Library drive to begin Monday

"Friends of the Lamb County Library" are staging a county-wide fund drive, beginning Monday, June 21, and continuing through Friday, June 25.

According to the president, Mrs. Ralph Carter, "the library desperately needs reference books for school children and young people who require materials such as these for classroom projects."

Buster Owens of Littlefield serves as treasurer and Mrs. A. B. Brown of Spade is secretary.

Heading the drives in the various communities are: Littlefield business, Lucy Moreland; Littlefield residential, Deena Friday; Amherst, Mrs. James Holland; Springlake-Earth, Eudell 'Nancy' Bawcom; Fieldton, Mrs. Glenn Blackmon; Spade, Mrs. Carl (Billie) Reed and Mrs. Jim Parks; Sudan, Mrs. James Withrow; and Olton, John Paul Jones.

$3,463,000 in grants awarded to local area

Compared with other communities in the country, how well is Lamb

County making out under the Federal grants-in-aid programs?

The funds were for such requirements as road building, child care, hospitals, urban renewal, education and other civic needs.

During the past year, $48.2 billion was distributed to the states and their subdivisions. Of this, $42.3 billion was in grants and the rest in revenue sharing. How much of it went to the local area?

In varying degrees, the cost of the grants was borne by the communities themselves through the income and excise taxes collected by the government and allocated to the aid programs. In some areas the cost exceeded the benefits received. In others the reverse was the case.

Based upon a state-by-state analysis made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that monitors government spending and taxation, it appears that Lamb County collected a relatively small share of it.

The study shows that Florida had the biggest tax burden, paying $1.46 for each $1 received in aid. Of the other states, two came out even, 19 got less than it cost them and the other 28 ended up ahead.

A breakdown of the statewide figures indicates that the local area received approximately $3,038,000 from revenue sharing and grants-in-aid combined.

For Lamb County, the cost came to approximately $3,463,000 in the year, exclusive of matching funds. Statewide, the outlay was $2,501,000,000.

The grants to the State of Texas as a whole came to $2,198,000,000, the Tax Foundation finds, on the strength of data it obtained from the Treasury Department.

There has been no intention to award grants on a dollar for dollar basis, notes the Tax Foundation. "One of the purposes," it states, "is to redistribute revenue among the states, to help equalize state fiscal resources."

The figures refer only to grants-in-aid and revenue sharing, it is noted, and do not include direct expenditures made by the government in the area for other purposes.

Disaster credit requirements outlined for area farmers

Some Lamb County farmers planted cotton on the strength of marginal moisture or the weather report. This makes the crop very vulnerable. Farmers who plan to file for cotton low yield (failed acreage) are reminded that if they should lose or fail to get a stand of cotton at any time, there is certain action that must be taken before anything is done that will destroy evidence of cotton planting.

measured and reported to the county ASCS office.

Then farmers must apply for cotton low yield.

The county ASCS office will appraise the cotton and notify farmers of the potential production. Upon completion of the requirements, then producers may proceed with farming operations without losing disaster benefit.

This calls for cooperation between the county office and producers so there will not be interference with farming operations.

These reports can be filed any time through August 2. These reports will have to be checked for accuracy.

To be eligible for disaster credit, grain sorghum must be planted before June 20, unless planting is prevented by some reason beyond control.

County ACS officers attend meet the nominations were accepted and elected. District lay director will be Ray Anderson, district medical director will be Dr. Preston DeShan, and district executive chairman will be Earl Jones. District executive committee members will be Dr. Gerald Woolam, M. D. of Lubbock, Bill Pope, Paul Archinal, Barbara Arwine, Mrs. Mackey Turner, Mrs. L. C. A total of 40 persons attended the educational meeting to represent 20 counties in the district.

Three members of Lamb County Unit of the American Cancer Society attended the District 3 annual meeting in Lubbock Saturday at the Hilton Inn.

Joella Lovvorn led a portion of the Public Information Session when attendants were divided into specialized study groups. She discussed the usage of the Public Information Chairman's handbook and supplies, and advised Earl Jones of Brownfield presided for the opening session and the luncheon session, and Peggy Robertson of Lorenzo and the Crosby County Unit, served as recording secretary.

Bill Pope of Levelland presented the nominating committee's report, and how to write stories to be distributed to the news media.

Other group sessions included that for presidents, public education, crusade and service and rehabilitation.

Earl Jones advised that four counties in the district would be receiving Golden Achievement awards July 8 in Dallas during the Texas Division, Inc. meeting. They are Castro County, Garza County, Swisher County and Bailey County. These counties reached an all-time high goal and brought in 41 cents per capita or more during the past crusade. Lamb County earned that award the past two years, but all crusade funds haven't been turned in to date.

Board accepts coach's resignation; elevates Mark Hulen to the post

Freshman Coach Buddy Comer submitted his resignation to the Littlefield School Board in their regular meeting Monday night.

Comer has accepted the varsity line coaching job at Lockney. Athletic Director Jerry Blakely praised Comer for doing an outstanding job.

Mark Hulen was elevated from the junior high ranks to take Comer's coaching and teaching assignments. The seventh and eighth grade coaching spot has not yet been filled.

In other action the board accepted the resignations of choir teacher Carol Chantry and social studies teacher Wanda Cotter.

Rachael Green was rehired as special education teacher in the elementary school and Lynette Greak was hired for the Title I math compensatory position.

Because of the summer maintenance program, the board felt that it was unable to make facilities available for the summer youth program.

The biggest part of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of the school auditor for 1976-77. Doyle Criswell and Ken Robinson spoke to the board about the auditor's job. The board made no decision on the matter.

Supt. Jack York reported to the board on the summer maintenance program. In addition to extensive painting, York told the board that sidewalks at the elementary schools would be laid soon and that grass was now being sprigged at the elementary schools. The gymnasium floors will be refinished and lights will be erected to shine beneath the football bleachers.

The next board meeting will be Friday, July 2.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

American Dairy Association has published its first new all-purpose cookbook in 10 years, featuring dairy products.

The 224-page book, "Mealtime Mastery," contains more than 400 kitchen-tested recipes with the emphasis on dairy foods and the gourmet touch they give to almost any menu. Its 14 chapters cover everything from appetizers to desserts.

There are special sections that give tips on shopping for dairy products and on how to store, care for and use them.

A section on nutrition explains the important role milk and all dairy foods play in the diet. Serving suggestions for presenting meals after the food is prepared are also included.

Cooking guides and information charts (including a metric conversion table) tell "how-to-do-it" and 17 full-color illustrations show what the prepared dishes look like.

"Mealtime mastery" is functional as well as good looking, with a plasticized cover that opens easily and lies flat. The handy index is well cross-referenced so busy cooks can quickly locate that favorite recipe.

Copies of the cookbook, at a cost of $2.75 each, can be ordered from: American Dairy Association, P. O. Box 721-FE, Rosemont, Illinois 60018

BEANS ARE BASIC to most home vegetable gardens. However, disease problems often take a big chunk out of bean yields, says Buddy C. Logsdon, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He lists the three most common bean diseases as root rot, rust and anthracnose.

Gardeners can take certain steps to help reduce the incidence of these disease in their bean crops.

For one thing, use only high quality seed, says Logsdon. High quality seed have a high germination percentage, and plants from such seed develop mature stems more quickly and are thus more resistant to root rot.

Another practice that encourages rapid germination and maturation is planting beans when the soil temperature is between 60 and 80 degrees F. This also reduces the plant's susceptibility to root rot.

Use only seed that have been treated with fungicide or treat them yourself, advises Logsdon.

-shootin'- The new look in Washington in 1977 might be the start of a much needed turnover.

One feller suggested the other day that one of the first steps taken in Washington should be to publish the names of the congressmen who stood up an applauded Hays, shook his hands, and even kissed him when he made his 'confession' before them. Applause is a manifestation of approval or admiration for a person, yet that is what happened in Congress recently when Hays 'explained'.

ON THE OTHER HAND, if you want to protect yourself against "quackery", you'd best stay away from the "Duckery".

QUESTION OF THE DAY being: "Why has the people lost respect for government?" Just off the cuff, I'd say, it's because government has lost respect for the citizenry.

They seem to be unaware that they're no longer dealing with a bunch of sixth-grade clod-hoppers and can keep any trickery covered up indefinitely. As a whole, it's a populace that's higher in education, and the best informed of any in the world.

IT WOULD SEEM that any straight-thinking person would be conscious of the trust the voters vest in him, when he's given enough votes to get into office. Why, then, would he be loathe enough to deliberately betray this trust?

Of course we know we do not speak for the majority of the office holders. The few who are being brought to light for their hi-jinks, make it sound as if the entire group were guilty. Some, however, seem to regard their election as a free license to swindle and party.

THE FOLLOWING IS a bit of information that may be of interest to you in reference to the upland cotton production for last year.

This info is supplied by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

OFFICIAL FIGURES on 1975 Texas cotton production, released but not yet published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service (TCRLRS), show 1,420,200 net weight bales produced in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock. PCG acquired the information by telephone June 9.

Production was from 2,444,750 harvested acres, according to the TCRLRS, for an average yield of 278.8 pounds per acre, the third lowest yield since 1952. In the record low for those years was in 1974 when turnout was 263.5 pounds per acre, only slightly below the 264.4 pounds produced in 1971.

The poor yields of 1975 are blamed on unseasonably cold weather in mid-September of an otherwise promising cotton year.

The TCRLRS acreage figures reveal that 2,712,600 acres were planted in cotton in the Plains in 1975, 8.9 percent "abandonment" for the 9.9 percent.

Lynn County's 144,800 bales exceeded all other counties. The three top producing counties were Lubbock (136,700 bales), Midland (123,300), and Martin (109,000). Yield-wise, county leaders were Lubbock (492 pounds per acre), Midland (429 pounds; Martin, 411 pounds; and Martin, 371.

The Joint Estimating Committee of the Lubbock Cotton Producers Association replaced the 25-county 1975 production total at 1,441,500 bales, or 97 percent off the official figure released.

Illustrating the severity of damage done by cold weather in September, this same committee on September had fixed the area's crop potential at 1,930,000 bales.

The chart below shows planted, harvested acres, yields and production in net weight bales of the 25 PCG counties.

THE LEADER-NEWS ASKS:

How would you spend a million?

By NILAH RODGERS

Remember the old television series where the philanthropist went out every week and selected someone to receive a million dollars, tax free? They were free to spend the money in any way they liked. The only restriction was never tell where they received the money.

Just for fun, we posed this question to a number of our readers this week.

Many like Edwina Clark first answered "pay it on my debts—as far as it would go." But after getting this out of the way, there were plenty of novel approaches of getting rid of a good sum of money. We found Gene McCanlies from Odessa visiting here with his brother Ed McCanlies.

spend a million quickly. "If you don't believe I could spend it in a hurry, ask Steve," she added. "I wouldn't spend it well, I'm sure of that. By the time you'd spent half a million, you'd be tired and could probably use the rest on something dumb—like putting it in the bank to draw interest."

DOROTHY HAWKS

Dorothy Hawks is among those who declares she wouldn't spend any, she'd just put it in the bank. "Would I have to spend it?" she asked. "I'd save it. You know how I've always been."

BILLY WILLIAMS

Billy Williams and his mother, Ruby Williams were in Anthony's shopping when Billy volunteered quickly that he'd blow his million. "First I'd buy a motorcycle," the 14-year old said, "then I'd take a trip somewhere." "I'd go to the hospital," Ruby Williams said. "I'm tired and worn out. I'd save the rest."

GLENN SMITH

"I'd buy a boat," said Glenn Smith, a young salesman. "I'd take a trip around the world, then invest the rest."

CYNTHIA LAWSON

Pat Elkins who lives north of Springlake was in town shopping with her daughter, Cynthia Lawson of Olton. "I'd go around the world," Mrs. Elkins said. "maybe stay awhile," she added. "And save some."

"I'd build me a new house," Cynthia said. "That would be first on my list. I'd pay off Jim's land, buy him a set of new equipment, and then buy me an El Dorado Cadillac."

DON AVERY

Don Avery said the first thing he'd do would be change vocations. "I wouldn't farm or sell insurance," he said. "If you had a million, tax free, you wouldn't have to worry about working, so I'd fish, hunt, blow it and enjoy it. Then I'd spend time with some youth program that doesn't pay."

DOROTHY BOGARD

Dorothy Bogard and Marjorie Simmons were in Littlefield shopping when we asked them how they'd spent their money. "I'd get a new car," Mrs. Bogard said. "My car is four, going on five years old. I'd put storm windows on my house. I might send some money to Washington to help the office holders pay for call girls. And I always thought it would be real nice to give lots and lots of nice gifts to my grandchildren."

MARJORIE SIMMONS

"I'd buy a new home, maybe in Littlefield," said Marjorie Simmons. "I'd give something to charity, take a trip to Hawaii, and buy lots of goodies for my grandkids and eight great-grandkids."

ANONA ROBERTS

"I'd buy me a cabin on the lake and retire," said Anona Roberts.

DEVONNA HALEY

"I'd buy a million dollars worth of clothes," said Devonna Haley. "Yes, I could spend a million on clothing. That's my weakness."

FAY PENN

Fay Penn was shopping with her daughter Sandy Bushover who lives in Hawaii with her husband who is in the service there. "I'd tithe," Fay said. "I'd buy all my closest relatives a new home, and go fishing," she said.

JAMES LEC KIRBY

Lec Kirby was trimming hedges downtown in his job as a city of Littlefield employee when he was asked how he'd spend his million dollars.

"I'd find a way," he answered. "There's no use in thinking about it, because nobody is going to give me a million. If they did, I'd probably go off to another country where people don't have much and use my gift to help them."

MAXINE SPENCER

"I'd finish educating my kids," said Maxine Spencer. "I'm not sure it won't take a million dollars to get them through college."

ELVIRA CASTILLO

"I'd get me an expensive sports car, first," said Elvira Castillo. "I'd take a vacation, then I'd set some aside. I wouldn't spend all of it."

GAYE COWAN

"Oh boy, what would I do? Dadgum! I'd buy a new house. I could use some money later, too, so I'd put plenty in savings."

ROXIE WILSON

"I wouldn't spend it all," said Roxie Wilson. "I'd invest it and let it make money for me."

Saturday, June 26: Olton, 9:15-11:45; and Amherst, 1:15-3:30.

GENE McCANLIES

"Very thoughtfully," answered Gene. "If I had a million, I'd spent it very thoughtfully. I'm sure most people would invest some of it. They'd be stupid not too. I'd probably make a bad investment. I might take up the old gal that advertises for the West Company. She says if you don't have an oil well, get one. I might just get me an oil well."

ED McCANLIES

"I'd just spread my million out and look at it awhile," Ed McCanlies said. "Then I'd see the rest of Texas, at least."

DOTTIE LICHTHE

Dottie Lichte understands the uncertainties and costs of farming. "I'd probably farm one more year," she answered. "That would be about it. If you bought new equipment, crop insurance, and made a crop failure, that would take care of the million."

THE LEADER-NEWS, LITTLEFIELD, TEXAS

Balance highlights major league play

If anyone still doesn't think there is extraordinary balance among the top contenders for the Littlefield major league baseball championship, then what happened this weekend should remove all doubt.

Saturday night, when Birkelbach socked it to the lowly Lions 26-0, there was a four-way tie for the lead. And in a league with only six teams, those things don't happen very often.

Birkelbach, Lamb Co. Electric, WOW and Fire Department all had records of 7-3. Taking it on the nose all season long have been the two cellar-dwellers, Rotary, with a 2-8 record, and the unfortunate Lions, 0-10.

Fire Dept. pulled out of the pack briefly by whipping LCE 8-1 and taking a half-game lead, while the Electricians plummeted all the way to fourth. Birkelbach and WOW played Tuesday night in another big game.

BIRKELBACH 26 LIONS 0

Ronnie Smith blanked the Lions with a one-hitter Saturday and his teammates rallied for 15 runs in the second inning as Birkelbach tamed the Lions 26-0.

Birkelbach led only 1-0 after one inning, then put together consecutive innings of 15, seven, one and two to polish off the Lions.

Mike Williams slugged a three-run homer and two singles to pace the winners. Todd Butler cracked a double and single.

Todd Simpson, who was marked for the loss, got the only Lion hit.

FIRE DEPT. 8 LAMB CO. ELECTRIC 1

Fire Dept. got all eight of their runs in the first two innings Monday then held off the Electricians the rest of the way for an 8-1 win.

It was the third game of the season between the two title contenders, and the Firemen held the edge. They won 5-2 in the first meeting then dropped a 9-6 decision two weeks ago.

The Firemen scored four runs in each of the first two innings off losing pitcher James Randall. Winning pitcher Leslie Yarbrough, Steve Cosden, Brian Pace, Frank Vega, and Curtis Williams all got hits for the winners.

Chris Merrifield, Gerald Twitty and Jimmy Sexton slapped singles for LCE.

Veterans suffer double setback

VFW scored an impressive 22 runs in its two minor league games Friday and Saturday.

But unfortunately for the Veterans, their opposition scored 42, and VFW lost to both Carlisle-Oldham and Security State.

The double losses left VFW with a 2-4-2 record. C-O improved their first-place standing with a 5-0-3 mark, while Security State is now 3-3-1.

Leader-News brings up the rear with a 1-4-2 ledger.

SECURITY STATE 17 VFW 11

The Veterans couldn't hold on to their 10-8 lead after two innings Friday and succumbed to a Security State rally in the last two periods to lose 17-11.

The Bankers pushed across nine scores in their last two tries to overcome the deficit.

Charles Jackson was the winning pitcher and ripped a single. Teammate Hernandez added a double.

Randy Stuart led with two hits. Fernald socked a double, Jones, Benny Davis, Jackson and Oscar Tomchipped in a single.

CARLISLE-OLDHAM VFW 11

Carlisle-Oldham seven runs in the second inning Saturday. Craig Bradley collected three RBI's in a 25-11

VFW. The win kept C-O place in the minors.

Winning pitcher Hernandez hammered three singles. Brad George Medina both of singles, and Contreras ripped a double.

Billy Savala and Martinez banged out for the Veterans.

B&C Pump, Taco prep for showdown

The big story in the Jr. Babe Ruth league continues to be B&C Pump. With their 16-4 win over Security State Monday, B&C has now disposed of 10 straight opponents and have almost a lock on the loop title.

Their nearest challenger is Tasty Taco with a 6-2 mark. Those two squads meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the Jr. Babe Ruth park, and if Taco hopes to have a shot at the crown they must beat B&C. B&C won the first outing between the two 4-2.

In B&C Pump's last four games, they have outscored the opposition 73-12.

B&C PUMP 16 SECURITY STATE 4

B&C scored in every inning but one Monday to wallop Security State 16-4. The winners jumped on opposing pitchers for 19 hits. Joe Rodriguez, who allowed just three hits and no runs in the first three innings to pick up the win, slugged a homer, two doubles and a single and scored five runs.

Alvin Contreras continued his hitting streak with a five-for-five night that included three triples, a double and a single and five RBI's. James Johnson and Richard Soria whacked a double and single each, and Lester Wormley swatted two singles.

Bobby Guajardo, Raul Villafraanco and Norris Wilson each hit singles for Security State, which scored all its runs in the fifth inning.

TASTY TACO 18 SECURITY STATE 14

A nine-run outburst in the third inning Friday powered Tasty Taco to an 18-11 win over Security State.

Johnny Logan and Greg Scott hit two singles each for Taco. Freddy White and David Duenes tripled, Albert Rangel doubled, and Lonnie Perez, Jerry Jackson and Junior Sierra added singles. Sierra was the winning pitcher.

Pablo Trevino was the loser on the mound, but led offensively with two doubles and a single. Steve Vargas slapped a double, while Bobby Guajardo, Dennis Abeyta and Joe Martinez rapped singles.

What's Behind It? Saving Money

That's more important than ever these days. There are ways you can make sure that the energy you use in your new total electric home is used in the most efficient manner possible. So efficiently that you will save 40% or more on heating and cooling cost when compared to previously accepted standards for total electric construction.

WALLS in the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME conform to one of three options that make sure heat stays where you want it...outside in the summer and inside in the winter. Option #1 with 6" walls and R-19" insulation. Option #2 with tongue and grooved 3/4" styrofoam sheathing, 4" walls and R-11" insulation, or Option #3 with R-15" minimum insulation. Walls also have a vapor barrier of 6 mil. polyethylene or foil-backed sheetrock. Sill insulation or sill caulking between the bottom plate and the floor is required.

CEILING in the ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME is insulated with R-30".

FLOORS (if pier and beam construction) are thoroughly insulated using R-13". In slab floors choose between Option #1, rigid urethane or styrofoam (3/4" minimum thickness) from top of floor along the outside edge of the slab down to the brick ledge, or Option #2 - pour vermiculite in the cavity between bricks and slab up to the top of the floor.

WINDOWS AND DOORS are weather-stripped and caulked. Double pane glass or storm windows and insulated core or storm doors also ensure energy efficiency. It is recommended that glass area not exceed 8% of floor space.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS include the use of cool fluorescent lighting, and a heating/cooling system like the heat pump that maximizes efficiency and an electronic air cleaner to be used with moving air systems.

ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME

Having Comfort
Yes, you can save money without sacrificing comfort. The total electric ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME is the way to save 40% or more of heating and cooling cost and still enjoy all the convenience available in a new home today. Call us this week for all the details.

Time for renewing expired fishing licenses

Your fishing license may be among the 100,000 Texans who possibly forgotten to their state fishing this spring.

It is apparent at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that something was forgotten in the sales of fishing licenses this year continued to behind the number through this time last year.

At the end of April, there was a decrease of 100,000 from April, 1975.

In the department, this has resulted in a revenue decrease of $2.45 from the fishing licenses collected through the year.

According to the Sports Institute in Washington, D.C., revealed that the nation other than Texas is experiencing a decline in fishing license sales.

One possible reason for the decline in Texas, it was found that anglers who have not renewed their licenses since 1974 have done so on a month basis rather than for a fiscal year period as required in the past.

That is, a person who buys a license this month may use it for a full year before required to renew at this same time next year.

And anyone, for example, who got a fishing license in May 1975 must get another now before going fishing in public waters or with rod and reel and in his home county.

Otherwise, warns P&WD Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison, fishing without a license can result in a fine of up to $200 for a violation of the law. "Our game wardens are checking on all public waters," said Garrison, "and it's evident that a lot of people have forgotten about having a current fishing license. In April, there was a total of 1,535 citations for this alone, compared to 1,132 during the same month in 1975 and only 585 in April 1974."

A Texas sport fishing license costs $4.25 for both resident and non-resident and is required of all persons except those under 17 years of age or over 65 and others

Operators helping poachers

CB operators are helping outlaw hunters by giving them the location of Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens.

Nearly all poachers have their "ears up" when hunting illegally. A larger number of deer are being killed this year by poachers working together using CBs.

A favorite tactic used by outlaw hunters is to have one poacher station himself where he has a good view of approaching cars. He will stay in contact with his "good buddy" who will be actively hunting. If he sees a game warden, he will warn his friend and the outlaw hunter will have time to hide all evidence before the game warden arrives on the scene.

The use of CBs by poachers reached a climax recently when a group of some 20 men were running deer with dogs in the timberlands of East Texas.

The dogs got on the scent and started baying. The poachers got excited and started talking to each other and maneuvering so they could be in the right place when the dogs chased the deer onto the road.

Game wardens were listening to the poachers. Landowners with base stations got on the air and started helping the wardens to locate the poachers.

Airwaves were jammed, dogs were running, pickups and patrol cars raced around back roads.

The deer got away. For lack of evidence, no case could be filed against poachers.

Lions keep lead over Pioneers

The undefeated Lions flexed their muscles Friday night and put down another uprising from the second-place Pioneers with a 15-9 Pee Wee league win.

The victory was the ninth in a row for the Lions. The Pioneers, who's only loss previously was to the Lions by 11-7, now own a 7-2 record.

Things looked good for the challengers at the beginning of the game. The Pioneers led 5-3 and 9-8 after the first two innings, but they failed to score in the last two periods while the Lions pushed over seven more.

Mike Pierce was the winning pitcher, and joined Leo McCarty, Dale Bradley, Kerry Jones and Todd Blevins with two hits. Todd Tapley, Paul Castillo and Scott Montgomery had one hit each.

Steve Castillo, Donny Vaughn, Rick Fulfer, Randy Vaughn and Cory Stovall led the Pioneer batters.

FIREBALLS 13 CHIEFS 12

The Chiefs made a bid for their second win of the season Monday, but could only score once in the last inning to fall to the Fireballs 13-12.

The Fireballs, now 7-3 on the year, were given a good scare by the Chiefs, 1-7-1.

Bowie Thompson and Raymond Moody blasted homers for the Chiefs. Ricky Bush and Billy Cowen slapped two singles each, and Brent Heffington, Brad Heffington, Kevin Pierson and Rodney Williams each added a hit.

Ray Puente knocked a double and single for the winners. Roger Lowe and Steve Lair punched two singles apiece, and pitcher Phillip Ristvedt, Larry Sierra, Steve Rangel, Tammie Reed, Cliff Mendoza and Scott Giles all chipped in a hit.

ROCKETS 15 ROADRUNNERS 13

The rockets outscored the Roadrunners 15-13 Monday.

Sammy Christian and Kirk Conway collected three singles for the winners. Winning pitcher Cruz Hernandez joined Gilbert Franco and Tory Blackwell with two hits, and adding one each was Melete Blackwell, Joe Vargas and Johnny Martinez.

Doug Gilbert ripped three hits for the Roadrunners. Sheldon Macha, David Steadman, Danny Gonzales, Scott Starnes, Paul Steadman and Steve Starnes also clipped singles.

WILLIAMS of the Alley Cats slides into third safely in a league game Tuesday night. Lion third baseman Todd Stovall is the throw. (Staff Photo)

THE POWER OF FAITH, HOPE AND LOVE

A row of poplar trees alongside my house blew down during a moderate windstorm. The root systems were shallow, though the trees had grown splendidly tall. The mighty oaks nearby merely shook their limbs at the wind.

Modern man must learn that that which is good grows slowly. Good things need deep roots in order to stand firmly.

Witness the lowly Nazarene. He planted seed in twelve men's hearts. He was in no hurry. He knew they would use that seed as a lever and their faith as the fulcrum to move the world.

Faith, hope and love are three seeds which grow ever so slowly in our lives. But, ah, the roots are ever so deeply embedded in the muscle of our souls. They laugh at life's storms, and grow stronger in the fiercest winds.

—Paul M. Stevens
