40 Hogs, Barn Destroyed In Fire

Littlefield and Sudan volunteer firemen were unable to save a farrowing barn and about 40 hogs belonging to Lloyd Pryor at Amherst.

The barn, located two miles west of Amherst, had central heating and heat bulbs in it, and firemen said some hay evidently caught fire from one of these sources. Four or five brood sows and about 35 little pigs perished in the blaze that was fanned by high winds Saturday.

About 600 bales of hay was also lost in Both Sudan and Littlefield units were at the scene about three hours each and saved an adjoining barn by keeping it wet.

Coach Lewis Assigned As Assistant Principal

knacks

Littlefield schools will begin accepting applications for a head football coach in the next few days, following the assignment of Coach Deverelle Lewis as an assistant principal in the junior high for the 1971-72 school term.

That action was taken by the school board Monday night in a marathon regular meeting in which the board also:

1. Renewed three-year contracts of Supt. Paul I. Jones and Tax Collector Sid

2. Ordered the annual trustee election for Saturday, April 3, and accepted filings for re-election from the board members whose terms expire, Buddy Bingham and F.L. Newton.

3. Approved a new policy on the paying of lunchroom employees after hearing complaints on present procedures from a 17-woman delegation which visited the

Lewis was stricken with a heart attack in the second week of his second season here this fall. His assistants directed the program the rest of the season. Although the progress of Lewis' recovery has been good and he has returned to classroom duties, board members felt the school's position for the 1971 season would be uncertain. As one trustee expressed himself, 'Coach Lewis has done a good job, and he certainly has revived the interest of the boys, and their participation, in football." "But," he added, "I think we have to begin getting ready for next year now, and be sure of our situation." The board later instructed Supt. Jones to begin taking applications for the coaching matter resolved in the near future. It was not determined at the meeting when the new coach would begin duties here. Presumably, that question will be settled when the board makes its choice.

TAKING UP the contracts of the superintendent and tax collector, the board gave one-year extensions to both, following a policy in practice here several

The extensions gave Jones and Hopping both three years on their contracts. In ordering the trustee election for April 3, the board announced a filing deadline of March 4, 30 days before the election. Bingham, the president of the board, and Newton, whose terms expire, filed for re-election during the meeting. Others may file with Hopping at the school tax office.

25 FHA DWELLINGS BEING BUILT HERE

Uncle Sam's Subsidizing Homes

PERMITS FOR 25 new FHA three-bedroom, two-bath houses for me dium income families have been issued on property south of Littlefield High School. Sammy Hightower, left, of Levelland is the contractor for the homes, and Paul Carmickle of Littlefield is the broker. Maximum down payment is $250, and monthly payments are $70 to $90 a month and include taxes and insurance.

By NILAH RODGERS Leader-News Staff Writer

America's Uncle Sam and another Sam, Sammy Hightower of Levelland, have combined resources for a shot-in-the arm boost to the economy of Littlefield.

The government is making it possible for medium income families to buy new brick trim, three-bedroom, two-bath, single or double car garage homes by paying about one-half the average price, and Hightower is the contractor for the housing development. Paul Carmickle of Littlefield is the broker, owns the lots in the Westwood Addition south of Littlefield High School where the houses are being built, and is the man who can answer all the questions people have concerning the new homes. Four houses have just been completed. and 21 more permits for construction have been issued and construction on these will

Called the FHA 235 program, the plan allows young couples, retired persons and many of those with incomes of $3500 and up per year who have too much month left at the end of their money to live in comfortable homes in a growing section of town they otherwise couldn't afford.

Down payments are a maximum of $250, and monthly payments (which include taxes and interest) that would normally be around $140 are from $65 to $90 per month.

Interest rates are a low four to five per cent, depending on the individual, instead of the going rate of eight per cent-plus interest rate that most recent purchasers are paying. And the low cost loans are set up on a 30-year basis. With the government paying about one-half the cost, this could be considered a 15-year-loan, depending on a person's outlook, Hightower said.

Construction on the first four houses built under the program here started about three menths ago, and three of the four are already sold.

Hightower said after the first 25 allocations are gone there won't be any more money alloted until April. Hightower is building the homes from four basic floor plans or will build to specification. The smallest of the plans has 1,100 square feet of living space, a medium sized plan has 1,380 square feet and the largest has 1,600.

All of the houses are completely in

Most Beautiful Will

IT WAS FOUND in the pocket of an old ragged coat belonging to an insane patient of the Chicago poorhouse. He had been a lawyer and the Will was written in a firm, clear hand on a few scraps of paper. So unusual was the Will that it was read before the Chicago Bar Association which ordered it probated, and it is now on the Record of Cook County, Illinois:

I. CHARLES LOUNSBERRY, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make and publish this, my Last Will and Testament, in order, as justly may be, to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men.

That part of my interest which is known in law and recognized in sheepbound volumes as my property being in-considerable and non account, I will make no disposition of it in this my Will. My right to live, being but a life estate, is not at my disposal, but these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and

I GIVE TO all good fathers and mothers in trust for their children, all good little words of praise and encouragement, and all quaint pet names and endearments, and I charge such parents to use them justly, but generously, as the needs of their children shall require.

I LEAVE TO CHILDREN, inclusively, but only for the term of childhood, all and every flower of the fields, and the blossoms of the woods with the right to play among them freely, according to the customs of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns. And I devise to children the banks of the brooks and the golden sands beneath the waters thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float ITEM high over the giant trees.

And I leave to the children the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways,

Way to wonder at, but subject nevertheless to the rights thereinafter given to lovers.

I DEVISE TO BOYS, jointly, all the useful idle fields and commons where ball may be played. And all pleasent waters where one may swim, all snow clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and ponds where one may fish, or, when grim winter comes, where one may skate, to hold the same for the period of boyhood. And all meadows with the clover blossoms and butterflies thereon; the woods with their appurtenances, the squirrels and the birds and the echo of the stream's noises and all the distant places which may be visited, together with the adventures there found. And I give to said boys each his own place at the fireside at night with all the pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, to enjoy without let or hindrance of care.

TO YOUNG MEN, jointly I devise and bequeath all boisterous inspiring sport and rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength. Though they are rude, I leave to them the power to make lasting friendships, and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively, I give all merry song and grave choruses to sing with lusty voices.

AND TO THOSE who are no longer children or youth or lovers, I leave memory and bequeath to them the columns of poems of Burns and Shakespeare and of other poets, if were be others, to the end that they may live the old days over again, freely and fully without lithe or diminution.

TO OUR LOVED ONES with snow crown, I bequeath the happiness of old age

By PEARL BRANDON

ONCE WHILE LIVING in Los Angeles, I attended a neighborhood Bible class. It was made up of women on our block of various denominations.

I'll always remember a little woman of Mexican descent, who was so interested and sincere in her belief. She hadn't been a Christian very long and was earnestly trying to understand the Bible.

ONE DAY we were discussing many things, among them the creation of the earth and the universe and where Jesus went to when he left the earth.

One woman said He might be on another planet, or He might be over several far away planets the same as He was ours.

THEN THIS LITTLE woman said, "I don't believe that. Jesus belongs to us. God sent Him to Earth and He belongs to the Earth. God may be over the other planets and He may have sent someone else to them but not Jesus, He sent Jesus to us.'

Such a beautiful thought, Jesus belongs to us on Earth, even as we belong to Him.

JESUS LOVED the earth. He spoke of the lillies of the field. He spoke of the sewing of the seed and the reaping. I think He must have loved the smell of the soil and the wind in His face.

He must have loved the mountain quietness when He sat on the mountain side to pray. He loved to walk on the seashore and sail in a boat on the waters of Galilee, or teach from the side of the boat.

HE WAS GOD, but He became man. and lived as a man walking about the country-side. He loved people, the people of the earth, and spent His days administering unto them. He finally gave up His own beautiful life that the rest of us may live forever.

Surely someday He will come back to Earth that He loved, and bring happiness to it forevermore.

to love young people. I am part-time cook here in Amherst Manor Home for the elderly people, and during the Christmas holidays I had the pleasure of seeing a fine group of seniors from Amherst School come in with their home baked cookies and punch, also gifts for each person in the home. They also sang carols. What a blessing it was for the elderly, this is love in action.

And I want to say we had a fine group from Sudan school who came and trimmed the tree in the living room and sang also. They were a nice fine group of young people-both boys and girls. No hippie type. They were wonderful and a blessing

I also had the pleasure of working with Linda Gossett while she was home during the holidays from Abilene McMurry

She helped in the kitchen and also on the floor. She was such a fine and lovely person. I would notice at the end of the day she would look tired, but she did her work so well

We appreciate Linda so much, as she came to help us out through the busy holidays of Christmas.

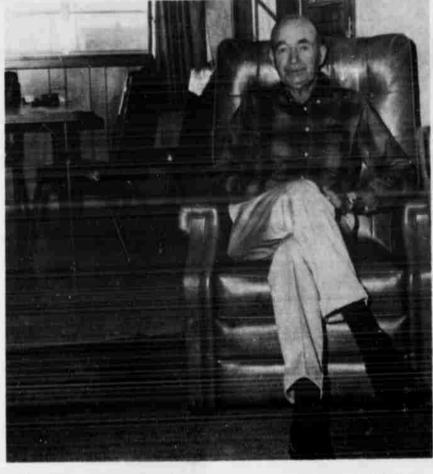

I also enjoyed the principal of Amherst school, who came with his fine group of boys and girls.

Wrong again, I guess.
I could name places where there is a more severe violations going on in this town, but I am of the belief they would do nothing about it.

I sold my property and moved out of town just on account of my children living in such conditions. Let's start a campaign of a better and cleaner town

Persons have to qualify for the loans on the basis of their income, and this is graduated up depending on the number of children or dependents.

A retired couple from Levelland with a retirement income of $300 per month bought one of the houses. A couple with one child and an income of around $4,000 a year could qualify for a loan. For each additional child, the amount that can be earned increases up to around $6,750.

"For a while Levelland was in the same shape Littlefield is in," he said. "Then one day I woke up to the fact that I could sell

Unfortunately, kids seem to be a major by-product of the uninhibited practice of sex which has become so prominent in our society. Not that sex is anything new, but that it has been so openly encouraged and made to seem so common and harmless in our present age, whether the participants have legal right to it, or not

THE FAMILY was the first institution inaugurated by the Almighty when He built this old world. The home was to be guarded, defended, and honored. This arrangement was for the propogation of the human race, and the replenishing of the earth.

Later on, Christ spoke of the sanctity of the home, and defined the only moral cause for divorce.-Yet, moderns regard marriage as lightly as a blind date!-If it don't work, try a new one next week!

WE CANNOT REGARD these unwanted children with lightness.-Seems to me that any child deserves love and care. Surely, they NEED it!

They, also, should be given a chance at a normal way of life. It's no fault of theirs, that they're brought into this old world.

YET, IT SEEMS unfair that sensible and solid citizens should be saddled with the care of the by-products of the "play" of the irresponsible!

So-o-o-o? What do we do? I'm convinced that contributing to illegitimacy should be made a felony, punishable by im-prisonment! And, that our divorce laws should be overhauled to make divorce a very serious matter.

SINCE MORALITY is so old-fashioned and out of date, and since the sense of decency is for the squares, it looks as if legal action is the only alternative!

But, then, what we're REALLY doing is working to legalize abortion. If this is accomplished, and, what, with the per-fecting of the "Pill", children-as well as marriage-may become a thing of the Augmenting the inherent checks and balances of the executive-legislativejudicial triad are the U.S. news media, free to spotlight statesmen and X-ray demagogues, free to holler "foul" when there's malfeasance or to floodlight the dark corners where mischief breeds.

Sometimes, taken as a bunch, the Washington press corps can be a dreadful

And if President Nixon elects to have fewer news conferences than some of his predecessors-I don't blame him.

THE FIRST TWO YEARS of his Administration, Eisenhower met with the news media 56 times, Johnson 51 times, Kennedy 46 times.

During Mr. Nixon's first two years he has hosted only 19 White House news conferences. Maybe that's too many.

THE MOST VOCAL of the White House press corps seem to consider themselves critics rather than reporters. At the last televised news conference, Dec. 10, even the AP noted that most questions were 'politically flavored.'

Mrs. Nixon was asked whether he thought he would be a one-term President, was asked to defend himself against critics who questioned his "sense of leadership."

WHAT BRAZEN effrontery! Nobody asked the President about the rail strike, then in progress.

Thus to televiewers the whole thing came off as "dull," "uninteresting" and ears of some newswriter. But if the newswriters' quest more impertinent than pertinent work that way.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Man Regulated

TO BE FREE of regulations seems to be the overriding goal of many persons. Much is being written and said about the undesirability of regulations.

In all of this, one fact is blantantly ignored. It is imposisible to live without submitting to some kind of regulations.

WE MAY REJECT one kind of rule, but, when we do, will have automatically ac-cepted another kind. If our personal actions become too freewheeling, it is just a matter of time until some kind of regulation will be imposed upon us. The popular movement to reject standards and regulations is very poorly conceived. The view of "being accountable to oneself rather than to principles" is unsound and destructive on personal and social well-being.

THE WAY OF MAN is not in himself; it is not in man who walks to direct his own steps" is one of the clearest and most certain facts to be gleaned from the accumulated knowledge of human behavior.

This is the fact which must be the basis of all considerations involving human action. Too many persons are saying that we must improvise in the moment what the integrity of your being requires.

This is the unstable and destructive concept of situation ethics.

"ABOLISH STANDARDS regulations" is the unbelieveable cry of people from many different quarters.

Yes, it is unbelievable that so many individuals express some variation of this demand. This is no more workable in human conduct than it would be in a football game, or in modernday traffic.

To whatever extent we abolish regulations and rules, we will have a world out of control. In fact, this conclusion is being very well demonstrated by the disorder and confusion of today's world.

SELFHOOD, personal integrity and selfdiscovery are some of the ac-complishments which people say they seek by throwing off standards and regulations. How strange, how very strange! Everything in every area of authentic knowledge of mankind says, "No".

The truth is that we attain the most wholesome selfhood; the greatest degree personal integrity: and the most

Matthew 11:15-17. forgiven you because belong to Christ." Ephe

We criticize others so freely as if we were examples of ultimate perfection. We label anyone who is different from us as some sort of strange accident.

In a generation in which adults do not even understand adults, we are so blind as to expect adults and youth to understand one another's every idea and action.

"Just as there are many parts to our bodies, so it is with Christ's body. We are all parts of it, and it takes every one of us to make it complete, for we each have different work to do. Se we belong to each other, and each needs all the others." Romans 12:4-5.

When people interfere with God's plan for other people, they sin against those people, themselves, and--most definitely-God.

At no time has God led one Christian to do one thing and led another Christian to do another thing in direct conflict with that.

Christians must cooperate and love one another to the extent of accepting the Lord's leadership.

Farm Real Estate Loan Limits Boosted 40%

With President Nixon's more money signature, Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has seen his proposal to boost FHA farm real estate loan limits by 40 per cent become law.

Price was author of the initial legislation raising FHA farm ownership loan limits from $60,000 to $100,000.

'Now young people trying to get a start in farming, Vietnam veterans and established farmers interested in expanding their operations, will be able to look to FHA for increased financial assistance. This is of vital importance to agriculture in the Texas Panhandle, the State of Texas and other farming areas of the country,' Price said.

Price stated that raising FHA loan limits for farm land purchases is an absolute necessity.

'Inflation is a cancer eating away at the wealth of this nation; no person or business is exempt from its effects," he said. "If farmers are to be expected to continue to produce high quality foods and fibres at a cost to the American consumer that is lower than any time in our nation's history, then farmers will need access to expand its sources of credit which they can use to make farming operations as efficient as possible," he added.

The Texas lawmaker said he was particularly proud of his proposal because its enactment would not cost the taxpayer

TRAFFIC SAFETY

Tires are much more likely to be cut on wet roads than dry. If you get a flat tire, be sure to pull as far off the road as possible and then put a flare or reflector further up the road to warn oncoming traffic. Your only loss then will be a tire, not your life.
