More service workers in County

Lamb County, a larger proportion of its work force than ever before is now engaged in providing services rather than products.

In a number of years, service workers have been playing an expanding role in the local economy in many other parts of the country. They have been responsible for the new job opportunities that have opened up.

Labor Department's statistics show that nearly one out of every 10 American workers are now employed in service industries, as compared with four out of 10 at the end of World War II.

In the services category are people engaged in retail trade, communications, insurance, business and repair services, entertainment, banking, education, health care, government and the like.

The production workers are those employed in manufacturing, construction, mining, agriculture, forestry and fisheries.

The figures for Lamb County show that approximately 62 percent of the working force are now in service-related occupations and 38 percent in production jobs. It represents a marked transition from earlier years.

In 1970, by way of comparison, 58 percent in the local area were found to be in services and 42 percent in production work.

As for the nation as a whole, the latest figures show 68 percent in services and, in the State of Texas, 71 percent.

The dramatic growth in the service industries is attributed to the rising output per worker in the production industries, due primarily to automation. With machines substituting for men, it meant that fewer people were needed to turn out the required volume of goods.

However, instead of the massive unemployment that had been feared with the advent of automation, it did not happen except in times of depression.

The economy boomed and the population as a whole became more affluent. With the growing prosperity the demand for services increased and new industries came into being, providing more jobs than had existed previously.

Public Safety Director predicting 42 deaths

Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has said that approximately 42 persons will be killed in Texas traffic accidents during the Fourth of July holiday, and called upon Texas motorists to "prove our estimate is too high."

Wilson E. Speir said his department expects "unusually heavy traffic" throughout the state, especially around recreational areas and where Bicentennial celebrations are scheduled.

He said the estimate covers a 78-hour period which starts at 6 p.m. Friday and continues until midnight Monday, July 5th.

During a comparable period last year, the department estimated that 54 persons would be killed during the holiday period. At the conclusion of the July 4th holiday last year, statewide statistics indicated 44 lives lost and rose to 49 with late reports.

In a concerted effort to keep deaths down, the DPS and local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in an all-out effort to make the streets and highways as safe as possible. All available DPS troopers will be on duty, Speir indicated, and they will be especially watchful for drinking drivers, speeders and persons driving in a reckless manner.

In addition, the DPS will be working with the news media in a special public education program termed "Operation Motorcade" which focuses public attention on where and why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday period.

THE BASIS of our political system is the right of the people to make and to alter their constitutions of government.

One of Erma Bombeck's columns that we thought could deserve a mention.

She says "Everyone seemed to think that when the traditional Fourth of July parties started in Indianapolis this year, Miss Guthrie was stomping to start her first made racing car history by being the first woman to survive the 500-mile race for the 500.

It's a woman who once belonged to a pool. I find Janet's 171-plus miles per hour on a wet track rather impressive.

She could name dozens of women who have topped that with one arm on a wheel and the other pulling in a kid like a flag from the radio.

There's Wanda Fletcher, who was 210.057 on a dirt road when she discovered one of her passengers checked the soft drink bottle on the way home from camp...and the driver was missing.

There's Phyllis Startle, who was in a car going 55 mph on an highway when a kid in the back seat was going to throw up on the door pocket.

And who could forget the cool girl who could forget the cool skill of Beth Grit, who drove her Girl Scouts through traffic at 55 with a wad of chewing gum in her mouth and an open umbrella in her hand?

Personally volunteered to drive boys home from a ball game one night...which makes Miss Guthrie's 171-plus miles around a two and a half mile race seem like she was standing still. The time I got home from that trip, my clothes had gone out of style.

The real breakthrough in driving will come when one day a man with courage and stamina and an enormous amount of guts will climb a station wagon with eight schoolkids on a rainy day, and hear from the back seat exclaim "Oh! Raymond should have gone home! He left home!"

PEARL BRANDON

LIFE CAN BE boring, especially after you reach old age and have nothing meaningful to do.

Old people get to where they can't see or hear very well and feel cut off from life around them.

Before my father died he became almost blind and deaf. There was nothing for him to do all day long but sit in his chair with his hands folded. Company was very welcome, especially if they talked loud enough to include him in their conversation.

I have experienced some of that since I have been waiting for my eyes to heal which they are doing. "Thank God," although it seems very slow.

I AM GETTING now to where I can read print a little. Newspaper print is especially hard to read.

Since I have had the cataracts removed, many people have called about it. I had implants also, so I think it takes them longer to heal.

For those who are interested, the doctor who did the surgery on my eyes is Dr. James Little of Oklahoma City. He is connected with the Southwest Eye Clinic.

Dr. Armistead got the appointment for me and my brother also.

I am sure he would be glad to help you if you will call him. He will probably want to examine your eyes first so he can tell Dr. Little your condition.

IT IS A terrible thing not to be able to see. I have learned that this past year although there has never been a time I couldn't see a little, but not being able to read is bad.

I have always read a lot. I should be able to get glasses in about a month.

They said I wouldn't need glasses with implants, but the last time I went to the doctor in Oklahoma City, he said I might need reading glasses.

I DO HOPE you people who have been calling me can get help and of course those of you who haven't called.

By the way, I would like to compliment Cornball on his column last week about becoming a father.

I enjoyed it very much. I read it with a magnifying glass. May God bless all of you.

100-year-old county celebrates with pageant

The people of Lamb County are celebrating the beginning of the development of their county. The first settlers in the county were in the Olton area in the late 1800's.

The land was set aside in 1876 to be designated as Lamb County and the county was organized in 1904.

In the early 1900's there stood in the northeastern part of Texas the beginnings of a small town called Olton. The land was part of the old C. S. Slaughter ranch, where not a plowshare had broken the sod. Where 7,000 head of buffalo were killed in 1877 and 200 mustangs were captured in 1902.

Where the farmer from West Virginia wrote in his diary in 1909, "I plowed part of the old Mackenzie trail today." And in a tent housing the Soash Land Company in 1907 the people formed a literary society, where the members gathered to debate, to perform plays, to play and hear music.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

It's my duty

WE CONTINUE to talk and write about rights, freedoms and privileges; and there is nothing wrong with this. We think, and often say, "It's my right"; or "It's my privilege"; or "It's my personal freedom".

In some instances, much to do is made about this and, most of the time, this probably appropriate; however, these blessings cannot be expected to stand alone.

Without the identification of duties, their full and cheerful acceptance, and the sincere effort to perform accordingly; there is no way to preserve personal rights, or privileges, or freedoms.

WHY DON'T "THEY" do something? This is perhaps the most frequent question in our minds and our lips. Of course, it is appropriate and justified in some instances; however, it is often out of order.

Many times, when the question is asked, we are actually referring to things which are our own duties; and everything would be much better if we would freely and cheerfully admit, "It's my duty".

WE MUST NEVER feel overwhelmed by this sense of duty, because such feeling will handicap us unduly. It is important that we be sensible and reasonable, and this includes the full application of wisdom and good judgment.

There will be limitations which must be recognized and accepted, but, to the very best of our strength and ability, individual duty must be accepted and properly discharged. If this is not done, the individual suffers loss

A FELLOW ASKED me this last week, who I really thought would be our next president. Just has to admit that I have less idea than I did six months ago.

According to the prognosticators it's just got to be Carter, and if you have any other idea, you'd just as well stay home on election day.

NEVER BEFORE HAVE so many conclusions been drawn on so little evidence. And the sad part of the picture is that many voters will be swayed by the popping-off of these smarties. Their predictions and rhetoric will account for about as many votes as the candidates, themselves.

I have to admit that I fail to see any "Knight in shining armor, on his White Steed" in any of the men that are running. Fault-finders will have a field-day, with any of the "Big Three". Perhaps we expect too much.

The pageant "Giants of the Great Plateau," written by Bettye Givens, will be performed on the banks at the head waters of the Brazos 6 miles north of Olton, on July 30, 31 at 8:30 p.m.

The outdoor drama is the story of the struggle of men with the soil. A story of the emigrants from the north, from England, Denmark, Germany and Switzerland and the cowboy who possessed this country. The people brought few possessions with them, but among those possessions were books and art supplies. They often spoke more than one language.

A place where the cowboys rode horses all day and for pleasure they gathered together in the evening to break mustangs and race their horses, a place where the women gathered cowpops for cooking and waited for mail that came twice a week to Hale Center or Running Water. One man was shot from his horse for stealing cattle, then feed, then wire to fence the cattle.

The fire, the wind and the draught worked on these people, many moved to New Mexico or went back "home." "Giants of the Great Plateau", directed by Marilyn Miller, is the story of the people who stayed. Who carved out their niche, who blessed their lives with each other and formed a civilization out of the prairie. The viewers are invited to bring a blanket and sit and think back to the 1900's where life was simple and time was abundant.

The music for the drama is written by Ron Lange of the University of Texas at El Paso and Pro Ken Lange at the University of Hawaii.

A barbecue supper will be served from 6:30 to 8:15 p.m.

and others are often affected adversely; because of the many which we are interrelated and dependent.

"DUTY" IS a "moral obligation"; it is something that be done, a "task" to perform. There is something about the "duty" or about what it represents that is displeasing to many and perhaps to all of us, in instances. This is very strange because "duty" is a good word, conveys to the mind that which is and desirable.

It may be that the concept of is the most valuable of all considerations.

EVERYTHING OF VALUE, or another, is tied to "duty" depends upon people doing that is their duty.

If we will, one by one, be alert and responsive to the challenge, it is appropriate, we will be honest in admitting, "It's my duty." Until this is done, we will not be able to do any better than we are now with the problems of life.

EVERY SPHERE of life, the of honor is the post of duty.

WE ARE THANKFUL for persons who are knowledgeable the reality of "duty", and we capably perform their duties.

These are the people who maintain the strong homes, who enjoyable community life possible who help to preserve all else that essential to human well-being.

There's a couple million people be considered, also. I've had "Make Believe", already, to do while.

CARTER, 'TIL this day, he given us much to go on except toothy smile. The main part of candidacy, up to now, has consisted the downgrading of Big Government. This, we like. However, he's been than honest and forthright with us.

When you see the "Big Three" Demos are preparing for him to on, you'll see that the larger part thereof, includes more big government, bigger and better government and more of the New Deal's buying prosperity. All this we've through and are quite disenchanted with it.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Presented by Hammons Funeral Home

The 4th of July holiday is celebrated with no special religious significance. This lace of religious attachment is contrary to the customs, beliefs and behavior of our fore-fathers.

In blunt language, some of them would turn over in their graves if they saw how we celebrate the holiday.

We owe gratitude to God for having placed our fore-fathers on earth at that particular time in history. They fought for human rights; for freedom against tyrannical rule.

After they won the struggle, they considered victory NOT as rights won by them, but as God given privileges they were permitted to proudly participate in.

What sort of men were Washington, Adams, Madison, Franklin, Jay, Jefferson, Hamilton - and all the rest? Watch for the illustrations next week that answer the question. It will be interesting. Don't miss it.

Floyd-Brassfield vows read in Sunray church

Wedding vows were exchanged by Anita Shirlene Floyd and Dennis Wayne Brassfield in a 7:30, Friday night ceremony at the Sunray Church of Christ. Both are residents of Sunray.

Officiating for the double-ring ceremony was Hoyt Cranfill, minister of the Sunray Church of Christ.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Floyd, 611 Avenue N, Sunray.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brassfield of Cactus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal, floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta. The dress had a high neckline, natural waist which formed a "V", long tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt. The skirt had rows of lace which fell in waterfall fashion. A tiny, ribbon bow, complimented with a seed pearl, enhanced the neckline. The full back of the gown ended in a sweeping chapel-length train. Her finger-tip length veil was of imported illusion with a border of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow roses, and baby's breath.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Barbie Floyd. Miss Connie Weatherford was bridesmaid. Serving as flower girl was Miss Sherri Forehand of Uvalde, cousin of the bride. Wedding guests were registered by Mrs. Morris Brassfield, sister-in-law of the groom.

Serving his brother as best man was Morris Brassfield of Sunray. Groomsman was Dale Brassfield of Cactus, also a brother of the groom. Gavin Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Moore of Sunray, was ring bearer. Ushers and candlelighters were David Brown of Lubbock and Lynn Lackey of Sunray.

Song selections included "Whether Thou Goest", "Father Hear the Prayer We Offer", "Traditional Wedding March" and "Recessional" which were sung by a chorus group from the church. A special singing group consisting of Donita and Jill Buice, Amy Cranfill, and Carolyn Weatherford, sang "For Baby, For Bobby" and "Time in a Bottle".

The wedding guests were received at a reception held at the Sunray community center after the ceremony. Members of the houseparty included Misses Pam Cripps, Karan Gray, and Beth McRae, all of Sunray.

Among several out-of-town guests for the wedding were the bride's grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sexton of Cross Plains, and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Floyd who reside in Amherst.

After a short honeymoon trip to Oklahoma City, the newlyweds will make their home in Sunray where the groom is employed at Sunray Lumber Company.

'Six Flags' starts daily summer term

Six Flags Over Texas has begun daily operation following the most successful spring season in the theme park's 16-year history.

During the spring season, more than 399,000 persons visited the entertainment center. The figure represents an increase of about 9 per cent over 1975's record pace.

General Manager Dan Howells said, "The introduction of our new parachute ride, the Texas Chute Out, was undoubtedly a major factor in the attendance boost."

"In addition," he said, "the public seems to be in a traveling mood this year. Perhaps it's a result of the bicentennial atmosphere, but, whatever the reason, people are definitely out on the road."

The park will be on a daily schedule through Labor Day, when weekend-only operation will resume for the fall season.

During the summer months Six Flags will extend its nighttime operating hours and add evening entertainment features, details of which will be announced shortly.

First Federal Celebrating 30th with new services

First Federal Savings and Loan is celebrating its 30th anniversary. The Littlefield office became a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on June 16, 1946, and a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation on July 10th, 30 years ago.

Vice president David Debusk said this week the Financial Reform Act passed this year is opening the door to many changes in the next five to 10 years.

Check-Mate is the first of these new changes that will let you forget about ever making another loan payment, deposit, or funds transfer again.

Check-Mate lets you transfer money from your checking account to your First Federal savings account by phone. Check-Mate can make your First Federal home loan payment for you automatically each month. Or maybe you'd like an automatic monthly savings program— Check-Mate can handle that, too. All you have to do is decide how much money you'd like transferred from checking to savings account each month.

With the new Check-Mate, you can put every dollar to work every day. It is good for businessmen, farmers, and others with floating, idle money that could earn money for you for a period of two weeks.

Here are four reasons why Check-Mate's Transmatic Services make it the best one.

Check-Mate is an automatic telephone funds transfer system. With one simple phone call, during regular banking hours, you can transfer idle money from a checking account to any of several types of accounts. You'll earn 5 1/2 percent interest, compounded daily from date of deposit to date of withdrawal. Requests called in before 11 a.m. are taken care of the same banking day— after 11 a.m., within 24 hours.

Now you can go for years without signing a home loan payment check. Just tell the Check-Mate Transmatic System to automatically sign them for you. Check-Mate will ensure that the amount is automatically transferred from your checking account to take care of your loan payment.

You'll receive the cancelled Check-Mate draft in your bank statement along with your other cancelled checks at the end of each month.

Check-Mate lets you save painlessly and without effort. Just say how much you want to save each month, even if it is as little as $5. There will be an automatic transfer from bank to your First Federal savings account.

Monthly automatic deposits to retirement savings are also available. Check-Mate is keyed into the IRA and Keogh retirement savings plans at First Federal, making the future more simple now for the salaried individual as well as the self employed. Contact any First Federal officer for details.

The idea of providing a contemporary funds transfer service (FTS) has been in the thoughts of savers and loan people for more than a decade. In the early 1960s, for example, developments in the commercial banking business suggested the approach of a "checkless society" which would make it convenient for the customers of the banks to make transfers in and out of their accounts rather than have the customers handle such transactions personally.

With Transmatic FTS, persons will never again have to remember every month to sit down and write a check, then mail the check and payment. Customers will never be assessed late payment charges.

At the end of the year, a notice will include all of the information necessary regarding loan account to file an income tax return.

Borrowers who find it difficult to save, or desire an automatic savings plan find the "piggyback" savings method, which is a savings addition attached to the loan payment, an easy way to accumulate savings.

Eventually, all the new and pending financial legislation is leading up to a plastic society where man will buy and sell on one plastic card.

For further information on Check-Mate, or any of these new services, call any of the officers at First Federal Savings and Loan in Littlefield.

Cotton shows gains on the retail level

Cotton is in greater demand by U.S. consumers this year than in any year since 1972, according to statistics recently compiled by Cotton Incorporated and other trade observers.

The statistics point to a banner year for cotton, says David Cox, vice president of economic research and development for Cotton Incorporated, the fiber company of U.S. cotton producers.

Cox points to three indicators that cotton is enjoying a vigorous boom at the retail level:

- (1) An analysis by Cotton Incorporated of data compiled by the Market Research Corporation of America shows that for twelve months in a row cotton has outgained synthetics in pounds sold at retail as compared to sales in the same month of the previous year. Those gains reverse a 15-year trend in which synthetics had surpassed cotton.
- (2) The U.S. Department of Agriculture projects domestic mill use of cotton at 7.3 million bales for the 1975-76 cotton crop year, which ends July 31. This compares with 5.9 million bales used in the 1974-75 crop year. The USDA also says that imports of cotton goods have been running at a record annual rate in order to meet consumer demand for cotton.
- (3) The National Cotton Council says that for the first three months of 1976 cotton increased its share of the total fiber market to 30.8 per cent, a level greater than cotton's annual market share for the last three years.

"All these data indicate that the consumer wants cotton and is buying cotton," says Cox.

"The increased level of cotton textile imports is direct evidence that apparel manufacturers and distributors find cotton a hot item at the retail level," Cox adds.

Cox reports that the most dramatic increase in textile imports has been in cotton print cloth and cotton sheeting, which are used primarily for apparel. Those imports are more than three times the level of July 1975, Cox says.

"The reason for these increased imports is more than a result of any price differential. It is because of a lack of domestically made fabric of the construction needed to meet consumer demand.

"If domestic mills respond more fully to the strong consumer demand for cotton USDA analysis shows that domestic demand for cotton will total 8 to 8.5 million bales on an annual basis. In the meantime, total world demand for U.S. cotton is growing," says Cox.

USDA estimates that if imports of fabric and finished goods were not so high, domestic textile mill consumption of cotton would run 7.7 million bales for 1975-76.

Cox sees the bullish cotton sales as more than just a flash in the pan.

"After 14 years in which cotton lost ground in the overall fiber market, cotton has reasserted itself in the last three years," says Cox.

In 1974, cotton increased its share in the overall fiber market, reversing a 14-year decline. In 1975, cotton's

A Banker's Viewpoint....

In 1949 the writer George Orwell published a novel called "1984" that, although it was a best seller, was considered too far out to rate serious consideration as the prophetic warning it really was.

The book is still a big seller. It has been reprinted dozens of times and has sold millions of copies. For fiction though it was and is, it draws a fearsome picture of government encroachment on human rights and prerogatives that is becoming a fact of life today.

In Orwell's story, which looked ahead to 1984, the hero was a captive, in body and mind, of "Big Brother", the government. His every move was under surveillance, and propaganda about the paternalism of this government was drilled into him so incessantly that his doubts, blurred at first, were finally obliterated.

We are still eight years away from the year 1984, but the increasing pace of federal intrusion into our daily lives make Orwell's book more chillingly prophetic by the year.

Paperwork and federal nit-picking regulations have caused businesses across the country to cancel 3,800 employee profit sharing and retirement plans in the last three months, and cancellations continue at a rate of more than 1,000 a month.

In 1936 the Federal Register, which prints the text of federal regulations, contained 2,411 pages. In 1970 it had reached 20,000 pages. But get this: in five more years, in 1975, the register mushroomed to 60,000 pages.

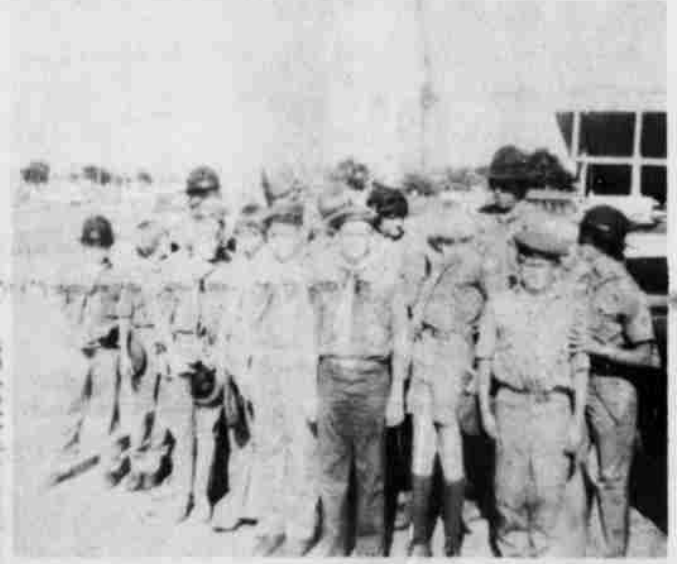

Some regulations, of course, are necessary. But it is not necessary for "Big Brother" to make a rule covering nearly every move made by business and, in turn, every move of the individual.

Not long ago the Federal Trade Commission decreed that a bank or other lending institution which buys a credit note from a dealer in appliances, automobiles, or whatnot, must back up any warranty or promise made by the dealer. If that sticks, a great amount of credit will be dried up; for obviously no lending concern can back up a promise it isn't even aware of.

Now the FTC turns to bite the consumer it first sought to help. If you buy an appliance that turns out to be defective, the FTC proposes that, before he returns your money, the manufacturer would have the right to charge you for its use. Ridiculous? Of course. But no more ridiculous than many other federal bureaucratic blunders.

Take your right to go to the bank and ask for a loan. If you have a good credit rating with the bank, your banker is happy to lend you what you need. But now comes a federal directive requiring banks that lend $5,000 or more to a customer to ask the customer what he intends to do with the money. Unless the bank actually needs this information in order to make the loan, we think your plans are none of its business or of the government's.

All of us should fight this "Big Brother" tendency before the rest of Orwell's fiction turns out to be true.

BU plans celebration

Baylor University's 1976 homecoming celebration is still in the planning stages, but when thousands of Baylor alumni return to the campus Nov. 5 and 6 the annual event will be finalized to run smoothly.

The annual homecoming weekend is sponsored by the Baylor Alumni Association and the Baylor Chamber of Commerce, a men's service organization.

Graduating classes of years ending in six and one will have reunion dinners in the Baylor Student Union Building. Class registration, starting with the Class of 1926, will begin at noon Nov. 5 on the front lawn of the union building.

Exes who were graduated before 1926 will register and meet as part of the university's "Over 50 Club."

IT TOOK WALTER LILES a month to build these two eight-foot replicas of West Texas windmills, and they now spin merrily in his backyard on 23rd street in Littlefield. Liles, who farmed for 46 years around Lamb County, used metal and parts from bicycles, lawnmowers, trash can lids, drain pipes, an oil drum and metal signs for the structure, and put them all together with "old nuts and bolts I found laying around." Littlefield's Textile Plant is result of Commission study

Although Texas leads the nation in production of cotton, wool and mohair, and is the leading supplier of feedstock for production of synthetic fiber, only one and a half percent of the fabric produced in the United States is woven in Texas.

"We're here to do something about that," according to Jim Heath of the Special Projects Division of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Heath is special advisor to the Joint House Committee in Textile Industry Development created by the 64th state legislature.

"Our current goals are to determine what areas of the state, besides the High Plains, are suited to textile milling and how to bring the textile mills to Texas," Heath said.

"This includes identifying textile speciality items to be produced in rural areas. This is more than just dreaming up cute items. We're talking about in-depth research into cost input and benefit return ratio to help industrial development groups and investors put these ideas into action."

Most of the textile milling in the nation is in the South-eastern states. Their process uses Texas raw products, and their raw cloth is then shipped back to one of Texas' more than 700 garment manufacturing plants.

"We want to eliminate the middle-man in the process," Heath said. "We want to make it feasible and enticing to investors to set up textile mills in Texas where the cost of transportation would be drastically reduced, and the cost to the customer of the finished garment would be lower."

The textile committee has spent the last several months acquainting themselves with the textile industry resources and processes in Texas, and is now in the stage of gathering data to outline a specific program to expand this industry.

The committee is co-chaired by Rep. E. L. Short of Tahoka and Armer Earwood, president of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene is vice-chairman.

Other members are Sen. Kent Hance of Lubbock, Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, Rep. Forrest Green of Corsicana and Rep. Don Rains of San Marcos. Governor Dolph Briscoe appointed Dan Davis of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association in Lubbock and Fred Walker of the Walker Estate Ranch in Comstock.

They are being assisted by Heath and Carl Cox, executive director of the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission; Bill Harris, director of the Natural Fibers Economic Research Department of The University of Texas at Austin; Dr. Herb Grubb of the Governor's Division of Planning Coordination; and Marvin Segal, director of the Southwest Apparel Manufacturers Association based in Dallas.

"The committee is not starting from scratch in their study," Heath noted. "The Industrial Committee has been working on the concept of strengthening the textile industry in Texas for more than five years, and two reports have been published by the Commission in conjunction with two interim legislative committees."

One of the studies, "Report on the feasibility of Textile Production on the Texas High Plains" has resulted in the creation of the American Cotton Growers Denim Mill which has just begun production of denim for the Levi Strauss Co.

"This $30 million plant, located in Littlefield, is opening employment opportunities to more than 400 people. The impact on the community is fantastic," Heath said.

"We want this same kind of impact for other areas of the state."

Heath says Texas' location, equidistant to both the East and West coasts and the Midwest, make it ideal for transportation of finished goods to all the major markets. He cited the Dallas Apparel Mart's importance to fashion as one of the state's existing footholds on the industry.

"Texas has all the pieces to the puzzle but one," Heath said. "Now the committee is documenting all the reasons why Texas should become the major site for textile mills, and will present a final game plan to the Legislature in January."

Heath said input is being sought from experts in every phase of the textile industry, and invites contributing information from all people involved in the total production process from raising crops and herds and oil producers, to marketing the final product.

Information should be sent to Jim Heath, Texas Industrial Commission, P. O. Box 12728, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Commission adopts rules

The Public Utility Commission of Texas, in three days of public hearings, adopted rules governing rates and services of utilities under its jurisdiction.

The adoption of the rules marked the end of a thirty-day waiting period during which time public comment was actively solicited.

Representatives of various utility companies, plus such groups as the League of Women Voters, the Texas Municipal League, and the Texas Consumer Association were present and participated in the meeting.

The rules, which apply to all telephone companies in the state and all rural electric, water and sewerage utilities, concerned three main areas: rate setting, service standards, and reporting requirements.

In setting rates, utilities will be allowed to charge advertising, contribution and donation expenditures in the rate base as long as those expenditures do not exceed three-tenths of one percent of the gross receipts of the utility for services rendered to the public.

The commission encouraged fully-recoverable expenditures of such funds used for promoting conservation of energy or measures which can allow a consumer to effect a savings in his total bill. Other recoverable expenditures which were encouraged were those which seek to improve utility peak load usage and support of utility trade associations which directly contribute toward their memberships.

Contributions to charitable causes and such organizations as Chambers of Commerce will be allowed as a cost of service so long as the total sum of all such expenditures does not exceed the three-tenths of one percent formula.

The utilities were excluded from charging customers for funds spent for political or lobbying activities, membership in social, recreational, or religious organizations or clubs, or promotion of increased energy consumption. Utilities, if they choose however, may spend investor dollars for these purposes.

Although the Texas Railroad Commission has jurisdiction over natural gas in Texas, the PUC is empowered to examine all electric utilities' contracts for fuel supplies when the utility comes before the commission for a hearing.

If any impropriety is found, the fuel supply contract may be disallowed. The total cost of fuel will be shown separately on all customer's bills and will no longer be included in the base charge.

This will have the effect of insuring that all customers—large and small alike—will pay the same rate for fuel which the electric utility uses for generation. Fuel consumption will thus be paid for on a per-kilowatt-hour basis.

Utilities may continue to charge customers according to the actual cost of serving each class of customer, however.

The service standards set forth by the PUC deal with many areas of company-customer relations. Utilities are required to advise customers of rate changes, deferred payment plans for outstanding bills, and the most economical service available for the individual customer. deferred payment plans may include a five percent penalty for late payment, but may not include a finance charge.

Applicants for new service who can demonstrate a satisfactory credit rating by supplying generally accepted credit references and those persons aged 65 and older who do not have an outstanding balance for the same utility service will be required, the company will refund such deposit automatically and will pay an interest charge of at least six percent unless the deposit is refunded within thirty days after receipt.

Utility bills will be printed in such a manner that the customer can readily understand and compute his own bill. Residential customers will not be charged a late payment penalty, and the terms "net" bill and "gross" bill, which will no longer apply to residential bills, will not be used on commercial or industrial bills unless the utility is in fact granting a discount for prompt payment.

A copy of the applicable rate schedule will be mailed to the customer by the utility upon his request. The first rule to be adopted by the commission states in part, "these rules shall be given a fair and impartial construction to obtain these objectives and shall be applied uniformly, regardless of race, color, creed, sex, or marital status."

The reporting section of the rules, while lessening the burden on utilities to supply data to the PUC on a monthly basis, requires that the companies supply the commission with information on quarterly and annual bases regarding their fuel costs and other expenses, such as advertising, contributions, employee expense accounts, and political lobbying expenditures.

The adopted Substantive Rules are being published by the PUC at a cost per copy of $2.95. Copies may be obtained by enclosing a check or money order made payable to the State Treasurer and addressed to: Accounting Division, Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas 78757.

Pioneer requests review of company's cost of gas

Pioneer Natural Gas Company, a division of Pioneer Corporation, has submitted an application to the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting the Commission to review Pioneer's cost of gas for its West Texas System and to "verify the correctness of its current cost of gas and the methods, techniques, policies and practices employed by Pioneer in obtaining a gas supply."

In announcing this unprecedented action, K. B. Watson, Pioneer President said, "The present highly competitive conditions involved in the purchase of gas supply have created a sensitivity in the rising cost of gas."

Watson went on to say, "The Company feels that it has been extremely prudent in acquiring its gas supply in a market of rapidly rising prices over the past three years. This practice has resulted in Pioneer having probably the lowest gas acquisition cost among the larger gas companies in the State of Texas, even though we have added more gas reserves than our sales in each of the past two years."

Watson pointed out that the cities on the West Texas System have been notified that the cost of gas for April was down from the previous month. In March, the Cost of gas was 95.02 cents and the April cost was 93.52 cents at delivery pressure. This amounts to a saving of one and one-half cents per MCF for all customers.

Watson said that in spite of this excellent record of control, there have been requests by customers and others for general public hearings on the subject.

He went on to say, "We have taken this voluntary action because Pioneer feels that its customers are entitled to have the Railroad Commission and other participants at a public hearing scrutinize its gas supply, contracts for new gas and renegotiated contracts for old gas, and to view the methods which Pioneer has employed in maintaining its gas supply at the lowest reasonable cost."

Pioneer intends to file with the Commission in advance of the public hearing, copies of its gas purchase contracts which will be representative of the purchase contracts for each source of its gas supply on its West Texas System and at the public hearing, Pioneer will present detailed testimony on each of the contracts and on the methods, techniques, policies and practices in obtaining gas.

The petition to the Railroad Commission asks that all of these gas acquisition activities be reviewed for the purpose of: "(1) establishing the correct amount of Pioneer's current cost of gas at the time of the review; (2) commenting on and determining the appropriateness of the manner, policies, practices, procedures, methods and techniques which Pioneer has employed in and should employ in maintaining its gas supply."

Watson concluded his announcement by saying, "Notification will be given in advance of this meeting and interested parties will be welcome to participate in the hearings."

Vets suffer defeats

Security State and Carlisle-Oldham apparently hold no sympathy for our Veterans, even this close to the Fourth of July. Both squads whipped VFW in minor league games this week to drop the Vets' season record to 2-6-2.

CARLISLE-OLDHAM 6 VFW 1

C-O kept their unbeaten streak intact Thursday by playing good defense and clipping VFW 6-1.

In a real pitching duel, C-O's Ronald Hernandez allowed only three hits while the Vets' Vernon Williams gave up only one, a single to Hernandez.

Michael Christian socked two singles for VFW, and Michael Thompson singled.

C-O has got a firm grip on the minor league championship, but Security State still has an outside chance. Using the system that each tie counts as a half-game won and a half-game lost, C-O (with five ties) is now 8 1/2-2 1/2. Security State is 6-4, and has four games left. They must win them all and C-O must lose all three of theirs for the Bankers to take the crown.

SECURITY STATE 18 VFW 13

Fourteen runs in the first two innings carried SS to a 18-13 win over VFW.

Oscar Torres was the winning pitcher and notched a single. Eric Dumoss rapped two doubles and a single, and Terry Jackson doubled.

Pitcher Billy Savala, Michael Thompson and Randy Stueart popped singles for the losers.

Starnes-L&H still burning

Upsets B&C for fifth straight win

Starnes Construction-L&H Durocs continued its blazing tear through the ranks of Littlefield's Jr. Babe Ruth roster this week by whipping league leader B&C Pump 6-3

Thursday for its fifth straight win.

S-L&H started its hot streak June 12 when they beat Anton 12-8 to break a three-game losing skein. Since then, they have defeated all five teams in the league, and the win over B&C has to rank as the biggest of the bunch.

Brady Bradley started on the mound for S-L&H and pitched four innings of no-hit ball as his teammates built up a 6-0 lead. He was replaced by Steve Jackson, who finished off the game allowing one run in each of the last three innings and three hits.

Bradley led the winners, now 8-5 for the year, by ripping a double and single. Lupe Martinez cracked a double, and Robert Flores, Steve Jackson, Johnny Ortiz and Ruben Torres each chipped in singles.

Alvin Contreras slugged a home run over the right field fence to help out B&C. Lester Wormley tripled and James Johnson notched a single.

B&C's loss, their second in the last three games, drops their league-leading record to 11-2. In second as of Friday afternoon was Tasty Taco at 7-3, and they still have a shot

Tigers very happy to smack sisters

There's an old sporting cliché that says a tie is like kissing your sister. But after 11 straight defeats without even a hint of affection, the Tigers of Littlefield's Pee Wee league were glad to get even a peck on the cheek from sis.

The Tigers must have felt like a ditto machine this week, playing to two identical deadlocks of 15-15 against the Chiefs and Fireballs. The tie with the Fireballs was especially satisfying, because that squad is in the top half of the league, record-wise.

With only three nights of Pee Wee action left as of presstime Friday, the Lions (11-1) held a one-game lead over the defending champion Pioneers (10-2). Both had two games left in season.

Rotary, Lions lose again

At this time, Rotary and the Lions must be wondering, "Where did we go wrong?" While the other four teams in the major league have been hitting it out tooth and nail all day long, the poor Lions and Rotarians have been taking it the chin night after night. In this week, Lamb Co. Electric smothered Rotary 22-3 and W smashed the Lions 22-2. W smothered the Lions 22-2. W smothered the Lions 22-2. W smothered the Lions 22-2.

So going into the last week of the Little League season, one might keep an eye on the two cellar dwellers. They are certainly due a victory. LCE 22 ROTARY 3
The Electricians stormed across 13 runs in the top of the first inning Tuesday then coasted in with a 22-3 win over Rotary.
The win broke a two-game losing spin and lifted LCE's record to 8-5.
Jimmy Sexton hammered out a double and three singles for the winners. Gerald Twitty and Von Porter hit two singles each, and Chris Ayala doubled. James Randall was the winning pitcher with a two-hitter.
Pat Torres blasted a homer for Rotary. Randy Horne chipped in a single.

WOW 22 LIONS 2
Mark McCanlies twirled a one-hitter at the Lions Thursday to lead the Woodmen to 22-2 win.
His teammates backed him up with 10 runs in the third inning to provide the big final margin. Wow now stands at 9-4, a half-game out of the major league lead. Birkelbach and Fire Dept. are tied for the top spot at 9-3.
Bryan Gregory sliced a triple and double for the Woodmen. McCanlies and Bobby Dale Logan notched two singles each, and Randy Healy and George Brockington pitched in singles.
Jr. Rangel pitched for the Lions and got their only hit, a single.

The winner of that tourney does not qualify for further advancement.

Deer and turkey in good shape

Recent heavy rains have had a good effect on deer and turkey populations," said Bob Cook, white-tailed deer program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Range conditions are good throughout the state with ample vegetation for deer and a good insect crop for the turkeys," said Cook. June is the time of year when bucks begin to develop antlers and abundant food now will mean good racks in the

In spite of the dry winter, there were no massive die-offs in Hill Country herds. Does survived the winter and now are in good shape. There should be a large fawn crop and a better-than-average survival rate. Conditions for turkeys are excellent. The soil moisture, which affects turkey eggs and early poult survival, is excellent. "Heavy rains came just in time for a good hunting season next fall," said Cook.

Texas motorists granted 10% insurance discount

Texas motorists interested in lowering their automobile insurance premiums have an easy solution to this budget problem. They can complete an eight-hour classroom course in defensive driving and earn a 10 percent discount on their insurance premiums. Since September of 1972 the State Board of Insurance has granted a 10 percent reduction in car insurance rates for three years following completion of the course. Joe Christie, chairman of the Insurance Board, said the Board granted the reduction because national figures show the course cuts down on accidents. Christie says insurance figures show that the average Texas driver saves between $17 and $32 annually for each of the three years after completing the Defensive Driving Course. Last year more than 100,000 Texas motorists completed the Defensive Driving Course of the National Safety Council in a program coordinated by the Texas Safety Association. At the same time, insurance companies nationwide lost $400 million, with the biggest losses in automobile insurance. The 1975 experience is leading automobile insurance companies to seek relief from these losses, and Texas insurance companies have served notice they will request a new hike in automobile insurance rates when the Insurance Board meets in July. This means that auto insurance may be harder to get in the future, especially for those with poor traffic records, and cost more for everyone. Christie recommends that people interested in keeping their auto insurance rates in line complete a Defensive Driving Course, and repeat it if a driver took it initially before September 1972. The Defensive Driving Course concentrates on driver motivation, positive driving habits, and anticipating the incorrect actions of others and adverse operating conditions, including weather, mechanical or personal impairment. To sign up for a Defensive Driving Course, contact the Texas Safety Association, Box 9345, Austin, 78766, or phone 512/451-7421.

"DUB" GILDER has been named to head a Ground Observer Corps post in Littlefield as the Air Force begins organization of the Corps in Lamb County. Statewide soybean contest entries due by August 15

Soybean producers have an opportunity to reap benefits from their crop by entering the 50th Annual Soybean Yield Contest.

The contest is being sponsored by the Texas Soybean Association and Elanco Products Co. in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, according to R. J.

Hodges, Extension agronomist.

"The contest is designed to be an educational tool to stimulate interest in soybean production," notes Hodges. "It affords an opportunity to compile cultural information and to recognize those individuals who achieve superior yields through the use of good management practices."

Since soybeans are primarily grown in three areas of the state—High Plains, Northeast Texas and Coast Prairie, awards will be presented on an area and state basis. The top three producers in each area will receive 50, 25 and 15 quarts of Treflan, respectively, along with a plaque while at the state level the top producer will receive a free trip for two to Acapulco. Plaques will be presented to the top three producers in the state. All awards are provided by the TSA and Elanco.

Any producer entering the contest also becomes eligible to be named to the Texas 60 Bushel Soybean Club, points out Hodges, if he can certify a yield of 60 bushels per acre or more.

Entrants in the contest must grow at least 10 acres of soybeans and the area harvested for the contest must be at least five acres in size. All entries must be in by Aug. 15.

Hodges adds that contest entry blanks and rules are available at any county Extension office.
