WEAR ON TIPS FROM ABRASION CAUSES —
Crop losses. Chemical waste. Uneven distribution.
Frequent tank refilling.

Nozzle tips tested with wettable powder showed that discharge of brass tips increased 13 per cent in 30 hours of use, stainless steel 6.7 per cent, nylon 4.9 per cent. If chemical cost $7 an acre, 10 per cent over dosage would cost $105.00 on 150 acres sprayed, to which should be added another 7.35 for interest, so the user would be out $112.35. He could have saved this by installing new nozzle tips which would have cost him $8.54 for 13 brass tips. Nozzle tip wear also changes the spray pattern, causing skips and poor coverage. Overdosage, mentioned before, not only wastes chemical but can be harmful to the crop. Pressure alone can cause wear even with clear water. Stainless steel and nylon can outwear brass at least 4 to 1.

Wind Damage Reported Over Area

winds played havoc Saturday, sports coming in of street signs and Christmas decorations blown cotton trailers by the score were med. Winds fanned a small burr the Olton Farmers Co-op Gin out and for a time fire threatened and an unknown number of and loaded cotton trailers on the fire started early in the day and units were still on the scene at midnight. The burrs were still on fire and a possible hazzard through Monday.

At Sudan Saturday morning winds caused so much damage that there were false reports that a tornado had hit the area. Tin from barns was stripped off, trees were toppled over, and trailers were overturned. To the east of this area numerous counties were put under a tornado watch.

At Amherst, tin was torn off the drive-in theatre and scattered over Highway 37.

An unknown amount of damage was done to the unharvested cotton. Blowing tumble weeds and high winds blew cotton out of the burrs, and cotton not blown out was filled with dirt which will lower the grade considerably.

Wind Damage Reported Over Area

Winds played havoc Saturday, reports coming in of street signs and Christmas decorations blown down. Cotton trailers by the score were damaged. Winds fanned a small burr on the Olton Farmers Co-op Gin out and for a time fire threatened and an unknown number of trailers were overturned. To the east of this area numerous counties were put under a and units were still on the scene at midnight. The burrs were still on fire and a possible hazard through Monday.

At Sudan Saturday morning winds caused so much damage that there were false reports that a tornado had hit the area. Tin from barns was stripped off, trees were toppled over, and trailers were overturned. To the east of this area numerous counties were put under a tornado watch. At Amherst, tin was torn off the drive-in theatre and scattered over Highway 37.

An unknown amount of damage was done to the unharvested cotton. Blowing tumble weeds and high winds blew cotton out of the burrs, and cotton not blown out was filled with dirt which will lower the grade considerably.

Wildcat Football Fortune On Way Up

The Littlefield Wildcats are destined to move up the district ladder. Last year seasoned football prognosticators who bravely publish their predictions prophesied that Littlefield would end up fourth in this district. Littlefield finished fourth in the district.

This year the pigskin seers have picked Littlefield second in the district. "We certainly think we will be an improved football team this year," head football coach Jerry Blakely said in his usual understated way.

Blakely said a big reason the team will be improved this year over last is the great deal of experience returning in the skill positions of quarterback, running backs and linebackers.

Twelve lettermen returned who started one game or more last year, offensively, defensively, or both. The lineup will run a similar offense as last year, but Blakely anticipates better results.

Ronald Palmer returns offensively as quarterback. The 5'9", 160-pound senior captain is expected to be one of the better passers in the district, and is considered a very fine option quarterback.

Rick Hopping is a bruiser at 6'1", 215 pounds, and should be the best blocking fullback in the league.

Returning halfback Bill Turner made All-District as running back last year, racking up over 1,400 yards.

Larry McDonald, 5'11", 175-pounder and Brad Banner, 5'9", 170 pounds are both seniors returning as offensive guards.

Dean Walden is a six-footer weighing 185 pounds, and Randy Hall is 5'11" and weighs 180. Both of these seniors saw some action last year as offensive guards.

Starting center Jack Speck, 5'9", 170-pound, should be one of the better centers in the league.

Jimmy Durham, a 6 foot, 170-pound senior, has been moved from offensive tackle to tight end. "He had tremendous two-a days," Blakely said, "and he could possibly be the best tight end since I've been in Littlefield. He blocks well, catches very well and has adequate speed and size."

Offensive people returning include Danny Martinez, coming up from the junior varsity. At the present time he has the edge for split end position. He is small at 5'7", 135 pounds, but he has exceptional hands and a habit of making great catches.

Right now plans call for Reginald Payton and Steve Cruz at tailback positions. Payton is 6', 175 pounds, and Cruz is 5'9" and 170. Both are seniors, and both started defensively last year as linebackers. Robert Hall, 5'8", 145-pound junior, and Dean Walden will provide depth in these positions.

Blake Wood is a 5'8", 150-pound junior fullback who should get a great deal of action at that post. While not big, Blakely said Wood is quick and determined.

Defensively, the Cats have changed their basic defense from the split 6 to the Oklahoma 50 defense. The reason for the change is not dissatisfaction with the defense used the last four years.

"Our defense has been good and that's one reason we've had success these four years," Blakely said. "However, we did not feel that it best suited our personnel this year."

"We feel like Hopping has to play in the middle of the defensive front. That's the reason for the change. He'll be lined up as a noseguard and should be the best around here." Tony Cowen, 5'9", 150-pound junior should do a good job at defensive noseguard. He is exceptionally quick and has the desired knack of pursuing the football.

With experienced linebackers Cruz and Payton, defensive tacklers, McDonald, Speck and Hall, Blakely is looking for the defensive ends and defensive secondary to be the most improved area.

"The defensive end position has been a pleasant surprise thus far," Blakely added. Banner is the only veteran, but he's looked well in practice thus far. And we have three newcomers who'll see a great deal of action there this year. I'm very pleased with the performance of David Jones, 6'5", 180-pound sophomore, Layne McKinnon, 5'11", 165-pound junior, and Jasper Colbert, 5'11", 165-pound senior."

Blakely said inexperience in the secondary is a major concern right now, but that he does not doubt the ability of Turner, Durham and Palmer, of three proven hands to do their job.

Blakely said he is pleased to say there are three or four inexperienced football players who look like they will do a good job in the secondary, also. These are Lonnie Twitty, 5'6", 140-pound senior; Rudy Ayala, 5'8", 145-pound junior, Jay Lee a 135-pound junior and Blake Wood.

"It looks like more depth back there than we originally thought," Blakely added. "Add to that three sophomores with the varsity football team this year. While young and inexperienced at this time, they are very determined and their effort has been good in practice. As a result, Jones, Greg Moreland, 6', 150-pound, at offensive tight end, and Ronnie Milligan, 5'10", 155-pound offensive center, will figure heavily in our plans this year."

"Our players and coaches are excited about this year."

"Our players and coaches are excited about this year's football team and we think we have an opportunity to have a good team and we're anxious to get started," Blakely said.

"We play a lot of tough teams, but right now our only concern is our first game."

Commissioners Court Contracts With City for Ambulance, Fire Protection Services

The Lamb County Commissioners Court was hit for money from all sides in their end-of-month session Friday.

City manager Jim Blagg and two city councilmen, Paul Carmickle and Chester Harvey, met with the Court Friday morning requesting the county pay $200 per rural fire call, rather than the $50 paid this year, and renewal of the county's contract for ambulance service which is estimated to cost about $40,000 this year.

The Court agreed to pay $100 per fire run outside the city limits, after some discussion pointing out that a paid fireman can't drive the truck on rural calls. On calls outside the city limits the fire department must wait for a volunteer fireman to come drive the truck.

The ambulance service contract was renewed as is, but commissioners pointed out that it looked like the county would have to budget in about $40,000 for this expense.

Donald Carr and Buddy Logsdon appeared and asked for additional facilities at the new County Ag and Community Center. Among their proposals was a portable show ring, a wash rack, concrete sheep pens, and a four-foot concrete walkway through the steer barn. Total facilities asked for would cost an estimated $23,000.

After lunch, Herschel Randall and Hubert Henry met with the Court on behalf of the proposed new Lamb County Memorial Library and asked that the Court pledge money toward the building of a new facility. Total cost of the structure is estimated at $200,000 to $250,000, and the board members pointed out that government grant would expire if the necessary amount of money and pledges aren't obtained by next summer.

Buddy Logsdon had requested a new pickup and met with the court again concerning competitive bids. Four sealed bids on a trade-in were not opened because Logsdon had not taken the pickup around to all the dealers in the county and bids were not submitted from all prospective dealers.

Frances Turner and Nora Hicks submitted a tentative library budget for the coming year reflecting additional expenditures for shelving, cassette tapes and player, postage and telephone.

Due to the many requests and additional expenditures by department heads who submitted budgets for 1976, the Court postponed any budgeting and did not act on the agricultural facilities nor pledge an amount to the library building until more detailed work is done on the budget next month.

Duran-Trejo Wedding Vows Realized

Mary Duran and Nato Trejo, both of Littlefield, exchanged double-ring wedding vows Saturday afternoon in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Officiating was Rev. Joe James, pastor, as the couple stood at the altar decorated with multicolored cut flowers and an apricot background. Candles marked the family pews.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Conrado Duran of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Ramiro Trejo of Littlefield. Conrado Duran presented his daughter for marriage. She wore a formal-length wedding gown of silk with lace overlay, featuring a square neckline edged in flowered lace, long lace sleeves, and a full skirt with five tiers of lace which fell into a medium-length train. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace. She carried a spray of white gardenias, carnations and roses. Traditional musical selections of "We've Only Just Begun," "Bridal March," "Twelfth of Never" and "Song of Joy" were presented.

Connie Duran of Littlefield was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Duran of Denver, Colo., sister-in-law of the bride, and Julia Rodriguez of Littlefield.

They wore Grecian style dresses of apricot crepe gently gathered over the bodices and falling from small belts at waists. Their gowns were sleeveless and fashioned with V necklines, and were complemented with long gloves.

Leroy Behnke of Littlefield was best man. Groomsmen were Sonny Duran of Denver, Colo., brother of the bride, and Jubencio Rodriguez of Littlefield.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Duran wore a blue, pink and white knit street-length dress, fashioned with short sleeves and rounded neckline. Mrs. Trejo wore a green and tan polyester knit street-length dress fashioned with short sleeves and a V neckline.

Following the wedding, a reception was served in the Sacred Heart Parish Hall near the church. Serving the three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with swans holding pillars, were Sonny Duran, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Julia Rodriguez, and Connie Duran, the bride's sister. Also with the hospitality were relatives of the couple. They will reside in Littlefield where the groom is employed in the City of Littlefield in the water department.

The bride attended Littlefield High School and the groom is a 1973 graduate of LHS.

'Safety Proof' Your Youngsters

IT'S THAT TIME of year again when parents should attempt to "safety proof" their youngsters—many of whom are entering school for the first time.

Whether walking, riding in a bus or car, or bicycling to school, plans should be made to ensure the safety of every child, reminds the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Darting across streets without looking, crossing at mid-block from between parked cars, and doing bicycle tricks in traffic are just a few of the pitfalls to be avoided, advises the Health Resources Department.

PARENTS CAN caution their children about all careless practices, and they also can show them. If your child is starting to school—or going to a new school—it's a good idea to make the trip at least once with the child.

If he will be pedaling to and from school every day—often in inclement weather—you'll want to be doubly sure that your child is observing safety rules. If you're a motorist in the vicinity of schools, be especially wary, says the Health Resources Department.

WHAT ARE THE TROUBLE spots for bicyclists and motorists? Collisions between motor vehicles and bicycles occurs about as follows:

- *Well over half at intersections.
- *Seven out of ten during daylight hours.
- *Most bicycle riders killed or injured in traffic accidents, were violating a traffic law at the time of the incident.
- *Half of the motor vehicle-bicycle accidents involved a violation on the part of the motor vehicle operator.
- *One out of five bicycles involved in accidents had some mechanical defect.

SOME OF THE MOST common traffic violations of bicyclists are (not in order of frequency):

- *Failure to yield right-of-way. (In most cases, the bicyclists did not "see" the car; in some cases he intentionally infringed on the motorist's right-of-way.)

- *Riding in the center of the street.
- *Speed too fast for conditions of traffic and road surface.
- *Disregard of traffic control devices—signal lights and stop signs.
- *Improper turning.

TO AVOID such situations as just described, here are some safety rules for bicyclists:

- *A skillful bicycle rider always has his bike under control. He never drives too fast and he never rides too far. He always has both hands free to steer.
- *The cyclist must develop skill in balancing and pedaling to avoid swerving into traffic, hitting a fixed object, running off the sidewalk or high way. Parents have the responsibility to be certain their child has the skill to cope with traffic before permitting him to ride on the street.
- *Every bicycle driver should be familiar with the laws governing bicycling in his community, or the one in which he is riding. These rules are usually available through the school or local police.
- *Cyclists must ride on the right side of the street with the flow of traffic; not on the left, facing traffic.
- *Hand signals should be used by the bicyclists, and are now commonly accepted as a safe riding practice.
- *Cyclists should avoid crowding between cars at stop signs, or between an automobile and the curb.
- *Carrying more passengers than a bicycle is designed and equipped for is dangerous and illegal. Two on a bike also increases stopping distances. The polo or "banana" seat, standard equipment on the hi-rise bike, appears designed to carry two. Such is not the case!
- *Never hold onto a moving vehicle nor in any way attach the bike to the vehicle.
- *Always ride single file.
- *Trick riding is always dangerous. Drivers of hi-risers are especially cautioned against making the bike rear up and riding on back wheels only, or jumping the bike over obstacles.

Combine Adjustment Suggested For Sunflowers

"Seed losses due to improper combine adjustment can result in substantial financial losses to sunflower producers," says Buddy C. Logsdon, County Extension Agent.

To minimize these losses, combine operators need to equip their machines with special sunflower header attachments. In addition, operators should frequently check the performance of their machines and make adjustments as harvesting conditions change.

The agent says that studying the operator's manual is the first step toward efficient harvesting and should not be neglected for this new crop by even the most experienced operators. Most manuals list recommended machine settings and other tips for sunflower harvesting.

The agent points out that combine manufacturers generally recommend that the reel speed should be matched to ground speed. Cylinder speeds of 350-600 r.p.m. are suggested, with the lower speeds being best for dry conditions. Concave clearances range from 1/2 to 1-1/2 inches. It is suggested that an initial concave clearance of 3/4 inch be used, then adjusted as necessary.

The agent cautions that excessive cylinder speed and close concave settings break up the heads excessively causing overloaded sieves and difficulty in separation and dehulling of the seed.

Most manufacturers also suggest a chaffer setting of 1/2 to 5/8 inches and sieve opening of 1/2 inch.

The air adjustment must be watched carefully to prevent seed from being blown or carried over the sieves. In setting the air, Logsdon suggests starting with a slow fan speed and gradually increasing the speed until the desired results are obtained.

"Some producers have voiced concern about removing 'pops' or unfilled seed during the harvest operation. Removing pops has not been a big problem in other areas," states Logsdon. "A sufficient amount of air to remove chaff usually carries out the lighter unfilled seed."

"Be alert to refining adjustments to match the machine, moisture conditions and other crop conditions. To do a good job of harvesting," Logsdon urges, "combine operators need to frequently check their machines and make adjustments as necessary."

MOTHER'S BIG DAY!

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

WELL, AREA FARMERS will be contributing soon to the newest ice cream flavor—"Sunflower Ice Cream". The new flavor was originated in Windber, Pa. by a dairy there which is noted to be "cashing in on the current health food craze". The new sunflower ice cream is a blend of sunflower kernels from North Dakota and Minnesota that are toasted and seasoned in sea salt. And who knows, they may be using Texas sunflowers pretty soon—or maybe a Texas dairy will produce it in Texas fashion.

The ice cream is currently being marketed in 11 cities in southwestern Pennsylvania and the producers have written the Shell Book of Firsts in London to have the new flavor recorded in its next edition.

The confection contains the whole seed kernel in a buttercream flavoring, with golden yellow and white swirls. The seeds are lightly salted and oiled just enough to keep the sunflower-seed taste. As Joe Greuble, who dreamed up the flavor, says, "It's for people and not the birds."

He says the current gardening trend and the emphasis on nutrition and health foods helped plant the seed for "our nuttiest flavor."

Down the road in Latrobe, Dr. David Strickler came up with a similar brainstorm 71 years ago. Bananas were cheap and plentiful so Dr. Strickler tried a new sundae on some students at St. Vincent's College.—the popular banana split. He had a special dish made to hold the two banana halves and the other goodies that went on top. The students spread the word when they returned home about the wonderful banana splits they ate at Tassell's Drug Store. Soon banana splits were selling in all parts of America and now in almost every country in the world.

Greuble hopes to match Dr. Strickler's feat with such slogans as, "Look What's Sprouting—Sunflower Ice Cream—Euell Love It."

MOST OF US USE canned foods without ever giving a thought to just how convenient they are. Those soups and sauces that took your grandmother hours of chopping and simmering are right there on the shelf, ready to heat and serve any time.

Any vegetable or fruit is ready to go straight from the can to your dinner table all year round.

But for the best use of these convenience foods, learn how to take care of your canned goods—before and after opening.

The Food and Drug Administration has a fact sheet just for canned food users called "Questions and Answers about Canned Foods." This valuable information is available free from Consumer Information, Department 44, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Among the questions answered are:

- *Where should I store canned goods?—The best storage area for canned foods is in a moderately cool, dry place. You should avoid storing them near steam pipes, radiators, furnaces and kitchen ranges.
- *How long will canned foods keep?—This is variable, but, generally speaking, if the can itself is normal in appearance the food inside should be wholesome. However, a regular turnover of once a year is recommended.
- *Is it safe to leave unused portions of canned foods in the can after opening?—Yes. But it is important to place the can inside the refrigerator, just as you would any other cooked food. Acid foods may dissolve a little iron from the can if they stand a long time, but this will only affect taste, not quality.
- *Does damage to the outside of the can mean the food is unsuitable for use?—Not necessarily. Rust or dents don't affect the contents of the can as long as the can doesn't leak. However, if the can is leaking, or if the ends are bulged, or if the contents have an abnormal odor or appearance, discard the can without tasting the food—it's probably spoiled.

UNCERTAINTY IS beginning to fill the air again. Congress is about to reconvene. While it's said they got a fearful earful while home on vacation, we're confident that they'll be uneasy for long.

It's maddening to hear how the bill covering their pay increase was practically sneaked through the mill, tied onto a bill concerning postal employee safety. A bunch of the fellows didn't even know the bill was coming up 'til a couple of days ahead of time. People at home were unaware of the same, until it was already passed!

TO ADD INSULT to injury, it had the blessing of the Administration. I'm afraid we'll mark that one of the wall in laundry pencil!—After all it would seem that near $125 per day for 365 days of the year is a little out of line. That especially when they're milking the local yokel that thinks he's doing well to gross that much per week!

Multiply that by the number of congressmen we have, and you come up with a pretty fair sized paycheck. Which, of course, wouldn't gripe us so much if they could only show some constructive action.

Comparing Children Leads To Frustration

Parents who compare their child's development to that of other children could be asking for frustration, says Mrs. Dorothy Powell County Extension Agent.

In comparing children, the parent assumes that his child will be normal ahead or underdeveloped. This is dangerous because it makes the parent begin setting standards for the child which might be unattainable.

This kind of situation can be avoided by remembering each child is an individual, developing at his own pace.

Parents can make the child's surroundings more stimulating and motivate him more to try new experiences. But it's still a matter of the child's own individual timing for when development takes place.

Parents have responsibility to be sensitive to stages infants should go through to develop socially, mentally and physically. Subtle guidance can be applied to help the child direct his energies, but over-control will fail.

The parents can remember to view his child as an individual growing according to his own game-plan. He can also provide varied experiences and changing surroundings that motivate growth.

Mrs. Wood was certified last August as a genealogist in American research by the Board for Certification of Genealogists. She is one of nine certified genealogists now living in Texas.

Mrs. Wood has taught classes for beginning genealogists at the Garden and Arts Center in Lubbock and also has given programs on "Using Family Tradition" and "How to Compile and Write a Family History."

She is the author of four family histories— "Kaleidoscopic Family Bass, 1769-1971," "Wood Works" in two volumes; "Knox Memorial" in two volumes and "Those Reeves Girls," also in two volumes.

Mrs. Wood will provide instruction on a number of topics.

Interested persons may register at the first class meeting in Conference Room 2 of the SPC Library. For more information, contact the Continuing Education Office at 894-2921, ext. 252.

New Hospitals, Facilities Must Comply With Regulations

new or expanded nursing homes or facilities may not be able to receive clearance from Texas Health Facilities Commission, cautioned Chairman Melvin Rowland of Uvalde, Chairman; Renal B. Rosson of Snyder, Vice-Chairman; and P. Bolin Mahaffey of Corpus Christi, Member, head the new state agency whose general duties include administering a state certificate of need program.

According to Commissioner Rowland, the initial actions of the Commission have been to develop procedures where projects under development on May 28, 1975, the effective date of the law, many receive prompt consideration. In writing the law, the Legislature recognized that projects were under development and made provisions whereby Certificates of Exemption or Declaratory Rulings could be issued by the Commission for those ongoing or pending projects. A period of 120 days, beginning May 28, 1975, was provided by the Legislature for the filing of Applications for the Exemption Certificates or pending projects.

In other provisions of the law, the Legislature mandated the Commission to establish rules and procedures whereby Applications will be considered for a Certificate of Need for those projects which are ineligible for an Exemption Certificate or Declaratory Ruling. The law established the Certificate of Need process, and laid out specific procedures whereby facilities must submit an Application to the Commission for modifications, changes in size, direct health care services, and equipment.

The Commission must then respond to the Application by holding a Public Hearing on the need for that project in the community not earlier than the 61st day or not later than the 70th day after receipt of a completed Application.

Following the completion of the Hearing, to be conducted by a Hearing Officer who is a licensed attorney in the State of Texas, the Commission must then render its final determination in not less than 90 days following the receipt of the completed Application.

In the development of the procedures and the rules for the conduct of its business, the Commission is drafting proposed rules for public comment. It is expected that the proposed rules will be circulated within the next 30 to 60 days for public hearings and comment prior to publication. According to Commissioner Rowland, a series of hearings will be conducted at several locations around the State in order to invite the broadest participation by interested parties.

After these hearings, the rules of the Commission will be published. After issuance of these rules, the 75-90 day process outlined above will be required before decisions on applications can be rendered.

Southern Farm Bureau Life Ins. Co. I have recently changed my employment situation and am now self-employed. Is there any way to receive tax-saving deductions and set up a pension plan for myself?

Yes. Under the Pension Reform Act of 1974, you may now receive many of the tax benefits enjoyed by employees of corporations. For retirement plan purposes... you are both an employer: being permitted to set aside up to 15% of earned annual income or $7,500, whichever is greater, toward a pension plan... and an employee: not being taxed on such contributions or on the income earned by the funds during the accumulation period. To receive these benefits, you need to be under a qualified Keogh plan. Life insurance plans can pay retirement income as long as you live and pure insurance proceeds in such a plan are received by your beneficiary free of income taxes.

Field Day Sept. 9 At Lubbock TAES

Two top money makers in the South Plains agricultural spectrum, cotton and grain sorghum, will be featured here Tuesday, Sept. 9, as the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station kicks off its 66th Annual Field Day.

Some 120 varieties of cotton in irrigated, dryland and special glandless field tests are set for exhibition, reports Dr. Earl Minton, field day committee chairman. Also, a review of grain sorghums with bred-in resistance to greenbug damage will be presented by one of the hybrids originators, Dr. Jerry Johnson, TAES sorghum breeder.

Dr. Levon Ray, cotton geneticist, is scheduled to present the cotton variety portion of the field day program.

Field day activities begin at 1:00 p.m., with a 10:00 a.m. continuing until 5:00 p.m. Tours via tractor-pulled trailers will leave the Experiment Station headquarters every 15 minutes throughout the afternoon.

Says Ray, visitors will be able to view 61 varieties of irrigated cotton, 44 varieties on dryland and a special field test evaluating the performance of 16 glandless cotton varieties. Varieties are evaluated under conditions of severe verticillium wilt and in narrow row plantings, notes the researcher. Information gathered on lint and seed yields, fiber properties gin turnout and other characteristics will help producers in selecting a cotton variety for next season.

"Our field day tour will not only afford a first hand opportunity to compare cotton varieties growing side by side, but also to discuss important attributes of varieties including several new varieties just coming on the market," says Ray.

Discussing the genetics of the greenbug resistance hybrids, Johnson says, not only do the resistant hybrids have fewer greenbugs than the hybrids presently on the market, but they are able to tolerate larger numbers before sustaining leaf injury from a toxin injected by the insect.

In 1974 tests resistant hybrids produced 5,500 pounds per acre. Grain yield of susceptible hybrids was reduced by almost 50 percent, from 5,500 pounds to 2,600 pounds where the insects were not controlled, the TAES scientist reports.

Johnson will also be on hand to demonstrate the greenbug resistant sorghum varieties at the Experiment Station at Halfway's Field Day scheduled two days after the Lubbock event, on Sept. 11. Halfway field day activities begin at 1:00 p.m. running until 5:00. Halfway field day activities begin at 1:00 p.m. running until 5:00. The Halfway center is located 14 miles west of Plainview on Hwy 70.

The 275-acre Lubbock station, which houses TAES and Extension staffs, USDA-ARS personnel and the agricultural meteorologist of the National Weather Service, is located 7 1/2 miles north of the city on Hwy 87, just north of the Lubbock Regional Airport.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Campaigns for and against a new Texas constitution are getting off the ground.

Proponents of the far-reaching revision to be voted on November 4 have opened an Austin headquarters under the direction of former State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert and State Rep. Ronald Earle of Austin.

Opponents, for the time being led by State Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler, are setting up shop in an office building across the street.

First copies of a proposed voter's guide to the revision document were placed in the mail last week. They present complete text of the eight propositions to be voted on, with a comparison summary of the "old" and "new" constitutional provisions.

Acknowledged opposition has centered largely on the proposal for annual sessions of the legislature — a 140-day session during odd-numbered years and a 90-day meeting on even-numbered years.

House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, concerned over effect of the opposition, asked an attorney general's opinion on whether the short, even-year session could be limited by law or legislative rule to budgetary and emergency matters.

Their proposal immediately stirred strong disapproving comment from both proponents and opponents of revision, indicating, perhaps, a hot campaign during the next three months.

Ouster Rules Drawn

A Senate committee approved rules for the impeachment trial by 31 senators of 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo September 3.

Carrillo personally appeared at the committee hearing with his attorneys, Leon Jaworski, the former Watergate prosecutor, who will be special counsel to the Senate presiding officer, urged proceedings be conducted "on a high plane in strict accord with the rules."

The committee tentatively approved live broadcast news coverage of the trial and recommended a gag rule to restrict comment by senators on proceedings in which they sit as court and jury.

Carrillo subsequently has been indicted by a Jim Wells County grand jury. He already faced a September 8 trial date on an income tax case in federal court at Corpus Christi and an October 2 hearing by a Judicial Qualifications Commission master in removal proceedings.

Allowable Wide Open Again

The Railroad Commission set the oil allowable for the 42nd straight month at 100 per cent of potential.

Commissioner Jim Langdon said a 15 per cent shortfall is expected in interstate gas pipelines this winter.

Any action by the federal government to take Texas gas reserves to make up for shortages in other states would amount to "a rape of Texas," Langdon commented.

"If it is a cold winter, and indications are that it will be, things are going to be pretty tough, gentlemen," Langdon told oil and gas company representatives at the Commission's meeting to set the allowable.

AG Opinions

A state representative who intentionally charges expenditures to the state in excess of the authorized amount is subject to prosecution under the penal code, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Teachers cannot be school board members in the same district which employs them.

- Beginning September 1, judges must contribute six per cent of their annual compensation paid by the state to their retirement fund, legislators eight per cent.

- A motion for discovery rather than the Open Records Act is the appropriate means for access to information in a welfare recipient's case file concerning pending criminal charges against him.

- There is no law authorizing Wharton County to cease operation of the county's Nightingale Hospital, other than by lease.

- Texas Board of Dental Examiners may not require dental assistants to register with the Board and pay an annual fee nor permit employment of more than one dental hygienist per dentist.

- A member of the board of commissioners of the Port of Houston Authority may also be a member of the Texas Amusement Machine Commission.

- A board of regents may not compel a college faculty member or employee to take a leave of absence without pay while campaigning for public office in a school district, city or other local governmental district, but may require that for candidates for any other public office.

- Information on inventories from grain warehouse reports of the Department of Agriculture is not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act.

Appointments

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Dr. June Hyer of Seabrook, Howard Richards of Beaumont and John Fainter of Houston to the economy-hunting Joint Advisory Committee on Government Operations.

Briscoe appointed James H. Keeshan of Montgomery as district attorney for the ninth district (Montgomery, Polk, San Jacinto and Waller counties), and K. Baker of Carthage as 123rd district judge (Shelby and Panola counties).

The Governor picked Rudy Day of Dallas as chairman of the new Texas Committee on Indochinese Resettlement.

He reappointed Dr. Everett D. Wilson, of Huntsville and Dr. John Mack Prescott of College Station to the State Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences.

Cadar Parr of Irving September 1 becomes associate commissioner for occupational education and technology.

Short Snorts

State Highway and Public Transportation Commission received $17.1 in public transportation fund requests from San Antonio, Beaumont, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Lubbock and Amarillo.

State Board of Insurance approved a joint plan by Texas insurance companies for providing malpractice coverage to hospitals and doctors.

A legislative public health sub-committee recommended doctors be relicensed every five years to insure their keeping up with the times.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said 31 retail firms shut down for back sales taxes owe more than $1 million which will be recovered by the state and cities.

Texas Vegetable Production Worth About $52,566,000

Despite drought in some areas and excessive rain in others, Texas vegetable production during the 1975 spring quarter is expected to be worth $52,566,000, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

According to recently released Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service figures Texas will lead the nation in production of cantaloups.

Total value of the 1975 Texas cantaloup crop is expected to be $15.9 million, up from last year's $11.2 million crop. Production will be approximately 1,020,000 pounds per hundredweight, compared with last year's production of 855,000 pounds per hundredweight. Harvested acreage is 8,500, down only slightly from last year. At the same time, yield per acre has jumped from 95 pounds per hundredweight last year to 120 pounds per hundredweight this year.

In addition, Texas is expected to rank second in production of watermelons, green peppers and carrots.

Harvested acres of Texas watermelons in 1975 is predicted to be 24,000, down 3,000 from last year. Production is 1,680,000 pounds per hundredweight, down 750,000 pounds per hundredweight from 1974. The smaller crop was caused by drought in some areas and hail in others, Commissioner White said. Value of the crop is placed at $9,677,000 this year.

Production of green peppers is expected to be approximately 142,000 pounds per hundredweight, down slightly from 1974. Harvested acreage remains the same this year, at 2,000 acres. Value of this year's crop will be $3.7 million, compared with nearly $4.2 million in 1974.

Expected value of this year's carrot crop in Texas is $5,379,000, compared with only $4,471,000 last year. Harvested acreage has decreased from 5,100 in 1974 to 3,600 in 1975, yet yield per acre this year is 170 pounds per hundredweight, an increase of 20 over last year.

Production of cabbage is estimated at 690,000 pounds per hundredweight, a decrease of 156,000 pounds per hundredweight from 1974. Harvested acreage is down slightly, too, at 3,000 acres. Value of the 1975 crop is expected to be approximately $3.8 million.

About 3,600 acres of tomatoes will be harvested this year in Texas, with a yield of 221,000 pounds per hundredweight, an increase over 1974 production. The 1975 crop is valued at $5,748,000, compared with only $3,179,000 last year.

Harvested acres of cucumbers will remain nearly the same as last year, at 2,700 acres, 100 acres less than in 1974. Production will be 127,000 pounds per hundredweight and value of the crop is expected to be $1,765,000.

Sweet corn production in Texas is estimated at 111,000 pounds per hundredweight, down from last year's harvest of 126,000 pounds per hundredweight. Total value of the 1975 crop will be $834,000, a decrease from last year's $1,032,000 crop. Harvested acreage is only 1,700, compared with 2,800 in 1974, but yield per harvested acre has increased by 20 pounds per hundredweight.

An increase in production is expected for honeydew. Production in Texas is about 264,000 pounds per hundredweight, up by 10,000 pounds per hundredweight from 254,000 in 1974. Total value of the crop is expected to jump to $1,975,000 in 1975. Harvested acreage is 100 acres more than last year.

Equipment Prices Scheduled To Ease

Farmers shopping for needed equipment in the coming months may be faced with a rather pleasant change—wider selections and, maybe, somewhat lower prices.

After a year of record low farm equipment inventories in 1974 and the resulting skyrocketing prices, equipment supplies are once again increasing to the point that prices may ease somewhat during the remainder of the year.

That's the contention of Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Although farm income was down last year and is projected to be down again during 1975, expansions in crop acreage and the recent strength in livestock prices may stimulate some equipment purchases later in the year," points out the Texas

A&M University System specialist. "Of course, a big factor would be the softening or at least stabilizing of equipment prices."

During the first half of 1975, tractor sales have been 19 per cent below the pace set during the first six months last year. However, the sales of self-propelled combines increased 25 per cent during the first half of 1975 compared to the same time period last year.

The average price farmers paid for farm machinery rose 14 percent during the first half of this year while wholesale prices increased only 5 per cent. Also, motor vehicle prices rose only 5 percent. "This indicates that dealer margins on farm equipment have increased in recent years, and with inventories increasing, the time may be ripe for farmers to do some bargaining," says Hayenga.

"Overall, it looks like supply-demand situations for farmer equipment is back from the imbalance year to a more normal level," adds the economist.

Illegal Savings Bond, Chain Letter Schemes Revealed, Warnings Issued

If someone asks you to join a money-making plan involving chain letters and U.S. Savings Bonds, you'd better refuse. You aren't likely to make any money—it's more likely you'll lose your "investment" to get in on the deal—and it's possible you may be prosecuted for violation of federal, state or local laws.

A few months ago, a number of endless-chain schemes were launched in Southern California. The intermingling organizations were active under several misleading names—"Your March of Bonds", "Inflation Defense Foundation", "Century Club", "Exclusive One Million, Inc.", "Uncle Sam Investment, Inc.", "Six-Pack Club".

The scheme most often used worked this way—the victim became an "active member" by paying $37.50 to a "sponsor". In return, he received a membership list of 10 names and a $25 Savings Bond, recently purchased for $18.75, made payable to the first person on the list.

The new "member" made two new membership lists, crossing off the top name on the original list and adding his own name at the bottom. He then purchased two $25 Bonds, payable to the person who was then first on the new lists. He delivered the Bond that came with the first list to the person named—personally or by mail.

As a "new member", he was required to pay annual dues of $3 and to purchase membership books, at $1.50 each, to give to the two "new members" he brought into the scheme. The victim had spent $81, but was told he would recover most of his investment when he sold his two lists. He did, in fact, recover $75, if he was able to do so.

However, for one member to receive $19,200—the promised windfall—1,024 new members would have had to join after he did, without the chain's being broken. To achieve "optimum success", the schemes required a membership of 250 times the entire population of the world.

Since the membership lists were originally prepared by the promoters—with their names and addresses or those of their associates heading the lists—the scheme would provide Bonds for the promoters long before—if ever—new members reaped any harvest.

The promoters of that plan used two variations—the "Six Pack", involving lists with only six names, and the "Century Club", which used $100 Bonds, in lieu of $25 Bonds.

The California Attorney General, Los Angeles County District Attorney and the Los Angeles City Attorney cooperated in the investigation, arrests and convictions of the promoters, who were held in violation of the California Penal Code concerning endless-chains and lotteries.

Rather than circulate the lists or the Bonds through the mails, those promoters relied upon meetings in private homes to further their schemes. Had the mails been used, the promoters would have been in violation of the U.S. Code, Title 18, Section 1302—the "lottery" statute—which proscribes the mailing of material concerning a lottery promotion. It establishes criminal sanctions of a $1,000 fine or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, upon conviction. They would also have been in violation of Section 1341—the "mail fraud" statute.

Most of the "bottom-liners" involved in such schemes are relatively innocent of wrongdoing. They have no intention of perpetrating a fraudulent scheme or otherwise using the mails illegally. In addition to the promise of a dollar reward, they are often persuaded that they are being "patriotic"—helping their government's Savings Bonds Program.

Over the years, the Department of the Treasury has advised the public that chain-letter schemes involving Savings Bonds—which are essentially get-rich-quick endeavors—do a distinct disservice to the Savings Bonds Program. Instead of encouraging individuals to develop genuine savings plans, they create the illusion that participants are both aiding their government and themselves. Even in the rare case where an individual receives a large return, it is likely that he would quickly redeem the Bonds, thereby placing a further burden on the Treasury.

From time to time, the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division distributes news releases warning of the illegality of chain-letter schemes involving Savings Bonds. When a specific instance is brought to its attention, special releases are distributed to news media in the areas involved.

Individuals who purchase Savings Bonds for such chain-letter schemes, and who discover that participation may violate certain laws and regulations, may request a refund, using Treasury Form PD-2966. This form is available at many banks; it may also be requested from the Bureau of the Public Debt, 200 Third St., Parkersburg, W. Va. 26101.

Children With Asthma To Be Treated At Clinic

If you haven't heard of the "Buckin' Bronchos", perhaps you should—this is a class of special interest to parents whose children have asthma, or similar respiratory problems. Coming up is the 5th Breathing Exercise and Physical Fitness Class (the "Buckin' Bronchos") for children 8-12, who have moderately severe or persistent chronic pulmonary disease.

This program is sponsored jointly by the West Texas Area of the American Lung Association of Texas and the Texas Tech School of Medicine.

These children, with proper training (and practice at home), can be taught to use their abdominal muscles to improve their breathing. They then become less apprehensive during an attack, and can frequently decrease the length and severity of attacks.

This program is carried out by the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. Personnel members include, Walter Gault (department head), Charlie Scearce and Neal Hughes, therapists, a second year medical student, and graduate physical education students. A psychologist, Frank Fee, will be on hand for counseling students and parents. Dr. James R. Crisp is medical advisor.

No medical advise is given to children or parents, no will a child's attendance interfere with or change prescribed treatment.

The 5th series of these classes begins Saturday, Sept. 13, and will continue through Nov. 15, a course of 10 successive Saturday sessions.

These weekly sessions will be from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at Thompson Hall on the Tech Campus. A $10 registration fee is charged each child. A fund has been established for children whose parents are unable to pay.
