Rains Add 1-3 Inches Precipitation

Sunday morning and Monday provided more than three inches of rain in places this week to further the 1973 crop outlook.

Unusual late July precipitation is doubly welcome following a dry July. Sunday's showers average about an inch inside the Littlefield city limits. The Sunday moisture follows Monday's showers and rainfall that ranged from a few tenths to more than an inch over the area.

Monday night rainfall totals vary from 2 to 2.5 in the Littlefield area.

The two-inch plus rainfalls Monday were reported by Edgar Schultz one mile west of Littlefield where 2.5 was measured, and by Rose Bass who recorded 2.5 inside the Littlefield city limits. A. R. Roberts who lives six miles east on the Fieldton road reported 2.2 inches.

A light Monday rainfall was reported by V. M. Peterman. Peterman lives 12 miles north of Littlefield and he recorded .4.

Around the Spade area rainfall varied from .6 three and one-half miles east of Spade. Lindell Holly recorded 1.6 south of Spade.

Around the Anton area rains averaged around one inch. Other rainfall reports included 1.4 at the Bill Owens farm southeast of Littlefield, one inch at the Oden farm four and one-half miles north of Littlefield and 1.3 at the John Norwood farm north of Amherst. Ross Lumsden reported .8 at the gin south-west of Littlefield.

Rain was spotted in the Pep area. Fred Sinnacher reported 1.2 inches Monday. Nolan Harlan reported .8 at his farm near Bula Monday and .7 Sunday morning. As much as 2.7 was reported Monday in the Beck Gin area. But the John Blackmans received only .2 Monday and .8 Sunday.

The rains followed by additional hot, dry weather could mean a bumper crop for this area. Almost all county crops promise great gains following this week's moisture.

'Bill Clayton Day' Honors Local Representative

Today has been proclaimed "Bill Clayton Day" in Muleshoe, and the State Representative will be honored in that city tonight with a fund-raising appreciation dinner in the Mary DeShazo school gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Funds from the dinner, which costs $10 a plate, will be used to finance Clayton's campaign for Speaker of the Texas House in the 1974 legislative session.

Louie Welch, mayor of Houston, will be the featured speaker for the program, and entertainment will be provided by the Caison Trio of Hereford.

Tickets for the informal dinner may be obtained in Littlefield from Troy Arnes, Dr. Bill Armistead, Charlie Duval, G. T. Sides and Lenton Smith. At Earth, Leon Dent, Doug Parish and Bill Mann are in charge of ticket sales; while at Springlake, Sandy Sanderson, Ernest Green, James E. Jones and Euclid Baucum will be in charge of sales.

Drive Continues In Effort To Stop Cloud Seeding

In a telephone conversation with Nolan Harlan of Bula Tuesday, Harlan said funds were coming along reasonably well in an effort by Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather to collect enough money to bring a suit to stop cloud seeding in the Lamb County area.

Harlan said the natural weather advocates have teams working in different counties to collect money for their cause.

Lumsden said Monday that their lawyer was in a meeting in Austin and that they hoped to discuss the matter with him before the end of the week. He said a substantial portion of the $15,000 needed to begin legal action aimed at stopping the area hail suppression program had been collected.

The organization contends that cloud seeding efforts to reduce hail has caused decrease in the rainfall outside the target area. Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather includes residents of southwest Lamb and portions of Hockley, Bailey and Cochran Counties, mostly outside the hail suppression target area.

Billy Smith told a group of almost 100 Tuesday night that he felt a cloud that probably would have brought rain to his dryland farm southwest of Littlefield was dissipated on the night of July 17th after a plane flew over.

Chief pilot for Atmospherics, Inc. said one of the two planes based in Littlefield flew an observation flight southwest of Littlefield on that night, but no seeding was done.

Natural Weather advocates said hopes to stop cloud seeding here are partly based on the fact that Atmospherics was denied a permit to conduct a program in the San Luis Valley in Colorado this year following a hearing there by an organized group.

School Board Discusses Personnel And Budget

Meeting in a called session to consider items on the agenda, the Littlefield School Board of Trustees met Monday for 45 minutes.

Items on the agenda were the broad items of personnel and budget considerations.

The board accepted the resignations of Weaver, coach and teacher who accepted a position on the staff of 4-A Odessa High School, and Mrs. Thaxton, math teacher who moved to Lubbock.

Mr. Jones reported to the board that Gary Rosser, who had been the job of curriculum director at $12,000 per year, had turned the position to go to Temple. Other personnel matters, Lewis Boomer, coach and high school instructor, was granted a $300 increase in salary on a motion by Werner Birkelbach and a second by David Hampton and the vote was unanimous. It was explained by Jones that Boomer is assuming additional responsibilities within the athletic program.

The board also tentatively approved the '73-'74 budget of (in round figures) $1,400,000. This figure will change somewhat, but it is essentially the same as last year.

A complete breakdown of the budget will be given in the Leader-News before the public hearing on the budget Aug. 13.

City Council Meets Tonight

Scheduled for the regular meeting of Littlefield City Council tonight are items of new business.

Items discussed are a request from the City of Anton for dog catcher service on the sandy land resource conservation and development project.

City councilmen will review the Revenue and Actual Use Report, and set a date for the budget work session.

JIM M. LACKEY presents Bobby Brunson and Lynn Bowerman, county extension agents, a check for $150 to go toward the building of a State 4-H Center to be located on a 78-acre site on Lake Brownwood. The Lamb County Production Credit Association donation kicks off a county wide fund raising activity. The 4-H'ers in Lamb County will be conducting a door to door campaign Saturday.

County Youth Collecting Funds For State Center

Lamb County 4-H youth will be conducting a county-wide fund raising activity Saturday, Aug. 4, for the State 4-H Center. This is for the development of a state 4-H educational center to be located on a 73-acre site at Lake Brownwood.

Texas is one of the few states without an educational center, this is a much needed facility. This will enable 4-H'ers across the state to have facilities where they can conduct 4-H training activities for youth and leaders.

The Lamb County 4-H'ers have set a goal of $6,000 to help meet the District II goal of $75,000. This Saturday county 4-H youth will be giving Lamb County residents their opportunity to donate to today's facility for the youth of tomorrow. This will be done in a door-to-door campaign. The activity will begin with a kick-off breakfast held in the county courthouse at 8:30 a.m.

Subscription Campaign To Begin Here Today

The Leader-News is beginning a subscription campaign today.

An estimated $3,000 in prizes and commissions are being offered to the residents of the area.

The first award is a cash prize of $1,000, and the winner will be announced at the close of the campaign, Sept. 7. Winner of the second prize will receive $600 in cash; third prize is $300 in cash; fourth prize, $200 in cash; and fifth prize, $100 in cash.

In addition to the cash prizes, each worker will be paid 20 percent commission on all sales he or she has made, providing the person does not win one of the top five prizes.

"If your commission is greater than the prize, you would receive, the greater of the two if you were a prize winner," stated Publisher Wade Warren.

The campaign is a business proposition. The Leader-News is out to have more readers, and is willing to reward generously those who will become "Goodwill Boosters". Only persons residing in the Littlefield trade territory may take part in the campaign, and the goal is to have every home in the Littlefield trade area as a subscriber to the Leader-News.

In boosting the circulation, the Leader-News will be aiding Littlefield and surrounding communities as trade areas. All who take an active part will gain something. Each worker who does not win a cash prize will be paid 20 percent commission on the business that he or she turns in during the campaign.

The Leader-News staff invites people of the area to take part in the campaign, and to share in the awards and commissions.

Non-subscribers are equally invited to join the campaign.

The campaign is not a gamble. All persons will be paid in proportion to what they do.

The prizes will be awarded Sept. 7, and any man or woman, except employees of the Leader-News may enter the campaign. There is no entry fee or charge of any kind, and persons may have any and all the help they want.

An entry blank may be found in the two-page ad in this issue. Fill it out, clip it and mail or bring it to the campaign office, 707 East 7th. Dale and Mary Nickeson are directing the drive, and you may call them at 385-4922.

THE PLAN IN BRIEF

The object of the big distribution is two fold: Primarily to increase the already large subscription list of the Leader-News and advance subscription payments from present, to gain new subscribers and at the same time afford our friends an unparalleled opportunity to profit in a big way through their spare time during the next few weeks, so it is a plan that works both ways and to the ultimate good of all concerned.

In order to gain this end quickly and advantageously, one of the most valuable and attractive lists of prizes ever offered by a local newspaper in this section of the country has been made ready for distribution among participating most heartily. Ambition and energy are the only requisites for success. The plan adopted is straightforward and simple and is fully outlined in this announcement.

Let it be understood at the very outset that it is not a "beauty" or "popularity" contest, but strictly a legitimate competitive proposition for enterprising men and women, and one in which no element of chance enters. One feature of this competition is the fact that there will be no losers in this race.

Changing Controls

THE WORLD of federal wage-price controls and freezes has taken on a startling resemblance to "Alice in Wonderland," with its confusing commands and counter commands flying through the air at such a speed that even the normally imperturbable Mad Hatter would have trouble deciphering them—let alone following them.

The chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers has been moved to warn, "We can't keep changing the rules of the game."

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL has said it wishes "...more Congressmen and government administrators would recognize the damage caused by constantly changing the rules private businessmen are required to follow. Businessmen need to make long-term plans—particularly for capital expansion.

Limited resources of manpower and materials have to be used steadily, not on a stop-go basis, if shortages and disruptions are to be avoided."

BUSINESS DOES NOT possess the changeability of the chameleon, yet the federal government's economic policies are being set up as if it did. Intelligent, workable wage-price guidelines are sorely needed.

Lawmakers with long-range vision to create such guidelines are also needed. "Alice In Wonderland" tactics cannot rule the space age, and the sooner that fact is recognized by all concerned, the better.

Free Triticake Supper For Farmers Tonight

All producers interested in growing triticale on contract for the Muleshoe-based Triticale Foods Corporation are invited to a supper of Triticakes and sausage at the new Tasty Taco on W. 5th tonight at 7:30.

The evening meal of sausage and pancakes made from whole grain triticale is courtesy of Southwest Triticale Producers and Triticale Foods Corporation.

Anyone wishing to acquire a base allotment to grow triticale should be at this meeting. The program will include a summary of results of new cultural practices utilized by contract growers in this area. Joe Wright, senior agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, will present the program.

Triticale growers get a set contract price with premium provisions for protein above certain levels. Acreage will be allotted to contract growers each year. Priority allotments will be established at growers meetings. Each participating county will have a growers' committee to establish allocation acreage.

Each grower establishing a base for the 1973-74 crop year will be allowed to increase or maintain his percentage of the total national base each year. No new growers will be accepted in any new crop year if the original charter growers are able to increase their acreage enough to fill the demand established by the Muleshoe corporation.

Obey The Rules

By BOB WILLIAMS

THERE MAY BE SOME bad rules in most life situations which concern us. Human rules are not perfect, and never will be; but these rules are essential.

There can be nothing worthwhile in the individual experience, or in the social order; if there are no rules. Some of these rules will be made by others, persons who are delegated and empowered to do so; and we will make some for ourselves as part of our self-discipline.

WE MUST NOT BE ALWAYS trying to change rules to fit our own personal notions.

Many rules must be obeyed, whether we like them or not.

"RULES ARE MADE to be broken" is a saying heard now and then. Of course, this is a false saying. Unfortunately, however, it is also an attitude of mind; and, if we understand what we hear and see, it is a widespread attitude.

In fact, it seems that many people resent rules. Enormous sums of money, public funds, are spent daily for the purpose of enforcing rules. Evidently, some folk do not realize that rules are for their benefit and protection. This is sad.

THE TRUTH IS that everybody obeys rules, some kind of rules. Some people learn, respect and live by the very wisest rules. Some reject these rules, with the spirit of disrespect and rebellion.

They tell themselves that they are free, but they are not free. They have rejected wise and helpful rules, accepted inferior and personally chosen rules.

WE LIVE BY SOME KIND of rules. We are smart, we choose the best, most uplifting ones, and reject those which are degrading and destroy our well-being.

ORDER IN ONE'S LIFE, and in the social structure is generally accepted to be desirable. Order requires obedience to rules, and we can make order in our lives by submitting to right rules.

A society must maintain order in the same way. It is a very foolish person who minimizes the value of rules, and consideration of what is essentially well-ordered life.

"ORDER IS THE SANITY of the mind, the health of the body, the peace of the city, the security of the state, the beams to a house, as the bones to a body, so is order in all things."

THE WORST LIFE STYLE is one which is fashioned by rebellion. It is the manner of living in which individual deliberately refuses to respect and submit to the time-tested and well-proven rules and laws, and are obviously productive of the very least and most desirable life experiences available to us.

THE GREATEST PERSONAL freedom available to us is diligent, conscientious obedience to the best set of rules presented to us.

IF I HAD MY druthers, I'd druther Mr. Ehrlichman hadn't divulged the information he gave about our drunken congressmen.

I'd suspicioned for some time, that some of the legislation coming forth from those stately chambers, must have been the result of a drunken mind, but for someone to come out and make a plain statement to that effect, is somewhat disconcerting, at least.

WE'RE SURE (hopefully) that this is not the rule of thumb, nor does it deserve the heading of a blanket indictment.—Howsoever, the idea of a relatively small percent of those fellows tending to our nation's business and behaving in such manner, and especially during congressional session, is enough to make my hair turn white!

These are the guys that are making up the rules by which we are compelled to live! They are in charge of our nation's business!

MY SUSPICIOUS mind has enough trouble respecting some of our duly elected, but when it's brought to light that a vote might be influenced by the gift of a bottle, or the phone number of a special call girl, it's enough to make me shiver!

NOW IF THOSE fellows have (between salary-raise votes) I'd suggest that they pass a few laws governing the behavior of congressmen during legislative sessions.

Among which would be one that make it a misdemeanor for a representative, or senator, to show up for work under the influence of any dope, or perfume!

It would seem reasonable that electorate could expect, at least, much from its' officials.

THE FORTHCOMING squabble over weather control should be interesting. We are going to wait to see the proof it would have rained, had the clouds been seeded, PLUS the proof he didn't hail because they were.

While I plan to stay neutral in a disagreement, I do agree that rain, without hail, is always (almost) in order.

GUESS YOU NOTICED I've just another fortune. Grain's gone up $10 dollars per hundred, and I don't see grain!

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACHA

NOTICED THIS COMMENT from the New London, Iowa, Journal: "About the high cost of living—cigarettes sell for about $2.89 a pound and I don't recall anyone complaining about them being high—yet to pay $1.89 a pound of beef steak drives some shoppers right up the wall. It's a funny thing, but I know people who'll pay 90 cents to $1.25 for a drink and never say a word about the high cost of drinking but to pay over $1 a pound for hamburger...is a different story."

With this super inflation, it is my thinking that many people will be hungry with a supply of food on the grocery shelves. It won't be the local grocerman's fault either. It looks like the new minimum wage and the advance in wages various unions are working on, will cause groceries to be out the buying range of a lot of people. Even with wages going to $2.20 an hour.

Before it is too late, we here in America had better take another look at our economy and take another look at ourselves. We need to tightened our belts and started working on a solution to our inflated economy with sensible solutions instead of hurried answers that will solve the problem today and create a greater crisis tomorrow.

At present, on an average, over 25 percent of the income earned in America goes for recreation. With this happy-go-lucky attitude, no wonder there is an energy crisis, which in turn leads to other out-of-proportioned shortages.

Nuff said! I try to stay out of politics, but I am glad our congressmen in Washington were farighted enough to vote down the $10,000-per-year raise.

WRECKED CARS are being imported into Hungary to provide spare parts for that country's ancient autos. In contrast, in the U.S., photographs of autos have become a favorite pastime showing how we are burying cars in garbage.

As with most problems, this one solve itself. Inflation and shortages could mean fewer and less lived automobiles; and, beyond that, there is an increase in demand for autos abroad, the U.S. may find a new export business and relieve unsightly junkyards. The day will come when a picture of an auto junkyard might be a nostalgic reminder of an affluent era.

When that time comes, the environmentalists may be pleased with ecology pure as driven snow. It's doubtful if there will be any happiness in a frugal, rationed life. We might go full circle and, by the year 2000, welcome the return of a new Ford and a new generation of imaginative private entrepreneurs once again want to produce goods and services for the common man.

GOT A LETTER FROM Mr. Taylor of Thousand Oaks, Calif. last week. He had a few comments about this column and at the same time sent a quote using a few words. Think I'll let Cornball drop one out and let us know what it says in Layman's terms.

"My gastronomic satisfaction monishes me that I have reached the ultimate stage of degeneration, and of dietetic integrity."

LAST WEEK'S $2 quote was interpreted as "It's an ill wind that no good".
