'Women' Begin New Year, Discuss Lengthy Agenda

"We, The Women", a branch of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, met Tuesday noon for the first regular meeting of the new year.

Presiding was the new president, La Joyce Carlisle, who led the organization through several items of business.

Members signed up to serve as hostesses for the year, were reminded that nominations are due for honorees to be presented at the Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet, and volunteers were signed up to help with the decorations for the banquet.

Wannell Piercy was appointed to serve as chairman of the telephone committee, with Louise Bennett and Mary Hall serving on the committee.

Members decided to order 100 honey locust trees and 100 red cedar trees from the Forrest Service, at $3 per hundred. The trees come as seedlings, and will be nurtured and cared for by Green Thumbers of the county, and when sufficiently mature to transplant, the trees will be donated to be planted where needed in the city.

Mrs. Carlisle made note that there are 52 members of "We, The Women", and that a questionnaire will be sent to the membership seeking answers to questions about the organization, and how members feel the organization may be improved.

The new president stated that a fundraising campaign may be set up in the near future.

Members decided to continue having meetings at noon on every fourth Tuesday of the month.

Carol Wallace presented a report on the American Heart Association, and solicited the aid of the members for the upcoming fund drive, slated for Feb. 17.

In closing, the president informed the members that she had received a request from a citizen regarding the possibility of establishing a day care center for children. Members discussed the matter, but did not make any decision about it.

City Manager Reports Activities For December

City Manager Jim Blagg presented a report of administrative activities to the mayor and members of the city council in their agenda folders for the Thursday night, Jan. 3, meeting of the city council. The report is printed here in its entirety.

"December has been a month in which we have spent a great deal of time looking at our internal operations. The fuel shortage has caused us to investigate measures to better utilize the fuel supplies we currently have. We took bids on a new gasoline contract this month and we were unable to secure a new contract. This means we will have to buy gasoline from any supplier who can furnish it to us.

"Our present supplier has agreed to continue supplying us as long as he is able to get gasoline. The cost will naturally be higher without a contract. "New measures will have to be considered to conserve fuel in order to hold down our cost.

"Work on the update to the Personnel Rules is now complete and will be ready for publication soon.

"Changes have been made in the budget workpapers which we feel will make the process easier for the department heads and at the same time give a better picture of the departments' work programs. These new workpapers will be used to prepare the 1974-75 budget.

"Work is now almost complete on the repairs to the ground storage tank. As soon as that is complete, work will begin on the overhead storage tank on Sunset.

"Both of these projects were badly needed. "Preparations are now underway for our seal coating program for the current year. We anticipate taking bids on this project in either late January or early February.

"During the month of December more than 300 of our new refuse collection containers were delivered and stored at the Public Works Building. At the present, we expect delivery of the trucks for the new system in March or April.

"The new year finds us with the loss of two department heads, Pickett Ray and Veneta Miller.

"We certainly feel the loss of these two fine and dedicated employees. Efforts are still underway to find adequate replacements for them."

SPC Maps Out Attack On Gasoline Shortage

South Plains College has mapped out a three-pronged attack on the gasoline shortage to help the several hundred students who will commute to classes when the semester begins Jan. 14.

The first part of the program was announced earlier. A new policy had been adopted which would allow off-campus residents to live in dormitories on a day-to-day basis at a very reasonable expense. The $4.25 daily charge will include a room, linen service and three meals in the college cafeteria.

Just recently, two more steps were taken to help combat the gasoline pinch.

College officials have made arrangements for buses on the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma bus line to take regular stops at the Student Center. "This will give Lubbock students a way to get to classes without using any of their own gasoline," said Earl Gerstenberger, dean of students at SPC.

The buses will leave Lubbock daily at 7:25 and 11:10 a.m. and will arrive at the Student Center at 8:10 and 11:55 a.m. For the return trip students will be able to take either a 9:25 a.m. bus or a 1:40 p.m. bus. Arrival times in Lubbock are listed as 10:10 a.m. and 2:35 p.m., respectively.

The cost for a round-trip ticket on the bus will be $3.06, Gerstenberger said. And he added that students may catch the bus or be dropped off anywhere along the route between the Student Center and the Lubbock bus terminal at 1313 13th St.

Shortly after classes begin, college officials will meet with students who are interested in using the bus line regularly to help them adjust their class schedules to fit the bus schedule. A meeting date will be announced later, Gerstenberger added.

The third alternative the college has outlined is organizing car pools for commuting students. College officials will meet with students in the Student Center at 10:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 14, to assist in forming car pools. The car pool plan is aimed at all commuting students from around the area, Gerstenberger said. And as with the bus schedule plan, students will be allowed to adjust their class schedules to fit as well as possible with the schedules of other students in the car pools.

Don't Toss That Litter

You'd better look back over your shoulder before you toss that litter out on the highway or on beaches and park land.

If a highway patrolman sees you, you're a 100-to-1 shot to get a ticket. And if you get one, you're better than 9 to 1 to draw a fine of $25 to 200.

More than 800 Texans discovered the odds last year, and arrest records for the first six months of 1973 indicate the total will go above 900 this year.

Those are just for the category of throwing glass, wire, and cans and other litter and for the related one of leaving refuse on the highway.

There are more than 8,600 arrests a year for the broader Department of Public Safety classification of "miscellaneous" violations, of which about 2,000 are for spillage from motor vehicles.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Public Safety Department, said recently that littering is just as much a misdemeanor as any others on the statute books. He told his men to watch closely for violations and take appropriate enforcement action.

"State law prohibits the dumping or depositing refuse, garbage, rubbish or junk on public streets, roads or highways", Speir said. "It is also unlawful to dump any sort of waste on rights-of-way, beaches, parking areas or in inland streams or coastal waters."

A breakdown of DPS figures for the first half of 1973 shows the sub-district headquartered at Tyler as the worst offender. Its 17 counties produced 20 charges of depositing litter on highways and 43 of leaving refuse on the highway.

Next worst offenders were in the 15-county area headquartered at Houston. It showed 35 litter violations and 26 charges of leaving refuse.

Abilene's 35-county district produced 20 litter charges and 18 for leaving refuse.

The 22 counties served by the sub-district around Waco turned up with 20 litter charges and 30 refuse tickets.

Corpus Christi area patrolmen arrested 22 for litter and 18 for refuse.

The Dallas sub-district office had 16 litter arrests and 20 refuse cases. Lubbock patrolmen arrested 13 for littering in the 29-county district and 32 for leaving refuse. Beaumont's had 8 litter arrests and 17 for leaving refuse.

Other sub-district office figures for the six months of this year:

Midland—10 litter and 10 refuse

Amarillo—12 litter and 8 refuse

Austin—10 litter and 8 refuse

The littering arrests have been running 900 to 900 for the past few years. In 1960 there were only 225—indicating either less litter or less enforcement.

Even the higher rate for 1973 seems insignificant in view of the many thousands of miles of highway and the constant litter pick-up work carried on by the State Highway Department. Maurice Acers of Beaumont, president of the Beautify Texas Council, said:

But, he added, the police work is not a simple matter of writing tickets. Officers must see the offense or be close behind the offender. The enforcement effort probably prevents repeat offenses by those caught and fined.

And agencies such as the Beautify Texas Council—seeking to cut down litter through pleas for public pride—hope that enforcement will augment education and possibly frighten potential litterbugs.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible

Six stone waterpots were standing there; they were used for Jewish ceremonial purposes and held perhaps twenty to thirty gallons each. Then Jesus told the servants to fill them to the brim with water. When this was done he said, "Dip some out and take it to the master of ceremonies." When the master of ceremonies tasted the water that was now wine, not knowing where it had come from (though, of course, the servants did), he called the bridegroom over. "This is wonderful stuff!" he said.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE Not For Granted

WE "TAKE FOR GRANTED" so much of the beneficial and important things, and this is most unfortunate. We seem to let ourselves become unmindful of the blessings we receive daily.

We apparently assume that we have some kind of everlasting hold on all of these good things, and we just "take everything for granted".

WE DO OURSELVES a great disservice by embracing the studied nonchalance which seems to be so much part of the sophisticated approach to life.

If we do adopt this faulty attitude, we lose many or most of the attractive elements of the abundant life; the elements which can add so much to the richness and fullness of living.

To make our situation worse, we add to our life style the negative and discouraging influences. These undermine and dissipate the human interest and human effort which are so essential to the preservation and perpetuation of the worthwhile things.

THIS IS NOT ALL. Many people are discouraged because they and their work are "taken for granted". They are seldom, perhaps never told that they are appreciated because of their dependability; their diligence; their abilities; and their industriousness.

It is an infrequent happening for anyone to say, "I know about your work, about your service; and I appreciate what you are doing."

Entirely too much of the usefulness and helpfulness of too many people is

"taken for granted" inestimable loss for all

THE SUPPORT and the things most beneficial be accomplished in our by appreciating and promoting. This is obviously much better than "taken for granted".

Even so, when we must recognize the importance of our work and performance, although we and our work are granted.

THERE IS SOMETHING we can be sure that we mistake of "taking for granted" and their contributions good.

ALL OF US CAN encourage and build up and, in the process, we our own lives more personally satisfied.

DON'T THINK the sun is payin' any attention to this Daylight Savin' thing.— It was at least an hour late comin' up this morning.

I made a point to watch for it and it was nine o'clock right on the button before he made his appearance! Fifteen minutes thereafter, we were on the way to church, and here it was, I thought the Catholics were the only ones to go for this Sunrise Mass!

ANYWAY, UNLESS something's done, the morning coffee-break is going to roll around right at sunup, and at the regular break time we'll be eatin' lunch.

Really, the only difference I can see at our house is that we'll be usin' more energy in the wee hours of the morning and a little less in the evenings. Which wouldn't make any difference, except I happen to do my best sleepin' in the early morning hours.— Or, that is, I used to.— PHOOEY!

Turn Row COMMENTS

By EMIL

MOST ALL OF us are not in favor of war, but in being a peace-loving nation and maybe listening to the loud minority, I feel that we have gotten ourselves in a mess.

LAYOFFS, plant closings, higher prices, shortages, and gloom hit us from the headlines. The American economy, on the upsurge during the past year, has suddenly taken a nose dive during recent weeks. The reason—the Arab oil embargo and the resulting energy crisis.

But the root of the problem is deeper. The price we are paying is just part of the price of military weakness. Never before in the recent history of the United States would Arab nations have even considered what amounts to an act of war against the United States.

AMERICAN OIL companies have valid contracts with each of these oil-producing nations requiring the continuous flow of oil for which we have been paying a good price. Why have these nations now suddenly and unilaterally broken these contracts and thrust the U.S. into a staggering economic crisis?

Years ago, when the U.S. was a number one militarily and everyone knew it, no nation would have had the temerity to cut these vital supplies. Valid contracts could be enforced by military might, if necessary. Now, however, the United States is no longer about how a new Constitution would affect their lives.

Dykes Announces For Another Term

TO THE CITIZENS OF LAMB COUNTY PRECINCT NUMBER 4: I, Hubert Dykes, am taking this as an opportunity to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of county commissioner of Lamb County precinct number four.

I have served you as county commissioner for the past several years, and have taken pride in trying to serve you efficiently. It has been my policy to constantly attempt to improve my services to you in order that I might make you a more efficient county official or public servant.

In announcing my candidacy for this office, I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the very generous support you have given me in the past.

I ask earnestly solicit your continued support in re-electing me to this office in the upcoming election.

Sincerely,
 Hubert Dykes

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Total cotton received at USDA's Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland and Lamesa classing offices stood at 2,076,621 bales as of the close of the day Jan. 2, which on first glance makes it appear that the High Plains may have difficulty reaching the 2,725,000 bale production estimate. "But there are two factors which throw that first look out of focus," says Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

and those three should turn out about 198,000 bales. Thus the total bales included in the estimate but excluded from area classing office totals, if the estimate is correct, will come to 248,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Offsetting perhaps as much as 10,000 bales of this total is cotton coming to area classing offices from Eastern New Mexico and extreme Northern Texas counties not represented by PCG, leaving a net of 238,000 bales.

First, the estimate is made in 480 pound net or 500 pound gross weight bales while the total cotton classed at a given time is reported in "running" bales by area classing offices.

Second the estimate, compiled jointly by Plains Cotton Growers and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, applies to cotton produced from the twenty-five counties represented by PCG, five of which send their cotton to classing offices outside the area, at Memphis and Abilene.

A check with a major area compress reveals that the average gross weight of bales received there so far this season has been a big 529 pounds, 5.8 percent above the 500 pound gross used in the estimate calculations. Assuming that this average weight applies to cotton received at all compresses to date, the 2,076,621 bales received at area classing offices would convert to 2,197,065 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

Two PCG counties, Briscoe and Motley, send cotton to the Memphis classing office, and their combined total production is expected to reach 50,000 bales. Martin, Midland and Howard counties, also in PCG's "family," send cotton to Abilene for classing.

Add that figure to the projected 238,000 net bales from Briscoe, Howard, Martin, Midland and Motley counties and the total rises to 2,435,065 bales, only 289,935 bales short of the PCG-LCE estimate.

Sudan Senior All-District

With the defeat of the Vega Longhorns in the State Class A Finals against Troup recently the district 3-A coaches have released their all-district selections for the 1973 football season.

Pat Hedges, Sudan's 165 pound senior linebacker and tri-captain, was the lone Hornet named to the elite squad which consisted of thirteen starters from Vega, five from Bovina, four from Hart, two from Kress, and one each from Springlake-Earth and Sudan, while Farwell failed to land a berth on the team.

Hedges was elected as one of the three linebackers on the "Cinderella" team and also received Honorable Mention recognition at his fullback slot on offense.

Hedges led the Hornets in five different categories over the season. He was tops with 25 unassisted tackles, 143 total tackles, 7 defensive fumble recoveries, 50 total points including 8 touchdowns, and 780 yards rushing on 168 carries for a 4.6 average. In addition, he caught four passes during the year for 32 yards.

Head coach and athletic director Jim Warren commented, "Pat was the workhorse on offense for our club this year and provided us with a strong inside running attack while stabilizing our defense from his middle linebacker spot. He will leave some big shoes to be filled by his replacement next year."

Although the Hornets were unable to secure another first-team berth on the all-district squad, they did receive 12 honorable mention selections. In addition to Hedges at fullback, others named were Mart Davison, 150-pound junior noseguard; Tommy Seymour, 165-pound senior center; Mitch Chester, 140-pound junior quarterback; Don Noles, 190-pound senior offensive tackle; and Danny Williams, 180-pound sophomore flanker. Receiving honorable mention on both offense and defense were Mark Hanna, 150-pound senior runningback and cornerback; Terry Graves, 160-pound senior guard and defensive rover; and Richard Tamplin, 185-pound junior tackle on offense and defense.
