Councilmen Appoint Fire Chief, Hear Bull Lake Activities Report

City councilmen passed a resolution designating the city depository, appointed the fire chief, instructed the city manager to make inquiries from interested persons who may buy certain city property, and heard a report of current Bull Lake activities during their regular meeting Thursday night.

Councilmen had accepted the bid of Security State Bank of Littlefield during the previous meeting for the custody of city funds for the upcoming 12 months or until another depository is appointed, and had designated that a resolution be worked up.

Absent from the meeting were Mayor J. E. Chisholm, who was hospitalized prior to surgery Friday; Councilman Paul Carmickle, mayor pro-tem; and City Attorney Ted Sansom.

Presiding for the session was Councilman James Shotwell, with Councilmen Pat Downs and Chester Harvey, along with City Manager Jim Blagg in attendance.

Councilmen re-appointed Leon Durham to the fire chief's post. He is beginning his 13th year as chief.

City Manager Blagg informed councilmen that he had received inquiries from someone concerning the purchase of Lots 5 and 6 of Block 63 in the City of Littlefield. The property was acquired by the city through a sheriff's sale Dec. 3, 1968 because of delinquent city taxes. Councilmen instructed Blagg to make inquiries for the sale of the property.

Blagg presented a report on activities at Bull Lake to date this summer.

As of July 8, 6,650 persons have visited the lake, 2,235 cars have been admitted along with 970 boats and seven trailers. Total revenue collected has been $4,532.06.

Total revenue during May was $779, compared to June's total revenue of $2,421.06, and July's $1,332 to that date.

In May, 1,270 persons visited the lake in 387 cars, 144 boats and one travel trailer.

In June 3,260 persons were guests with 1,180 cars, 554 boats and four travel trailers.

Historical Sudan Hotel Closed, Is Up For Sale

The Sudan Hotel, one of the county's oldest businesses, has been closed permanently and is up for sale.

The old hotel has been in use since its opening 56 years ago.

The original hotel was built in 1917 by the Wilson-Furneau Land Company for prospective buyers during the land boom when ranch land was cut into farms.

Its location was chosen for its convenience to the railroad depot. It was first operated by Mr. and Mrs. Pete Boesen and became the social meeting place for all local and area functions. Sudan's first post office was located in the corner of the lobby.

A historical plaque was placed in the hotel lobby several years ago by the Lamb County Historical Survey Committee recognizing the hotel as a landmark.

Except for repairs and remodeling, this is the first time the hotel has been closed since it opened in 1917.

Cloud Seeding Opponents Set Tuesday Night Meet

A meeting has been called for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the district courtroom of the Lamb County Courthouse by Farmers & Ranchers Natural Weather Association.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss legal steps to be taken to stop the weather modification program, according to Ross Lumsden, president of the four-county group.

In making the announcement, Lumsden brought in a letter regarding the July 8th article on weather modification which was published in the Avalanche-Journal. The following is a copy of that letter to Gordon Zeigler from Donald R. Haragan, chairman of the Department of Geosciences at Texas Tech University in Lubbock:

July 9, 1973

Mr. Gordon Zeigler
Avalanche Journal Newspaper
710 Avenue J
Lubbock, Texas

Dear Mr. Zeigler:

I read with interest your article in Sunday's paper concerning hail suppression. As a meteorologist, there are several comments I would like to make.

In the first place, I should make it clear that I am in favor of weather modification experimentation whenever it is considered to be beneficial to an area and whenever it is carefully controlled. Two things, however, should be pointed out: first, all efforts of this type should be considered experimental in the sense that there are many things we don't know about the development of clouds and precipitation. Secondly, whether or not a cloud-seeding effort is decided in conjunction with those people affected by the project.

Let me first elaborate on point number one. Many experiments in precipitation augmentation have been carried out with the surprising result that, although in some cases seeded clouds produced more precipitation than the unseeded ones, in many cases there was no significant difference and in some there was significantly less precipitation for the seeded group than for the unseeded group.

For example, an experiment, designated Project Whitetop, was conducted in Missouri during the summers of 1960-64 to test the precipitation effects of seeding summer cumulus with silver iodide. Analysis of the results showed definitely smaller amounts of precipitation on seeded days than on unseeded days. On the other hand, an experiment conducted in Israel from 1961 to 1966, in which winter storm situations were selected for seeding, indicated an increase in precipitation of 18 percent due to seeding.

Meteorologists attribute a reduction in precipitation by seeding to an effect known as "overseeding," a technique which has been suggested as a method of combating flood-producing rains. Also, in convective situations rain occurs naturally after the cloud top has risen far enough to reach temperatures at which the nuclei present are effective. If the cloud is seeded before it reaches this level, the precipitation will start when the cloud is not as deep, and further growth of the cloud will be inhibited. The precipitation from the shallower cloud may be considerably less than that which would have occurred had it grown to its full depth before precipitation began. Thus overseeding and premature development are two ways in which seeding might lead to a reduction in the amount of precipitation.

Pioneer Reunion Slated Aug. 28

Lamb County Pioneers met Monday night for their first planning meeting for the 24th annual Lamb County Pioneer Reunion, slated for Tuesday, Aug. 28.

The traditional beef barbecue, entertaining program, and presentation of gifts to the person traveling the farthest, the oldest man and woman present, and to the person residing in the county the longest, were approved as a portion of this year's event.

Details on the reunion are incomplete at present, but will be finalized in another planning meeting Tuesday, Aug. 7.

Weldon Findley will be in charge of the program, Mrs. V. M. Peterman will select and present the gifts, F. E. Yohner and Joe Bitner will be in charge of the barbecuing and kitchen, Herbert Dunn and Mrs. Simon D. Hay will preside for the registration, Mrs. Bonnie Haberer is chairman of the hospitality committee, and V. M. Peterman was named to see about acquiring the beef and processing for the barbecue.

Breath Of Life Campaign Gets Underway Monday

Janice Aaron and Chris Threadgill, co-chairmen of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, will lead Littlefield volunteers Monday in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases such as cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema."

The house-to-house appeal for funds will begin in the evening, and solicitors are to return their collection kits to the XIT Room of Security State Bank for tabulation and deposit.

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in 20 persons or 10 millions Americans may carry the C/F gene, usually without knowing it.

Current research funded by the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy to their teens and into young adulthood. That same kind of therapy is relieving and often curing children suffering from other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms resemble those of C/F.

"Most people don't realize that there are six million children in the U.S. affected by pulmonary illness," said Mrs. Aaron. "For some of these children, breathing is not the natural function we, who are lucky, take for granted."

The Breath of Life Campaign supports not only research, but over 100 C/F Centers for diagnosis and treatment across the country.

OPINION Wade A. Warren

Nothing makes people get like trying to keep up with already are."

World's best wishes travel with the Ruth All-Stars this week as they travel to Graham to play in the tourney. Their first game is at 6:30 p.m. against the winner of the Levelland district.

Our team will have their first game as they come up against boys who have been on the diamond since February as other districts do not have baseball programs in schools. However, we've got a team that doesn't particularly care who they're playing.....they just want to beat 'em head-on and start baseball.

Note:

is a lot of odd information in all. John White, the Texas are commissioner, sends us a called Farmfacts which we use ally. This week he had a bit of information, to wit: "Texas still not quite up to the national on a laying basis. Texas eggs per 100 hens average 62.6 April. Nationwide, the average eggs laid daily per 100 hens. chicks hatched in Texas April increased two per cent year and the national total was the same as a year ago."

Don't like to sound cynical or is, but we really wonder about accuracy of these statistics. We wonder if owners of hens in Texas count every egg and report to the department of. And we sure do have a about these "egg-type chicks" as far as we know there are not kind of chicks except the kind from eggs."

Lumsden-Williams Vows Solemnized

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged Friday night, July 20, in the First United Methodist Church in Littlefield by Carolyn Anne Lumsden and Jimmy David Williams, both of Littlefield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Lumsden of 726 E. 13th, and the groom is son of Mrs. Billy Jim Williams of 124 E. 23, and the late Billy Jim Williams.

Officiating for reading of vows was Rev. David Hamblin, pastor of the First United Methodist Church.

Ross Lumsden presented his daughter for marriage. She chose a gown of white peau de soie Empire style and peau 'gange lace. The princess silhouette featured a portrait neckline and short fitted sleeves. Appliques of lace with tiny seed pearl tassels accented the moulded bodice and drifted in twin panels down each side of the A-line skirt. Her narrow Watteau train repeated the same lace and pearl motif and swept to chapel length.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught by a lotus blossom of matching lace and peau de soie, outlined in seed pearls with loops of cut crystal.

For "something new" the bride wore a strand of pearls and matching earrings—gifts from the groom's mother. Her "something old" was a gold wedding band which had belonged to her late great-grandmother. "Something borrowed" was her wedding gown, belonging to her sister, and she wore the traditional "blue" garter. She wore pennies in her shoes, bearing birth dates of the couple.

The bride carried a majestic bouquet of yellow roses, tapered white stephanotis, baby's breath and white gypsophila.

The groom is a 1968 graduate of Littlefield High School and is a senior at Texas Tech University, where she is a home economics major.

"Twelfth of Never" were presented during the ceremony. As the two lit the memory candle, "They Will Know We Are Christians By Our Love" was sung by David Barton, with Mrs. Al Chambers playing the organ.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was laid with white net over satin and was centered with a candelabra with white tapers and the brides bouquet. The punch was served from a silver punch bowl on one end of the table, and the three-tiered white bride's cake, topped with two white doves enhanced with a lace background, was served with mints and nuts from the other end of the table. The bridal cake stand was wreathed with greenery, baby's breath and yellow flowers.

The groom's table was laid with a white cloth, trimmed with lace, and was centered with a double ring devil's food cake accented with silver design, and the silver coffee service.

Inflation

THE GALLUP POLL never fails to come up with some interesting items regarding the shifting course of public opinion.

Quite predictably, inflation's effect on the cost of living is said to be the number one worry of over 60 percent of the people questioned at the present time.

IF A MAJORITY of the people, in addition to worrying about inflation, also laid the primary blame for the problem at the door of elected officials responsible for massive government spending and mounting federal budget deficits and gave their support to those who want to bring the federal budget under control, two thirds of the battle against inflation would have been won.

Those of us who receive federal benefits either directly or indirectly must be willing to agree that those benefits should not be increased or expanded and should perhaps even be reduced.

IF THIS EVER HAPPENS, the beast of inflation will be corralled.

But, as things now stand, we've had to resort to another economic freeze, and it doesn't look like we know for sure even where to get a good hold on the animal.

Two County 4-H'ers Enter Horse Show

Jim Fields of Sudan and Carrie Don Been of Earth will be among top 4-H horsemen of the state when they compete for championship honors during the state 4-H Horse Show Aug. 1-4 in Odessa's Ector County Coliseum.

Fields will enter the break-away roping competition, and Miss Been will enter the halter and western pleasure division.

Twenty contestants from each of the 13 districts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are eligible to compete in the state show, according to B. F. Yeates, extension horse specialist. The boys and girls earned the right to enter the state activity by placing high in district competition this month or last.

The Extension Service and the Odessa Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the 4-H Horse Show.

Eligible to compete in the qualifying events of the state show are the district champions in halter, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, pole bending and barrel racing contests, and others selected on a point basis.

Yeates added that events in roping, the cutting horse contest, English and drill team competition will comprise the open invitational classes for the show.

The State 4-H Horse Show is the year's most significant highlight for 4-H members with horse projects. "The boys and girls have worked and practiced with their horses all year with the goal of qualifying for the state activity and claiming some horsemanship honors," Yeates explained.

A featured attraction this year will be a new handcraft show. Participating 4-H members of the horse show will be eligible to enter some of the handwork they have designed for their horse project work.

Training equipment and related materials and riding apparel may be entered. Awards will be given to the outstanding handcraft entries.

to seeding for hail suppression as well. The seeder must be very careful of the amount of silver iodide used and the timing of the seeding operation. If the timing is optimum, and if the right amount of seeding agent is used, the suppression of hail should lead to an increase in rainfall. It is also true, however, that improper seeding could lead to a reduction of hail but a consequent reduction of rainfall, a situation which is certainly not desirable.

Another effect which may be related to seeding by silver iodide occurs in situations when convection is limited and the release of latent heat of freezing when the cloud is seeded provides enough added buoyancy to enable a cloud to grow explosively. This could lead to heavy precipitation and attendant severe weather. Thus, while hail suppression have been relatively successful in many areas, the side effects should be given careful consideration and the seeder should use caution to insure that no undesirable results are effected.

As far as point number two is concerned, I refer you to an article in the June 15, 1973, issue of Science Magazine. On page 1347 is an article entitled "Weather Modification: Colorado heeds Voters in Valley Dispute." After reading the article, you can draw your own conclusions. It is obvious, however, that there are many legal, economic, and social ramifications involved in cloud seeding. My concern, as a meteorologist, involves public opinion regarding seeding efforts. If we are to continue with our experimental efforts, it is essential that the public be made aware of all of the facts and that they give their support to our efforts. Otherwise, it is obvious that our operations will be short lived.

Weather modification is a profit-making business. It is important, however, that the businessmen realize the stake that science has in their business, and that they strive to maintain a high degree of ethics in their operation. The public must be made aware of both sides of the coin and play a part in the decision-making process accordingly.

Sincerely,
Donald R. Haragan
Chairman

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Constancy Helps

IT IS ADMITTED that most of us, perhaps all of us, do not always do our best in everything we do. Many of us, however, do try; and will continue to try.

Our aim is to learn what our best is, and then hold to this course; within the framework of the best available value system.

WE KNOW THAT "constancy helps", and this requires such characteristics as steadfastness, faithfulness, fidelity and loyalty.

VARIETY MAY BE the spice of life, but variability of personal behavior is not the strength of life.

If we are changeable, fickle and inconsistent; we are not going to be pleased with ourselves, and we will have trouble establishing and maintaining satisfactory and meaningful associations with other people.

If our general attitude, and manner of behavior fluctuate from the pleasant to the unpleasant; from the dependable to the undependable; from loyalty to disloyalty; our self-concept deteriorates and our interaction with others soon becomes unsuccessful.

"CONSTANCY HELPS" US in many ways, when we are being guided and controlled by the sensible and wise standards and guidelines available to us. It helps stabilize our lives, so that we become more effective and successful in what we try to do; and others will learn to respect and trust us.

These are essentials in a worthwhile life. We will also be able to develop other traits essential to a rich and personal life.

"CONSTANCY IS the complete of all other human virtues."

INCONSTANCY IS a kind of concern. It is a kind of concern about the desirability of what we do. It can make us miserably about as miserable as any bad trait, and it is a "bad" trait. Inconstancy keeps us from worthwhile goals; and prevents making any kind of satisfactory for ourselves in the social makes us untrustworthy, and an undesirable person.

"NOTHING THAT IS NOT crime makes a man appear contemptible and little in the eyes world as inconstancy."

THERE IS NO justification of constancy. There is no satisfaction; no profit; nothing helpful to us. It is very obviously of diminishing returns for the foolish enough to follow it.

INCONSTANCY MAY cause us in what we are trying to do, but we don't fail; we must double our efforts to succeed.

Inconstancy causes us to lose of what we may have gained at certain point. This loss has to be up, and this is repetition of what has been done once; and, in most cases, the lost time also causes extra and stress. Inconstancy makes losers.

"CONSTANCY HELPS" us in every way, in everything we do.

HEADLINE: "inflation stirs interest in coin collecting."—Yeah, to say nothing of the scramble for the good ol' Green-Backs!

CORNBALL BEING replaced by a mini-skirt?—'Twouldn't be surprising. But then, I'm sure about any kind of skirt would be an improvement on Turnrow!

SPEAKIN' OF MINI-skirts! That's what the female wears when she doesn't want the fellows to notice what she's wearing.

KINDA SCANNED-OVER the highlights of Phase IV, and didn't notice any increase in the ol' rate of heart-beat. Seems to have left me very unexcited. Did take note that they're keeping beef prices under the tent. Shux, the prices were so high already, I couldn't read them without turning my ol' bifocals upside down!

ANYWAY, JUST WONDERED how that could work, what with grain still up and subject to any increase that might be prone to happen.—Guess they figure it'd take too much water to drown the cows!!

At the present rate there could be an invasion on the Jack-Rabbit. Do remember the old joke, of you someone spotted a rabbit as you plains, they might say: "Gosh must be gettin' better, there's a rabbit, without anyone chasing." "Probably a reject" would answer. "Now I run along by the feel of their ribs. If they're I just let 'em go!"

ALL OF WHICH may (or, not) up an old time-passer, to wit: "I had a hen and a 'half a day and a 'half an egg and a 'half, how long will for Watergate to dry up?"

LOOKS LIKE THE Dallas Dynasty is fallin' apart. Wonder the Houston Oilers have cooked. Texans may have to change love (football-wise) to Houston. It just won't seem right to Cowboys not to be the team to the way to the Super Bowl. At an even if the cracking walls of the building could be plastered-up, already been a lot of damage. They'll have to start remodeling this will take time.

WONDER WHA' happen?

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL MACH

DESPITE LATE SPRING worries over adequate gasoline supplies, and depressing travel weather earlier in the year, attendance at the state's major attractions through May climbed 3 percent over the first five months of 1972. At the same time last year, travel was up only 1 percent.

Of the 42 representative attractions that report their monthly attendance to the Texas Tourist Development Agency, 60 percent counted more visitors so far this year than during the comparable 1972 period. It marked the first time this year that a majority of the reporting stations were up.

A WORD OF WARNING comes from the Brick Institute of Texas in reference to substandard handmade Mexican bricks. It is noted that some of these bricks will not last as long as the mortgage and many have noticed that the brick is very brittle.

One homeowner noticed that when he slammed the back door of his $35,000 home, small pieces of brick would fall off.

Don Halsell, president of the Brick Institute of Texas, states that a good layman's test as to the quality of brick—is—"If you can bite the corner off the brick, break and crumble it with your hands, cut or whittle it away with a knife, score or disfigure it with a coin, you can be sure you have a substandard handmade Mexican imported brick."

It is estimated that 2 out of 10 homeowners who read this article and own or are buying a brick home that is not over five years old, will be substandard brick.

THE AFTER EFFECTS of Watergate revelations could well silver lining. The experience Watergate should teach us toward office holders and that advocate more government every aspect of life as a remedy for every human problem. Government is made up of men are fallible in public life private life. Merely assume mantle of office, endows no superior wisdom. The old fallacy king can do no wrong was pronounced the founders of the United States to America to escape. On the we have done pretty well in this thanks in the main, to freedom and freedom of the press, lifesaving attributes of a free have time and again stripped innermost machinations of servants and the threat of authority gaining too much power our lives. This is the great Watergate, and it should not be nation whose people place a bet on individual independence.

DON'T CROSS YOUR bricks you come to them is the largest terpretation of our last so-called Dollar Phrase" quote.

IN CLOSING, "The absence coterminate with one's exalted reason for felicitation.

Former Wildcat Star Appointed Head Coach

Jerry Koller, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Koller of Littlefield, who has been associated with the Alamogordo, N.M. school system since January of 1969, has been appointed to the head baseball coach post for Alamogordo High School.

Koller is replacing Terry DeLaPorte, who recently resigned the post.

Koller began his coaching career at Chaparral Junior High School in Alamogordo in 1969 and moved to Alamogordo High School in 1970 as a teacher in the social studies department. He served as assistant baseball coach and assistant football coach that year. In the 1972-73 school year, Koller also assisted in the basketball program.

Coach Koller attended high school in Littlefield, where he starred as a halfback and defensive back for his high school football team. He was named to the all-district team and played in the Panhandle Grid Classic as fullback. He held several punting and extra point kicking records while attending Eastern New Mexico University.

While attending Western New Mexico University, where he is working on his master's degree this summer, he served as assistant football and baseball coach. He received his BA degree from WNMU in January of 1969.

Besides serving as head baseball coach in 1973-74, Koller will continue as assistant football coach as well as with teaching duties in the social studies department. Koller is married to the former Billie Lou Holder of Alamogordo. They have one son, Randy, 4, and a daughter, Brenda, 7.

"Tiger baseball hopes will be riding on his coaching," stated Supt. Travis Stovall, who made the announcement of Koller's appointment.

Incoming 4-H council members and officers will be presented, according to Jim Fields, president of the 4-H Council.

Adult leaders will meet in the REA Building Tuesday night.

BABE RUTH ALL-STARS HEADED FOR TOURNEY

The Littlefield Babe Ruth All-stars, champions of District 2, left for the West Texas State Tournament in Graham at 6:30 a.m. this morning. The 15-man team left from the Babe Ruth park in cars driven by the coaches and volunteers.

Littlefield's first game is Tuesday against the District 3 champion. As of presstime, the winner of that district was not decided, but teams from that district are Levelland, Lubbock, and Morton.

The winner of the Graham tourney will advance to a regional tournament composed of squads from several states.

While in Graham, the players will be staying with foster parents. Families in Graham agreed to take in the boys so that hotel accommodations would not be needed.

Plainview first baseman let a throw get past him. Brent Jones was caught trying to steal home mementos later on a very close call.

Plainview scored once in the second and again in the third on Littlefield fielding lapses. They rallied in the fourth after the first two batters were thrown out to score three times.

Littlefield waited until the bottom of the fifth to score again. Joe Rodriguez drew a walk, and Jones followed him with another base on balls. Garland Pierce slashed a hard grounder through the short-stop's legs that the leftfielder bobbled and then threw widely into the Plainview dugout. Rodriguez and Jones both scored. Pierce was thrown out trying to steal home for the final out.

Plainview added four insurance runs in the sixth, and the Littlefield batters went down in order.

UNDER A CLOUD OF DUST, Brent Jones of Littlefield (No. 8) is tagged by Plainview pitcher Chad Phillips while trying to steal home. Umpire Dale Weaver watches the play. Action occurred in the first inning of Littlefield's 9-3 loss to Plainview Thursday in the Little League tourney at Sudan. (Staff Photo)

"Watch out there! Easy does it! Handle that rattlesnake carefully," directed the 23-year-old curator of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation's Big Thicket Reptile Garden.

The five-and-a-half-foot long Diamondback rattled warningly as Curator Ellis Knox and Head Guide Thomas Sylvestine eased their new acquisition from its holding container into its new permanent home, a metal-rimmed glass aquarium at the East Texas Reservation.

"This truly beautiful specimen," Knox said "was brought to us by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Poole, Jr. and Milton Patschk from Austin who liked our Reptile Garden so well after their recent visit that they went back home, caught this fine West Texas native, and made a special trip back to the Reservation to personally deliver him to us."

The new addition brings to 10 the number of species of venomous snakes the Reptile Garden new exhibits, and according to the curator, "the five-and-a-half-foot beauty is really appreciated, since our only other Diamondback is just under three feet long. We needed a big one to educate our visitors as to the actual size and appearance of the full grown Western Diamondback Rattlesnake."

Although the Diamondback is not one of the snakes indigenous to the Big Thicket area, Knox believes that no collection of Texas reptiles would be complete without this legendary animal. "We also display the Gila Monster, which isn't native to Texas but lives mostly in Arizona, because it is the only known venomous lizard in the United States."

Of course, collecting, exhibiting, and lecturing on the animals native to the famous Texas Big Thicket is the specialty of the Big Thicket Reptile Garden, and today it has one of the most complete collections of Big Thicket as well as Texas reptiles in the state. Besides the 10 species of venomous snakes, including all five varieties found in the Big Thicket, the Garden also contains 20 species of non-venomous ones, as well as five species of turtles and several kinds of other reptiles including an American crocodile, and 18 American alligators, the Big Thicket's most famous native animal. "These alligators range in size from two to 12 feet and weigh anywhere from two pounds to half a ton," Knox said.

Nevertheless, the Big Thicket Reptile Garden, which is only one of the many attractions of the Indian Reservation, located 90 miles north of Houston on U.S. 190 between Livingston and Woodville, is still relatively small in comparison to the reptile facilities of many major zoos and some other tourist attractions.

"Actually, we never intend to become tremendously big, for our purposes are really quite different from those of zoos and other attractions. We not only want to exhibit the animals of Texas and entertain the tourists, we also really want to educate our guests about reptiles and help clear up many of the mistaken notions that people have about these interesting animals," Knox said.

There is no alligator wrestling at the Indians' reptile garden, for instance, because according to Knox, this is mainly just showmanship. "We do demonstrate how to put an alligator to sleep, which is essentially what the alligator wrestlers do."

Native Indian guides conduct the visitor through the garden and stop to lecture and give demonstrations at three separate locations. Lectures on turtles, on venomous and non-venomous snakes, and on alligators and crocodiles are conducted every hour on the half hour seven days a week at each of the various reptiles' architecturally pleasing homes.

"We all enjoy taking people on tours of our reptile garden and enjoy talking to them about the animals. We want to keep the garden relatively small so that we can keep up this personal interchange with our guests, and, at the same time, keep improving our facilities and animal collection to the point where the Big Thicket Reptile Garden will be recognized by zoologists and herpetologists as one of the best small reptile gardens in the Southwest," said Knox. The East Texas Reservation, which is the home of about 550 members of the Alabama and the Coushatta tribes, has just opened its summer season and has announced that all its attractions will be opened from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 12:30 to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

Other attractions at the Reservation include Big Thicket Tours, a Living Indian Village, Indian Chief Train Ride, Indian Country Historical Tour, Na-Ski-La

Indian Dances, Tribal Museum, an arts and crafts shop, Inn of the 12 Clans Restaurant, and Lake Tombigbee and Big Sandy Creek Campgrounds, both of which offer swimming and fishing, complete trailer hookups, and restrooms with hot showers.

More information may be obtained by writing Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation, Route 3, Box 640, Livingston, Texas 77351, or by calling 713-563-4391.

pest-free after the machine's treatment, sizeable increases in crop yields have been recorded in USDA tests. Hughey said cantaloupes and onions planted in zapped soil jumped their yields 35 to 60 percent over those in hand-weeded plots. Increases were even better over those raised in chemically treated soil.

Present uses call for weed control where costs per acre exceed $15. Future technology will allow use in lower cost-per-acre situations.

Zapper is a big hunk of machine and isn't something for the home yard and garden. It resembles a large combine and is 22 feet long, 8 feet wide and almost 10 feet high. The demonstration model weighs about 32,000 pounds because it is crammed full of research equipment. Engineering refinements are expected to reduce later versions to around 20,000 pounds.

Zapper's road speed is 10 miles per hour. In the field, it chugs along at a half to 4 mph, depending upon purpose and conditions. Up to 75 acres a day can be treated.

Microwave power source is a diesel generator. Electrical energy is then converted to microwave energy. Penetration ranges from the surface to 24 inches deep in the soil, and is adjustable according to conditions and needs. A variety of safety devices protect the operator.

Another Zapper demonstration was conducted Saturday. The session attracted such dignitaries as A&M President Jack K. Williams; Dr. Theodore Davis, rural loans supervisor, The World Bank; Dr. Robert Menges of Weslaco, U.S. Department of Agriculture; and George Sealy, vice president, Bechtel Corporation, San Francisco, Calif.

During the Saturday activities, Hughey presented Canadian Elected Lions International President

OAK BROOK, ILLINOIS—Tris Coffin of Montreal, Quebec, Canada, was elected President of the International Association of Lions Clubs at the Association's 56th Annual Convention in Miami Beach, Florida. The Association is the largest service club organization in the world. It is a non-political, non-sectarian association with over one million members in clubs in 149 countries and geographic areas.

An optician, Coffin has been a member of the Montreal (Central) Lions Club since 1939. He and his family reside in Rosemere, a Montreal suburb.

President Coffin's theme for his year in office will be, "One Million Men Serving Mankind". Of his new responsibilities Coffin says, "Lionism is an organization that looks beyond the horizon, that seeks out the good in every man."

Beware Of Lease Frauds In Deer Hunting Leases

Looking for a deer hunting lease for the fall? Beware.

Parks and Wildlife Department enforcement personnel have learned that Larry W. Tamplin escaped from the Sugarland Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections July 2 while serving a three-year sentence on a mail fraud conviction.

Tamplin was found guilty this year for using the mails to sell leases to some 110 unsuspecting hunters for an estimated $10,000.

Operating out of Livingston, Tamplin advertised bogus mule deer leases in Texas newspapers from July, 1971, to December, 1971.

The leases were in the Sanderson and Alpine areas of far West Texas.

Tamplin failed to produce any lease for the hunters.

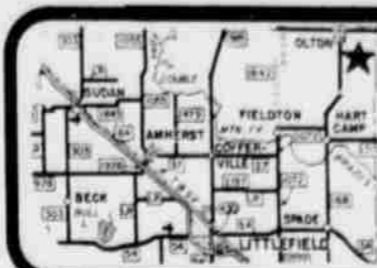

Investigation of Tamplin for mail fraud began May, 1972. He entered a guilty plea May 17, 1973, in Federal Court in Houston.

Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens Jim Wood and Bob Hall of Livingston were instrumental in bringing Tamplin to justice by tracing his whereabouts across East Texas to Austin.

Tamplin is still at large after his July 2 escape from Sugarland.

Parks and Wildlife Department law enforcement officials and other state law officers are on the lookout for him.

Although it is doubtful that Tamplin would try to revive his lucrative lease operation, lease hunters are advised to be a little more cautious in finding a place to hunt this fall.

FARM FACTS

Food Costs Less In Proportion

Food costs today actually take a smaller percentage of consumer income than they did 20 years ago. Only 16% of disposable income in the U.S. is now spent for food as compared to 23% two decades ago. In addition, today's food is of better quality, wider diversity, and safer than that anywhere else in the world.

Farm Income Below Average

Last year's net farm income is expected to average about $5,900. That means farm people earn only about three-fourths as much as non-farm workers. On an hourly wage basis, the latest figures show that factory workers earned an average $3.57 in 1971 and food marketing employees $3.24. At the same time, farmers were earning $1.68 an hour for all their labor and management.

Cotton Still No. 1 Fiber

Cotton is consumed in greater quantity than any other fiber in the U.S. Last year, its consumption was 70% greater than polyester's, twice as large as nylon's and nearly three times as much as rayon's. Market researchers attribute this to the fact that cotton has the best combination of desired qualities for the largest range of end uses.

Food Retailers

Must Acquire

Authorization

Food retailers in counties entering the Food Stamp Program will have to be authorized by the U.S. Department of Agriculture before they will be eligible to accept food stamp coupons.

This word comes from Martin D. Garber, Dallas, administrator of the West-Central regional office of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service.

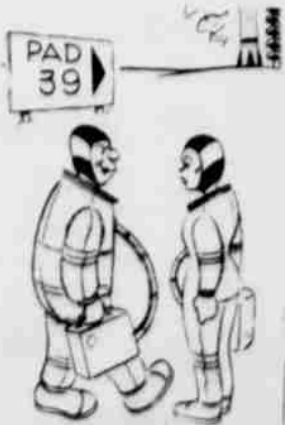

Under the Food Stamp Program, which is scheduled to be operating in all Texas counties by the end of the year, needy families are certified for the program by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Families then pay a certain amount of money, depending on income, resources and other factors, for food stamps, which they then use to purchase eligible foods at local stores authorized by USDA.

"Most grocers in a food stamp county apply for authorization," Garber stated, "since the program usually means a noticeable increase in business."

USDA will conduct meetings in advance of the start of the program in each county to acquaint grocers with the food stamp operation, Garber added. Although regulations are relatively simple, certain items cannot be bought with food stamps. These include all non-food items sold in the store, as well as most imported foods.

Grocers redeem the coupons through local banks and the Federal Reserve System.

Governor Proclaims Farm Safety Week

Not many persons died in accidental farm deaths from your county last year —not more than five in any one county in Texas.

Yet, the total number of accidental farm deaths from the 105 counties where they occurred was 183 in 1972. Hundreds more persons were injured.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed July 25-31 Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week. His proclamation is in cooperation with a statewide farm accident prevention and education program being conducted by the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America and Young Farmers of Texas.

"Accidents on Texas farms and ranches continue to take a heavy toll in spite of advances made in recent years in agricultural technology. These accidents are a great loss to the agricultural economy of our state," read the Governor's proclamation.

Governor Briscoe explained that, although the farm and ranch environment contains many hazards, experience has shown that caution, common sense, skill and protective equipment can counter these hazards and keep accidents and injuries to a minimum.

"Texas farmers and ranchers, their families and employees need to dedicate themselves to the task of safely producing the commodities needed by an entire nation. The needless waste of human economic resources caused by rural accidents is a matter of national as well as statewide concern, and The President of the United States has proclaimed the week of July 25-31, 1973, National Farm Safety Week, in order to focus attention on the problem," said Governor Briscoe.

Keeping in mind that rural residents are as susceptible to accidents off the job as they are on the job, the Governor urged a united effort to reduce home, recreational and highway accidents, as well as accidents in farm and ranch work.

Joe Smetana, vice president for farm and ranch safety of the Texas Safety Association, offered basic safety considerations for the farmer and rancher in connection with the safety week.

Taking the greatest death tolls in 1972 were drownings, 31 deaths; firearm accidents, 31 deaths; and fires and burns, 30 deaths, according to Smetana.

He suggested that farm ponds be equipped with lifesaving equipment and that

Highway Patrol

Investigates 10

Rural Wrecks

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 10 accidents on rural highways in Lamb County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons killed and four persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1973 shows a total of 51 accidents resulting in three persons killed and 26 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for June, 1973 shows a total of 539 accidents resulting in 27 persons killed and 331 persons injured as compared to June, 1972 with 529 accidents resulting in 20 persons killed and 347 persons injured. This was 30 more accidents, seven more fatalities, and 16 less injured in 1973 at the same period of time.

The 27 traffic deaths for the month of June, 1973 occurred in the following counties: Hale, eight; Swisher, four; Parker, three; Lamb, two; and Briscoe, Deaf Smith, Hutchinson, Ochiltree, Potter, Jack, Montague, Palo Pinto, Stonewall, and Wichita counties, one each.

children never be allowed to play in them alone. Fencing should be in place and repaired around tanks, cisterns and wells.

All firearms owned by the farmer and rancher should be securely stored, after a check to make sure they are unloaded. Any person allowed to use a firearm should be familiarized with its safe use and should be responsible enough to follow the rules. No firearm should be used by a fatigued person or one who has been drinking alcohol.

Hunters should check in and out and should be required to specify where they will hunt. They should wear identifiable clothing. No farm or ranch should allow too many hunters on the premises.

Precautions against fires and burns include checks of electrical wiring in buildings, appliances and machinery; elimination or proper storage of flammable materials and chemicals, and fire extinguisher availability. In addition, all lightning rods should be properly grounded. All burning should be supervised. All rural residents should have a plan of action in case of fire.

The safe operation of farm equipment was also emphasized by Smetana, who noted that 25 rural deaths last year resulted during tractor operation and 12 deaths were attributed to other farm machinery accidents. A thorough knowledge of the machines and the area where they will be used is required. The operator should have an instruction manual, which he should read and study until it is understood. Machinery should always be kept in repair.

The operator should shut off power before unclogging, adjusting or servicing the machinery. Visors, goggles and other protective equipment should always be used where necessary.

Studies of the more than 1,000 fatalities resulting from tractor accidents in the United States last year showed that six in 10 of the fatalities resulted from tractor over- turns, said the Texas Safety Association official. Because the upset problem is so serious, Smetana says upsets should be prevented where possible, and protection should be provided in case they occur.

Prevention, he said, requires knowledge of the tractor and its capabilities; knowledge of existing obstacles, steep grades and sandy or muddy areas, and alertness by the driver.

A tractor with overhead protection—protective frame or crush-resistant cab—safeguards the operator in an overturn by limiting roll to 90 degrees.

Tractors to be driven on public highways must be marked with slow moving vehicle symbols and be properly lighted, according to Texas law. Operators should be familiar with traffic laws.

Falls accounted for 18 of the rural deaths in 1972, according to Smetana, and he pointed to simple repairs as one of the best preventatives.

All ladders, stairways and floors with rotten or broken steps or boards should be repaired. Rugs and mats should be secured, and spills should be wiped immediately.

Materials, particularly heavy bales, sacks, lumber and iron, should be stored so that they will not fall on someone or trip someone, he cautioned.

Injuries may be reduced by pounding down protruding nails and removing nails from loose boards before stacking. Others may be prevented by simply moving buckets, tools or other obstacles in walkways and doorways.

Of primary importance, said Smetana, is that rural residents and workers be on the lookout for unsafe conditions. Repairs, set aside once, may be delayed until they are forgotten or overlooked.

"A hazard that has been lived with for a long time is the worst kind. Regular checks for hazards, and speedy repair, can save lives," said Smetana.

SAINFOIN IS A new grass being used to replace in portions of Lamb County. K. O. Lynn is shown in one and one-half acres of Sainfoin planted last year grazed this for 30 days from Mar. 1 to April 1, removed stock for seed production. Henry Cox Spade is another Sainfoin grower.

RAY MCKINNEY SR. checks his grain sorghum greenbugs. McKinney farms four miles south of Bula. He estimates that as much as 75 percent of farmers in that area have already sprayed for green this year.
