

FRED LOCKER, who farms 12 miles west of Littlefield, found 2.4 inches of rain in his gauge Wednesday morning, June 24, and found 1.1 inches in the gauge last Monday. The rains were a relief to the drought the area had suffered until that time.

Area Crop Outlook Varies From 'Just Up' To 'Good'

Insects Causing Trouble In Grain

Cotton and feed crops over the Littlefield and Lamb County area range from "just coming up" to "fine, beautiful and looking real good."

Although rain the first of the week was fairly general, moisture over the area has been varied, and most farmers would welcome rain.

Cotton crops are just coming up again on some 1,500 acres in the Sudan and Amherst areas, making the farmers' main cash crop even later than last year. But this time the first crops weren't destroyed by hail, but were blown out by sand.

Jack Moreland, field supervisor for the Lamb County ASC office in Littlefield, said as much as 1,500 acres of young cotton was destroyed there after several days of blowing dust. The damage was spotted with the crops north of Sudan reported to have received the highest rate of destruction.

Rain has averaged around one inch over the past two weeks in the Sudan area.

Around Spade as much as two and one-half inches of rain fell in less than one hour Wednesday week, and there was some spotted hail in this area. "We breathed a sigh of relief after the 13th this year," Mrs. Jack Stubblefield said, "then we got hail on the 17th. But it's pretty spotted."

At Fieldton the feed is looking real good, according to Jon Latimer, except where the "varmits" have hit. Fieldton farmers are reporting some green bugs and corn leaf aphids in their feed crops. Bobby Short sprayed his grain sorghum crop but most farmers are "just watching the bugs eat" at the present time.

The feed is being irrigated, some for the second time, and is growing and looking real good, and at least two farmers, Carl Arnold and Eldon Hill, have started irrigating cotton. Two to five-tenths of an inch of rain fell at Fieldton Monday with up to one inch south of Fieldton to the Spade Highway in the T. C. Faver area.

Cotton is reported doing good, despite the "daggummed beating" it took while getting the crop started. Some have hired hands hosing their cotton and report that the white and blue weeds are especially bad due to the dry weather.

Latimer replanted 22 acres that blew out.

Don Runyon at Earth said both the cotton and grain crops there are FINE. Feed and corn is getting its second watering and a few farmers are beginning to irrigate cotton crops. A few green bugs have been noticed in the feed crops, but few are spraying.

A total of about one-half inch of rain has fallen in the Earth-Sprinklake areas in the past two weeks, and farmers would rather like a good rain if they could have their druthers.

Pep has recorded more rain than any other community for the past week, with three inches in the last eight days. Eddie Schlottman said the prospects finally look good there and that the cotton is beautiful for the time of year, even though it is young and has been set back.

Rain has been very spotted in the Bula area. Roy Young said it didn't seem to rain on both sides of the fence, but that things are beginning to look better. From .6 to 1.5 and 2 inches of rain was recorded around Bula the last two weeks.

Walter Keesy received 1.2 rain in the last two weeks. Like many, he is irrigating his feed for the second time and reports greenbugs and corn leaf aphids.

In the Spade area where some cotton was hailed out June 17, some farmers planted back in soybeans.

Lamb County Soil Conservation employees said the crops north of the sandhills and in the Olton area are looking better than they have in four or five years.

County Agent Buddy Logsdon said there is still some sand damage on the young cotton in the Littlefield area. An average of about one-half inch rain has been recorded in the 10-mile radius of Littlefield within the past two weeks.

There are more standing acres of cotton in the immediate Littlefield area than there has been for the past two years, and according to Logsdon, generally speaking the crops are in better shape, compared to the two previous crops.

Hot, dry wind has been a bigger problem over the county than hail, and both cotton and grain seedlings dried out in some areas. Some of the stands aren't really good, he said, but are better than new plantings.

Corn leaf aphids are building up over the area, and damage is being done in the pre-boot stage with the aphids being found in the whorl.

DANNY SHORT knows where he stands when it comes to the draft--second in line. Now 15-years-old, he will be 19 on Christmas Eve.

11-Year-Old Buying Set Of False Teeth

City police have investigated many cases, but an unusual one came to their attention Wednesday afternoon when a Littlefield citizen--whom we will not name--called to report her husband's set of false teeth had been stolen.

Officers began their investigation and found that an 11-year-old neighbor girl had taken the teeth from a glass of water in the medicine cabinet.

Officers can't figure why she took the teeth, because she had plenty of her own--and she didn't keep the false ones after taking them. They figured she had thrown them in the trash--as she confessed she did--because if she were caught with them, she'd get quite a "bite" from law officers.

And in the meantime, the city trash truck came by and picked up the teeth--or garbage--and took it--them--to the dump ground.

The citizen did not file charges against the girl, but the youngster promised to pay for the choppers at $15 a month installments--after Judge Eay Noble gave her a stern lecture.

Durham Is Re-Appointed

City councilmen approved the appointment of Leon Durham as fire chief, and named Joe Montgomery to serve on the Planning Commission and as Standards Commission member, during their regular meeting here Thursday night. Durham has been chief of the Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department seven years. The department elects a man annually to the position and the council approves the appointment. Montgomery's four-year term will begin July 15 and is to expire April 1, 1974. Councilmen authorized the purchase of one Royal 565 model electric typewriter for the tax department, to replace one that is inoperable.

In other matters of new business, councilmen:

1. Decided to lease city-owned farmland to Ray Smith for cattle grazing.

2. Considered the proposal of High Plains of Texas Communications Network, concerning teletype modifications--a computer tie-in at Austin.

In matters of old business, councilmen:

1. Received for filing, letters from Ralph Yarborough, George Mahon and Bob Price, concerning the Airport Grant problem.

2. Adopted an ordinance providing for the State of Texas Highway Department maintenance of traffic signals at the intersection of State FM Highway 54 and U. S. Highway 385. Councilmen discussed the Dredged Housing Program, and decided that 17 houses are in process of being torn down--some lacking only the removal of concrete, foundations, sidewalks, and basements.

Break-In Reported

Coston's Mobil Station was broken into late Tuesday night early Wednesday morning, and police are investigating the case.

Entry was gained to the premises by breaking a window in the washroom door.

The office had been ransacked and several coin operated machines had been broken open. The money box and contents were taken from a pen ball machine, about $20 in nickels, and quarters was taken from the money box on a Coke machine, and $44.67 was taken from a cash box on the counter.

Robert Coston reported that new tires, sizes 825x14, 825x14 and 845x15 were taken--two of which were B. F. Goodrich and the rest CBI Style tires.

Exit was made through a window in the washroom.

Motor Bike Riders Must Have Licenses

By JOELLA LOVVERN
News Editor, Leader-News

"Motorcycle and mini-bike operators in Littlefield may be unaware of some state laws regulating the operation of these vehicles," according to Corporation Court Judge Ben Noble. "We are fortunate that we have had very few law violators on motorcycles in Littlefield, and there is no great alarm being sounded about motorcycle problems. We just want to inform the public as to what the law allows," he emphasized.

"Some parents don't realize their child could be too young to legally operate a motorcycle or mini-bike, due to the fact an operator must be licensed to run such a vehicle on a 'public highway,' he continued.

In identifying a "public highway," the law book states "a public highway shall include any road, street, way, thoroughfare or bridge in this state, not privately owned or controlled for the use of vehicles over which the state has legislative jurisdiction under its police power."

"In order for a youngster to acquire a license to operate a motorcycle or mini-bike, he must be at least 15 years old," Judge Noble stated, and quoted the law book: "And a special combination operator and commercial restricted license may be issued to any person between the ages 15 and 18 years to operate only a motorcycle, motor scooter or motorized bicycle, the horsepower of which does not exceed five brake horsepower."

Judge Noble reminded, "Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, no person, unless expressly exempted, shall operate a motorcycle upon a highway in this state unless he has a valid license as a motorcycle operator," and he went on to say that "an

FEROL KRIZEK RETIRES

Mixed Emotions Feature Her Last Day At Bank

"We had a lot of fun today," Ferol Krizek said Tuesday, "but it was all sort of sad, too."

The fun was the jokes and good humor that is part of working at the Security State Bank. The sad part about it was that it was Mrs. Krizek's last regular working day before she retired after 20 years with the bank.

Although she's retired, Mrs. Krizek will be "filling in" from time to time for bank employees on vacation or when someone is sick.

"When I left today," she said, "I said 'I'll see you all Monday'. Knowing I'd be back so soon, it wasn't such a let down. It wasn't so sentimental, knowing I didn't have to say goodbye for good."

Mrs. Krizek has plenty of customers who'll miss her efficiency and ready smile. "There were a lot of people who'd come in and wait in line for her," Carol Black said.

Tuesday when Mrs. Krizek told one of her regular customers that it was her last regular day to work, he snorted, "I've just now found someone to take care of me. Now I'll have to break in another one."

The customers aren't the only ones who'll miss Mrs. Krizek. "This is going to be a sad place tomorrow without Ferol,"

Mrs. Krizek's cooking too. "She brings her 'failures' down here for us," Mrs. Black said, "and they are delicious. She is a gourmet cook."

"We all take our cooking flops to the bank," Mrs. Krizek laughed. "Everybody takes their cooking failures to work. That bunch will eat anything."

The Krizeks have no children of their own. "But she has helped raise all the employees' children," according to Mrs. Angel.

"Ferol's just adopted mine," Mrs. Black said, "and she's that way about all the kids."

"They grow up and go to college right before my eyes," Mrs. Krizek said. "I hear the girls talking about what their children are doing in school and Little League, and they come around in the summer. You get to know them, and if you don't you're disappointed."

"I've made a lot of nice friends while working down here," Mrs. Krizek said, "and I'm sure that's what I'll miss the most, the people I come in contact with."

Mrs. Krizek likes to oil paint and plans to take some private lessons in her new spare time. And in the winter the Krizeks hope to travel two or three more for you."

NUMBER TWO IN DRAFT

Day Makes Difference For Danny Short, 19

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

As if it isn't bad enough to have your birthday fall on Christmas Eve, and never get a proper birthday celebration because of the hubbub of holiday activities, it's even worse if you're 18 and will be 19 on Dec. 24.

And for a physically fit boy facing the draft, the combination adds up to being number two following Wednesday's draft lottery.

Danny Short had just finished his lunch Wednesday and was watching television before going back to work when an announcer cut in on the scheduled program to break the news that Danny's birthday of Dec. 24 was number two in the draft line-up this year.

"It didn't ruin my dinner, because I was already through eating," Danny said, "but it kinda ruined the rest of the day. I called one of my friends, Gary Nace, who was born just a few hours after I was, and those born on Dec. 25 are number 361--just a few hours difference, and number 361."

Danny thinks December birthdays have been rough in both lotteries. His number would have been 17 if the first lottery had applied to him. And if his birthday was after the Dec. 31 deadline, he wouldn't have been included in this lottery. "I missed that by eight days," he said.

In sequence numbers, young Short is number 19, but he doesn't figure the sequence will make any difference, "because no one else around here has a Dec. 24 birthday that I know of," he said.

Danny graduated from Littlefield High School in May and had already enrolled as an agriscience major at West Texas State for the fall semester. Knowing that his birthday would be in the "pot", he'd already done some thinking concerning his draft status.

Although Danny "isn't really against the war, and will go when they are ready for him to go," he'd just as soon put it off until he finishes four years of college.

So his plans include a combination of college and ROTC.

"I talked to Dr. Waugh at West Texas," Danny said, "and if he knew what he was talking about, I'll be deferred for four years while in ROTC. Then I'll be a second lieutenant in the unit I graduate from when I finish school."

Firemen Cooking For Girlstown

Littlefield volunteer firemen are preparing for the 21st anniversary celebration, barbecue and open house at Girlstown, U. S. A. at Whiteface, Sunday, July 12.

The firemen are selling tickets to the gigantic barbecue again this year as well as pit cooking the three prime steers for the big feed.

Tickets are $2, and the beef will be served beginning at 4 p.m. following the crowning of Miss Girlstown at 3 p.m.

Girlstown residents will conduct tours of the facilities all afternoon.

THIS BRIGHT RED 1970 Olds F85 from Marcum Olds-Cadillac will be given away at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 29, during Festivities Days. Shown admiring the automobile is Tonya Bingham, last year's first runner-up in the "Miss Littlefield" contest. The automobile is now on public display at the corner of 5th and Phelps.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

HOW SAFE is your automobile?-- News feature in a recent edition of our local paper--How safe, indeed!

Ordinarily, the auto is a lot safer than the person that is at the wheel, but, the same can't be said of the more aged, and neglected vehicle.

You're made aware of this, especially, during the state inspection period.--Sometimes it's appalling at the vehicles that come in for you to put the official O. K. on.

The main safety features of the auto is steering, and brakes.--Secondarily, comes lighting, belts, and etc.

YET, YOU should hear some of the yells of anguish, when you condemn a vehicle for worn, sloppy steering, or inadequate braking--I'm waiting to see about the new braking system, where the safety factor is on alternate wheels.--First thought is that somebody's fixin' to make like a merry-go-round!

Anyway, if the average motorist could see the underside of his car, and realize how much depends on the little, insignificant things, he'd probably, be afraid to ride in the vehicle.--Yet we often hear the brag: "I've drove her over a hundred thousand miles, and never laid a wrench on 'er!" (You can tell this, without being, so, informed.

THAT'S ABOUT like hearing a guy boast: "Been married twenty years, and I've only bought my wife three new dresses!"

Improper lighting is another common oversight.--Seems everyone wants his lights aimed high enough

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Find Your Place

By BOB WEAR

FINDING ONE'S PLACE in life has been made very difficult by the establishment of faulty success standards, and the grossly overdone importance of status.

There is a great need for returning to the proper appreciation of all essential work and service.

A MAN IS NOT A MAN because he is performing some prestigious service, or is filling some position with a high status rating. A man is a man because of his character.

It does not matter that the work he does is not listed with the "ten most important" vocations or professions. Many important jobs are going begging because they are not on the prestige chart. How sad!

A COLLEGE DEGREE is not the mark of a man. Of course, it is important to have training for some kind of useful work. A vocational school can answer this need, or on-the-job training, or perhaps correspondence work will be adequate.

It is a fact that many of the people with academic degrees never find their place in life.

WE MUST RENEW the view that work is honorable, and gives dignity to the worker just as long as it is honest work, and essential to the common good.

Energy Spent Wisely

THROUGHOUT AMERICA today there are all types of unrest.

Probably one of the most serious areas of unrest is seen among our young people.

Many people talk about this problem, but it seems that only a very few are willing to get involved with helping to solve this particular problem.

HAVE YOU EVER considered the fact that you could contribute, in a very positive way, toward helping solve the above problem, by working through the Boy Scouts of America?

There are hundreds of adults in the United States each year who give their time, energy, and efforts in directing boys toward being a good American by working as a volunteer in the Boy Scouts of America.

THE GEORGE WHITE DISTRICT of the Boy Scouts of America, which includes Cochran, Bailey, Lamb and Hockley counties, is moving forward with a quality Scouting program under the direction of community leaders that have a keen interest in the boys and young men in their particular area.

These leaders meet monthly to discuss what can be done to bring a better program to the Boy Scouts of this area.

In planning stages now is the Annual District Swim Meet, scheduled for Aug. 7 at Muleshoe and the District Scout-O-Rama scheduled for Nov. 14 at the Texas Dome in Levelland.

IF YOU would like to have a part in a program that is contributing to the well being of America, then come to the monthly District Committee meeting of the George White District, Boy Scouts of America July 14 at the First National Bank in Levelland at 7:30 p.m.

A WOMAN'S VIEW

Hemmed In

By PEARL BRANDON

MOST OF US at times have a feeling of being hemmed in--a feeling of frustration, of not being able to do the things we would like to do. "We can't do the things we want to do 'cause we have to" what we have to do."

MANY THINGS can hem us in. Some people feel hemmed in by lack of education, others by poverty. The saying goes "it takes money to make money." If you have nothing to start with it is hard to build a business and it is hard to get an education. I suppose poverty is one of the most common things to hem you in.

SOME PEOPLE feel hemmed in by race, or color and others by obligations to their family--or by a job they don't like.

I know as you read this you are thinking of people under these conditions that didn't allow them to hem them in.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN was poor. He split rails through the day and studied by fire-light.

He walked long miles to school the few he could attend. He was self educated.

HARRY S. TRUMAN never went to college.

PAUL HARVEY

'Smust'

SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER calls it "smust."

He says what we see in Arizona skies is a combination of smoke and dust--"smust." But anybody who was in Arizona during the protracted copper strike knows it's more smelter smoke than anything else.

I am powerfully proud of that state which as of right now is the first in the nation to order an industrial diminution of air pollution; in effect the industries were told to "stop smoking or shut down."

THE ARIZONA BOARD of health did not wait until we have all the answers about pollution prevention.

It simply decreed "You must limit pollution to such-and-such a minimal amount, and you figure out how."

Copper smelters must remove 90% of the sulfur that goes into the smelting process and normally would be hurled into the air as sulfur dioxide.

PARTICULATE EMISSIONS from power plants and such are regulated on a sliding scale--more control for larger installations.

The coal-fired 2.3 million kilowatt Navajo Project in Page, Arizona, will be required to remove 99.42% of the fine coal ash that otherwise would escape into the atmosphere over Lake Powell.

OTHER STATES REMAIN timid when it comes to confronting industry with pollution-reduction deadlines. A threat by a big tax-paying industry to "move elsewhere" is generally enough to cause any crusading politicians to back off.

What Arizona has done is to pass a state air-pollution law requiring all affected industries to obtain operating permits from state health officials.

AN INDUSTRY is less inclined to challenge an order from health officials.

Fuel-burning and smelter regulations were adopted unanimously by the health board. Chairman Joseph Stertz called a public hearing the first day of May and nobody appeared in opposition to the fuel-burning regulations.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was crippled from polio. It was said the reason he went as far as he did was because he was forced to sit and study while others played.

SOMETIMES ILLNESS forces us to come aside and rest from the hard pressed duties of life.

Recently I had to spend some time in the hospital--While I was there the Rev. Benny Goss brought me this reading by Alice Hanscho Mortenson.

I NEEDED the quiet so He drew me aside into the shadows where we could confide; away from the hustle where all the day long I hurried and worried when active and strong.

I NEEDED the quiet, though at first I rebelled; But gently, so gently, my cross He upheld, And whispered so sweetly of spiritual things; Though weakened in body, my spirit took wings, To heights never dreamed of when active and gay, He loved me so greatly, He drew me away.

I NEEDED the quiet, no prison my bed, But a beautiful valley of blessings instead--A place to grow richer in Jesus to hide I needed the quiet so He drew me aside.

Rev. Shahan To Fill Pulpit

Rev. Roy Shahan of San Angelo will serve as pastor of First Baptist Church while Pastor R. B. Hall and 20 others are on a three-week tour of the Orient, The Baptist World Congress and Expo '70 in Japan.

Rev. and Mrs. Shahan will reside in the parsonage during their stay in Littlefield, and will arrive Tuesday afternoon for a briefing by the pastor.

Rev. Shahan is a former pastor of the Littlefield Church, having served in that position from 1938 until 1942.

Since that time he has served as pastor of churches in Snyder, Post, and in the Washington-Oregon Southern Baptist Convention.

Rev. Shahan retired from active pastorate work in 1965, and they moved to their home in San Angelo. However, since that time he has served as interim pastor of several churches, including the Littlefield church, prior to the time the present pastor came.

He still conducts revivals and fills the pulpit for churches when he is needed.

Cook-Campbell Vows Said

Miss Sherry Jeanne Cook and Jay Campbell were united in a double ring ceremony Friday evening, July 3, in the First Baptist Church of Littlefield beneath an archway covered with greenery and orchid asters, flanked by arrangements of orchid gladiolas and candelabras on either side.

Bob Wear of the Crescent Park Church of Christ officiated for the reading of the vows. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Campbell.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length chantilly lace gown. Scallops framed the high Victorian neckline and down the front of the empire bodice and front of the A-line skirt. Her long lace bishop sleeves came to a point on her hand. She wore a matching full length lace edged mantilla, attached to a wedding ring with a full length flowing chapel train.

The bride carried a tapered bouquet of white stephanotis, with a removable white orchid corsage, atop a white bible.

Ann Coffman of Littlefield and Tammy Durham of Hereford registered the guests. Attending the bride as maid of honor was Janabeth Bowen. Bridesmaids were Nancy Downs, Donarex Bowen and Sharla Cook, sister of the bride. They were fashioned in orchid Peau de soie floor length gowns, empire waistlines, long sheer sleeves, with wide Peau de soie cuffs, accented with tiny covered buttons and long orchid velvet ribbon sashes completed the gowns. They carried tapered bouquets of orchid gladiolas and orchid asters and a candle centered in the middle.

Flower girl was Shaunessy Durham of Hereford, niece of the bride. Candles were lighted by Glenn Smith, Gary Lichte and Rodney Loggson. Mark Coffman, cousin of the bride was ring bearer.

Serving the groom as best man was Charles Smith. Groomsmen and ushers were Sam Fain, Kenneth Rowland, Steve Mack Bobby Wood and Billy Sherrill.

The brides mother was fashioned in a pink organdy dress, accented with a lace overblouse and pink accessories. The grooms mother wore a two-piece dress of dacron shantung, in robin egg blue, accented with jeweled buttons and matching accessories. Musical selections were the

A Heartfelt. . .

"Thank You"

Ten years ago, in July of 1960, Carolyn and I first set foot in Littlefield, Texas. We were immediately impressed by the lovely homes, medical facilities, churches, and above all, the people. Compared to the sleepy East Texas town we were in, there was an undercurrent of busy, confident optimism; a vigorous spirit of the Western Frontier. Frankly, we fell in love with this place; and the feeling of independence it gave. Ten years later, in July of 1970, we are proud to say, "we're from Littlefield!", and "Thank you!" to our loyal patrons, the Doctors, Pharmacists, nurses, employees, and many others of the area, who have made this past 10 years possible. We hope to serve even better the Pharmaceutical needs of the area families for the next 10, 20, or perhaps, 30 years.

Thank you, one and all. . .

WORSHIP IN CHURCH

and get a spiritual lift for the whole week

That Word in Anger...

You spoke it loudly and without concern, but did it solve any problems for you? You told him off, but did you get the order? Sure, relief at the time may seem sweet and bear up your own ego, but soon a dirty, gray regret sets in. Count ten??? Ah, you'd better count to a hundred or more and, by so doing, have a word fitly spoken. God said, "Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools." Eccl. 7:9. Angry words can't be called back. One can't unsay them. The damage they do may be irreparable. Want to quit your foolishness? Then, seek out righteous men for your companions and ask God to help stay your tongue for, "He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly."

They were on a three weeks vacation visiting and touring several different places with Mexico City as one of their main stops.

Visiting a sister in law and other relatives and attending the final soccer games.

Their daughter, Rita, who has been a Pep resident for the past two years met her parents in Mexico City. This was the first time since coming to Pep that Rita had seen her parents. She and her parents arrived in Pep Friday, June 26.

While here they did some shopping, toured the Texas Tech Campus and South Plains college campus, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Green and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jungman, viewed the Jungman Taxidermy display.

One of the souvenirs they are taking with them is the Pep History books, written by Mr. and Mrs. Jungman.

Sunday, June 28, a get-acquainted basket dinner was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bustamante and their daughter, Rita.

About 60 people attended the event in the Pep Parish Hall. Those attending were Father Clifford Corcoran, pastor of St. Philip's Church of Pep; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jungman; Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Green, Wayne, Vivian, Karen, Denise, Francis and Cinthy; Mrs. Valeria Shannon, Charles, Donald, and David; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burt Sr., Charles Jr. and Michael; Mrs. Maloy Simnacher, Corina, Darlene, Bart, Denita, and Stepina; Alvin Walker; Betty Jane Albus; Mary Simnacher and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simnacher, all of Pep.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pool; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dozier, Sharon and Larry; and Walter Orellana all of Levelland; Mr. and Mrs. Mathis Simnacher, Linda and Pat of Portales, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Feagley and Ross; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simnacher; Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Gonzales and son; of Muleshoe;

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simnacher, Toni, Kim, Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dolle and son of Littlefield; John Davis of Lubbock; Francie Lupton of Nazerath; and Roger Henderson of Dumas.

Rita arrived at Pep, Aug. 4, 1968.

She was accompanied by her father from Santa Cruz, Bolivia.

Rita made her home with the Frank Simnachers since then; except during the past college year she lived in the home of the Harvey Pools in Levelland.

Rita attended South Plains College the past two years, and plans to attend Texas Tech in the future to complete her education.

Mr. and Mrs. Humberto Bustamante left Monday, June 29 for their home in Santa Cruz, Bolivia; by way of Miami, Fla.; Panama; Lima, Peru; and Home.

Your house should be as good -

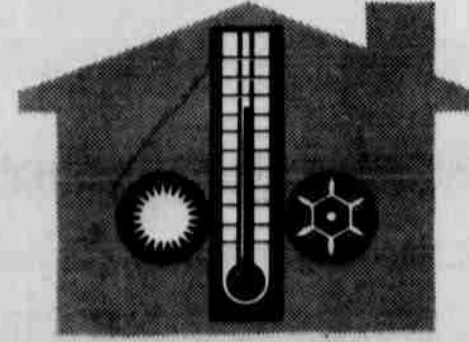

ADEQUATE WIRING

Somebody once figured out that the average automobile has more wiring than the average house, for its size. Your car is adequately wired to serve the many purposes needed. And, so should your house.

LIGHTING

The same person figured out, too, that the average car has more special purpose lights for convenience, safety, and beauty than a house. But, for the same reasons, shouldn't your house have the right kind of lighting, too?

COMFORTS

And, how about comforts... heaters, radios, air conditioners, convenience switches, power steering, power brakes, tape recorders, electric windows, and lots more. Does your home measure up to your automobile? It should, because you probably spend more time there.

When you're building a house... make it a home... make it as good as your automobile... make it a total electric, gold medallion!

P.S. Lots of electric power in our area. No worry about shortages. Use it... enjoy it!

operator's license, issued before Jan. 1, 1968, is valid for operating a motorcycle until the license expires."

He continued, "Most operators realize these vehicles must be registered and that each rider must wear a safety helmet. Many DON'T know that these vehicles must pass safety inspection, and that a safety inspection sticker must be in possession of the operator at all times."

He elaborated by stating, "Some of these vehicles do not have a windshield, and many operators carry the sticker in their billfolds, while others affix the sticker to a part of the vehicle."

Another motorized vehicle, the popular go-cart, has to follow regulations similar to motorcycles, if they are operated on public roadways.

They, too, are to be registered, have a licensed driver, and pass safety inspection--just as cars do--because go-carts are classified as "motor vehicles."

months out of the year. "It may be just a dream," Mr. Krizek said. "Joe Frank, quite a gardener, and he would want to make a garden and off and leave it in the summer."

Krizek always has about an acre of vegetables in their backyard on the Levelland Highway. He does the raising; she does the cooking and freezing, and there's always plenty left to give away. "Sharing is the fun of growing a garden," Mrs. Krizek concluded.

Davidson Heads Bush Campaign

Congressman George Bush of Houston has announced the appointment of Jim Davidson of Littlefield as his Lamb County chairman for the Bush for U.S. Senate campaign.

"Everything since the primary has been encouraging," Bush said, "and the enthusiasm of people like Jim Davidson definitely will be a major factor in the months ahead. I'm happy to have him join my campaign team and help in Lamb County."

Bush was elected to Congress in 1966 and in 1968 was the first Texas Republican to be re-elected to the Congress without opposition. He is presently a member of the Ways and Means Committee, the most important committee in the House.

He is chairman of the Republican Task Force on Earth Resources and Population. He has actively sponsored legislation concerning urban affairs, bilingual education, setting priorities in federal spending, conservation, and Congressional ethics.

Davidson, a feedlot operator and cattle feeder, received his bachelor of science degree in agriculture from Oklahoma State University.

He served in the U. S. Army during the Korean War and obtained the rank of first lieutenant.

Davidson is a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and has served as a campaign manager for Congressman Bob Price.

He and his wife, Jane, reside in Littlefield, and have six children: Sally, 18; Mary, 16; Ben, 9; Jim, 7; Bill, 6; and John, 20 months.

TWO LION BOSSES shake hands as the top position of the club, with the gavel, is passed to the new officer, Clem Sorley, left. "Challenging and encouraging" him is outgoing Boss Deb Bawcom. Sorley's term of office started June 25, when the Club celebrated its 30th Anniversary.

AMONG LIONS who were recognized for perfect attendance, during the Club's 30th Anniversary Celebration, include: front row, left to right, Kip Cutshall, six years; Bob Bromlow, two years; James Lee, six years; Don Avery, nine years; Deb Bawcom, five years; E. C. Caldwell, 17 years; Otis Bennett, six years; and J. B. McShan, five years. On the second row, Roland Bell, eight years; Doyle Patton, six years; James Walker, five years; Hubert Henry, 18 years; and Tom Hilbun, 23 years.

New Ways To Educate Exceptional Children

Children, as a rule, need all the love, attention and understanding they can get, and exceptional children prove this rule.

What is the exceptional child? He differs from normal children to the degree that his individual needs cannot be met in regular educational programs. He may deviate in the areas of mental, physical, social or emotional development.

At the Gengras Center for Exceptional Children at West Hartford, Conn., such youngsters learn to distinguish colors -- to count -- to determine size and shape and to walk and talk properly.

A special "pounding bench" relieves tension and modeling clay builds the ability to pinch, grasp and manipulate.

A child must master these fundamentals before he can control a pencil or crayon. Size and shape must be identified before a youngster can discriminate between the alphabet and numbers.

"The ability to move efficiently, to physically affect and control certain elements of one's environment is of major importance in achieving maximum motor-mental development," observes a spokesman for the Milton Bradley Company, producers of aids for educating the preacademic exceptional child, many of which are used at the center.

"Our interest in the field of education for exceptional children is a natural outgrowth of the deep concern for educating the young and that our founder, Milton Bradley, held throughout his life."

Among the implements for motor development are jumbo beads and laces, in which two hands must work cooperatively, each in a different way: a ring toss game, in which the body must control its motion until the eye, hand and arm have focused on a far-point target; and finger paint, which promotes small muscle coordination and reinforces color discrimination.

Located on the campus of St. Joseph College and functioning as a laboratory school since 1964, the center provides teacher candidates with the opportunity for research and training in special education.

In addition, it is a testing ground for special education programs and teaching materials. The center has a daily enrollment of more than 90 exceptional children.

Besides motor development, other skills developed include visual discrimination, verbal abilities and social development.

Discriminating among stimuli and interpreting their means is basic to the child's relations with the outside world. The ability to discriminate differences in size, shape, color and other properties precedes discrimination of printed symbols.

Many children have great difficulty in being able to quickly and accurately perceive shapes and visual forms.

A wooden pegboard is a versatile tool that can stimulate several areas of basal development including spatial relationships, hand-eye coordination, small muscle control, color matching and the creation of designs.

A pair of pegboards may be an advantage when dealing with concepts in which the child requires a model to work from.

And a memory game develops like-unlike discrimination and visual memory. In this picture matching game, players try to locate and collect matching pairs of cards. It contains 54 matching pairs of cards and a plastic card tray.

Implements for developing verbal skills are the last word. Poster cards of animals and their young, full-color illustrations of adult and young animals, help build a vocabulary of 30 animal names.

Picture sequence cards increase the attention span and sharpen perception.

Promoting logical sequencing of concepts, cards are combined in groups of four depicting actions in sequence.

And flannel farm animals graphically aid in explaining the functions of these familiar farm animals.

Every child, exceptional or not, inherits a culture. Socialization is learning and living the culture of the group to which he belongs. Social behavior begins to evolve as the child learns to differentiate between the concepts "me" and "not me".

The boy or girl must learn to form effective social relationships and to adjust to others in his environment.

Implementing social development for exceptional children, among many other aids, is a ring toss game. Elements of competition with consideration for others come into play as children also benefit from practice of motor-perceptual skills.

And good citizenship poster cards inspire recognition and emulation of accepted social interaction.

Often, due to the nature and degree of certain handicaps or learning disabilities, problems go undetected until an exceptional child is enrolled in a formal school program.

For other children, detection and diagnosis are possible during pre-school years. The importance of early intervention through special classes, programs or services for the child and family cannot be overstated.

Sudan Man Loses $535

A Sudan man, Robert DeLoach, notified the Lamb County sheriff's department last Wednesday of the loss of $535.

DeLoach said he went to the bank to cash a check for that amount to pay hoe hands he had working for him. He said he left the money in the billfold on the dash of his car that night, and when he went to get the money, he discovered it was gone.

A quilt was also missing from the car.

CHARLES KERR of Anton, as Teddy Lloyd, the art teacher, prepares to sketch one of "Brodie's Girls," (Cathy Crossland of Plainview) in a scene from "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie," second of three plays to be presented by Texas Tech's Summer Repertory Theater. Kerr also plays Thomas Cromwell in "A Man For All Seasons," in the 12-day season through July 7, in Tech's University Theater. The third play is "The Killing of Sister George." Each play is being presented four times on a rotating schedule. (Tech Photo).

Census Sampling Here This Month

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representative of the Bureau of the Census Mrs. Rosemary McNeese in this area during July, according to Walter A. Freeman, Jr., Director of the Bureau's regional office in Denver.

The questions are asked four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to collect information as a guide to Federal agencies and other groups in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major appliance during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items.

Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs during the last three months and any planned for the future.

For the first quarter of 1970, the survey showed an increase in the number of households expecting to buy a used car compared to April 1969; there was no corresponding upswing in new car expectations. Expectations to buy houses remained depressed. Expectations to buy furniture, floor coverings, and home improvements were not significantly different than in April 1969.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept confidential by law, and will be published only in the form of statistical totals.

LETTER FROM DIANE

In Sweden Now

(Editor's Note: Diane Perkins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Perkins, shares her trip to Sweden with Leader-News readers.)

Hudiksvall, Sweden
June 15, 1970

Dear Folks,
I love it here!! I'm not staying with the Lundgrens as I thought I would be. I am staying with a doctor family by the name of Jassen (I think) they have five children. The oldest boy is 20 and works in a factory here in town (just for the summer). Eva is 17 and Birgetta is 15. They're both nuts and speak English very well. They are teaching me Swedish now. Eva is brilliant. She has also studied French and Russian. She plans to go to Switzerland this fall and work as a "pair (pear or pare) girl." That means she will work in a nice family in order to learn the language so she can be some type of interpreter. I am with Eva and Birgetta all the time. I feel right at home here. There is also a younger girl-Marianna; and a younger boy-Christian (I don't really know how to spell it). The mother and father are wonderful. They both speak a little English and with help from the girls we communicate very well. I talked politics with the doctor last night and to my surprise he believes exactly as I do! I gave out the presents last night. Mrs. Jassen jumped up and down hugging my neck. Since I had not planned on staying with this family, I had not enough gifts to go around. I want to get a cowboy hat for the little boy and a doll (native of Tex.) for Marianna. I don't know if I should get the older boys something or not. If I do, I guess I will just get him a Tex. tie tack. Do you think you could send these items here so they could have them before I leave Hudiksvall? Since I gave all those gifts, I now need a host gift for the Lundgrens. I have an American flag pen I can give Lena and her mother. Maybe you can find a gift for both Mr. and Mrs. Lundgren together and mail those here, also. If you think it will be too much trouble I will wait and mail them to Sweden when I get home.

We have sunbathed every day. I went in swimming for 5 min. yesterday, but that was like ice. There is a swimming place on the bay in town. We cycle out there every night. Everybody rides them where.

We are going to town for me to buy some. They are very cheap here. I need a pair badly that's all live in and it's getting bad having to wash my own out every night.

Guess what?! You can get a paper here at midnight. I'll turn on a light on. It never completely dark here. The sun sets a little about 11:00 and rises again at 4 a.m. It's wierd! I have a deal around here. We are to the mountains this week and on midsummer the sun is up all night and there be a great festival!

I must close for now. PLEASE write me. I miss so!

Love to you all,
Diane

THE COY HOLLON back yard is a jungle of berries, fruit trees and all sorts of goodies. The makings are all there for a big vegetable salad, fruit cocktail, or jelly and preserve makings. Mr. and Mrs. Hollon do their yard work in the early mornings and late evenings.

Coy Hollon Back Yard Fruit, Vegetable 'Jungle'

By NILAH RODGERS
Leader-News Staff Writer

A person has to see the Coy Hollon's back yard to believe it. In a space of less than 50 feet by 75 feet, the Hollons have 54 fruit trees, hundreds of berry and grape vines, plus dozens of roses, and cucumbers, tomatoes, lettuce, peppers and onions.

Regardless of how bright the sun is shining or how high the temperature soars, there is always a cool spot right out their back door. "Out in the shade of the grapes and all," Mrs. Hollon said, "it's cooler than it is in the house with the air conditioner."

Coy Hollon farmed most of his life. His retirement is just a continuation of the work he loved, only he does his farming with a hoe and irrigates with a water hose now.

Hollon's yard is almost a jungle with the many trees and fence after fence and trellis after trellis of grapes, blackberries, dewberries and boysenberries. And all this has been accomplished in about five years.

There are eight plum trees, eight apricot trees, four cherry trees, six apple trees, 19 peach trees, seven pear trees, one fig tree and one pecan tree.

Add to this five fences of blackberries, and one fence each of dewberries, boysenberries and grapes and eight patches of strawberries for an idea of the vegetation that can be packed into just a few feet. And if there is a square foot of space not needed for walking, Hollon has planted a rose bush or vegetables.

Mrs. Hollon admits that her husband does most of the work. "You know, when a man retires, if he doesn't do something he's not here much longer," she said.

Some days there are five to six hours work to do, but most days the couple gets the yard work done in three or four hours with a couple of hours spent early in the morning and work again before sundown.

Mrs. Hollon's 87-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Tabor, lives with them and enjoys the back yard although she isn't able to do more than pick a few berries.

The yard is a favorite spot of the Hollon's grandchildren and three great grand children, too.

Putting up all the berries and fruit keeps Mrs. Hollon busy. Last year she froze 100 quarts of berries for herself and gave each of their three daughters 10 quarts each. "And we got that bad hail June 13," she added, "and there were berries only on the bottom."

Friends and neighbors share the bountiful harvest, too. The Hollons take along a basket of fruit and berries or a rich, blackberry cake when they visit.

The Hollons have been living in Littlefield nine years, but before this they farmed in the Spade community 10 years then moved to Odessa where Hollon was school custodian 13 years. They moved back to Lamb County when he retired.

Playa Study Shows Very Little Seepage

A study of a playa lake used to impound runoff water from a feedlot has shown that little or no seepage occurred.

The study was initiated in March of last year to determine if pollutants in runoff water from cattle feeding operations seep through the playa soil and into the water table. Many feedlots are now using playa lakes as natural lagoons to impound all runoff from their operations.

Researchers conducting the study were Dr. B. A. Stewart, Dr. A. C. Mathers and O. R. Lehman, all located at the U. S. D. A. Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

Site of the study was the Randall County Feedyards about 10 miles southwest of Amarillo. This facility went into operation in the fall of 1967 and now has a capacity of 60,000 head of cattle.

Soil samples were taken at 11 different locations across the playa at depth increments ranging from 1 foot to 13 feet. These samples were analyzed for nitrite, nitrate, ammonium, chloride and water content.

High chloride accumulations were found in the soil to a depth of three feet while nitrates were high only in the surface foot, the study shows. Findings also indicate that the low nitrate values were due to a small amount of nitrate present in the runoff water plus the loss of nitrate from the soil or playa water.

According to the researchers, nitrate does not cumulate under conditions where oxygen is lacking, little nitrate was present in soil while it was covered with water high in organic matter. The amount that was probably accumulated after playa surface dried, and there was once again exposed oxygen.

Therefore, findings in the study indicated that little or no deep nitrate seepage occurs through the bottom fine-textured playas that receive feedlot runoff.

Low concentrations of ammonium or nitrate in the soil also indicated that much of the nitrogen washed into the lake was volatilized to the atmosphere.

The researchers pointed out in the study that more data over longer periods of time are required for evaluating the effect of accumulated salts and organic matter on seepage rates.

They explained that a buildup of salts and organic matter in the surface of playa bottoms may reduce already low permeabilities.

However, playa slopes are not significantly affected by water pollution.

Thus, the hazard of ground water pollution may be greatest for the smaller, deep playas which impound a high percentage of water on the impermeable sloping soils immediately surrounding the bottoms.

That Cool Drink... Under Regulations

To most of us, the only time we consciously think about the water we drink is on those hot summer days during work or play when a good, cool drink of water is really a thirst-quencher, and then we think only of the pleasure we receive from that drink and not of the rules and regulations and hard work that goes into making our public water supply safe and sanitary.

But that job is a very important public health service of the Texas State Department of Health.

The Sanitary Engineering Division of the State Health Department has been involved ever since 1915 in efforts to preserve the purity of state and community water supplies.

The Water Supply unit of that division, operating under state law, has so thoroughly blanketed the field of water sanitation with State Health Department engineers that waterborne diseases from public drinking water supplies have virtually disappeared.

Drinking water supplies serving communities, common carriers, food processing plants, dairies, and the water supply of public parks are subjected to penetrating inspection.

Plans for new systems are reviewed for health hazards. Water utility operators are certified as competent after being examined. Field inspectors from the State Health Department work to bring all public water supplies into strict compliance with the rules of the State Board of Health, and good sanitary practices.

Today there are some 60 public water supplies across the state that have been approved by the State Health Department and certified as safe and sanitary.

One of the biggest volumes of work done in this water supply service is the bacteriological and chemical analysis of water samples.

There are 25 Health Department laboratories across the state in addition to the state lab at Austin that handle tremendous volume of samples sent in for bacteriological analysis.

Some 12,000 to 18,000 samples per month are processed and records kept on each sample.

The Health Department Laboratory in Austin also conducts a chemical analysis of public water supplies.

This service, because of its complexity and volume, is available to private individuals.

The chemical analysis determines dangerous, or even undesirable, concentrations of solids and minerals, including chlorides, fluoride, sulfate, iron, manganese, and others.

The PH, the acid or alkalinity of water, is also determined.

Some 12,000 to 15,000 samples are tested chemically every year by State Department of Health laboratories.
