house. That big red light in the vicinity of the county agriculture buildings is the tower location and site for the base unit. The system replaces a 25 year-old communications hardware which limited local lawmen, firemen and emergency units to a low-band standard single frequency.

LAMB COUNTY

LITTLEFIELD, LAMB COUNTY, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 3, 1975

15 CENTS

Under the new system, low band frequencies will be abandoned for police work, with only the fire department on the old low band position. All law enforcement agencies in the state are moving to the high band. The high band can reach out to a further range. Each area will have its own channel for its own business. This will cut down on interference. There will be four channels or four different frequencies for law enforcement personnel.

With this system, each local agency will have its own channel for normal business and not be conflicting with neighboring counties or cities.

Since it is essential to maintain communications out of the Littlefield area, a separate channel will be available for inter-city and inter county communications.

This channel will be used for all pointto-point communications as well as the base station frequency to communicate with mobile units not normally operating in this county.

The intercity frequency will provide communications with the Department of Public Safety and other agencies in the region, too.

A fourth frequency will be for state troopers and the Department of Public Safety only.

As part of the system, the base station will be equipped with a monitor receiver on the statewide mobile high band frequency. By monitoring this, the dispatcher will be able not only to maintain supervision of his mobile units but also communicate with mobile units from other counties or areas within the state.

Since high band and scanning equipment is much more costly than simple low band monitors, this system will eliminate many persons from monitoring the dispatcher and mobile units.

The new radio equipment is funded by SPAG, with the governmental agency paying 75 percent of the costs and the county and cities and various law enforcement agencies using the equipment paying 25 percent of the total costs.

Lamb County's portion totaled $22,256.25 with the cost to the county tax payers running $4,149.25. The console unit in the Littlefield City Hall cost $12,209 with the city's share $3,052.25. Total shared equipment for the city of Littlefield totaled $21,635, with the city paying $1,159 of this amount.

Other shared equipment costs include the tower at $7,275, the building at the tower site, $4,014, the generator and motor $1,642, the base station and unit $2,874 and $1,642.

Earth's equipment cost was $4,070, Olton's $3,830, and Sudan's ran $2,015. Payment is based on the amount of equipment and the number of law enforcement personnel.

Wildcat Band Practice Set

4 SECTIONS

Littlefield Wildcat Band members will begin practice sessions Monday, Aug. 11, at 7 p.m. in the high school band hall, when freshmen and sophomores are asked to report with their horns.

Then, beginning Aug. 18 at 7 p.m., all band members will practice every night through Friday.

Uniforms will be issued to upperclassmen Aug. 12 and 13 from 1 to 3 p.m., and freshmen and sophomores will receive their uniforms on Aug. 14 and 15 from 1 to 3 p.m. Twirlers, cheerleaders and percussionists will not be issued uniforms then.

According to the band director, Tom SoRelle, ice cream and watermelon will be served after some of the rehearsal periods, and a swimming party is planned for Thursday night, Aug. 21. All band members are required to be at all rehearsals, and are urged to be on time. "If you have a conflict, I must be notified in advance", SoRelle stated.

Crews have reliew onions from Dimmitt too, and are expecting onions from a fee and out of state. (Staff Photo) Department of Public Safety officials are continuing the investigation into the case. It was believed that the man was beaten and then shoved out of a moving vehicle.

DPS trooper Lewis Cardinal was called in on the case after it was reported that the man was the victim of a hit and run.

Castillo T. Arroyos was brought to Medical Arts in Littlefield by his parents about 5:30 a.m. Thursday. He is the brother of Littlefield policeman Johnny Arroyos, and another Littlefield city policeman Roger Scott called Cardinal when the Arroyos family said they thought the victim had been hit by a car.

The injuries were thought to have occurred between Olton and Lubbock. The man suffered a broken chest, broken ribs on the right side, a broken right ankle, a broken right shoulder, multiple contusions and abrasions, and massive head injuries. He was incoherent and unable to talk to the officers.

Patrolman Cardinal said the DPS investigation concluded the man had been beaten and pushed out of a moving vehicle. He said this was based on the injuries to his right side and back.

Cardinal is a Muleshoe based patrolman and was on call for Lamb County when the incident occurred.

Commissioners File Suit Answer

The Lamb County Commissioners' Court directed County Attorney Curtis Wilkinson to file answer and make legal defense in the lawsuit brought against the court concerning the abolishing of the justice of peace precinct at Amherst.

In the regular end-of-month meeting of the commissioners and county judge Thursday, the Court requested Wilkinson to take care of the legal details and with their consent and approval to employ counsel to assist the defense of the suit if necessary.

The suit is brought by some Amherst residents seeking to reinstate Jack Yarbrough as justice of peace and redraw the JP precinct lines as they were before they were redrawn in February.

At 11 a.m. Thursday, a representative from King Builders in Lubbock met with the court for final acceptance and payment of the newly completed County Ag and Community Building.

The Court authorized the county agents to present specifications and accept sealed bids on a new pickup for the extension department.

Lamb County 4-H'ers are attempting to raise more money for the state 4-H Center at Borwnwood, and a western dance has been planned for Saturday night, Aug. 9, in the Lamb County Ag Community Center.

A live band from Pep will be playing for the dance, which will begin at 9 p.m. and continue until 1 a.m.

Admission will be $2 per person, and all proceeds will go to the State 4-H Center at Brownwood.

Season Tickets For Football Now Available

Season football tickets for the Littlefield Wildcats home games are now on sale at the school's administration office.

According to Carlton Parker, who is in charge of ticket sales, season tickets are now being held in reserve for those who bought them last year. They will be held until Sept. 1, and if not claimed by then, the tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis.

Liquor Tax Revenue Reaches $2,957.58

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that more than $2.5 million is being sent to 186 counties and 296 cities across Texas as their share of the mixed drinks tax for the April-June quarter of 1975.

This share to cities and counties is 30 per cent of the total tax collected in each locality. The remaining 70 per cent, $6.3 million for the quarter, goes to the state general revenue fund.

Lamb County's total tax revenue was $2,957.58 and the county's 15 percent remittance was $443.64.

The tax is 10 per cent on all gross receipts.

Statewide, this quarter's total local share was up slightly from the first quarter's $2.3 million, Bullock said. The $8.9 million total tax receipts for the second quarter were well above the $7.5 million per quarter average of 1974.

The collection of the tax is administered by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission. over is being made to the higher frequency as various units get new radio equipment in their cars. (Staff Photo)

Food Drying Demonstration Planned For Area Residents

Have you wondered what to do with your fresh fruits and vegetables since canning lids are in short supply? You have two alternatives— freezing and drying.

Drying is one of the oldest methods of food preservation known to man. It is also one of the simplest methods. Dried foods have about 75 percent of the water and weight removed from them; therefore, they are easy to store.

Home drying, if done properly, can work well for many fruits and vegetables.

Would you like to know more about drying foods?

If so, you are invited to attend a demonstration which is being presented by Mrs. Connie Jacquess, who is with Nutrition Unlimited of Lubbock. She will present the demonstration Friday, Aug. 8 at 2 p.m. in the Lamb County Agricultural and Community Building, Littlefield.

The program is free and the public is invited.

Mrs. Jacquess will demonstrate a dehydrator or food drier, one method of drying food.

You will be given information on sundrying methods and oven-drying methods which you may want to try.

We hope this program will answer your questions about drying, as we have received many calls to the Extension Office about drying methods.

New 'Texas' Trip Planned Aug. 12

Tickets to the play "Texas" for Aug. 12 are still available at the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

This trip will go as scheduled, with other transportation arrangements if there aren't enough for the chartered bus, according to Chamber personnel. The previous two trips had to be cancelled due to the lack of enough to cover the cost of chartering the bus.

Price per person is $13.75 for adults and $12.75 for children under 12. The ticket price includes the play ticket, dinner in Hereford, and transportation. However, the price will be reduced accordingly if the chartered bus is cancelled and other transportation arrangements are made. Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber Office in City Hall, 385-4451.

In the play, a wave of singers and dancers sweeps across the stage in the opening of "Texas," the musical drama of Panhandle history. This burst of movement and familiar song brings back the sights and sounds of the 1880's. During a performance, the company of 78 actors and singers reaches into the past to reveal the struggles of the settlers, the strengths of the cowboys, the land love of the Indians; and the burials, politics, business, and celebrations. Lights and soaring sound recreate the blazing of a prairie fire, the crash of thunder and the flash of lightning as background for this story of battles against change and dust and drouth and storm.

Her full Spanish renaissance mantilla was of petal white silk imported illusion edged with a border of matching lace flowerlets with pearl centers. Her veil swept beyond the cathedral train. For "something blue" she wore the traditional blue garter; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed" was a pair of pearl earrings borrowed from Karen Morton; "something old" was a white linen handkerchief given to her by the groom's greataunt, Vera Reynolds; and in her shoe she wore a penny minted in the date of their births. Her shoes were enriched with matching lace dogwood blossoms with pearl centers. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and baby's breath. Judy Cannon of Austin was her sister's maid of honor. Matron of honor was Karen Morton of Littlefield, and bridesmaids were Sharla Mitchell and Sharrise Cowen, both of Littlefield. Their gowns were floor-length mint green satin fashioned with flocked chiffon bodices. They had V necks and bell sleeves trimmed in white polyester lace. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow sweetheart roses and baby's breath. Klisha Kelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kelton of Littlefield, was flower girls. She wore a dress fashioned like those of the bridesmaids.

Tommy Batson of Spade was best man, and groomsmen were Perry Bussanmas, Glen Short and Dennis Cowen, all of Littlefield. The groom wore a white tux and the groomsmen wore yellow tuxedoes.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formallength gown which she and her mother designed and made. The featured scallops at the raised waistline. Wide lace bordered the skirt and the built-in train. Lace cutouts were used on both the dress and veil. A beaded lace headpiece was used with the elbow length veil. Something old worn by the bride was a locket belonging to her mother. The bridal gown was something new, and a sixpence was borrowed from Mrs. Charles Fisher, sister of the groom.

The bride also wore the traditional blue garter and pennies minted in the year of their births. She carried a nosegay of white carnations with yellow and green ribbons.

Miss Kathy Schultz of Olney served as maid of honor, and Miss Terri Wallace was bridesmaid. They wore formallength green dresses featuring a lace shirtfront with lacing and deep ruffle on the skirt. They carried single white carnations. Serving as best man was square-necked bodice was Curtis Timmons. Marty overlaid with beaded lace and Mangum was groomsman and Chris Wallace was an usher. The candles were lighted by Craig Wallace.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wallace wore a long dress of light green knit with silk ruffles at the neck and cuffs. She wore beige accessories.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Miss Fran Gray registered guests. The three tiered wedding cake was made by Mrs. Jim Black of Spade. Mrs. Eddie Moates, Miss Elaine Guthrie, and Miss Darla Guthrie presided at the table.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a white knit dress with navy buttons and navy accessories. She also wore the corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet.

The wheels will start to grind again at the State Capitol this month as House committees begin interim studies on legislative issues.

Studies this biennium will be conducted by regular House committees, not specially appointed interim committees as in past years. This will enable committees who considered legislation in a certain subject area during the session to continue study in that area.

Topics for study range from the availability of pesticides to the effectiveness of county and municipal ambulance services. Each committee, except for the House Administration Committee, will have at least two areas of study. They have been directed to conclude their work by December of next year.

In addition to the specific studies of the committee, I have directed them to see that money appropriated to state agencies under their jurisdictions is not spent for unauthorized purposes. This overview should keep our state agencies accountable for the money they spend.

At the same time, I have asked the committees to determine if agencies are fulfilling a need, or if they are duplicating other programs in state government. Again, this is an attempt to eliminate wasteful spending of state money

Specific studies of committees include:

Insect control

Availability of agriculture fertilizer and fuel

Implementation of the metric system in Texas

New methods to reduce crime

Effectiveness of the absentee balloting system

Development of energy resources Consolidation of state environmental agencies

Effectiveness of mining and reclamation procedures

Restrictions on holding companies and branch banking

Operations of nursing homes Practices of marriage counselors Higher education for the deaf Funding procedures for state colleges and universities Effectiveness of the Texas Penal Code

Disciplinary methods and procedures in public schools

Ramifications of no-fault insurance in Texas

Appraisal of unemployment and placement services

Sports injuries in public schools Establishment of a Commission of the Status of Women

Feasibility of pooling state-owned aircraft

Effects of corporate profits tax, refinery tax, natural resources tax, personal income tax, sales tax increase or other taxes on the state's economy. Several studies, like the effects of different taxes in Texas, will be useful to us next session as we explore more effective ways of financing state government

All of the subjects are controversial and will probably be major legislative issues next session. Thorough study should help members reach some preliminary decisions about future legislation and help them decide whether to introduce bills on these

IF YOU LISTEN to the sermons on the radio you are hearing more and more about angels.

Of course all our lives we have heard of the "guardian angels". I always regarded these stories as myths, but there may just be something to it.

IN HEBREWS one the writer says "God speaks of His angels as messengers, swift as the wind and as servants made of flaming fire." Hebrews 1:7 and Hebrews 1:13-14, "And did God ever say to an angel as He does to His Son, 'Sit here beside me in honor until I crush all your enemies beneath your feet?' no, for the angels are only spirit-messengers sent out to help, and care for those who are to receive His salvation.'

Angels are mentioned many times in the Old Testament

Once in the book of Daniel when he was cast into the lions den Daniel said. "My God hath sent His angel, and hath heaven, sitting in the place of honor next to God the Father, with all the angels and powers of heaven bowing before Him and obeying Him."

I HAD NEVER thought very much about angels until I began to hear them mentioned so often by preachers, including Billy Graham, but it is won' derful to feel you can pray for some one far away and God might send one of His messengers swifter than light to answer your prayer and help your loved one.

It is nice too, to think of guardian angels hovering over us in times of trouble and distress. It is good to think God has many spirit beings in this world to assist us through the dangers of this world and will even walk with us through the shadow of death- when we have to give up those we love- or even when we face death ourselves. We are never alone.

EVEN AS David of old claimed the

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Not Helpless

OBSTACLES, problems and dif' ficulties are the common lot of all people. You and I know this, because it is a general condition. These are not exactly the same in each life, but all of us know that they are real and are present in the life situation of each person.

We have enough troubles to equip us to be understanding and sympathetic in our attitudes toward one another.

REGARDLESS of our wisdom, our caution, and our good luck; all of us will have obstructions, complications and vicissitudes with which to cope.

There will be some differences from persons to person, but, in general, all of us will have about the same kinds of troubles. This, however, is not the whole of life.

THERE ARE MANY blessings available to us. Even though some persons seem to obtain more of these blessings than others, there are enough for all of us.

In an enlightened social order, there will be many ways in which we will share with and help each other. We will realize that this is one source of our combined strength.

WE ARE "NOT HELPLESS", and must never make the mistake of adopting the attitude that we are helpless. Even when living becomes very rigorous, and we are wishing that it could be easier; we are "not helpless." We have great capacity to live with a sense of purpose and triumph.

New Rules For Tractors

ROLL-OVER protective structures for farm tractors are on the way, and will introduce a new set of regulations in October, 1976.

Joe L. Smetana, Texas Safety Association Vice President for Farm & Ranch Safety, reminds Texas farmers and ranchers, however, that some safety provisions became effective June 1, 1975.

Current safety rules cover nine employee operating instructions:

1. Securely fasten your seat belt if the tractor does have a roll-over protection structure

2. Where possible, avoid operating tractor near ditches, embankments and holes.

3. Reduce speed when turning, crossing slopes, and on rough, slick, or muddy surfaces

4. Stay off slopes too steep for safe operations.

5. Watch where you are going:

especially at row ends, on roads, and around trees.

6. Do not permit others to ride. 7. Hitch only to the drawbar and hitch points recommended by tractor manufacturers.

8. Operate the tractor smoothly, with no jerky turns, starts, or stops.

9. When the tractor is stopped, set brakes securely and use park lock if available.

Accidents involving tractors were among the leading cause of fatalities on Texas farms and ranches. In 1973, tractors were involved in 26 deaths. However, in 1974, tractor accidents resulted in 34 of the 285 farm and ranch fatalities, according to Smetana and the Texas Safety Association.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, in declaring July 25-31, 1975, as Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, encouraged "individual responsibility for alertness and safety precautions" by Texas farm and ranch residents.

Pesticides Regulated

"Texas' first agriculture pesticide control act, passed and signed into law last month, will provide farmers and ranchers the opportunity to increase their safety and that of their cattle," says Texas Safety Association Vice President, Joe L. Smetana.

The act regulates the use of pesticides, with the Texas Department of Agriculture designated as the regulating agency, and provides for voluntary education and certification for farmers and ranchers.

The Texas Pesticide Control Act brings the State compliance with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's edict that all states enact such legislation by October, 1976. A list of the restricted pesticides will soon be released by the Environmental Protection Agency.

The private farmer and rancher may secure a license, but is not required to, explains TSTA, as most compliance enforcement will be aimed at the commercial or non-commercial applicator and the dealer. Licensing will be required of anyone who sells restricted pesticides or applies them for hire, as will be the keeping of records. Licensing will be through the Texas Department of Agriculture, and a license will be granted following successful examination of the applicant's knowledge of and ability to apply pesticides.

shut the lion's mouth and they have not hurt me."

ALSO IN Zechariah he talked with an angel concerning the fate of Jerusalem. Zech. 12 says, "Then the angel of the Lord answered and said, 'O Lord of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judea against which those has had indignation these threescore and ten years? And the Lord answered the angel that talked with me with good words and com fortable words.

The Bible tells us that even the angels are subject to Christ. Peter said in 1 Peter 3:22, "And now Christ is in promises of God so do we. "For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. They shall bear the up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. Psalms 91:11-12.

It is generally understood that this quotation applied to the coming Messiah, who later came in the form of Jesus Christ, but I like to think it applies to us also.

Surely He holds us up when we are unable to help ourselves- that possibly one of His angels comes to us swift and sure- why not?

He must have many helpers and there are so many of us needing help.

k.Hayes Vows Pledged Saturday

WHITHARRAL- Double-ring vows were pledged between Brenda Gayle Polk and Gary Wayne Hayes Saturday evening, Aug. 2, at 7 in the Whitharral Baptist Church.

Officiating was Rev. Clarence Tedder, pastor of the Smyer Baptist Church and former Whitharral pastor.

The altar was decorated with a candle tree flanked by two spiral candelabras, and on each side were baskets of spring floral bouquets.

Musical selections were presented by Haldey Johnson of Les 'land and the great-Amarillo. He was accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Weldon Newsom of Dalhart, aunt of the groom.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional gown of white A La Mode fabric combined with Guipure lace. The princess silhouette featured a deep Gothic pointed yoke of the lace that was sprinkled in seed pearls. A high Duchess neckline was outlined in a stand-up outline of the pointed lace. Long Bishop sleeves repeated the lace motif in deep Gothic effect and were gathered to lace cuffs repeating the Gothic Motif. The full skirt was embellished in beaded lace medallions and the hemline was encircled in a border of the pointed Gothic patterned lace. She wore a Camelot style cap accented in and cousin of the bride. They satin ribbon and Venise wore light blue crepe princess flowerlets. The long Chapel length veiling was also edged in tiny lace flowers drifting beyond the length of her train. The bride's bouquet was of white Glamillias, blue Stephanotis, and white lace daisy mums, it was centered on a white brides Bible given to her on her birthday by the groom's parents.
