Local Gas Situation Contradictory

Littlefield service station operators and wholesalers say the gasoline and fuel situation here appears as contradictory on the local level as on the national scene.

Despite the announced increase in gas supplies this week, most service station operators are working on a gas supply cut drastically from their allocation for this month last year. Distribution is based on the sales volume in 1972, and some managers report they are receiving less than half of what they could sell if they could get gas.

Service station managers are just as much in the dark on what is happening as the public. Many didn't know until March 1 what their March allotment would be. And companies haven't notified wholesalers on the amount of increase they'll receive. Most operators said they'll believe the increase when they hear from their companies.

There is a wide discrepancy in prices, too. In the past, independent operators were usually several cents lower in price. Now prices are based on whether the company has a U. S. crude oil supply or whether they're having to get their crude oil from foreign countries. The government is allowing higher prices to cover higher prices on imported crude. So when prices went up the first of the month, some companies got more increases than others.

Wholesale distributors say the hardest hit consumers are those not directly involved in agriculture. At Littlefield Butane, Ace Bridwell said they had closed three of their retail service stations since the gas shortage hit so they would be able to take care of their farm customers.

Oscar Wilemon has closed two of his retail stations. Wilemon said he has closed two of his stations since gasoline

An application for petitions to be issued and circulated for signatures to call another local option election were filed here Thursday, and petitions for signatures were issued late Friday.

The petitions call for the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed beverages inside the city limits of Littlefield.

This voting territory takes in all of the qualified voters who live inside the Littlefield city limits of voting precincts 10 and 14. An exact number of signatures which will be required was not known Friday, since several persons who vote in these two precincts live outside the city.

A total of 882 persons in these two precincts voted in the last election, including those who live outside the city limits.

Ten percent more signatures will be required to call an election this time than on the last attempt. In July 1973, a total of 25 percent of the number of voters in the last governor's race was necessary to call a local option election but now it must be signed by 35 percent of the number of persons who voted in the last governor's race.

Petitions were turned in no later than 30 days from the date they are issued. This means the petitions must be filed no later than closing time on April 5.

Following certification of the signatures, the commissioners court will set an election date at a regular second Monday meeting.

Seven hundred forty-three certified names were needed to bring the July petitions to a vote. Of the 743 required names on the last petition, the certified number was 85 names short of the necessary percentage to bring the issue to a vote.

Scout Cookie Sale Continuing Here

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale has been extended a week, due to the fact that cookie supplies are plentiful this year.

The sale will continue through March 16 instead of March 9 as was previously scheduled.

prices started going up. Considering recent price increases, Wilemon thinks people will ration themselves, rather than having to go to a gas rationing station.

City Elections Draw Slate Of Candidates

City elections at Anton, Amherst, Olton, and Sudan have drawn numerous political candidates. Earth is the only area town holding city elections this year without the incumbents being opposed.

AT ANTON, S. M. Monroe did not seek to run for re-election. Seeking the mayor's post are Olan "Slick" Johnson and Reese Pritchard. Pritchard is presently a councilman. His seat on the council and that of Wyatt Batson are up for election. Batson is seeking re-election along with five others who are running for the two council seats. Other candidates are G. C. Brock, Warren Cate, Wayne McLarty, Doug Teague and Roy Grace.

OLTON'S CITY election has drawn 10 candidates for two seats on the city council. Incumbents with expiring terms are Vernon Nixon, Joe Hall and Jimmie Jenkins. Jenkins is not running for another term. Hall and Nixon will be on the ballot along with eight others. Gene Gee, Wayne Cole, Larry Garvin, Steven Smith, Mrs. Owen (Billie) Norfleet, Douglas Goen, Sue Cannon and Daniel Ray.

AMHERST'S INCUMBENT Mayor A. W. Hedges is not seeking re-election.

George Thompson, a commissioner for six years, is seeking the mayor's post along with Robert A. Dysart.

Thompson and Eddie Landers are commissioners with expiring terms. Landers is seeking re-election. Charles J. Mixon and Verdel Burton are candidates for commissioner, too, making three candidates for the two places.

SUDAN MAYOR Arnold Reed is opposed by Charles Burnett. Two Sudan commissioners, Paul Provence and F. M. Smith, are incumbents whose terms expire. Provence is not seeking re-election. Smith, Hoyt Robertson and Thomas W. Moss are running for the two vacancies.

EARTH'S MAYOR, Larry Tunnell, and two aldermen, Donald Runyon and Harvey Hickman are up for re-election. All three have filed for another term and are unopposed in their bid.

Littlefield has city elections on odd years, with city officers up in 1975.

All of the city elections will be the first Saturday in April, or April 6, the same date for all city and school trustee elections.

Absentee voting begins March 18 and goes through April 2.

School Trustee Elections Draw Area-Wide Interest

Most area school board races have drawn opposition candidates this year.

In Littlefield, five are running for the two expiring terms. Dick Hopping and Glenn Batson are trustees whose terms are up. Hopping is running for re-election, but Batson is not seeking another term. Emil Macha, Jerry Tunnell, Benny Zahn, Beverly Burke, and Hopping are the five running for the two places on the local board.

AT WHITHARRAL, five are running for four places. Marion Polk, Bobby Grant and Ervin Sadler are trustees whose terms are expiring. Polk and Grant have signed up for re-election, but Sadler is not seeking another term. Don Stafford is the third person running for the full term. Coy Mills had one year left on his term and is resigning. Rex Avery and Charles Lorenz are running for the one year post.

AT ANTON, seven are running for three places. Incumbents are Cruz Aldaco, Walter Hobgood and Charles Couch. All three are seeking re-election. Others who are school board candidates are Norman Downs, Richard Burt, Charles Edgmon and Johnny Harper.

SPRINGLAKE-EARTH board members with expiring terms are P. A. Washington and Ed Dawson. Dawson is seeking re-election, but Washington is not a candidate. Hopefuls are Agnes (Mrs. Wilson) Lewis, Kenny Hamilton and Eddie Hayden.

THE TWO SUDAN trustees with expiring terms are Guy Walden and Byron Lynn. Walden is seeking re-election. Kenneth Vincent and Wayne Swart are seeking election as a trustee.

AMHERST TRUSTEES Jomeryl Harmon, Harvey Patterson and George Tooley have all signed up for re-election and are not opposed on the ballot.

OLTON SCHOOLS have two expiring terms. Garland DePrang and Burly Faver are board members who are up for re-election. Both have signed up for another term and no other candidates filed before the Wednesday deadline.

SPADE BOARD members whose terms are up for re-election this year are Bob Myers, F. H. Glazener and Jimmy Long. All three will be running for another term without opposition candidates.

BULA HAS two trustees with expiring terms. Board members R. T. Newton and J. E. Layton are incumbents. Newton did not announce. Layton signed up for another term and Burley Lee Roberts is the second candidate for the two positions.

All school board elections are set for April 6. Absentee voting starts next Monday and continues four days prior to the election.

Tax Assessments, Board On Agenda

The Littlefield school board will appoint a tax equalization board, consider the tax assessment value and discuss the location of an administrative and tax office location when the trustees meet in regular session at 7 a.m. Monday morning in the LHS lunchroom.

Other items on the agenda include decisions on insurance on school buildings and their contents, personnel considerations, setting the school calendar for 1974-75 school year, and the financial statement.

Girl Scout Week

THEY ARE NEARLY 4 million strong, and come from every ethnic, racial, economic and cultural group in the nation.

They work together, learn together and help make the United States a better place to live.

They are the Girls Scouts of the USA, an organization which proudly commemorates its 62nd anniversary during Girl Scout Week, March 10-16, this year.

SINCE ITS INCEPTION in 1912, Girl Scouting has instilled in its membership the highest ideals of character, service and patriotism.

Whether it be through program of conservation, drug-abuse prevention or a hundred others, the Girl Scouts are always in the forefront, offering a positive and creative outlet for the energies of modern youth.

THE 1974 Girl Scout Week theme is, "Wanted—Girl Scout Leaders," which is a concise reminder that Scouting can be brought within reach of all eligible girls only if more adults step forward to help guide the young leaders of tomorrow.

As the organization urges, "...be a Girl Scout leader; it means so much to our youth, and so much to all of us."

Get Health Checks

THE MEDICAL PROFESSION and the American Cancer Society have spent millions of dollars urging the public to see a doctor at the first signs of cancer.

But, according to a Massachusetts General Hospital study, these educational programs have accomplished little in the way of persuading the public to act fast to save their own lives.

THE STUDY SAID that the waiting period today is much the same as that reported in similar studies at the same hospital 30 and 50 years ago.

Researchers found that one in five patients saw a doctor in the first week after the symptoms were first noticed, two thirds waited longer than a month, 39 percent longer than three months and 25 percent longer than six months. The hospital's findings help explain why cancer is still the nation's second largest killer, and why 166.6 people per 100,000 population died because of it in 1972.

THIS NATION has the finest medical system in the world.

It can treat cancer and other potentially-deadly diseases—providing they are detected early enough.

UNFORTUNATELY, no one can make a person see a doctor.

That is the individual's responsibility.

With our lives at stake, it is one none of us can afford to shirk.

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

HERE I AM back at home from the hospital and feeling much better. I'll have to take it easy for a while, which is very hard for me to do.

Everybody has been so nice to us, and I would like to thank everyone—my many friends and especially my family—and Joella for editing this column which is poorly written in long hand.

MY HUSBAND and I would also like to express appreciation for all the 25 volunteers that are helping to carry on the "Meals on Wheels" program—taking the warm meals to our elderly shut-ins.

Those who get the meals are so grateful. It is such a gratifying job.

****

NOW to something else. It has been said that if there was no God men would need to invent one as it is necessary for everyone to worship something. Those who say they do not worship anything usually worship themselves, for they feel self sufficient.

But the time comes in the life of everyone when they need something to hang onto.

MY GOD is the Holy Trinity, "God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit."

First John 1:2 says, "Christ was alive when the world began, yet I have seen Him with my own eyes and listened to Him speak. I have touched Him with my own hands.

He is God's message of Life. This one who is Life from God has been shown to us and we guarantee that we have seen Him.

I am speaking of Christ, who is eternal Life. He was with the Father and then was shown to us."

LATER ON John says, "But you have received the Holy Spirit and He lives within you, in your hearts, so you don't

Mrs. Martin was a native of Kimball County and went to Plainview in 1915. She spent most of her childhood in Oklahoma.

She married Louis Martin Jan. 1, 1909 in Oklahoma, and had lived near Lockney several years. She had been a member of the Church of Christ 72 years.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Earl Tinkle of Plainview, Mrs. Dan Kimball of Edmondson, Mrs. Wayne Willis of Littlefield, Violet Pinkston of Lubbock and Mrs. H. T. Redwine of Moses Lake, Wash.; three sons, Lewis Martin of Boise, Idaho, and Raymond Martin and Andy Martin, both of Amarillo; a sister, Florence Day of Bell, Calif.; 26 grandchildren; and 31 great-grandchildren.

LEROY MEASLES

Funeral services for Leroy Measles, 37, of Tulia, who died at 1 a.m. Wednesday, March 6, in Central Plains General Hospital in Plainview after suffering an apparent heart attack, were conducted Thursday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Tulia.

Rev. Gerald Tidwell, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in the Olton Cemetery with Wallace Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Measles was born in Olton and moved to Tulia from Olton in 1952. He married Rebecca Herndon in January 1959 in Olton.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church at Tulia, and was a farmer and rancher.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Kevin Clifford Measles of the home; two daughters, Jennifer Jay and Rebecca Lee, both of the home; a brother, T. C. Measles Jr. of Tulia; a sister, Mrs. Joyce Duke of Tulia; and his mother, Mrs. T. C. Measles of Tulia.

need anyone to teach you what is right. For He teaches you all things, and He is truth."

So in the beginning we have God the creator, then He came to earth through His Son, Jesus Christ, as the Saviour of men and now we have Christ as the Holy Spirit in our lives. All are God, Three in One.

I AM SO GLAD we have the Holy spirit which is Truth to guide us through this life—to help us get up again when we stumble and fall—to give us strength to face our difficulties.

Thank God for lovely people who help carry on His work here on earth. For it is through Him that we live and work and have our being.

THE SCRIPTURE quoted today is from the "The Greatest is Love" of the Bible. Its edition is a beautiful edition paraphrased to make it so clear and easy to read.

Councilmen Meet, Discuss 4 Items

During their regular meeting Thursday night, Littlefield's city councilmen discussed four items of business on their agenda.

Hubert Henry, Bob Wear and Hershel Randall presented a progress report on the proposed Lamb County Memorial Library.

Councilmen accepted the resignation of the airport manager, Coy Piercecey, who submitted his resignation because of other pressing business matters. Councilmen will consider the appointment of a replacement at the next meeting.

Councilmen heard a report from City Manager Jim Blagg on Workmen's Compensation Insurance, and after discussing it to some length, they authorized Mayor J. E. Chisholm to sign a statement of intent to become a subscriber to the Texas Municipal League Workmen's Compensation Joint Insurance Fund on or before June 15 of this year.

The present workmen's comp insurance is to expire April 10.

Councilmen deferred action on the last item of new business, that of considering an amendment to Section 6 of Ordinance 210 which deals with water and sewage billing.

Councilmen asked the city manager to seek more information about other forms of billing, and that the ordinance remain as it is until all of the present billing cards are used.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Grow Up

"GROW UP", is admittedly, some of the very best exhortation, but it is easier said than done. Many authorities and observers in the field of human development have said, and continue to say that the basic of all human problems is the problem of "maturing".

We are not necessarily mature (grown up) just because we have had a certain number of birthdays. We "grow up" by the continuing improvement of the total person; especially in the areas of our personal insight and understanding.

IMMATUREITY IS A NORMAL PART of one's early life, but it becomes a terrible burden if permitted to continue to be part of what we call adulthood.

We must remember that biological maturity does not automatically bring mental and spiritual maturity.

WE MAY "GROW UP" in some ways, but not in other ways. If we do, we become an unbalanced personality. The degree of our failure to "grow up" determines the degree of personality impairment.

This failure can be avoided, to some extent, because all of us can make some progress in our own personal maturing, our "growing up" process. We must make this part of a well-planned program of individual self-improvement, and keep in mind that it is never quite completed.

IT IS A MISTAKE for us to be so quick to assume that we are "grown up", because, if we have a true understanding of ourselves, we will know that we are always growing up ("maturing").

Of course, we will reach "relative maturity"; and we will remember that there are others within our reach.

These accomplishments are spectacular, but they are vital to the difference between an adequate and an inadequate life.

"WE ARE ONLY YOUNG" is an expression heard often. It is untrue, depending upon the person, which it is used. Physically, it is true, but in our failures to "grow up" away childish things, it is untrue.

It seems that there are many who mistakenly try to hold characteristics which are immature. These characteristics are appropriate in their time and place, but when they are held completely out of place, they hinder one's "growing up".

"Be Your Age" is good advice. We understand the full import involved.

"WE ARE ONLY YOUNG" can be immature, indefinite, and Wofle.

MUCH OF THE WORTHWHILE living can be obtained by us in any way. It is not for sale; it can be bought.

It cannot be found in social or in business success; or in self-attainments; or in self-indulgence. It will be found in the less obtainable state of being we call "increasing personal maturity". We must "grow up".

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEY

GOTCHER SCAREDHOLE ready? The way the weather's been for the last while, kind of makes you uneasy to see a cloud building up.

I ain't no weather prophet, but I've the feelin' that the first drouth-breaker could be a pretty hairy experience.

THE BOYS THINK they've gotten it figured out how to stop the hail. Now, if they could only figure a way to stop the wind and tornadoes, they'd REALLY have something!

SOMETIMES I GET to wondering how history in the years of 2020 to 2030 will treat upon our present and preceding generations. 'Twould be pretty interesting reading, I'll betcha.

Probably, the "Squares" of the fifties will furnish the most humorous reading. A people that were so backward as to exhibit faith in a Supreme God, and believed Him to be the Creator of all things.

A PEOPLE THAT had conscientious scruples and a show of modesty, (whether false or real) and respected the laws of the land. Indeed, some even respected the rights of others!

Some thought of marriage as being a divine and sacred institution, and as being necessary to permit two people of opposite sex to live together in honor.

They thought it their duty to try their children to be honored and respected citizens. Even to indoctrinate them with the teachings of the Bible.

THESE BACKWARD people thought it good to emphasize a distinction of the sexes, rather than to throw them into a conglomerate. Even regarded the practice of being for the married. (But the didn't have the pill, and abortion illegal.)

Drunkenness was frowned upon (whether by dope or drink) and fenders had to steer clear of it. Public nudity was not permitted, was somehow possible for a female to be hauled off to jail for decent exposure.

OF COURSE, the states seventies may well be pointed being the turning point, toward intelligent living. A trend toward yourself go, and getting all the out of life. Old foibles and superstitions are being done away. We're into the stage of "Eat, drink, and merrily".

Like the serpent said to mother: "Thou shalt not surely die!" SHE DID!!

HAD A LOT OF kidding about finally missing a weather prediction this past week. Well you can't hit them all, but I would like to call to your attention the bonuses you got. That is—the times you got a rain I didn't predict. If you count the bonuses, I guess I'm back to batting a thousand.

One thing about this dry spell is that we have eight months of it behind us and the end of the drought is drawing nearer each day.

I'll have to admit it is dry, but in traveling over the state this past week I've noticed that we do not have a monopoly on the dry conditions. In areas it seems to be dryer than here.

We are showing some concern this dry weather, but let's look another angle and that is that the time is over a month away and we have until the middle of June to

In other sections of the country need to begin planting quite a bit and they needed their rain yesterday. We just need to have faith and a more positive attitude everything will work out.

THOUGHT I'D JUST ignore it on his last remarks he made in column, then I decided I wouldn't change my mind again so no one. Although I guess you noticed I didn't have me to support you in the last edition.

NOTICED SOMETHING interesting about the prices of gas haven't figured it out, but in our gasoline prices are as much cents per gallon higher than certain sections of Central Texas amazes me is that a lot of the produced in this section of the state by all practical reasoning, is cheaper. But you can haul it out and sell it for less.

Cotton Given Billing As Dependable Fiber

U.S. cotton has an excellent opportunity to win back markets and replace its competitors as the nation's most dependable fiber. This assessment of cotton's future was given at a National Cotton Council leadership meeting in Lubbock Monday, March 4. Don Anderson of Crosbyton, a producer director on the Council's Board, presided.

In introducing reports by Council staff members, Anderson said the organization is considered by many to be the most successful commodity group in the country.

The lead-off staff report pointed out that USDA's January planting estimate calls for 14.6 million acres for the 1974 crop. If this proves to be true, it could mark the "beginning of the road back to an adequate cotton supply."

Increased production is badly needed, it was pointed out, to enable cotton to capitalize on man-made fibers' inadequate supply which is expected to last "at least a year or two and possibly three or four."

Another competitive advantage cited was cotton's big edge in the energy area. Man-made fibers require five times as much energy as cotton per pound of fiber produced, and energy prices are expected to rise much faster than other prices.

New supplies of cotton also can be delivered in volume starting about nine months from now, while new man-made fiber plants require two or more years to get into full production.

On the export side, there appears to be an excellent opportunity for cotton consumption to expand in the future if the industry can effectively compete with man-made fibers for the available market.

In recent months, it was noted, the situation appears to have changed in favor of cotton because of: (1) a consumer trend toward natural fibers; (2) cotton's growing fashion leadership; (3) improvements from product research; (4) the petroleum shortage limiting supply of raw materials for certain synthetic fibers; and (5) market development programs led by Cotton Council International and International Institute for Cotton.

Another report noted that an over-all plan for a national program to eliminate the boll weevil holds a bright new hope for both the cotton farmer and the consumer. Weevil inflicted losses on cotton lint and seed have amounted to more than $11 billion since 1909.

This loss has amounted to enough fiber to provide every male in the U.S. 14 years or older with 764 shirts apiece; enough cottonseed meal to produce 538 pounds of meat for every man, woman, and child in the U.S.; and enough food fats and oils to supply the entire U.S. population for a whole year.

The weevil eradication plan has been submitted to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, who was authorized by the 1973 Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act to carry out the program. If approved by him, the plan would be put into effect in specified zones across the Cotton Belt for an eight-year period.

Cotton bale packaging is now being improved at a rapid rate. Most spectacular change has been the transition to a universal bale with a minimum 28-pound density, it was explained.

Developed by a special Council committee and introduced to the trade in 1973, it is replacing the five different types of bales previously produced and offers savings in handling and transportation costs.

The Council also is taking an active role in dealing with byssinosis and flammability, two problems described as clouding an otherwise bright outlook for cotton.

Through its Industrywide Byssinosis Committee, the Council is now collecting information available both in this country and abroad on every aspect of byssinosis. This will be used in working with government agencies toward reasonable and practical standards for cotton dust in processing establishments.

Solutions to cotton's flammability problem involve: (1) research to develop more effective and less expensive fire resistant treatments for cotton fabrics, and (2) development of standards and test methods which are

Planting Season Near For Grasses

The planting date for cool season grasses such as tan fescue or wheat grass is getting near. The best planting date for the cool season grass is from August 15, until March 15, under irrigation. All cool season grasses that are used in this area are not recommended for dryland planting.

The best seedbed for grass seeding is for the soil to be as firm as possible with a dead litter cover of some kind, such as sudan that did not head, sorghum stubble or a mulch litter of cotton burrs spread on the soil surface. Where a dead litter cover is not used the seedbed should be prepared and well settled before the grass is drilled, and irrigated every few days until the grass is well established. If this is not done the seed will germinate and the soil will dry out within the seedling root zone before roots get deep enough to survive. The first two or three weeks after the seed sprouts is the critical period for the grass.

Where a dead litter cover is used it is much easier to get a stand of grass established because there is less evaporation of the moisture from the soil and protection from wind and dust damage.

Anyone who plans to plant grass can come by, call or contact any of the personnel at the Soil Conservation Service in the courthouse in Littlefield and they will furnish you with the needed information on planting and management of the grass.

RONNIE SMITH checks a good stand of tall wheat grass planted on his farm northwest of Littlefield. Ronnie irrigated this grass regularly and got very good grazing results from it. (SCS Photo)

Texas Farmers Union Plans Meet

Texas Farmers Union delegates and members will join over 2,000 farmers and ranchers that will be attending the National Farmers Union Convention in Milwaukee, Wis., beginning March 10. The meeting marks the 70th Annual Convention of the nation-wide general farm organization. About 50 Texans are expected to be in attendance.

The theme for the National Farmers Union Convention is, "1974: Turning Point For Family Agriculture." The issues that will be emphasized during the four day meeting include the economy and international trade, energy and the environment, and national land and food policy.

Some of the state and national figures who will be addressing the convention include, Wisconsin Governor Patrick Lucey; Dr. Barry Commoner, Director for the Center for The Biology of Natural Systems at Washington University in St. Louis; White House trade specialist Harold B. Malmgren; Honorable Henry Maier, Mayor of Milwaukee; Labor Department officials William Kolberg; Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture John R. Messer; former Federal Power Commission chairman Dr.

The banquet speaker will be Minnesota Senator Walter Mondale, one of the prominent presidential hopefuls.

National Farmers Union President Tony Dechant of Denver termed the National Farmers Union Convention as, "One more step in educating the public on agriculture's role in the economy and world trade." He said that the Milwaukee Convention has a serious note that will enable Farmers Union members to, "equip themselves to do a better job for agriculture."

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco, who will lead the Texas delegation to Milwaukee, said that he expects a large delegation of interested Texans to be in Milwaukee. "The National Farmers Union Convention is always the highlight of the Farmers Union activities for the year. The convention this year is particularly important because of the many problems facing agriculture in regard to shortages and accelerating operating costs," Naman said.

The delegates representing Texas Farmers Union at the national convention will be:

Weldon Sage of Littlefield, Arthur Priesmeyer of Campo, and Joe Ralls. The alternate delegates are: Bobby Grubbs of Eldon Whitman of Deer and Henry Hardy of Deer.

was explained.

Another report noted better public understanding and appreciation of the industry is essential continued progress. To foster such understanding, Council conducts a communications program directed toward leaders and the public.

The basic message of program stresses the importance in conservation energy, in providing a protein food source, in contributing to the national economy, in increasing productivity, and in responding to the needs and wants of all Americans.

The group also reviewed the Council's Washington activities with the new farm agricultural appropriations and minimum wage activities this year will include appropriations funding Cotton Incorporated and the boll weevil eradication effort, minimum legislation, and allocations.

A report on Cotton Corporation's research marketing program described progress being made in achieving greater margins and profits for growers. Among examples cited cost-saving developments handling and transporting seed cotton, new all-weather knit sheets, and an imp flame-retardant finished cotton fabrics.

All the efficiencies of local loan service.

What do you expect from an agricultural loan? Long terms? Reasonable charges? These traditional advantages have been offered by the Federal Land Bank for over a half-century. But the Land Bank also provides personal attention and prompt service. We're the local lender who understands local needs. Come to the Land Bank... for many good reasons.
