School Board Raises Tax Assessment Value

Littlefield School Board of trustees met in a special called session Monday morning and voted 5-0 to increase the tax assessment value to 70 percent of total value.

Present value is 55 percent. Trustees Werner Birkelbach and Paul Johnson were not present.

Depending upon the tax rate, which will be set at a later meeting, this action would raise necessary funds to about $40 to $50,000 needed "just to maintain" the '74-'75 school year.

Plans had been proposed with assessment value at 70 percent. One would set the tax rate at $1.72 per $100 assessed value and would generate additional in the operating account. Another would set the tax rate at $1.50 per $100 assessed value and would increase of $2,700 from another proposal calls for $1.82 per $100 assessed value which should increase the coffers by $79,550.

Presently, the tax rate is $1.90 per $100 assessed value.

In other action, the board instructed Byron Ford to come up with an estimate on costs to convert the high school cafeteria into classrooms, with the intent to move the ninth grade to the high school campus for the coming school year.

If the freshman class is moved, Junior High will consist of the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades, while Kindergarten through the fifth grades will be housed in the present primary and Elementary I buildings. If the ninth grade can be moved and overcrowding does not exist in the classrooms of the lower grades, then Elementary II will not be used for classrooms.

SAMMY PARISH was awarded the "Outstanding Boy" plaque Saturday night during the annual Earth Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Making the presentation was Bill Mann, superintendent of Earth-Springlake Schools. Recipient of the "Outstanding Girl" Award, JoAnne Coker, was not present. (Staff Photo)

An atmosphere of laughter and fun was laid early during the 19th annual Earth Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet Saturday night, when Lee D. Herring, Grand Prairie banker kept the audience in stitches with the "real life" episodes he told on himself and his family.

A capacity crowd filled the Springlake-Earth cafeteria, and more tables and chairs were set up to take care of the crowd.

Highlights of the evening came with the naming of the top citizens of the year for the Earth, Springlake and Lazbuddie communities.

State Representative Billy Wayne Clayton of Springlake was named "Outstanding Man of the Year" and Joan Branscum was named "Outstanding Woman".

Rep. Clayton, who has announced his candidacy for Speaker of the Texas House in 1975, was presented the award by Norman Hinchliffe, outgoing C-C president.

He remarked, "If I were to begin by telling you of his many outstanding accomplishments, you would immediately recognize who this man is. But he is truly a man of many, many accomplishments—and in many fields. I know he is blessed with a tremendous amount of drive, and a tremendous amount of energy, and he uses these to the advantage of our communities. I've found him to be—personally—and I've heard others say that he's a man you can call on for assistance at any time. He is active in his church and has been associated with our local civic clubs and other civic endeavors. As one Aggie to another, I'd like to call Billy Wayne Clayton to the platform."

Pat Lewis presented the honor to Mrs. Branscum. She introduced her as "the mother of three, a farmer's wife, a tireless volunteer for 4-H, church, band, community affairs, sports and the Roping Club, and was named "Outstanding Young Woman of America in 1969". Mrs. Lewis continued, "Those of you who know her, know she is quick to blush, but slow to anger—she's Joan Branscum."

Hinchliffe presented a plaque to Mrs. Zou Wilson, who is retiring from the Earth Chamber of Commerce as secretary for 12 years, and Mrs. Hinchliffe pinned a corsage on her lapel.

Leon Dent introduced the Lazbuddie "Farmer of the Year", Jerry Don Glover; Dwayne Jones presented the Springlake "Farmer of the Year", Ed Jones; and Gene Templeton introduced the Earth "Farmer of the Year", Delvin Walden.

Dent stated, "In these modern days, a farmer must be a good businessman, a financial wizard, an accountant, a mechanic, and a philosopher."

First of the honored guests for the night were the introduction of the "Outstanding Boy and Girl" of the Springlake-Earth School. Presenting the honors were Bill Mann, superintendent of the school.

In introducing Sammy Parish as the "Outstanding Boy", he remarked, "He's a boy with a tremendous attitude and a student we're all proud of." He listed his accomplishments with the band, four years of sports, member of the Student Council, FFA, class favorite, class officer and as participant in both the junior and senior plays.

As an afterthought, Mann jokingly said, "By the way, Sammy was president of the freshmen class three years in a row!"

Jo Anne Coker was not present to accept the "Outstanding Girl" Award, but Mann said, "It'll be a pleasure to hand this to her Monday morning."

In introducing her accomplishments, Mann said, "She's exhibited qualities of leadership in many, many ways. She's a very pretty girl and a very talented girl—one any parent would be glad to call daughter."

He listed her accomplishments as: four years with the band, four years as a cheerleader, four years in basketball, four years in track in which she holds a state record in the long jump; four years

Water Development Board Approves Seeding Permit

The Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) issued Atmospherics, Inc. a cloud seeding permit for another year of weather modification in this county and adjoining participating counties in Port Isabel Tuesday.

The permit was granted on a 4-1 vote of the board with one board member abstaining.

Two chartered planes left Littlefield Monday noon carrying 12 local and area men who support the cloud seeding operations. Three Littlefield men who oppose the program traveled to Port Isabel in an effort to keep the TWDB from issuing a 1974 permit or to alter the permit to keep planes from flying over their property.

Those supporting the program who attended the coastal meeting included

Jackie Clark of Sunnyside, Elmer Lewis of Olton, Lee Watson of Springlake, Duane Gray and Johnnie Richardson of Spade, Melvin Bock of Earth, Orville Cleavinger of Springlake, Clayton Graef of Dimmitt, Jeff Willey, Dale Stanley and Jerry Kirby of Littlefield, and Tom Henderson, president of Atmospherics, Inc., the contracting firm for the cloud seeding program.

Billy Smith, Dean Elms, and Ross Lumsden were representatives for the opposition group.

Members of the TWDB maintained that the board could not alter the permit but must issue it or deny the permit.

Under terms of the permit, cloud seeding dates are from May 1 through Oct. 31 if enough money is raised to support the operation.

Elder Citizens Are Robbed

The newly-begun SSI program has been marred recently by fast buck thieves taking advantage of elderly and unfortunate citizens.

The clever robbers call on people eligible for SSI and offer to prepare the short SSI application and "pay the fee."

The catch is that there is no fee for application or in formation on SSI or any other Federal, state or local aid program.

Since the beginning of Social Security there have been occasional instances of people charging for documenting SS applications or offering SS information for money. Such documentation and in formation is, of course, available from all Social Security offices free of charge.

SSI is a payment to blind, disabled (children or adults) or elderly people (65 or over) in need. Benefits are for those not working whose income is below $160 a month ($230 for couples) and for those working whose income is below $365 a month ($505 for couples).

People on Social Security are eligible for SSI. SSI also qualifies people for Medicaid, regardless of age.

Those who believe they are eligible should contact the Red Cross or Social Security office.

Mr. Wade Warren
Lamb County Leader-News
Littlefield, TX 79339

Dear Mr. Warren:

At this time of year the Lamb County Unit Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society and hundreds of volunteers will be conducting their crusade to conquer cancer. I believe that it is important that the citizens of Lamb County know how their dollar is spent.

Funds given by Texans to the American Cancer Society were spent in these ways during the past fiscal year:

36 - FOR CANCER RESEARCH - our current investment sponsoring investigations in 12 major Texas hospitals and medical schools and universities.

10 - FOR PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION, FELLOWSHIPS AND SERVICES - keeping physicians informed of recent developments in treatment of cancer; providing fellowships, supporting hospital cancer programs and professional conferences for physicians, dentists, and nurses.

23 - FOR SERVICE TO PATIENTS - providing cancer patients with comfort items, dressings, sickroom equipment, information and guidance and rehabilitation for laryngectomies and mastectomies.

21 - FOR PUBLIC EDUCATION - informing Texans of cancer's Seven Warning Signals so that they may guard themselves and their families against cancer. Free films, exhibits and pamphlets are available to all Texans.

05 - FOR PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT AND ADMINISTRATION

09 - FOR CRUSADE - providing Crusade materials for 265 Unit campaigns which reach more than three million Texas families during the April Crusade, developing memorial, legacy and special project programs.

providing Crusade staff assistance. Please note that the total is $1.04. This is due to the many research facilities in Texas and the extra 4 cents is allocated to us by the National Organization.

A detailed annual report is available upon request. Thank you for your participation in the American Cancer Society Crusade.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

It's high time the people of Littlefield, are waking up to what's happening to our town. Get out and work and stand up for what's right.

Yes, I know there is alcohol in Littlefield, but there's not the bright lights, enticing signs to lure them in to try the rotten stuff, who might not ever try it.

God knows what's going on behind closed doors in Littlefield. Why doesn't this Charles Ary move where it's legal, if he wants to live in the gutter, and drag innocent people in to it.

I live out of the city limits, and don't have a chance to vote either way, but I do have loved ones and friends all over town who will have to suffer from the extra drunks, break-ins, and reckless driving.

The extra taxes won't begin to pay for enough extra law men to take care of the extra crime.

I have lived here and traded in Littlefield for 40 years.

To all you Christian people and all who want a safer town for yourself, children, grandchildren and elderly folks, let's all do what we can to put this thing down, and to defeat Satan, once and for all!

From one who knows what drinking can do to the homes and to have the children suffer.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVERN

BEING AS SO MANY of you have enjoyed my sister's Angel Biscuits, I've decided to include two more of her favorite recipes.

I haven't had time to "whip them up" yet, so I'm not making any comment. But she wouldn't submit them for publication if they weren't "tried and true" recipes.

SOUR CREAM CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

- 1 cup shortening
- 1 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2 tps. vanilla
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 tsp. soda
- 4 1/2 cups flour
- 2 tps. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 2 cups chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts

Cream together shortening and sugar; beat in eggs. Add vanilla and sour cream. Add sifted dry ingredients, then add chocolate chips and nuts. Shape as desired. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes in a pre-heated oven.

FUDGIE SCOTCH SQUARES

- 3 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 2 cans Eagle Brand milk
- 1 (12 oz.) pkg. chocolate chips
- 2 (6 oz.) pkgs. butterscotch morsels
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Mix all ingredients and press into well-greased and floured 12" x 15" pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool about 45 minutes and cut into 1 1/2-inch squares.

HERE'S ANOTHER recipe for a dessert that utilizes the sour dough starter I ran in my column Thursday, Feb. 21. This is another of Richard Bolt's recipes he uses on the 6666 Ranch at Guthrie. He says it's "sweet as Texas hospitality".

TEXAS PECAN CAKE

- Beat together until fluffy:
- 6 Tbsps. butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla

Mix 1 1/2 cups cake flour, 1 tsp. baking soda, 1/2 tsp. salt, and add alternately with 1/2 cup sourdough starter, blending after each addition. Blend in 1/2 cup milk. Pour into a buttered 8 1/2-inch tube pan. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 35 minutes.

Remove from pan and cool.

PECAN GLAZE
Combine 3/4 cup light brown sugar, 6 Tbsps. corn starch, 1/4 tsp. salt in saucepan; stir in 3/4 cup water.

Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils; boil 1 minute. Add 2 Tbsps. butter.

Cool mixture until spreadable. Cover with whole pecan halves.

HERE'S ONE OF Richard's recipes for what he calls "Cowpoke Beans." He says, "You've got to treat these little Pinto beans the same way you would a newborn colt—with a lot of love and attention."

COWPOKE BEANS

- 1 pound dried pinto beans
- 2 1/2 cups cold water
- 1/2 pound salt pork, cut up
- 1 red chili pepper
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
- 1 1/2 Tbsps. chili powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cumin seed
- 1/2 tsp. marjoram

Wash and pick over beans; put in mixing bowl. Cover beans with cold water and soak overnight. Next morning, put beans and water into Dutch oven and bring to a boil; reduce heat.

Cover and simmer 1 hour. Stir in remaining ingredients; cover and simmer 3 hours or until tender. Add more water if necessary. Serves eight.

TIPS AND TIDBITS:

WHEN CHILDREN'S socks are nearly the same size, put each child's initials on the foot of each of his socks with an indelible laundry marker. It simplifies the task of sorting the socks at laundry time.

SPRINKLE FLOOR lightly on a grease spot on the carpet. Brush and then vacuum. This removes grease on some carpets.

SIMPLIFY patching knees on boys' pants by opening the inner leg seam, laying the leg part flat, patching the knee, and sewing the leg seam up again. It's easier, and the finished job is neat.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Not A Joy Ride

THERE WAS A TIME when one of the occasional family activities consisted of taking "a joy ride." The family spent the afternoon, usually Sunday, riding around and viewing the countryside.

This was a time, when we tried to get away from our work, our responsibilities, and away from the familiar sights. It was intended to be a time of temporary escape, or perhaps we should call it recreation. Of course, with the different kinds of car trouble we had in those days; the experiences were not always exactly pleasant; however, they were called "joy rides".

THE PHRASE "JOY RIDE" is used now to describe a popular philosophy of life. In spite of the fact that this is one of the most frustrating and disappointing views of living, it is apparent that, one way or another, many people are busy trying to make it work.

They go from one frustrating experience to another, and usually never seem to get the message. They mistakenly think that real living is self-seeking, self-indulging and generally irresponsible activity.

They try very hard to make the "joy ride" philosophy work, but it doesn't work, and it won't work.

THERE IS JOY IN LIFE, but not the "joy ride" kind of joy. This joy will be found in the responsible, industrious, useful, and upright life; but such a life is not all joy.

There is some sorrow, too. If it were not for the sorrow, the joy would probably lose its true value.

For all of us, living is a mixture of joy and sorrow. We may be able to fashion our lives within the framework of a good value structure, in which dominant, but there will be sorrow.

"LIFE IS NOT a joy ride" everafter. It is a shimmering of lights and shade; heights and sunlight and shadow. Trouble is a integral part of human life. Maturity is bound up in one toward disaster." Carnegie

IF WE ARE UNWISE enough live by the "joy ride" philosophy find that living becomes more like a funeral procession.

The real and abiding "joy" available to us, that we know eludes us, and we never know what has gone wrong.

RECORDS OF PAST years reveal the emptiness and the of the hedonistic concept of "drink and be merry; for tomorrow die".

It is not necessary that we learn things by experimentation. It is tainly not smart. There is a waste, and there is also the risk of "learning too late".

There is an abundance of that "the joy ride" philosophy of a cruel joke.

"TO PURSUE JOY is to lose only way to get it is to follow the path of duty, without thinking joy." - A. Maclaren.

ABUNDANT LIVING is business; not the seriousness and despair, but the concern really matters as the source and abiding joy.

Our Soil--Our Strength

EDITORIAL NOTE: The following essay by Karen Howell was named first place winner for the Lamb County SWCD. Karen is an eighth grader at Springlake-Earth. She was presented a $50 bond and plaque.

OUR SOIL-OUR STRENGTH

Man's strength has always depended upon the soil. His early existences in the world were very hard because of the struggle to get food, clothing, and shelter. With development of his first crude tools, he learned to stir up the soil and grow plants.

In the United States, agriculture developed very rapidly, because of the richness of the soil and the energy of early settlers. Early migrations into the Mississippi Valley developed a great central agricultural area which today has become the granary of the world.

The farming of the western plains is now conducted on a vast scale with the use of sophisticated plows, tractors, planters, drills, reapers, binders, threshers, and bagging machines—all which do the work of a thousand men and make the feeding of our increasing population possible.

Scientific experiments at the same time show it necessary to renew the soil. This can be done by the different fertilizers, clover planting, bacterial inoculations, crop rotations, etc.

With the increase of land under cultivation, reclamation projects have been developed in our country to store water and distribute it in irrigation ditches to arid areas which are rich in minerals but not enough water is available for plant growth. In swamplands in the South, they have plenty of water but not enough oxygen. These are being drained and planted to fruits and other crops. Both are adding thousands of acres to our sum total of tillable land every year. Important crops all over the country are corn, wheat, oats, hay, cotton, various fruits along with soybeans, cucumbers, turnip beets, and sorghum grains.

Insects, pests, diseases, and weeds continually fight against man and must be controlled. But likewise, there are insects and birds which are of great assistance to man. To protect the latter, we have passed laws to keep them from destruction, and built houses and offered them food, encouraging them to visit us.

From primitive man's time of existence, to today's modern times, our soil has continued to give our country strength through its gifts of ample food production, allowing the majority of mankind to develop vast quantities of technology to serve our complicated society that continues at a rapid pace to grow both in population and economy.

MISS PENNY Sweetheart in May. She is also the queen of the Early Risers Lions Club and will compete for the area Lions Club Queen in April at Plainview.

In June Penny will attend the National Miss Teen-Age Texas pageant in San Antonio. There she will be judged on poise, personality and beauty.

When asked how she feels about competing in these pageants Penny replied, "To me pageants such as these are great experiences for a person whose goal is to someday be a professional model. After my senior year I plan to attend a modeling school somewhere in the state of Texas."

When asked what she thought some of the advantages of these pageants are, Penny happily stated, "I just won a $250 scholarship to any college of my choice, and to me that's about the best advantage."

Penny, with pride said, "I enjoy competing with different types of people and learning about them and I feel this is what the world is about."

Cue To The Wise, Play Snooker

By BRUCE PEEL.

I parked in front of Thornton's Cafeteria during lunch the other day and waited. K. W. roared up right behind me on his motorcycle wearing his high-topped red cowboy boots, knit pants, vest, hand jacket and white helmet with a blue windshield. We entered the restaurant, and having sufficiently supped, exited five minutes later. K. W. mounted his steed and roared off to the pool hall. I followed. We had 55 minutes of our 60-minute school lunch hour left and we now planned to see who could do the most ruin to the other at eight-ball.

Having thus arrived, K. W. handed me his helmet. I handed him his black wide rimmed cowboy hat, and the Peel brothers strode across the street where, as K. W. put it, he would "put the whup" on me. I was expounding my intentions of doing likewise to him when he put the one-ball in on the break, after which he chalked up, tilted his hat on the back of his head, and put in three more solid balls.

I thought, "Oh, he's hot today," but said only, "If you didn't have that sombrero to keep your ears from flapping, you'd never be able to concentrate."

"What you hear is yer knees a-knocking," K. W. returned. "I said I was gonna put the whup on 'the boy'."

"Yea, well we'll see," I said rather confidently, which surprised even me, and I pocketed three striped balls of my own. Unfortunately, the third ball was followed by the cue-ball and was returned to the table.

"Pears to me yer havin' a little trouble," he said as he dropped in another solid.

I wasn't having trouble. I always shoot like that, but with a lot of luck, which I claimed as skill, and a few K. W. scratches, which he claimed were flukes, I managed to catch him and we were in a showdown for the eight-ball.

I shot. The ball banked four times and fell neatly in the corner pocket. I was elated. "What do you say to that?" I asked.

"I say you didn't call the pocket."

He was right so as he roared off I tossed a quarter on the table, thanked Pop for the pleasure, vowed to stay strictly with snooker, and left for school.

Mrs. Roycroft said the student needs to check with her about a week before he takes his day. She also said, "This day is a good time to check and make sure any papers sent by a student to a college have been received by that college. A student can also meet the chairman of his department and get any questions he has answered."

EDITORIAL

By MAURICE GONZALES

The class of '74 has been through so many changes that some of the members refer to the eighth grade as the "good ole days."

Some get the feeling that they were the guinea pigs in a series of experiments.

When we were freshmen they said having linguistics in the auditorium was going to be much easier to learn since it was the new accepted way. The trouble was no one told us we were going to change back to the grammar style in our sophomore year.

Since then, we have learned that when we take the required English courses in college, it will be grammar—we will not need to know "modals" and "sentences trees". The time spent on linguistics was almost a total waste, according to teachers and students, and when teachers now ask a question about a grammatical error in an essay hardly anyone can answer.

Next for the class of '74 came the change in much of the school policy.

Along with the difference in hair codes and dress codes, the relations between the classes (sophomores, juniors, seniors) are more on an equal plane of existence. I, for one, would like to see some of the respect due the seniors by the sophomores.

Next came the reduction in the amount of class periods one is able to have in a day. For the class of '74 this was not much of a disadvantage since they had only one year to go, but, many students said they would have liked to have had another class period for another elective.

This year the class of '74 has endured two changes. They include the grading system and the time changes. The time changes were almost compulsory because of the energy crisis. The grading system, though, is another matter entirely.

It has its disadvantages and advantages. One of the disadvantages is that it seems to be a lowering of standards. Some teens can now go home with two 70's and three 80's on report cards and tell their parents they got two C's and 3 B's, and at the same time, a person with two 75's and three 85's will get the same credit. This means that two persons can have quite a difference in accomplishments, but the same amount of credit is given to both of them.

SC BUSY

Bake Sale, Banquet Set

The LHS Student Council is in the midst of a busy month. Plans for the All-School Banquet April 6 are underway. Apollo '74 is this year's theme. The Jr. High Cafeteria will be decorated like a space ship, complete with decompression chamber, control panel and survival kits. During the banquet the coaching staff will present athletic awards. An outstanding club will be chosen and presented an award on the basis of their contributions to the school, and activities.

The Student Council will raise money for the banquet at the traditional bake sale March 28. The football boys will each make a cake which will be auctioned off. Each cake pays for the team member's ticket to the banquet. Tickets for the banquet will go on sale the week before the event.

Pam Turvaville made the All Tournament team despite the Wildcat volleyball team's coming up empty-handed in the South Plains Invitational Tournament March 15 and 16.

LHS Golfers Trail Field

The second district 3-AA golf meet in Olton left the Cat linksters 73 strokes off the pace set by Dimmitt.

Dimmitt has a 663 total and a one-stroke lead over Olton. Friona is at 704, and Littlefield follows with a 736.

Andy Rogers of Littlefield and Ken Burgess of Olton are tied for the individual lead with 161 scores. Rogers had an 82 at Olton, while Burgess had the day's best round, a 77.

Connie Bowman shot a 93 for the Cats, Dennis Johnson had a 96, Ben Farmer a 98, Kyle Jones 105 and Randy Hall 110.

The district tour stops at Littlefield Country Club today for the third tourney, and winds up Tuesday at Dimmitt.

Wildcat Sales Scheduled

By CAROL FRENCH

Almost half of the pages of the 1974 WILDCAT have been sent to Taylor Publishing Company. This shipment is one of three to be made by the annual staff.

This shipment of 73 pages is the largest of the three. The other two shipments require about 45 pages each.

In order to meet these deadlines, more pictures will be taken, more stories will be written and more pages will be typed. Finally, after the last of the pages have been mailed, the WILDCAT will be made into a book. Taylor Publishing Company sends the finished annuals back to Littlefield in mid-August in time for the annual-signing party.

Orders for the 1974 WILDCAT will go on sale March 26. They will cost $7 this year. Any member of the annual staff will be selling them.

Majority Of Students Believe Death Penalty Justified

BY WALKER AND EILEEN HINCKLEY

has recently reinstated the death penalty for crimes, such as skyjacking and kidnapping. A survey of students showed the majority are for the death penalty and only a few students oppose such a punishment.

BARBARA McBRIDE, SR.- I think the death penalty is right because a person deserves to be punished for what he does in life. For instance, when a person kills and only gets a sentence for life he can usually get out and then he is free to kill more people. He killed and since he doesn't have the right to take other lives, I think he should be given the death penalty.

GONZALES, FR.- Yes, I think the death penalty is right because some of the serious crimes and have never had to be punished for what they did, raping, and hit and run.

RICHARDS, SR.- I think there should be a death penalty for most crimes.

BLACK, SOPH.- I believe the death sentence is right for crimes which deserve death.

HAGERTY, SOPH.- For certain crimes I think there should be a death penalty. If people know they can get away with something without getting punished they're going to do it.

BRYSON, SR.- The only time the death penalty should be used is when the life of another person has been taken.

HUBER, SR.- It is wrong to kill anyone but if someone commits a crime I guess they deserve the punishment if it is wrong.

MRS. IRENE LYNN- It can be difficult to reach a decision on any matter that involves the life of an individual. However, considering the increase in the number of crimes after the death penalty was abolished, I would say reinstate it. The death penalty is not an absolute deterrent, but it seems that some criminals had a second thought about the consequences when it was in effect.

BARBARA McBRIDE, SR.- I think that this penalty is right, because it might frighten a few potential criminals out of going through with their crime. It serves some of those who are right. It shouldn't be used in those cases that Congress says it shouldn't, like mental illness.

JAN SISSON, SOPH.- I think the penalty is wrong because no one has the right to take a person's life because he has killed other people. I think he should be put in prison for life, though.

PATTY HAMBLIN, JR.- I think it's right for certain crimes to call for the death penalty. If a person killed a person intentionally then he deserves to die too.

JUDY CANNON, SR.- I think the death penalty should be carried out, because maybe then it will stop some of the killings and stuff. People ought to get what they deserve.

CINDY PURDY, JR.- I think it could be right for the people who would go out and do the same thing again as soon as they're released. But, mostly, I think it would be wrong to take a person's life. Everybody makes mistakes and wrong decisions at times in their lives.

GLYNDENE SPENCER, SR.- I think the punishment is right on certain crimes. If someone kills another person, then they deserve the same treatment.

COACH BOOMER- I think the death penalty will eliminate some of the premeditated crimes.

LARRY LOBAUGH, SR.- It depends on the type of crime, whether or not they should have the death penalty. If someone deliberately killed another person, I think they should be given a fair trial, and if found guilty, then they could be put to death.

LAQUINTHA CLARK, SR.- There are two ways you can look at it. One way is that the crimes committed differ. But if these people are stupid enough to do the things that are wrong they should have to suffer for the rest of their lives. Most of the criminals don't even deserve death. But if they don't enforce the death penalty they'll let 'em out'.

KIM JUNGMAN, SR.- I think the penalty is wrong because I don't believe that man has the right to decide if another man should live or die. On the other hand, I think it is right because if the criminal has no respect for human life (like killing a hostage or murdering someone intentionally) then he doesn't deserve to live either.

PATSEVIER, SR.- The reinstatement of the death penalty is one of the best legislations lately, and I am in complete agreement. To make a man spend the rest of his life in prison is far more cruel and unusual than a speedy death sentence that brings a painless death. To take another man's life in cold blood should not be ignored or excused, and the punishment for this crime should not exceed the crime in degree. For that reason, I feel that life imprisonment is far more cruel than a death sentence for murder.

SHERRY HEMPHILL, SR.- I think that the death penalty is very wrong. A person that commits a serious crime should be punished severely, but you should not take a person's life. One of the 10 Commandments is "Thou shall not kill."

Bryson Inks Letter With Tarleton

Terry Bryson will become the second Littlefield Wildcat to sign a football letter of intent today when he inks with Tarleton State College.

Coach Gillespie, the defensive back and head track coach at Tarleton, is coming to Littlefield today to get Bryson's signature. Tarleton is giving Bryson a full scholarship.

Last week, Randy Cook signed with West Texas State. Cook was also being sought by Tarleton.

"When I called Coach Gillespie to tell him I was going to sign with them," Bryson said, "he said they were disappointed about losing Randy because we were the top two recruits they were trying to get. This will be a good time to get on their team, too, because they'll be using a lot of freshmen next year."

Tarleton is located in Stephenville and is a member of the Lone Star Conference.

Bryson expects the Tarleton coaches to try him at defensive back and possibly quarterback. "I'd rather play defensive back," Bryson said, "because I think I'd have a better chance to do some good."

Bryson quarterbacked the Wildcats to consecutive district titles his junior and senior years, and made the All-district and all-South Plains honorable mention teams both years. This year, he received the Fighting Heart Award.

Tracksters Place Seventh

Littlefield collected 45 points on their way to a seventh place finish at the Hereford Relays. Friona took the team championship with 90 points.

Randy Cook took two first places. In the shot, Cook threw 50'3" for first place. Ricky Richards threw 46'4" for second place and Ricky Hopping 43'20" for third. Cook also took first in the discus with a throw of 150' 1 3/4". Doug McCain took seventh place.

Mike Cotter took second place in the pole vault with a leap of 12'3". The Cats improved on their times in the running events, but had a hard time reaching the finals.

The sprint relay qualified for the finals but was disqualified for handoff outside of the exchange zones. The Cats lost trips to the finals by a flip of the coin in the 440 and in the 100.

Terry Bryson took sixth place points in the 220 with a time of 23.7. Bill Turner ran to a fifth place finish in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 43.1. There were several seventh place finishes for which no points are awarded.

The Cats travel to Roosevelt Saturday to compete in the Eagle relays.

USDA Seeks ICC Aid In Getting Fertilizer

Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz requested March 12 the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) to direct railroads to make available, on a preferred basis, additional rail cars to assure the essential and timely delivery of fertilizer to the nation's farmers.

Secretary Butz requested, in a letter to ICC Chairman George M. Stafford, that the ICC use its emergency authority to direct railroads to make 3,000 more covered hopper cars and 1,000 more boxcars available from now until May 1 for the transportation of fertilizer and fertilizer components from manufacturers to dealers in time to meet current planting needs.

Secretary Butz cited supply reports from farmers and dealers for the weekend ending March 8 indicating: Nitrogen is short of expanded demand in 41 states, tight in 5; mixed fertilizer is short in 26 states, tight in 17; phosphate is short in 30 states, tight in 13; and potash in short in 27 states and tight in 11. Inventories of fertilizers in marketing channels are below normal, although production of these fertilizers is greater than that of a year

Highway Investigated Rural W

The Texas Highway Department is investigating several accidents on rural highways in Lubbock County during the month of February, according to Sergeant Thurston, Highway Patrol in this area.

These crashes involved five persons injured.

The rural traffic summary for the month of February during the first ten days of 1974 shows a total of 322 accidents resulting in 173 persons killed and 1,335 injured as compared to the same period of 1973.

The rural traffic summary for the month of February in the Lubbock County Public Safety Report for February, 1974, shows 322 accidents resulting in 173 persons killed and 1,335 injured as compared to the same period of 1973. This was 58 less accidents than the same period of 1973.

The ten traffic deaths occurred in the following counties: three in Wichita; one each in Moore, Randall, and Montague counties.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

With the release of the spring planting intentions report by the U.S. Department of Agriculture March 14, High Plains observers are stepping up calculations and speculations as to how much cotton may be planted in the 25 county area surrounding Lubbock.

As of March 1 the USDA report showed farmers intended to put 14,718,300 acres in cotton, a sizable 19 percent increase over the 12,416,100 acres seeded in 1973 and a small rise from the 14,505,000 acre planting intentions reported by USDA as of Jan. 1.

In Texas farmers indicated to USDA that 5,900,000 acres would go to cotton production. That's up 9.2 percent from the 5,400,000 planted in the Lone Star State in 1973 and a 100,000 acre increase over plans revealed to USDA Jan. 1.

The major part of the national increase, if farmers carry out March 1 plans, will occur in the Mid-South, where flooding reduced 1973 plantings, and in the Far-West states of California and Arizona.

Current thinking on the High Plains, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is that producers in the 25 PCG counties may raise planted acreage by about the same percent as Texas, perhaps as much as 10 percent. An increase of that magnitude would put between 3 and 3.1 million acres under cotton on the Plains.

Official 1973 planted acreage figures for all counties on the Plains have not been released, but information from Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices indicate that just over 2.8 million acres were sowed last year. The Dec. 1 final estimate of "acreage for harvest" from the joint PCG-Lubbock Cotton Exchange estimates committee, which allowed for acreage planted but later abandoned, was 2,709,836 acres.

Over three million acres planted to cotton on the Plains in 1974 is a definite possibility," says Johnson, "but at this juncture there are any number of factors that could greatly alter the picture."

The biggest of these factors of course is rainfall, he says, pointing out that one-third or more of the area expected to go into cotton is totally dependent on timely rain to make planting possible. Most of this "dryland" area lies South and West of Lubbock where heavy planting in 1973 left little room for expansion this year.

As one observer put it "Dryland farmers last year planted their back yards to cotton and unless they plow up their front lawns they can't plant much more cotton in 1974."

A sizable increase, in some areas as much as 25 percent, is now indicated in the sections lying generally North and East of Lubbock where irrigation water is more abundant. "But even here a large increase is not assured," Johnson cautions.
