great-grandmother who's Amherst's 'First Lady', wears overalls, raises eggs, milks cows, raises gardens corn-on-the-cob, and says prayers' is to be best.

Charlie L. (Pearl) Harmon, who is the subject of her granddaughter's entry for the area's greatest mom or grandmother contest, is unbeatable.

Patient, kind, gentle and loves her babies" were other descriptive words Harold Gaye Weaver used to describe great-grandmother.

The Harmons live just north of the first gym "where they've lived since the first nine of these years in the present or half-dugout.

Charlie and Pearl Harmon were one of the first settlers in Amherst, buying land from the Halsells had their big pasture sale. Three steps lead up to the elegantly landscaped yard with shady rest spots shaded in wisteria vines, large gnarled oaks, interwoven across supports.

"We used all the dirt taken out of the present to build up the yard," Mrs. Harmon said.

The basement holds many of the things the Harmons used when they first started housekeeping. The old wood-burning stove is down there, along with a roll-top desk, chiffoniers, a wringer, a sewing machine, and a ruffle iron more than a hundred years old.

Mrs. Harmon is Amherst's first lady in the original meaning of the phrase. Pearl Harmon was mayor of Amherst back yonder when they graded the streets with horses pulling the blades. "I don't remember when that was," Mrs. Harmon said. "Took four to eight horses to pull the grading machine. Had one of the darn things around here for a long time. Finally cut it up for junk."

"It's true what Gaye said about Mama wearing overalls," Harmon he-hawed. "If she hadn't called her and told her you were coming, she'd have a pair on now. I like these I've got on," he said, pointing on the bib of his overalls.

"People wouldn't hardly recognize me without my overalls," Mrs. Harmon said. She also wears a bonnet for her gardening, egg gathering and milking.

Court Awards Bid, Nixes Car Expenses

Appointing Mary Beth Willey to fill the unexpired term of County Clerk Charles Jones was the main order of the day when county commissioners and the county judge met in regular session Monday.

Mitchell-Ford, Inc. was awarded the bid for the car for the sheriff's department. Five bids were turned in with Mitchell-Ford's bid of $2,150 accepted.

A bond for a new sheriff's deputy, Charles Gary Lightfoot, was approved.

County and precinct bills were approved and reports of the county agent, assistant county agent, county home demonstration, county treasurer, clerk and trapper were accepted.

An order asking that county employees be paid 10 cents per mile for traveling expenses to conduct county banking business at Sudan died for lack of a second.

Commissioners discussed car expenses agreeing that county officials can use armored car services for banking and that there is no need to pay expenses for using personal cars.

COSTS MAY FORCE INCREASE

Lunch Fees Under Study

Steadily increasing costs, a current fact of life in everybody's home or business, may force a revision upward in school lunch prices here next year.

That was one of several thorny problems taken up by school trustees at their regular meeting Monday night.

Supt. Paul I. Jones advised the board of the situation, and referred to the fact that labor costs would increase under wage laws in February, 1970.

He said that prices now in the 25 to 40-cent range might have to be increased to a 30 to 50-cent spread, unless some other solution is found.

Board member Jack Barton suggested that, while studies are under way on what must be done to keep a solvent situation, a three-year projection be made on costs of a "hot tray" program for the high school.

"This is being done in a number of schools, including Lubbock, as a means of cutting costs," Barton said.

Under this type program, Barton said all food could be prepared in the junior high lunchroom, and catered to the high school.

Cost of equipment needed for this would have to be checked, and other costs determined, to see if the idea would be feasible here, he added.

"Just because we have food preparation facilities at the high school does not mean we have to use them," Barton said, adding, "particularly if it is going to be costly to do so."

IN OTHER ACTIVITY, trustees:

1. Asked Supt. Jones to provide school transportation for any classwork, field

Thunderstorms Lash Again

Another funnel cloud was reported in the Littlefield area Tuesday evening as tornado-type thunderstorms lashed parts of Lamb County and the southern part of Hockley.

Radar recorded a twister about 10 miles south of Littlefield. Spotted heavy rains and some hail were dumped on the Whitharral area.

Gauges at Anton recorded about .50 of an inch.

Rain was scarcely a "dust settler" at some farms around Spade and hard and earth-packing just a short distance away. Light hail hit parts of the Spade area, too.

Wednesday morning, most farmers were more worried about the damage inflicted by the hail.

Amherst gauged .24. Reports from other parts of the county varied from no rain at all, to just a trace and up to one inch.

Dark came before 5 p.m. when dust and rain-laden clouds enveloped the area, causing homeward-bound motorists to turn on their headlights.

trips, or other school activities during the school day which would take students away from the high school campus.

2. Accepted resignations of three teachers and employed two new faculty members, including an assistant band director.

3. Okayed plans for a summer maintenance program throughout the school system.

4. Inspected one of two new buses and approved plans to sell two used ones to highest bidders.

5. Approved renewal of a contract with the Education Service Center, Lubbock.

6. Gave Supt. Jones a go-ahead with plans to have the high school evaluated by the Southern Association of Accredited Schools.

TRUSTEES said they saw no need for "fast driving" by students leaving the high school in their own cars to go to physical education classes at the field house.

They pointed out school transportation would allow the entire class to arrive and depart class at the same time, then return to the high school in time to be dismissed with other students.

The board added that students are the responsibility of the school during school hours, and no risk should be taken which might end in an accident.

ANNUAL EVENT TALKED HERE

Littlefield is discussing plans to begin holding an annual celebration, with the first slated for August 29-30.

That was the feeling of a small group which met Monday evening in the Chamber of Commerce room. They represented the Chamber, local and civic organizations.

Delegates are to report to their respective organizations on approval of the date and sponsorship of various activities in the celebration.

Another meeting has been set for May 26.

The group proposes to incorporate the celebration with the Lamb County pioneer group's annual get-together, and possibly hold an old settler's theme for the event.

With activities to commence about 4 p.m. on the 29th, a Friday, the celebration's schedule will continue into that evening, and then all day the following Saturday and that evening.

Proposed activities, none of which are actually down on the formal schedule as yet, include a parade, street dances for various groups and ages, selection of a Miss Littlefield, the pioneer group's regular meeting and activities, a community barbecue, a pony express race tournament, community sing-song, contests of various kinds for the youngsters such as watermelon-seed spitting, a beard growing contest, and many others.

Groups not represented at the meeting, including church, social and civic, are urged by the committee to attend the next meeting. It will begin at 7 p.m. in the Chamber conference room at the City Hall.

LAMB COUNTY SHERIFF E. D. McNeese found a hack saw blade in his birthday cake when he cut into it Tuesday. The blade has a few nicks in it where McNeese used a strong arm rather than insult the cook's (Connie Powell) cake-making. If he doesn't look too happy about the surprise, it's because "the reminder comes too soon after the jailbreak to be funny." McNeese had been sheriff only nine days when two jail inmates sawed their way out of the county jail with hack saw blades smuggled in to them. "But we caught both of them," McNeese laughed, "and we check every day to make sure it doesn't happen again." Sheriff Mac now is 42-years-old.

What The Leader-News Thinks

Sunny Side Up

There is one sure way for visitors to like Littlefield and Texas and that is for Texans they meet to be likeable. The Texas Tourist Council in Austin is relying heavily on the treatment each Texan accords travelers to create a favorable impression of our state.

Texas has many things in the way of recreation and historic places of interest. But these become no more than popcorn concessions along the way unless "people are nice to people." So the Southwest tradition of friendliness becomes the key in the following Ten Commandments from the council for the care and handling of visitors to Littlefield:

THOU SHALT NOT frown or scowl at visitors, for a traveler is your bread and butter. THOU SHALT ask pleasantly if you can be of service to visitors.

THOU SHALT make yourself a storehouse of information for travelers and cheerfully share your knowledge with them. THOU SHALT answer questions seventy times seven with a smile.

THOU SHALT keep your sunny side up even though weary and troubled.

THOU SHALT remember the State Motto of Texas is friendship-and show it!

THOU SHALT be neat and clean, for cleanliness is a mark of politeness to others.

THOU SHALT cause children to have a happy vacation, for their memories will profit you in the future.

THOU SHALT encourage travelers to STAY AND SEE TEXAS for thereby will you and the entire state benefit.

THOU SHALT send visitors on their way with smiles on your face and theirs.

It's Different!

By LIBBY MUGGETT

THE STATE of our nation is much, much better than it was several years ago and a whole lot better than I had feared. I never go by the President's state of the union message, but by which records and recording artists (?) get the Grammy awards. I am happy to report that of this year's eleven winning records, I could understand the words of six, make out the melody of seven, and two were actually kind of pretty.

announcer said they were going to sing "Hey, Jude", so I guess they did but I'll never know how anyone could prove it. Seeing them made me understand why I now consider Glenn Campbell clean cut. Mason Williams played "Classical Gas" on his guitar and got best instrumental arrangement. While doing so, he completely restored my faith in the Now Generation's ability to know MUSIC when they hear it. It was beautiful.

A YOUNG LAD named Bobby Goldsboro sang "Honey" very clearly and it had a pretty melody but it was kind of gruesome. As my grandmother said about "Gloomy Sunday", it ought to be banned. She never believed me when I told her later that it was, because a man shot himself after listening to it over and over in Houston.

SIMON AND GARFUNKEL (doesn't that sound like the name of a dry goods store to you?) warbled "Mrs. Robinson" and for their efforts got best contemporary pop vocal group.

This tore me up, but not near as much as when later that same record got the coveted award of Record of the Year. If you don't know who Mrs. Robinson is, ask a youngster, but do it in the dark or you'll blush.

BEST COUNTRY RECORDING went to O. C. Smith's "Little Green Apples". That song should have gotten Record of the Year with Roger Miller singing it. Miller makes Smith sound amateurish. Good song, though. Just about a man who loves his wife and loves him back. Nobody two times nobody, nobody hates nobody, nobody kills nobody, nobody even makes nobody sad.

Which is probably why it didn't get Record of the Year.

BEST SCORE by an original cast went to the cast of Hair (oh, wash out my mouth and disinfect my typewriter) for screaming, hollering, and yowling "Aquarius" and "Let The Sunshine In."

I should have suspected what it was going to be like when Tommy Smothers introduced 'em, saying they had the guts to do it as they felt it.

I really never knew what he meant, but I don't think I want to. I just wonder what my grandmother would have said.

I THINK FOR ONCE she would have been speechless.

THE FIRST AWARD went to a group called The Temptations wailing "Cloud Nine" and I was about ready to write our whole country off as already declined and felled. They are supposed to have made the best contribution in rhythm and blues, but surely in our whole wide nation somebody somewhere can do better than that! I swallowed hard and tried to remember what my grandmother used to say about Harry James and his trumpet.

Jeanne C. Riley got best country female recorder for her "Harper Valley PTA" and I must say it was a relief to understand every word, listen to a story, and follow a simple melody, even though her voice twangs like a dime store banjo.

BEST NEW ARTIST and best contemporary male performer awards went to Jose Feliciano. I've heard that young man sing very well and play his guitar exquisitely, but not for what he got the awards.

He banged and squealed for someone to "Light My Fire" and it was very sad to think he had to do that to get awards. For the first time I realized how my grandmother felt when she heard "The Dipsy Doodle".

GLENN CAMPBELL got best country singer for his "Wichita Lineman". I was amazed to catch myself thinking how clean cut he is, when only a few years ago I would have considered his hair too long and his sideburns ridiculous. Maybe everything IS relative.

BEST POP FEMALE vocalist was Dionne Warwick singing "Do You Know The Way To San Jose".

Again I could hum the tune and understand the words, but they didn't say anything. However, I remembered my grandmother asking me how could moonlight keep from becoming everybody and what did that song mean by saying it goes with the girl's hair?

Tornado Tales

May 12, 1969

Editor, Leader-News

Dear Bill: I can't just sit here and let Monte Berry take all the honors of being the biggest liar in Lamb County.

I wish to go halvers with him. When that great tornado hit Sherman, Texas, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of May 15, 1898, it came down a large creek, from the southwest.

We then lived 12 miles north of Sherman.....Father took us over there, where there was a large white house on the south side of the creek.

Father knew the man there drove over and talked with The man said all the years he lived there, he had never seen creek dry. But as soon as cyclone passed, there was a drop of water left in the creek. It had sucked up all the and mud.

The man said to "look north side of my house." It well plastered with black mud. He said the tornado looked big ball of mud rolling the Sherman.

PAUL HARVEY

Brain Power

THE AVERAGE BOOK on your shelf contains 50,000 words. Would you believe you can read that book and comprehend its meaning in less than 10 minutes?

Speed-reading specialists say you should and you can and they offer to prove it to you.

THERE IS A YOUNG GIRL in Canton, Mo., who could read the entire book, if somebody could turn the pages fast enough, in less than one minute!

Jeanne Crandell, age 11, sixth grade, probably is the fastest reader in the world, reading as many as 70,000 words a minute.

If this child were an isolated exception, her ability could be dismissed as a "stunt." On the contrary, Jeanne is surrounded by a whole classroomful of exceptional speed readers, proteges of a director of teacher education at Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Dr. Veal G. McBride.

"NORMAL" READING speed is 205 words a minutes for sixth-grade students, 250 words for adults.

With special instruction, in 30-minute periods four days a week for five weeks, Dr. McBride has taught a 5-year-old kindergarten girl to read 6,000 words a minute. A 16-year-old mentally retarded girl now can read and comprehend 1,000 words a minute. One college student reads 10,000 words a minute. A 14-year-old eighth-grade boy now reads 48,000 words a minute.

HOW IS IT DONE? Dr. McBride says, "We simply convince them that it can be done. Then we give them a few directions, such as how to move their eyes rapidly without attempting to understand they are reading in the beginning. "We want them to move their in whatever way they might most comfortable, up and down, crisscross, spirals—not necessarily the laborious left-right word-for-word way most of us taught."

WHY SHOULD WE RE faster? Because, says Dr. McBride this is "more in keeping with speed at which the brain operates. Most of us, while reading, find minds wandering because our are moving too slowly." Thus the slow readers, not fast ones, are the "sloppy" readers.

OTHER ADVANTAGES more enjoyment from reading greater learning and, for industry tremendous saving in dollars employees could read comprehend faster. Can old adults be taught new trick?

DR. MCBRIDE SAYS adults find speed reading more difficult because we are so highly structured in our thinking, have had so many limitations placed upon us. "our adult reading rate can vastly improved IF WE THINK CAN."

"My 15 years of experience the field of reading," says McBride, "have taught me not to be surprised at anything where human mind is concerned. Most it, in most of us, remains unused."

OR AS AUTHOR-POET Gae Cuomo said of slow readers: "They are driving a powerful car down smooth highway in low gear."

Student Elections Name Positions

Class and Student Council elections came to a close Wednesday, May 7, as the results were announced.

Mark Jordan was elected to the office of president of the SC. Vice-president will be Lynn Barton. Running against Lynn for the office was Kim Hill. Tonya Bingham was elected to the office of secretary over Vicki Cook, Georganne DeBusk and Jan Christian ran for treasurer with Jan winning the position.

Cyd McKinnon and Carolyn Lumsden ran for parliamentarian with Carolyn receiving more votes.

Diane Perkins won the race against Pam Stafford for the office of publicity director.

The office of secretary was secured by Rachel Harlan. Competing against Rachel was Joanna Rogers.

Next year will surely be a good year at LHS with these dependable students holding our 1969-70 offices.

STUDENT VOICINGS

QUESTION: Would you want to be restored to life after you had died? Why?

Dorold White (Sr.)—"No! Things would be so different one wouldn't know what was going on."

Deborah Steffy (Jr.)—"No, at least not if the world is still in the big mess it is in now."

Vicki Cook (Jr.)—"No, because this world is changing at such a fast rate, the adjustment would be too great a strain on the human being. Also, if God had wanted man to have the power to restore life, He would have given it to him."

Belinda Moreno (Jr.)—"Well, if I go to heaven, I want to stay there. If I don't go to heaven—yes!"

Terry Doshier (Jr.)—"No, I do not think it is right and man was made from God and not to be re-made by man."

Evah Tucker (Jr.)—"No, I'd be satisfied with only one life on earth."

Dona Seay (Jr.)—"No! It is not up to man to make life again Only God possesses that great power."

Bufus Lee (Jr.)—"If you are dead, you are supposed to be dead."

Robert Rendon (Sr.)—"Yes, so I can live again."

Leroy Smith (Sr.)—"Yes, because it would probably be intriguing to 'come alive' in say, one hundred years, and see how much things in the world have changed."

Bands To Give Spring Concert

The Wildcat Bands will give a concert tonight, May 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High Auditorium.

Under the direction of Mr. Phil Anthony, all five bands will play.

Featured in the concert will be the Wildcat Band which will play three numbers, including "La Bamba de Vera Cruz," "Parade of the Charioteers," "The Bugler's Holiday," and "Barnum and Bailey's Favorites."

The Wildcat Stage Band will perform, playing two modern numbers, "Rock Bottom" and "By The Time I Get To Phoenix."

'To Kill A Mockingbird' English Topic Of Study

"To Kill A Mockingbird" is a novel which is now being studied in Mrs. Ward's English III classes. This selection was chosen by popular vote of the students.

The novel is a modern classic written by Harper Lee. In 1960 she won the Pulitzer prize for it, and the book has subsequently been made into a successful movie. It remained on the "best seller" list for 95 weeks, and is the only novel ever chosen by four major book clubs.

The students will do a critical study of the novel. They will not just skim the surface of the novel, but they will discover how to find the inner and implied meanings. The students will learn to analyze characters and to find reason for the characters' actions.

They learn to interpret, translate, or clarify the meaning of the language used in the book. Any great work of literature has many interpretations.

The conflicting views have value for the student, and the teacher as well, since the aim is not for the student to accept unquestionably any one interpretation, but to make his own.

The main objective is to learn through critical analysis how to get the most from any book that one might choose to read.

When Mrs. Ward was asked for her opinion concerning the novel she stated, "I am very pleased with the enthusiastic attitude and mature of my students in our study of 'To Kill A Mockingbird.' I have never before been aware of such interest in my English classes so near the end of school."

The students who are studying this novel seem to agree with what Mrs. Ward says.

Four of Mrs. Ward's English students were asked the question "Do you enjoy studying the novel 'To Kill A Mockingbird' and why?"

Juanita Samaniego replied, "Yes, I have enjoyed studying the novel because of the many things that are gained from studying it. Many deities are learned, and one is given the opportunity to delve into the personalities of people and of the author. 'To Kill A Mockingbird' is one of the most realistic stories that I have ever read."

Pernicia Savage's reply was, "Yes, it has given me an insight to people. This story is so realistic in all respects. The characters and the location are all so true to life. This has helped me to understand people a little more fully."

Donarex Bowen said, "I guess I enjoyed studying it because it was so good! It's the kind of book you can't put down. Along with just being a good novel, it also had some good lessons and facts that were worth remembering and studying."

Jackie Sims stated, "I enjoyed studying this novel, because it was a routine of study that I never had participated in. It is different to the study of drama."

Four Teachers Have Resigned LHS Positions

Four LHS teachers have resigned, but will continue teaching until the end of this school term. The teachers resigning are Mrs. Janell Trees, Mrs. Doniece Jones, Coach Jim Bartlett, and Coach Wilson Elliott.

Mrs. Trees has taught here two years, teaching shorthand, typing I, and typing II. After resigning she plans to stay home and take care of Jay, her one-year-old son, and her husband, Coach Jerry Trees. She plans to do some cooking, sewing, art, knitting, and some fancy work.

Mrs. Trees stated, "I have truly enjoyed teaching in Littlefield High School. To me, this is an outstanding student body with a great promise for the future. My association with the faculty and administration has been a rewarding experience."

Mrs. Doniece Jones has taught plain geometry here one year. She does not have any certain plans after resigning. Troy Jones is her husband.

After resigning Coach Bartlett plans to go to Lamapas High to teach. He will teach health, driver's training, and be first assistant coach. He has taught health, and world history at LHS two years.

Coach Bartlett, and his wife, Mary Jane, have three children—Robert, who is 7; Mark, 6; and Karen, 4.

Coach Wilson Elliott is leaving to go to Gatesville High School.

As soon as school is out, he and his family plan to move. This summer he will be working at the state school for boys until August when football workouts start.

He has taught at Littlefield three years. He has taught chemistry and physical science at LHS, and general science at Junior High. Coach Elliott and Adeline—Addie for short—have one child, Debbie, who is 8 years old.

ATHLETICS IN ACTION

By ROY BOLTON

Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10, Doris Ashley competed in the girls' state track and field meet in Abilene.

Doris had won second in the 60 yard dash at the regional meet, qualifying her for the state meet. She also won third in the 100-yard dash at the regional meet, but only the first two places went to state.

At the state meet, she won the fifth place ribbon in the 60-yard dash with a time of 7.3. The winning time was 7.0.

Saturday, May 3, Doris competed in the Lubbock Invitational meet where she set two state records. One of these was in the 100-yard dash and the other was in the 60-yard dash.

She received two gold medals for her efforts, and won a trophy for Outstanding Senior Girl.

Doris should be congratulated for her efforts throughout the year. She is a sophomore and has two more years of eligibility.

Three Winners Place At State

This summer she will compete in the National Junior Olympics with the Lubbock Jaycees track team.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of this week, there was an intramural girls' basketball tournament. The tournament was held from 4:30 to 5:30 each day.

Captains of the four teams were Evah Tucker, Kim Bridwell, Kathy Bryson, and Mary Jane Sanchez.

Next week's paper will be the last one to be put out by the 1968-69 Skat staff, so I will try to summarize the year's sports activities (mostly just the good side).

GUESS WHO this tall and red headed young lady is and you might get a better grade in American History.

THE BEAT GOES ON

By DANNY GOWEN

(This is a letter which was sent to me concerning one of my editorials. The letter comes from a Miss Alice Beer in Catham, Va., and she has asked that we print it.)

April 23, 1969

Dear Editor:

A classmate of mine here at school receives your paper and sometimes I read the editorial in the student section. I have a few comments to make on the April 17 column written by Danny Gowen.

First of all, I also had the good fortune to hear Harvard biologist Dr. George Wald on the Today Show. I was so impressed with what he had to say that I wrote off for a copy of his speech. (The same remarks that he made on the Today Show were the text of a speech that he presented on March 4 at a forum protesting the misuse of science, at M.I.T.)

Mr. Gowen took Dr. Wald's words out of context and some of his comments were grossly incorrect. For instance, Mr. Gowen stated that, "...Professor Wald talked on the subject for an atomic exchange with no reservations, and seemed to make his students even more uneasy." The students were NOT made more uneasy by Dr. Wald's comments. Dr. Wald is just as uneasy about the threat of an atomic exchange as anyone else and at least he admits the existence of such a threat, unlike some people who stick their heads in the ground and refuse to admit that we need worry ourselves about it.

The students' uneasiness was if anything, alleviated by Dr. Wald's frankness. If more problems were dealt with such candor there would be fewer riots and demonstrations. Which brings to my mind another statement that Mr. Gowen made, "...I think that it is because of Professor Wald and others like him who give their views on a subject, who cause most of the student riots and unrest."

Mr. Gowen, the students want people like Dr. Wald to speak out. It is the people who clam up and claim that nothing is wrong that the students object to. I feel much more qualified than you to make a statement on student unrest because I feel I am probably much more acquainted with them than you are.

My father is a professor at Harvard and I have grown up in Cambridge, Mass., which is one of the greatest student centers in the world. (It is the location of Harvard, Radcliffe, M.I.T. and several other universities.)

Mr. Gowen, I suggest that you take your head out of the sand and face some of the problems that you claimed you never think about. There are possibilities of both the problems that you so comfortably avoid; obviously you are just going to sit around and do nothing about them.

I have enclosed a copy of the speech made by Dr. Wald, which has been acclaimed as one of the most important speeches made in our lifetime. I strongly suggest that you reprint it. I feel that every student should read it.

One last suggestion for Mr. Gowen—in the future I suggest that you write about things that you know about and understand, as obviously you didn't in this article.

(If you are unable to print the speech I still would like to see this letter printed so that the students of LHS will not remain misinformed by Danny Gowen's article.)

Thank you, I remain

'Court Reporting' Topic Of Meeting

By JUANITA SAMANIEGO

Members of the Business Club had the opportunity Thursday, May 8, to hear Bobby Rogers, the only courthouse reporter for Bailey, Parmer, Lamb, and other counties.

Members met in the typing room and much was learned from Mr. Rogers' talk.

"Courthouse reporting is a good occupation for anyone. It draws an exceptionally good salary and one does not have to work very hard. Although this type of work is only used to refresh one's memory, courthouse reporting must become a part of you," Mr. Rogers said.

Booklets containing quotes from cases of trials were given to the members. Everything is taken in shorthand. Therefore only those who had taken shorthand could understand them.

There are four different kinds of reporters. An official reporter who earns a salary and works for a district judge; a legislative reporter who takes notes in the United Nations and in Congress; one who does not work for a salary; and finally, a civil service reporter who works for the government and has the opportunity to travel the world.

"Courthouse reporting is a well-paying job. One may go to school for a few months, and be able to determine the value of a man who is being tried for a crime. Moreover, his notes could determine whether the defendant will be acquitted or convicted."

The members of the Business Club are planning to hold a constitution and refreshments to the people for the picnic will be held May 27.

Sincerely yours,
Alice Beer

I would like to thank Miss Beer for commenting on my column. I would like to state that it is my right to give my own opinions in an editorial.

Only Seven More Days Of School!

SUGGESTED FOR MATURE AUDIENCES

Happiness Is... Well-Planned Summer

KATHY TURNER

"well-planned summer" takes a lot of hard thinking and effort! You can't just work your days out some way so you can go to bed each night after eleven and wake up until at least ten o'clock. That's the way to get the full enjoyment of a nice summer.

Plan each day very carefully by working AROUND work! Yes, we'll repeat, work! Try to do as little as possible of the absolute necessities! Make time for only the absolute necessities, sleeping, eating, recreation, as a whole, your main goal every day.

And last, include friends in your day. Friends should never be left out. You can't tell you the lawn needs mowing, the carpet needs vacuuming, or your car needs cleaning out, simply ask a few nice friends and your day will be very easy and fun!

These three helpful hints, you should be able to follow. Carefree, easy-going, happiest, best summer!

So enjoy it while it's here!!

Mrs. Harlin: "Rephrase this sentence: He was bent on seeing her."
Jerry McCary: "Er, um, ah...The sight of her doubled him up."

So it seems our boys are in spring training again. Aren't they, Coach Christian, Coach Trees?! The boys have really been griping....

The FHA swimming party will be held May 22. It seems like a thousand people have been invited...but we don't think so!
Like we said, "This should really be a blast!"

Does our column seem dumb? Well, you're right. It IS, but that's because we don't have any news. (We have to make up SOMETHING for the money!)
Anyway, don't you like it better that way?!!

On his first visit to the big city, the farmer was fascinated by the asphalt streets, Scraping his feet on the hard surface he remarked, "Can't blame 'em for building a city here. This city ground's too hard to plow anyhow!"

Do you realize, only seven more days of school?!!
It's good, in a way, because we'll be glad to be loose.
But in another sense, it's sad. Just think, freshmen, you'll never be in junior high again....
Oh, well. Look to the future! (Even if it is high school.)

Famous last words: "Somebody give me a match. I can't see where the gas is coming from."

Kid on the losing baseball team, writing to the umpire: "It was a great game. Too bad you didn't see it!"

Are we relieved! We only have to write this thing one more time!
No, not really. Actually, we've really had fun. We're only worried about one thing: Who's gonna take over?
Those of you who are interested: Just think, you could make up your own title, or use ours. (We'd be very flattered.) You'd have fun hunting for jokes and thinking of dumb, weird things to write. It's really a blast! You could go solo, or work as partners. Also, there's the money!
If you are interested, apply at the newspaper office. You must be junior high freshmen to be eligible.
Think about it.

Burglar: "The police are coming. Quick, jump out of the window!"
Accomplice: "But we're on the 13th floor."
Burglar: "This is no time to be superstitious."

Hear about the kid who got a D-minor on his band report card?

The finals are May 26 and 27. The seventh grade had Wednesday off. The eighth grade has Thursday off, and the freshmen have Friday off. These are the picnic days.
So, everybody cram over the weekend!!!

Have a good week, and....study for those finals!

The overall wearing granny who is Littlefield area's "Greatest Granny" is Mrs. C. V. (Pearl) Harmon of Amherst. Her great-granddaughter, 12-year-old Gaye Weaver, nominated her.

Mrs. Etta Lynch of Lubbock judged the entries. Mrs. Lynch is fiction editor of Christian Woman magazine and president of South Plains Writers Association.

"The entry presents a vivid image," Mrs. Lynch said.

Runner-up entries were thoughtfully worded.

The way to win a man's (or boy's) heart is cooking good things to eat. That's the consensus of the judge of the area's Greatest Mom contest.

Not only do little boys appreciate good food, the girls mentioned it, too, some being specific and naming what their moms cook best.

"My mom cooks the crispest, best chicken-fried steak," nine-year-old Debra Burks wrote on her entry. Debra had two other good reasons for nominating her mother. 1. "She might get me a baby sister," and 2. "She plans GREAT birthday parties."

Darryl Glass' mother "lets him play baseball and fixes his favorite meals. Ronnie Cruz is another one whose mother "cooks very good."

Six-year-old Terry Tubbs of Cone nominated his grandmother because "she bakes good things to eat." Besides being a good cook, Terry said, "She saved our baby kitten when it was about to die."

Being a good nurse rated high with this year's contestants. J'Lee Muller of Sudan stated simply, "She takes care of me when I am sick and helps me with all of my troubles."

"No matter how mean I am," Eddie Elms of Littlefield wrote, "I know she still loves me anyway. She fixes my cuts and scratches."

"She always soothes us if we get hurt," Tonie Gardner wrote about her mother, Mrs. Troy Gardner.

Brenda Aills of Sudan said, "She is here when I need her anytime." Joey Albus of Pep echoed the same sentiments: "She is always here to help us when we need her."

And apparently the kids do appreciate someone cleaning their rooms and washing the dishes. These things, too, were mentioned several times.

The words "kindest" and "best" were used over and over.

Joe Wood of Sudan said his mother is the greatest mom because she is "pretty, kind, and teaches me about Jesus."

Jackie Horton's mother "makes sure she knows and loves Christ, reads the Bible and goes to church." In addition she feels loved and wanted.

Carmalita Patterson said her mother, Mrs. Tommy (Jean) Patterson, is the kind of mother God would have her to be, kind and understanding.

WHO'S LIABLE FOR YOUR CHILD'S BOATING ACCIDENT?

Hilbun Has Boating Insurance

Tom Hilbun is a good scout when it concerns insurance or helping young boys grow into worthy community citizens. Mangum-Hilbun Insurance Agency, 430 XIT Drive, can insure your boat as well as your car.

Tom Hilbun has been insuring boats as long as he has been in the insurance business—25 years. "In fact," Tom laughed, "boat policies came before automobile policies. I guess that is because there were boats before there were cars."

Boating insurance covers everything auto insurance covers—fire, theft, collision, transportation (while you're hauling it), public liability, covering everything while you're operating the boat, and medical payments.

"We can insure you and your boat against all the perils of the sea or Bull Lake," Tom said.

Boat insurance is based on where you do most of your boating, when, and the size of boat. "If your boat is valuable, it should be insured," Tom said, "you should have liability whether your boat is expensive or not."

Hilbun has had an insurance agency in Littlefield since 1945, and handles all types of insurance including fire, automobile and general liability. "I find some sort of insurance every day that I didn't know I had," Tom said in explanation of the many types of insurance he handles.

Hilbun has been an adult scout leader for almost as many years as he has been an insurance representative. He began his scouting leadership 21 years ago as Lions Club institutional representative.

He became cubmaster when his son got into Cub Scouts many years ago. He moved up in Scout work as his son advanced and has remained an active adult leader since that time.

Hilbun and his Scouts attended the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., in 1964, and he is making plans now to attend the national meeting this summer.

Lfd. Butane Has Herbicides Fertilizers And Fumigants

A. C. (Ace) Bridwell has been in the butane business in Littlefield since 1949, serving all the area farmers' needs for butane, gasoline, diesel fuel and motor oils.

This year he has added a complete new line of services—Littlefield Butane has everything farmers need in herbicides and fertilizers, including Treflan, Caporal, Lorox (mixed with Propazine) and anhydrous ammonia.

Planting time is a good time to band in Treflan and Propazine. Banding is especially effective if re-planting isn't necessary, and helps even when a second or third planting is a must.

Lorox, when mixed with Propazine, will keep down weeds in feed land and cotton can be planted right back the next season.

Treflan and Caporal is very effective weed control on cotton and other tap root crops.

Ace reminds farmers that there is still time to fumigate for nematodes. Farmers who need to fumigate cotton land control nematodes but have not been able to get fumigants put down in pre-planting operations shouldn't give up the idea. They can fumigate at the same time the plant.

Knife-type fumigation rigs can be used just ahead of planters, and Littlefield Butane has the equipment to fumigate land along with all the fumigants necessary to really make nematode-infested land pay off.

Anhydrous ammonia side-dressing is most effective when applied in May. Ace reminds farmers that there is plenty of time to apply fertilizer after crops are up to a stand. Anhydrous ammonia side dressing after emergence of both grain sorghum and cotton will increase yields.

Littlefield Butane also has all types of dry fertilizers.

Even if your fertilizer needs are small Littlefield Butane can fill the bill with lawn-size sacks of that famous Phillips 66 fertilizer. There are plenty of those 50-pound sacks of sulphate fertilizer containing 21 per cent nitrogen at the attractive office building, 1120 East 2nd Street.

A sack of Phillips 66 fertilizer goes a long way and is only $1.75 at Littlefield Butane, or you can get the same fertilizer at the Phillips 66 station on Phelps Ave. across the street from Security State Bank for $1.35 with a wash job, or change or five gallons of gas.

Bridwell is consignee for Phillips 66 stations in Littlefield. Johnny Hall is operator of the Phelps Ave. business.

Reese Invitational Dates Are Revealed

Details have been released on the Sixth Annual Reese Air Force Base Invitational Golf Tournament open to all golfers scheduled June 5-8 at the Reese course.

Entry fee this year will be $17.50 per contestant which will include his green fee and a cocktail party and buffet supper for the contestant and his wife or girl friend on the night of June 7.

While the entry fee has increased $2.50 over last year's, so have the prizes. In both cases, the winner and runner-up in each flight will receive his prize in the form of a merchandise certificate in order to give them a selection of whatever merchandise is available in the pro shop.

Winners in the consolation bracket will receive a pair of Johnson-Murphy golf shoes, a value of about $50 in the pro shop.

Entries must be received by June 5, the date of the qualifying round of play. Any contestant not having a registered handicap must qualify on that date by playing 18 holes over the Reese course. His score will be used to determine the flight in which he will be placed for the tournament. Those contestants who have legitimate handicap cards will not be made to qualify.

Others playing in the qualifying round of play June 5 will be those players whose handicaps do not warrant placement in the prestigious Championship Flight, and who wish to try for the big one, and those in the championship class who wish to try for the big one, and those in the championship class who wish to try for medalist. The medalist usually receives a dozen golf balls.

Reese golf pro Ken McGuire said he believes there will be six flights, a Championship

FCA Huddle To Be Formed

A Fellowship of Christian Athletes "Huddle" will be organized here Monday evening.

The meeting, slated for 7:30 p.m. in the high school building, will be under the sponsorship of Snyder's Huddle, according to Coach James Duncan, local sponsor.

A "Huddle" is a local group belonging to the national organization of FCA. Only male high school members of an athletic squad are eligible.

Coach Duncan has issued an invitation to all interested ministers and laymen who would like to attend the meeting.

POLLED ON U. N.

Only three per cent of Israel's citizens believe the United Nations has any effect in solving world problems, a recent public opinion poll reports. The poll said 31 per cent felt the world body was "not very successful," 46 percent called it "useless," 13 percent said it was a "nuisance" and the rest offered no opinion.

Third Coach Resigns Here

The resignation this week of head basketball coach and assistant football coach James Duncan leaves a void on the coaching staff almost as large as Duncan himself.

The popular mentor is packing his bags for Granger, a Class A school near Austin.

Creating the void, along with Duncan, were the previously announced resignations of Jimmy Bartlett and Wilson Elliot, leaving only head football coach Raymond Birchfield on the high school staff.

Coach Birchfield and two junior high coaches, Jerry Trees and Jack Christian, are all that remains of what was originally a very small staff for a tribe-A school, six.

Duncan's position at Granger will be similar to that he holds here, head basketball and football line coach.

Senior Golf Event Slated

Lubbock will be the site of the first West Texas-New Mexico Senior Golf Association tournament. It was revealed by Jack Stone, president of the newly-formed organization. The dates set are October 13-16.

Final plans for the formation of the golf group were laid out recently at the Lubbock Country Club. Now more than 100 members, the association will include members of reciprocal clubs in West Texas and New Mexico.

Gin Dedication Slated Saturday

A large crowd is expected to be on hand at the USDA South Plains Ginning Research Laboratory Saturday, May 17, for an open house and dedication beginning at 2 p.m.

The new Agricultural Research Service facility is located about 7 and 1/2 miles north of Lubbock on US 87 and is next door to the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

Highlighting the event will be an address by Secretary of Agriculture Dr. Clifford Hardin. Hardin will be introduced by 19th District Congressman George Mahon.

Bill Thompson, a ginner near Shallowater and past president of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, will serve as master of ceremonies for the event, according to Roy Baker, engineer-in-charge of the ginning lab.

Other speakers will include Dr. Gerald Thomas, dean of agriculture at Texas Tech; Dr. John Bradford, dean of engineering at Tech and president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; and Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of agriculture at Texas A&M and acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Transferring Vets To Get Releases

The Veterans Administration cautioned veterans who will be transferring to new jobs in new locations this summer to get releases in writing from the VA on their present GI home loans.

The VA noted that private industry, more and more, is following the long-standing practice of the military services and government agencies of transferring personnel during the summer to avoid disrupting their children's schooling.

In the excitement of moving and concentration on the new job, the VA said, it is easy to overlook the fact that even though a veteran sells his present home he is still liable for his GI loan unless the loan is paid in full or the VA releases him in writing from all future liability.

The VA also pointed out that the veteran who sells his home because of a transfer to a new location will be entitled to restoration of the VA home loan guaranty in order to purchase a home in his new community of his old GI loan is paid off.

Veterans may obtain additional information on release from their loan liability and restoration of their loan entitlement by visiting the VA office in Lubbock located at 1612-20 Nineteenth Street, or by writing the VA Regional Office, 1400 North Valley Mills Drive, Waco, Texas 76710.

Research Center To Celebrate Anniversary

A 30th anniversary celebration will be held at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center in Lubbock Saturday, May 17.

The observance will feature an open house of recently expanded facilities, beginning at 9 a.m. and a field tour to begin at 12:30 in the afternoon, according to Dr. B. A. Stewart, director of the Center.
