

PROGRAM COMPLETE

Festivities Days All Set

Lamb County and State Historical marker will be permanent fixtures at "Littlefield's Tallest Windmill" site, and the men will be responsible for the erection of the two additions. Emmett Brown, assistant foreman of Texas Highway Department (left) and Grady Trotter, maintenance foreman THD, (right) will erect the marker which will be dedicated here Aug. 28. James Rice, commander of VFW Post 4854, second from left, and Billy Smith, quartermaster of the same post, display the flag their post will donate to the site.

Plans for Littlefield's Second Annual Festivities Days are nearing completion and several organizations and individuals have begun work on "their thing" for the event.

The big two-day event, slated for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 28 and 29, will include something of interest for all age groups from the small fry to the oldest citizen in the county.

The action will begin Friday afternoon at 2:30 with a reception for distinguished guests of the windmill marker dedication ceremony, in the Lamb County Community Center.

At 3:30 p.m., the official dedication ceremony for the World's Tallest Windmill will get underway, with several state, county and local dignitaries present.

A highlight of that event will be the presentation of a U. S. flag and pole, a Texas flag and pole and the unveiling of the Texas State Historical marker. VFW Post No. 4854 will present the colors and Buck Ross and his son, Dru Ross will donate a Texas flag.

The Texas Highway Department is in charge of pouring the concrete and setting the flagpoles and marker. The marker will stand in front, the U. S. flag to the right, and the Texas flag to the left.

Following the windmill marker dedication, "We, The Women" will sponsor its Fourth Annual Sidewalk Art Festival on Phelps Avenue, with area artists invited to exhibit—free judging—their paintings and handicrafts. "We, The Women" will also provide a food booth for those who view the exhibits.

A highlight of Friday night's activities will be the choosing of a "Miss Lamb County" at 8 p.m. Eighteen Lamb County See FESTIVITIES, Page 12

EVERYONE FROM the leastest to the biggest is getting football minded as the 1970 pigskin season approaches. Little two-year-old Blake Lacey was in the crowd of interested lookers-on at the Sudan workout Tuesday evening. Blake is the son of Coach and Mrs. Tommy Lacey and was visiting with Mrs. R. A. Lacey. Lacey coached at Sudan last season and is a Hale Center coach this year. For a football preview of Littlefield and Sudan, see page 10.

MILLION INCOME $30 MILLION SALES

County Market Stronger

Lamb County proved to be a market stronger than most during the past year, according to a survey of business, industry and service.

The relative strength was shown in the rising level of income in the area and the amount of consumer spending in local retail stores.

Figures bearing this out are contained in the new, copy-righted "Survey of Buying Power" published by Sales Management.

The marketing publication presents comparable data on income and spending for communities in all parts of the country.

In Lamb County, it shows the amount of disposable money in the hands of local residents was above average.

Total net income locally, after payment of personal taxes, came to $66,263,000, as against the previous year's $65,415,000.

Just what this was equivalent to, on a per-family basis, was determined by dividing the income figure by the number of local households. It averaged out, per household, to $10,040.

This was more than the West South Central States average of $8,750 and the $9,216 in the State of Texas.

Despite the effects of inflation, which cut into the purchasing power of people in all sections of the country, local residents still had a greater amount than usual left for discretionary spending.

And, although many consumers were more hesitant than at other times in their purchasing, because of their concern over the war in Vietnam and the threat of a recession, they did spend freely enough to give local merchants a good year.

As a result, Lamb County stores were able to chalk up gross sales of $30,770,000.

Because local consumers did not spend as much as they were capable of, more of their money went into savings and into a reduction of their outstanding indebtedness.

Consequently, there is now more cash in their bank accounts and in their other reserves, readying and waiting to be used when they feel the time is right.

A University of Michigan poll shows that that time will come when uncertainties over the national economy, inflation, taxes, high interest rates and jobs begin to disappear.

Law Officers' Training Slated

Mayor Preston Smith has secured a grant of $12,016 from the South Plains Association of Governments at Lubbock, Texas, for regional law enforcement training, and from Lamb County will be used in the studies of the grant.

Classroom space in the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office, at Wayland College in Plainview and at South Plains Junior College, Levelland, will be used to conduct three classes of 160 hours each in the basic police science course.

Attending the course will be 76 officers from over the South Plains State Planning Region, which includes the counties of Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza.

Curriculum for the course is approved by the Commission of Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. The project will begin in September, and will end August 31, 1971.

The Criminal Justice Council, responsible for statewide planning, administers such grants to units of state and local government to assist them in carrying out projects for improving the criminal justice system.

3 Days Book Sale

Field Rotarians cleared an area of 150 the first four days of their book sale.

The sale continues through Friday, and there are still a number of good books to buy and books arriving each day. Those having paper back, paperback or text books they like to donate may take them to the building at 402 West 10th Street or phone the local radio station and books will be picked up by a club member.

Books are open for business each day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at their location at Sears and Mode.

There's Danger In Taking Corn

Things are pretty bad when it's dangerous to continue the southern custom of helping yourself to a big mess of roasting ears from your neighbors' corn patches.

But the danger is there this year, and it isn't from buckshot from a loaded shotgun. The bugaboo is from insecticides and there is some real danger in eating corn treated with some chemicals until the period of time specified on the label of the various sprays.

Malathion and Sevin sprays are relatively safe but such chemicals advise harvesting all edible products before spraying, applying chemicals, then, according to the product used, waiting on day to one week before picking products to eat.

Particularly dangerous to eat is corn from corn patches growing near a field of grain sorghum or cotton that has been sprayed with chemicals that goes up into the plant to kill certain kinds of chewing insects. Chemicals that are absorbed through the root system are called systemic insecticides and include the widely and commonly-used parathion, that is sprayed to kill green bugs in grain fields.

Even though a vegetable garden might not be located next to a field that has been sprayed, unless a safe distance away it could be contaminated from drifting in the wind and/or have picked up the insecticide from some irrigation tail water.

Extension service personnel advise persons not to gather corn or other vegetables without knowing whether it has been sprayed and the conditions concerning the spraying.

EIGHT PARTY telephone systems will soon be a thing of the past for Littlefield and area telephone subscribers of General Telephone. Shown working on a repeater housing box are Raymond Kelton, kneeling, and Tommy Mackey, as they splice wiring to convert the system to a four-party set up. Current plans call for completion of the project in the Littlefield area by the last of September.

PCG Directors To Be Elected

Lamb County cotton producers and agribusiness men will elect a producer-director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in a breakfast meeting called for that purpose at 7 a.m. Aug. 27 in the Crescent House Restaurant in Littlefield.

Announcement of the meeting comes from Paul Bennett, businessman director of the 25-county commodity organization, and J. D. Smith, current producer-director.

Both farmers and businessmen are eligible to participate in the election of PCG directors.

Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a cotton producer and the other a businessman. They serve two year terms, with businessmen-directors elected on odd years and producer-directors on even years.

In addition to the election, the meeting will include a report from the PCG staff on the status of farm legislation in Washington. "There is nothing on cotton's horizon right now of greater importance than getting a cotton program passed," Smith stated, "and every cotton-minded person in Lamb County should be vitally interested in what his cotton organization on the Plains is doing in that regard."

Also urging that all interested people be on hand for the meeting, Bennett said "Directors to PCG are the men who determine the organization's policy on legislation, research, promotion, finances and other matters which play a big part in determining the future of Lamb County's economy."

Auto Crashes Into Pole, 3 Injured

Three persons were injured Sunday night in a one-car crash with a utility pole on Littlefield Drive, south of East Seventh.

Injured were the driver, J. R. Harrell of Littlefield, Rene Kierce of Littlefield, and Billy Hanks of Littlefield.

Harrell was driving a 1964 Chevrolet southward on LFD Drive, when Harrell lost control of the vehicle. It skidded 80 feet across the curb and struck and splintered a Southwestern Public Service utility pole.

Rene Kierce was taken to Littlefield Hospital by a friend, and she is being treated for hip injuries.

Harrell was taken to Medical Arts Hospital by Hammons ambulance and was dismissed Monday.

Billy Hanks is still in Medical Arts Hospital with a cast on his leg.

About $650 in damages resulted to the Chevrolet and $400 to the utility pole.

Theft, Vandalism Are Investigated

City police are investigating a theft and vandalism case, which was reported by T. L. Timmons at State Line Irrigation.

Timmons reported that someone had taken a ratchet, socket and assorted wrenches from his place of business, and that two boomers had been broken.

installation of a four-way see-saw on the Elementary school ground, during their regular meeting Tuesday.

Marge Anzeline reported that the clean-up project on the old building at Delano and LFD Drive "is coming along fine" and current plans call for painting the walls which remain.

Mrs. Anzeline applauded Mayor J. E. Chisholm and a city crew which worked to pick up debris from the site. She reported that Fire Chief Leon Durham had promised to wash down the cement, that Higginbotham Bartlett Lumber Co. had donated lumber and nails to patch the existing walls, and Coca Cola had volunteered to paint the walls, along with their company sign.

Further painting will include a mural-type painting of a fake building front with shrubbery. Janice Aaron, chairman of the projects committee, reported that a four-way see-saw was to be placed on the school grounds, to be shared by second and third grade students. The projects committee met with Superintendent Paul I. Jones and Principal James Settle and they decided that equipment would be best suitable for the children.

Betty Hodges made a report on progress of the windmill marker dedication program. She reported that Billy Wayne Clayton, state representative, would not be able to attend the dedication because of a busy schedule.

Members decided to decorate the windmill tower with red, white and blue streamers and place greenery at the base of the windmill.

Kay Yeager was named chairman of the food committee for the food booth at the Sidewalk Art Festival. She has already begun her list of food to be donated by the members for the booth.

Betty Kehoe reported on progress of the float, and requested suggestions on a choice for the theme. Members discussed whether to use the winning artists in the Art Festival on a float, or whether to use "Back to We, The Women from the summer" theme. No decision was made, pending further checking on several points.

Guests for the day were Regina Macha and Robbie Pass. Hostesses were Louise Bennett and Juanita Howard.

Sunshine Side

RECENTLY WE TALKED about how pessimism begets pessimism and can cause physical illness and economic recession.

A smile is contagious, also. Optimism begets optimism. President Nixon has asked us of the news media to give more attention to what's right about our nation and its prospects.

I'll second that notion.

IN THE NEWS MEDIA we necessarily preoccupy ourselves with what's wrong. As the coach looking at the films of last week's game concentrates on mistakes, we hope to help our contemporaries recover their fumbles.

But constant preoccupation with what's wrong distorts the whole picture of our country and its prospects, tends to discourage young people. Little wonder some of them start looking around for some other -ism which is not always apologizing for itself.

SO TODAY WE'RE GOING to examine the credit side of the ledger.

Acknowledging the existence of a dead-end war, malignant inflation, increasing crime and erosion of our environment--

Acknowledging that much is wrong and must be made right--

LET'S COUNT our blessings: We're not out of Indochina but we are getting out. And in the infi-nately more sensitive situation in the Middle East, prospects for peace are improved and improving. Our economy is in recession but--it's upturning.

CONSTRUCTION SPENDING, after three months of decline, increased last month.

Planned construction hit a two-year low this spring, but was up 9 per cent last month.

Bankruptcy of the Penn Central sobered speculators; they needed sobering.

THE STOCK MARKET is a long way from its highs of recent years--but you and I know these bull market prices were more collar than beer. The consolidation now under way is building a foundation for a responsible rally.

Profits have increased every month since April.

Average family income in the United States now tops $9,430.

CORRESPONDINGLY, our nation's percentage of admittedly "poor" people continues to decline.

The hot summer most cities feared most cities were spared.

Lower draft calls will help ease student uncertainties this fall. Also there is an increasing awareness among responsible students that they've been "used" by some irresponsible mercenaries.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Subsidy Plan

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes out with a bold new plan this week to aid farmers. He's a farmer)

Dear editor:

According to all the newspapers that have turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm lately, the annual squabble is now going on in Congress over government payments to farmers, some people wanting to limit payments more, others wanting to wipe them out completely.

Personally I have never objected to paying farmers for not growing anything, we pay Congressmen and Legislators for not passing bills, don't we, but since the idea rubs some city people the wrong way I have worked out a new idea that ought to satisfy everybody.

Instead of paying us farmers for not producing certain things the government would instead pay us for producing something every city man can't get enough of.

And what's that? It's OXYGEN.

Everybody knows that the average city doesn't produce a fraction of the oxygen it needs. Paved streets and crowded tall buildings just don't produce the stuff. Let the wind stop blowing and a mass of dead air settle over a city like New York say and in 30 minutes the people are choking for air. It gets so bad doctors urge the people not to exercise and parents, lest they use up more oxygen than the room has to spare, are afraid to shout at their children.

Where would the cities be without us oxygen-producing farmers? It's something they've never thought about.

Why I've had city people come out here to this Johnson grass farm and criticize the amount of weeds on the place, little knowing in their ignorance that one acre of my weeds might be the margin between their breathing and kicking the bucket. All right. Cut out all the subsidies to farmers, everybody knows food now comes from the supermarket anyhow, but pay them for supplying oxygen to a short-winded nation.

I don't know how the Agriculture Department will figure the price, but I know this one Johnson grass farm produces enough oxygen for at least 25 city blocks, and depending on the city, that's anywhere from 1000 people to 50,000. Call it 25,000 in round numbers. Any city man in his right mind would pay a dollar a year for his oxygen and that comes to, let's see, $25,000 a year. In advance, of course. With their crime rate, too many of them aren't good credit risks.

And I'll guarantee to deliver this oxygen to them via upper air currents in its original, pure, breathable state. What they do with it after it crosses their city limits is none of my affair.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Where's Our Respect

A NEWS DISPATCH from Russia, telling of a government crackdown on loafers, should make us catch our breath in sudden realization of the contrast that is overtaking us here in America.

THE NEW Russian law, applicable to everyone, provides a penalty of one year in prison for "malicious refusal" to work, and two years in prison for a second offense.

The penalty is twice as severe for vagrancy and begging.

Conceivably, Ivan could get wealthy by scrimping and saving, or by surreptitiously begging or stealing, but for all his rubles he wouldn't be able to buy his own leisure. His friends or relatives would turn him in.

THUS COMMUNISM now deals with "the parasitic way of life." Formerly the parasites were just banished to less desirable parts of the country, but few of them reformed, so sterner measures are being taken to make everyone "socially useful".

In America, meanwhile, the work ethic has become something for the dodo birds.

IN 31 STATES not even the right to work is protected by law for those who don't join labor unions.

A move is being made in the direction of a guaranteed annual income which would remove the necessity to work for those willing to live just above the so-called poverty level.

AND WHEN A STRIKE call comes, there often is no practical possibility of working, even for those in governmental or other jobs vital to the public welfare.

Our teachers, policemen, firemen, postmen, garbage collectors, nurses and transit workers are apt to leave us in the lurch.

Industrial workers sometimes walk off in violation of no-strike agreements. Unions build up big strike funds before they decide what their demands will be, or learn what the company will offer.

IN MANY WAYS, the old work pride is gone.

This is the way we drift, while Russians are toughened up under a work-or-prison law. It should make us wonder where we'll stand vis-a-vis Russia in productive output 20 years from now.

OUR PERSONAL POSSESSIONS are guarded with the greatest diligence. Our houses, our cars, our clothing, our money, our livestock, and other things are important to us, and, consequently, we are diligent in guarding them.

We not only guard them in the sense of protecting them; we also guard them by giving them the very best care. This is the way we should feel and act.

OUR PHYSICAL well-being is important to us, too. We have a strong feeling of self-preservation.

We want to live, and, in this desire, we are being as we were created to be. We are concerned about our health, and most of us guard it carefully.

THERE IS SOME carelessness, and some self-indulgence, but most people have a strong feeling of wholesome interest in their physical well-being. We should be on guard.

OUR MENTAL WELL-BEING is not as easily guarded. This is probably because the need for guarding it is not as obvious.

It is probably easier to guard than personal possessions and our physical well-being. All available information indicates that there is greater reason for being constantly on guard in this area.

"Keep (guard) the heart (mind) with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life."-Bible. If we fail to guard the mind, we are moving toward trouble and regret.

OUR SPIRITUAL well-being is more important than anything else. If what we hear and see is accurate, many people do not think that there is anything to guard in this phase of one's life.

Perhaps the need is not as easily identified. Nevertheless, it is identifiable; it is very important; and it must be guarded with the utmost alertness.

OUR SOCIAL WELL-BEING must be guarded, too.

Life is, to a great extent, what we make it. Of course, we may like to think otherwise in order to relieve ourselves from certain responsibilities; but such a philosophy is completely out of harmony with established evidence.

It seems easy for some folk to adopt the view that they have no control over what happens to them. This is a very harmful conclusion because it helps to destroy one's sense of responsibility for personal behavior. It often takes away the basis for hope of more acceptable living.

SOME THINGS beyond our control will touch our lives, but we can control our reaction to these happenings.

If we stay alert, and remain on guard; we can establish and maintain the kind of life we desire.

IN CHOOSING THE manner of life which is most desirable, and in order to maintain such a life, we must be on guard; we must be vigilant.

If we stay on guard, and are well informed in the general areas of human behavior, we will be able to recognize, and handle wisely, the beginnings of the situations which might cause trouble for us.

Here is the principle: "The beginning of strife is like letting out water; so quit before the quarrel breaks out."-Bible.

WE ARE RESPONSIBLE for our choices and our behavior, and must, therefore, be on guard against the initial happenings which might develop into unsatisfactory or hopeless situations.

Be on guard.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Grandpa Hanks

By PEARL BRANDON

IN THE LITTLE Sunnydale community lived one of the kindest men I ever knew.

He was Grandpa Hanks. He was an old man when we came to this small community in the depression days. At that time it was just a farming community with everybody struggling to make a living.

THERE WAS NO gathering place until the neighbors and built a small community house. We had a non-denominational Sunday school, literary programs, box suppers, big Sunday basket dinners, candidate speakings and all kinds of community get-togethers.

We really had fun but as always in a community of this kind there is a certain amount of bickering and hurt feelings. Grandpa Hanks always tried to keep everybody happy.

IF SOMEONE was cross-ways or had their feelings hurt, Grandpa Hanks would be especially nice to them. He would meet them at the door, shake their hand or sit by them in church or ask them to lead a song. You couldn't stay angry around Grandpa Hanks.

Grandpa always had a large number of stories to tell and old poems to recite. He was once undersheriff in Oklahoma where he came from and never tired of telling about his experiences there.

GRANDPA HANKS was a direct descendent of the Nancy Hanks family who was the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

HE WAS THE inspiration for writing the poem, "Uncle John."

UNCLE JOHN Uncle John has gone and left us Bidding us goodbye today; Laying there so calm and peaceful.

SHOULD CHURCHES "mind their own business?"

That question occurs more frequently during troubled times in our national life.

A 1968 GALLUP POLL report on "Should Churches Stick to Religion?" stated that the number of people who believed churches should keep out of social and political questions had risen since 1957 from 44 per cent to 53 per cent.

The number who think that churches should express their views on social and political questions has decreased from 47 per cent to 40 per cent.

WITH THE RISING TIDE OF American opinion that churchmen have been too active in controversial issues facing the society, there is a paradoxical parallel of opinion that churches are losing their influence in society.

The question centers in what the business of the churches is supposed to be.

THERE IS LITTLE question that a major responsibility of churches is to bring men the message of how to find God. The Christian Gospel does promise to heal the broken hearted.

Harried Americans should have a place and time to withdraw from the pressures and tensions of life to gain some internal perspective and to be touched by the eternal power.

AS ONE CYNICALLY disappointed newsmen said, "There ought to be something going on at a church that only God can do."

The church which misses its primary function of leading men to life-changing encounters with God is certainly not minding its business.

ON THE OTHER HAND, application of the principles that God re-

Smiling in the same old way

How the whole town's going miss him, There are tears in every eye For in all our joy and sorrow Uncle John was always high.

Like the time I was a preacher On my porch one weary night Wondering why my Sue and Jim Always do forget to write.

When I heard him as he was coming Down the side walk kind of slow I dried my eyes right quick But he saw me, now I know

For he said, "Why, howdy Aunt I'm not feeling at my best, So if you don't mind I'll sit here On your steps a mite and rest."

Then he asked about my chickens About my flowers and garden, Then he said, "Now ain't that glorious About your Jim and Mary Sue"

"How they went up to the country just a country girl and boy And they are climbing up a ladder

It simply gives this old heart joy

Then he said, "I'm kind of tired So I guess I'll mosey on," But I had forgot my pining Since I'd talked with Uncle John

Thus we had grown to lean on him

Though he was old and bent with years,

For we knew he was always sharp In our joys and hopes and fears

Now tomorrow we'll be parted Our last respects to Uncle John But his memory will keep on living In our hearts, just on and on

DOWN TO EARTH

Mind Business?

By JIMMY R. ALLEN

vealed in Jesus Christ is also business of the churches.

It is naive to believe that we will automatically understand how to implement their faith in personal and community behavior. We seek help from the community of Christians in applying the principles of Christ to complex problems of business ethics, economic and racial justice and other moral issues.

ONE OF THE complicating factors is a mistaken tendency on the part of some churchmen to solve a problem in the only "Christian" method of doing it.

No single political or economic philosophy exists for Christians. Many factors enter into one's political and economic ideas, in addition to his religious insights. The idea must come under the inspiration of Christian conscience in asking what this program does to persons.

SINCE CHRIST died for every man, the highest priority of value is placed on the person. A church should indeed mind its own business. Its business is to bring the life of Christian idealism into every area of life.

The prophet Nathan in ancient Israel minded his own business by saying to King David about his sin: "Thou art the man."

IN THE PALACE at Versailles the preacher to the court of King Louis XIV of France, Bourdaloue, minded his own business by saying to the King, "Thou art the man." And churchmen today should mind their own business.

IF THIS MEANS calling into account a president or a governor, a legislator or a mayor or a program, the task of churches is to stand for what they see is right with courage, conviction, and common sense.

Draft Call Up For September September draft call for Texas is 704--a considerable increase from 560 in August. But no man will be ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 195. Col. Charles M. Duncan, deputy state Selective Service director, said it appears unlikely the ceiling will go higher than 195 for the rest of the year. Duncan said new manpower, mainly from formerly-deferred students, helped hold the level on sequence numbers. Texas' induction quota of 704 is the state's share of a national call of 12,000 men, all for the Army.

(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court. (8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before a hearing to the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission. (9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary." (11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section is remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed. (12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal. (13) This Section 1-A is alternative to and cumulative of the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution." Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

Wildcats Set Sights Higher In '70

13 Lettermen Among Prospects

If you wanted to describe the 1970 version of Littlefield's Wildcats in a word, it probably would be "hungry."

And it probably could be taken in more than one way.

The Cats, numbering about 80 who have reported for two-a-days which started Monday, are starving for victory after three straight years with 3-7 records.

And with the drop from Class AAA to AA, Coach Deverelle Lewis and his staff have their sights set much higher this fall.

The workouts have been fast-paced, with emphasis on conditioning and agility thus far, and some of the big boys probably have been hitting the dinner table pretty hungry, too.

The one big deficit facing the Wildcats this year is a lack of experience, although the team returns 13 lettermen.

Only two offensive starters HB Ralph Funk, 190 pound junior, and Chuck Blevins, 160-pound junior guard, are back from last year's team.

Three defensive starters return. They are Nose Guard Larry Purdy, 145-pound senior; Linebacker Danny Estrada, 220-pound junior; and Keith Sitton, 145-pound defensive back.

The other eight returning lettermen in the fold are Lynn Barton and Wendell Horn, 145-pound senior quarterback candidates; Don Hemphill, 145-pound senior halfback; Wayne Streety, 180-pound senior center; Brad Nace, 200-pound junior center-tackle; Bill Orr, 150-pound senior guard; Kenny Pratt, 195-pound junior tackle; and Kim Hill, 170-pound senior end.

There's a lot of beef in several boys who are out this year, and if they deliver, "we could have lots of size," Coach Lewis says.

He's speaking of some boys who top the 200-pound mark easily, but who have had no previous experience. Among them are Calvin Kilby, who will play at about 260 pounds; Pat Boone, another prospect who will go 210 or better; and Buddy Witcher, who's about the same size.

As for speed, Coach Lewis has track springer, Leonard Huey, who has gone 10.1 in the hundred; and End Leroy Danfor, only a step slower; and Funk, who's also okay in the get-along.

Team speed, however, probably will be no more than average, and the Cats will have to depend on quickness to cope with some of the speed-burners they'll be facing this year in District 3-AA.

Coach Lewis will gear his offense this year mainly on a running game, with play action passes designed to open things up when the going get sticky on the ground.

"Most of the polls have us picked about third," said Lewis, "but I can guarantee you, our boys and our coaches are after more than that."

The first week's schedule calls for two-a-day workouts to end Friday, with school starting next week.

Scrimmages are planned at Tahoka the afternoon of Aug. 28 and here against Muleshoe at 7 p.m. Sept. 4.

Opening game is at Crosbyton, Sept. 11.

Coach Lewis has about 95 boys signed up for football, but several had not reported to the first two days' workouts.

The following is a roster of boys working out for the varsity at this time. They number 42, but only 36 will be carried when the season starts.

The "X" stands for returning letterman and "XXOF" or "XXD" stand for returning starters, offense or defense:

VETERAN LINEMEN MAKE STRONG SUDAN DEFENSE

12 Regulars Returning To Hornet Nest

Sudan lost its starting backfield with the graduation of seven seniors, but Coach Bill Adams hopes to offset this loss with a crop of seasoned linemen.

If Sudan's backfield is its weak point, then certainly the veteran linemen will come on strong in the revamped District 3-A where anything might happen.

Coaches in the district have picked Springlake, Vega, Kress and Farwell in that order in the reorganized district, then Sudan, Bovina, Happy, and Hart. But after years of unbalance in 3-A, this year there seems to be exceptional balance. And if Sudan gets its backfield clicking and stingers unheated, the Hornets will be a contending team and one to watch.

This is Adams' first year as head coach and his fourth year at Sudan, where the Hornets have established a winning tradition of several years' standing.

New coaching blood is added with the addition of James Farmer, who coached at Carrizo Springs last year, and David Ray, just out of Texas Tech.

The Hornets finished the 1969-70 season with a 7-3 record, and so did favored Springlake-Earth.

Telling tales will be told for the Hornets early this season when the Hornets find themselves nose guard to nose guard Sept. 25 with strong Seagraves, then are pitted against the big Springlake-Earth Wolverines the following week.

With 12 returning lettermen in the nest, the Black and Gold plan to uphold their winning legacy, and this crew of quality trenchmen will be highlighted by Randy Glover. Glover will start both ways and will add strength to the line as tight end. This 6' 1", 176-pound senior is also a great blocker and was named on the honorable mention all-district defensive team last season.

Roger Bellar, 5' 9", 155 junior, will match Glover's savvy position. Bellar saw action last year as an offensive end. Roger follows in the footsteps of brothers Mike and Jerry. Roger is one of the fastest Hornets, and is a sticky-handed receiver.

Another end, Dennis West, is a 6' 2", 150-pound senior with good hands. He is a fine blocker also.

Allen Roberts will play tackle and start offensively and defensively. Roberts is a 6' 1", 184 pound senior. Big and strong, Roberts, Eugene Lopez and Gerald Chisholm are expected to add plenty of muscle to the Hornet line.

Lopez and Chisholm will add interior strength. Lopez is a 198-pound, 5' 10" junior, a good blocker and tackle. Chisholm not only has good size, but good speed. This 6' 3", 205 senior will start both ways.

Larry May and Johnny King bring past seasons of experience to the line. May, 5' 10", 162 senior, will go both ways as offensive guard and defensive end. King is one of three Hornet captains. A 5' 11", 175 senior, he saw action as center last season. He has good speed and is considered an excellent blocker.

The backfield summons David Weaver as its tried and fast veteran. Weaver played half back and linebacker last year and is considered a speedy, all-around athlete. He is a 6' 2", 175 senior and has lettered every year.

Another senior, Gregory McNabb, made honorable mention defensive half back last year. One of the Hornet captains, this 5' 10", 158-pounder brings good quickness to the backfield.

Fullback is nailed down by Steve Edwards, a 5' 10", 176 senior with good speed. Edwards played guard last year and made all-district nose man. Edwards moves back to strengthen the backfield this season, and promises to be a good ball handler.

Two Hornets will share quarterback duties. Offering depth to this position are Bo Lance, a 6' 1", 160 junior who saw some action as quarterback last year, and Kim Ingram a newcomer to watch. Ingram played on the B team last year and will push Lance for his position. Both will play on defense and both show potential at the man-under post.

Another newcomer to watch is Gary Edwards, a sophomore guard who weighs in at 160.

Forty-two Hornets are reporting for the two-a-day workouts. Coach Adams said any lack of experience will be covered up with the good attitude shown by the team.

Coach Adams expects to continue Sudan's victory parade with his core of inspired seniors backed up by the willing underclassmen. Although somewhat thinner than last year, the Hornets are too familiar with the taste of success to be discounted as genuine contenders in 1970.

SUDAN SPORTS A seasoned line for 1970. Linemen who make a defense that will be hard to penetrate include Johnny King, Allen Roberts, Gerald Chisholm, Larry May and Eugene Lopez, standing, and kneeling, Gary Edwards, David Hawk, Ronnie Gilbert and Carl Burnett.

Mark Twain's Story
OF THE
READING SPIDER

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri newspaper. One day he got a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asked if this was an omen of good luck or bad luck.

Twain wrote: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good luck nor bad. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

You will find no spider webs across the doors of the merchants who advertise in your local newspaper.

LINDA WADE and Mrs. J. E. Wade look over a program for a youth rally they are attending in New York this week in a gathering of Lutheran youth from all over the U. S.

Two From Whitharral At N.Y. Convention

A Whitharral senior girl, Linda Wade, and her mother, Mrs. J. E. Wade, are in New York City where the whole city is the "stage," and Madison Square Garden is the "back stage"—a place for regrouping, and for getting "cues" in one of the most unorthodox conventions of church youth ever to hit the great metropolis.

It is the triennial gathering of the Luther League of the American Lutheran Church. Mostly high school age youth, the youth come from all sections of the nation to the convention with the theme, "And we say we care."

Emphasis is on care for the world. Care for the city of New York is the first order of business during the daily "Morning in the City" sessions. The youth are encouraged to find and to study the "caretakers of New York"—meaning street cleaners, window washers, park attendants, subway attendants, welfare workers, (religious and secular) and hundreds of others. The youth are making their own convention as they arrive.

They are living in 10 mid-town hotels, clustered in groups of no more than nine, each with its own adult counselor—boys and girls grouped separately. Mrs. Wade is the counselor for four of the girls. Each group is free to plan its own "morning in the city," choosing from activities ranging from day care centers in Harlem to Staten Island, the bowery and the New York Stock Exchange.

Simple sight-seeing, tourist style, is not contemplated. Participants will give "care for the world" attention at afternoon and evening programs in Madison Square Garden, with most of the planning for the unusual convention being done by the youth leaders themselves.

beauties have entered the Pageant, sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Closing out activities for the first day will be the huge teen street dance on Phelps Avenue. A block of the street will be roped off and music will be "piped in" for the entertainment.

A full day is planned for Saturday.

A 4-H play day will start the fast pace of the day, beginning at 10 a.m. at the play day arena, located near the Little League baseball park. Several riding events will be featured.

The small tykes will be "showing their stuff" at 1 p.m. in a bicycle-tricycle contest at Laguna Park.

According to Buck Ross, parade chairman, a new twist is being added to this year's downtown parade. A "Freedom Train," to be made up of an engine, 15 cars, and a cabooses, will be included in the floats.

Those who are sponsoring a car on the train are: Luce-Nelson Implement, J. I. Case Co., Tide Chemicals, Gulf Oil, Texaco, Inc., Conoco Oil, Byers Grain and Seed, Rodgers Furniture, Chisholm Floral, Stacy Mason Furniture, David Thompson, Ware's Department Store, Nelson's Hardware, Lamb County Leader-News, and the Buck and Dru Rosses.

Others who are planning floats are Lamb County Pioneers, "We, The Women", Rainbow Girls, and Circle Eight Square Dance Club.

Boy Scouts will march in the parade and carry flags.

Bands to participate include the Reese Air Force Base Band, the Littlefield High School band, the Whitharral band, and possibly three or four others who have not verified their participation.

Plaques and trophies will be awarded by Buck Ross to the winners in the band and float division, immediately following the parade on the stage to be set up in front of the courthouse.

The band contest will get underway at 4 p.m. in front of the courthouse.

Youth contests will be held in Laguna Park at 4 p.m., and beginning at 5 p.m., the West

"The Missing Day"

This clipping "The Missing Day," concerns a missing day in time discovered and related by Harold Hill, president of the Curtis Engine Company in Baltimore, and a consultant in the space program.

Mr. Hill stated that he thought one of the most amazing things that God has for us today happened to our astronauts and space scientists at Green Belt, Md. They were trying to determine the position of the sun, moon and planets 100 years and 1,000 year from now. In order to do this, they had to plot the orbits through past centuries.

They ran the computer measurement back and forth over the centuries and suddenly it came to a halt. The computer signaled that there was something wrong either with the information fed into it or with the results compared to the standards. They called in the service department to check it out and found nothing technically wrong. The computer still came out that a day was missing in space in elapsed time. The scientists were dumfounded. There was no answer.

One of them remembered a reference to the sun standing still in the Bible. Upon checking they found in the Book of Joshua a pretty "ridiculous" statement for anybody who has "common sense."

According to the Scripture, Joshua was concerned because he was surrounded by the enemy and if darkness fell they would overpower him, so Joshua asked the Lord to make the sun stand still.

They checked the computers going back to the time it was written and found it was close but not close enough. The elapsed time that was missing back in Joshua's day was 23 hours and 20 minutes. . . not a whole day. They again read the passage and there it said "About (approximately) a whole day." This still did not account for the other missing 40 minutes.

The 40 minutes had to be found because in projecting spacial orbits it would be multiplied many times over. Again, man remembered somewhere in the Bible that it said the sun went backwards. In 2nd Kings, Chapter 20, Hezekiah, on his death bed, was visited by the prophet Isaiah who told him that he was not going to die.

Hezekiah did not believe him and asked for sign as proof. Isaiah said "shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?"

Hezekiah replied, "It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees; nay, but let the shadow return backward ten degrees" (2nd Kings 20:9-10). Ten degrees is exactly 40 minutes!

Twenty-three hours and twenty minutes in Joshua, plus 40 minutes in 2nd Kings make the missing 24 hours the space travelers had to log in the log book as being the missing day in the universe.

"So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day" (Joshua 10:13). There was the missing day!

Texas Liars Contest will be held in front of the courthouse. A string music festival and contest will get underway at 5:30 at the Community Center, followed by a variety show at 6:30.

The drawing for the new 1970 Oldsmobile to be given away will begin at 8 p.m. in front of the courthouse. Buck Ross says he's going to see a woman in half just prior to the drawing, so some excitement will accompany the drawing.

Activities Jelling For 14th Field Day

Activities are beginning to jell for the 14th Annual Field Days and Farm Equipment Show to be conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation, Sept. 10-12.

As usual, area residents are cooperating in efforts to present one of the best research farm showings ever.

Presenting exhibits of agricultural information and ideas will include members of Women's Cotton Promotion Clubs with a display of some of the latest styles in cotton clothing.

Other exhibits will include sewing and cooking hints from the Hale County Home Demonstration Council and special displays sponsored by the Hale County Noxious Weed Control District, Hale County Farmers Home Administration Service and the Hale County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Water, Inc. also has been invited to exhibit its program on supplemental water.

The Field Day activities feature guided tours through research plots and a speaker on opening day.

Highlighting the event will be a three-day farm equipment show featuring the latest farming equipment by some of the top agricultural equipment manufacturers in the area.

According to Dr. Tom Leucker, director, the field is shaping up as a top attraction. "We feel confident of our cooperation with the Farm View Chamber of Commerce in this Farm Equipment Show promote one of this year's best attractions," he said.

Observers of Field Day activities annually come from over the area. Longspee pointed out that many of the attending are "flying farmers." "As in the past, Hale County Farm Bureau volunteered its services to make sure that farmers and other persons flying in to attend Field Day activities transportation to the Research farm at Halfway," he said.

Pickup Truck In Collision County Official Jail 5 This Week

Beauford Allen Fowler of Littlefield was driving a 1967 Chevrolet pickup on U.S. 84 Monday afternoon when he was hit from behind by an Allied Van Lines' 1967 Mack truck-trailer.

The accident occurred two and one-half miles east of Littlefield near the Norman Emfinger farm. After the front of the truck hit the back of the pickup, Fowler's vehicle went into a bar ditch, across a county road and into the Emfinger yard. The pickup traveled about 600 feet after the impact and in the process tore down three evergreen trees, around the Emfinger home.

Willard Crawford Jr. of Albuquerque was driving the semi-truck.

Highway Patrolman Weldon Parson investigated the wreck and estimated damages of $750 to the truck and $1,000 to the pickup. There were no personal injuries.

Juan Villarreal, a 21-year-old Littlefield man, was picked up on a warrant from Lubbock on a rape charge. He has been released to Lubbock authorities.

Two have been jailed on charges of check law violation. Claudio C. Lopez Jr. of Littlefield was fined $200 plus cost and given 15 days in jail after being arrested Monday. Frank Stratton of Littlefield was arrested Tuesday on a warrant from Pampa and was released the same day on a $500 bond.

Festivities Days All Set

FLAG and State Historical marker will be permanent fixtures at "Littlefield's Tallest Windmill" site, and men will be responsible for the erection of the two additions. Emmett Brown, assistant foreman of the Texas Highway Department (left) and Grady Trotter, maintenance foreman THD, (right) will erect the marker which will be dedicated here Aug. 28. James Rice, commander of VFW Post 4854, second from left, Billy Smith, quartermaster of the same post, display the flag their post will donate to the site.

Plans for Littlefield's Second Annual Festivities Days are nearing completion and several organizations and individuals have begun work on "their thing" for the event.

The big two-day event, slated for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 28 and 29, will include something of interest for all age groups from the small fry to the oldest citizen in the county.

The action will begin Friday afternoon at 2:30 with a reception for distinguished guests of the windmill marker dedication ceremony, in the Lamb County Community Center.

At 3:30 p.m., the official dedication ceremony for the World's Tallest Windmill will get underway, with several state, county and local dignitaries present.

A highlight of that event will be the presentation of a U. S. flag and pole, a Texas flag and pole and the unveiling of the Texas State Historical marker.

VFW Post No. 4854 will present the colors and Buck Ross and his son, Dru Ross will donate a Texas flag.

The Texas Highway Department is in charge of pouring the concrete and setting the flagpoles and marker. The marker will stand in front, the U. S. flag to the right, and the Texas flag to the left.

Following the windmill marker dedication, "We, The Women" will sponsor its Fourth Annual Sidewalk Art Festival on Phelps Avenue, with area artists invited to exhibit--for judging--their paintings and handcrafts. "We, The Women" will also provide a food booth for those who view the exhibits.

A highlight of Friday night's activities will be the choosing of a "Miss Lamb County" at 8 p.m. Eighteen Lamb County

5 MILLION INCOME

$30 MILLION SALES

County Market Stronger

Lamb County proved to be a market that most during the past year, according to a survey of business, industry and service.

The relative strength was shown in the rising level of income in the area and the amount of consumer spending in local retail stores.

Figures bearing this out are contained in the new, copy-righted "Survey of Buying Power" issued by Sales Management, the marketing publication. It presents comparable data on income and spending for communities in all parts of the country.

In Lamb County, it shows, the amount of disposable money in the hands of local residents was above average.

Total net income locally, after payment of personal taxes, came to $66,263,000, as against the previous year's $65,415,000.

Just what this was equivalent to, on a per-family basis, was determined by dividing the income figure by the number of local households. It averaged out, per household, to $10,040.

This was more than the West South Central States average of $8,750 and the $9,216 in the State of Texas.

Despite the effects of inflation, which cut into the purchasing power of people in all sections of the country, local residents still had a greater amount than usual left for discretionary spending.

And, although many consumers were more hesitant than at other times in their purchasing, because of their concern over the war in Vietnam and the threat of a recession, they did spend freely enough to give local merchants a good year.

As a result, Lamb County stores were able to chalk up gross sales of $30,770,000.

Because local consumers did not spend as much as they were capable of, more of their money went into savings and into a reduction of their outstanding indebtedness.

Consequently, there is now more cash in their bank accounts and in their other reserves, ready and waiting to be used when they feel the time is right.

A University of Michigan poll shows that that time will come when uncertainties over the national economy, inflation, taxes, high interest rates and jobs begin to disappear.

There's Danger In Taking Corn

Things are pretty bad when it's dangerous to continue the southern custom of helping yourself to a big mess of roasting ears from your neighbors' corn patches.

But the danger is there this year, and it isn't from buckshot from a loaded shotgun. The bugaboo is from insecticides and there is some real danger in eating corn treated with some chemicals until the period of time specified on the label of the various sprays.

Malathion and Sevin sprays are relatively safe but such chemicals advise harvesting all edible products before spraying, applying chemicals, then, according to the product used, waiting on day to one week before picking products to eat.

Particularly dangerous to eat is corn from corn patches growing near a field of grain sorghum or cotton that has been sprayed with chemicals that goes up into the plant to kill certain kinds of chewing insects. Chemicals that are absorbed through the root system are called systemic insecticides and include the widely and commonly-used parathion, that is sprayed to kill green bugs in grain fields.

Even though a vegetable garden might not be located next to a field that has been sprayed, unless a safe distance away it could be contaminated from drifting in the wind and/or have picked up the insecticide from some irrigation tail water.

Extension service personnel advise persons not to gather corn or other vegetables without knowing whether it has been sprayed and the conditions concerning the spraying.

Law Officers' Training Slated

Former Preston Smith has recommended by the Council at its regular monthly meeting. The 29 grants totaled $733,575.

Judge Joe Frazier Brown, executive director of the council, said the South Plains Association will employ a law enforcement training coordinator on a half-time basis and will purchase training equipment and materials for the training program.

Classroom space in the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office, at Wayland College in Plainview and at South Plains Junior College, Levelland, will be used to conduct three classes of 160 hours each in the basic police science course.

Attending the course will be 76 officers from over the South Plains State Planning Region, which includes the counties of Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn and Garza.

Curriculum for the course is approved by the Commission of Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. The project will begin in September, and will end August 31, 1971.

The Criminal Justice Council, responsible for statewide planning, administers such grants to units of state and local government to assist them in carrying out projects for improving the criminal justice system.

Last Day To Reserve For 'Texas'

Anyone who would like to make the trip--the second this summer--is asked to make reservations with the C-C office by 5 p.m. Thursday afternoon, Aug. 20.

A minimum of 33 persons is needed to charter the bus.

Total cost to adults for the reserve ticket, barbecue meal and round trip bus ticket, will be $10. Cost for children under 12 years old is $5.

The bus will leave from the east side of City Hall shortly after 5 p.m. Friday.

Auto Crashes Into Pole, 3 Injured

Three persons were injured Sunday night in a one-car crash with a utility pole on Littlefield Drive, south of East Seventh.

Injured were the driver, J. R. Harrell of Littlefield, Rene Kierce of Littlefield, and Billy Hanks of Littlefield.

Harrell was driving a 1964 Chevrolet southward on LFD Drive, when Harrell lost control of the vehicle. It skidded 80 feet across the curb and struck and splintered a Southwestern Public Service utility pole.

Rene Kierce was taken to Littlefield Hospital by a friend, and she is being treated for hip injuries.

Harrell was taken to Medical Arts Hospital by Hammons ambulance and was dismissed Monday.

Billy Hanks is still in Medical Arts Hospital with a cast on his leg.

About $650 in damages resulted to the Chevrolet and $400 to the utility pole.

PCG Directors To Be Elected

Lamb County cotton producers and agribusiness men will elect a producer-director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in a breakfast meeting called for that purpose at 7 a.m., Aug. 27 in the Crescent House Restaurant in Littlefield.

Announcement of the meeting comes from Paul Bennett, businessman director of the 25-county commodity organization, and J. D. Smith, current producer-director.

Both farmers and businessmen are eligible to participate in the election of PCG directors.

Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a cotton producer and the other a businessman. They serve two year terms, with businessmen-directors elected on odd years and producer-directors on even years.

In addition to the election, the meeting will include a report from the PCG staff on the status of farm legislation in Washington. "There is nothing on cotton's horizon right now of greater importance than getting a cotton program passed," Smith stated, "and every cotton-minded person in Lamb County should be vitally interested in what his cotton organization on the Plains is doing in that regard."

Also urging that all interested people be on hand for the meeting, Bennett said "Directors to PCG are the men who determine the organization's policy on legislation, research, promotion, finances and other matters which play a big part in determining the future of Lamb County's economy."

Theft, Vandalism Are Investigated

City police are investigating a theft and vandalism case, which was reported by T. L. Timmons at State Line Irrigation.

Timmons reported that someone had taken a ratchet, socket and assorted wrenches from his place of business, and that two boomers had been broken.

installation of a four-way see-saw on the Elementary school ground, during their regular meeting Tuesday.

Marge Anzelina reported that the clean-up project on the old building at Delano and LFD Drive "is coming along fine" and current plans call for painting the walls which remain. Mrs. Anzelina applauded Mayor J. E. Chisholm and a city crew which worked to pick up debris from the site. She reported that Fire Chief Leon Durham had promised to wash down the cement, that Higginbotham Bartlett Lumber Co. had donated lumber and nails to patch the existing walls, and Coca Cola had volunteered to paint the walls, along with their company sign.

Further painting will include a mural-type painting of a fake building front with shrubbery. Janice Aaron, chairman of the projects committee, reported that a four-way see-saw was to be placed on the school grounds, to be shared by second and third grade students. The projects committee met with Superintendent Paul I. Jones and Principal James Settle and they decided that equipment would be best suitable for the children.

Betty Hodges made a report on progress of the windmill marker dedication program. She reported that Billy Wayne Clayton, state representative, would not be able to attend the dedication because of a busy schedule.

Members decided to decorate the windmill tower with red, white and blue streamers and place greenery at the base of the windmill.

Kay Yeager was named chairman of the food committee for the food booth at the Sidewalk Art Festival. She has already begun her list of food to be donated by the members for the booth.

Betty Kehoe reported on progress of the float, and requested suggestions on a choice for the theme. Members discussed whether to use the winning artists in the Art Festival on a float, or whether to use "Back to We, The Women from the summer" theme. No decision was made, pending further checking on several points.

Guests for the day were Regina Macha and Robbie Pass. Hostesses were Louise Bennett and Juanita Howard.

Mann-Massengale Wedding Vows Said

Bonnie Mann and Lawrence Massengale pledged wedding vows Friday night, Aug. 7, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hevern of Amherst.

Rev. Wayne Perry of Lubbock officiated for reading of the double ring wedding vows.

The wedding altar was decorated with a basket of white mums and gladiolas flanked with candles and ribbons.

The bride wore a hot pink tunic dress of raw silk, accented with a white orchid corsage.

She was attended by Mrs.

Mildred Hevern, her matron of honor. She was dressed in a street-length, pale blue crepe dress.

Robert Massengale of Amarillo served his father as best man.

The wedding reception was held in the Hevern home following the ceremony.

The newlyweds are making their home in Littlefield.

Sunshine Side

RECENTLY WE TALKED about how pessimism begets pessimism and can cause physical illness and economic recession.

IN THE NEWS MEDIA we necessarily preoccupy ourselves with what's wrong. As the coach looking at the films of last week's game concentrates on mistakes, we hope to help our contemporaries recover their fumbles.

SO TODAY WE'RE GOING to examine the credit side of the ledger. Acknowledging the existence of a dead-end war, malignant inflation, increasing crime and erosion of our environment--

LET'S COUNT our blessings: We're not out of Indochina but we are getting out. And in the infi-nately more sensitive situation in the Middle East, prospects for peace are improved and improving.

CONSTRUCTION SPENDING, after three months of decline, increased last month. Planned construction hit a two-year low this spring, but was up 9 per cent last month.

THE STOCK MARKET is a long way from its highs of recent years--but you and I know these bull market prices were more collar than beer.

Average family income in the United States now tops $9,430.

CORRESPONDINGLY, our nation's percentage of admittedly "poor" people continues to decline. The hot summer most cities feared most cities were spared.

THE PHILOSOPHER

Subsidy Plan

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes out with a bold new plan this week to aid farmers. He's a farmer)

Dear editor: According to all the newspapers that have turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm lately, the annual squabble is now going on in Congress over government payments to farmers, some people wanting to limit payments more, others wanting to wipe them out completely.

Personally I have never objected to paying farmers for not growing anything, we pay Congressmen and Legislators for not passing bills, don't we, but since the idea rubs some city people the wrong way I have worked out a new idea that ought to satisfy everybody.

And what's that? It's OXYGEN. Everybody knows that the average city doesn't produce a fraction of the oxygen it needs. Paved streets and crowded tall buildings just don't produce the stuff.

Where's Our Respect

A NEWS DISPATCH from Russia, telling of a government crackdown on loafers, should make us catch our breath in sudden realization of the contrast that is overtaking us here in America.

THE NEW Russian law, applicable to everyone, provides a penalty of one year in prison for "malicious refusal" to work, and two years in prison for a second offense.

Conceivably, Ivan could get wealthy by scrimping and saving, or by surreptitiously begging or stealing, but for all his rubles he wouldn't be able to buy his own leisure.

THUS COMMUNISM now deals with "the parasitic way of life." Formerly the parasites were just banished to less desirable parts of the country, but few of them reformed, so sterner measures are being taken to make everyone "socially useful".

In America, meanwhile, the work ethic has become something for the dodo birds.

IN 31 STATES not even the right to work is protected by law for

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Be On Guard

By BOB WEAR

OUR PERSONAL POSSESSIONS are guarded with the greatest diligence. Our houses, our cars, our clothing, our money, our livestock, and other things are important to us, and, consequently, we are diligent in guarding them.

We not only guard them in the sense of protecting them; we also guard them by giving them the very best care. This is the way we should feel and act.

OUR PHYSICAL well-being is important to us, too. We have a strong feeling of self-preservation. We want to live, and, in this desire, we are being as we were created to be. We are concerned about our health, and most of us guard it carefully.

THERE IS SOME carelessness, and some self-indulgence, but most people have a strong feeling of wholesome interest in their physical well-being. We should be on guard.

OUR MENTAL WELL-BEING is not as easily guarded. This is probably because the need for guarding it is not as obvious.

It is probably easier to guard than personal possessions and our physical well-being. All available information indicates that there is greater reason for being constantly on guard in this area.

"Keep (guard) the heart (mind) with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life."-Bible. If we fail to guard the mind, we are moving toward trouble and regret.

OUR SPIRITUAL well-being is more important than anything else. If what we hear and see is accurate, many people do not think that there is anything to guard in this phase of one's life.

Perhaps the need is not as easily identified. Nevertheless, it is iden-those who don't join labor unions. A move is being made in the direction of a guaranteed annual income which would remove the necessity to work for those willing to live just above the so-called poverty level.

AND WHEN A STRIKE call comes, there often is no practical possibility of working, even for those in governmental or other jobs vital to the public welfare.

Our teachers, policemen, firemen, postmen, garbage collectors, nurses and transit workers are apt to leave us in the lurch.

Industrial workers sometimes walk off in violation of no-strike agreements. Unions build up big strike funds before they decide what their demands will be, or learn what the company will offer.

IN MANY WAYS, the old work pride is gone.

This is the way we drift, while Russians are toughened up under a work-or-prison law. It should make us wonder where we'll stand vis-a-vis Russia in productive output 20 years from now.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Grandpa Hanks

By PEARL BRANDON

IN THE LITTLE Sunnydale community lived one of the kindest men I ever knew.

He was Grandpa Hanks. He was an old man when we came to this small community in the depression days. At that time it was just a farming community with everybody struggling to make a living.

THERE WAS NO gathering place until the neighbors and built a small community house. We had a non-denominational Sunday school, literary programs, box suppers, big Sunday basket dinners, candidate speakings and all kinds of community get-togethers.

We really had fun but as always in a community of this kind there is a certain amount of bickering and hurt feelings. Grandpa Hanks always tried to keep everybody happy.

IF SOMEONE was cross-ways or had their feelings hurt, Grandpa Hanks would be especially nice to them. He would meet them at the door, shake their hand or sit by them in church or ask them to lead a song. You couldn't stay angry around Grandpa Hanks.

Grandpa always had a large number of stories to tell and old poems to recite. He was once undersheriff in Oklahoma where he came from and never tired of telling about his experiences there.

GRANDPA HANKS was a direct descendant of the Nancy Hanks family who was the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

HE WAS THE inspiration for writing the poem, "Uncle John."

UNCLE JOHN Uncle John has gone and left us Bidding us goodbye today; Laying there so calm and peaceful,

DOWN TO EARTH

Mind Business?

By JIMMY R. AL

SHOULD CHURCHES "mind their own business?"

That question occurs more frequently during troubled times in our national life.

A 1968 GALLUP POLL report on "Should Churches Stick to Religion?" stated that the number of people who believed churches should keep out of social and political questions had risen since 1957 from 44 per cent to 53 per cent.

The number who think that churches should express their views on social and political questions has decreased from 47 per cent to 40 per cent.

WITH THE RISING TIDE OF American opinion that churchmen have been too active in controversial issues facing the society, there is a paradoxical parallel of opinion that churches are losing their influence in society.

The question centers in what the business of the churches is supposed to be.

THERE IS LITTLE question that a major responsibility of churches is to bring men the message of how to find God. The Christian Gospel does promise to heal the broken hearted.

Harried Americans should have a place and time to withdraw from the pressures and tensions of life to gain some internal perspective and to be touched by the eternal power.

AS ONE CYNICALLY disappointed newsman said, "There ought to be something going on at a church that only God can do."

The church which misses its primary function of leading men to life-changing encounters with God is certainly not minding its business.

ON THE OTHER HAND, application of the principles that God re-

Smiling in the same old

How the whole town's going to miss him, There are tears in every eye For in all our joy and sorrow Uncle John was always right.

Like the time I was a boy On my porch one weary night Wondering why my Sue and Jim Always do forget to write.

When I heard him as he was coming Down the side walk kind of slow I dried my eyes right quick But he saw me, now I know.

For he said, "Why, howdy boy I'm not feeling at my best, So if you don't mind I'll sit on your steps a mite and rest."

Then he asked about my chrysanthemums About my flowers and garden. Then he said, "Now that's glorious About your Jim and Mary Sue."

"How they went up to the top Just a country girl and I And they are climbing up the ladder It simply gives this old heart a

Then he said, "I'm kind of old So I guess I'll mosey on." But I had forgot my pining Since I'd talked with Uncle John.

Thus we had grown to lean on him Though he was old and bent years, For we knew he was always there In our joys and hopes and fears.

Now tomorrow we'll be part of it Our last respects to Uncle John But his memory will keep on shining In our hearts, just on and on.

vealed in Jesus Christ is also business of the churches. It is naive to believe that will automatically understand to implement their faith in personal and community behavior. We help from the community of Christians in applying the principles of Christ to complex problems of business ethics, economic and justice and other moral issues.

ONE OF THE complicating factors is a mistaken tendency of part of some churchmen to believe that their own method for solving a problem is the only "Christian" method of doing it.

No single political or economic philosophy exists for Christians. Many factors enter into one's political and economic ideas, in addition to his religious insights. The idea must come under the inspiration of Christian conscience in defining what this program does to the sons.

SINCE CHRIST died for man, the highest priority of a church is placed on the person. A church should indeed mind its own business is to bring the message of Christian idealism into the area of life.

The prophet Nathan in ancient Israel minded his own business saying to King David about his sons, "Thou art the man."

IN THE PALACE at Versailles the preacher to the court of Louis XIV of France, Bourdaloue, minded his own business by saying to the King, "Thou art the man." And churchmen today should mind their own business.

IF THIS MEANS calling into account a president or a governor, a legislator or a mayor or a program, the task of churches is to stand for what they see is right with courage, conviction, and common sense.
