Court Reporter Comeback

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

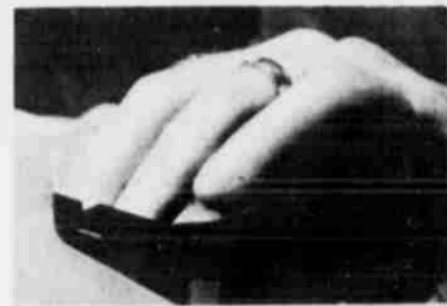

A court reporter needs every finger and both thumbs to operate his stenographic machine.

Keith D. Hewett's hands are such a necessity to his job that even his little finger on his left hand is insured for $60,000.

But when his finger was severed on Feb. 23 of this year in an accident, rather than collect the lump sum of $60,000 plus another $1,800 he had coming under his insurance policy, he decided to go back to school and re-train to keep his job.

Hewett was taking over 200 words per minute on his stenographic machine when an axe fell on his hand, severing the little finger on his left hand.

On April 21, Hewett re-entered the

Hewett said, "and I thought I was just ruined after the accident."

This is done with the same machine he used before, but he installed wider keys and a number-one key over the arterisk.

Hewett was sharpening a double-headed axe when his file slipped and fell to the floor of the garage. He reached down to pick up the file and the axe slipped out of the vise. He hit at the axe to knock it away from his face, lost his balance and fell to the floor where the axe landed on his left little finger.

After one year of not being able to continue his court reporting, Hewett would have been eligible for $61,800 from his insurance company.

He could have turned to a number of vocations that pay well in addition to drawing the money.

Instead, Hewett recuperated two months, then went to Roswell, N. M., to

HIS HOUSE SALE COST HIM $1.14

A little classified ad in the Leader-News goes a long way.

Three bedroom, two bath, living room, paneled den, fenced yard, fire place, double garage, corner lot. 1315 W. 14th.

What The Leader-News Thinks

A Nice Gesture

The letter from President Nixon to the Littlefield High School Class of '69, although it may be one of many, is a well received gesture.

There are those, we are sure, who would belittle the letter on the grounds it is probably one of thousands of the same effect.

However, we see no reason for anything but praise about the idea.

The letter itself is typed separately, we believe, and it came to Littlefield High School on White House stationery. The signature probably is a printed one, even though it looks remarkably like it is an original.

In this day and time, when the "generation gap" is for real, we think the President is sincere in his efforts to help close that gap.

When you glance at daily newspapers and TV screens only to see act after act of violence on college campuses, it becomes apparent that it is high time somebody in a high place tried to reach young people.

While those on college campuses who dissent through violence probably are a loud minority, sincere efforts such as the President's are needed to keep the majority of young people mindful of the fact that our leaders, as well as the folks at home, are proud of most young Americans.

So we take the President's letter at face value: a nice, warm congratulations to Littlefield High School graduating seniors, along with some sound advice that we heartily endorse.

THE FARMER'S WIFE

Destitution Ahead

By LIBBY MUDGETY

Dear President Nixon,

As I promised when you were elected, I have been giving lots of thought to your volunteer army and/or changing of the draft laws.

I saw in the paper where you got impatient and went ahead without my advice.

This is truly unfortunate. I've gone into this thing deeply and was ready to submit my findings to you.

Now you've blown it.

I was ready to tell you that after due thought processes and much analysis, I have come to the conclusion that there is absolutely and positively no fair way to have a draft.

Theoretically, the best thing to do is to have a professional army...well-paid, well-equipped, crack troops that do nothing but soldier all their lives. Okay, call them mercenaries.

Now you have kept the draft for 19-year-olds and introduced lottery into the bargain and have made it unfair than ever.

Who on earth advised you on this?

The only thing right that you did was to select the best age—19.

You said: "The present draft arrangements make it extremely difficult for most young people to plan intelligently as they make some of the most important decisions of their lives, decisions concerning education, career, marriage, and family."

And you're right about that.

Now at 19, you'll end their agony, indecision, and maybe them.

Everyone realizes it's tough to be President. (It's also tough to be a young male aged 19). But I never thought the day would come when you would evade your duty on an important thing like this and turn it over to chance.

Sure, life is a great big gamble, but does the draft have to be?

Now you're wondering to whom would I turn the responsibility of deciding which 19 year old boy will have to go to the service and which boy will not.

Well, I wouldn't turn it over to anybody.

If you'd handle this right, you'd have all the 18 and 19 year old volunteers you'll need and more.

I recommend two things to accomplish this.

First, take that little matter of registering that a lad of 18 is supposed to do on or shortly after his birthday.

Who do you have him go to? A local man, in most cases, who may not even be in his forties but who to the 18 year old is ancient.

What you need here is your best looking, swaggeringest, most highly decorated servicemen you've got—in short, the ones you now use for recruiting. Why not let them be the first contact that 18 year olds have with the services?

Second, require each and every soldier, sailor, or marine to go back to his home town at least once a year in his dress uniform, saunter into his old high school for a visit, charm all of his former teachers into a state of silliness, and steal all of the girls' hearts away.

If you'd do these two things you might be surprised at the volunteering you'll have going on from the 18 and 19-year-olds, who are still at the impressionable age (Yeah really, even in these days of jaded youth).

One day when he gets mad at his parents presto! A prime-aged civilian into a soldier, sailor, or marine!

Or when he and his girl break up.

Or when the principal or some teacher and he are at odds.

Or his grades are rotten.

Oh, it's a little underhanded, all right.

But what do you call a toss of the dice?

Or are you going eenie, meenie, miney, moe?

Or pull names out of a fishbowl blindfolded?

Your way is more underhanded than mine!

Yours truly,

be fitted for the finger he'd lost. He took his attaché case with his stenographic machine and tripod with him to show the doctor that his new finger would need to be agile enough that he could continue in his chosen line of work.

Hewett learned the first morning there that he could push down the "N" key.

Last month he returned to the Plainview college two weeks before his doctor said he was ready, his finger still quite sensitive.

"Most of those in my class were beginning students," Hewett said, "and there I was, a court reporter of 10 years experience. Others in the class couldn't understand why I was there. The word soon got around that I'd lost a finger and was there for re-training. 'WHICH finger?' they asked. That made me feel real good. I felt that it really looked natural."

When Hewett first lost his extremity, he and his wife said they thought it was a disaster.

"Mrs. Hewett phoned me from the hospital," Bob Rogers said. "My husband's lost his hand and ruined himself." Mrs. Hewett told the Littlefield court reporter.

"The loss of just one finger is just about as bad as the whole hand to a stenographic machine operator," Rogers said.

Friday morning Hewett was in Littlefield to receive legal papers from three Littlefield attorneys for his Texas Certificate of Competency.

"Keith passed the test with flying colors," Bob Rogers said. "He made 98 per cent accuracy. Over 95 per cent is passing; there's no room for error in court reporting. Even periods, commas and misspelling count as errors in this business."

Hewett is qualified now to report in Texas as well as New Mexico.

He is one of the 9,000 stenographic reporters in the U. S. He was instrumental in getting the New Mexico Shorthand Reporters Association formed and is immediate past-president of the organization and has served as vice president and secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Hewett was born and reared in Plainview, later moving to Lubbock, where he graduated with the first commencement class from Monterey High School.

He trained in court reporting at the Business College of the Southwest, formerly Lippert's, in Plainview. His first court reporting job was at Williston, N. D.

After a year there he went to Portales, N. M. Three years later he moved to Clovis, which is in the same judicial district.

Hewett said he is handicapped a little in his typing. He could type about 90 words a minute on an electric typewriter before his accident, and his speed has been cut by about 30 since then.

He does his typewriting without his new prosthesis. "There isn't any feeling in it," he explained. "I doubt if I'll try to learn to type with the finger on." Hewett said. "I'm doing so well the other way, I probably won't fool with learning to type with it."

In the near future Hewett will be using the new stenographic machine he has ordered...for the job he'd rather have than $60,000 cash any day.

Complaints On Flies Go Before County

Citizens just outside the city limits of Littlefield who are bothered with a fly problem will have a chance to air their grievances Thursday morning.

Judge G. T. Sides said interested citizens will meet in the county courtroom at 10 a.m. at the regularly scheduled commissioners meeting Thursday morning.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE 1969 GRADUATING CLASS
LITTLEFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

This is a day when congratulations are in order not only to the graduates but to the parents, teachers, and administrators whose efforts have helped to make this achievement possible. I extend my heartiest congratulations to all of you.

At a time when there is much talk about the differences between the generations, I think it is useful to remark upon a similarity between your graduating class of 1969 and my graduating class of 1930.

Your high school years have been historic ones. When you entered high school, man was making his elementary steps into space. In your senior year, three brave Americans journeyed around the moon. When I graduated from high school, only three years had passed since a man flew for the first time across the Atlantic Ocean. Despite the obvious difference in years, we have this in common: we all know what it is to be young at the start of an age of adventure.

You will discover, as I did, that each person must make his own exploration of the world, make his own discoveries, shape his own triumphs, endure his own tragedies. Each of us is an explorer of himself, of history, of knowledge, of the intricate and beautiful and wonderful varieties of experience.

Each of you will make a different kind of exploration, some in continued formal education, some in industry or business or agriculture. Whatever your choice, learn. Learn all you can about yourself and the world.

Your final year in high school was the beginning of an age of adventure, an age you will help to shape. You have my highest hopes and best wishes.

Student Backlash

THERE IS AN UNMISTAKABLE student backlash. When the politicians and the school administrators and the repentant militants start claiming credit for decreasing campus turbulence, let's remember it was the student majority, in most cases, which asserted itself.

The politicians, for the most part, talked either tough or conciliatory, but did nothing.

THE SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION,

with few exceptions, knuckled under or gave up. In one year, one in 10 college and university presidencies changed hands. Seventy major universities are still without presidents.

Most militants were dedicated disciples of revolution, many of them expertly trained in agitation, exploitation and subversion.

OTHERS OF THE MISLEADERS were paranoids. Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, a University of Chicago psychology professor, says "Many radicals rebelled because they hated themselves. Felt useless."

The masses of students who rallied around the proponents of violence did not want violence; they wanted peace. And when President Nixon recommended modification of the draft law and when our unfortunate involvement in Vietnam began to be phased out, it was this student majority which restored order.

RECOGNIZING AS LUDICROUS the pyramiding demands of the extremists, on campus after campus enlightened students "countermarched."

Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Robert Finch says the troublemaking students for a Democratic Society has lost its momentum.

He says "Student violence on college and university campuses has turned the corner because students are TIRED OF BEING USED."

HE CITED THE SITUATION at Harvard where students had been voting down the extremists, where blacks had begun to reject the SDS. He thinks prospects are very good that "colleges and universities will open their doors next fall in a state of calm."

At New Mexico State University one of those organizations of disrupters was laughed off the campus. The transparent absurdity of their demands on the school's administrators was such that a group of Cowboys on Campus presented a manifesto of their own demanding a special department of Cowboy Studies.

PROTESTING DISCRIMINATION against cowboys, they demanded that:

- All teachers and university administrators must wear western clothes.
- Cowboy professors must be assigned to teach courses in rodeo techniques.
- All classrooms must be equipped with deer-head hatracks.

AND AT THE BOTTOM of their list of demands it says: "If these demands are not met by 7:30 tomorrow morning we will continue to attend classes and get an education as we intended to do when we enrolled in this university."

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

The Establishment

By BOB WEAR

IT SEEMS QUITE obvious that there is a growing clamor to destroy "the establishment".

Some propose to do so by violent overthrow, and many others (a much larger group) are letting it die through neglect. Both groups are wrong.

WHAT IS 'THE ESTABLISHMENT'?

Generally speaking, it is God; the Bible; the church; worship and service; the home; the school; the community; morality and decency. It is work; eagerness to work; free enterprise; the business community; acceptance of responsibility; self-discipline; law and order; respect for personal and property rights; and love of country.

It is wholesome concern for each other; helping one another; respect for rightful authority; and lawful and orderly processes for making all justified changes.

SOME UNRESTRAINED and misguided persons, a considerable number, are openly and unashamedly rejecting every item of "the establishment".

They say nothing constructive; they do nothing constructive.

They seem to have lost all self-esteem, and all respect for everybody and everything.

DESTRUCTIVENESS is all they seem to know.

They make about as much sense in what they do as a man who destroys himself as the way to self-improvement. The truth is that they are exchanging a good establishment for an inferior establishment.

They have not even offered one thing that is better for anybody, including themselves.

THOSE WHO WISH TO DESTROY "the establishment" pick flaws and find fault; but they make no improvements.

In fact, they are mostly hiding behind their sophisticated pronouncements and immature conclusions in order to commit immorality, or use drugs, or escape responsibilities, or generally indulge themselves. This is not limited to any certain age group.

"THEY UTTER LOUD boasts, they beguile and lure lustful desires of the flesh who are barely escaping from who are wrong-doers.

They promise them liberty, they themselves are the slaves of depravity and defilement; for whatever anyone is made inferior overcome or worsted, to (person or thing) he is enslaved—The Bible.

THERE ARE IMPERFECTIONS in "The Establishment", and to make improvements are appropriate.

In fact, "the establishment" built-in provisions for keeping in the best possible state of being. Trying to destroy "the establishment" is not the way anything better for anybody.

The present reality destructive, degrading disorderly conduct is the strong exposure and condemnation of evils of anarchy.

SUPPOSE 'The Establishment should be destroyed; what then?

Suppose God; the Bible; Church; the home; the school; orderly community life; moral decency; hard work; law and order; love for country; the concept of personal responsibility; respect for personal and property rights; wholesome concern for each other; respect for rightful authority relegated to the junk pile of human foolishness and mistakes?

What will be left that actually wants or needs?

Who can name suitable replacements?

IF "THE ESTABLISHMENT" destroyed, those who neglect it refuse any responsibility for well-being and survival will be as guilty as the firebrands and misguided who destroyed it.

"THE ESTABLISHMENT", all of its human flaws, is still the best social structure ever known in the history of mankind.

Its door is open to all, and needs devoted friends.

THE PHILOSOPHER

For New System

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm explores what he calls a new taxing system this week.)

Dear editor:

I was out here on this Johnson grass farm sitting in the middle of spring and not in the mood for doing much of anything but as the day wore on I finally got my ambition up enough to pull a newspaper out of my back pocket where I'd been saving it for a couple of days and I'm now glad I did.

I have discovered a new principle of taxation, a sort of guideline for the nation, and I'm going to do all in my power to get it adopted.

According to an article in the paper, a Congressman, on being sounded out about an increase in taxes to provide some additional service some group was demanding, none of them luckily from his district, said no, and gave as his reason: "I don't think the country is in a mood for more taxes".

That's the principle I'm talking about. That's the guideline.

If Congress will adopt the idea that it can raise all the taxes it wants to so long as the country's in the mood for it, you won't hear complaining.

When Congress hears groundswell of demand, a roar clamor rolling up out of the countryside and sweeping through the towns and cities and on Washington where it becomes deafening shout for higher taxes then under this new principle would be obliged to act and up rates, even if it meant voting the surplus from the treasury.

Now naturally this mood might would work both ways, and with Congress heard another groundswell—I guess you can hear groundswell, I've never seen close at hand, maybe a few off the distance but never close enough to tell much about them—this is demanding that taxes be lowered then naturally the Supreme Court if we still have one by then, would rule that under the new Mo Guidelines Congress has no choice but to start hacking.

If you see such a groundswell heading northeast toward Washington, get out of the way and let it roll.

Yours faithfully,

SPEED READING COURSE SCHEDULED IN LITTLEFIELD AREA

Arrangements have been made to conduct a SPEED READING COURSE here in Littlefield, to be taught in evening classes. The Average person today reads between 150-300 Words Per Minute and comprehends about 55 to 65 per cent. This course guarantees that its graduates will read at least 1,000 Words Per Minute and with a marked improvement in comprehension. However, the spokesman said "The Guarantee is a bare minimum, because the average person can increase his speed TEN TIMES with a profound improvement in comprehension and concentration."

The average graduate of this course should be able to read 1,000-3,000 Words Per Minute to attain the 80 percentile in comprehension. This means, after graduation, a person should read books of average length in 45 to 60 minutes and understand, enjoy and remember them better than ever. Those who enroll will attend one class per week, for nine weeks, and will receive a DIPLOMA upon completion.

Those who are interested in further details may attend one of the free, one hour, orientation lectures that have been scheduled. At these meetings the course will be explained in detail, including Requirements, Tuition, and Class Schedules. A person may attend one of these meetings without obligation to enroll. The meetings will be conducted in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company building, 500 West 7th, May 26 at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.; May 28 at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.; or May 29 at 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

8 Graduating In Scouts, Too

Eight Littlefield High School graduating seniors have already received one diploma this month.

Janice Oldham, Nancy Hall, Vickie McKinnon, Pat Hines, Koleta Giles, Carla Chambers, Janie Hyatt and Kay Harp received their scouting diplomas at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Lubbock May 8.

Seven of the eight girl scouts have been in scouting together since the second grade. Girls in the Scouting program graduate when they graduate from high school.

Pat Hines is the only rookie scout. She has been in the troop for the past two years.

The troop was first organized in 1957. There were two groups but these two were later combined into one.

The little would-be Brownies attended four meetings before they were invested as Brownie Scouts.

The Brownies learned the Promise, songs, games and went on camping outings.

When they became junior scouts they started their work on badges. Seven different interests widening their fields of interest were required.

In the Cadette program the girls faced four challenges consisting of 10 requirements for their second class badges. The three-year cadette program covers the girls' junior high schooling.

All of the girls are first class scouts now.

Few girls ever get this far in scouting.

They all received four individual badges in health and outdoors, completing first class requirements.

They were senior scouts their tenth, eleventh and twelfth years of high school.

Badge work these last three years are nine "fun-things" the girls said they really like to do, like airplane riding, arts and camping. Nine requirements for the panorama badge widens horizons.

Mrs. Maurine (Jarrell) Giles has been with the girls as troop leader 10 years.

Mrs. Nina (Johnny) Talbot has been a troop leader for three years.

These scouts have done much volunteer work and helped in many community services including teaching day camp and swimming lessons.

All eight are active in school and church work.

QUATE SCOUTS are also graduating seniors. Eight girls have been in together since they were second graders, and recently received scouting diplomas. Mrs. Jarrell Giles has been working with girls for 10 years. Scouts standing left to right are Janice Oldham, Nancy Hall, Vickie McKinnon, Pat Hines and Koleta Giles and adult leader Johnny Talbot. Carla Chambers and Janie Hyatt are seated. Kay Harp is not pictured.

Another such meeting was held two weeks ago, at which proposed activities were discussed. Others are expected to be advanced in the future.

The proposed dates for the event are August 29-30. Early activities will begin about 4 p.m. the first day, which is a Friday, and continue on into the evening. Saturday will be chuck full of events, lasting once more into the evening.

MAJOR LEAGUE STANDINGS

ALEXANDER BOAT DOCK

MORE BIG CATS—P. L. Helms, of Littlefield, is still catching the big cats down at Buchanan Lake. Last week he took T. W. Bryson and son Terry out, and the best of 92 are shown here. From the left, they weigh 47, 7, 16 and 9 pounds. All 92 were catfish, mostly channel.

Make-ups Scheduled This Week In Major

Three make-up games have been scheduled in the Little League Majors this week, hopefully to get all teams even once again in their schedules.

Butane and Batson clash Monday. Optimist takes on league-leading Rotary Tuesday and Lions will take on Butane Thursday. All games will begin at their regular 8 p.m. starting times.

Lions continued their winning ways by almost shutting out Optimist Thursday night, 11-1, and Batson did almost the same thing to W.O.W. the following evening, 13-1.

Rotary and Butane were scheduled to clash last night. Both were undefeated.

Randy Lucas, Batson hurler, only allowed W.O.W. players two hits.

The leading hitters for Batson were Forrest Harry, with a double, and Jimmy Stites and Randy Lucas, with singles each.

The leading hitters for W.O.W. were Chuck Robinson, with a double, and Angel Sanchez, with a single.

Pop Conwright, the losing pitcher, scored WOW's only run in the fourth inning.

LIONS 11 OPTIMIST 1

The Lions crushed the Optimist 11-1 in Major League action last Friday night. They exploded with seven runs in the second inning, and coasted to victory from there.

Ronald Palmer of Lions turned in a tremendous job of pitching by hurling a 7-0 shutout. The leading hitters were Ronald Palmer and Lee with a single each. The losing pitcher was Turner.

MEET TUESDAY

Security, Leader-News Vie For League Lead

There will be an absolute leader in the Minor Leagues after Tuesday night, weather permitting.

Security State and Leader-News, currently tied with 3-0 records at the top of the league standings, will play a make-up game Tuesday night. Their scheduled meeting of a couple weeks ago was rained out, and is re-scheduled.

Also re-scheduled are Production Credit and Coca Cola, to be played Thursday evening. Both games will be played at the regular 6 p.m. starting time.

Leader-News climbed to be even with Security after clouting VFW 19-3 Thursday evening. PCA evened its won-loss record at 500 by downing Piggly Wiggly, 13-5, evening its record at 2-2.

Next regularly-scheduled game will be Friday, when PCA and Security hook up.

The second-leading for Production Credit was Joe Baeza with two doubles and a single. The leading hitter was Piggly Wiggly's Trevino and Connie Baeza with a single each. The losing pitcher was Trevino.

Nematode Fumigation Applied With Seeding

Farmers who need to fumigate cotton land to control nematodes but have not been able to get fumigants put down in pre-planting operations shouldn't give up the idea. They can fumigate at the same time they plant.

That's what Terry County Farmer Loyd Yowell of Brownfield and Bill Elms of Amherst in Lamb County did this spring when they got pressed for time.

Yowell and some of his neighbors have been running knife-type fumigation rigs just ahead of their planters in two separate operations. In some cases, only a few minutes elapse between the fumigation and planting of a given area.

Elms' approach is to fumigate, plant, and shape beds all in one operation by fitting fumigation chisels and other rigging on a double tool bar with the planter.

The chisels on Elms' rig run about 4" deeper than the opening plow. To apply a nematocide at the recommended rate of seven-tenths (7/10) gallon per acre, he slowed his tractor speed from 5.5 miles per hour—which he considers his normal planting speed—to just under 5 mph.

The idea of fumigating and planting at the same time is new.

Until last year, it was recommended that the fumigant be placed in the seed bed 10 days to two weeks before planting. But these recommendations were changed after research showed that fumigating at planting time gave equally good nematode control.

The result is that farmers have more flexibility in planning nematode control, says Dr. Calvin Orr, nematologist at the Texas A&M Agricultural Center at Lubbock.

"Now we can make an application right up to planting and be in real good shape," Orr points out.

Nematode-infested cotton usually is spotty in stand and doesn't grow off as it should. Sometimes there's a slight yellowish discoloration. A farmer often can see knots, galls and gnarls on the roots of cotton grown on land where nematode populations are heavy. Nematode-damaged roots are shorter and have fewer feeder roots than do the roots of healthy cotton.

Of one thing, Yowell is certain: Even if a farmer runs short on time at planting time, he shouldn't bypass nematode control if he has a nematode problem. "If you have nematodes, you definitely have to fumigate every year to get acceptable yields," he says.

Last year Yowell fumigated virtually all his irrigated cotton acres suspected of being infested with root knot nematodes before he planted. It was his first time to try fumigating and he left a few untreated areas of check plots. But he didn't need yield data to convince him that fumigation pays.

Elms, who farms about five miles northwest of Amherst, is fumigating this year for the first time. He decided to try the practice on 100 acres, he said, after analyses of soil samples showed that he had nematode problems. Elms already knew something was wrong.

He said his yield has declined steadily from a high of 1242 lbs. of lint per acre in 1962 to the point "it's gotten so it's all I can do to make a bale and a quarter."

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

HOW DO YOU measure UP?

Throughout life we are being measured and we wish people would use longer rules. But maybe the amount of quality they find don't justify a longer rule. Ancient men found 613 rules in the Bible to measure by. Moses gave us the Ten Commandments; Jesus provided the Beatitudes; others suggest St. Paul's ideal principle of love; but still others chose ideal persons to measure by: George Washington, Abraham Lincoln or Helen Keller. But someone has well said, "a man measures tallest when he stoops to touch the life of a child." Jesus said we must become as little children. Surely, He is our best example to measure by.

TODAY'S DEVOTIONAL

Indwelling of Holy Spirit

REV. LAWRENCE C. BOBSIEN Sacred Heart Church

IN HIS FIRST LETTER to the Corinthians, St. Paul asked them: "Do you not know that you are the temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwells in you?" (1 Cor. 3:16).

One of the most fundamental truths of the Christian faith is that God abides in a special way in the souls of those who are in His Grace. This is usually referred to as the indwelling of the Holy Spirit.

Actually, of course, it is not the Holy Spirit alone, but also the Father and the Son who dwell in the souls of the just. For Our Lord Jesus said: "If anyone love me, my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our abode with him" (John 15:23). However, as a special act of God's love, this indwelling is usually attributed to the Holy Spirit.

IF CHRISTIANS GRASPED this truth fully, it would profoundly change their religious lives. How much easier, for example, it would be to pray if we realized that we are speaking, not to a distant God in Heaven but to Him who dwells within our hearts, loving us and waiting for us to love Him in return.

How different would our practice of brotherly love be, when we see our neighbor as the temple in which the Holy Spirit dwells.

GOD IS PRESENT in our souls as our Father. By our very nature, we are creatures of God. In the order of grace we are sons of God. St. Paul says: "You have not received the spirit of bondage so as to be again in fear, but you have received the spirit of adoption as sons, by virtue of which we cry, 'Abba! Father!'" and the Spirit himself gives testimony to our adoption as sons of God." (Rom. 8:16)

This sonship which we have received is not merely an external adoption. It is a gift of Grace, God gives us a share in His Divine Life: "To as many as received gave power to become sons of God" (1:12)

TO THIS WONDERFUL gift from God we must respond with faith, hope and love. Faith is the beginning of our response.

Often during the day and especially at night, we begin our prayer by saying: "My God, believe that You dwell by your Grace in the souls of the just, and I trust that You are present in my poor soul."

Again, in time of temptation or sorrow, we turn for strength to God who dwells in our hearts. By and of ourselves, we can do nothing. Without God's grace, we can not think the supernatural thought, nor even speak the name of Jesus.

BUT HE WILL GIVE US the strength to overcome the temptations and sorrows of life. "God is faithful and will not permit you to be tempted beyond your strength, but with the temptation he will give you a way out that you may be able to bear it" (1 Cor. 10:13). Finally, we give ourselves to God present within us in the order of grace. It is precisely in order to join us to Him in bonds of love that God abides within our hearts. In this way we begin here on Earth the life that we will live for all eternity in Heaven.

Methodists Slate Conference

United Methodists from the Northwest Texas Conference will meet at First United Methodist Church in Lubbock May 29 to hold their Sixteenth Annual Conference, and for the first time in many years it will be a "week end" conference, ending on Sunday, June 1.

Usually the annual conferences open on Monday or Tuesday and close on Thursday or Friday. The Sunday closing time was the the reading of reports for the ministers.

Bishop W. Kenneth, resident bishop of Dallas-Fort Worth Area, will speak at worship on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

The district synod's composite report will be read at the opening on May 29. Also scheduled Thursday is a memorial service and Holy Communion. Reverend Clifford D. pastor of the First United Methodist Church at Lubbock will preach for the service.

MRS. JOHN BLACKMAN 933-2328

EVERYONE IN the community is busy now. Men are planting feed and cotton, and women are working in the gardens and lawns. We have been blessed with plenty of moisture recently. The good ole' earth has such a good odor that we farmers always love the time when we go to turning over the soil that has mellowed through the winter.

PUPILS AND teachers are really busy around school this week. Six weeks tests were given Tuesday and Wednesday and final semester tests were given Thursday and Friday. Just think of those three months of vacation that's coming up. We hope all students make their passing grades.

SUPERINTENDENT McDaniel and several of the Head Start workers were in Canyon Saturday from a Head Start meeting. June 6 is the date set for the first day of Head Start School for Bula.

SUNDAY COMPANY for the L. G. Freds were their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Lindsey of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Newton and boys of Enochs. MR. AND MRS. P. R. Pierce attended a workers' conference Monday evening at the First Baptist Church in Amherst.

WE WERE SORRY to hear that Mrs. Myrtle Middlebrooks of Littlefield, had to be hospitalized at the Littlefield Hospital following a fall at her home in Littlefield. She owns land in the Bula community and lived here for many years.

MR. AND MRS. Dickie Montgomery and children, Stephanie and Scott, of Lexington visited from Wednesday until Friday with her parents, the I. L. Clawsons.

MRS. L. H. Medlin Sr. attended services Sunday at the local Methodist Church and was dinner guest of her son, L. H. Medlin Jr. Mrs. Medlin lives in Littlefield.

GORDON McDANIEL, junior student at Texas A&M at College Station, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McDaniel, Sunday night to let them share with him his joy over having received first place award on his research paper on thermo-dynamics. 140 students participated in this research writing.

REV. AND MRS. Whittenburg were in Brownfield Wednesday for a minister's report meeting at the First Methodist Church there.

At the noon hour a basket lunch was spread at the parsonage.

MRS. LEON Jones and children, Lynn, Monty and Mickey of Clovis visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jones.

JOHN HUBBARD, Nolan Harlan, Gene Bryan, Chester Setliff and I. L. Clawson attended the dedication Saturday of the U. S. Department of Agriculture cotton ginning laboratory north of Lubbock. The group were representatives of the Bailey County Farmers Union.

MR. AND MRS. Tom Bogard spent Saturday and Sunday with their son Jake and family at Charlie, north of Wichita Falls. They report everything is beautiful in that part of the country.

MRS. LULA Harlan has been a patient in the Amherst Hospital for a week, but she is feeling much better and is wanting to come home.

MRS. ROWENA Richardson and Robert Clauch drove to Cacher, Okla., Saturday returning Sunday. Mrs. Richardson's sister, Miss Vina Tugman, accompanied them home for a stay with her sister for several weeks.

MRS. HARVEY Whittenburg visited Tuesday in Sudan with her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. A. Pinkerton, and a niece, Mrs. Bonnie Maxwell from Bowie.

SUNDAY COMPANY for Mrs. Pearl Walden were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walden of Lubbock. She returned home with them for a stay of two days and visited with other children, Mrs. Leo Nixon and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Walden.

MR. AND MRS. T. A. Thomas enjoyed having some old friends from Denver City visit with them Sunday. Guests Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown, knowing that Mrs. Thomas was able to do but very little cooking, because she has been confined to a wheel chair since her surgery, brought all kinds of food already prepared.

Other company for the Thomas' in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dameron of Cleburne and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bryan of the community.

THE FRESHMAN class was host Monday evening to a swimming party for the entire high school at Crescent House swimming pool. Adults going were Superintendent McDaniel, Hollbrooks and Warren.

MR. AND MRS. J. D. Rowland visited Saturday and Sunday in Abilene with his father, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rowland, and son Mike and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Donnelly and son Paul.

MRS. PAT Risinger was in Austin, May 12, to take her State Exam for beauty operators. She passed her exam and is now doing work at Joy's Beauty Salon in Littlefield. She has been a student at McBride's School of Beauty Culture in Lubbock.

WMU MET Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, for a lesson study on the Baptists' work in Hawaii, taken from the mission study book, with Mrs. Battles in charge of the lesson. Mrs. Richardson read the prayer calendar and Mrs. Williams gave the prayer for the missionaries. In attendance were Mrs. Rowena Richardson, Mrs. P. R. Pierce, Mrs. E. O. Battles, Mrs. C. A. Williams, and Mrs. Eddie Howard.

SENIORS WITH their sponsors Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel, left early Friday morning for a senior trip and will be returning Thursday of next week. Their plans are to spend a day at Six Flags then go to Houston. Among some of the sights to see will be a game at the Astro and the NASA Research Laboratory.

TOP JUNIOR NUMISMATIST—Proving that place in the Lamb County Coin Club Show recently in Littlefield, was no fluke, Lyndon F. last weekend turned the same trick in Levelland son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Findley, a junior Littlefield High, won first place in the Junior Division of both coin shows with his excellent display.
