Successful completion of the free course will entitle officers to 35 hours toward their intermediate or advanced certificates as offered by the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

Area Dogs Are Checked For Rabies

A small dog at Earth and a large dog at Anton are under 10-day observations for rabies after two area residents were bitten badly enough to require stitches to close their wounds.

Mrs. Jane Beavers of Earth was outdoors at her home there when a small dog belonging to her next door neighbor attacked her leg. The leg wound required 16 stitches to close, and after Mrs. Beavers was admitted to West Plains Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe, Lamb County Sheriff's Deputy Emmitt Burrows was advised to put the animal under observation. The dog was a female with a litter of pups, and its owner said she had been vaccinated for rabies and was a house pet and had been outside only a few minutes when she bit Mrs. Beavers.

Raymond Clescel of Anton was bitten on his hand Saturday by a large dog, and three stitches were taken to close the wounds. No owner could be found to claim the dog, and he was not tagged, according to Boots Crews, deputy. The dog was taken to Leveland and put under observation.

WEBB RECALLS DUST BOWL, DEPRESSION

Oldtimer Still Spunky

By NILAH RODGERS Leader-News Staff Writer

J. J. Webb holds Hoover responsible for the Depression. But he blames himself for losing his farm.

"I lost my farm during the Hoover days," he said. "I didn't have any better sense than to turn it back. Twenty years grace, and I let it go."

The dust bowl and Depression got Webb's land, but that combination nor anything since hasn't robbed him of his spunk nor his sense of humor.

Webb celebrated his 90th birthday last week, and his memories are still vivid of the days he "could dance 'em six feet under the ground."

Webb came to this county from South Texas fishing county. He likes to fish, but is afraid of boats and doesn't like to get out in the water. "I wouldn't mind having a boat if I could keep it on land," he laughed. "And I wouldn't mind owning a plane, but I'd want it on the ground."

Webb moved from Grayson County to his farm between Amherst and Sudan in 1925. The purchase price was $42 an acre. "And it was already broke and level as a floor," he said.

He farmed the labor of cotton, grain and corn with one row equipment and six or eight mules. In addition to the crops, he had 16 milk cows and 16 brood sows.

A lumber dealer in Sudan, Joe Foster, told Webb he'd give him $5 apiece for every pig he raised that year. "I sold him over a hundred," Webb said. "Lord yes, that was a good price back then."

Webb milked 16 cows and poured it through a separator, and the cream was sold to the creamery and the milk fed to the pigs.

While living in Wellington, Webb said he peddled beef. He'd cut the beef up and take it to town and sell the meat to the townspeople for 10 cents a front quarter and 12 cents a hind quarter. "One fall I peddled 72 head," he said.

He said he still peddled a right smart after moving to this county. He used a two-wheel trailer and bought and hauled from the packing house across the railroad tracks in Littlefield.

After losing his farm, Webb said he worked here and there for a while before he rented two farms. Two years of his here and there was with the WPA in Littlefield where he says he built his share of outhouses. "And I could still pull cotton when I was 75," he concluded.

BICYCLES were taped with reflectorized tape here Saturday morning by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies' Auxiliary of Post 1234 in a special "Life-A-Bike" effort. Tape, as shown on handlebars of Mrs. Spencer's bicycle in the foreground, was placed on each bike's handlebars and rear.

'LIFE-A-BIKE' decorations winners here Saturday morning were, left to right, Cheryl Stewart, first place, who received a mirror; Gerald Merrifield, second place, who received a siren; and Elaine Turner, third place, who received a horn. Prizes were donated by Western Auto.

Trade Promotions

All members of the Chamber of Commerce who are interested in discussing trade promotions for the remainder of the year, are invited to attend a conllab Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the XIT Room of Security State Bank.

Flower Talk

By Kip Cuthbert

About 500 years before Christ, a Babylonian king married a beautiful princess from a foreign country. She yearned for her native land—its hills, trees and flowers. To gratify her, the king built a mighty structure four hundred feet square and a hundred feet tall on the west bank of the river Euphrates. Here he planted rare flowers and shrubs, trees and unusual plants. Thus the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the Seven Wonders of the World, came into existence.

The vast increase in automobile traffic encountered in urban areas is one of the reasons the sound levels found in cities have increased hundreds or even thousands of times during the past 25 years.

Hutto, King Vows Solemnized

First Baptist Chapel was the site of a Friday evening wedding for the wedding of Miss Carol Hutto and Herbert Eugene King. The bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Eugene King. The bride's attendants were identical gowns of pink shantung. The empire bodice was fashioned with a scooped neck and was accented at the back with a pink velvet bow. They wore pink tulle veils enhanced with three flowerlets and carried nosegays of small pink gladiolus and greenery.

Best man was Ronnie Brown of Denver, Colo., brother-in-law of the groom. Serving as groomsmen was Phil Kendrick of Lubbock, cousin of the groom. Ushers were Terry Gronewald and Wayland Hutto of Littlefield. The mother of the bride wore a dress of pink dacon knit with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a dress of mint green dacon polyester with white accessories. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. Ronnie Brown of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Pat Smiley of Lubbock, assisted with the serving. The table was laid with a white lace over satin cloth with a ruffled skirt and centered with a candelabra and the bridal attendant's bouquets. A two-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Cake and punch was served from crystal appointments. Mrs. Woody Smith of Lubbock registered the guests and Miss Jan Brown of Denver distributed rice bags to the guests. Others assisting in the houseparty were Mrs. Alvis Tubbs, Mrs. Robert Gronewald, Mrs. Connie Dale and Miss Ellen Massengill.

For their wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a two-piece apricot ensemble with white accessories. With it she wore the gladiolus corsage from her bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 5004 11th Street in Lubbock where the groom is employed by Associated Supply Company. The bride teaches fifth grade at Posey Elementary School.

MRS. HERBERT EUGENE KING

Turney, Newton Vows Repeated

Miss Carolyn Ann Turney and Delwin Thomas Newton pledged double ring wedding vows Saturday afternoon, June 5 in the Enochs Methodist Church.

Rev. Ben Day of Spade officiated for the ceremony.

Mother of the bride is Mrs. Myrna L. Turney and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newton of Enochs. Traditional wedding selections were presented by Mrs. Beverly Turney, sister-in-law of the bride. She accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Patricia Newton, sister-in-law of the groom, as she sang "Twelfth of Never" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her brother, Dennis Turney, the bride was attired in a formal length gown of embroidered lace over wedding white peau de soie. The Empire waist line was accented by a white bow of matching peau de soie. The rounded neck line and wrist length sleeves were both accented by ruffles of embroidered lace. In the back the dress formed into a short train of white lace. Her veil of bridal silk illusion was attached to a tiara, covered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with greenery and streamers of white satin.

Miss Sharon Turney, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Mrs. Iva Noble served as bride's matron. The attendants wore street length Empire dresses fashioned of green and white embossed double-knit. Headpieces of a cluster of white satin roses with an attached veil of matching green net completed their attire. The attendants carried single long stemmed white carnations with green streamers.

Steven Newton, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman was Dennis Newton, brother of the groom, and ushers were Kenneth Turney, brother of the bride, and L. D. Holt.

The bride's wedding gown was the traditional "something new" and her veil was "something borrowed." She wore a traditional blue garter and her great-grandmother's wedding band was "something old."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The table was covered with a white lace tablecloth over a green tablecloth. Candles were on each side of the table with the bride's bouquet in the center and green streamers with "Carolyn" and "Tom" were placed on the table. A four-tiered wedding cake, nuts, mints and bridal punch were served to the approximately 125 people attending. Presiding at the table were Terry Claunch and Sheila Medlin.

Guests were registered at the wedding by Diane Crume.

The bride wore a mint green dress covered with a white and mint green vest with white accessories as her traveling costume.

Cotton Inc Charts New Course

The challenges and opportunities for cotton in an environment of accelerated supply and demand are primary among forward-planning programs presented to grower-members of the Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting of Cotton Incorporated held in Raleigh, N. C., June 1-2. Commenting on the program review, J. D. Smith of Littlefield said, "Cotton Incorporated is charting a new course for cotton that is placing pressure on growers to produce an ample supply of cotton."

Total marketing concepts created by Cotton Incorporated to sell more cotton in existing markets and produce demand in expanded markets were reviewed in a series of conferences covering all end-use applications of cotton in the home furnishings, apparel and industrial product markets.

The couple is at home at 104 Clubview Drive in Levelland where the groom is employed as a worker on the ground crew at South Plains College.

JUST CAN'T KEEP from wondering what's gonna happen to some of our repair needs in a few years. With the shortage of the technical trainees and repair experts, we may have to develop simpler machines.

You, the motoring public, for instance, keep demanding more and more trimmings on your essentials. The more you demand, the more involved your machine becomes.

THE SAME HOLDS true with your washing machine, refrigerator, sewing machine, tv, and/or, whatcha got. (Betcha I was born thirty years too soon.)

Sometime in the near future we're gonna pay dearly for the repair and upkeep of these gadgets, simply by reason of the scarcity of trained personnel.

THE OLD TIMERS that grew up with the auto are having to retire from the field by reason of age. The youngsters are wary of these complicated machines.

Lift the hood on your late-model auto and look around. Remind you of an oversized bowl of multi-colored spaghetti with a few oversized meatballs thrown in? To the un-oriented, it's confusion deluxe!

WHAT WITH Ralph Nadar's help, the situation is worsening. The anti-smog and anti-pollution devices, along with the safety complexes, makes a Goldberg invention look elementary. (Course, we can't kick cleaner air.)

Indeed, dear customer, I'm guessing that something like 30 percent of the cost of your auto is invested in Ralph's pipedreams!—And, do you realize the size of the stick he wields? Did you know that your technician is subject to as much as $1,000 fine for impairing the operation or rendering some of these goodies inoperative?

YOUR CAR WILL not legally pass state inspection if these gadgets aren't in operating condition. (Ralph has few friends among mechanics.)

Your car is a machine that envelops many engineering degrees rolled into one. A good mechanic must have a speaking acquaintance with all of them. AND, the many changes each year are enough to make him run a fever!

WHY DO I make mention of these things? (Seems I gotta do it every so often.) We'd better slow down on our demands for the luxuries on our cars. Encourage the building of the cheaper "throw-away type"; start shopping for bicycles; make friends with ol' Dobbin again; or, be prepared to "pay the Fiddler" for fiddling with our status symbols!

SURE, OUR NECESSITIES have multiplied! We just gotta have power-steering, power-brakes, air-conditioning, automatic transmissions, power-seats, and windows, cruise-controls, stereo-sound systems, tape-decks, AM and FM radio, autronic light controls, hidden headlights, and an engine large enough to carry all these necessities at 100 plus, all cradled in a frame and body much nicer than our living rooms!

In fact, we're a bunch of spoiled brats, but, don't we love it!

rehabilitation, campaign, and public information were conducted.

During the luncheon session, Earl Jones of the Terry County Unit presided, and introduced Dr. Lloyd Hamilton of St. Luke's Methodist Church in Lubbock who gave the invocation.

Jones presented the awards to the various counties, and made reports on the year's collections and activities within the District.

Harry Milt, senior science writer from the research department of the American Cancer Society, spoke of the progress that has been made toward the control and cure of leukemia within the last 10 years. He related different accounts of the combinations of drugs that are already working in prolonging life and curing the disease. He also presented aims for future control and cure.

Attending the meeting from Littlefield were Hubert Henry, Mrs. Gwen Nace and Mrs. Edna Mae Mangum. Those from Earth were Mrs. Marvin Sanders, Mrs. Thurman Lewis and Mrs. C. L. Houchin.

PAUL HARVEY

Keeping Busy

IDLENESS IS VERY nearly a curse to mankind. Of course, there may be some need for moments of idle time; but more than this is hurtful to us.

"Idleness is the hot-bed for temptation, the cradle of disease, the waster of time, the canker-worm of felicity. To him that has no employment, life in a little while will have no interest; and is soon drab and dreary."

RUNNING TO AND FRO, without purpose or plan, is about the same as idleness.

In some instances, such aimless busyness may even be more harmful than idleness.

IF WE CAN be better employed, we are engaged in one type of idleness. That is, if we are just spending most of our time on trifles: we are wasting what could be a useful and productive life.

Of course, such employment is better than outright idleness; but this is not sufficient to meet the challenge of our purpose for being.

A HAPPY, effective life demands that we keep busy. This is not to say that it is necessary to "keep our nose to the grindstone", because this has been proven to be unwise.

Change in our activity is recommended to give the variety that we must have for most satisfactory living.

ALL OF OUR ACTIVITY must be wholesome and worthwhile so there can be the greatest possible return from the expenditure of our time and energy. Some diversification is desirable in order to prevent staleness, and provide helpful recreation.

It is unfortunate that some persons make re-creation an end in itself, because it can only be justified if it is the means to an end.

BUSY PEOPLE are the most fortunate people, and are the only useful people. There are many reasons for this.

"When we keep busy in worthwhile activities, there is little or no disposition to worry; our troubles are less prominent in our thoughts; we are not as likely to develop a spirit of self-pity; and we will find a deeper sense of satisfaction. Keeping busy serves many useful purposes.

THERE IS SO MUCH needing to be done, things that go undone. This is not because of a shortage of human time and energy, but because there are so many people who seem to have no desire to put their time and energy to good use.

"By nature's laws, immutable and just, enjoyment stops where indolence begins.—Pollok.

MANY AREAS of constructive action exist. They are not overcrowded, and all of us can find the action most suitable to our aptitudes and needs.

Keeping busy, in a knowledgeable and calm manner, is the enjoyable and rewarding manner of life.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Income Tax

OUTGOING COMMISSIONER of the IRS is pleading for more money from Congress. He says every tax examiner finds enough "mistakes" in enough returns to save other taxpayers six times his own salary.

The commissioner says if Congress cuts his budget by $250 million, our own Treasury will lose $1.5 billion.

IN DEFENSE of the IRS:

Our graduated income tax system is the most cumbersome, the most confusing, the least efficient—only until you compare it with other systems in other countries.

IN FRANCE and Italy and most of Latin America, tax laws are ignored by most and laughed at by political insiders.

It's when you compare ours with theirs that the U. S. system appears fair, equitable and efficient. Everywhere else in the enlightened world the U. S. tax system is regarded as the best.

NONETHELESS, the most recent Louis Harris Survey indicates that most Americans—60 percent of all those questioned—feel they have reached "the breaking point" on the taxes they pay.

President Nixon has said that we have reached the "breaking point." He says when 35 percent to 37 percent of our total income is recaptured as taxes—as is presently the case—that's enough. He says beyond that "a nation loses its character as a free, private enterprise economy and becomes primarily a state controlled and oriented economy."

PRINCIPAL GRIEVANCE against the U. S. tax system derives not from unfairness but from a resentment of the cumbersome patchwork complex laws that tend to make it fair. Outgoing and outgoing tax commissioners have most perceptibly. Since T. Coleman Andrews has agreed that our tax law should be simplified.

YET EACH SUCH effort is stymied by special interests demanding consideration.

If we should levy a flat 20 percent everybody's gross income deductions for anything, the system indeed be simplified. It would government's tax take and it would most all taxpayers the time, to money it costs to hire accountants compute allowable deductions.

NOBODY, however poor, encouraged to stay on unemployment (where income is tax free).

Industriousness would be encouraged if each of us knew that the more the more he would keep, whereas reverse may be true.

YET EACH EFFORT to advance proposal in Congress has been because each organized pressure wants more of the load shifted shoulders of others.

So where the form 1040 once only 200 words of "instructions" present return requires 3,238 words of structure.

YET FOR ALL that superfluous last year collected $123.2 billion collection cost of 5 percent.

The system is not good—present it's the best in this world.

SMOOTH SAILING

That is exactly what all of us dream of. But this is God's world and we certainly must learn the laws of the winds of God if our journey is to be smooth. We must chart our course with caution.

We must know how to man the sails. We must read carefully the "guide book for mariners," called The Sermon on the Mount. One must know how to tack and, most important of all, ask the "Great Pilot" what course He recommends.

Let your church attendance and support record, the contribution you make to the cause of good, and your love for the brethren serve as your compass. The smooth sailing of your ship will be determined by the judgment you use in your preparation. You can't make it alone, Mister. Better take God with you.

Repeating In Ceremony

Evening, June 11, in a ceremony before an altar of straight candelabras, purple and blue and white flower arrangements, Sandee Coleman became the bride of Ronald Dee in the Valley View Church.

For the ceremony, Rev. Glen Aneer, minister of the Church of Christ in Littlefield, officiated.

Members of the couple are Mr. F. B. Coleman of Olton and Mrs. David Snyder of Snyder, Okla.

Guest selections presented by the bride were "The Lord's Prayer," "Love Theme" and "Juliet."

In her marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white sparkle with long sleeves of tulle. The princess style was accented with flower corsage around the waist and on her shoulders. She wore a shoulder length veil of white tulle. She carried a bouquet of roses and daisies atop a white hat.

Something old the bride wore shoes pinnies dated to her birth years of herself. She wore the groom. She wore the groom's blue garter, some pearl earrings, and a pearl necklace.

As matron of honor was Sandee Coleman of Olton, sister of the bride. Bride's matron was Mrs. Patty Geiser of Orrville, Ohio, sister of the groom. The bride's attendants wore Empire, princess style, street-length dresses of sky blue dotted swiss. They carried long stemmed blue daisies and wore blue lace hats.

Serving as best man was Tom Geiser of Orrville, Ohio, brother-in-law of the groom. Groomsman was Mark Hamilton of Snyder, Okla., brother of the groom. Ushers were Sammy Coleman of Olton, brother of the bride, and Randy Hamilton of Snyder, Okla., cousin of the groom. Candelighters were Sammy and Scotty Coleman of Olton, brothers of the bride.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the reception hall of the church. Members of the houseparty were Dee Smith of Olton, cousin of the bride; Lysa Coleman of Hereford, cousin of the bride; and Tana Hamilton of Snyder, Okla., cousin of the groom.

For the wedding trip to Oklahoma City, the bride wore a blue whipped cream dress with a white pleated skirt and white accessories.

After returning from the wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Cache, Okla.

Aviation Seminar

At Muleshoe

General aviation refresher course for all local pilots was sponsored by Muleshoe Service at 8 p.m., Tuesday, June 8, at the Edward R. Airport located at Muleshoe.

The program will cover aspects of flying and the environment, according to C. Roney, accident specialist of the FAA office in Lubbock, coordinating the activities associated with the seminar.

FAA personnel include Maintenance Inspector George Dove, Lubbock District Office and Air Traffic Control Specialist Wayne Hill, Lubbock District Office and Station Tower.

Topics will include a discussion on the hazards of alcohol and drugs by A. Stirman of Lubbock, and terminal procedures, films on Turbulence, Area Operations, and a summary of accident causes.

The seminar will also provide opportunity for some pilots to receive a courtesy refresher flight. An FAA inspector will ride with pilots who desire a flight check ride to determine ways to improve flight.

Roney said, "We expect a reduction in general aviation accidents can be achieved by improving individual attitudes toward safety. The program is designed to increase the pilot's knowledge and proficiency as an airman."

There will be no charge for the seminar.

Pilots and other persons interested in learning more about this program should contact Morgan D. Locker, phone 806-272-3066, Muleshoe, or Ray C. Roney, phone 806-762-0335, Lubbock.
