Windmill Replica Marked For History

A large crowd of onlookers, who sought relief from the sun beneath a few small trees near Littlefield's replica of the famed XIT's World's Tallest Windmill, paid tribute to a way of life on the plains here Friday with the dedication of a Texas State Historical Marker for the windmill.

The marker is set before the 114-foot replica of the original 132-foot-tall windmill which was located on the Yellow House Ranch and was the tallest of 335 windmills on that ranch, until it was blown over by high winds in 1926.

Arthur P. Duggan Jr., son of the late Arthur P. Duggan, who is known as the "Father of Littlefield" introduced his nephew, David B. Gracy II, grandson of Littlefield's founder. Gracy delivered the history of the windmill on the plains and particularly those on the XIT Ranch.

Gracy, who stood at the foot of the replica, traced the history of the windmill from the early 1880's to the vanishing scenes of today.

He said that some could wake up in the morning and "tell by the creaks and groans of the windmill just what the weather would be that day."

The "faithful and unmistakable sign of human habitation" was a welcome sign to travelers who passed through the country, and many stopped at the tallest windmill on the XIT Ranch for a refreshing drink for their families and their livestock.

Gracy reminded his hearers that the "dependable windmill" often made a difference between poverty and plenty, and "with water on the land, settled agriculture at last was possible."

George L. White, nephew of Major George W. Littlefield, for whom Littlefield is named, unveiled the marker and read the inscription.

"Replica of XIT's Giant Windmill Yellow House Division of 3,050,000 acre XIT Ranch built (1887) a 132-foot windmill southwest of here. Set in a canyon, it had to be tall to catch breezes and pump water. It was known as the world's tallest windmill until it was toppled by winds in 1926. This replica was erected May 27, 1969."

According to White, whose father was a partner with Littlefield in the purchase of the Yellowhouse from the XIT, there were four tall windmills on the ranch, and that he had seen three of them lying on the ground following wind storms.

Otha F. Dent, chairman of the Texas Water Rights Commission in Austin and a former Lamb County judge, served as master of ceremonies for the occasion.

He introduced Santa Fe representatives, J. P. Spears of Slaton and W. A. Cooknell of Lubbock, and remarked that the

LINDA HORN MISS LAMB COUNTY

LHS Junior Top Beauty

Sixteen-year-old Linda Horn, a Littlefield High School junior who's more accustomed to leading cheers than receiving them, charmed her way to the 1970 Miss Lamb County title here Friday night.

The brown-haired, blue-eyed 5-7 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Horn captured the fancy of more than 600 spectators for Beta Sigma Phi.

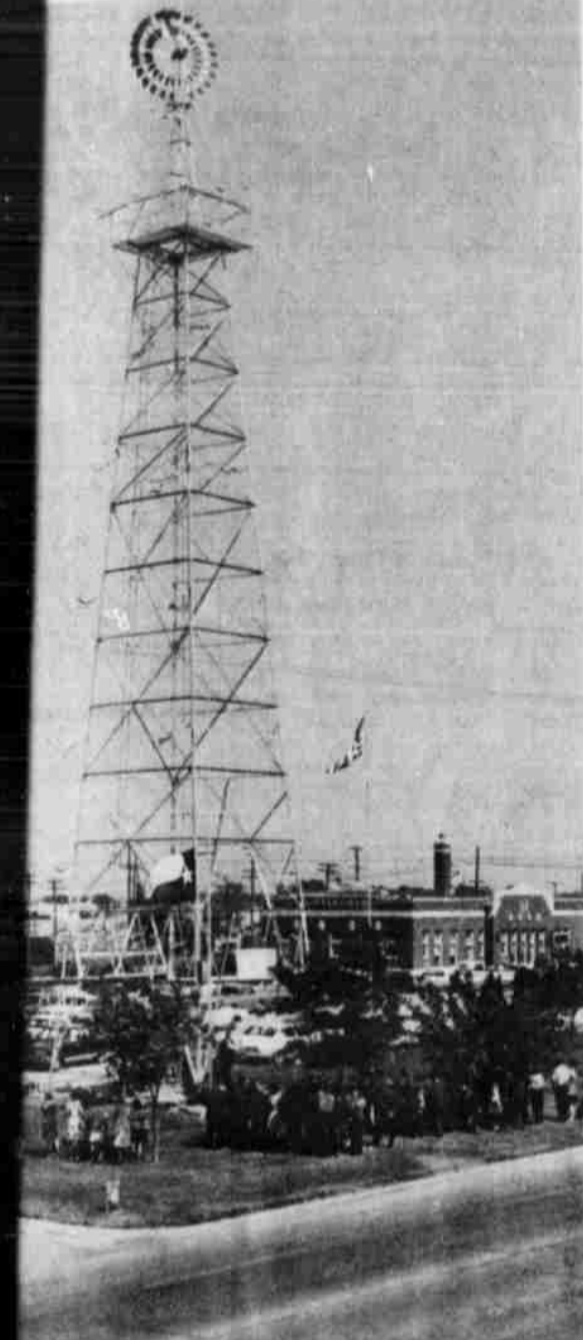

Miss Littlefield of 1969, Kathy Minyard, presented Linda with red roses, the crown and a trophy to climax a two-hour show in the sweltering junior high auditorium.

But if the heat particularly bothered anyone, it wasn't apparent, for the crowd enthusiastically cheered the 18 beauties from throughout the county who were vying for the crown.

Janis Bridge, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge of Springlake, was named first runner-up in the contest.

Flower Talk

by Kip Cutshall
CATNIP A FLOWER?

The catnip plant has a beautiful cluster of flowers that are whitish and tinged with delicate pink. It was given the name catnip because cats like to roll and play in the leaves. They will eat them, too.

Catnip was once used to make a valuable home tonic and a remedy for babies' colic. It has also been used as a seasoning for food.

It has become a common roadside weed in North America and Europe.

Some of the old stand-bys are still the favorites. For instance, there is nothing that says more to the mother of a new baby than a dozen red roses. Dad, send them to mother.

She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis centered with a yellow-throated white orchid.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Naomie Mayorga. Bridesmaid was Miss Joy Priddy, sister of the groom. The attendants were attired in sleeveless floor length dresses of sky blue polyester knit. They carried cascades of white and yellow daisies.

The couple will make their home in Silver Springs, Md. The groom is presently stationed with the Navy at Bethesda, Md., where he attends Laboratory Technician School at the National Naval Medical Center.

AN INSIGHT

Persons with normal hearing ability can gain an insight into the silent world of hard of hearing by watching a favorite television program with the sound turned too low to hear. While such an experiment can be interesting for a short while, it soon becomes irritating and even terrifying for most people as they discover they are cut off from communication.

By BOB WEAR

DESIRE FOR PERFECTION is an impractical desire, and totally unjustified. We are human; not divine. We are creatures; not the Creator. We are men; not God. Much is being said about imperfections. At least, this is what the noisy ones say is "bugging" them.

IF AN INDIVIDUAL is honest with self, he easily recognizes imperfections in his personal living pattern. If he is fair, he will not expect perfection in others. None of us are being just and fair when we expect in others and in organizations the perfection we cannot attain in our own living.

WHEN WE EXPECT perfection, where perfection is impossible, we are in big trouble; and may cause trouble for others. We may be embittered because of disillusionment; or, worse, we may never be able to find ourselves in a social order that must be forever less than perfect.

STONES ARE BEING thrown today by the sinners who have no right to throw stones. Of course, we can make improvement, and should work together for improvement. We must seek improvement in ourselves, and in every other way improvement is possible.

If this is to become a practical reality, the efforts must be constructive and within the established order for such accomplishment. There is no other way.

ACCEPTING LIFE AS IT IS must be the first step toward making it better. This includes the fact that some things cannot be changed. It also requires a definitive separation between what can be changed, and what can never be changed. To this knowledge, we must add one other body of truth. We must very carefully identify the part of life which cannot be changed without making it worse.

SOME THINGS CAN BE CHANGED or improved, but there are other undesirable things which are unchangeable. For the time being, or perhaps forever, these things must be accepted. Some men who are short of stature are miserable, and are unpleasant in their associations with others. Being short is one of the facts of life which must be accepted graciously, and there are many others.

The Master Teachers said, "Which of you being anxious can add one cubit to the measure of his stature?" Wise people accept what they cannot change.

MANY THINGS CANNOT BE changed. Life will bring both pleasant and unpleasant experiences, but, with most people, the pleasant will outweigh the unpleasant. The tragedy is that so many persons make so much of the unpleasant; and not enough of the pleasant.

IT IS RIGHT TO EXPECT the best, but we must often settle for something less than the best. If we expect perfection in self, or others, or human institutions and situations; we expect what never was, and never will be.

THOSE WHO REBEL because they seek the impossible perfection of life are only adding to the imperfections by their immature and unintelligent and irresponsible conduct. Such feelings and actions completely dissipate the joy and satisfaction which the pleasant and desirable bring into a life.

ACCEPTING GRACIOUSLY what cannot be changed is the first important element of abundant living. The second is holding fast that which must not be changed. The third is to be constructive and intelligent in the changes we make.

A WOMAN'S VIEW
Happiness Sure

By PEARL BRANDON

THE FIRST YEAR on the farm was pretty hard. It was during the depression and we were trying to make a crop with very little money. We had bought a tractor and plow tools on the credit. We had managed to get seed to plant but living expenses and fuel for the tractor was something else.

DURING THE FALL months previous we had pulled cotton and bought flour and other staple groceries enough to do us a year. We had also butchered our own hogs and had cured pork and lard enough to run us. Now we had vegetables growing in the garden. We had enough to eat but no cash. I remember we lived a whole month and just spent one dollar.

ONE DAY I was feeling unusually down-hearted. I was laying on the bed in the back room praying and worrying. I didn't see how we could get by until fall.

MY HUSBAND was having an extra hard time trying to cultivate the crop. The weather was so dry and the ground so hard he could hardly plow without breaking something. He would break something on the tractor and have to go into town to get it fixed. Our car had been broken down for two months. Most of the time he was lucky enough to catch a ride but a few times he walked all of the seven miles into town. Sometimes he would make two trips a day.

THIS MORNING I had finished my work and as usual was taking a few minutes alone to pray. I hadn't been feeling good for several days. Things always seem worse when you are ill. Anyway, while I was laying there feeling sorry for myself I heard him come in.

I KNEW HE had broken something on the tractor and was having to go into town to get it fixed. It was already hot and he was wet with sweat. His face was covered with dust with sweat making little streams down his face. He had on a ragged shirt and his hands were covered with tractor grease but he seemed smiling and happy.

HE WASHED his face, got him a drink and kissed me goodby and started off on foot with his broken tractor part.

As I watched him go I thought how much harder for him than it was for me with the responsibility of supporting us and making the crop.

FARMING WAS NEW for him but he kept right on going and never seemed to lose his patience or get discouraged.

After he left I wrote the poem, "Happiness Sure".

As I journeyed along o'er the path-way of life
Bending 'neath my burden sore,
Toiling, struggling, existing through strife
Hating the load that I bore,
I noticed another who toiled by my side,
A ragged sort of a man
Bearing a burden far greater than mine,
With a face lined weary and wan.

As I pitied him he beheld me and smiled
And spoke with joy in his voice;
Way-worn and bent 'neath that burden so great
I wondered how he could rejoice.
"Did you notice friend how blue are the skies,
How thick the wild flowers grow?
And never before my privilege in life
Such beautiful song birds to know."

"What! Can you rejoice over skies that are blue
And flowers along the road,
Awearing such garments that are covering you and bearing that terrible load?
Can you forget for a moment your grief
In the song of a bird on the wing,
Tell me thy secret, ah Beggar so rare,
What maketh thy heart to sing?"

Then he drew a picture of a cross in the sand
And of One who hang on a tree,
And gave His life that beggars could smile
And happy made us to be.
Yes happy in spite of the clothes that we wear,
Or hardships we must endure
Just wearing along o'er the hill-path of life
A crown of "Happiness Sure."

A YEAR AGO I worried in print about whether some high-living professional churchmen might not be inviting an investigation which could discredit themselves and besmirch religion per se.

I meant that admonition to be a helpful warning. Had the critic been a vindictive Ralph Nader, he might have presented evidence which would jeopardize the tax status of church-related organizations and cast an ugly shadow over all.

SOME RESENTED the suggestion. At least one church-related foundation apparently made no effort to clean house.

Now it is on the carpet confronted with potentially embarrassing questions from the Internal Revenue Service, the Justice Department, the Post Office, the Securities and Exchange Commission and California's attorney general.

THE BAPTIST FOUNDATION of America Inc. has no formal affiliation with any major Baptist group, though its co-founder and president, Rev. T. Sherron Jackson, is a respected Baptist churchman and five of its nine trustees are ministers.

A tax-exempt, nonprofit organization intending to build hospitals for children, retirement centers for the aged and other such facilities. It was to be no less than "a monument to faith in God and to freedom and courage of the human spirit."

IT HAS BUILT no hospitals, no retirement centers and according to the Wall Street Journal-- figures in two bizarre stock deals, has been dealing with men with criminal records and apparently is responsible for substantial losses for individuals and institutions throughout the United States.

The Baptist Foundation of America Inc., shortly after its founding, had assets totaling more than $20 million, is presently headquartered in an impressive suite of offices in Los Angeles and turns to the public a benevolent face.

BUT IT HAS ISSUED countless million of dollars worth of promissory notes in exchange for property and services, most of which notes are now in default.

The Journal's researchers were unable to determine whether the BFA was more victimized or victimizer, whether the foundation consummated good deals with bad dealers.

BUT THE FOUNDATION lists among its assets thousands of acres of land in Tennessee, and tax assessors down thataway can't find any of it.

In the ranks of our nation's major denominations are thousands of selfless, conscientious church officials and clergy who need no defense for themselves and their activities. They do deserve to be defended against some professional churchmen, usually not clergy, whose high-living is not what the widow's mite was meant to pay for.

CHURCH-OWNED property in the United States has been valued at $44.5 billion for the Catholic Church, $28 billion for Protestants, $7 billion for Jewish congregations.

Each year $5.5 billion goes into the collection plates. You can't funnel such sums through human hands without some margin for hanky-panky.

BUT RELIGION is not so sacrosanct as it once was and church administrative expenses and church-related foundations are presently extremely vulnerable to the possibility of an expose which could drastically curtail the effectiveness of religion with an already suspicious generation.

ARTS AND CRAFTS WINNER--Mrs. Doris Robison won the prize in the Arts and Crafts Division of the Fourth Annual Sidewalk Art Festival here Friday. Her glass-in exhibit displayed "Treasures of Yesteryear."

ASC Ballots Go Out

Ballots for the ASCS community committee elections will be mailed to eligible farm voters Tuesday, according to Lamar Aten of the County ASCS office.

In each of the eight ASC communities in the county, three community committeemen and two alternates will be elected.

Farm voters may vote for up to three of the candidates listed, or they may write in their choices on lines provided at the bottom of the ballot.

To be counted, all ballots must be properly signed and returned to the ASCS office by Sept. 11. Votes will then be tabulated Sept. 15 at 8 a.m. in the office.

The candidate who receives the largest number of votes becomes chairman; the second highest will become vice chairman; third highest, a regular member; and fourth and fifth highest become first and second alternates to serve on the committee if the regular members are temporarily absent or if a permanent vacancy occurs.

Any farm owner, tenant or sharecropper who is of legal voting age may vote if he has an interest in a farm and is eligible to participate in any ASCS program in his community.

Others who may vote are spouses of eligible voters, a minor who supervises and conducts the operation of an entire farm, a legal guardian who manages a farm for a child, and a person representing a legal entity such as a partnership or corporation.

Voting by proxy will not be allowed, and voters who certify their ballots with an "X" for a signature must do so before a witness and obtain the signature of the witness for the ballot to be counted.

Anyone who feels he should have a ballot, and who does not receive a ballot in the mail shortly after Sept. 1, should contact the office to arrange for receiving a duplicate ballot, or to see if he is eligible to vote.

49 Deaths Labor Day

Texas Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir said today indications are that 49 persons will be killed in Texas traffic crashes during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday weekend from 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 4 to midnight Monday, Sept. 7.

The estimate is based on numerous indicators and past experience on similar holiday periods, Colonel Speir said, adding that he hopes it will prove to be too high.

The Public Safety Director said numerous activities will be undertaken to hold down holiday tragedies on the streets and highways, "but, inevitably, the drivers themselves hold the solution in their hands."

"That is why we constantly and repeatedly appeal to drivers to remain continually on the alert for situations that can spell disaster and make driving a full-time job while they are behind the wheel."

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

NOTICED WHERE some fellow is advocating that the churches get involved in politics.--I suppose they might as well, since the fight agin' sin seems to have become outmoded. Guess you can protect mankind against about anything, except himself.

WONDER WHAT happened to the old-fashioned custom of the church being the "Rest of God", where one could separate himself from the world and it's cares, and lose himself in worship and service to God? One of the biggest woes of the church might be, that we have too many "pulpit fillers" and not enough preachers. This, coupled with the fact that we have too many "Churchmen" and not enough Christians.

have to have a church that is different, also. Men no longer fit their lives to the church, but rather, fit the church to the men.--Thus, we become "churchmen" rather than Christians.

SOME OF THE clergy (seemingly, tiring of the ol' job of "fillin' the pulpit) have turned to the sensational things like:--Marching with the protesters, actually encouraging riots, promoting a cause, such as integration, the Women's Liberation Movement, or their favorite political candidate.

Now, if the Gospel is too tame to preach, then, I would recommend that we pick out a good hobby and "Get-With-It"--And, if that includes "Putting-the-finger" on the bad boys in public office so be it!

IT'S KINDA' like Joshua's choice that he offered the people of long ago.--"If it seem evil to serve the Lord, then choose you, this day, whom you WILL serve!"

So, you pay your money and you take your choice, but notice that God is left out of the choice.--If we're not gonna use the pulpit and the church for what they were intended, then let's make a BIG noise, and made it heard!

I DO NOT MEAN to be disrespectful to the DEDICATED proclaimers of the Gospel, nor the church, BUT, some of the things that are being promoted under the guise of Christianity, just don't set well on my stomach!

Small wonder that our youngsters are looking askance at religion, huh?

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

The Basic Side

IT'S that time again... the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheaties, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic — lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver." Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

Amherst Gridders Gun For Better Year

By GARY BRYSON
Leader-News Sports Writer

The Amherst Bulldogs' all-new crew of the 1970 football season is back this year, a little bigger and a lot tougher.

Head Coach Lewis Sessums and his assistant Dean Elliott join the nine returning lettermen from a 3-7 record year to battle for the top spot in district 5-B.

Last year was a building year for the Bulldogs as the coaching staff began their first year at Amherst with three regulars and only 21 candidates for the team. This year 25 attended Bulldog practice sessions.

This year's team could be a big contender in their district with senior Eddie Moates, 170-pound quarterback, returning to lead the offense.

Bobby Clayton, another senior from last year's team will be the sole contestant for the fullback position. Clayton, weighing 185 pounds, was a member of the 5-B All-District offensive and defensive team as well as being on both the offense and defense of the All-South Plains Honorable Mention team.

A trio will share the two half-back positions. They will be Doug Cummings, a 155-pound junior; Luis Jimenez, 115-pound sophomore; and Sandy Moore, a 145-pound freshman.

Senior Steve Gage at 140 pounds and junior Billy Smith at 180 pounds will be the key leaders in the passing receiving department as the ends.

The tackle post chores will be shared by Larry Edwards, 160-pound senior; Leonard Salazar, 195-pound senior and Lonnie Burton, 230-pound junior.

Guards will be junior Kim Harmon weighing 165 pounds, junior Joe Rivas at 140 pounds and sophomore Randy Fulenwider at 140 pounds.

Holding down the center position will be Mark Nicholson, a 145-pound sophomore or his backup Greg Cruz, a 130-pound senior.

Sophomores Terry Lemer, 110; Daniel Cruz, 100; and freshmen Wes Gage, 130, D. J. Johnson, 150, Danny Carter, 100, Steve Taylor, 120, and Butch Sutton, 150, will see action with the Bulldog team as reserves.

Amherst saw action for the first time in a scrimmage session yesterday with Whiteface and will see action again Sept. 4 against Happy in Bulldog Stadium before opening the regular season.

Sessums, a Baylor graduate of 1965, was an assistant coach on the Class AA Idalou staff before taking his post at Amherst. Elliott, a 1968 graduate of Texas Tech, was also an assistant coach at Idalou before coming to Amherst.

This year Coach Sessums has "prospects of a good ball club if we can get them all together." His team will face two powerhouses of District 3-A in hosting Springlake-Earth on Sept. 11, in the opening game, and then Sudan on Sept. 18.

2,230 Vets In County

There are 2,230 veterans in Lamb County and 1,354,000 in Texas, according to Veterans Administration figures released today based on America's 27.3 million former servicemen as of the beginning of 1970.

According to the latest available figures, of the 181,000 veterans who have served during the Vietnam era, 250 were from Lamb County.

World War II veterans make up the largest group of veterans with 1,410 from Lamb County, and 738,000 from the state as a whole.

The number of Texans serving in the Korean Conflict was 290,000 and 320 came from Lamb County.

Some 210 Lamb Countyans saw military service only between the Korean Conflict and the Vietnam Era, and 154,000 from the entire state.

Of 73,000 World War I veterans in Texas, 100 are from Lamb County.

Veterans with questions on benefits are urged to contact their nearest VA office.

CLASS AA'S TOUGH, TOO

Tahoka Show Causing Concern In Cat Camp

Littlefield Wildcats' speedy triumphant return to Class AA turned into a night of Tahoka Friday evening. The Bulldogs' bite was worse than their bark, as they humbled the Cats, 2-0, in the pre-season scrimmage session.

"We were pitiful," said a disgruntled Coach Deverelle Saturday morning.

"We're going to have to get tougher, and we'll start Monday," said Coach

Deverelle who viewed the scrimmage as home scratching heads. The Wildcats were the bigger team, by far, but the Bulldogs' crew, picked for the division in District 4-AA, was a scrappier, from start to finish. A regular ball game might have produced a waxing, for the Bulldogs moved the ball well in the scrimmage. The Bulldogs got the lead on a pass play. The Cats, meanwhile, were in trouble making first down. Coach Lewis, although conceding the overall team effort was poor, singled out End Kim Hemphill for outstanding work on offense and defense.

But the only other bright spot for the Cats was the passing of Leroy Danford. The next Cat scrimmage is scheduled for next night against Muleshoe.

WILDCAT RAMBLER—Dennis Hartley (24) goes for short yardage in the scrimmage against Tahoka Friday evening. Coming up to help is Don Hemphill (44). The Cats lost the battle, 2-0, but the real war is yet to come.

BULLDOG BITE—Surrounded by Tahoka tacklers is Leroy Danford, the Cats' quickest end who found the going tough among the quick Tahoka defenders at the Littlefield-Tahoka scrimmage Friday.

Mary Lee Brownlow To Appear In Book

Amherst-- The First United Methodist Church of Amherst has revealed the selection of Mrs. Mary Lee Brownlow to appear in the 1970 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

Nominated earlier this year, she has been chosen for the awards publication on the basis of her achievements.

Now in its sixth year, the Outstanding Young Women of America program, designed to recognize the abilities of women between the ages of 21 and 35, was conceived by the leaders of the nation's major women's organizations.

This program recognizes those young women who contribute to the betterment of their communities, professions, and country.

Serving on the program's Board of Advisors are the national presidents of Women's clubs, headed by Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Each year over 6,000 young women are nominated as Outstanding Young Women of America by leading women's organizations, college alumni associations, and churches across the country. These young women's complete biographical sketches are featured in the national volume, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

These women are now in competition for their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year Award.

This fall, 50 of the young women included in "Outstanding Young Women of America" -- one from each state -- will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year.

NBC news correspondent, Nancy H. Dickerson, who wrote the introductory message for last year's edition, said, "The young women honored by recognition in this book have made a good start. . . They can recognize the new acceptance they have and go forward to contribute even more in a more meaningful way than in the past, and hopefully ennoble a world which is so much more in need of their talents than ever before."

Guidelines for selection as an Outstanding Young Woman include unselfish service to others, charitable activities, community and civic and professional recognition.
