

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

Petitions Seek Liquor Election

Petitions have been issued asking for an election to be held to decide whether the city will remain "dry" or allow the sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed beverages.

Another way, to decide whether to legalize package stores, open bars or mixed drinks for consumption in places of business.

An "Application For Local Option Election Petition to Legalize", bearing 15 signatures, was filed in the county clerk's office Tuesday, Sept. 5, at 4:55 p.m. and the "Petition For Local Option To Legalize" was issued by the county clerk's office Wednesday, Sept. 6.

When such an application is filed, and bears as many as 10 signatures of qualified voters within the city limits, the county clerk then must issue a petition.

The petition states: "To the Commissioners' Court of Lamb County, Texas:

"We, the undersigned qualified voters of the City of Littlefield Texas, (said County, Justice Precinct, or Incorporated City or Town hereinafter for convenience referred to as Area) hereby respectfully request that a local option election be called in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Texas Liquor Control Act and in particular, Article 666-32 through 666-40a of Vernon's Annotated Penal Code of the State of Texas, as amended, in the above mentioned area for the purpose of submitting to the legally qualified voters of said area the determination of the following issue, to wit

"FOR The legal sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed beverages.

"AGAINST The legal sale of all alcoholic beverages including mixed beverages.

"It is the hope, purpose and intent of the petitioners whose signatures appear hereon to see legalized the sale of alcoholic beverages referred to in the issue set out above."

According to Article 666-32, Vernon's Penal Code of the State of Texas, "Upon the written application of any ten or more qualified voters of any county, justice precinct, or incorporated city or town, the county clerk of such county shall issue to the applicants a petition to be circulated among the qualified voters thereof for the signatures. . . ."

The number of qualified signatures required is determined by the number of qualified voters in the designated area who voted for governor at the last preceding general election at which presidential electors were elected — or November of 1968.

Signatures of 25 per cent of the amount of such described voters are required on the petition, and these signatures must be accompanied with the residence address (house number and street) and the number that appears on his voter registration certificate.

Voters from voting precincts 10 and 14 who reside within the city limits of Littlefield will be involved in the election.

As the election would pertain only to residents within the city of Littlefield, the exact number of qualified petition signers has not been determined, but spokesman said they have arrived at an estimated number of 613 as a "safe" maximum figure of signatures which will be certified to the Commissioners' Court during their next meeting.

In 1968, 1,972 voters in voting precinct 10 (or the area which is now precinct 10) voted in the presidential election, and 480 voters in the present precinct 14 cast votes in the election, bringing the grand total to 2,452 voters. Twenty-five per cent of that number would be 613.

The petition has to be turned in by Friday, Oct. 6, and must contain the 613 legal signatures in order to be certified to the commissioners' court.

The commissioners' court "at its next regular session shall order a local option election to be held upon the issue set out in the petition." Their next regular meeting would be the following Monday, Oct. 9, after the petition is filed the previous Friday.

Article 666-33, concerning the order for election, states: "When the commissioners court orders an election as herein provided for, it shall be the duty of the court to order such election to be held upon a day not less than 20 nor more than 30 days from the date of the order, and the order thus made shall state the issue to be voted upon in such election. . . ."

Wildcats Pluck Owl Feathers

The Littlefield Wildcats opened their 1972 season Friday night with a rousing 38-0 victory over the Silvertown Owls.

Displaying a tenacious defense that allowed Silvertown only five first downs and a grand total of a minus 37 yards rushing, the Wildcats rushed for 281 yards and added 46 more in the air for a grand total of 327 offensive yards. Add to that the yardage that was picked up by the Wildcats and then nullified by penalties and the total could have been staggering against the out-manned, but game Owls.

The Wildcats were penalized seven times for a total of 54 yards. The hometown Owls picked up two penalties and had 20 yards stepped on against them.

The Wildcats scored once in every quarter and the hard-hitting defense caused the Owls to punt six times for an average of 29.2 per punt. Littlefield did not have to punt the entire game but stopped themselves by losing six fumbles. Silvertown lost the ball via fumbles twice.

"Silvertown wasn't really hitting that hard," commented the Wildcat staff.

"Our kids were excited and really ready and eager to play, and we attribute most of the fumbles in this first game to this."

The Wildcats took the opening kickoff and a fumble by Arturo Soria on the third play stopped the initial drive of the Cats. The Owls were faced with the same problem of not being able to move the ball and were forced to punt the first of six times.

After the punt, the Wildcats took over on their own 40-yard line. A handoff to J.E. Johnson netted two yards and then bam—on the second play of the series, quarterback Terry Bryson handed the ball off to Johnson and he outran the Owl defense for the Wildcats' first score. Johnson's first TD of the night was a 73 yard scamper that came with 6:38 remaining in the first quarter. A bad snap from center foiled the extra point attempt.

Unable to move the ball on their second possession, the Owls lost the ball on a pass interception by tackle Randy Cook. Cook batted the ball right after it left the arms of the passer and was able to hang on to it before it hit the ground.

Paint Bids Awarded

Thursday night, Littlefield city councilmen awarded the bid of $8,985 as submitted by Southwest Tank and Tower Company at Tatum, N.M., for the cleaning and painting of a 150,000 gallon steel elevated tank.

Base bid submitted was $8,485 with the alternate bid of an additional $500 for vinyl coating on the interior of the tank.

Councilmen accepted the alternate bid to include the vinyl coating because of the longer lasting materials.

Other bids included that of $9,200 with an alternate bid of an additional $700 from Dean Jones of Clinton, Okla.; a bid of $9,092 with the alternate of a deduction of $127 from Watertower Paint and Repair Co., Inc. of Clear Lake, Iowa; and the bid of $11,400 with the alternate of an additional $3,600 from Water Tank Service Co., Inc. of Dallas.

There were no bids submitted on the purchase of two lots, a house and all improvements located at 820 West 8th Street.

Councilmen voted to prepare a resolution related to the development of certain types of rent housing, and authorized the mayor to sign it.

Councilmen decided to combine the offices of fire marshal and arson investigator, retroactive to Sept. 1, 1970. Fire Chief Leon Durham was appointed the arson investigator and Johnny Gregg will serve as assistant investigator.

Three members of the Board of City Development have vacated their offices for various reasons, and councilmen decided to call for the submission of five names from several organizations in the city. From the list submitted, five new

Big Day Is Planned For Amherst Residents

The citizens of Amherst are planning a big celebration Saturday, Sept. 16, when a Texas Historical Marker will be unveiled and dedicated, and other celebrations will be observed.

District Judge Pat Boone Jr. will give the welcome address and Representative Bill Clayton will speak. Mrs. Campbell, secretary of the Ewing Halsell Foundation, will be in town for the event, which begins at 2 p.m.

Mayor A. W. Hedges of Amherst has issued a proclamation "whereas the Amherst Lions Club, in observance of 'Amherst Dedication Day' Saturday, Sept. 16, has declared that it shall be unlawful for any male citizen residing in Lamb County and found on the streets of Amherst, who is 18 years of age or older, to be clean shaven, or to have shaved at any time from the hour of 8 a.m. Friday, Sept. 8, until the hour of 5 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16. Evidence of a beard must be visible!"

Mayor Hedges and Amherst Lions Club president Eddie Landers further emphasize that special shaving permits may be obtained from any Amherst Lions Club member, beginning Friday, for "a nominal fee of $5."

They also emphasized that the permit, after purchase, entitles the holder to shave at any time during that period, and that it must be carried on their person at all times to avoid prosecution.

In describing the prosecution, the executives stated that any person found guilty of violation, may pay a fine in the amount of $5 for each time he is found guilty of the violation, and that failure to pay the fine will result in the guilty person's being "wholly and completely" dunked in a horse tank of cold water, located at the city hall in Amherst.

Those persons growing a beard will be eligible to enter a beard growing contest which will be judged by a panel of female judges at 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16, during the Amherst Dedication Day ceremonies at the city park, south of the city hall in Amherst.

The person taking first place will win a prize of $15 cash. Second place will be $10 cash, and third prize will be $5 cash.

Mayor Hedges and Lion President Landers extend an invitation to all Amherst residents to attend the day's celebration.

School Teachers To Be Honored

Littlefield teachers and administrators will be honored with a tea Tuesday night, Sept. 12, from 6:30 to 8:30 in the Willy Room of the REA building.

"We, The Women" will serve as hostesses and greet the guests, along with the Chamber of Commerce red coats and board of directors.

Mrs. Craig Wallace is chairman of the committee in charge of the tea which will also honor P-T-A officers and members.

Sudan Man Found Dead In Pickup

L. C. 'Christie' Rudd, a 53-year-old Sudan farmer, was found dead in his pickup on the Ray Woods farm five miles west of Sudan in an abandoned garage about 1 p.m. Thursday.

His pickup was seen by his aunt, who told his uncle, Lee Hardy, who went to the scene and found him lying in the seat.

Rudd had been missing since Aug. 29, and Justice of the Peace W. T. Vereen of Sudan said he had been dead a week or 10 days.

Vereen said a plastic hose was connected to the exhaust pipe of the truck and run through the left window of the cab. He ruled the death due to self-inflicted carbon monoxide poisoning.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday morning in the Sudan First Baptist Church, with Rev. J. R. Manning, pastor of the Kermit First Baptist Church and Rev. Eddie Freeman of the First Baptist Church in Sudan officiating.

Burial was in the Sudan Cemetery with Singleton-Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe in charge.

Rudd was born Dec. 25, 1918 at Altus, Okla. and had lived at Sudan since 1926.

He was a veteran of World War II, and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Sudan and the Sudan Masonic Lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Alma; four sons, Mickey Rudd of Buchanan, Gary Rudd and Harvey Rudd of Kingsland; Robbie Rudd of Lubbock; a sister, Mrs. Faye Adrian of Denver, Colo.; a brother, Denver Rudd of Sudan; and six grandchildren.

L. C. RUDD, 53-year-old Sudan man, died in this pickup sometime last week and was found Thursday by his uncle, Lee Hardy of Sudan. A hose was rigged from the tailpipe of the pickup to the window, and Justice of the Peace Tobe Vereen of Sudan ruled the death was by self-inflicted asphyxiation. (Staff Photo)

Planning, Selecting Wardrobe

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a two-part fashion series on fall wardrobes—planning and selection—prepared by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. In Part II, which concerns wardrobe selection, Roxanne Schnorr, Extension clothing specialist, outlines tips for selecting fashions while staying within a budget.

Getting the most satisfaction for your clothing dollar depends on your buymanship abilities, according to Roxanne Schnorr, Texas Agricultural Extension Service clothing specialist.

"Your season's wardrobe budget will have more buying power if basic rules, such as selecting the correct size, checking the fit, analyzing workmanship and reading hangtags, are followed," she advised.

In discussing effective selection of wardrobe items, the Texas A&M University specialist added that other considerations team with basic rules for success in buying. They are the budget itself, fabric care after purchase, and flexibility of style.

"Completing your wardrobe and being fashionably dressed can be done without overspending," Miss Schnorr insisted. "Your budget is the best guideline for getting the clothes you need at prices you can pay."

"Avoid impulse spending sprees," she cautioned. "It's wiser to buy one outfit at a time to coordinate with your total wardrobe and to observe the new arrivals at stores periodically."

"Be sure to set aside enough money for large purchases—especially if they won't be the first selection you make in the season."

"Don't go overboard on price for any one article. Many changes may be more satisfying for an on-the-go female than one or two high-quality outfits. Fashion turnover seems to be frequent, and the 'in' look may be easier to achieve with a moderate price," the Texas A&M University specialist explained, adding that all fashions can be purchased on the ready-to-wear market at prices to fit a budget.

A second major consideration in selecting wardrobe fashions is upkeep required of the fabrics. Easy-care fabrics may be more suitable to the budget as well as the time schedule, Miss Schnorr said.

"Flexibility of style marks the third consideration. To extend your wardrobe as far as possible, think in terms of different effects you can get by switching separates around," she suggested. "Dual-purpose outfits add flexibility to the wardrobe."

"Accessories are important, too, as they help make your wardrobe go further. They're fun to buy but often are fads, so you won't want to put a lot of money into any one thing. Remember, prices often are reduced to a modest level soon after they first hit the market," she cautioned.

Returning to the basic rules of buying, Miss Schnorr offered these tips for checking fit and style:

Before you make the final decision, check the appearance of the outfit from all angles.

Look to see how it appears from the back.

It should be comfortable and look well while you're seated and while you're walking.

"One of the best rules of thumb is never buy anything unless it does something for you," the specialist concluded. "It should emphasize figure assets, flatter you with color to highlight your skin tones, the color of your eyes and sheen of your hair, and it should make you feel great."

"Consider your selections carefully, and you'll love wearing your seasonal-fashion wardrobe," she added.

First Days Of School

WITH THE SCHOOL RUSH on again, parents face the important task of helping the young child develop emotionally, as well as physically, in his new environment.

"One of the very best ways to help your child in school is to be very much aware of how he feels about his world," according to Dorothy Taylor, Texas Agricultural Extension Service family life specialist.

"FAR TOO OFTEN parents assume that as long as they feed, dress and care for the physical needs of their child, they have fulfilled their parental responsibilities.

"Today parents face a similar educational task in learning about the mental health requirements of children. The need for such attention to emotional development is apparent—children with school problems largely are affected with poor emotional health."

MISS TAYLOR outlined the following

general rules of helpful parental conduct:

Assume the concerns and worries your child has are as important to him as your worries are to you.

Don't minimize his lost school book, his forgotten paper or his boredom with a monotonous task.

Encourage your child to talk about his concerns—sometimes negative feelings are best handled by simply talking them out.

Help your child in whatever way he wants you to—the child must be accepted on his own terms, not on those of his parents.

Be encouraging and always ready to go out of your way with little hope of thanks at that moment.

MISS TAYLOR STRESSED the need for parental concern and understanding in preventing and solving school problems.

"The parents' attitudes toward a comfortable school environment and satisfying school experiences help develop an emotionally healthy child."

"Put it this way, you can say I'm not coming away empty-handed."

HONNY GETS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WELL, ER, NO! I didn't join in the celebration of Fisher's winning the chess championship.

HAVEN'T SEEN much of this week's news, as of yet. Is McGovern still running on the same platform as last week?

ABOUT THAT THING over in Germany. Do ya suppose those gangsters could have been mixed-up and thought they were in the United States??

FOR THE BENEFIT of you that have admired my handsome new shoes from afar, yet haven't had opportunity to wise-crack, or insult me about them, the reason I bought them is because I have some sore toes. —(I think).
You'd be surprised what a conversation piece they've turned out to be! Even complete strangers find some remark to make about them.

WHEN I FIRST SAW THEM, I had to laugh at the idea of my wearing them, myself. After I'd tried them on, and felt that solid comfort, I was sold!

They do look a little ridiculous, with their white crepe soles, red uppers, with dark wine caps and trimmings, in a kind of simulated suede. However, the capper of the whole deal is the size and shape.

THEY MUST BE a full 12 inches long, four and one-half wide, with a full three-inch wide toe. VERY comfortable! I kinda remind myself of Donald Duck, as I waddle across the floor.

You'd be surprised at just how "PASSE" they make the old, outmoded, pointed shoes appear! MAN, THEY'RE NOW!

PEOPLE, HOWEVER, little realize just how reserved and reticent I really am. The men, especially, are constantly making unkind remarks to me, but somehow I suspect they (or some of them) may be just the least bit envious!

I just hope no one says anything that will really hurt my feelings, and cause me to throw them away. It could be that I'll find that it takes a braver man than I to wear them, however good they feel. But, class? —Boy!

SOME HAVE SUGGESTED that I'm tryin' to turn back the clock, but shux, a guy with a wife that only admits thirty-nine, just has to do something, in self defense!

SPEAKIN' OF BEIN' good drivers, how many of us like to admit (that're past thirty-nine) that we're just not as sharp and alert as we were 15 years ago?

That our eyes and reflexes aren't as keen, nor our comprehension as quick? Or, that we really have the feel of our vehicle, as though we were a part of it?

TIME WAS WHEN I loved slippery, icy roads. They gave me a chance to prove my mastery of a car. (I thought.) Many the time I'd deliberately throw a vehicle into a wild skid, or spin just for the fun of bringing it back under control. By this, I learned just how much it took to make the vehicle skid, and what corrective measures were needed to straighten her out.

I'm still of the opinion that for years this caused me to be a little more "expert" in handling a car. Now, however, the feel of a car going into a skid, builds a big lump right in my middle!

I STILL KNOW what it takes to bring the vehicle under control, but somehow, the ol' reflexes and coordination just ain't the same!

Might do me good to admit that age takes its toll, and I'd better be a little more cautious. — Huh?

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

More Mirth

By BOB WEAR

MORE MIRTH IS the need in many lives. It is needed to maintain the emotional balance. Most of us have sad times; we have problems and difficulties which demand sober and serious consideration; and many of the necessary tasks we perform require concentration and great effort.

We find no fault with any of it, but if this is the whole of one's life; there is a serious imbalance. This imbalance can be corrected or modified by wholesome mirth at the proper time.

MIRTH CAN BE the difference between an effective living pattern and one that is ineffective. It can even be the difference between good health and illness.

It can make the family climate conducive for better living; it makes the labor of the day seem easier; and is one of the greatest aids to happy human relationships.

MIRTH CANNOT BE the whole life, but it certainly has a proper place, and must not be crowded out.

"A merry (mirthful) heart does good like a medicine; but a broken spirit dries the bones." —Bible.

WE MUST NOT OVERDO MIRTH. It has a proper place, and there is an appropriate time. If we make it a kind of self-indulgence, it will inevitably turn to sadness.

On the other hand, we must not turn away from mirth just because it is abused and misplaced by some folk. It can be a vice, but it is not a vice. Wholesome, appropriate mirth is one of the great virtues.

"MIRTHFULNESS IS in the mind, and you cannot get it out. It is the blessed spirit that God has set in the mind to dust it, and enliven its dark places, and to drive asceticism, like a foul fiend, out of the back door. It is just as good, in its place, as conscience or veneration." —Beecher.

WHOLESAME MIRTH does not require great expenditure of money, or neglect of duty, or the slighting of our work, or going to some special place, or some sort of elaborate preparation. It can be part of the usual day's activities, because it is the personal choice of the individual.

It is where we want to be, because it is within us; and is to be expressed as wisdom directs. It is part of a highly responsible and mature life style.

"A MERRY (MIRTHFUL) HEART makes a cheerful countenance; but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken." —Bible.

Gloom and despondency serve no useful purpose, and can become the cause of complete personal defeat. Of course, these feelings will be present in our living experience, now and then, but they must be dispelled from our mind just as quickly as they begin to work on us. We can do this.

WE CAN CHOOSE the things which dominate our thinking. For the best of living, we must choose to think about things that are true, honorable, pure, lovely and generally wholesome.

Successful Rodeo

September 6, 1972

News Editor Miss Joella Lovvorn
Lamb County Leader-News

Dear Miss Lovvorn:

The 28th annual Boys Ranch Rodeo was one of the most successful the boys have ever put on, thanks to the fine help they received with the publicity from friends like you and members of your staff.

A most heartwarming experience was the return of about 300 former boys and their families who came from many parts of the country for their annual homecoming. Only a few years ago, they were boys badly in need of the guidance and care the Ranch had to offer, and now each is a credit to his community and country.

This would have never been possible without the kind of help you gave our 375 boys with the 1972 rodeo and they are most grateful. I do hope you were able to attend one of the performances and that you will go to the Ranch whenever you can.

Thank you again, and with best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
Cal Farley's Boys Ranch

I want to give thanks for a very pleasant experience, while in your city, in which I was involved in a car accident. I was treated with the greatest courtesy I have ever witnessed by great odds that I have ever heard of.

This makes me wish I was a citizen of your very progressive city, and just the right size to have friends and to be one! Thanks again and a lifetime of pleasant memories of your people and city.

COUNCIL

members of the board will be chosen. Charles Russell has resigned from the Airport Advisory Board, and councilmen considered several names for appointment.

Kenneth Ware, a representative from the downtown beautification committee, presented recommendations from that committee as proposed in a meeting earlier that night. The committee recommended that greenery in planters down town need pruning, and recommended that more daylilies be set out in the area. They highly recommended the correction of the drainage problem on Phelps Avenue, and mentioned deepening the downtown lighting and parking lots in top shape.

Councilmen heard reports from area cities which are involved in the General Telephone rate increase, and most representatives still say the proposed rates are too high. Mayor Chisholm stated, "We feel that the company is not following the guidelines of the government in holding down inflation."

In discussing the preliminary budget for the 1972-73 fiscal year, councilmen were given sheets of major items for study before the preliminary meeting Thursday night at 7:30.

The public hearing has been scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 21, when the new budget will be discussed.

EYE INJURIES

Every year thousands of children and adults have accidents which result in injury to the eyes. The Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness reports that while many accidents are themselves unavoidable, injuries can be minimized or prevented altogether if the proper precautions are taken. For information on eye safety, those interested should write Prevent Blindness, Box 8025, Houston, Texas 77004.

Meet The Minister

The Silbiano Rangel Family

Rev. Silbiano Rangel has served the Primera Iglesia Bautista Memorial, located at West 6th and Barton Streets, four years.

Before he went into the pastorate there, he was in evangelistic work three years.

The church here is his first pastorate, and the church has an average attendance of 65 persons. He spends most of his spare time in the construction of an educational unit of the church building. Members of the church built the sanctuary, and are now working on the new unit, when the weather permits.

Rev. Rangel is a native of Ballinger and his wife, Florentina comes from Jayton.

Rev. Rangel is employed as a janitor at Plant X, and his wife is a maid at Medical Arts Hospital.

Besides his duties with the church, Rev. Rangel enjoys traveling, reading books, and watching baseball.

Mrs. Rangel likes to sew and read when she has time, and she teaches the primary age class in the Sunday school.

The Rangels have three sons and a daughter, and five grandchildren.

Their oldest son is Cleo Rangel, 24, who is employed at Pioneer Natural Gas Co. He leads the singing for the church services.

Their 23-year-old daughter, Rosa Villafranco, resides in Littlefield.

Silbiano Rangel Jr., 23, resides in Lubbock and builds mobil homes.

Their youngest son, Joe Rangel, 19, attends South Plains College at Levelland.

Church Conference Slated At Texas A&M

"The Bold New Challenge in Town and Country Churches" is the overall theme of the 27th annual Town and Country Church Conference Oct. 12-13 at Texas A&M University in College Station.

Program Chairman David Ruesink, sociologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said discussions will center on ways rural ministers can perform more effectively in today's fast-changing rural scene.

Activities start with registration at 8 a.m. in the Memorial Student Center. Keynote speaker is Dr. Bardin Nelson, A&M sociology professor. His subject is "Systemic Analysis of the Challenge."

Other topics are "Managing Time and Resources," by Kenneth Wolf, Extension economist — agribusiness; "Pastoral Counseling," Kenneth Pepper, director, Pastoral Counseling Center.

Greater Dallas Council of Churches; and "The Changing Scene," James Copp, A&M's head of the Sociology and Anthropology Department.

Also, "The Home and the Family in the Changing Scene," Florence Low, Extension Service assistant director for home economics; "The Texas Agricultural Extension Service Can Help You with Community Resource Development," Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service associate director; and "Just Don't Sand There," by Reagan Brown, Extension sociologist.

A banquet is set for 7 p.m. Oct. 12 at which Charlie Scruggs, executive editor of "The Progressive Farmer" magazine, will present the Rural Minister of the Year Award. Banquet speaker is Will Erwin, deputy under secretary for rural development, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The non-denominational conference is planned committee of 100 national ministers of the Town and Country Church Committee of A&M. Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Agricultural Extension Station, and is conducted by the A&M Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology.

Ruesink said rural small town ministers found the conference a unique and helpful. Ministers of all faiths are invited to attend.

Kenneth Cole, New Minister

Kenneth Cole will begin his ministry with the First Christian Church in Littlefield today, when he preaches for the 11 a.m. service.

Cole is also serving the Muleshoe Christian Church, and will be dividing his time between the two churches.

He and his family reside in Muleshoe at 1828 West Ash street, while his wife teaches in the Muleshoe Public School system.

They have two children, Tracey, 10, and Colby, 8.

Husband is a chronic liar

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 10 years to a man who has told some of the most outrageous lies I've ever heard. We have an 8-year-old son.

Before we were married, John used to tell some tall tales, but I thought he was just trying to impress me. I told him I loved him for what he was, and he didn't have to make up any lies. He promised he'd stop, but I still catch him lying to me. Heaven only knows what he says when I'm not around.

Last week a friend of ours died. I wasn't able to go to the wake, so John went alone. Yesterday when I called on the family they told me they were so sorry that my husband has spent the last three weeks in the hospital being built up for surgery! I almost fell off my chair but said nothing.

When I got home I asked John why he had made up that story, and he said he was ashamed because he hadn't gotten around to visit his friend when he was sick. I told him he would have been better off not to have made any excuses. Abby, I just can't live with a man who lies, but I can't leave him because of our son. Is lying an illness and can it be cured?

JOHN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Lying is an "illness" only when the liar can't distinguish facts from fiction. Your husband's lying appears to be more of a character deficiency. It's also a sign of immaturity, so perhaps if you scolded him and let him know how disappointed you were in him, he might shape up.

DEAR ABBY: How good a marriage prospect is a 45-year-old bachelor who still lives at home with his parents? He is an only child and when his parents move from one city to another, he moves with them.

I have known him for years, yet when I write to him, his mother is the one who answers my letters. She will write and say, "... says to tell you, 'blah, blah, blah,' ... and even tho my letters to him have become more personal since he proposed marriage on the long-distance telephone, he shares my letters with his folks, and they keep telling me how much they all enjoy my letters!

Now I am informed [not consulted, but informed] that after our marriage, we will live with his parents. He is a sweet person, but he has let me know that I will either do things his way or else.

I am beginning to wonder what I am getting into. What do you think?

HAVING SECOND THOUGHTS

DEAR HAVING: I suggest you have some third, fourth, and fifth thoughts about this. And when you get to six, sell!

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has been in love with another woman's husband for four years. We can't divorce and marry each other for all the usual reasons, but we keep telling ourselves that ours is a special thing, and we are not the same as all the others in this situation, and there will be a "someday" for us.

All the letters I have read in your column from women in this situation have been negative. They've all thought as we do, but for some reason there is never a happy ending.

Is it possible for our dreams to come true? Or are we just fooling ourselves?

I would be interested in hearing from others, if indeed there are any who started off with an affair, and finally realized their "someday."

Have they really found the happiness they thought was there? Or did they find themselves in the same rut that caused their first affair?

Sign me WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I'll ask.

DEAR ABBY: My boys club is putting on a play. Since there are no girls, some of the boys have to play girls' parts and I have the "female" lead.

I have to wear women's clothes and nylon stockings and heels. Also, a padded bra. I don't need a wig because my own hair is long, but they curl it so I will look like a girl. But what I hate the most is that I have to kiss another boy. I just can't do that, Abby! Please tell me what to do.

A WORRIED BOY

P. S.: After rehearsal I found out why girls hate brassieres.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding marriages between Baptists and Catholics: I am a practicing attorney, and I handle many divorce cases.

For the past 10 years I have kept a record of the number of divorces between couples of mixed religions, and my records show that 6 out of 10 marriages between Baptists and Catholics end in divorce. I don't know the reason, but thought you'd be interested in the statistics.

Being a small-town lawyer, I would appreciate your keeping my identity confidential as I would not want to lose all the good divorce trade between Baptists and Catholics.

A GALVESTON, TEX. ATTORNEY

DEAR ATTORNEY: Altho your mini survey on Baptist-Catholic divorces is hardly representative of the nation, if 4 out of 10 marriages make it in Galveston, you're doing better than the state of California, where I'm told they had more divorces last year than marriages!

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for stating that a return address on a sympathy card was indeed proper. It is also very helpful to the elderly who must acknowledge a stack of condolence messages, which is not an easy task with tear-filled eyes. How well I know.

IOWA GRANNY

DEAR ABBY: A female requested opinions from male readers regarding how they feel about women with false teeth. Abby, you gave her the most intelligent advice I ever read: "Keep your mov' shut."

But you failed to explain why. The reason being, "Many false words are spoken thru false teeth."

Sincerely,
A LUCKY DEAF MALE

DEAR LUCKY: And many true words are spoken thru false teeth. And many false words are spoken thru real teeth. So what have teeth to do with the veracity of one's words?

Renfro's Celebrate 43rd Anniversary

Another page in the history of Littlefield can be turned over as Renfro Bros. Thriftway marks its 43rd anniversary this month. Not many cities can boast of a business operated within 43 consecutive years by twin brothers whose earliest customer has shopped with them faithfully all those years and still does.

Norman and Raymond Renfro, the twin brothers, came to Littlefield in 1926, right after the peak of the land boom, and in 1929 bought out the old Harris Grocery in a small building on Phelps and Third Street. In 1932 they moved across the street on Phelps Avenue and operated there until building their present store on East 4th.

The Renfro Bros. were consistent advertisers in the Leader-News for the past 43 years. They can look back to a copy of the Lamb County Leader that they still have, and note that the while front page was dedicated the celebration of their second anniversary as a Littlefield business.

Quotes from the edition include:

Raymond and Norman Renfro, known throughout Littlefield and this section as the "Renfro Twins", established their business firm in the faith that Littlefield and this section were without peer in offering an opportunity in dealings and a continued active interest in serving the public.

"These young men were employed by Littlefield grocery concerns previous to entering business for themselves, coming to the city about five years ago from McKinney, Texas."

On the back of the 1931 edition is a full page ad, a "Whale of a Sale" celebrating the second anniversary.

Renfro Bros. Thriftway as it is known today has been a member of the Panhandle Associated Grocers since 1947 and is managed by Stanley Aaron who has been with the store for 13 years.

Alton Renfro, market manager, a brother of the twins, has been associated with his brothers for approximately 40 years.

Renfro Bros. Thriftway celebrates its 43rd Anniversary this week.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER Debt Pooling

Assume that you are a debtor who owes money on delinquent accounts to several different creditors who have been pressing you for prompt payment.

There are a number of possible solutions to clearing your credit record and seeing that your creditors are satisfied as they should be.

However, the legal arrangement known as debt pooling or debt consolidation, about which my office gets frequent inquiries, should be used only under limited circumstances.

Debt pooling is defined by law as a contract between a debtor and any other person whereby the debtor deposits a specific sum of money with that person for distribution among the debtor's creditors.

Of course, the agreement usually includes the payment of a fee to the person doing the paying for his services rendered.

As a general rule, debt pooling is prohibited by Texas law. Those who unlawfully engage in this practice are guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500 for each violation.

But the law provides for numerous instances where debt consolidation is allowed.

For example, banks, savings and loan associations, trust companies, and credit unions doing business under federal and state law are allowed to contract with a debtor for debt pooling where it occurs in the normal course of business activity.

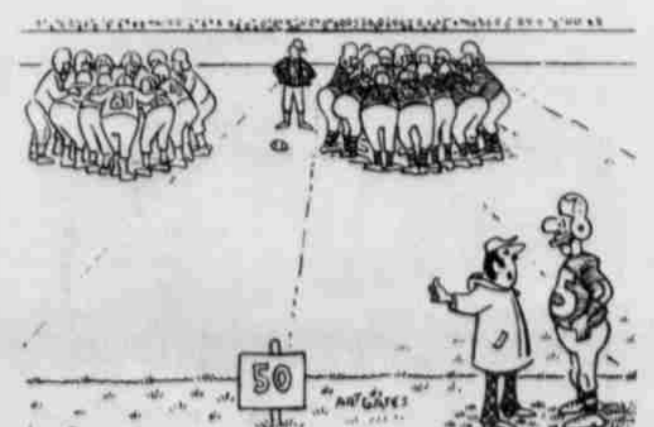

Also exempted from the prohibitions against debt pooling are retail merchants associations and non-profit trade Associations created for the purpose of collecting debts and credit data, any attorney at law, any government agency or subdivision, any judicial officer acting under court order, and non-profit debt counselling agencies.

In essence, almost any organization except small loan companies and private individuals may engage in the practice of rendering debt pooling services.

Before entering into any contract or agreement to consolidate your debts or turn them over to another for payment, it is recommended that you consult your family attorney for advice as to whether the party contracted with may legally engage in such practice.

Wanted Manure Accumulations Is Subject Of Intense Research

Two Texas Tech researchers show that relieving the headache suffered by Texas' billion-dollar cattle feeding industry—how to get rid of mountainous unwanted accumulations of manure.

Moreover, their research into chemical methods of cattle feedlot manure disposal could lead to establishment of a new High Plains industry to boot.

Dr. James Halligan, professor of chemical engineering at Tech, and Dr. Robert Sweazy of Tech's Water Resources Center, have proposed a method for converting manure into synthesis gas which can be used as a fuel or a raw material for ammonia, a product being used in increasing quantities by farmers as a nitrogen fertilizer.

An invaluable boost for the project has been provided by Pioneer Natural Gas Co., which will fund a bench-scale study of the proposal to test its validity when put into practice.

"This study will greatly assist in our overall analysis of chemical disposal methods," says Halligan, pointing out that other participants in the funding of initial research of the project were Southwestern Public Service Company, the Texas Cattle Feeders Association and Texas Tech University. An application has been made to the Environmental Protection Agency for financial assistance.

It is not difficult to visualize what the success of the conversion to ammonia process would mean to area cattle feeders who have to contend with accumulations of manure which stack up at the approximate rate of a ton per steer per year.

Halligan and Sweazy attacked the problem with several goals in mind. First, with the thrust of their research aimed at recycling rather than outright disposal, they simply were looking "for something useful to do with all that manure."

In addition, they wanted to come up with something that would be consistent with the local economy. Ammonia fills the bill in both cases.

The anhydrous ammonia business in West Texas gets very important." Noting that there are some 500,000 cattle being fed within 15 miles of Hereford, he adds that a profitable ammonia operation could never work for the small feeders.

Ammonia is now produced by partial oxidation of natural gas. The Tech researchers propose to partially oxidize the manure to produce the synthesis gas and ammonia. "Until the natural gas shortage becomes acute enough to force prices up," Halligan explains, "ammonia is the most economical product of the gas to be synthesized, whereas conversion to methane (natural gas) is not presently economically feasible."

It should be noted, he says, that by creating an alternate source from which ammonia can be produced, the manure conversion process could also help conserve existing natural gas reserves.

Thanks to Pioneer Natural Gas funding of the bench-scale system, scheduled to be operational within five months, Halligan and Sweazy are optimistic that their conversion process will soon prove practicable as well as economically feasible.

Much is riding on the research project's outcome: Area cattle feeders have a lot to lose—some nine billion pounds of unwanted feedlot manure annually, and the High Plains has a profit-making industry to gain.

Cowboy Art Show Slated At Post

By far the biggest exhibit and sale of cowboy art in the Southwest this year is scheduled for the weekend of Sept. 30-Oct. 1 in the restored ranchhouse of the 80-year-old O.S. Ranch, 13 miles southeast of Post.

Some 30 well-known cowboy and western artists will exhibit their drawings, paintings and sculpture with commissions from the sales going to help support 72 "hardluck" boys at West Texas Boys Ranch near San Angelo.

Cowboy art—the depicting of cowboys, horses, cattle, and Indians in action—has its collectors all across the nation.

A large number of them are expected to attend this unusual benefit show, because, except for the Cowboy Artists of America annual exhibit in Oklahoma City, no other exhibit this year will attract such a field of nationally known artists.

They include almost all the winners of the 1972 Cowboy Artists of America competition.

Drawn from nine states by invitation, the artists include: Wayne Baize of Baird; Joe Beeler, Sedona, Ariz.; James Boren, Clifton; Charlie Dye, Sedona, Ariz.; Fred Fellows, Big Fork, Mont.; Nicholas Firfires, Santa Barbara, Calif.; John Free, Pawhuska, Okla.; Jim Hamilton, Pawhuska, Okla.; John Hampton, Scottsdale, Ariz.; Bud Helbig, Kalispell, Mont.; Peter Hurd, San Patricio, N.M.; Harry Jackson, Meeteetse, Wyo.; Ned Jacob, Denver; John Kittelson, Bellvue, Colo.; Bob Lee, Belen, N.M.; Robert Lugheed, Santa Fe; George B. Marks, Albuquerque; Brownell McGrew, Cottonwood, Ariz.; John Meigs, San Patricio, N.M.; William Moyers, Albuquerque; George Phippen, Skull Valley, Ariz.; Frank Polk, Hemet, Calif.; James Reynolds, Sedona, Ariz.; Tom Ryan, Lubbock; Bob Scriver, Browning, Mont.; Gordon Snidow, Belen, N.M.; U. Grant Speed, Provo, Utah; Jack Swanson, Carmel Valley, Calif.; Ronald Thomason, Weatherford; and Melvin Warren, Clifton.

Invitations to the art exhibit and sale are being sent galleries and collectors of cowboy and western art across the western half of the nation.

Speakers will include Dr. Roland Roberts and Marvin Sartin, vegetable specialist and economist in management, respectively, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock; Dr. William Lipe, horticulturist, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock; Harvey Kitchens, Kimbell, Inc., Fort Worth; Dr. Chan Connolly, vegetable marketing research, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Weslaco; Mario Trevino, manager, Walker Brothers Produce Co., Plainview; M. L. Wiggins, president, First National Bank, Munday; and Dr. John D. Downes, professor of horticulture, Texas Tech University.

Opening remarks will be made by Claude W. Brown, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Conference Slated At Plainview

Another economic opportunity is "knocking on the door" of West Texans. There's money to be made in vegetable production and marketing.

And that's what two upcoming conferences are all about, according to Co-Extension Agent, Buddy Logsdon.

A "Money in Vegetables" conference will be held in Lamesa at the Forrest Park Community Center on Sept. 20 and in Plainview at the Hale County Agricultural Center on Sept. 21.

Both sessions begin at 1 p.m.

Each conference will feature discussions on the potential for local vegetable production, what vegetables can be produced profitably, buying and selling vegetables, beginning steps to vegetable production, financing vegetables production, and sources of information on producing vegetables.

What looked to have been the upset of the week was foiled by Sudan as the Hornets scored twice in the final four minutes of the game to regain the lead from Amherst and win, 19-8.

A 91-yard pass play from QB Kim Ingram to End Roby Lynn was the turning point for the Hornets as Lynn shook off about four Bulldog tacklers and went all the way to give Sudan a 13-8 lead.

It was a defensive duel for more than three and a half quarters as fumbles and interceptions took its toll on a field that was as much as two inches deep in water. During this period the Bulldogs from Amherst dominated the game by controlling the ball and pouncing on Hornet fumbles.

The opening series of downs were stopped by Sudan as Danny Williams intercepted a third down pass from Amherst.

Sudan moved the ball only three yards against Amherst before having to give up the ball on downs.

Amherst charged for three first downs before they were stopped by Sudan on a pass interception by Kevin May on the Bulldog 45.

Gary Edwards, Pat Hedges and Richard Tamplin teamed up in carrying the ball six times for two first downs. It took the Hornets four downs to plow six yards with Lynn diving over for a two-yard TD with 1:04 left in the first period. The point after by Ingram was good.

Amherst gave up the ball twice on downs but got it back with Randy Miller recovering a Hornet fumble and Luis Jimenez intercepting a pass.

The interception set up the stage for Amherst to drive 44 yards with Butch Sutton charging over from the five for a Bulldog touchdown with 2:57 left in the first half.

Stanley Miller picked up a bad snap from Center and turned it into a two-point conversion and a one-point lead for Amherst.

The remainder of the game was a defensive duel until Lynn took a pass from Ingram and scampered 91 yards for a Hornet score with 3:56 left in the game. The point after was no good.

Ingram booted the ball to the Amherst 25.

Lynn recovered a Bulldog fumble on the second down, Scott Harmon got the ball back in the next down by recovering a Hornet fumble.

Three downs later, Brad West intercepted a pass and charged about 20 yards for the final Hornet touchdown with 1:53 left in the game. The points after was no good.

At the final gun the Hornets had possession of the ball on the Bulldog 25.

Whitharral lit up scoreboard in the first stanza on a 40-yard pass by Budd Reding to Camancho. The Panthers trailed 36-6 at the end of the first period.

It took Dawson two quarters to score their first points as the Bulldogs tightened.

As Dawson widened lead, the Panthers were standing still as they scored their final TD in the quarter on a one-yard pass by Benito Lopez.

Whitharral will host the next Friday for the district tilt.

WILDCATS

Starting this drive on the Owl 39 yard line, three running plays netted 13 yards and then Bryson threw the first touchdown pass of the season to Pat Henderson with 2:04 left in the first quarter. The Wildcats lined up in offensive formation to go for two extra points but the running attempt failed. The first quarter ended with the score Wildcats 12, Owls, 0.

The Wildcats had two apparent scores called back in the second quarter by penalties. Johnson had a 45-yard run nullified by a clipping penalty and Bryson had an 18-yard run called back. The only scoring in the second quarter was a safety by the Wildcats. In punt formation, the Owls center snapped the ball over the punter's head and he was eventually tackled in the end zone by Leneral Lewis and Alan Mackey.

The first half ended with the score 14 to 0 in favor of Littlefield.

The third quarter opened up with the Wildcats kicking off to the Owls. Unable to move the ball, Silvertown punted again. The cats ran the ball back to their own 40-yard line and a 15-yard personal foul by the Owls moved the ball into Owl territory at the 40. Johnson picked up seven yards on a carry, Henderson then picked up 16 more and on the third play, of the series, Johnson goes over for his second score of the night from 17 yards out. The point after touchdown kick was good by Larry Hobratschk and the Wildcats led by 21-0.

With 4:21 left in the third quarter, Littlefield picked up two more points on a safety. Again a bad snap from the Owl caused the Silvertown punter to go into the end zone where he was tackled by Mackey.

The 4th quarter saw Littlefield score 15 big points.

Another bad snap from center caused the first of two TD's in this quarter. The Wildcats recovered the snap on Owl 34. Henderson and Johnson alternated carries from the 30 yard line with Johnson carrying over the last 5 yards. The score came with extra points in the fourth quarter. "razzle-dazzle" by Mackey Hobratschk. Mackey was the hero of the attempt, but a bad snap got from him, the intended Hobratschk picked the ball up and passed to Mackey for the extra point. The Wildcats scored their touchdown with 5:24 remaining in the game.

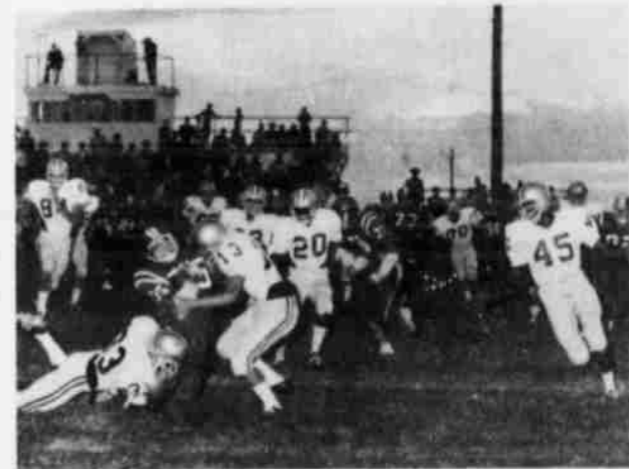

A 40-yard pass play from Bryson Henderson moved the ball to the 20 yard line. Runs by Henderson and Johnson moved the ball to the 10. Henderson carried over with 5:24 the game.

The final score: Littlefield 38, Silvertown Owls 0.

The Wildcats will be in action next week as they take on traditional Levelland in Levelland.

Prepare For Hunting Season

The fall hunting season is fast approaching and Texas sportsmen will want to get "rared up", as far as their equipment and physical condition are concerned.

"A little time and effort devoted to getting your field gear and physique 'in shape' can be a big plus for that upcoming hunting adventure," contends Dr. Milo Shult, area wildlife specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A good beginning for the equipment check is your firearm. Clean the piece carefully, giving special attention to the bore and the action.

"Carefully sight in all rifles and handguns," suggests Shult. "This will not only prevent disappointment over a missed shot but also will help the shooter get the 'feel' of his weapon again."

To sight in center-fire rifles, use the bullet weights and powder charges that you expect to use in the field. Determine sighting distances by the type of game to be hunted and the likely terrain. As a rule of thumb, shot groupings from 50, 100 and 200 yards will prepare the hunter for most situations.

The specialist suggests that handguns be sighted in for distances up to 60 yards. Accuracy is difficult at greater distances. Remember, range safety is of critical importance with all firearms but especially with handguns, cautions Shult.

For the shotgun enthusiast, the specialist suggests getting in a little trap or skeet shooting.

Another good practice is "patterning" the shotgun. This can be done by firing at large sheets of paper or cardboard at distances of 15, 25 and 50 yards. Thus the hunter will know how his weapon performs at those distances with whatever load he is using.

For the hunter with a double barrel, slide-action or semi-automatic shotgun, it's good to fire more than one round to get used to getting off a second or even third shot.

An equipment check is also in order for the archer. For instance, broadheads may need sharpening. Shult suggests practicing with silhouette field targets rather than bullseyes, since this gets the archer accustomed to firing at "vital spots" rather than just "at the deer."

Most hunters carry some type of cutting tool for dressing game. These knives, hand axes and bone saws should be checked and sharpened.

Shult emphasizes that wearing apparel also needs checking. Footwear is especially important as a painful blister can ruin an otherwise enjoyable hunting experience. Boot stitching should be checked and the leather should be oiled or treated for comfort and protection. It is a good idea to break in new boots before starting out on a long day's hunt.

In addition to checking his gear, the smart hunter prepares himself physically for the field, notes the specialist. "Many of us work at jobs which don't allow us to stay in shape for that once-a-year hunting trip. Perhaps the best solution is to start early with sensible exercise. This may mean just walking every day or it may include jogging and dieting off a few pounds. Remember, more hunters die from heart attacks brought on by over-exertion than from firearm mishaps."

The sportsman who begins preparing his gear and his body now will have a much more rewarding experience in the outdoors when hunting season rolls around, contends Shult.

Do Want Ads work?

Do mice like cheese?

The answer to both questions is a roaring "yes."

Why mice prefer cheese over all other types of food is something we two-legged creatures will never understand.

Why Want Ads work at a lower cost and with greater effectiveness than any other form of advertising, is easy to understand. It is because Want Ads provide people to people communication, bringing buyer and seller together.

Just dial 385-4481. We will put a want ad to work for you.
