45 Years Old - - And New Twice Every Week

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1969

NUMBER 58

PHONE COMPANY INVESTS $150,000

Tower Tops Skyline

Construction of a 180-foot tower here this week is the start of a $150,000 improvement program now in progress.

at General Telephone Company's Littlefield offices.

The tower, to be topped by circular-shaped transceiver 12 feet in diameter, is under construction behind General's dial office at 5th and Twitchell.

Total cost of the improvements will be $149,981, according to Jerry Kehoe, district manager of the company.

The tower itself is an item of about $20,000 in cost, Kehoe said, with the main portion of the expense attributed to complex radio equipment being installed at the office and atop the tower.

The project is designed to give the Littlefield exchange a "better, more up-to-date method of handling long distance calls," Kehoe explained.

He said the company's target date for having the microwave facilities in operation here is May 1.

At present all incoming and outgoing long distance calls involving Littlefield and other communities in the local exchange are carried over standard telephone lines.

After the microwave system is installed, calls will go "through the air on microwaves," Kehoe said.

Microwave towers are already installed at Levelland, Brownfield, Wolforth, Lubbock and other points in the West Texas-New Mexico area of the General system.

The new Littlefield tower apparently will be the tallest structure in the immediate area. The 12-foot diameter transceiver will be situated vertically atop a 169-foot tower, bringing the total height to 181 feet.

The microwave system "will give us more certain service," Kehoe said.

He said the local office no longer will have the problem of ice on telephone lines in cold weather, which results in distortion of conversation and even more serious troubles at times.

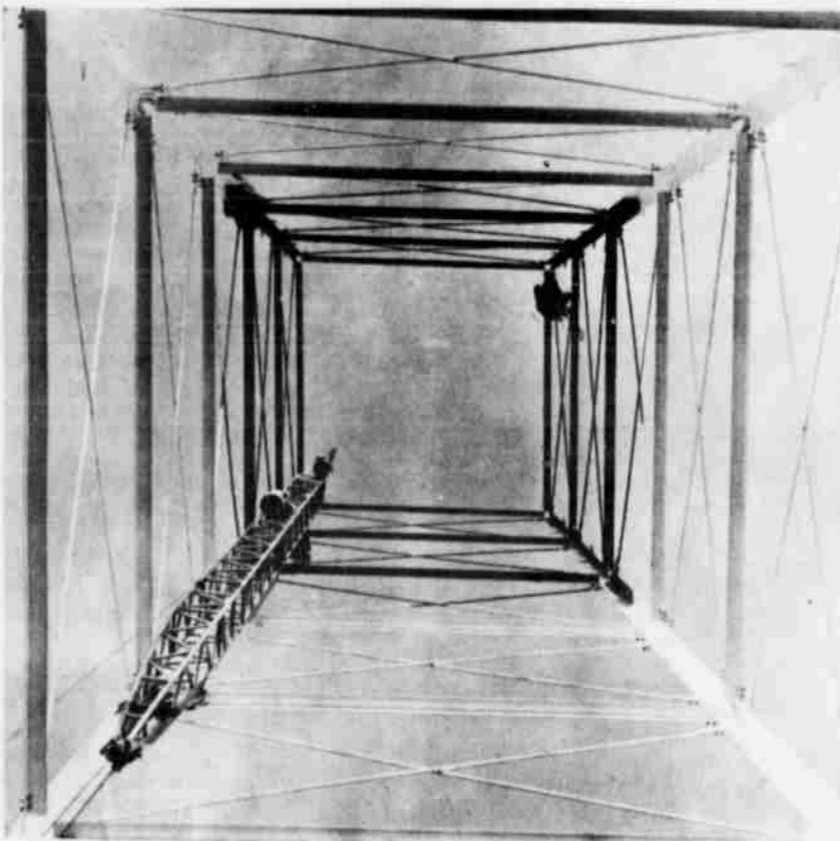

"We've even had trouble from heavy trucks garbling telephone line communication," Kehoe said, "and we've even lost telephone wire to thieves in the past."

The district manager said he had received many inquiries about the new tower since construction started Tuesday, including some from people who thought the new tower might have something to do with cable TV, on which General has the franchise.

"I don't know the status on cable TV here," Kehoe said, "but it is my understanding that the tower for that will be located somewhere south of town, out near the old drive-in theatre, when it is put up."

Where Do We Go From Here?

Citizens interested in the growth and development of Littlefield are urged to attend a brainstorming session Monday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom of the Lamb County Courthouse.

Mayor J. E. Chisholm and Chamber of Commerce President John Clayton will preside for the decision-making meeting.

City Manager Jim Shearer will again present ideas in promoting new industry for Littlefield and the County, as he has at several other meetings in the city.

All citizens, all civic organizations, school board members, county government representatives, chamber of commerce, city council and local businessmen are urged to attend and present ideas.

SHE HEARD FROM CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Letter From Old Country

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

Frank Vrubel, the father of Mrs. Rosie Vasek of Littlefield and John Vrubel of Spade, used to grieve for his Czechoslovakian family and wish he could hear from them.

"Even years before his death," Mrs. Vasek said, "he would wish he would hear from his brother and sister and family he left in the old country in 1906."

Frank Vrubel's brother, Rudolph, promised him when he got old enough to travel alone that he would come to America. Rudolph Vrubel fulfilled this promise in 1913. Even with his brother here, Frank longed to see his family so that he often dreamed of meeting his family in Czechoslovakia again.

But by this time the communists had taken over Czechoslovakia and the elder Vrubel would say: "But I don't know whether they still live where they used to, and I don't know what to say. If I said the wrong thing, it might get them in trouble."

Mrs. Vasek said she thought her dad wrote some letters, but never mailed them. "You've got to have an address before you start," she said.

She can remember getting some letters from Czechoslovakia about 1927. When Mrs. Vasek's sister at Rosenberg got a letter from the old country recently, this was news warranting a phone call. "I'll send the letter to you," she said.

Mrs. Vasek learned to speak Czech from her parents, but she never studied Czech writing, "but I didn't have any trouble reading the letter," she said. "I knew Uncle Rudolph Vrubel (now in a Littlefield rest home) would never undertake to answer the letter, so I sat down and started to write."

"I didn't use my hooks and crooks right (Czech accent marks). And when I finished, I read what I'd written, and I thought to myself, 'I can't even read this!' So I wrote some more in English, thinking that they could take the letter to an interpreter and have it translated. I mailed the letter not knowing whether I'd ever hear from them or not."

Mrs. Vasek was expecting a letter from her son the day the letter arrived from Czechoslovakia. The Czech language was written in beautiful script. A picture of Mrs. Vasek's aunt,

Parents Concerned

The poisoning death of a young puppy in Littlefield has caused concern among some parents and authorities of the city.

An expensive Basenji female owned by Judd Walker, 112 E. 20th, ate some strychnine-treated meat Wednesday morning of last week, and died as a result.

Walker admitted he cared very much about the loss of the pup, but that he was much more concerned about the possibility of a young child getting into the same poison.

The November-born dog, bought by Walker for $150 to mate with a Basenji male he already owned, was out of the yard for a short while that morning. It was observed having convulsions shortly before noon.

Walker took the dog to a veterinarian in Muleshoe immediately. It lived into the night, but finally died. The Muleshoe vet confirmed the type of poison and said it had probably been taken with stew meat.

Police Chief F. A. Fitzgerald told the Leader-News he had received no other complaints of poisonings recently. But he said if he could find who set out the poison, he would stop it.

It is against the law to purchase strychnine for the purpose of poisoning animals. The purchaser must sign an account sheet upon receipt of the poison.

One local pharmacist said he was very much against the using of strychnine in killing animals. "It's a horrible way to die. There's nothing in the world bad enough to deserve poisoning by strychnine."

He explained the poison reacted on the muscles, causing convulsions. Only if the convulsions can be arrested, can the recipient be saved.

The pharmacist was asked, "What would happen to a child that only picked up a poisoned piece of meat and put it back down without getting the meat in his mouth, but later put his contaminated hand in his mouth?"

He explained that the child would become "very nervous", and would suffer severe nervous tremors at slight noises and surprises.

Your Car Among Half Not Inspected?

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 53 per cent of the registered vehicles in Lamb County have been inspected," stated Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches. The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles if owners will not wait until a few days before the deadline," Johnson added.

"Any driver operating a vehicle on public roads after April 15 that is required to be inspected will be operating in violation of the law," Johnson said.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program in 1951, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13% to 3%.

members of the family were watching as the accident took place.

The vehicle rolled over atop the boy and crushed him. Judd Walker's daughter, Kathy, 12, was also pinned under the vehicle. Connie Cannon, also 12, daughter of Mrs. Avinel Cannon, was thrown clear.

Two men watching, ran to the vehicle and lifted it off the youths, but it was too late to save the boy's life.

Parents of the boy were not present. He had made the trip with his grandparents.

Youngsters All Set For Scout-O-Rama

Littlefield and area scouts will be among more than 4,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers from 130 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts in the South Plains Boy Scout Council who will present their annual Scout-O-Rama Saturday, according to Tom Hilburn, district commissioner.

According to Colonel Haynes Baumgardner, chairman of this year's shows, three separate Scout-O-Ramas will be conducted from 1 to 8 p.m.

Littlefield scouts will display at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock; and others will be held at the Agriculture Center in Plainview; and at the Gaines County Show Barn in Seminole.

The shows will have from 30 to 70 exhibits in booths and demonstration areas in which they will show their skills, crafts and fun of Scouting.

This year the boys in Scouting are selling family tickets to the Scout-O-Rama. Each ticket admits an entire family, regardless of its size.

Scouts receive prizes for themselves and cash commissions for their unit treasuries from the ticket sales.

In addition, the top four ticket salesmen in the Council, and their dads, will have a free weekend at Astro-World and Sea-A-Rama in Houston and Galveston on the first weekend in May.

The Littlefield Scout-O-Rama committee will provide transportation, and management of Astro-World and Sea-A-Rama will host the winners at their facilities.

her cousin and his wife and children was enclosed.

"We got your letter and pictures in good shape," Mrs. Vasek translated. (They didn't say whether the letter had been censored.) They said they waited to write because they had pictures made. "We could read your Czech just fine, and our daughter has studied some English and could read that, too."

They told about their family, saying that there was plenty of work and that all was well. "We would like to come to your country, but that is not possible."

"It made me so very happy to hear from them," Mrs. Vasek said.

WORD IN A SERIES

They Seek Apostolic Church

What is the distinctive plea of the Pentecostal Church?

The plea of our church is that might be saved on the terms of the gospel.

What is the historical background of the Pentecostal movement?

History records a time of darkness during the dark-age period. Men of God stood out against darkness, bringing in the time of Pentecost. We as a Pentecostal group picture in our time of fight the powers of sin and darkness every day. We are again trying to bring a church such as there was in apostolic days.

How many United Pentecostals are there?

We have between 3-4,000 members.

What does the United Pentecostal Church believe about the Holy Spirit?

Our local churches are organized. They select their own pastors and other officers. The next step is the districts of which there are several in the U. S. and Canada. Foreign missionaries are being sent now in foreign lands. Pastors of the local churches are supervised by secretaries. The general superintendent is elected by the ministry at the general conference which convenes once a year. The superintendents of the districts constitute the general conference.

What does the United Pentecostal Church believe about the baptism of Jesus?

We believe the Bible to be the authoritative word of God. God sent men of old by the Holy Spirit and wrote it by divine inspiration, therefore we adhere to its precepts and doctrines as authoritative.

Do members of the United Pentecostal Church believe in the resurrection?

Yes, we believe in the resurrection of the dead.

Ans.: We believe that Jesus was fathered by the Holy Spirit and mothered by the virgin Mary. His father being of the spirit world and His mother of the family of man makes Him both God and man. We reverence Him as the almighty God veiled in the body of His son.

8. Does the United Pentecostal Church believe in predestination?

Ans.: We do not believe that one is eternally saved and continues in sin. We believe sin will cause anyone who has been saved to be lost.

9. What kind of baptism does the United Pentecostal Church believe in?

Ans.: We believe in immersion in the name of Jesus for the remission of sin.

10. Is infant baptism practiced? Why, or why not?

Ans.: We do not believe in infant baptism as baptism is for the remission of sin and infants have not come to the knowledge of sin.

11. What sacraments are observed by the United Pentecostal Church?

Ans.: We believe in foot washing and the sacrament.

12. What rules, conventions, or rituals of your church are most misunderstood?

Ans.: Our stand on water baptism in the name of Jesus and the deity of Jesus as being incarnated in man as the almighty God. Also our stand on not participating in worldliness and that both men and women should be godly dressed.

13. What does the Pentecostal Church believe about Heaven and Hell?

Ans.: We believe that believers will be rewarded eternally by being with Him in the heavens and eternal bliss. Those who have not accepted His plan will be eternally lost in perdition.

14. How is the Pentecostal Church financed?

Ans.: We are financed by the tithing plan.

15. What is the belief of the Pentecostal Church concerning divorce?

Ans.: We believe divorce is unscriptural unless one party has been untrue to his marriage contract by committing adultery.

16. How does a person become a member of the United Pentecostal Church?

Ans.: Our requirements for church membership is to be born again of the water and of the Spirit. First godly sorrow must bring one to a state of sorrow for their sinning which will cause them to cry out for mercy in repentance. After forgiveness they are immersed in water in the name of Jesus for the removing of remission of those forgiven sins. This clean body then is ready for the indwelling of the Holy Ghost which comes in as one worships and praises the Lord. It is evidenced by the speaking in a language that is not their own, or as is commonly known as "speaking in tongues."

What The Leader-News Thinks

Farmers Want Out

UNTOLD BILLIONS of dollars have been spent over the years in an effort to "help the farmer."

Far from being helped, the farmer is faced with ever-mounting costs of operation on the one hand, and a mountain of red tape and restrictions on the other.

Hopefully the end of this bureaucratic nightmare may be in sight.

THE LARGEST FARM organization in the nation, representing about 1.8 million families, has gone on record in favor of dismantling government farm programs and replacing them with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments.

CHARLES B. SHUMAN, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, believes, "The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility."

Farmers have had a longer experience with government planning and subsidies than any other group in the country.

The significance of their wish to be freed of massive government intervention in their affairs should not be lost on those who have more recently entered into "partnership" with Uncle Sam.

UNLESS YOU LIVE in Oregon or Nevada, chances are you will face numerous tornado warnings in the approaching tornado season.

And if you live in Texas—or in any other state along Tornado Alley—you have gone through the tornado watch—tornado warning bit many times.

MATHEMATICALLY, chances that your home or school will be struck by a tornado are small. The probability of a tornado striking a given point in the area most frequently subject to tornadoes is 0.0363—about once in 250 years.

But tornadoes don't understand mathematics. Austin was struck by two tornadoes in rapid succession on May 4, 1922. And Codell, Kansas, was struck on May 20—in 1916, 1917, and 1918.

TORNADOES ARE MOST FREQUENT in April, May, and June. Over a 12-year period (1953—1965), there was an average of 628 tornadoes a year in the United States. Texas hit the jackpot with an average of 109. Tornadoes occur in all states; but in the period studied, Oregon and Nevada had a yearly average of less than one.

The greatest concentration of tornadoes, 23 percent, occur between four and six in the afternoon. And 82 percent of all tornadoes come between noon and midnight.

THE WEATHER BUREAU, a part of the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) of the U. S. Department of Commerce, provides the first line of defense against tornadoes. The Weather Bureau is aided by hundreds of local network observers.

If you find yourself at school during a tornado warning—or wherever you may be—there are certain safety rules to follow, ESSA says.

*If your building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows. Remain near an inside wall on the lower floor where possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with wide, freestanding roofs.

*If you are in a car or open country, move away from the tornado's path at a right angle. If there is no escape time, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ravine or ditch.

*In homes, the basement usually offers the greatest safety. Seek shelter under a sturdy workbench or heavy table if possible. If there is no basement, take cover under heavy furniture in the center of the house. Keep some windows open, but STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS.

*When the announcement comes that your area is under a tornado watch, this means that the Weather Bureau has determined that conditions are such that a tornado could develop. At this time, there is no need to take extra precautions.

Just stay tuned to your radio or television.

A TORNADO WARNING means that a tornado has been sighted in your area. At this point, persons in the indicated path of the tornado should immediately take safety precautions.

On the average, tornado paths are only a quarter of a mile wide and seldom more than 16 miles long. In spectacular exceptions, tornadoes have caused heavy destruction along paths more than a mile wide and 300 miles long. Tornadoes usually move at about 25 to 40 miles an hour. The forward speed can range from almost 0 to 70 miles an hour.

WHEN THEY DO STRIKE, they are violent. In a matter of seconds, a tornado can turn a populated area into a mass of rubble.

To further the efforts to avoid loss of life along a tornado's touch-down path, ESSA has initiated SKYWARN, a tornado safety campaign to expand the network of volunteer spotters and encourage the widest possible participation in tornado-preparedness programs.

ESSA HAS AVAILABLE through the Government Printing Office many pamphlets such as Tornado and Tornado Statistics 1953—1967. Included in both are tornado safety rules suitable for posting.

Pamphlets should be ordered by number from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. Tornado, a 16-page pamphlet contains pictures, definition of tornado formation, and some statistics. Number 1968 0-327-116, it costs 20 cents.

Tornado Statistics 1953—1967 is a leaflet containing statistics on tornadoes and the safety rules. Number 1968 0-306-755, it costs 5 cents.

PAUL HARVEY

First Megalopolis

EVERY CITY in the world, fearing stagnation and decline, wants to "grow."

Yet the cities which grow faster suffer the most growing pains and the gigantic cities suffer from hardening of the arteries.

THIS SELF-STRANGULATION applies not just to New York, Los Angeles, Chicago. And it refers not just to traffic congestion, overloaded sewers, understaffed schools. Sprawling cities are beset by a multiplicity of administrative problems; when expanded cities begin to overlap, to "bump into" one another, these problems are compounded. Take Jacksonville, Fla. Half a century ago Jacksonville's population was 88,000, with another 19,000 in "the county."

BY 1960, more people lived in the county than in the city. City population declined, county population soared to 254,000.

"Greater Jacksonville" by then included an assortment of five municipalities plus a vast unincorporated area. There was no uniformity in property tax evaluation with resultant disparity, in some cases "right across the street."

CITIZENS IN SUBURBS were disenfranchised, had no vote, in the city which governed their working lives. Conversely, the city lacked the tax base for paying its bills.

Separate city-county governments competed in areas where co-operation was called for.

After two attempts to merge these multiple municipalities failed in referendum, in 1965 a study commission proposed a complete overhaul, a consolidated city-county government.

IN 1967 the voters voted yes. All municipalities thereabouts merged into one. Last October, 1968, Jacksonville, Fla., became the largest city in the world,

Dear Editor,
I want to thank each of you who voted for me in the school board election.

I also wish to congratulate three winners. I feel Littlefield school system should be from these competent men.

Although I was a loser, I favor more aggressive ambitious programs for schools.

covering 827 square miles of land and water.

This is our nation's first megalopolis.

ACROSS OUR NATION around the world all cities are watching to see how this works out.

In every area of concentrated population concentration separate towns with separate officials maintaining separate facilities, utilities are watching to see if Jacksonville has found a formula for efficient administration.

Already all legal disputes resulting from the merger have been resolved in favor of consolidation.

MOST REORGANIZATIONAL problems have been worked out, the press has closed ranks, the people are pulling together.

With government costs, as costs, skyrocketing Jacksonville's increased efficiency is providing "improved government with so far as general tax increase." Additional economies are anticipated.

Will it be less costly to have just one water company, one sewer system, one fire department, one police department?

CAN WE PURCHASE vehicles and other supplies larger quantities at a saving? Will one mayor and one council minimize duplication—and temptation?

NOBODY KNOWS YET. It is a quiet revolution, testing the vitality and flexibility of our Americanism. The "United States of Jacksonville" has a larger population than the United States of America had when it consolidated in 1776.

It worked for us then. Perhaps it will be proved in Jacksonville that we still have to hold together to keep from flying apart.

In Time For Tornadoes

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Your Tax Money

By LIBBY MUDGETT

FOR YEARS, I had been reading about the college crowd taking over the beaches and beach towns during the Easter holidays. I thought for sure the write-ups were highly exaggerated and how a bunch of youths could overwhelm a whole police force I could never understand.

I still don't understand it, but it happens. And believe me, those write-ups don't tell the half of it.

ACTUALLY, more than half of it doesn't do to tell in a family newspaper.

I'm writing this from a tiny resort town on the Gulf Coast—or what's left of it. This is the day after Easter and the thousands of beards and bikinis have now pulled out, leaving their filth behind them.

ALL OF YOU sob sisters and bleeding hearts that think mean old policemen beat up "poor innocent children" should have been here. It took local police, highway patrolmen, hovering patrol helicopters, and tear gas to salvage as much as there is left.

And any girl or boy that was out on that beach over five minutes was no longer innocent.

The overwhelming majority of those kids were college students and I have no doubt but what they were from families of good standing back in their own communities. I couldn't help but wonder if their parents thought they were somewhere else, didn't care, or had lost all control of them.

EVERY ONCE in a while, you could see a girl that couldn't have been over fourteen or fifteen, occasionally a boy that young. But for the most part, their ages ran from the late teens to the middle twenties.

Local people said that some of them had been here all week, but more began to flow in Saturday until by Saturday night they outnumbered the grains of sand on the beach. We drove (or attempted to) down the beach a few hours before the riot.

THE MOOD wasn't ugly yet, just beginning to be. There were still a few sober ones left. The things going on would have been censored out of a French movie.

I was scared. So was every one else over thirty and a few under. As soon as we were able to, we did as everyone else with any sense did—left and locked ourselves up in our cabins for the night.

MY ADMIRATION for patrolmen, which has always been pretty high anyway, rose about a thousand percent. There's not enough money in Texas to have paid most people to have waded into that mob.

The police finally had to give up on doing anything about controlling what went on at the beach and concentrate on protecting the townspeople, tourists, and property. This they did admirably, except for the wall of one cafe bashed in and several cars overturned and burned.

THE LOCAL CONSTABLE asked one of the kids the next morning what were they all mad about and what had they wanted. The boy looked shocked and replied that nobody was mad, they were just having a good time, for -----sake.

I asked a motel operator if all the money they took in from those kids was worth it. He informed me that no motel in town would rent to the college crowd anymore. They had learned better. One or two would clean up fairly decently, rent a room, then twenty or more (of both sexes) would move in and take over.

MAYBE THAT explains why all of them were camped out on the beaches.

I asked a grocery store owner if he made a lot off of them—after all, they could sleep on the beach, but everyone HAS to eat. He cursed and said that far more was stolen than was bought. They came in such swarms that it was impossible to keep up with each one and even if he did catch one stealing, what could he do? The police couldn't be everywhere.

TODAY THE BEACHES are empty of people, but littered with thousands of beer cans, bottles, food, trash, and unmentionable objects. Bulldozers are trying to rake it all off so that once again people can walk there.

Your tax money at work, ladies and gentlemen.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Absurd Alibis

By BOB WEAR

MANY IMPORTANT elements of our "Way Of Life" are being neglected.

We see and hear things every day which support this conclusion.

The situation is critical, and is due, for the most part, to our unwillingness to accept our share of the responsibility for the things that need to be done.

IF IS DIFFICULT to find capable people, or any kind of people, for the various services which are so very necessary to the common good.

When we seek such workers, we get more alibis than actions, and they are absurd alibis. There are some reasons for this deplorable state, and it is deplorable.

IF SOMEONE IS WILLING to do these important jobs, he may and often does get more criticism than cooperation.

Oftentimes, we will not do what needs to be done and, to make matters worse, we will strongly oppose the persons who do accept these jobs.

So, in one way or another, many of us help create the climate in which absurd alibis are more popular than actions.

MANY UNDESIRABLE situations exist, and others are developing because we are more inclined to alibis than actions.

In refusing to accept our responsibilities, we are helping build a monstrous, centralized government; we are increasing our heavy tax burden; we are weakening the whole democratic structure; and we are proving ourselves unworthy of our heritage. The losses because of absurd alibis are numerous.

WE SEEM TO BE LOOKING constantly for ways to escape our obligations, when we should be seeking ways to meet them with honor.

Our frequent alibis make it impossible for us to become proficient in our manner of life. They also decrease the efficiency of our public life.

WHETHER WE ARE THINKING about our personal situation, our home life, or our community needs; success is realized through actions, not alibis.

Our alibis come from our lethargy, our feelings of inadequacy, our ignorance, and our cowardice. All of these can be overcome to a reasonable degree.

Obviously, some of us don't care enough to take the proper action. Some of us are not prepared for effective action, but could become prepared. Others do not know what is involved, but they could know. Some are afraid to act, but this fear can be overcome.

WHEN ALL SOURCES of alibis are combined, we have a serious threat that endangers a way of life. Someone has said, "A life made up mostly of alibis cannot be much of a life."

It seems very clear that a society made up of people who alibi instead of acting intelligently cannot long remain strong and vigorous.

WE HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY to make our lives effective, to strengthen the framework of our republic, to maintain and preserve our heritage and to improve the general life situation.

All of these worthy purposes can be realized by actions, but never by alibis.

THE MEDIOCRITY which is so prominent in so many facets of present-day living is a companion for the ready alibi. If we continue to turn away from responsibilities with absurd alibis, we will eventually lose everything essential to our well-being.

THE CHALLENGES of our time cannot be met successfully by our smug alibis; they demand intelligent, energetic and persistent action.

Farmers Alerted in Grasshoppers

Grasshoppers could cause trouble in Texas this year, according to a survey conducted by the Texas Department of Agriculture. The survey showed that grasshoppers infested about four million acres last year, up nearly two million from the 1967 survey. The survey points out that grasshoppers are a pest of cotton, sorghum, and other crops. It is advisable, says Green, to treat small areas before the hoppers leave their breeding grounds. An infestation is considered economically significant when eight grasshoppers per square yard are found. Green says that several insecticides are effective against grasshoppers and are listed in MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Mites on Grain and Forage Crops." Additional information on the life habits of these insects is carried in L-429, "Grasshoppers Common to Texas." Both publications are available from the offices of local county agricultural agents.

Club Hears Theater History

OLTON—A program entitled "Little Theater History" was presented at the regular meeting of the New Century Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the Women's Club House. Mrs. Ruth Holladay spoke on "History of the Little Theater in Olton." Her daughter, Leslie Holladay, presented two skits. Each member present answered roll call with her assigned subject. The next regular meeting will be Wednesday, April 16, at Women's Club House with the District President Mrs. Lane Decker of Floydada presenting the "Federation Program."

Savings Stamp Companies Merge

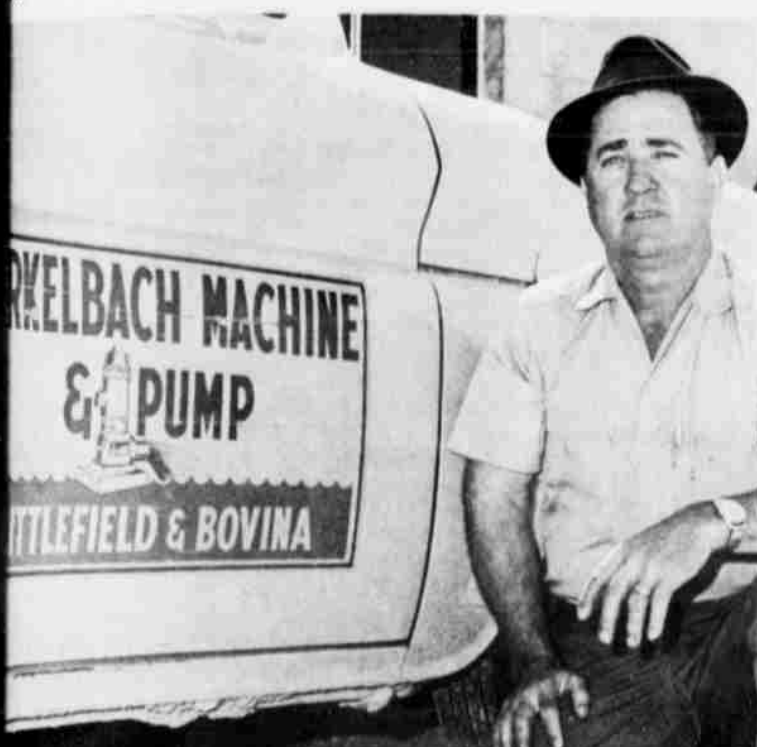

Effective April 9, Frontier Saving Stamps, Inc., and Gold Bond Stamp Co., will merge and operate under the name of Gold Bond Saving Stamps. The announcement was made recently by Roy Furr, president of Furr's, Inc., a Lubbock-based chain of supermarkets; and by Preston Johnson, president of Frontier Saving Stamps, Inc. Furr said 52 Furr stores will begin issuing Gold Bond Stamps next Monday, April 7, discontinuing Frontier Stamps that day. He stressed, however, that holders of Frontier stamps may cash them in on merchandise whenever they choose. "Our customers may trade the stamps at any Gold Bond or Frontier redemption center now, next week, next month, or next Christmas; at any time they choose," Furr said. "Redemption items will be the same after Monday as they are now, both in quantity and quality and the Gold Bond stamps are of the same value as the Frontier stamps." Furr added that redemption centers of both Frontier and Gold Bond will continue to operate in present locations and "I assure all Frontier Stamp savers that they have no problems of redemption whatsoever. Their stamps will be redeemable in the future, exactly as they have been in the past." Gold Bond is a nationwide concern, based in Minneapolis and has been in business for a quarter century, or more, Furr said. Frontier has operated for just short of 20 years in West Texas and nearby states.

Werner W. Birkelbach and his son, George, put in a welding shop here in 1941. World War II ended Werner's business, but he was one of the things he knew to do when he was discharged, so he took up welding, opening his shop here at 1012 E. 9th in 1955. Birkelbach's main line now is pump sales. He is distributor for Worthington, Berkely and Peerless pumps, handling domestic well work as well as commercial and irrigation. Birkelbach offers complete, key jobs, including drilling, and installing pumps, anywhere in a 100-mile radius of the Littlefield or Bovina plants. Irrigation pump repair and repairing drives of all makes of pump is also done. All types of general machine work and welding is done along with the irrigation work. Variety For Garden

F. E. (Shorty) Yohner is one of Littlefield's best cooks, according to his family, and they should know since he cooks all the Christmas, Thanksgiving and special family dinners. He is also famed for his cakes and desserts and enjoys making jellies, preserves and relishes. "Whatever I do, he does," Mrs. Yohner said of her husband. "When I sew, he sews." "Oh yes," Shorty said, "I used to make my daughter's dresses—ruffled them and everything." Shorty also enjoys yard work, and he is in his element here with all the gardening supplies carried at Yohner's Feed, Seed and Fertilizer, 409 W. Delano. Shorty is ably assisted in the store by his wife. The Yohners have been owners and operators of this business since they purchased the firm in August, 1964, following the death of former owner Marshall Howard. Their son, Bill had been in business with them since his discharge from the Air Force. All types of feeds, seeds and fertilizers are stocked, including Wayne's feeds, Fertillome fertilizers and Dekalb seeds. Several varieties of gardening seeds, plants, and equipment are at Yohners. Garden seed is sold in bulk quantity and there are racks and racks of packaged flower and vegetable seeds. Bedding plants are arriving daily. Plants include onion sets, peppers, tomatoes, strawberries, petunias and mums. A new shipment of roses arrives this week. And there is always a good supply of plant food, bone meal, rose dust and sprays. Yohners also have gladiolas bulbs, caladiums and cannas. A large selection of pottery flowers pots can be found here, too. The Yohners are long-time Littlefield residents. Shorty has lived here since 1916 and was a Littlefield implement dealer for 34 years. All three of the Yohner children attended Littlefield schools, and they are members of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Yohner used to belong to a gardening club, but "had to take a leave of absence when she got into P-TA work and with three children in school." She still keeps up with the plant world by "studying all the time." Mrs. Yohner especially enjoys reading and likes to knit and do decoupage.

Missionaries To Speak Monday

In the States on a second furlough since affiliating in 1963 with the International Church of the Foursquare Gospel, Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Cole will be acquainting the congregation of the Foursquare Gospel Church, 715 Phelps Ave., with their Bible Institute ministry which he directs in Guayaquil in Ecuador, at the 7:30 p.m. service Monday, says Rev. James Gilentine, pastor.

The Coles, ministering more than a quarter of a century ago in Washington for four years under another organization, have been missionaries in Ecuador for two decades, starting a teaching program there prior to joining the Foursquare denomination, the local pastor noted.

Cole, a Montana native, anticipates entering a building program for new teaching facilities when he returns with his wife to their post later this year. To date rented quarters have been used for classes and school activities.

Mrs. Cole, born in the State of Washington, directs the Christian Education and Sunday School Departments in the port city church. She also teaches in the Institute and has served as president of the United Foursquare Women.

The couple, attired in native dress, will be showing artifacts from that land during their local appearance, Rev. Gilentine added. The public is invited to the service.

No other wagons have such a capacity for enjoyment.

Show you what we mean. Say you're in a Chevrolet Kingswood or Concours Walk-In Wagon, when suddenly the road becomes nothing but chuckholes and ruts. Only you can't tell it's rough. You see, Chevy wagons float along on computer-selected coil springs that smooth even the meanest road.

Maybe you're a bit more serious about the great outdoors. So are we. That's why we offer the Chevy Sportvan and Suburban. To an outdoorsman, they're like clear skies and no mosquitoes.

So before you head out to see the U.S.A., better stop by your Chevrolet dealer's.

Summer Basketball Program Offered

15-day summer basketball will be offered for Littlefield according to Littlefield High coach James Duncan. Announcing the program, he emphasized there would be no charge by either himself or his assistant Jerry Trees. Coaching out of the program is not allowed by the University Interscholastic League. Practice sessions will be held daily during the period, in which regular four, seven-minute quarters will be timed. Boys between the ages of 12 and those with high school eligibility remaining are eligible to participate. Each of the age groups will form leagues. "We hope to have four teams per league," Duncan said. Practice periods are set up by ages: 12-year-olds—8:30 a.m. 13-year-olds—9:45 a.m. 14-year-olds—11:00 a.m. 15-year-olds—2:00 p.m. 16 and up—7:30 p.m. Each player registering will be assigned to a team. Each team will have a captain who is responsible for having his players at the games. A form is reproduced on this page that can be used for registering.

Coaches Duncan and Trees also have forms available. The completed forms should be given to either of the coaches prior to the cutoff time of May 25. A boy cannot participate if he has not submitted a registration form. The games will be played at the high school gymnasium. The school will also furnish the basketballs and scoreboard clock. Jerseys will also be furnished for the games. The boys must furnish their own shoes, socks, shorts and towels. The program will last 15 days, from June 12 through June 28, according to Duncan. No fees will be charged the boys for the program, nor will any admission be charged spectators for the games.

Little League Player Signup Extended

Little Leaguers flocked with their parents to the junior high auditorium Tuesday evening to sign up as participants in the 1969 summer baseball program.

According to a count by League president Bob Bromlow, 149 registered to play. This figure is down somewhat from the 162 who signed up last spring.

Bromlow announced yesterday morning he was extending the registration until the tryouts, next Tuesday for 10 and 11 year olds and Thursday for 9 and 12 year olds.

Forms are available for those boys who have not yet registered. They can be picked up from Bromlow at Piggly Wiggly. Registration will also be with him at the same store.

Bromlow said he was short one coach for a Minor League team. Any man interested in working with boys and who has knowledge of baseball is urged to contact Bromlow soon.

Following next week's tryouts, the annual player auction will be that Friday night. And in the Sunday edition of the Leader-News, a complete roster of all Major and Minor League teams will be published.

Workouts for teams will commence that following week, with the first game to be played the evening of May 5.

"especially since I have no aunts of my own. We hadn't heard from anyone in so many, many years."
"My mother's cousin went to Czechoslovakia to visit," Mrs. Vasek said, "and she said you have to be so careful. You can't speak out there, sometimes you have to whisper. So many people in Czechoslovakia don't believe in God since the Communists took over," she said. "But in this letter, they still sound like they are religious people, and I'm real proud of that."
"And my aunt really looks good to be 80-years-old," Mrs. Vasek concluded. "This all means so much to me, since I have so few relatives."

Babe Ruth Players Auctioned To Teams

Player auction to line up the four Littlefield teams of the Babe Ruth League held Tuesday night, with an eye on the April 25 league starting date.

Workouts for the teams will commence Monday evening, when all Littlefield team players are to report to the American Legion Field at 6 p.m.

The auction was held to line up players for each of the four local teams. Each club can have no more than 15-year-olds, so the auction started off with the oldest boys, then 14-year-olds, and finally the young boys just out of Little League.

The Babe Ruth League replaces the Babe Ruth League that has been in operation here the past number of years. 15-year-olds will be taken into the Babe Ruth League.

There was no auction held for the Amherst teams, as only one team will be formed in each of those communities. They will play in the Babe Ruth League, however, making it a Babe Ruth League.

Below is a listing of the players on each of the Littlefield teams, along with their team sponsors and coaches. Rosters for Amherst and Sudan were not ready for publication, but will be published as soon as the coaches have them completed.

Journey To Past

BY EVALYN PARROTT SCOTT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is Part II of the history of the Roy B. McQuatters family, written by Veta McQuatters Bolton.)

About this time the U. S. Government passed another homestead bill making it possible for one to file on 640 acres instead of 320, so Dad filed on a claim at Milnesand, Roosevelt County, New Mexico, then World War One came on and Dad was inducted into the armed services.

Dad trained at Camp Travis, San Antonio. Dad and Mother had planned to get married in the spring of 1918 but he was notified that he soon would be shipped overseas so they moved the wedding up to Christmas of 1917. Dad was to get a furlough and go to New Mexico for the wedding but just before the time came, he was told that he could only get a one day pass so Mother began considering going to San Antonio.

She discussed it with her school trustees, who all had sons in the service, and they told her that if she wanted to go she could have a two weeks' leave with full pay so she went.

Mother recalls that the trains were so crowded that people had to stand in the aisles and they would take it turn about standing and sitting but she got there alright and they were married Christmas Eve 1917.

She spent two weeks in San Antonio and returned to her school and Dad soon left for France.

In June 1919 Dad got back home and Dad and Mother had the second installment on their honeymoon, then they finished living out Dad's claim but since his time in the army counted as living on the land they only had to stay one year. While living there their son Roy Jr. was born in 1920.

After leaving the homestead, Dad got a job as foreman of the Schabauer-Edison Ranch west of Odessa and while living there my twin sister Vera and I were born in 1921. After a few years of ranching, Dad and mother began looking for greener pastures and they moved to Olney, where Dad got a job as oil gauger for the Pure Oil Company.

His job was to measure the depth of the oil in storage tanks, take its temperature and gravity and then turn it into the pipeline where it would be carried to the refineries.

In 1910 Dad helped drive a herd of cattle to Dimmitt. Early one morning they started the herd and drove it down through what is now Main Street.

People jumped out of bed and went hurrying out in their night shirts and gowns to get pictures of the herd.

On his way back Dad passed through Littlefield. There wasn't much town but Dad liked the looks of the land and resolved that some day he would come back and buy a farm but little did he think that it would be nineteen years before he would realize that dream.

In the spring of 1929 when we got our vacation, we went to Littlefield prospecting and Dad and Mother bought a farm six miles east of Littlefield in the Spade community but we did not move on it until October.

Our land had been put in cultivation and there was a small four room house on it. When we took possession of our farm we felt a great deal like the Israelites must have felt when they reached their Promised Land.

A few families had preceded us to the community but many more came the same year that we did. Most of them lived in small houses and a few lived in half dug-outs.

Spade school was built in 1930, a PTA organized, and Mother became the first president.

She also became president of the Lamb County PTA Council and a member of the district PTA Board of Directors. She was also a charter member of the Spade Home Demonstration Club and later the Spade Garden Club.

We are all charter members of the Spade Methodist Church which organized in 1932.

Dad was made a member of Board of Stewards and has been almost continually in that capacity ever since.

He has also served as treasurer and secretary of the Spade School. He is also a member of Masonic Lodge and served as trustee Spade School.

In church, Mother served, in addition to her duties as song leader, pianist, sponsor of Youth Fellowship, Sunday School teacher and president of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

We experienced the privations and hardships of the drought and depression of the 30's but we never lacked food because we had our own chickens, hogs and garden.

Besides, we had our weekly cream check (the price of five gallons of pure cream) and although eggs were only 10c a dozen our 100 W. Leghorn hens cleared us 50c a week. One day we learned that a family of four, whom we knew in Littlefield were destitute for food.

The man did concrete work there had been no work for some time. We didn't have any money to give them but Dad and Mother went to their cellar and gathered up 24 quarts of canned meat and vegetables, eggs and butter and took to them. The lady said later, "You will never know what that food did for us. It helped over until we could get a job." During this time it was not unusual for church members to make payments on the pastor's salary with meat, vegetables, butter and eggs.

Dad recalls with glee, one Sunday Mother went to church wearing her new blue dress with buttons on it and her new blue hat. She sat in the choir and a neighbor whispered, "Your wife looks like banker's wife!" Dad chuckled himself for he knew that mother had paid $3 for her dress and $1.50 for the hat. I recall that once Mother bought me a new all wool coat suit for $5. (To be continued in two more parts)
