Drinking In Public Ordinance Passed, City Officers To Increase Surveillance

A LOVVORN
A regular meeting Thursday night in the study hall of Littlefield High School voted to pass an ordinance making it unlawful to drink, consume, or possess any alcoholic beverage in any alley, park or parking lot of the city of Littlefield, making it an open or broken-seal violation of the ordinance, and providing a penalty for each violation, and providing the date.

for the breaking of those laws; and to adopt the Emergency Operation Plan as submitted by the Civil Defense director. Other action included the approval of minutes of the past two meetings— a regular meeting Aug. 7 and a special meeting Aug. 14, when councilmen awarded the bid on janitorial service for the municipal building to B. R. Garney and reviewed the proposed budget for the fiscal year 1975-76; elected Paul Carmickle as mayor pro tem; awarded a bid for the purchase of a gooseneck equipment trailer; and discussed the Veterans' Administration on-the-job training program.

The first order of business was the consideration of bids for the gooseneck equipment trailer. Three bids were received, but the lowest bid was unsigned. Councilmen authorized the city manager, Jim Blagg, to check into the matter and granted him permission to purchase the trailer if all the procedures went well. Bids on the gooseneck equipment trailer included: $6,250 from Broadview Steel Co., with a promise of 60 days' delivery time; $6,727 from Montgomery Welding, with a promise of 60 days' delivery; and the unsigned low bid of $3,747 from McDonald's Trading Post of Plainview, who has the trailer in stock. Due to an error in Thursday's edition of the Leader-News concerning the meeting time, some citizens arrived after the meeting had adjourned and were too late to discuss the ordinance related to drinking in public. The Council meeting was set at 7 p.m., rather than at 8 p.m. as published. However, the only formal legal notice of the meeting stated 7:00 p.m. and was posted in the City Hall. However, there were approximately 30 others who appeared to represent those who wanted the ordinance passed— although most did not speak on the matter. Several stood along the walls of the room because of lack of seating. City Patrolman John Despres, who was present at the Aug. 7 meeting when the ordinance was first discussed, presented a report on littering and vandalism that have occurred since the last meeting, and stated, "I was like Chester (Harvey), I was in favor of giving them a chance, but they didn't come through." He reported that several street lights have been broken out, a grid light was stolen off the top of a patrol car one night and returned later, cars have been blocking entrances to the parking lots, a dumpster between the courthouse and city hall was drug onto Seventh Street and overturned, some persons were hurt in a fight on the lot, streets are littered with beer cans and bottles, some of which appear deliberately, and the field house was broken into and vandalized Wednesday night. Councilman Chester Harvey stated, "We gave them a chance and they didn't take it, so I'm ready to pass it!" (the ordinance). All councilmen and the mayor were present, and councilmen voted unanimously to pass the ordinance. A citizen in the audience emphasized that the police force now "needs to tighten up on security." City Manager Jim Blagg read an ordinance which is now in force in Plainview, and after several minutes of discussion by the council, members decided to delete a paragraph containing a curfew and voted unanimously to pass that ordinance, which defines the term "parking area" and the conduct of persons on that area. Complete context of both ordinances may be found inside this issue of the Leader-News. The second ordinance makes it unlawful for any person in control or possession of a motor vehicle in a parking area to: Accelerate or race the motor to cause a loud noise, bring vehicles to sudden starts or stops, or blow horns when there is no necessity, or

School Zone Markers, Crosswalks Now In Place

Harold Heller, director of public works, said new school signs are all in place in time for the start of school here this week. The city of Littlefield budgeted money toward upgrading school zone markers which are in place about a block before entrance into all of the school zones. New crosswalk signs are of the symbol type to make it easier for the very young who can't read. Crossing zones on business route 84 or Delano have been moved down about a block east of the previous crossing at Pay & Save on Delano. A crosswalk has been added on North Westside for students who cross the railroad tracks. Double yellow No Passing stripes have been painted on Westside from 1st Street to Reed to eliminate some hazards which can occur when parents are picking up their children. The pickup area in front of Elementary I and Elementary II have been lengthened so more vehicles can pull up in the traffic area to pick up children.

Stirring music will be provided by the Wildcat band and the evening will provide spectators an opportunity to view past athletes, would-be athletes, sometime athletes, beautiful cheerleaders, fantastic referees (coaches), and to hear outstanding play-by-play commentary by some of local radio's best known announcers. All proceeds will go toward construction of Littlefield Memorial Tennis Courts.

Therm-O-Lax
Everest & Jennings

Moist Heat Treatment Pad. Generates Moist Heat Without The Use Of Water. Safe. UL Approved.

Now Therm-O-Lax brings you the benefits of moist heat therapy without the inconvenience and the messiness of hot water compresses.

For many, many years medical authorities have known that moist heat treatments give soothing relief from aches and pains — much more effectively than heat alone. Moist heat treatments are widely used today in hospitals, spas, health resorts, sanitariums — wherever patients are treated for conditions which moist heat can benefit.

But in the past, home treatment with moist heat involved the tedious process of soaking towels or compresses in boiling water, then wringing them out. The job was time-consuming, messy, dangerous. And effective only as long as the towels stayed hot. And even today, most moist heat treatment pads on the market require the inconvenience of boiling before use. Now — with Therm-O-Lax — you can easily and conveniently treat yourself with moist heat. (As for any self-administered treatment, we recommend you seek your physician's advice before applying moist heat.)

Conditions benefiting from moist heat.

Moist heat treatments help relax stiff muscles, soothe the nervous system, help induce sleep, control fever, improve circulation, relieve chest and sinus congestion, ease bruises, help with rheumatic and arthritic conditions.

How Therm-O-Lax generates moist heat without adding water.

Therm-O-Lax has a thermostatically-controlled heating unit. The heat generated by this unit attracts moisture directly from the air. This moisture is captured and retained by Therm-O-Lax's specially-processed, textured flannel cover. A layer of moisture is produced between Therm-O-Lax and the body.

The moist heat that results raises the body temperature and activates the sweat glands. The moist heat treatment reaches deep into the muscles and affected areas during the recommended 20 to 30 minutes treatment.

The benefits of controlled, continuous moist heat

Therm-O-Lax is thermostatically-controlled to give the desired temperature continuously throughout the treatment period. This allows deep heat penetration and maximum benefits from each application.

As guests arrived they were registered in the bride's book by Melissa Shelton of Arlington. The table was decorated with a blue candle and flower arrangement.

Wilburn Dennis, minister of the Crescent Park Church of Christ, officiated for the reading of the vows as the couple stood before the altar centered with a large arrangement of blue gladioli and spiral candelabra with Huch foliage and blue tapered candles. After they exchanged vows the couple lit a memory candle.

The bride, who was presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white silk organza over Peau de Soie. The basque bodice featured a sheer yoke highlighted in pearl encrusted floral appliques of Peau-de-Angel lace.

Long bishop sleeves were softly shirred to wide cuffs enhanced in lace and seed pearls with covered buttons and loop closure. The slightly gathered skirt fell to a deep flounced hemline which swept to back fullness and cascaded to a chapel length train. Encircling the entire edge of the skirt were lines of beaded applique lace and seed pearls. She wore a matching lace mantilla veil which fell from a Peau de Angel lace and pearl capulet and drifted the entire length of her train.

She carried a classic bouquet of stephanotis, gladioli and baby's breath with satin streamers.

For something "old and borrowed" the bride wore a lavalier belonging to her maternal grandmother. Something blue, the traditional garter and she had pennies minted in the year of the couples birth in the shoes. Something "new" was her dress and veil. Her gown and veil were styled and made by her mother.

Music selections were sung by the church chorus: "Wedding March," "Twelfth of Never" and "Wedding Prayer." Miss Kristi Kesey of Pecos, cousin of the bride, sang "Wedding Song" and "One Hand, One Heart."

Special guests were grandmothers of the bride Mrs. Essie Bales and Mrs. S. A. Purdy and grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ross, all of Littlefield.

The brides mother wore a floor-length dress of deep pink chiffon with pleated skirt and long sheer sleeves. Groom's mother wore a floor length dress chiffon in pastel shades with rolled collar and set in band. Both mothers wore corsages of jappette orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship room of the church. The table was laid with a white cloth centered with a silver candelabra and blue-flower arrangement. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue roses, wedding bells and doves.

Serving at the table was Melissa Shelton, Angela Purdy, sister-in-law of bride, Pixie Purdy, sister-in-law of the bride and Pamela Bales of Amherst, cousin of the bride.

The houseparty consisted of Mrs. Arlen Simpson, Bobby Short, Fred Owens, Gene Hanlin, Royal Kirby, James Adair and Buddy Wells.

AF Officer Writes Home About Situation In Turkey

Editor's note: This letter was received by the V. D. Hodges of Whitharral from their son, James N. Hodges of Istanbul, Turkey, where he is stationed in the Air Force.

Friday, Aug. 1, 1975

Dear Mother and Dad,

Hope this finds you doing o.k. We are still doing alright here. Not much we can really tell as yet as they haven't put out very much information about what is going to happen. Everything is mass confusion so far. We are still working in my Det. but most of the other people have had to quit completely. We have a bunch of them over in our outfit to give them something to do. Sure is a mess. We have been in no danger of any kind and most of it is their way of trying to force congress to give them back the aid. Of course it will affect us more than anyone.

As it stands right now we have a Turkish Base Commander, an Army Colonel. We have to follow Turkish laws which we were doing any way but strictly now. We have no rights as American Military and American military law does not even apply now. The take over here was very peaceful as only 15 people came to the base—of course we already had about 150 Turk Sailors on base as guards anyway and they took over the gate and control who comes and goes.

About the worse thing they have done so far is we no longer have any tax free status with certain items like we did before. Any of these items anyone buys after July 25, which was last Friday when Congress turned down the aid again, is they (or we) will have to pay their custom tax at 120 percent of the cost of the item. That means for a $100 item we would have to pay the Turks $120 for buying it. That makes it cost $220 total.

Most of these items we can get by without buying as far as I know. We aren't sure just how far they plan to go with that as yet. They won't say anything definite. Also they have stopped all furniture and cars from being shipped out of the country. That is mainly what has every one worried here now, not knowing if they will be able to take their stuff out of here with them or not. Still nothing has been said for certain if it is temporary or permanent. We can only hope for the best.

Most everybody here is hoping we will be able to get the families and furniture out of here soon. They won't let anybody take anything with them right now. That really has everybody upset and as soon as things let go I am going to try to get Dorothy and the kids back to the states and out of this mess. Thanks to our Congress.

What little news we get about this situation is from British Broadcasting Corp. on short wave radio. They won't let our radio station say anything about Turkey and this situation at all. All we hear it bits and pieces here and there. So far as I know we have not heard a word from air force headquarters, Washington or any of our commands. We seem to be all on our own and just have to make the best of what we can. I would at least like to see, them get all the dependents out of here.

It makes it rough on everyone, as long as they are here I'm afraid things will slowly get worse and worse and we will have to do more and more to pacify the Turks. They are definitely using us to try and force congress to give them back the aid. So far it has appeared that no one really cares that all these dependents over here are going thru hell not knowing if they will be able to get any of their possessions out of here.

This week has been pretty hard on everyone's nerves and the uncertainty of all this makes it even worse. If we could find out just what's being done about all this it might not be so bad. All we can do is wait and hope. So far they have not stopped our mail, or so they say. We don't know if all of it has been coming in or not. We are hoping it continues to come and go. We never know when they will change their mind on anything until it has already been done.

Well, so far that's about all that's happened here so I'll close this for now. We'll let you know more later as things happen if at all possible. Take care of yourselves and try not to worry as we are doing pretty good considering all this mess. Tell everyone hello for us.

All our love,

Norman, Dorothy, Robin and Jay P. S. What makes everyone here mad is that it seems our government hasn't bothered to say much of anything about all this except how much it hurts to lose these mornitory bases. When they really haven't lost much of anything for what good these places were doing. (Since this letter was written all the PX's and commissaries have been closed.)

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

HERE I AM in the hospital again. I have been here about 10 days and will be here a few more days. I'm not really very ill, just had a little heart flare-up and they are trying to quiet me down. I'll be fine in a few days, but as always troubles bring blessings. Everyone is so kind, the doctors and nurses and all the hospital personnel as well as my friends and my family.

I read a quotation once long ago that said "sometimes deepest sorrow wrapped in greatest blessings." It is hard to see at the time but looking back in life it is the sorrows and hard things in life we remember most.

In the "Love" edition, Luke 9:24-26 we have this, "whoever loses his life for my sake will save it, but whoever insists on keeping his life will lose it. And what profit is there in gaining the whole world when it means forfeiting one's self. When I, the man of Glory, come in my glory and the glory of the Father and the holy angels, I will be ashamed then of all them who are ashamed of Me and my words now."

Never be ashamed to acknowledge what God has done for you. Of course there may be some that will scorn you or act skeptical when you are talking about your trust in the Lord. But who are they but mere human beings? God is above all and possesses all power in heaven and on earth. He may not use His power like we would like for Him to—but He is God. He sees into the future as well as the past—He knows what tomorrow will bring and remember He doesn't look on death as we do. To Him it isn't even a curtain, we just step out of this life into the next which is more glorious than we can apprehend.

Someone sent me a magazine with this lovely little poem written by Mai O'Higgins which I would like to share with you. The title "It's only Jimmy, Jesus."

A little paper seller
Upon his rounds each day
Would pay a hurried visit
To the church across the way.
He'd just peep in and genuflect
Then say in voice so low
"It's only Jimmy, Jesus
Come in to say Hello."

And then one day the little lad
When his paper round was done
Fell victim to a speeding car,
A crazy "Hit and Run."
From the little church across the way
Rushed a priest, to the scene so sad
And later in the hospital
Prayed o'er the dying lad
He tells as the boy received the Host
He heard a small voice say
"It's only Jesus, Jimmy,
"I come to 'you' today."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Our Public Schools

IN 1647, the Massachusetts Bay Colony passed a law setting up a system of community supported schools. This action fitted the growing concept of a nation of people with the ability and power to be self-governing.

As the framework of our democratic society became more and more a reality, the need for an informed citizenry was more clearly identified.

It was obvious that public education was the only practical way to maintain a nation established on the principle of "government of the people, by the people and for the people."

THIS ARRANGEMENT has served our people well for over 300 years. It has successfully resisted all attacks from without and has survived in spite of its inherent weaknesses.

THOMAS JEFFERSON and others who conceived and gave the elements of permanency to the way of life that has been our national heritage, held the view that a successful republic and public education are inseparable.

This idea is the foundation of our public school system. We believe that history has proven the soundness of the principle and made it worthy of our loyal and intelligent support.

AT THIS SEASON, we are thinking of the public school and its important place in our social order. This is an appropriate time to think about the role in preserving our culture.

The school, with dedicated capable personnel, stands on the line in the fight against ignorance. It has been described as the "heart of democracy."

It is perhaps the greatest potential force we have with opposite unAmerican and ideologies.

TOO MANY OF US look at public schools as little more than a burden. We are blinded to purpose and true value.

After everything has been done, our public school stands as absolutely necessary survival as a democratic

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL, in spite of the abuse to which it is subjected, remains the greatest force in our nation.

It is asking for and is in need of intelligent and honest assistance from people who wish to preserve traditional ideals and aims of

WHAT WE DO about our schools now and in the future is an important factor in the preservation of all that we cherish.

PERHAPS WE'RE a little lax in letting our lawmakers know where we stand on some issues. I'm sure they can perform more efficiently when they feel that they have the support of their citizenry.

I say this, especially, having our City Councilmen in mind. I think they are to be commended for the action they have taken in passing the ordinance for bidding the consumption of alcoholic beverages in public. In view of the last liquor election, I'm sure they acted in accordance with the wishes of the majority of our townspeople.

THERE WERE a goodly number of people present at the Thursday night meeting. I'm of the opinion they were there, even as I, not as any kind of threat, but to lend encouragement and support to the Council. This, in spite of misinformation in our local paper as to the time of the meeting.

It gives you a warm feeling to know that we live in a country where we are free to attend such meetings as this. I'm guessing there are few places where this would be allowed.—AND LONG MAY SHE WAVE!

SCHOOL JUST ain't like it use to be... Thanks to modern science in the field of learning, improved condition, the shift of population, and to the supreme court.

Noticed that Littlefield and some of the surrounding schools will have a new program to help the student that has above average problems with certain courses. Some of the night schools had to shut down because of shift of population. Some attention required to change from one school to another because of changes as well as to help in the balance.

Noticed that Plainview was into a busing situation.

Don't know if all the changes are good or bad, but I have noticed that people today seem to be a little better than they use to be. Can't get schools credit for everything I'm sure that home environment

Lubbock Buys Property To Expand Water Well

Last Saturday the city of Lubbock announced the purchase of 531 acres of water-rich Bailey County Sandhills land from County Judge Bill Angel.

Purchase of the ranchland followed quiet negotiations for the property which is located next to 75,000 acres of land the City of Lubbock holds for water rights in Bailey County.

City councilmen said the acquisition of Angel's land will permit economical expansion of Lubbock's water wellfield. Lubbock Mayor Roy Bass signed the contract agreeing to payment of $225 per acre for the tract of land.

Council members had met in closed session Thursday to discuss the land offer. During a special meeting last Friday afternoon, the council authorized Bass to sign the sales contract at the agreed price. There was no explanation of the action until the purchase had been completed three hours later.

Sam Wahl, director of public works for Lubbock, said ownership of this property will permit the city of Lubbock to drill at least seven wells without costly extension of the main water collection line in the water wellfield.

Wahl said that they had drilled all the wells that could be drilled in the developed portion of the Sandhills without extending the trunk line. Before any more wells are added, he said an additional 2 1/2 to 3 miles of pipeline would be needed to the west. He estimated that cost at $1.2 to $1.5 million.

The Angel property is immediately south of Lubbock's reservoir and pump station. Additional wells can be drilled there, forestalling the expense of adding pipe for at least five years.

Lubbock officials estimated that there is more than 7,700 acre feet of recoverable water beneath the Angel property. Initial pumping should produce 5 million to 6 million gallons of water daily during the peak days of consumption for at least seven years.

Olton Approves School Budget

The Olton School Board has approved a 1975-76 budget of $1,190,096 of which a payroll of $886,196 is the major item.

Other budget items include $69,027 for contracted services, $60,143 supplies, $33,045 for other operating expenses, $60,457 for capital outlay and $81,227 for payment on indebtedness.

Projected receipts include $514,128 from local taxes, $4,000 directly from federal sources, and $677,968 from state sources.

The board voted unanimously to purchase liability insurance on all trustees. The cost will be $392 per year for premiums on $1 million in insurance.

Other action include the setting of prices for cafeteria lunches. Prices will be 55 cents for students from kindergarten through fifth grade; 60 cents for students from the sixth through the 12th grade and for all teachers, and $1 for all others.

The board also heard a letter from the Texas Education Agency advising school officials not to accept any student transfers that might change the racial balance of Olton school.

Springlake-Earth Board To Hear Property Owners

The Springlake-Earth school tax equalization board will meet Monday and Tuesday to hear comments from property owners on the reappraisal of property in the district.

The board will meet at 9:30 each day in the high school building.

Taxpayers in the S-E Independent School District will be paying about 25 to 30 percent more taxes this year because of an increase in the ratio of assessment.

The school board has approved a budget of $918,241 and set the tax rate at 90 cents per $100 valuation.

Board members said the raise in taxes was necessary to meet the greater load shifted to local school districts by the school finance bill passed by the last legislature.

can I check the financial stability of an insur- company and what does the company do with money it collects?

They write the Insurance Commissioner who will furnish information upon which to base your judgment. Available from most insurance representatives is a refer- ence which gives all the data on the sound companies. Money collected goes into the general funds of the com- pany to meet normal expenses plus make the pay- ment to the policyholders and beneficiaries. The balance, with the company's reserves, are invested and earn mon- ey for future benefit payments for the policyholders. In- surance made by insurance companies have lowered the cost of life insurance so that it is less than it was 20 years ago.

TTU Offers Classes 7.30 A.M.-10 P.M.

Back-to-school means classes from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. at Texas Tech University—and hundreds are expected to register for the night classes offered for the 1975 fall semester.

More than 200 courses will be offered at night starting Sept. 2. All are offered for credit. Some are for beginners, at the freshman level. Many are for graduate students.

Courses are being offered at night in all of the university's six colleges—Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering, and Home Economics—and in the Graduate School.

To make it easier for working people to register, a special registration will be conducted for the night classes or for students taking only one or two courses.

This registration will take place in the Division of Continuing Education office in Building X-15, across from the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium. Dates and time are Aug. 20-22, 12 noon to 8 p.m.; Aug. 23, 8 a.m. to 12 noon; and Aug. 25-26, 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Late registration will be available Sept. 2-3, 12 noon to 8 p.m.; but students registering late run the risk of not being able to get the classes they want, according to Dean C. Thomas Reese of the Division of Continuing Education.

Dr. Sam E. Curl, associate vice president for Academic Affairs, said that students regularly enrolled in the university are expected to register at the hours assigned to them during regular registration at the Coliseum.

Dean Reese said that increasing numbers of individuals are taking advantage of the night classes.

"For some it is the only way they can hold a job and still work toward a degree," he said. "For others the degree is not the goal. Some want to advance on the job by improving skills or advancing the range of their knowledge. For some a night school course is taken just for the enjoyment of learning."

"We don't question goals," Reese said, "but we do urge students to obtain counseling, and this is imperative for students who are working toward a degree." Counseling is available in departmental or dean's offices, Reese said, and this should be done before registration.

Reese said that night classes begin at 6 p.m. and most are over by 9 p.m. although some last until 10 p.m.

Courses range from geology to masterpieces of literature, from agricultural plant science to art courses in drawing, design or sculpture, from elementary accounting to legal and political

Halfway Field Day On Tap Sept. 11

A crop rotation system utilizing soybeans, triticale and sunflowers allowing all three to be produced within two growing seasons will be one of the premier attractions of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway Field Day for Thursday, Sept. 11.

J. Joe Wright, who heads up the small grains Halfway research program, says that in the system, soybeans would be planted in early May for the first year of the rotation system.

Soybeans would then be harvested in late Sept. in order for triticale or wheat to be planted by mid Oct., says Wright. The small grain crop would then be harvested in mid to late June of the following year.

Sunflowers, final crop of the rotation system, could then be planted no later than mid July. Such a rotation system would allow three crops to be produced under adequate to ideal cultural conditions within two

Retirement Bonds On Sale

The Department of the Treasury has placed on sale U.S. Individual Retirement Bonds. They are specifically designed for investment by persons who lack coverage by another retirement plan. The Bonds are issued pursuant to the provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

They are sold at face value in denominations of $50, $100 and $500. Interest accrues at the rate of six percent per year, compounded semiannually, and is payable upon redemption.

The new Bonds permit persons, who work for employers unable to finance a pension plan, to set aside a portion of their annual income—up to a yearly limit of $1,500, or 15 percent of gross income, whichever is less—for retirement. The amount set aside annually is deductible from gross income for federal income tax purposes.

Because they are designed to be used for personal retirement, the Bonds carry certain redemption restrictions. During the first year after issue, they may be redeemed without interest or penalty. They may be cashed, with a tax penalty, until the owner reaches age 59-1/2, after which the Bonds may be redeemed without penalty.
