State Bank for the election of new officers for the Littlefield Little League Basketball program.
 All officers, coaches, parents and interested persons are asked to attend.

GOOD GLOVE
 Among other 1970 accomplishments, the Houston Astros set a number of all-time fielding records, including highest percentage (.978), most assists (1791), fewest errors (140), most errorless games (70)
 and fewest passed balls (12).

Forty-Seven years with you, darling and all I get is complaints.

That's the way it is with a man and his newspaper. Rain or shine, year-in and year-out. The newspaper is always taking a stand against someone or something. Then why do millions of adults spend time reading their newspaper every week, year after year?

Because most of us realize that controversy is the measure of an energetic, healthy community. We want to be sure that we're living the best life we can. And if things could be better we want to know which things and why and how. Newspapers give us the answer.

If you manufacture or sell something that is a little better than what your competition offers, take your story to the newspaper reading public. These are the people who thrive on the original, the different, and the new.
