

Council Votes To Combine City, School Tax Offices

relatively brief session Thursday Littlefield City Councilmen voted to combine the city and school tax offices under an agreement between the city and school trustees on terms to be decided by the council. The council decided to pay a balance on the increase in the cost of the refuse collection trucks; discussed, but took no action on a request for the change of LFD Dr. to two-way traffic from East 3rd street northward to Delano; and went into executive session to consider personnel matters.

Present to discuss the combination of the two tax offices were School Tax Assessor-Collector Carlton Parker and Superintendent Jack York. Supt. York's proposal was that the offices be com-ined by June 1, and councilmen voted to combine the offices subject to approval of the contract agreement.

Councilmen were reminded that an additional $3,517.32 was charged Armes Chevrolet by the Chevrolet Corporation for the new refuse collection trucks, over the original bid price of $9,595. Councilmen voted to pay the difference.

After discussing the change of LFD Drive to two-way traffic between East third and Delano, as requested by Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., councilmen decided to seek opinions from traffic control engineers before making a decision on the matter in the May 1 meeting.

All councilmen were present for the meeting, as well as the city attorney and mayor.

The open meeting was closed for executive session to discuss personnel matters.

New Cotton Marketing Concept Being Developed For New Mill

WELLS COOPERATIVE GIN Association is the first to complete their member sign-up in the Seasonal Pool and Textile Mill being built in Littlefield American Cotton Growers. Shown left to right are

A new concept for marketing cotton grown on the High Plains and the Rolling Plains of Texas is developing, according to Dan Davis, General Manager of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.

This new concept is Seasonal Pool Marketing, whereby cotton producers agree to deliver their cotton to their cooperative to be sold for them. These producers will receive their first advance when their cotton is delivered to the Pool. Progress payments will be made as the pool cotton is sold.

Members of 26 cooperative gins are committing their cotton to this new program by signing a Marketing Agreement pledging their total production from designated farms. The signing of these Marketing Agreement is progressing at a rapid pace.

The Wells Cooperative Gin is the first gin community to complete the sign-up of their members. Lyndol Askew was the first Wells Coop Gin member to sign a marketing agreement committing his cotton production to the program. Askew commented, "I believe this program will produce a better and more stable market for our short staple cotton, grown in this area."

Bertice Askew, who served on the Wells Coop Gin Board of Directors for 14 years and is the father of Lyndol Askew said, "Farmers owning their own textile mill is a means of taking our product one step closer to the consumer, which should add more income to our individual operations."

Arlys Askew, president of the Wells Coop Gin Board, was the second patron to sign into the program at Wells. He says, "This program offers the greatest possibilities I have ever seen to increase and stabilize the cotton producers income."

Lyndol, Bertice and Arlys Askew farm approximately 1,000 acres of cotton in the Wells community.

When asked what the advantages of the program will mean to him as manager of the Wells Coop Gin, Ardis Pace replied, "Each year I will know who my patrons will be. Because of their advance commitment of acreage, I can more accurately predict ginning volume and plan accordingly. The Board of Directors set a 20,000 acre limitation on our sign-up, because they felt our gin facilities would be overloaded if we signed more than that. We believe we can accommodate all of our present

Arthritis Forum Scheduled For Littlefield Next Week

Area residents interested in gaining information on the nation's number one crippling—arthritis—will have an opportunity to do so at a special forum to be held in Littlefield at 8 p.m., Thursday, April 24, in the High School Auditorium, according to Mrs. Dorothy Powell, Lamb Co. Extension Agent.

Arthritis is not just an "old folks" disease. It can strike at any age, from birth to age 30 or 40. Almost 2 million Texans suffer from the more than 100 forms of arthritis.

Statistics released by The Arthritis Foundation indicate that one out of 10 Americans has arthritis in some form and that 250,000 children are stricken each year.

Dr. Bruce Bartholomew, chairman of the Department of Rheumatology at Texas Tech University school of Medicine, will discuss the various kinds of arthritis and its symptoms, diagnosis and treatment. Dr. Bartholomew's specialty deals with arthritis and the rheumatic diseases and he is one of an estimated 20 rheumatologists in Texas.

An associate professor in the Department of Orthopedics at TTUSM, Dr. Kenneth Scholz, will also be a panelist. He will present "New Techniques in Surgery for Arthritis", a portion of which will be a slide presentation.

Doug Langley, Registered Physical Therapist, will make up the third member of the forum panel. He will speak on "Self Help Methods of Therapy for Arthritis". A demonstration of a paraffin bath and other self-help aids will also be presented.

"Another form of abuse is severely restricting a child's activities. Parents may keep an infant confined in a play pen or crib for long periods of time without responding to his physical and emotional needs. Or they may restrict an older child's experiences outside the home, and this limits opportunities for social development," she said.

"Also, when parents are loners without someone to confide in, they may be potential child abusers. If an adult has nowhere to go for help about the worries and problems he encounters, he might unknowingly abuse his own child in a time of crisis," she noted.

Citizens Urged To Vote On Proposed Amendments

Registered voters in Lamb County are being urged to cast ballots Tuesday on two proposed amendments to the state constitution.

The first amendment would upgrade retired school teachers' and state employees' retirement programs.

The amendment reads: For or Against "The constitutional amendment revising and consolidating provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and programs and providing for a maximum state contribution to state systems of 10 percent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals."

According to Mrs. Gladys Houk, president of the Lamb County Retired Teachers' Association, "Senate Bill 62 does not require any taxes NOW and will NOT require any taxes in the future. The $98 million is a one-shot appropriation, taken from the state surplus, and will pay the increases throughout the lives of the retirees."

Notices that came with their last three retirement checks, which included an increase, states, "Any increase in the enclosed annuity check is a result of emergency legislation recently signed into law by Governor Dolph Briscoe..." The notice continued, "Any benefit increase which you may have received is temporary, pending approval of a Constitutional Amendment which will be submitted to the voters of Texas in an election to be held Tuesday, April 22.

Under the present law, the benefit increases were to be included in February, March and April checks. "Passage of the Constitutional Amendment would allow the increases to continue," the notice concluded.

The second Constitutional Amendment reads: For or Against "The Constitutional amendment setting the salaries of members of the legislature at $600 per month and setting a per diem of $30 per day during legislative sessions and a mileage allowance at the same rate provided by law for state employees."

If the proposed amendment is passed, the salary of members of the legislature, now set at $4,800 per year, would be raised to $600 per month, or $7,200 per year, and the per diem allowance, now limited to $12 for the first 120 days only of a regular session and 30 days of each special session, would be increased to $30 per day during each regular and special session of the legislature.

If passed, the mileage allowance, now limited to $2.50 for every 25 miles in going to and returning from the seat of government by the most direct route of travel as indicated on a table prepared by the Comptroller of Public Accounts, would be changed to entitle members of each house mileage at the same rate as prescribed by law for employees of the State of Texas.

An analysis of the two amendments by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby may be found on page two, section two of this issue.

Savings, Loans Branch Office Is Approved

An application for a branch office of the Tri County Savings and Loans Association for Littlefield has been approved, according to Sale Lewis of Austin, Savings and Loans Commissioner of Texas.

The application was granted effective April 9, according to Don Harmon of Muleshoe, president.

Harmon states that the association has been operating the office for the three counties of Bailey, Farmer and Lamb in Muleshoe the past 11 years.

A branch office was located in Friona on Jan. 6, and the time and location for the new Littlefield branch office will be announced in the near future.

Tornado Season Here, CD Ready

BLAH RODGERS
Tornado season is here. Whether or not, tornado season is here. According to civil defense coordinators, it's time to be thinking what to do if you see a tornado or hear from the fire whistle signalling a warning.

Durham, civil defense director for Littlefield, said this area is as ready as any area could be.

Bill Angel is overall director of the county's program as county judge. He has the most experience with law enforcement, cloud watching, and communication radio equipment should be an

County civil defense coordinator is Wayne Cole of Olton. He will direct the various CD units over the county. All will observe clouds and keep watch by radio. In the event of disaster, CD members which include law officials, firemen, ambulance and first aid crews and citizen band operators from all over the area will participate in emergency operations.

Local and county wide civil defense crews are brushing up on tornado procedures. Seasoned civil defense volunteers are joined this year by more than 100 citizen band radio operators. Under emergency situations, they will use channel 11 as their call channel and 14 as the weather channel.

Because all of Lamb County is in the middle of "Tornado Alley," the county has developed one of the best civil defense plans in the state. But cooperation is needed from all citizens.

Residents should work out an advance plan of action in the event of an approaching tornado, and should stay alert for warnings. All towns have their own signals used for tornado warnings through the use of their fire whistles.

In Littlefield the fire whistle is sounded six times. To supplement the warning system, three fire units are sent into the direction of the wind to warn residents. These auxiliary units run with flashing lights on and with beepers or sirens open. They will cruise up and down streets in the parts of town where the fire whistles can't be heard.

The shortcoming of any civil defense program is usually in its warning system. Often sirens aren't adequate because people can't hear them when they are indoors in well insulated homes with radio and tv sets on.

Even with siren systems, CD members advise persons to use radio and television sets. Work is underway at the present time in Littlefield to install equipment through Littlefield cable tv that will break in on all channels when this area is under a tornado warning. Channel 3 is the local 24-hour weather channel.

For those not on cable tv, Durham advises them to listen to the local radio station. There is a straight line between the emergency operation center in the basement of the city hall to the Littlefield radio station. And there is a teletype at both places.

Those who have receivers may use them to listen to citizen band units and law enforcement officers.

"If there is a spotted tornado anywhere in this area," Durham said, "we'll do our best to spot it, keep up with its movement and warn people in plenty of time. We've got some of the best and most capable people anywhere out watching out for the safety of our citizens."

Every member of each family should know what to do if a tornado is approaching. Don't panic and get outside

Cloud Seeding Permit Granted With Stipulation

When the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) in Austin approved a permit for cloud seeding activities in Lamb County and adjoining counties, the permit for this year's weather modification program was granted with stipulation that the Texas Water Development Board assign its own meteorologist to observe the program and report back to the TWDB.

The cloud seeding permit is effective through Oct. 31. The program allows cloud seeding for hail suppression and rain stimulation.

radar unit, observing the program, and listening to complaints concerning the operations.

The meteorologist will likely send written reports directly to the board and make a complete, detailed, oral report at the end of the 1975 program.

Both proponents and opponents of weather modification activities were in Austin for the hearing Tuesday. Five officers and directors of Better Weather Incorporated were present.

Among those representing Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather was Robert Bolton of Littlefield and members from Castro, Randall and Swisher Counties who presented letters from commissioners courts concerning House Bill 1089.

Burglars Hit Roden Drug

A burglary of Roden Drug early Friday morning resulted in the loss of $600 in cash and the theft of various amphetamines, depressants and tranquilizers valued at another $200.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass door on the south side with a large rock. Besides the $800 loss in cash and drugs, property damage was estimated at $150.

The burglary was reported to city police.

At the county jail, an Amherst man was charged with check law violation, a Littlefield juvenile was jailed on a disturbance charge and released to his mother, and a Littlefield man was arrested on two counts of felony check law violation.

To The EDITOR

Dear Editor:

My Special Students and I visited up town Littlefield April 11, did some shopping and had our mid-morning snack at Clark's Restaurant, but Mrs. Clark would not let the students pay for their treats.

I still contend I live in the greatest town.

Thanks all of Littlefield for being so good to our very special ones.

While I'm handling out thanks, let me include you for all the publicity we get.

We could also use some volunteer helpers here at school if anyone has a few hours a week they could devote. We have one student who would love to have a man visit and play checkers.

Thank you,
Etta Mae Blevins

Dear Editor,

We want to say "thank you" to those who had a part Thursday in the search of our son. We did not realize the many friends that we had in time of need.

I think our town needs to praise our Police Department, the Fire Department, Southwestern Public Service, and many more who gave their time to help.

We can never thank you enough.

We know now that we live in a town that serves others 24 hours a day and are ready to serve.

Thank you,
The Johnny Halls

Dear Mr. Warren,

This letter is in reference to the article published on the front page of the Lamb County Leader-News, Thursday, April 17, 1975. The article "Apathetic, Expensive Vote Predicted On Amendments," appears not only to be incorrect and misinformative to the public, but also opinionated.

Quoting paragraph two: "Apathy is expected to prevail among voters who express their wishes concerning pay raises for teachers and representatives."

Point number one, yes, voters will vote on pay raises for members of the legislature in amendment #2.

Point number two, nowhere on the ballot is the word teacher even mentioned.

Amendment #1 does not refer in any way to teachers salaries! Below is amendment one quoted exactly as it is stated on a sample ballot.

"The constitutional amendment revising and consolidating provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and programs and providing for a maximum state contribution to state systems of 10 percent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals."

It is most important that the voters understand that this amendment revamps constitutional provisions relating to All Statewide Pension Systems, not just teacher's retirement.

The last paragraph of your article: "Some persons have expressed the opinion that they plan to vote against both amendments because of the vast waste of taxpayer's money bringing two issues to vote at a time when the state should be economizing."

These people need to be made aware of the fact, that because of "apathy," they could be voting against an issue that might benefit themselves.

The representatives have called this election for this time. If we as voters refuse to go to the polls and vote with an open mind on the value of the issues, then we are defeating the whole purpose of our democratic system of government.

It will cost approximately $2,000 to hold this election, yes, but have we as taxpayers so soon forgotten the very minimum cost of $1,200 for each single issue of liquor elections.

If you are printing opinions, it is logical reasoning that the statewide pension system and the salary for our own Texas state legislatures is equally important to a local liquor election.

An appeal is being made to you, Mr. Warren, for the reporting of correct, factual, unbiased information.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: You're right, we were wrong! The vote has nothing whatsoever to do with teachers' salaries. And we agree, the cost to the county for local option elections are high—as we have stated before. One speculative point, if teachers' salaries were put to a vote, the voters might just give you more than the $200 to $300 over the state minimum salary that you are now being paid.)

Lefors, Texas
April 1975

Chamber of Commerce
City Secretary

Dear Friends,

We, the citizens of Lefors, greatly appreciate your concern during our time of need. May your generosity be repaid with multiple blessings.

With tremendous assistance from several government and non-government agencies, technicians, professionals, skilled and unskilled laborers, friends and relatives, and self-determination and spirit, we are quickly adjusting to our emergency situation.

Representative Phil Cates, who was raised in Lefors, and an entourage from Governor Briscoe's office, flew up from Austin to set in motion the procedure for President Ford's Declaration of Total Disaster. Because of their fast action, government housing has been moved in and very soon our displaced families will be temporarily relocated in mobile homes which are rent-free for one year. That length of time will enable these families to rebuild on their own property as almost 100 percent plan to do.

Our high school gymnasium has been literally inundated with all kinds of donations from far and near. The students are helping deliver boxes and everyone's immediate needs have been amply supplied. For this we are truly thankful.

Again, we are most grateful for your kind help and would appreciate your getting this information to your local media.

Very respectfully yours,

s/J. J. Archer
J. J. Archer, Mayor
City of Lefors

NOTE: Although the Chamber agreed with the aid program, we did not officially take action. We feel the mayor of Lefors apparently felt the best way to thank the whole community was to address it to the Chamber.

in a vehicle and block traffic.

At home, seek shelter in a cellar or basement. The corner of the basement toward the storm is best. If there is not time to get to an excavation, take shelter under heavy furniture or under a mattress against an inside wall. Small closets on the interior of homes offer some protection. Stay away from doors and windows.

A vacuum is less apt to occur and completely demolish a house if doors and windows are opened on the side of the house opposite from the direction of the approaching tornado.

Mobile homes are particularly vulnerable to high winds. Proper tie-downs help but residents should move to a designated shelter or to a sturdier building, ditch or culvert if a tornado shelter is not available. Do not remain in a mobile home.

A free leaflet on tornado precautions is available through local law enforcement offices. Learn the tornado safety rules, establish an emergency plan, and keep calm and help prevent public excitement.

members and stay within this limitation, but we have a 'waiting list' of new member applicants which we likely will not be able to accept at this time."

The Seasonal Pool now being organized will consist of approximately 250,000 bales to be grown by members of the 26 High Plains and Rolling Plains Cooperative Gins who have joined together in this effort. This Pool also will supply the cotton for the new textile mill and denim manufacturing plant to be built in Littlefield by American Cotton Growers. This denim manufacturing plant will consume approximately 65,000 bales of cotton annually. The balance of the pool cotton will be marketed by Plains Cotton Cooperative Association under an agreement with American Cotton Growers.

The marketing of this pool cotton will be under the direct control of a 26 member Pool Committee of PCCA's Board, consisting of one producer from each of the participating gins. The cotton will be marketed throughout the year and each member will receive the season average price for his cotton, based on quality.

The net margins from the textile mill and the proceeds from marketing the balance of the Pool will be returned to the approximately 2,000 cotton producers who committed their cotton to the program.

At the present rate, the sign-up should be almost completed at most of the gins in the Seasonal Pool Program by May 1.

"You May Be Able To Thaw It, But It Ain't Coming Down!"

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

MOST OF US are unsatisfied with our lives—there is something we would like to change. We are too skinny or too fat, too short or too tall. Even when our lives look ideal to other people, there are usually deep inside problems that others know nothing about.

The road of life takes unexpected turns and situations arise that we do not know how to cope with, especially without spiritual help.

LAST NIGHT I was reading in the Bible the book of Ephesians and came across this verse, "And He has showered down upon us the richness of His grace—for how well He understands us and knows what is best for us at all times."

Sometimes this is hard for us to see when we feel we are doing the best we can to live right and to serve God, then have hardships come one after another. What is the purpose of all these problems?

SOMEONE has said this is just a training place for the life to come. In this same book of Ephesians it says, "It is God Himself who has made us what we are and given us new lives from Christ Jesus; and long ages ago He planned that we should spend these lives in helping others."

It sounds like He intended for us not to dwell on our own problems, but to spend ourselves trying to help those around us.

PAUL WAS in prison when he wrote this letter to the Christians at Ephesus. He didn't seem to be worrying about himself, or his own problems, but he was very anxious about his fellow Christians, where he had preached the good news and established churches.

Isn't that like most of us. We don't worry about ourselves, we worry about those we love. At night when we close our eyes to sleep we say, "Lord, take care of my son or my daughter—take care of my loved ones wherever they are tonight."

WE MAY keep turning over in our minds our dilemmas and saying, "show us the way," Father, direct us aright."

No, we can't see the way ahead and we can't live in the past, we have only the present that we are sure of. We need to learn from our experiences, but we mustn't dwell on the past. We must live in the present, looking toward the future.

IN OUR Sunday school lesson last Sunday it said, "Grace is sufficient for all things. God's grace is not rigid, impersonal, or weak. Rather, God's grace is sufficient to meet every need and test for every person. He is actively, graciously, and lovingly involved in human life at all times."

"Our human task is to recognize God's gracious presence in our lives and to respond with gratitude, fellowship and obedience."

WHEN WE GET that unhappy, lost kind of feeling we need to get off to ourselves, alone with God, and pray until we feel that sweet presence of the Holy Spirit again.

We need to reach out for Him. He is never very far from any of us.

So whatever our lot is in life, He is concerned about us and He must have needed us in the very place we are in or He wouldn't have placed us there.

WE NEED TO serve Him with gratitude and joy. Yes, joy, even when the going's rough—we know He is very close—closer than hands and feet—closer than breathing.

THE QUOTATIONS from the Bible today are taken from the new "Love" translation.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Upgrading Self

"THINK BETTER OF YOURSELF" is some of the very best and most appropriate advice, because it is a great need in the lives of most people. This is not any part of any kind of justification for self-conceit, arrogance, or any other type of overbearing manner of presumptuous claims.

We should remember, however, that the manner of behavior often seen as some sort of arrogant manifestation is a foolish effort to cover up or compensate for an inferiority feeling.

Of course, such faulty action just makes an undesirable self-concept more undesirable. Whatever the cause; self-conceit, arrogance and the like are not justified.

WHEN IT IS RECOMMENDED that we "upgrade self", no effort is being made to justify any of the faulty or objectionable or unwise manifestations of character and personality.

While conceit, arrogance and such like have nothing to recommend them; neither do self-abasement, self-degrading, or self-downgrading.

The point is that, in order to function as we should and meet the challenges of living with the true spirit of our being; we must think well of ourselves, in the most wholesomely justified manner.

MUCH THAT IS HAPPENING today has the potential of causing us to have a very low evaluation of self and of mankind generally. If we let ourselves move in this direction, we will progressively lose the essential spirit of life.

Certainly, we do have limitations which must be accepted; but the reason for thinking less of ourselves. There are problems, difficulties, mistakes and failures; but these are part of being human and are expected.

They, however, are not the whole of one's life; unless we choose to be, and are not sufficient to downgrading ourselves.

"UPGRADING SELF" will step in the right direction, because we serve two of the primary purposes of life. We will become more and more useful persons, and maintain an ever-improving others.

We can do a better job of our current, and this will surely "think better of ourselves".

"FINISH EVERY DAY" with it. You have done what you can. Some blunders and absurdities may creep in; forget them as soon as you can.

Tomorrow is a new day, bright and serenely and with too high a sky to be cumbered with your old sins. This day is all that is good and too dear, with its hopes and plans, to waste a moment on the days."—Emerson.

WE CAN DEVELOP and have a wholesome, understanding and we can be always aware of actual and potential worth.

We can be honorable, honest, and everything else that will help us succeed in "upgrading self".

EIGHTY DEGREE plus, temperatures, and sand in the air. How's your air conditioner? Might as well start diggin' it out and tuning it up, that is, unless you have one of those late-model Chinese fans.

Muzzer'ble weather, I call it, you can't stand to have the doors open, then when you wipe the ol' brow with your red bandana, it comes away kind of a brownish color. Beats no weather at all, I guess.

NOTICE OUR STATE Legislators are working long and hard, trying to come up with a new constitution for us. I didn't know the old one had worked. Anyway, we're sure the new one will be quite expensive. How much do we get for the old one? Don't they've said.

IT'S SAID THAT A New York City still selling all the Rolls Royce automobiles he can come up with $54,000.00, yet!

It's not clear, as yet, who'll be picking up the tab for this tender treatment, you can rest assured that John Taxpayer may as well get ready!

PRETTY SOFT, huh? Free service, hotel facilities, and with service, yet!

ECONOMY ON THE UPSWING? AFTER VERY LITTLE but bad news for a long time, it would appear that signs of economic recovery are beginning to show up.

Unemployment rates have slowed and appear to be leveling off. New car sales are up, indeed, in February, 1975, auto sales were higher than in February, 1974. Business inventories are decreasing, and this usually signals a trend toward increased production of goods.

WHOLESALE PRICES have gone down in each of the last three months—for the first time since 1967. This will tend to stimulate more buying at the manufacturing level and will tend toward lower retail prices in the next few months.

And, ever since the first of the year, stock market prices have been moving up; an indication that investors are gaining more confidence in the future.

Many Approaches Scientists seeking an answer to cancer are involved in many different kinds of studies—for example, virology (the study of viruses as a possible cause of cancer), cell biology and immunology (the study of the body's natural defense system). It's important to keep each kind of research going at top speed, say the American Cancer Society volunteers as they conduct the April 1975 ACS educational and fund-raising Crusade nationwide.

THE BAD NEWS, however, comes from the private, capitalist sector of the economy. It comes from government, "socialist" area of economy.

Perhaps as clear and concise explanation as to WHY the news from government is explained in the April issue of "Reader's Digest" magazine by Secretary of the Treasury William E. Simon. Simon talks about when he declares that the only way of our economic woes, in the long run, for the government itself to cut expenditures drastically.

"Big Government has become Government," writes Secretary Simon "because of what it has done to the economy and to our personal freedoms."

Congress can cut government expense. It is time to do it—now.

THE TYPE of pit or mound you will depend on the climate in which you live.

Fall blues are asters, ageratum, and salvia.

Garden Club members have a chart with approximate heights at maturity and will help those who would like to establish a red, white and blue bicentennial garden.

The Lubbock Gem & Mineral Society will present its annual spring show from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, April 19, and from 10-6, Sunday, April 20, at the Merchants Building on the South Plains Fair Grounds.

Admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students, with children under six admitted free.

Member exhibitors will show mineral and rock specimens, polished spheres, cabochons (cut stones polished but not faceted), baroque stones (polished stones but not cut or faceted), clocks and jewelry.

TSTA Schedules Statewide TV

For the first time in history, the Texas State Teachers Association is "going public" with a controversial internal matter—the soon-to-be-decided question of TSTA unification with the National Education Association.

On Monday, April 21, from 9 to 10 p.m., TSTA will produce a five-station program on public television covering a large part of the state, according to TSTA Exec. Secy., Callie W. Smith. The viewing audience will participate through telephone questions to the pro-con unification panel.

TSTA-NEA unification has been a hotly debated issue among Texas educators for two years. With 160,000 members, TSTA is the second largest state education association, but Texas is the only state in which NEA does not have a unified state affiliate. Texas now has 43,000 NEA members.

TSTA members will vote on the unification issue in a secret mail ballot in late April and early May.

Unification means that those choosing to join the United Teaching Profession would be members at the local, state, and national levels rather than choosing one or two levels.

If TSTA does not unify by September 1, 1975, TSTA will lose its affiliation with NEA and the national organization will choose some other state affiliate.

Lt. Governor Hobby Analyzes Proposed Const. Amendment

By LT. GOV. BILL HOBBY
On April 22, Texas voters will be asked their opinions on two proposed Constitutional Amendments.

The proposed Constitutional Amendment Number 1 on the ballot concerns consolidating virtually all constitutional provisions about state and local retirement systems in one section of our state charter. More importantly, the amendment also would lift the ceiling on the amount the state can contribute to retirement systems from six percent to 10 percent of the employee's total compensation.

In addition, should an emergency exist, the Legislature could appropriate additional money to these retirement systems should it be deemed necessary.

In conjunction with this amendment, Senate Bill 56 has been passed by this Legislature, providing a 12 percent increase in retirement benefits for government workers already retired.

This increase would become effective permanently only if Amendment 1 is approved on April 22.

The bill also appropriates $21.8 million to the Retirement

Annuity Reserve Fund to cover the benefit increases. It, too, is contingent upon approval of the amendment.

Under this amendment, the boards of trustees of each retirement system would be given broader investment authority. However, the Legislature could restrict this discretion.

Proponents of the amendment argue that this broader investment power—with its safeguards—make it possible for retirement system managers to get higher returns on their investments, thus insuring the financial soundness of these programs.

Those who favor the amendment also point out that our current inflationary spiral most affects those on fixed incomes. By raising the state's contribution and granting a 12 percent increase to current retirees, the state would give relief to those already retired and provide for a sound fiscal foundation for future retirees.

Opponents of the amendment argue that government costs must be trimmed if inflation is to be stopped. They contend that increasing the state's contribution from a maximum of six to 10 percent would merely add to this inflation.

The Texas Legislative Council, of which I am chairman, has prepared a pamphlet discussing in detail both proposed amendments. You can get a copy by writing the Council at Box 12128, Capitol Station, Austin 78711.

The second amendment would provide more money for legislators.

Under proposed Amendment Number 2, members of the Legislature would get a pay raise from $400 a month to $600 a month.

The amendment also provides for an increase in the per diem allowance from $12 a day for the first 120 days of each regular session and 30 days of each special session to $30 for each day of each regular and special session.

Currently, state representatives and senators to $2.50 for every 100 miles of travel from their Austin. The proposed reimbursement legislation would state employees are no longer be considered official, and $4,000 of adequate compensation time he devotes to public. Those against the amendment contend that these plagued days are too time to consider increase cost of government.

Those who favor the amendment argue that raising the $7,300 a year would many qualified persons unable presently to seek a seat in the Legislature.

Opponents of the amendment argue that because of high costs, those without financial resources discouraged from away, regardless of salary.

An argument for the per diem allowance that the $12 a day was 1960 is hopelessly out of date and that $30 a day is justified by today's living.

Opponents argue that the $30 allowance limitation on the number it can be paid—could slow the legislative burdening the taxpayer—ever-higher government.

There is little argument legislators should get 10 cents a mile for drive cars to Austin.

However, opponents (presently set at 16 cents) could be abused because no limit set on the number of trips a legislator could and from the hospital.

I hope all Texas voters take the time to learn themselves with these amendments and express opinions at the polls on
