Representatives from four area met with Littlefield city Thursday night during their meeting to discuss the rate increase as proposed by General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Representatives from Spade, Whitharral, Anton and Amherst—as well as Littlefield—which will be affected by the rate increase, voiced strong opposition to the increase as proposed, and presented reasons they feel the rates are "unrealistic" and "out of line."

Most were in agreement that improvement of service should be the main topic of discussion, rather than a rate increase. Some agreed that the company is due a reasonable raise to go along with the times, but that 50 percent to 90 percent increases in various phases of the system are too much.

Most expressed an opinion that "the service is poor, and that the percentage of the increase is too high". All were willing to fight the case in court, and have retained Bill McMorries of Amarillo to prepare statistics for the case.

The two representatives for Amherst, Eddie Landers and George Thompson, brought in a petition from Amherst residents stating their position against the increase.

"I think their increase is way out of line, compared to the service and what people can afford," stated one of the Amherst representatives.

Representing Anton were S.W. Oliver, R.R. Pritchard, R.L. Wooten and Wyatt L. Batson. One of their spokesmen commented, "We've got to remember one thing, when we get Direct Distance Dialing—which has been promised to us by 1975—in talking of what increase we get now, we know if we ever get DDD we'll have another increase then. And, in discussing the service at Anton—there's only one way to describe it, and that's POOR!"

"Increase on our residence phones figures about 66 percent and business phone increases about 90 percent—which I think is going way too far out of line in passing that big of an increase," the Anton spokesman continued.

"Anybody would like to have that big of an increase in their business, but I don't think you could hardly expect it!"

Representing Spade at the session was W. W. Thompson. "I think the general feeling out there is that the service is extremely bad, and we don't feel that that kind of a raise is justified. There are just worlds of times when we can't dial a Littlefield number, and at the same time you can't even get an operator.

Whitharral representatives were Ralph Allaire and Coy Mills. Both agreed that the rates were extremely high compared to the service rendered.

"Everytime it rains, or we get a high wind, we have no phone service, and usually it's several days before it is restored," Mills stated.

"We are just like Amherst in that we have just received the ability to dial different ways, and we had a rate increase then. I see where, due to the costs of production and service these days, that we do have to go up once in a while, but I feel it's a bit out of line here," he emphasized.

One of the Amherst representatives stated that the increase could not be met by most older citizens who live on pensions or welfare, and said, "I'm just stubborn enough to pull my phone out and go along with them."

In explaining the procedures that General Telephone will take in the case, City Attorney Ted Sansom stated, "Basically, what we're talking about is, they either get the increase they want, or they have to sue the city that they are dissatisfied with—right here in district court of Lamb County. Of course, Anton and Whitharral will have to go to Hockley County for trial."

In response to a question from City Councilman James Shotwell concerning who would decide the outcome of the case, the attorney informed the group that some of the answers will be decided by a jury, but the final granting of the rate increase will be made by the judge.

Representatives decided to call a special meeting with representatives from General Telephone the night of June 29 at 7 p.m. in the city council room at City Hall, when the case will be discussed.

In other city council action, councilmen accepted Jake Diehl's low bid of 16 1/2 cents per unit for providing all labor, material and equipment and performing work required for approximately 105,000 square yards of street seal coating in Littlefield.

High Plains Pavers of Plainview submitted a 17 cents per unit bid.

OPINION VIEWS

ELVOR SEZ: "One should have education so that he won't have to look up to people and then more education so that he will be wise enough to look down on people."

MEMBER WHEN a "demonstration" was what a Fuller Brush man gave, "hot pants" were what boys got when they misbehaved, a "group of friends playing cards" was a "lack of education" meant the telephone lines were down... all area representatives who attended city council meeting Thursday night expressed "displeasure" with the rate increase by General Telephone. Representatives from Anton, Spade, Whitharral met with city council to consider the rate increase. Details of the meeting can be seen elsewhere on this page. Overall around town seems that it is just "out of line" and that the figures pitched way high and then Gen Tel then settle for a lower figure they wanted in the first place and they would be happy. We'll see. Saturday in Lamesa, Pioneer Gas and General Telephone had their franchise election. Balloting for each individual company and city council in Lamesa has the power to grant five year franchises but they are for a longer period of time to be submitted to the public. The franchise granted Pioneer Gas their franchise and defeated the franchise for Gen Tel.

OF THE exchange papers that to the office this past week had a of their summer grounds crew for high school football stadium. As far as could tell, it consisted of at least 18 of sheep. The outline beneath the stated that "the task of keeping local football field clipped this year has been assigned to a flock of sheep. Shown above, they seem to find contentment in the chore." Hmmm, if they like dandelions!

ALL THE Father's Day mailings we have received this week, this one had the most discussion around the While it didn't have a title, we call it "how to tie a tie in a hundred lessons." First, with the wide end of on your right, extending about a inch from the end, cross the wide end of the narrow one and back behind. Next, continue around, crossing the wide end across the front of the narrow end once more. The wide end will be passed up through the loop and finally, holding the front of the wide end with the index finger, the wide end will be passed down through the loop. The finger is removed, the wide end is tightened, and the process is complete.

More Rain Ups Total

Another inch or more of rain fell on the Littlefield area again early Saturday morning.

Residents in the city of Littlefield reported measurements of from 1.1 to 1.5 from the rains that came between 2 and 3 a.m. Saturday.

Promotions Needed

A meeting of a small number of Littlefield businessmen Thursday morning in the XIT Room of the Security State Bank indicated the need for more retail promotions for Littlefield and the Littlefield trade area.

The meeting, headed by Jerry Barret, small chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and Bill Payne, Chamber manager, discussed numerous promotions and the group decided to try and revive the Littlefield Saturday Drawing.

Charles Barret, C. R. Anthony manager, was elected chairman of the event and he asks all interested merchants who want to participate to contact him or the Chamber of Commerce.

The showers were general over the area. Amherst received 1.2 to 1.5 Saturday morning, bringing their recent total rainfall to about 3.5.

Anton received .7 Saturday morning bringing their total to 7.7.

To the south, Whitharral got an average of an inch out of the early morning rain to give the community totals varying from 6 to 10 inches.

Bula reported from .9 to 2.5 inches in that area early Saturday. The heaviest rains apparently fell along the Sudan highway. Ronnie Fisher reported 2.5 on his farm in that area. As of Saturday at press time Bula's total was from 6.5 to 7.

Toward Springlake, Earth and Otton rains all got about 1. from Saturday's precipitation to bring the totals to 4. and more in that part of the county.

Fieldton received .4 Saturday for a total of 4.2 around the Fieldton Co-op Gin.

Methodist Minister Works Wonders With Wood

By NILAH RODGERS

Rev. David Hamblin is an accomplished wood worker, a licensed pilot, plays a mediocre game of golf, and strings along with a musical group called "The Bargains" because "we're off about 30 per cent of the time."

The pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Littlefield says he has lots of hobbies and does very little work.

Of all his hobbies, Rev. Hamblin spends most of his spare time building various items in the shop at the back of the Hamblin home at 114 E. 19th.

Rev. Hamblin's granddaddy was a cabinet maker and his dad did a little carpentry work. His boyhood thrills came from spending a Sunday afternoon in his granddaddy's shop. Although the preacher has been interested in working with wood all his life, he didn't start buying his tools until about 10 years ago.

The Hamblin's 17-year-old son, Bill, showed an inclination to follow in his dad's wood working footsteps, when they lived in Memphis, Tex., and the father-son combination built their present shop. The 16'x14' building can be moved on an implement truck. Rev. Hamblin said in his work they never have a home, but just slide around here and there.

Hamblin & Son's Shop is strictly a man's domain where women come by invitation only. Rev. Hamblin says he "brands" everything made in his shop with his "ego mark." A lower case hb is burned into the bottom of the finished products. The brand is the one used on his cattle when he ran a few head while living in East Texas.

Building two grandfather clocks from tree to time pieces are the largest projects Rev. Hamblin has tackled. "Walnut is my wood," he said. "Any piece of furniture worth making is worth building from walnut."

Finding walnut scarce in West Texas, Rev. Hamblin learned his uncle down on Sulpher Creek was about to cut down two big walnut trees. The preacher took the trees to a saw mill for rough cutting, brought back the green lumber home on a truck, dried it out, and built the clocks from the tree to the completed works.

Last year Rev. Hamblin found a place at Honey Grove, near Paris, Tex., where he can buy rough hewn walnut, and he is in the process of drying out 1,200 board feet now.

"I just enjoy fooling with the stuff," Rev. Hamblin said of his woodworking. "It's real easy to go out to the shop and work an hour or two after a night meeting."

Rev. Hamblin looks for wood everywhere he goes. Cottonwood along southern creeks and aspen from Colorado have loaded down the trunk of the Hamblin car on return vacation and business trips.

Bill uses all types of wood for making candlesticks. "The first summer we were here Bill made $200 to $300 from the sale of his candlesticks," Rev. Hamblin said. "He likes the lathe. It's the fun tool in a workshop."

Flying is another hobby Rev. Hamblin enjoys. He and Dr. Albert Perkins have an interest in a plane. Bill and the Hamblin's daughter would like to take flying lessons, too. Mrs. Hamblin goes along with the flying as a means of transportation. "But I think she had just as soon keep her feet on the ground," Rev. Hamblin observed.

He calls his seven handicap golf playing "mediocre" and finds the sport fun and a good way to relax.

Of his membership in the musical group, "The Bargains", he says the group just let him in and he doesn't really play very well.

The oddity of the group is its religious composition. Rev. Joe James, the local Catholic priest, plays the guitar; Dr. Aaron Williams, a Littlefield dentist and Baptist Layman, plays the fiddle; and Rev. Hamblin hams it up on the bass fiddle made from a wash tub, broom stick and string. "We're called The Bargains" because we're off 30 per cent of the time," Rev. Hamblin concluded.

REV. DAVID HAMBLIN makes the sawdust fly when he designs candle holders on the lathe in his shop. Because of the mobility of his work as a Methodist pastor, Rev. Hamblin's shop is built so it can be moved on an implement truck. Heated, air conditioned and with an extension phone, the shop at the Hamblins is strictly a man's domain which the two Hamblin women enter by invitation only.

HONNY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

LOOKS AS THO Sarah T. Hughes (Federal judge) has come up with some sweeping ideas of just how a jail should be equipped, arranged, and run.

Surprisin' thing about it is, that she didn't specify just what color the drapes and rugs should be. — Seems she could be a little more specific!

JUST ANOTHER EXAMPLE of someone in authority, with time hangin' heavily on their hands. Somebody should give that gal something to do!

While I wouldn't advocate "Hog-Pen" environment for those that run afoul of the law, still it's not my opinion that the jails should have "All the comforts of home". — Better yet, they should be just a wee-bit uncomfortable.

'T WAS MY IDEA that a jail sentence was supposed to be a form of punishment! Not an extended vacation, with paid hotel bills!

I'm just wonderin' if the feds will want to pick up the tab on all these plush improvements? — Yet, I suppose it'll make no difference, either way. John Q. Taxpayer will eventually get the bill, regardless of the channel it's piped through.

WHAT MAKES OUR country great? PEOPLE, that's what! — Aren't we lucky we have them!

HEAR TELL THEYRE thinkin' of startin' a museum here. I think it's a fine idea. In fact, I've a few things I'd like to contribute. No, it's NOT my mother-in-law! — She's already passed, and contrary to popular jesting, she was a fine woman.

MY CONTRIBUTIONS would consist of the following ideals: (All old-fashioned.)

1. The time when a fellow had to worry about, and to help his fellow-man. Being concerned about him when he was sick, offering to help when it was needed, and standing by him when he was in trouble.

2. When a man behaved himself like a man, was proud of his masculinity, and tried to look the part, stood up for his convictions, yet was willing to listen to honest reasoning, took pride in paying his honest debts, and his word was his bond. He was patriotic, and ready to fight for his country.

3. When the courts and law and order were respected without question, and people expected to be law-obedient, or suffer the consequences, and officers of the law had the authority to ENFORCE the law.

4. When feminine nudity in public was frowned upon, illegitimacy was a shame, marriage was the proper grounds for sharing a bed, divorcees were noteworthy, and children were expected to obey their parents.

WOULD LIKE to see these ideals preserved, in some manner, that they might be observed and marveled upon by our grandchildren.

MAY MISS YOU A couple times. We're headin' California way. (Due to circumstances beyond my control.) However, if "OL' She" (My car) and pocketbook hold together, will be back shortly. (Provided the Guardian Angels are feelin' kindly toward us.)

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Useful Living

By ROB WEAR

MANY ARE THE WAYS in which all of us can be useful. Most of these ways are not spectacular, or exciting; they are not supposed to be.

Unfortunately, a high percentage of these ways are not even considered important; but all of them are important.

FAULTY AND ARTIFICIAL standards of value are often used in deciding what is important or unimportant.

Surely, it is easy to see that everything useful is important; even though some things may be more important than others.

WE CAN LEARN to be useful, when we are not too fastidious about what we do. If we are too choosy, we probably never will be useful; but just waste our time waiting for something big and showy.

While we wait for the opportunity that never comes, we could be useful by doing the many seemingly little things which are all around us.

IF WE KNOW OURSELVES, we are keenly aware of our need to be useful. Of course, it is possible that we may never identify this need.

If this is the case, we will continue a life of frustration and disappointment. There will always be a nagging feeling of dissatisfaction with ourselves and with life.

"NOTHING IN THIS WORLD is so good as usefulness. It binds your fellow creatures to you, and you to them; it tends to the improvement of your own character and gives you a real importance in society, much beyond what any artificial station can bestow." — Brodie Opportunities for useful living are found in the home; in the neighborhood; in the community where there are many, many areas of service for people who wish to be useful. In fact, there are many things to be done; things we can help do.

WE CANNOT ALL DO the same things, and this is a great blessing. There is need for diversity. Different services require different skills, different backgrounds, and different interests.

Some of us may not be able to do as much as others, but, when we do what we can, in the best way we can, we have done well.

APPRECIATION HELPS, because it is a source of encouragement; however, it is not until we learn to be useful, just for the sake of being useful, that we find the real and lasting satisfaction in serving.

We must not be afraid that we may do more than our part. In some situations, this may be a proper concern; but we never will be very useful if we make too much of it. Generally, the people who are most useful are those who do more than their part.

USEFUL LIVING is a way of life that is open to all of us, and is a must for satisfactory living. More than this, it is the serendipity of life.

Miss Markham stated, "music is one of my main hobbies. I like to sit and play the piano nearly as much as I enjoy sleeping". At the present time she is taking guitar lessons. She lists cooking foreign foods as another of her hobbies, spends many hours reading books, and loves to do personality impersonations for fun.

Investigations Made

City police have received two reports of theft and an attempted breaking and entering case this past week.

Tuesday, Gene Hanlin reported that the door to City Wrecking was kicked open sometime between 7 and 11 p.m. that night.

Wednesday, Jean Cheshier at Knight's Rest Home reported that money was taken from her purse at the home.

A citizen who resides on East 16th reported that a Motorola tape deck, installed in a '64 Chevy II, was taken from the unlocked vehicle while it was parked in front of her residence between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. Thursday and Friday.

Also taken were eight tapes in a black alligator type case. The tape deck was torn from the bolts.

Police arrested a Hobbs, N. M. man Friday night, and charged him with driving in a manner to endanger lives and property of others. He appeared before the judge, paid his fine and was released that same night.

Police investigated a one-car accident in downtown Littlefield Thursday afternoon.

Loren Leon Pollard of Bula was attempting to park a 1961 Ford in front of Western Auto, when the brakes failed and the car jumped the curb, hit five bicycles and broke out the plate glass window in the store.

1972 'Texas' Show Is Ready To Begin

As the opening night, June 22 approaches, the pieces of the "Texas" show for the year are falling into place.

In the Branding Iron Theatre on the campus of West Texas State University, the physical warm ups take less effort each day, and in the first rehearsals in the Canyon the dancers and singers were able to run a quarter of a mile from the dressing rooms and sweep onto the stage singing and dancing without seeming breathless.

The overtures are gradually coming up to tempo.

The costumes have been measured and adjusted and ordered and the costumers have chided the directors because the people chosen for this cast are quite different in size from the last one. New clothes are in preparation for the finale.

Paul Green, the author, has just left, after traveling from North Carolina to see a rehearsal. He was intent as the show unfolded and delighted. In a meeting with the directors afterward, he changed a few lines in the script to add emphasis to certain places, discussed ways of solving minor problems and complimented the workers.

He also spoke to the cast — line and connecting... talking about the theatre (drawing examples from his six other great dramas about regional history playing each summer). He calls the theatre the peak of all the arts in every civilization because it uses them all. Sitting on the edge of the stage in the Branding Iron Theatre, he spoke of the story they are presenting in "Texas", the story of man's need to persevere.

In the theatre in the Canyon, the men who will man the house are putting out the chairs, checking to see which ones need replacing or repair. The sound and light crew are testing every

This fall she will attend Texas major in secondary education and plans to teach history.

Miss Terri Birkelbach is sponsored by Judd Walker Agency in Littlefield. She is the haired, green-eyed daughter of Mrs. W. W. Birkelbach, and a member of Littlefield High School.

Her special talents are playing piano, sewing, cooking and gardening. She is a member of the National Society. Awards include Alpha Sweater Award and Chemistry Award. Miss Birkelbach's hobbies are water skiing and riding horses.

A Coke party will be held in the Room of Pioneer Natural Gas at 7:30 p.m. for all Miss Lamb County contestants and their parents. At that time they will be briefed on regulations for the pageant.

Rehearsal will take place July 1 p.m., in the Senior High Auditorium. Miss Lamb County will be crowned Friday, July 14 at 7 p.m. in the Senior High School Auditorium.

A trophy will be awarded to Lamb County and one to her alter Second, third and fourth runners-up be presented chairs.

"Miss Lamb County" will be entered in the "Wheatbelt of Nation" beauty contest Aug. 15-16, Perryton.

Room With A View

ON THE OUTSKIRTS of Rome, under the warm, sunny skies there's a room with a view.

As a matter of fact, there are many rooms, but the view is anything but bright.

IN ONE OF the rooms there's a 24-year-old girl from the United States. She had been in Rome for three days when she was arrested for possession of drugs. She wasn't carrying anything, but it was found by the police in an apartment she was visiting.

This young woman will wait in her cell six to ten months for trial. It's the law. She doesn't have a chance for bail. There is none. No one can get her out. That's the law, too. And if she's found guilty she faces a minimum of three years and a heavy fine.

IN THAT SAME PRISON, there are other United States citizens, arrested on drug charges, and the view is the same for them.

In Spain, there's a veteran from Michigan and a second grade teacher from New York, both serving time. Overseas, you can add up a total of more than 1,000 Americans who have been arrested, tried and found guilty on drug charges.

FOR SOME OF THEM, it was a collision course. Here, in the States, they smoked grass. Others used chemicals. Still others were engaged in trafficking. For some, it was a dare; something they hadn't done before.

So, why not? And, for the most part, most of them thought that in Europe, the Far East or south of our own border, the laws weren't tough. Or even if they were, the enforcement wasn't as rigid as it is here.

THEY WERE WRONG. Drug laws overseas are tough. And they're enforced. To the letter. This is by no means an indictment of their judicial system. We can't, and shouldn't, expect them to be the same as they are in this country.

IF YOU'RE TRAVELING to a foreign country this summer, be sure you know the laws of that country. Understand their interpretation and rights you have as a citizen of this country, and how those rights apply overseas.

To see Europe and the heritage and history that preceded us is a rare and special opportunity. It shouldn't be abused.

ABOVE ALL, be sure you end up in a room with the right kind of view.

Meet The Minister

The David Hamblin Family

Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of Littlefield's First United Methodist Church, is one of Littlefield's busiest men. Besides his duties with his church and the Methodist Conference, Rev. Hamblin is involved in much civic work in the community.

He and his wife, Wanda, have two children. Bill is their 17-year-old LHS senior who likes woodworking and football, and will serve as one of the football captains next year.

Patty, their 15-year-old sophomore, enjoys cheerleading and other school activities.

Rev. Hamblin met his future bride while they were studying at McMurry College in Abilene. Wanda received her BA degree in elementary education the summer after David received his BS degree in speech in 1953.

Rev. Hamblin graduated from high school at Shallowater, and has done some post graduate college work at Perkins School of Theology at Dallas.

The Hamblins came to Littlefield two years ago from Memphis, Tex. where he was serving as pastor of the First Methodist Church. Prior to that time, and following his college days, Rev. Hamblin has pastored Methodist churches in and near Abilene, Blackwell, Sunray, Snyder and O'Donnell.

He has served as trustee for McMurry College at Abilene the past four years, is a trustee for King's Manor retirement home in Hereford, is on the Conference Board of Evangelism, serves on the Plainview District Program Council, and is a member of the Advisory Board to the Methodist campground at Ceta Canyon.

In Littlefield, Rev. Hamblin serves as vice president of Administrations on the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors; is Tailtwister for the Lions Club; chairman of the Salvation Army Service Unit; secretary of the Quarterback Club; and is on the Board of Directors for the Satellite School for the mentally retarded.

He also plays in the "Bargains" band, a local entertaining group.

When in Memphis, Rev. Hamblin served as chairman of a committee which built 60 housing units for low income families—a million-dollar project.

Mrs. Hamblin's hobbies include oil painting, knitting and other handwork. She is a member of the Daubers Art Club and the Art Club of Littlefield.

In complimenting his wife, Rev. Hamblin says, "She's done a good job in raising our children. Although she's not busy in clubs and organizations, she stays busy at home keeping the family on the move."

Littlefield Boys At Camp

The Salvation Army Service Unit of Littlefield is sponsoring four Littlefield boys at Camp Hoblitzelle this week, and they, along with their chaperones, Lee and Pat Behnke, left early this morning to make the trip to the campsite near Midlothian and Waxahachie.

Troy Armes of Armes Chevrolet provided the car for the trip.

Campers are Federico Hernandez, 14; John Marquez, 14; Gregory Scott, 10 and Ruben Torres, 10.

They will live with other boys from throughout Texas in a brick and redwood cabin. They will go boating and fishing on the 30-acre lake, swim in the modern pool, ride horses, and try their hands at archery, handicrafts, baseball, volleyball, movies, hiking and other events.

Local camp chairman is Rev. Joe James of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, and chairman of the Salvation Army Service Unit in Littlefield is Rev. David Hamblin.

Bruce Richardson, field representative for the Salvation Army is co-ordinating the camping program, and Mrs. Julia Rodriguez of the Multi-Service Center located the boys for the program.

Beef Testing Program Slated For Cattlemen

Cattlemen may now nominate entries in the 1972-73 sire evaluation and beef cattle improvement testing program at the Texas Tech University Center at Amarillo.

The annual testing program will again be climaxed after completion of the testing period by the center's 23rd annual Performance Proven Bull Sale.

According to Dr. R. Hollis Klett, center superintendent, bulls entered for testing must have been calved between Sept. 1, 1971, and March 31, 1972.

Bulls are to be delivered to the Texas Tech University Center at Amarillo Sept. 26 or, if desired, at any time between weaning and the start of the test, subject to prior arrangements, Klett said. The age of all bulls will be subject to checking by a competent specialist.

Outlining eligibility requirements for the testing program, Klett pointed out that the cooperators must either be the breeder or own the bulls and their dams for at least 60 days prior to the start of the test.

Purebreds may be entered from small breeds such as Angus and Jersey, from medium breeds such as Hereford, Polled Hereford and Shorthorn, or from large breeds such as Charolais, Santa Gertrudis and crosses.

The purebred bulls must be registered, Klett stressed, and papers must accompany bulls at delivery. In addition, pedigrees must be approved free of dwarfism by the respective breed associations, with approval submitted also at the time of delivery.

Klett said crossbred bulls, which must be eligible for enrollment in an association, will be accepted for testing according to space available.

He added that bulls must be weighed between 160 and 250 days of age and that the following information must be submitted for each bull on forms provided when application is made for entry: (1) date weighed, (2) actual weight between 160 and 250 days of age, (3) dam's birth date, and (4) average adjusted 205-day weight for all bulls in herd or weaning ratio for each bull entered and the number of bulls used in the average.

Before delivery all calves must be vaccinated, treated for grubs and worms, and all must have health papers, dated within 30 days, showing negative tests for tuberculosis and that they are brucellosis vaccinated or are from a certified brucellosis-free area.

Klett suggested that bulls also be vaccinated with a shipping fever vaccine just prior to delivery.

He added that calves should be weaned at least three weeks before delivery and started on a ration that will allow them to continue gaining at the same rate as before weaning. Good quality alfalfa, prairie or cane hay fed free-choice plus two to three pounds of 41 per cent protein supplement per head per day, he said, will meet this requirement. Breeders will not be allowed to work on their animals or handle them in any way during the test.

Klett said all costs pertaining to the care and feeding of animals will be paid by the cooperating breeders. A nomination fee of $20 per bull, payable to the Texas Tech University Center at Amarillo, must accompany applications for entry, and average feed costs will run approximately $125-130. A feed deposit of $125 per bull is required upon delivery of animals to the center.

"Rations used in the test will be designed to obtain maximum growth without excessive finish," Klett pointed out. The feed will be prepared by center personnel, using flaked milo, corn silage, protein supplement and a premix containing minerals, vitamins and additives. Bulls will be fed once daily in concrete bunks.

Klett explained that actual testing will consist of a 14-day adjustment period, a 56-day screening period and an 84-day test period. At the end of the 56-day screening period, bulls must have an average daily gain equal to their gain from birth to weaning and be sound in every respect.

At the end of 140 days all bulls will be indexed, and the top 80 per cent of indexed bulls in each breed will qualify for the sale. A formula for arriving at the bulls' "total growth potential" through determination of adjusted 365-day weight will constitute the basis for 75 per cent of the final index on the bulls.

In addition, each cooperator will be responsible for grading all bulls within his breed, except his own animals. Grades given on structure, breed characteristics, eye appeal and general appearance will be used as the remaining 25 per cent of the final index.

Persons desiring further information should contact Nolan Poteet, Rt. 3, Panhandle, Tex., 79068, telephone AC 806-537-3184, or in care of the Texas Tech University Center at Amarillo, Pantex, Tex., 79069.

ASCS County Director Gives Program Deadlines

Richard O. Newman, county executive director of the Lamb County ASCS Office reminds farmers of upcoming deadlines.

The emergency haying and grazing of set-aside and Cropland Adjustment Program acreage ends June 14. Any grazing of these acreages between June 15 and October 14 or any haying of these acreages this year will be a program violation and could cause you to lose your payments.

Set-aside acreage must be average quality when compared to the land where the crops are grown, or certified as less productive if the land is below average. Whether or not the land in a lakey area is the most productive land on the farm or that on a hillside makes the best cotton isn't the question. Average land is required. Most producers will designate average productive set-aside land and participate according to the requirements of the farm program. The few that do not fulfill their requirements for the set-aside acreage should not expect a payment and will not receive one.

June 30 is the final date to return the Price Support Settlement Intentions cards that were mailed last month to extend CCC loan on the 1971 crop of grain sorghum. If not returned by June 30, your grain will be forfeited to CCC.

August 1 is the final date to certify your crop and set-aside acreages. Be careful to measure and report the acreage correctly.

Cotton acreage destroyed by natural causes after June 5 must be inspected by this office before the acreage is plowed. The same rule applies to feed grain destroyed by natural

Cottonseed Research Nets High Protein Content

Cottonseed once presented a disposal problem after it had been separated from the lint in ginning. Now it can be utilized to provide high protein food for millions of people.

This is noted by the National Cotton Council in describing research leading to the economical production of cottonseed flour for human consumption.

The project at the Department of Agriculture's Southern Marketing and Nutrition Research Division in New Orleans resulted in a way to remove gossypol from the seed. Gossypol's toxicity made it a major obstacle to adding cottonseed and its protein to human diets.

Gossypol is present in the pigment glands of cottonseed. Glandless varieties of cottonseed have been developed but have not been available universally. The first fully satisfactory way of removing gossypol is the liquid cyclone process developed at USDA's New Orleans laboratory.

The USDA explains that "the flour, concentrate, and water-insoluble isolate can be used in breads, biscuit mix, spaghetti, macaroni, crackers, and similar foods.

"Although some of these foods are often substituted for meat in meals, they are generally low in protein compared with meat. High-protein cottonseed products could also be used in a variety of other foods.

"Frankfurters and sausages containing cottonseed flour had excellent flavor and texture.

The water-insoluble (acid soluble) isolate can be added to citrus drinks to fortify them with protein."

The Plains Cooperative Oil Mill at Lubbock, Texas, is building a $1.3 million plant to make protein flour out of cottonseed. It is expected to be operational by the fall of 1972.

General Manager John Herzer says initial capacity will be 25 tons per day but the plant is being designed for almost immediate expansion to twice that capacity if the demand for cottonseed flour is there.

"Cottonseed flour has several advantages over competitive products," he explains. "It has excellent flavor and color high in amino acids, and the settle out when blended with liquids.

"Soft drink manufacturers for example, are interested in using it to develop high-protein drinks. It can be used as an extender in meats and baking products."

Farmers Plan Visit To Legislature

Concerned farmers and ranchers will visit members of the legislature during the special session on Tuesday, June 20.

Texas Farmers Union is planning a "Drive-In" to Austin and members from across the state will spend a full day talking with legislators on important state legislation including trailer safety legislation changes, additional funds for the screwworm eradication program, and the need for property tax reform.

The farmer-day in Austin will begin with a breakfast at 7:00 a.m. at the Downtowner Motel near the Capitol. Following a briefing by Farmers Union staff members, teams of rural men and women will visit members of the House and Senate on key issues affecting rural Texans.

Farmers Union has called on Governor Smith and members of the legislature to bring about meaningful reform to the trailer safety law passed in the last legislature, and to do something about the recent serious outbreak of screwworm infestation. Farmers Union supports legislation to give farmers and ranchers ad valorem tax relief and has insisted that the legislature pass a corporate profits tax.

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco says that the "Drive-In" of farmers and ranchers to Austin is the beginning of a continuing program that will "recur many times in the next regular session of the legislature."

Naman said, "We want to give Texas farmers and ranchers the opportunity to visit personally with members of the legislature on the issues that are of concern to them. Farm and rural people are not happy with the way they have been treated in Austin in the past, and want to assure themselves the last election's political "housecleaning" is translated into responsive state government."

13 Accidents Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of May, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1972 shows a total of 39 accidents resulting in one person killed, and 28 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for 1972 shows a total of accidents resulting in persons killed and 329 persons injured as compared to 1971 with 543 accidents resulting in 23 persons killed and persons injured.

The 25 traffic deaths for the month of May, 1972 occurred in the following counties: four; Knox and Parker, each; Gray, two; Bran, Carson, Childress, Dickens, Garza, Haskell, Lubbock, Ochiltree, Palo Pinto, Potter, one each.

Sheet Metal Training Set

The Texas Employment Commission (TEC) announces a sheet metal training project beginning July 10.

The 21-week sheet metal work training course tentatively begins the second week in July and will extend through Dec. 1. Application can be made at the TEC office at 1602 16th Street in Lubbock now through June 30.

Any person who is unemployed or underemployed who is 18 years old or older and is able to read, write, speak and understand English and has the equivalent of an eighth grade education is eligible. Fees will be given preference.

Trainees who are heads of families may be paid $40 a month. Travel allowances are paid. Trainees who commute to the training facility must attend training classes hours daily Monday through Friday.

The TEC will give placement service to trainees completing the course.

BUY A HESSTON BRUSH COTTON HARVESTER BEFORE JUNE 30

...and get a 1972 machine at a 1971 price!

Buy a Hesston Brush Harvester now, and you'll profit two ways. First, you'll save money because you can buy a new machine at the 1971 price. That means you'll be getting improvements such as row units that adjust from the tractor seat at no extra cost. You'll profit again at harvest time, because the Hesston Brush Harvester mounted on your tractor gives such a fast, clean, once-over harvest. The Hesston air separator has proven to be outstanding in green boll separation, and the brush harvesting system was established long ago as a thorough, gentle method that gets the cotton and leaves the trash. Hesston fits more makes of tractors than any other brush harvester. See the 1972 Hesston Brush Harvester at your Hesston dealer's, and see how much you can save if you buy before June 30.

TURN ROW COMMENTS

EMIL MACHA

IT'S NOT HARD to conjure up an image of a 37-25-35 measurement, but can you imagine a 94-64-89 beauty contest winner?

Really there's no difference in the "figures"—just shift your thinking from inches to centimeters. It's a change we may be making in the next 10 years.

Just how and when we'll make the shift to the metric system is still up for discussion, but there's a good chance Congress will be facing the issue within the year.

To test your metric knowledge, how much rent per acre would you be paying if you signed a contract to rent 200 hectares at $75 per hectare? The answer is $30 per acre.

THANKS FOR THE OXYGEN—We can thank farmers for at least some of the air we breathe. Here's why: A 100 bushel crop of corn not only will remove carbon dioxide from the air, but will supply enough oxygen to support the lives of 12 people for one year!

Translating this to metropolitan terms; the 1971 Iowa corn crop of over 1.18 billion bushels would alone provide enough oxygen to support the lives of all the people in New York City.

A tip of the hat goes to the nation's largest industry. Farming employs 4.5 million people—more than any other business.

LOOKS LIKE the monsoon season is here, with Friday night's rain amounting to an inch or more. Some farmers in the Pep area have reported over 15 inches of rain since our first rains in May. West of Sudan and in some of the Bula area the rainfall this year has been limited. Earth and Springlake have reported ample rain. Some farmers in this area had to replant this past week because of hail. Olton has experienced plenty of rain. The Spade area has been rather spotted with rain, some of the farmers receiving heavy rains and other seem to get the right amount. Anton has had some heavy rains with the damage still being of an undetermined nature. Whitharral has gotten quite a bit of heavy rain since June 1. Amherst and Fieldton as well as the Littlefield area has had abundant rain within the past week or 10 days.

Wet fields have slowed up the farming operation and lakes being filled with water is creating a problem in getting all the cropland planted that is required by the federal government. Some farmers have found shallow basins in their fields holding water that has not held water in several years.

WE ARE LOSING the area's biggest asset each August and September. It is our young people going away to school and never returning except to visit. We have need for our young people. They have a place in our society. So let's make that greener pasture home. It can be done by positive thinking and sound management.

This brings to mind that Littlefield area residents will be able to attend college right here in Littlefield next August. A tentative schedule has been published. In case if you have missed it just contact the Littlefield chamber of Commerce. They have the schedule and at the same time are compiling a list of other classes that are not listed on the schedule so these too may be offered if we have at least 15 students interested in the course.

These classes will be taught by teachers from South Plains College at Levelland.

'Monkey business' not deductible

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by CHLOE TILTON-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: A friend and I have been sharing a press for the last year. It's been a good arrangement all of us as I am there [another city] Monday morning Wednesday noon, and my friend is there from Wednesday noon thru Friday. [Then she has the weekend off.] We pay all the expenses and give her spending money. The cost is about $400 a month from each of us. We are salesmen and we save on hotel and meals.

The problem: She wants to report this for income comes to $1,518 per year, and we will have to give her money to pay it. We are both on salary and pay the tax and can't deduct her or any of our expenses as she paid in cash and we have no receipts. Besides, we would find out.

What do you advise? HONEST TAXPAYER

DEAR HONEST: Since you travel for business, you ahead to stay in hotels and eat out. Business expenses deductible. But NOT monkey business.

DEAR ABBY: A mailman offered the following information in your column: "If someone receives something the mails which he did not order and does not want, he has to do is write, 'Refused. Return to Sender' on it and it in the mail. If he has opened it, he should simply shut, and return it in the aforementioned manner."

This is only partially correct. Anything sent by mail which has been opened by the addressee, cannot be entered into the mail without being properly resealed and new postage affixed.

Please correct that mailman's original statement should have known better. INFORMED IN PHOENIX

DEAR INFORMED: I should have, too. But it's been a long time since I've played "post office."

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I have been able to solve, and I'm hoping you can help me.

The September before last I loaned one of my picture books to a member of our social group. Three members of our group had read it and returned it, but this person refuses to return it to me altho I have asked her no less than a dozen times.

The last time I asked her for it, she said, "Oh, I don't have that book? I'll have to look around and see if I can find it." That was six months ago and I haven't heard of it since.

What can I do, Abby? I really want that book! BURNING IN AUBURN

DEAR BURNING: It's a pretty good bet that your [a] misplaced it; [b] let someone else read it, and she remember who; [c] just plain lost it.

You could call on her and offer to wait until she has the book. And if that fails, you will have learned a valuable lesson. Precious books are not for lending.

DEAR ABBY: The mother who said her son had acted in public, slurping, giggling, crossing his eyes and acting all over the place "like a retarded person" was retarded an apology.

My brother is a retarded mongoloid, and he never had any such way. In fact, his manners are far more normal people.

I've also visited the State Hospital for Retarded Children, Wayne, Ind., and I've never seen anything but polite and good manners there. YOUNG HOUSE

DEAR ABBY: I am writing for the Comparative Religions class of Thomasville High School, Thomasville, Ga. We held an interesting discussion on the letter that your mother whose 16-year-old son, Bill, mimicked a retarded person "to make people laugh" and his father's best audience.

Our class consists of students from the 9th and 10th grades, and we'd like for "Bill" to know how his parents about his behavior:

Bill needs help. He is trying desperately to get attention which he never received as a child. A surgical cure would be for him to work with retarded children. And as far as Bill's father is concerned, I think he left class with a greater appreciation of our own. A LETTER FROM

DEAR ABBY: I am really angry about that Canadian boy who acted like a nut on the street. I understand why his mother didn't hit him with the thing handy.

One way to cure him would be to take him to his father, who thought the performance was sidestepping the tour of the nearest state mental hospital, including the wards where they keep the most severely afflicted.

If that boy and his father were still laughing at the time they finished the tour, she should have them committed. ESTHER IN DENVER

Hunter Safety Set For Texas Youths

What's your son or daughter doing this summer? Camping, fishing or loafing will take up a good deal of time for Texas youngsters. But have you given any thought to enrolling the kids in the Parks and Wildlife Hunter Safety Program?

The program is open to youths who have passed their 12th birthday and the charge is minimal.

Since January, 1,200 volunteer instructors have been certified by this department. Approximately 30 instructors are responsible for certifying the majority of the more than 300 students trained under the program.

The department estimates that 1,000 students will be certified this summer and from 30,000 to 50,000 by the end of 1972.

August and September should be the peak months before the fall hunting season.

The objectives of the program are to reduce hunting casualties and perpetuate and expand a quality recreational opportunity for youngsters.

It's too early to gauge the success of the hunter safety program but statistics for last year indicate a need for such instruction. Of the 122 people involved in hunting accidents last year, 25 per cent were 16 years or younger.

For information contact local game management officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department or write to Hunter Safety Coordinator, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin. Or contact Parks and Wildlife Department, 4821 Ave. Q, Lubbock, 79412.

Boys' Basketball Clinic Scheduled

South Plains College will hold a two-week basketball clinic for boys on July 10 through 21.

Any boy who will be in the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh or eighth grades at the beginning of school in the fall of 1972 is eligible to participate.

Boys will be divided into groups according to their grade level in the public schools. Each boy will receive one hour's instruction each day for ten days.

Fourth grade boys will meet from 8:30-9:30 a.m.; fifth grade from 9:30-10:30 a.m.; seventh and eighth grades from 11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m.

All sessions will be held in the Women's Gym on the campus of South Plains College.

C. W. Dukes will be the instructor and supervisor of the clinic. As each group will be limited to twelve boys, registration will be received on a "first come, first serve" basis.

Registration can be completed at any time between now and July 10 at the Central Office of the Technical Arts Building. Total cost of the clinic is $15. Boys will need to furnish their own tennis shoes and gym clothes.

The clinic will emphasize the basic fundamentals of basketball; included will be instruction in dribbling, passing, seeing, shooting, defense, offense and rebounding.

For further information, contact the Office of Continuing Education at South Plains College, phone 894-4921.
