

Denim Plant boosts area

For more than a decade of stagnant-like economy, Littlefield's population of about 6,500 has to live.

Renovation is due, according to people and various officials, to the sprawling denim plant on the city's eastern fringe.

A new plant, operated by American Cotton Growers (ACG), began construction of the $30 million facility in 1975. Currently, it is ahead of construction targets and has begun production of Indigo Blue denim for a major manufacturer in jeans.

In a recent visit here, Southwest Press talked with plant officials, employees, city and county officials, banks, schools, police, contractors and numerous other firms and individuals to determine what impact the plant is producing on the city and its area. The reporter came away amazed at just what has happened to a small town which, from all reports, had lost population and became relatively unknown as a progressive community.

In essence, and to portray a bit of information on the economical impact, ACG will employ more than 450 persons, with about half that number now in training or on production lines. Its annual payroll of something like $4 million will add what one city official claimed as "a shot in the arm for Littlefield."

More significantly and noticeable, however, is that new businesses along with added housing, vehicles, utilities and all those necessities of a working populace have already thrust the city into an enviable spot among Texas industrial developments.

Seems it all commenced about two years back following development and refinement of new cotton spinning techniques known as "open end spinning." This process enables a denim mill to produce quality denim from cotton of shorter staples than in the past.

So a few Littlefield civic and business leaders became interested and hence the "spinoff" began. That word, or phrase, along with "slashers" or "ball warper" and "dye range," has almost become a household word in this Lamb County community.

Among those leaders was J. E. Chisholm, a Littlefield florist and the town's mayor for the past 11 years. As numerous other leaders were contacted, each indicated that Mayor Chisholm was the person who first spawned the idea into the minds of other leaders.

Chisholm said when he first heard fledgling plans of ACG he contacted Roy Davis, now deceased, who was manager of Plains Cotton Cooperative in Lubbock and who was more familiarly known as "Mr. Cotton" or "Mr. Cooperative." The two men got heads together, according to Chisholm, and "got that ball of cotton rolling."

At that time, the mayor said, 23 High Plains cities were being considered as tentative locations. Preliminary researches and investigations by ACG, however, soon cut the list to four locations. Littlefield, due to its tenacious interest and fast formation of plans, was among the four.

Meanwhile, and prior to weeding out of locations, the mayor contacted 37 business leaders and individuals and requested a meeting. He said 36 of the number showed up with the single absentee ill at the time. In that one night's meeting Chisholm said more than $65,000 was pledged for a portion of funds needed to purchase a 141-acre tract.

Then, according to Doyle Patton, a Littlefield bank executive and president of the Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Foundation, other pledges rolled in and within two weeks more than $130,000 was not only pledged but funds were in the bank.

So Littlefield was on its way. That proverbial "shot in the arm" had been administered while other pertinent facts about the area's advantages were accumulated and presented to ACG officials.

Patton said pledges ranged from $200 to $10,000 each and that another $25,000 was given by the Industrial foundation for construction of a railroad spur line to the plant.

Also during those formative months groundwork for membership in ACG and its denim mill was being made. It now includes some 3,000 cotton producers in 26 ginning associations sprawling out over the High and Rolling Plains and its fringe areas and into Eastern New Mexico. ACG was first formed, however, in 1973 and is guided by a seven-member board of directors and by a team of 26 persons forming the Textile Pool Committee.

SIXTY-SIX LOOMS WERE AT WORK last week in the American Cotton Growers denim mill just east of Littlefield, and personnel director Pat Bradley said that over 300 people were already on the job. The looms are being brought in a few at a time, and each one is capable of turning out 5 1/2 yards of 60-inch width denim per minute. In the picture below, yarn is being made from long, thick strands of cotton. [Staff Photo]

Square Shootin'

by Jerry Tidwell

If nobody knows the trouble you've seen, you're not living in a small town.

SS-
I've spent a few days last week in San Antonio attending the Texas Press Convention. The most memorable part of the trip occurred on our return Sunday afternoon in Lamesa, of all places.

We left San Antonio Sunday morning at seven o'clock. I drove until I stopped to eat lunch at Big Spring. As I drove I settled down in the back seat to take a nap.

I laid down, but quickly realized that was impossible to sleep with all the keys in my pockets. I solved the problem by emptying the contents of my pockets into my right shoe.

I settled down to sleep and woke up when we were entering Lamesa. Now Lamesa is where the plot thickens.

My wife, Vana, zipped into a vice station. I wanted to get out and I took a drink so I started putting my shoes on. I put the left shoe in a vice and then saw that my right shoe was heaping full of the junk out of my pockets.

I calculated it would take several minutes to get everything back into my right pockets. Then it hit me. A flash of brilliance. Pure genius...

I would just wear one shoe and then use my right foot as my shoe. I was as very careful to limp and even grimaced in an occasional grimace for those who were watching me.

It was very hard to retain my pained expression with both our kids trotting long beside me and laughing at my holedown foot.

While I was getting a Coke out of the vending machine, a stranger studied me carefully and asked about my injury. I quickly explained that the pain was usually bearable and that I had hurt it "In the Big One." The stranger was left to use his imagination to determine if "The Big One" was war, football or whatever.

Somehow I managed to limp back to the car without laughing. I settled down in the back seat to resume my nap and was very smug about my outstanding performance. Little did I realize that disaster lay ahead.

Vana pulled out of the service station and I was finishing off my Coke in the back seat. Suddenly a red blur passed by the window. I turned to see Vana's purse bouncing down the road right into the middle of the intersection that we had just left.

I calmly turned to Vana and began shrieking and hollering and flapping my arms for her to turn around. Our entire lifetime borrowings lay back in the middle of the intersection.

Vana had to go about three blocks before crossing the cement median. Meanwhile I kept my eagle eyes glued to the purse. Finally we made it back to the intersection. I leaped from the car and nimbly sidestepped the on-coming traffic and retrieved the purse.

The people at the service station whom we had just left, watched our laystone cop antics with great anticipation. Surely they hadn't seen many such performances.

I then began to lecture Vana on the necessity of being careful and not driving around with her purse on top of the car.

She sat quietly for a long time and nodded as I repeated myself for the eighth time.

Finally she closed the lecture by simply stating "You forgot to limp in the middle of the intersection. You completely ruined your performance."

Of those people at the service station I think we're all some kind of idiots." Suddenly I began to feel sleepy. My stroke of genius had been rubbed out.

Littlefield Lions Club officers installed

Tom Tollett was installed as president of the Littlefield Lions Club in a Monday night meeting at the Community Center.

Jim Reese, Republican candidate for Congress, was the speaker for the event and told the Lions, "you possess the most valuable commodity in the world today, and that is a man's volunteer time."

Reese continued, "It only takes a dedicated few to make a difference. Just 56 men signed the Declaration of Independence and only four percent of the colonists fought for the United States in the Revolutionary War. There were only 12 disciples and they spread the Word around very well."

Reese concluded, "We are greatly blessed to be allowed to live at this time and to be able to make crucial decisions. We must look at ways of getting things done and pitch in with a few dedicated others to get things done."

In addition to installing Tollett, Kip Cutshall also installed other officers and directors. Delbert Smith, F. L. Newton, Tom Hilbun and James Lackey are directors.

Vice presidents are Billie Tom Grant, Bobby Brunson, and Howard Head. Other new officers are Marty Mangum, secretary; Carl Randerman, treasurer; Ron Lawlis, tail twister; and Ed McCanlies, Lion tamer.

Take a rest on highways

A spokesman for the Texas Office of Traffic Safety is urging motorists to use the highway rest stops and be especially alert during the Fourth of July holiday period.

Ken Nevil, administrator of the Office of Traffic Safety, pointed to the Department of Public Safety prediction of 42 deaths in the State during the Bicentennial celebration.

Nevil said, "As we review our history, we recall dynamic leaders voicing their opinions for independence and liberty. Collectively, they led this country into freedom. Now, we need a revolution against traffic accidents."

"While we have earned our freedom, we have yet to gain independence from traffic accidents. For 75 years, we have allowed people to be killed on our streets and highways with too little public concern being voiced.

"Simple solutions are impossible, but we do know that the ultimate answer has to be the individual driver's personal commitment. Americans are noted for their ability to accomplish, and that ability now needs to be applied toward reduced traffic crashes throughout this country," he concluded.

The Traffic Safety Administrator urges motorists to utilize the free rest stops and avoid lengthy and tiring trips, he said reduced speed and curtailed use of alcoholic beverages while driving will contribute significantly to a lowered death rate.

Dentons represent County at American Heart meeting

Jerry Don and Brenda Denton represented the Lamb County Division of the American Heart Association at that organization's 41st Texas Affiliate Annual Assembly held two weeks ago in Houston.

More than 300 delegates, officers and committee members attended the three-day meeting at Houston's Shamrock Hilton Hotel.

The meeting featured training and orientation workshops, the introduction of a new five-year goal document and the presentation of the first Lyndon Baines Johnson Research Award.

The new five-year goal document, the Texas Affiliate's "plan of action" through 1981, stresses the AHA's heavy involvement in programs designed to change the health behavior of Texans concerning smoking, diet, physical exercise and high blood pressure, as well as educational programs in cardiopulmonary resuscitation and increased expenditures for cardiovascular research.

The LBJ Research Award honoring the late President was presented to Dr. James George, University of Texas, San Antonio whose research application for funding received the highest meritorical ranking by the AHA's Central Research Review Committee.

The award was presented to Dr. George by Mrs. Luci Johnson Nugent, daughter of the late President.

The award, to be given annually, is funded by contributions from the Honorable C. R. Smith; Stanley Marcus, Dallas; the Leon Jaworski Foundation, Houston; the International Fraternal Order of the Eagles; the LBJ Family Foundation, Austin; the Brown Foundation, Houston; and Mrs. J. Ed Connally and the late Mr. Connally, Abilene.

State officers for 1976-77 were elected and included Edwin J. Morrow, M. D., Houston, President; W. W. Aston, Dallas, Chairman of the Board; Ralph E. Johnson, CLU, Houston, Vice-Chairman of the Board; Joseph C. Ogle, M. D., Dallas, President-Elect; Mrs. David Hargrave, Dallas, Secretary, and Robert A. Lightfoot Jr., Sweetwater, Treasurer.

Vice presidents elected included J. Bryan Austin, Amarillo; Larry Nichols, Fort Worth; Floyd Wilkerson, Dallas; A. Bryan Spiers Jr., M. D., Austin; Henry McIntosh, M. D., Houston and Bernard H. Boom, M.D., San Antonio.

Heart Association members hold meet

Members of the Lamb County Heart Association met at noon Thursday in the Tasty Taco for a regular business session and film showing.

They heard a report from Jerry Don and Brenda Denton who attended the American Heart Association's 41st Texas Affiliate Annual Assembly in Houston two weeks ago.

Several ideas on fund-raising projects were presented, and ideas for programs were discussed.

Persons wishing to secure programs for their organizations are asked to contact the program committee chairman, Nina Talburt at 385-5975.

The organization will meet again Thursday noon, July 15, at the Tasty Taco on West 5th.

E. E. CARTER found a ferret on his back porch Sunday night, and thought it quite an oddity for this area of the country. His farm home is just east of Littlefield, near Littlefield Felt Industries. Carter didn't offer to get it out of its temporary cage so we could get a clear view, and we didn't insist. It was pretty aggressive, even through the mesh. [Staff Photo]

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVERN

JULY 4 BICENTENNIAL MENU

FEATURING DISHES that graced the average American Patriot's table in 1776, Weight Watchers International has prepared a star-spangled "Bicentennial Menu" ... with one difference.

"The difference, of course, is that the 'Bicentennial Menu' for 1976 is Weight Watchers International's version developed for people who want to enjoy the nation's birthday celebration, but with an eye on keeping their waistlines trim," said Adele McGinty, area director for Weight Watchers in West Texas.

Mrs. McGinty said the menu—which would be highly appropriate for a July 4th dinner—consists of Liberty Lettuce Soup, Boston Salad with Colonial Dressing, Chicken Brunswick Stew, and, as a delectable dessert, Patriotic Pumpkin Pudding.

Adele observed that because they had virtually none of the amenities and labor-saving devices we now take for granted, Americans who lived in the Revolutionary Period were generally slender.

"America's pioneers worked longer and harder than we do today, and they ate sparingly. A hardy as well as a spirited people, many tilled the soil from dawn to dusk, laboring arduously to put food on the family dinner table. Walking was a prime means of transportation and because the cornucopia of packaged foods available today were non-existent then, few had a weight problem.

"Present-day Americans, then, would do well to try to emulate their forebears in at least two respects: to eat properly, and to walk more in order to maintain a slender silhouette," Mrs. McGinty said.

"America has come a long way in more ways than one in 200 years. Now—as reflected by the Bicentennial Menu prepared for weight conscious people, who recognize that to be overweight is to be as outdated as the 1776 musket."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Begin anew

By BOB

"BEGIN ANEW" is a statement of encouragement and hope, and the beautiful aspect of the idea is that it is a practical and workable attitude.

THERE IS A SENSE in which we can and must "begin anew" each morning.

Even though some activities of each new day will be a continuation of what has been begun some time before; we must, in order to make a day all it can be, see it as something new; because it is new.

WE MUST FORM and maintain the spirit of seeing each day as a new day, an opportunity to "begin anew". This attitude will serve many useful purposes, including the help we need in handling the carry-over from preceding days.

Success in this requires our daily dedication to all of the worthwhile principles and standards we know.

EACH DAY IS IMPORTANT, and we must let it be important to us by welcoming it with the view that we will "begin anew". We should accept each day for just exactly what it is; a new day.

Of course, full success in this requires us to close on each day as completely as possible. This will help us "begin anew" each morning, with the renewal and revivification of all that is essential to the fullness of living.

EVEN IN TROUBLE TIMES, living can be meaningful and rewarding; if we will hold to noble and uplifting principles of thought and can do this; however, some this conclusion never seem to make the formula work.

There may be different failure, but the most common in the failure to actually "begin anew"; always including necessary revival and renewal.

MUCH OF OUR LOSS is permitting the spirit of beatitude (it's the same of and staleness to dominate personal living.

This will happen to us, happened to many others; consciously and deliberately.

It will be so much better move along with the attitude can and will "begin anew" than permit our lives to be and weighted down with the weariness, monotony and loss of increasing ineffectiveness.

ONE DAY AT A TIME life comes to us, and this surely be the basis for effective manner of living.

We are not being irresponsible when we arrange our living to this plan; but we are being

AT THE BEGINNING of with the resolve to "begin anew" must give conscious thought proven guidelines and ideals we can direct our behavior for use of the new day.

This will be life at its very

Denim Plant gives economy a shot in arm

 of Lubbock is merchandising for the growers.
 back to facts garnered by field leaders and presented to in a bid for the denim plant. Chisholm said water and its ability was among primary needs for such a gigantic venture, he explained, Littlefield proved the 350,000 gallons per day used by the denim plant is, and doubtless always be available. The city has purchased water rights more than 11 sections of nearby land; now has 13 producing wells something like 12 million gallons daily; can drill and run as many as 90 wells; and runs each main line to the denim plant. Utilities are readily available, including a modern airport with 100 foot runway, or easy access to rock's airport.
 what has transpired in Littlefield the site was chosen and contract under way?
 though city officials have estimated it will be about two years before actual ultimate results will be felt, all barometers of growth factors indicate a phenomenal increase.
 for example, water meter connections in April of 1975 numbered 2,468. In the same month of 1976 this number is up to 2,586. Tap revenue, a large used for tapping into new sites at new building sites, amounted to $2,715 for the period in October, 1975 to April of 1976, the same period of the previous year amounted to $730.

 At one of the two Littlefield banks, it was noted that deposits have gained more than 10 percent over past months with totals of $23.2 million in 1975 as compared to $25.5 million in 1976.
 A savings and loan company manager, Roger Jones, said new home loans at his firm have increased an estimated 12 to 15 percent in the past few months. He said the actual impact of savings in Littlefield has become settled.
 "The denim plant definitely gives the entire area added stability," Jones said, "and the spin-off of related businesses and industries has already been felt."
 This so-called "spin-off" can readily be noticed in viewing five new restaurants, a complete new Littlefield Plaza containing four retail firms, and housing construction all over.
 The turnout has already created, according to estimates from numerous local sources, something like 150 new jobs, besides those at the denim plant itself. None of the experts could hazard a guess at what will eventually transpire in the city and nearby areas as far as the economic and social impact are concerned.
 Building permits for the year, according to figures in the city secretary's office, and computed from March 1 through mid-May, show more than $942,000 compared to that of $243,000 last year.
 Delbert Smith, general manager of Lamb County Electric Cooperative, which serves a portion of six South Plains counties, estimated that sales of his cooperative's power would double in kilowatt hours when the denim plant is complete and operating at full capacity.

 Smith also pointed out that operation of the mill should stabilize the entire cotton market and would, therefore, be an economic boost to the entire area in direct, or indirect ways.
 Now if Littlefield has awakened and become active after a decade of inactivity while population declined and its youth sought better positions elsewhere, then this, too, should bring on a definite "turnabout" in the entire community profile, according to officials.
 School Superintendent Jack York backed up this assumption when he noted that the entire school administration seems delighted that new jobs are becoming available for the city's young persons. He said the school board is taking an open-minded and hard look at what the educational future may hold. He said they are looking forward to and expecting more and more students.
 Numerous young persons now in training at the denim plant's temporary and rented downtown training center expressed ideas. Most of the trainees are from nearby towns; others direct from farms; and still others from more menial, lower paid local industries. There are others who have returned to their native haunts after denim plant jobs, or those from new business firms, provided adequate salaries.
 Meanwhile, out at the main denim plant, hundreds of workmen are busily going about the business of construction. They are locating and testing machinery and equipment which will eventually fill gigantic spaces large enough to accommodate eight football fields.

 Bob Hale, plant manager who carries the title of textile division manager for American Cotton Growers, said he is well pleased at the current status of both construction and production schedules.
 "We appreciate the reception given our denim plant by both officials and citizens of Littlefield and vicinity," Hale said when asked his thoughts about community impact of the plant. "With this in mind, we would just like to point out that we here intend to be solid citizens. Our tax funds (and they are rather large) will hopefully go towards community betterment."
 "In addition, our personnel will be urged to take active parts in community affairs. We look forward to operating many years and on a continuing, nonseasonable employment basis," Hale concluded.

 Pat Bradley, personnel director who doubles as a public relations executive, said 22 of the planned 360 looms are now in operation. He said 10 to 20 looms would be phased in weekly until full operations are reached.
 Quality controls are maintained constantly at the denim plant where a full computerized laboratory is in operation around the clock. Bradley also said this 24 hour basis on a seven day week is already in effect and would probably remain on this basis.
 Among the lab tests are machines which record exacting thickness or thinness, breaking points of materials along with numerous other technical tests like dye. When a default is located, the machines automatically draw actual graphs and photos which afford corrections in the plant operations.

 Currently, the Levi Strauss Company holds contracts on full output of ACG denims. According to a bulletin printed by ACG, the Strauss firm is well pleased with current schedules.
 Among other management teams of the denim plant are Fred Eddins, assistant manager; Aaron Richardson, plant superintendent; and numerous other key personnel, all trained in specific and multiple duties surrounding production of 20 million yards of indigo-dyed denim annually.
 The board of directors is made up of Doyce Middlebrook of Shallowater, Joe Leach of Plainview, Dallas Brewer of Denver City, Harold Barrett of Wells, L. C. Unfred of New Home, R. H. Whorton of Roscoe and T. W. Stockton Jr. of Crosbyton.

Smith-Alair vows pledged at Springlake

SPRINGLAKE— Karen Smith of Springlake and Edmond Alair Jr. of Springlake were married Saturday June 26, in Springlake Baptist Church with Rev. Smith, pastor, officiating.

Miss Kathy Winders of Earth was maid of honor, and Kelly Hayden of Sunnyside was bridesmaid.

Bruce Bridges of Sunnyside was best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Alair and Johnny Alair of Sunnyside, brothers of the groom.

Guests were seated by Terrell Ott of Dallas, Tony Keeth of Levelland, John Kelley and Donald Templeton, both of Earth.

Accompanied by her father, the bride was attired in a dress of poly sheer organza, designed with a Venise frosted bodice featuring a wedding ring neckline. The sheer raglan sleeves were finished at the wrists with Venice lace.

The crescent waistline fell into a full skirt, layered by three ruffled tiers with each encircled by an appliqued Venise lace band.

Her floor-length veil, made of imported silk illusion, was attached to a Venise lace open work Camelot bonnet adorned with a satin bow and floor-length streamers.

Atop a white Bible the bride carried a bouquet centered by a lavender arch surrounded by white carnations and baby's breath.

For "something old" the bride wore a locket with a watch, which belongs to the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Elsea of Sunnyside.

The bridal dress was "new", she "borrowed" ear rings from Kathy Wright and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Feminine attendants wore floor-length sleeveless crepe dresses featuring V-shaped necklines. They carried nosegays corresponding with their dresses of pastel hues, one blue, one pink and the other yellow.

Little Miss Cain's dress was a full-length green pinafore. Standing by the groom, Hollis Cain asked "Who gives this woman in marriage?"

Rev. Smith replied "Her mother an I." Cain offered a prayer, was seated, and Rev. Smith proceeded with the ceremony.

The union candle was lighted by the bride and groom. The strains of "We've Only Just Begun" formed the recessional.

A reception was held in fellowship hall of the church. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over white satin, and centered by the union candle and the bridal bouquet.

The three-tiered heart-shaped wedding cake, made by Mrs. Harlon Watson, was decorated in the bride's chosen pastel colors of pink, blue, yellow and green.

It was topped by a gold cross and a gold heart on which were engraved "Eddie and Karen, June 16, 1976."

Misses Kathy Wright and Sherri Winders presided at the table, serving wedding cake and yellow reception punch from crystal and silver appointments.

For the wedding trip, the bride selected a sleeveless dress of blue Qiana. She added white accessories and an orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Alair are residing in Springlake. She is a 1976 graduate of Springlake-Earth High School.

Alair is a 1972 graduate of Springlake-Earth High School and is engaged in farming.

Carlisle-Cognasi vows recited in Plainview

OLTON— St. Alice Catholic Church of Plainview was the scene of the Saturday evening ceremony that united Miss Joanna Dean Carlisle and Andrew Wayne Cognasi in marriage.

Rev. Herman Laux, pastor of the church, directed the exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Carlisle of Olton and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Cognasi, of Plainview.

Basket arrangements of white flowers and brass candle trees holding votive lights decorated the church altar. Miss Jenny Lynn Gunter was organist for selected wedding music and vocalist was Bill Johnson.

Carlisle presented his daughter for marriage. For her wedding she chose a formal gown of white silk organza designed with long Bishop sleeves of lace, a fitted bodice and full A-line skirt.

Bodice of the gown was fashioned with a deep V yoke of beaded and scalloped lace, edged with a softly pleated ruffle of organza. The lace and ruffling trim was repated on the sleeve cuffs and the chapel-length skirt. Her tiered, chapel-length veil was secured by a lace and pearl caplet. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and roses, centered with blue carnations.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Sheri Carlisle of Olton, maid of honor. Mrs. John Cates, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and Misses Sandy Cognasi and Kandy Cognasi, sisters of the groom, served as bridesmaids.

Their gowns were of formal-length blue polyester. They wore identically-styled dresses with yokes and sleeves of white Venise lace. They wore white picture hats with a band of blue matching their gowns and carried white Marconi daisies.

Randy Cognasi of Clovis, N.M., was best man for his brother. Groomsmen were John Taylor of Anton, Paul Jerome of Clovis, N.M. and John Ted Daugherty of Olton were ushers.

The reception was held in the church Parish hall where assistants were Misses Virginia and Patricia Daugherty of Olton and Miss Pam Sparks and Val Riddlehuber, both of Plainview.

The bride's and groom's tables were centered with brass candelabras garlanded with lemon foliage.

A graduate of Olton High School, the bride attended the Robert Spence School of Modeling. She is employed by Hale County State Bank.

Cognasi graduated from Plainview High School and South Plains College at Levelland. He is employed by Plainview Rendering Co.

The couple will make their home in Plainview.

GRAND OPENING ceremonies at the Pizza Hut were conducted Tuesday morning, following a trial run opening Monday night. Cutting the ribbon was Miss Lamb County Susie Giles, as Richard Wall; Marge Anzeline; Al Martin of Beville, area manager; Bob Keeton of Del Rio, vice president of operations; and Donny Harland, manager; Tom Tollett; Sherry Campbell; and Tom Hilbun observe the procedure. ## Pattersons celebrate 50th anniversary

SUDAN— Mr. and Mrs. Ves Patterson celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary June 13 with an open house hosted by their daughter, Mrs. Fredda Hays and her family of Austin.

The following is an article written by the Pattersons following their wedding on June 13, 1926 at 9 a.m.

Friends and relatives gathered in the shaded yard of the J. H. Mince home midway between Hubbard and Dawson, to witness the marriage of Grace Mince and Ves Patterson.

The houseguests consisted of relatives and friends of both parties. Lunch was served to all. Music, singing and laughter was the order of the day. Later in the afternoon a select group of this party drove the bride and groom to Waco to catch a train to Temple and thence to Lubbock and Sudan.

A part of the way this train or coach was pulled by a freight train.

They arrived in Sudan the next day without a place arranged for them to stay. Thus they entered Sudan where they were destined to spend their wedded lives. The Treba Phillips, friends of the groom, provided the first night's lodgings.

Both from Christian homes, they were baptized in August, 1926 in the old Preston tank just outside of town. So they became members of the First Baptist Church, where their membership remains.

Eight years later a daughter, their only child, was born. Fredda lived her early years here, began and completed her public school education. She became a member of the First Baptist Church in due time. She also took part in many other activities available here. She was married in Sudan.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson worked together through the years in a shoe store and retirement for them began in January, 1967.

For the past several years they have gone to the Texas coast in October where they stay until May.

They are ardent "fishers" of fish and many around them profit by their "catches". They also relax, make short trips to points nearby and are very active in the church there and mingling with the other campers. The time they now spend in Sudan is divided, from Monday through Friday they can usually be found in their trailer home in Logan, N.M. Then over the weekend they are home in Sudan where they care for their place and attend church and browse about town.

On June 13, 1976, their daughter, Fredda and family, visit the Marchman Ranch and do a portrait of Jomar. It was frightening at first, but Juan Dell soon found that Jomar was more afraid of her than she was of him, and Jomar proved to be as good a subject as Juan Dell's people sitters.

A new publication, "The Women Artist in the American West", by Phil Kovicnik of Los Angeles, will soon be in print, and Juan Dell will be included in the artists featured.

For a little girl who grew up in Hockley County in the shadow of the XIT Ranch, Juan Dell has come a long way. The sand castles she built during the dust bowl era when sand reached the top of the posts on her daddy's pastures, and the pictures she drew on the canvas of Texas blow sand, were but a prelude to Juan Dell's artistic career which is still in its infancy. The name, Juan Dell, already carved in numerous pieces of famous bronze, is becoming a household word. As time passes and more sculptures bear that famous signature Juan Dell is destined to rank among the best that our civilization has produced.

Hockley County is justly proud that its native sculptress has come home for an exhibit to which the public is invited.

Dell's art work showing set in Levelland

Juan Dell, a Hockley County native and internationally known sculptress, will exhibit her bronzes on the first floor of the Levelland State Bank this week her works will be available for viewing on Thursday and Friday, July first and second, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. as a specialty of Levelland's Bicentennial Celebration. Juan Dell's works have been shown in major cities throughout the nation, and she has been invited to Europe for showings. However, this is the first time her works have been exhibited in her home county.

Who is "Juan Dell"? Juan Dell is the professional name of Mrs. Joe Wade who grew up in the Hodges Community of Hockley County. She was Juandell Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Mitchell who still reside in the Hodges Community. Her sisters are Mrs. Bobbie Nell Butner of the Arnett Community and Mrs. Shirley Grant of Whitharral.

The Joe Wades and their three children, Arlene, Butch, and Terry, moved to Levelland just about the time South Plains College opened. At that time Juan Dell decided to "go to the college and take a few art lessons" from Don Stroud. Now her name is forever etched on pieces of famous sculpture throughout the world.

Juan Dell has been selected to do busts of a number of prominent people. A life-size bust of U.S. Representative Omar Burleson that was unveiled on Anson's Courthouse law in 1974 was the creative work of Juan Dell. The bust of Texas Ranger Jack Hayes used as the official commemorative piece for the Texas Ranger Sesquicentennial in 1973 was done by Juan Dell.

Juan Dell received commissions to sculpt Congressman George Mahon, of Lubbock; Roy Davis, 18 year President of the Plains Cotton Oil Mill of Lubbock; Carl Farley of Boys Ranch Fame; and U. S. Representative W. R. Poage of Waco. Galveston selected her to sculpt their famous Jean Lafitte; and she has received recognition for her series of famous Indian leaders, Geronimo, Quannah Parker, and Chief Joseph. Her "Double Trouble", a pioneer woman with her watchdog and her gun guarding her home and her child, literally breathes the spirit of our country's pioneers.

Juan Dell is the only woman member of the Texas Association of Professional Artists, and her work is in several outstanding institutions, including Indian Museum in Santa Fe, N.M.; Buffalo Bill Museum in Cody, Wyoming; Panhandle Plains Museum in Canyon; South Plains Museum in Lubbock, and others. Major collections of her work are owned by Winthrop Rockefeller Jr., Arkansas; Governor Dolph Briscoe, Texas; and Chris Shinkles, New York.

Juan Dell's characterizations are carefully researched both for detail and historical accuracy. She has the ability to capture not only an individual's figure but his personality as well. Searching for the character is a challenge Juan Dell accepts for each piece she creates. One of her latest creations, "Mountain Monarch", is literally King of the Mountain and one can almost see the movement as he comes bouncing down the mountain.

Creative talent takes artists to strange places and situations. This month Juan Dell is invited to attend the Santa Gertrudis Bicentennial Celebration which will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Adolphus in Dallas. Twenty-one artists of note and 500 guests, including John Connally and Winthrop Rockefeller Jr., have been invited—that is "people" guests. Thirty-four proud bulls from 25 of Texas' famous ranches, including King's Ranch, have been invited. These live animals will be tied up for sale along with the art work—right in the Grand Ballroom of the Adolphus! Among the bronzes will be "Jomar", a sculpture of a famous bull from the Joe Marchman Ranch near Meridian, Texas. Jomar's sculptress? Juan Dell, of course!

Having a "Bull Sitting" was quite an experience for the artist! In order to do the sculpture, the artist had to

Fire Dept. not in time

WOW hangs on to 10-9 victory

Fire Dept., which has been coming on strong in the final innings all season long to pull seemingly hopeless games out of the flames, tried the same trick Monday night against

WOW. But this time, the Firemen arrived too late.

WOW had built a 9-4 lead after three innings, and had padded it to 10-4 going into the bottom of the last inning. Then Fire Dept. finally got hot, rolling over five runs to narrow the lead to one. But that's where the rally stopped, and the Woodmen jumped back into major league title contention with the 10-9 victory.

WOW had a 10-4 season record as of presstime Tuesday. In first place is Birkelbach at 10-3, and they were to play the lowly Lions (0-13) Tuesday night.

Still in it, though, is Fire Dept. at 10-4. The Firemen play Birkelbach Saturday night in the last game of the season, and if they win they could legitimately claim the title by virtue of their two wins over Birkelbach during the regular season.

But WOW has beaten Fire Dept. twice this year, and could also claim the championship if they get by Rotary (3-11) as expected tonight.

Birkelbach could settle the whole thing with a victory Saturday, but the way the

OLYMPICS REVIVED

When the modern Olympics were revived in 1896, the project excited few Americans, who considered the Games as "European." A small group of Americans decided to participate, however, despite the fact that they had no sponsors for the trip. Arriving in Athens in time to hear the call for athletes, the team won 9 of the 12 track and field events. James Connolly, a Harvard freshman, became the first champion to be crowned in 15 centuries by winning the hop, step, and jump.

Lions win crown; Chiefs score upset

Although the big news in the final week of Pee Wee play was the Lions winning two games to take the league championship, the Chiefs added an interesting sidelight by surprising the defending champion Pioneers 15-13 Friday.

The Chiefs, who had won only one game while losing nine and tying two, became only the second team this season to defeat the Pioneers. The Lions had taken wins of 11-7 and 15-9 over the Pioneers, but no other team had even come close.

The Lions finished their year with a sparkling 13-1 mark, their only loss coming against the Alley Cats. The Pioneers locked up second with an 11-3 record, and the Alley Cats will finish third, currently at 7-4-1. Season finales Tuesday night pitted the Tigers against the Roadrunners and the Alley Cats versus the Chiefs.

CHIEFS 15 PIONEERS 13
Scoring the maximum five runs in each inning, the Chiefs upset the second-place Pioneers 15-13 Friday.

Raymond Mooney, Kevin Pearson, Boey Tramel and Rodney Williams led the winners with three hits each. Brad Heffington had a pair of hits, and Tim Boomer, Bryan Ma-gruder, Bill Cowen, Clint Overland and Peter Vargas all added singles. Pearson was the winning pitcher. Randy Vaughn hit for the Pioneers. Fuller, Donny Vaughn, Lloyd Lee Cham-wacked two hits. Cooper, Corey Sierra, Darrel David Maddray out.

LIONS 15 ROADRUNNERS 6

The Lions allowed runs in the first to Friday and easily beat Roadrunners 15-6.

Dale Bradley was on the mound, and McCarty, Paul Pierce, Kerry Blewins, Todd Castillo and Michael gomery with hits. Jason Killough, man, Scott Starman, Scott Starman, Klobier and David led the Roadrunners

LIONS 10 FIREBALLS 6

The Lions took over the Fireballs in the eighth inning and built it to win Monday.

Everyone was hitting. Pitcher Dale Bradley, Leo Paul Mendez, Ken Todd Blevins, Todd Paul Castillo, Jeff Michael Montgomerie contributed at the plate. Steve Rangel, Roy Larry Sierra, Steve Puente and Phillip the losers' offense.

PIONEERS 11 ROCKETS 10

The Pioneers, trailing going into the bottom last inning, got a double runs Saturday to tie the Rockets 11-9.

Donny Vaughn added a pair of hits with the final run gone in the Pioneers at-bat after slapping the-park homer. Cooper and Lloyd Lee Cham-got hits, while Randy was the winning pitcher. Joe Vargas slugged hits for the losers. Hernandez, Tony Melete Backwell, Martinez and Gilbert added a pair of hits

B&C ends season with wins

The battle between the giants of Littlefield's Jr. Babe Ruth league wound down to a pitcher's duel Saturday between Joe Rodriguez of B&C Pump and Junior Sierra of Tasty Taco. In the end Rodriguez allowed just two hits to Sierra's seven and got a little extra batting help as B&C won 6-4 to lock up the league championship.

Both pitchers registered 10 strike outs in the game. Rodriguez slugged two triples to go with his pitching performance, and Alvin Contreras, who has gone the entire year without a single strikeout, pitched in a double and single. Roy Mendez, Richard Soria and Lester Wormly all added singles.

Albert Rangel slugged a triple for Taco and Tommy Williams doubled.

B&C won again Monday night in Sudan, scoring nine runs in the last inning for an 18-1 victory. That ended their stellar season at 13-2, and the Babe Ruth season came to a close Tuesday evening.

Two groups of all-stars will now be involved in post-season tournaments. The 14- and 15-year-olds will be in Plainview Monday for a first-round district game with Muleshoe at 8:30 p.m., and the 13-year-old team plays in Muleshoe in a tournament July 12.

Rodriguez again pitched for B&C in the Sudan win, this time allowing four hits and chalking up 14 strikeouts. He also belted three doubles and a single offensively.

Jimmy Avery, who started the season against Anton by slugging a homer then broke his collarbone to miss the remaining games, came back against Sudan and blasted another homer over the center field fence to go with a double. Roy Mendez cracked two doubles and a single. Alvin Contreras notched a double and two singles, Lester Wormly hit a pair of singles and Gary White and Jimmy Clayton each singled.

Ricky Moore and Victor King slashed doubles for Sudan. Mike Jones and Rob Freeman added singles.

C-O loses first

It took until the last week of the season to do it, but the only undefeated team in all of Littlefield summer baseball bit the dirt in a game Saturday night.

Carlisle-Oldham, which had played 11 minor league games without a loss, was blasted by Security State 13-8 as the Bankers made their run at the championship.

C-O has been in first place in the minors all season, although they have only six wins to go with five ties. The loss put their record at 6-1-5, and Security State now has a shot at the title as they built their mark to 7-3-2.

C-O played Leader-News (2-6-3) Tuesday night, and if the Newsmen managed an upset, Security State need only win games tonight and Saturday for the crown.

SECURITY STATE 13 C-O 8
The Bankers finally put it all together against Carlisle-Oldham, scoring seven runs in the first inning and five more in the third to win easily, 13-8.

Charles Jackson hurled for Security State and slapped a double and a single. Eric Dumoss and Terry Jackson chipped in singles.

Gary Sawyer paced the losers with a pair of hits. Pitcher Freddie Hernandez, Rudy Espinoza and Chuck Sawyer each singled.

SECURITY STATE 11 LEADER-NEWS 5
In a game that lasted only three innings, Security State got no-hit pitching from Terry Jackson Friday and whipped Leader-News 11-5.

The Bankers scored seven runs in the second period to pad the win.

Charles Jackson hit a pair of singles, and Steve Rainy and Eric Dumoss notched a hit apiece.

In the other minor league game scheduled Monday night, VFW forfeited to Leader-News because only seven players showed for the contest. VFW's record sunk to 2-7-2, last place in the league.

major league season has been, one should expect the unexpected.

George Brockington led the Woodmen in their big win over the Firemen Monday by twirling a two-hitter. Scot Yarbrough slugged a homer offensively, Randy Kemp and Scott Lewis each singled.

Alan Jones and Clark Pylant got the only hits for Fire Dept.

FIRE DEPT. 8 ROTARY 1

Leslie Yarbrough shut down Rotary with only two hits Friday and ripped a pair of singles to lead the Firemen to a 8-1 victory.

Clark Pylant was the big gun for the winners, belting a home run and two singles. Steve Cosden and Frank Vega each chipped in a single. Steven Tisdale and Pat Torres both punched singles for the Rotarians.

BIRKELBACH 8 LAMB CO. ELECTRIC 1

League-leader Birkelbach broke a 5-5 tie in the top of the last inning Saturday to short circuit the Electricians 8-5.

It was a real pitching duel between Birkelbach's Bobby Martinez and LCE's Kerry Rainbolt. Martinez gave up three hits, while Rainbolt allowed only two.

Mike Williams and Tony Sierra slapped singles for the winners.

James Randall racked up two singles for LCE, now 8-6 on the year, and Gerald Twitty sliced a double.

Starting blocks may be used in individual races up to and including 800-meter.

At the finish of a race, runners are placed in the order in which any part of their torso reaches the tape (thus ruling out winning by a nose, feet, hands, or legs).

The Olympic men's steeplechase is an event comprising 7 water jumps and 28 hurdle jumps over a 3,000-meter course.

The marathon is 26 miles 385 yards long—the exact distance to Shepherds Bush Stadium in London from the gardens of Windsor Castle, where the Royal Family insisted on watching the start of the first race in 1908.

Pioneer Days

By V. M. [Pete] PETERMAN

LITTLEFIELD FEEDERS, INC.

Cattle feeding in Lamb County is not new. For the past 50 years many pioneer men have been feeding cattle on a farm project basis.

The Halsells, the Nixs, the Jones, the Petermans, the Claytons, the Bartons and a host of others have tried their luck at feeding their farm-grown feed to steers.

Some of these men were very successful.

Back when labor was cheap and plentiful, and cattle could be had for a reasonable price, many farmers fed cattle on an annual basis, and once became established with their own feed pens, troughs, and feed mills; they usually did very well.

* When grain sorghum was less than one dollar per hundred, and cotton seed meal and hulls were very little cost to anyone, cane and silage was used as a bulk, and with feeder cattle much cheaper than the finished beeves, many farmers used cattle feeding as a supplement to their farm income.

In those so-called good old days, transportation was a major problem.

Fat cattle had to be driven to the railroad and then hauled that long two or three-days' trip to Kansas City, Ft. Worth, or even Los Angeles. This type of beef was far from the quality of the locally-fed beef that is processed at near-by slaughter houses today.

But things are fast changing and history in the next 50 years should be a different story.

Littlefield Feeders Incorporated became a reality just a few years ago. Some 63 local farmers and businessmen pooled about $2 million of their resources, and build a 30,000 capacity cattle feeding plant north of Littlefield, and east of Amherst, on some 200 acres of land. An abundance of steel pens and a feed processing and mixing plant are second to none.

This county-owned and county-managed firm has been a big success.

Most of the time a nice margin of profit is shown by those who participate.

More than 90 per cent of the feed that is fed is grown and processed here in the county. Thus, not only the members of the organization, but the farm economy throughout the area benefits from the market provided by this organization.

The group of men who operate this business are Troy Armes, Mondell Mills, J. D. Smith, Paul Bennett, Dale Walthal, J. L. Marcum, Mike Carter and Joe Montgomery, who have proved themselves as successful business men with a lot of ingenuity and know how. Littlefield Feeders Incorporated is bound to grow and make a lot of good history for Lamb County.

Jehovah's Witnesses planning conventions

The Governing Body of Jehovah's Witnesses has revealed in New York the completion of plans for 94 district conventions of the religious group in the United States during the summer of 1976.

Agustin Perez, spokesman for the Littlefield Spanish congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, said two conventions in the Spanish language are scheduled for parts of a five-state area at El Paso County Coliseum. He said each convention is expected to attract approximately 4,000 delegates.

Perez, said 75 persons would represent Littlefield at the first of the two meetings, July 1-4.

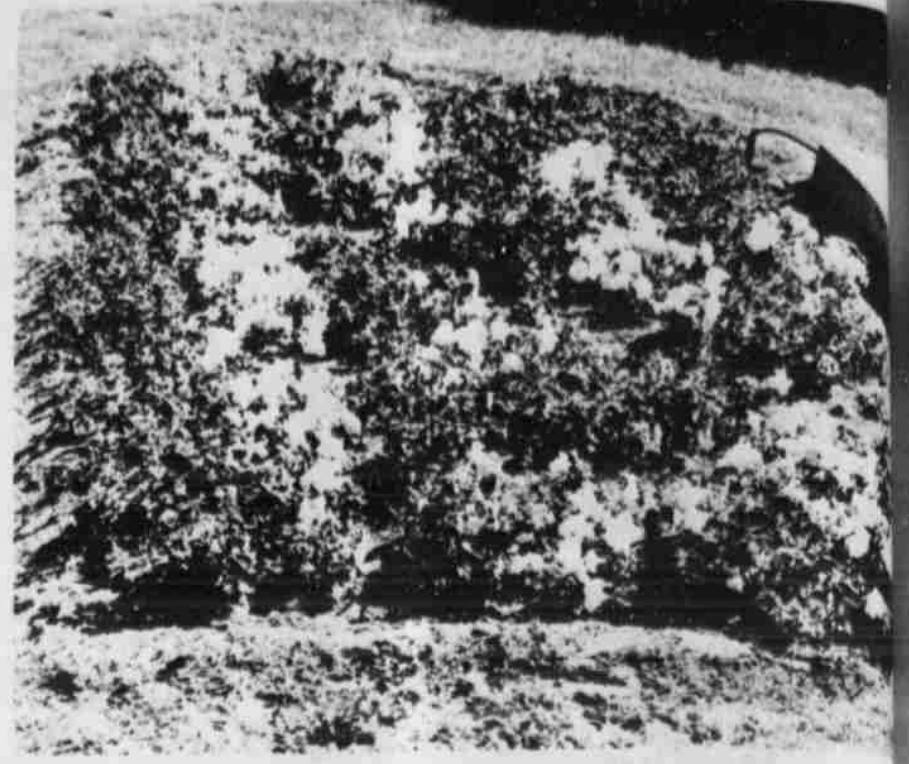

Theme of the assembly is "Sacred Service" and said the program, is comprised of Bible lectures, symposiums, discussion periods and full-costume dramas, will focus on the problems facing society today and suggest positive solutions to these problems.

"There will be specific information for all family members," Perez said, "including husbands, wives and young people. The content of the convention program is centered on spirituality and how it can be achieved in these difficult times."

Perez said a baptismal service will highlight the program on Friday, July 2.

The principal speaker at the convention will be R. S. Cornelius of New York, who will discuss the question, "Will Serving God Solve Your Problems?" It is set for Sunday, July 4 at 2 p.m.
