Congressman Mahon said during this week of recess in Washington he wanted to get back to his district and listen to the people express their views- see what they were thinking about. And it seems that people here are thinking about everything from the $100 billion debt to the energy crisis.

"I'm proud to represent one of the greatest agricultural districts in the United States," he said. "Agriculture is the lifeblood of the nation and of the world. We far outstrip other's produc-

"Without the $20 billion in farm crops we export, we couldn't bring in all that Arab oil. Agriculture leads the way."

Among the topics the Congressman discussed was the priority of natural gas for an energy source to power irrigation wells. He said the change of priority in natural gas proposed by the Federal Power Commission, which has jurisdiction over interstate commerce, could be disastrous.

Briefly, he went into hope and problems of cattle feeders, and the help that is offered through the Small Business Association, the Rural Development Act, and the Emergency Livestock Credit Act to carry on feeding

In answering questions, Congressman Mahon said we are threatened with suffocation as a result of big government, and that he is dedicated to trying to do something about it.

"The major responsibility needs to be more on a local level," he said. "People don't want you to cut off anything. But, we can't go on forever without paying the bills. We've got to face up to these

Bill Alexander, monitor for the weather modification program based here, was introduced at an open public meeting in the district courtroom Wednesday night

Alexander's primary duty will be to plot the flight of weather modification planes and make a record of seeding

Independent monitoring of the weather modification activities carried on by Better Weather Incorporated was stipulated by the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) at the time the permit was issued in Austin earlier this year. The TWDB board gave the contract for an observer to Texas A&M University. The monitor is to report to Dr. Jim Scoggins at A&M. Dr. Scoggins will forward all reports to the Water Board.

In introducing Alexander and outlining his duties, Dr. Scoggins said the monitor is to be completely objective from a scientific view.

"Alexander does not work for Atmospherics Incorporated, Better Weather Incorporated nor the Texas Water Development Board," Dr. Scoggins emphasized. "He gets his instructions from me. He is to know where every plane has been and report whether they seeded clouds or not. If anyone interprets this differently, I want to know now.'

Dr. Scoggins pointed out that the monitor's job does not include evaluation, assessment nor any kind of stipulation in the program, but is strictly observation and charting of the program operated through Better Weather. He will not have anything to do with the Plainview-based operation

"The Plainview permit stipulated a 15-mile seeding limit from the target area," said TWDB official John Carr. "A concession of a monitor was granted

Most of the lengthy meeting was devoted to Dr. Scoggins and John Carr fielding questions from an opposition group of Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather.

The opposition group was invited to put a private phone line in at the radar operational headquarters if they would furnish personnel to answer the calls, with someone from their group to watch the operation of the radar unit and personally listen to the communication between the technician and pilots, they could tell callers exactly where each plane was at any given time.

"We need to get together and try to get along," said Billy Smith, a Natural Weather supporter.

"The TWDB had that in mind when they asked us to provide an independent observer," Dr. Scoggins answered. He can accomplish this completely objectively and present the facts as they are. This should go a long way to satisfy both sides of the issue.

"The board has put up $8,000 for this flight following," Carr added. The observer is here to help you, really. You asked for him. If the terms of the permit are violated and you can prove it, I guarantee you we'll act."

BILL ALEXANDER is the ob server provided through Texas A&M University through a contract from the Texas Water Development Board. He is to plot the flights of the planes in the weather modification program funded by Better Weather. These forms will go to the University, the TWDB and to any interested individual. (Staff

Commissioners Act On By-Laws Discusses Fire Rate Increase

More than a dozen interested persons from various civic clubs met with the Commissioners Court Friday concerning by-laws being formulated for the use of the new County Agriculture and Community Center now under construction.

The court appointed a committee which will be made up of the county extension agents or their secretary, the Chamber of Commerce manager, and the various mayors over the county or their appointees. The county judge will serve as an ex-officio member.

Littlefield City Manager Jim Blagg met with the court concerning rural fire protection and asked that the court pay $198.36 per rural fire answered by the city fire department. The county has previously paid $50 per rural fire, and there were 162 fires outside the city limits during the '73-74 fiscal year.

No action was taken, pending the court meeting with the city council.

Marilyn Parker presented the names of Hubert Henry, Mickey Ratliff and Mrs. E. S. Turner from Littlefield, Mrs.

The Court approved a lease agreement with the Sheriffs Posse for rights to improve the rodeo arena for Playday and other organizational activities. The agreement is to protect the Posse's investment as well as county property and give the organization exclusive rights as long as they use the property according to the agreement. THINGS ARE JUMPING DOWN AUSTIN WAY!

A Woman's View

By PEARL BRANDON

GOD READS the heart.

My father used to say prayer is sincere desire of the heart. Words are just so much noise unless they are sincere expressions from deep inside us.

In the first verse of the 13th chapter of Corinthians in the Love translation it says, "If I had the gift of being able to speak in other languages without learning them, and could speak in every language in all heaven and earth, but didn't love others, I would only be making a noise."

SO EVERYTHING is based on love. If I pray for my fellow man and don't love him, then my prayer is only empty words. God doesn't even hear them. Our connection with Him is love.

Trying to talk to God without love in your heart is like speaking into a dead telephone- only the echo of your own voice comes back. TO PRAY effectively you must believe in God and you must love Him and you must feel real concern in your heart for the person for whom you are praying.

In other words you must pray with the spirit, holding up that person you are concerned about in loving arms of prayer to the almighty God of love.

MANY OF US don't know how to pray. How can we when we don't know what tomorrow may bring? In the 8th chaper of Romans, verses 26 and 27 we have this, "and in the same way- by our faith- the Holy Spirit helps us with our daily problems and in our praying.

For we don't even know what we should pray for, nor to pray as we should; but the Holy Spirit prays for us with such feelings that cannot be expressed in words

AND THE Father who knows all hearts knows, of course, what the spirit is saying as He pleads for us in harmony with God's own will."

So the spirit pleads for us in harmony with God's will and He who sees into the future as clearly as into the past an swers for our own good. We hold our loved ones and our selves up to Him knowing He has only our good at heart.

SOMETIMES life is hard, with many burdens to bear, but we know He is very near ready to lift them for us if we will only turn to Him in faith. May God bless you until next time.

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Enjoy Yourself

WE HEAR AND READ much about the sadness and sorrow which seem so widespread, so much so, in fact, that it seems out of order to even suggest 'enjoy yourself".

Nevertheless, we are not helping anybody or anything by giving ourselves over to gloom and dejection. Of course, we can and will "weep with those who weep"; but it is just as proper and important to "rejoice with those who

IN THE SUGGESTION, "enjoy yourself"; no reference is made to any of the various forms of self-indulgence, or to any form of misuse or abuse of life. It is generally known that self-indulgence is not the way to "enjoy yourself". We know of nothing authentic to support the view, "Let us eat, drink, and be merry; for tomorrow we die".

"LIVE IT UP, you only go around once" is not an attitude that is productive of anything that causes or supports true enjoyment. It causes the exact opposite in the life of all who try to follow it as their main guideline.

"RESTRAINT is the golden rule of enjoyment." -London.

WE, IF WE ARE concerned people, wish that we could do many things to help the persons who seem to be less fortunate than we. If we can help, we should help.

If we are unable to help, we are just unable to help. Regardless, the responsibility to "enjoy yourself" is still a demanding one; and we have no justification to ignore it.

Conference committees have drawn the jobs of adjusting differences between House and Senate versions of these measures:

- The $12 billion all-time record appropriations bill for 1976-77. There is really little controversy, and the budget will be ready for final approval by adjournment deadline Tuesday.

-Public school finance reform. There is plenty of controversy here, with the outcome likely to remain in doubt until near the final gavel. Gov. Dolph Briscoe shows every sign of being determined to veto any measure which overspends revenue in sight.

- Utility regulation through a state commission. Again, there are strong differences between the House and the Senate majority. House leaders insist they have compromised enough in getting their bill passed and want nothing weaker. They are backed by a wellorganized citizens group which has served notice it will have the House bill or

Oil Increasing

For the 39th straight month, the Texas Railroad Commission has set a wideopen 100 per cent statewide oil production allowable.

Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey said indications are Texas production is "beginning to stabilize and possibly show a slight increase." The big East Texas field, a deviation from the all-out production pattern, will be held to 86 per cent.

Appointments Governor Briscoe has ap-

Only 15 new industries located in Texas during April, compared with a 25per-month average in 1974. Jim Harwell, executive director of Texas Industrial Commission, said the 15 will have an annual impact of $137 million on the Texas economy and create nearly 4,000 new jobs. The industries will locate in Longview, San Marcos, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Gainesville, Clear Lake City, La Grange, Midland, San Antonio, Sherman, Summerfield, Tyler, Henderson and Liberty.

Courts Speak

The Third Court of Civil Appeals turned down Atty. Gen. John Hill's request for rehearing of an effort to stop a $45 million Southwestern Bell Telephone Company intrastate long distance rate hike.

Hill's motion to modify judgment to prevent the increase going into immediate effect also was rejected. The Attorney General has promised to appeal.

Texas Supreme Court turned down a suit by Amarillo, Borger and Pampa against Canadian River Municipal Water Authority over distribution of costs for operation and maintenance of an aquaduct, dam and reservoir.

Plainview, Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Slaton and Lamesa sided with the Water Authority.

Charges Refused

Charges that $500 million in erroneous payments were made to Texas welfare recipients due to clerical errors were challenged by State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell.

Vowell disputed statements of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare concerning mistakes of state and local welfare officials.

HEW said another $500 million was spent in error because recipients provided incorrect information on factors determining eligibility for aid and size of Vowell said 70 per cent of welfare mistakes are due to recipient error or falsification. He said efforts are being made to cleanse Texas welfare rolls of ineligible recipients.

wasn't satisfied.

"The only music I heard for the first six years of my life was country," Milsap explained. 'It's hard to get away from those early influences. I have played, and can play, any kind of music. But you must do what your heart feels is right, and to me, that's country."

Beef Cereal?

The following is an excerpt from the February, 1975, issue of Irrigation Age magazine.

In a protein-short world, which is the way to go: feed corn or mile to humans directly or process it through a feeder

A ton of corn or mile contains eight percent cereal protein or pounds, points out University of Arizona nutritionist Bruce Taylor. On the other hand, the same 2,000 pounds of grain will finish a 650pound feeder steer to a choice grade finish weight of 1,056 pounds. The liveweight steer yields 660 pounds of carcass, containing 17 percent beef protein.

When you transpose the 17 percent beef protein into pounds from a 660-pound carcass, you come up with 112 pounds of available protein.

"Compare the two proteins-160 and 112 pounds- and it appears the nod is tilted heavily in favor of cereal, doesn't it?" asks Taylor.

"You've got to go a step further and compare net protein utilization by the human body," he says. He does so by pointing to a net protein utilization scale which gives eggs the highest score, 100. "On this basis, beef protein is 80; corn or milo, 56, which means that a higher proportion of beef protein is assimilated by the human body.

"In fact, if you apply 56 against the 160 pounds of cereal protein available in a ton of grain, you come up with 90 pounds of actual protein available to humans who eat the cereal. Conversely, work the same arithmetic-80 against 112 pounds of beef protein and you come up with an identical availability figure, 90.

"A stand-off," he argues. "Given the choice, I'd rather eat the beef."

In the resolution, transmitted to each of the West Texas

legislators, WTCC points out that the economy of West Texas has evolved from one in which agriculture and mineral production the were predominate contributors to an economy of great diversity because of the establishment of many new industrial enterprises. The natural resources abundantly available throughout the region, good productive labor, good profit opportunities, geographical location, climate, transportation and markets are continuing to attract industrial prospects to West Texas.

E. Bruce Street of Graham, chairman of WTCC's State Affairs Committee, says "the industrial development of West Texas is still in its infancy, competing with other parts of the nation and state in efforts to insure a steady growth of job and profit opportunities. Rural area industrial development agencies are in need of ad ditional programs that can augment existing local programs for the construction of incentive, shell type buildings for the purpose of attracting additional manufacturing or industrial enterprises." Street also points out that "much of the progress toward a prosperous, diversified, dynamic economy has come about as the result of a good business climate cultivated by West Texans from many sectors both private and public.
