Thaxton's civil service career was interrupted during WWII when he served in North Africa and Sicily, with 21 months of his overseas duty spent in an Army Post Office center.

Thaxton took over C. A. Joplin's rural route after Postmaster Storey died.

Thaxton's route starts on East Ninth and ends north of the railroad track near "Bull" Durham's house, going within three miles of Anton, two of Hart Camp and Fieldton, and one of Bull Lake. He covers more than 100 miles each round trip, and serves 349 families.

Miss Lamb County Contest Is Nearing

A statuesque, 17-year-old with ash blonde hair and sea green eyes is the first entrant in the 1970 Miss Lamb County Pageant.

Rachel Harlan, an LHS senior student, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Harlan of 300 E. 18th, is sponsored in the contest by the Crescent House of Beauty.

Miss Harlan plays the piano, plays a bass clarinet in the Wildcat Band, and is a member of the ensemble that won first place at the regional contest and placed second at state.

This is Rachel's first year to be a cheerleader. Last year she was a candidate for All-Wildcat Girl and was a class favorite. She is a member of the Business Club, but lists English as her favorite subject. She likes to eat Mexican food and prefers pop over hard rock music.

Hobbies include reading, writing letters and knitting.

A Miss Lamb County will be named following the pageant on Friday night, August 28, and will be the center of attention in the downtown parade the following Saturday morning.

Any girl residing in Lamb County who is between 16 and 22 years, single, and sponsored by a county business or civic club may be a contestant in the pageant. Merchants and organizations may get entry blanks from any member of the Littlefield Beta Sigma Phi, or contact Mrs. Harry Miller, pageant chairman.

NEARLY CINCH '70 HONOR BAND

Band 'Second To One'

The Littlefield Junior High was selected as one of the top junior high bands in the state in competition in San Antonio.

Belton Junior High of Longview was selected as the Texas C-CC Honor Band for 1970, and no further official rankings were announced.

However, judging from the opinions of other band directors present and from direct conversations with the judges, Littlefield Junior High was the unanimous selection after Longview, according to Tom SoRelle, L.J.H. band director.

SoRelle said the judges were very complimentary of our band after the performance. These judges included G. T. Gilligan of Kermit, Tony Anderson of Abilene, Orland Butler of Lubbock and several others.

"Although the L.J.S. Band was not selected as the best junior high band, it is still a great honor to be in the very top," SoRelle said.

The L.J.H. band will have another opportunity to compete for honor band in 1971, and with continued community and school support, SoRelle said there is no foreseeable reason why Littlefield cannot have a Texas State Honor Band in junior high and for high school.

Mothers Are Reminded To Get Certificates

For thousands of Texas youngsters, summer vacation will soon be over, and many will be enrolling in school for the first time.

School in Littlefield begins

Aug. 24, and parents are reminded to make sure their children have a certified copy of his or her birth certificate, and proof of vaccination against smallpox and other diseases.

"Every child entering public school for the first time has to show a vaccination record from his doctor, along with his birth certificate, as part of the requirements for registration," Superintendent Paul I. Jones stated.

With more than 250,000 children entering the first grade in Texas each year, the demand for certification is great.

Many times these records can be obtained in the counties or cities of birth, or they may be obtained from the Austin office of the State Health Department for a $1.50 fee.

Searching for records--on request--can be a time consuming process. The quantity alone makes the task a tremendous one.

The "searching" branch of the Vital Statistics division last year conducted 307,000 searches of the files upon request.

A total of 200,000 certifications and verifications were made. Parents are urged to obtain copies of birth certificates now before the volume of requests causes delay.

Every certificate must be checked for omissions or errors to make certain they meet statutory requirements.

Mistakes could result in a lot of problems later on.

Last year more than a half a million current records went into the files. By the end of 1970, total vital records on file will reach the 17 million mark.

23 Needed To Charter 'Texas' Bus

The Littlefield Chamber of Commerce is seeking 23 interested persons who would like to ride a chartered bus to see a presentation of "TEXAS" at Palo Duro Canyon Thursday, July 30.

One chartered bus has already been filled and several others have expressed a desire to make the trip. A bus can hold 40 persons and a minimum of 33 passengers is required for chartering.

Total cost of adults for the round trip bus ticket, reserve program ticket and the barbecue, will be $9.50. Cost for children under 12 for the same benefits is $8.

Busses will leave from the east side of City Hall at 5 p.m.

50 To Enroll In Kindergarten

About 50 children will be enrolled next month in the first fall kindergarten classes in Littlefield Public Schools, according to Superintendent Paul I. Jones.

Two new classes will begin as a result of a law passed by the last state legislature, requiring operation of a public kindergarten.

"The new state law requires that we open these classes to any children in our district who qualify," Jones stated.

A special committee, composed of administrators, nurses, and classroom teachers, will meet Aug. 20 to study the applications of children who wish to be included in the new state-wide program, Jones said.

Rotarians Set Book Sale

Littlefield Rotarians are holding a book sale at 402 Phelps Ave. Aug. 15-22 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

They appeared before Judge Ben Noble, were fined and released.

HONNY GRATS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

A FEW DAYS BACK my wife called me, as I was trying to earn our daily bread. Her voice carried a certain air of excitement as she said, "You should come by the house and see just what's going on up here!"

I knew it must be something pretty important, as she doesn't call me very often while I'm at work.

SURE ENOUGH, as soon as I could get out the door without running over a prospective customer, I mounted the jalopy and came running home.--The sight that greeted my eyes was sickening!

All over the street, just to the south of my house, was all kinds of machinery. And all over the street was sprawled one or two of the giant Chinese elm trees that had, heretofore, been just a much of the neighborhood as any of the houses, in this part of town.

THE OLD MONARCHS were having to come down, in the name of progress. I suppose. Sure, they had wreaked havoc with the sidewalk, which hadn't been replaced since it was laid.--And you could see where they had moved the curb, in a place or two.

But, shucks, anybody that puts their roots down, very solidly, has to move a little dirt.--I was glad that the matching trees in front of my place had been taken down before I moved here.

"OH, YES, the city has authority over all the space between the sidewalk and curb," a city employee told me.--Of course, I knew he was right, but, "how come they don't tend it?," I groused, under my my breath.

Needless to say, the birds were all a'witter. Couldn't help but wonder how many had nested and were hatched in the branches of those trees.--I had been acquainted with them since I was ten years of age myself.

THEY WERE BEING attacked by a huge dirt-loading machine.--They told me it weighed about 68,000 lbs.--no telling how much horse-power!--It was pushing them over with astonishing ease.

But, the old Monarchs weren't giving up without a fight! They were bringing up huge balls of earth were reaching and clutching everything near by!

FOR A WHILE, I doubt if there was a serviceable telephone in the whole block, and they were bringing sidewalk, curb, gas lines, and water lines, right along with their root systems.--I was kind of proud of them.--I like a fighter!

I guess it's one of the "Facks-o-life" that the older must give over to the younger, especially, where progress is concerned, and, I suppose it's all for the best.

BUT, I HOPE that the "progress" is IMPROVEMENT, and not just change, for the sake of change.--Not all change is progress!

Anyway the street in front of my house sure looks empty and odd, now.

I suppose I'll get used to it, just as I'm having to get "Used" to some of the other changes that are taking place.--BUT I DON'T HAVE TO LIKE IT!

"I'm in a bit of trouble, here. I wonder if you fellows could use another man?"

PAUL HARVEY Fluoridation

I SHOULD KNOW better than to do what I am about to do because there are more jealousies among some medical scientists than among most Hollywood starlets.

And when you discuss an issue as sensitive as fluoridation, you throw open a Pandora's box of contradictory conclusions.

BUT HERE GOES.

In the business of news analysis we cannot be expected to be expert on all the subjects which we are called upon to analyze, so over the years we learn to rely on the judgment of certain individuals in each specialty--individuals whose judgment has been proved rather consistently correct, and who are generally esteemed by their colleagues.

MANY LAYMEN, basing their judgment on what they read or hear, may equate the consensus of experts with the conclusions of crackpots.

This is not to say that anybody who disagrees with the AMA is a headline-hunting eccentric. On the contrary, I can recall several now-accepted medical innovations which were first advocated by some obscure individual who had a dickens of a time getting anybody to listen.

PENICILLIN sat on the shelf for 12 years while Dr. Alexander Fleming was called a "quack."

But if the medical profession's stubborn recalcitrance sometimes retards real progress, it is also our best protection against the nostrums which may do more harm than good.

FLUORIDATION of drinking water remains "controversial." In recent years it's been put to a vote in 1,139 communities; more than half voted it down.

Today, half our nation's drinking water is fluoridated, the other half is not.

In all, however, over the past 25 years 5,000 American communities have added fluorides to their water. The first of these was Newburgh, N. Y., where one part fluoride was added to each million parts of water.

THE SIMILAR CITY of Kingston, N. Y., 35 miles to the north, did not fluoridate its water. Thus we have available a measurable comparison.

After 25 years of careful scrutiny, an examination of the young residents of these two cities shows that Newburgh youngsters, 6 to 9, have 6 per cent fewer teeth decayed, filled or missing.

CHILDREN 12-14 have 70 per cent fewer teeth decayed, filled or missing.

Opponents of fluoridation call it "enforced medication" and protest that it can cause deformed bones, eye trouble, cancer, heart and/or kidney disease.

Studies of disease and death rates in fluoridated as opposed to non-fluoridated areas reveal no such hazard.

NOW, I AM ALWAYS happy to hear from you but before you forward the contrary opinion of some "expert" let me suggest an evaluation of his expertise -- compared to the consensus of the American Dental Assn. and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Further, we now have a quarter-century of careful scrutiny in one city and 10-year records for 14 other communities confirming that one-per-million parts fluoride is both safe and effective. And one thing more:

TYPICAL INITIAL dental bill for a Newburgh 5-year-old is $13.86 as opposed to $33.73 for a typical Kingston child.

THE U.S. Public Health Service calculates that if we would spend $13 million to fluoridate the "other half" of our nation's water, it would save $700 million every year on dentists' fees.

THE PHILOSOPHER Dress Styles

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is in perilous territory this week, but that's his worry, not ours.) Dear editor:

I was temporarily out of newspapers again yesterday and got to thinking about what I was thinking about last week and decided there's no use in Frenchmen making all the money out of women's fashions.

I may have missed some of the details, but as I understand it the dress designers' main problem is deciding how long a skirt ought to be, and after years of practice they've found it ought to get shorter or longer every year or so, never stay the same. Also, they've found there's more money in coming down than going up, as any woman can shorten last year's dress but few can lengthen it.

Right now, according to what I've read, the hemlines are coming down, which means of course new wardrobes for everybody. But the big question is, just how long should they be? You drop from the thighs to the ankles in one year and there's no way to go next year but up, and women will get out their scissors instead of their purses. No money in that. Hemlines should come down gradually over the next few years if you want to guarantee annual wardrobe changes.

Consequently I have thought up an idea I'd like to sell to the dress designers.

There's no use in their guessing what length ought to be high fashion. Say for example they decide hemlines ought to come down 8 inches this year. Just by looking, few can tell whether it's actually 8. It could be 10 or 6, and no woman could be absolutely certain she was in style. To avoid all doubt, style ought to be an exact science.

What the designers ought to do is sew a tape measure down the side of every dress made for the new season. Whack off every dress at say the 24-inch mark. Any woman who can read figures would then know whether she's in style. At a party, all she'd have to do is glance around to tell who's in style and who's out.

Next year, drop it to 26 inches, 28 the next, etc. When they've run out of tape measure they know it's time to start back up again.

I intend to patent this idea but I'm afraid to come to town now to see about it. Some women don't have a sense of humor.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

"A great many husbands are entirely spoiled by mismanagement in cooking, and so are not tender and good. Some women keep them too constantly in hot water, others freeze them; others put them in a stew, others roast them, others keep them constantly in a pickle.

It cannot be supposed any husband will be good and tender managed this way. But they are delicious when properly treated. Don't keep him in the kettle by force, as he will stay there himself if proper care is taken. If he should sputter or fizz don't be anxious, some husbands do this. Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call 'kisses,' but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves him, but it must be used with judgement. Do not try him with something sharp to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently the while lest he be too long in the kettle and become fat and tasteless.

If you follow these directions you will find him very digestible, agreeing nicely with you, and he will keep as long as you want."

We're not sure how well this old recipe will work today in the age of power-drive can openers, outdoor electric grills and kitchen cooking implements with control panels of such complexity as to tax the ability of a master engineer (which most housewives have to be these days). But we seem to detect some elements in the "cooking" methods which suggest that the modern wife of today isn't too far removed from her maxi-skirted grandmother of yesterday.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE From Within

By BOB WEAR

DETERMINISM HAS, for some time, been considered the big factor in human choices and actions. This has been especially true in the instances of devious, unlawful and undesirable behavior.

It has been badly overdone.

BEHAVIOR IS CAUSED, but it was never intended that excuses and allowances be made all of the time for all kinds of evil, and anti-social action. It was never intended that we not be held to account for our behavior.

We are made to be held accountable, and there is within us a basic need to be.

MUCH OF THE DISORDER and confusion of our time is traceable to the lessening of a sense of responsibility.

It is unfortunate, and often tragic, for people to think they act the way they do because they can't help doing so. It is even worse to get by with wrong doing on this basis.

THE POTENTIAL WORTH of many people is never realized, because they assume a lifestyle based on economical, sociological, psychological, physiological, geographical or some other form of determinism.

Of course, these are factors to be considered but they are not everything. They must not be made bigger than they are.

THE HUMAN BEING has great capacity for establishing a life structure of self-determination and self-rule.

Most people, perhaps all people, can, to a very great extent, establish goals; make choices; improve themselves; develop their potentialities; and become totally responsible persons.

WE DO NOT HELP ourselves or others by automatically condoning our undesirable and anti-social actions.

It is better that we realize the need for change, and the place individual accountability has in accomplishing the change.

THE POSSIBILITY for personal development, improvement and accomplishment is present, to some degree, in most people.

We must therefore, pursue the living experience in the light of this established fact.

LIVING IS FROM WITHIN. Even our environment affects us according to the way we react. The things around us, and the things which happen to us are not omnipotent. We can choose how we wish to feel and act.

WE KNOW THAT COURAGE, determination, initiative, industry and such like originate deep within the mind. We also know that some things defile our lives while other things enhance them.

The Master Teacher spoke of the defilement of life in these words, "What comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart (mind), and this defiles a man. For out of the heart come evil thoughts, murder, adultery, fornication, theft, false witness, and slander. These are what defile a man."

THE WHOLESOME MIND is the source of the good and desirable expressions of life just as the corrupt mind is the source of the evil and undesirable life manifestations.

The point is that all behavior comes from within and, for this reason, we can control our conduct, our reactions and our total life pattern.

THIS IS NOT WHAT HAPPENS to us in times of great strain and stress, but what happens within us that determines whether we succeed or fail in life.

Much, almost everything, depends upon the condition of the inner man. Therefore, we must give our most diligent attention to this part of our being.

PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY for human behavior is the only hope for an orderly social structure.

A WOMAN'S VIEW Sunnydale

By PEARL BRANDON

SUNDAY, August 2nd, is the annual Sunnydale reunion.

To those who never lived in this little Sunnydale community west of town, this doesn't mean a thing, but to Sunnydalers it is a big day.

WE REMEMBER those depression days when we had very little money and it was a real problem to try to get into town to church every Sunday.

We started having church in the homes and old fashioned singings on Sunday nights, when someone suggested that we get together and build a place to meet.

THE IDEA CAUGHT on and before any time at all we were having box suppers and other things trying to raise money to get the building started. Ideas kept popping up, including an auction sale where we sold every thing we could get.

People all over the community gave what they could, even the merchants in Littlefield contributed to our auction sale.

ONE YEAR from the time we started the building it was finished, the men in the community donating the labor and the women furnishing the food. Were we proud of that building? It had a stage and dressing rooms... and somebody in town donated a curtain for our literary programs.

Almost every Sunday we had preaching by different denominations. We had a union Sunday school and singing every Sunday night... also revival meetings, with "dinner on the ground."

WE ALSO HAD literary program

every two weeks--on Friday nights. We all became amateur actors and actresses. The house was crammed for every program, and we charged ten cents a family for admission.

Of course someone, such as Pep Ratliff (remember him?) or Sam Hutson would give us a dollar when they came out.

This money was used for fuel, lights and material for our programs. We always had enough.

WE CELEBRATED all holidays with big dinners, and candidate speaking were something special.

We had our own ball team and we would all pile on a flat-bed school-bus and go into town and yell our heads off for our boys.

SUNNYDALY is still a beautiful memory to we old-timers who lived there and helped build it. At the reunion we always have a Memorial program and read the names of those who have passed on.

The list is longer now than the old ones who are left, but we still have good crowds at the reunion.

THIS YEAR, as usual the Sunnydale reunion will be in the Community Center in Laguna Park in Littlefield the first Sunday in August (Aug. 2nd).

We meet at one o'clock with a basket lunch provided by the people who live here and have the program in the afternoon including a white elephant sale.

DELBERT BRANDON and his group will again bring special music and some of our own young people will play the piano and sing.

We'll see you, Sunnydalers, August 2nd!

Revenues Are Up

General Telephone & Electronics Corporation has reported that combined telephone revenues and manufacturing sales for the second quarter exceeded the corresponding period of last year, but that consolidated net income was lower than the equivalent quarter of 1969. Combined telephone revenues and manufacturing sales for the quarter totaled $842,305,000 which was 6 per cent above the $791,728,000 total for the same period of last year, the GT&E president reported. Consolidated net income applicable to the common stock was $50,840,000, or 11 per cent below the $57,059,000 total of a year ago. The resultant earnings per common share were 84 cents, compared with 54 cents per share in the second quarter of 1969. For the first half, combined revenues and sales totaled $1,626,115,000 which was 4 per cent ahead of the $1,565,401,000 total a year ago. Consolidated net income applicable to the common stock was $95,308,000 for the first six months, or 13 per cent lower than the $109,591,000 total for the corresponding 1969 period. Earnings per common share were 90 cents, in comparison with $1.04 in the equivalent period of last year.

Gas Income

Consolidated net income of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ending June 30, 1970, amounted to $1,523,980 according to figures released by Burton P. Smith, president. This compares with $1,352,919 for the second quarter of 1969, restated to reflect acquisition made in 1969 on a pooling of interests basis. For the first six months of 1970, the consolidated net income amounted to $4,114,507 compared to $3,640,121. Earnings per share for the second quarter of 1970 amounted to 21 cents on 7,416,007 average shares outstanding during the same period last year adjusted to reflect acquisitions made in 1969, on a pooling of interests basis. Earnings per share for the first six months of 1970 are 56 cents as compared to 49 cents per share for the same period in 1969, as restated. The report for the second quarter will be mailed to the stockholders about August 15.

Drownings Claim 275 In Texas

A number of recent drownings indicate an alarming fact, according to George Cook, director of Water Safety Service for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The fact is that a great many people go to the water for outdoor recreation and yet can't swim 20 feet to save their lives.

"Last year Texas had 516 drownings, and we have had 275 since January this year," said Cook. "In many cases just a few swimming strokes could have gotten the victim out of trouble."

The exception are children who go unattended around bodies of waters. "Over and over again we get reports of tragic instances in which a small child topples into a swimming pool, a lake or a drainage ditch and whose absence is noted only too late," said Cook. "Children must rely on their parents for proper supervision and protection, and if this supervision is relaxed, children pay with their lives."

Cook said a recurring, almost inexplicable, situation has to do with waders who step in deep holes and drown. Incases such as these, safety is only a step away, yet these waders can't make it.

"Three-quarters of this planet is covered by water. Texas is second to Alaska in the amount of inland water. It would seem that if we are to live on this planet in Texas, learning to swim would be in order," said Cook.

Cook said that for the most part drowning victims are solely responsible for their fate due to their own carelessness, but here are exceptions.

LOOSE TO DENVER CITY, 7-0

Sp'lake-Earth Bow In District Play Off

Springlake-Earth Little League All Stars dropped to the Denver City All Stars, 7-0, in district play at Levelland Tuesday night.

For two innings it was a scoreless ball game as neither team could penetrate the other teams' defense.

The roof seemed to fall in at the top of the third as Denver City got two runs in.

They got two more runs in the fourth, another pair in the fifth, with the final run of the game in the sixth.

It was catch-up ball for Springlake-Earth as they tried to out-guess Denver City's Mark Clark as his side arm fast ball.

Johnny Cleavingger, Randy Bills, Randy Latham, Cliff Wood, and Eric Freeman were the hitting department for Springlake-Earth.

Mark Clark was the winning pitcher.

Johnny Cleavingger pitched for Springlake-Earth.

Denver City will not meet the winner in the Lubbock Little League Tournament.

SPRINGLAKE-EARTH'S Randy Bills slides at base but not in time for the third out in the second inning during the District All-Star game against Denver City at Levelland.

BRAD BRIDGES of Springlake-Earth challenges Bill Wickson of Denver City for possession of the plate as he tries to score a Springlake-Earth run. Denver City won, 7-0, in the All-Star game played in Levelland.

Referendum Vote Due

Soybean producers in Lamb County, and 22 other counties in Texas, will go to the polls Sept. 26, to vote for or against an initial assessment of one-half cent per bushel collected at the point of processing or first sale of soybeans.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has certified the Texas Soybean Association of Plainview to hold the referendum, and Commissioner John C. White released notification of the certification following a public hearing in TDA offices last week.

The referendum and election for Lamb County will be conducted in the downstairs lobby of the County Courthouse in Littlefield and polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. on the date of the election.

Maize Virus Is In Area

Heavy infestations of Maize Dwarf Mosaic Virus (MDMV) in sorghum have been found in an area from Lubbock north to the southwestern corner of Kansas.

But, "infestations are very light in Lamb County," according to Assistant County Agricultural Agent Bobby Brunson.

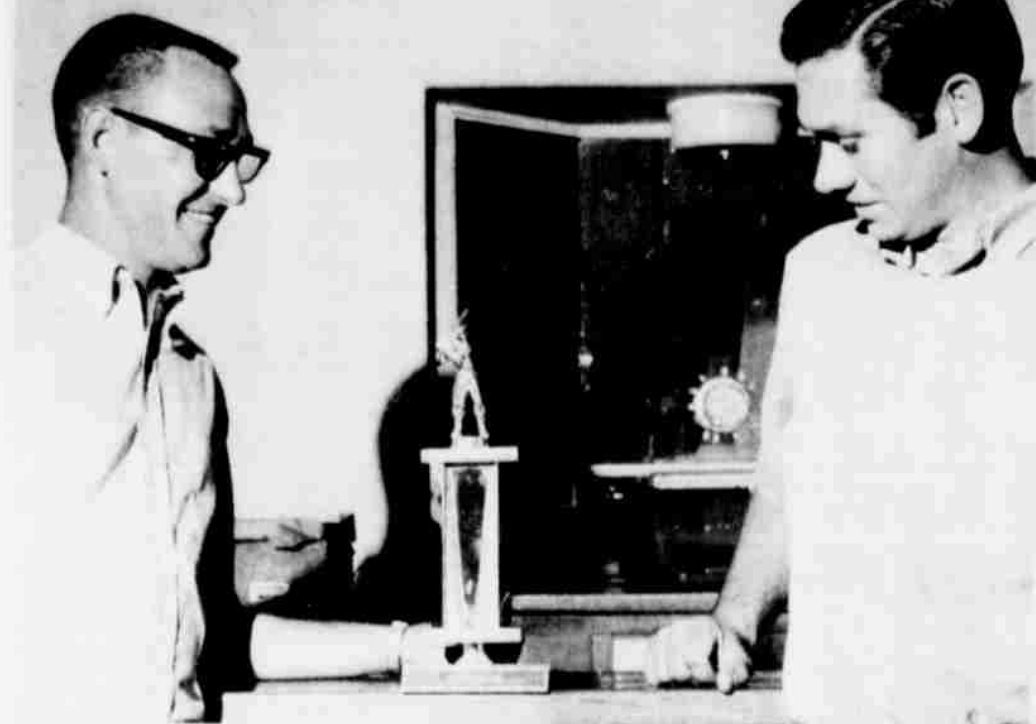

According to a release from the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board, symptoms of the disease are characterized by a mottling (light and dark green patches between the veins of the leaves) of the young leaves in the sorghum whorl, and later, in susceptible hybrids, by a red streaking which occurs on the upper leaves.
