

Daylily Selected For Town's Flower

Littlefield now has an official flower — the hardy daylily — and residents may select their flowers from approximately 210 varieties. The floral designation was made official Wednesday morning when the beautification committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's community development program met to discuss further plans in an all-out effort to improve Littlefield's physical appearance.

Dr. Bill Armistead and Pat Downs are co-chairmen of the steering committee for the beautification program, which has other committees already functioning.

Chairman of the flower committee Mrs. Wiley Roberts, and members of the Littlefield Garden Club will be asked to serve in the group.

Joella Lovvorn and Gayle Mills are the photography committee, and will record "before and after" scenes in the city for colored slide presentations.

Bob Wear will be in charge of publicity. Forrest Price will be chairman of a committee in charge of the business district, and B. D. Garland will head a committee to work for removal of junk cars which are no longer serviceable and are on property for a designated length of time. (New state legislation will govern the action taken in all cases.)

Other committee chairmen are being sought, and will be named at a later date.

Most Democrats Rode On Primary

Primary candidates in the May stretched the cricks out of their necks and wiped their sweaty palms and grinned broadly following the 6 p.m. filing deadline Monday.

None drew opposition.

While there will be 16 names listed under Texas governor, marking ballots will be easy for candidates for district, state and county offices in Lamb County and this area.

Officials whose terms are expiring and who filed for re-election include James H. Whiteside, state board of education; Jack Young, district attorney; Bill Clayton, state representative; Herbert Dunn, tax assessor-collector; Curtis Wilkinson, county attorney; Jack Peel, commissioner of precinct 3; E. D. McNeese, sheriff; A. J. Spain, commissioner of precinct 1; Max Sherman, state senator; George Mahon, congressman 19th district; E. L. Yarbrough, justice of peace precinct 6; G. W. Finney, justice of peace precinct 1; and Ted Borum, justice of peace of the Earth precinct.

In Epidemic Early Over

Epidemic proportions of the recent outbreak in Lamb County is stated Dr. J. H. Oyer, Lamb County health officer.

He is "fairly sure" most of the cases are the Hong Kong variety, although sensitive tests for determining the strains were made.

Most of the cases we're seeing now are definitely have had the flu and having a hard time getting back on their feet," he continued.

And some feel they suffer new symptoms of the disease — or something else — they attempt to get back into the routine of things and haven't fully recovered from the original illness.

"I still have a few cases of flu," he said, but dispelled any rumors of influenza outbreaks.

Scout Drive Nears Mid Point

A third of our goal for the Annual Fund Drive has been turned in, and to drive co-chairman Larry contact packs, containing $450.50, turned in by Tuesday, and the drive will be complete by the end of this month.

The drive was begun Friday morning, and approximately 35 persons making contacts.

The house drive will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday night, when mothers of Girl Scouts and other interested adults will be invited.

"We would like to urge the Littlefield residents to support these fund raising efforts. Scouting helps to build good character and leaders, and is a very good way for students to spend their leisure time," Mrs. Lloyd Champion, wife of the co-chairman.

"We appreciate all the help we can get," she added.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will be held from Feb. 25 through March 11, and from these sales will go into the activities of the Girl Scouting organization.

C-CA Banquet Monday Night

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will hold its annual banquet Monday night, Feb. 21, at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

The speaker, humorist and author of Fort Worth, will serve as the main attraction.

Tickets for the event, at $3.50 each, are available at the Olton C-CA office.

MOLLY THE WADDIE

He Was Charming Scamp

Editor's note: The following article won third place in the 1972 annual South Plains Writers Association non-fiction contest. Jack Sheridan, who judged the contest, said of the entry: "The writer has taken a family legend type of regional character and caught up many skeins of personality and actions to present a beguiling and provocative figure of some pathos, much fun and certain humanity. The story is interesting and the author paid her tribute well."

By NILAH RODGERS

He was a scamp and a scoundrel, and despite his pretty name, "Molly", he was as homely as a mud fence daubed with lizards. But most scoundrels are charming. The two things go together. And his ugliness was the kind that made women look at him and wonder. People flocked to him to hear his outrageous lies.

Old Molly always wore a ten-gallon hat to add stature to his bantam build. He draped leather gaiters through the belt loops of his pants, and smoked the longest cigars that could be bought.

Molly often showed up at nesters' homes about meal time to "set a spell and share ne vittles," then he paid for his supper by talking and singing for hours. Molly had the gift of gab, dancing feet, and a song for everyone. He made up verses to fit each person and every happening, and sang them to the tempo of a jogging horse.

Molly never missed a ranch dance, and he regaled the fairer sex with his songs and banter for hours. And when Molly finally left Sudan, Texas, for once and all, it was a woman's doings.

The stories concerning Molly's name are as numerous as the tall tales Molly spun around Sudan during the early 1900s. One of the most repeated is the romantic tale that has been a plot for novels, movies and television shows where a baby is left in a basket with a note pinned to it saying "Please take care of me."

One of Sudan's early settlers relates it like this: In the 1900s, cowboys found an abandoned wagon on the prairie. In it was a tiny baby, but no clues to the parents' whereabouts. It is said that the child was

RALPH FUNK signed a letter of intent to attend Baylor on a football scholarship Tuesday. George Kirk, a former Littlefield player and coach, recruited the celebrated Wildcat fullback. Kirk is Baylor's offensive coordinator and backfield coach. Funk finished the season as Class AA top scorer, was named All-District, All-South Plains, Class AA Player of the Year, and to two second team All-State lists.

Funk Signs

Baylor Letter

A Baylor coach with letter of intent in hand beat a pack of other college agents to Ralph Funk's door early Tuesday morning to get the signature of the 200-pound ace fullback on the first day of the college sign-ups.

Funk was the main cog in Jerry Blakely's all-district 3-AA team this year, rushing for 1868 yards on 325 carries and finishing the season as top scorer on the South Plains with 156 points.

Coaches named Funk unanimous choice for the 3-AA offensive backfield slot.

Sports writers tapped Funk for a bevy of honors, too.

The Avalanche-Journal lauded Funk Class AA Player of the Year and named him again in their All-South Plains choices.

The husky fullback landed on the Fort Worth Star Telegram's All-State second team along with teammates Dennis Hartley and Matt Giles.

Funk also was named to the Texas Sportswriters' All-State second team.

Civil Defense Trains For Tornado Season

The Lamb County Civil Defense Team has scheduled a training session on severe weather for all interested persons in the county, as well as members of the team, Monday night.

"The severe weather season is fast approaching us, and as in the past years, the team will be watching and warning as much as possible," said Wayne Cole of the rescue and safety division of the team.

Persons besides those already involved in Civil Defense work are invited to take the training at the Olton fire station Monday night, Feb. 14, at 7:30.

"Many people think you must be a fireman to work on Civil Defense — this is wrong!" Cole emphasized. "Our training programs and all meetings are open to the general public, and we need some help," he said.

The training session will be presented by the National Weather Service, "teaching us to detect possible severe thunderstorm clouds and what cloud formations will or will not develop into severe weather. We want any interested person to attend this meeting, especially those having two-way radios," Cole emphasized.

In the event a tornado is approaching, the sirens will be sounded in six short blasts and residents should look for cover.

"During a tornado 'watch' the sirens will not be sounded, but the radio will be notified to inform the public.

The "all clear" signal will be a long continual blast of the siren, which is much longer than the usual fire signal which designates a fire in town.

WIMMIN': CAN YOU imagine the little woman gettin' "Plumb outta' snuff" just because I'd crossed up the controls to the electric blanket?

NOW, HEAR THIS! If it's unconstitutional for the office seeker to pay any election expense, it'll be twice as unconstitutional for the voter to have to pay it!

Nother words, if the poll tax is unconstitutional and the "candidate-tax" is unconstitutional, it'll sure be unconstitutional for us to have to PAY to vote Compre?

MIGHT BE, we'll come to the point that we'll have elections declared unconstitutional, and let each office holder appoint his own successor — Silly? I understand that's the way some of the commies operate. And, we're comin' pretty close to their method of operation.

WHETHER I LIKE to worry about it or not, looks like we've fallen into the hands of a bunch of "Kooks".

Since when is it unconstitutional for an organization to make its own rules and by-laws and to set up its own method of financin' its operation?

AREN'T THE political parties supposed to be independent organizations, in their own right? Aren't they free to set up their own rules and regulations, as well as their own methods of financin' — If no, WHY NOT??

IF THIS be not true, then we'd better declare political parties, themselves, to be unconstitutional, and institute only one large "Federal" party!

In this way, we'd all pay the election expenses and for the right to vote, through the avenue of either outright taxes or hidden taxes, which should be a very GREAT consolation. — AND, we'd still be paying for the right to vote!

SEEMS THAT under our constitution, anyone or group of anyone, are free to set up and organize a political party. If not, where did the AMERICAN party come from? By the same token, it's supposed, they may set up their own method of financin' their candidates and primaries. Where, then, does the federal control come in? — Someone answer me, I'm lost!

HAD QUITE A shock, these past few days? Found out either I'm not greedy, or, I've lost all my ambition! (Bet cha it's the latter case!)

COMES A TIME, I suppose, when a feller gives up on reformin' the world and commences tryin' to keep the world from DEFORMIN' HIM!

MAYBE THE IRISH would make a good 51st state for us. Seems they'd fit right in, doesn't it?

SURE, THE MEEK will inherit the earth, but, they'll STILL have to do the farmin'!

TRY THIS in the morning. Bounce out 'ta bed, do a few school-hops and say: "OH BOY, A BRAND NEW day that I haven't lived yet. — CHEE-E, I GET to go to work, this morning. Just wonder what new and happy adventure I'll take part in today!" Maybe it'll work — for YOU!

PHILOSOPHER

Overboard!

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries to head off some new scientific progress, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
The trouble with some people is they confuse something new with something better.

For example, according to an article I ran across in a newspaper yesterday, some scientists have looked into the future and reported that two-way cable television is going to revolutionize everybody's way of life.

A housewife, they said, will be able to stay at home, tune in a supermarket, look over the items, make her selections, and order them sent out, while a computer at the store rings up the sale on her account at her bank which is also plugged into the system. If her baby is sick she turns her home camera on him, dials her doctor, and makes the examination on his screen, with his prescription being filled by a plugged-in drugstore.

To top it off, the scientists said, the prime use of the system will be to eliminate schools as we know them. Kids stay at home, the teacher instructs them via her television and they answer via theirs. With one full swoop this ends taxes for school buildings and football fields, ends busing, demonstrations and dress codes. Maybe even the P-TA.

This may have its appeal at first glance, but those scientists haven't consulted apparently with very many parents.

From a young parent's viewpoint, one of the glorious advantages of universal public education is that it gets the kids out from under foot as soon as they reach age 6, and there's some agitation from parents whose nerves are about to break to make it 5 or even 4.

You try to set up a system that keeps kids in the house every day until they're 18 and you'll be charged with inciting adults to riot.

It's true lots of schools are having financial trouble and recent rulings that property taxes as their chief means of support are unconstitutional are compounding the difficulty, but keeping kids at home under foot for their schooling would be worse than unconstitutional, it'd be inhuman. Ask any mother who's counting the days till her kid's old enough to start to school, down the block or across the town but not in her living room.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

so beautiful that when the cowman discovered him, a waddie exclaimed "What a pretty little girl," and with that they christened "her" Molly. They soon discovered their mistake, but the name remained with the cowboys who raised the child as their "chief cook and bottle washer" and continued to call him Molly.

Although he was always called Molly, Old Molly, Molly the Cook, or Molly the Cow Waddie, he had another more impressive name. As the pretty baby grew into a scrawny, sandy-haired youngster and the name Molly seemed less and less appropriate, each of the cowboys gave the boy his last name. Thus he became James Lee Preston Hamilton and grew up knowing only the ways of cow pokes.

The year the Plains was laid out, James L. P. Hamilton drifted into West Texas and went to work as a cook for the old Yellow House Ranch headquartered at Nine Mile Camp south of what is now Littlefield. Later he moved to Sudan and promptly bought the first call box with the arrival of the new postal fixtures. It was lettered "Hamilton", but in the many years that he lived at Sudan, a letter addressed to James or L. P. Hamilton would likely go in the dead letter box, whereas a letter addressed to Molly the Cook would be delivered forthwith.

Another tale has it that Molly's name came about when someone laundered the cowboys' clothes. When the laundry was done, the one bringing it back to camp knew where it belonged but not knowing the owner's name marked it "Molly the Cook" and let it go that.

Regardless of how he got his name, some Sudan residents remember one of the ditties Molly sang to the clomp, clomp horses' hoofbeat rhythm:

They call me old Molly, but that's not my name.
I live in a shack, up on the Plains.
I round up the cattle whenever they brand

Out upon the prairie by the town of Sudan.

Molly's humorous, easy-going way of life furnished raw material to add to the poke's legend. Once he bought a typewriter and paid for it with a worthless check. When asked why, he replied, "Well, I knew I was going to get this letter about a bad check I wrote for a typewriter, so I bought this to answer it with."

Someone once told Molly that if he could make a down payment on a car, he could drive it thirty days before he received a payment notice, then he'd have thirty more days to make the payment. Molly made a small payment on a new Model T, drove it the sixty days, then let it go back.

Molly was a man's man and a woman's man, too, and he had a way with animals and people alike. Besides being a general good humor man and the kind of person who could bring out the mother instinct in the women folk, Molly broke broncs while providing free entertainment for Sudan residents.

He was an expert cow puncher, the Yellow House Ranch cook, a self-styled veterinarian, the old prairie doctor, and at one time he was named justice of peace at Sudan. No wonder people who knew him said Molly knew a little about everything.

For years Molly was the nearest thing to a doctor Lamb County had. During the 1918 flu epidemic, Molly went into the homes of those down with the flu and took over — cooking, doctoring, staying up day and night and saving many lives with his horse sense nursing. Under different circumstances, Molly would have made a very fine doctor.

Although Molly liked to talk, he kept his personal life to himself. Besides his birth and childhood years being vague and sketchy, a twenty-year period, from the time he left Sudan until he came back twenty years later, remains a mystery.

While on a cattle drive in Kansas with the Yellow House crew, Molly left the cowboys suddenly. He liked his shorse doctoring so well that some have reason to believe that he spent several years as a veterinarian around Dora, N. M., and later did odd jobs in Kansas and Arizona. Molly returned to Sudan twenty years later, but never told anyone his whereabouts during his long absence.

When Molly finally left Sudan never to return again, it was because of a woman. A young school teacher claimed Molly made advances. Humiliated, Molly headed west and never came back.

Molly never told his age, but Sudan residents believed Molly was on the golly-whopper lying side of 60 long before he left Lamb County. Molly plied his veterinarian skills around Portales, working with sick cattle in New Mexico the last few years of his life.

Just as mystery surrounded Molly in life, there was a strange occurrence after his death in a Portales rest home in 1963. Molly never mentioned a family, but shortly after his death, two well-dressed women driving a luxury car came to inquire about their "dad's" death. If they were Molly's daughters, that partially explains his strange disappearance from the cattle drive.

But if Molly had a family, it's a secret he carried to his grave. A modest marker is at the head of his grave at Portales, but the cemetery has no record of who put the marker there.

COURTS SPEAK

Policemen relying on first-time informers for information should have to identify them sufficiently to prove reliability before search warrants are issued, the Court of Criminal Appeals held,

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

We Must Care

IT IS NORMAL for us to want other people to think well of us. In fact, we can care too much; and we can try too hard to gain their good will.

If we care so much that we are anxious about it, we care too much. If we try to gain their good will by compromise, and by making unwise concessions, and by "running after" them; we try too hard.

WE MUST CARE what people think about us. We want them to like us. We want them to speak well of us.

Of course, some people pretend that they do not care what other people think about them. There may be some persons who have, in some way, damaged themselves or permitted themselves to be damaged to the extent that they don't care. They think they don't care.

WE MUST PRESENT ourselves to others so they can like us, and think well of us, and speak kindly of us.

This will require us to be doing our best with ourselves in all of the associations with others. We must also treat others so they will know that we respect them, appreciate them, and like them.

IF WE HAVE A GOOD self-image, the golden rule will be about the best guideline for us to follow. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

We must care, because it is abnormal not to care. "To disregard what others think of us is not only arrogant but utterly shameful." — Anon.

THERE IS NO MERIT in alienating people; there is no making others feel that they are appreciated for others, and for service; and it is very foolish to think that we need others, and that they will.

It is wise for us to care about what they think of us.

WE CANNOT PLEASE everyone; there will be some people who are not as or speak well of us regardless of how well we treat them.

We must remember that the problem, and their loss. If they should be ugly toward us, remember not to stoop to their level of behavior.

THE GOOD WE CAN DO for others; the kindness we can show them; the understanding we can maintain; the sympathetic we can manifest; and the wise things we can express will not be wasted.

We will be better and stronger people will respond in kind. The well of us, and this is reward.

IT IS RIGHT and wise to seek will of honorable people regarding station in life.

Good will is so much better than ill will.

WE MUST CARE, we do care.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEW GUIDELINES for conduct of the state's first publicly-financed primary elections are due to reach local election officials this week.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock, as chief Texas election officer, drafted the rules in line with a federal court amendment to the decision outlawing filing fees as proposed in a 1971 law.

Bullock interpreted the latest order as authorizing the state to foot the bill for primary election costs. He said an earlier opinion permitted use of nominal filing fees to regulate length of the ballot but not as a revenue-raising device placing a wealth requirement on candidacy.

The chief election officer ordered this mandatory filing fee schedule for both Democratic and Republican candidates (or an alternative nominating petition signed by qualified voters):

Statewide offices, $400; U.S. representative, $300; state senator, $150; state representative, $100; chief justice or associate justice, court of civil appeals, $100; member state board of education, $50; district judge or judge of any court having district office status, $100; district attorney or criminal district attorney, $100; all county offices except county surveyor or inspector of hides and animals, $100; inspector of hides and animals, $50; county commissioner, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties above 200,000 population, $50; justice of the peace or constable for counties under 200,000, $25; all party offices, no fee.

Fees must be paid in full by Feb. 28. In lieu of filing fees, candidates may elect to file petitions by a March 6 deadline. For statewide offices, 2,500 signatures are necessary.

For other offices, signatures urging candidacy must be equal in number to at least two per cent of the entire vote cast for a party's gubernatorial candidate in the last general election for the territory served — or at least 25 and no more than 300 signers.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has stated he will ask an attorney general's opinion on legality of Bullock's proposal to finance May and June primaries with funds transferred from another state appropriation. Gov. Preston Smith applauded the plan and said he will direct the necessary transfer.

ALLOWABLE GOES UP

The February oil allowable has been pushed up another 4.1 per cent in answer to demands for more production.

Texas Railroad Commission allowable at 75.8 per cent the week after announcing it would be 75.8 per cent.

Texas crude stocks Jan. 28 at 90,994,000 barrels, down 18.2 million the same time in 1971.

BASIN PLAN ORDERED

A water quality cleanup plan for Colorado River Basin must be approved by local, state and federal officials July, 1973, to meet a federal requirement for loans.

Cities of Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo, Brownwood and Abilene will be affected by the decision. A U.S. House resolution authorizing federal engineers to review reports on Colorado River Basin and conduct study of a 54-county basin including river miles.

Efforts will be made to define generating most pollutants and to basinwide approaches to control problems.

ANTI-INCOME TAX

An anti-income tax group of progressive Texans Wednesday announced a push for state governmental reform headed off "substantial new taxes."

Texas Association of Taxpayers helped defeat a corporate income tax in 1971, is seeking to expand its membership base of 5,500 before the 1973 legislative session.

Principal objective, said Chairman Sealy of Midland, is first to "create every possible economy that will pay on spending."

AG OPINIONS

State funds may be used by Texas and Wildlife Department to meet federal requirements that require residents and businesses receive aid when they are uprooted by federal land acquisition, Attorney General Martin held.

In other recent opinions, he concluded:

"Persons licensed by the Texas Board of Examiners in Fitting and Hearing Aids can lose their licenses for violating professional standards of state dealings.

"A person convicted of DWI offense is subject to having his license automatically suspended even if sentence is probated.

MRS. HAZEL WARD

Teacher Writes Poetry

An LHS teacher's "Philosophy of Living" will receive national attention this year.

For five consecutive years, Mrs. Hazel Ward's poetry has been chosen to be published in "National Anthology."

A small number of poems are selected each year from about 7,000 works submitted by teachers, instructors, professors, and librarians in over 6,000 high schools, colleges, and universities.

Writing poetry is a favorite pastime for Mrs. Hazel Ward, junior English teacher. Mrs. Ward, who has been writing poetry since she was a small child, writes sonnets, free verse, and poems filled with symbolism.

Submitting the poetry is "a challenge to me and helps me offer more to my students. I believe that teaching by example is an effective approach toward helping students enjoy literature — especially poetry!" she explains.

Last summer, Miss Lou La Tour, an international poet and owner of a publishing company, requested that Mrs. Ward assist in the poetry division in Washington D.C.

"Because of family illness I could not attend," added Mrs. Ward. "Infinite Love," "Destination Unlimited," and "A Rain Storm," are among her other poems that have been selected to be published in the "National Anthology."

NHS Reveals Officers, Rules

Chuck Blevins was named president of National Honor Society at a meeting January 24.

Other new officers are Kerry Nicholas, vice-president; Cynthia Adair, secretary; Kathy Turner, treasurer; and Cathy Giles, reporter.

Mrs. Irene Lynn, sponsor, announced two new rules for the organization. If a person misses two consecutive meetings without an excuse or three meetings during the semester without an excuse, he will be expelled from the Society.

Once a person is expelled from NHS, he cannot be a member again regardless of the grades he makes.

Club Starts Baby Sitting For Project

David Coates was guest speaker at Quill and Scroll meeting Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Amy Turner, sponsor of the organization.

After a spaghetti dinner, fund-raising projects were discussed. "A babysitting program" was organized. Anyone wishing babysitting services may call 385-3738 for arrangements. Sitters are juniors and seniors in high school and are members of Quill and Scroll.

FOR 12 YEARS

Seniors Stay Together

By ANGELA PURDY

Togetherness? Just ask the Class of '72, which boasts 65 out of 103 seniors who have attended school together at Littlefield all 12 years.

How do these seniors feel about all those good ole' golden rule days?

"I'll be glad to get out!" Brad Nace laughed.

"It was very exciting and a chance to be with all your friends," Porfirio Cristian commented.

"I'll be glad to get out of school, but I will miss getting to see my friends every day," Jennifer Robinson replied rather sadly.

"Not only does it seem like a long time, it was a long time," Beverly Kemp reminisces about her 12 years.

"It seems like a long time but after thinking back, it really hasn't been. I'll be glad to get out," says Bridgett Patterson.

"It's been a long 12 years, but I'll miss it," said Velva Lee.

"I'll miss being around my friends all the time but I will be glad to get out of school," Timmie Campbell remembers sadly.

"Wow! Twelve years seems like a long time. Some really fantastic things have happened.

LHS Seniors Work On Research Themes

Mrs. Irene Lynn's senior English classes are hard at work on their research themes.

Students may choose topics of English literature dealing with subjects found through the 18th Century. One exception is the 17th Century, which was covered earlier.

Themes are due Monday, Feb. 14.

I'll be glad to get out of school, but I'll miss the excitement and being with my friends," noted Duff Wattenbarger.

They all seem to have one thing in common.

They'll be glad to get out into the world which is, perhaps, as it should be.

Here are the names of the students who were among the 65. LHS SPEAKS OUT

Three Bells

LHS has adopted a three-bell system for lunch in order to try to prevent running and pushing in the hall.

Those students in the odd-numbered classes get out on the first bell; even numbered, second; and the third bell is for those who insist on running in the hall.

A survey was taken to get the students' opinions on this system. The questions asked were:

What do you think of the three-bell system for lunch?

Do you have some other suggestion to solve the problem of running?

Are you in an even or odd numbered class?

The majority of these students objected to the system. However, some were all for it. These were mostly those who get out on the first bell.

Others suggested that it should change every week. One week, odd numbered classes should go first, and the next, the even numbered.

Here are some of the students' opinions:

FRANCES HERNANDEZ (Sr.): I don't like the three bells for lunch. I really don't like any suggestions on how to keep the kids from running in an even numbered class.

BENNY SAENZ: I think it's terrible. I don't like any suggestions that I can't do in the even and odd and odd should change week.

ANGELA PURDY: I like it! It's really too bad everyone getting out the same time. No, I don't have a suggestion for the system. There really is no problem because of the lunch so short. But having the bell system helps. I like it.

BENNE VARGAS: It's up to the principal.

RALPH FUNK (Sr.): The system is downgrading the students. It treats first graders I didn't think that much running in the first place. I'm a numbered class.

TERESA TURVILLE (Sr.): I think the system is a good idea. It eliminates the running and pushing lunch. It doesn't make me too much because the gym fourth period.

BARBARA KEMP: I'm neither even or odd the gym and, of course, the first bell. The suggestion I would have is a pretty dumb system suggest that they get

MARY LOU THORNTON (Sr.): I think it's a suggest having a longer

By DEBBIE HAFLEY

Jerry Cox, a bright junior at Littlefield High School, has a very different hobby from most students here. He loves to fly!

Jerry first started getting interested in flying when he took Ground School (a school teaching about airplanes and their functions) last summer at the Littlefield Airport. After Ground School, which lasted about six weeks, he started flying a Cherokee 140 and only had seven hours when he soloed.

Jerry now has around 23 daytime hours and says it has slowed down since school started, taking most of his time. "Flying is pretty expensive for just a school boy, like me," Cox noted.

Mowing lawns all summer is the way Jerry made his money to start his lessons. He says he wants to continue them and to try to get his private pilot's license which requires solo plus 20 hours and a test.

"Ground School helps a lot with the test and you have to make about 70 on it to pass. Once you get your private license they last two years, but you must be 17 or older to fly them."

When asked if he flew for enjoyment, Jerry said:

"Right now I fly because I like to and because it's kind of a sport for me, but I may make a career out of it later."

Doubt

By CATHY GILES

If you ever wonder what it's like to succeed in life, you first possess confidence in yourself and your abilities. Doubt can easily be a strong men crumble in presence.

Doubt reacts on the like a cancerous growth uncontrolled, it can over the mind and a person loses all self confidence.

You must have confidence in every you do. If not, you never reach your goals. Your cause will automatically fail.

Strive to have confidence and be victorious. Doubt, if you succeed, life will certainly be an interesting experience.

LESLIE LeBOEUF

Student Studies Ballet, Jazz

By VELVA LEE

Plie, tendu, battement, assemble... do you wonder what these words mean?

Ask Leslie LeBoeuf, the words are ballet terms, and she's a ballet student.

Leslie is a brown-eyed, red-haired senior at LHS who has been taking ballet and modern jazz lessons for five months. She studies under Mrs. Tutu King in Sudan. Mrs. King is a dance major from TCU.

Leslie took dance lessons previously in Corpus Christi. She studied ballet four years. She said that the first time she took ballet it was her mother's idea. When she started ballet the second time, it was her idea.

Asked what she liked about ballet, Leslie replied, "It's fun, but it's also a lot of work and it takes a lot of concentration." She also says that it is good exercise and keeps her in good physical shape.

Leslie takes four one-hour lessons a week, and she practices an average of 45 minutes a day. She learns ballet steps and stretches.

Leslie plans to enter the Lubbock City Ballet tryouts in March. All persons trying out must meet certain qualifications. They will execute ballet steps before judges. Those who are chosen to be in Lubbock Civic Ballet will dance four hours every Saturday. There will be an hour and a half class and the other two and a half hours will be spent in rehearsal for programs.

Leslie is a member of FHA, band, PE and is an office aide. Her hobbies include swimming, dancing and sewing. She is a life-guard and also teaches swimming lessons.

Leslie says she plans to continue taking ballet and modern jazz until she finishes college.

Seniors Recall The Past . . . And Look To The Future

By WANDA COTTER

Graduation time is getting nearer and nearer. It's an exciting time to some of the seniors, a sad occasion for others. Regardless of how anyone feels, though, graduation will symbolize a new beginning for all of the seniors.

Before these seniors are gone, though, the Skat would like to honor them in one of the best ways possible by simply introducing each of them to the public.

In the coming weeks, each individual member of the class of '72 will be presented.

CYNTHIA ADAIR
Cynthia Adair has been a member of Spanish Club, Science Club, and Kat Klub. During her junior year, she served as junior representative on the Student Council and attended the Texas Association of Student Councils Convention at Austin. Cynthia is now publicity director of Student Council and FTA as well as belonging to NHS, Quill and Scroll, and the Wildcat Band. She is a varsity cheerleader and co-editor of the "Wildcat" annual. Yellow is Cynthia's favorite color and she enjoys eating pizza or steak. This senior enjoys swimming, water skiing, cooking, and dancing.

Pep rallies and football games were Cynthia's most memorable occasions in high school. Having the opportunity to be with friends was another thing that she really enjoyed. Her most embarrassing memories are of turning "so red" during the pep rallies.

Cynthia plans to attend South Plains Junior College. She advises next year's seniors to have fun and to not let anything get them down.

CRAIG ANDERSON
Craig Anderson is a member of the Rodeo Club and the Industrial Arts Club. He also serves as president of FFA. People who won't accept another person for what he is are one of Craig's pet peeves. Brown is his favorite color while bar-b-que is his favorite food. Hunting, fishing, drawing, and painting take up much of this senior's time.

Craig's woodshop class was his favorite thing about high school. Making an "A" in English (those aren't easy to come by, you know) was his most memorable occasion. His most embarrassing memory about high school was the day that he backed into another car in the parking lot.

Craig plans to go to South Plains Junior College and study in some field of agriculture. His advice to the seniors of '73 is to do their best, hope, and stay on the good side of Mr. Harris.

LARRY BIRKELBACH
Larry Birkelbach has played on the Wildcat varsity football team for two years. During his senior year, he was received honorable mention as offensive end in District 3-AA. He also serves as president of National Honor Society.

Football, baseball, hunting, and fishing take up much of Larry's time. Bar-b-que steak is his favorite food. He lists blue as his favorite color and says his pet peeve is people who think they are something that they are not.

The student body's spirit throughout the year and the faculty were what Larry liked best about high school. His most memorable occasions were beating Floydada and winning district during his senior year.

Larry plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in mechanical engineering. He advises next year's seniors to work hard and graduate in 1973.

CHUCK BLEVINS
Chuck Blevins has been a member of the LHS Choir for three years. He now serves as president of the organization. He has been a member of NHS for two years and has also been awarded the English II and English III sweaters. As a member of the varsity football team for three years, he has received many honors. During his junior year, he was the Wildcat captain. During his senior year, he was named outstanding offensive lineman and gained a berth on the all-district team for 3-AA.

Royal blue and bar-b-que are some of Chuck's favorites. During his spare time, he enjoys drawing and model building. The way that the school board tries to run things without bothering to find out what needs to be done is Chuck's pet peeve.

Most of Chuck's memories about high school involve the football program. Winning the district championship was his favorite thing about high school. Beating Floydada to clinch the district championship was his most memorable occasion. His things for other people. The way that her hair curled up and looked like the frizzies during marching season is one of her most embarrassing memories.

Martha plans to enter Texas Tech University in the fall. When she graduates, she would like to do something in the Peace Corp.

"Have fun and go on," is Martha's advice to future LHS seniors.

TIMMIE CAMPBELL
Timmie Campbell is a very academic-minded student. She has earned a sweater award in both Spanish II and American History. During her entire three years of high school, she has been a member of FTA and the Wildcat Band. Timmie is a member of National Honor Society and president of the LHS chapter of Quill and Scroll, a national honor society for high school journalists.

Purple is Timmie's favorite color and she enjoys eating any type of Italian food. Cooking, reading, and collecting pennies are a few hobbies that Timmie enjoys. One thing she does not enjoy, though, is people interfering in something that doesn't concern them.

Being around her friends and being a senior are two parts of high school that Timmie lists as her favorites.

She plans to attend Abilene Christian College and major in foreign languages.

"Take everything in your stride, because, after all, it's your last year. So why get uptight?" is Timmie's advice to next year's seniors.

MICHAEL CARTER
Michael Carter has been an active member of the Varsity Club and Industrial Arts during his junior and senior years of high school. He was an FFA member during his sophomore year. During his senior year, he was named honorable mention on the all-district team.

Some of Michael's favorites include bread and butter and the color purple. His pet peeve is getting his books knocked out of his hands in the hall. Going to parties is one of his favorite hobbies.

Getting out of school for Christmas holidays was what Michael liked best about high school. His most embarrassing incident in high school was when he got his shirt caught in the lath and broke his wooden bowl the week before state competition. His most memorable occasion winning district in basketball. Michael's future plans include attending Eastern Mexico University and playing football, if possible. His advice to next year's seniors is to be the school the way they are and be a leader to underclassmen.

JUNIOR CASTILLO
Junior Castillo has been a member of Spanish Club, Distributive Education, and the Varsity Club during his three years at Littlefield High School. He is employed as a DE student at the Upholstery.

Junior's pet peeve is prejudiced people. Brown is his favorite color and steak is one of his favorite foods. Riding around watching sports on TV are some of the things he enjoys during his spare time. The football games are what Junior liked best about attending LHS, though it has not yet occurred to him that he should be his night to graduate.

Junior plans to work in travel during the future. He has only one word for the future seniors: "STUDY!"

Mr. Dusek — Why are days long in the summer and short in the winter?
Richard Barton—Because heat expands things and cold contracts them.

Daffynishion: Junk — Something you have for years and throw it away just before you need it.

The girls' basketball teams played Dimmitt Thursday night. The eighth grade won, and the seventh and ninth grades played good games.

Tommy H. — How far were you from the right answer on the test?
Randy Y. — Just two seats!

S. C. — Fall, we dare ya!!
P. C. — The bar?!!?

THE BOYS also played Dimmitt Thursday night. We are so proud of them!! The freshman won! And isn't it Dimmitt that is supposed to be so . . . good in basketball? Oh well, we knew that Dimmitt didn't have a chance anyway.

Ken T. — What do you get when you cross an elephant with a jar of peanut butter?

Dandy T. — Either a jar of peanut butter that never forgets, or an elephant that sticks to the roof of your mouth!!

R. W. — 27 parts?

Well . . . that's all for this time so, have a nice week and . . . and . . . brush your teeth after you eat your Valentine candy!!!

Billy T. Francis Gets National Honor

A young man from Littlefield was honored as "Goodwill Worker of the Year" at the annual meeting of Goodwill Industries of Lubbock last month.

It was the second consecutive year for this honor. Billy Tracey Francis, 24, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Choice Francis of Littlefield received the coveted plaque from Overton O. Dibb, regional consultant of the Goodwill Industries of America. In addition to the plaque, Francis got the "Mr. Goodwillie" trophy awarded at a meeting of plant employees.

Goodwill Industries hires employable handicapped. Such help is the finest which can be given because it is help which is not charity but a chance or help to help themselves. After this training, many handicapped persons move into normal employment.

Each Goodwill Industries has workshop divisions involving the repair of materials.

Census Bureau Slates Survey

A number of households in this area will be interviewed during the week of Feb. 14 for a survey of employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

Census Bureau interview who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

This is a monthly survey conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. A sample of households is scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households in the United States.

The employment and unemployment statistics which are based on results of this survey are prime indicators of the economic health of the Nation. The December survey showed that 80.2 million persons were employed and 4.7 million unemployed. After allowance for usual seasonal patterns, both were virtually unchanged over November.

Handicapped people both learn and earn in a variety of trades preparing contributed articles for resale. After the articles are repaired, they are sold in Goodwill stores, and budget shoppers can buy the articles at lower prices.

Income from sales, contract jobs and salvage sales pays over 80 per cent of the costs of the Goodwill Industries operation.

Francis has been a Littlefield resident most of his life, moving here with his parents when he was 18-months old. He attended Littlefield schools, and worked at various jobs in Littlefield. He sold Grit Magazines for three years, attaining state salesman in that capacity. He worked as stock boy at Furr's and Renfro's. He worked as assistant to his dad in his body shop, and aided Jerry Roberts at his sign shop.

He worked with the very young handicapped children in the clinic at the Denton State School while he lived in a dormitory on campus there, and was in the rehabilitation project.

Francis has been associated with the Goodwill store in Lubbock a year and a half, and was named supervisor last year.

hour. I'm in the odd numbered class.

GEORGIA ANN JACKSON (Soph.): I think that it is okay for the people who run, but for the people that don't run, it is not fair. No, I don't have any suggestions. I'm in the even class.

JOHNNY ROBERTSON (Sr.): It's what the man ordered and unfortunately we are the ones that have to put up with it. I'm in the even.

JERRY GONZALES (Soph.): I think it's pretty good. Makes it easier to get to lunch. I'm in the odd numbered class.

JACKYE GREGG (Jr.): Actually, it seems a little ridiculous! We are being treated like elementary students. A person has to run to lunch so that he has time to inhale it. I am in an even numbered class.

JOSIE RODRIGUEZ (Jr.): It's okay, I guess. I guess the bells make it safer to get out of the rooms and in walking out in the halls. I'm in the even.

KERRY NICHOLAS (Sr.): I don't think it helped anything, except there is less people running in the hall at one time. I'm in an even-numbered class.

DANNY RENDON (Soph.): I think everyone should go on the same bell. Not everyone in an even class run. It's not fair. I'm in an odd-numbered class.

VICCI VANDENBURG (Soph.): I'm even and I don't like it. I think that they should switch odd to even and then back to odd every week, so the even can get out early, too!

KENAN LICHTER (Soph.): Something had to be done to stop the running in the halls. So they did it! I just wish they would switch it around.

INSTALL GAS AIR CONDITIONING NOW?

Install GAS air conditioning now and beat the rush that always comes with the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs, its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy maintenance with few repair bills.

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen.

If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey of your home or business.

AMERICAN HAIR FASHIONS

For Spring, Summer 1972

The Duet Cut

The Duo Cut

The Solo Cut

The Combo Cut

The Young American

Spring's Hair Designs Are Lengths, Layers And Looks

In a salute to American fashion, the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association has presented its collection of American Hair Fashions for Spring/Summer 1972.

NHCA's American Hair Fashions for Spring/Summer 1972 are a composite of lengths, layers and looks adaptable to any woman and every life style in America today. The basic element common to these versatile fashions is a good professional hair cut.

The look of the Combo is born free to go with any of fashion's silhouettes for Spring.

The Combo accents feminine fashions with a bounce of gentle curl, sometimes pulled back at the nape. For a tailored sophistication, the shorter layer is brushed behind the ear or pulled back in a sculptured curl. Hair pulled to the crown or accented with a hair piece creates evening elegance for after five.

THE DUET CUT

A summery smoothie to tame the savagery of seasons past with a cooler look that is still long, the Duet Cut is the perfect "new look" for an out-grown Shag. The Duet Cut is aptly named for the two very different looks it can achieve. The sleek Duet is reminiscent of the medieval page, but has plenty of freedom to swing. Relax the page, tousle in some gentle curl, and the Duet dresses up for any elegant evening.

THE DUO CUT

Combining the look of length with a swing of curl, the Duo Cut is hair fashion in two lengths — long in the back, short around the face. For the girl who isn't quite ready to part with that lovely long hair, the Duo offers a look that is new.

THE COMBO CUT

A slightly shorter version of the Duo, with less contrast between the lengths, the Combo Cut combines several lengths into a tapered top layer with a soft length of curl in the back.

THE SOLO CUT

For ready-to-wear hair, drip dry and summer free, the only answer is a professionally engineered permanent wave, and today's professional perm gives any woman the freedom to select the amount of curl she wants to wear. The Solo Cut, an all-

one-length fashion, comes in "casual" or "curly", with plenty of looks for today's casual fashions. All are finger-lifting free with a super fashion look for summer.

THE YOUNG AMERICAN

Fashion comes in small sizes, too. The versatile cuts in the American Hair Fashions for Spring and Summer adapt well to the junior miss. The short-in-front, long-in-back look of the Duo Cut teamed with the smooth page of the Duet creates The Young American, a no-care fashion, great for any youthful lass.

MAKEUP NEWS NOTES

Bright, but transparent color is the continuing story for the "fashion face". Eye shadows, cheek and lip rouge and those marvelous little colorpots of bright, transparent gel will continue to be basics for the cosmetic wardrobe.

The biggest news is the "watercolor eye", featuring the return of eyeliner, carefully blended and faded a la watercolor. Eye brows come on thicker, but still beautifully arched and shaped.

Multiple color eye shadow and lots of beautifully applied mascara in a variety of shades will complete the fashion eye. Lips and nails will still reflect the darker shades, with reds and vibrants in transparent shiny looks among the most popular.

Turnover Causes Three

Young Levelland men were taken for cuts, bruises and lacerations at the Littlefield Sunday night following a turnover. Gutierrez, 20, was driving a 1970 Chevrolet south of Littlefield when the vehicle ran off a road 24 miles south of Littlefield. The car struck a tree in front of the Kenneth House. Patrolman Weidon said Gutierrez lost control of the vehicle and it rolled to the left side of the road and overturned once. Passengers, David and Domingo Rendon, and the driver were taken to the hospital by ambulance. A total loss.

Daylily Selected For Town's Flower

Littlefield now has an official flower — the hardy daylily — and citizens may select their flowers from approximately 210 varieties. The floral designation was made official Wednesday morning when the beautification committee of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture's community development program met to discuss further plans in an all-out effort to improve Littlefield's physical appearance.

Dr. Bill Armistead and Pat Downs are co-chairmen of the steering committee for the beautification program, which has other committees already functioning.

Chairman of the flower committee is Mrs. Wiley Roberts, and members of the Littlefield Garden Club will be asked to serve in the group.

Joella Lovvorn and Gayle Mills are the photography committee, and will record "before and after" scenes in the city for colored slide presentations.

Bob Wear will be in charge of publicity. Forrest Price will be chairman of a committee in charge of the business district, and B. D. Garland will head a committee to work for removal of junk cars which are no longer serviceable and are on property for a designated length of time. (New state legislation will govern the action taken in all cases.)

Other committee chairmen are being sought, and will be named at a later date.

Most Democrats Rode On Primary

Democratic candidates in the May primary stretched the cricks out of their necks and wiped their sweaty palms and grinned broadly following the 6 p.m. filing deadline Monday.

None drew opposition.

While there will be 16 names listed under Texas governor, marking ballots will be easy for candidates for district, state and county offices in Lamb County and this area.

Officials whose terms are expiring and who filed for re-election include James H. Whiteside, state board of education; Jack Young, district attorney; Bill Clayton, state representative; Herbert Dunn, tax assessor-collector; Curtis Wilkinson, county attorney; Jack Peel, commissioner of precinct 3; E. D. McNeese, sheriff; A. J. Spain, commissioner of precinct 1; Max Sherman, state senator; George Mahon, congressman 19th district; E. L. Yarbrough, justice of peace precinct 6; G. W. Finney, justice of peace precinct 1; and Ted Borum, justice of peace of the Earth precinct.

In Epidemic Early Over

The epidemic proportions of the recent outbreak in Lamb County is what Dr. J. H. Oyer, Lamb County health officer, said he is "fairly sure" most of the Hong Kong variety, although he is not sure of determining the exact nature of the disease.

In the cases we're seeing now are who definitely have had the flu and having a hard time getting back on their feet," he continued.

"I'd some feel they suffer new symptoms of the disease — or something else they attempt to get back into the routine of things and haven't fully recovered from the original illness.

"I still have a few cases of flu," he said, but dispelled any rumors of influenza outbreaks.

Scout Drive Nears Mid Point

A third of our goal for the Annual Fund Drive has been turned in, and the drive co-chairman Larry contact packs, containing $450.50, turned in by Tuesday, and the drive should be complete by the end of this month.

The drive was begun Friday morning, and approximately 35 persons making contacts.

The house drive will begin at 7 p.m. Monday night, when mothers of Girl Scouts and other interested adults will be invited to help.

"I would like to urge the Littlefield citizens to support these fund raising efforts. Scouting helps to build good citizenship and leaders, and is a very good way for students to spend their money for students to spend their money," Mrs. Lloyd Champion, wife of the drive co-chairman, said.

"I appreciate all the help we can get," she added.

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale will be held from Feb. 25 through March 11, and the proceeds from these sales will go into the fund for the activities of the Girl Scouting organization.

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will hold its annual banquet on Thursday night, Feb. 21, at 7:30 in the school auditorium.

The banquet will be held at the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture building, at 3:30 each, and the proceeds from the event, at $3.50 each, are being donated to the Olton C-CA office.

DE Students Win Honors

FIVE DE STUDENTS at Littlefield High School captured top trophies Saturday in Amarillo during the Area 6 Distributive Education Contest. Cathy Goss, left, placed first in display; Bobby Matthews took second in advertising; Shelly Grant won second in job interview; Jan Dense McCurry placed first in public speaking; and Mrs. Joycelyn Henry, DE instructor, second from right.

Ten Littlefield High School Distributive Education (DE) students competed with approximately 600 students from schools in Area Six at a contest at Amarillo Junior College Saturday, and five of them won top places in the event.

The DE Clubs of America, a student organization, was sponsor of the contest in several categories.

DE students are enrolled in a program to spend part of their time in class learning techniques used in business, and work directly for the businessman in the afternoons in an on-the-job training arrangement.

LHS students who won first places, and who will represent Littlefield at the State Youth Leadership Conference March 2-5 in San Antonio's Convention Center, are Jan Ford, Cathy Giles and Denese McCurry.

Miss Ford is employed by Drs. Armistead and Wallace and won a first place plaque in sales demonstration.

Miss Giles is employed by West Drug, and she received a first place plaque in the display contest.

Miss McCurry is employed at A&B Office Supply, and captured the first place plaque in public speaking.

Taking second place trophies were Bobby Matthews, for advertising; and Shelly Grant, for job interview. Matthews works at Renfro's Thriftway and Miss Grant is employed at Roden Drug.

The Littlefield students competed against Tascosa High School of Amarillo, Rider High of Wichita Falls, Levelland High School, and Monterey High and Estacado High of Lubbock.

"We'll receive University Interscholastic League (UIL) credit if we win at state," stated Mrs. Joycelyn Henry, DE instructor at LHS. She and her husband accompanied the students to the contest.

MOLLY THE WADDIE

He Was Charming Scamp

family legend type of regional character and caught up many skeins of personality and actions to present a beguiling and provocative figure of some pathos, much fun and certain humanity. The story is interesting and the author paid her tribute well.")

By NILAH RODGERS

He was a scamp and a scoundrel, and despite his pretty name, "Molly", he was as homely as a mud fence daubed with lizards. But most scoundrels are charming. The two things go together. And his ugliness was the kind that made women look at him and wonder. People flocked to him to hear his outrageous lies.

Old Molly always wore a ten-gallon hat to add stature to his bantam build. He draped leather gaiters through the belt loops of his pants and smoked the longest cigars that could be bought.

Molly often showed up at nesters' homes about meal time to "set a spell and share ne vittles," then he paid for his supper by talking and singing for hours. Molly had the gift of gab, dancing feet, and a song for everyone. He made up verses to fit each person and every happening, and sang them to the tempo of a jogging horse.

Molly never missed a ranch dance, and he regaled the fairer sex with his songs and banter for hours. And when Molly finally left Sudan, Texas, for once and all, it was a woman's doings.

The stories concerning Molly's name are as numerous as the tall tales Molly spun around Sudan during the early 1900s. One of the most repeated is the romantic tale that has been a plot for novels, movies and television shows where a baby is left in a basket with a note pinned to it saying "Please take care of me."

One of Sudan's early settlers relates it like this: In the 1900s, cowboys found an abandoned wagon on the prairie. In it was a tiny baby, but no clues to the parents' whereabouts. It is said that the child was

Funk Signs

Baylor Letter

A Baylor coach with letter of intent in hand beat a pack of other college agents to Funk's door early Tuesday morning to get the signature of the 200-pound ace tailback on the first day of the college sign-ups.

Funk was the main cog in Jerry Blakely's all-district 3-AA team this year, rushing for 1868 yards on 325 carries and finishing the season as top scorer on the South Plains with 156 points.

Coaches named Funk unanimous choice for the 3-AA offensive backfield slot.

Sports writers tapped Funk for a bevy of honors, too.

The Avalanche-Journal lauded Funk Class AA Player of the Year and named him again in their All-South Plains choices.

The husky tailback landed on the Fort Worth Star Telegram's All-State second team along with teammates Dennis Hartley and Matt Giles.

Funk also was named to the Texas Sportswriters' All-State second team.

Seven other colleges contacted Funk or Coach Jerry Blakely — Texas Tech, West Texas State, Army, Navy, Dartmouth, Rice and SMU.

RALPH FUNK signed a letter of intent to attend Baylor on a football scholarship Tuesday. George Kirk, a former Littlefield player and coach, recruited the celebrated Wildcat tailback. Kirk is Baylor's offensive coordinator and backfield coach. Funk finished the season as Class AA top scorer, was named All-District, All-South Plains, Class AA Player of the Year, and to two second team All-State lists.

Civil Defense Trains For Tornado Season

The Lamb County Civil Defense Team has scheduled a training session on severe weather for all interested persons in the county, as well as members of the team, Monday night.

"The severe weather season is fast approaching us, and as in the past years, the team will be watching and warning as much as possible," said Wayne Cole of the rescue and safety division of the team.

Persons besides those already involved in Civil Defense work are invited to take the training at the Olton fire station Monday night, Feb. 14, at 7:30.

"Many people think you must be a fireman to work on Civil Defense — this is wrong!" Cole emphasized. "Our training programs and all meetings are open to the general public, and we need some help."

he said.

The training session will be presented by the National Weather Service, "teaching us to detect possible severe thunderstorm clouds and what cloud formations will or will not develop into severe weather. We want any interested people to attend this meeting, especially those having two-way radios," Cole emphasized.

In the event a tornado is approaching, the sirens will be sounded in six short blasts and residents should look for cover. During a tornado "watch" the sirens will not be sounded, but the radio will be notified to inform the public.

The "all clear" signal will be a long continual blast of the siren, which is much longer than the usual fire signal which designates a fire in town.

PRUNING DAMAGED PLANTS

Delay pruning freeze damaged plants until new growth starts. New growth will pinpoint the dividing line between live and damaged tissue so you can tell where to cut without removing too much wood. Freeze damaged plants should receive special care this spring, such as proper watering and fertilization.

We Must Care

IT IS NORMAL for us to want other people to think well of us. In fact, we can care too much; and we can try too hard to gain their good will.

If we care so much that we are anxious about it, we care too much. If we try to gain their good will by compromise, and by making unwise concessions, and by "running after" them; we try too hard.

WE MUST CARE what people think about us. We want them to like us. We want them to speak well of us.

Of course, some people pretend that they do not care what other people think about them. There may be some persons who have, in some way, damaged themselves or permitted themselves to be damaged to the extent that they don't care. They think they don't care.

WE MUST PRESENT ourselves to others so they can like us, and think well of us, and speak kindly of us.

This will require us to be doing our best with ourselves in all of the associations with others. We must also treat others so they will know that we respect them, appreciate them, and like them.

IF WE HAVE A GOOD self-image, the golden rule will be about the best guideline for us to follow. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

We must care, because it is abnormal not to care. "To disregard what others think of us is not only arrogant but utterly shameful." — Anon.

THERE IS NO MERIT in alienating people; there is no making others feel that they are there is no honor in refusing appreciation for others, and for service; and it is very foolish the fact that we need others, and will.

It is wise for us to care about what they think of us.

WE CANNOT PLEASE everyone; there will be some people who will not speak well of us regardless of how well we treat them.

We must remember that the problem, and their loss. If they should be ugly toward us, remember not to stoop to their level of behavior.

THE GOOD WE CAN DO for others; the kindness we can show them; the understanding we can maintain; the sympathetic we can manifest; and the wise we can express will not be wasted.

We will be better and stronger people will respond in kind. The well of us, and this is reward.

IT IS RIGHT and wise to seek will of honorable people regarding station in life.

Good will is so much better than ill will.

WE MUST CARE, we do care.

WHEN YOU'RE FREE, COULD YOU HELP ME WITH MY TAX RETURN?

PHILOSOPHER

Overboard!

(Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries to head off some new scientific progress, his letter this week indicates.)

Dear editor: The trouble with some people is they confuse something new with something better.

For example, according to an article I ran across in a newspaper yesterday, some scientists have looked into the future and reported that two-way cable television is going to revolutionize everybody's way of life.

A housewife, they said, will be able to stay at home, tune in a supermarket, look over the items, make her selections, and order them sent out, while a computer at the store rings up the sale on her account at her bank which is also plugged into the system. If her baby is sick she turns her home camera on him, dials her doctor, and he makes the examination on his screen, with his prescription being filled by a plugged-in drugstore.

To top it off, the scientists said, the prime use of the system will be to eliminate schools as we know them. Kids stay at home, the teacher instructs them via her television and they answer via theirs. With one full swoop this ends taxes for school buildings and football fields, ends busing, demonstrations and dress codes. Maybe even the P-TA.

This may have its appeal at first glance, but those scientists haven't consulted apparently with very many parents.

From a young parent's viewpoint, one of the glorious advantages of universal public education is that it gets the kids out from under foot as soon as they reach age 6, and there's some agitation from parents whose nerves are about to break to make it 5 or even 4.

You try to set up a system that keeps kids in the house every day until they're 18 and you'll be charged with inciting adults to riot.

It's true lots of schools are having financial trouble and recent rulings that property taxes as their chief means of support are unconstitutional are compounding the difficulty, but keeping kids at home under foot for their schooling would be worse than unconstitutional, it'd be inhuman. Ask any mother who's counting the days till her kid's old enough to start to school, down the block or across the town but not in her living room.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

so beautiful that when the cowman discovered him, a waddie exclaimed "What a pretty little girl," and with that they christened "her" Molly. They soon discovered their mistake, but the name remained with the cowboys who raised the child as their "chief cook and bottle washer" and continued to call him Molly.

Although he was always called Molly, Old Molly, Molly the Cook, or Molly the Cow Waddie, he had another more impressive name. As the pretty baby grew into a scrawny, sandy-haired youngster and the name Molly seemed less and less appropriate, each of the cowboys gave the boy his last name. Thus he became James Lee Preston Hamilton and grew up knowing only the ways of cow pokes.

The year the Plains was laid out, James L. P. Hamilton drifted into West Texas and went to work as a cook for the old Yellow House Ranch headquartered at Nine Mile Camp south of what is now Littlefield. Later he moved to Sudan and promptly bought the first call box with the arrival of the new postal fixtures. It was lettered "Hamilton", but in the many years that he lived at Sudan, a letter addressed to James or L. P. Hamilton would likely go in the dead letter box, whereas a letter addressed to Molly the Cook would be delivered forthwith.

Another tale has it that Molly's name came about when someone laundered the cowboys' clothes. When the laundry was done, the one bringing it back to camp knew where it belonged but not knowing the owner's name marked it "Molly the Cook" and let it go at that.

Regardless of how he got his name, some Sudan residents remember one of the ditties Molly sang to the clomp, clomp horses' hoofbeat rhythm:

They call me old Molly, but that's not my name.

I live in a shack, up on the Plains.

I round up the cattle whenever they brand.

Out upon the prairie by the town of Sudan.

Molly's humorous, easy-going way of life furnished raw material to add to the poke's legend. Once he bought a typewriter and paid for it with a worthless check. When asked why, he replied, "Well, I knew I was going to get this letter about a bad check I wrote for a typewriter, so I bought this to answer it with."

Someone once told Molly that if he could make a down payment on a car, he could drive it thirty days before he received a payment notice, then he'd have thirty more days to make the payment. Molly made a small payment on a new Model T, drove it the sixty days, then let it go back.

Molly was a man's man and a woman's man, too, and he had a way with animals and people alike. Besides being a general good humor man and the kind of person who could bring out the mother instinct in the women folk, Molly broke broncs while providing free entertainment for Sudan residents.

He was an expert cow puncher, the Yellow House Ranch cook, a self-styled veterinarian, the old prairie doctor, and at one time he was named justice of peace at Sudan. No wonder people who knew him said Molly knew a little about everything.

For years Molly was the nearest thing to a doctor Lamb County had. During the 1918 flu epidemic, Molly went into the homes of those down with the flu and took over — cooking, doctoring, staying up day and night and saving many lives with his horse sense nursing. Under different circumstances, Molly would have made a very fine doctor.

Although Molly liked to talk, he kept his personal life to himself. Besides his birth and childhood years being vague and sketchy, a twenty-year period, from the time he left Sudan until he came back twenty years later, remains a mystery.

While on a cattle drive in Kansas with the Yellow House crew, Molly left the cowboys suddenly. He liked his horse doctoring so well that some have reason to believe that he spent several years as a veterinarian around Dora, N. M., and later did odd jobs in Kansas and Arizona. Molly returned to Sudan twenty years later, but never told anyone his whereabouts during his long absence.

When Molly finally left Sudan never to return again, it was because of a woman. A young school teacher claimed Molly made advances. Humiliated, Molly headed west and never came back.

Molly never told his age, but Sudan residents believed Molly was on the golly-wopper lying side of 60 long before he left Lamb County. Molly plied his veterinarian skills around Portales, working with sick cattle in New Mexico the last few years of his life.

Just as mystery surrounded Molly in life, there was a strange occurrence after his death in a Portales rest home in 1963. Molly never mentioned a family, but shortly after his death, two well-dressed women driving a luxury car came to inquire about their "dad's" death. If they were Molly's daughters, that partially explains his strange disappearance from the cattle drive.

But if Molly had a family, it's a secret he carried to his grave. A modest marker is at the head of his grave at Portales, but the cemetery has no record of who put the marker there.

HONNY GETS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

WIMMIN! CAN YOU imagine the little woman getting "Plumb outta' snuff" just because I'd crossed up the controls to the electric blanket?

NOW HEAR THIS! If it's unconstitutional for the office seeker to pay any election expense, it'll be twice as unconstitutional for the voter to have to pay it!

Noter words, if the poll tax is unconstitutional and the "candidate-tax" is unconstitutional, it'll sure be unconstitutional for us to have to PAY to vote Compreep?

MIGHT BE, we'll come to the point that we'll have elections declared unconstitutional, and let each office holder appoint his own successor — Silly? I understand that's the way some of the commies operate. And, we're comin' pretty close to their method of operation.

WHETHER I LIKE to worry about it or not, looks like we've fallen into the hands of a bunch of "Kooks!"

Since when is it unconstitutional for an organization to make its own rules and by-laws and to set up its own method of financing its operation?

AREN'T THE political parties supposed to be independent organizations, in their own right? Aren't they free to set up their own rules and regulations, as well as their own methods of financing? — If no, WHY NOT??

IF THIS be not true, then we'd better declare political parties, themselves, to be unconstitutional, and institute only one large "Federal" party!

In this way, we'd all pay the election expenses and for the right to vote, through the avenue of either outright taxes or hidden taxes, which should be a very GREAT consolation. — AND, we'd still be paying for the right to vote!

SEEMS THAT under our constitution, anyone or group of anyone, are free to set up and organize a political party. If not, where did the AMERICAN party come from? By the same token, it's supposed, they may set up their own method of financing their candidates and primaries. Where, then, does the federal control come in? — Someone answer me, I'm lost!

HAD QUITE A shock, these past few days! Found out either I'm not greedy, or, I've lost all my ambition! (Bet'cha it's the latter case!)

COMES A TIME, I suppose, when a feller gives up on reformin' the world and commences tryin' to keep the world from DEFORMIN' HIM!

MAYBE THE IRISH would make a good 51st state for us. Seems they'd fit right in, doesn't it?

SURE, THE MEEK will inherit the earth, but, they'll STILL have to do the farmin'!

TRY THIS in the morning. Bounce out 'ta bed, do a few school-hops and say: "OH BOY, A BRAND NEW day that I haven't lived yet. — CHEE-E, I GET to go to work, this morning. Just wonder what new and happy adventure I'll take part in today!" Maybe it'll work — for YOU!

MRS. HAZEL WARD

Teacher Writes Poetry

An LHS teacher's "Philosophy of Living" will receive national attention this year.

For five consecutive years, Mrs. Hazel Ward's poetry has been chosen to be published in "National Anthology."

A small number of poems are selected each year from about 7,000 works submitted by teachers, instructors, professors, and librarians in over 6,000 high schools, colleges, and universities.

Writing poetry is a favorite pastime for Mrs. Hazel Ward, junior English teacher. Mrs. Ward, who has been writing poetry since she was a small child, writes sonnets, free verse, and poems filled with symbolism.

Submitting the poetry is "a challenge to me and helps me offer more to my students. I believe that teaching by example is an effective approach toward helping students enjoy literature — especially poetry!" she explains.

Last summer, Miss Lou La Tour, an international poet and owner of a publishing company, requested that Mrs. Ward assist in the poetry division in Washington D.C.

"Because of family illness I could not attend," added Mrs. Ward.

"Infinite Love," "Destination Unlimited," and "A Rain Storm," are among her other poems that have been selected to be published in the "National Anthology."

NHS Reveals Officers, Rules

Chuck Blevins was named president of National Honor Society at a meeting January 24.

Other new officers are Kerry Nicholas, vice-president; Cynthia Adair, secretary; Kathy Turner, treasurer; and Cathy Giles, reporter.

Mrs. Irene Lynn, sponsor, announced two new rules for the organization. If a person misses two consecutive meetings without an excuse or three meetings during the semester without an excuse, he will be expelled from the Society.

Once a person is expelled from NHS, he cannot be a member again regardless of the grades he makes.

Club Starts Baby Sitting For Project

David Coates was guest speaker at Quill and Scroll meeting Monday night at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Amy Turner, sponsor of the organization.

After a spaghetti dinner, fund-raising projects were discussed. "A 'babysitting program'" was organized. Anyone wishing babysitting services may call 385-3738 for arrangements. Sitters are juniors and seniors in high school and are members of Quill and Scroll.

FOR 12 YEARS

Seniors Stay Together

By ANGELA PURDY

Together? Just ask the Class of '72, which boasts 65 out of 103 seniors who have attended school together at Littlefield all 12 years.

How do these seniors feel about all those good ole' golden rule days?

"I'll be glad to get out!" Brad Nace laughed.

"It was very exciting and a chance to be with all your friends", Porfirio Cristan commented.

"I'll be glad to get out of school, but I will miss getting to see my friends every day," Jennifer Robinson replied rather sadly.

"Not only does it seem like a long time, it was a long time," Beverly Kemp reminisces about her 12 years!

"It seems like a long time but after thinking back, it really hasn't been. I'll be glad to get out," says Bridgett Patterson.

"It's been a long 12 years, but I'll miss it," said Velva Lee.

"I'll miss being around my friends all the time but I will be glad to get out of school," Timmie Campbell remembers sadly.

"Wow! Twelve years seems like a long time. Some really fantastic things have happened."

LHS Seniors Work On Research Themes

Mrs. Irene Lynn's senior English classes are hard at work on their research themes.

Students may choose topics of the organization. English literature dealing with subjects found through the 18th Century. One exception is the 17th Century, which was covered earlier.

Themes are due Monday, Feb. 14.

"I'll be glad to get out of school, but I'll miss the excitement and being with my friends," noted Duff Wattenbarger.

They all seem to have one thing in common.

They'll be glad to get out into the world which is, perhaps, as it should be.

Three LHS band members competed for places in the All-State Orchestra and Band and two of those students earned places in the symphonic orchestra. One also placed first alternate in the band.

Senior Mark Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers, was selected as a bassoon player.

Mary Elizabeth Shotwell, a junior flutist, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Shotwell.

Rogers and Miss Shotwell tried out through selection of tapes last November.

They will be in Fort Worth, Feb. 10-12. Their first activity will be trying out for chairs. The rest of the week they will be practicing with the orchestra for the TMEA convention concert, to be held Sat., Feb. 12.

Junior Thriess Bingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bingham, competed for a place in the All-State Band, Jan. 22, at Lubbock. Miss Bingham placed first alternate.

Seniors Measured For Caps, Gowns

LHS SPEAKS OUT

Three Bells

LHS has adopted a three-bell system for lunch in order to try to prevent running and pushing in the hall.

Those students in the odd-numbered classes get out on the first bell; even numbered, second; and the third bell is for those who insist on running in the hall.

A survey was taken to get the students' opinions on this system. The questions asked were:

What do you think of the three-bell system for lunch?

Do you have some other suggestion to solve the problem of running?

Are you in an even or odd numbered class?

The majority of these students objected to the system. However, some were all for it. These were mostly those who get out on the first bell.

Others suggested that it should change every week. One week, odd numbered classes should go first, and the next, the even numbered.

Here are some of the students' opinions:

FRANCES HERNANDEZ (Sr.): I don't like the three bells

By DEBBIE HAFLEY

Jerry Cox, a bright junior at Littlefield High School, has a very different hobby from most students here. He loves to fly!

Jerry first started getting interested in flying when he took Ground School (a school teaching about airplanes and their functions) last summer at the Littlefield Airport. After Ground School, which lasted about six weeks, he started flying a Cherokee 140 and only had seven hours when he soloed. Jerry now has around 23 daytime hours and says it has slowed down since school started, taking most of his time.

"Flying is pretty expensive for just a school boy, like me," Cox noted.

Mowing lawns all summer is the way Jerry made his money to start his lessons. He says he wants to continue them and to try to get his private pilot's license which requires solo plus 20 hours and a test.

"Ground School helps a lot with the test and you have to make above 70 on it to pass. Once you get your private license they last two years, but you must be 17 or older to try for them."

When asked if he flew for enjoyment, Jerry said:

"Right now I fly because I like to and because it's kind of a sport for me, but I may make a career out of it later."

for lunch. I really don't have any suggestions on how to keep the kids from running in an even numbered class.

BENNY SAENZ: I think it's terrible. I have suggestions that I can't think of. I'm in the even and I don't like it and odd should change every week.

ANGELA PURDY: I like it! It's really too bad everyone getting out the same time. No, I don't have a suggestion for the system. There really is no problem because of the lunch being so short. But having a bell system helps. I like it.

BENNE VARGAS: It's up to the principal.

RALPH FUNK (Sr.): The system is downgrading the students. It treats first graders. I didn't like that much running in the first place. I'm in an even numbered class.

TERESA TURVILLE (Sr.): I think the system is a good idea. It eliminates the running and pushing in the lunch. It doesn't really bother me too much because the gym fourth period.

BARBARA KEMP: I'm neither even or odd. I like the gym and, of course, the first bell. The suggestion I would have is it's a pretty dumb system. I suggest that they get rid of it.

MARY LOU THURMAN (Sr.): I think it's a good idea. I suggest having a longer lunch.

Doubt

By CATHY GILES

If you ever wonder why you succeed in life, you first possess confidence in yourself and your abilities. Doubt can easily overcome a strong man's confidence. You must have confidence in every you do. If not, you never reach your goals. Your cause will automatically lose. Strive to have confidence and be victorious. Doubt, if you succeed, life will certainly be an interesting experience.

Doubt reacts on the like a cancerous growth, uncontrolled, it can over the mind and a person loses all faith and confidence.

You must have confidence in every you do. If not, you never reach your goals. Your cause will automatically lose. Strive to have confidence and be victorious. Doubt, if you succeed, life will certainly be an interesting experience.

Student Studies Ballet, Jazz

By VELVA LEE

Plie, tendu, battement, assemble — do you wonder what these words mean?

Ask Leslie LeBoeuf, the words are ballet terms, and she's a ballet student.

Leslie is a brown-eyed, red-haired senior at LHS who has been taking ballet and modern jazz lessons for five months. She studies under Mrs. Tutu King in Sudan. Mrs. King is a dance major from TCU.

Leslie took dance lessons previously in Corpus Christi. She studied ballet four years. She said that the first time she took ballet it was her mother's idea. When she started ballet the second time, it was her idea.

Asked what she liked about ballet, Leslie replied, "It's fun, but it's also a lot of work and it takes a lot of concentration."

She also says that it is good exercise and keeps her in good physical shape.

Leslie takes four one-hour lessons a week, and she practices an average of 45 minutes a day. She learns ballet steps and stretches.

Leslie plans to enter the Lubbock City Ballet tryouts in March. All persons trying out must meet certain qualifications. They will execute ballet steps before judges. Those who are chosen to be in Lubbock Civic Ballet will dance four hours every Saturday. There will be an hour and a half class and the other two and a half hours will be spent in rehearsal for programs.

Leslie is a member of FHA, band, PE and is an office aide. Her hobbies include swimming, dancing and sewing. She is a life-guard and also teaches swimming lessons.

Leslie says she plans to continue taking ballet and modern jazz until she finishes college.

By WANDA COTTER

Graduation time is getting nearer and nearer. It's an exciting time to some of the seniors, a sad occasion for others. Regardless of how anyone feels, though, graduation will symbolize a new beginning for all of the seniors.

Before these seniors are gone, though, the Skat would like to honor them in one of the best ways possible by simply introducing each of them to the public.

In the coming weeks, each individual member of the class of '72 will be presented.

CYNTHIA ADAIR

Cynthia Adair has been a member of Spanish Club, Science Club, and Kat Klub. During her junior year, she served as junior representative on the Student Council and attended the Texas Association of Student Councils Convention at Austin. Cynthia is now publicity director of Student Council and FTA as well as belonging to NHS, Quill and Scroll, and the Wildcat Band. She is a varsity cheerleader and co-editor of the "Wildcat" annual.

Yellow is Cynthia's favorite color and she enjoys eating pizza or steak. This senior enjoys swimming, water skiing, cooking, and dancing.

Pep rallies and football games were Cynthia's most memorable occasions in high school. Having the opportunity to be with friends was another thing that she really enjoyed. Her most embarrassing memories are of turning "so red" during the pep rallies.

Cynthia plans to attend South Plains Junior College. She advises next year's seniors to have fun and to not let anything get them down.

CRAIG ANDERSON

Craig Anderson is a member of the Rodeo Club and the Industrial Arts Club. He also serves as president of FFA. People who won't accept another person for what he is are one of Craig's pet peeves. Brown is his favorite color while bar-b-que is his favorite food. Hunting, fishing, drawing, and painting take up much of this senior's time.

Craig's woodshop class was his favorite thing about high school. Making an "A" in English (those aren't easy to come by, you know) was his most memorable occasion. His most embarrassing memory about high school was the day that he backed into another car in the parking lot.

Craig plans to go to South Plains Junior College and study in some field of agriculture. His advice to the seniors of '73 is to do their best, hope, and stay on the good side of Mr. Harris.

LARRY BIRKELBACH

Larry Birkelbach has played on the Wildcat varsity football team for two years. During his senior year, he was received honorable mention as offensive end in District 3-AA. He also serves as president of National Honor Society.

Football, baseball, hunting, and fishing take up much of Larry's time. Bar-b-que steak is his favorite food. He lists blue as his favorite color and says his pet peeve is people who think they are something that they are not.

The student body's spirit throughout the year and the faculty were what Larry liked best about high school. His most memorable occasions were beating Floydada and winning district during his senior year.

Larry plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in mechanical engineering. He advises next year's seniors to work hard and graduate in 1973.

CHUCK BLEVINS

Chuck Blevins has been a member of the LHS Choir for three years. He now serves as president of the organization. He has been a member of NHS for two years and has also been awarded the English II and English III sweaters. As a member of the varsity football team for three years, he has received many honors. During his junior year, he was one of the Wildcat captains. During his senior year, he was named outstanding offensive lineman and gained a berth on the all-district team for 3-AA.

Royal blue and bar-b-que are some of Chuck's favorites. During his spare time, he enjoys drawing and model building. The way that the school board tries to run things without bothering to find out what needs to be done is Chuck's pet peeve.

Most of Chuck's memories about high school involve the football program. Winning the district championship was his favorite thing about high school. Beating Floydada to clinch the district championship was his most memorable occasion. His most embarrassing memory was getting beat by Roosevelt in Bi-district.

In June, Chuck will start a four-year tour of active duty with the U.S. Marine Corps. He hopes to receive training in advanced electronics. Chuck advises all future seniors to work together with the other classes to make a better school.

MARTHA BROWN

Martha Brown has served as sophomore representative, ex-officio member, and secretary of the Student Council. During her sophomore year, she served as second vice-president of FHA. She was president of Science Club in 1970-71. Martha has belonged to the Wildcat Band for three years, she is vice-president of FTA, FTA state representative for District XVII, and treasurer of NHS.

Teachers who really don't get to know their students are Martha's pet peeve. Navy blue is her favorite color while she lists fish as her favorite food. Sewing, camping, fishing, and being with people are a few hobbies that take up much of the senior's time.

The things that Martha liked best about high school were getting in trouble and doing things for other people. The way that her hair curled up and looked like the frizzes during marching season is one of her most embarrassing memories.

Martha plans to enter Texas Tech University in the fall. When she graduates, she would like to do something in the Peace Corp.

"Have fun and go on," is Martha's advice to future LHS seniors.

TIMMIE CAMPBELL

Timmie Campbell is a very academic-minded student. She has earned a sweater award in both Spanish II and American History. During her entire three years of high school, she has been a member of FTA and the Wildcat Band. Timmie is a member of National Honor Society and president of the LHS chapter of Quill and Scroll, a national honor society for high school journalists.

Purple is Timmie's favorite color and she enjoys eating any type of Italian food. Cooking, reading, and collecting pennies are a few hobbies that Timmie enjoys. One thing she does not enjoy, though, is people interfering in something that doesn't concern them.

Being around her friends and being a senior are two parts of high school that Timmie lists as her favorites.

She plans to attend Abilene Christian College and major in foreign languages.

"Take everything in your stride, because, after all, it's your last year. So why get uptight?" is Timmie's advice to next year's seniors.

MICHAEL CARTER

Michael Carter has been an active member of the Varsity Club and Industrial Arts during his junior and senior years of high school. He was an FFA member during his sophomore year. During his senior year, he was named honorable mention on the all-district team.

Some of Michael's favorites include bread and butter and the color purple. His pet peeve is getting his books knocked out of his hands in the hall. Going to parties is one of his favorite hobbies.

Getting out of school for Christmas holidays was what Michael liked best about high school. His most embarrassing incident in high school was when he got his shirt caught in the lath and broke his wooden bowl the week before state competition. His most memorable occasion winning district in football.

Michael's future plans include attending Eastern Mexico University and playing football, if possible. He plans to next year's seniors to be the school the way they are and be a leader in the underclassmen.

JUNIOR CASTILLO has been a member of Spanish Club and Industrial Arts during his three years at Littlefield High School. He is employed as a DE student at Uplifters.

The football game was what Junior liked best about attending LHS, though it has not yet started. He thinks that graduation should be his night to remember.

Junior plans to work in travel during the summer. He has only one word for his future seniors: "STUDY!"

Richard Barton—Because heat expands things and cold contracts them.

The girls' basketball teams played Dimmitt Thursday night. The eighth grade won, and the seventh and ninth grades played good games.

Randy Y. — Just two seats!

P. C. — The bar???

THE BOYS also played Dimmitt Thursday night. We are so proud of them!! The freshman won! And isn't it Dimmitt that is supposed to be so... good in basketball? Oh well, we knew that Dimmitt didn't have a chance anyway.

Billy T. Francis Gets National Honor

A young man from Littlefield was honored as "Goodwill Worker of the Year" at the annual meeting of Goodwill Industries of Lubbock last month.

It was the second consecutive year for this honor. Billy Tracey Francis, 24, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Choice Francis of Littlefield received the coveted plaque from Overton O. Dibb, regional consultant of the Goodwill Industries of America.

In addition to the plaque, Francis got the "Mr. Goodwillie" trophy awarded at a meeting of plant employees.

Goodwill Industries hires employable handicapped. Such help is the finest which can be given, because it is help which is not charity but a chance or help to help themselves. After this training, many handicapped persons move into normal employment.

Each Goodwill Industries has workshop divisions involving the repair of materials.

Census Bureau Slates Survey

A number of households in this area will be interviewed during the week of Feb. 14 for a survey of employment and unemployment conducted by the Bureau of the Census.

Census Bureau interview who will visit households in this area is Mrs. Rosemary McNeese of Amherst.

This is a monthly survey conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. A sample of households is scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households in the United States.

The employment and unemployment statistics which are based on results of this survey are prime indicators of the economic health of the Nation. The December survey showed that 80.2 million persons were employed and 4.7 million unemployed. After allowance for usual seasonal patterns, both were virtually unchanged over November.

Handicapped people both learn and earn in a variety of trades preparing contributed articles for resale. After the articles are repaired, they are sold in Goodwill stores, and budget shoppers can buy the articles at lower prices.

Income from sales, contract jobs and salvage sales pays over 80 per cent of the costs of the Goodwill Industries operation.

Francis has been a Littlefield resident most of his life, moving here with his parents when he was 18-months old. He attended Littlefield schools, and worked at various jobs in Littlefield. He sold Grit Magazines for three years, attaining state salesman in that capacity. He worked as stock boy at Furr's and Renfro's. He worked as assistant to his dad in his body shop, and aided Jerry Roberts at his sign shop.

He worked with the very young handicapped children in the clinic at the Denton State School while he lived in a dormitory on campus there, and was in the rehabilitation project.

Francis has been associated with the Goodwill store in Lubbock a year and a half, and was named supervisor last year.

hour. I'm in the odd numbered class.

GEORGIA ANN JACKSON (Soph.): I think that it is okay for the people who run, but for the people that don't run, it is not fair. No, I don't have any suggestions. I'm in the even class.

JOHNNY ROBERTSON (Sr.): It's what the man ordered and unfortunately we are the ones that have to put up with it. I'm in the even.

JERRY GONZALES (Soph.): I think it's pretty good. Makes it easier to get to lunch. I'm in the odd numbered class.

JACKYE GREGG (Jr.): Actually, it seems a little ridiculous! We are being treated like elementary students. A person has to run to lunch so that he has time to inhale it. I am in an even numbered class.

JOSIE RODRIGUEZ (Jr.): It's okay, I guess. I guess the bells make it safer to get out of the rooms and in walking out in the halls. I'm in the even.

KERRY NICHOLAS (Sr.): I don't think it helped anything, except there is less people running in the hall at one time. I'm in an even-numbered class.

DANNY RENDON (Soph.): I think everyone should go on the same bell. Not everyone in an even class run. It's not fair. I'm in an odd-numbered class.

VICCI VANDENBURG (Soph.): I'm even and I don't like it. I think that they should switch odd to even and then back to odd every week, so the even can get out early, too!

KENAN LICHTER (Soph.): Something had to be done to stop the running in the halls. So they did it! I just wish they would switch it around.

Five Wrecks Investigated

City police have investigated five wrecks within the limits in a period of seven days. Saturday night, two men traveling south on 20th Avenue were damaged in an accident.

A 1968 Chevrolet, driven Wesley Dwan Gage Amherst, was struck in the rear by a 1971 Ford, driven by Edwin Pope of Littlefield. Chevrolet was damaged at back bumper and trunk lid. The Ford was damaged at front grill.

Friday morning, a Plymouth, driven by Sharp Cowan of Littlefield, a 1967 Oldsmobile, driven John Inklebarger of Olton were both going east on 20th Avenue.

The Cowan vehicle was in right lane, when Inklebarger vehicle was in left lane and attempted change lanes without signaling. The Plymouth struck Oldsmobile in the right panel with the left front bumper and bumper, according to investigating officer's report.

Friday afternoon, Allen Matthews of Littlefield was driving a 1966 Dodge on Hall Avenue, swerved to avoid collision with another vehicle which had run a light while going west on Street, and ran into a light on the northeast corner of the intersection.

Late Wednesday morning, Feb. 2, Milton Dewey of Littlefield was driving a Gremlin Rambler west on Fifth and Nell Eugenia of Littlefield was driving a 1965 Oldsmobile north on 20th Avenue, stopped at the intersection and pulled into the right fender of the Gremlin and ran right fender and bumper.

That afternoon, Doris Coffman of Littlefield was driving her 1965 Oldsmobile in a parking lot, when a 1971 Ford pickup, driven by Judy Gail Cannon of Littlefield, began backing struck the Oldsmobile.

INSTALL GAS AIR CONDITIONING NOW?

Install GAS air conditioning now and beat the rush that always comes with the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs, its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy maintenance with few repair bills.

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen.

If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey of your home or business.

AMERICAN HAIR FASHIONS

For Spring, Summer 1972

The Duet Cut

The Combo Cut

The Young American

Spring's Hair Designs Are Lengths, Layers And Looks

In a salute to American fashion, the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association has presented its collection of American Hair Fashions for Spring/Summer 1972.

NHCA's American Hair Fashions for Spring/Summer 1972 are a composite of lengths, layers and looks adaptable to any woman and every life style in America today. The basic element common to these versatile fashions is a good professional hair cut.

The look of the Combo is born free to go with any of fashion's silhouettes for Spring.

The Combo accents feminine fashions with a bounce of gentle curl, sometimes pulled back at the nape. For a tailored sophistication, the shorter layer is brushed behind the ear or pulled back in a sculptured curl. Hair pulled to the crown or accented with a hair piece creates evening elegance for after five.

one-length fashion, comes in "casual" or "curly", with plenty of looks for today's casual fashions. All are finger-lifting free with a super fashion look for summer.

THE YOUNG AMERICAN

Fashion comes in small sizes, too. The versatile cuts in the American Hair Fashions for Spring and Summer adapt well to the junior miss. The short-in-front, long-in-back look of the Duo Cut teamed with the smooth page of the Duet creates The Young American, a no-care fashion, great for any youthful lass.

MAKEUP NEWS NOTES

Bright, but transparent color is the continuing story for the "fashion face". Eye shadows, cheek and lip rouge and those marvelous little colorpots of bright, transparent gel will continue to be basics for the cosmetic wardrobe.

The biggest news is the "watercolor eye", featuring the return of eyeliner, carefully blended and faded a la watercolor. Eye brows come on thicker, but still beautifully arched and shaped.

Multiple color eye shadow and lots of beautifully applied mascara in a variety of shades will complete the fashion eye. Lips and nails will still reflect the darker shades, with reds and vibrants in transparent shiny looks among the most popular.

THE DUO CUT

Combining the look of length with a swing of curl, the Duo Cut is hair fashion in two lengths — long in the back, short around the face. For the girl who isn't quite ready to part with that lovely long hair, the Duo offers a look that is new.

THE DUET CUT

A summery smoothie to tame the savagery of seasons past with a cooler look that is still long, the Duet Cut is the perfect "new look" for an out-grown Shag. The Duet Cut is aptly named for the two very different looks it can achieve. The sleek Duet is reminiscent of the medieval page, but has plenty of freedom to swing. Relax the page, tousle in some gentle curl, and the Duet dresses up for any elegant evening.

THE SOLO CUT

For ready-to-wear hair, drip dry and summer free, the only answer is a professionally engineered permanent wave, and today's professional perm gives any woman the freedom to select the amount of curl she wants to wear. The Solo Cut, an all-

THE COMBO CUT

A slightly shorter version of the Duo, with less contrast between the lengths, the Combo Cut combines several lengths into a tapered top layer with a soft length of curl in the back.
