Dear Abby

A happy ending to unperfect wedding

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: "Blue Bride" was upset because fiancée wore braces on his teeth and she was afraid would ruin her wedding pictures. (She wanted her to be perfect!)

Well, I wanted my wedding to be perfect, too, but things went wrong.

For example, on the way to the church my fiancée had a flat tire. Then while running across the street church he was hit by a car. Fortunately, he only trouses on both knees and bruised one of his elbows while to hold up the wedding ceremony, he got on schedule with both knees and one elbow exposed.

After the reception, we took off for our honeymoon. I found that our luggage had been lost! It took us while to get it back, but meanwhile back at the house husband hit his sore elbow on the bureau and it was sick to his stomach. The poor guy upchucked, flushing the commode he realized his partial front four front teeth was missing! He sure looked loved him anyway. (You should kiss a man with a sometime.)

We've been married for 10 years, have since our composure and his four front teeth, and we're happier.

DEAR HAPPY: The way we handle what happens can be the difference between tragedy and comedy beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: This is about the guest who spunk punch bowl on the q. t. with a bottle of vodka. Mathematics were never my forte, but even figure out that given a hot afternoon and 40 guests would drink about 12 ounces of punch. This brings ounces, which, if "spiked" with 32 ounces of vodka result in each guest getting a well-diluted vodka!

If that amount of vodka could make the guest and give the hostess hot flashes, I would be very surprised.

The guy who spiked the punch would have been advised to stash his bottle in the bushes and take special friends there for substantial periodic nips.

DEAR ALEEN: The your suggestion was offered in jest, it would have been preferable to risk alcoholic's consuming even a drop of vodka unknown doesn't take much for an alcoholic to fall off the wagon.

DEAR ABBY: I have just declined our umpteenth invitation in the past few years.

My problem is a touchy one. My husband is a professor, and he is adored by hundreds of his students naturally when they marry, they invite us to the wedding. We can't possibly attend all those weddings, certainly can't afford to send a gift even though attend. There are some students to whom my husband a special closeness, and we would very much like to afford much, but we are so afraid of hurting the feelings of the others.

We routinely decline all invitations to weddings send no gifts. Or is there a solution I haven't thought of?

DEAR WIFE: Accept the invitations to those you feel a "special closeness" and regret the rest. Don't feel guilty. For an inexpensive gift, shop the hand bookstores for a book of poetry or the classic inscribe a personal message to the couple, and it will probably be regarded as one of their most treasured. (And it need not cost more than 50 cents or a dollar.)

DEAR ABBY: After reading so much in the papers about VD, abortions, and battered children who wanted, I had to write this letter.

If all parents who cared about their children forbid them from going steady when they're too young to know anything, there wouldn't be those problems.

When two kids see each other morning, noon, and night for months and years, there is no way they can become intimate. After a while the handholding and kissing gets stale, and they think they are "in love."

I'm 18, and have a baby 1 month old because afraid to have an abortion. Yes, we had to get married. I guess I'm an expert on the subject. If my parents done their job as parents should, and told me the price of a steady boy friend, and forbade me to go steady, I would have a nice job now, meeting lots of nice people and some fun. Or maybe going to college like some of my friends.

But instead, I'm changing diapers, cleaning, ironing and ironing because I started going steady when I was 16 years old.

I am not proud of this. I was one of the thousands of kids who thought it couldn't happen to me. Abby, telling parents to do their job, and not to let their children have a snow job about what "everybody else" is doing.

DEAR BEEN: You paid dearly for your lesson. Hope others will benefit from your experience.

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly sympathize with "Time Gal" whose husband said, "No love until after Carson."

Ever since television, right after supper my husband turns on the set and he stays up to watch it until worn out. He even watches reruns of reruns!

If I talk to him while he's watching, he shuts me out. "Wait until the commercials."

I hate to be a nag but I would like a little conversation in the evenings. Thank the good Lord we didn't have a son when we were newlyweds or I'm sure we'd have been blessed with the five wonderful children we have today.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ONLY REPEATED SALT LAKE CITY: One who repeats a rumor is as the one who started it.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, ABBY, BOX 69760, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and stamped, addressed envelope.

Wildcats Fill Nine Positions On All-District Team

Wildcats lead the list of All-District selections, with eight Wildcats earning berths on the 1972 All-District AA football team. Top of the list are Randy Cook, Alan Mackey, a 190-pound line and lineman, made the All-District list both offensively and defensively. Hamblin, a 170-pound line and lineman, was one of six unanimous choices for All-District defensive linebacker.

Friona placed seven on the All-District team. Four Morton Indians made the team, and three Olton Mustangs were named. Making the dream team both ways were Littlefield's Cook, Morton's Jimmy Harvey and Friona's Kevin Wiseman. Unanimous offensive choices were Indian Harvey at running back, Friona's running back James Bartlett and Olton's guard, Steve Lewis. Unanimous defensive choices were Friona's Johnny Bandy at safety,

Wildcat linebacker Bill Hamblin and Friona's lineman Kevin Wiseman. District champion Littlefield is the total offense leader in District 3-AA, but Friona leads in team defense. The figures, based on the full 10-game season, shows the Wildcats averaged 310.9 yards per game to 300.9 for Friona. For 11 games, the Cats rambled for 2,635 yards, passed for 650 for a total of 3,285. On defense, however, the Chiefs gave up only 147.3 yards per game to 187.4 for the Wildcat district champs. Keith Workman, 202-pound fullback for the Olton Mustangs, captured the individual rushing title, scrambling for 987 yards in 203 attempts, a 4.9 yards-per-carry average. Workman who remained healthy all season, carried the ball almost twice as many times as the other members of the district's top 10.

Littlefield's Pat Henderson, who missed a couple of games due to injuries, had the best average among the rushers, a 7.5 yards-per-carry average. Three other players, including Friona's James Bartlett and Louis Lee and Littlefield's J. E. Johnson, also averaged over seven yards per carry. Friona's Bartlett claims the district scoring title, with 11 touchdowns and four points after for a total of 70 points. See ALL-DISTRICT, Page 4

ELVOR SEZ: "Rejecting things they are old-fashioned, would the sun and the moon."

SUN AND the moon is what most would like to see now. . . especially For as the harvest just gets in full here comes one of those wet, cold to slow things down again. We predicted wet spell Monday so that'll set the pattern for the next weeks. . . or even months. Let's hope it never fails! Write something the weather on Tuesday and day it's completely different. If you need your window Wednesday a few minutes past seven, all you need see was one great big ol'

CONGRATULATIONS to the team who made All-District! Terry Bryson, Leneral Lewis, Randy Cook, Kenny Francis, Alan Mackey, Bill Hamblin, Kenny Owens, and Jerry Cox are outstanding seasons and this is a way to top off a successful football season. Now to go along with this is to have three or three roundballers to cop district honors.

Lamb County as a whole did quite well in the All-District AA team with the nine positions filled by Littlefield and the selection of the Olton Mustangs, Dale Parsons, Leneral Lewis and Jimmy McCurry.

The season did end a few games more than most of us would have liked, but I don't think of all the teams didn't even win district and that in itself is quite an accomplishment. Littlefield's two seasons in a row, and the fact that they have full this Friday against Childress and we wish the best of luck.

Folks at Plainview were certainly good hosts and have excellent facilities. They, like several other schools, might do themselves well by having some sort of hard surface on the parking area however. While the stadium stands were occupied by Littlefield boosters and appeared to have more fans than Littlefield did at home, one must remember that there were a lot of Plainview folks there for a good football game and they just happened to be on the home team side. We'll be on that side next year!

The football season gets closer to end in most high schools, colleges and pros. It means that coaching jobs are not far away either. Several coaches have gotten the job or are contemplating moves for one reason or another.

MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL reported yesterday about a midwestern city where the police department one day asked city officials what happened that a brand new city car had been parked for several months at the police station and never used.

It was discovered that the automobile had been purchased for the city's legal department. More checking turned up the surprising fact that the city did not have a legal adviser.

In being the case, it might seem to sell the car. Nope! The city officials are going all out to hire a legal adviser to go with the car.

'VOICE OF DEMOCRACY' CONTEST

Students Plan Patriotic Speeches

Senior, junior and sophomore students from local and area cities are joining those from throughout the United States in expressing their opinions on patriotism in the 25th Annual Voice of Democracy program, sponsored by the local John Henry Chapman VFW Post 4854 and the Ladies Auxiliary, in conjunction with the National VFW promotion.

High school students from Bala, Witharral, Olton, Springlake-Earth, Spade, Amherst, Sudan, Pep and Littlefield will participate and try for local, district, state and national honors in the contest.

Tapes for recording the speeches—based on patriotism—are now ready for delivery to schools which wish to participate, according to Mrs. Jeanie Yoakum, chairman of the contest. Schools who wish to participate are asked to call her on the Fieldton exchange, 262-4101.

Deadline for returning the three-to-five-minute taped entries is Wednesday, Dec. 13.

On the local level, winners will receive a $50 savings bond for first place, $25 savings bond for second place, and a plaque for third place. Fourth, fifth and sixth place winners will receive medallions, and all local prizes will be provided by the local Post and Auxiliary.

A $25 bond will be awarded to the teacher of the first place winner.

The county winner will then compete in district competition, and if he or she succeeds in district competition, will go on to the state contest.

Allen Purdy of Littlefield will serve as the district chairman for the contest.

C-C Executive To Attend Meeting

Bill Payne, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, will attend the pre-legislative conference for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Dec. 1 and 2.

The governor-elect, lieutenant-governor-elect, 10 West Texas senators and 45 West Texas House members have been invited to meet with the conference.

The event is being sponsored by the West Texas C-C and Wichita Falls Board of Commerce and Industry.

The state winner will receive a five-day all-expense-paid trip to Washington, D.C., where he or she will tour the city and enter national competition.

Winners at the national level will receive scholarship awards of $10,000 for first place; $5,000 for second place; $3,500 for third; $2,500 for fourth; and $1,500 for fifth.

STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

December 31 is the deadline for owners of advertising signs along major interstate, U.S. and state-numbered highways to apply for permits under the new Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The act is designed to control all outdoor advertising from big billboards to fence signs along the right-of-way line.

It requires that no sign can be erected within 660 feet of an interstate or federal-aid primary highway without a special $25 outdoor advertising license. An additional $5 permit is also required for each sign.

On-premise signs—those advertising activities on the land or offering the property for sale—are exempt.

The law, passed and made effective last June 30 to avoid loss of federal road-building aid, will be implemented in stages.

License applications, first stage in the process, must be accompanied by a $2,500 bond for each county in which signs are located up to a $10,000 maximum for owners with signs in more than three counties.

Permits will be issued for signs in place prior to June 29 whether they conform to the law or not, and these will be allowed to stay in place until programmed for acquisition or removal. New signs must conform to the law before permits are issued.

The Highway Department also has begun removal of abandoned and illegal signs on controlled highways.

Those planning to erect new signs on controlled highways are advised to check with Highway Department district offices to determine if the location conforms to the law.

Property owners have also been advised to contact the department's district offices concerning signs located on their land without permission.

LEGISLATORS BRIEFED

State legislators received briefings last week on three major issues to confront them in January.

Pre-session legislative conference at the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs of the University System here provided details on:

Need for judicial reorganization. The court system was termed a hodgepodge of independent operations with "nobody minding the whole store."

Federal revenue sharing and its impact on state and local finance. Legislators were advised Congress and taxpayers will be looking over their shoulders to see that new federal windfalls are wisely spent.

Property taxation and school finance. Major overhauls in the system of financing public education and in property tax administration are needed, tax authorities said.

AG OPINIONS

A recent opinion by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin warned that closed meetings of governmental agencies with attorneys and staffs can be held only for limited purposes

In other recent opinions, Martin found:

*The state may sell or rent property bought in delinquent tax sales before expiration of the two-year redemption period.

*A law making it a penal offense for any bond seller to make a financial contribution to a State Board of Education candidate is unconstitutional.

*Parks and Wildlife Commission has no authority to issue licenses for hunting from aircraft.

COURTS SPEAK

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a 1,000-year sentence assessed a Dallas black for raping a white girl, overruling a defense complaint that no blacks were on the trial jury.

The State Supreme Court affirmed a Plainview jury and Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals finding that an insurance company owed damaged for accepting health insurance premiums from an old couple without intending to pay claims.

A Tyler man lost an appeal to the Supreme Court in a suit for $25,000 in insurance on his wife who died of gunshot wounds nine days after she applied for coverage.

CANDIDATES SPEND MILLIONS

U.S. Sen. John Tower and Governor-elect Dolph Briscoe spent a record $5 million in their campaigns.

Tower, best financed congressional candidate in the country, reported expenditures of $2.6 million.

Briscoe reported he spent $2.4 million.

Tower's Democratic opponent, Barefoot Sanders, said he spent $625,674. Briscoe's Republican opponent, State Sen. Henry Grover, reported outlays of $1.2 million.

Tower listed contributions of $2,597,466 and debts of $19,371. Briscoe itemized contributions of $1,939,896, indicating he picked up a $500,000 deficit.

NEW WELFARE PROGRAMS

The State Board of Public Welfare ordered staff members to begin developing programs to comply with requirements of Social Security amendments.

Amendments require the federal government to assume financial responsibility for aid to all adult categories of welfare recipients on Jan. 1, 1974.

The three adult categories now eligible for state welfare assistance are needy blind, needy aged and permanently and totally disabled. The state must establish a program for continuous review of welfare recipients hospitalized or in nursing homes or mental institutions. The Board also directed that persons moving into the state must live in Texas 90 days before they are eligible for assistance.

A Board legislative proposal would allow garnishment of wages in child support cases.

DEAR EDITOR

What Our Readers Think

November 18, 1972

Dear Editor:

It is my great pleasure to have an opportunity of sending you this letter in the hope that you would please publish it in your valuable column.

I am a teacher of Hankook High School in Seoul, which has around 3,000 students.

I teach English at this school. Through my teaching career, I have noticed myself that many students of our country are very anxious to have their own pen friends in foreign countries.

They would like to have friendship with the foreign school boys and girls through communication.

I think the exchanges of letters between the young in different countries would also help them to learn much better each other's country. It would also help the students in improving their writing ability. Furthermore, I surely believe that this correspondence and communication will stimulate and promote international understanding as well as the true foundation for world peace.

If any school boy or girl in your country wants to be a pen friend with a Korean school boy or girl, please inform us his or her name, address, age, sex and hobby. We will in turn pass these information to our students and they will write the letters to their liking. We are sure that it will bring the students involved a great pleasure and a wonderful experience.

With best wishes, I remain,

Dear Sir,

Just a few words to let you know I think Mr. Blevins is just right about our young people, as it is a real problem. As for me, I am glad I've already raised mine but they are not angels by any means, as my youngest one is near fifty years old.

I'd like to give a little advice to newly weds.

I had a niece to get married last June, and I did not have a gift that I could give her right then, so I wrote her a little note telling her a marriage was a fifty-fifty proposition, and if her and her husband ever did disagree on anything, they should sit down and just talk things over, instead of quarreling, about it and get angry, and say things to each other that they would hate for a long time.

Her father told me that his daughter valued that note almost as much as she did anything she got and was going to put it in her scrapbook and keep it, and she treasures it almost as much as any gift she got at her wedding.

I like your paper and have subscribed for it the last three or four years and guess I will subscribe for it again.

From a reader,

s/Mrs. Jim Parker, Rt. 5 Brownfield, Texas

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Our Giving

WE HAVE SO MUCH to give, and so many good reasons to give; however, we usually have mixed feelings and even problems; in considering how, and when, and what to give.

MOST OF US REALIZE that it is not good for us to become so selfish that we never give any thought to what we may be able to give. We also know that we must be wisely concerned with self and with personal needs and primary obligations.

Therefore, we must find the point of wholesome balance; so we do not move too far in either direction.

WE MUST REMEMBER that all of us can be generous people, and this is the important consideration.

Some of us may have more than others, but this should not be a problem.

GENEROSITY IS NOT in how much we have, but how well we do with what we have.

In most of the truly important areas of helpful giving, there is not so much disparity in our potential as there seems to be. Giving must involve so much more than money and other material things.

"THE BEST THING to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity." — Balfour

We can give, in the sense of helping feed the hungry, clothe the needy, etc. This kind of giving, however, is not nearly all of giving. We have some time to give, time to be used for doing these things.

We have abilities, usually more than we think, that can be used for good. We view living with a generous eye, we find many, many opportunities to give. This generosity will be good for us and for others.

WE CAN ENCOURAGE others, and this will often be one of the most helpful gifts of all. Many people whose lives touch, in some way, need all the encouragement we can give to them.

This kind of giving never makes a poorer. In fact, we will be richer and better for such generosity.

KINDNESS IS ANOTHER great gift that we can help supply. We are made with people, in many different situations, all day, every day, to whom we can be kind in word and action.

If we are foolish enough, thoughtless enough to withhold kindness, we prevent much of the richness of life that is available to us and to others.

STAGNATION IS INEVITABLE anyone who is constantly receiving and never giving.

Of course, we must consider ourselves and our needs; but we must not permit our lives to become totally self-centered and greedy, and increasingly narrow.

WE CAN GET BY without being generous, without giving, but, if we want to live, really live, we must learn to give. Sensible giving is living, in the best sense of living.

HONEY GIFTS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

SUDDENLY, IT'S basketball season! Oh well, I'm ready to move inside, anyway.

JUST DON'T KNOW where I mislaid that set of predictions I made shortly before the last election. Anyway, as I remember, they were so nearly correct, it kinda scares me.

Remember what I said about the nearness of the next liquor-option election?

ONE THING KINDA puzzles me: Do you have the legal right to call an election for any part of a city, precinct, or county you so choose? Haven't asked any one, just inquiring in my normal state of ignorance.

If that be true, why not just mark off a couple of blocks, in any given locality, and let the proponents of the brew have their election. This way if I decided I wanted to buy, I wouldn't have far to travel, yet I could still live on the dry side of town. Oh well!

JUST WONDER why the female side of the house is so keen on your remembering wedding anniversaries, and so lax about remembering birthdays?

SOFTLY BLOWS the gentle breezes, through the leafies of the trees; spreads them all across the yard, makes our clean-up kinda hardsie!

KISSINGER MUST carry a pretty big buss, when he can keep Nixon from appointing Connolly to the Secretary of State job. Don't you think?

NO, VIRGINIA the cost of your Christmas gifts are NOT deductible!

ONE OF THE MAJOR battles to be faced by our youngsters is that of keeping a clean mind. We readily recognize the truth of the statement: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

That is to say that the mind that harbors filth, greed and the like, is apt to direct a man into becoming a filthy, greedy person.

Which is the big reason that straight thinking parents are anxious to monitor the education of their children. We'd all like for our kids to grow up to be respectable citizens. That is if we can get them.

THE PRESENT TREND to "hell it is" may be alright for those that already "set in their ways" and enjoy the revelings in filth. However, this is shocking and detestable to the millions of upright who are trying to educate their consciences into the ways of cleanliness and respectable living.

I'm sure there are few people here who wouldn't have the ability to let the ways of living sink to the lowest possible degree. We could all be just as respectable, and degenerate as the filth, were it not for the desire and effort to otherwise.

BE THIS AS it may, while we sit back and wrinkle our noses and cluck our tongues the purveyors of filth are steadily pushing their wares upon us!

We thought we were making progress when we finally got the rating system use at the theatres, and we were told for our kids to attend these "R" or "X" rated offerings.

BUT, HAVE YOU taken the time to view your kids on any given night viewing some of the things that are being piped right into your own living room, via tv, the last two months? Longer can it be taken for granted? It's just because it's on tv, it's ok!

Not only is it being "Told like it is" it's being made to appear as being natural and popular thing to do! While being given the name respectability. Much of the time, drunks and adulterers are the same heroes and heroines.

AND, THEY try to leave nothing to imagination!

While you're about it, try browsing through the offerings of some of the news stands and magazine racks that are publicly displayed for sale. Chances are you'll be shocked at some of "art" that's being left out openly for inspection of your teenagers.

THAT'S NOT TO MENTION plentiful supply of cheap paperback that we can give. In the proper channel, that we can give. We know that that itself, won't be sufficient. Some of us we're going to need to instill in them desire and determination to build strong, healthy, and clean mind — we'll have to SHOW them how it's done.

This will be impossible, if the mind is constantly being fed on tv pornography, and profanity. We have completely lost the battle, but look, though we're well on the way!

WE OWE OUR kids all the help and encouragement, in the proper channel that we can give. We know that that itself, won't be sufficient. Some of us we're going to need to instill in them desire and determination to build strong, healthy, and clean mind — we'll have to SHOW them how it's done.

New Brake And Lighting Requirements Enforced

New lighting and brake requirements for cotton trailers have been enacted by the special session of the Texas Legislature, replacing a law passed in August, 1971.

An analysis by the Department of Public Safety lists the following specific provisions for cotton trailers:

Trailers under 15,000 pounds gross weight when operated during the daytime with visibility more than 1,000 feet:

Trailers less than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length: two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear.

Trailers less than 80 inches in width and more than 30 feet in length: a one amber reflector on each side centrally located on trailer body.

Trailers more than 80 inches in width and under 30 feet in length: a. two amber reflectors, one on each side near the front; b. two red reflectors, one on each side near the rear; c. two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear; d. two red side marker lamps, one on each side near the rear; e. two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear; f. two red stop lamps, one on each side of the rear; g. two red tail lamps, one on each side of the rear; h. two red reflectors, one on each side of the rear; i. one white lamp on rear to illuminate license plate; j. electric turn signal lamps on rear.

Trailers more than 80 inches in width and more than 30 feet in length: all lamps described for shorter trailer plus: a. one amber reflector on each side centrally located on trailer body; b. one amber side marker lamp on each side centrally located on trailer body.

A combination lamp will fulfill several lighting requirements. For example, one lighting unit is available to fit on the corners of the trailer body which furnishes front and side clearance and marker lamps.

The requirement for the three identification lamps was eliminated from the law.

Brakes are not required on trailers up to 15,000 pounds gross weight when operated under 30 miles per hour. The combination of trailers and towing vehicle must be capable of stopping within 50 feet when traveling 20 miles per hour.

Slow Moving Vehicle emblems are required only on trailers towed by vehicles which by design go slower than 25 miles per hour (trailers towed by pickup trucks would not require the SMV emblem those towed by tractors would have to have the SMV sign).

Trailers weighing over 15,000 pounds gross weight require brakes on all wheels. Trailer owners are urged to check their vehicles, installing new equipment if necessary in order to conform to the 1972 law. For information about the new enactment, trailer owners can contact the nearest Department of Public Safety office.

Incorporating a profitable minimum tillage operation into a High Plains farming program should begin as early as a year ahead of time, or at least immediately following harvest the preceding fall, scientists at the High Plains Research Foundation advise.

In planning ahead one year where grain sorghum follows cotton, Foundation scientists recommend instead of disking in Treflan, farmers planning to utilize minimum tillage practice the following year should incorporate Treflan with the rolling cultivator. This will reduce the amount of residue carryover.

However, farmers, who did not apply heavy amount of Treflan in cotton this year, may be in position to take advantage of the unusually wet field conditions which allows a more rapid deterioration of Treflan. Under these conditions, scientists at the Foundation believe that many High Plains farmers may be able to increase their income from next year's sorghum crop by reducing expenditures in unnecessary land preparation.

In the minimum tillage program outlined by the Foundation, farmers are urged to chisel the water furrows 12 to 14 inches deep immediately after harvesting cotton. This tillage operation is recommended as soon after harvest as possible.

The chisel operation serves several purposes. It opens the ground to aid winter moisture penetration into the root zone and roughens ground surface to catch more snow during the winter. Soil erosion protection is afforded by cotton stubble and the roughened surface.

It is not necessary to shred cotton stalks after harvest unless the stalks are exceptionally tall and will disrupt future planting activities by becoming entangled in planter chains and gears. If concerned about the amount of herbicide residues, farmers are urged to put soil samples in pots for indoor plantings of grain sorghum this winter.

During the winter, on minimum tillage acreage, farmers are urged to control winter weeds with a mechanical operation. Scientists point out that it is preferable that minimum tillage acreage be on land without particular weed problems. And, they point out, cultivation of existing weeds might eliminate the need for a contact herbicide at planting time.

Also, during the winter, farmers should consider the double row grain sorghum variety they will select for the minimum tillage acreage. Besides a preplant irrigation, there may not be anymore land preparation until just prior to planting time. Scientists warn that land prepared for minimum tillage does not take water as rapidly as conventionally tilled land and the preplant irrigation is necessary for sufficient germination moisture.

Prior to planting, existing beds need to be smoothed and shaped with a rolling cultivator. During this operation, herbicides can be applied. If weed problems exist, a contact herbicide can be applied along with the regular control pre-emerge herbicide application. Good, high beds are needed for planting, scientists pointed out.

Fertilizers can be applied preplant or as a sidedress after planting. Minimum tillage grain sorghum works best where adequate irrigation is available. Sorghum yields

LAMB COUNTY FARM NEWS

Scientists Are Advising Minimum Tillage Operation

Under minimum tillage have been equal to conventionally tilled acreage. Foundation scientists report that the timing of irrigation and not the amount is the most important factor influencing yields.

The seven-leaf stage is critical for adequate moisture in minimum tilled double rowed grain sorghum. At the seven-leaf stage, the plant is changing from its vegetative to its reproduction stage and its yield potential is being developed. Scientists observed that the amount of soil moisture available at that time is less than in conventionally tilled sorghum crops due to reduced amounts of moisture taken by the land during preplant irrigations.

Minimum tillage offers advantages of increased soil erosion protection during the winter and early spring, protection of young seedlings and reduction of tillage costs. Foundation scientists have reduced tillage operations from 15 conventional operations to 9 under the minimum tillage pattern.

can be achieved without the other, are 1. greater and more consistent returns for growers from the marketplace and 2. continuously adequate and balanced supplies of cotton fiber for mill customers.

A number of suggestions for a means to producer or industry control of cotton inventories are being explored. Unfortunately none, to date, appears to be the ultimate answer.

But there is full recognition of the need and that in itself is encouraging.

As discussions of a cotton program for 1974 begin to proliferate on the High Plains and across the belt, two things dominate conversation.

First, growers prefer an extension of the present direct payment, set-aside program to any alternative yet preferred—provided it can be continued with a payment rate and a payment limitation high enough to make it a workable program.

On this proviso there is full recognition of the difficulties involved with an urban-minded Congress. But there is no inclination to abandon the attempt. The Administration continues to profess its support for the set-aside approach, and literally no one believes a farm program can be passed without Administration support.

Second, there is an increasing realization in the industry, especially in the producer segment, that the current inventory management system is working poorly and will continue to work poorly until revised or replaced. And it is thought this will hold true whether the new program follows the set-aside approach or veers in some other direction.

Under the present system when cotton production exceeds annual domestic and export demand the excess is acquired and controlled by Commodity Credit Corporation, an agency of the Federal Government.

"This leaves inventory management policies subject to political pressures that often take precedence over economic reality," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "and so long as this is the case there is no reason to believe that a slight oversupply, or even an adequate supply, will not exert an unwarranted amount of downward pressure on producer prices in the future as it has in the past."

Johnson pointed to events of the past 17 months as evidence that the present system is not working for the benefit of the industry. During this period there has been only about a 10 per cent change in the cotton supply situation, he noted, and that small change has resulted in a 58 per cent increase and a 30 per cent decrease in prices.

Recently an editorial in a national farm magazine stated "To make a profit in any business under our private enterprise system, you must manage the supply." And it went on to say "Eventually growers of a commodity must manage its supply if it is to be managed."

More and more cotton producers are recognizing the truth of these thoughts, and a greater - than - ever - before effort will be made in 1973 to discover some mechanism whereby the management of cotton inventories can be moved from government hands to the hands of an entity designed to accomplish industry objectives.

The two principal objectives, both of which are urgent and neither of which

Feeding Molded Feed Is Playing Roulette

Have you ever heard of "Mycotoxicosis Russian Roulette"? You may not have, but chances are you're suffering that deadly game if you feed molded feeds to your pigs.

According to Dr. Gene Cope, extension veterinarian, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Amarillo, mycotoxicosis is a two-dollar word which means "poisoning of the host following entrance into the body of one or more toxicants produced by a mold." While the condition has been recognized for many years, serious research was not initiated until the last decade.

The problem is complex, says Dr. Cope, because the production of toxin is influenced by many factors: 1. The strain of fungus; not all fungus produces toxin. 2. The temperature at which it grows; the best environment for toxin production seems to be a period of moderately warm weather followed by a fairly high moisture content. 3. The length of time it grows. 4. Other bacterial growth associated with it. 5. The species of animal to which it is fed; this may be even more specific, with toxicity varying with sex and age.

RESULTS OF FEED

Research indicates animals which are contaminated by a debilitating condition are hemorrhaging, cancer, poor growth, feed conversion, etc.

Some molds produce estrogen, points out Dr. Cope. In sows this may be mammary gland prolapse of reproductive organs.

Apparently, affect the reproductive system in various completely stops production, marked in the vitality of pigs, numerous still lower ovulation normal pregnancy lactation. These results may be real amount of consumed.

Many abortions reported in swine evidence of virus infection, Dr. Cope is possible that may play a role in these undiagnosed cases.

Telephone Pioneer Association Is Aiding Pettit Boys' Ranch

The newly organized South Plains Independent Telephone Pioneer Association chose Boys Ranch at Pettit as their project the past week. Members of the ITPA club are General Telephone Company of the Southwest employees and their spouses in the Levelland and Littlefield districts.

The new pioneer group has 44 members and nine associate members, and have held two meetings in Levelland. The third meeting is to be in Littlefield Dec. 8 in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas, when a Christmas party and dinner will be held.

South Plains Boys Ranch opened in 1968 when it was licensed to care for 24 boys. Due to its growth, the license has been extended to cover more boys twice and there are 51 boys presently residing there.

The buildings that were formerly the public school facilities have been converted to housing units for the boys and the workers. The property is owned by the Pentecostal Church of God of America, with headquarters in Joplin, Mo. and they furnish workers' salaries and other expenses. Recently, area churches, Reese Air Base personnel, and others have been assisting financially and in other ways.

A Boy Scout troop was organized for boys at the Ranch and many of the uniforms and equipment were furnished by area individuals. Gene Autry Bitner of Littlefield and an employee of a radio station in Levelland, is the Scoutmaster.

The ITPA members are to draw names and will buy Christmas gifts for the boys at Boys Ranch. Names they draw will serve as their first act towards assisting the Ranch.

Advertising Sign Owners Must Apply For Permits

Owners of advertising signs along Interstate, US and major State-numbered highways have until Dec. 31 to apply for permits required under the Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The act controls all outdoor advertising signs from the largest signboard to the smallest sign hanging from a fence along the right of way line.

The Texas Highway Commission established the deadline under the legislation which became effective June 29. The act requires that no person may erect or maintain a sign within 660 feet of an Interstate or federal-aid primary highway in Texas without a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

In addition to the license, the sign owner must have a permit for each sign he has now or which he plans to erect.

On-premises signs—those advertising activities conducted on the premises and those offering the property for sale—are exempt.

The act will be implemented in stages. The first stage requires the owner of the sign to obtain a State license and post a bond. The license fee is $25 and the license is valid for an indefinite period.

The license application must be accompanied by a bond in the amount of $2,500 for each county in which signs are located, or a maximum bond of $10,000 for owners with signs in more than three counties.

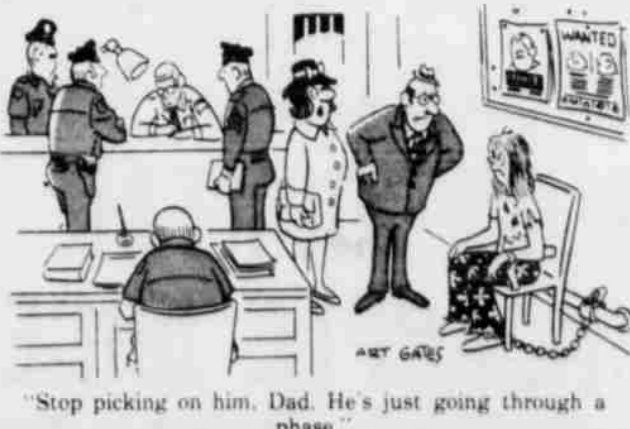

Both license and bond form applications may be obtained by writing the Right of Way Division, Texas Highway Department, P. O. Box 5075, Austin, Texas 78763.

After obtaining a license, the owner is required to obtain a separate permit for each existing and new off-premise sign on the affected highways. Sign permit application forms can be obtained from the Right of Way Sections of the Highway Department district offices.

For each sign permit required, the owner should submit an application accompanied by a check or money order for $5 to the Highway Department district office for the county in which the sign is located.

If the permit application is for an existing sign, the Highway Department will check to see if the sign conforms with the Beautification Act.

Permits now will be issued for signs in place prior to June 29 even if they do not conform to the law. They will be permitted to stay in place until

Dear Abby

A happy ending to unperfect wedding

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: "Blue Bride" was upset because fiance wore braces on his teeth and she was afraid would ruin her wedding pictures. (She wanted her to be perfect!)

Well, I wanted my wedding to be perfect, too, but things went wrong.

For example: on the way to the church my fiancé a flat tire. Then while running across the street church he was hit by a car. Fortunately, he only trousers on both knees and bruised one of his elbows wanting to hold up the wedding ceremony, he got on schedule with both knees and one elbow exposed.

After the reception, we took off for our honeymoon. I found that our luggage had been lost! It took us while to get it back, but meanwhile back at the house husband hit his sore elbow on the bureau and it was sick to his stomach. The poor guy upchucked, and flushing the commode he realized his partial plate four front teeth was missing! He sure looked funny loved him anyway. [You should kiss a man without sometime.]

We've been married for 10 years, have since our composure and his four front teeth, and we could happier.

HAPPY ENDING IN TENN
DEAR HAPPY: The way we handle what happens can be the difference between tragedy and comedy, beautiful!

DEAR ABBY: This is about the guest who spilled punch bowl on the q. t. with a bottle of vodka. Mathematics were never my forte, but even figure out that given a hot afternoon and 40 guests would drink about 12 ounces of punch. This brings us ounces, which, if "spiked" with 32 ounces of vodka, result in each guest getting a well-diluted teaspoon vodka!

If that amount of vodka could make the guests and give the hostess hot flashes, I would be very surprised.

The guy who spiked the punch would have been advised to stash his bottle in the bushes and taken special friends there for substantial periodic nips.

DEAR ALEEN: The your suggestion was not offered in jest, it would have been preferable to risk alcoholic's consuming even a drop of vodka unknown doesn't take much for an alcoholic to fall off the wagon!

DEAR ABBY: I have just declined our umpteenth dining invitation in the past few years.

My problem is a touchy one. My husband is a professor, and he is adored by hundreds of his students naturally when they marry, they invite us to the wedding. We can't possibly attend all those weddings, certainly can't afford to send a gift even to those attend. There are some students to whom my husband a special closeness, and we would very much like to those weddings and send a little gift, even the wife afford much, but we are so afraid of hurting the feelings of the others.

We routinely decline all invitations to wedding send no gifts. Or is there a solution I haven't thought of?

DEAR WIFE: Accept the invitations to those where you feel a "special closeness" and regret the rest. You don't feel guilty. For an inexpensive gift, shop the hand bookstores for a book of poetry or the classic inscribe a personal message to the couple, and you will probably be regarded as one of their most thoughtful. [And it need not cost more than 50 cents or a dollar.]

DEAR ABBY: After reading so much in the papers about VD, abortions, and battered children who wanted, I had to write this letter.

If all parents who cared about their children forbid them from going steady when they're too young to know anything, there wouldn't be those problems.

When two kids see each other morning, noon, and for months and years, there is no way they can be becoming intimate. After a while the handholding and ing gets stale, and they think they are "in love."

I'm 18, and have a baby 1 month old because I'm afraid to have an abortion. Yes, we had to get married. I guess I'm an expert on the subject. If my parents done their job as parents should, and told me to get a steady boy friend, and forbade me to go steady, have a nice job now, meeting lots of nice people and some fun. Or maybe going to college like some of my friends.

But instead, I'm changing diapers, cleaning, and ironing because I started going steady when I was 16 years old.

I am not proud of this. I was one of those kids who thought it couldn't happen to me. Abby, I'm telling parents to do their job, and not to let their kids have a snow job about what "everybody else" is doing. BEEN THERE?

DEAR BEEN: You paid dearly for your lesson. I hope others will benefit from your experience.

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly sympathize with "Time Gal" whose husband said, "No love until after Carson."

Ever since television, right after supper my turns on the set and he stays up to watch it until worn out. He even watches reruns of reruns!

If I talk to him while he's watching, he shrugs and says, "Wait until the commercials."

I hate to be a nag but I would like a little conversation in the evenings. Thank the good Lord we didn't have a son when we were newlyweds or I'm sure we'd not been blessed with the five wonderful children we have today.
